Representatives from nearly every Canadian rewing club were present and a few from the United States. The weather to-day was decidedly warm The weather to-day was decidedly warm. The bay all forencon was like a sheet of glass. The races were a mile and half straight away. Prominent among the visitors were Hanlan and O'Connor.

The officials were: Umpire, W. A. Littlejohn; judge at finish, Samuel Lount; starter, James Pearson; timers, R. W. Goulal, S. P. Grant and F. Hornsby. The Wolverines were the first to push to the lead, and were pulling a rapid stroke.

The Lachine crew were pulling very prettily, and were recognized as the most likely successors after the first half mile. The Lachine cessors after the first half mile. The Lacine and Baysides had taken the lead and were pulling well together. The Tecumsehs were rowing in good form and gradually gained on the Baysides and passed them. The Lachines came in first, time 9.15, and the Tecumsehs second.

Fred Thomson's Junior Single Second Heat In the junior singles second trial heat were the following contestants: A. Green, Grand Trunks; L. B. Stewart, Argonauts; D. M. Cameron, Leanders, Hamilton; F. H. Thompson, Argonauts; John Hurley, Dons, Toronto. F. H. Thompson took first place,

The start was a good one, and for a few yards they were all pulling together. The Donoghues were leading, with Curran and Cameron next. When the first half-mile had been reached the Donoghues and Dons were applied to the course and the other two on the other side. As they proceeded the distance seemed to get greater. Cameron and Curran, last year's champions, were leading the Catlins, while the Donoghues still kept a good lead on the Dons. Both of these crews rowed out of their course and lost by it. They fell to the rear of the other crews and the race was between Cameron and Curran and the Catlins. They were see-sawing right up to the finish, the Catlin crew passing the winning buoy slightly in the lead. Time 8.45 2-5.

The junior double scull race was the last event of the day. In it were G. H. Muntz and R. G. Muntz of the Argonauts, Joseph Sullivan and J. Hurley, Dons J. Bennett and J. Sheahan, Baysides.

Henry Clews of New York in his weekly financial review says: During the past week the stock market has shown more activity and some recoveries in prices, but the advances have been mainly due to increase sales by the "bears" having created sudden demands for covering "shorts," while there seems to be no improvement in the real spirit seems to be no improvement in the real spirit and tone of the market. No sooner is one line of "short" constructs liquidated than another is put out at the consequent advance, which is evidence of increasing determination on the "bear" side. The disposition to sell has been increased by the notable weakness of the Gould stocks, and especially of Union Pacific, which seems to have no friends either here or in Europe; and if Mr. G. is not an active "bear" he is at least counted in street opinion as a passive and if Mr. G. is not an active "bear" he is at least counted in street opinion as a passive one, which for practical purposes is reckoned as being almost the same thing, as it leads others to sell with all the more assurance.

All the symptoms indicate that it is hopeless to expect any extravagant buying spirit until there are stronger indications of a removal of the prevailing distrust than at present a rist.

removal of the prevailing distrust than at present exist.

The resumption of the silver agitation is also calculated to encourage this distrust, and is actually amounting to a pretty stubborn "bear" factor. The apprehension on this account, however, is perhaps more due to the seriousness of the view taken of the situation that would arise should a free coinage law be actually enacted than it is to any positive expectation that such a measure will really find a place in our attutes. Politics, however, are in an abnormally confused condition. Parties any concessions to popular clamor; and however repugnant free coinage may be to the common sense and the moral sense of a majority of our people, it is not impossible that the fundamental principles of a sound currency may be sacrificed to win a small minority of misguided voters.

These uncertainties have their natural may be sacrificed to win a small minority of misguided voters.

These uncertainties have their natural effect upon the banks and upon lenders generally. The reasons that are inducing European banks to accumulate cash and hold to it. tenaciously are causing our own banks to keep their loanable resources within easy reach. They will lend on call to any extent and at almost any rates; but time loans can be procured only with the utmost difficulty and upon a class of collaterals that are very scarce. It is true that the last bank statement showed an amount of surplus reserve 118 per cent. higher than that of the same date in 1890 and 1889; but it is also true that the west will have a wholly unprecedented surplus of wheat to send east, which places us in a condition of very delicate dependence on the problematical disposition of Europe to exchange its gold for our grain. Under these circumstances it would be almost impossible to borrow large amounts of money impossible to borrow large amounts of mone; for long purchases of stocks even did the con ditions happen to encourage such purchases.

GRATEFUL-COMFORTING EPPS'S COCOA BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digustion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocea, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be eyery tendency to disease. Hunareds of suble maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—First Service Gazette.
