THE NICKEL.

MONDAY and TUESDAY.

The Vitagraph Company present that sterling actor
"MAURICE COSTELLO"
in
"The Inherited Taint!"

The tragedy of a family falling. This vivid, impelling drama of real life portrays the emotions of a young man, who, coming into his inheritance, is crossed in a love affair, and succumbs to his ancestors' weakness—drink! Then follows a supreme struggle for mastery between the conflicting passions, in which the tender influence of a woman's affection is triumphant, and at the dawn of his career our hero comes into his own once more. Produced by a brilliant cast of stock favorites, being most sumptuously costumed and staged.

The Bahama Islands.

What student of Newfoundland affairs has not heard of that territory over which our late illustrious townsman, Sir Ambrose Shea, presided with so much distinction. Hence it is that this travelogue, which brings us in close contact with the industries, commerce, and life of the Bahamas should be particularly interesting to all our people. Even beyond its local appeal, it will be found entertaining.

Two other features—one a dramatic subject, the other a comedy—also are on the bill.

A MYSTERIOUS QUEST.

"I do not think it good reasoning; but no matter about that. It is a question easily seen. All you have got to do is accompany me to a neighboring station. One glance at her face--"

"I had rather not do it. I have had enough of such excitement lately. Yet I would never forgive myself if it were really she, and I shirked the responsibility of the recognition. Let us go, Byrd, let us go."

The detective expressed himself as ready, and they started. One glimpse, and Degraw became a new man. It was not she.

"Singular," muttered Byrd, "that they should both be named Jenny." But, on their return, he was tempted to mutter something more emphatic, for just as they stepped into the building, they heard a voice, speaking out in loud and shrill tones.

"A girl missing from your school? And what is her name please?" "It is Jenny--Jenny Rogers."

"Ah! And how does she look? What is her complexion and the color of her hair?" "Fair, sir; very fair. Her eyes are blue, and her hair a bright yellow."

At this unexpected response, Byrd, who had been turning to speak to Degraw, stared, and exclaimed, in his astonishment:

"Fair? The woman cannot know what she is talking about." And, pushing forward, he dragged Degraw to the place where this colloquy was taking place.

"She is an orphan," the good woman was now saying, "or I should not feel so badly about her disappearance; and she is so pretty, too, and so--"

"But fair?" Byrd here put in, with a deprecating glance at the inspector to whom the other was speaking.

"Oh, yes, sir, white as a lily. There was not a bluer-eyed girl in the school."

"And her name?" "Is Jenny Rogers."

seemed to be the only one before him, so trusting his friend whose interest was now thoroughly aroused, he left the building and took his way to his studio. As he went, he seemed to hear nothing but those two words ringing in his ears: "Jenny Rogers," "Jenny Rogers," and when a friend passed him, as more than once occurred, it seemed as if the first words trembling from that friend's lips ought to be:

"Have you heard of the conspiracy against girls of the name of Jenny Rogers? Two already have died and another one is missing. They say the Signorina Valdi is an American, and that her name is Jennie Rogers. If so, she will soon be found missing also, and if not missing, then dead."

CHAPTER VIII. The Jennie Rogers Mystery. Late on this same day, the inspector sat at his desk, studying the various reports of his subordinates. Those relating to the Jenny Rogers inquiry lay in one pile and those relating to other matters in another. With the former alone he was interested. Without attempting to reproduce them literally, I will transcribe for you their substance, as I take it for granted that you take enough interest in this affair to wish what discoveries had been made in relation to it.

First, there are nearly three hundred families of the name of "Rogers" mentioned in the New York directory. Of these, forty have been found to contain a "Jenny," ten of whom are infants, and five of advanced years. Ten more are married, leaving only fifteen of the age and condition necessary to include them in the category of young girls. One of these died yesterday, the daughter of Abraham Rogers, living in Fifth street. Her illness was scarlet fever, and her death was a legitimate one. There is, however, one fact connected with this that we have thought it well enough to record. Some three weeks before any signs of disease had developed in this girl, she came to her mother and told her that she was haunted by a strange man. We should have said shadowed, for when her mother forced her to explain, she told how a certain man whom she did not know, but who had every appearance of being a gentleman of means and culture, was continually being met by her in the street, at church and in the school steps. How he had looked at her, not disrespectfully but too intently for her to doubt that his interest was the result of some strong motive, and though he never addressed her, he always had the appearance of being on the verge of doing so. She was not afraid of him but she would rather not walk out alone, and after his confession, her parents took good measures that she should not be called upon to do so. Two weeks later, she was taken ill, and on the morning of her death, which was yesterday, a strange gentleman called at the house and asked for her. He was told the sad news and seemed much shocked, but turned immediately away. A relative who caught a glimpse of him at the door declares him to be the same person who had so diligently haunted the young girl's steps.

Miss Hadden's school having been visited, certain facts have come to light in reference to the young girl who was reported this morning as missing. She is the last representative of an old Detroit family. Her fortune is considerable and she has for a guardian a highly respectable gentleman of Detroit. She is pretty and generous, but headstrong. To her schoolmates, she is all openness and affection, but to her teachers, reserved, if not sly and willful. She too, has been haunted by an unknown gentleman, who was so affected by what she chose to consider his honorable attentions, that she seemed to lose her judgment, and fancy he was a lover whose passion it was her duty to return. Influenced by these impressions, her manner had grown languishing, and she had been found more than once scribbling notes and verses to the handsome unknown. Her disappearance, which was not accompanied by tokens of premeditation is laid by her schoolmates to the arts of this secret suitor, and they expect to hear very soon of a private marriage between this foolish girl and the gentleman above mentioned.

A BROKEN-DOWN SYSTEM. This is a condition (or disease) which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness--a break-down, so to speak, of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its causes (for they are almost numberless), its symptoms are much the same: general prostration or weakness, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now what alone is absolutely essential in all such cases is vigorous re-education.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By MARY CAMERON

The custom of making out a Christmas list of articles, that would be acceptable to one's self as Christmas gifts, came up for discussion the other day. The custom was promptly stigmatized as cold blooded and generally undesirable.

Do you really think it is? Myself, I can't see it that way. If Christmas were a time when those whom the spirit moved, made gifts to those whom they most loved, a Christmas list of one's wants would not be the proper thing.

But since we all know that at Christmas time, certain persons are undoubtedly going to make us gifts of a certain monetary value; whether the spirit prompts or not, and that said persons are probably racking their brains as to what said gifts shall be, I can't see why a Christmas list isn't a very logical and kindly custom.

Indeed, I think the making of such a list is not only within the pale of good breeding, but even a positive duty.

Make your list long enough so that there will still be room for the element of surprise and uncertainty.

Try to think up plenty of needs which can be inexpensively filled. Put the list in the hands of mother or someone else, who will be ready to show it to inquiring friends and relatives, and I think you will be doing a truly good deed.

In the first place, you will be helping some one to solve the nagging problem of what to give you.

In the second place you will be giving some one the opportunity of presenting you with something you really want. Now, don't you take double pleasure in giving any one a gift which you know will fill a niche of need? Very well. Remember then that other people are likely to feel the same way.

Not only do I think that everyone ought to make out such a list, but I further believe that everyone ought to consult such lists, or, when they are a missing quantity, to inquire of the beneficiary's next friends what his wants are.

Perhaps I ought to feel ashamed, but I never can feel the same gratitude for a gift which was evidently selected at random that I do for one which has plainly been chosen after consultation.

Last year I received among my Christmas gifts, a little rubber face cloth bag. I had two of these already and I sadly needed a soapbox. Both of these facts my family knew, and would gladly have told the purchaser of that superfluous bag, if she had taken the trouble to ask. But she didn't. Am I frightfully ungrateful that I can't feel any warmth of gratitude for that totally superfluous article?

We are always saying that it is the thought, and not the monetary value which makes a gift valuable.

Is it illogical then to consider the gift less desirable when the thought is quite left out?

We can all of us imagine a finer, more spontaneous, less cut-and-dried Christmas celebration, in which Christmas lists and consultations of them would be superfluous.

But remember, we are dealing with Christmas as it is, not as it ought to be.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the diseases of women.

It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system. THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.

THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrapper and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.

It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine or expect cure. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's" is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trading with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.

Household Notes.

To soften the old paint brushes you used last year put them in a can of coal oil. When soft they can be washed in warm suds.

To blanche almonds pour boiling water over them and leave them till the water is cold, when the skins will be quite loose.

For aching feet, due to walking, change the shoes at least twice a day. This will give both feet and shoes a refreshing rest.

For a refreshing dinner salad toss white cherries, bits of orange and banana in French dressing, and serve on lettuce leaves.

A few drops of alcohol rubbed on the inside of lamp chimneys will remove all trace of greasy smoke when water alone is of no avail.

In cooking broilers all the juice is saved and much of the flavor otherwise lost is retained by completely brushing over the fowl with olive oil before submitting it to the flames.

Croutons for soup are most easily made by cutting stale bread about half an inch thick, buttering it thickly on both sides, cutting in half-inch squares and baking in the oven until brown.

There is nothing better for cleaning copper utensils than hot vinegar, salt and milk. Take a cupful of warm milk, add a quarter of a cupful of hot vinegar and a tablespoonful of salt. Rub on hard with a flannel rag.

While kerosene is now generally recognized as better than any drug-store or barber-shop preparation for the hair, it is not generally known that crude oil is better still. Used once a week, it will destroy dandruff and promote a fine growth of hair.

To clean straw matting put three pints of bran in two quarts of water and boil. When it is nearly cool wash the matting with it, and afterward dry it well with a clean cloth. Add a little salt to the water for white matting and vinegar for red.

Worn brooms or whisks may be dyed in hot-water and the uneven edges trimmed with shears, and then dipped in cold water and all the water shaken out. This makes the straws harder and the trimming makes the brush almost as good as new.

To make a good sweet-potato-pie, take a cupful of mashed potato, a teaspoonful of salt, same of nutmeg and ginger, half a cup of sugar, a cup of milk and one well-beaten egg. Bake for half an hour in a slow oven.

Piloff of chicken livers is an excellent dish for luncheon. Boil the livers until tender and put in an open dish lined with rice. Put a layer of rice over the top and turn the mound out into the dish in which it is to be served. Cover with a rich tomato sauce.

Bananas are rarely found in this country ripe enough to be digestible, although they may be perfectly yellow. To properly ripen them so that they will be excellent food, buy a bunch and hang it up in a dry place with the stem in water. In a few days they will be much improved.

HER LAST TRIP.—The s.s. Bonavista is now on her last trip to this port, and will leave for Sydney tomorrow evening. During the winter she will run in the coal trade between Sydney, Halifax and St. John, N.B.

To-Day's News.

Special to Evening Telegram.
QUEBEC, To-day.
M. Pelletier, Postmaster-General, at a banquet on Saturday referring to the Borden Government's naval policy said Laurier's naval policy had been abandoned. The Government would keep the Niobe and the Rainbow, but the other ten vessels would not be constructed, there would be no plebiscite to decide the question.

LONDON, To-day.
The House of Commons has finally passed the Naval Prize Bill. This is the measure upon which depends Britain's ratification of the Declaration of London, the agreement between the various governments as to prizes in time of war. The Bill passed its third reading by 172 to 125.

Rough Trip.

The S. S. Durango, Capt. Chambers, arrived here at 11 a.m. to-day from London after a run of 15 days. The ship brought 1,000 tons cargo and 7 bags of mail matter. She left London on Sunday the 26th inst. in the morning and for 2 days had exceptionally fine weather but after that was beset by hurricanes of wind from W. veering to N.W. and S.W. and causing a tremendous sea which time and again swept the ship's decks and sent spray over the foremast and up above the funnel. Once the ship could make but little headway and fell off broadside to the combers so that there was nothing for Captain Chambers to do but run his ship before it and this he did for 12 hours as to attempt to face the mountainous sea prevailing would be to court disaster. This boisterous weather continued till Friday last and often it was only at great risk that officers and crew held the decks. She brought no passengers and will sail for Halifax on Wednesday.

Hr. Grace Notes.

Messrs. Rutherford & Co. are expecting the S. S. Adventure here on Monday or Tuesday with a load of coal.

A party of young men are now camping in the country to the north of the town, and are timber-cutting, rabbit catching, etc. It is a wonder more of our young men would not go in for this profitable pastime for the winter months. Rabbits would sell readily at 40 cents a brace.

Several of our young men who worked at Montreal during the summer, returned this week. They say that all the Harbor Grace boys in Montreal are well, and a number have decided to remain there the winter.

The lads of the Carbonear C. C. C., under command of Colonel Williams, paid our town a visit this forenoon joining forces with the boys of our own C. C. C. They attended 10 o'clock Mass at the Cathedral. After service the two brigades paraded the town and were admired by all our citizens. This is the first visit the Carbonear brigade has paid our town, but we hope it will have been so enjoyable and profitable to them that they will pay us many like visits in future. The officers and the friends of Carbonear are to be congratulated on the smart appearance of the lads.

Child Burnt.

A little girl named Penny, of Stephenson Street, had a narrow escape from being burnt to death on Saturday night. She lit a piece of paper at the flame of a kerosene lamp and her pinafore was set fire to. She ran out of doors in her fright and this made matters worse. Some of the neighbors ran and pulled off the burning clothing just in time to save her life. She was badly burned about the hands and legs. A doctor was called in and dressed the wounds.

At St. Patrick's

Rev. Father Pippy preached at the 10.30 Mass at St. Patrick's Church yesterday. In the course of his sermon he drew the attention of the congregation to the concert which will be held next Sunday, in the T. A. Hall, in aid of St. Patrick's heating fund. Mr. P. J. McCarthy will have charge of the programme.

Solway Arrived.

The S. S. Solway, Capt. Parsons, arrived here last night from Sydney with a full load of freight, making the run in 42 hours. A large quantity of freight had accumulated there, much more than the Invermore could carry. The Solway has now relieved the congestion for a time, but it is expected that another steamer will have to help the Invermore to clear out the freight that will be coming along between now and the New Year.

TAKEN FROM HOUSE.—Saturday night two policemen were called to a residence in the West End where a man had entered his mother-in-law's and threatened the woman who greatly feared him. He also threatened to smash the furniture and the officers hurried him to the station.

EIGHT PRISONERS JAILED.—Saturday evening and night the police were pretty busy, as there was a good deal of drunkenness evident on the streets. Eight prisoners were jailed, all except one, who was disorderly, being ordinary drunks. Four of the latter were released yesterday on making the usual deposit.

IDENTIFYING THEIR GOODS.—Saturday afternoon several persons went to the lock-up where the goods taken from Mrs. Butler's residence are displayed and identified articles as missing from their residences. One firm's agent of Water Street identified a parcel which contained $35 worth of goods.

Saturday evening Officers Green and Brown were called to the Smith Co. wharf where a man who has a police record while drunk was challenging all on the premises to fight. When arrested he attacked the officers savagely, and they only succeeded in handcuffing him after great trouble. He was then given the "frog's march" to the police station.

Minnard's Liniment Cures Colds, Etc.

AN ENDORSEMENT FROM SOUTH AFRICA

Mr. B. J. Hassett, Sanitary Manager for the Bloemfontein Corporation, South Africa, seems to have formed a very high opinion of that well known Canadian remedy, Douglas' Egyptian Liniment. This is what he writes: "Douglas' Egyptian Liniment has worked wonders in our stables, hence our repeated orders for same. I have never used a medicine to stop bleeding, cure foot rot, sprains or any old sores, with such good results. I find it equally good for human beings, and am writing this as I consider it is everyone's duty to acknowledge a good article." In every home and in every stable there is frequently an urgent need for a liniment to stop bleeding, relieve pain, heal wounds and clean out sores. What's the use of prolonging the agony and wasting time with any other liniment, but the best—Douglas' Egyptian Liniment? It acts quickly and surely, and its benefits are permanent. 69 cts. at all dealers'. Free sample on request. Douglas & Co., Napanee, Ont.

Daring Robbery On Schr.

TRUNK TAKEN FROM CABIN AND OPENED ON WHARF—$27 STOLEN FROM IT—BELIEVE CAPTAIN AND MATE WERE DRUGGED.

Shortly before 7 o'clock yesterday morning watchman Joseph Clarke, of the Smith Co's. premises, received a great surprise when he discovered under the gallery of the premises a seaman's chest or trunk with the cover beaten off it, evidently by some thief, who had ransacked it and, as the sequel proved, stole $27 in cash out of it. The trunk was owned by William Quinton of the schr. Pandora, lying at the Smith Co. pier, and the owner of which is Mr. Thomas Whately, of Haystack, P.B. It is thought the thief or thieves got on board the schooner early yesterday morning and did the deed. The schooner is a small one and has been in port since Wednesday week. She landed some fish at Barr's wharf, and only a few days ago hauled down to Smith's. The chest or trunk was in the cabin, a very small compartment, against the wall, just at the rear of the stove and opposite the entrance to the cabin. The trunk and the money it contained was owned by the skipper, Wm. Quinton, who with the mate, Christopher Hipditch, slept in the cabin. Both men turned in at 11 o'clock Saturday night after the mate had closed the doors of the cabin cover and hauled the sliding cover over the top, leaving it only a few inches open to admit the air. In the trunk besides the stolen money were the skipper's clothes, but nothing besides the money was stolen. The mate's coats and vests were hung up in the cabin and in Hipditch's coat was 80 cents, but this was not touched. Forward in the fore-cabin slept Melvin Best and Joseph Manning, the two others of the crew, who retired before the captain and mate. Not a man on board heard the slightest noise during the late hours of the night or early morning, neither did Watchman Clarke, and it is thought the thief boarded the vessel in a boat, which he could easily do, as the schooner is at the head of the wharf, moored at its western side. When the trunk was found the cover had been smashed in pieces and the stout lock which secured it was forced off. When Clarke made the discovery he went up on Water Street and meeting Head Const. Peet, told him of the occurrence. When he went on board the schooner it took him some time to wake the skipper of the vessel, who seemed to be in a dazed condition, and who yesterday averred to a Telegram reporter, as well as the police officers who were investigating the affair, that he felt sick and queer, and when aroused yesterday morning was some time before he could collect his senses. Hipditch also said he felt queer when aroused, and this leads to the suspicion that the thief drugged or chloroformed both men as they slept so that he could do the work he was engaged on without being disturbed. If the man had no boat with him he could not get in the wharf by going over the many schooners which lay at the various wharves in the neighbourhood, and could escape in the same way. The police believe that two or three persons are engaged in making a specialty of robbing from schooners, and believe they are the same who attempted to take a trunk from the cabin of the schr. Rosa Bella at Goodridge's a few mornings ago. They are cool hands and it is hoped they will soon be captured.

Alexandra Workers.

Saturday afternoon the quarterly meeting of the Alexandra Workers was held in the British Hall which work for the coming year was talked over, but no definite plans matured. On Saturday, Jan. 6th, 1912, a special meeting will be held to arrange a programme for the year. The project of raising a home for incurables was discussed and the ladies have nearly $7,000 of a fund, but will not begin to build until another $1,000 is collected. The site has not yet been decided upon, but if at all feasible the building will be within the city limits, to be easy of access. Small boxes will be placed in each drug store to receive contributions from charitable people.

Three Men Datan By Cannibals.

French Ship Raided in the New Hebrides—Terrible Revenge.

A horrible story of cannibalism has been told by the Rev. J. G. Patton who has been engaged in missionary work at Mallikoto, in the New Hebrides, for 19 years—on his arrival at Vancouver, B.C.

He stated that shortly before he left Mallikoto a French trading vessel made a raid and kidnapped a number of natives.

In revenge the natives attacked the steamer, and captured three members of the crew, who were killed and eaten.

It is believed that the victims of this act of cannibalism were natives who were recruited to the French ship. STOP—READ THIS!—And don't wait till Christmas week to order your Overcoat. We have a nice selection of Tweed and Melton Overcoats, which we make up in the very latest style from $15 to $24. Have a look at them, then you will order. Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

He often grew tired of his toiling, and wished that he slept with the dead; grew tired of the grinding and mulling, that brought him tobacco and bread; grew tired of his fare, bread and cheese, and longed for THE RETIRED WORKER "Avenue Easy," with nothing whatever to do. It chanced on a day that his uncle bequeathed him a package of bones; he said, "Oh, this glittering junk'll release me from sorrow and groans! With nothing to do but play checkers, my life will be happy any day; for labor and sweat are the wreckers that drive all enjoyment away." He went to the Avenue Easy, and loaded till his trilbies were cold he loaded till he grew fat and wheezy, and covered with mushrooms and mold. And often he said to his neighbor, when jaded and weary and blue "The hardest of all mortal labor is having no sane thing to do!"

Another Mystery.

Chicago Police Believe They Have Unearthed a Second Vermilya Case.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Discoveries made by detectives investigating the death of John M. Quinn in his home at 7105 South Michigan avenue last Saturday morning led them to believe that they have encountered a murder mystery similar in its essential aspects to the Vermilya case, except that a pistol in stead of a poison in alleged to have been used in taking human life.

When the police arrived Quinn told them that Dr. Fred T. Bonfield, who also was summoned, that he had been shot as he lay asleep, but did not know by whom. Mrs. Quinn declared her husband had been shot by a burglar, according to the detectives. She was asked many questions, and it is said, made unsatisfactory answers to many of them. She was finally taken into custody and held as a suspect.

Examination of Mrs. Quinn the following day led her to being asked to reveal her past life. She did this, but according to the police, told of her first marriage to a man named McDonald, and neglected to tell them of her second marriage to Warren Thorpe in Jackson, Mich. This fact led the detectives to Jackson, where they learned that Thorpe, too, had been shot and killed while asleep in bed. They learned also that his mother, who lived with him, had died under circumstances that never have been explained.

In the Thorpe death the police declare they have learned that Mrs. Thorpe, now Mrs. Quinn, insisted that her husband had been shot to death by burglars. As in the case of Quinn, she says she was awakened in the night by a pistol shot and that she found her husband mortally wounded at her side. Mrs. Thorpe was arrested at the time by the Jackson police, the Chicago detectives say, but they were never able to clear up the mystery, and she was finally set free.

A son of Thorpe was found in Jackson by the detectives, and he is said to have told them that he believed his mother knew more of the death of his father than she had ever told. He agreed to accompany the detectives to Chicago, and to-day when the inquest is begun over Quinn's body he will confront the suspected woman.

A revolver of an old pattern was found in the Quinn house, according to the police, behind a bath tub. It was identified by J. W. Miller, a boarder in the Quinn house, as one he had owned for several years, and which disappeared from a drawer in his room the day before Quinn was shot. Miller, the police say, told them that he had told Mrs. Quinn of the disappearance of the revolver, and that she had told him not to tell her husband.

Special Evening Telegram. DELHI, To-day. The King has had a busy time. Since his arrival in camp, there has been a succession of ceremonies. During the past few days more than a hundred native Princes have been received in audience by the King and their visits have been returned on the King's command, by the Viceroy, Lord Harding. The King and Queen yesterday watched a magnificent open air church parade.

Special Evening Telegram. LONDON, To-day. Reports of the Board of Trade show that during the past 11 months the imports were valued at £615,674,640, an increase of £6,353,717 over the previous 11 months. The exports amounted to £415,710,513, an increase of £2,544,880.

Special Evening Telegram. LONDON, To-day. Details as to the advances of Russian troops in Persia has been kept secret for several days. We are completely in the dark as to how large a force has been despatched by the Russian Government, and particulars of its movements are unknown in London. The public generally feel there is to be an establishment of a Russian protectorate over the best part of Persia, including the two northern capitals, Tebriz and Teheran. Newspapers and politicians generally give expression to their skepticism regarding it as unlikely that Russia once entrenched at Teheran will ever withdraw. The Times predicts that Russia's first act will be to substitute another form of Government for that of the National Council. The possible damage to British commercial interests is absorbing attention, but the blow to British prestige among Orientals causes most anxiety. The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Delhi emphasizes the danger. The Outlook says: "We are face to face with one of the gravest crisis in the history of British Policy in Asia." The Nation says: "It means the worst blow which our prestige could suffer in the East. We appear as the weak partner who does not dare to check his powerful and unscrupulous associate." Persia has found a strong friend in Viscount Curzon of Kedleston, the former Viceroy of India, whose knowledge of the country inspires respect and whose speeches have done much to shake confidence in the policy of the Government. The British Cabinet is trying to induce Russia to abate her demands, but the crux of the matter is the tension with Germany, which overshadows all other considerations. England needs Russia's support in case of a war with Germany and cannot afford to take a stand against her.

He has the highest score, 25 points, the best competitor being credited 13 only. The class which he headed in this respect is a large and he performed quite a feat in being out amongst so many transients, and demonstrated the grit which which Newfoundlanders fully possess. Hubert was a footballer, played with the 's, and also played hockey with 's, and was also on the Nfld. which defeated the Windsorites year.

FIRST CALENDAR.—Messrs. Marshall Bros. have a very beautiful calendar for 1912. The picture is entitled "The World Forgotten," a copy of the great painting of W. Virplanck-Birney. We thank Messrs. Marshall Bros. for the calendar.

HAD LEG AMPUTATED.—The Prospero this trip brought up a young man named Dewey from the Hospital of St. Anthony to Greenspond. He had one of his legs amputated below the knee and is now able to get about on crutches. He will get a artificial limb.

By the Prospero we learn that cod-fish are as plentiful on the grounds off Battle Hr. as it was at any time during the summer months and that the fish are large and of good quality. Several boats are yet at work and secure daily in fine weather good catches taken on herring bait.

TOOK 5 QTL. COD.—Mr. Az. Martin of the Battery, went out to the local fishing grounds Saturday and took 5 qtls. of codfish in a very short time. Skipper Martin's motor boat stands him in good stead now and hardly ever before was so much fish taken at this season of the year.

CARGO OF PRODUCE.—The s.s. Rosalind, Capt. Williams, will leave here for Charlottetown to-night, and as there is a lot of fresh, mostly produce awaiting shipment there, she will return with a full cargo via Sydney. She will then sail for Halifax and New York to take up this service in place of the Stephano.

COASTING ACCIDENT.—While Master Leo Carew, of Murphy's barber saloon, was coasting down Springdale Street Friday night, his sled ran into a grating and he was thrown off with great force. He narrowly escaped losing his eye, which came in contact with the edge of the runner. He received a nasty cut.

Runaway Horse.

Saturday night as Mr. Denis Neville was coming out Waterford Road he saw a horse attached to a saddle come galloping in the road, and divining it was a runaway he, at much risk to himself, grasped the reins and succeeded in stopping it. Later the owner, who belongs to the South Shore and who was under the influence, put in an appearance and was given charge of the animal. He said the animal took fright near the Cross Roads and narrowly escaped injuring him.

Street Paving.

Correspondent Suggests That One Job be Finished Before Another is Started.

Dear Sir,—In reading over the report of the proceedings of the Municipal Council Friday night last, I observe the Mayor brought before the notice of that body the necessity of making preparations for the preliminary work of paving New Gower and Duckworth Streets. While I would be delighted to see streets paved, I would suggest that it would be well for the Council to consider the advisability of completing the unfinished portion of Water Street in the East End, that is from Shea & Co's. premises to the terminus, which is better known as Wood's Dock. We have quite a lot of traffic in that locality from the Burgess Line of boats and from A. J. Harvey & Co's., the Standard Factory, Empire Wood Factory and other concerns. If finished it would greatly enhance the value of property in that section of the town, and the public would not have to wade half the time in wet seasons, up to their knees in mud. I should say finish one job first before making an attempt to start a second one, and not have them both in slings with no finish to either. Of course this section was greatly improved a year or two ago by raising the bed of the road in the centre to allow the water to run off, but I may say this is only good for a season, and the city authorities will see that the same thing will have to be done again, but if it was paved, there is practically an end to the expense in that direction, as the paved section of Water Street can fully demonstrate, and the money saved in this work would in the near future, soon find its way back in the possession of the Council, which could be turned to good account in many other directions towards city improvements. Trusting that you will be able to give me space in the valuable columns of your widely read paper to throw out this gentle hint. I remain, Yours sincerely, AN EAST ENDER. St. John's, December 11, 1911.

Prospero Here. Venerable Citizen Dead

The S. S. Prospero, which was brought to port by Capt. J. Kean, arrived here from the Northward at 8 a.m. to-day with a full cargo of fish, oil, furs, etc., and a deck load mostly composed of herring. The ship left here Thursday week and had fine weather going and returning though it was very frosty. She arrived at Battle Harbor on Wednesday last, and going down the Straits had to force through a solid jam of "made" ice which was about 4 inches thick. The ship made all her ports of call coming and going. She reports the country down north covered with several feet of snow with ponds and harbors in several instances frozen over. Her passengers were—

Messrs. Bates, Rev. Tibbault, Doolley, Elliott, Duggan, Breen, Mercer, Bolles, Spencer, Budgett, Campbell, Shearing, Hunt, P. Budgett, Campbell, Hynes, Rowsell, Lockyer, French, Elliott, A. Elliott, J. Roberts, Osmond, Vian, Murphy, Richards, Dr. Murphy, Goodland, Olson, Kenna, Dower, Searle, Wiseman, Gent, Snelgrove, Milley, Rev. Ward, Rev. Kavanagh, J. T. O'Neill, Rev. J. L. Brodie, Morris; Messdames Cook, Woodford, Blackwood, McCarthy, Crocker, King, Snelgrove; Misses Elliott, Morgan, Winsor, Oakley, Torrville, Street, Little, 2; Master Cook and 95 in steerage.

Intense Frost North.

By the Prospero we learn that at Battle Hr. on Sunday week the frost was intense and the glass recorded 12 degrees below zero. Pilley's Island, Fortune Hr., Little Bay Islands, St. Anthony, Engle and several other harbours are solidly frozen over and quite a number of schooners bound from St. John's for Lewisporte, Botwood, Point Lemington and other places, with supplies for lumber men and others, are frozen in and may not get clear for the rest of the winter, so that it is likely their crews will be compelled to go home by rail. The Fogota will go up to Alexander Bay to cut out 3 vessels and the Clyde will try to free others in different places.

CAUGHT A BUTTERFLY.—Mr. N. March at his residence Circular Road, caught a beautiful butterfly this morning. Does this presage as many believe a mild winter?

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DISTEMPER.

A venerable citizen in the person of Mr. Stephen Taylor died at his residence, Cabot Street, on Thursday last after a short illness. Mr. Taylor, who was a shipwright by trade, was well known and respected and was in his 78th year at the time of his death. The funeral of the deceased took place Saturday afternoon and was largely attended. The remains were enclosed in a handsome casket of polished oak. Interment was at the General Protestant Cemetery.

Man Run Over.

At 12.30 p.m. Saturday a horse driven by Jos. Clarke accidentally knocked down Wm. Clarke, of Water Street West, inflicting a nasty cut on his right arm. The man was crossing the street at the time and was not seen by the driver of the horse until the hoofs striking the man caused the wound. Dr. Macpherson was called to attend Clarke and had to stitch the wound.

Selling a Razor.

Friday night last a man boarded the schr. Pandora, which vessel was robbed of money yesterday morning, and, going to the companion way asked the captain to buy a razor, which he declined to do. The captain did not pay much attention to him and could not describe him. There is some conjecture amongst the crew as to whether this was not the marauder who boarded the vessel yesterday morning, and went on board Friday night to "size up" matters.

Cape Report.

SPECIAL TO EVENING TELEGRAM. CAPE RACE, To-Day. Wind light and variable, weather fine. The steamers Solway and Adventure passed in, and Flou west yesterday; the Beothic passed west at 7.10 and the Kampford inward at 10 a.m. to-day. Bar: 30; ther. 34.

TAKING A HOLIDAY.—Capt. A. Kean left the Prospero this trip at Westleyville and is spending a holiday with his friends there. His son, Capt. Jos. Kean, brought the ship to port from that place.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DIPHTHERIA.

Sidewalk Sketches.

By H. L. RANN.

THE PHOTOGRAPHER.

The photographer is a mercenary individual who earns a precarious livelihood by manufacturing prima facie evidence of hidden depravity and original sin. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of a photographer for the truth and who would rather lose a customer than remove cross-feet and other brie-a-brac from the first proof. Years ago we knew a photographer who was an artist, yet a perfect gentleman, and having quite a perceptible religious bent in his person he insisted upon portraying every male victim in a conciliatory squint and a hair cut which looked like an asparagus bed in full bloom. The photographer is a very busy man. In some localities the only relaxations that are not satiating in their effect are having your picture taken and going to funerals. It is a highly exhilarating sensation to sink gracefully into the embrace of a red plush rocker and feel the clammy fingers of a cast iron head-rest close firmly around each venous and protuberant ear lobe. Many a man who has tried to look pleasant under such circumstances has only succeeded in arousing the suspicions of the chief of police and causing his neighbors to lock the hen house door. Whenever a man looks at a photograph of himself, taken immediately prior to the marriage ceremony, he wonders how his wife screwed up her courage to the sticking point, and then again, when he examines one of her pictures, taken in the dress of the period, the scales fall from his eyes with considerable haste.

THANKS.—We thank the Reid Nrd. Coy. for a very handsome enlarged photograph of the group of people who were present at the opening of the Bonavista Branch Railroad.

PATIENT FOR ASYLUM.—Const. S. White arrived by the Prospero with a man named Sheppard of Catalina, who is demented and who was taken to the Asylum on arrival.
