

DYNAMITE WALSH DEAD AT KINGSTON

Sentenced For Life For Attempt to Dynamite Welland Canal--All a Mistake, He Said.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Kingston, Ont., March 4.—John Walsh, one of the two dynamiters who in March, 1900, were sentenced at St. Catharines to life imprisonment in the Portmouth Penitentiary, died this morning at that institution after a lengthy sickness from cirrhosis of the liver.

INAUGURATION OF PRESIDENT.

Ceremony Marred by Furious Wind and Snow Storm.

Washington Cut Off From Communication for Many Hours.

Taft Outlines Policy of His Administration—Tariff Reform.

Washington, March 4.—William Howard Taft, of Ohio, and James S. Sherman, of New York, were inaugurated at noon to-day as president and vice-president of the U. S. The ceremony of the inauguration was accomplished with all due formality and finality, but under most unusual conditions, owing to a terrific blizzard, which swept over the National capital, paralyzing street traffic, destroying communication with the outside world, and bringing dismay to the thousands of assembled visitors who had gathered in expectation of the usual spectacular demonstration.

TAFT'S ADDRESS.

In his inaugural address, President Taft said: "The office of an inaugural address is to give a summary outline of the main policies of the new administration, so far as they can be anticipated. I have had the honor to be one of the advisors of my distinguished predecessor, and as such, to hold up his hands in the reforms he has initiated. I should be untrue to myself, to my promises and to the declarations of the party platform upon which I was elected to office, if I did not make the maintenance and enforcement of these reforms a most important feature of my administration. They were directed to the suppression of the lawlessness and abuses of power of the great combinations of capital invested in railroads and in industrial enterprises carrying on inter-state commerce. The steps which my predecessor took and the legislation passed on his recommendation has achieved much, have caused a general halt in the vicious policies which created popular alarm, and have brought about in the business affected, a much higher regard for existing law.

"To render the reforms lasting, however, and to secure at the same time freedom from alarm on the part of those pursuing proper and progressive methods, further legislative and executive action is needed.

"Then, too, a reorganization of the Department of Justice, of the Bureau of Corporations in the Department of Commerce and Labor, and of the Interstate Commerce Commission, looking to effective co-operation of these agencies, is needed to secure a more rapid and certain enforcement of the laws affecting interstate railroads and industrial combinations.

spent considerable time in the dark cell. Walsh was aged forty years, had a wife in Dublin, but no relatives in this country. Questioned before his death as to his complicity in the attempted outrage, Walsh merely said, "It was all a mistake. It was nothing but a drunk-caper."

Walsh and Nolan were picked up in Buffalo by Dullman. A review of Walsh's history before coming to America showed that he had been twice tried in Dublin for the murder of English soldiers, and had been acquitted by (Ganna-Gael) juries. Father MacDonald, Roman Catholic chaplain at the institution, will conduct the funeral services here.

By His Own Hand

Rutland, Vermont, March 4.—Dependent and ill, Howard H. Hascall returned to Rutland, his native city, early to-day after an absence of two years and ended his life by sending a bullet through his heart. He was 21 years of age and son of Geo. M. Hascall, a well known jeweler of this place. Recently the young man had been employed in Stamford, Conn., and had also worked in various places in New York State.

Anti-Spitting Order Issued by Government to Railways.

English Girl Charged With Having Two Husbands.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Ottawa, Ont., March 4.—An anti-spitting order has been issued in draft form by the Railway Commission. It is made in response to an application from the Board of Trade of Montreal and in the interest of public health. The order requires all railway companies to post notices in stations, waiting rooms and depots forbidding spitting in such places except in receptacles, which the railroads must provide. The railway companies are given three months in which to comply. If there is any objection to the order they will be offered the opportunity to present it on Tuesday next.

HEAD OFFICE LOSES HEAD.

Manager of Bank of Hamilton Died This Morning.

Henry Harcourt Waters O'Reilly, manager of the head branch of the Bank of Hamilton, died this morning at his home, 208 Herkimer street. Deceased was a son of the late Dr. Gerald O'Reilly, of this city, and a brother of Dr. E. R. O'Reilly, city; Dr. Charles O'Reilly, Toronto, and Dr. Gerald O'Reilly, Guelph. Although he had been sick for a short time, his death was not looked for by his many friends, and the announcement was a severe shock to many.

James Collar, Formerly of Detroit, Died This Morning.

A very sudden death occurred at the home of Mr. J. W. Smoke, Plains West road, near the west end of the bay, to-day. On Tuesday last Mr. and Mrs. James Collar came here from Detroit, intending to take up their home with their brother-in-law, Mr. Smoke. Mrs. Collar arose early this morning and was getting breakfast ready. Going back to her room she found her husband dead. Heart trouble, with which he had suffered, was the cause. Deceased was in the 60's. The family is still in Detroit, preparing to come here.

A NOTHER WEEK AT WORKING DETAILS

Police Have Little to Report in the Kinrade Case To-day, But They Are Quite Hopeful.

The Virginian Developments Do Not Change the Aspect of the Case Much.

One week more to work out old clues and to try to find new ones is what the police now have before them in the Kinrade murder case. They had hoped that something would be brought to light at the inquest, last night, which would give them more definite information to work on than anything they have yet been able to secure, but the adjournment, without taking any evidence leaves them just where they were. They admit that the adjournment was the only course possible in view of the condition of health of Mrs. and Miss Kinrade.

Provincial Detective Miller had an interview with Miss Kinrade in Toronto yesterday, and found her more quiet than at any previous time. He returned to Hamilton this morning to work out some details of the case, and in speaking of it said that he was quite hopeful of obtaining an ultimate and complete clearing up of the mystery, although it might take some time. He is following up every possible clue, and while he has his own theory, he is taking no chance in neglecting any other.

JURORS TALK.

Some Feeling Over Postponement of the Inquest.

Fifteen jurors and Coroner McNichol did their best last night to ascertain why Crown Attorney Washington consented to a delay of one week in the inquest into the murder of Miss Ethel C. Kinrade, which took place a week ago this afternoon. The inquest was opened last night at the Police Court in No. 3 Police Station.

A ROMANCE.

Hamilton Man Married on Automobile Trip in California.

San Francisco, March 4.—Arthur Curzon, said to be a cousin of Lord Curzon, formerly Viceroy of India, has announced his marriage to Mrs. Evelyn Pittman, of this city. The wedding took place in San Jose several days ago on an automobile trip. Curzon, who lives in Hamilton, Ont., has been in the city for some time. The couple have left for Los Angeles, accompanied by Sydney Curzon, an older brother of the bridegroom, said to have been sent out here by the family to prevent the wedding. It is alleged that he was completely won over to the side of the lovers by the beautiful bride.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) London, March 4.—Settling day here is most satisfactory and no failures are reported, while bankers report that all paper was met promptly. THE MAN IN OVERALLS

An advertisement in the Times for a job costs you nothing.

The voting on the power-by-law has been indefinitely postponed. I thought something would happen. But I hope nothing will happen to the pumps.

Hurray for Taft! Washington has gone daft.

Don't worry over the Asquith Government. The tariff reformers are not dangerous.

Now why should Birrell be the victim of the party knife? Isn't he coughing up his dues to the boss?

The temperance people will please observe that Whitney refuses to repeal the three-fifths clause.

This snowstorm or blizzard should be good for quite a few snow-by-law fines.

The tongue of the gossip may wag as it pleases, I have nothing but pity for Mr. Kinrade and his family.

I guess we will have to be content with the technical school. We got it because we built it and paid for it. The college will likely go to Toronto. Our School Board was easy.

At 8:20 Constable Lentz called for order and read the familiar form—"Oyez! Oyez!" etc. The jury was polled and the fifteen answered "Present."

There was an air of expectancy for a moment, and then Coroner McNichol started the proceedings.

"Gentlemen, I'm sorry, we will be unable to proceed to take evidence to-night, for I think the evidence we could get from the witnesses at present available might be very valuable to the police in helping them to get at the bottom of this affair."

"I have here a certificate from Dr. James White, to the effect that Mrs. and Miss Kinrade will be unable to attend to give evidence for at least a week. We simply have to accept it. I would suggest that at the expiration of this week we might meet again, and I hope they may be able to attend. It is no use going on now. One reason that the adjournment is asked for is that the Crown Attorney prefers to have the evidence taken in a certain order, as it will

You may well pray that no calamity overtake you lest the great public, in its individual capacity, rips you up the back. This is a queer world.

Are our horticultural and floricultural friends to favor us with a few of their popular exhibitions the coming season?

Hon. Mr. Hanna says that there are a lot of people in the asylum on the mountain who should not be there. He might have added that there are a bigger lot of people not there who should be there.

We must admit, however, that yesterday was more than we expected in the way of March weather. It looked like a belated Lady'smith Day.

If you have no other place you can hang out at, go up to the Liberal Club rooms. They're fine and cozy these evenings.

Our West Hamilton member in the Dominion House has not yet made his long premeditated attack on the Government. Can't he catch the Speaker's eye?

IS A DISGRACE TO RICH WENTWORTH.

Judge Latchford Scores County For Not Providing a Proper Home For Its Poor.

The grand jury at the Spring Assizes brought in its presentment this morning, and as usual the county came in for its rub for not caring for the helpless people who are confined to the jail and ought to be in a comfortable home. All the charitable institutions were found in excellent condition. The presentment was as follows: The Hon. Mr. Justice Latchford: We, your grand jurors of the March court of the general sessions of the peace, having completed our labors, in making our presentment desire to thank Your Honor for the helpful address delivered to us at the commencement of the court, which tended to make our duties easier. We are pleased that there was such a small criminal docket. As directed by Your Honor we visited the jail and found thirty-six prisoners, thirty-three male and three female. The accommodation is limited to only sixty. We regret we have found several male prisoners confined there who, in our judgment, should have comfortable homes, and not be placed among criminals. On investigating where the helpless creatures came from we were informed that several of them had been lifelong residents of the county of Wentworth. We feel it is Wentworth's duty

To Import Girls

Des Moines, Ia., March 4.—Members of the Greater Des Moines Committee have practically determined to import 500 girls from New York and put them at work in the local factories. This action was taken at a recent meeting of the committee when several factory owners declared that there were not enough girls at hand to properly conduct their institutions. The plan was to have the girls brought out here from New York in a body, perhaps on a special train.

HON. MR. HENDRIE

Re-Elected Chairman of the Railway Committee.

Electric Railway to Connect Beamsville With Jordan.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Toronto, March 4.—"The most capable man in the House to deal with railway questions," was the remark made by Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Mines, in nominating Col. J. S. Hendrie to the Chairmanship of the Railway Committee this morning, when the committee met for the first time this session.

The committee reported the Eastern Ontario Electric Railway Company, a bill to incorporate an electric line from Cornwall to the west towards Toronto. The capital stock of the company is set at $7,500,000. The committee also reported the bill referring to the Dunville, Wellandport & Beamsville Electric Railway, an extension line from Beamsville to Jordan, which will open up an important fruit district. The hearing of the Cobourg, Port Hope & Havelock and of the Cobourg, Peterboro & Kawartha Lakes bills was postponed and they will be heard together.

LAWYERS ON LAW REFORM.

Feeling That Foy's Bill Doesn't Amount to Much.

It seems to be the general feeling among the lawyers of this city that no great advance has been made in the law reform measure Hon. J. J. Foy, the Attorney-General of the Province, introduced to the Legislature yesterday. Some think the abolition of the divisional court will be a blessing for the reason that appeals heard at that court are hurried, and in many cases give the right party the worst of it. Considering the fact that of all the cases entered at the Privy Council are about one-eighth of one per cent. of all cases which are tried, it is not thought that there will be any appreciable difference whether the amount is raised from $4,000 to $10,000, or more.

The lawyers are not likely to view with favor the enlargement of the duties of the county and district courts. As is known, the county court costs are about half of the high court costs, and it will mean just as much labor as before with not as much money for the lawyers.

Regarding the clause respecting the solicitor and his client, and the right to enter into a contract to carry on a client's litigation for a fixed sum, instead of the indefinite fee system which exists at present, many of the lawyers think that the present system is all right, and they can see no reason for a change. The making of a contract for a fixed sum is the practice in the United States, but it was always considered infra dig in Canada or England.

CITIZENS' LEAGUE.

The annual meeting of the Citizens' League will be held on Friday evening next, March 5th, at the Board of Trade rooms at 8 o'clock, and at 8:30 an address will be delivered by Mr. W. L. Clark, of Leamington, on "True Manhood." This gentleman is a speaker of repute on the subject of moral and social reform, and has addressed large audiences in the United States and Canada with much acceptance. A large attendance of the members is expected, and non-members are cordially invited.

PLEADED FOR HER FATHER.

Wee Tot Got Her Daddy Off at Police Court.

Maud Hilton Sent Down as Undesirable Character.

Girl Arrested in Her House Given a Warning.

Just before Police Court opened this morning Magistrate Jells was approached by a wee mite of a girl, who was crying bitterly. "Let my papa go, please," she begged, and the Magistrate's heart was touched.

"Who is your papa?" he asked. "His name is Patrick Lynch," asserted the girl.

His Worship recognized the name at once. Pat is a regular visitor at Police Court, but his offenses are never more serious than drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Last night he was arrested by Constable James Clark. Pat told the court that he was going home and was not very drunk, but he happened to slip and fall just as the officer came along, and was arrested.

"There is a little girl of yours crying for you outside," said the constable, "go out and take her home." Pat gladly made his exit.

Maud Hilton, 15 Park street north, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant charging her with keeping a house of ill-fame. Constable Lawrence made the arrest, and also took another girl to the cells, who was there at the time, Gertrude Workman. William Brown was the direct cause of the daylight raid. He went to the place yesterday afternoon and paid over $5 to the keeper. He got no change, and swore out the warrant. This morning Maud was found guilty of keeping a house of ill-fame, but was acquitted of the charge of theft, as she claimed she had the change, and she produced it in court. The other girl was charged with being an inmate, but the father and she was charged with vagrancy. There was little better success on this charge, but she was warned when she was let go.

"You have been known to this court for two or three years," said Magistrate Jells, when Chief Smith moved for sentence, "and you are a bad woman so be in the community. You will have to serve six months." Maud took her sentence calmly.

William Barrett, charged with willfully damaging the property of his landlord, Mrs. Minnie Garvin, to the extent of $100, was allowed to go on suspended sentence this morning, as he promised to pay the money on the installment plan till he was square for the damage he did. He was warned to keep away from Mrs. Garvin's house.

LITTLE ONE WAS CHOKED.

Candy Stuck In Throat and Caused Its Death.

Annie Griffin, the three-year-old daughter of J. H. and Mrs. Griffin, 134 Cathcart street, was choked to death last night by a piece of candy. Shortly after 7 o'clock Mr. Griffin brought home a bag of candy, which he gave to the little girl. She was sitting on the floor in front of a chair, rolling the candy down the seat and catching it in her mouth, when Mr. Griffin, who was sitting in the same room reading a paper, suddenly heard a gurgling noise. Turning quickly, he saw that she was choking. Every means known to the lay mind was tried to remove the candy, but without success, and Dr. Baile was summoned. The child was becoming black in the face, and, being afraid that the doctor would not arrive in time, the father caught up the little one and ran out. Robert Leishman was passing, and, learning what was wrong, told Griffin to get into a rig standing there. They drove off, but the horse broke down at Wellington street, so Leishman threw his overcoat into the rig and they started at full speed for the hospital. The child was immediately taken into the operating room and a silver tube put in the windpipe, below the throat. She had ceased breathing by this time, and artificial respiration was resorted to. This method was tried for nearly an hour, but the vital spark had fled, and the doctors gave up in despair. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock to Dundas cemetery. The family has the sincere sympathy of all.

The Earl's Mistake

"I envy you," he said. "I would gladly change places with you."
 "Change your millions—or coming millions—in my poverty, your youth for my middle age, your—" he was going to say "beauty," but stopped (and said, desperately: "Ceil, you have overworked yourself. You will never be right until you have found some great tangible joy or some heavy, substantial sorrow. For you the world runs on wheels that have been too well oiled; wait till there comes a jar! Let us go in. You don't care for Swiss wine, I know—or any other, worse luck—but I am craving for some."
 Ceil smiled.

"Go and get it, my dear fellow," he said. "I'll follow you in a few minutes. The sunset on those mountain-tops is worth all the wine that ever grew on their sides."
 Mr. Forsyth shrugged his shoulders and left him, and Lord Cecil sat for some few minutes till the colors faded into a deep gray; then he rose, but instead of turning into the hotel, he climbed the street that leads to the cathedral, passed that ancient but particularly beautiful edifice, and found himself in the lane which leads to the open fields and valleys.

As every one knows, this lane is prettily dotted here and there with villas—most of which are to be hired furnished for the summer season. Lord Cecil had proposed renting one of them, but Mr. Forsyth had negated the proposition, saying that he would like to see the death, all alone in a villa, and they had gone to the Nationale instead.

Lord Cecil was wandering through the lane with his cigarette, when suddenly he heard a woman's voice singing an air from the opera of "Trovatore."
 It smote—rather it floated—so suddenly into his reverie that he started and stood still.

The voice came from the balcony of a villa, just in front of him. It was a beautiful voice, not perfect by any means, but highly cultivated and admirably managed, and Lord Cecil, to whom music was as meat and drink, went beneath the balcony, and with his head sunk upon his breast stood listening, soul and mind entranced.

Without a falter, without a false note, the unknown and as yet unseen singer sang the air through, and it was not until the long drawn out last note had wailed into silence that he started into life again. He waited a moment or two to see whether she would sing again, then moved from beneath the balcony.

As he did so a light flashed from the windows full upon his figure, and before he could move into the shadow he heard a low ripple of laughter from above, and a voice exclaim:
 "O Romeo! wherefore art thou Romeo?"

It was the voice that he had heard a few moments before in song. He recognized it at once. The words were English, but there was a faint accent which told him that the speaker was a foreigner.

As ever, Neville, this is Miss Zenobia de Norvan, to whom you are anxious to make your apologies. Lord Neville bowed before the beautiful lady; she was even more beautiful at second and nearer sight than at first and from a distance; and she swept a graceful courtesy that was enhanced by a serene smile of welcome.

"Make no apologies, Lord Neville," she said, "since the accident's given us the mutual pleasure of meeting."
 Lord Neville scarcely knew what to say; for all his vast learning and numerous accomplishments, he seemed smitten dumb before the glory of her smile, the music of her sentences, which dropped from her lips full, as it were, of liquid vowels and singing consonants, and the graceful ease of her manner.

"And are you staying here long, Lord Neville?" she asked, as the three leant against the balcony and chatted—Lord Neville was rather silent.

"No—yes," he said, "as if awaking from a dream; he had been looking at the large, languid eyes fixed on the lake, the marveling at their beauty."
 She smiled at him.

"Yes," he admitted, "that is, I have no plans. I am just wandering about aimlessly."
 "So!" she murmured, and there was a faint pleasure in this soft, lisp-like exclamation. "Then in that case I trust you will remain in Lucerne as long as you can. There are so few nice people here—ah! so few—and you must take pity on us and make one of us!"

"But you do not know whether I am nice or not yet," said Lord Neville, with his faint smile.

She turned her eyes upon him and regarded him with a half-serious, half-playful air, her teeth shining like pearls between her lips.

"Yes, I am quite sure that you are nice," she said. Then she turned to Gerald Moore, who had been looking on, wondering at this little exchange of conversation.

He drew nearer to her, so near that the strange, sweet perfume in her hair seemed to rise and surround his brain—so near that he could look into the depths of the liquid eyes and seem to see his own soul reflected there.

He was fascinated, bewildered, charmed, under a spell. Love! it was not love, but remember—a man's first passion—sprung at a breath into full growth and life.

The music ended and she asked him to play and sing for her; but he could not—the keys swam before him, he could not remember a note; his voice was thick and muffled. If he had sung it must have been to these words—"Thou strange and beautiful thing, I love thee! I love thee! I love thee!"

Nerves Unstrong You Feel Limp Loaded With Worry Unable to Speak Tired and Excitable.

You'll Grow Steadily Worse Unless the System is Better Nourished.

Nothing will build you up with the certainty of Ferronze. Thousands it has cured who never hoped to be well—and here is ample proof substantiated by one of Nova Scotia's prominent clerics.

"Before taking the first box of Ferronze," writes Mrs. Annie Jeffrey, of Sandy Cove, N. S., "my condition was deplorable. Though I employed the most skillful medical aid, I grew steadily weaker. In fact, I was in such a low condition that it was impossible for me to walk across the room. My heart was very weak, and I suffered from terrible palpitations which the doctor said were from troubles peculiar to women. Friends urged me to try Ferronze, and I bought six boxes. When I had used the third box my old-time vigor and strength returned. The palpitation ceased, my appetite increased, and I got a good, rosy color in my cheeks. It would be impossible to speak too highly of Ferronze. All weak women should use it. I hope many suffering sisters will use Ferronze, for it will surely cure them."

Rev. J. C. Morse, D. D., pastor of the Baptist Church, Sandy Cove, bears witness to the recovery of Mrs. Jeffrey, and writes: "This is to certify that Mrs. Annie Jeffrey is a lady upon whose word you can depend. I have known her since childhood, and believe her to be a truthful, honest woman." This adds additional force to the testimony of Mrs. Jeffrey, and gives assurance to other sufferers who are ready upon whose word you can depend.

Presently Gerald Moore put his head in the window, and said with a laugh:
 "When you two have exchanged confidences enough, perhaps you will one of you deign to give us a little music."
 Zenobia looked up at him with her slow, liquid glance and nodded; then she turned to Lord Neville.

"You are fond of music?"
 "It is music mad," said Moore, with a laugh.
 She rose and held out her hand.
 "Now I understand the secret of the sympathy that existed between us! I also am what your friend calls 'music mad!' He," and she shrugged her shoulders in the most charmingly graceful way—"he cares nothing for it, knows nothing of it; a comic song, a ballad, an air from an opera—it is all one to him."
 "I beg your pardon," said Moore; "I'd rather have the comic song!"
 She laughed softly.
 "So that I will not play to him, but to you, Lord Neville. Come, let us go to the piano."
 She had her hand still extended—a beautiful, shapely hand, white as the driven snow, and glittering with precious stones; and Lord Neville took the hand and led, or was led by her, to the piano.

HANDS COVERED WITH ECZEMA

"For three weeks I actually had to be fed like an infant, because my hands and arms were so covered with eczema that they had to be bound up all the time."

That is the experience of Miss Violet M. McSorley, of 75, Gore Street, Sault Ste. Marie. She adds: "I could not hold spoon nor fork. From finger tips to elbows the dreaded disease spread, my finger nails came off and my hands were raw, hot, and itched, and the pain was almost excruciating. I had three months of this torture and at one time amputation was discussed."

Zam-Buk alone saved my hands and arms. I persevered with it and in the end had my reward. Today, I am cured completely of every trace of the dreaded eczema, and I fervently hope that sufferers from skin disease may know of the cure and the miracle Zam-Buk has worked."

Zam-Buk is without equal for eczema, ringworm, ulcers, abscesses, piles, cracked hands, cold sores, chapped places, and all skin injuries and diseases. Druggists sell it at the cent rate, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for same price. You are warned against dangerous substitutes sometimes offered as "just as good."

SUNDAY CARS.

LONDON DID NOT GET MUCH ENCOURAGEMENT FROM WHITNEY.

Deputation Saw Premier—Sir James Says He Does Not Know Now What Will Be Done by Legislature.

Toronto, March 4.—Hon. Adam Beck yesterday introduced a large deputation to the Prime Minister, who asked for Sunday cars in London. The deputation emphasized the fact that they did not represent any railroad corporation, but were a Citizens' Committee. They had a petition of 7,000 citizens, and in a city of 50,000 they thought Sunday cars were necessary.

Sir James asked if there were any other cities smaller than London where the cars were operated on Sunday, and was informed that in Bradford and Windsor cars ran on Sundays.

"But they have special charters," said the Prime Minister. "They run not because the people or the Government want them, but because it can't be helped."

Mr. White pointed out that the citizens and the Council had already endorsed the application for Sunday cars, and to submit the question to another general vote would cause all kinds of bitterness and discord. The strict Sabatarians and the women voters would go out and make a bitter fight.

"Just so," said Sir James. "It seems uncertain, then, whether the public mind really desires Sunday cars. You know the lady voters and Sabatarians have a right to the expression of their views, and possibly they may be in the majority."

The deputation thought not, and Sir James asked what they meant by saying a vote would cause a bitter fight.

On being informed that it would cause a bitter fight, Sir James remarked that it would be in London. "I might as well tell you now," he said, "that I don't think you will get this legislation to approve of any Sunday car project unless the people vote decidedly upon it. It is not supposed that the cars are necessary to secure fresh air."

Mr. Marshall said the cars were needed not for health or fresh air causes, or to take people to church or any other excuse, but because they were convenient and necessary for general purposes.

"I've heard a great many worse arguments than that," said Sir James. "I do not think we can deal specifically with London's case. The matter, if dealt with at all, will have to be considered in relation to the whole Act, this dealing with the whole Sunday car question. I cannot say now what will be done."

R. MCKAY & CO.

DEPONENT'S SUICIDE. TRINITY SCHOOL.

Two Men of Refinement End Their Lives in New York.

New York, March 3.—Both a deponent because of adversity, Herman Altshul, a former secretary of the Russian Red Cross, and Frederick Voss, once a man of means and influence in the clothing trade, today committed suicide, the former by shooting himself through the head and the latter by hanging.

Altshul had made elaborate preparations for his end, making neat bundles of all his belongings, mostly books and pamphlets on Russian political conditions, and addressing them to friends. His discouragement at his inability to find employment, is said to have been complicated by melancholia over the death a few months ago of a young woman to whom he had been very much attached, and who also committed suicide.

Voss' death was attributed by wealthy relatives to a quietness sense of pride, which prevented him from accepting financial assistance repeatedly proffered. It was not until the discovery of his body hanging by a strap amid squalid surroundings that the family had any inkling of the suicide's financial plight.

IN UNMARKED GRAVES.

Forty-one Victims of Railway Construction in Them.

Port Arthur, March 3.—A remarkable story is told by John Munroe, who has just come in from superintending the erection of the Gordon Pulpwood Company's mills at Goose Lake. He says that at a place near there is a burying ground in which are placed in unmarked graves the bodies of forty-one men who have been killed in railway construction work, and whose names have not been learned by the company. He added that some had been interred in coffins, and some without, and even without religious service of any kind. To the illicit sale of whiskey Mr. Munroe attributes nearly all the accidents.

MURDERED FOR MONEY.

Galician Lumberman Killed at Sandilands, Manitoba.

Winnipeg, March 3.—Investigation by the police of the circumstances surrounding the death of a Galician lumberman named Ivan Czewski, whose body was found near the cordwood camp at Sandilands yesterday with his throat cut, shows that the deed was coldblooded murder, with the object of robbery, at the dead man had his winter's savings in his possession. He had a wife who lives on Jarvis avenue, this city.

A bar of gold, valued at $30, was stolen from Dr. Weagant's dental office, Portage La Prairie, and a prominent society woman is believed to be implicated.

The Mutual Fire Underwriters of Ontario suggest the appointment of a fire commissioner.

DISEMBOWELED.

Woman Kills Herself With Butcher Knife.

Loss of Husband and Son Had Unhinged Her Mind.

North Toronto, March 3.—When Lena Loeschauer returned to her home at 394 Schenck street at 8:30 o'clock this evening she was unable to gain an entrance, the doors both at the front and back of the house and the lower windows being locked. Fearing some harm had befallen her mother, whom she had left in fairly good spirits about two hours previously, she summoned neighbors, who climbed into the home through an upper window, and they found the girl's mother, Mrs. Vrazen Loeschauer, disemboweled and dead on the floor of her bedroom, the woman evidently having hacked herself frantically and determinedly with a butcher knife and dirk, both of which lay by her.

Coroner Martin will hold an inquest, but he seemed satisfied from what he learned that it was a case of suicide, Mrs. Loeschauer, who was 67 years of age, has been subject to sudden and violent fits of nervous prostration and mental depression for some time, the fits recurring at varying intervals, but increasing in intensity at each. The daughter and friends of the family could only account for Mrs. Loeschauer's state of health by worry over the death of her husband, which occurred two years ago, shortly after her only son Charles had been drowned. The shock from these deaths she felt severely at the time, and gradually her mental faculties became affected.

Mrs. Loeschauer lived with her only surviving child, the daughter Lena.

SIX NATIONS INDIAN'S WILL.

Indian Girl No Longer One When She Marries White Man.

Temperance People to Buy Hotel at St. George.

Tom and Mrs. Longboat Visiting Indian Reservation.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Brantford, March 4.—A peculiar case was settled by the Six Nations Indian Council yesterday, when the will of the late Joshua Williams, who was ferryman at Oshweken for many years, was set aside. Williams, who was an Indian, had no family of his own, but adopted a white boy, who afterwards married an Indian girl. It was to the young wife that he left his 200 acres of farm land on the reserve, his ferry and a snug sum of money. The chiefs in council voted that the terms of the will were void because by marrying a white man, the Indian girl was no longer Indian. The case is one of the most peculiar that has arisen in a long time, and the decision reached will have to be confirmed by the department at Ottawa.

BY-LAW HOLDS.

Motion to Quash Toronto License Reduction By-Law Dismissed.

Toronto, March 4.—Chief Justice Meredith yesterday morning in Single Court dismissed two motions to quash the license reduction by-law passed by the City Council of Toronto, on Feb. 15. Mr. A. M. Lewis, of the firm of Lewis & Arrell, Hamilton, represented the petitioner, John Brewer, of the Eastbourne Hotel, Danforth avenue, in what was formerly East Toronto, and Mr. J. B. Mackenzie, for Wm. Robinson, another petitioner.

Mr. Lewis urged that the statute was not followed in the wording of the by-law but his Lordship overruled that objection, and held that the by-law is to remain in force until amended or repealed. Mr. Mackenzie relied on the point that the annexation of East Toronto and Deer Park repealed the by-law, but the Chief Justice could not see how or why this result would follow.

His Lordship spoke of the ingenuity of counsel to find reasons for defeating the by-law as indicating proper vigilance to safeguard the interests of those for whom they were acting, and showing that everything possible had been said against the by-law. The plain purpose of this enactment was written on its face—that it was to apply to the immediate license year. He overruled also the objections that the annexation of East Toronto would repeal the by-law of Toronto. His Lordship overruled Mr. Mackenzie's objection as to the annexation of territory between the first reading and the passing of the by-law, saying he had simply to deal with the by-law as passed on Feb. 15, at which time the Council might have waived all its rules of order, with which, therefore, he had nothing to do, and at that time all the territory referred to was a part of the city of Toronto.

He ruled that the objection on the ground of annexation repealing the by-law must fail. The suggestion that "limit" does not mean "reduce" he dismissed as unworthy considering.

Mr. J. S. Fullerton, K. C., Corporation Counsel, and Mr. W. C. Chisholm, City Solicitor, appeared on behalf of the city.

Both counsel for the petitioners, after his Lordship's judgment, intimated to Mr. Fullerton their intention of appealing from the decision to the Divisional Court. If this course is taken the matter will probably come before the court in from two to four weeks' time.

TO BUY HOTEL.

In view of the general local option campaign for Brant county and Brantford city next January, and in order to present a stronger case, St. George street, have banded themselves together to buy out the Cummings Hotel at St. George and conduct the place along temperance lines. Silas G. Kitchen, J. P. Wood and J. L. Addison, influential citizens, have been appointed a committee to raise the money. Several $100 subscriptions have already been made.

RECOVERED GOODS.

The late Thomas Boyle, of Hagersville, who was drowned a few days ago in attempting to cross a creek, which was in full flood, with his team of horses, left his estate in an unsettled condition. Immediately on Boyle's death, Indians in the neighborhood arrived and divided up his cattle, horses, implements and farm stock. The relatives of the deceased lived in Toronto, and Constables Kerr and Mounce were called to recover his possessions, which they succeeded in doing. The man left no will, and his heirs will get the estate. It is alleged he had been living apart from his wife, and the Indian woman with whom he lived thought it rightful to make a disposal of the property.

LONGBOAT WELL.

Tom Longboat, the famous long distance runner, is at present visiting Medical Health Officer Holmes at Oshweken, on the Indian reservation, which is the Indian's birth place. Dr. Holmes states that the Indian never appeared better, and the couple is enjoying a quiet visit. They will come to Brantford on Saturday to renew old acquaintances. Those intimately acquainted with Longboat state that the wily Indian has garnered in $12,000 from his victories.

GENERAL NOTES.

Yesterday's heavy snowstorm tied up the Brantford Street Railway and the Grand Valley Road, from Brantford to Galt.

Three actions for damages, by Bert Holstock, J. Hornby and James Williams will be heard here at the Spring Assizes against the Brantford Gas Company, as a result of last summer's gas explosion. The former two actions are for injuries and loss of life and the latter that property have had to unite in order to secure a supply of ice from the north.

The Brantford Township Board of Health is considering the erection of a hospital for township patients. The Brantford hospital has not sufficient capacity and many county patients are forced to other cities.

Joe Powless was fined $5 and costs before Squire Howell yesterday on a charge of assaulting his intended wife.

Mrs. Louis Manville, of 70 Clegg street, Ottawa, went to the office of Dr. D. H. Baird on Wednesday to have some teeth extracted. She was given ether and died in the dental chair. She was of a highly nervous temperament.

GOOD ROADS.

Many Municipalities Improving Their Highways.

Toronto, March 4.—Do the people favor the good roads system? What results have they produced? How much does it cost to put the roads in proper shape? What machinery is necessary to do the work at the least possible cost? These are a few questions of the very greatest value to the municipalities which have adopted the good roads system in the different parts of the Province. A great deal of valuable information of how the system is progressing was furnished at the opening session of the Ontario Good Roads Association yesterday in the York County Council chamber.

The delegates were honored with the presence of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. J. M. Gibson, who, in formally opening the convention, expressed his appreciation of the good work being done by the association.

Tracing the history of the first system of road-making in Canada, particularly in the old corduroy roads were being much in use, the Lieutenant-Governor said: "When Senator George W. Ross was Premier of Ontario he, like all stubborn Scotchmen—laughter—advanced a theory that something should be done to improve the highways. His theory has been a stimulus for the promoting of the work. Some of his colleagues thought that he should have left it alone, because of the friction that might be created between the larger and smaller municipalities as to which should get the most money. The object of Senator Ross' measure was rather to stimulate local effort."

Later his Honor said: "Every mile of good roads constructed by a municipality is an object lesson to the other municipalities to do the same thing and thus give the people ideal highways."

In the course of a brief address on "What Country Roads Have Accomplished," Mr. A. W. Campbell, Deputy Minister of Public Works, said that the improvements in roads, bridges and culverts had been something marvelous.

"Whereas, the Province has, with a lavish hand, aided our privately owned railways which provide the long haul to market for our farm products;—Resolved, that the Province now provide more liberal aid for the equally important short haul of the same products from the farm to the railway station over our publicly owned highways by increasing the present grant from one-third to one-half the cost for good roads."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the rational cure for kidney disease, just as they are the most successful, because they get at the cause of trouble and exert a combined and direct influence on liver, kidneys and bowels.

They promptly and thoroughly cleanse the bowels or intestines and by awakening the action of the liver take the burden off the kidneys. Then by their direct action on the kidneys bring about the natural and healthful working of these organs.

Mrs. Dave W. McCall, Lombardy, Leeds Co., Ont., writes: "I was troubled with kidney diseases for eight years and doctored with several doctors, but no avail until I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills which entirely cured me. I believe I would have died were it not for this medicine."

THE HAMILTON TIMES

THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1909.

THE KINRADE TRAGEDY.

Some of our readers may feel inclined to ask why the Times did not publish last evening the story from Virginia of how Miss Flossie Kinrade played engagements in that State under an assumed name as a song illustrator in a moving picture show, and of the young man who was alleged to be her lover. The Times got a similar despatch to that published by our two local contemporaries, but withheld it, as being at such a time as this an unwarranted invasion of the private affairs of the young lady in question, and of her family, and not at all calculated to help, at this stage at least, in unravelling the murder mystery. The despatch distinctly stated that the young man referred to had not been out of the city mentioned for some time, thus clearly showing that he could not have been the murderer of Miss Ethel Kinrade.

The Times is as anxious as it possibly can be to help in unravelling this mysterious affair, and is leaving nothing undone to supply its readers with the facts of the case as far as known, but it refuses to become a vehicle to give publicity to all the uncharitable gossip and insinuations that are being manufactured daily, much of it not pertinent to the murder, and much of it that we should be ashamed to print. Although there was nothing in the Virginia despatch which was received that might not have been published, the public good did not demand it, and so it did not appear in our columns, even although in newspaper parlance it was "hot stuff" and "a good seller."

The Kinrade family deserves the sympathy of every man and woman in the city of Hamilton under the cruel blow that has fallen upon its members, and the Times has nothing but pity for them. Nothing but praise can be said of Mr. Kinrade, who has borne up wonderfully and given the officers of the law every assistance in his power to bring the criminal to justice, and the Times, for one, will not wittingly add one iota to the burden which this much stricken family has been called upon to bear.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Today President Roosevelt quits the White House and gives place to W. H. Taft, who begins a four years' reign over the republic. The change betokens no revolution, and in most respects there will be little alteration of policy. Congress remains unchanged, and powerful as the United States President is, Congress is the lawmaking branch of government. Whether it will be as strongly influenced by Taft as it was by Roosevelt, remains to be seen. Taft will not, it is thought, be so demonstrative, so self-assertive; but it is claimed by those who know him well that he will "get there" as effectively, if by less explosiveness and rush, as did his predecessor. He is not a stubborn dogmatist, but he is credited with an amiable firmness that accomplishes its purpose without any display of "smashing the china."

Now that Roosevelt fades from the scene, it is interesting to look back over his seven and a half years of power. It is not to be denied that he has proved a disappointment—an agreeable one, he is said—in many respects to a great number of people, both in the United States and elsewhere. Thrown into the presidency by a contingency generally regretted, he was doubted and mistrusted. He had won a reputation for recklessness and violence of mind and action that were dreaded. He lacked poise, and his advent to the chief executive was looked upon something like trusting the proverbial bull among the china. But he was abundantly "made good." Of course, it was not to be expected that he could change his nature entirely; he is a man of impulse and action, and perhaps he has erred in some cases. But the possession of power and responsibility sobered him and put brakes of caution upon a nature that needed just such control. And the good that was in the man showed itself. Perhaps few active, energetic presidents have ever quit office with such general respect. Perhaps this comment by the New York Journal of Commerce is on the whole a just estimate of the retiring president as a man and as an executive officer:

It is not too much to say that Theodore Roosevelt was as much the man for the exceptional tasks of his time as other leaders have been who have risen to meet great emergencies in national life. He had the high moral sense and the courage to challenge the forces of evil, the tireless energy to combat them, and the enthusiasm to awaken the conscience of the people and summon them to his support.

There has been much criticism, and that that will not be wholly forgotten. The qualities that fitted him for his peculiar task had their defective side. The strong impulse that urged him to express pressure of wrongs, to denunciation of evil and to insistence upon action for the remedy of abuses led often to extremes of hasty utterance and to excess of zeal, but without the force which it betokened he could not have accomplished his chief purpose so far as it has been accomplished. His errors have been due to qualities from which his merits have sprung and not to innate weakness or essential defects of nature. With haste and inconsistency of speech has gone no intent to deceive or to wrong, and there has been readiness to recognize a mistake and work away from it rather than obstinately to adhere to it. With the occasional appearance of prevarication or duplicity, which enemies have been quick to distort and magnify, there has gone a generally truthful intent and honesty of purpose, which have prevented a forfeiture of confidence.

It is as a moral force in public life, and in private life in its relation to the government of the nation, that Theodore Roosevelt will be chiefly remembered. With the joy of conflict which a vigorous and energetic temperament imparts he has been a power for peace, because of his intense moral conviction which would allow him to fight only in the cause of right when it could be maintained in no other way. If this side of his character has led him to indulge in homilies and platitudes, to meddle overmuch in affairs that only remotely or indirectly concern the authority for which he stood; if it has spurred him to arrogate more to the National Government than belonged to its jurisdiction and to disregard the technical limitations of authority; if it has betrayed him into violence of language and resentful conduct, it has, nevertheless, been that part of his equipment which has been most serviceable to the country and will furnish his most enduring claim to its gratitude. The faults have been in the occasional display of the "seamy side" of a nature that had rough tasks to deal with and could not always keep its nobler aspect to the common view. There has been much detraction of late and subtle efforts to impair the prestige of the most popular President this generation has seen, but these efforts have not succeeded, and Roosevelt will leave the White House under no cloud and will be attended by the admiration and gratitude of his countrymen. The seed that he has sown with so much zeal for righteousness in the nation will bear fruit hereafter a hundredfold.

THE DOMINION PERMANENT.

The report of the 18th annual meeting of the Dominion Permanent Loan Company appears elsewhere in this paper, and the statement presented is one indicating gratifying prosperity. The earnings of the company enabled it to pay a 6 per cent. dividend, and have a balance of $42,971.26. Of this $39,000 was added to the reserve fund, which now stands at $288,000, leaving a credit balance of $12,971.26 to be carried forward. The surplus assets over liabilities were increased during the year by $24,649.38, and now stand at $1,318,602.91. The deposits and debentures show an increase of $85,335.59, indicating the popularity of the company with the investors. Every branch of the Company's business shows marked progress, giving evidence of that enterprising and careful management which wins public confidence.

LAW REFORM.

What will probably prove to be the most important bill of this session of the Legislature was introduced yesterday by Attorney-General Foy. Its provisions are pretty fully set forth in another column. Its general tendency is to lessen the number of tribunals through which a suit may be dragged; and so far as it serves this purpose while guarding the interests of justice, it will expedite the disposal of cases, and will meet with public favor. It greatly limits appeals to the Privy Council, and confines them to matters in which constitutional questions are involved and to suits in which over $10,000 is at stake. It rearranges the sittings upon which County and District Courts may adjudge, and considerably increases the summary power of the judges. It also authorizes solicitor and client to make contracts, such as basis of remuneration to be passed upon by the court.

The changes proposed are of prime importance, to lawyers as well as litigants, and now that the task has been entered upon, it is to be hoped that the proposals will receive the most careful consideration so that no missteps may be taken in seeking to apply a remedy for the evils which have been felt to exist.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Unionists have won a by-election in Glasgow, and the Protectionists rejoice.

It is pretty hard for a newspaper writer to earn the condemnation of a High Court Judge that he is "a disgrace to journalism."

Toronto City Council has fixed the minimum salary for firemen at $525. The salaries for four district chiefs were fixed at $1,500 and captains at $1,100.

"The temperance men be—!" seems to be Whitney's sentiment. The other fellows whack up the campaign funds and can be driven out to work and root for the party.

Whitney intimates that it may be two weeks or so before the city's plebiscite bill is completed. Meantime the Hydro people are not ready, and the power contract is just as valid and binding as it ever was.

Bond steps out in Newfoundland, and Sir E. P. Morris succeeds him. The House will not meet for some weeks and it is probable that there will be a new appeal to the country early in the summer.

This is "Hurrab Day" in Washington, and King Theodore the Sirensous steps out, and King William the Smiling takes the throne. And the "practical politicians" parade and society dances and exhibits its millinery at night.

Detective Miller has earned the encomiums of the Bench by his thorough and painstaking work. And in his home town it is generally felt that the latest murder mystery is in good hands when he is on the job.

A preliminary report by Chief Engineer Armstrong estimates the cost of the Hudson Bay Railway at between seventeen and eighteen million dollars. This includes five or six million dollars for harbor and terminal works at Port Churchill or Port Nelson.

In the re-trial of the Standard Oil case at Chicago, Judge Anderson has informally ruled that the company cannot be accused of more than thirty-six offences, the maximum penalty on conviction being $720,000. The fine imposed by Judge Landis was $29,240,000.

The investigation by the Public Accounts Committee did not pan out to the liking of the "scandal smellers." It was shown that instead of the contract being one in which "graff" figured, the contractor actually paid the Government $2,500 more than he received in connection with the contract! It was a great disappointment to the scandal brigade.

An investigation by the Public Accounts Committee of the Manitoba Legislature discloses the fact that there is an overdraft of $229,000 at the bank on account of the Provincial Telephone Department, $100,000 of which is for operation, and that only about a dozen telephones will profit by the party line reduction, and not more than 1,600 by the extension reduction!

Toronto City Council has now asked the Street Railway Company to abandon the car routes which it a short time ago declared for, and to return to the routes which the company had in force before. The change made by the Council caused great confusion and inconvenience. Now the "war party" in the Council seeks to blame the Street Railway Company for it in order to cover up the aldermanic blunders.

If, as Hon. Mr. Aylesworth asserts, the Ontario Government is a thief, why doesn't he, as Minister of Justice, get busy with his police forces? Spectator. This has reference to Whitney's confiscating the Cobalt Lake property without compensation, and refusing to allow the wronged private party to appeal to the courts for justice. It may be worth while to call our contemporary's attention to the fact that the "police" in the matter are in Whitney's control. The case is indeed bad when justice is corrupted at its fountain head.

Long distance foot races are coming in for much condemnation these days. The following statement is being published by the newspapers throughout England:

In reply to your inquiry we have no hesitation in saying that we consider that school and cross-country races exceeding one mile in distance are wholly unsuitable for boys under the age of nineteen, as the continued strain involved is apt to cause permanent injury to the heart and other organs. Yours faithfully (Signed) Sir Lauder Brunton, Sir Thomas Barlow, Dr. James F. Goodhart, Dr. W. Hale White, Sir Alfred Fripp.

Whitney says the man who is sure he is right and others wrong is "a damage to himself and a nuisance to the people about him." That was a fling at the temperance people, who seek the repeal of the legislation which makes two whiskey votes as good as three temperance votes. But the Premier is cocksure he is right in this matter, and so he can afford to treat the temperance men and women cavalierly. But he should not resort to hypocritical palaver about his "high purpose" and all that "guff." Why does he not squarely say that he swears by the whiskey power, and depends on it to see him through?

There are not lacking in the tone of the senior Tory organ indications that Inspector Birrell has ceased to enjoy its favor, and that for some reason or other it would not sorrow deeply if the official snickernee were applied to his neck. The organ seeks to base its dissatisfaction with the inspector on the "Indian list" trouble and Magistrate Jelf's criticism. That will not go down. Everybody knows that the "Indian list" offers great difficulties to the inspector; he erred in the matter of notices, but that might have occurred with anybody. And he has been active in redeeming himself. It is very generally suspected that his very activity is the ground of his offending. The powers that be do not want to be severe on the lawbreakers. And for whom does the local machine organ want Mr. Birrell's job?

iff reform government in power, supported by a commanding majority, within two years, and a protective tariff in force within three years.

EXPECT JOHN SOON.

(Galt Reporter.) Soon may we expect John Patterson's army of railroad workers, with their vested scrapers and their brakewooders, to have in sight down the Stone Road.

IS THERE A ROORBAUGH?

(Toronto Star.) Canadians have been puzzled by the repeated appearance in English papers of declarations that Great Britain must give Canada preferential treatment in her markets, on peril of Canada breaking away from the Empire. In Canadian newspapers those declarations have been contradicted again and again.

JIM'S CURE FOR DRUNKENNESS.

(Grimby Independent.) The law should be made so that the first offence of drunkenness in public would be punished with a fine of ten dollars, for the second offence twenty dollars, for the third offence fifty dollars, and for the fourth offence the drunkard should be anchored out in the lake over night. Under such a law the drunkards would soon disappear off the face of the earth.

PEN PICTURE OF DR. VOGT.

(Chicago Tribune.) Mr. Vogt is a jolly-visaged, smooth-faced, quiet-mannered little man, inclined to portliness and looking not unlike a kindly, merry priest. He directs with little movement of the body, and there is not a finger of arms or hand that does not count for its value. He dominates his singers absolutely, and they keep their eyes fairly glued upon his baston.

THE PRINCIPAL TALK.

(Guelph Herald.) It is surprising the amount of interest that is being taken in Guelph in the recent Hamilton murder. On every street corner it seems that people are standing discussing the mystery of the young girl's death, and it seems to be the most fashionable topic of conversation wherever there are any people gathered together.

THE BUSY SCHOOL DAY.

(Montreal Gazette.) The Government at Ottawa, according to Sir Frederick Borden, expects all the Provinces will accept the proposal to furnish military instruction for the schools on condition that all the teachers qualify as instructors. Are the school maams to be trained as drill sergeants as well as teachers of reading and writing, and the various other things that people with fads have required of them?

NO NEED FOR ALARM.

(Dundas Banner.) Has a reign of terror been instituted in Wentworth? Hardware men report a phenomenal sale of revolvers, locks, window catches and door bolts. Hardware men complain that their wives will not let them in if they have forgotten the pre-arranged signals. Deliverymen have to state their business before locked doors, all strangers are regarded with suspicion. Why? Just a case similar to locking the doors after the horse is stolen. Why the fear? They have forgotten the pre-arranged signals. Deliverymen have to state their business before locked doors, all strangers are regarded with suspicion. Why? Just a case similar to locking the doors after the horse is stolen. Why the fear? They have forgotten the pre-arranged signals.

PROVINCIAL WRONGS.

(Goldwin Smith.) To the force of Mr. Aylesworth's speech on the Cobalt confiscation case the By-stander can add nothing. The speech appeals strongly enough to the mind of everyone who has property of which he can be robbed or a claim to justice of which he can be deprived. That the British Government and Parliament in assenting to the Confederation of 1870-71, gave to the provinces a local Legislature unlimited power of confiscation or of closing the door of justice is so totally incredible that the By-stander, cannot venture to express his opinion on the subject. The want of common courage shown in some quarters on this occasion is deplorable.

Once More the Proof is Given

That Dodd's Kidney Pills Will Cure the Deadly Bright's Disease.

Martin O'Grady Suffered From Bright's Disease for a Year, but the Old Reliable Kidney Remedy Cured Him.

Enmett, Renfrew Co., Ont., March 3.—(Special).—That the one sure cure of all kidney diseases is Dodd's Kidney Pills is again proved in the case of Martin O'Grady, of this place. And for the benefit of other sufferers, Mr. O'Grady has given the following statement for publication:

"For over a year I suffered from Bright's disease. I was attended by a doctor, but he did me no good. My appetite was fitful, my sleep broken and unrefreshing. My memory failed me and I was always tired and nervous. I had sharp pain and pressure at the top of my back."

"Being advised to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, I bought a couple of boxes and found relief soon after I started taking them."

"This is only one of hundreds of cases in which Dodd's Kidney Pills have conquered the worst form of kidney disease. They never fail to cure Bright's disease, Diabetes, Rheumatism, Lumbago or Sciatica."

BABY STARVED TO DEATH.

Widow of Man Hanged at Brampton Obtains a Burial Order.

Toronto, March 4.—Mrs. Annie Swyryda, widow of the Pole who was hanged at Brampton on February 11th for the murder of a fellow-countryman, applied for a burial order for her seven-week-old baby girl, who died on Tuesday in this city. The doctor's certificate stated that the infant's death was due to the whole of her short life.

The unhappy widow applied for the burial order to Relief Officer Taylor. Mr. Taylor had the order ready for the unfortunate woman yesterday morning. Swyryda's crime was the murder of Olecka Lutick, a fellow-countryman, in a bush near Erinville on April 16th last. Mrs. Swyryda paid her last visit of her husband three days prior to the execution.

S. S. WORK. STABBED HIM.

Rec. B. W. Merrill at Baron St. Baptist Church. Negro Student, in Frenzy of Passion at Being Taunted, Thrusts Knife Deeply Into Body of Another Colored Boy.

Jameson, March 3.—The manual training department of the 2d Street Grammar School was turned into a gladiatorial arena this afternoon when one of the students stabbed another with a knife, inflicting injuries that will probably prove fatal. The boy who did the stabbing is Harold Robinson, 13 years old, a son of Jack Robinson, and his victim is George Young, aged 15, a son of Daniel Young, of North Main street. Both the boys are colored. It appears there has been ill feeling between them for some time. This morning Robinson got into a dispute with Millard Niles, a white boy, and Young took the latter's part. The quarrel was renewed when the boys were sent from the study hall to the workshop of the manual training department. Frederick Martin, the instructor of this department, was busy in one part of the room, while the two colored boys were sitting at work near each other. According to the story told by boys in the room, Robinson dropped a knife he was using and Young taunted him for his carelessness. Robinson retaliated by grabbing up the knife and burying it deep in Young's abdomen. The wounded boy sank back in his seat and a hasty examination revealed the serious nature of his wound. He was hurried to the hospital and Robinson was placed under arrest. Reports from the hospital to-night state that the boy's condition is very critical and that his recovery is almost hopeless. He has had repeated internal and external hemorrhages and the bowels appear to have been penetrated by the sharp knife. Assistant District Attorney Green has secured the depositions of all the boys who were witnesses to the quarrel but a formal hearing has been deferred pending the condition of the boy Young.

JAPS GOING HOME. MORE RETURNING TO JAPAN THAN COMING TO AMERICA.

Tokio, March 4.—Returns just completed by the Foreign Office show that between June and December, 1908, 1,354 Japanese left the Empire, bound for the United States, while 3,500 returned from the United States during the same period. Of these returning 2,921 travelled third class across the Pacific, which indicates that they were of the laboring classes, against which the emigration restrictions of the Japanese government are particularly directed. The total number of Japanese sailing for Hawaii from Japan during the same period is shown to have been 1,151, while those returning from the islands number 2,051, of which 2,289 were third class passengers. The Foreign Office officials are particularly insistent in calling attention to the fact that on the figures given, 4,000 more Japanese returned from American territory than sailed to America during the last eight months and they state that this is extremely significant of the effective operation of the Japanese agreement with the United States.

KING DIDN'T GO. NEWFOUNDLAND CABLE.

London, March 4.—Owing to the gale prevailing over the channel, King Edward has postponed his departure for Biarritz. Queen Alexandra, who recently has been suffering from a cold, is much better to-day. New York, March 4.—Sir Robert Bond, Premier of Newfoundland, before vacating his office yesterday announced that his government had made a contract with the Commercial Cable Co., by which the latter will extend one of its cables into Newfoundland and then direct to New York city.

ANOTHER WEEK AT WORKING DETAILS.

them to be of benefit in cross-examining the following witnesses. H. R. Spira, foreman of the jury, asked if it was necessary that the adjournment should be made for so long a time. "Yes," replied the Coroner, "but the officials are anxious to have it go on as soon as possible."

"Where are we next week?" asked Juror John Wells, "if the doctor gives another certificate?" "We will have to discuss that then," said the Coroner. "Is this adjournment not a handicap on the police in their work?" asked Foreman Spira. "I think it is," stated Coroner McNiel. "I understand that these ladies have left the city," remarked Juror Byrne. "Only temporarily," said the Coroner. "How do we know that?" queried Juror Brown. "Well, the Crown Attorney is satisfied, as they have been served with subpoenas," patiently explained the Coroner. "Did the Crown give them permission to go?" queried Juror Jas. Reding. "I do not know," said the coroner. "I want to know if you have any evidence taken by the Crown Attorney or some person appointed by him would be acceptable to the inquest."

"No evidence can be considered except what is given to this court," Dr. McNiel remarked. "I want to know if you have any evidence taken by the Crown Attorney or some person appointed by him would be acceptable to the inquest."

"The certificate will hold good then as now," explained the coroner. "If that was my sister I would want to get it as soon as possible," remarked Juror John Wilson. "Is there anything to prevent them leaving Toronto?" Juror Wells wanted to know. "There are no attempts to avoid this inquest they would likely be detained, as they are material witnesses," stated the coroner.

This closed the discussion, and Coroner McNiel explained there was nothing to do but adjourn for a week, and this was accordingly done. It is hardly likely that the inquest will be gone on with in a week, however, as the dead girl's sister and mother will require a couple of weeks, at least, it is stated, to recuperate.

The jurors: Willoughby Ellis, John Work, Fred Skerrett, John Wells, H. F. Stenbaugh, John Hunter, R. B. Spira, H. S. Hooper, William Powell, E. B. Turnbull, John Gray, John Wilson, James Reding, James Byrne, and J. Noble. The list of witnesses served with subpoenas by Constable Lentz is as follows: D. M. Brown, grocer, and his clerk, William Applegate; Luke Cople, clerk at Hunt's store; Henry Woodridge and George Wallace, coachmen, who were near the house at the time of the tragedy; Mrs. Kitzson, whose phone was used by Mrs. Hickey to call up the police; Mrs. F. S. Hickey and the nurse, Miss Drossel, who was at her home when Miss Florence Kinrade raised the alarm; the six members of the Kinrade family; Detective Inspector McMahon, Detectives Coulter, Bleakley and Sayers, and Constable Burch. A new witness is William Burgess, an employee at R. B. Hill's bakery, who was at the scene of the murder at the time Coroner McNiel arrived. He looked the back door of the house and saw the way things were when the alarm was answered. Motorman Stone, of the street railway, will likely be summoned.

FAMILY IN TORONTO.

Mr. Kinrade Knew of Her Portsmouth Engagements.

Although some of her friends in Hamilton were rather surprised to know that Florence Kinrade had appeared on the stage while in Virginia, being under the impression that her engagement consisted solely of her work in the choir of the Manchester Presbyterian Church, her father, in an interview at Toronto, declared that the family were aware of what Miss Kinrade was doing and fully acquiesced in it.

evening's performance was over he had learned her real name. Miss Kinrade was a guest for several weeks at the Atlantic Hotel, Virginia Beach.

Manager Stephen P. Butler, of the Orpheum Theatre, in Portsmouth, met her after learning of her vocal accomplishments, which were indeed attractive, and he at once engaged her to sing at the Orpheum as an illustrated song artist.

"Miss Mildred Dale," her contract with the Orpheum and Vincent House calling for the use of her stage name only.

Last summer Miss Kinrade quit the Orpheum forces and returned to her Hamilton home, but later returned to Portsmouth and resumed her engagement with the Orpheum, where she was very popular with the patrons.

Work in the illustrated songs was exceptionally attractive. After a short engagement at the Pastime Theatre she left the city and went to her Hamilton home.

Amongst intimate friends here it was understood that Miss Kinrade was a daughter of T. L. Kinrade and a niece of ex-Judge Kinrade. The news that her sister has been murdered has caused a shock to them.

PARENTS KNEW IT. When interviewed regarding the Virginia despatch, Mr. Kinrade, father of the murdered girl, said: "My daughter had a position singing in the Manchester Presbyterian Church. She was a good musician, and was always a friend of mine."

"She was sitting at the window playing, and the manager of an amateur theatrical company heard her. He offered her $20 a week to come and sing a couple of songs. As her duties in the church choir were not onerous, she was pleased with the opportunity of supplementing her income of $7 or $8 a week, which was paid by the church."

"We were fully informed of what she was doing, and acquiesced. There happened to be some people who knew of the amateur company, which made her work all the more agreeable."

Mr. Kinrade then spoke of her illness. "Some people never get acclimated, and her southern doctor told her to come home. She came back to Hamilton in July, remaining home a few months, and returned to Virginia in November. She came home again just before Christmas."

Mr. Kinrade remarked that the two sisters were always much attached to each other. "They were always together," he said. "They could not have been more affectionate. I never remember of their having any serious quarrel in their lives."

He said that the girl had started up and cried, "Lock the door, Ethel!" as she says she did at the time of the tragedy.

DETECTIVES CRITICISED. Mr. Kinrade criticised the methods of the detectives. "They interviewed her repeatedly and made her pass through those terrible questions, she was practically out of her mind," he said. "We have come away from home in order to secure rest for her. During one of the interviews she started up and pointed at one of the detectives, saying, 'There he is! There he is!'"

"I wish to correct a few mis-statements," continued Mr. Kinrade. "It was said that my wife attended the funeral. She did not, as she was under the influence of an opiate at the time. Further, I consider that the report of my daughter's attachment to a southerner absolutely without foundation. She may have had some friends down there, and perhaps some of them were attracted by her. But she is and has been engaged to a student, with whom she has been in constant correspondence."

Mr. Kinrade shows the traces of the severe mental strain to which he has been subjected during the last few days.

FAMILY IN SECLUSION. The Toronto News yesterday said, Mr. and Mrs. Kinrade, Misses Florence and Gertrude, and Earl, the second son, are at the Arlington. They were accompanied by Miss Walker, the trained nurse, who has been attending Florence and Mrs. Kinrade since the tragedy. The family are maintaining the strictest seclusion. Instructions have been issued to allow no newspaper men near the rooms occupied by the family, who live in apartments on the first floor. Only one or two friends were admitted this morning.

Mr. C. Montrose Wright, a friend of the family, was asked if he had seen Miss Kinrade since her arrival in Toronto. He replied that he had not. "You know there is no use of my staying around here," said he. "There is no possibility of your seeing any of the family. They were chased out of Hamilton by reporters and I don't see why you can't leave them alone here where they have some rest."

Mr. Wright was asked if he had any theory whatever regarding the whole affair. "Well, you know my position," said he. "I couldn't make public any theory I had. As it is, I haven't."

"Just where in Virginia was it that Miss Kinrade was staying?" "It was in Manchester, a suburb of Richmond. She sang in the Presbyterian church there."

"Was Ethel Kinrade in Virginia too?" There seemed to be conflicting reports regarding that. "No, she was never down there."

SOBS AND SMOTHERED CRIES. On leaving the dining room for their apartments Mrs. Kinrade smiled wanly. The nurse was in advance. Then came Miss Kinrade, leaning on the arm of her father. She looked very weak and pale. There was a life in her movements and all the vivacity of action was gone. Mr. Kinrade, Earl and Gertrude followed. They passed upstairs at once to a parlor on the first floor just above the main entrance to the hotel. Mr. Montrose followed them.

Something must have happened to bring the remembrance of the few terrible moments of last Thursday back to the girl, for her sobs and smothered cries could be heard by those passing the room. A bell-hop stood on guard and all the curious and inquisitive persons were kept from the place.

Some old gentleman, believed to be a minister, called and had an interview with Mr. Kinrade. He refused to talk to the reporters, however, only stating that none of the family were in any condition to say anything. The elderly gentleman was quite indignant at being spoken to by the reporters.

WHAT EARL KINRADE SAYS. The News had a long talk with Earl Kinrade. The young man came down shortly before 11 o'clock. "How is Miss Kinrade this morning?" asked the reporter. "Not any better than she was yesterday. Mother is very little better either."

"How long do you expect to stay here?" "I haven't the least idea. We may be

TOOK SIX—GOT WELL

Mrs. R. C. Small, of Ottawa, certainly ought to know a lot about Rheumatism. Goodness knows, she suffered long enough. For years, she was almost a cripple, and at times the pain was so severe that she was compelled to lie helpless in bed.

"About a year ago," writes Mrs. Small, "I saw Fruit-a-tives advertised and decided to try them for my Rheumatism. After I had taken two boxes, I was much better. I took six boxes in all—have had no pain for six months—and feel that I am completely cured. I have gained, over ten pounds in weight and am strong and well."

And yet there are some people suffering with Rheumatism, who have not given "Fruit-a-tives" a fair trial. Perhaps they don't want to get well.

"Fruit-a-tives" are a positive cure for Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Neuralgia and all troubles arising from impure blood.

50c a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box 25c. At all druggists or from Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

A number of Toronto confectioners have been fined $50 and costs for selling branded chocolates.

Fire at Sorel, Quebec, on Wednesday, did $150,000 damage.

A block type copy of the Apocalypse, dated 1440, with 41 wood engravings, was sold at auction at Vienna for $17,900. It was bought by a French dealer. Here the whole two weeks and we may walk out in an hour."

"Have you any theory regarding the identity of the man?" "I can't answer that. If I said 'yes' then all the detectives would be examining me to see what I knew of the case. If I say 'no'—well—if I told you my theory would you publish it?"

"Why, certainly. This isn't personal curiosity that is actuating these questions."

"Well, I can't answer your question. 'Have you seen any bullet holes about the walls of the house that would support Miss Kinrade's statement that she took a shot at the murderer?'"

"I have been looking for bullet holes. No, I haven't seen any."

"Do you think that Miss Kinrade has any idea who shot her sister?" "That's a very personal question. I hardly think I should say anything about it. Of course I have my own private opinion, but I don't want to make that public."

AVOIDED YOUNG MEN'S SOCIETY. A Toronto newspaper correspondent writing from here says:

"Ethel Kinrade, the dead girl, was seldom seen with a young man. She was a friend, in discussing the murdered young lady. He did not mean that she was uninteresting by any means, but that she was rather disposed to avoid the society of the young men who crossed her path."

In features, Miss Ethel was rather attractive, and in conversation bright and cheerful. Just the night before her death she attended a little house party of the Centenary Methodist Church choir, of which she was a member. Those who noticed her recall that she was very quiet—though that was nothing unusual for her.

Ethel and Florence were both singers. Mr. W. H. Hewlett, choir-leader at Centenary Methodist Church, told the Star last night that Ethel had been in his choir ever since he organized it. In her early teens she learned to sing, and liked it. Her voice was a contralto, rich and full.

"She was always quiet and unobtrusive," said Mr. Hewlett; "always ready to do her part and never ambitious to appear in the limelight."

Her younger sister, Florence, had a soprano voice. She too was for some time in the Centenary choir. Three years ago, however, she received an offer to join the MacNab Street choir as a paid soloist. She took it, and remained there till her removal to Virginia last spring.

"And on her return at Christmas," recalled the choir-leader, "we had her sing for us. Her voice had developed considerably, and I remarked how well she was getting along."

A BIG LANDOWNER. Some people estimate Mr. Kinrade's fortune at one hundred thousand dollars, others at a higher figure. It is known that he owned a good many houses in the city. Their wealth would permit them to be members of the fashionable set of Hamilton, but they haven't accepted this privilege.

"In other words," said the family friend, "they don't live up to their means, as far as society goes. They have no inclination that way, apparently."

There's no more highly respected family in Hamilton than that of T. L. Kinrade. And that very fact makes the terrible tragedy that befell the household all the more unexplainable.

The Kinrades are among the oldest families of Hamilton. One who knows the Kinrades as well as any Methodist clergyman can know a portion of their history. Three years acquaintance, is the Rev. Richard Whiting. He is the pastor of Centenary Church. He speaks of the Kinrades as among the most consistent of his congregation.

As he knew, said Mr. Whiting, the family relations of the Kinrades were of the best. He was inclined to think that Miss Florence Kinrade's story—the tramp theory—was the one that should be watched for definite development.

FLORENCE AT SCHOOL. While so much is being said and written that might tend to cause Miss Florence Kinrade and her people a good deal of pain, those who know the young lady longest and best speak most highly of her. An old schoolmate said of her this morning: "Florence was always a good girl in school. She came through the highest grade of the old Victoria Avenue schools as a model pupil; always either at the very head of her class or near it. She was pleasant and willing to assist others, but never had much to do with her boy classmates."

As a music student she was industrious, said Mr. Ed. Skeddin, who taught her for three years. "I consider that she has the making of a wonderful voice," he said yesterday. "She always studied hard and was exceptionally correct about her conduct and deportment. It was a surprise to him that she had been an illustrated song singer, but he said, she had just that richness and sympathy in her voice that would make her immensely popular with southern audiences."

HEARD HER FIRST STORY. William Burgess, 306 Hess street south, a new witness found within the past few days, will be able to give, at the inquest, a version of the story first told by Miss Florence Kinrade. Mr. Burgess was on his way home a short time after the tragedy and stopped in front of the house to see what was wrong. Coroner McNiel saw him there and asked him to see that the back door

HON. MR. FOY'S LAW REFORM

Provides Limitation of Appeals to the Privy Council.

Solicitor and Clients May Agree as to Payments.

Abolition of Appeals to the Present Divisional Court.

Toronto, March 4.—The Attorney-General yesterday introduced in the Legislature his long-promised law reform bill. In order to facilitate business the measure was given its first reading before being printed, and it will, therefore, be a few days before the bill is in the hands of the members of the House.

The bill has four main features: the abolition of appeals to the present Divisional Court, limitation of appeals to the Privy Council, increase of the jurisdiction of County and District Courts, and rendering permissible contracts between solicitors and clients.

The bill abolishes all the Division and Divisional Courts of the High Court, and establishes two branches of the Supreme Court, to be known, respectively, as the Appellate Court of the Supreme Court and the High Court Division. The Court of Appeal will be known as the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of Ontario, and the bill states that this division shall not be deemed to be a new court, but only a continuation of the old Court of Appeal. The High Court division will be similarly regarded as being a continuation of the old court. All the jurisdiction, power and authority of the old court, vested in the new Appellate division. It is also provided that there shall be as many divisions of the Appellate Court as are necessary for the despatch of business. Neither the Chief Justice, nor any of the present Judges of the Court of Appeal shall, without their consent, be required to perform any duties except sitting on appeals.

Appeals may be heard and disposed of by a court of four Judges, except in cases of contested elections and criminal appeals.

PRIVY COUNCIL APPEALS.

Appeal by right to the Privy Council is abolished, and leave to appeal granted by His Majesty is also abolished, except where some constitutional matter is concerned, where the matter in controversy exceeds $10,000 in value exclusive of costs, where the questions involved are of importance as to warrant an appeal, and where the liberty of the subject is involved. In other words, an amount upon which appeal can be made is increased from $4,000 to $10,000. Provision is made for monthly sittings, except during vacation, of the Criminal High Court in Toronto, instead of four sittings as at present. If a High Court Judge cannot attend Criminal Court, provision is made for his place to be taken by one of the County Court Judges.

Under the bill County and District Courts will have jurisdiction as follows: (a) In actions of contract up to $500. (b) Personal actions except actions for criminal conversation and libel, up to $500. (c) Actions for trespass or injury to land where the value of the land does not exceed $500. (d) Action for the recovery of property, real or personal, up to $500. (e) Sale and foreclosure proceedings up to $500. (f) Partnership actions if the capital does not exceed $2,000. (g) Legacies and interest up to $500, where the estate of the testator does not exceed $2,000. (h) All other actions for equitable relief, where the subject matter does not exceed $500. (i) Creditors' claims not exceeding $300.

If the defendant intends to dispute the jurisdiction of the court he must do so in his appearance, or otherwise the court will be presumed to have jurisdiction, unless it otherwise orders.

MAY MAKE BARGAIN.

An important feature of the bill is that relating to contracts between solicitor and client. A solicitor may make an agreement in writing with a client in respect of the amount to be paid him for his services either in a gross sum or as a salary, but where the agreement is made in respect of the business done in any court except the Divisional Court, the amount payable shall not be received by the solicitor until it has been allowed by a taxing officer. If the taxing officer thinks the agreement unfair he may require the opinion of the court or Judge to be taken upon it. In such case the court or Judge may reduce the amount to be paid on the agreement or order costs to be taxed in the old way.

A solicitor will not be allowed to contract himself out of non-liability for negligence or improper conduct of litigation.

Summary power is given the Judges to remedy questions arising under agreements, and also to enforce the agreement where it is considered fair.

Apparently all appeals to taxing officer must be made to the senior taxing officer at Toronto.

A solicitor, under the bill, cannot purchase any interest or part interest of his client in any action or other contentious proceedings. The object of this clause is to prevent cases being taken up purely on speculation.

Security may legally be given under the bill in advance for solicitor's charges.

PHARMACY ACT "AN OUTRAGE."

It was private members' day in the House, and a number of these measures were submitted for their second reading, the majority weathering this testing ordeal with safety. The Ministers were in a generous mood, and it was not a day of slaughter.

The operation of the act in its present form is nothing short of an outrage," was the declaration of Mr. P. H. Bowyer (East Kent) in moving the second reading of his bill to amend the pharmacy act. The House applauded the sentiment. Since the amendment of 1905, said Mr. Bowyer, no one outside of a qualified druggist was permitted to sell the simplest household remedies. Under it, and because of the fact that the College of Pharmacy got one-half of all fines, storekeepers and respectable country merchants had been subjected to the most vexatious of prosecutions. These people were good citizens, claimed Mr. Bowyer, and had made the sales to prevent country resi-

STAMP OUT YOUR CATARRH!

Catarrh is bound to come with this weather. Scarcely anyone will escape. Slight colds become more offensive and sickening every day. The inflammation extends further into the head, soon the ears begin to buzz and ring, the head aches, the eyes pain dreadfully, the nose gets plugged up and this forces the patient to breathe through the mouth. Vile, filthy secretions are forced back into the throat, requiring a great deal of coughing to keep the air passages free. Finally, this foul matter finds its way into the stomach, causing dyspepsia and general ill-health. By this time the patient has SYSTEMIC CATARRH, which saps strength, depletes the vital energies till Consumption is the unhappy result.

Breathe Catarrhozone

There isn't the slightest use in trying to cure this condition with tablets, snuffs or sprays. Such treatments are wholly inadequate. You must employ Catarrhozone, the only remedy that possesses power to kill the germs of Catarrh. The healing vapor of Catarrhozone is carried by the air you breathe to the most minute cells of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs. Its antiseptic medication goes everywhere that air can go. No case is too chronic, no person too old—everybody that has Catarrh of any kind can be permanently cured by this grand treatment which is endorsed by thousands of physicians throughout America, who say: The only way to permanently get rid of Catarrh is to use Catarrhozone.

Two months' treatment guaranteed to cure. Price, $1.00; medium size, 50c; trial size, 25c. All dealers or N. C. POLSON & CO., Kingston, Ont.

deuts having to drive miles to a drug store.

THE LOBBYIST AT WORK.

"Since my bill was before this House," commented the member for East Kent, "the officials and officers of the College of Pharmacy have been haunting the lobbies seeking to influence the members. The people I represent have no skilled lobbyists here. I stand here practically alone—"

"Other members—"No, no," (Applause). "I am glad to have that assurance. I feel strongly that a serious injustice has been done. There was no attempt to notify the country merchants of the change in the act under which the proposals were made. However, I hope it is a case of the best way to have a bad law repealed being to enforce it."

Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education, thought there was much in the bill to commend it to the public interest, but he was confident it would meet with opposition. He suggested its reference to the Municipal Committee.

"It is a move in the right direction," observed Hon. A. G. MacKay, "if the meaning of the remedies is carefully watched." The bill got its reading.

KENORA MEMBERS MAIDEN SPEECH.

Mr. A. E. Tepp (West Ottawa) moved the second reading of his bill to amend the assessment act. Under it he proposed to increase the income tax exemption from $1,000 to $1,500 for householders and from $600 to $900 for non-householders. He also proposed entire exemption for the working men who worked by the hour, day or trip.

Hon. Mr. Hanna said that, whatever the ultimate fate of the bill might be, the member for Ottawa had done well to bring the matter before the House.

Mr. W. McGarry moved the second reading of the bill to amend the division court act. By it, he explained, it was proposed to permit lumbermen to sue at the point of engagement rather than the point of work. "We have poeage in the woods," said Mr. McGarry. "Men are hired to work in the woods, an advance is made them and they are sent into the bush. Then when the advance is worked out they are summarily discharged and their wages are reduced. They have no redress. It is, in many cases, a system of slavery. It demands instant redress."

Mr. R. E. Ganey (Manitowin) differed with the principle of the bill while admitting that there was much in what was said.

Hon. Mr. Foy pointed out that it was clear that there was something to be said on both sides, and, upon his suggestion, the bill went to the committee, where it will be carefully looked into.

NEW OPPOSITION MEMBERS DINED.

The new members of the Provincial Opposition were tendered a complimentary lunch yesterday, which was presided over by Mr. H. M. Mowat, K. C., President of the General Reform Association for Ontario. In addition to the M. P.'s, there were present several prominent Liberal gentlemen, and the occasion was enlivened by pungent and witty speeches by those around the board. Messrs. T. R. Mayberry, J. C. Elliott, Jas. McEwing and Norman Reid responded for the new members, and older parliamentarians in the persons of Hon. A. G. MacKay, R. E. Trux, Jacob Kohler, W. J. McCart, and Daniel Reed made remarks relating to party welfare and prospects. Messrs. James Chisholm, Hamilton; W. K. George, F. G. Inwood, W. F. Summerhayes and others were present to wish the parliamentarians success, and the whole affair passed off very successfully and pleasantly.

DESPONDENT LOVER.

Young Man Makes Two Attempts at Suicide.

St. Andrew's N. B., March 3.—For love of Rosie Black, a watter at Kennedy's Hotel, Fred Junction, 24 years old, of Debec Junction, twice attempted suicide. Last night, he wrote a note to the girl, stating he understood she was to marry another, and asking her to come to his room and see him. He gave the note to the hotel manager, went to his room and drank carbolic acid. The doctor read the note and sent for a manager, who brought Nason around. To-day after an interview with the town marshal Nason shot himself in the left breast, but will recover. He had hidden the revolver under the mattress of his bed, and the police say they believe he intended; if the girl came to his room, to shoot her and himself. He is under arrest on a charge of attempted suicide.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM STATIONS.

A POPULAR FEATURE OF AGRICULTURAL POLICY.

Members Ask for Them—Mr. Fisher Promises More as Soon as Possible—Arrangement With Maritime Provinces—Number of Orientals in British Columbia.

Ottawa, March 3.—The progressive policy which has distinguished the administration of the Department of Agriculture under Hon. Sydney Fisher, particularly in the direction of developing facilities for acquiring a scientific knowledge of farming, received a handsome vote on both sides of the House of Commons. The experimental stations already established have produced such excellent results that farmers and fruit-growers all over the country are crying out for more, and the clamor found eloquent expression in the numerous appeals made to the Minister of Agriculture this afternoon to extend the system to parts of the country not already favored. Indeed, the eagerness of members to put in a claim for their respective ridings was rather amusing. Conservative and Liberal alike vied with each other in bidding for the favor of the department.

Mr. Lapointe (Kamouraska) started the ball by moving a resolution urging the need of more experimental stations generally, and in Quebec particularly, his chief point being the variety of climate, conditions and soil throughout the Dominion presented to the farmers in the different districts. In Quebec especially, he submitted, there was ample room for encouragement of agriculture.

Mr. Burrell (Nadcaribou), who is a fruit farmer, put in a claim for the establishment of an experimental station in the semi-arid district of British Columbia, and he was followed by Mr. Armstrong, who suggested that a tobacco station might be located in western Ontario and another in the eastern part of the province, preferably in Niagara district. Then came a long succession of speakers, each testifying to the general need of more experimental farms, and each proclaiming the agricultural virtues of his own district as being worthy of encouragement.

Among those who pleaded for an extension of the system were: Dr. Paquet, Col. Talbot, and Messrs. Margath, Godeve, Loggie, Boyce, Turcotte, Devlin, Broder, McCoig (who made a capital maiden speech), Clarke, Henderson and Dubena. In his reply, Hon. Sydney Fisher accepted the motion as an endorsement of the policy which he had initiated and carried out, and as an encouragement to go on extending it. To establish new experimental stations would cost large sums of money, but the expenditure already made had yielded abundant returns, and he was satisfied that further expenditures in that direction would be equally remunerative, not only to the farmers, but to the people as a whole. He stated that he had been in communication with the Governments of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, and they had each offered to purchase a farm and place it at the disposal of the Department of Agriculture for experimental purposes. He hoped that the Governments of those Provinces would be able to secure farms, one in the fruit-growing district of Nova Scotia, and the other in the centre of Prince Edward Island. He had also promised to establish a farm on the Island of Vancouver.

Mr. Monk thought the Minister had not been specific enough in regard to the claims of Quebec, but he was well answered by Hon. Mr. Lemieux, who declared that he had every confidence that Quebec would share in the policy of extension favored by Mr. Fisher.

Hon. Mr. Oliver, replying to Mr. Burrell, said that the Government was not prepared to establish a farm in the semi-arid district of British Columbia, and he was followed by Mr. Armstrong, who suggested that a tobacco station might be located in western Ontario and another in the eastern part of the province, preferably in Niagara district. Then came a long succession of speakers, each testifying to the general need of more experimental farms, and each proclaiming the agricultural virtues of his own district as being worthy of encouragement.

TO STAND TRIAL.

Peel Farmer Committed on Charge of Arson at Brampton.

Brampton, March 3.—James F. Ruston, of Snelgrove, accused of arson, was yesterday committed by the police magistrate here. Ruston is a farmer living four miles from Brampton, and on Saturday morning, Feb. 20th, his brick dwelling house was burned to the ground. No person beside himself and his little nine-year-old daughter were in the building, and Ruston's story was to the effect that they had escaped with their lives from the burning building.

Evidence was put in to the effect that a man named Hollis, who had worked for Ruston for some months, had informed an insurance company in Toronto that his employer intended to fire the building and collect the insurance on it. When Ruston appeared at the office of the London Mutual Insurance Company to collect the amount of his claim he was placed under arrest.

Hollis, who was the only witness called, stuck to his story that the fire had been carefully planned by Ruston, and he agreed to his employer's offer of $50 if he would assist him. He was to fire the buildings while Ruston was absent in Toronto, and join him there.

AFTER ALFY.

Bomb for Spanish Royal Family Found in Palace Courtyard.

London, March 4.—The Madrid correspondent of the Telegraph says that what was probably a spherical bomb, with a lighted fuse, was found at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the courtyard of the Royal Palace. It was later removed to a laboratory, where it was examined. The bomb exploded a few moments after the examination had ended. The incident created the most disgusting impression.

King Alfonso and Queen Victoria are now at Seville, but ex-Queen Christina and other members of the Royal family are living in the palace. The greatest secrecy is maintained regarding the affair. It is understood that some arrests already have been made.

PRISON FOR BIGAMY.

St. Thomas Man is Given Three and Half Years in Kingston.

St. Thomas, March 3.—Thomas G. Flint, this city, was sentenced to-day on a charge of bigamy to three and a half years in Kingston Penitentiary by Magistrate Glenn. ONE A DAY.

HOW A YOUNG WIFE MET HER STEP-CHILDREN.

She Married a Much Older Man to be His "Princess," but His Nine Children Descended on Her One After Another.

New York, March 3.—He promised her that she should live like a princess and never have to worry. She was eighteen and tired of working all day long. He was many years her senior and persuaded her. There was a wedding and Elizabeth Harrington became Mrs. Michael McCabe. That was on January 2. Yesterday Mrs. McCabe told her story in the Harlem Court, where she accused her husband of abandoning her.

Her first disillusionment had come, she said, on her wedding day, when her husband discharged the maid in their East 120th street flat. The next day in the morning when she woke to find a little boy standing in the doorway of her room. She thought the youngster must have entered the apartment by mistake and started to set him right, when her husband interfered. The child was his, he said. The young wife made no complaint, was even glad of the boy's company.

When she rose next morning she found a little girl playing in the kitchen with the boy. She thought it was a playmate, but a little surprised when the girl sat down to breakfast with them. It was all right, her husband assured her, the girl was also his. The third morning revealed the presence of a third child, a girl again this time. It appeared that she was another daughter of McCabe's. The fourth morning brought still another child, as did the fifth and the sixth. It became a regular thing now for the bride to prepare the first meal of the day for no more than she had served the supper of the night before. She began to wonder when this would end. On the seventh morning she made a search of the house and found three more children. Then McCabe gave her a crumb of comfort by assuring her there were no more.

She struggled along as the household drudge for some weeks and then left, returning to her family.

TO BLOW UP BOILERS.

Attempt at Canada Iron Furnace at Midland.

Midland, March 3.—A dastardly attempt was made on Monday night to blow up the boilers of the Canada Iron Furnace Company's smelting works here. At 12 o'clock on Monday, during the night cast, it was noticed by the fireman in charge that the water had suddenly dropped away below the normal depth and the boilers were practically empty. On investigation it was found that some one had turned off the water supply pipes leading to boilers Nos. 1, 2 and 6. Immediately steps were taken to investigate the matter, and at 1:20 a. m. Chief of Police Bell was called to the works, and, as there was a light snow, he detected footmarks, and after tracing them nearly a mile succeeded in arresting Patrick Shanahan on suspicion.

Investigation is now being made before Police Magistrate Jeffrey, and up to a late hour to-night only two witnesses had been called.

THE TRUTH VICTORIOUS.

Two Fine Addresses in the Gospel Tabernacle.

Mr. Philip Mauro on the Coming of Anti-Christ

And the New Theology as Taught by Campbell.

The first of what is to be a series of six addresses on "The Truth, Living and Victorious," was delivered by Mr. Philip Mauro in Gospel Tabernacle yesterday afternoon.

The speaker first dealt with the prophecies of Daniel II, Thessalonians and Revelation, which predict an era of great industrial activity, towards the end of which a man of extraordinary genius and ability should make his appearance.

This great system will be religious as well as commercial. There is to be a universal religion. All religions as well as all business enterprises are to be unified, and the coming potency will be at the head of the entire system.

Careful observation of the great movements now in progress in the world show that they are one and all tending towards bringing into existence precisely such an all-embracing system, merger of monopoly, as predicted in scripture.

The whole field of human affairs may be divided into two sections—the religious field and the economic field. The former being everything that appeals to the religious or ethical instincts of man.

In the economic field we see everywhere a tendency to eliminate competition, and to substitute monopoly, rivalry in the manufacturing and selling of goods.

The industrial movements, moreover, have characteristic in common with the new religious movements. They have a common ideal or goal, namely the complete unification of humanity.

the "higher criticism" plays in this last act of the tragedy of humanity. So well has it done its work that now, in many societies, so-called "Christians" no longer submit to the judgment of the Bible, but the Bible must submit to the judgment of man.

Man's method of deliverance is to get rid of the consequences of sin without getting rid of sin itself, which is impossible. God's plan is to get rid of sin, and thus get rid of its consequences. Therefore Christ came, not to improve human society, or to make the world better or to set an example, but to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself.

What is going on in our feverish, active world is being consciously summed up by saying that there are now two bodies in process of formation. One of these is the church, the body of Christ, which is formed by the spirit of God, who adds to the risen Christ, the living head, everyone who believes in the gospel of the crucified and risen Son of God.

In the evening Mr. Mauro delivered a very able address on "The New Theology of the Old World," showing the absurdity and utter worldliness of this new religion. Before proceeding with his address he made a few introductory remarks, in which he pointed out that there were many things in the religions of the world which were very confusing to the children of God.

The new theology proposes to sweep from the religious field all the things that are distasteful to the masses. Just preach the kind of doctrines the people want and set aside those they do not want.

Mr. Campbell is a Christian minister, and I am an infidel editor; and the difference between his religion and mine is too small to argue about. But I sail under the Jolly Roger.

Mr. Campbell believes I think—in the immortality of the soul. Mr. Campbell calls nature God. I call nature nature.

Vapo-Cresolene. Established 1879. Whooping Cough, Croup, Bronchitis, Cough, Grip, Asthma, Diphtheria. Cresolene is a boon to Asthmatics.

Christ was on earth. New Theology and these other religious novelties have nothing whatever for the individual. They promise for the race in some remote time. Nobody can tell when. The true gospel of God has something for the present, and for everyone.

After three years of futile trying, in which the Stanley Cup was once won by Kenora, only to be brought back the same year by the Wanderers, Ottawa last night won the championship of the E. C. H. A. and the mug from Wanderers.

The Shamrocks of Montreal were the first winners of the cup, winning it in 1900. The following year Victorias, of Winnipeg, wrestled it away from the east, and it was while they were in possession that the game became rough, and there was considerable slashing on both sides.

It was during the last attempt that Ottawa was credited with sprinkling salt on the ice to stop the challengers' speed. Wanderers won it in 1906, 1907 and 1908, during which periods they had challenges from Kenora, Halifax, Toronto and Edmonton, Kenora being the only successful team, but Wanderers wrestled it away from them and the west the same year, in a sudden death game at Winnipeg.—Toronto World.

Is Still a Mystery. Ottawa, March 3.—A month has now gone by, and still no word has been received, or no indication found, as to the whereabouts of Mr. Peter Robertson, the interior department official, who mysteriously disappeared. The theory that the missing man went out to visit a sick son in the west has now been abandoned, as word from the son says that his father has not arrived.

OTTAWA, CHAMPIONS.

About 7,000 Saw the Wanderers Lose.

Stratford Won From Ingersoll.

Ottawa, March 4.—The championship of the E. C. H. A. was decided last night, and with it the Stanley Cup returns to Ottawa. A howling crowd of 7,000 spectators saw the local team put Wanderers into the ex-champion class at the Arena, and the score, which was 8 to 3, left no doubt as to Ottawa's right to the championship.

It was a great game in all respects until Wanderers blew up in the second half, and then there was really nothing to it but Ottawa. But many things happened before that, and not until ten minutes after half-time did it look reasonably like Ottawa. They were even at the half, 3 to 3. Ottawa had scored the first two, then Wanderers, then Ottawa again, and with a couple of Ottawa men on the bench Wanderers jammed in the two which tied the score.

They fought it out hard in the second half, but this time Wanderers suffered through the loss of men, and when Ottawa got away in the rear they could not be stopped. Kerr made it 4 to 3, and Walsh added another after a fifteen-minute struggle. This seemed to break Wanderers' hearts, and Kerr plugged three more goals in behind Riley Herr before time was called.

The visitors went to pieces in the last five minutes. The game was clean, the only foul of note being a smash which Johnson dealt Lake, knocking out several of the Ottawa points' teeth. Vair was cut across the knee in the first half, and Johnson, who had been on the sick list, was put on in his place. Johnson strengthened the Wanderer team, and for a while it looked as if the move would defeat Ottawa. Taylor was easily the crack performer of the night, but Lesueur's work in goal was also a feature.

Kerr was not conspicuous in the first half, but his scoring streak in the second redeemed him. Lake, Stuart and Walsh were, as usual, unbeatable. Gillmore was slightly off-color in the first half, but he was subjected to a lot of tripping. His stick handling surpassed that of any other player save Taylor. Ross, Small and Joe Hal were the pick of the Wanderer team. The line-up: Ottawa—Lesueur, goal; Lake, point; Taylor, cover; Stuart, rover; Walsh, centre; Gillmore, right; Kerr, left; Small, cover; Glass, rover; Vair, centre; Hall, right; Gardner, left.

Referee—Russell Bowie, of Montreal. Judge of Play—Joe Power, of Quebec. Summary: 1—Wanderers—Walsh . . . 4-30 2—Ottawa—Walsh . . . 0-40 3—Wanderers—Vair . . . 0-10 4—Ottawa—Taylor . . . 5-00 5—Wanderers—Small . . . 1-20 6—Wanderers—Glass . . . 1-20
