Paris Temps Says Italy Wins in Frontier Demand

Reports Matter Definitely Settled on Lines of French and British Promise

Paris, April 23—The Temps says that the new frontier between Italy and German-Austria apparently has been definitely fixed as Italy demanded it and as France and Great Britain in 1915 promised it should run. The frontier will be drawn to the north of the Brenner Pass in Tyrol.

The Brenner Pass is the lowest of all the passes that traverse the main chain of the Alps. It is the shortest route between Central Germany and Italy.

BIG LEAGUES ARE AT WORK TODAY

Opening Games of Americans and National Teams

Jack Coombs' Debut as Manager; Alexander Pitches First For Cubs and Then Retires; Johnson Against Perry

New York, April 23—The world championship, Boston Red Sox opened the baseball season here today against the New York Americans. Special ceremonies marked the initial appearance of the teams in the pennant race of 1919. Officers of the army and navy attended, and there was a parade by a large delegation of sailors from the fleet now in New York harbor.

Chicago, April 23—Everything except the weather promised an auspicious opening of the National League season here today with the Chicago champions of 1918 and Pittsburgh team the attraction. Manager Fred Mitchell of the Cubs had hoped that Grover Cleveland Alexander, who returned from overseas service in the army less than a week ago, might pitch the first game for the local club.

Philadelphia, April 23—Philadelphia and New York open the National League baseball season here today. John Coombs, former pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics and the Brooklyn Nationals, made his debut as manager of the Philadelphia Nationals. Jacobs was slated to occupy the mound for Philadelphia, with Cougher in reserve, while Manager McGraw expected to send Schupp to the box with Barnes as second choice.

Cincinnati, April 23—The opening game of the National season was staged here today with St. Louis opposing Cincinnati, attended by the usual ceremonies and enthusiasm. Fisher and Allen for Cincinnati, and Goodwin and Clemens for St. Louis, were the probable batteries. The weather indications early in the day were favorable and a record-breaking opening day crowd was expected.

Washington, April 23—Washington and the Philadelphia Athletics are all set for the opening game of the American League season here this afternoon. Walter Johnson and Scott Perry will be the opposing pitchers. In the absence of President Wilson, who has performed the ceremony for several seasons, General Peyton March, chief of staff, will toss out the first ball. High officers of the army and navy department will occupy boxes and indications were for an overflow crowd.

Detroit, April 23—Cleveland opposed Detroit in the opening of the American League season here today. President Dan Johnson attended the opener. A delegation of several thousand Cleveland fans accompanied the visitors. Coveloski was slated to pitch for Cleveland and Ethnk or Boland for Detroit. St. Louis, April 23—The American League baseball season will open here this afternoon with St. Louis opposing Chicago. Davenport is scheduled to twirl for the locals and Williams for the visitors. The probable catchers will be Billings for the Browns and Schalk for the White Sox. Fair weather is predicted.

Italy's Premier Threatens To Leave Today Unless Satisfied

Must Have Fiume and Dalmatian Coast or Quit Conference

Paris, April 23—Premier Orlando threatens to return to Italy today unless there is a satisfactory adjustment of the Fiume and Dalmatian questions. Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain is trying to persuade the Italian leader to remain in Paris longer while he continues his efforts to reconcile the opposing viewpoints.

The Italian delegation to the peace conference re-asserted today its determination to stand firm on the question of Fiume, indicating that unless the council changed its position the delegation would not return to the conference. An early settlement of the difficulty is consequently thought to be improbable.

With Premier Orlando still absent, Premiers Lloyd George and Clemenceau and President Wilson resumed this morning the consideration of questions concerning China and Japan.

It became known today that Premier Lloyd George tried unsuccessfully during the discussion last night to find a basis for agreement between the differing viewpoints of President Wilson and Premier Orlando on the Italian situation.

DOCTOR IN COURT SETS OUT POSITION ON THE MATTER OF LIQUOR PRESCRIPTION

The case against a physician charged with writing a prescription for liquor to be used other than for medical purposes, was resumed in the police court this morning. The doctor made a sworn statement that on the evening of April 15, Chippewa Rockwell called at his office. He complained of a chill. His temperature was then 99.3. He prescribed a so-called case bottle of liquor, telling the patient to use it medicinally only, as directed. The doctor said the reason why he prescribed a full bottle was because when it was gotten in small quantities, it is sometimes inferior in quality and would do more harm than good. He charged $1 for his attendance.

DEMANDS OF SOCIALIST CONGRESS IN PARIS

Paris, April 23—(Havas Agency)—The Socialist Congress yesterday passed resolutions demanding the return to the state of excess war profits and the levying of special taxes on wealthy establishments, financial monopolies, concerns in the luxury, railways and large enterprises, such as mines and banks. A resolution in the hours of labor, the fixing of minimum wages and rigorous protection of mothers and children were also demanded.

FOR NURSES' HOME

The ladies collecting funds to furnish the new home for the Victorian Order of Nurses is meeting with gratifying success. The objective is $1,200, and already $800 has been secured. A comfortable flat has been leased in the Haymarket square district, and when this is furnished and a housekeeper installed the nurses will have a home of their own. Formerly they were quartered in the General Public Hospital building, but as other demands for space pressed, they had to seek shelter elsewhere and a boarding-house in Paradise row was arranged for. This was not quite meet the requirements of the nurses, who are subject to call at all hours, and the new plan was adopted as a solution.

PLAN PARSONAGE FOR THE CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

The congregation of Central Baptist Church, throughout all the branches of that organization, is concentrating upon a fund for the erection of a parsonage on the church property adjoining the edifice formerly employed as a playground for the scholars of old Leinster street school. Various means of raising money are being employed and others being devised and there seems an unanimity of purpose towards securing the new home for the pastor within this year. The recent sale of the old Brussels street Baptist church, which belonged to the Central congregation has given special impetus to the movement.

THOSE TERRIBLE KIDDIES

Complaints have been coming to the chief of police that children have been making a practice of coasting in go-carts or little expressoes on the sidewalks in streets. This is contrary to the traffic laws, and the chief says that the policemen will take names and have the children brought to the police court. This violation has been going on especially in Peter and St. Patrick streets.

ONE BIG UNION ADVOCATES ARE OUTSIDE PALE

Edmonton, Alta., April 23—A climax was reached in the Trades and Labor council last night in regard to the "one big union" movement, which originated at the Calgary inter-provincial convention, when President McCraith, on calling the meeting to order, read the following protest:

"By order of the executive committee of the council and by virtue of the authority vested in it, I hereby declare vacant the seats of all delegates voting for and active in the interests of the 'one big union' which attitude and action are in every sense contrary to the constitution of the American Federation of Labor.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

A fashionable audience is assured for the opening performance of "Tea For Three" at Imperial Theatre tonight at 8.15 (daylight time). The seat sale has been very large but there are still good locations for late buyers. On the noon train from the east the Selwyn Company arrived and the leading players are at the Royal. The scenic equipment for "Tea For Three" is very lovely and the play in every way will be an artistic event. Adopting daylight time for this engagement will make it possible for many to enjoy the St. George's Society dance as well. Tomorrow at 2.30 (daylight) there will be a bargain matinee at 60c, 75c and $1.

The police say the man cannot recover.

BEST YET THIS YEAR FOR U. S. STEEL

New York, April 23—Rails and equipments divided the honors at the strong opening of today's stock market, summing up yesterday's gains by substantial fractions to two points. Secondary issues were again conspicuous, notably Texas and Pacific, Missouri, Kansas and Texas Common and preferred. United States Steel's initial sale of 5,000 shares at par represented the slight setback which soon extended to a full point. The motor division and related specialties were in demand, Ajax Rubber rising 6-1/2 points. Shipways, leathers and food and chemical shares were firm to strong, but oils were irregular.

The most reassuring feature of the extremely busy morning was the spirited recovery of United States Steel which rose to 101 3/4, its highest quotation so far this year. Buying of steel was so extensive and urgent as to indicate a nervousness among the shorts. Affiliated shares rose one to two points, motors and kindred issues enhancing their gains and equipments made further progress. Oils rallied and advances of one to three points marked the demand for miscellaneous issues. Meantime the rise among low-priced rails continued on an impressive scale, railroad bonds also strengthening.

For the first time since the mixed time tangle has ensued will St. John folks, bent on pleasure, be governed by the daylight schedule tonight. Both the St. George's Society ball and the Imperial's dramatic show will necessarily be held on the new time because of railway—(suburban patrons)—arrangements and the Carleton ferry. This is another sound argument for a universal daylight time.

A Monthly Income For Your Widow

A new privilege applicable to all Imperial Life policies permits the assured to specify that the proceeds of his insurance shall, on maturity be payable in monthly, quarterly, half-yearly or yearly instalments for 20 years certain, and so long thereafter as the beneficiary named shall live.

While in the calculation of the instalments a definite rate of interest is guaranteed, such payments in the case of participating policies will be increased by sharing in the interest which the Company earns in excess of this guaranteed rate.

Therefore, by means of an Imperial policy you can provide a definite, dependable, regular income to care for your widow as long as she lives, and for your children until all of them are at least old enough to be self-supporting.

But this is only one of the many advantages of this valuable new privilege. Many others are explained in our booklet "Safeguard Your Legacy." Write for a copy to-day. It's very interesting, and—it's free.

Supreme Economic Council at Paris Also May Take Allied Control From Exports to Germany

Paris, April 22—(By the Associated Press)—The supreme economic council yesterday authorized an announcement of the abolition of the blacklist, licensing and rationing systems as applied to neutrals. This will grant that freedom of intercourse without which the resumption of foreign commerce, so urgently required by trade and industry throughout the world, has been almost impossible. The announcement will be made simultaneously on April 23 by the various governments involved. It will authorize shipments of raw materials and manufactures, other than export commodities, without license formalities, freely to countries, not including Germany and Bolshevik Russia. Enforcement of restrictions against re-export to these still blockaded countries will be left to the control of associations to which shipments to neutrals adjacent to Germany still must be considered. A proposal for an amendment to the Brussels agreement will also be submitted to the council, removing the requirement that Allied representatives control German exports to see that all the proceeds were applied to the purchase of foodstuffs. The machinery of control has proved somewhat burdensome on the associated governments, and it is believed that self-interest and the requirement of foodstuffs will suffice to have the German government itself maintain the necessary restrictions and prevent the proceeds being applied to unnecessary imports.

CENTRAL CHURCH BANQUET
A "Get-Together" banquet of the men of the Central Baptist church was held last evening in the vestry of the church. There was a very large number present, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The banquet was prepared and served by the girls of the Plateau class of the church. A. E. Jenner presided, and after the conclusion of the supper a short programme was given, including addresses by the Rev. J. H. Jenner, of the Charlotte street United Baptist church, West St. John, and by Sheriff Wilson and others. This was followed by a solo by E. C. Girvan, which was greatly appreciated. Miss Beryl Blanche acted as pianist for the evening. The evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 23, 1919.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street, every evening (Sunday excepted) by The St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

EVERYBODY'S DUTY.

The relation of the average citizen to law enforcement is a matter of great importance in connection with the constant violation of the prohibitory law in St. John. Every citizen is, or ought to be, interested in having a sober city, and especially in saving the city from the daily disgrace of having drunken men arrested and fined.

THE PREMIER AND OTHERS

The Standard has discovered that Hon. W. E. Foster is deliberately unfair and addicted to political trickery. It finds also that "Mr. Foster committed an admittedly dishonorable act in ensuring opponents whom he knew to be innocent of the allegations made against them."

In a talk on the Ontario housing scheme last week in Toronto, Mr. J. A. Ellis, provincial housing commissioner, said: "I do not think it is at all likely that the province of Ontario is going to top at lending $8,500,000."

The Italian delegates to the peace conference are still holding out for more than the other powers are disposed to give, in the readjustment of frontiers.

PLAYGROUNDS.

The Montreal Herald says: "The city council is to be asked by Ald. Rubenstein to petition the Administrative Commission not only to create greatly improved conditions in the city's playgrounds, but to add very materially to the number of these breathing and recreation places."

The Bangor Commercial tells of a meeting of representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Eastern Maine Fair Association and high school athletic councils to consider plans for laying out a great athletic field in Maplewood Park, for baseball, football and other games.

An American exchange notes the fact that the city of Baltimore in the last twenty years has developed a wonderful playground movement, including park and school playgrounds, play story centres, after school classes and recreation centres, covering both the summer and winter seasons.

Indeed one can scarcely glance over a newspaper from any city outside of St. John without discovering that play is regarded as a vital part of life.

"Buffalo has the following playgrounds: Terrace playgrounds, 47,900 square feet; Johnson playgrounds, 78,822 square feet; Bird Avenue playgrounds, 46,000 square feet; Sidway playground, 60,000 square feet; Lanigan playground, 80,000 square feet; Glenwood playground, 46,000 square feet; Collins playground, 108,000 square feet; Seventh street playground, 35,800 square feet; Welcome playground, 20,000 square feet; Delevan playground, 100,000 square feet; Lincoln playground, 101,000 square feet; Clinton playground, 34,400 square feet; Vermont playground, 25,691 square feet. All these playgrounds are equipped with swings, climbing ropes, handball courts, shower baths, bathing houses, and a score of other things attractive to the young.

The Germans are still trying to foment trouble in Egypt and India, but the German dream of an eastern empire has been shattered, and German influence is well.

Never have the sons of St. George had greater cause for rejoicing than they have today.

"Speaking about profiteering" said the tall man, "bring to my mind the story of the Scotch shopkeeper, Sandy Macfee, who, while talking to the manager of a London emporium, said: 'Ye'll pardon my asking ye, sir, but what profits can ye mak' in London? 'O, as for that,' was the reply, 'on some articles 5 per cent, on others 10 per cent, and on some 20 per cent.' 'Twenty per cent! Man, it's awful!' 'But don't ye?' asked the Londoner. 'Nae sic luck,' exclaimed Sandy. 'I can only mak' 1 per cent. I just buy a thing for a shillin' and I sell it for twa.'"

The report that a Soviet government had been set up in Turkey is not confirmed, and is believed to have emanated from Bolshevik sources.

THE NAME QUESTION.

127 Duke St., St. John, April 21, 1919. Sir—I enclose a cutting that will speak for itself. I have long been surprised that this province whose people have done so well in the great war will not patriotic or energetic enough to throw off its Hun name. Will it still bear the disgraceful name, I wonder? Yours truly, JOANNA M. HUDSON, (London Daily Mail).

BELLS FROM FRENCH CHURCHES FOUND IN FRANKFORT; GO BACK

Colmar, April 23—(French Wireless Service)—Five bells taken from churches of Colmar during the war by the Germans have been found in Frankfort and will be returned to their old places. Valuable treasures stolen from the museum have been found in Munich, where they were taken by Bavarian soldiers. They include the painting of "The Madonna in an Arbour of Roses" by Schongauer and the painted wings of the famous altar of Isenheim.

ALVAREZ PUT TO DEATH

Vera Cruz, April 23—(By the Associated Press)—General Francisco Alvarez of the anti-government forces was executed about midnight. He met death at the hands of a firing squad, with the utmost bravery. Many thousands of persons surrounded the barracks when the execution took place. Alvarez had been sentenced to die at an earlier hour, but on orders received from the supreme court the execution was held up. The war department, however, ordered compliance with the sentence of the court martial and the prisoner was brought out to face his executioners.

ESCAPES WERE REMARKABLE

Passengers who were on the eastbound Maritime express when eight cars were derailed and several thrown over an embankment a mile and a half west of Kent Junction Monday morning, say that they cannot understand how all on board escaped injury. The wreck, they said, was so complete that it could not have been improved on by a made-to-order filming scene. The accident was caused by a broken rail and the train was making forty-five miles an hour at the time. The wreckage was hoisted up and carried away, or destroyed yesterday by a wrecking crew.

Stanton, of Pittsfield (Mass.), and the Misses Kathleen, Ellen and Essie, all at home, and by one grandchild, Margaret K. Stanton, of Pittsfield (Mass.). Rev. Robert Laing. (Halifax Chronicle, Monday). The Rev. Robert Laing, founder and late principal of the Halifax Ladies' College, and one of the leading educationists of the maritime provinces, died very suddenly at his home, 100 St. John street, yesterday afternoon. The late Mr. Laing was widely known in Halifax where he had lived for the past forty years. He is survived by his wife, Katherine, a daughter of the late James Croil, of Montreal, two sons, Stuart of the artillery, who is expected to return from overseas in the immediate future, and a daughter, the late Mrs. Laing, now in Chicago, and one daughter, Jessie, in New Hampshire. The late Robert Laing was born in 1841 in Aberdeenshire, Scotland. He left Scotland in 1847 and settled at Chamby and Buckingham, in the province of Quebec. He was educated at McGill University and later studied theology at Morrin College, Quebec, and Edinburgh University, where he received his M. A. degree. He was ordained in 1873 and before coming to Halifax as minister of St. Matthew's church was assistant at St. Paul's church, Montreal. From 1880 until a few weeks ago when age forced him to give up the principalship, the Ladies' College flourished under the firm yet gentle rule of "Daddy" Laing, as he was familiarly and affectionately called by his students, and hundreds of young Canadian women received their education at the institution.

AN OVERBURDENED MOTHER. If the steps a mother takes and the work she does could only be measured by figures, what an array they would make. Through girlhood, wifehood and motherhood woman toils on, often suffering from backache, nervousness and sleeplessness, symptoms of mere serious ailments peculiar to her sex. Thousands of such women, however, have found relief from suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as is evidenced by the letters of recommendations continually being published in this paper.

FREE KINDERGARTENS WANT DAYLIGHT TIME

The Free Kindergarten Association has declared itself strongly in favor of daylight saving time considering the convenience of the mothers of children attending them. The monthly meeting at which this declaration was made was held yesterday afternoon with Mrs. T. N. Vincent, the president, in the chair, and was a most satisfactory one with regard to the various reports submitted. The reports of the kindergartens were given, telling of the topics used by them during the month of April. The topics dealt with the awakening of spring, the work of the agents sun, wind and rain and with Easter thoughts full of string suggestions. The pretty stories and songs that accompanied the topics in the kindergarten classes were also referred to. Reports of the mothers' meetings and the story telling hour were specially gratifying. So popular are the story-telling hours held on Saturday morning that there were no less than ninety-eight children eager and delighted listeners to the stories told on last Saturday at the Marsh Road kindergarten. Following the reading of the reports it was announced that a donation of $100 had been received by the association from the Commercial Travelers, which donation was acknowledged with most hearty thanks.

PUBLIC MEETING ON PEACE CELEBRATION. How is St. John to observe Peace Day? That is the question which was placed before the members of the common council and the citizens of St. John yesterday by Mayor Hayes. "Shall it be observed by religious services or by a demonstrative celebration?" is the way his worship put the question to the council. "Shall we observe the day with special church services and leave the big demonstration until the boys come home?" he continued. None of the commissioners was in a position to discuss the matter, so Commissioner Bullock suggested that the mayor call a special meeting for the purpose of looking into it. Upon the adoption of this, his worship named as the hour 2 o'clock, standard time, Thursday, when the commissioners and interested citizens will meet in his office and offer suggestions. His worship pointed out that prompt action was necessary as it might only be in the course of a few days before peace was signed. He reminded that other cities throughout Canada were taking the matter up, but there was no indication yet of federal action. Because of this important meeting early Thursday afternoon it was decided to hold Thursday's committee meeting at 10.30 a.m. standard time, instead of 11.30 o'clock.

THE CANADIAN CLUB. At a meeting of the executive of the Canadian Club held last evening in Bond's restaurant the following new members were elected, Rev. A. W. Daniel, Howard P. Robinson, E. J. Cornell, D. C. Emerson, J. S. Frost, Gordon S. Macdonald, T. W. Mowry and G. W. Currie. The enrollment of members of the club now totals 986. At the annual meeting of the club the guest of the evening will be Councillor Peter Wright of the British Seamen's Union.

POLICE COURT CASES YESTERDAY AFTERNOON. A Houlton, Maine, man who is a truck driver, pleaded guilty to drinking liquor in public. He was arrested while in company with a young woman in a Chinese restaurant. He said he obtained liquor on a prescription from a physician who is charged with illegally granting the prescription. The soldier was fined and turned over to the custody of the military authorities. The case against the physician will be heard in court today. Chief Inspector Wilson was in court both morning and afternoon. In the morning Matthew Ramsay was charged with supplying liquor to Howard Robinson on April 16. The latter denied on the stand that he had ever seen Ramsay and the case was continued until Friday. Robinson is charged with having liquor in the Prince Albert hotel. This case also went over until Friday. Arthur Dickson, of McAdam, and James Ryle, of Ontario, were charged with coming to Canada as stowaways on the steamship Gramplan. The men said they were soldiers, and desired to return home. Judge Ritchie took their cases under consideration. Five other prisoners were each fined $8 for being drunk.

FRANCE IN MARCH as a member of the 8th Field Battery. With only two short periods of leave he has been through the heaviest of the fighting and has come through all without once being wounded. The record of his family in the war is one that is worthy of the highest honor, as three brothers enlisted and he is one of two that will return. His brother, Lieutenant Corland Dickson-Otly, who enlisted in the same battery at Fredericton and received his commission about a year ago is still in England and is expected to return to Canada with the 2nd Brigade. The third brother, Lieutenant George Dickson-Otly, of the 5th Canadian Mounted Rifles, was killed in action in June, 1916.

Gunner Dickson-Otly enlisted in November of 1914 in the 23rd Battery at Fredericton where he was at that time a student in the University of New Brunswick. He crossed to England in February, 1915, and after only one month of training there was sent to TEA FOR THREE ON DAYLIGHT TIME TONIGHT Because of railway arrangements and also the matter of the ferryboat the Imperial will operate on daylight time during the engagement of the "Tea For Three" company tonight and tomorrow night (starting 8.15), also tomorrow afternoon at the matinee. This is important to remember.

Mistaken Identity. A Salina painter, starting to paint a house in East Iron street in that city, donned his overalls in a back room and left his street clothes hanging in the room. When the noon whistle blew he went back for his clothes and they were gone. He found them, however, in a closet, but, reaching into the pockets found considerable money in silver and bills missing. He sought the woman of the house and inquired whether she had moved the clothes. "I did," she said, "Did you spill any money out of them," he asked tactfully. "Why, no," she said, "I thought they were my husband's clothes and just took the money."—Kansas City Star

BRIGADIER-GENERAL J. B. WHITE, D. S. O. Brigadier-General J. B. White, D. S. O., is a director of the Riddon Pulp & Paper Co., and manager of their wood department and saw mills. He is also a director of the Canadian Forestry Association, and at present is giving a great deal of time and attention in an effort to get under way a scheme for tree planting by returned soldiers, especially those with injured limbs who need out-door work.

Brigadier-General White began his military career long before the war, being in command of B. Squadron of the Duke of York's Royal Canadian (Rifles) Hussars. He went overseas early in the war and was in command of the Canadian Forestry Corps in France, consisting of some 14,000 Canadian troops and 8,500 attached men. As Major White, he went over with the 224th Battalion;

Forestry Battalion, consisting largely of lumbermen. In 1917 he was appointed director of Canadian forestry operations and deputy-director of the British forestry. He was made an officer of the Legion of Honor by the French government for services rendered the French armies. In the 1918 New Year honors he received his D. S. O., and in November, 1918, he was promoted to brigadier-general.

Inspector McAlain brought a man up in the police court this afternoon on charge of making hop beer stronger than the law allows.

WATER MAIN LEAK

A small leak in the Loch London water main, which was discovered yesterday has been keeping a gang from the water and sewerage department busy. Repairs will be completed today.

NOT SMALLPOX

Dr. J. F. L. Brown, district medical health officer for the southern district, returned from Albert county last evening. He has been investigating a suspected case of smallpox. He reports that it was not smallpox.

IN CONFERENCE

Dr. J. A. Wade, district medical health officer for the western district, of St. Andrew is in the city today conferring with Dr. G. G. Melvin, chief medical health officer.

AT IT EARLY

The bathing brigade of the North West Arm Rowing Club, Halifax, started in for the season on last Saturday by a dip and swim in the briny, which showed a temperature of thirty-seven.

LITTLE ONES ENTERTAINERS

Last evening the Mission Band of Fairville Methodist Church gave an excellent programme of solos, recitations, dialogues and choruses. More than thirty children took part and the work of the tots caused much interest. During intermission horney candy was sold. Rev. Thos. Marshall was chairman. The proceeds will go toward missions.

THEY'RE MOVING

Yesterday marked a quite general commencement of moving activities and these fortunate enough to escape the rush of May-day by getting their chattels shifted in advance had splendid weather for the prosy operation. The ubiquitous automobile was pressed into service for the carrying of small goods and from now out families in transit will mark the thoroughfares for a week or more.

HEALTH MATTERS

A meeting of a sub-committee of the Board of Health will be held, upon the return of Dr. J. F. L. Brown, district officer, to deal with the appointment of inspectors for the parishes of Musquash, Lancaster, Simonds and St. Martins. These will be salaried men who are to perform the same duties as the present sanitary inspectors as attended to by the board's officers roundabout the city. It is understood the appointments will be made in collaboration with county councillors familiar with the situation.

HOME FROM WAR

Driver S. Morrison arrived home on the Olympic. He enlisted in January, 1917, with the 65th Battery, Woodstock, and a week later for England. In May of the same year he went to France where he remained until the signing of the armistice. He is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Morrison of 14 Cliff street, and one of three brothers to enlist for overseas. Louis of the 9th Siege Battery is at present in England, and another brother, W. J. Morrison, made the supreme sacrifice in last August. Driver Morrison is being warmly welcomed by his many friends.

JEREMIAH COHOLAN

Jeremiah Coholan, a former resident of this city, died at his home in Boston on Easter Sunday morning after an illness of several weeks. Older residents of St. John will remember Mr. Coholan, who for many years was employed with James Harris & Company here. He is survived by his wife, four brothers and two sisters, all residing in the States, with the exception of a brother, Michael, who lives here. Mr. Coholan was associated with his brother, Dennis, in the barber business in Dorchester, Boston. At his bedside at the time of his death were his brothers, John of Chicago, Michael of St. John and Dennis of Dorchester, and his sisters, Miss Margaret of Long Island, N. Y., and Mrs. Josephine Murray of Dorchester.

THE SCHOOLS AND THE CLOCK

The schools reassembled today on the old time after the Easter vacation. Dr. H. S. Bridges, superintendent, informed the Times that while he was empowered at the last meeting of the Board of School Trustees to adopt daylight saving time for the schools should it become universal in a civic sense, he felt that under the confused condition of affairs as pertaining to the clock he would not exercise that privilege until the board met again on May 12th. The chairman of the board, Dr. A. F. Emery is absent from the city and when he returns a special meeting may be called to consider the matter, but in the meantime Dr. Bridges does not wish to add to the mixed-up state of affairs by putting the schools on daylight time while in some of the homes the standard time is still used.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

A gradual decline of waterfront activities is being felt to an increasing extent in mercantile circles, in the hotels, restaurants, places of amusement and generally speaking all over town. Passengers coming and going and the large crews of the continuous fleet of vessels had an appreciable effect upon volume of business and naturally as these crowds of strangers disappear receipts will shrink. In fact, within a month St. John will be down again to its early summer normal and depending mainly upon its own population for business. On the other hand tourist traffic is expected to be large this first year of peace, when transportation restrictions are lifted and nobody anticipates a season quite as dull as those of the last few years when St. John was "flat" indeed during the same year.

TO PENSION BOARD

Captain C. M. Pratt, M. D., of this city, who has been attached to the hospital service here since his return from overseas now is in Ottawa and it is understood that on his return he will take over the duties of chief medical advisor for the New Brunswick Pensions Board, the office of which is located in this city. Dr. Pratt, who has been acting in that capacity, will receive a permanent appointment of the same nature with the Soldiers' Re-Establishment Commission.

DEFINITE WORD THAT BADEN-POWELL IS COMING TO ST. JOHN

Toronto, April 23—Lady Pellatt yesterday received a cable stating that Sir Robert and Lady Baden-Powell will reach Halifax on May Day—their plans having been altered—and will go on to St. John.

AFTER-EASTER WEDDINGS

Hamm-Belyea

The marriage of Miss Muriel Walker Belyea, daughter of G. H. V. Belyea of 172 Princess street, to F. W. Hamm, son of Parker Hamm, of this city, is to take place at 5:30 this afternoon in Centenary church. The bride will wear a pearl gray suit with hat to match and carry a bouquet of Killarney roses. It is a very quiet marriage. Rev. Mr. Berry will perform the ceremony. The bride and bridegroom are to leave on a honeymoon tonight for Montreal, and on their return will live in Douglas avenue.

Daley-Daley

A very pretty wedding was solemnized this morning at 4:45 in the Cathedral, when Rev. Wm. Duke at nuptial mass united in marriage Miss Agnes Teresa Daley, daughter of the late Charles Daley, of this city, and William Francis Daley, son of James Daley, also of this city. The bride wore a gown of white and tulle, presented by the Savings Corps, of which the bridegroom is a member, and a magnificent piano lamp presented by the employees of the Blue Ribbon Company. The church was decorated with palms and spring flowers for the happy event.

FINE NEW THEATRE

Edward F. Albee, surviving partner in the Keith interests in United States and Canada and owner of the Imperial Theatre of this city and also the Imperial Theatre, Montreal, opened his newest and most modern house of entertainment in Providence, R. I., on last Monday evening. It is named The E. F. Albee Theatre and is a splendid monument to the achievements of its owner who has been thirty years building up the Keith system of houses and regulating the Keith system of booking, routing and classifying vaudeville entertainers. The E. F. Albee Theatre is said to be the last word in refined elegance and convenience. A special train on the N. Y., N. H. & H. Railway carried some hundreds of critical Bostonians to the Rhode Island capital for the opening occasion and also a similar train from New York. Mr. Albee was the host in both instances and following the opening of the theatre, there was a banquet. Owing to pressure of business St. John members of the Keith-Albee business family were unable to be present, but the following telegram was sent forward: "Congratulations and best wishes for the success of The E. F. Albee Theatre from its Canadian sister house in St. John, New Brunswick, Canada."

Dangerous Antiseptics And Germicides Are Unnecessary

A dependable antiseptic has come to be considered a necessity in most homes. Especially is this true since Absorbine, Jr., has had such a wide introduction, because this liniment is not only a powerful antiseptic and germicide but it is absolutely safe to use and to have around the house. It is not poisonous and it cannot do harm even if the children get hold of it. That is a big point to consider.

Proved Every Day That Dr. Hamilton's Pills Are Just Right for Woman's Ills.

Little wonder woman suffers so much from constipation. She always hesitates, continually puts off taking medicine. Of course a woman's system is delicate, is easily injured by drastic purgatives. Bitter experience with harsh medicines makes her cautious, and to her great injury, chronic sluggishness of the system is permitted.

Poor Pay For Life of Crime

Expert In Thuggery Gives His Views

Gunman, Soldier, Citizen

His Experience and That of Other Leaders Among Law-Breakers Points the Moral of His Tale

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
 Monk Eastman, one of the most formidable of modern thugs, was mustered out of the United States army the other day, a full sergeant, with a fine military record and a decoration. He enlisted under an assumed name, of course, and will either retain this name or another when he makes his great effort to "come back" and work for a living as he announced his intention of doing. How many prison convictions Monk had against him it would be difficult to say, but much easier than to compute the number of assaults and killings that constitute his record. He was the leader of the most odious gang of gunmen that New York has known for years, men like the band that worked for Police Lieutenant Becker and made away with Herman Rosenthal for a reward or to ingratiate themselves with some higher up, would kill for fun, for revenge, or for a set price. They would shoot their own enemies for nothing; they would shoot anybody else's enemies for a reasonable sum. For twenty years Monk made his living this way.

Nothing in Crime, Says Monk.
 Returning home he says: "There is nothing in crime. There is nothing in being a thug. A gang leader never gets anywhere. The pity of it is that there are a lot of young fools growing up who try to make a reputation by being slick. If they could only know in advance, as I know, how little there is in it beyond disgrace and privation, they'd quit now. They'd get jobs and stick to them. They'd let booze alone and stay away from gangs. I am now forty-four years old and the rest of my life is going to be spent honestly, at hard work, and not in being a rotten outcast." Monk's estimate of the dividends crime will pay is confirmed by a glance at the careers of several notorious criminals reviewed in the New York Sun. Some of them made tremendous hauls. Without exception they are down and out. At the end of their careers they have less to show for their dangerous labors than a man who has been a laborer, a woman who has taken in washing, to say nothing of the humiliations they have brought upon themselves and others, and the stern punishments they have had to undergo.

Senator and Forger.
 A striking example of a criminal who ought to have prospered if such a thing was possible is Alonso J. Wiltman. He was well educated, had a fine, even a striking, appearance and a magnetic manner. He worked at forgery for twenty years. Now at the age of thirty, without a dollar to his name, he is serving a sentence in an Ohio prison. He was born of respectable parents, his father being rated a millionaire shortly before Alonso began his career of crime. That the young man was well qualified mentally is indicated by the fact that at one time he was a state senator in Minnesota. He ran for congress and was defeated. He moved to Chicago and speculated in wheat until he was wiped out. Then he became a bookmaker, and for a short time cut a considerable swath on both western and eastern tracks. Within a year he was cleaned again, and without money or credit, he concluded that forgery was a likely business. His first known venture was a failure, for he was sent to prison for it.

The Down-and-Out Club.
 He had better luck afterwards, and though hounded by the police, he often had enough money to fight them off. In the end he found himself friendless, penniless, a man to whom any policeman was entitled to apply his boot on sight. Thomas Courtney began cracking safes in the early nineties, often making $20,000 at a haul, and was regarded as one of the aristocrats of the underworld. Not long ago he finished a prison term, his health shattered, not a dollar hidden away. He had to apply for a back license. He is now as little to be feared as a snake whose fangs have been drawn. In thirty years of criminal practice Jimmy Farrell is estimated to have made $200,000. A few days ago he was seen begging in a New York street, shortly after being discharged from penitentiary. His few remaining years will probably be spent in cadging, for he is a member of the down-and-out club.

Remarkable Woman Crook.
 The most notorious of American women crooks is probably Ellen Peck, who at the age of ninety is without a dollar or a home. For fifty years she conducted swindling operations and was a member of some of the most desperate bands of crooks in the world. It is said that she must have stolen a million dollars in her time. Her career is remarkable in that as a girl she was admired and respected. She was comfortably married and had a pretty daughter when she committed her first recorded crime. This was a swindle of the sort she continued to specialize in. She persuaded a soap manufacturer that she could recover for him $200,000 which had been stolen by one of his employees. She worked $19,000 out of the manufacturer before she was exposed, but escaped imprisonment by a plea of insanity. Her next victim was a jeweler, who was the poorer by $20,000 through her acquaintance. Frank Meyer, who organized a volunteer regiment at the time of the Spanish-American war, was swindled out of $100,000, and so clean did she pick his bones that at one time he was driven to the necessity of shooting sparrows in his back yard to provide his family with food. From various other persons she wheedled tens of thousands of dollars by pretending that she was an intimate friend of Jay Gould and could give them stock market information. Ellen Peck gave the crooked game a long consistent play, and in the end has been brought to beggary.

"Do you mean to say," said Wemy's, "that you have never discovered a redeeming feature in a habitual criminal?"
 "Yes, I did once," admitted Briggs.
 "Ah, I knew it!" cried Wemy's triumphantly. "No one is all bad. What was it? Love at home? Kindness to animals? Love of children?"
 "No," came the uncompromising reply. "It was a pawn ticket."

Deals With After-war Problems in Annual Communication—Urges Support For New Protestant Orphanage

The Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons assembled in the Masonic Temple yesterday for their fifty-second annual communication with Grand Master D. C. Clark presiding.

In his annual address Grand Master Clark spoke of the happy ending of the war, and of the new problems that the citizens have to face with the signing of peace.

Feeling reference was made to the death of members during the year. In speaking of the movement on foot to provide a suitable Protestant orphanage in this province, Mr. Clark said that he was in favor of it, and recommended that the matter be strongly considered by the Board of General Purposes.

He expressed satisfaction that the Fund of Benevolence had reached the splendid figure of $18,000. J. Twining Hart, the Grand Secretary, reported the receipts from the subordinate lodges had amounted to four thousand and sixty-eight dollars and seventy cents, a total exceeding that of last year.

Parliament Resumes After Easter Recess

Contentious Matters Held Over Until More Members Are Present — Lively Discussion Over Amendments to Act to Prevent Fires

Ottawa, April 22—A small attendance of members at the first sitting of the commons after the Easter recess did not prevent good headway being made with government business and the voting of supply.

There was a long discussion in committee on the bill providing penalties under the criminal code for people who fail to obey dominion, provincial and municipal fire prevention regulations.

During consideration of the railways and canal estimates at the evening session, B. C. McCoig gave voice to some rather sharp criticism because three private cars were attached to the Toronto-Ottawa government train which was detailed this morning.

Dr. Reid, in reply, said it was impossible to attach another sleeper to the train, with the result that many people, including himself, were inconvenienced.

Dr. Reid explained that under present conditions it is practically impossible to get contractors to take work on tender. It was necessary to proceed with construction, he said, in order to give employment.

Airplanes For Protection From Forest Fires

"Why should Canada wait any longer to test the efficiency of the airplane in forest fire protection?" asks the Canadian Forestry Journal. The question has been thrashed out for nearly three years, and while responsibility for the initial experiments has been passed along from one authority to another, the opinion of most of those who have made a close study of the subject is that the dominion government, with a ready supply of idle machines and willing pilots, ought to take the first steps to secure reliable data in this most important enterprise.

According to the Forestry Journal's information, the minister of lands and forests of Quebec recently proposed to the dominion minister of marine and fisheries that two of the idle hydro-airplanes now at Halifax or other Atlantic ports should be loaned to the Quebec government for the summer season of 1919, the provincial authorities to foot the bill for upkeep of machines and pay of pilots. Hon. Mr. Allard, on behalf of the Quebec government, intended to establish an experimental patrol over the St. Maurice valley. It would appear that his co-operative offer was of a most generous and progressive character. It has not been favorably received by the acting minister of marine and fisheries, nor does there seem any prospect of having a start made in aerial forest patrol in Quebec, even though public-owned hydro-airplanes are lying useless in their hangars in Nova Scotia and skilled pilots are kicking their heels and aching for some form of active service. The Canadian Forestry Association has addressed the acting minister of marine and fisheries on this subject and a deputation from the association and allied bodies will bring the matter to the government's attention during the present month.

If Canada is content to wait several years until the trail is cut by other more aggressive nations it will offer a poor comment on the ability of Canadians to initiate new lines of effort. The Forestry Journal is in receipt of communications from many senior aviators who look upon an aerial forest patrol as a simple, effective and inexpensive proceeding. Apparently, however, the idle machines and aviators at the disposal of the dominion government are to be denied an opportunity for splendid public service.

Not only is action called for by the imperative need of timber conservation, but other fields in which the government is directly interested demand a bolder policy. It is understood that the topographical survey, the geodetic survey, royal northwest mounted police, and the post office department are thoroughly convinced of the advantage of airplane service in increasing their efficiency and in certain instances reducing their cost of operation. These departments, however, are directly controlled by the dominion government, and no matter how deeply convinced the executive officers may feel on the urgency of aerial experimentation, a refusal on the part of a cabinet minister to take action gives an instant quietus to the departmental agitation.

The illustration shows how wooded areas are defined by camera from 15,000 feet in the air. Hitherto air photographs have been used only for war purposes, but their use has great possibilities in the timber industry.

"For about a year of my stay in France," writes Lieut. Lewis, R. A. F., in The Canadian Forestry Journal, "of dealing with things that are bothering their brothers-in-arms, the infantry. The average height from which these photos were taken was from 6,000 to 8,000 feet. Now, if such accurate results could be obtained at these heights, how much more could be done with photographs taken, say from 1,500 feet, with nothing to ruffle the nerves of the operators?"

"I understand that the government may establish an airplane or hydroplane forest patrol for fire ranging purposes. Why not have these planes fitted with photographic outfits for the purpose of mapping that part of the country of which so little is known, the importance of it to the lumber industry seems to me, although not a lumberman, to be too great to be overlooked."

It might be stated in this connection that a mapping camera, designed for airplanes, has been invented. It is called the Brock Automatic Camera and is suspended from the fuselage of the machine American, that it holds a level position regardless of the swaying or pitching of the plane. The exposures are made automatically, the number per minute being regulated by a gauge. The instrument is operated by a clock-work, driven by a spring, which is wound by hand. The camera holds a roll of 100 films. Taken in succession, as the plane fires, the photos would reveal a panorama.

BLACK'S IN LEAD LAST NIGHT FOR BOWLING TROPHY

On completion of the first day matches in the bowling championships on the Y. M. C. A. Alleys yesterday, Black's team had made a decided bid for the trophy, having won all four games played.

Fredericton played two and won both. The Y. M. C. A. present trophy holders, had one game and lost two. Few of the teams ran high totals, but there were a good many high single strings, as the scores here will show.

There is a lot of interest manifested and large numbers of spectators watched the play yesterday and last night. There was plenty of excitement and the rooters made things merry.

A notice was posted last night that A. G. H. Darling, representing the Balke Colender Company, had donated a trophy for the individual making the highest total score, with the proviso that he rolls six games.

ENDING MOTHERHOOD

British Proposal Which is Attracting Attention—Some of the Results Looked For

(By J. W. MacMillan in Montreal Journal of Commerce).

The giving of allowances to widows with families of small children has become a familiar thing. Several of the provinces of Canada have such laws, and other provinces are planning to enact them.

The mother fulfills a duty to the state and renders it a service when she trains her children for citizenship. The next logical step would seem to be the endowment of motherhood. A committee in Great Britain has recently set forth a scheme for this purpose, which is attracting attention.

The plan is confessedly but the beginning of a policy which will eventually bridge the economic gap between the childless home and the home with children. The ideal would be accurately and completely to pay to the mother the full cost of bearing and rearing children. But this is suggested that payments should end when each child has reached the age of five years. They begin eight weeks before the birth of the first child, with a weekly sum of about $8 for the mother, with an additional $1.25 for the first child, and eighty-five cents for each subsequent child. On the basis of population and birth rate in 1911, the scheme would entail an annual state expenditure of about $700,000,000 for the British Isles.

The committee points out in its report that a number of advantages would follow. The first is that it would solve the vexed question as to the relation of man and woman's wages. The theory has been that woman's wages may be less than man's, as being calculated on the basis of her own support, whereas the man's wages are calculated on the basis of the support of a family. Thus, where the production of a woman is equal or nearly equal to that of a man employer will tend to give her the preference, with disastrous results to men and the families dependent on them. Yet when the slogan of "equal pay for equal work" is raised it is at once met by the objection that a man has a family to support while a woman has only herself. Of course, many a woman has dependents relying upon her earnings, and many a man has not, yet there is a sufficient difference to make the objection plausible.

In the second place the present theory of wages handicaps the married man as compared with the single man and the father as compared with the childless. It puts a premium on celibacy and childlessness. If it is desirable to maintain the race it is laid policy to penalize parenthood.

In the third place the present theory of wages does not fit the needs of the family with precision. It recognizes but does not solve the problem of family support. It makes no difference between a large and a small family. It makes no provision for periods of unemployment. It hangs the welfare of the child on an exceedingly slender thread.

Mother Gives Service to the State

In the fourth place the present theory of wages ignores the mother. It belongs to an outworn age when the woman had no rights and no responsibilities except through her husband. It is now recognized that the mother of a family is giving service to the state and that her life deserves sustenance on that account. If she goes out to take care of another's children she receives food, lodging and pay; but if she stays at home to care for her own what she gives depends not on the value of her services but on the ability and good fortune of her husband. A breakdown in her health or the collapse of his job may cut off her income and her power of nurturing her children.

Such is the proposal. It has behind it the names of such people as H. N. Brailsford, Eleanor F. Rathbone, K. D. Courtney and Emily Burns. It may or not become recognized in legislation. The significant thing is not so much what it is in itself as what it is in its associations and suggestions. Fifty years ago the same class of persons as is now represented by Mr. Brailsford and Miss Rathbone were agitating for factory laws. They were moving heaven and earth to get children released from working sixteen hours a day, and to bring women out of coal pits. The judgment of mankind today is unanimous in approving the factory acts which they secured the passage of, and recalls with wonder and shame the opposition which sought to prevent such elementary justice. The factory acts represented nothing more than a protest against cruelty. They began with the S. P. C. A. and the formation of the societies for improving the conditions of the poor. They continue the wave of individualistic humanity which liberated the slave.

But such proposals as the endowment of motherhood are symptoms of a new social concept. It is the right to live, the right of every human being to taste and see that life is good. Health insurance, unemployment insurance, compensation acts, minimum wage acts, enlightened relief distribution and the like are all outcroppings of the deep assent of modern society to the doctrine of the essential value and dignity of human life. The same indignation which, by processes of slow growth, came to attend the crime of murder, because it destroys a human life, is becoming attached to the poverty, insecurity, ill-health and fear which rob life of its joys for very many of our fellow creatures. The sacredness of life is inherent in life itself. It does not depend on the usefulness, on the wholesomeness, on the virtue of the life. It is as much murder to kill a cripple or a criminal as to kill a saint or a movie-goddess. Everybody has the right to live, and to live in decent and comfortable and secure conditions. All these new proposals, which sweep on their conquest of civilization are devices for the accomplishment of the purpose that the social mind of civilized man has embraced to abolish the physical handicaps which interfere with each achieving the life which his nature, as a human being, requires for its own fulfillment.

However, the committee which is launching the plan for endowing mothers does not think that it is necessary to wait for the national minimum. They believe that wages, like most other human phenomena, are not determined by the simple manner but are the result of a complex of circumstances. In this complex can be discerned the worker's productivity, his power of bargaining, and the number of his competitors. All these are coefficients of the standard of living.

Everything which increases the income and the security which increases the income increases his efficiency and so increases his power of bargaining. It is his knowledge that his cessation from labor would not mean the utter destitution of his family. In the words of a more adequate family income would create a better background for the men in those (that is, the lower-paid) trades; their organization would grow stronger, their efforts would be more sustained; and their view of the world would change from passive resignation to a state of things which kept themselves and their families below the level of even physiological subsistence to active determination to better their condition in ways they had not dreamt of before.

Again, the effect on the birth-rate would be excellent. If there are any classes in the community which tend to have too many children they are probably already up to the physiological limit of profligacy, and no bonus or premium would multiply their offspring. On the other hand there is reason to believe that the more prudent and cautious workers people are deliberately limiting their families on economic grounds, and the endowment, by removing the financial difficulties in the way, would probably increase the birth-rate in the very families where it is most desirable it should be increased.

Would Result in Lowering Wages

The obvious objection to the scheme of course, is that it would result in a lowering of wages. The experience of Britain under the unrequited poor law of the early nineteenth century is recalled, when every generous addition to the pauper classes was immediately subtracted from the current wages. The committee is so conscious of this danger that it suggests that a national minimum wage law might be enforced in connection with the endowment scheme, to prevent such a result. Just at present, in the Whitley scheme and similar devices, the trend is away from governmental action. Labor, conscious of its strength, wants to have the thing out with capital apart from all outside interference. Thus the idea of a national minimum wage law working period and a minimum wage is hailed. But the delay cannot be more than temporary, for the interest of the community in the bargaining between capital and labor is too vital to be disregarded for long. The consumer stands on behalf of the fixing of wages and hours, for these things are paid for in prices. It will not do to permit a conspiracy between the employers and the workers mutually to benefit at the expense of the public. It is quite possible that an organization representing a trade, and thus possessing a monopoly, should set both profits and wages at an unreasonably high figure and shove the load upon the community.

Not Necessary to Wait Minimum Wage

However, the committee which is launching the plan for endowing mothers does not think that it is necessary to wait for the national minimum. They believe that wages, like most other human phenomena, are not determined by the simple manner but are the result of a complex of circumstances. In this complex can be discerned the worker's productivity, his power of bargaining, and the number of his competitors. All these are coefficients of the standard of living.

THE TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT IN NEW BRUNSWICK 70 YEARS AGO

ARTICLE NO. II

(F. G. M. in Moncton Transcript.) Shepody, Albert Co., April 2—As the history of the temperance movement in New Brunswick seventy years ago is inseparably associated with that of the Sons of Temperance, the prominent temperance order of that period, the doings of that order during the first year of its existence in this province is more or less of interest to those who hold in veneration the noble pioneers of the temperance cause who did such grand work and laid such splendid foundations for the future structure of after years. An old and valued journal of the Grand Division, S. of T., covering the seasons 1847-1848, gives considerable facts and figures concerning that order, which had within its ranks so many of the prominent men of the province, and which seems to have created a great temperance awakening among the people. The first meeting (that of organization) of the Grand Division was held at St. Stephen in September 16, 1847; the second at St. Andrews on October 26, 1848; the third at Fredericton on January 31, 1848, and the fourth at St. John spreading the sentiment and spirit of temperance among their fellowmen. This report, in reference to the spread of the order in the province, mentions that a charter had been applied for by friends of temperance at Hillsboro, Albert county, for "Albert Division, No. 88" and that the necessary documents were sent to that able deputy, Bro. Steadman (afterwards judge) of "Petitcodiac Division," at the Bend. The now thriving railway city of Moncton was then known as the "Bend." Albert Division was therefore organized a few months before that at this village. It had many strong men in its ranks, conspicuous among whom was the late John L. B. Steeves, and for many years was a power for good in this county. It has now long been extinct. In his report at this date, the grand worthy patriarch refers to the gratifying fact that "whole religious denominations were coming out to the support of total abstinence." Hitherto, evidently, and as we know, the churches were not as strong supporters of and workers in this great cause as could be wished for. But, as this same report states, "the spirit of reform was fast overcoming all opposition."

Another grand move made by these temperance men at this time, 1848, when the cadet branch of the order was formed among the boys and girls, the men of these days, evidently realizing the hope of the temperance cause, after all, was in the young. Of these branches, known as "Sections," the G. W. Patriarch in his report of July 25, 1848, makes these references: "I cannot close this report without noticing the Order of Cadets, now firmly established among us. He quotes Bro. Johnson of Campbell Section, "the cadets are flourishing amazingly, fully sustaining their first promise, they now number 80." Bro. R. Seely, "there is no doubt this section (Portland) will be an ornament to the cause, and as the youngsters seem to take hold with vigor, there is every prospect of its increasing rapidly." Bro. S. L. Tilley of Chrystal Section, "I am confident this will be a well disciplined and thriving section, and shall be much disappointed if it does not number 100 members before the first of September next." Bro. J. McLaughlin of Carleton Section, "This section already numbers thirty members, who have displayed a degree of zeal and energy and intelligent action, which would be creditable to older heads." More than twenty years have passed since these children received their temperance instruction from those stalwarts of days gone by, and the good numbers that are reaching beyond all estimate, and no doubt had much to do with the temperance sentiment of today. The strength of the temperance principles of the men of '48 are well shown in a report of a committee composed of James Porter, S. L. Tilley and Geo. A. Garrison, which in strongest terms condemned the entering of a "tavern or saloon where liquors were dispensed," by a Son of Temperance, even to drink "a cup of tea or coffee." That the men of those days believed in the value of honesty and moral character is shown by their warning against the bringing into their ranks of the dishonest and hypocritical. They wished to help the drunkard who wanted to reform, but they said "no bonds can bind base natures. Never let us knowingly admit within our well fortified and well defended lines a man who is not strong in honesty and who does not bear upon his brow the stamp of truth. He who fears to speak what is true, and to do what is right, grossly miscalculates if he expects to find a fellow feeling among the Sons of Temperance." A pretty good creed these men seemed to have. This article could not better close than with a brief extract from a letter from the most worthy patriarch, S. F. Carey, to G. N. Patriarch Coy., on Jan. 10, 1848, which shows to some extent the faith, the character, the unbending devotion of the temperance men of that day who "builded better than they knew."
