HAVE YOU SCROFULA?
Now Said to be an Often Acquired and Inherited.
It is generally and chiefly indicated by eruptions and sores, but in many cases it enlarges the glands of the neck, affects the internal organs, especially the lungs, and if neglected may develop into consumption.
It causes many troubles, and is aggravated by impure air, unwholesome food, bad water, too much heat or cold, and want of proper exercise.
Hood's Sarsaparilla, the medicine that has been used with so much satisfaction by three generations, is wonderfully successful in the treatment of scrofula. Give it a trial.
If a cathartic or laxative is needed, take Hood's Pills,—there is nothing better for biliousness or constipation.

SEA HURLED THE OSSIPEE AGAINST THE LADY LAURIE
(Canadian Press Despatch)
Halifax, Jan. 28.—The American Cutter Ossipee had a miraculous escape from being sent to the bottom during an attempt made on last Saturday to take the disabled Powhattan in tow after the hawser had parted.
There was a great sea running and the Ossipee steamed up to the Lady Laurier to try to secure the line again and pass it to the Powhattan. A big sea struck the Ossipee and sent her crashing against the starboard bow of the Laurier. On the Ossipee three boats were smashed and the port railing was carried away, the port side of the pilot house smashed, and the shrouds carried away and other deck damage done. No serious damage was done the Laurier.

John Wanamaker of Philadelphia is one of the world's merchant princes. His New York and Philadelphia stores are wonderful. His art treasures include some of the world's great pictures. He is more than a prince of commerce and a princely patron of art. He stands as a prince among religious educators. For seventy-two years he has been actively engaged in Sunday school work, and he is still on duty every Sunday. He is superintendent of Bethany Presbyterian Sunday school, whose enrollment is 2,555. He has been president of the Presbyterian Sunday School Association—one of the greatest state or provincial associations—since 1894. When he was postmaster-general of the United States he made it his rule to return each Saturday evening to Philadelphia, that he might be in his place as Sunday school superintendent on Sunday. Mr. Wanamaker has been quoted as saying: "I am an executive committee of the World's S.S. Association, which is planning for the next World's S.S. Convention in Tokio next October."

OUR WANDERING BOY.

Since nations ceased their throwing fits, their hands in blood imbruing, I often think of Eitel Fritz, and wonder what he's doing. They bring me the news of old Ex Bill, from o'er the briny billows he's in the woods, already still, a-whacking clins and willows; the spycamore he roundly hits and saws it with emotion; but not a word of Eitel Fritz comes o'er the oozy ocean.

TECHNICAL SCHOOLS.

The Catholic School Board of the city of Hull, Quebec, has granted a site for a technical college. The city is issuing $150,000 worth of debentures for the school. Hull is the fourth city in Quebec to establish a technical school, the others being Montreal, Quebec and Three Rivers.

The remarkable success of the evening vocational classes in St. John shows the need of a vocational high school here. More than a thousand students have applied and most of them will take the course. If a commercial course were available the number would be greatly increased, and it must be included as soon as possible. The school board, which did not take kindly to the plan at first, although it found in Dr. Emery a stout champion is now convinced that there is a great field in St. John for vocational training.

All over the province the movement is spreading with gratifying results. Those who framed the law, and especially Fred Magee, Dr. J. Roy Campbell and Director Fletcher Peacock have had their faith amply vindicated. The St. John city council, in providing the necessary funds for the expansion of the work here is doing a public service.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH ACT.

In his address to the municipal council of Kings county yesterday, Hon. Dr. Roberts drew a striking contrast between the conditions in this province under the old health act and those of today. When the new health act came into force on county board of health had not met for twenty-five years. In one town one of the men named as a health officer had been dead several years, and another had been living for four years in Boston.

There was no machinery to carry out the law or to deal with an epidemic of any sort. Nor was there any system of collecting vital statistics, which to a community is as necessary as is stock-taking to a business house. When Dr. Roberts assumed office the province was bonded for $120,000 on account of smallpox, and of this sum $40,000 was unpaid. Today, thanks to the new health act and the province-wide organization effected by the health minister, there is no fear that this disease will spread to any extent, though outbreaks may still be expected from time to time. The statement that in certain sections of this province there are 200 to 220 deaths per 1,000 births of children under one year, when the proportion should not be over 90, emphasizes in the strongest manner the need of prenatal care, instruction of mothers and proper nursing of infants. Then follows naturally the medical inspection of schools, and such concerted action as will deal with tuberculosis and all contagious and infectious diseases. The health of the children is especially important. Whatever expenditure is necessary to make the public health act a success in operation should be undertaken cheerfully by the municipalities.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

In the divorce court in Fredericton yesterday, evidence was completed and court considers in the cases of Stewart Henry Kincaide vs. Gertrude Kincaide, Allan McCavour vs. Hazel McCavour and Bella Louise Coburn vs. Ernest M. Coburn. The case of Theresa Piers vs. George S. H. B. Piers was dismissed; that of Lena Wilson vs. Thomas Wilson awaits further evidence, and the case of Hilyard Carson vs. Ernestine Carson was a remanet.

TRAIN MURDERS IN SPAIN.

Almanza, Spain, Jan. 28—An unidentified passenger on the night mail train from this city to Alpera was murdered and his baggage rifled. When the train reached Alpera the body was found in a first-class compartment. There were two wounds on the head, which had been inflicted by an axe which is carried on all trains for use in case of accidents. This is the third murder and robbery on this train within a short period.

Madrid, Jan. 28—Details of the murder of a passenger on a train on the Alcantara railway indicate the victim to have been Fortunato Ruiz of Madrid, vice-president of the Catholic Agricultural Federation of the Eastern Region.

While the train was between Alpera and Angel the murderer, dressed in the uniform of a railway employe, entered the car and killed Ruiz with a poignard. The police believe the recent series of murders on the night trains to be the work of a band of criminals who disguise themselves in railway uniforms to throw suspicion on members of the workmen's unions.

THE ANTIQUE SAFETY PIN.

(New York Times) The safety pin and the hook and eye are generally thought to be modern inventions. The former, in fact, has been credited to Queen Victoria. She may have improved upon it, but certainly she is not entitled to the distinction of having invented it. Numerous specimens of the useful contrivance have been found in the ruins of Crete. Some of them are in the museum of the University of Pennsylvania, and the museum has also a hook and eye from the same place.

Both the safety pin and the hook and eye now in the museum were made at least nine hundred years before Christ. They are made of bronze, but amber or some other material was often used on the more elaborate pins. Some were even made of finely wrought gold.

The largest imports were: iron and steel, $154,021,838; sugar and molasses, $65,600,259; cotton, $71,317,742; coal, $61,000,000; and wool, $46,619,228.

Canada's Trade

Exports in Last Year Greater Than Imports.

Balance of Trade $313,912,672 in Our Favor—Exports to the United States Larger—Favorable Balances with Many Countries.

(Special to Times.) Ottawa, Jan. 23.—Canada for the calendar year of 1919 imported merchandise valued at $641,007,700 and exported $1,244,920,372, of which only $87,457,570 was sold under dominion credits. The imports in 1919 and 1918 were valued respectively at $1,096,490,869 and $910,146,140, and the duty collected for the last three years was respectively—1917, $107,643,287; 1918, $154,949,472; and 1919, $198,920,659.

Though the total imports were greatest in 1918, the greatest total of dutiable goods was received in 1919, being $1,075,492,288 as against $877,586,509 in 1917, and $811,105,417 in 1918.

The exports this year exceeded those of 1918, but were well under the 1917 total, the totals being, respectively—1917, $1,598,496,049, and 1918, $1,248,729,772. Canada is therefore keeping well up towards her war value of export trade, and her import trade as well.

Trade Balance. The balance of trade in 1919 was $353,912,672 in favor of Canada. From the United States the imports were $740,580,225, and the exports to the southern republic $454,667,554, leaving a balance of $285,933,331 against Canada as compared with $808,154,155 in 1918 and $428,869,469 in 1917. Imports have declined from $292,846,747 in 1917 to the present level, while exports to the United States have steadily increased from $401,479,287 in 1917.

With the United Kingdom in 1919 Canada's trade was as follows:—Imports $87,516,819 and exports $28,085,514, a favorable balance of $59,431,305, more than wiping out the United States unfavorable balance. Canada had a favorable balance last year with the following countries:—The United Kingdom, Australia, British South Africa Newfoundland, New Zealand, other parts of the British Empire generally, Argentine Republic, Brazil, China, France, Italy, Netherlands, Greece, Roumania, Belgium, Norway, Denmark and other foreign countries generally.

The only countries with which Canada has an unfavorable balance of trade are: The British East Indies, from which Canada buys $18,411,326 goods and sells $6,508,193; British Guiana, from which we get goods valued at $8,095,014, and export goods worth $2,625,728; British West Indies, with which import and export trade respectively totals $10,544,339 and $11,821,072; Cuba, $12,565,712 and

SIR OLIVER LODGE ON THE UNSEEN

Says Much Is Veiled So We Can Do Our Jobs

Through in Carnegie Hall, New York, Hears Him Express Belief That Dead Are With Us.

(N. Y. Evening Post.) "If our minds were open, as the minds of the mystics are, to the glory and magnitude of the universe we could scarcely do our work here. We live among the most extraordinary revelations, but they are veiled from us during the span of our earthly lives in order that we may do our jobs. This is the belief of Sir Oliver Lodge expressed in his lecture at Carnegie Hall yesterday afternoon. "The Reality of the Unseen" was his topic, and he said that the unseen, or unmanifest, is all about us—that "there is no chasm between heaven and earth and the barrier which exists can be crossed by love."

If the large audience which filled orchestra chairs, boxes, balconies and stage, stood in one aisle and made the lobby almost impassable expected something sensational and thrilling, it was probably disappointed. But it found that which was far more convincing in the measured words, the moderate statements and the logical working out of point after point with which Sir Oliver actually gave expression to his views. Whether sympathetic or hostile to those views, one could sense the clear thinking and keen insight which brought them into being and the tact with which the speaker led an interested audience over a pathway of admitted facts and probabilities to a new and startling conclusion.

Sir Oliver began his lecture by calling attention to some of the strange facts which scientists and astronomers have given us, and which are completely accepted. He drew a corollary to the heavenly bodies in the familiar objects about us, suggesting the dome of one of our downtown buildings as the central orb of an imaginary solar system, in which the earth would be about the size of a foot on the ground. In some places, and the various planets scattered at distances varying from that of New Haven or Philadelphia to that of Buffalo. In other places, he suggested that the stars would be three times as far away as the moon, he said. "In our own world, when we look toward Orion on a clear night we see light which started in the time of the Plantagenets and has been six hundred years on the way," he continued. "What if the atmosphere around the world had been opaque, as it is in the vicinity of other planets? We would never have known of the existence of the stars, and it is to be supposed that we are not blind to much that exists in the atmosphere?"

"Space," he went on, "is said to be empty because it is penetrable, but we only know that it is empty of all obstructive matter. The ether of space is a substantial reality filled with an immense energy, and of it, he believed, matter is made. That it is actually more solid than this desk," Sir Oliver brought down his fist on the desk as he insisted. "It is a fairly orthodox physics. But it is legitimate to doubt, and the fact that ether makes no appeal to the senses gives the skeptical grounds for doubt," he put in.

His next argument must have been somewhat confusing to the skeptics, however. "Electricity, of course, makes no direct appeal to the senses," he said. "It is only when we bring it into contact with matter to produce light, heat, force, that we can sense it—and yet it exists in the atmosphere."

And stars and planets, he suggested, are one accepted source of knowledge, "it is significant how little information their senses give the animals, and how much ours give us," suggested Sir Oliver. "A dog would not be interested in a picture gallery, nor in an oratorio or a concert. He could hear the noise, but he could not apprehend the music, for the music is in the soul of man. The reality in any art exists in the mind of the artist and of the observer, and the inspired mind finds something in even the most ordinary objects which is unseen by others."

"A drama like 'Hamlet,' the Fifth Symphony of Beethoven, are creations called into being by genius, and without genius they would never have existed. A poem is a message from one mind to other minds, and is made incarnate in the black and white of the print. The Panama Canal is the material demonstration of something which was conceived in the minds of your engineers, and which was necessary before it could be executed. The sun and moon, the mountains and the sunset sky could not have existed in themselves. They are the manifest rejoicing of the great Creator in His work. The reason for them is none other than the joy in beauty."

Sir Oliver said that the body was only a channel through which the soul might express itself, that the soul controlled the body, but did not wear out with it, passing instead to other spheres of life. "No life goes out of existence, but"

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easy and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing but coughs, bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents) into a quart bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified whey, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get 16 ounces—a family supply of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine distilled from the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

incarnates first in one form and then in another, and the connecting link between mind and matter is at present unknown.

He believes that a germ of life existed long before individuality came into being, and our present existence is a phase and not a beginning, but he gives out none of this hypothesis as fact.

"I do not wish to dogmatize, but I will say that what a man makes a constructive statement he is worth hearing; when he speaks only to make a negative statement and to deny he is probably not worth hearing. He is likely to be discussing something of which he is ignorant."

Perhaps Sir Oliver was addressing himself to the many women in the audience who were in deep mourning when he made his closing remarks, for he expressed his well-known belief in the presence of those who have died.

"We are helped in our struggles by those who have gone before us. They know what we are doing and do all they can to help on—and to make us realize what man really is. We should think of them as with us still, not seemingly but in reality. There is no need to cram ourselves within the realm of what the animals perceive, for we can lift ourselves above this to perceive the realities of the unseen."

FIND WIDE DESIRE FOR RETURN OF DEAD

Canvass Shows That More Than Two-Thirds of Soldiers' Relatives Wish It—73,591 Graves Registered.

Washington, Jan. 27.—More than two-thirds of the nearest relatives of the American soldier dead abroad who have been asked by the War Department to indicate whether they wish to have the bodies brought home from Europe have asked for the return of the bodies to the United States.

Secretary Baker is following the fixed policy of directing that the body of a dead soldier will be returned to the United States provided it is requested by the next of kin. The French government, however, has ruled that for the present no bodies must be removed from the zone of the armies, although they may be removed from the zone behind the battle line.

The Adjutant General of the army has sent out cards to the next of kin of soldiers requesting to know their desires as to the disposal of the bodies. There were 74,770 cards sent out, and so far 63,708 answers have been received.

The classification of the requests made by the next of kin in these answers is:

Requests for return to U. S. 48,900 68.9
Requests for retention in Europe 10,400 30.6
Requests for reburial in S. 800 0.5

Secretary Baker today made public an exchange of letters between himself and Representative Everett Sanders, who has returned from France after an inspection of American soldier cemeteries.

Mr. Sanders, under date of Jan. 19, wrote to the secretary as follows: "I have returned from France, where

What It Is and How It Increases Weight, Strength and Nerve Force In Two Weeks' Time In Many Instances

SHOULD BE PRESCRIBED BY EVERY DOCTOR AND USED IN EVERY HOSPITAL Says Editor of "Physicians' Who's Who."

Take plain bitro-phosphate, the advice of physicians to thin, delicate, nervous people who lack vim, energy and nerve force, and there seems to be ample proof of the efficacy of this preparation to warrant the recommendation. Moreover, Mr. Sanders from the countless operations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in

DOUGLAS AVENUE LEVEL CROSSING

Plans to Do Away with It Being Prepared—Some of the Suggestions.

With the news of a new railway bridge over the reversing falls, comes the suggestion of a plan to do away with the level crossing over Douglas avenue. It is understood that the matter will receive the attention of the town planning commission in the near future. Commissioner Fisher when asked about the matter this morning said that he had asked the city engineer to prepare plans and suggestions which might be recommended for this important work. Several plans have been suggested. The first is a closing of that end of Douglas avenue and taking the through traffic down Bentley street, through a viaduct under the railway embankment and along a newly constructed road which would take in what is now known as Merritt street, which runs parallel to the railway. The city engineer said this morning that when the new highway bridge was built the government secured a right of way from the bridge south of and parallel to the railway to Merritt street.

Another suggestion is a diversion of Douglas avenue from a point near the entrance to Prospect point and running under the railway nearer to the bridge than the other suggested culvert. A third proposition is a raising of the grade on the present line of Douglas avenue to provide for an overhead viaduct across the tracks, but this would necessitate the erection of a trestle running part way across the highway bridge to go away with too steep a grade from the bridge across the viaduct.

People Are Demanding Quality Furniture Now And Rightly So!

Today more than ever people are buying furniture that they know will last. We have from time to time been offered merchandise that was not quite up to the standard of excellence that we demand.

The type of furniture that will adorn the home for generations to come. But no—the bars are up.

Therefore—when they set out to buy a piece of furniture, they seek good furniture—We do not purchase from any manufacturer furniture that we do not know is absolutely perfect in every way.

And they go to a store that they know is discriminating in its selection of merchandise offered. We knew that it would be a losing game to do anything else.

It is a fact that we have always been untiring in our efforts to always keep up our reputation for being the kind of a store people immediately think of when they want good furniture. Comparison of prices is always in our favor too!
