Not Negotiating With Soviet Russia.

Exchange of Notes Misinterpreted--French Forces Evacuating Syria--Fiume Again in the Lighthouse--Mexican President Preparing to Leave Capital City--Sultan of Turkey Removed from Constantinople.

BRITAIN MISUNDERSTOOD.

LONDON, May 7. The Soviet Foreign Affairs Commissary must have misinterpreted the meaning of the recent notes to Russia to sanction the statement that Great Britain was about to enter into negotiations with Soviet Russia, the Foreign Office said this afternoon. Recent notes, according to the Office, were confined to a request for amnesty for the men of General Denikin's army with the threat that there would be no resumption of economic relations if the request should not be granted. Great Britain pointed out she would agree that this be done through General Wrangel who succeeded General Denikin, as Commander of the Southern Russian forces, or any other responsible leader, but did not mention other questions and did not intimate that this exchange of notes would lead to negotiations concerning other problems.

FRANCE AND SYRIA.

NEW YORK, May 7. The French have retreated from Cilicia and may entirely evacuate northern Syria, according to a despatch received here, according to the Near East Relief Committee to-day, from Dr. James Barton, its representative in Constantinople. Hadjin, which has been besieged by Turkish forces for more than a month, now is defended by Armenian troops, the despatch added. The Armenians are defending Aintab against assaults, which began on May 1st, and all the French have retreated from the city, excepting a small force left to guard the college buildings. Many residents are leaving the city, the message said.

MUTINY IN FIUME.

TRIESTE, May 7. Mutiny broke out in Fiume at 5 o'clock this evening, a fierce battle between the Carabinieri and Arditi developing. Twelve men were killed and fifty others wounded in the struggle. The troops involved are those of Gabriele d'Annunzio's forces.

THE RETURN OF PREMIER BORDEN.

OTTAWA, May 7. According to advices here, Sir Robert Borden will be back in Ottawa next week. It is not expected that he will return by Sunday next, as newspaper despatches from Asheville indicate, although Sir Robert has not intimated the exact date of his arrival in Ottawa.

THE TURKISH TREATY.

PARIS, May 7. The Peace Treaty with Turkey will be handed to the Ottoman delegation on Tuesday next, May 11th. The ceremony will take place in the Clock Room at the Foreign Office, the scene of the notable plenary sessions of the Peace Conference.

CARRANZA FOR VERA CRUZ.

EL PASO, TEXAS, May 7. Mobilization of troops, believed to be intended for use in a concerted attack on Mexico City, continued to-day at Juarez. Authentic information regarding numerous reports of the flight of President Carranza, before the spread of the revolution, was awaited. According to reports here concerning the departure of Carranza, his son-in-law went to Vera Cruz several days ago to prepare for the President's coming.

OBJECT TO CONTRACTS.

MULLINGER, Ireland, May 7. Two hundred laborers forced an entry into the Council Chamber to-day, where discussion was in progress on the question of road repairing contracts, and demanded that direct, instead of contract labor, be used. After a free fight, the Council complied with the laborers' demands.

EMMA PINES FOR UNCLE.

CHICAGO, May 7. Emma Goldman, radical leader deported to Russia, has written to a friend from Moscow stating that she is "home sick" for the United States. Her lack of knowledge of the Russian language and familiarity with the "new and strange situation" had kept her from active social work, she wrote.

SULTAN DEPORTED!

LONDON, May 7. A Moscow wireless message to-day declares that the British Government has removed the Sultan of Turkey to Broussa, the ancient Turkish capital, south of Constantinople, across the Sea of Marmora, and about twenty miles inland from the coast of that sea. Special quarters have been taken for the Sultan there, the message asserts.

Hr. Grace Notes.

News was received by Mrs. G. Adams to-day from the General Hospital to the effect that her daughter, Miss Gertrude Adams, had undergone an operation, and was doing as well as could be expected. The many friends of the young lady will look forward to her return with pleasure, and in the meantime express the hope that she will greatly benefit by her visit to the institution.

The death occurred on Tuesday, at the home of his brother, at Riverhead, of Mr. John Quirk, after a lengthy illness. Mr. Quirk was well known in Hr. Grace by both the older and younger people. Many looked forward to his version of the weather with pleasure, and very often found it reliable. The demise of this old gentleman will be heard by all those who knew him with deep regret, and expressions of sympathy to the bereaved. Funeral took place on Thursday, interment being at the R. C. Cemetery.

Mr. A. French, of the West End, has recently purchased the former residence of the late Capt. Wm. Hawkins, and has moved into his new home.

The schooner Vendetta is now on dock.

The schrs. Maxwell Roy, from Spaniard's Bay, and Ellen, from Carbonar, arrived Thursday to go on dock.

Quite a number of our local growers are now preparing their ground for the coming season, though the outlook at present points to a great decrease in the growing of potatoes. It is believed that turnips, cabbage, etc., will be the chief articles of food with a good many this year. Potatoes are not only high but very scarce. It is said that they can be bought at $8 per barrel at Bristol's Hope, but the supply is very limited. One grower went "down shore" last week and got sufficient for his seed to the same price. It is to be hoped that a supply will be forthcoming, and all will get what they want of this very important article.

The schr. Harry A. Nickerson arrived from Lunenburg on Wednesday morning with a cargo of coal for Messrs. McKee & Sons. She had 201 tons, and began landing it a few hours after her arrival. It found a ready sale at $19.50 the ton. Owing to the great shortage all through the winter here, practically every household was badly in need of fuel, but the shortage is now covered somewhat, and it is to be hoped that more, and yet more, will be forthcoming early.

The Rev. Mr. Rustad was in town from Island Cove on Thursday.

Mr. Alexander Yetman, son of the late Capt. Wm. Yetman, who went to St. John's some few weeks ago, and who was employed at Mr. E. Simmons' grocery store here, returned on Tuesday night last.

As a stain takes a long time to wear out, so does a hard winter take a long time to give summer its place. The past few days--with the exception of to-day, Thursday--has passed on into the past with a sting of winter in them. Quite a bit of snow fell around

HOW VICTORIA WILL CELEBRATE THE ANNIVERSARY.

VICTORIA, B.C., April 28th, 1920.

The residence of Mrs. Michael Fleming, which formerly stood on Carbonar Road, has now been pulled down across the Handley-Page aviation grounds and placed in its future position, near the present one--the one now occupied for years by the Fleming family, Mr. Fleming, some three years before his death built the house on Carbonar Road with the intention of removing there to live, but his death necessitated the abandonment of that plan.

The tug Ingraham arrived here Wednesday morning to take the auxiliary schooner Hr. Grace to St. John's. She left with her in tow the same day.

Mr. Alfred Sheppard left by Thursday evening's train for Montreal to seek employment.

Herring were on the market early Thursday morning, and were of a fairly good size, and as to the taste--mum-in--and sold readily at 30c. the dozen.

The remains of Miss Minnie Allan, who died recently at Montreal, were conveyed here by train Thursday. The funeral took place at noon Friday, from the railway station, interment being at the Presbyterian Cemetery.

Jan 13, 1919, 11 a.m.

In its observance of the Hudson's Bay Company's birthday, Victoria will not be outdone by the other four cities in which the celebrations will center--Winnipeg, Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver. Preparations are being made for a monster pageant in which floats, tableaux, Indians and trappers will illustrate the romance of the early fur trade and in the parade will march provincial and city officials, members of the city council, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Great War Veterans, Board of Trade, Real Estate Exchange, Women's Clubs, civic societies, Vancouver Island Automobile Association and the Victoria and Island Development Association. The line is expected to be several miles long.

The city will declare a holiday during the festivities. Schools and business houses will be closed and Victoria's streets will be elaborately decorated. The railways have made arrangements to bring in crowds of up-country people and everything indicates the event will be one of the most memorable in the history of the city.

RUMFORD

THE WHOLESOME BAKING POWDER

In the Prize Ring.

WILDE PICKING UP.

New York.—When Jimmy Wilde bumped into Jack Sharkey in his first bout in this country and came out on the short end of it there were many predictions that his tour through this country would be a failure. Being outpointed by the American, who had not been doing anything startling in the ring for some time, would ruin the little Briton's drawing power, it was said. This upset, however, has done little to impair Jimmy's earning capacity, and he finds no difficulty in getting engagements for purses that were hitherto unheard of for the little chaps for short bouts. The advent of the British flyweight champion has done a lot to boost the interest among the midgets and has helped to fatten the bank rolls of the lightest division in the ring in a style that the contenders hardly ever dreamed of.

If Jimmy cared to engage in a contest every week he could be accommodated, in spite of the fact that when he came here the fans could not see where an opponent could be found able to give him a hard workout. His coming has stimulated interest in the little fellows and it may not be long before a high-class champion will be developed in this country.

Wilde should have no difficulty whatever in packing up a fortune of at least $100,000 during his stay in the United States. It is rumored that he is to receive a guarantee of $7,000 for his eight round bout against Battling Murray at Camden on April 21. He received $5,000 for his set-to with Patsy Wallace, in Philadelphia, the total amounting to, almost $1,000 a round. That seems rather fair compensation, even in these days of inflated prices.

The tiny Briton has been offered a fat guarantee of $10,000 to meet Patsy Wallace in Detroit for ten rounds, but Jimmy is apparently not very anxious to mingle with this hard-hitting scrapper again, for some time, at any rate. The Detroit promoter wants Wilde to go ten rounds with Wallace. A Philadelphia promoter has also offered the Briton $5,000 for a return engagement of six rounds with Wallace, so it may be seen that his services are in demand.

AUSTRALIAN CHAMPS KEEN TO DEFEND TITLES.

New York.—While American champions are not very keen to defend their titles, recent word from Australia demonstrates that the headliners over there keep rather busy. In looking over the boxing news just arrived from the Antipodes, it does not appear as if the crop of boxers down there would set the world on fire. Still they box frequently, and in this respect are unlike American boxers. For instance, Dave Wall, the leader of the paper-weight brigade, fought twice inside a month. In the first bout he defeated Les Troy, a rugged lad, on points, but in the next contest he was beaten so badly by Bobby Gray that he refused to come out of the corner for the thirteenth round. Wall had been knocked but once before by Gray, and showed his game-ness by giving his closest rival another chance.

The heavyweight situation must be a pretty sad one as far as the makeup of the contenders is concerned. Albert Lloyd, the champion, scales only 174 pounds, while George Cook, who gave him a tough draw battle, is really in the middleweight class, tipping the beam at only 155 pounds.

Contrary to the general opinion of boxing followers here that no one but a native of a foreign country can hold the championship in any division, the Australian papers consider Harry Stone the lightweight title-holder of the Antipodes in the absence of Llew Edwards in this country.

One of the interesting phases of the Australian boxing situation at the present time is the invasion of the Philippines, and there are some lively chaps among these colonists of Uncle Sam.

Sid Godfrey, the featherweight champion, gave Harry Holmes a return engagement within a few weeks' time, in spite of the fact that the general impression was that Holmes got the worst of the referee's decision. This time Godfrey won quite handsily.

Teddy Booth is an Australian lightweight who is making quite a mark for himself as a dispenser of knock-outs. He dropped Mick Rutherford, Digger Evans' sparring partner, for the full count in the eleventh round of a bout recently making his sixteenth K. O. in a row.

A KNOCKE, A NOVICE AND A JOKE

New York.—Jack Johnson, who is suffering from nostalgia to such an extent that he intends to return to the United States even though it may cost him a year in jail, has been talking again. Johnson's wandering in foreign lands for the last six years seemed to have soured his nature and warped his judgment. He is busy knocking every one and everything connected with the boxing game.

Recently he revived the yarn that he had thrown the fight to Jess Willard at Havana. He is quoted as saying that Willard was such a good-natured easy-going boob that he gave him no chance to fall until the twenty-third round. Johnson said that the ring canvas was so hot that he could hardly lay down long enough to be counted out, as his back was burning.

In discussing Georges Carpentier, Johnson said that the Frenchman was a joke. He would not even admit that Georges was a clever boxer.

Jack Dempsey is treated with no more consideration. "He's just an over-rated novice" is the way Johnson sized him up.

Johnson's too free use of his tongue has earned him the resentment of fistic fans along the California border. The black was signed up for three bouts at Mexacalt by a syndicate of sporting men.

Recently the first of the proposed three bouts was held and Johnson fell flat as a drawing card. It was six rounds in which Johnson won a decision over Pete Jackson. Johnson had become so unpopular because of his gab that Harry Woodbury refused to referee.

The slim attendance was a severe disappointment to Johnson, who is desperately in need of money to fight his case in Chicago. He had figured on getting Fred Fulton to meet him and he expected to make plenty of money out of that one, but Fulton said no.

Johnson can fight even yet. He has done a great deal of hard work of late and much of the fat that he carried into the ring at Havana has been removed.

Jack has kept in shape by wrestling bulls, tugging against a team of horses and other strong arm stunts. All this has hardened his flesh but probably has not added anything to his speed.

OFFERED $100,000 FOR THREE BOUTS.

New York, April 27.—Benny Leonard has been offered $100,000 for three bouts in Jersey City under the management of Dave Driscoll, and negotiations between the latter and Billy Gibson are now going on. Driscoll would have Leonard meet Georges Pappin in one bout, Mike O'Dowd, middleweight champion, in another and Ritchie Mitchell or Johnny Dundee in a third. All the bouts would be twelve rounds in length. One of the bouts, the one with O'Dowd, would probably be an open air affair.

BOXING AT JERSEY CITY.

Jersey City, N. J., April 27.—Willie Jackson of New York outboxed Jack Lawlor of Omaha, Neb., in an eight-round bout here to-night. Lawlor, who made his first appearance in the East, covered up and clinched frequently during the first rounds.

He showed more aggressiveness in the fifth and sixth, when he placed several hard rights to the head. In the seventh, Jackson, off balance, went down for a second from a light blow. Jackson weighed 133 1/4 pounds, and his opponent 132 1/4.

Jack Bloomfield, an English light-heavyweight, won his first bout in this country, outpointing Walter McGirr of New York in a six-round contest. Spider Roach of San Francisco defeated Bert Spencer of Brooklyn in a six-round bout.

LANGFORD HAS K. O. RECORD.

New York.—Sam Langford, who still keeps peeping up and howling 'em over, holds the record for knock-outs, with a total of 70. Jimmy Wilde is next, with sixty in the last ten years, but hasn't been adding much to that starting over here. Benny Leonard is a close third, with fifty-four and if he were a little busier in the ring might easily equal the "Tar Baby's" mark. Kid Williams, former bantam champion, put forty-eight to sleep in his career. Other K. O. performances are: K. O. Milk O'Dowd, 32; Jack Britton, 25; Jack Dempsey, 43 in the last five years; Johnny Kilbane, 21; Battling Levinsky, 20; and Jack Perry 32, 13 of them in the last year.

OPEN GLOVE BLOW SHOULD NOT BE ALLOWED.

New York, April 20.—Reports of Pal Moore's recent bout with Frankie Daly at Boston, in which Moore was awarded the decision say that most of Moore's blows were delivered with the open glove. This is a practice that is not countenanced by English referees. When Moore boxed Jimmy Wilde in London the referee decided against the Memphis bantam because he had failed to close his fist, and he was right.

A blow with the open glove is a violation of the rules, and means nothing. It is a great mistake to award points for that style of work. American referees should decide the same way as the English officials if they were not so afraid of being misunderstood by the crowd.

CARPENTIER TO GET BIG PAY FROM CIRCUS.

New York, April 27.—For $2,000 a day according to the circus publicity agents, Georges Carpentier, the French champion, will mingle with elephants and clowns in one of the rings of the Sells-Floto Circus. Announcement of a contract that will net the boxer $100,000 was made today.

Carpentier will make his first appearance with the circus in Washington, May 10. His next appearance will be deferred until May 20 in Cleveland, in order that he may keep previously-made engagements in the meantime. He will make a 70-day tour, giving two exhibitions a day.

The French boxer's contract was secured through a syndicate headed by Jack Curley.

Carpenters' Strike Still Unsettled.

The Carpenter's strike, after a week's duration, is still unsettled. The men went out on Monday. They had been receiving 40 cents an hour, or $4 a day. Their present demand is for 60c. an hour. A year ago this demand was made by them and a month before the strike they also wrote, asking for the increase. Offers of 50 cents an hour, made to individual workers, were refused. The Carpenters are members of the local branch of the Brotherhood of Carpenters, numbering 250,000. The employers have not recognized the Union.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

OUR COULD-HAVE-BEEN GREAT.

What a lot of pleasures people do get out of the things they might have been and done! Here's an example of what I mean:

A friend of mine when she was a girl, had a chum who went to a dramatic training school. The chum was very anxious to have her go to the school, too, and got her to take the examinations, which she passed creditably. But her hard-hearted parents had other plans for her. As it happened, the girl who went to the dramatic training school actually became an actress of national note. Consequently, my friend feels fully persuaded that if she had been allowed to go as great an actress.

She often speaks with half-melancholy half-pleasureful regrets of how she came to having a life like mine.

Never Questions Her Own Talent.

Any possibility that she might not have proved to have the talent that R-has, she does not consider. Any of the ten thousand slips that apt to occur between the cup of life and the lips that are eager to drain it.

I don't suppose there is anyone of who doesn't know someone who would have been a great singer if she had not given up her career to save someone from a broken heart by marrying him.

Occasionally it is the family of the light-have-been-great who like to talk about their could-have-been achievements.

Why Would Have Been a Great Writer.

It sometimes wish, a mother often says to me, "that Amy had had to go on her own living, for I simply wish she would have been a successful writer. Of course I'm glad she married so happily—but she has so much talent, it's a shame for her not to use it. How proud I would have been to pick up H's or A's and see them or story by her in it!"

Amy's talent is attested by the fact that she stood at the head of her high school class (of 50) in English composition, that her teacher said that she had great ability, that she writes wonderful little rhymes, the most interesting letters.

Household Notes.

If the feet burn, bathe them daily in water in which there is a little bicarbonate of soda.

Burnt matches may be used a second time if held in a pair of pincers over a flame.

Save the tiny plants when thinning lettuce in the garden—they are delicious in the salad bowl.

Fine clean white soap, placed in a double bag and heated, is a good substitute for a hot-water bottle.

The tender green stalks as well as the bulbs of young onions may be used for flavoring soups and salads.

A good Spring salad is made of young dandelion cooked and mixed with hard-boiled egg yolks and cheese.

A good stuffing for Summer porch pillows can be made out of newspaper cut in strips and crinkled.

A grapevine, properly trellised, will cover one side of a house in time, and will be as beautiful as it is useful.

Twist up all your pieces of waste paper and stuff into grocery cartons—they will do splendidly for a brief fire.

Little embroidered guest towels, cut in two and properly finished, make excellent bibs for babies.

To a bar of castile soap dissolved in boiling water add one pint of ammonia and two of clear water. This makes a good cleaning fluid.

The salt used for freezing ice cream can be saved and used again—simply empty the salt and cracked ice together into a sack until the ice has melted.

HELPING HANDS.

"If I had a lot of money," sighs the man of dreaming soul, "I would make the world more sunny, help the people from the hole, I'd take bitters to the thirsty, heal the sick ones' pains and aches, and pack victuals to the hungry rubes and fakes. But I'm poor, and this world loses; I can drip no golden showers; ah, that pent-up Syracuse are contracting my powers!" But a man can make things better, make his fellows smile again, though the belt beneath his sweater holds no store of iron men. I have known some benefactors who were lacking fifteen cents, and they were the ablest actors in the ranks of helpful agents. You can give a friend assistance, help a neighbor every day, though your roll be in the distance, forty thousand miles away. You can cheer some struggling mortal, tote his burden for a while, and the heart-sick one a chorle, and the grouchy one a smile. If you had a lot of plunder, bundles that would choke a cow, would you do much more, I wonder, than we see you doing now?

TIME TO GO FISHING.

It's time to go fishing again! The blue's in the sky and the breeze is calling the city-worn men To come to the lakes and the seas. There are dreams to be dreamed in a day.

There are wonderful pictures to see, It is time to be up and away To the haunts where the soul can go free.

Life cannot be lived in one place. Not in toll can man's glory be told, Hard grow the lines in his face Who thinks but of silver and gold; There are beauties of nature to love, And joys for the joyous to claim, And the chorus of birds from above Is as sweet as the whisper of fame.

The body needs rest from the grind, The soul needs its moments of peace, The tired and trouble-worn mind Needs respite and rest and release; And each in his turn must put down His duty and portion of care, Must turn for a time from the town And find true contentment somewhere.

It's time, almost time to depart From the heat and the turmoil of strife, The struggle for place and its smart, And gather the gladness of life; Though each one must follow his choice In forsaking the struggles of men, Soul and body, once more I rejoice That it's time to go fishing again!

The Opening of an Era.

The end of a time of uncertainty, unrest and confusion came on Tuesday, May 8, 1860, when the two Houses of Parliament declared Charles II. king by inherent birthright and lawful undoubted succession, and voted his £50,000, with £10,000 to the Duke of York and £5,000 to the Duke of Gloucester; while the City, the Army and the Navy acclaimed the decision with apparent unanimity. So ended the reign of the "sinners" was about to begin. The Puritans had enjoyed their chance and had abused it. They had made England drab, dreary and discontented; and except in their own sect, few, indeed, were found to lament when "a livelier age came tittering on to drive them from the stage."

In the event, it is true, the new age proved much too lively for all the sober sense of the people; but at the moment of the Restoration hope ran high and rejoicing was general. So many members of the Houses, in fact, proved to be animated by exuberant loyalty that much controversy arose over the selection of the deputation sent to Holland with a reply to the King's gracious words embodied in the Declaration of Breda; but eventually six peers and twelve commoners were nominated and sailed in Admiral Montagu's squadron to Breda, bearing with them the best credentials in the form of £4,000 in gold. And they were but the precursors of several bands, including the Town Clerk and several aldermen of London, and six prominent Presbyterians, whose presence Charles, if free to express preference, would undoubtedly have dispensed with! In fine, it was under the most respectable auspices that the age destined to be the least respectable in our annals was ushered in.

Had Him There.

During his recent continental tour General Booth told some amusing anecdotes about the early days of the Salvation Army.

I remember (he said) on one occasion that a clergyman came up to one of our bandmasters, and angrily inquired why the band was making "all that noise."

Promptly came the retort: "What are the church bells ringing for?"

The cleric replied: "To call the people to church."

The Salvationist's rejoinder was: "Well, while your bells are calling the people to church, our band goes out and fetches them in."

THE AWFUL REACTION OF INFLUENZA

May be Overcome by Vinol Because it Enriches the Blood and Creates Strength

Sickness always leaves the blood poor, thin and devitalized and the system weak, run-down and in a nervous condition. The one great remedy to create strength after sickness is VINOL, because it contains the tissue building elements of fresh cod's livers, aided by the blood, strength and vitality making elements of tonic iron, beef peptone and hypophosphites. It creates a hearty appetite, aids digestion, quickens the circulation, and every nerve organ and muscle of the body is soon filled with new strength, energy and vitality.

If you are just recovering from influenza, the grippe, or any severe sickness, VINOL is what you need to build you up.

Your druggist will return your money if it fails to benefit you.

Col. Henry Waterson, the veteran Kentucky journalist, who was invited to the New York Press Club dinner, at which nearly all the Presidential possibilities will be present, and who is now an octogenarian, wrote that he would like to come, but was afraid the affair would be "too dry." In his letter he says: "It would do me good to rub my old bones agin your young bones. But, dear boys, to quote Scripture, 'I ain't eidle to it.' The 'pain in the back' and the 'stitch in the side,' and the 'bone in the leg' with which I sometimes evade the children at home, may be a trifle exaggerated, but the eighty years are enough," as our little friend 'Hamlet' observed, or was it Macbeth—maybe Othello—no matter who, the fact being the thought of a long journey to a dry carouse is little short of appalling. I do pity you, boys. Not even light beers and wines. Why don't you get up an insurrection? I am a prohibitionist with modifications; a female suffragist—with limitations; but not wholly a dam'd fool."

Thanks.

Editor Evening Telegram

Dear Sir—Would you kindly give me space in your valuable paper, so that I may have the privilege of thanking publicly: Organists King, Christian and McCarthy for their indispensable services at the Sacred Concerts in the R. C. Cathedral, the ladies and gentlemen who acquitted themselves so well in their solos, the organists of the other Churches who while not taking a prominent part, did yeoman service in enlivening the members of their fine choirs to whom I am deeply grateful. Their loyalty and hearty response to my baton both at rehearsals and on the nights of the Concert was an inspiration to me. The large combination of singers, made possible a performance of these grand old choruses, as was never heard before in St. John's.

I also thank the Knights of Columbus who so efficiently did the ushering, not by any means an easy task, the newspapers for the insertion of many items, to keep the Sacred Concert before the public, who, I was pleased to see turned out in such large numbers on both occasions, and thus dissipated the idea which was in the minds of many, that the appreciation of good music in St. John's was a thing of the past.

Yours sincerely,

CHARLES HUTTON,
Organist, R. C. Cathedral,
St. John's, May 8, 1920.

Committee Meeting.

Of Proposed Consumers' League.
The Committee of the proposed Consumers' League held a very successful meeting at the Board of Trade Rooms last night. Representatives of the various labor organizations and the following were present: Revs. Dr. Jones, D. B. Hemmison, Gordon Dickie, Canon Field, Brinton, and Dr. V. P. Burke. The following resolution was moved by Rev. Dr. Jones, seconded by Mr. T. Peel, and carried unanimously: "That a committee of three be appointed to ascertain the duties and functions of a Consumers' League and to prepare a series of resolutions to be presented at a public meeting at an early date." It was moved by Rev. Mr. Dickie that the committee consist of Dr. Burke, convenor, Rev. Dr. Jones and the chairman, Mr. A. E. Earle. Mr. T. Peel spoke on the needs of a Consumers' League and urged that immediate action was necessary. Mr. E. Doyle also addressed the meeting and gave some very helpful information. Messrs. Earle, Peel and Doyle have interviewed the Government who have promised the enactment of legislation to deal with profiteering. At a public meeting to be held shortly the question of the high cost of living will be fully dealt with by a number of good speakers.

Attainment's Crew Had Thrilling Time.

The Captain and Mate of the schooner Attainment tell of a thrilling escape which the whole ship's crew had when their vessel was wrecked in the Bay of Fundy. On Sunday morning, April 25, at one o'clock in the morning, with snow overtook the vessel and drove her ashore at Long Island, N.S. A terrible sea, mountains high was running, and until 11 o'clock nothing in the shape of an attempt to get ashore could be made. At that hour the mate and one of the crew lowered a dory with the intention of rowing ashore with a line. The dory however, was no sooner in the water than she was beaten to pieces against the ship's side, the two men having a narrow escape from drowning. Two hours later, at 10 o'clock, a man was seen on shore and the Captain and Mate, consulting, decided to drift a line to shore by attaching it to an empty oil cask. A cask with the line attached was thereupon thrown overboard and was secured by men on the beach. Through this means a life saving apparatus was rigged and by it a Portuguese sailor and Mrs. Sheppard, the Captain's wife were the first to leave the ship. The Captain, mate and cook remained on board. At 11 o'clock the ship was striking heavily and it was feared that at any moment the spars would come crashing down. The cabin floor, was forced upwards and the rudder, and rudderpost were broken in pieces. Six feet of water were in the hold, and the ship was settling fast. The three on-board therefore decided to abandon her. A motor boat, which attempted to effect a rescue, had to return to shore as the seas ran too high to permit of her getting alongside, and the breeches buoy had to be used to effect an escape from the ill-fated vessel.

Funeral Obsequies.

All that was mortal of Alice Catherine, beloved wife of Mr. Wallace R. Goobie, and youngest daughter of Mary and the late William H. Cook, loving and tender hands laid to rest yesterday in a sunny spot in the General Protestant Cemetery. The deceased lady was in the 38th year of her age, her passing taking place on Wednesday. Besides a husband, Mrs. Goobie leaves to mourn five children, mother and three sisters, Mrs. Jacob Chafe, Mrs. Levi Chafe and Mrs. Geo. Rideout, to all of whom sincere sympathy is extended. Mrs. Goobie had been in the shadow of death for some time, yet her dauntless spirit regarded the coming of the grim spectre without fear or dismay, and when the final summons came was fully prepared to respond, and having called her dear ones to her for a last fond farewell, she passed quietly into that sleep from which there is no awaking. At the graveside yesterday friends gathered to pay their tribute of respect, and the casket in which the body reposed was covered with flowers sent in loving memory. Rev. Mr. Bugden conducted the funeral services and earth received for a time the body which shall rise again when mortal shall have put on immortality.

Newfoundlander Lost at Sea.

A letter has been received from the Danish Consul at Halifax, saying that James Fleming, of Spaniard's Bay, had been lost in the wreck of the Danish barque 'Albert' on the coast of Sweden, sometime the past winter. The letter also says that seaman Fleming joined the ship at Savannah, U.S.A., and was bound for Denmark. These are the only particulars. The unfortunate young man was 27 years of age. His mother is not living; two sisters are at Sydney, Nova Scotia, and a brother, who was with the Canadians in the late war, is at present in Western Canada. His father was lost in the 'Lake Simcoe' four or five years ago, and an uncle, James Fleming, died at sea, on a voyage from India, in 1893. The latter had been sailing out of England for several years, and was first mate of the British ship Earl of Zetland at the time of his death. These tragedies of the sea are woven into our lives. We pay tribute to-day, as in the past, and give our share of the toll in full.—Com. Spaniard's Bay, May 6, 1920.

St. John's Resident Describes His Daughter's Cure from Eczema.

"I am more than grateful since using your wonderful D.D.D. for eczema. My little girl was troubled with weeping eczema. I used everything but to no use and thought D.D.D. would be of no use either. My girl's head became so bad I had to clip her hair off and keep her from school. She got sores all over her body. I used six bottles and am proud to say she is cured. Not a pimple or rash and her skin is clear and white and all the itching gone. I will recommend D.D.D. to any one I know who is troubled with eczema. I am ever so happy and thankful for your wonderful cure."

Neave's Food

Just pause for a moment—ind picture your little baby when he is a few years old. Will he be big, strong and robust, or...

It all depends on the food you put in his bottle to-day.

A TORONTO MOTHER:
Mrs. J. W. Paleman, 34 Harriet St., Toronto, is writing about Neave's Food says, "When I first knew one of my friends her baby Jack was eight months old and dying by inches. She had tried three Foods because her Jack could not digest milk. At last I fetched her a tin of Neave's Food. At the end of a month, Jack was rapidly gaining flesh and was bright and happy. He is a lovely boy now and she declares Neave's Food saved his life. And it did!"

EVERY MOTHER should send for Free Sample Tin, which will be forwarded on receipt of 25c. in postage. This will be refunded on receipt of 25c. in postage. Write to Neave's Food Co., Ltd., 10 Post Office Building, London, W., England.

The Flag Came Down.

Rear-Admiral Donald Hopwood, whose recently published book entitled "The New Navy" has created something of a stir in Service circles, is credited with the following:

A rector of a certain remote country parish (says Admiral Hopwood) bought a new flag for the church tower, and as it fluttered gaily aloft it was eyed with marked approval by his parishioners.

All save one, an old naval signaller, a newcomer in the village, who was observed to be looking askance at it.

"Don't you like our new flag, Jack?" asked the worthy rector one day when he chanced to meet him.

"No, sir, I don't," replied the old signaller. "Nor would you, parson, if you knew the meaning of it."

"Oh! And what does it mean, pray?"

"It means, 'In distress; want a pilot.'"

Salt and Electricity for Cancer.

Instead of cutting out a cancer of the mouth or throat, Dr. Norman Patterson, of London Hospital, burns it out by the process called diathermy, which is the application of a high frequency electric current, which reverses its direction at the rate of about a million times a second. One electrode is placed over the chest or abdomen with layers of lint saturated in saline solution between it and the skin. The other electrode, in the form of a needle, spatula or button is applied to the tissues around the part to be excised. Owing to the resistance offered to the passage of the current, heat is produced and the albumin in the tissues is coagulated.

The advantages of this method are that there is no bleeding, the wound is absolutely sterilized, the tissues in the neighborhood of the cancer are totally destroyed so that implantation of cancer cells in healthy tissue is impossible, all vascular tissues are sealed up, there is scarcely any shock; if the tumor reappears the diathermy can easily be applied again, the scar-tissue is denser and spreads further than when the knife is used. Tumors can be reached directly, with which the knife could only be reached after extensive dissection.

After the tumor has been removed Dr. Patterson runs his instrument all over the surface of the cavity, thus scarring the whole surface like a burn.

He warns that diathermy is rarely successful in the larynx as it is likely to cause swelling that is obstructive to breathing or a possible abscess in the neck; but it is highly successful in the pharynx and on the tongue.

A Woman Politician.

One prominent woman politician in England is Lady Bonham-Carter, wife of Sir Maurice Bonham-Carter, and daughter of the Rt. Hon. H. H. Asquith, ex-Prime Minister, but once more a member of the House of Commons and parliamentary leader of a section of the Liberal Party.

Lady Bonham-Carter will be best known as Helen Violet Asquith, prominent in the woman franchise movement and a defender of her father's government on many platforms. In the recent electoral campaign in Paisley, Scotland, which resulted in Mr. Asquith's return, she took an active part, speaking from many platforms and canvassing through several districts of the constituency.

To a considerable extent she has inherited her father's great gift of using words, for it is as a speaker that Mr. Asquith will be remembered rather than an administrator.

In 1915 Helen Violet Asquith married Sir Maurice Bonham-Carter who, since 1918, has been Assistant-Secretary to the Minister of Reconstruction. He was born in 1880; was educated at Winchester and Balliol College, Oxford, and was called to the Bar in 1909. For six years he was private secretary to Mr. Asquith and for five years he has been Mr. Asquith's son-in-law.

A Novel Music Holder.

Much inconvenience and annoyance is caused by the difficulty of making some books of music stand on the rack provided on the piano, as they are cumbersome. On the other hand, some copies are too flimsy to stand upright, and are continually falling forward on to the player's knees.

Here is a bright idea to remedy this. Procure a piece of ribbon about a yard long, or a little less, and at each end fasten a fairly heavy weight. One end can then hang down inside the piano, while the other is carried over the page of music which requires weighting down. Many ideas will suggest themselves for weights, but small china pigs or other animal ornaments make very good weights, and look quite artistic.

To anyone living near the sea it is a very simple matter to find pretty stones having a natural hole through them all ready for the ribbon, and these make excellent weights.

Kipling's Cheques.

At one time Rudyard Kipling always paid his bills, no matter how small they happened to be, with cheques. After a while he discovered to his amazement that his bank account showed a much larger balance than the stubs of his chequebook warranted. In fact, while he was drawing cheques for small amounts almost daily, his money in the bank did not dwindle in the least. For a long time he was at a loss to account for this astonishing fact until he happened one day to visit an office, the occupant of which was an enthusiastic autograph collector. There the author saw one of his own cheques, framed and hanging on the wall. Thus the mystery was solved. It appeared that the local shopkeepers found that they could often get more for Kipling's cheques by selling them to autograph hunters than they could by cashing them at the bank, and so, although the author kept on drawing cheques, his bank balance remained almost intact.

Romance of Cotton.

The report that cotton has been discovered growing wild, in what was believed to be an Australian desert, opens vast possibilities of new fortunes. The history of cotton is strewn with El Dorados—except for some of those inventors whose ingenious machines of the eighteenth century have made riches for modern Lancashire. Arkwright is the most conspicuous instance of reward following merit. Most of them, like Hargreaves, died in poverty. It is only in our own times that vast fluctuations in the price of cotton have taken place, and that, of course, is due to the amazing ingenuity of the men who made the human-like machines that now do the work of a thousand men. When machinery was first applied in Britain one of these more fortunate inventors boasted that he had reduced the price of a specially fine kind of cotton from $100 to $4.00 for a quantity sufficient to make a lady's dress. We need him now.

Puzzling the Prelate.

There are some rattling good stories in "Records," Lord Fisher's new volume of reminiscences.

One of the best concerns a dinner-party he gave at his house.

There was present (writes Lord Fisher) an Archbishop. He was a great saint. Another of my guests was a famous conjurer.

After dinner we sat down to play cards. But the new pack I had ready was found to be missing.

"Hallo!" I said. "Where are the cards gone to?"

The conjurer said: "It doesn't matter; the Archbishop will let us have the pack he always carries about in his pocket."

The holy man furtively put his hand in his pocket, thinking my conjurer friend was only joking—and, dash it! there they were.

I never saw such a look in a man's face. He evidently thought Satan was crawling about somewhere.

Selecting the Cup Defender.

'RESOLUTE' AND 'VANITIE' TO SAIL TEST RACES IN JUNE.

Shamrock IV, the Challenger, Will Have Junior Shamrock for Trial Boat--Her Crew All British and Active as Grasshoppers.

By GEO. R. HUDSON (in Boston Sunday Herald.)

The Resolute's crew, to a man, has roamed the watery part of the world. No matter if foams flies knee deep over the lee rail and the deck slopes like a roof, with nothing more than a mere foothold between life and death, these sailors are very much at home. Tied them on to throat and peak halliards of the Resolute's monster mainsail and the fabric mounts foot by foot till the lofty stick is clothed and nothing remains but to sweat it up till rigging is taut as iron bars. And the jackyarder, too, must be set precisely or speed will suffer. Best, you see, is a requisite aboard a big racing sloop just as much as skill and cunning is essential for the after guard.

No Deer Isle Men in the Crew.

When the Defender was being made ready in 1895 her crew was composed of stalwart fishermen hailing from Deer Isle, Me., recruited by Capt. "Hank" Huff, that yacht's sailing master. The idea struck the popular family and the Deer Islanders proved capable and smart. The Columbia, next defender, carried such a crew. But these men have drifted away from active participation in yachting. The Resolute's crew of Norwegians will be on the basis of $105 per month with a bonus for every race when battling the Vanitie either in the preliminary trials of Newport beginning about May 20 and in the official trials to select a defender scheduled to start June 3, off New Haven. There is to be a bonus, too, for every race taken from the Shamrock IV and if the Resolute successfully defends the trophy each member of the crew may be handsomely rewarded.

The Vanitie will have a crew of about the same quality as the Resolute and Rear Commodore George Nichols has been selected as helmsman. He's clever, this Nichols, and the Vanitie will be a gainer thereby. When the Resolute went into commission in 1914 Rear Commodore Nichols was one of the after guard or, perhaps better way of expressing it, member of the sloop's advisory board.

151 DUCKWORTH ST.
(Next to Custom House.)

longed for the America's Cup, which, it must be admitted, is patterned more like a pitcher or ewer. Away back in 1851 it was spoken of as the "100-guinea cup." Anyhow, it's a coveted bit of silver, by whatever name it is known. Sir Thomas makes no bones of saying that he was a poor Irishman's son and started life as a grocer's clerk. At middle age he had been knighted by reason of his many philanthropies. When the Royal Ulster Yacht Club of Belfast gave notice of its intent to challenge in behalf of Sir Thomas, surprise was manifested in this country. The challenger knew very little about sail yachts or racing although he owned a large steam yacht, the Erin, and cruised extensively. He came, saw, but did not conquer.

That was in the fall of 1890 with Shamrock A new American boat, Columbia, was selected to keep the trophy on this side of the Atlantic and she defeated the visiting sloop three straight. The first race took place Oct. 18 and Shamrock was beaten by 10 minutes 8 seconds corrected time. The next day Columbia won again, finishing alone, as Shamrock withdrew after trouble with her topsail. The third and decisive race took place Oct. 20 and the Yankee yacht out-sailed her rival by 6 minutes 34 seconds corrected time. Sir Thomas built another challenger, Shamrock II, and was back again in 1901. Columbia being the defender. The baronet lost each race; on Sept. 28 by 1-minute 28 seconds; Oct. 3, by 3 minutes 45 seconds and, the day following the Irish sloop went down to defeat by the Reliance without any particular difficulty. Sir Thomas has replaced the palatial Erin with the Warrior, once owned by Mr. Cochran, strange as it may appear.

British Crew All Sailors.

The unnumbered Shamrock, a 23-meter sloop, is coming over to serve as trial boat for the challenger and should put in an appearance early next month. This racer is in charge of Capt. Draper, a British sailing master, and his crew is described as hopping from sheet to jig or down-haul like so many grasshoppers in a May meadow. Anyhow, they're credited with having been brought up with a hand in the tar pot, though a modern yacht with wire rigging can do quite nicely without the tar that was part and parcel of the earlier seagoing hemp. This 23-meter boat is under a ketch rig, and her racing gear will be transported from England in the White Star liner Adriatic. At Jacob's yard, City Island, where the Shamrock is being groomed for the fray, the newcomer is to be ripped and dressed of the strengthening timbers installed for the ocean passage. The Shamrocks may race in the western end of Long Island sound, while the Resolute and Vanitie are at grips further eastward, and it is not unlikely that the Britishers will make their harbor at Hempstead during the tanning up period.

So intense is the interest in the international match that both the Eastern Yacht Club of Marblehead and the Boston Yacht Club have scheduled cruises that will enable members and guests to witness the event from the decks of locally owned craft. The Eastern, headed by Commodore H. M. Sears's auxiliary schooner Constellation, will reach Glen Cove in vicinity of the Sandy Hook course, July 13, and the Boston with Commodore G. E. Williams's power cruiser Sinbad V, as flagship, may reach the gateway to New York on about the same date.

When a cup match is on the head liners are navigated with much precision. W. Sterling Burgess, Boston naval architect, whose effort during the last 10 or 12 years has been devoted to manufacture of airplanes at Marblehead, has been selected as the Vanitie's navigator, and the choice is regarded as eminently wise by the fraternity at large. As Rear Commodore Nichols has a host of acquaintances in New England, though with New York business connections it is not unfair to claim that the Gardner sloop's destinies will be shaped by Bostonians. Thus both Resolute and Vanitie should be acclaimed with pride by the home "crowd" when the lofty vessels come together to determine relative merit.

The Vanitie's sailing master is Gus Gautesen, formerly captain of the three-masted schooner yacht Kariss, property of the late T. P. Burgess of Dedham. Gautesen, like Christensen, though of Scandinavian origin, is a citizen of the United States. He bears the reputation of working out an exceptional crew and himself is up on all tricks necessary for the wooing of that elusive element, speed. The Resolute's tender, or "lodging house," is the steamer Montauk, with Capt. Cameron in charge. During the war, when R. W. Emmons, 2d, was lieutenant on the transport Mt. Vernon, formerly the German liner Kronprinzessin Ceclie, Cameron fitted in that ship's navigational department, and he is reputed to be eminently qualified to keep tabs on the Herreshoff sloop with her spare gear, sails and other equipment. Cup sloops are as hollow as the proverbial metal pot, all living accommodations being eliminated to save weight, therefore, the tender is fitted to serve all requirements of the racer's personnel. Capt. John Thompson of Boston, is the Montauk's chief officer and "Captain John," as he is familiarly spoken of hereabout, for a number of seasons was master of the Boston steam yacht Cashalot, owned by King Upton, with headquarters at Marblehead. As tender for the Vanitie the auxiliary steam yacht Kariss has been chartered. She was owned by C. H. Nelson, but during the war was employed as a sectional patrol. Her accommodations are ample for all hands.

WORLD ASCENDANCY

Brandram's BB WHITE Genuine Lead

THEY used it for the stage-coach of olden days in England—we use it in Canada today. Compare it with any other white lead or white paint, and you will decide that your house—or anything you wish to have truly white and remain white—must be painted with this brand which has survived as the leading white lead for nearly two centuries.

Thinned with linseed oil and turpentine, it makes a perfect white paint. Combined with coloring matter, it makes the satisfactory tinted paint of any shade. It is the basis for that finest of ready-mixed paint, B-H "English" Paint.

Made in a modern Canadian factory, and by the same process as was employed for its manufacture by its inventor in England, it is today the only survivor of all the patented white lead processes of that earlier generation. It has survived because it results in a white lead of exceptional fineness, whiteness and durability.

Civil Re-Establishment Committee.

Extensions Granted to Courses. Hon. George Shea presided over the regular meeting of the Civil Re-Establishment Committee, which took place yesterday afternoon. Some 38 cases were dealt with, and a number of extensions granted to training courses.

The Vocational Officer introduced a number of requests from returned men asking for loans to assist them in different enterprises. This matter is not within the scope of the Committee; but it has been forwarded to the Government with certain recommendations.

The Employment Report, submitted by Capt. Leo Murphy, showed a record week, positions having been found for 41 men since May 1st, as against 22 on the previous week. In this connection the firms of Anderson, Reid Mill Co., Mangle, Contractor, and others cannot be forgotten for their patriotic action in giving preference, in each instance, to returned veterans.

The Vocational Officer announced that Miss Ina Abbott had been obliged to resign her position as Teacher at Jensen Camp, owing to illness. Miss Abbott was a capable official and the Committee regretted to hear of her retirement.

The Land Settlement Scheme is being pushed with vigour. The Qualification Board, over which Hon. Dr. Campbell is Chairman, meets twice weekly, and most of the applications received have already been dealt with.

The matter of occupational training for invalids has received attention, and Hon. J. M. Kent, with Dr. W. W. Blackall and Miss Evelyn Smith have the subject well in hand and its organization is now fully completed.

A great deal of correspondence was gone through and the session concluded at a late hour.

"Cubs" Elect Officers.

The Annual Meeting of the Cubs Baseball Club was held in the Office of Dr. M. S. Power at 7 o'clock on May 6th, 1920. After the reading of the financial report, which showed the Club to be in a flourishing condition, the election of officers for the coming season took place, with the following result:—

Hon. President—J. B. Orr. President—W. Collins. Sec. Treasurer—J. Canning. Manager—L. Orr. Captain—C. Hall.

Delegates—L. Orr and E. Clouston. Judging by the attendance and the interest shown throughout, the season of 1920 promises to be a most successful one.

House of Assembly.

May 7, 1920.

The House met at 3 p.m. Petitions were presented by Sir Michael Cashin, Mr. Fox and Hon. Mr. Warren.

In reply to Mr. Sullivan, the Prime Minister stated that the increasing of freight rates by the Red Cross Line was under consideration of the Government.

The House then went into Committee on the Standardisation of Codfish Bill.

Hon. W. F. Coaker, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, reviewed the Bill briefly. The commission will make rules and regulations for the educating of fishermen in the better cure of their fish, and propaganda will be scattered among them. Politics would not be mixed up in the matter.

Sir M. P. Cashin, Leader of the Opposition, agreeing with the Bill, did not consider it advisable to leave the fixing of penalties in the hands of the commission.

Sir John C. Crosbie, (Port de Grave), spoke at some length on the bill. The Spanish markets wanted fish not the same quality as the other markets. Italy wanted good hard, dry fish, while Spain was somewhat the reverse. He thought the trouble with the Brazil market was that we are sending the good fish that once was shipped to that market to Italy, hence the claims, etc., coming from Brazil. He did not agree with a penalty on fishermen, as they were not to blame for making bad fish. The fish should be standardized when it leaves the merchants' stores and not when sold by the fishermen. A lot of trouble was caused by irresponsible men buying fish who knew nothing of the business. He had no desire to hamper the bill unduly, but asked the penalty clause to be more clearly defined so that no hardship would bear on the fishermen. He dealt with the outlook of the season's fish, and said that he noticed that in the Advocate Mr. Coaker had said that fish would be $12 shore and $10 Labrador.

Mr. Coaker.—That is No. 1, of course.

Sir John.—I don't agree that what you get for No. 1 is the price to the fishermen. The price to him is the average price that he gets for his whole voyage. He might get $12 for some, $10 for some more and $7 for some more. Well, the average price is what he calls the price. I am convinced that all is not going to be what Mr. Coaker thinks it is. All is not as rosy as you make it out to be.

Mr. Coaker.—It is not well for us to say that.

Sir John Crosbie.—It is just as well to warn the people what they are going to be up against. There is no use saying afterwards, "I told you so" when we don't say anything about it. He thought Mr. Coaker was letting up some on the Regulations, as he noticed he was satisfied now to let some people come here to buy fish. He courted all the competition possible. There was nothing that stimulated the price of fish like competition. Sir John said he did not profess to know the legal points in connection with the penalties. He left that to the legal lights of the House—the two on the Opposition side and one on the Government side, the Minister of Justice.

Mr. M. S. Sullivan (Placentia and St. Mary's), supported the Bill but hoped that the right men would be appointed to the Commission.

Hon. Mr. Warren explained there was no intention to penalize the fishermen other than what will happen to the man who comes to a merchant to sell bad fish. Well the "cut" on bad fish will be such that he will be penalized for not making good fish. To get the high price he will have to make good fish if not be penalized.

Mr. W. J. Walsh (Placentia and St. Mary's), followed along the lines of Mr. Sullivan's argument.

Messrs. J. R. MacDonell (St. George's), and C. J. Fox (St. John's East), were opposed to the Bill on principle. They spoke strongly against delegating power to the Commission which will be composed of men not responsible to the country, making laws, the making of which is the right of only the House or the Executive Council.

Mr. Fox also touched upon the attacks made upon him in the Daily Star. He congratulated the Prime Minister on being the controller of such "a worthy sheet." He knew that with such capable and decent literary talent displayed by the present writers in the Star, the Prime Minister must be greatly pleased. He had read in one of the Northcliffe papers recently that what Newfoundland had to fight most bitterly abroad was its press, but he could not but be convinced that any gentleman who wanted to set the papers in question right in that regard and show clearly that such was far from the truth, all he had to do was tie up a bundle of the "Daily Stars" of recent issues and send them along by first mail. Their perusal of that paper would immediately convince them they were grossly in error. Such a choice bit of sarcasm was not heard uttered for some time, as that delivered by Mr. Fox on the above subject.

Mr. N. J. Yimlico (St. John's East), thought that great care should be exercised in the appointing of men to the Commission. The men should be ones who were fully qualified to handle the matters with which the commission would be concerned. Dry goods clerks and office hands should not find their way thereon.

Mr. John Cheeseman (Burin), supported the Bill, after which the House closed until 8 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

The House resumed at 8 o'clock. Mr. Bennett thought with the other speakers that the House should not delegate its powers to outsiders. It was an action that we may regret very soon. He was strongly against penalizing the fishermen. Yet he did not know how this could be avoided under the Bill, as in the buying of the fish the merchant would protect himself, and the sufferer would be the man who perhaps through bad weather made poor fish. He did not want to see any hardship inflicted on the men who were picking their fish, as his constituents of Petty Harbour cured all their fish in this manner, and he could not see any hardship worked upon them. He advocated great caution on such an important matter. The bill is too important to be passed over lightly, and should be given great consideration, as he believed it meant a revolution in the fishing industry.

Short speeches were delivered by Mr. Coaker, Mr. Fox, Mr. Halfyard, and Mr. Gosse, after which the bill was read by the Clerk and passed, and stands for third reading on Monday.

Other bills passed through Committee were "The Codfish Report Bill," "The Women's Patriotic Association Bill" and "The Dept. of Marine and Fisheries Bill."

Mr. Walsh (Placentia and St. Mary's), in moving the adjournment of the House brought to the notice of the members the attacks on him in the Daily Star of yesterday. He had heard high falutin speeches made a night or two ago about the way in which certain people were going to have a clean press, but since that time the Star was worse than before. The attack referred to not alone hit him, but hit the district that endorsed him in November last, a district which had sent many a representative to the highest councils of the land both in Church and State. It was disgraceful that members could not speak their views in the House without being set upon by a set of press vampires who thrived on the dirty things they wrote about others, who are giving them no cause for complaint. As regards the words he complained of, the pen which put the words on paper was in the hands of a cur. His proper place was not in journalism but aimlessly swimming around at the bottom of the polluted waters of a dead sea surrounded by reptiles of his own class and breeding.

Notices of questions and bills were given, and the House adjourned until Monday at 8 o'clock.

"Puffing Billy", the First Locomotive.

One hundred years ago a practical locomotive was built in England, ran successfully for many years, and is still in existence. It was christened "Puffing Billy," and was built and partly invented by Timothy Hackworth, a foreman smith at Wylam, and a clever mechanic. Hackworth was Stephenson's great rival and there is no doubt that the "father of railways" spent his Sundays at Wylam making notes and sketches of "Puffing Billy."

For this reason Hackworth deserves a more prominent place in locomotive history than has generally been assigned to him. "Puffing Billy" was finished on May 9, 1812, and was put to work hauling coal wagons between Wylam Colliery and the wharves on the Tyne. The engine appears to have been successful from the start and it attracted much attention, mingled with opposition, from those who were interested in horse traction. "Billy" had to undergo repairs and improvements from time to time, until he became lighter in weight and was able to round curves with greater ease. The engine, however, worked continuously for about fifty years, and it was the first successful locomotive in the world. In 1865 "Puffing Billy" was placed in the Victoria and Albert Museum, London, where it can still be seen resting upon some of the original rails.

CITY'S HEALTH.

Opportunities in Long-Term Bonds

Bonds maturing in 1919 or 1920 may now be sold advantageously, and the funds reinvested in longer term securities. The benefits of present high interest yield rates may thereby be secured for a period of ten years and longer.

We shall be glad to offer suggestions.

Women's Comfort Boots & Shoes

Cushion Soles and Rubber Heels.

Wouldn't you like to have a pair of shoes that you could wear all day long without tiring your feet?

Perhaps you have given up all hope of ever finding such shoes. But here is your chance. The Cushion Comfort Shoes will give you the foot comfort you are seeking. And they are priced most economically.

$4.25 to $10.50 the pair.

These shoes are of good quality Black Kid, and have 10" rubber heels, which make walking easier. They come in two styles, Lace and Button, with tips, and have very flexible turned soles, as illustrated above.

Remember, there is no need of suffering from shoes which are uncomfortable. Step in and be fitted to-day.
