A TERRIFIC CLOUDBURST DOES UNTOLD DAMAGE

The Worst Electrical and Wind Storm that Chatham has Ever Experienced Visited the City at Noon To-Day---Rain Came in Torrents---Loss Estimated at Thousands of Dollars in City

The most terrific and disastrous storm that has visited Chatham and vicinity passed over the city at 1:30 this afternoon. Trees were twisted and torn and scattered all over the streets, chimneys collapsed, and in some cases whole buildings were demolished. Damage amounting to thousands of dollars now lies in the path the storm took. Many of the city streets were made impassable by the amount of trees and debris strewn across them. The tornado took the form of a small cloudburst, accompanied by thunder, lightning, hail and a terrific wind storm. Strong buildings swayed and groaned under the awful gale.

It is impossible to give any estimate of the damage done, but it will amount to thousands of dollars.

SOME OF THE DAMAGE.

The steeple on Park street church, one of the tallest in the city, was broken off about midway down, and scattered all over the adjacent streets.

Barnes livery stables were razed to the ground. Roof thrown over into the river by the force of the gale, and framework of building to the front collapsed.

Rear of Chatham Rug Works, Forsythe street, demolished. Roof carried off and framework collapsed.

All the chimneys on the Grand Opera House and the Metropole Billiard Parlor blown off and scattered over the streets.

Portion of rear of Opera House torn out. One of the chimneys crashed through the roof.

Roofs blown off many of the buildings in outskirts of the city. About one-half of the trees in Tecumseh Park blown down.

City traffic at a standstill for hours on account of the impassable conditions of the streets.

Electric light, telephone and telegraph wires down all over the city.

A tree was torn up on Dufferin avenue and crashed into the residence of Trustee Morley, imbedding itself in the wall of the building.

Lumber piled along the river front blown into the water and east drift.

Huge billboards all over the city torn from their fastenings and scattered over the streets.

Windows in upper storey of The Planet Office blown out by the force of the gale.

Hundreds upon hundreds of fine maple trees were destroyed and blown over.

Many residential streets are impassable on account of trees strewn across the roadways.

Many houses damaged by falling trees.

The electric light, telegraph and telephone service completely disarranged.

The skylight was blown off the High School and several windows broken. Three scholars fainted.

The beauty of Victoria and Tecumseh Parks almost completely destroyed through trees being blown down and torn out by the roots.

The flag-pole on Tecumseh Park demolished.

One of the large chimneys on the Central School crashed through the roof into one of the class rooms. No children were injured.

The large electric sign on the roof of Taylor's mill completely destroyed. One of the letters was carried over to King street.

Several chimneys blown off the roof of the Garner House.

Almost half of the trees in Victoria Park blown down.

The roof blown off the Kent Mills and carried into an adjoining lot. Damage thousands of dollars by rain, etc.

The fire alarm bell in the Fire Hall tower blown off its bearings.

The front of John Watt's house on Thames street damaged by a falling tree.

Telephone service at Prairie Sid-ing demolished.

Murray St. and Wellington St. completely impassable.

A buggy was blown out of Henry Stephen's barn and rolled over and over on the ground and completely smashed.

Brick chimneys on the residences of Miss Stephens and J. W. Powers, King St. West, blown over.

Large bill-board on King St., next the Central rug Store, completely demolished.

A small part of the market shed roof torn off.

Fire alarm system demolished all over the city.

All long distance telephone connection cut off with the exception of that to Dover South.

Tree crashed through roof of Mr. Donovan's house, Wellington street.

Tree blown through bay-window of Mr. Collin's house, Wellington street.

The trolley line between Chatham and Wallaceburg is completely out of working order.

The cornice was torn off Snook's grocery on King street. $400 damage.

The end was blown out of a large storehouse at the rear of Cunningham's hardware store. $500 damage.

The chimney and roof of Ald. Thomas Scullard's new house was very badly damaged.

Lightning struck the rear of the Grand Opera House, tearing a huge hole in the wall, and scattered valuable papers and furniture out over the ground beneath.

The Chatham Wagon Works have closed down in consequence of the damage done by the storm. The chimney, however, and signs have been blown down.

H. McKeough and Trotter's works have signs blown down and plate-glass windows smashed.

The top part of Robert Milner's residence in William street was moved back two feet by the force of the wind.

The fire wall on top of Taylor's Mill was blown down. Work has been stopped.

The roof of the old Taylor Salt Mill was blown off.

At the Idlewild Hotel a large chimney fell through the skylight and wrecked the bar. The front windows were badly damaged.

The large pagoda at Judge Bell's residence was blown over, the conservatory roof was blown off, and over 20 trees blown down.

There was no damage at the William Gray, Manson Campbell and Milner works, and no serious damage at water works.

The signal post at the junction of P. M. and C. P. R. railways was blown over, and telegraph posts are across the lines and traffic on all the railways is dislocated.

Grant St. suffered heavily, several houses being smashed by the falling trees. Several people had narrow escapes.

The big bill-posting board at the foot of Victoria Avenue was blown down.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

The Electric Light Co. expects to have some difficulty in furnishing light in some parts of the city tonight. Several gangs of men were put at work making repairs, but it will be impossible to locate all of them before dark.

MOTHERS ANXIOUS.

Several mothers visited the different schools after the storm and took their children home.

Maria Eddington, a little girl about seven years old, with a companion, were crossing Tecumseh Park when the storm came. They ran to the centre of the Park and remained there during the whole storm. Trees were falling all around them and they could not get away. They were not injured, but were drenched through and badly scared.

The little child of Alphonse Guernsey remained on the creek bridge through the whole storm. When she saw the trees falling she was too terrified to do anything but cling to the iron work on the bridge.

MEN AT WORK.

Ald. Edmondson, chairman of the Board of Works, ordered 200 men out clearing the streets. The work will be rushed as speedily as possible. Chatham has almost lost her reputation as "The Maple City."

WOOD GIVEN AWAY.

A proclamation has been issued to the effect that all trees will be given as firewood to anyone who will clear them away from the street.

A TERRIFIC SPECTACLE.

The storm was one of the worst that has ever visited this section. Old residents say that they have never seen anything like it before.

Big, black clouds travelled swiftly from the westward, and the hurricane hit the city with a roaring sound. Huge trees writhed and twisted like snakes. The big power like a reed in the gale, and buildings shook and trembled all over the city. Many of the staunchest buildings around town were twisted out of plumb.

FIRE ALARMS DEMOLISHED.

The fire alarm system in the city has been demolished, and, as a result, any fire alarms will have to be signalled from the various parts of the city by telephone or by factory whistles. Three rapid whistles and one short one.

STORM DOWN THE RIVER.

The City of Chatham was at Cook's dock down the river when the storm struck that vicinity. Capt. O'Rourke says that trees were blown down all along the river front. Roofs were blown off barns and houses, and the scene in some parts of the country is one of devastation.

MOURNED IN TEARS.

Large Crowds Pay Tributes of Respect to Michael Davitt During Journey to the Grave.

Dublin, June 4.—The love and respect in which Michael Davitt was held in Ireland, and the widespread sorrow at his death was amply evidenced by the scenes in the streets here Saturday morning when the body of the "father of the Land League" was removed from the Clarendon street Chapel, where it had lain overnight, to Broadstone station for conveyance to the peaceful country graveyard at Strade, County Mayo.

The business places closed their shutters, the shades were drawn down in the private houses, and the streets were lined by enormous crowds of people, the men doffing their hats as the coffin, which was almost hidden by beautiful floral wreaths, was borne by.

The funeral cortege included many Nationalist members of the House of Commons and clergymen, representatives of every religion and political creed.

John Redmond, John Dillon and other members of the Irish Nationalist party were among the mourners, who closely followed the hearse. While the procession stretched out to enormous proportions another vast crowd awaited the arrival of the body at the station, and on all sides a feeling of the deepest sorrow was apparent among the people.

Numbers of mourners joined the train conveying the body at Manulgar and Athlone. Everywhere along the countryside the people seemed aware of the mission of the train and hats were respectfully lifted in the fields and on the roadsides as it dashed past.

An enormous crowd awaited the arrival of the train at Fuxford, and a procession of vehicles nearly a mile long followed by a big gathering of persons drawn from miles around started for Strade, the family burial place of the Davitts, five miles from Fuxford.

The ceremony was most impressive. The old graveyard is near the ruins of the western abbey, and the grave under an ash tree and within sight of the birthplace of the Mr. Davitt. A large body of the peasantry was awaiting at the cemetery and many persons threw wreaths on the coffin when it was lowered into the grave.

When all was over a large crowd lingered, their eyes bedimmed with tears, till after the others had dispersed.

The question of rent keeps many a man on the move.

TOOK OATH "TO OBLIGE."

Alf. Jury's Information Not Enough For Public Accounts Committee.

Ottawa, June 7.—At the public accounts committee yesterday the letter written by Alf. Jury and addressed to W. L. Griffith, secretary of the High Commissioner's office, as to how he obtained the Ennis letters, was received from Lord Strathcona and read by the Chairman, Belcourt. The letter was in terms the same as those described by Preston and Griffith.

Mr. Jury being in the committee room, Mr. Barker asked that he should be called to give evidence in regard to the letter.

Mr. Jury at once affirmed the same as he did at the agriculture committee. There was some comment as to his not taking the oath. Mr. Jury said that he was exempted by law. He did not believe in rewards or punishments after death.

Mr. Belcourt ordered a Bible, and the oath was taken in the usual way. Mr. Jury added that he did so to oblige them.

Mr. Jury then told the same story as he did before the agriculture committee, adding that Ennis had sent him a cable permitting him to say that he (Ennis) knew of his taking of the letters.

Justified by Merit.

As you know, it is an uncommon proceeding on our part to so emphatically endorse any remedy as we have endorsed Bu-Ju.

But the more we know of it, the more earnest we are. All we say is, Bu-Ju can help anyone suffering from kidney trouble, as no other remedy can. It works for itself—shows more plainly than words its real use to all who seek a cure.

If it is not just as represented, you can have your money back. Fifty cents a box.

W. W. TURNER, Druggist.

Superstitions of Farmers.

Farmers "stick to the moon" in regard to planting corn and other crops. Some of them will not under any circumstances plant corn on moonlight nights, claiming that corn so planted will produce a tall stalk with a short ear. Others just as successfully plant when they are ready, when nights are dark or moonlight, as the case may be. Other notions are indulged in, such as throwing the cobs in running water to keep corn from fring. Some farmers would under no consideration burn plunder hills, the seed of which is to be used for planting. They must be scattered along a path or highway, to be trodden upon in order to secure a good crop. Green butter bean hulls must be thrown in a road after being shelled for table use from day to day to insure a good crop the following season.

For the Stomach Heart and Kidneys

Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a Cause Cure—not a Symptom Cure.

It is a common mistake to take artificial stimulants for stomach troubles—or heart stimulants for weak heart—or so-called kidney remedies for diseased kidneys. These organs do not act separately or of their own accord—they have no control over themselves—and not once in 800 times is the sickness the fault of the organ. It is the fault of the nerves which control the organs.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative cures the stomach, kidney or heart diseases, because it restores the nerves which control the organs. It restores the nerves which control the stomach, kidney or heart, and the organs act as they should.

MASCULINE STYLES.

Correct Straw Hats and Waistcoats For the Modish Man.
 The most popular straw hat for summer will be the sailor shape. It has a moderate height of crown, and the brim is slightly narrower than the hat of last season. The split braid sailor will be the more popular, but sennets and rough braid will be worn extensively.
 A new style of straw hat has been introduced during the past season or two, which has taken a strong hold upon the fancy of young men. It is the "negligee" and is made of a fine quality of mackinaw braid. The crown of the hat is either shaped like a sailor or is telescoped, following the lines of the soft hat, and the brim may be turned down, presenting the "dip" affected by many young men.

 Despite the reports to the contrary the summer of 1906 will be the greatest ever known for panamas.
 There are but two styles in waistcoats, the double and single breasted garments, and the variation of these styles is numerous. In the double breasted style the cut of the waist stule may be curved or straight, pointed or round. The collar may have a deep opening and wide lapels or present no collar with an opening rather narrow and shallow. The variations of the single breasted type are equally great, and the best advice is to select the model which pleases the personal fancy.

 In materials linen, duck, pique (both figured and plain), moccasins, crasses and flannels will be worn.
Concerning Chiffons.
 We are all chifon loving creatures nowadays. Everything is more or less worn with chiffon adjuncts—scarfs, sleeve ruffles, etc. All play their part in one's wardrobe; but, like most pretty airy triffes, chiffon soils quickly, and many girls don't know how easily they can wash and get up at home what they usually throw away.
 To wash chiffon successfully you will require a perfectly clean pan, in which make a warm lather of good yellow soap. Boll this, using just enough water to cover the soap, and when the soap is dissolved add to it warm water, put in the chiffon and carefully squeeze it sponge fashion until it is fresh and clean. Rinse in warm water and then in cold until all the soap is removed, adding to the rinsing water a little salt, both useful in preserving and reviving color.
 The washing over, pull the material into shape and iron while very damp. Chiffon dries so quickly that if you are ironing a large piece don't expose it to the air more than is avoidable. If you wish the chiffon to be a trifle stiff make a little rice starch and immerse it for a few seconds before ironing.
 Rice starch is made by taking two tablespoonfuls of rice and a pint and a half of cold water. The rice must be washed quite clean and boiled in the water three or four minutes.
 These hints will enable a girl to keep her stock fresh and dainty and save her expenditure, for soiled chiffon is if carefully washed equal to new.
A Nursery Time Table.
 The following time table should be preserved by every mother, as it is often a source of the greatest anxiety to know whether or not a child will develop a disease after having been exposed to it. Chicken pox symptoms usually appear on the fourteenth day; diphtheria, second day; measles, fourteenth day; mumps, nineteenth day; scarlet fever, fourth day; smallpox, twelfth day; typhoid fever, twenty-first day; whooping cough, fourteenth day.

"I HAVEN'T MET THEM"

Satisfied Policyholders Not in Evidence to Mr. Shepley.

But Actuary Sanderson Assures Him That "The Policyholders of the Canada Life Are All Well Satisfied"—Counsel Hellmuth's Query Regarding the Value of the Testimonials—A Day's Dealing With Figures.

Toronto, June 7.—The actuarial evidence of Frank Sanderson of the Canada Life, given before the Insurance Commission, was not concluded yesterday. No new points were adduced. Mr. Shepley spent the morning on the change in reserve basis, and the afternoon on the statement of investments by the company.
 The Imperial Life will be the next company, as Mr. Shepley purposes finishing with the Canada Life to-day.

Basis of Reserve.
 Frank Sanderson, of the actuary of the Canada Life, told of his connection with the company. He explained the basis of reserve used by the Canada Life since the commencement of the company. For the first ten years the reserve was based on the Carlisle 6 per cent table, then on a 5 per cent table, and later (1877) on the new 4-1-2 table. In 1889 President Ramsay placed $225,000 in the reserve fund, and changed the basis to the American 4-1-2 table. In 1894 the company made a further change to the American 4 per cent table, which held until the Dominion legislation of 1899.
 The influence that the fall in the rate of interest of nearly 2 per cent, in 1895 of 1895 had on the basis of reserve was shown by the extracts read by Mr. Shepley from addresses by Mr. Ramsay.

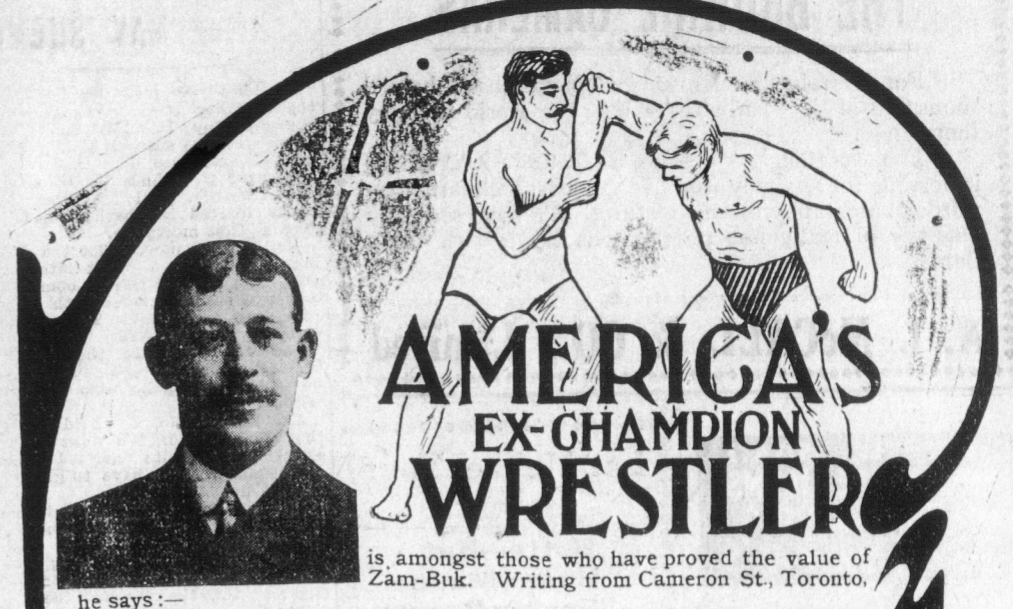

The Legislature of 1899 made the H. M. table compulsory, and from then all new business was to be valued on a 4-1-2 per cent basis.
Make Change Quickly.
 The company went out after expert opinion on the course to pursue in the face of the new legislation. Half a million that had been laid aside was turned into reserves. It was then that $200,000 was taken out of the 1894 quinquennial profits, $1,070,000 out of 1899 profits, and $995,000 in 1901. This totaled $2,565,000 the sum necessary to turn from the company's standard to the compulsory standard required by the Government.

Mr. Sanderson defended the action of the Canada Life in making the change quickly instead of taking Mr. Hellmuth's way—1-15 of 1 per cent per annum. Mr. Shepley explained that the increased revenue earned larger amounts in profits, but took more of the gross premium. This decreased the loading and increased the net premiums. It took some time for the increased profits earned on the reserve to offset the increased loadings.
 "The policyholders of the Canada Life are all well satisfied," said the witness, abruptly. He displayed a book containing testimonials from policyholders.

"Have they 25 cents a line?" queried Mr. Hellmuth.

Profit and Loss.
 Mr. Shepley continued the examination of Actuary Sanderson in the afternoon, taking up the profit and loss book. The method of loading was explained by Mr. Sanderson, and Mr. Shepley passed to the next item in the statement.
 Mr. Shepley tried to learn what the business done by the Canada Life had been in 1905. Witness thought that the mortality gains, premiums placed and expenses would be found in the second exhibit, Counsel read that "loading amounted to $6,148.89. This amount, Mr. Shepley, was to cover expenses. The cost of the business was $545,430.36.
 At this juncture Mr. Shepley went over the profit and loss account item by item, and Mr. Sanderson explained the difference between the net gain and total expenses was arrived at. Besides medical fees, etc., 45 per cent of the head office salaries and 50 per cent of all rentals are charged in the profit and loss account.
Half a Million Per Annum.
 Mr. Sanderson expressed the opinion that the normal business would amount to half a million per annum. If this was the case the ratio of first year expenses to income would be decreased. If the company went in excess of the normal business it would be necessary to maintain a high ratio. The expenses would always be greater than the premium income. For nearly a year Mr. Shepley analyzed the profit and loss statement. From 1900 to 1905, the Canada Life premiums were computed on a 3-1-2 per cent basis, although the reserve was at 3 per cent. The result was a depleted loading, although the lower premium ratio had favorable results in competition with other companies.

About Investments.
 Profit and loss on investments was the next item. Treasurer Watt assisted Mr. Sanderson to explain the different investments on which profits had been made.
 Mr. Shepley took up the investments of the Canada Life in detail, from 1891 to 1905. In fifteen years the statements showed a profit of $133,000 on bonds and mortgage loans, or a loss in turnover of $50,000. Mr. Watt explained that the statement had been prepared to compare stock and bond investments with purely mortgage investments with the "Must Explain 'Yellow Dog Fund'."
 New York, June 7.—The Mutual Life Insurance Co. yesterday brought suit against its former vice-president, Robert A. Grannis, for an accounting of funds of the company, which were expended under his direction. Mr. Grannis is alleged to have directed the use of part of the so-called "yellow dog fund."
Quebec Has a Surplus.
 Montreal, June 7.—J. C. McCorkill provided yesterday estimates that he had well on to $100,000 surplus at the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

AMERICA'S EX-CHAMPION WRESTLER

is amongst those who have proved the value of Zam-Buk. Writing from Cameron St., Toronto, he says:—

 Gentlemen,—After my great wrestling match with J. Mellor, of Staleybridge, at the Crystal Palace, England, for the International Championship, I was covered with cuts and bruises. I applied my favorite balm, Zam-Buk, and in a marvelously short time the abrasions and cuts were healed and I was fit and well again. At another time I had a piece of flesh almost torn completely off my arm above the elbow. I anticipated being unable to do anything with the arm for a long time, to my delight, however, Zam-Buk closed up the wound in two days. In three days it was covered with new skin, and a few days after there was no trace of the injury.
 Zam-Buk was introduced to me a few years ago when touring in England by a celebrated trainer, who said he had known it to do more good for bruises, cuts and abrasions than any known balm.
 Neither I nor my friends ever thought of going on the mat without Zam-Buk being handy. It is a splendid healer, and I can give it a good name wherever I am. I recommend it for cuts, bruises or skin injuries of any kind, and have no objection to your using this statement if you think proper. Yours truly,
 Hugh Lunnon

T. & N. O. EARNINGS.

People's Road Keeps Right on and Accumulates Wealth.

North Bay, June 7.—An increase of $130,939.50 in its total earnings for five months from Jan. 1 to June 1, 1906, over a similar period in 1905, is the return made by the people's road, the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway.

In the month of May of the present year 11,482 passengers traveled on this line. In May, 1905, the number was only 1,107, and the earnings for May of this year were $13,248.85. For May, 1905, the receipts were only $4,143.60, and of this total freight and live stock produced a revenue of $2,620.80, and passenger returns were only $1,522.80.
 The month of May, 1906, shows a marked change. The tolls collected from passengers amounted to $1,259.40, and freightage is responsible for only $5,079.05.
 In the five months ending June 1, 1906, the passengers carried totalled 10,939. In the corresponding months of 1905 the aggregate is nearly ten times this amount, or, to be strictly accurate, 97,093.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Ottawa, June 7.—Hon. Geo. E. Foster's motion respecting the correspondence of La Presse precipitated a running debate yesterday afternoon which, for a time, bade fair to revive the periodical clash of race and creed which so often distracts the country. Many members, however, refused to treat the matter seriously, and after two hours of rambling discussion respecting the Orange order the original motion was passed without dissent, and nobody lost his temper.
 In committee the House considered Mr. Oliver's bill to amend the Rocky Mountain Park Act, and also the bill to incorporate the Grand Trunk Pacific Telegraph Co. The latter bill is reported, but stands over for the third reading.
 In supply, the estimates of the Marine and Fisheries Department occupied the greater part of the evening.

Life Not Worth While.

Brookville, June 7.—Ralph Nemire, a young resident of Sandy Creek, committed suicide Tuesday. He borrowed a shotgun from his brother-in-law, Oren Brown, saying he intended hunting woodchucks. He left a note saying life was not worth the living without his sweetheart's affections, and that he would not trouble her longer.

Norwegians Sail for Coronation.

Chicago, June 7.—Three hundred Norwegians, who came from all over the middle west, left Chicago Tuesday for the fatherland, where they will attend the coronation of King Haakon VII., on June 22. At New York the party will be joined by an eastern contingent, and it is expected that more than 1,000 will go.

British Teachers For Canada.

London, June 7.—Arrangements have been completed under a plan outlined by Alfred Mosely to send between November and March 500 British teachers to the United States and Canada to study educational systems of the two countries. They will be chosen from all parts of the United Kingdom.

That pain in the Back is Kidney Trouble

GIN PILLS WILL CURE IT
 A strain or severe cold, or a dozen other causes may have started it—but the Kidneys are at the bottom of it. Backache (especially in the "small" of the back) means Kidney Disease. Plasters and liniments give some relief, but they never cure. Lots of people, with swollen hands and feet, are treating themselves for rheumatism, when, in fact, their sick kidneys are causing the pain and swelling. GIN PILLS cure that pain in the Back every time, because they cure the Kidneys.

Poor chaps who have in life no hope Need not, therefore, be hung, Executed such evidences as the rope, And eat our potted tongue. —Toronto Star.

Mr. Fowler—No, I wouldn't say that they would. We want to see something definite arrived at to-night, else we will have to give the matter up.

It was here that Ald. Austin explained that he had a counter proposition from the company some time previous to the drafting up of the defeated by-law. This proposition was that the city loan the Keystone Company $75,000 for the term of ten years, five years without interest, the city to pay the interest on the bonds, the last five years the company to pay interest at three per cent. Under this proposition, the company agree to have their bonds absolutely covered and secured by a trust company. This Ald. Austin explained, would cost the city $8,900 for the five years interest, and the actual cost to the city for the ten years, not deducting school taxes, would amount to $7,440.

This proposition met with greater favor than the one made by Mr. Fowler earlier in the evening.

It was then moved by W. H. Westman, that the meeting recommend that the City Council submit a by-law to loan the Keystone Company $75,000 for the term of ten years, for the first five years without interest, the balance at three per cent., and that the company agree to give absolute security from the trust company. An indefinite clause was added to this, that the city be at no expense for submitting the by-law, half of the cost of which will be borne by the company, and the other half by business men.

This motion carried and the meeting then adjourned.

This morning Ald. Austin furnished the Planet with the following statement, showing what it will cost the ratepayers should the new proposal with the promoters of the sugar factory meet with approval.

Net amount loan will cost the city during the ten years of the loan $3,499.50, or an average of $349.95 per year.

This will mean on the present assessment of the city a cost of seven cents per year on each $1,000 assessment.

You will notice that we will commence to collect school tax in 1907, interest will not be due on loan until a year later, and the exemption for taxes will cease a year before loan matures, so that the last year of loan we collect taxes on the whole plant, this last calculation is based plan, on an assessment of $200,000 and at only 20 mills on the dollar.

JUST A LITTLE BIT OFF THE TOP

Real estate has become so cheap in Toronto that the citizens have commenced eating thereof.

A Kent County farmer has a train-rooster which catches grain with its bill. The rooster in so doing, of course, has an eye to its own crop—not the farmer's.

Chicago meat-packers would possibly take great pleasure in dropping Pres. Ted. Roosevelt into one of their sausage machines.

And now the friend of years gone past is out again anew. With his ever-nagging question—Is it hot enough for you?

The religious editor reminds the Off the Top Man, that though it is hot around here just now, there is a certain region where the thermometer registers a few degrees higher all year round.

The members of the County Council could spend their time at other things much more in the interests of their constituents, than in handing out roasts to the newspapers. It's much like pouring water on a duck's back.

A Chicago firm objects to good looking girls as clerks, because the young men spend too much time talking to them, so they are now looking for common looking girls to employ.

Toronto people, so the Toronto Star says, have developed great appetites for eating dirt. If this be so, our local Board of Works could promise a limited number of Torontonians at cleaning up our main streets during the rainy season.

THE PUBLISHER'S CLAIMS SUSTAINED

UNITED STATES COURT OF CLAIMS

The Publishers of Webster's International Dictionary allege that it "is, in fact, the popular dictionary which has been corrected in every detail, and vastly enriched in every part, with the purpose of adapting it to meet the larger and severer requirements of another generation."

We are of the opinion that this allegation is more clearly and accurately described by the work that has been accomplished and the result that has been reached. The Dictionary, as it now stands, has been thoroughly re-edited in every part, and is admirably adapted to meet the larger and severer requirements of a generation which demands more of popular etymological knowledge than any generation that the world has ever contained.

It is perhaps needless to add that we refer to the dictionary in our judicial work as of "this" and that in the future as of "the past" will be the source of constant reference.

Learn Dressmaking in TWO WEEKS

Have you commenced your spring and summer sewing? Are you interested in Dressmaking, either professionally or for your own family sewing? Have you broken away from the old way of depending on patterns?

Please pardon so many questions, but each one means something to you.

We have a wonderfully complete system in dressmaking—15 in all. These lessons will be of lasting benefit to you. They will throw new light on the subject, and instead of being tedious and tiresome you will find dressmaking one of the most interesting of all your diversions. It will no longer be a "duty," but a pleasure to make a dress, and your dresses will have a fit such as few women can accomplish.

We teach you how to cut, fit, and put together everything in the fashion books, from the plainest shirtwaist to the most elaborate toilet. We furnish everything to work with except tape measure, scissors, tracer and pencil.

Why spend months at a shop where you will learn nothing but how to sew on hooks and eyes, overcast, etc., and then, after you are through, what did you learn about cutting? Absolutely nothing, for you will know no more about cutting after being there a year than you did the first day you went there.

Charge for full course is only $10, including one of the most perfect fitting systems in use, which we give free. We have taught over 2,000 ladies in this way within the past five years, and all recommend it very highly. No pay in advance.

We will teach at Chatham from June 28th to July 11th. Hours from 8.30 to 5. All wishing to learn, or for full particulars, be sure to see us at the Garner Hotel, on Wednesday, June 27th, between 10 and 5 o'clock.

Why pea-mealed hams are so nice is that as pea-mealing adds somewhat to the cost, only the finest hams are selected.

About one ham in a dozen does for pea-mealing, as they must not be under 8 pounds nor over 14 pounds in weight.

County Council Says the Press Has Been Prejudiced

C. C. I. MAINTAINANCE

THURSDAY MORNING.
The C. C. I. matter is again before the County Council. The Institute Board and the Council instructed their respective solicitors to go into the matter carefully with a view to establishing a basis on which the Council could pay its debts to the Board and these gentlemen have each recommended that a compromise be effected by the County paying $1,600 for 1905 and $1,800 for 1904 to stand as it is. The C. C. I. Board has agreed to this proposition and it remains for the Council to decide if a speedy settlement shall be arrived at or not.

Chairman Arnold and Solicitor Gundy, of the C. C. I. Board, appeared before the Council in regard to the difference existing between the two bodies at this morning's sitting.

Mr. Gundy stated that Mr. Walker, the County Solicitor, and he, had carefully considered the case and, after several weeks' work in examining and comparing figures and accounts they had arrived at a basis of settlement which they were both prepared to recommend to their respective Boards as the best compromise between the contestants, which, in their opinion, could be effected. They had not lightly dealt with the matters in dispute or agreed upon an easy settlement proposition, but they had gone into all the papers, figures and accounts relating to county pupils maintenance, general improvements and other things bearing on the case, and had decided that the acceptance of this proposition was the best thing they could recommend for both parties.

Mr. Walker and he had differed in several minor matters but, since the Court had decided the main issue about the 80 per cent. matter, they did not think a few technical points should be allowed to stand in the way of settlement.

Mr. Vester thought the matter should be left in the hands of the judge.

Mr. Gundy pointed out that the case would drag on for a long time if the course were pursued. It was better to settle the matter amicably at once, and for each party to pay their own costs in the recent lawsuit, than to incur unnecessary expense in keeping it in the Courts.

Mr. Arnold supported Mr. Gundy in a short speech. County Solicitor Walker explained how Mr. Gundy and he had gone into the matter. They had not agreed on all points and each thought that the other party would be making concessions in following out the proposition which Mr. Gundy had outlined. Mr. Gundy recommended it to the C. C. I. Board on Monday and now he (Mr. Walker) recommended it to the Council, as the easiest and best way to early and amicable settlement.

Mr. Ross thought that the Council's previous offer of $1,600 for the three years was quite sufficient.

Mr. Grant said that if this friction was to exist between the two bodies they might as well let the Courts finally decide the matter and so save friction in the future.

Mr. Gundy pointed out that the present proposition is based upon the average attendance of county pupils for the last three years. The figures read—1904, 65; 1905, 76; 1906, 62. The present offer was a fair and equitable basis for settlement, calculated on this attendance.

Mr. French drew attention to the action of the Chatham Planet, which, he said, had published the C. C. I. Board's side of the question but had neglected the county's arguments.

Mr. Ross said that the Banner had been an equal sinner, as it had omitted to publish the county's case and had given preference to the claims of the C. C. I. Further than that it had refused to publish letters, pointing out its errors, which had been sent to it.

Mr. French thought that the newspapers had given people the impression that the County Council were endeavoring to cheat the C. C. I. out of their rightful dues. He thought the Council should look into the matter with the idea of obtaining redress.

Mr. Walker said that, although only a dozen or so people in Chatham had studied the case up, everyone was ready to talk about it.

The Warden promised that the Council would give their attention to the matter and the deputations left.

Following this, routine business was transacted. The semi-annual report of the House of Refuge was read and adopted. The report stated that there were 44 inmates at the present time, of whom eight were insane and eight totally blind. The remainder were almost helpless. Four deaths had occurred within the year. The report recommended an additional attendant, as the work at present time, was not properly being done by the matron and caretaker alone. The grounds and buildings were in excellent condition, although a new wing was required on the latter to accommodate sick and insane inmates.

MOTIONS.
Moved by Chinnick, seconded by Grant, that the Council grant $500 to the Township of Raleigh to assist in building a bridge over the 3rd concession road. Referred to Roads and Bridges.

Moved by White, seconded by French, that the Council grant the sum of $100 to assist in repairing the Zone and Camden townline-south of Paucher Creek bridge. Roads and Bridges.

Moved by French, seconded by Wilson, that the Council petition the Ontario Legislature to amend the Municipal Act so that the matter of cutting weeds along the roadside be left in the hands of the roadmasters, as the present Act is an injustice to farmers who have a long frontage. Petitions and Legislation.

Moved by Campbell, seconded by Vester, that the Council grant $200 for the towline between Howard and Harwich from the G. T. R. to the post office. Roads and Bridges.

A motion to grant $100 to assist in defraying the expenses connected with the entertaining of the English bowlers in the county at the latter part of this year was referred to the Finance committee.

After the reading of a couple of by-laws the Council adjourned until two p. m.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.
The afternoon sitting of the County Council yesterday was commenced at 3.45, the Councilors having sat in committee from two p. m.

Under the head of enquiries, Councillor Stewart asked if the County Constables were supplied with hand cuffs.

The Warden said that he had been asked about the matter before, but they had no power to authorize the giving of hand cuffs to the constables.

Mr. Stewart suggested that the committee revise the list of County Constables every June session. The difficulty seemed to be that there was no way of keeping track of the men who had hand cuffs served out to them.

Warden Sturg's thought it was a good idea to place the hand cuffs in the hands of the magistrate so that when a constable came for a warrant he could also obtain a pair of cuffs. The magistrate would see that he received them.

County Solicitor Walker was heard on behalf of the Bowlers Association in regard to the request made by the latter to the Council to grant $100 in aid of entertaining the English bowlers.

Mr. Walker explained the Association's position in respect to this matter and also stated that he had enquired into the legality of such a motion and found that the Council would be within their rights in granting this sum to boost the County. England had treated Canada's bowlers right royally on the occasion of their visit and it was only right that Canada should treat the English bowlers in a like manner.

Councillors Vester, Stewart and Brien thought that the bowlers could afford to pay their own expenses and that it was throwing money away to pay for anything that did not bring a practical result.

Mr. Walker pointed out that the bowlers would form an impression of the County and it was in the interests of all that this impression should be a good one.

After a short discussion the matter was allowed to stand over until to-morrow.

Mr. Wilson moved, seconded by Mr. French, that, where the presentation in the Local Legislature has become incumbersome on the Province, be it resolved that we ask the Legislature to reduce the members to one half, that is to say, one member for each 50,000 inhabitants of the Province, as it would be a saving of $48,000 a year and mileage to the Province; and that we ask co-operation of other counties.

Mr. Wilson stated that in bringing up this motion he had been actuated by a desire to reduce the taxation, not only of this County, but of the whole Province. If there were only half as many members of the Legislature as there are at present they could do the business of the Province just as well. During last year the expenses of the Legislature amounted to $98,000 and mileage, and this was too much for the Province to pay.

There was no better governed country than England, where there was only one representative for each 50,000 inhabitants.

The motion was referred to the committee on Petitions and Legislation.

It was moved by Grant, seconded by Haggart, that whereas the Canada Trust Company had acquired certain rights on land on which they had paid no taxes, and whereas the Council think that it is as fair to the ratepayers and are desirous of helping them,

UNDER WAITING ORDERS

By JAMES GHEE

Copyright, 1906, by E. W. Sargent

Jack Randolph sat on the piazza and read over the telegram again. Already the paper was cracking on the creases from frequent foldings and unfoldings. Randolph could have read it from memory. "Go to Old Point Comfort," it read, "and wait orders."

He had been waiting orders for four days now, and repeated telegrams to the office had simply brought forth repetitions of those instructions.

Randolph was sick of it all. Ever since he had refused point blank to consider the question of a marriage to some girl his father had picked out for him he had been exiled to the road as special salesman and had been jumped from east to west on the most absurd propositions.

There might be a man coming to Old Point who wanted to buy a suspension bridge, but Randolph could not see why he had not been sent to the office of the firm instead of being shipped to Old Point. Not that he objected to a week at the famous resort with nothing to do, but the uncertainty of it all was irritating. He decided to send another telegram and headed for the telegraph office.

He never got there, for just as he swung around a corner of the piazza the prettiest girl he had ever seen ran into him as she dashed along the piazza. By the time mutual apologies were concluded Jack had forgotten all about the telegram and had come to the conclusion that he was satisfied to stay at the Point as long as the office decided he was needed there.

Instead of going into the office he volunteered his services as guide to Marjorie Carson, who had arrived the night before, and it was well along in the afternoon before he even thought of the despised telegram.

He met Mrs. Carson on their return and that evening he changed his seat to their table and was installed as their guide and counselor. More than ever he was glad that he had refused to accept his father's dictum and marry some one else. Of course it would make an awful row when he wrote that he was going to marry Marjorie, but he had gained some recognition as an engineer, and it would not be hard to make his way if only Marjorie would accept him.

Marjorie's frank friendliness was scarcely encouraging to his hopes, but as the days progressed he gained in her favor, and before the end of his first week he had begun to flatter himself that he was making headway.

Mrs. Carson clearly approved of him. Early in the acquaintance he had taken pains to acquaint her with his history in an impersonal sort of way that did not sound like a formal announcement, and she had smiled and replied that she had heard of his father. After that she had been much in the background, and the young people went boating and on other excursions alone.

It was well along in the third week before he had ventured to speak of love to the girl. It was as they were coming home one evening, and in saving herself from a fall as she stepped on a loose stone, she had caught at his coat sleeve. He had thrown an arm about her and had kept it there until with a rosy face she had disengaged herself.

"I can get along all right now," she said, as she stepped ahead. He laid a hand upon her shoulder.

"I hope you can," he said simply. "I should like you to think that you always needed me."

"I don't," was the savage answer. "I don't ever need you, and I wish you would go away."

"Pardon," he said quietly. "I had no wish to be offensive."

They went along in silence, but as they parted at the foot of the piazza steps she turned toward him and held out her hand.

"I am afraid I was very rude," she said simply. "Will you forgive me?"

"If you will take back what you said," he answered pleadingly.

"I think you're horrid," she exclaimed with a sudden shift from her gentlemanly mood. "If you were a gentleman you would not annoy me this way."

She sped up the steps before he could demand an explanation, and left behind her a much puzzled swain. He was too tactful to reopen the question that evening, but for half the night he paced the floor after he had gone to his room and vainly sought for an explanation of her odd remark.

That she liked him was apparent. He could not see wherein he had been offensive, and yet she had spoken as if he must understand what the matter was.

He was still puzzled the next morning when they met at breakfast, but there was no opportunity for an explanation until late that evening. Just before the party broke up Jack and Marjorie were standing on the piazza. The others had moved toward the entrance and had left them alone in the corner.

"What did you mean yesterday?" he asked. "I was not conscious of giving offense."

"I should think it would bore you as much as it does me," she answered, "but I don't want to talk about it, so good night."

She sped down the piazza. He turned half irresolutely, then with a sigh he turned back and went down the other side.

That night he walked the floor again, but no solution came to him, and at last he threw himself upon the bed and slept a sleep in which Marjorie perpetually danced before him, ever eluding his grasp and yet ever entreating him.

Some intangible barrier seemed to be separating them, and he had the uncomfortable feeling that if he could determine the nature of this barrier he would gain her hand.

So strong was this impression that immediately after breakfast he sought Marjorie on the piazza.

"You've been mystifying me long enough," he said abruptly. "I want to know what it all means."

"As if you didn't," she said scornfully. "I've caught you and mother laughing over it lots of times."

"I assure you that I do not know what you mean," he said.

"Just as if you were not down here by your father's orders," she scoffed. "I saw it all the moment mother said you were here."

"Randolph gasped. 'You don't mean to say that you are the girl father wants me to marry?' he asked.

"Why, of course," she retorted. "Just as if you didn't know."

"I didn't," he replied promptly. "The moment the paper said marriage I balked and did not even learn the name of the girl."

"Then why are you here?" she demanded. "You know it was all a pre-arranged plan."

For answer he pulled out the telegram. "I thought it was some one who wanted to buy a bridge," he explained. "Had I supposed otherwise I should never have come."

"Are you sorry you did?" she asked teasingly.

"Not if you say yes," he answered promptly.

"Since you are not acting under orders and just loved me," she began. The sentence was not finished; there was no need.

Ten minutes later Mrs. Carson found them in front of the telegraph desk. Jack held a telegram in his hand. It read:

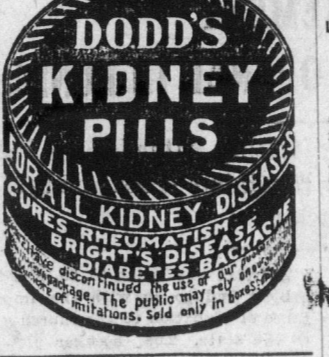

"Special business concluded. Think I shall stay on. Think I have done very well in default of more definite instructions."

Ruling Switzerland. In Switzerland they have no idea that they are essentially idiots and must have great men and superior and intelligent rulers that cannot tell you the name of the president of Switzerland. He knows the name of the president of the United States, always, but he does not know who is at the head of his own country. Not because the interest he takes in his political affairs is small, for it is very great; but because who may be president of Switzerland is not important. Whoever he is, he amounts to nothing, he effects nothing, he "rules" nothing. The only rulers of Switzerland are the Swiss people.—Everybody's Magazine.

Age of Birds. The doctrine of vegetarianism appears to be slightly shaken by the result of an investigation that an English newspaper has made into the subject of the longevity of birds. With one notable exception the carrion, or meat feeding birds, are the longer lived. The exception is the swan.

The average ages of some of the best known birds are given in the following: Blackbird lives 12 years, black-cap 15, craney 24, crane 24, crow 100, eagle 100, fowl, common, 10; goldfinch 15, goose 50, heron 50, lark 13, linnet 23, nightingale 18, parrot 60, partridge 15, peacock 24, pelican 50, pheasant 15, pigeon 20, raven 100, robin 12, skylark 30, sparrow hawk 40, swan 100, thrush 10 and wren 3 years.

When Boston Was Young. A book published in 1817 informs us that the fare by steamer from New York to New London, Conn., was $7, including board. The distance is given as 140 miles and the time twenty-one hours. The same book tells us that Boston is not yet a city, "because the people fear that the power invested in corporations would be injurious to their liberties." Further on it is stated that "this town is the headquarters of federalism in politics and Unitarianism in religion."

A Nation of Sleepers. "Rare slumbers are the Turks," declares a writer. "In the villages, at any rate, they will drop into the land of dreams on the slightest pretext and at the shortest notice. This habit has advantages, one being that the Turk does not at all mind being awakened in the dead of night, for the simple reason that he can go to sleep again the instant he wishes. When staying in very limited quarters I have often heard a member of the family get up and after searching about among his sleeping companions thoroughly rouse them all to ask where his tobacco was or upon some equally slight excuse."

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY. As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucus surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten-fold to the good they can possibly derive from them.

Any One Can Spell Shakespeare. One is not in danger of misspelling the word Shakespeare. Some one has discovered 4,000 ways, of which the following are, as examples: Shakspeare, Shaxpere, Shakspre, Schaxper, Shaxspere, Shaxpere, Shakspeyr, Shaxspere, Shaxpur, Shaxper, Shaksper, Shakspeare, Saxpere, Shackspeyr, Shakspeyr, Shakspeare, Shakspear, Shaxpere, Shakspeyr, Shakspear, Shaksper, etc. If the chirography of Shakespeare himself is any authority, twenty-two of these ways are correct.

A man talks about owning his business. But, as a matter of fact his business is owned by him. His whole life is regulated by the demands of the business. The time at which he rises, his breakfast hour, the time given to meals, are all determined by business obligations. He rushes through lunch because he "can't spare the time from business" to eat leisurely. He won't take a rest because he is needed at the store or office. He is in fact an absolute slave to business. The results which follow this slavery are to be seen on every hand. Men dyspeptic, irritable, nervous, with drawn faces, and hollow eyes, sit at the desk or stand behind the counter until they collapse in a fit of sickness, or are taken away by heart failure. Those who cannot escape the exactions of business will find a friend in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, increases the action of the blood-making glands, increasing the vitality and physical vigor. It makes men strong and prevents those business break-downs which so often terminate fatally.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY HAS OPENED IN LONDON

Big Presbyterian Gathering is Being Attended By Some of the Ablest Men of the Dominion—Proceedings of First Session

Special Correspondence. London, June 6.—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada commenced its annual sessions in the First Presbyterian Church here to-night. Although commissioners came by every train to-day it was not until the evening that the great Assembly was formally opened. The attendance is a record one, not only in the number attending but also in the number of prominent ministers and elders present. The principals of the various theological colleges are here and among the prominent laymen are Judge Forbes, of Halifax; Walter Paul and David Morrice, of Montreal; J. A. McDonald, Hamilton Casals and Lieutenant-Governor Clark, of Toronto; Sir Thos. Taylor, of Hamilton; Principal Merchant, of London; Hon. Colin Campbell, of Winnipeg; Hon. Mr. Motherwell, of Saskatchewan, and Ald. McQueen, of Vancouver. The sermon by the retiring Moderator was worthy of the occasion, and the immense audience that packed the church felt that the utterance was a timely one.

by-law unless we first feel sure that the security is ample, and I fail to convince myself that the security offered is ample to cover the risk. We have no right to gamble with the people's money. We should have priority over the trust company. If we have not, we only rank dollar for dollar with the other shareholders. The additional bonds of the company would be in a sense absolutely useless as collateral security should the enterprise prove unsuccessful. The Mayor—In many respects I agree with what Mr. Stephenson has just said, and I repeat that I don't think we should put the people to the expense of another by-law if we are not assured that it has at least a chance of carrying. The new proposition, I fear will not greatly change public opinion on the matter. A proposition very similar to this one was turned down by the ratepayers just a week previously. Mr. A. D. Westman—I don't see that it matters whether it was turned down a week ago or a day ago, so long as the new proposition is ample to cover any risks the city may be running. If $110,000 proves to be sufficient security, I don't see that the former defeat of the by-law should have any effect on the new one.

CITY COUNCIL MAY SUBMIT ANOTHER BEET SUGAR BYLAW

Unanimous Opinion Expressed at a Mass Meeting of Citizens, that the Keystone Company must Offer Complete and Absolute Security to the City

The citizens' meeting held in Harrison Hall last evening for the purpose of discussing a new proposition to the Keystone Sugar Company to remove the Warrton factory to Chatham was not very largely attended. There was, however, a fairly large percentage of the representative ratepayers present.

The meeting was late in getting started and was late in concluding. The Mayor was detained with some other pressing business and could not attend till 8.30.

Ald. Scullard was moved to the chair in the absence of the Mayor. Ald. Scullard opened the meeting by explaining its purpose, which was to get the feeling of the people on making a new proposition to the Keystone Sugar Company. He said that the main cause of the defeat of the by-law lay in the fact that the people did not believe the company were giving good enough security for the loan which they asked. The speaker said that Chatham was an unusually good site on account of the suitability of the soil in this vicinity for the growing of sugar beets, and Chatham's first class shipping facilities.

The Mayor entered at this juncture, and Ald. Scullard resigned the chair in his favor. The Mayor said he understood that the Keystone Company were willing to make a new offer to the city, or to receive a new one from the city, as the case might be. He called upon Promoter Fowler to explain what the company would be willing to do. Promoter Fowler said that he was satisfied that the County of Kent was unexcelled as a field for the growing of sugar beets. So far as the success of the proposition was concerned, that largely depended on the supply and quality of the beets which could be obtained in the vicinity of the factory. A sugar factory in this district, he thought, would not be taking any hazardous chances, once it was under way. Leaving all the side issues of the last election aside, he thought that the one point with which the citizens were not entirely satisfied was the question of security. The company were now willing to go one step further in the way of security. Four of the members present at a recent meeting, had signified their willingness to put up $20,000 in bonds as security in addition to the $90,000 in bonds offered by the company as a whole, making a total of $110,000 security. This was the basis of the new proposition.

Ex-Ald. John Waddell—You have no alternative proposition? Mr. Fowler—That is the best proposition that we can make. Mr. Waddell—I understand that the Government bounty to sugar factories dies out with this year? Mr. Fowler—Yes, and it can't be said positively whether it will be renewed or not. But we are not depending on the bounty. The bounty is a very convenient thing, but we are not building on it.

Ex-Ald. Harry Westman—If the company were offered a small loan from the city, would they be willing to accept it? Mr. Fowler—No, they wouldn't accept it.

Mr. Wm. Anderson—In the event of the city again taking up the matter, who would bear the expense of submitting the by-law? Mr. Fowler—We will stand half the expense.

Mr. Waddell thought that if the city held $110,000 of the $200,000 put up that the corporation would hold the remaining share.

Ald. Massey—Not after the first year. Ald. Austin said that he had the City Solicitor's word for it, that the city was running absolutely no risk here. They could make any provision on the mortgage they seen fit and it would hold good, up till the last year, when the city would still have $7,500 due them. The city further had the legal right to instruct the trust company at any time to take legal proceedings to protect its interests.

Mayor Marshall—But there is no use in taking the matter up unless we see that the by-law will carry. It will only mean additional expense to the city.

Mr. S. Stephenson—It would not be at all advisable to submit any Ex-Ald. Walter Piggott thought that a sugar factory was a splendid proposition for the city of Chatham to consider. The surrounding country was admirably suited to the growing of sugar beets, and the transportation facilities from Chatham were simply unexcelled anywhere. The new proposition might have a tendency to influence some of the ratepayers, but he was in doubt as to whether such a proposition would carry if put before the electorate. He believed with the Mayor and Mr. Stephenson that the security should be first made sure of.

Mr. H. W. Westman thought that the securing of a sugar factory under such terms would be the opportunity of a lifetime for Chatham, and he was of the opinion that the proposition was not by any means a venture on the city's part. There was only a very small chance of the city losing anything on the deal.

Mr. Fowler here explained that the trust company were merely acting as trustees for the bond-holders. The company was putting up $400,000 in actual cash, which amount in his mind was ample security.

Mr. Snider—What would the plant be worth if it was thrown on the market? Mr. Fowler—That is rather problematic. You couldn't buy it at the present time for $200,000.

Mr. Fowler said that after the defeat of the last by-law he had met a man from Wallaceburg who had said to him that he thought the people up Chatham way should have their beets examined. This man had said that he thought the company liberal offer, and that the people of Chatham were still bigger fools not to have accepted it.

Ald. Austin could not see why the security was not ample. He said that if the plant were sold for $150,000 the city would not lose one cent. The city's risk, in his opinion, would be a very small one.

Ex-Ald. John Liddy—There is no doubt but that there are a number here who think that the company's offer is all right, but that isn't going to carry the by-law. It's the ratepayers you will have to deal with, and you won't satisfy them unless you secure a first mortgage. There is no use putting this by-law in this shape again, because I tell you, the ratepayers will simply vote it down.

Mr. Stephenson said that he wished to put himself on record as certainly not opposed to the sugar factory. He, like the rest of the ratepayers, would like to see it located in Chatham, as this was undoubtedly one of the best of locations for a factory of this kind. The factory 600 the city would not lose one cent. The city's risk, in his opinion, would be a very small one.
