POOR HAVE RIGHT TO GET DIVORCES

Northrup Would Do Away With Present Costly Mode of Procedure.

STRONG OPPOSITION

Roman Catholic Members Against Removing Any of Existing Obstacles.

for divorce or maintain that divorces should be granted at all but there should either be no divorces or there should be divorces for rich and poor alike. As it was, only people of considerable means could obtain a divorce in Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. In the other two provinces there were divorce courts.

Grotesque and Absurd. That the present grotesque and absurd procedure had not long ago exploded was largely due to Senator Schuchter, chairman of the divorce committee, who did all he could to avoid a great expense. But it was impossible in any case, and where divorces from distant cities like Edmonton, the expense ran into thousands of dollars. The only objection to our present system, in Mr. Northrup's opinion, was the persistent lobbying to which senators and members were subjected. Mr. Barnard (Victoria, B.C.) said Members are buttonholed in the corridors of the house and even their names were invaded by young and pretty women, anxious to be widowed by act of parliament.

Luxury for Rich. The royal commission in England had disagreed upon increasing the grounds for divorce, but the members were unanimous in recommending that the procedure be cheapened and simplified. Nothing was more likely to add to our social unrest in Canada than the universal opinion that there was one law for the rich and another for the poor.

"When a poor man comes to me and says that his wife has abandoned him and her children, and is living with another man in Watertown or Oswego, I can only advise him to get rich. The poor cannot get divorces in Canada."

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux said that as a Roman Catholic he was opposed to all divorce legislation. The deplorable condition of affairs in the United States should serve as a warning to Canada. In France the low birth rate was in part attributable to the divorce law of 1884, and there was a strong agitation for its modification or repeal.

P. B. Carvell (Carleton, N.B.) supported Mr. Northrup's motion and said: "Not legally recognized."

Judge Doherty, minister of justice, reminded the house that the law of Canada did not recognize divorce at all. It was beside the question to talk of reforming our divorce procedure, or of conferring jurisdiction upon the judges. How could the judges grant divorces, unless parliament first passed a law establishing the right to a divorce upon certain conditions therein prescribed? There was no inequality in the present system, because no person in the provinces of Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta had any legal right whatever to obtain a divorce. True, parliament did at times pass private bills which had the effect of divorces, but they constituted exceptions to a universal rule to which he would be glad to have no exceptions hereafter.

Mr. Barnard (Victoria, B.C.) said the divorce courts of British Columbia worked satisfactorily. He moved an amendment that the whole subject be referred to a select committee.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the effort seemed to be to make divorce easier. To this he was opposed. He thought the fewer divorces we had in this country the better.

Borden Suggests Conference. Upon motion of the prime minister the debate was adjourned. Mr. Borden said that he could not quite agree with the minister of justice that he had no divorce procedure. People came here to get divorces from parliament, just as in other countries they went to the courts. He thought that the proceedings were unnecessarily expensive and that many reforms might be introduced into our parliamentary procedure, especially in the way of preventing collision between the parties. However, all divorce bills originated in the senate and the senate committee was practically the divorce court. He therefore suggested a conference with the senate and the appointment hereafter of a joint committee to investigate the whole question, not with the idea of establishing divorce courts but for the purpose of improving the parliamentary procedure.

ARMY AVIATOR KILLED.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 16.—Lieut. J. McC. Murray of the United States Naval Aviation Corps, stationed here, was instantly killed about 4 o'clock this afternoon, when his machine plunged 800 feet into Pensacola Bay. The machine was demolished and Lieut. Murray's body was discovered shortly afterwards about 100 yards from the spot where he fell. Lieut. Murray had been flying over the gulf and was returning to the station when the accident occurred. An investigation has not revealed the cause of the accident. He was 32 years which were granted and renewed without any railway construction resulting therefrom, but Mr. Nesbitt (North Oxford) opined that cutting down the time for construction would not cause the railway companies to build any faster.

Taunted by Bennett. Then E. M. Macdonald, the Liberal member for Picton, N.S., proceeded to ask some questions about what happened in the railway committee last Tuesday, when the bill under consideration was passed.

"You should have been there," suddenly snapped R. B. Bennett of Calgary. "Instead of waiting until you were sent for on Thursday, when all the reactionaries and railway attorneys and the friends of privilege combined together to have the committee reverse the policy it had adopted two days before."

Mr. Macdonald demanded that Mr. Bennett withdraw his statement. Mr. Bennett: "I cannot withdraw the statement, because it is true. The railways rallied their men on that Thursday, and I have never known any corporation which could not rely upon your support."

Mr. Macdonald insisted that the statement that he had been sent for to vote in a certain way in the railway committee meeting must be withdrawn, and Mr. Richard Blain (Peel), who was in the chair, suggested that the member for Calgary should put himself in order.

"I must repeat," said Mr. Bennett, "that the railway companies had signals of distress flying last Thursday, and that the member for Picton and other members rushed to their assistance. That was patent to everybody."

"How can you prove that?" shouted Mr. Nesbitt of Oxford.

"By the way you acted," Mr. Nesbitt: "That is a falsehood."

Nesbitt's Return Thrust. Chairman Blain demanded order.

Mr. Bennett observed that Mr. Nesbitt was welcome to say what he pleased about him, and Mr. Nesbitt accepted the invitation to the extent of remarking that he had more respect for a June-bug than he had for the member for Calgary.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson moved that the committee rise and report progress. This was lost.

Mr. Macdonald insisted that Mr. Bennett withdraw his statement and denounced him as a man who had been "the creature of corporations all his life."

After some further colloquy the bill stood over.

CIVIC POSITIONS ARE BEING FILLED

Capable Men Will Be Chosen for Vacancies at the City Hall.

PROMOTIONS PLANNED

Acting City Treasurer to Get Permanent Position as Treasurer.

There is a tug-of-war these days between the board of control and the lobbyists for office. The board has held several sessions behind locked doors, and the latest one yesterday morning, and is endeavoring to fill the vacancies with capable men. The lobbyists learn more or less of the proceedings by leakage, and then camp on the trail of the mayor and controllers.

City Treasurer Conroy was in conference with the board yesterday over his retiring allowance. The amount will likely be settled by the council, also a majority of the board will probably recommend a couple of years' salary, $16,000. What may be anticipated is that a financier will be appointed to specialize in the work of sale of securities, supervision of sinking funds, and provision for increased revenues.

Acting City Treasurer Patterson may be promoted to city treasurer and Chief Accountant Black to deputy city treasurer. This would put the treasury department upon a basis that would meet the demand for protection of the city's finances and the position would necessarily have to be paid at least $10,000 a year.

Purchasing Agent. The appointment of a purchasing agent is about settled upon, and the position may go to Commissioner Chisholm, who has established an enviable reputation in civic government. He would take over the well organized staff of the purchasing branch of the works department, which already does the bulk of the buying of civic supplies. Gradually the new department would be equipped to do the purchasing for all departments.

This would make vacant the position of property commissioner, to which Thomas Fitzgerald may be promoted. The position of city architect is already vacant. By combining the two departments, and giving the head a competent architect as assistant, and efficiency preserved. So much of the work of the two departments dovetails that the merging of one in the other would be for betterment. The new chief inspector of electrical installation and his staff would probably report to the property commissioner. The position will likely go to F. Henry.

The appointment of general manager of the municipal abattoir may be announced at any moment, as the duties of that office must be attended to without much more delay.

Fire Commissioner. So much has to be considered in connection with the reorganization of the fire department that the appointment of a fire commissioner will probably be deferred for several weeks.

The policy of the Hocken administration, notwithstanding the daily lobby, is that the office must seek the man, the best interests of the city must be conserved, and the overhead charges for civic government must not be allowed to grow burdensome.

Very Latest Fancies of Fashion When Choosing Styles Suit Your Personality

By MADGE MARVEL

RETURN of smooth-faced cloth is promised for the spring, which means that broadcloth and similar fabrics will be back in favor. Also to foretell the solid colors having the leadership over mixtures.

If you have watched the shops carefully during the past few months you must have noticed the partiality shown the sassy cloths and the way in which the regular weaves were finding their way to the bargain tables. Indeed, at the moment, it is simply astonishing how cheaply some of the most excellent materials can be bought. It is by such apparently unimportant details that we are enabled to judge of the mode of tomorrow and the day after.

The wheel of fashion revolves at such speed in these modern days it seems disconcerting for the woman of small dress-making to have hope of keeping in the front ranks. It used to be a safe rule to buy a good suit for one really well-made wrap of expensive material and literally "use it up" until it was gone, knowing that as long as it lasted one was well served. But that time is past.

We should be hopelessly out of fashion if we followed the rule now. It seems wiser to have more and cheaper dresses, if one has the ambition to keep up with the modish procession. And the only way one can conscientiously discard frocks is to pay for the style instead of the material and workmanship, knowing that by the time the newness has gone the wear will have gone, too.

Who Are Dressed Best?

However, there are women who will never bring themselves to the point of running after every dress whim, and they continue to choose quiet, rich materials, and have them made so individual that they belong to them despite changes.

One may pertinently ask if, judged by the highest standard, these are not the best dressed women. No less an authority than Pauline has said that every woman should wear the clothes which suit her, and not try to wear the thing which is newest when it may be totally at odds with her type and requirements.

Oh, of course, there are the "slouches" but even they have their activities. Watch them dance if you think they are idlers. And it was not simply the soft twists of the coiffure, while back of that ornate or elaborate or curiously shaped wig of adornment, which is the fashion of the moment, but the simple, practical use for them they become more and more important.

The funny little Dutch bonnet with the outstanding ears is now the most familiar style, and shares favor with the close fitting cap of gold and jewels, which is a copy of the one that wore. Then there is the bandeau of jet or crystals, or the twist of tulle or ribbon which acts as a support for the tall, airy or parade plume. This plume has great flexibility of adjustment. Sometimes the feathers rise from a point above the forehead directly in line with the arch of the cupid's bow mouth, and shoot abruptly into the air, quite a foot above the head of the wearer.

Again one bunch of plumes will shoot backward at right angles to the left ear, and another will rise obliquely from a point on the other side of the head.

Or the front of the head will show soft bandings of tulle or glittering strands of crystals, lack of which are the soft twists of the coiffure, while back of that ornate or elaborate or curiously shaped wig of adornment, which is the fashion of the moment, but the simple, practical use for them they become more and more important.

Then set the tomatoes in a baking pan and cut a slice of the top of the tomatoes and scoop out enough to make a cavity big enough to hold an oyster and a mushroom. Brush with melted butter, dust with paprika and then fill the tomato cavities with the oyster and mushroom and place the pan in the oven until the tomatoes are tender. Bake every few minutes with salted butter and a dash of paprika.

This is one of my regular breakfasts while in New York for I have a large housekeeping apartment. The kitchen is the most important room without exception, and in my kitchen I have about everything I have ever heard of in the way of cooking appliances adaptable to a small family.

In making creamed oysters I melt a tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan and add a tablespoonful of flour with it, adding a pinch of nutmeg and gradually pour in a pint of cream, stirring well in order to prevent lumps from forming. When the mixture boils I add a quart of well drained oysters and allow the dish to boil till the oysters begin to curl. Then I season with a dash of salt and a little celery salt and a goodly dash of paprika and serve immediately on square slices of toast or with crackers.

Joining a Club

XXVIII.

I HAVE joined a club.

After preaching vigorously against "club life" in my column days and listening respectfully to my father and mother on the same subject, I have found advice to the four winds and joined the Waverley club.

The truth of the matter is that I don't get away from my job in my evenings I shall go to the club. Wherefore I am going to try pool and billiards for a change.

I had a long talk with Mary before the inspiration came, and tried my best to evolve from it some future plans for pleasant home companionship of a less flippant character. Mary can't seem to understand what I mean.

"You're just in the room with me, Peter, I'm satisfied," she said tearfully. "What in the world do you want to do?"

How could I answer that? If I told Mary I needed intellectual companionship—as well as physical—she'd misunderstand. Therefore I've given up the struggle and joined a club.

If Mary and I liked the same books and pictures and music, or if Mary's notions about anything were sufficiently robust to command my respect, we'd doubtless find a lot to talk about. But Mary is easily swayed. Her opinions depend largely upon the personal magnetism of the person who is talking.

"Just my opinion, exactly!" I've heard Mary exclaim when an eloquent partisan defended divorce. And a week later, if an equally eloquent friend should attack it, Mary would smile and agree, and be quite unaware of her inconsistency.

There are lots of women who agree with whatever you say and let it go at that. Which is delightful at times, but these, personally, I'd rather have my wife express a forceful opinion and stick to it. But the only time Mary is at all forceful is when she's stubborn, and when she's stubborn, she's invariably unreasonable, and there you have it.

"A club!" exclaimed Mary, when I told her. "Peter, you don't—you can't mean it!"

"Why not?" I asked defensively. "You're actually being selfish enough

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By Leona Dalrymple

Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as judges.

The truth, plain and unvarnished, about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with growing interest.

"What do you suppose makes him act that way?" EMBARRASSED.

MARY is ashamed of you—and can't help showing it. Perhaps he comes from a different social class and you do things that embarrass him, and he's just cad enough to be afraid that some one else will notice it. There are such people in the world, you know. I know a man who would rather go out with a girl who is a thief or a murderer than to be seen with one who doesn't wear her hat at the "smart."

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Saving Power of Hope Best Aid of Science

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).
Copyright, 1914, by L. K. Hirschberg.

HOPE springs eternal in the human breast. It has been ever so and it will always be. It is physiologically impossible to be lacking in hope, if the health that sniffs the morning air is in your body. Lack of hope is incompatible with robust sanity and an unimpaired physique.

There are no expressions more often heard by physicians than these:

"Why, doctor, I never had anything like this before!" or "That could never happen to me."

Both of these naive remarks are fundamentally due to the hope inherent in living tissues.

Indeed, it is impossible for a well, or partly ill, person to conceive, much less realize, herself or himself as sick, dead or a slave to paregoric, cocaine or other habit-forming drugs. It is the self-preservative, happy faculty of hope, carried beyond the frontiers of wisdom and discretion, which indulges itself in the often disastrous delays, which permit early "cancers and milder maladies, curable at their onset, to reach a fatal stage before the logical means of relief are sought.

You may recall that the name of the first woman was not Eve, according to the Greeks, but Pandora, made by the god Vulcan out of the earth. Pandora means all gifted. She was so named because all the gods each contributed a gift to her charms.

Pandora married Epimetheus in whose house was a box, which no mortal might open. Curiosity, the virtue and the vice of other wives, led Epimetheus, induced Pandora to peek into it. Out flew all the ills of human flesh, before the quick-witted Pandora could snap the lid and prevent the escape of hope.

"When man and nature mourned their first decay
All forgot the friendships guilty mind.
But Hope—the charmer—lingered still

Hope is the malmagging of life and the motive power of all.

After the death of Faltful, a comedian Christian in Bunyan's "The Pilgrim's Progress," Hope became his friend. This typifies poetically that even those who lack faith may still hope; even their faithless hearts, serving doctors destroy your faith in the happy outcome of disease, you must have hope for hope for something which doctors do not know.

Physicians and surgeons, no matter how superior and excessive their knowledge may be, are limited in their knowledge about the very disorders they know most about. Prof. Thomas MacCrae, one of the tubercular origin, leprosy, and even paresis are at this good hour among the ailments restored not by

Answers to Health Questions

C. B. J., Toronto—What shall I do for spots on the back of the hands and face?

The type of stained skin, which begins as small pimples, turns into crusts and then leaves the brownish yellow discoloration, can be removed by means of the electric needle in the same manner that surface hair is taken away from a woman's face.

L. T., Toronto—Kindly allow me to ask your advice about an effective remedy to remove undesirable hair from my lips.

Although the electric needle, radium, X-rays and various local mixtures are in use and any of these may be used, shaving and the use of peroxide of hydrogen afterwards, as well as electrolysis, is as good as anything, because with any of the methods the hair may return.

W. F., Toronto—What can I do for varicose veins?

These swollen, turgid, dilated blood caves are best and most permanently remedied only by a surgeon.

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

Dear Annie Laurie—I have a nice sweetheart, but there's something about him that is so peculiar. He's very nice to me when we are alone together, but the minute we go out where there are other people he acts so queer. If I didn't know him so well I'd think he is ashamed of me. If we are in the car he never looks at me at all; even when I speak to him he just stares right ahead straight out of the window. And in the theatre he's always looking somebody would hear what we said to each other—and we never say a thing that isn't all right.

What do you suppose makes him act that way? EMBARRASSED.

MARY is ashamed of you—and can't help showing it. Perhaps he comes from a different social class and you do things that embarrass him, and he's just cad enough to be afraid that some one else will notice it. There are such people in the world, you know. I know a man who would rather go out with a girl who is a thief or a murderer than to be seen with one who doesn't wear her hat at the "smart."

Folklore Signs and Omens

By Elizabeth Hayward

It is but natural that love, courtship and marriage should occupy a large place in the folklore of all countries, and superstition has surrounded the mating of young people with all sorts of mysterious signs and omens. Naturally, also, the desire to raise the curtain that veils the future and reveal the personality of the expected one must stand foremost in the mind of most normal maidens of whatever age or country.

One method of divination was to cut the common brake or woodfern, just above the root, to ascertain the initials of the name of the future husband or wife. Another was to peel an apple, which was then spun backward over the head. In failing the apple peel would form the initials of the mysterious one waited for. The little insect known as the lady bug was caught and thrown in the air as the following couplet was recited:

By away east, and by away west,
Now we where lives the one I like the best.
The insect was supposed to fly directly toward the home of the future partner. If the section of the loved one was doubted, the maiden placed a nut on the ears of the grate, saying:

If he loves me, pop and fly.
If he loves me not, chure and die.
If the maiden chances to sleep in a strange bed the ties her garter around

FOREIGN NEWS

HISTORIC CANNON FIRED BY BAND OF MILITANTS

BLACKBURN, Eng., Feb. 16.—Militant suffragettes fired during last night a huge cannon captured from the Russians in one of the battles of the Crimean war, and which for sixty years had stood as an ornament in the City Park.

The whole city was shaken and the population alarmed by the terrific explosion, and people flocked into the streets in the darkness, fearing that a mine disaster had occurred in the neighborhood.

In the vicinity, attached to a tree, floated a long strip of calico inscribed: "Wake up, Blackburn! The Labor party, which claims to stand for justice and freedom, supports a government that tortures women under the infamous 'Cat and Mouse' Act."

The idea of the militants was to rouse the cotton workers of the city to support their propaganda.

AMERICA.

National Anthem of the United States. This patriotic ode, which up to the present time remains the national anthem of the United States, was written by Samuel Francis Smith, born in Boston, at the then aristocratic north end, within sound of the sea, both chimes of Christ Church, October 21, 1798.

After graduating from the Boston Latin School, he entered Harvard College in 1825, in the same class with Oliver Wendell Holmes, James Freeman Clark, and other eminent men, and during his course had as fellow students, Charles Sumner and Wendell Phillips. Later, he studied for the ministry at the Andover Theological Seminary, and was ordained in 1834. He preached in the Baptist Church, and taught in Waterville, Maine, until 1842, when he removed to Newton Centre, Massachusetts, to become the editor of The Christian Review, which he managed until 1849, and also preached continuously from 1842 to 1854. Most of his publications were of a religious character, and have left no very striking impression on the literature of his times. The simple, but impressive ode, by which he will be best remembered, was written

GOOD PROSPECTS FOR SETTLEMENT

Trouble Between Brantford and Grand Valley Road is Near Its End.

There are prospects for settlement of the trouble between the City of Brantford and the Grand Valley Railway because of the proposal for the city to buy the road. This cannot be voted on for a month, and so the action at Osgoode Hall was yesterday laid over for six weeks.

Mr. McMaster, for the bondholders, however, intimates that this will not clear up the difficulty, for the directors will have to deal now with the bondholders because the former are said to have issued bonds without securing their value. Mr. McMaster said yesterday he would pursue the action as soon as the city's case was settled. A writ for one million dollars has been issued by the bondholders.

IN SEVEN SHARES.

The will of John Morrow, formerly district inspector of inland revenue, was filed in the surrogate court for probate, yesterday. The estate is valued at $18,624, and is made up principally of cash and real estate. After deducting $500 for funeral expenses and $500 as a fee for the executor, the estate is to be divided into seven equal shares and distributed among the relatives of Mr. Morrow.

CHARGED WITH THEFT.

Charged with theft from the Alexander Hotel, Chestnut and Queen streets, at which he is a bartender, Walter Paul, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Plainclothesman Koster. Paul, it is alleged, placed 50 cents in his pocket instead of in the cash register.

AYRSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

At the monthly meeting of the Toronto Ayrshire Association, Rev. I. Gessie of Parkdale Presbyterian Church gave an interesting address on "Ayrshire," which was heartily applauded. An excellent concert program was given by Misses Campbell, Williams and Matthews and Messrs. Murray, Callaway, Campbell, Wilson and R. W. Hall. Piper McLeod of the 45th Highlanders gave several selections on the bagpipes.

SEVEN BIBLE CITIES.

On Sunday evening, Rev. John W. Stephen of Avenue Road Presbyterian Church preached the first of a series of sermons on seven Bible cities, dealing with "Babylon, the Profane." The other six sermons, following in regular order, will be: Feb. 22, Rome, the Military; March 1, Athens, the Intellectual; March 8, Sardis, the Rich; March 15, Corinth, the Cosmopolitan; March 22, Ephesus, the Newton Centre; March 29, Jerusalem, the Ceremonial.

NEW YORK BURIED IN MASS OF SNOW

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—With 16,000 shovellers and drivers working constantly since Saturday morning, scarcely a dent had been made today in the mass of snow under which New York is buried. On Saturday nearly ten inches fell, and another storm began this morning.

It is estimated that every inch (in depth) of snow removed costs $50,000. With continued cold weather, the total cost of the recent snowstorm will reach half a million dollars or more.

The judge said that although he was unable to give judgment in favor of Mr. Beck he still hoped Mr. Armstrong would feel it his duty to make some reasonable payment for services rendered.

BRIDGE OVER DON AT EGLINTON AVE. IDEA ENDORSED

Frank Barber Submits Report to York Township Council.

ENTRANCE TO RADIAL SAT UNTIL MIDNIGHT
Township Will Appeal the Decision of Mr. Justice Lennox.

Probably the most interesting item of business before the York Township council yesterday was the report of Frank Barber, township engineer, regarding the proposed high level double deck bridge at Eglington avenue over the Don.

Continuing the report states that "The route is nearly level through its course from Yonge street at the busiest part of North Toronto to the Scarborough town line. From this point east the road is very open and has easy grades. It joins Kingston road at Scarborough P.O., about five miles from the city, and crosses the north of Scarborough Village and crosses good roads leading to Unionville and Markham, one of them on the Good Roads system, and also a prominent diagonal road laid out by the city, ending at the junction of the proposed highway.

The report further points out that two electric railways are seeking entrance to Toronto, viz., the Toronto and Eastern and the Hydro-Electric Power Commission's proposed line from Unionville, Markham and the east and north, and the possibility of opening an east and west highway near Eglington avenue will probably depend upon the co-operation of these electric railways in constructing joint highway and railway bridges over the branches of the Don.

The most practical method of constructing the joint bridges near Eglington avenue, should the northern route be selected by the railways, would probably be for the Canadian Northern Railway to construct the bridge over the east Don to carry steam traffic for their projected line on the upper deck, and the traffic of the two electric lines, and the highway traffic on a single deck, with the highway traffic on a single deck, with sidewalks, but carrying no steam railway traffic.

Advocates North Route.
The report concluded by advising the council to urge the Hydro-Electric Commission to adopt the north route, and suggested that the co-operation of the City of Toronto be requested to that end.

A letter was received from Messrs. Masten, Starr, Spence & Cameron with regard to the C.P.R. crossing between York Township and Scarborough Township, stating that the board had had conference with, and that no order would be issued in the interim.

The township solicitors were instructed to appeal the case of Beck v. the Township of York, regarding a dispute over a contract for the building of a bridge in which Mr. Justice Lennox had awarded $1821 in favor of Beck.

A letter was received from John S. Irwin and others requesting that the Ravenden avenue sewer be built by day labor, and the communication was filed.

A letter was received from Messrs. McCarthy, Oeler & Co., giving notice of an action for damages against the township condition of a bridge near Kilgour's farm, Bayview avenue, which was the cause of an accident to Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Wilson Burgess.

A bylaw was passed conveying a road known as old York street to Dr. Bruce Macdonald in consideration of the construction of the township property in lieu thereof, being part of the grounds purchased for St. Andrew's College.

The petition of Messrs. Cameron and others for a sewer on Soudan avenue was referred to the solicitor for verification.

The application of the school trustees of S.S. No. 19, Emery, for an issue of debentures to the amount of $7000 to build and furnish a one-room school, and basement was granted.

A similar application from S.S. No. 29 for a sewer on Leander avenue was granted for $10,000 to add two rooms to the George Wynn School was also granted.

A letter was received from the Harris Abattoir Company asking the council to arrange with the hydro electric for the installation of lights on Northland, Speers and McCormack avenues was filed.

World Famous Engine at the Motor Show.
More than usual interest attaches to the magnificent Russell cars at the Motor Show. This exhibit has been the centre of a large and interested crowd throughout the show.

The recent report held at West Toronto, the published report of which appears in Saturday's papers, has aroused much interest in motoring circles. This Russell engine created some new world's records even among Knight motorists.

During the past year there has been much speculation as to the Russell-Knight engine, the recent test of the engine at New York created the feeling among friends of the Knight motor in Canada that the Russell engine could at least equal that performance.

Not only has the Russell-Knight equalled the Moline, but it has brought distinction on Canadian manufacturing industries, the very first of its kind during the 300 hour run. It has proved to Canada and the world that not only can the Knight motor be manufactured in Canada successfully but that it is made in Canada superior to any other engine in the world.

Increased confidence in the product of the Russell Company has come as a natural result. The very high quality of finish and workmanship which has always characterized Russell cars coupled with an engine that has more than proved itself as the leader of motors throughout the world has served to place the Russell-Knight in the front rank of the world's best cars.

Many prominent Toronto citizens, who take a just pride in the achievement of Canadian industries, expressed themselves as highly delighted with the showing made by this representative Canadian concern.

arks Committee Favor Scheme to Give Large Open Space

Permanent Improvements Were Shown on a Screen for the Members

Again a postoffice square was advocated at the parks and exhibition committee meeting last night by a deputa-tion from several local organizations. The same proposition had waited upon the board of control a few days ago and were referred to the committee.

The proposal is that the city buy the property between the postoffice and Church street, that the new postoffice be erected upon the northwest corner of Church and Adelaide streets, and that the remaining property out to Victoria street be converted into a public square which would be an acceptable setting to the new federal building. The estimated cost to the city is $1,000,000.

President Mitchell of the Civic Guild stated that the deputa-tion had also waited upon the Toronto members of the house of commons, who have approved the proposition. A communication from Sir Edmund Osler urged the adoption of the postoffice square plan.

Ald. Hiltz moved the endorsement of the proposition. Ald. Rice said he would support the motion if assured of proper financial arrangements.

Ald. F. Spence advised getting a report from the commissioner, and warned that the million dollars would have to be raised either by a special tax or by a money-by-law submitted to the voters.

Commissioner's Report.
Commissioner Chambers reported as follows: "There can be no doubt of the desirability of carrying out such a plan as that suggested, which would furnish Toronto with the first of a number of public squares, which are essential for the adornment of the city."

"As the proposed square would be an addition to the park system outlined, for the consideration of your committee, the means by which financial provision might be made for its requirement should be considered."

"The sum involved might be made a charge against the parks acquisition fund, but the resources of the fund will not permit of the required outlay without seriously handicapping the further purchase of other necessary park lands."

"The amount required might be raised by a special increase in the rate of taxation for, say, two or more years, but the direct and substantial increasing of the tax rate in this manner does not appear to be a principle which would meet with general public approval."

"The cost to the city might be provided for by the issue of debentures under special legislative authority, as in the case of the acquisition of Trinity College grounds, and this seems to me to be the most feasible method of dealing with the matter should council approve of the scheme."

Controller Churr opposed the proposition, as also did Ald. Meredith.

Ald. F. Spence urged the calling of a special meeting of the committee to consider the scheme, and this was adopted. The meeting was called for Friday next at 4 p.m.

Relief Work.
Commissioner Chambers reported that $8883 had been expended so far on relief work in the parks for the unemployed, and that 1301 men had been given work.

The estimates were then taken up. For maintenance the total is $98,000 more than last year and was approved. Commissioner Chambers' salary was increased from $3500 to $4000.

While the items of permanent improvement were under consideration, a series of pictures of the areas affected were thrown upon a screen by a lantern.

For Exhibition Park the total of $22,200 was cut down to $18,988; Willowville Park got $2600; Dufferin Grove $2022; Dovercourt Park, $2732; Bellwoods Park and Prittle ravine, $2522; Trinity Park, $3000; Stanley Park, $716; Old Fort grounds, $1515; Bestville boulevard, $566; Bickford ravine, $3900; High Park, $19,673; Baird Park, $100; Humbler boulevard, $25,638; Allen Gardens, $4862; Queen's Park, $266; Alexandra Park, $2433; Reservoir Park, $6942; City Hall square, $820; Clarence square, $1800; St. George's College street library, $148; Spadina Road Park, $688; Vermont square, $100; Victoria Memorial Park, $586; waterworks grounds, North Toronto, $3000; Hiverville Park, $4931; Rosedale ravine, $5729; Kew Gardens, $1829; Withrow Park, $7513; Island, $22,463; fountains, $1155; new equipment for play grounds, $23,029; relief work, $25,000. Out of a total of $228,850 for permanent improvements, $112,000 was struck out.

SURVEY POINTS TO LACK OF PLANNING

Of Thirty-Five Streets Crossing Yonge, Twenty-Eight Make a Jog

RECORDS BADLY KEPT
Third Section of Report on Assessment Department is Mildly Critical

The final installment of the report on the assessment department by the civic survey experts issued yesterday finds, among other things, that the city surveyor should be attached to the department, and that the procedure for removing encroachments is cumbersome because the responsibility is too much divided between the two departments.

Procedure necessary for street extension is condemned on similar grounds, and it is suggested that proper organization will remedy both difficulties. The city surveyor's office in the attic of the city hall is declared to be overcrowded and unsafe from the point of view of escape in case of fire.

Toronto is congratulated on the results obtained from the city and suburbs plans act of 1912, but more power for the readjustment of the existing city plan is declared to be needed. In this connection the report states that street north on Yonge street from King street to Glen avenue, there are 35 cross streets intersecting Yonge street on the east, and of these 28 do not continue on the west side of Yonge street or have not been continued in a straight line.

The term of bonds issued for financing local improvement work is about twice as long as would be necessary if proper financial methods were used. Five year bonds are recommended.

In connection with the records of the department, the experts found that card records showed three civic jobs outstanding pending had really been completed.

Work has commenced on the installation of electric lights in the public school. Twenty-seven lights will be put in and work will continue throughout the winter.

The success which attended the presentation of the "Temple of Fame" by the ladies of the Presbyterian Church has brought a large number of requests from all directions to have it reproduced. Arrangements have been made with the American Church at Erinville for a presentation on Saturday next.

Light Weight Loziers

Took New York by Storm

NEW YORK CITY, the Mecca of heavy cars, is completely won over to Lozier lightness, Lozier strength, Lozier value and Lozier economy.

NEW YORK CITY has put up with extravagance long enough—henceforth it demands lightness, gasoline economy, tire economy, repair economy, lower oil consumption and the other Lozier qualities.

NEW YORK CITY has accepted light weight Lozier sixes and fours as its standard of quality, ability, size, beauty and price.

NEW YORK CITY bought close to $100,000.00 worth of Lozier cars in seven days—including only retail sales the week of the Automobile Show—leaving out wholesale business entirely. And "show week" is no time to establish sales records in any city.

NEW YORK CITY had the Lozier exhibit packed every day of the show—packed with buyers, not merely with those who wished to see and compare values and lay plans for the future. Many men who stood on tip-toe in the crowded aisle to get a glimpse of the car, elbowed through the crowds and bought before leaving the display—although they had no notion of buying when they came.

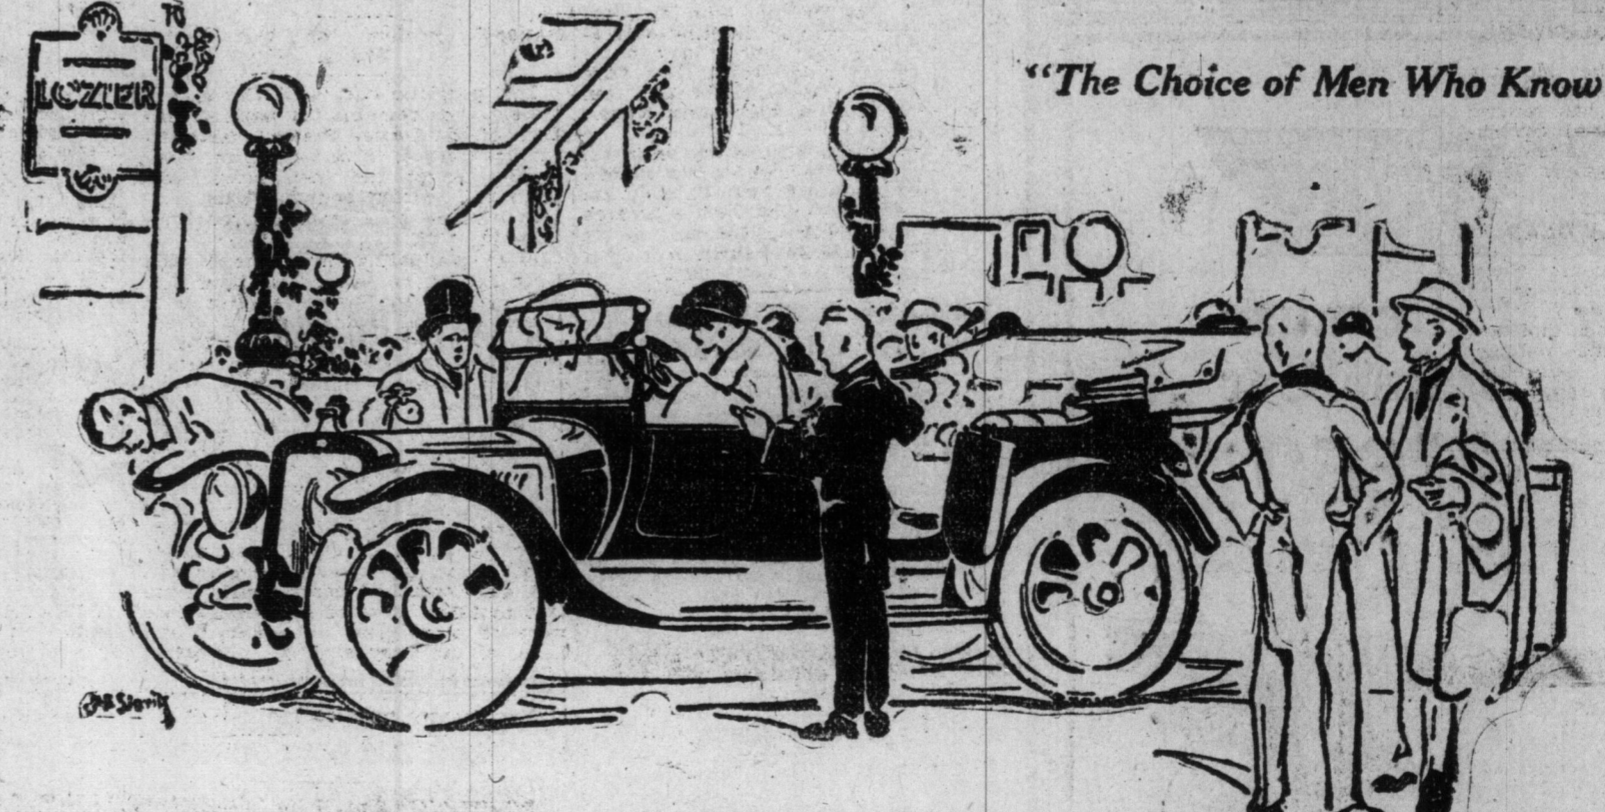

TORONTO sees the Lozier cars this week. News travels on the wings of the wind and the Lozier exhibit is already the center of all eyes, the topic on every tongue.

TORONTO wants more value at less cost, more luxuries and conveniences, reduced upkeep expense, more economy of fuel, less tire-grinding weight, greater ability to perform, more smoothness, flexibility, power and speed. It is Lozier's New York success over again only multiplied in intensity.

You've waited, you've hoped, you've longed for a Lozier—NOW is your time! Today is your day. This year you drive a Lozier, too.

Come where all cars meet and realize what a wonderful creation the Lozier is.

See what Lozier engineers have done to improve your comfort, to surround you with luxuries, to put conveniences at your finger tips, to make your rides a fine sport, a rare delight, a real treat, a thrill of pleasure.

WESTON COUNCIL PAYS THE BAND

Deficit Will Be Wiped Out and Music Will Continue.

There was considerable discussion at the Weston Town Council last night on an application of the Weston Band for a grant to help pay off a debt and defray expenses.

Mr. Rhodes, who appeared for the band, made a proposition to the council that if they would make a grant of $500 the band would give one performance to every church in the municipality, and attend each day at Weston Park as a charge.

Reeve inquired whether the band was a band, because of its size, and whether different churches also required music for their garden parties, and he thought it but proper that the town should contribute towards its upkeep.

Motion was passed to give a cheque for $210, the amount required to wipe off the debt.

Mr. Bull was appointed trustee of Weston Band.

Mr. Witty applied for a license to open a pool and billiard parlor.

CANADA TO SHARE SEA SAFETY COST

That the wreck of the Titanic had brought about a general feeling that safety of life at sea must be guarded not only by national but if possible by international regulation.

The circumstances surrounding the loss of the Titanic had been investigated at Washington and London, and the report of Lord Mersey had excited the attention of the entire world.

Acting upon it, the British Government had invited all the maritime powers to an international conference over which Lord Mersey, by common consent, had been called to preside.

A number of subjects had been referred and reported upon by special committees upon which all the powers were represented and special attention had been paid to the following subjects: Life-saving appliances, safety of construction, safety of navigation, wireless telegraphy and international certificates.

Safeguards Summarized.
The convention had agreed, as previously announced, that upon all vessels there must be sufficient lifeboats, accommodation for all on board with enough certified and competent sailors to handle them, and with machinery for lowering the boats on either side of the vessel. No vessel hereafter would be allowed to carry material likely to cause explosion or fire, and a patrol must be organized on every vessel to guard against fire.

Moreover facilities must be provided for lighting a vessel so that the passengers will not be left in darkness when the machinery is submerged or otherwise put out of commission.

Greater safety of construction will be insisted upon with absolutely watertight compartments, such as are found in the Albatross which recently made her maiden trip from Liverpool to Halifax, and in the new British Empresses for the Pacific.

INGENIOUS DEVICES TO STIMULATE SALES

Tim Thrift of Cleveland Tells Toronto Ad Club of Big Efficiency Competition.

Tim Thrift, advertising manager of the Multiplex Sales Co., Cleveland, Ohio, addressed the Toronto Ad Club on the ingenuity of sales forces. In McCone's last evening, Lantern slides illustrated his remarks. He devoted his time to telling how his company held a sales campaign that had marvelous results thru various devices that appealed to its sales forces and increased their efficiency. This was worked thru a sales contest that lasted a year and was divided into monthly, quarterly, and half-yearly periods. The basis of the contest was to appeal to the men as units and to keep efficiency records of their progress. A system of efficiency marking of their progress was instituted, based roughly on the nature of the territory they had to cover and on the rates of increase in their sales each month and prizes were instituted for the leaders. Various devices to stimulate lagging sales were instituted. For instance, one month a baseball contest was instituted with each district manager's department made a club, and the two best divisions of territory covered divided into the National and American Leagues. Each district was called after some big baseball club, and teams were pitted against each other, so that the contests would be of fairly equal strength. Scores were published in the home paper and baseball mementoes were used. Sales of $100 were called one run. In December a Santa Claus contest was staged with prizes in proportion to the efficiency of each salesman. Their records for each month also counted in the finals for the grand prize, a Hippobile. Devices such as these, he said, were highly useful to increase business and promote the efficiency of the sales force.

Mr. Carpenter has arrived in Quebec, having been snowed out on his way along the Gaspe coast.

AFRICAN PROBLEM IS THE MOST DIFFICULT

Dr. Rainsford Fears Even Britain May Fail in Attempts at Civilizing.

TRIBUTE TO CIVIL SERVANT

Conditions in East Africa Nearest Primal—Native Mind is Ape-Like.

"I do not think that England is succeeding in Africa." Such was the assertion of Dr. William Rainsford in addressing the Canadian Club on his life as a missionary in South Africa at McCone's yesterday. "I take off my hat to the British civil servant," said he. "He is the bravest, most self-sacrificing of any servant ever sent out, even if he is sometimes a little stupid. He goes to Africa with his education in an English school and his £200 a year and he does his job under an unhealthy climate—in a climate that in ten years will most probably give him a bad liver, while the prospect of retiring on £150 a year; or if he stays twenty years, £250 a year, and he does his best for all this long service, even for the most intelligent fellows who serve in England's far-flung battle line, when they come back there is no way to summon them to England's councils."

Barbarous Conditions.

Dr. Rainsford said that East Africa was a land scarcely known, some of the people had never seen a white man till they saw him. In this country it was impossible for them to understand conditions wholly barbarous. It was impossible here to conceive of a land where there were no roads save narrow, raw 15-inch footpaths, worn by naked, native feet with toes turned inward, where famine rages fifty miles from plenty, and to realize that it was only in recent years that England and Germany had put an end to much promiscuous throat-cutting.

The people were one hundred and fifty thousand years younger than Europeans and Americans, they were but little higher than monkeys, had no memory, no conception of morals. They had the lowest quality of life, yet were so true that they would stand by you without a tremor when 150 feet off they saw the gleaming, yellow eyes of a tiger.

Right Down to Nature.

Most men who go to Africa today, said he, are trappers. It was easy to go on a pleasure shooting trip. Seven weeks from London they could be in Nairobi, in a comfortable tent, well valued by a first-rate black man and have a cook better than could be had here; shoot a hippopotamus, which was the easiest animal in the world to shoot, and perhaps hire a trained hunter to shoot a tiger, and then come back after six months and think that Africa had been seen. But to see Africa a man had to surrender himself to one hundred and fifty back carriers, go month after month among the people and catch life round the camp fire. There a man would confront the primal forces of nature and come back with a deeper sense of responsibility, of the worth of the things of civilization that one often holds too cheap. Africa was a land of mystery, a land of failure. She had no history because she had no tradition. Egypt, Greece, Rome had failed. Was Britain to fail there, too?

Dr. Rainsford then described travel in Africa and spoke of the vast problems confronting men who tried to civilize her. He said that the men who deserved the greatest credit were the missionaries, who on two hundred and fifty dollars a year lived in huts and patiently labored with the natives, and even sometimes gave their lives up for them.

LEAKAGE DISCOVERED AT UNIVERSITY PRESS

It has been alleged that a leakage of private matter from the University Press has been systematically manipulated for some time. Following an excess number of tickets being presented at the Freshman reception last month, and additional pasteboards being passed off for admission to the carnival at the Varsity Rink, the senate took the matter up, and as a result one of the employees of the Press was discharged. The matter has not been allowed drop here, and other developments are expected to follow, which may mean that the board of governors will take a hand in the matter.

THE "PALLISER."

Announcement has been made by President Sir Thomas Shaughnessy of the Canadian Pacific Railway that the name of the new C.P.R. million-dollar hotel at Calgary, which will be opened next month, has been changed from "Edmont to Palliser." It will thus be named after the late Capt. Palliser, who explored western Canada in the 50's for the Royal Geographical Society of London.

DOG HAD SIX PUPPIES ALL HELD AT CUSTOMS

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 16.—Because a blooded British setter bought by Eugene Simpson of this city at Nanaimo, B.C., gave birth to six puppies while en route to Portland, the animal and her family have been held by Seattle customs officials. Gypsy Girl is the mother dog's name. Mr. Simpson paid $150 for her. A manifest accompanying her called for "one English setter dog," and the customs men declared they could not pass seven dogs on it, even the six of them were only day-old babies. Mr. Simpson says he may have to appeal to Washington to get his canine family.

FINANCE FORUM.

At this evening's meeting of the Central T. M. C. A. Finance Forum J. W.

Flavelle, president of the William Davies Co., Limited, will speak on "An Insufficiently Considered Side of the Food Problem." It is Appleby, manager of the foreign exchange department of the Union National Exchange. Mr. Flavelle's address will be given at 8 o'clock, and Mr. Appleby's at 9.

NANAIMO'S NEW INDUSTRY

NANAIMO, B.C., Feb. 16.—Another industry has been started in the city. This is the pickled herring plant of the Great West Fisheries Company on Newcastle Townsite. The Great West Fisheries is a Victoria company that has decided there is a good foreign market for pickled herring put up in Nanaimo barrels and kits. The herring will be put up in wooden barrels and kits.

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE ILL

Before Purchasing--and Afterward

YOU can find no weak link in the McLaughlin-Buick branches that girdle Canada to give you "service after you buy."

McLaughlin-Buick ownership means the highest satisfaction the motorist can imagine;

- First—Because of mechanical perfection.
- Second—Because of the strength and assured permanence of the manufacturer, and the service the manufacturer renders through twelve branch houses.

Before Purchasing

Set the facts about McLaughlin-Buick mechanical superiority. We particularly direct your attention to our new "Six" (Model B.55). True to the traditions of former McLaughlin-Buick models, this car demonstrates our ability to give greater mileage per gallon of fuel. Seventeen miles on a gallon is not only claimed, but actually guaranteed.

At $2,700.00 the Six-Cylinder McLaughlin-Buick offers more in engine efficiency, more in luxury, more in all-round completeness, than you would expect even at a much higher price.

It is the greatest hill-climber that ever left the McLaughlin factory—which is saying a lot.

After Purchase

You will never regret that your selection rested on a McLaughlin-Buick. At their respective prices, every one of the 1914 models represents super-value—surpassing in power, in reliability, and in economy—and backed up by the factory and service organization that have given the name "McLaughlin" its undoubted prestige.

Electric lighting and electric starter supplied as regular equipment on all pleasure cars.

PROSPEROUS SEASON FOR FRUIT GROWERS

Middlesex County Apples Brought High Prices as Result of Co-Operative Selling.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—At the annual meeting of the Middlesex County Fruit Growers' Association, it was shown that all the local associations have been a big help to the apple growers.

The fruiting of the market this morning was a big help to the apple growers. The ruling price received for the apples was $2.50 for No. 1, $2.00 for No. 2, and $1.75 for No. 3.

Wardville Association sold grades No. 1 and 2 for $2.50 per barrel, which was the best sale made, as very few apples graded No. 1 in the past year.

The cost of barrels, picking, packing, shipping, etc., ran from 75 cents to 90 cents per barrel.

FLOUR STOCKS ARE MARKET FEATURE

Maple Leaf and Bread Monopolize Most of the Trading.

C. P. R. ACTS HEAVY

Brazil and Other Active Stocks Lose Ground From Week-End.

Bread and Maple Leaf attracted most of the interest appearing and otherwise of the Toronto market on Monday. The street outside of these issues did not expect the expected buoyancy, but this was evidently due to weakness in London for C.P.R. and Brazils. A two-point rise in C.P.R. shares over Sunday was somewhat of a surprise, but the failure of these issues to boom as expected was the result of the falling off in earnings and the certainty of a continuance of the same for a long time to come. Brazil dragged through the day and closed with a loss of nearly a point on Saturday. Bread and Maple Leaf each made a new high, but receded from the tops in the late business. Maple Leaf's rise is not gain of a point and Bread about half that amount. Maple Leaf preferred advanced two points. Successful present sentiment is cited as creating the demand for these shares.

PRESSURE ON STEEL

Stock Was Unloaded in Large Quantities — Europe Heavy Seller.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—After several weeks of hesitation and growing dullness, during which the level of prices was almost stationary, the stock market moved out of its narrow groove today and turned downward decisively. It was the most positive movement of the year, which forced down many stocks from one to two points. Trading was more active on the downward swing, and after the force of the selling movement had spent its effect, the market failed to exhibit recuperative power, and no substantial recovery was effected.

AT LOWER LEVELS

Laurentide, C. P. R. and Richelieu Among Weakest Issues of List.

MONTREAL, Feb. 16.—The weaker feeling of the New York market yesterday and the continued decline of C.P.R. in particular, helped to depress the local stocks moved downward.
