

IMAGE EVALUATION TEST TARGET (MT-3)

Photographic Sciences Corporation

23 WEST MAIN STREET
WEBSTER, N.Y. 14580 (716) 872-4503

CIHM Microfiche Series (Monographs)

ICMH Collection de microfiches (monographies)

Canadian Institute for Historical Microreproductions / Institut canadien de microreproductions historiques

© 1992

Technical and Bibliographic Notes / Notes techniques et bibliographiques

The Institute has attempted to obtain the best original copy available for filming. Features of this copy which may be bibliographically unique, which may alter any of the images in the reproduction, or which may significantly change the usual method of filming, are checked below.

L'Institut a microfilmé le meilleur exemplaire qu'il lui a été possible de se procurer. Les détails de cet exemplaire qui sont peut-être uniques du point de vue bibliographique, qui peuvent modifier une image reproduite, ou qui peuvent exiger une modification dans la méthode normale de filmage sont indiqués ci-dessous.

- Coloured covers/Couverture de couleur
- Covers damaged/
Couverture endommagée
- Covers restored and/or laminated/Couverture restaurée et/ou pelliculée
- Cover title missing/Le titre de couverture manque
- Coloured maps/
Cartes géographiques en couleur
- Coloured ink (i.e. other than blue or black)/ Encre de couleur (i.e. autre que bleue ou noire)
- Coloured plates and/or illustrations/Planches et/ou illustrations en couleur
- Bound with other material/Relié avec d'autres documents
- Tight binding may cause shadows or distortion along interior margin/La reliure serrée peut causer de l'ombre ou de la distorsion le long de la marge intérieure
- Blank leaves added during restoration may appear within the text. Whenever possible, these have been omitted from filming/Il se peut que certaines pages blanches ajoutées lors d'une restauration apparaissent dans le texte, mais, lorsque cela était possible, ces pages n'ont pas été filmées.

- Coloured pages/
Pages de couleur
- Pages damaged/
Pages endommagées
- Pages restored and/or laminated/Pages restaurées et/ou pelliculées
- Pages discoloured, stained or foxed/Pages décolorées, tachetées ou piquées
- Pages detached/Pages détachées
- Showthrough/Transparence
- Quality of print varies/Qualité inégale de l'impression
- Continuous pagination/Pagination continue
- Includes index(es)/ Comprend un (des) index
- Title on header taken from: / Le titre de l'en-tête provient:
- Title page of issue/Page de titre de la livraison
- Caption of issue/Titre de départ de la livraison
- Masthead/
Générique (périodiques) de la livraison

Additional comments: / Commentaires supplémentaires:

This item is filmed at the reduction ratio checked below / Ce document est filmé au taux de réduction indiqué ci-dessous.

10X	14X	18X	22X	26X	30X
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
12X	16X	20X	24X	28X	32X

The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

Harold Campbell Vaughan Memorial Library
Acadia University

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol → (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Harold Campbell Vaughan Memorial Library
Acadia University

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole → signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

A

S E R M O N

On a Day of THANKSGIVING

PREACHED at LIVERPOOL,

By HENRY ALLINE.

On the 21st, of November 1782.

HALIFAX. Printed by A. HENRY,

December 26 Day 1764

Mary Lock her Book
given her at Liverpool by her friends to keep in and her souls friends I can not speak

Mary Lock Her Book

R
of So
And
dred it's u gene Hon

THE PREFACE.

REQUESTED by a number of my Friends, (who I trust were laiming at the Glory of God and good of Souls) I with cheerfulness commit this to the Publick; And O may Jesus my Blessed Master not only pour a Hundred fold Reward into their Bosom: but likewise spread it's usefulness to Thousands of their fellow men, yea to generatious yet unborn, and thereby bring immortal Honours to his Name!

May he whose love call'd forth the Angellic Train, To sing with Joy thro' Heav'ns immortal plan,
 And from the blaze of uncreated day Has deign'd to bleed in cloths of sin and clay That he might his own boundless love display Hand this abroad by his own sacred Dove, To teach immortal souls redeeming Love!
 Read meek enquirer with a thirst divine, I'll be thy waiter and the blessing thine;
 And while you read may Heav'ns own balmy wing Awake with Joy the deathless mind to sing
 ' A theme like this MY JESUS IS MY KING, ' AND GREAT THY LOVE, NOW BRIGHT THY GLORIES SHINE,
 ' FROM THY OWN WOMB DISPLAY'D SUCH FLOODS DIVINE
 ' TO MAKE THYSELF AND ALL THY GLORIES MINE!
 FAIN WOULD I SING THE MERITS OF THAT BLOOD I SEE THE WOUNDS! AWAY CREATED GOOD!
 MY HEART AWAKES MY JESUS IS MY GOD.
 AND STILL DESCEND O THOU IMMORTAL DOVE, ATTRACT MY PANTING SOUL TO REALMS ABOVE, AND WRAP ME IN THE MANTLE OF THY LOVE.
 THERE WHERE THY GLORIES IN MERIDIAN BLAZE MY RAVISH'D SOUL WOULD EVER ON THEE GAZE, AND HUMBLE ANTHEMS TO JEHOVAH RAISE; ALL THIS WITH ALL THE UNIVERSAL THROG SHALL BE MY JOY, MY GLORY, AND MY SONG, JESUS MY ALL! TO HIM DOTHS PRAISE BELONG.

SERMON

S E R M O N.

From Psalm 107, 31. Ob' that Men would Praise the Lord for his Goodness, and for his Wonderfull works to the Children of Men.

METHINKS in some degree with the Prophet of old I can say I was glad when they said unto me, let us go up into the House of the Lord; our feet shall stand within thy Gates O Jerusalem, whether the Tribes go up, the Tribes of the Lord, unto the testimony of Israel to give thanks unto the Name of the Lord (a) for I not only with Joy embrace the privilege, for the Joy of my own Soul but am happy likewise to find such a General Attendance, and am thankfull to find the heads of Families, and leading Men of the place have so generally answered my last Sabbaths request, to exclude their secular employ, and have used their influence for the same on others under their charge; and O I would hope you have not only given your Attendance but that with ardent desires for grace to make this a day of thanksgiving indeed.

And O that he who inspired the fisherman at Pentecost would cause a sound from heaven as of a mighty rushing wind to shake the Earth, alarm the hearts of this auditory and loose my Tongue (long cloged with sin) cloven the Truths I deliver with his spirit as a divine interpreter open and apply them to every heart, and as your various wants may require, that the blind might see, the deaf hear, the dead rise, the lame leap for Joy, and the

(a) Psa. 122, 3.

Speak forth the praises of his worthy Name, and that all our hearts as one warmed with his love, and a feeling sense of his unchangeable kindness might with cheerfulness of soul praise him for his goodness and for his wonderful works to the children of men !

And if this be your expectation or desire, O let me intreat you one and all to exclude the world with all its amusing charms, and say to the Earth with all its allurments even the most warrentable concerns of life, to every wandering thought, to every slavish fear, and to all supinities as Abraham to his young men (b) TAKRY YE HERE WHILE I GO AND WORSHIP YONDER ; then may you expect Jesus to meet and supply your innumerable wants, cheer your souls with his smiles, and cause you to say with his disciples at Olivet IT IS GOOD FOR US TO BE HERE (c) and then may you return to your houses and visit your bed-chambers with joy rejoicing in, and telling of, what the Lord had done for your souls.

And Oh ! how would my soul rejoice, when thro' being in the least degree instrumental for your good, I could return bearing my sheaves with joy ! And as it is the goodness of God leads sinners to repentance, and the love of Christ constraineth us to love him, I shall endeavour (being obliged likewise by the subject now before us, and design of the day) to point you to God's unspeakable goodness, or lead you to the fountain of his unbounded love, that you may thirst after, drink of, and be ravished with, the glories, love, and goodness of Jehovah, so as to break out in raptures of joy with the Prophet, and say, " O that men would praise the Lord for his goodness and his wonderful works to the children of men ! "

And as our Text is rather a note of surprise, and a grateful acknowledgement annexed to, and extorted by the preceding view of the infinite goodness, love and com-compassion of God, I shall be obliged to have continual recourse to the preceding subject to discover that goodness which seems to have extorted the prayer, the praise, and the joyful surprize, together with desires insatiate, that God might be loved and adored by the sons of men. Nor do I know of any thing that would so make this a day of thanksgiving, cause your hearts to burn with love and glow with gratitude, as this grand subject, the goodness of God, and his wonderful works to the children of men, if discovered and applied to your hearts by the spirit of God; which subject I shall endeavour (for to ease your attention and assist your understanding) to exhibit under three general observations, together with some useful digressions.

1st. I shall discover something of this goodness in itself.

2dly. The communications of this goodness breaking forth in creation.

3dly. In Redemption.

4thly. In the preservation of the fallen system for Redemption.

5thly. The instances of his goodness to us in particular: all which expresses the goodness of God and his wonderful works to the children of men; & as I shall endeavour to improve the same by making an application, I shall, singularize my hearers as in their degrees and several stations of life; and O! for an earnest groan from every heart that Jesus, who teaches as never man taught, would descend and reside over this assembly with the dews of immortal love, to water, soften, and cheer every heart with the wonders of redeeming love!

And now to return to our first general observation.

I am to goodness
And here true, an vision;
positers
tion, re
sons of his kind is not c produc
to say,
himself
only to others God as the h it wor God a the go a strain and th leaving their kind but w ble fo
admin fulne merin
in his in do good his crea
task
and have continual over that good-

ner, the praise,
desires insatiate,
by the sons of
that would so your hearts to
, as this grand onderful works
nd applied to hich subject I n and assist your neral observa-
ions.

goodness in it-

goodness break-

allen system for

to us in partiof God and his & as I shall en-
an application,
their degrees
for an earnest
o teaches as necessary over this love, to water wonders of re-

ral observa-

I am to discover to you something of this source of all goodness, and cause of every communication of love : And here, altho' my sentiments may be singular yet true, and attracting to all those who stand open to conviction; for notwithstanding the greater part of our expositors of divine revelation hold forth the work of creation, redemption, and every expression of mercy to the sons of men, to be a strained stoop, and singular act of his kindness, yet I believe, and can easily prove that it is not only a free act of love, but likewise the natural product of that infinite overflowing, yea, I was about to say, uncontainable goodness; that is that God in himself is possessed of, yea his very nature is such as not only to love goodness, but delight to do good; and let others say or pretend what they will of their loving God and admiring his divine perfections, I dare not act the hypocrite or dissemble with God; for I know it would not be possible for me to love such a God and admire the nature of such a Being that did all the good he did, not as a free and natural act, but only a strained and singular expression of pity and kindness, and that in partiality too, shewing favour to me and leaving a number of my poor family to perish, when their misery was no benefit to him and he could be as kind to them all if he would, and save them all too but would not; I say I am far from believing it possible for me (unless I am kept in blindness) to love and admire such a being with a voluntary will, and selfishness of soul; but when I am blessed with but a glimmering ray of the truth, and see God as he really is, in himself possessed of that Goodness that takes delight in doing good, yea so self necessary and unboundedly good that he can neither act partially nor yet withhold his goodness from every vessel that can receive it, or creature that desires it, (c) yea this self existent fountain of goodness wisdom, glory and beauty, is the joy and happiness of God himself, and that wine that cheers cheers the heart of God and Man, (d) and this fountain of goodness is the joy of all the angelic hosts ; this is the joy of my soul now, and I trust my ravishing delight to all eternity : and this fountain of unbounded goodness is the moving cause of every communication of love to his creatures ; yea and the very cause of creation : O then what goodness ! what infinite goodness ! ah ! soul ravishing goodness is this ! surely I may break out with acclamations of joy and surprise with the Prophet, " O that men would praise the Lord for his goodness and for his wonderful works to the children of men ! for he is infinitely good, yea he is altogether lovely ! " (e) And say my dear hearers, does not this discovery of the glorious scene attract your whole souls, or kindle a spark of immortal glowing and unextinguishable love for such a God ? O love him ; love him my fellow mortals, love him with all your souls, surely he is worthy of all your love ; yea how can you but love him, when he is love, even the perfection of love itself ! it's true you have cause to rejoice in redemption from eternal misery ; but he is but a mercenary christian who is possessed of no higher love than that ; yea I am almost ashamed to invite you to heaven, because there is a hell ; but because there is a God in heaven ; yea a God, that is heaven itself.

For Oh ! a God of boundless love like this,
Is an unbounded sea of perfect bliss !
Dive, dive, my hearers th' unfathomable sea, There's room for souls as vile as you and me !

But to return and drop a few more words on my intended subject, and that is, that such is the self-existence and infinite fullness of this goodness as it cannot possibly receive any injury or benefit, nor can possibly be glorified by receiving but only by giving, and whatever is done by this goodness is by no means to add to the

this fountain ts ; this is the g delight to ded goodness on of love to creation : O
 es ! ah ! soul eak out with Prophet, " O
 goodness and men ! for he ay ! " (e) And ry of the glondle a spark love for such low mortals,
 worthy of all n, when he is it's true you
 ernal misery ;
 is possessed of ot ashamed to hell ; but bed, that is hea-

like this,
 !
 nable sea,
 u and me !

ords on my ine self-existence it cannot pos-
 an possibly be
 , and whatever to add to the glory, or bring something to the goodness and grandeur, but wholly to display that love and manifest that goodness which was already existing in God, and thereby not to receive happiness or glory, but to display happiness and glory ; and yet, Oh ! too shocking to mention ! how is it held up in a land of light, that God, for his own glory, has designed, or consented to the everlasting damnation of countless millions of his creatures ; but as I trust God is about to expell that hellish darkness from the poor blinded world, and has already delivered most of his people in this part of the vineyard from them disagreeable chains, I shall return and say, God will have mercy and not sacrifice ;—but what did I say ! will have mercy and not sacrifice ! O sinners ! sinners !

 hear the glorious news ; for you are not only indulged with the glorious news ; but commanded to believe, receive and rejoice in the infalible, and soul-transporting truth ; go ye, saith my master, and learn what that meaneth,—I will have mercy and not sacrifice. (e) Oh ! that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, & for his wonderful works to the children of men ! And now I am come to our second observation, which was to discover something of the communications of this unbounded goodness in the work of creation ; and this I shall be able to discover in a few words, for as we have found God to be such a self-good being, as to be excluded from any possibility of receiving benefit or injury ; and all his divine operations of love and goodness are the natural product of that infinite fountain of love and goodness, then consequently the cause and design of all creation must be to manifest and display the overflowing goodness and infinite love of such a being or to adapt my discourse to the weakest capacity of my hearers, let me say made Vessels to fill with love, that is hungry creatures to feast upon his goodness, receive his grace, enjoy his love and be forever happy in his Transporting perfections and that from himself, and of his own goodness, and in his own likeness, he brought forth an innumerable crewed of immortal beings forever to partake of their Father's love and goodness and solace in the unbounded Sea of his self-existent perfections.

B

his

Think O think my dear hearers, ye fallen offspring of such a being, what a Father you once had! it was not possible for him to have any motive in view but the display of his glory the manifesting of his love infinite love, and the making you eternally, and unspeakably happy in the enjoyment of it. And altho' so many in the world have held the reverse yet if you only admit that creation was moved for any thing else, or that God for his own glory even consented to the misery and eternal damnation of his creatures, the natural consequences are so obviously infamous that we should dress a glorious being in a ridiculous habit, nor could I ask you to love and adore such a God, who consigned or left the greatest part of his creatures to the inexpressible Tortures of eternal despair, when he might have saved them without any injury to himself. But saith one if God be a God of such overflowing goodness, why are so many (at last (as even yourself say) eternally miserable? To which I answer (as many of you have often heard me) because they reject that redeeming hand until they are sealed down in that hardness and final impenitency that the spirit of God (which is in itself such meekness and humility as cannot force itself against the creatures will) can have no effect on them: yea the more it strives with them after that, the lower it sinks them from redemption or he would labour with them more. (f) and God declares himself that he not only would have brought them to the enjoyment of his love but has often laboured with them for that end: but they would not be redeemed. (g) and therefore he saith ye will not come unto me: that ye might have life (b) so that altho' God's love is infinite his goodness overflowing and he takes delight to make his creat against i

the ligh

O the ever you goodnes do not l
in your
in your
of infini licious only sea
ever rag ness of ever inf sters of are held spirit of removed of God that thi more so perfecti finitely far from or miser manifest and tha expressi
himself
O then orth in ten w but it
one sh
some tr
ethin

nerable crowed their Father's ounded Sea of his creatures happy therein, yet if you harden your hearts against it, it can be of no more benefit to your souls than the light of the sun to a blind man.

en offspring of ad ! it was not ew but the dis-
is love infinite speakably hap-
so many in the only admit that or that God for ery and eternal onsequences are drefs a glorious
ask you to love lest the great Torters of eter-
en without any be a God of such at last (as even hich I answer (a ause they reject ed down in that e spirit of God humility as can-
h) can have no ef-
with them after ption or he would declares himself
m to the enjoy-
with them for decmed. (2) and unto me that ye a love is infinite delight to make

O therefore let me intreat you for your soul-sake if every you expect to be made a partaker of God's infinite goodness, and drink of the boundless Ocean of his love, do not by rejecting the spirit of Jesus seal yourselves within yourselves to impenetrable darkness, and thereby sink in your own regions of eternal despair beyond the reach of infinite love and goodness : For the hellish and malicious contrariety of your fallen nature will soon, not only seal you down beyond the reach of mercy, but forever rage against that mercy yea and the love and goodness of God will be so contrary to you that it will forever infinitely augment your misery and add to the Torters of your keen despair : but if now in time while you are held up for that end you adhere to the redeeming spirit of God get your will turned, your hellish contrariety removed, and you transformed to the likeness and purity of God you will for ever find to your unspeakable Joy that this God is as I tell you, yea Ten Thousand times more so, nothing but love and goodness in all his divine perfections ; and you will see clearly that he was so infinitely happy and independantly glorious that he was so far from expecting any addition either by your happiness or misery that it was for the display of his goodness and manifesting of his love that he brought forth, all creation and that he was possessed of such Goodness that this great expression of his love was but a natrual manifestation of himself ; or the natural production of his own perfections.
O then it is no wonder that we hear David breaking forth in this joyfull surprize and impatient desire O THAT MEN WOULD PRAISE THE LORD FOR HIS GOODNESS ! but it is a greater wonder (sho' lamentable) that all the sons and Daughters of Men are not raptured with the same truth, and engaged in the same Notes. And O methinks I am constrained to lift my Heart, my hand,
and

and my voice, and in the Name of God, and in the presence of this Assembly, and declare, that God is LOVE and make use of the most forceable arguments and endearing intreaties to devote your minds from every other lover, and espouse you to this Husband, wean you from all created good, and lead yea to those Rivers of uncreated good, and seas of pleasure, that thy God, thy creator, thy preserver, thy redeemer, thy life, thy joy, and everlasting reward is possessed of.

But O can I think, and must I believe, that the greatest part of mankind, yea even of this Society are so involved in ignorance, so abandon to reason, and so insatuated by the powers of Hell, and regions of darkness, that they will refuse reject and despise such ravishing, delights, such solid good, lasting pleasures; and unparellel Grandure, while indifatiaguably in pursuit of shaddows, wearing out their lives for an empty sound, eating husks with the Swine, and licking of dust with the Serpent, untill in a moment they are in the agonizing confusions of an irreparable loss and plündged in despair for ever to rue the folly of their miserable cruelty and irricoverable deception where hope can never come! good God awake the world, and save them from the infernal attraction of those wandering stars, and lead them, O thou bright and morning star to the fountain of life before their fatal dye is unalteralty cast; and awake, O my hearers, from the dangerous amusements of this ensnaring World, for it is a stage of snares, a theatre for murder; O therefore awake and no longer squander away your few fleeting moments sporting on the confines of eternal perdition.

O think a moment what you was made for and what a capacious and immortal soul you are endowed with and risk it no longer in the Jaws of Hell: for it is now a market day and immortal Crowns are to be attained without money and without price.

Ye
clean you, l
love t
you e allure
and d thank unch

I r disco
tion.
good
parel have Peace ever

B
bassa Ah a
say!
Ang
unfa
Tell
thei
ble ferin

A
and equ
exp
an wit

Yea this very day Jesus is proposing his blood to cleanse you, his grace to forgive you, his spirit to lead you, himself for your friend husband and Father, and his love to cheer you, and all his divine perfections to make you everlastingly happy and glorious. O that I could allure you with his charms, court you with his smiles, and draw you with the cords of his love to begin your thanksgiving and receive your mansion in the realms of unchangeable felicity !

I now return to our third observation, which was to discover the communications of this goodness in redemption. And O what shall I say of love so infinite and goodness so unbounded ! and how can I speak of the unparallel condescension, and my heart not melt ! Had he have turned a thought of Love and sent an Embassy of Peace by some ministering Cherub I should had cause forever to love wonder and adore.

But O how much more when he himself is the Ambassador, and wears out his life in the grand Errand ! Ah and the act of grace to rebels too ! O what shall I say ! Or how express the Truth so infinitely Glorious ! Angels will forever acknowledge themselves lost in the unfathomable Ocean, and confess their utter inability of Telling the greatness of that love and goodness, which to their surprise stooped for the redemption of our miserable and rebellious System, at the infinite expence of suffering and death.

And O could it be ! was his goodness so unbounded and his love so uncontainable ! Ah it is a Truth ; and equally as true that it was not a strained act, or scanty expression of kindness but free and liberal, and of choice, an act of goodness like himself ; naturally consistent with the greatness of his love and goodness.

And now think my dear hearers what love. what infinite finite love he is possessed of; surely you will be convinced that his nature is all love self-existent and overflowing goodness; behold he comes freely yea of choice without any intreaties from the needy and with an act of grace for the life and salvation of his enemies, when he knew it would cost him infinite sorrow, in the agonies of death view him in the manger in that state of abasement even among the beasts sinners behold thy redeemer; and angels behold thy God an infant of a span long call out from the Society of Angels, and men, to endure the rage of earth and hell, view him sweating in Gethsemane in acute torters, and insupportable agonies of death under your enormous guilt till blood is forced from every pore, beneath the crushing mountain; and ask O ye Sons and Daughters of Adam WHY WAS ALL THIS? And let your hearts break for sin while melting with love, and surely you will Break out in the language of our Text.

O THAT MEN WOULD PRAISE THE LORD FOR HIS GOODNESS, AND HIS WONDERFULL WORKS TO THE CHILDREN OF MEN! Or are you so chained down to impenetrable hardness and insensibility, as never to hear or feel those groans which if possible would have made arch Angels tremble, O my Father if it is possible this cup may pass away nevertheless, if man can be saved no other way: not my will but thy will be done?

And is it possible for you to spend day after day, year after year, lye down and raise, go out and come in with your sordid minds so chained to the beggarly amusements, empty toys, and mercenary pleasures of this base stage as never to find room in your debauched Hearts for Truths so grand, and, to you, so important? O leave your little world, your contracted orb, your polluted Ken; and Soar to the realms of Angellic delight, give your poor imprisoned minds aloose but a moment in search of worlds yet to you unknown; court immortal Loves, and drink of those Rivers of pleasure that makes

glad t never

Sun
Vassa
to gro Egypt
land.
burni

Ah
the lo your
of the his c Name

Bu
this g
stand repro perio weigh suppo
earth meric when strugg Hell.

not the
the (1)

glad the City of God, and taste those joys of ancient and neverfailing date.

Surely you have been long enough slaves to sin and Vassals to satan Methinks you must by this time begin to groan under the Yoke of Pharaoh in the bondage of Egypt, and be willing to ventur out for the promis'd land. And O let me tell you that Jehovah is come down burning with love and the Bush is not consumed. (i)

Ah Jesus has not only spread the mantle of his love over the lost world in general, but over you in particular; for your villages and Families happily enjoy the dropping of the sanctuary and effusions of his holy spirit. O hear his calls, receive his grace, enjoy his love, and adore his Name for his goodness to the Sons of Men.

But to return to the infinite expence of the display of this goodness, we find this meek and lovely Jesus after standing as a mark for the ungodly, and enduring all the reproaches of men, and rage of hell, thro' the whole period of his miserable life, he is crushed under the weight of fallen nature and expires in the agonies of insupportable anguish and misery. Ah well might the earth tremble, the rocks rend the graves open, and the meridian sun wrap his face in a melancholly shroud, when Jehovah himself was enveloped in darkness, and struggling in the pangs of death and miseries of Hell.

And is my God nail'd to the fatal Tree?
 Good God and are those cutting pangs for me!
 O melt my heart! my senseless soul arise,
 And fountains flow from both my wish'd eyes.
 Then soar my soul in greatfull songs of love,
 To reach thy Jesus in the realms above.

But

But O lamentable sound has stole my attention from the glorious scene! What is that says you, why the careless unaffected and rejecting world crying out while passing by with wagging heads crucify him, crucify him: and you ah you ye careless souls who are wasting your days in vanity are the cruel and unhappy beings: for if you have not fallen in love with him, and received him in your hearts as your chief good leaving every other lover for his sake ye are still among his enemies and your conduct cries out away with this fellow and release unto us Baabbar for you are sparing and hugging your sins your lusts and Idols those thieves and murderers: Ah those murderers of Christ and of immortal souls yea and not only the careless and profane world are guilty of this crime but likewise you that have the Name and form of godliness but are enemies to the spirit and power; for the high Priests Scribes and Pharisees could very zealously cry out the Temple of the Lord the Temple of the Lord, and at the same time with all the malice of Hell stone and crucify the Lord of the Temple.

O return from your sin, your cruelty, and folly, not only ye careless and profane, but ye dry formalists ye Christless christians: or if I may say with the much approved young.

Ye brainless wits! ye baptized infidels!
 Ye worse for mending! wash'd to fouler stains!
 The ransom was paid down, the fund of Heaven; Heav'ns inexhaustible exhausted fund.

O why will you fatigue yourselves in the tedious round of an external form without the essence of religion, and despise the spirit of the Lord Jesus Christ to your own eternal ruin.

Why will you reject the only thing that can sweeten your mortal days, and procure you an immortal Crown of jo

 and t vanta
 to all yet it
 negle
 you incre possibi infini endea
 O tur
 of the hearts

Jesu
 wande gry pr ther o
 is runn as man God o part of enoug let me
 table,
 there i lame o Saul, y
 the Cr
 table,
 yea, an
 first Ad pertain intreat tal love
 tainabl

(1) E

of joy and unspeakable glory? What will your labour and toil avail you, or the infinite goodness of God advantage you, if you reject and throw away the only key to all its benefits? For altho' you may think it strange, yet it is true, that when you willfully reject, or carelessly neglect the Spirit of God and the power of the Gospel, you are crucifying Christ, murdering your own soul, increasing your chains of darkness, and cutting off every possibility of your being led to the enjoyment of that infinite ocean of goodness and love which I this day have endeavoured to unveil, or bring you to see and enjoy. O turn! turn! ye starving souls, that never have tasted of the sweets of Redeeming love, and find room in your hearts for but one drop of those rivers of pleasure!

Jesus this day proposes his leading hand, to direct your wandering minds to his courts of grace; and O ye hungry prodigals, speed your lingering return, for the Father of all mercies feels his bowels yearn over you, and is running to meet you, (k) yea and I will not tell you as many do, no I dare not, that there is no mercy with God or living bread in my Father's house for the greatest part of you; for, blessed be his name there is enough; enough, did I say? Ah! and to spare: (l) Oh! then let me take you by the hand and lead you to the full table, where you may eat, drink, and rejoice: Ah! if there is even a lame Mephibosheth, who is not only lame on both his feet, but of that rebellious house of Saul, which hath long conspired against the true heir to the Crown, he may yet come and sit and eat at the King's table, and Ziba and all his, shall be thy servants: (m) yea, and all the glorious Paradise that you lost with the first Adam shall be restored by the second, as all that pertained to Saul, was given to Mephibosheth. O be intreated to come and partake of the wonders of immortal love! for my soul feels so pregnant with an unobtainable seal for your everlasting welfare, and your company:

C

(k) Luke 15, 20.

(l) Luke 15, 17.

(m) 2 Sam. 9, 13, 15.

company with me to those bright mansions of my Father's bosom, that methinks I cannot be denied; for Oh! it is there, let me speak it with reverence, that I expect thro' boundless grace, when I have stood the storm of this militant state a few hours more, to share in the unspeakable privileges of the sons of God, and bear a part in those immortal strains of praise to the glorious Emanuel; and many of this assembly I hope and expect to see among the glorious croud, who have already attained an evidence by the spirit of God sealing them to the day of redemption. And Oh! methinks such of you as have been thus indulged, find you hearts by this time so inflamed with love, and attracted with the glories of the approaching scene, as to constrain you to join with me, and say, O that men would praise the Lord for his goodness and his wonderful works to the Children of men! But lest I weary the attention of those unhappy hearers, who find no sweetness in our pleasing theme, I must hasten to our fourth observation:

Which was a small discovery of the manifestations of this goodness in the preservation of this fallen family as probationers.

And here, omitting the innumerable instances of his providence to individuals, how infinite his love! how low his stoop! how hard his labour! and how unwearied his patience! in stopping the course of fallen, and nature holding the wretched family so long in such a capacity, by his incarnate spirit, as to be in a possibility of redemption! and thereby bearing the infinite weight of their contrariety, and enduring all the rage and innumerable insults of earth and hell, while at the same time he was concerting every method, and turning every stone for to reclaim them, and pouring out his favours upon them, as innumerable as the sands on the sea shore. O what love, what goodness, what wisdom, what pity, and long suffering is this! Well might the Prophet break

brea
ed;
love
and forn
inca ry o
of hi
flain
an in less kept
recla incar made waiti mani
creat trava angu vatio
is con
but s struct
in lov
wicke demp demp
and s they r misery that a fore t trarie
ble ob
And
land

my Father's for Oh ! it at I expect storm of this he unspeak-
a part in s Emanuel ;
est to see a-
attained an
to the day of you as have time so in-clories of the oin with me,
or his goodness f men ! But hearers, who must hasten to manifestations of Allen family as instances of his his love ! how now unwearied

men, and nature
uch capacity,
possibility of re-nite weight of age and innu-
the same time turning every out his favours
on the sea shore.
on, what pity,
the Prophet
break

break out and say, in all their afflictions he was afflicted ; and the angel of his presence saved them, in his love and his pity he redeemed them, and he bare them and he carried them all the days of old. (u) Ah ! what sorrows, sins, pains, even in agonies of death, did this incarnate Jesus wade through ! not only in the debauchery of the antediluvian world, but even down to the day of his visible appearance ! Well may God declare he was slain from the foundation of the world ; (o) Oh ! what an infinite weight must he bear, when it was by his spotless spirit that all the contrariety of the fallen system was kept from action so far as to be in a possibility of being reclaimed, when all this suppression was effected by his incarnation ! And thus even the outward creature is made subject to vanity, and groans for deliverance, waiting for the redemption of the inward creature, which manifestation will bring the deliverance of the outward creature, until which the whole creation groans and travails in pain. (p). And thus you may see the labour, anguish, and unwearied patience of God in this preter-vation ; and all for the good of man : Yea even what is commonly called Judgements, are wholly in love : but some of my hearers will object, How could the destruction of the Old World, Sodom and Gomorrah be in love ? I answer, that neither they, nor any of the wicked are cut off, until by rejecting the offered redemption, they are gone beyond all possibility of redemption, (q) and therefore both in mercy to themselves and succeeding generations ; for as for themselves, if they remained any longer, it would but enhance their misery ; and their being cut off, sweeps away so many that are enemies to them that may be redeemed ; therefore the system is divested of so much darkness and contrariety, which otherwise would have been an unspeak-able obstruction to the Redeemer's kingdom.

And thus my dear hearers, you may not only understand that GOD IS LOVE, and do all that is done upon

(u) Isa. 63. 9. (o) Rev. 13. 8. (p) Rom. 8. 19, 20, 21, 22. (q) 1sa. 2. 5

upon this mortal stage in mercy, but likewise you may learn the infinite danger of remaining useleſs in, and an enemy to the Redeemer's kingdom.

T O! awake, ariſe therefore ye careleſs and ungodly ſons and daughters of Adam, ye enemies of the Lord, and ſtand no longer as mountains of obſtruction to all that is good, no longer perſiſt in murdering your own ſouls and others. O! why will you turn all the mercies of an indulgent God into chains of darkneſs, infllicting darts of torment and racks of deſpair? Or why will you perſiſt to have your eyes evil, when his is ſo infinitely good? O! be entreated to think a moment on the infinite love and goodneſs of ſuch a God; lay down your weapons of rebellion, confeſs your guilt, receive the pardon, extoll the grace, enjoy the love, and forever adore the Name of ſuch a good God.

Oh! think what wiſdom has been employed for you, what grace is pleading, what love is inviting, what ſufferings endured, what patience waiting, and what goodneſs ſurrounding you continually! Or will you ſtill perſiſt and deſpiſe this goodneſs to your own eternal ruin? will you labour to bar your hearts againſt the endearing charms of this melting and overflowing love?

Oh! think how much God has done, and endured for your redemption; yea and the very rocks, hills, and ſtones, ſun, moon and ſtars, are all engaged for you, groaning under you, and travailing in pain for your redemption; (r) and muſt it all be in vain?

Muſt God ſtoop, ſuffer, bleed and die; grace travail, woo and plead; mercy labour, beat and forbear; wiſdom propoſe; love court; and goodneſs, infinite and everlaſting goodneſs, open the boſom of ravishing delight, and all in vain, and you at last go down into eternal ruin? Yea not only in vain, but worse, all as mountains sinking you down deeper in despair under the keen reflections, while wallowing in the bottomless Gulf. Why, why O sinners, why will you abuse such love, and destroy yourselves? O! let me prevail with you to be happy, yea forever happy in this goodness, and join in one eternal thanksgiving, with songs of everlasting praise to Jehovah, for his goodness and his wonderful works to the children of men!

And now the fifth and last general observation I proceed; which was to point out some of the singular instances of the goodness of God to us in particular; but O they are so innumerable I know not where to begin!

If I speak of the gospel privileges, surely I may say that our lines are fallen in pleasant places, and we have a goodly heritage; for we came forth from the loins of our predecessors to have our trial for salvation in a day when the gospel is in its meridian brightness.

Ah! what millions have appeared for their trial in the antedeluvian darkness; millions more under but the glimmering light of the Mosaic dispensations; when Oh! methinks even the poor lovers of Jesus waded in obscurity, looking through those dark types and shadows to a promised Messiah, impatiently waiting for the long expected morning, when the Messiah should visibly appear; and thousands more since he has appeared, have gone to heaven in a storm against the cruel rage of persecution, wading after their Captain in seas of their own blood; while we, with all those evidences of the truths of the gospel, are sitting under our own vine and fig-tree and none to make us afraid.

Think

Think O my hearers, how infinitely we are indulged, invironed with the arms of omnipotence, wrapped in the mantle of love, and cultivated with the word and spirit, under the balmy wing of everlasting kindness. O how largely have we been made to partake of the goodness of God, and share in the favours of his hand! and O how little returns! yea and if I come a step nearer still omitting our being excluded from heathenish darkness and from the cruelty of oppression and tyranny, how are we screened from the trials of our (once happy) Nation in the convulsions of the present day? how have we sat in peace while this inhuman war hath spread devastation thro' our Neighbouring Towns, and Colonies like a flood! not my dear hearers because of the cleanness of our hands, or past righteousness: for surely we have not only had our hands equally engaged in the sins that have incurred the lamentable disorder; but have likewise perpetrated the same crimes, and remained unfruitful and incorrigible under such distinguishing advantages.

Yea and when we have daily expected the impending cloud, and to share in the bitter cup, heaven's indulgent hand has interposed and averted the blow.

Yea, and more to be admired still we have not only been excluded from the destructive scene, but while they were involved in the dreadful calamity, we have been blest with that unparelled blessing the moving work of the Spirit of God; a work of grace, and the advancing of the Redeemer's kingdom in almost every corner of the Province; which, blessed be God, (although many may and do despise it) I have been an eye witness to, and a happy partaker of; yea, and many hundreds will likewise forever adore God in the blessed Work. Neither has your little corner of the vineyard been excluded from a share in the unspeakable prize; witness some of my hearers now present who had long been involved in Egyptian

Egyptian
been spea
free
deed
fam
rive
have prai
nite
Let
rede
only wan thir
right reit t

O grati
for hi
of me are bl altho
and point vance ries;
O yo Yea
you enjoy you a
the di
of mil
of ten hand o
nels;

Egyptian darkness; has not some of your souls not only been brought out of your unhappy bondage and unspeakable danger, but likewise made to partake of God's free and boundless grace, and taste of the sweets of redeeming love? has not Jesus come into some of your families, and caused some of your souls to drink of those rivers of pleasure that makes glad the city of our God? have you not forgot your sorrows and sung for joy? O praise him then; praise him ye happy souls for his infinite goodness; or I may say in the words of our context, Let the redeemed of the Lord say so, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy. Ye have not only been mourning in the bondage of Egypt, but have wandered in a wilderness, in a solitary way, hungry and thirsty, until Jesus appeared and led you forth by the right way to a city of habitation, where you found that rest that remains for the people of God.

O let your hearts melt with love, your souls glow with gratitude, and your minds soar away in shouts of praise for his goodness and his wonderful works to the children of men. Surely you have cause to love much, for you are blest in basket and in store, in time and eternity, for although you may be called through some trying scenes, and sometimes afflicted with losses, crosses and disappointments of this temporal world, yet it is all but to advance your spiritual welfare, and prevent greater miseries; for all things will surely terminate for your good. O you are a people highly favoured of God indeed! Yes, and even you that know not God, how vastly are you blessed? how innumerable are the mercies you enjoy that many cannot? Ah could I but a moment lend you an omniscient eye or discover to your view a map of the disordered world, what peals of death, what marks of misery and tokens of despair would you behold even of temporal calamities? thousands soliciting the cold hand of charity, pinched with hunger, thirst and nakedness; thousands chained to the galley, and others chain of

of slavery, to endure all the hardship and misery that cruelty can inflict; thousands in prisons, dungeons and places of confinement already destined to the gallows, gibbet, rack, or torture; when every pulse counts the fleeting moments that crowd them with reluctance to their dreadful exit; yea, and perhaps the greatest part of those unhappy beings (too shocking for human thought) will but exchange miseries finite and tolerable, to miseries infinite and intolerable; and in a moment will find their die unalterably cast in the regions of increasing horrors and eternal despair. Good Lord, and were these once the inhabitants of the paradise of God! Ah how is the gold changed and the most fine gold become dim! (r) whose heart can but break and say with the Prophet, O that my head were waters and mine eyes fountains of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people! (s) or how can your hearts my dear hearers but dissolve with love or break forth with thanksgiving to God for the unspeakable privileges that you are indulged with? O arise, arise and put on the Lord Jesus Christ and live to him, for he is the author and giver of all thy privileges, and is now travelling from door to door, and knocking from heart to heart, for admission, and all to bring you to the fountain of all good, and the essence of unspeakable joys, yea, and he waits with unwearied patience till his head is filled with the dew and his locks with the drops of the night. (t) O grant him admission, enjoy his love and live forevermore. O he calls, he calls, with arms extended to receive; you & this day (though by a stammering tongue) has unvailed his goodness enough to engage your souls to love him if you would but open your hearts for the attracting view. He has not only created you in love, and came wholly in love to redeem you, but has been labouring in love for you through unspeakable miseries; and is still labouring for you, and in infinite love intreating you to partake and forever enjoy his unchangeable goodness.

(r) Lam. 4. 1.

(s) Jer. 9. 1.

(t) Cant. 5. 7.

and this paci
shou christ to les
an in there
rally will p
and d which the gr
never
of his Jesus spirit

And
in the your fo against

And
of the T chief cor fed Naz taught of nursing F able grea ward.

Yea an
and as inj
and your

And now let me in his Name reinforce the intreaties and point out your steps for to praise and adore him, and this by singularizing my hearers as in their different capacities and stations of life. And God forbid that I should point any of you to God without God; or to be christians without Christ; and therefore I am not about to lead you in a formal path of spiritless externals but an immediate application to the Lord Jesus Christ; and there to partake of that spirit and love that will as naturally produce a christian deportment externally as fire will produce light. O therefore away to mount Calvary and drink from that bleeding love and infinite goodness which will immediately engage your souls to walk with the greatest cheerfulness in the ways of God; yea and never expect to breathe a breath to his praise or taste of his love without a saving knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ thro' a change wrought in your soul by the spirit of God.

And if so how unfit are you to live or serve God while in the gaul of bitterness and bonds of iniquity with your souls in the darkness of your fallen state at enmity against God and all that is good.

And now let me first intreat you who are leading men of the Town in Civil affairs to make it your first and chief concern to find room in your hearts for the despised Nazarene, that you who are Counsellors may be nursing Fathers to his people; and great, Ah? unspeakable great will be your present and everlasting reward.

Yea and great is the influence of men in your state; and as injurious as great when your ways are perverse and your examples ungodly.

Ah? what a shocking sight to see the capital men of the Earth who ought to be a Terror to evil doers, and a praise to them that do well living in sin, sitting in the seats of the scornful and joining with the ungodly. wallowing in vice and debauchery, & walking in luxurious paths! but god forbid that I should have any cause to suspect this to be the case with any of you present; but if it is (though I would treat you with all that respect that is due to your station and would be far from giving any wilful offence) I am under an obligation to say as Nathan to David, thou art the man; and intreat you in the Name of the Lord, and in meekness and love to return before you are landed beyond hope: for there is yet mercy at your door, and a moment more for repentance. O embrace the unspeakable privilege, and let me intreat you to adorn your station by the grace of God, and live as lights in the world, and for the Lords sake, your own souls sake, and the sake of others around you arise up and witness for God, and let all your deportment espouse the redeemers cause, and the welfare of souls.

But O! how shocking when men that should be as pillars in the house of God, and a bulwark around his feeble Lambs, are enemies to the gospel, and a wound to the hearts of his children. And Ah how shocking to see those from whose lips we might expect the dews of heaven to water and comfort the mourners in Sion, and whose Tongue should teach the songs of heaven to the rising generations, debauched with vain and obscene discourse, and belching out blasphemy? Surely says many if such men may talk and conduct so we may too. But on the other hand when they stand speak and labour for the glory of God and good of souls how would saints admire mourners rejoice and sinners Tremble

O that you might be the happy instruments of such benefit to immortal souls! and great, ah unspeakably great,

g
an
in to
TH
IN
lov hin
chil
you
you
affai earn
great
pract
dear ly as his di
men h holy a ter th
are wi evil, a and dic accoun upon y Ah c
to your beauties
I should to court Rebekah with so fullest c grandeur Jesus for with the

tal men of doers, and ting in the godly. wal-
in luxurious y cause to ou present;
ll that ref-
e far from obligation to and intreat ness and love
e: for there
ore for reege, and let he grace of or the Lords hers around ill your de-
the welfare

ould be as around his a wound to shocking to the dews of
n. Sion, and aven to the
and obscene Surely says
we may too.
eak and la-
how would Tremble!

ents of such unspeakably
great.

great, would be your reward; Jesus will stand by lead and support you thro' all the sorrows, labours and Trying scenes of this mortal world, give you strength equal to your day, and then receive you with a WELL DONE THOU GOOD AND FAITHFUL SERVANT ENTER THOU INTO THE JOY OF THY LORD, there to sollace in his love, Crowned with immortal glory, and forever adore him for his goodnes, and his wonderful works to the children of men: but ah some of you I suppose think you would be very happy to be so blest and hope that you shall but as yet your obligations to the important affairs of your publick station and your affinity with the carnal world, and pblite age, is such, that you should greatly expose your earthly esteem and welfare for to practice or discourse much about religion. True my dear hearers you would so but let me tell you it is equally as True that unless you forsake all, you can never be his disciple, and those who are ashamed of him before men he will be ashamed of before his Father and the holy angels. (u) therefore you may never expect to enter those bright abodes of the everlasting day unless you are willing in this life to have your Names cast out as evil, and bear his reproach without the Camp; yea and did you see things as they really are you would account it the greatest honour that could be conferred upon you to be dispised for the Name of Jesus.

Ah could I a moment unvail your minds and discover to your souls one glimmering ray of the transporting beauties and resfulgent glories of the Lord Jesus Christ, I should have no more labour to espouse you to him, or to court you from every other love, for you would like Rebekah when courted to an unknown husband, say, I will go: (w) Ah! you would with the greatest cheerfulness drop your earthly charms, the applaufe and grandeur of this vain world, and make choice of this Jesus for your present and everlasting portion, and say with the spouse, this is my beloved, and this is my friend

Friend O daughters of Jerusalem ! (x) And then would you with gladness of heart come out and stand as a mark for the ungodly, and turn every stone, and concert every method to advance his glorious cause in the land, and to me (the few moments I am among you) would be as fellow helpers in the gospel, and with me share in the everlasting reward. O then let me again and again solicit your return from all your sinful ways and paths of vanity, and join with heart and voice to praise God for his goodness and his wonderful works to the children of men ! and let the world know that you belong to Jesus. And now with God I leave you, hoping you will make the happy choice ; for life and death has been set before you.

And now to every head of a family let me say, as the Lord to Zaccheus, make hast and come down for to day I must abide at thy house ; (y) Jesus is passing by and offering to come in and make his residence with you and your families ; Ah ! and had you a sense of the infinite privilege of receiving the glorious visitant, you would, like the forementioned Zaccheus, come down and receive him joyfully ; and say, with Joshua, as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord. (z) And surely my dear friends you have cause to love and adore him for his goodness to the sons of men, and to you in particular. Ah ! think but a moment what miseries you have been extricated from, what dangers you have escaped, what kindnesses received, what favours enjoyed, and beyond what thousands could have expected, and beyond what thousands have enjoyed ; yea if I mention no other instance bu your being called away from the approaching storm that was hanging over your native land, and sheltered here from the calamities of the sweeping deluge, while many under the disolations are saying, I am the man that hath seen affliction by the rod of his wrath (a) for he breaketh in upon me with breach upon breach. (b)

(x) Cant. 5, 16. (y) Luk. 9, 5. (z) Josh. 24, 15.

(a) Lam. 3, 1. (b) Job. 16, 14.

I a man
of c sam stay gore
and miser
man
hair
slain
orph
to th
you l inhol merit
been
and so corner

Yea
terribl
the bit
all ble divine
of the l
the goo
people, yet O h Yea I h praise, of you a
as a den and sinf
on God are burj perdition
his name

*I am crushed as a moth, under the devastations of this indur-man war; while, saith some mourning widow in the depths of calamity, not only the partner of my life torn from my bosom, but death ravaging still, my only son, the last of all my stay, the comfort of my widowhood, is wallowing in his gore! and thus I am left nakedly exposed to all that misery and cruelty can prey, & am left to wear out the remains of a miserable life in distress of body, & anguish of soul! And while many an aged Parent is lingering to the grave with grey hairs and sorrow, under the late news of their last sou; slain in such battle, many a helpless infant is thrown an orphan into the wide world by the fatal lead destined to the Fathers breast, while you my dear hearers (altho' you have often murmured that ever you come to those inhospitable wiles, and was ready to say with the mur-mering Jews has God brought us here to slay us? Have been hedged about with the kind providence of God, and screened from the impending storm in this peatable corner of the earth.*

Yea and above all when they are thus wading thro' the terrible storm, and we have been expecting soon to share the bitter cup, we have been blest with the greatest of all blessings, cultivated with the word and spirit of divine grace, many brought to feast at the marriage supper of the Lamb, and to drink of the wells of Salvation. O the goodness, the unspeakable goodness of God to such a people, surely I may term you LITTLE GOSWEN and yet O how barren and unfruitfull are many of you still!
Yea I have reason to fear that instead of prayer and praise, or your houses being as worship Temples many of you are keepers of the devils Shops, and your houses as a den of thieves, and ten hours spent in carnal mirth and sinfull pleasures to one in prayer praise or any thoughts on God and his infinite goodness; and thus your children are hurried by, and with you the slippery steep to eternal perdition. O the dreadful thought! O the lamentable scene, Parents and Children all enemies to God, dispensers

dispensers of Christ, murderers of souls, servants of the Devil, and bound to the regions of eternal despair! O let me ask such Parents how can you rest? How can you linger? Or how can you be Masters of such cruelty? Or how can your hearts endure a thought of your approaching doom?

What if at your return this evening from the Sermon to your family you should find one of those children (you have led in sinfull ways) on the confines of the grave and hear them in agonies of despair saying curst be the womb that bore me, and the paps that gave me suck and curst be my Parents whose ungodly walk has been the means of my eternal ruin, for I am now plunging in the bottomless gulf, O that I had heard as many prayers in my Fathers family as I have Oaths but Ah I am lost my day is gone! I say how would the shocking scene rend your despairing soul, and almost cause you to wish that you had never had a being? O then why will you any longer run the risk? Or why will thus abuse all the goodness of an indulgent God? Are you determined still to persist in your pernicious courses? And are those, all the returns that you will make for such infinite goodness endearing love and long suffering, as has this day been discovered to you?

O that I could prevail with you to return before your fatal eye is cast! Yea methinks I would creep on my knees to intreat your return if I could thereby in any degree prevail with you only to admit a serious thought and begin to bethink yourselves. O why why will you lye down in eternal sorrow? I know you will think that I Judge hard and am censorious, but if your conscience, nor the word of God, doth not condemn you neither will I; but if I have it is wholly for your own good, and God knows I speak in love with an impatient thirst for to serve you, and be a means of your everlasting happiness, that you might forever enjoy that infinite goodness, and adore God therefor.

And now to those happy Parents who under a sense of these things are returning, or have returned, and are determined by the grace of God they and their families (as far as their influence may extend) to cast themselves upon the Lord Jesus, forsake every sin, destroy every evil, and concert every method for the advancing the vitals of religion, and honour of God, and to exalt the Name of Jesus for his goodness and wonderfull works to the children of men; to these let me say GO ON AND THE LORD OF HOSTS WILL BE YOUR STRENGTH.

Ah it is with cheerfullness of heart I would take you by the hand and lead you on to meet and enjoy your kind Father, your helping Saviour, bleeding friend, and waiting reward. O hasten hasten for the Lord Jehovah is inviting you with extended arms to the bosom of his everlasting love; and I know will give you strength equal to your day; and therefore altho' all earth and hell would obstruct your return yet you shall e'er long come off conquerer, yea more than conquerer thro' him that has loved you and given himself for you. O how I long to endear you to the glorious match! and methinks you will be perswaded to embrace the unspeakable prize.

Yea I am ready to say that the very thought of going hand in hand with your children to the bright abodes of everlasting day would awake in your souls an invincible resolution to arise with all your powers, fight the good fight of faith & lay hold on eternal life: say some thoughtfull Parent some lover of Jesus can you not declare with a christian woman who (in my travails) told me that she would not care if her children were all beggars from door to door in this world if they were but walking with Christ, and she might see them at last at his right hand in glory? yea and would it not rejoice your souls to think that you should one day hear them bless God that over they were committed to such faithfull stewards who was the means of their Salvation ?

O then arise my dear Parents from your remains of sin and sloth and redouble your resolutions and prosecutions for the advancing of the redeemers kingdom in your families and let your own harmonious strains arise to Jesus for his goodness and his wonderfull works to the children of men, remembering that your unspeakable reward is present and everlasting. And now to your offspring let me say, unto you O men I call, and my voice is to the sons of men, (d) remember O remember your creator while in the bloom of life before your evil days come & the years draw nigh when you shall saye have no pleasure in them (e) as a Servant and friend to your souls I intreat you while Heaven invites you, and Jesus himself is at your doer knocking perswading and promising; riches and honour saith he is with me yea durable riches and righteousness, and those that seek me early shall find me and those that find me shall find life; yea everlasting life my dear youth, with joys unspeakable and full of glory. O be intreated to leave the dangerous amusements of this vain world, turn off your eyes from beholding vanity and go in the way of understanding.

O remember what heart aching hours, scenes of sorrow misery, and death, the bleeding Jesus has been wading thro' to save you from eternal perdition and bring you to his Fathers bosom, and can you still persist in pursuit of your Idols wallowing in your sins to the despising of his grace, crowning him with throns, piercing his side refreshing his wounds, and plunge your own souls into eternal perdition and despair ?

O be intreated to be wise in time and happy to all eternity; turn from every sin, and fly to the waiting arms of the lovely Jesus; for my part I can tell you that I was in all my earthly amusements and carnal pleasures a stran(d) Prov. 8, 4. (e) Eccl. 12, 1.

ger
till
you
mys
lowe
this panic faire
An
him, happi
ever ;
Sons a doors a Name,
every to be f fence re
that fair God his speakabl vilege in hearts of see you
the gloo
that your enjoyed h
presence, and take y your Sav Say som be ready t
your child
dear young Jaws of ete mortal glori eternal well
And I (of boundless g

ger to peace, and ignorant of a moments rest or Joy, until I found it in this Christ that I now recommend to you; and ah I can without reluctance or shame declare myself to be one of his despised, tho' very unworthy, followers, and recommend him to you in the presence of this auditory as a kind Master, a faithfull & loving companion, and constant helper yea altogether lovely the fairest among ten thousands, and all in all.

And by his grace I am more and more in love with him, and resolve to renew my choice of him as my only happiness and portion from this time forward and forever; yea witness God, Angels and men, witness ye Sons and Daughters of Adam present, the posts of the doors and pulpet from whence I now sound forth his Name, that by his grace assisting, I reject and abandon every lover and joy but what I may enjoy in him, and to be for him and him only, and in his Name and presence recommend to you the same choice, and declare that saints and Angels will rejoice at your return, and God himself receive you with delight. And O the unspeakable happiness you will find in him in life, and privilege in death and let me ask how would it gladden the hearts of your surviving christian Parents if they were to see you rejoicing on the confines of the grave entering the gloomy mansions of death without reluctance saying that your redeemer lived that you had known his love enjoyed his grace was now under a feeling sense of his presence, bidding an everlasting adieu to all your sorrows and take your Joyfull flight to the mansion of love in your Saviours bosom?

Say some thinking Parent would you not rejoice and be ready to say that you had more Joy in the death of your child than in its birth? O be intreated then my dear young friends to bethink yourselves, fly from the jaws of eternal perdition, and receive a crown of immortal glory, since God, angels and saints, and your own eternal welfare solicits your speedy return.

And I (of all men the most unworthy) expecting thro' boundless grace a mansion in the kingdom, long for your company.

company to bear a part in immortal notes of praise to God for his goodness and his wonderfull works to the children of men.

And now altho' I hope each one of my hearers have been so wise as to make an application of every part of my discourse (which I thus divided to be the more striking, yet seeing a number of my fellow mortals that are in the Military establishment present I shall use the freedom to address myself to them in a few words seperately.

I am happy my dear fellow men to find those men under whose command you reside influenced to collect you to the hearing of the everlasting gospel this day, may God bless their endeavours in so doing and pour an everlasting reward into their bosom !

And I likewise hope your attendance is accompanied with your own cheerfulness, and a thirst for the knowledge of Christ, if so under the lest conviction of your need of the blessings of heaven O with what gladness of heart would I serve you in my Masters name, hold out to you the offers of eternal life, inviting your souls to embrace and enjoy the same ; Yea altho it would not become my office to say much concerning your stations and capacity of life, yet as my fellow mortals I would as willingly serve you as my nearest and dearest friends, or the capital men of the earth ; yea and as highly esteem you when your life conduct and conversation corresponds with the Gospel and principles of christianity ; and would be so far from treating you with disrespect or disdain that I would at any time rejoice in that christian freedom of giving you the best advice I was capable for the good of your souls either in publick or private.

I know my dear fellow men that your souls are equally precious with my own, equally miserable by your fall, equally needy of salvation, and equally as near and dear to my blessed Master as the king, on the throne ; and that you will likewise e'er long be judged by the same God, at the same impartial Bar.

tal
wh
live with im
you
to ex unpr what you n despa Yea
lowrin
and y (perhap of ther
you ev
you we them an
Or w those th selves of cy, or be lawful co
that if yo
in your your hear certainly
And altho
acts of vic
my satisfac
among you been in the monly pract
you may at separated from outward disfig obscure

of praise to works to the hearers have every part of the more striking that are use the freedoms separate-

and those men
and to collect this day, may and pour an

accompaniest
or the knowledge of your
that gladness and, hold out your souls to that would not your stations as I would as friends, or highly esteem correspondence; christianity; disrespect or contempt of christianity; not capable for private.

are equally
your fall,
and dear
stone; and by the same

O let me therefore in love to your precious and immortal souls intreat you to adhere to the offers of salvation while it is offered, embrace the Lord Jesus Christ, and live to his glory, that you may die in peace and share with the happy followers of the Lamb in the wonders of immortal Glory. You are notionally convinced that you are born to die and exposed every breath you draw to exchange worlds, and O should death overtake you unprepared you are undone to all eternity! and then what is the world and millions of worlds to you when you must lye down in the regions of eternal darkness and despair?

Yea how many have you seen (some of you) wallowing in their blood that have fell on your right hand and your left, plunged in a moment to a world of spirits (perhaps without time to ask for mercy & doubtless many of them unprepared, and you was spared? And O did you ever recollect a moment in your own breasts where you would have landed had the fatal lead have passed them and been destined to you?

Or whether you ever allow yourselves any thought of those things or not, or whatever you may flatter yourselves of being saved because God is a God of Mercy, or because you expire in the cause of such and such lawful constitutions as you imagine, yet let me tell you that if you die in your sins you will eternally perish in your sins; and unless you are born again, that is your hearts changed by the spirit of God you must, as certainly be undone as you have a soul to save or loose. And altho I am so far from charging you with outward acts of vice and debauchery that I must acknowledge my satisfaction in scarcely hearing of a profane Oath among you as I have walked the Streets since I have been in the place, yet you are all sensible, it is too commonly practised in such Corporations; yea and altho you may any of you be guilty of that or any other vice separated from the world which may exclude you from outward disgrace or corporeal punishment, yet the crime is heinous in the sight of that all searching eye that is about all your private paths, yea and will be not only as injurious but more so to your own souls: Because your escaping of disgrace and punishment among Men may harden you on to the commission of greater crimes to your eternal ruin: when perhaps an admonition in time might prove the means of reclaiming you and therefore my dear friends never think it any benefit to conceal your sins from men, if they are committed in the sight of God: but fly from every sin, and make it your chief concern to attain a knowledge of Christ and a life beyond the grave.

O think how shocking it is for breath that is given for repentance, and the service of God, to be spent in blasphemy, and in the service of the devil? how shocking to hear a man who is already condemned to everlasting misery, and ought to improve every breath for redemption, and to the glory of God, calling on God to damn their Bodies and souls!

O the heaven daring and soul destroying practice; God forbid that any of you should be guilty of the crime: but if there is O let me tell you in Love and pity great is their danger and e'er long unspeakable will be their misery; but if they will yet return Jesus has mercy in store for the worst of sinners; and if there is any as I hope there is among you that are seeking and enquiring after redemption, O let me take them by the hand and encourage them; Ah the Lord who has bowels of pity, and arms of love waiting to receive you will, surely give you of his holy spirit to lead you on to eternal life, if you will cast your souls on him. O fly fly my dear friends from the wrath to come and make sure an everlasting portion while there is hope. I am sensible you have never found a moment peace, rest nor solid Joy in things of this vain world: but O in Jesus I can tell you, you will find joys unspeakable and full of glory, O that you would be intreated to be happy for time and eternity! yea how can you refuse to say if you only had the offer or any prospect of any preferment, or a commission of honour in your country

me
op
ter my anc ing
tion
wen plac Anc
glor
and bled of ete
ting imme
Ho
and a
could to you hours
you to unspea
And
rounds sorrow Is the si with all you, an God for childrer
And
clude
I am h
dear hear as I speak without t message
and altho

ments, you would spare no pains, but break thro' every opposition, concert every method, by making all the interest that was possible to attain it. Why O why then my dear fellow men will you reject the greatest treasures and grandeur that ever was confered on any created being? Ah could you but know the rest joy and satisfaction that is to be enjoyed in Christ even while in this world you would esteem a share in his love and a humble place near his feet, far more than the crown of England! And Ah how much greater will be the joys of eternal glory where wars and rumours of wars shall be no more! and O think my dear dear friends the Son of God has bled and dyed to open to your souls those bright mansions of eternal felicity, and is now yea even this day, intreating you to enter in and forever partake of the Joys of immortal light life love and Glory.

How can you forbear opening your hearts to such love and adoring him for such infinite goodness? O that I could prevail with you to carry these truths in your mind to your Barracks, and ponder them in your Sentinel hours! And I know that Jesus would be with and help you to give your hearts to him and then how happy and unspeakably, happy would your moments glide away!

And when a few more days and nights have run their rounds, Jesus will call you from all your labours and sorrows to the Joys of an eternal day, which God knows is the sincere desire of my soul, that I might see you there with all Tears wiped from your eyes, and bear a part with you, and the countless adorers in everlasting praise to God for his goodness and his wonderfull works to the children of men.

And now with a few words to the auditory I conclude.

I am happy to have an opportunity a few days my dear hearers in this part of the Vinyard to serve you, and as I speak for God with souls immortal at stake, I must without the least fear favour, or selfish ends, deliver my message, and clear my garments of the blood of souls: and altho you may many of you look on me as your enemy any because I tell you the truth yet God knows it is out of love to your souls. Yea what else can you imagine would excite me to undergo the fatigues that I do both in body and mind and expose myself to all the rage of the world?

If you imagine it is for a Temporal living surely being in the prime of life I could attain what little I should need with far less Trouble; or if you imagine it is for the applause of mortals surely you may be convinced to the contrary about your own doors; for altho I have some thousands in the province that esteem me far better than I am worthy of yet you will know that I have become a song for the drunkard, & a mark for the reproaches of the ungodly world.

But O let me tell you I think both my trials and reproaches so small that the one I well hang upon my garments as ornaments to be wiped off at the glorious return of my Master, and as for the other methinks I would cheerfully undergo them again and again to be any means of bringing some of your souls to the enjoyment, and everlasting honour of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Ah I would far rather have some surviving christian passing by my tomb when I am cold in death say here lies the flaming tounge that taught my soul the Name of Jesus than that they could say here lies the greatest earthly Monarch that ever existed. O then let me be but a humble faithfull and successfull servant to Christ and my fellow mortals, and I have all I need; and all I desire; yea I esteem it more than millions and millions of worlds and O my dear hearers let me not be in vain to your souls but receive the message of peace the Lord hath sent by me, adore him to all eternity for his goodness to the sons of men; and I intreat you to labour with me the few moments I am in the Town for the promotion of religion, the advancing of Christs kingdom, as far as the influence of your several stations and capacities may extend; and may this day be not only a day of thanksgiving; but an everlasting thanksgiving kept in remembrance, O therefore resolve from this moment to sin and sloth, and put the Lord Jesus in all your ways, love him, tell of him, walk with him, enjoy and adore him from this time forward and for ever, for his goodness and his wonderful works to the children of men: which God of his infinite mercy grant and to his Name be the praise, AMEN.

A Song of praise to a good God.

NOW let the universal throng Unite in this eternal song
THERE IS A GOD WHOSE VAST RENOWN DECLARES HIM GOOD WITHOUT A BOUND.

2.
Thro' all the vast immortal plains
The goodness of Jehovah reigns;
And thro' those mortal climes it rolls From worlds to worlds, from Poles to Poles.

3.
Both Angels of exalted fame,
And abject worms declare the same,
A GOD WITHOUT BEGINNING STOOD AND EVER LIVES A GOD THAT'S GOOD.

4.
Let ev'ry insect ev'ry sand, Rocks hills and vales adore his hands!
Your being manifests a God, And tells to man that HE IS GOOD, 5.

Ye stubborn Oaks your branches spread,
With lofty Cedars tow'ring head,
And plants and flow'rs of ev'ry hue Proclaim A GOD OF GOODNESS TOO.

6.
Ye monsters of the barren wood With your hoarse voice make known A God, And troops that sail the fluid air and this God of love declare,

7.
Ye millions of the warry deep Who spawning into being creep Sport all your boiling mansions thro' Proclaim a GOD ALL GOODNESS TOO.

8.
And rouse ye crowds of Adams race Who there so large Jehovahs grace While life endures or thought shall rove Proclaim A GOD A GOD OF LOVE.

9.
Ye christian lands that own his name
The most exalted notes proclaim, A GOD OF LOVE, INCARNATE GOD, His bleeding wounds cries out HE'S GOOD.

10.
Ye Angels blazing round the throne Where this good GOD is known, Your exalted realms declare God is good, 'till we are there.

11.
When disentangled we shall land Join with you at Christs right hand GOD OF LOVE shall be our theme GOD HIS NATURE LOVE HIS NAME.

12.
The pow'rs of thought remain Praise him in exalted strains His love his will shall own His goodness known.

13.
A GOD OF LOVE the Angels cry, God be now to the saints reply If ever will his love may save That GOD and shall I not be there?

518 600

20 21