DEATH OF J. H. AGNEW

Provincial Treasurer of Manitoba Passed Away on Monday Morning—His Career in the Prairie Province.

The death of Hon. J. H. Agnew, the provincial treasurer of the province of Manitoba, took place at Winnipeg early Monday morning. Mr. Agnew had been sick for a little over a week. He was operated on for appendicitis and the fight for recovery was a severe one. An attack of heart failure finally carried him on.

Like so many other successful Manitobans, Mr. Agnew was an Ontario boy. He was born on Oct. 18, 1863, at Whitby, Ont., and was educated in Toronto schools and Upper Canada college. However, born in Ontario, he could claim to be an old timer in the west, as his family came to Manitoba in 1879, where his father, Dr. Agnew, settled in Winnipeg, and practiced for a number of years. Mr. Agnew took up the study of law and was articled in the office of J. A. M. Atkins, K.C. He passed his final examination before he was 21, and had to wait till he came of age to be admitted to the bar. This was in 1884. Two years later, when only 23 years of age, the young barrister proceeded to Virden, where for many years he carried on a very successful practice.

From his arrival in Virden, Mr. Agnew identified himself with every interest in his town and district. He soon became active in municipal life, and served two terms as councillor. He particularly interested himself in educational affairs, and for ten years occupied the position of school trustee and secretary-treasurer for the Virden school district. No school district in Manitoba was better managed, and it was largely through Mr. Agnew's efforts that the Virden schools have come to be regarded as models in the province.

In 1903, on the resignation of Jas. Simpson, the Conservative member for Virden, Mr. Agnew was the choice of the convention to contest the seat, and was elected by a substantial majority.

At the first session of the house he moved the address in reply to the speech from the throne, and made a strong impression on the house. His ability was at once recognized, and he immediately took a place as one of the foremost representatives in the legislature, subsequently he was appointed chairman of the law amendments committee, where he received universal praise from both sides for his fairness and his ability.

His appointment as provincial treasurer to succeed the late Hon. J. A. Davidson was a popular one at the time. On Feb. 12th a bye-election, owing to his appointment, was held in Virden when he was returned by acclamation. Although a young man, as cabinet ministers go, when appointed to the portfolio, and only a member of the house for a little over a year, he had already given conclusive evidence of his exceptional fitness for the arduous duties of the provincial treasurer.

CANADIANS HONORED

The King Conferred Birthday Honors on Four Canadians—Newspaper Man, Two Soldiers and Bank Manager.

London, Nov. 8.—Birthday honors conferred upon Canadians include E. S. Clouston, for a baronetcy; General P. H. N. Lake, made a knight commander of St. Michael and St. George, and Brigadier General, W. D. A. McDonald, commander St. Michael and St. George, and Hugh Graham of Montreal, a knight bachelor.

Sir Edward S. Clouston, Bart. Edward Seaborn Clouston, is the son of the late Jas. S. Clouston, who was chief factor in the Hudson Bay company at Moose Factory. He was educated in the high schools of Montreal and entered in the service of the Bank of Montreal as junior clerk, March 8, 1895. After passing through the different grades of service he became the assistant general manager in 1898, and two years later was appointed general manager.

General Lake Gen. Percy Henry Neel Lake, was born at Tenby, Pembrokeshire, Eng., June 28, 1856, but his father settled at Grenfell, Sask., in the early days. He was educated at Uppingham and entered the army as lieutenant in the 59th regiment in 1873. He was promoted to Captain in East Lancashire regiment in 1883, and major in 1891.

In 1893 he became a lieutenant-colonel and in the same year was promoted to the rank of colonel. He served in the Afghan war in 1878 and 1879 and likewise in the Sudan campaign of 1895. On the creation of the new office of Quartermaster-general of the militia of Canada he was appointed to this position, Sept. 14, 1893. In 1906 he was entrusted with a mission to England in connection with the re-arrangement of the militia. He is a brother of R. S. Lake, M.P. for Qu'Appelle.

General Macdonald Brigadier General Donald Alexander Macdonald was born in 1845, and was the son of Alexander Eugene Macdonald, deputy clerk of the crown and registrar of the surrogate court of Cornwall, Ont. He served in the Fenian raids of 1866, the Red River expedition of 1870, and the North-West rebellion of 1885. Since 1904 he has been director general of ordinance in Canada.

Hugh Graham Hugh Graham, journalist and newspaper proprietor, who is now best known as the owner of the Montreal Star, was born at Athelstan, Huntingdon, Co., P.Q., July 18, 1848. Mr. Graham's whole career has been prominently identified with the journalistic realm of Canada and he is today one of Montreal's most prominent citizens. Mr. Graham was one of the founders of the good government association of Montreal, and has done not a little in the cause of municipal and political reform.

SESSION IN JANUARY

Dominion Parliament Will Probably Open Second Week in January—Marcel for Speaker—Laurier's Health.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier continues to improve in health and it is expected that in the course of a few days he will be entirely convalescent. The cabinet council will meet several times during the week to clear off accumulated business and make preparations for the approaching session. It is expected that the new parliament will convene either on Wednesday, January 6 or Wednesday, January 13, with the chance favoring the first named date. On the first day after the members sign the roll, the new speaker will be named, and the address will be proceeded with the next day. Charles Marcell is certain to be the new speaker, while Mr. McIntyre, member elect for St. Perth will probably succeed Mr. Marcell as Deputy Speaker.

R. L. Borden will take a holiday before the session opens, and it is quite possible that he will go to the old country.

Prince Albert Election.

The result of the polling in the constituency of Prince Albert will not be known for a day or two. In the riding there are 129 polls, and the latest returns show that Jan. McKay, K.C., Conservative, is leading by a small majority.

NEWFUNDLAND ELECTIONS

Each Party Has Eighteen Seats in a House of Thirty-Six Members—Government Will Try to Carry on Work.

Halifax, Nov. 10.—Returns from St. Barbe, the final constituency to be heard from in Newfoundland turned out today as anticipated, the latest returns giving Class, government, 872, and Mott, opposition, 857. This leaves the standing of the parties in the legislature a tie with eighteen each, the house consisting of 36 members, though a recount may lose the government one seat. This standing may be affected by a recount in Harbor Grace, which has been demanded. In that constituency Hon. Dawe, government, was declared elected over Seymour, opposition, by a majority of one. The total vote between these two candidates being, Dawe, 1,147, Seymour, 1,146. Harbor Grace has three representatives, two of them having gone to the government and one to the opposition.

There is little doubt that Premier Bond will find the means of retaining power, providing the recount in Harbor Grace does not change the representative there, and making the standing 18 to 17 instead of a tie. It has happened before in the political history of Newfoundland that a candidate has accepted office and a vacant seat in the legislature. The

The Bible in Rhyme

The following poem is from the parish paper of the Church of the Holy Apostles, Philadelphia. It is a concise summary of the contents of the books comprised in the Old Testament.
In Genesis the world was made
By God's creative hand,
Leviticus contains the law,
Holy and just and good;
Numbers records the tribes enrolled,
All sons of Abraham's blood.

Dr. Graham is down from Victoria on business and renewing old acquaintances.

SERIOUS DEPLETION IN FUNDS
HARD TIMES HARD ON THE POOR CONSUMPTIVE
Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives Makes an Urgent Appeal for Money.

These head-lines tell the story of our needs. They are heavy and urgent. Many times during the past twelve months the question has pressed itself upon the Trustees, "Can we continue the work further?"

Every month brought its quota of accounts for salaries and wages of staff, bills of butcher, milkman, eggs, groceries, heavy coal bills—a serious item—and other uncontrollable expenses so long as the doors were kept open.

These had to be paid somehow. Contributions—especially after the turn of the year when the financial depression was felt at its keenest—fell off to such an extent, that each month the burden became heavier.

During all this period there was only one thing to do, and that was to lean on our banker—swelling the bank overdraft.

The trial was the severest in the history of these Muskoka Homes, in which nearly 3,000 persons, stricken by the dread white plague, have been cared for.

But never for a single hour did the doors of the Free Hospital fail to swing open, and give a welcome to suffering ones without money and without price.

The good news has gone forth of a rich harvest the wide Dominion over.

Friends, we come to you at this time, when the clouds of depression are being lifted, asking that you now—in the direness of our extremity—help to lift the burden being carried—not for any personal gain, but solely, alone, only on behalf of suffering sisters and brothers.

Our plea is on behalf of the sick ones. What will you give? Do not say nay. Help generously. Help all you can. Help some. Help now.

Contributions may be sent to W. J. GAGE, Esq., Chairman Executive Committee, 84 Spadina Avenue, Toronto; or J. S. ROSSARTSON, Sec.-Treasurer National Sanitarium Association, 347 King Street West, Toronto, Canada.

ELECTING A PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

How the Constitution is Carried Out--Brief History of President-Elect Taft and Vice-President-Elect Sherman--Stated Dates for Election and Inauguration.

PRESIDENT-ELECT TAFT Born at Cincinnati, Sept. 15, 1857. Graduated from Yale university, 1878. (B.A.) Graduated from Law School of Cincinnati college, 1880. (L.B.) Reporter Cincinnati Times and the Commercial, 1880. Assistant county solicitor, Ohio, 1883-87. Judge, Superior Court, Cincinnati, 1887-90. U. S. Circuit Judge for Sixth Judicial district, 1892-1900. President of United States Philippine Commission, 1900. First civil governor of Philippines, 1901. Provisional governor of Cuba in 1906. Secretary of war since 1904.

November 3, 1906, president-elect of the United States. William Howard Taft the new president of the United States, was born September 15, 1857. His father was prominent in public life, having been attorney general of the United States in 1876 and 1877. He graduated from Woodward high school in Cincinnati in 1874, and four years later he took his degree from Yale, standing second in a class of 121, of which he was salutatorian and class orator. In 1880 he took the degree of LL.D. from the law school of Cincinnati college, dividing the first prize. He is also an LL.D. of Pennsylvania university and Yale, having been conferred with the degrees in 1902 and 1903 respectively.

In 1880 he was admitted to the Ohio bar. In the same year he became law reporter for the Cincinnati Times and later of the Cincinnati Commercial. He was assistant prosecuting attorney of Hamilton county, Ohio, from 1881 to 1882 and in 1883, was collector of internal revenue for the first district of Ohio. For the next four years he practiced law in Cincinnati, and from 1885 to 1887 he was assistant county solicitor of Hamilton county. In 1887 he was created a judge of the superior court of Ohio, and it was in the next three years that he began to become prominent in the political and national life of the United States.

In 1900 he became solicitor general of the United States. In educational spheres he also began to assume important roles, and from 1896 to 1900 he was dean and professor in the law department of the university of Cincinnati.

He is best known to the people of the United States since 1900. This year ended his term as United States circuit judge and his activities were then transferred from his own country to the new American possessions in Asia, namely, the Philippine Islands. To him is due the establishment of the first civil government in the Philippines. His jurisdiction there showed him to be a keen administrator and a more than ordinary governor and the experience he gained there has been shown to have been of invaluable benefit to him since 1904.

In 1903 he received a still more important appointment, that of secretary of war, which office he took over February 1, 1904. He was sent by President Roosevelt to Rome in 1902 to confer with Pope Leo XIII. concerning the purchase of agricultural lands of religious orders in the Philippines.

For the past two years he has been rapidly advancing in American political life, and as the personal selection of President Roosevelt and the distinct favorite of the people he has carried the American republic by a sweeping majority.

VICE PRESIDENT James Schoolcraft Sherman is still a young man, fifty-three years old, in the prime of many vigor, and wonderfully well preserved. His stock is good, for his father, General Sherman, was a remarkable man, both intellectually and physically, a leader also in political and civic affairs. James graduated at Hamilton college in the class of 1878, and he is now one of the most influential trustees of that institution, co-operating in this position with Secretary Elihu Root. While in college his standing was that of a prize speaker and prize debater. After graduation he studied law and formed a partnership with his brother-in-law, ex-Ambassador Henry J. Cockburn. He never won fame at the bar, for he was almost at once drawn into political life. He was beaten for state senator by one vote, but in 1884 he was elected mayor of Utica. At the close of his term in that office he passed directly to congress as representative of the counties of Oneida and Herkimer, where he has remained until the present time, with the exception of a single term, when the Democrats ousted him by a small majority. 53 years of age he is a very boyish looking fellow, with red cheeks and a quiet looking way, that does not indicate the politician.

Notwithstanding his college reputation, Mr. Sherman has never been a ing one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a number of members from two-thirds of all the states shall be necessary to the choice.

The procedure of the two houses in case the returns of the election of electors from any state are disputed, is provided by the election courts act, passed by the forty-ninth congress. The act directs that the presidential electors shall meet and give their votes on the second Monday in January next following their election, and it fixes the time when congress shall be in session, when the ballots as the second Wednesday in February succeeding the meeting of the electors.

As a matter of fact the chairman of the electoral delegation of each state casts the ballots for his state, journeying to Washington for that purpose. Within thirty days of the election the electoral delegation of each state meet and cast their ballots which are sealed and entrusted to a chairman whom they appoint at that time.

The inauguration takes place on March 4 in the open air at the east front of the capitol on a platform built between the two wings of congress, the senate and the house of representatives. The oath is administered by the chief justice of the supreme court, in this instance Melville Weston Fuller, the president-elect swearing to support the constitution. President Taft will then deliver his inaugural address, after which he drives to the White House and reviews the inaugural parade on a specially erected platform, immediately thereafter taking over the affairs of state.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES

Although it will not be possible to open the library to the public for a short time yet, it has been thought well to publish the following rules and regulations which will give a clear idea of the manner in which it is proposed to conduct the institution. Further information with regard to the use of the library catalogues, etc., will be furnished later. There are about 150 volumes on hand, mostly works of reference and shipments are now on their way to Regina. The book cases are expected on every train. The work of cataloging is being taken in hand. Some gifts have been received which will be referred to in the next notes.

RULES AND REGULATIONS Reference Department

1. The reading room and reference department shall be open every week day from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and on Sundays (for the use of adults only) from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

2. No person under the age of 13 shall be allowed in the reading room after the hour of 7 p.m.

3. Any person of good deportment and habits may use the library and reading room. No person who is intoxicated or is unclean in person or dress shall be admitted to or be allowed to remain in the library or reading room.

4. No person shall be allowed to indulge in noisy conversation or to lounge or sleep on the library premises, partake of refreshments, smoke, spit or use the room for any purpose for which they were not intended.

5. Children under the age of eight years using the reading room must be accompanied by parents or adult friends who will be responsible for their behavior.

6. All applications for books for use in the reading room must be made in writing on the forms provided for the purpose and each applicant must state on the said form his correct address and sign the same.

7. Every reader shall before leaving the room return the book or books into the hands of the librarian. Exchanging books with any other reader is strictly prohibited.

8. The use of ink for making tracings is not permitted.

9. Magazines or papers used in the reading room must be replaced in their proper racks by the reader before leaving.

Circulation Department

1. Any resident of Regina over 18 years of age shall be entitled to borrow books upon signing the following application and upon obtaining the signature of one ratepayer (according to the last revised assessment roll of the city), who must be approved by the Librarian, to the following guarantee:

REGINA PUBLIC LIBRARY Application for borrowing Privileges: I hereby make application for a borrower's card and agree to observe all the rules and regulations of the Library. Signature: _____ Address: _____ Date: _____ 1908.

GUARANTOR'S PLEDGE I, _____ being a ratepayer of the city of Regina, recommend _____ residing at _____ as a fit person to enjoy the privileges of the Public Library, and I hereby guarantee that I will make good any injury or loss the Library may sustain from the permission that may be given in consequence of this certificate. Signature: _____ Address: _____ Date: _____ 1908.

ELECTION PERSONATORS

Men Arrested, Charged with Personation in Rainy River and Thunder Bay--Minnie M. Expedition Eclipsed.

Port Arthur, Oct. 26.—Three arrests have already been made on charges of personation at the polls in Thunder Bay and Rainy River, and it is promised that evidence will reveal wholesale attempt to plug the ballot boxes at different polls. It is charged that at Dexter poll, on the G.T.R., only ten men were properly entitled to vote, but that thirty-seven voters were recorded, some personators, it is alleged, having voted as many as eight times and others three times at this one poll. Those under arrest, J. Bishop, J. Tamlinson, and J. Arnot, who were taken into custody by Provincial Officers Cooper and Stretton, upon instructions from Crown Attorney Langworthy, were found in different parts of Port Arthur and Fort William last night, and are still in jail. One prominent Conservative, in speaking to a correspondent, said revelations would show the Minnie M. expedition not in its importations to this riding.

Port William, Nov. 1.—Deputy Returning Officer Leechman of the notorious Dexter poll where one man voted six times, and where wholesale personating and voting of dead men took place last Monday, was arrested here at noon today by Constable Cooper. He is charged with knowingly allowing the personation to take place. He is now in jail in Port Arthur. The three men in jail at Port Arthur are said to have made a confession implicating the deputy returning officer and his arrest was a move by their lawyer to save his clients. It is said that as a result of wholesale corruption in the district over 200 arrests will be made.

A druggist can obtain an imitation of MINARD'S LINIMENT from a Toronto house at a very low price, and have it labelled his own product. This imitation is the poorest one we have yet seen of the many that every Tom, Dick and Harry has tried to introduce. Ask for MINARD'S and you will get it.

Books marked "Seven day Book" must not be retained more than one week not including statutory holidays and Sundays and will not be renewed.

A fine of five cents a day shall be paid on each book which is not returned according to the preceding rules, and no other book will be delivered to the parties incurring the fine until such fine is paid. In case where deposits are made the fines shall be the first charge thereon, but in no case shall the fine exceed the value of the book.

Should a book not be returned within ten days after the expiration of the prescribed time, an additional charge of ten cents shall be added for cost of collection, and if the book be not returned within six weeks from the day of issue legal proceedings may immediately be taken to recover the value of the same with all fines and charges.

Borrowers ceasing to reside in the city must return their cards of cancellation, otherwise they and their guarantors will be held responsible for any books taken out in their names, and for the fines, if any accrued thereon.

Writing in books is prohibited and all injuries to books and all losses must be promptly adjusted to the satisfaction of the librarian.

Readers desirous of proposing books, periodicals or newspapers for addition to the Library may do so by entering any suggestion they may have to make in a book kept for that purpose and which will be regularly submitted to the library board.

Any person abusing the privileges of the library or violating these regulations shall be temporarily suspended from the use of the library and the case shall be reported to the library board for such action as they shall deem fit.

Copies of these regulations and of sections 25, 26 and 27 of The Public Libraries Act shall be kept displayed in the Library premises.

J. R. C. HONEYMAN, Librarian.

The identification of the germ as so extensively the cause is perhaps the most wonderful of this wonderful age. Skeptics are not yet entirely eliminated in the medical world, but there are a few now that deny the basic correctness of the theory even while questioning its new applications. But a good deal of objection is made to popularizing the knowledge, because of the effect on weakened and imaginative people who are caused by it to see death and suffering lurking everywhere. That there is some reason for this view is shown in the current Popular-Science Monthly by Warren W. Hildreth of the Sheffield laboratory of bacteriology and hygiene at Yale.

His experiments were first confined to the "dirty money" and the danger of transmission of disease by it about which so much alarming stuff has been written. He collected the dirtiest bills he could find from railroad, trolly and theatre ticket offices and drug stores. He found bacteria by the millions. Then he tried the same experiments on the newest and cleanest bills he could find. Bacteria of disease would of course be more likely to appear on the dirty bills, tested themselves. His conclusion is that transmission of disease by this means is possible, but that the danger is much less than commonly supposed.

Political Rumors

A number of political rumors have been going around lately which would seem to indicate a change in the personnel of the provincial government. One rumor is to the effect that J. A. Calder will try election in Saskatchewan, Mr. A. P. McNab retiring to make room for him. At the same time it is stated W. C. Sutherland, M.L.A. for Saskatchewan county will get an appointment in the senate or on the bench, and that J. Aikin, editor of the Saskatchewan Phoenix, will run for that seat. Another rumor is that Hon. Walter Scott will be taken into the Laurier cabinet and given the Interior portfolio succeeding Hon. Frank Oliver who will succeed the late Mr. Greenway on the railway commission. Still another report announces that J. A. Calder will retire from Saskatchewan politics and take a position as deputy minister to one of the departments at Ottawa.

What do all these rumors and report mean? Outside of being ordinary feelers there must be something in them. There seems to be no doubt but that this province is Liberal in federal party politics. There is no doubt also but that the party has little confidence in the provincial party leaders. If the heads of the provincial party enjoyed the confidence of the people why would it be necessary to keep two ministers in office for three months without finding their constituencies. Is it possible that the provincial liberals have embarrassed the local premier and that, added to his own conduct during the provincial campaign, has decided him to retire altogether from Saskatchewan politics. As for Mr. Calder, no one will regret his departure from provincial politics, not even the Liberals. He has become a very much disliked man, and any shuffle which would rid the province of him would be hailed with delight by the Liberals.

There is no doubt but that there is something in the wind, but not being in the confidence of the Liberals we will have to await developments.

Canada's Position

In discussing the position in which Mr. Borden stands the Toronto Mail and Empire states that he enjoys the confidence and respect of the party. Continuing the article states: "There are those who say that, after all, Mr. Borden was lucky in escaping the responsibilities of the premiership at the present time. It is not easy to agree with that view, which seems to look too much to the personal comfort of the leader and too little to the welfare of the country. True, it is easier to conduct a campaign against great evils than to apply a remedy. True, the work of the reformer must be very difficult owing to the tangles that have been produced by the ruling men. At the same time viewing the situation from the standpoint of the public, it would have been better had Mr. Borden had been entrusted at once with the duty of restoring the public honor and the public credit. That the work must be done sooner or later everybody admits; and a delay only adds to the difficulty of the task. A review of the situation makes this fact obvious beyond dispute. In the first place the financial situation at Ottawa is becoming desperate. The taxation is enormous—almost three times what it was a decade ago—and yet it is not sufficient to meet the obligations that have been undertaken.

This means that we are to incur heavy deficits and a very considerable addition to the debt. For general business this will not be advantageous. Although the state of affairs is so unfortunate, new liabilities have been incurred. In nearly all the constituencies the government has pledged itself to huge outlays, which it is bound to undertake unless it is prepared to sacrifice its local supporters when the next election comes. The amount called for by these lavish promises is not less than three hundred millions of dollars. In addition the Grand Trunk Pacific, as manipulated by the Ottawa politicians, is becoming a dreadful nightmare both to the company and to the country. It is so bad for the company that the government is raiding the treasury in order to square itself with the corporation. The huge subsidies given to the branch lines of the Grand Trunk Pacific form one feature of the raid. The grant of all the townships along the prairie line at $3 an acre is another.

Four years more of the present state of affairs will bring about a state of affairs which will be far more difficult to deal with than that now confronting us. For this reason we believe that the delay in inaugurating the reform, while, perhaps, contributing to the ease of the Liberal-Conservative party and its leader, and while preparing a situation that will make the victory all the more sweeping when it comes, as come it must, is a most expensive operation for the country. It would have been well for Canada had the inquiry been swept out while the damage is no worse than it is. But seeing that the change has not been made, there is but one thing to do—"Let Borden continue his splendid work."

Editorial Notes

According to the Montreal Witness, the people have said in the election, "Let him that was filthy be filthy still." And the worst of it is that the crooked politicians are likely to be the first to adopt this view of the result.

A man named Murphy recently testified before the commission investigating the Marine Department, that he had sold supplies to the department at a price which was 25 per cent. in excess of the retail prices to other customers.

Press Comment

(Moose Jaw News)

No official announcement has been made respecting a fall session of the legislature. In June the government gave the members of the legislature to understand that a fall session would almost certainly be held. Such was the intimation given when the announcement was made that the bill relating to rural municipalities would not be put through. For it was maintained that without inconvenience it could stand over until the fall. In his campaign address Premier Scott said that one of the reasons which had suggested the sudden dissolution of the legislature was the desire to know the will of the people on the important subject of municipal legislation. That having been given in no uncertain manner, the government should make haste to enact the rural municipalities bill. But it would seem that the desire to hold the provincial elections while the Laurier government was in office, not the desire to ascertain the will of the people on municipal legislation, prompted the sudden appeal. The government's purpose having been served, the public must wait for the enactment of the Rural Municipalities Bill.

That in delaying the calling of the legislature the government is playing a hide-and-seek game with the people is evident from the resulting effect upon its liquor license legislation. When it was announced that the Rural Municipalities bill would not be put through the opposition drew attention to the fact that the dropping of it rendered impossible the introduction of local option into rural municipalities, as the machinery for such introduction was contained in the bill. If we remember rightly, answer was given that this was a matter which could easily be attended to before the end of the year. So long has action been delayed that it is now impossible in rural municipalities to vote on local option before holding the municipal elections for the year 1910.

When the liquor license legislation was before the legislature we said that its benefits were more apparent than real. Time has confirmed that opinion. Not only must a local option vote be taken on the provincial liquor license, but no provision has been made for the introduction of local option into more than cities and towns. Were the legislature to meet tomorrow the legislation necessary to enable a vote on local option to be taken at the coming elections in villages and rural municipalities could not be enacted; for the time intervening between now and the date of the elections would not suffice for the circulating of petitions and the posting of notices as required by the act. When the province got local option it got it with a string. But what cares the Scott government after the event? The local option concession caught the temperance vote, and its exceptions kept the liquor vote in place. Four months ago the subject of municipal legislation was considered of sufficient importance on which to ask for a popular verdict. Now it is not worthy of prompt consideration.

The program of the Unionist party in Great Britain takes account of the economic depression of Ireland, as shown by the political unrest and the persistent decline in population, harks back to tariff reform as a positive constructive policy of rehabilitation for the smaller island. It is believed that all sections of the Irish people would be prepared to co-operate in such a policy. This case is stated in a recent manifesto issued by leading unionists in and out of Parliament.

It says: "Tariff reform would lighten the burden of Irish taxation by transferring a certain amount of taxation from imported articles, such as tea and sugar, to other imported articles of a kind produced at home by the majority of Irish taxpayers for their own consumption, such as butter and meat. Also by giving Irish agriculturalists a preference in the markets of the United Kingdom against all over-seas competitors, and by making possible the starting of important new industries, such as sugar beet and tobacco, it would confer upon Ireland the economic advantages which she has a right to expect from the union. Tariff reform is thus the natural complement of the land purchase policy already developed by the unionist party and would give a real significance and vitality to the union."

It is reiterated that the Unionist policy is still opposed to giving Ireland any "exceptional status within the United Kingdom." This it is believed, would prove dangerous to the union. It is within the bounds of probability that fiscal reform would greatly lessen the demand for home rule, and bind the smaller British Isle by the bonds of self-interest in close alliance with the larger.

Bryan made a better run than any other Democrat could have made, and as good as any Democrat is likely to make until the United States forgets the suffering associated with the last period of Democratic ascendancy. The victory of Grover Cleveland in 1892 made the Democratic party responsible for the depression that had crushed the republicans had they been in power. The public associate the consenship of Cleveland with its sufferings during the panic years. It was the fate of Cleveland to put the Democracy so far underground that the genius of Bryan or a dozen Bryans could not dig it up again.

A popular idol is seldom elected president of the United States if his heroic qualities are revealed before his first nomination. Henry Clay, "The Great Commoner," swayed multitudes with his eloquence. He went down to defeat. James G. Blaine, "The Plumed Knight," could not get elected when he was nominated and could not get nominated when he might have been elected. William Jennings Bryan fails for the third and last time to win the reward that has been denied to other brilliant and heroic Americans.

If the personality of Bryan has fallen short of supreme success, the principles of Bryan have not been denied recognition in the life of his country. Bryan has been a pathfinder for the politics of Roosevelt, His valor has sown the harvest which the Republican virtue has reaped. The principles of Bryan apart from his silver heresy, have gone forward to victory even while the personality of Bryan has gone down in the battle. The triumph of a man's principles has the importance of the unseen and eternal. The defeat of a man's personality has the unimportance of the seen and the temporal.

CORRESPONDENCE

(We do not hold ourselves responsible for the views expressed by correspondents.)

(To the Editor of The West.)

Dear Sir,—With your permission I wish to refer to what I consider to be one of the causes of the defeat of the Conservative party in the recent election. Charges of mismanagement of affairs and dishonesty during their term of office were hurled at the Conservative party by their opponents. Comparisons of the country's progress under the rule of the two parties were made, always in favor of the Liberals. An examination of the public records—equally accessible to both—would have shown the progress of the Dominion under Conservative rule to have been as relatively as great as when the Liberals were guiding the ship of state. The assertions as to Conservative dishonesty and incompetency were ignored to too great an extent, thus allowing new comers to the country and younger voters to believe that the Conservative party of the time they held office were unfit to be at the head of affairs and that the party at present constituted is no better. It might have been shown to a much greater degree than it was the praiseworthy section of the Dominion was in its experimental stage during the Conservative regime, and it was just beginning to be understood when they left office, to say nothing of other circumstances that favored the Liberals.

Hoping these ideas may appeal to those who are pleading for support for the party at a future time, as I believe if they are acted upon it will be beneficial to the Conservative cause, I leave the matter to the consideration of those who are more able than I to place the subject before the electors.

CONSERVATIVE.

KING FOR PEKIN

W. L. Mackenzie King Will Attend International Conference Which Deals With the Suppression of the Opium Traffic.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—W. L. Mackenzie King, the newly elected representative of North Waterloo in the Commons, will be Canada's representative at the international quinquennial conference in Pekin next January on the suppression of the opium traffic. Mr. King made a special investigation into the opium question at Vancouver last spring and a bill suppressing its use in Canada was passed on his recommendation last spring. At that time he furnished the United States government, on request, with some of the facts learned during the investigation and the suggestion has been made from Washington that he be appointed Canada's representative and Sir Wilfrid Laurier also asked Mr. King to accept the mission. The Imperial government has sanctioned Mr. King's appointment. Mr. King will leave at the end of the month for Pekin and will probably be absent until about March. The knowledge of the Oriental questions he will gain on this mission, added to his wide and varied experience already obtained on his various special missions on behalf of the government during the past few years will add materially to his unique equipment as a minister of the crown when Sir Wilfrid calls him to his cabinet.

Death of Cuban Ex-President

Havana, Nov. 4.—Tomas Estrada Palma, first president of the present Cuban republic, died at Santiago today of enteritis. Although Palma was removed from office by the people there was no charge against him personally. His political affiliations caused the failure of the government. The moderates who ended his political career are now in Santiago on a presidential campaign and will attend the burial of the man whom they made an outcast and drove prematurely to the grave with a broken heart. There is already talk of the government pensioning Palma's family. The whole people mourn the loss of the venerable patriot.

Tomas Estrada Palma, Cuban patriot, was born at Bayamo, Cuba. He studied law at the university of Seville, but never practiced. He took part in the Cuban revolution of 1895-98, in the early part of which his mother had been captured and starved to death by the Spaniards. Her death made him heir to a vast estate which the Spaniards confiscated. He became president of the Cuban republic, but was captured in 1897, and imprisoned until the hostilities ceased in 1898. He then went to the Honduras, and became a teacher, and later post master general. Afterwards he came to the United States and settled in the Central Valley, Orange county, New York. During the last revolution he was delegate at large and minister plenipotentiary for the Cuban republic, and was elected president of Cuba, May 20, 1902.

Cold Night Comfortable Chair Glowing Fireside

PICTURE in your mind the living room of a comfortable home, a chilly night, and a bright fire is burning. Seated by the fireside are the old folks enjoying the luxury of large Upholstered Chairs. A pretty picture, is it not? Yes, and that same picture is drawn on imagination of a large number of young people in Regina. They know a great debt of gratitude is owing to that father and mother, and their greatest desire is to see them enjoying all the comforts of life. If we could only afford it? That is the obstacle you cannot overcome. As a rule the price of Upholstered Chairs in Regina has been beyond the average person's means. But prices are no longer an obstacle. We have a New Stock of Upholstered Chairs and Rockers, the prices of which are within the reach of all; also all other lines of Furniture which is necessary to make the home both comfortable and attractive. We cordially invite you to call on us and inspect our stock. We think we have what you want--if we haven't, we can get it. No order too large for us to fill. No order too small for our prompt attention.

Over 3,000 Students Trained for Business

The "FEDERAL" Business College has now entered upon its eleventh year of practical educational work. Its graduates are to be found in all the large centers of Canada, where they command the best positions. The school year just entered upon promises to be the most successful in our history. The splendid success of our students in the past is a sure guarantee for the future. Young people who intend taking a course of study in business subjects should at once communicate with the management, as from present indications it may be impossible to gain admission at a little later date. Several new teachers of lengthy experience will be added to the "FEDERAL" staff.

Our Special Home Study Course is prepared for those who cannot attend college, instruction being given through correspondence, and by teachers who will visit the various centers in the interests of Home Study Students

ANECDOTES OF GREENWAY

Mr. Greenway was the most tantalizing listener that ever was. A person might convey to him the most startling intelligence without being able to tell by the composed way in which he stroked his beard and rubbed the watch pocket of his waistcoat whether he was pleased or boiling with indignation. If it were a newspaper reporter, the interviewer would be surprised to find at the end of his dramatic recital that Mr. Greenway had pumped him dry, and had not uttered one word that indicated his views. As a rule, about the best the interviewer could do was to get a general impersonal affirmation or denial or a non-committal sentence, and he had to be content with that.

Only once did he give an interview on a political question in Toronto. He was then no longer premier, and the reasons for speaking were urgent. He had known the interviewer for many years, and he wanted to say something, but he feared the consequences. "Look here," he said, "it is very easy to give you an interview, but look at the consequences. For twenty years I have been coming to Toronto and by carefully building up a reputation for never giving an interview on anything else than the weather and the crops I can now come and go in peace. The newspaper men are all friendly, and cannot complain because they are all treated alike. But if I give you an interview I will have to begin all over again to get back again to where I am now."

Beneath that somewhat cold exterior there was a real supply of gentleness and humor. One St. Patrick's Day before Mr. Speaker entered, Mr. Greenway came into the house wearing a huge bunch of shamrocks. "Here," said one of the members. "This will not go. The other day you presided at the Cornishmen's banquet, and now you are trying to palm yourself off as an Irishman." "I belong to all nations," said the premier blandly, as he passed along to talk to one of the Icelandic members.

Everybody knows of his habit of sitting in the house with his eyes half shut and twirling his thumbs in front of the expansive waistcoat. Strangers thought he was half asleep. It was just one of his ways of securing himself from interruption and extra effort while he watched how things went in the house. To those who watched him closely, as the reporters in the gallery had ample opportunity of doing, the thumbs were indicators. When everything was progressing smoothly the thumbs traveled slowly round and round upward and forward. Some opposition member made an interruption. The right thumb paused in mid air, so to speak, alert, straining to catch the next word. Mr. Speaker answered the interrupter. The thumbs travelled backward and downward smoothly and sedately as before. It was at such a time that Mr. Greenway turned the laugh on the then leader of the opposition. They were discussing a grant to a coal railway, and the opposition leader claimed the grant was largely wasted because the coal was no good. The minister under fire replied that the coal was first class, and was even then burning in the furnace beneath the legislative chamber.

"Ah, that accounts for it being so cold here," retorted the opposition leader. "Are you cold?" asked the premier raising up with every appearance of seriousness. "I should say it is unpleasantly cold here." "Oh, well," returned the premier kindly, "that is characteristic of that side of the House."

Upon the occasion of one of Mr. Greenway's birthdays, a newspaper man prepared a biographical sketch of him. The next day he ventured to ask the subject what he thought of it.

"Very good, very good," said Mr. Greenway, "but you made one bad mistake."

"What was that?" "You said I had twelve children." "Well, is not that correct?" "No. I have thirteen."

SCOTCHMEN BUY WHEAT

Deputation from Co-Operative Society Visit Western Canada and Make Arrangements for Elevators—Will Buy Canadian Wheat.

A deputation of the Scottish Co-Operative Wholesale society, paid a visit to the Canadian west this summer. In company with their local representative, Mr. Geo. Fisher, they made a trip over the Grand Trunk Pacific railway with a view of looking over elevator sites. It now transpires that on their return to Winnipeg and before leaving for Great Britain, contracts were let for the immediate construction of six elevators along that line within the boundaries of the province of Manitoba, the idea being to erect others further west in the future, possibly next year.

The deputation expressed themselves as much pleased with the country through which they passed, and quite sanguine as to the future of the west. They were also delighted with the new Winnipeg grain exchange, in which the offices of the company for the Canadian west are located. During their stay, these gentlemen met a large number of Winnipeg business men and exchanged ideas as to the trade.

Shuffle in Government

The Toronto World is responsible for the following:

"The vacancy on the railway commission has given the government an opportunity to get rid of a difficult situation. It is admitted that Hon. Frank Oliver has been a weakness to the government as Minister of the Interior. He will be offered an appointment to the railway commission and the Hon. Walter Scott, premier of Saskatchewan, will be made Minister of the Interior if Mr. Oliver accepts.

At the general elections Premier Scott proved his strength. His province returned eight Liberals and but one Conservative, while Mr. Oliver in Alberta, could only return four Liberals, three going to the opposition. Mr. Scott would have swept his province, but the government itself admits that it was impossible to defeat R. S. Lake in Qu'Appelle. Mr. Oliver it is believed, would well represent the farming interests of the west, which were intended to be looked after by Mr. Greenway.

"The government looks upon Mr. Scott as the strongest man in the west, and he would have been appointed Minister of the Interior when Clifford Sifton resigned, had it not been that the government could not risk defeat in West Assiniboia, therefore the portfolio was given to Mr. Oliver, who had an absolutely safe seat in Edmonton.

"Mr. Oliver's manner in the house has not tended to disarm criticism, and he has constantly laid himself and his department open to attack, when the exercise of a little diplomacy might have saved the situation. He lost much prestige by his refusal to produce original documents last session, a stand which the government for a time supported, but finally receded from."

The prodigal son wrote his father: "I got religion at camp meeting the other day. Send me ten dollars." But the old man replied: "Religion is free. You got the wrong kind." Atlanta Constitution.

COMIC AND SERIOUS

Passenger: "Say, is this the fastest you go?" Conductor: "Yes, if you don't like it, get out and walk." Passenger: "Oh, I ain't in such a hurry as all that."—Exchange.

"Not that time," snorted the pugilist, banteringly, as he dodged a terrific hook for the jaw. "You don't know me." "I must confess," replied his opponent, politely, "that although your name is familiar your face escaped me for the moment."—Philadelphia Press.

HE WAS SAFE

She—I always feel perfectly safe when you are driving the car. Dr. Smash—I'm glad of that. But why have you such confidence in my driving? She—I guess it's because you're a doctor.

ONE OF TWO REASONS

"Do women kiss their husbands because they love them?" queried the young person. "Either that or because they have designs upon their pocket books," replied the man with the missing hair, who had been evidently up against the game.—Detroit Tribune.

IN THE FUTURE

"Don't be foolish about it," exclaimed the young bride; "he's merely an old flame of mine." "Indeed!" cried her aged but very wealthy husband, "I suppose you dream of his tender advances yet." "No," she replied with a far-away look, "not yet."—Catholic Standard and Times.

MASCULINE TRIALS

Harry is six years old. "Pa," he asked one day, "if I get married will I have a wife like ma?" "Very likely," replied his father. "And if I don't get married will I have to be an old bachelor like Uncle Tom?" "Very likely." "Well, pa," he said after a moment deep thought, "it's a mighty tough world for us men, ain't it?"—Success.

Upon moving into a new neighborhood the small boy of the family was cautioned not to fight with his new acquaintances. One day Willie came home with a black eye and very much spattered with dirt. "Why, Willie," said mamma, "I thought I told you to count a hundred before you fought!" "I did, mamma," said Willie, "and look what Tommy Smith did while I was counting!"—Ladies Home Journal.

Two men met in front of a hotel one day and fell into a political discussion. They were ordinary everyday sort of men, but one of them had a remarkable flow of polysyllabic language. He talked half an hour and his companion listened in a dose. "And now," the speaker pompously continued, "perhaps you will coincide with me?" The other's face brightened up. "Why, yes, thanks, old man," he answered heartily, moving towards the bar-room door. "Don't care if I do."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Anecdote—"Now then young man, where's your lamp," inquired a policeman, as he stopped a young cyclist one night. "Where it ought to be," replied the cyclist. "None of your impudence, I mean it ain't a light—you know what I mean!" "Oh, I understand!" Well it was a light a minute ago; it must have just gone out as you stopped me." "I've heard that yarn before," replied the officer as he took off his glove and placed his hand on the lamp, then he commenced a kind of war dance and whoop. "Why couldn't you say it was hot," he exclaimed. "This will cost you something, I'll make it hot for you."

Wm. Rimes has taken over the management and editing of the Grenfell Sun, succeeding the veteran news paper man, John Nichols.

Dr. M. M. Seymour visited Carrault last week in connection with a couple of cases of smallpox which were noticed on the train near that point.

Francis Evans, of McLean, who was confined to the Victoria Hospital here for about ten weeks is now out again. He was so unfortunate as to lose the sight of one eye.

Earl Stanhope, a young English nobleman spent a few days in the city last week. While here he visited the R.N.W.M.P. barracks and dined with the Lieut-Governor.

Albert Avers, the young man who was caught taking goods from the H. W. Laird Co., warehouse a short time ago has been sentenced to two years in the Prince Albert gaol.

The ladies of the Metropolitan Methodist church served a splendid dinner in the basement of the church on Thanksgiving Day in the evening. Their venture was well patronized.

Monday was a dry day in the city as all the hotel bars were closed. According to the new License Act, this is one of the special days on which no booze is to be sold over the bars.

Paul Ahoos, the young Indian from Grenfell, won the five mile race at Winnipeg on Thanksgiving Day and with it the championship of Canada. The time for the five miles was 27 minutes.

S. B. Jamieson left last Friday morning for Banff to take treatment for rheumatism. Mr. Jamieson has been confined to his home for the past three months being taken down with typhoid fever. Dr. Cullum accompanied Mr. Jamieson to Banff.

A union thanksgiving service was held in Knox church on Monday morning. The attendance was not as large as might have been expected. The address was delivered by Rev. G. Harmon Jones, pastor of the first Baptist church.

George Hagel, who has been accountant at the Glasgow House for the past couple of years left last Friday to take a lucrative position with the Ontario Pump and Windmill Co. Prior to his departure he was made the recipient of a handsome gold locket which testifies to the esteem in which he was held by the firm.

The convention of the Sunday School Association of Saskatchewan is being held in Regina this week. The meetings, which are being held in the Metropolitan Methodist church commenced yesterday morning and will be concluded tomorrow evening.

W. J. Rutherford has arrived in the city to take over his duties as Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture. His wife and family are also in the city. Before coming to Regina, Mr. Rutherford was professor of Animal Husbandry in Manitoba Agricultural College.

The first regular train to reach Regina over the Regina-Brandon branch of the C.N.R. came in on Thursday night last. The train consisted of a number of box cars, a double baggage and passenger coach and a passenger coach. About thirty passengers got off the train.

A tramp, says an exchange, rang a doctor's door bells out on Euclid avenue one day last week, and asked the pretty woman who opened the door if she would be so kind as to ask the doctor if he had a pair of old pants he would kindly give away. "I am the doctor," said the smiling young woman, and the tramp skidded.

When a splinter has been driven deep into the hand, it can be extracted without pain by steam. Nearly fill a wide mouthed bottle with hot water, place the injured part over neck of the bottle, then press tightly. The suction will draw the flesh down, and in a minute or two the steam will extricate the splinter and the inflammation will disappear.

It is said Macleod, Alta., holds the record now of the largest yield of fall wheat per acre of any district in western Canada. G. Nathe, who resides a few miles south of Macleod, reports that he has sixty acres of land which has just yielded a crop of 3,700 bushels of fall wheat. The wheat weighs 68 pounds to the bushel, which makes a yield of 652 bushels per acre.

Harris McPayden, district representative of the department of agriculture, with headquarters at Regina has resigned to accept a more remunerative position with Garton Bros., seedsmen, Winnipeg. F. H. Reed, B.S.A., representative in agriculture at Lindsay for the Ontario department has been appointed to take his place. Reed is considered an exceptionally strong man for the position. He is well acquainted with the west and western people. He was originally connected with the staff of the Farmer's Advocate at Winnipeg.

TAKE THE HINT AND ACT NOW—A new series of short stories is about to commence in The Family Herald and Weekly Star for 1908 that are said to be the best ever offered to newspaper readers. A complete story will appear each week. The series alone is worth more than the whole year's subscription price, one dollar, and when one thinks of all the other good things that appear in that great weekly he can readily understand why the publishers so earnestly urge present subscribers to renew early and give them a chance to enter the thousands of new applications in December and January. It is safe to say that no person receiving a dollar for the Family Herald and Weekly Star for 1908 will regret it. Any farmer, particularly, who is not a regular reader, is missing something he cannot afford to.

Mr. Frank Webber, of Regina, provincial manager of the Bell Telephone system paid a business trip to Lumsden last week. Arrangements will be made with the local company to give immediate connection with long distance. A cabinet will be erected in the local exchange for the benefit of those speaking at a distance who have not the local systems in their residence. We understand the local company will publish a list of rates for long distance use. By the way, Mr. Webber is an athlete of renown in the east, holding the Canadian record for high jumping at Montreal two years ago against all amateurs. Mr. Webber is a member of the Canadian Alpine Club, the qualification for membership being that mountain climbers must reach the peak of the highest mountains in the west. He found travelling about Lumsden hills easy compared to a trip up Mt. Hermit or Rogers. Mt. Hermit is 18,700 feet high and is usually completely hidden and rarely free from clouds.—Lumsden News-Record.
