The Worry Habit

To worry is a bad habit. It is a waste of valuable time, and nothing so quickly breaks down nerve cells and lowers the vitality of the body.

The business man has a thousand things to worry him, and if he gives way to worry it is not long before the business becomes his master, and makes of him a slave. It is only a question of time until business worries put him under the ground or in the insane asylum.

There is not much use in telling a person not to worry. The source of trouble is with the nerves, and until the nerves are set right the tendency is to continue the nerve-exhausting worry.

When you begin the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to restore vitality to the starved and wasted nerve cells you can make up your mind that you are going to get well and cease worrying. Think how few things you worry over ever happen, and make up your mind to do your best, and let it go at that.

With the nervous system run down it is hard to look on the bright side. Doubt and discouragement are ever present. Tired brain, headache, nervous indigestion, irritability over little things, and impatient nervousness are among the symptoms which warn you of the approach of some form of nervous breakdown or paralysis.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is reconstructive as well as tonic. It not only revitalizes but also rebuilds wasted nerve cells. It furnishes in condensed and easily assimilated form the vital substances needed for regenerating the entire organism when in a run-down condition.

Iron for the blood, food for the tissues and vitality for the exhausted nerves—these are what make this great food cure the most rational treatment which a business man, or anyone else, can use to get back health, vigor and energy.

Would it not be a good idea to begin this treatment to-day, and get rid of the worry habit and all the symptoms of exhausted nerves?

Fellowship.

If I could have it said of me,
When I was in my time of toil,
That I have fought to helpful be,
And have not labored just for spoil,
I'll give death's angel with a smile
And take his hand and journey on,
Because that I've been worth while,
And shall still live although I'm gone.

Horse Collars Should Fit Properly.

Most injured shoulders are the result of poorly fitted collars, and the fault usually lies in a collar being too large. It is a good idea to have a harness maker fit the collars to your horses. He may be able to remove padding and in other ways make the collar over so that it will fit nicely. Heavy collars and pads should be avoided if possible. They are hot and cause the shoulders to sweat; this keeps the pad and shoulders wet, and the skin underneath the pad and harness collar is liable to become sore and probably an injurious ill-fitting one.

In the spring the horse's hair is long and holds large quantities of dirt and scales from the skin. He is soft from lack of work, and sweats profusely. This forms a gummy dirt that adheres to the collar and makes, when dry, a hard, rough surface.

The ordinary farm hand feels that his duty is done if he scrapes the dirt from the collar with the back of his knife. This method is not a very good one for the leather of the collar, and a smooth surface is not left. A damp sponge used in the evening as soon as the collar is taken off will remove the dirt much better. This may be followed by an oil rag; if this is done, the collar in the morning, should be soft and smooth. Careless driving, jerking a horse out of the furrow and into it again, allowing him to work with his head under the collar, all tend to produce sore shoulders.

Of course the first precaution to take is not to risk the collar to do a full day's work until he learns something about his work and ceases to fret. The shoulder will then gradually become toughened. It is well to sponge the shoulder with cold water—just plain cold water. Alum water has been used to good advantage; also common salt dissolved in water makes an excellent solution. Alcohol tends to toughen the skin. Injuries to the top of the neck very frequently terminate in fistulas, withers, etc. A blister near the point of the shoulder is likely to become a callous and form what is known as a 'cold abscess,' ill fitting collars and poor drivers are equally responsible for a condition known as 'lockjaw' if it occurs and in spite of careful attention a horse's shoulder becomes injured, do not wait until a fistula has developed, or an abscess has formed, but seek the advice of a veterinarian while there is still a chance to check the progress of the injury.

Maritime Men Hold Banquet.

The annual banquet of the Maritime Club of McGill University, of Montreal, held Mar. 24th, heard R. B. Bennett, M. P., of Calgary, tell of the sacrifices made by the parents of the Maritime Provinces in educating their sons and daughters, and pay an especially graceful tribute to the mothers for the part they had played in teaching their sons to be strong, self-reliant and helpful citizens of the Dominion. He told also of the Maritime Provinces' influence in the development of the West.

C. H. Caban, K. C., spoke eulogistically on the part played by the great drama by Hon. Joseph Howe, whose prophecies of the benefits of Confederation had been more than fulfilled. 'The provinces by the sea' was responded to by the following: H. S. Ross, K. C., for Nova Scotia, A. R. Creelman for New Brunswick, A. R. McLean for P. E. Island, and J. M. Forbes for Newfoundland.

A Useful Receipt.

A woman who has tried it declares the best way to mend china is to apply a little carriage varnish carefully with a camel's hair brush to the edge of the broken china. The part neatly joined together, the fracture will, when thoroughly dry, be hardly perceptible, and the china will stand fire and water.

Mr. Sydney N. Brannen, for a long period connected with the Dominion Atlantic railway, the last twelve years as Boston city ticket agent, has recently associated himself with the Beekman Tourist Company, Washington and Milk streets, (opposite the Old South Meeting House) Boston, as ticket agent in charge of Nova Scotia passenger traffic.

Mr. Brannen will act as sort of bureau of information for the special benefit of travelers to or from the Maritime Provinces, and will be glad to assist them in securing railroad or steamship accommodations over any lines, and furnish them with literature, or any information or suggestions they may need. He is likely to be one of the busiest transportation officials in Boston during the tourist season.

He is a native of Yarmouth, and in the earlier days of his connection with the Dominion Atlantic represented the company in that place and in Windsor. He is one of the most popular members of the Canadian colony in Boston.

How to Be Successful.

There are various ways to success in life. The man who makes his business is likely to be a success; the one who lets other people's business alone is likely to get there; the man who strictly attends to that which concerns himself alone, and leaves that which concerns others to take care of itself will be certain to be a success; while he who neglects his own affairs and attempts to manage those of his neighbor is certain to be left behind in the race of life.

Proof!

THIS is written with a full sense of our serious responsibility to housewives. It is not a glib argument. It is a solid fact. Nothing but truth would do with such easy proof offered you.

A barrel of Regal Flour yields the almost quantity of bread. No flour in the world yields more. The loaves it bakes are white and light. Pastry of melting flakiness.

Your dealer wants you to take your money back if Regal Flour proves below this promise. In that event we must pay him. On this understanding, isn't it only fair to yourself to test Regal at once?

A skeptical person recently took occasion to cast aspersions on the claims of alleged centenarians, asserting that in most if not in all cases the proofs of such longevity were not forthcoming. The Boston Post, rightfully indignant, pointed with pride to Mrs. Sarah Robie Wilson, of Corinth, Vt., who celebrated her centenary a year ago to-day, having been born on April 4th, 1812, as the Post was prepared to prove. Also the Post found seven other New England centenarians whose claims were well attested. The skeptic was very properly discomfited, as he deserved to be. Nor has New England any monopoly on folk who have passed the century mark. The woods are full of them. An English woman recently passed 104 years of age. A Kansas man, with 144 descendants, got space in the newspapers on his hundredth birthday, not long ago. Dr. Josephine Zurich recently observed his eightieth or 'ruby' wedding. Samuel Keefe, of Penn Yan, N. Y., was 103 last month. A Pennsylvania, Samuel Neuin, died last month, aged 102, and the records show that he was denied enlistment in the civil war as being at that time 'too old.' Thirty-seven centenarians died in New York in 1912, according to a recent report. Dr. Jacques Bertillon, of Paris, declared not long ago that old age practically never causes death.

Applied to a wound or to a discolored part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 101 Dolor-mier Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Co., and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still curly, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a return stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

A World's Ayrshire Record

On March 2nd, 1913, the Ayrshire cow, Daisy of Ferndale 26735, qualified in the Canadian Record of Performance test with 15,533 lbs. milk and 578.17 lbs. butter-fat equal to 697 lbs. butter given in 365 days, and is due to freshen April 25th, next. This cow is owned by W. C. Tully, Athol, Quebec, and was slightly over four years of age when she entered in the test.

This cow now holds the yearly record for milk and butter in the four-year-old class, outstripping Beale of Rosemont, owned by Geo. A. McFadden, Bryn Mawr, Pa., that held for some time the world's record with 14,102 lbs. milk and 578.77 lbs. butter fat.

Mr. Tully is a young man who started selecting and breeding Ayrshires two years ago, and is to be congratulated on his success, as he has also a number of other cows making good records.

Editorial Notes.

Seeding throughout Saskatchewan will commence April 15th, according to a report issued by the provincial department of agriculture.

Hon. W. J. Hanna has introduced a bill in the Ontario legislature that children be not allowed on the streets after nine o'clock at night. The legislation was asked for by the Ontario Council of Women, the W. C. T. U. and other like organizations.

An exchange says that the Provincial examinations will be over before July 1st this year. This will be welcome news to those who take the examinations and who were formerly obliged to write them at the most trying time of the year, the first week in July, usually one of the hottest weeks in the summer.

The wave of progress has reached the town of Shelburne. A meeting of the rate-payers was held last week to vote on a proposal to borrow not more than eight thousand dollars for the improvement of the electric light plant, to provide power for industrial purposes, and an equal amount to be expended as a bonus for a cold storage company. Every vote cast was in favor of both propositions.

The year 1912 has developed some most remarkable features in the dairy business of Canada. For the first time in forty years, the exports of butter fell away to the small quantity of seventy packages, and during the year Canadians have imported a very large quantity, the total imports being in excess of 100,000 packages. Most of this imported butter came from New Zealand.

Hon. George Whitman, for more than thirty years a member of the legislative council of this province, is no longer a member, his seat having been declared vacant by the government, on account of absence for two years due to ill health. Mr. Whitman is in his 90th year. While no official announcement has been made, there is authority for believing that S. W. P. Pickett, late Liberal member at Ottawa for Annapolis, will be appointed to the vacancy. This leaves but one Conservative in that chamber.

A Closure bill was introduced into the Dominion Parliament on Wednesday by Premier Borden in the most clear, convincing, tactful and masterly address ever heard in the Canadian Parliament. Amendments are made impossible. Stocked reserves are to be a thing of the past. The bill is many times milder than that introduced into the British Parliament by Gladstone, but is expected to be sufficient to control Peggys and company, and therefore provide for the transaction of the legitimate business of the country.

In Oregon a system is being adopted in the schools whereby the children are credited with marks on producing signed statements from their parents stating that they have been diligent in such homework as reading, sewing, shopping, "helping mother", care of young brothers, sisters, etc. A certain number of these marks entitle the scholar to a holiday and a reward. Results so far are unflatteringly good for school and home. Such a system might be adopted in Nova Scotia, with good results. It too frequently happens that children are not as thoughtful as they should be regarding help about the home, and many a poor tired mother would be glad of the help of any system which would bring about so desirable a change.

Misunderstanding.

Certain interested politicians in Kings and other counties of this valley are going up and down the country proclaiming the Fenian Veterans bounty as a gross Tory graft. Liberal members from Nova Scotia during the present parliamentary session have protested against these bounties as political intrigue.

In March, 1866, the Hon. Lieutenant Governor, Sir Benjamin Williams, through his provincial secretary, Charles Tupper, issued a proclamation to all the loyal citizens, requiring them to attend assembly for drill in preparation of an alleged Fenian raid then hourly expected.

Many thousands responded to this call. No actual fighting occurred in Nova Scotia, as the battles were fought and Canadian blood was shed in Ontario. Nova Scotians loyally assembled in March 1866, and drilled in preparation for the Fenian invasion, but the money for the drill before the Fenian invasion was never paid.

It was in connection with a claim asked for regarding the ungranted and unpaid Fenian bounties in Kings and other counties. The returned Fenians on the table have evidence of marks of change and mutilation. Mr. Douglas did not discuss this matter but plainly called it 'false'.

The charges caused sensation. The charges that the government had been engaged in wholesale trafficking in Fenian bounties, to help out some friends of their own, made a sensation in the House. They were brought out by the following resolutions which were moved by Mr. Douglas:

Resolved, that in the opinion of this house, the administration of the # Government's Illegal Traffic in Our Crown Lands.

MR. DOUGLAS SHOWS THE HOUSE HOW AMERICAN FRIENDS OF PREMIER MURRAY RECEIVED 600,000 ACRES OF THE BEST NOVA SCOTIA CROWN LANDS AND HOW THE CONDITIONS WERE WAIVED THE AREA WORTH $4,000,000 IN WOOD ALONE.

House of Assembly, April 8th.—Another scandal looms before the disgraced Murray government. Following close on the heels of the charges made in the House of Assembly that the government, through the provincial farm at Truro, sold tubercular cattle knowing it to be diseased, thus working what might have been irreparable harm to the live stock of this province, comes another charge that the government illegally trafficked in crown lands for the personal gain of friends of the administration. Premier Murray had to bear the brunt of this charge for it was friends of his who were the beneficiaries of these transactions. These grave charges were laid at the door of the government by J. C. Douglas, one of the members for Cape Breton.

AMERICANS GOT THE LANDS. Mr. Douglas showed that the government gave a lease for 99 years of 600,000 acres of crown lands in Inverness and Victoria counties to a set of Americans who thought so highly of the Premier, that they made the name of the post office at their camp 'Murray,' but that was only a little matter.

This grant was made ostensibly on condition that the people who got the lands should erect two pulp mills of 50 tons daily capacity each, within four years after the making of the grant, which was away back in 1899, and that they manufacture their wood products in Nova Scotia. There are no pulp mills there yet.

The huge grant of 600,000 acres of crown lands, in the two counties, was the best of the land of this kind and it was practically all of the entire area of crown lands in both counties.

THE CONDITIONS CANCELLED. The American friends of the government having got the lands, the next thing was to have the conditions wiped out which attached to the grant. Accordingly by successive orders in Council one condition after another was cancelled by the government and soon the Americans had the 600,000 acres unconditionally. They could do with them as they liked, one thing being the shipment of wood manufactured. The pulp mill would be in the United States.

THE VITAL CLAUSE OVER RIDDEN. The only clause under which the lease of the crown lands could be legally made was section 34, subsection 2, of the crown lands act, which reads as follows:

'Lands upon which hard wood is the principal growth, may also be leased under terms and conditions to be prescribed, provided the person proposing to lease the same under takes to expend money in the erection of mills and machinery for the manufacture of wood products or pulp.'

The government made the grant to its friends, Mr. Douglas pointed out, and then, as already stated, deliberately turned round and eliminated the conditions regarding the erection of mills or manufacture.

ANOTHER WAY TO HELP THEIR FRIENDS. The government sought and found another way of helping their friends. Section 29 of the Crown lands act is as follows: 'The Commissioner may grant, sell or lease small lots of land which are altogether or nearly surrounded by lands not held by the Crown, and may also make grants of such lots held under lease from the Crown to the lessee thereof.'

In the year 1910 the Attorney-General put an amendment through the legislature in which the clause was repeated but without the word 'small' thus enabling the government to grant any further lands that the landgrabbers might desire, and to which the government wished to be in a position to help them. So they struck out the limitation of the word 'small.' The amendment was smuggled through the House, the bill not being printed as is the usual custom.

THE BEST TRACT IN NOVA SCOTIA. The great stretch of crown land, covering 600,000 acres, is what is called the Cape Breton Tract and is easily the best in Nova Scotia. Professor Fenwick, one of the greatest forestry authorities in the country, says the vast area given to those Americans includes twelve million cords of wood, worth an average of $3 per cord. The grant, therefore, in this respect alone, has a potential value of $24,000,000.

A most suspicious thing about this deal, for it can be known by no other name, is that the lease was not registered in 1899 when it was made, but was kept unrecorded and secret for ten years.

GOVERNMENT'S FAIR RETURN. Mr. Douglas also brought home to the government the charge that returns asked from the government in this matter were false and justified.

This was in connection with a claim asked for regarding the ungranted and unpaid Fenian bounties in Inverness and Victoria counties. The returned Fenians on the table have evidence of marks of change and mutilation. Mr. Douglas did not discuss this matter but plainly called it 'false'.

THE CHARGES CAUSED SENSATION. The charges that the government had been engaged in wholesale trafficking in Fenian bounties, to help out some friends of their own, made a sensation in the House. They were brought out by the following resolutions which were moved by Mr. Douglas:

Resolved, that in the opinion of this house, the administration of the

He has become one of the important questions of the day, as many diseases have been traced to unsanitary plumbing.

We shall be pleased at any time to quote you on Bathroom fixtures, etc. We carry only best quality materials and do not approve of installing anything but the best, knowing from experience that a cheap plumbing apparatus is expensive in the long run. The Boy Scouts.

The cold and unpleasant weather has prevented much outdoor activity among the boys and has prevented a start being made on the new Club Rooms. However they have placed plans for the building to be used as a reading room and if the weather permits this building will be moved into position next Saturday.

The Friday evening meetings are well attended and a number of the boys have recently passed their tests as second-class Scouts. The Wolfville troop of Scouts is the second in Canada, as far as can be ascertained, to possess a complete installation of wireless telegraphy. Two stations fully equipped with sending and receiving apparatus are located in the town. The sending range of the outfit is from one to five miles and they should receive up to two hundred miles from commercial stations. During the past week those boys who know the Morse Code have been exchanging messages between the two stations. The apparatus is giving splendid satisfaction.

The Scoutmaster will be pleased to show the outfit to anyone interested.

L. W. SLEEP

Cousin to Solomon.

DEAR BROTHER.—The conceit and wisdom of the latest addition to the Wolfville Town Council as exhibited at the recent meeting, recalls the following:

The story is told of a well known traveler who on one journey was much annoyed by a pedantic bore who forced himself upon him and made a great parade of his knowledge. The traveler bore it as long as he could and at length, looking at him grandly, said, 'My friend, you and I know all that is to be known.' 'How is that?' said the man, pleased with what he thought a complimentary association. 'Why,' said the traveler, 'You know everything except that you are a fool, and I know that.'

Mr. Porter's exit from civic politics some years ago, was apparently so complete and crushing that his recent advent has been viewed with grave concern. He considers himself, judging by his remarks and actions at the meetings of the town Council since his accidental return, a constitutional authority, an orator, a dictator. All of which he is in his habit.

He raved and fought against granting the Town Clerk, A. E. Caldwell, a holiday for two months. Mr. Caldwell had just met with a great sorrow, the greatest any man could have. The fact that the balance of the Council knew that Mr. Caldwell was in ill health, was not rich, had worked at a low salary, counted for nothing. Mr. Porter thought himself a great oratorical gladiator, contending for the people's rights. He was not credited with any such useful principles while previously a member of the Council, or upon any previous occasion.

Professor A. E. Caldwell, is a gentleman beloved by all who know him, and the Town Council, less Mr. Porter, gave expression of their sympathy and sentiment. Again the oratorical Councillor waxed wild because Mr. Martin, of the district, was given a license to sell such of Mr. Caldwell's household goods as were of no further use to the owner, and he forthwith gave the chairman of the License Committee a proper dressing down, on the ground that he, Mr. Porter, was the licensed auctioneer of the town. Whoever he is, he is a great legal authority ever since he heard of Council licensing one of its members. His disqualification for such is beyond question.

He used his great forensic talents in arguing on behalf of Mr. Borden, in his appeal from the appeal court. His gestures, his words, his logic, his lack of weight would have done credit to a native of Central Africa. After the meeting he admitted he didn't believe a word he said. This was to show how great a pleader he was, able to make black appear white. He rose as a Councillor will last just two years from last February, unless and providing he prefers acting as a licensed auctioneer.

Romantic Wedding at Rockingham.

Another chapter was added to a romance by the Rev. R. B. Layton, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Deane, Rockingham, on April 27th, when Mr. Eben Lang and Miss Mary Steacie Heys Muir were united in marriage. Miss Muir arrived on Saturday from Glasgow, Scotland, by the Scandinavian, on which were several other Scottish brides on their way to meet their husbands. Mr. Lang, formerly of Glasgow, is now a horticulturist in Hortonville, King county.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents. Among the guests were Mrs. Taylor, of Bridgewater, Mrs. Waddell, Mrs. Smith, Miss Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. T. Gorman, Mrs. Jones and Miss Fielding. After an elaborate luncheon was served, the bridal party left on the afternoon train for their future home at Hortonville.—Halifax Chronicle.

At Hantsport, N. S., on the 31st of April, there died a woman well known and highly esteemed in Kings county and elsewhere, Miss Fannie R. Cogswell. The home of her brother and herself was for many years in Centreville, Cornwallis; but three years ago fire destroyed their dwelling, so that in the autumn following they removed to Hantsport. Miss Cogswell was a woman of great refinement of character and one who endeared herself to many people. The residence in Centreville was long the resort of friends who sought rest and recuperation, so home-like and refreshing was the atmosphere of the place. The funeral occurred at the family lot in Canard, Rev. F. H. Beals and Rev. W. C. Machum having charge of the services. Friends from Biltova, Centreville, Canard, Wolfville, Hantsport and Halifax assembled to express their high regard for the estimable Christian character of the departed.
