[From Stewart's Quarterly.] THE CONVENT PORTER. BY CARROLL RYAN, OTTAWA. By CARROLL RYA, OTTAWA.

He was an ancient, bearded man

Beneath the archway seated,

Who, through the summer, lone and long,

His Rosary rep-ared.

He rang the bell for matin prayers;—

At nountide for the reapers,

And, when the evening shadows foll,

He rang it for the keepers,

And, sometimes, too, he toiled a knell

For everlasting sleepers. From day to day he said his beads,
Beneath the archway staying;
The sun, arising, found him there,
And, secting, left him praying.
On him would little hands attend,
And little footfalls rattered;
Around him; where the fig-trees bend
Were purple treasures stattered;
The wise 'ring cypress was his friend.
For him the ivy chattered,

But seldom at that convent gate
A traveller dismounted;
The outer world of love and hate
Passed by it unaccounted.
Monotonous, and quaint, and calm,
The prayerful seasons glided.
The vesper hymn and morning psalm
These days alone divided.
That by the dial, near the Palm,
Were left but undecided.

So years went by until oue day The night cloud, westward rolling, Came round the Friar's old retreat Without the vesper tolling. The birds still song on ivy sprays, The children still were playing. The old man, as in former days, Seem the still song the still so LOCALS.

New Brunswick's Marine Losses in 1872. The year 1872 has been exceedingly disastrous to shipping throughout the world, and it is shown by recent statistics compiled from official sources, that the per centage of losses is far beyond that of any other year for the past ten years. New Brurswick ship owners, while not suffering so heavily in proportion, have to bear many unlooked for losses. We have not

Asst. long. D. P. W. Eaton's Commercial College, ENGLISH STRAW H Landing ex Stmr. New Brunswick, on Monday RITCHIE'S BUILDING, St. John, N. B. OUR course of study is comprehensive, and andapted not only to such as have erjoyed the test educational advantages, but also to those whose education is deficient, from want or neglect of early opportunities or other causes. Those who desire to engage in Mercantile pursuits will receive that which is invaluable to them in the safety and despatch with which they will be able to conduct their own business or that of others. It gives the Mechanic an opportunity to take a front rank, by reason of superior ability to transact with correctness the business of his calling. To those engaging in Agricultural life it gives a practical knowledge and experience in business, which will enable them to meet the shrewd business man with confidence. And to that large class who are uncertain what course to pursue, it is not only the best stepping stone to lucrative and permanent business of their own, but also a ready means of commanding regular empleyment.
