LUMBER CUT THIS WINTER IN BAY CHALEUR DISTRICT TO BE ABOUT THE AVERAGE

Available Information Inspired Estimate of Not Less Than Eighty Million Feet In Restigouche Drive—Slight Increase Likely In Operations On Gaspe Coast No Definite Word Regarding Chandler Pulp Mill Winter Operations.

Although it is difficult to secure sufficiently detailed information regarding the exact extent of lumber operations on the North Shore this winter in order to make an accurate estimate of the cut, it is conceded that this season's figures will compare favorably with those of last year. This will mean that the drive on the Restigouche next spring will bring down about 80 million feet to the lumber mills in this district. While this is considerably smaller than that of 1924—when 141 million feet of lumber entered the corporation boom—it is comfortably larger than was estimated early this fall when doubt was expressed if the cut would reach 50 million mark.

While one or two concerns are not operating on a very large scale this season, most of the larger companies have contracted for about an average supply of lumber.

On The Gaspe Coast

On the Gaspe Coast the lumber cut this winter will be up to average if not over, at least so far as long lumber is concerned. The Howard Smith Mills, the St. Maurice Lumber Co., and Sheppard & Morse are all operating to the same extent as in previous years and it is understood that one of these companies may bring out about ten million over last year's cut.

At Chandler

No definite word has yet been received regarding the Bonaventure Pulp and Paper Co. at Chandler. Last year this firm brought out 85,000 cords of pulpwood. Their supply of wood on hand will not keep the mill running beyond the first of March and needs of signing of the contracts for this year's cut is being awaited with much concern in that locality.

POTATOES SELLING AT $5 ON UPPER ST. JOHN VALLEY—CAR SHORTAGE MAY BE BLESSING

While Buying Has Eased Off for Time Being Higher Prices Are Sure Later.

Florenceville, N. B., Nov. 4.—Potatoes are selling at $5 again today. The few sales which were made at $5.25 per barrel yesterday did not permanently affect the price. To-day there is a car shortage, which those who claim United States market has been overloaded say is a blessing in disguise.

Reports from Presque Isle, Me., are to the effect that the price in Aroostook has eased off to $6 to-day and that some firms have withdrawn their buyers. Dealers in this district say they cannot afford to pay within 4% of the Maine prices and pay 85% cents duty as well as losing at least 50 cents a barrel on the reclassification; so even if $6.50 is paid at Presque Isle there will be little if any advance here for the present.

There is quite a disposition here to hold stock on the expectation of higher prices in the future.

HON. CHAS. MARCIL'S MAJORITY GROWS

Returning Officer Verge Says It Is Now About Eight Hundred.

Quebec, Nov. 4.—According to the latest information from Bonaventure county Hon. Charles Marcil has been elected by a majority of eight hundred votes over his Conservative opponent, Theodore Paquet. An official count will take place Thursday afternoon.

Stewart Verge, Registrar, and returning officer, in giving reasons to explain the apparent doubt which had been existent in the last twenty-four hours regarding results in that electoral division stated that the distances existing between the headquarters of the returning officer and the parties were responsible, also recent storms.

THE ROMANCE OF CANADA

Enjoyable Illustrated Lecture By Capt. J. Milton State in Town Hall.

The Town Hall was well filled Monday evening to hear Captain J. Milton State official lecturer of Canadian National Railways deliver his lecture "The Romance of Canada."

The lecture was really a brief talk by Capt. State, interspersed by moving pictures of Canadian wild life and scenery and was much enjoyed by the audience.

The first reel of pictures entitled "Where the Moose Runs Loose" depicts the monarch of the forest, the lordly moose, in its haunts in New Brunswick, at times the actions of Mr. and Mrs. Moose and family were thrilling. Guide Harry Allen was easily recognized in these pictures.

The second reel was entitled "In Old Quebec" and was very interesting as was the third reel entitled "The Highlands of Ontario."

The fourth reel was devoted to the Triangle Four, and the scene at Jasper Park, Mount Robson, Prince Rupert and the water voyage to Vancouver were wonderful.

Capt. State is a lecturer of no mean order. He has been engaged in this work for some time, and has delivered over one thousand lectures in the interests of Canada in Great Britain and the United States and Canada and is doing a great work in making our country known in distant lands.

W. T. Lowther, travelling passenger agent of the C. N. R. accompanied Capt. State.

With this function an active summer in golf was brought to a close. From all appearances the members of this organization are taking a keen interest in the activities and the outlook promises well for a still more enjoyable golfing season next year.

DEVELOPMENT OF GRAND FALLS

Public Ownership Of Development Cast Aside By Baxter Is Report.

(St. John Globe)

The Royal Securities Co. and the Montreal Engineering Co. are interested in a new proposal for development of the Grand Falls, according to a report from Moncton. The scheme is, it is alleged, to have the development carried out by a group of corporations, including the International Paper Co., the Frasers and other big North Shore lumber concerns. Plans for the work provide, it is said, for a smaller development than was laid out by Dr. H. G. Acres, eminent hydraulic expert, who was consulting engineer to the Venetian government, the Moncton story relates. It is argued on the other hand that a saving in initial cost would be attained, but there is the objection that a smaller canal would limit the flow of water and would entail construction of an additional canal should it be decided later to attempt to take advantage of the maximum possibilities of the Grand Falls.

The latest proposal would involve development under private corporations who would take for their own use a certain amount of power and would sell the balance for general consumption.

The presence in Saint John for several days of W. C. Pitfield, formerly of this city, and now vice-president of the Royal Securities Corporation, Montreal, lends some color to the Moncton report. It is further supported by the fact that Colonel Allen and D. Stairs of the Montreal Engineering Co., were also here. Mr. Stairs is reported from Fredericton to have inspected the Grand Falls.

Since the Grand Falls is the only first class hydro possibility in the Maritimes, there is keen interest in suggestions which relate to that great water power, and rumors and reports have been current in this province and in Montreal which indicate that the Grand Falls has not been lost sight of. There appears to be some disposition to limit the proposed development to power obtainable from Canadian territory.

Should there be a decision to harness the Grand Falls, by private corporations or otherwise, a railway will be available right up to the site of the power house, as the spur line which is under construction, is about two-thirds finished.

A Saint John financial man and a prominent citizen of King's County are said to be active in support of a movement to make the Grand Falls power available for use, especially in so far as benefit may accrue in the application of electrical power to the basic industry of lumbering.

LOSES HORSE AS RESULT OF CRASH

Auto Driver Accidently Collided With Horse Drawn Vehicle On Monday Night.

A collision between an auto and a horse-drawn vehicle occurred on Monday night at the corner of Andrew and Argyle Streets when a car, driven by E. A. Cantin came in contact with a horse driven by Dr. A. J. Roy. One of the horse's legs was broken and the animal had to be shot.

The collision was evidently an unavoidable under the circumstances. The driver of the car was proceeding at a moderate rate of speed up Andrew Street and was about to turn into Argyle Street when he noticed a woman about to pass in front of the car. The pedestrian halted when half-way across and the driver of the car was obliged to make a wide turn. His attention thus being diverted, he did not notice the horse and wagon approaching and before either driver could change his course, the collision occurred.

GETS WILDCATS AND FOX ALIVE

Bathurst Hunter Captured 5 Foxes And Two Wildcats On Recent Trip.

Bathurst, Nov. 4.—William McMin, of West Bathurst, who had been hunting at Silver Brook, about 60 miles up the Nepisiguit River, returned home recently. While on the trip Mr. McMin got five live foxes, three of which he brought home, and also two wildcats weighing about 30 pounds. The wildcats are now in captivity in West Bathurst. He contracted blood poisoning in his foot while on the trip and is now confined to the hospital.

BONAVENTURE IS STILL IN DOUBT

Various Reports Give Seat to Both Parties By Small Majority.

Que., Nov. 4.—From a majority of 45 votes, which was last reported in favor of Hon. Charles Marcil, Liberal candidate, information received this morning from Bonaventure county gave a majority of five in favor of Major Theo. Paquet, Conservative candidate in that district. Due to the many unsuccessful demands made in the past for a railway, the Conservative may have been elected.

Major Paquet is the former officer commanding the 57th battalion, which he organized during the war. He was secretary to Hon. L. G. Belley, Postmaster-General in the last Meighen Cabinet. Hon. Charles Marcil is the former Speaker of the House of Commons.

The election of Major Paquet would bring to 119 the number of Conservatives in the present Parliament.

CARIBOU PLENTIFUL IN GASPE WOODS

American Hunters Arrive In Fredericton After Piloting Car Through Snow

Fredericton, Nov. 4.—Two American sportsmen arrived here by motor last evening after a three-day trip from a country in which there is three feet of snow. They are Dr. D. C. Broga, and his nephew, Dr. A. S. Broga, of Rome, N. Y., who have been hunting caribou in the Gaspé section of Quebec. The elder doctor, who drove the car, said he never had operated a motor under such difficulties and intended to remain here a few days to recover. Dr. Broga drove his car through snow until within 18 miles of Fredericton. Weather conditions everywhere were unseasonable.

Says Caribou Plentiful

The two motored into Gaspé county by way of Quebec City, but snow along the Matapédia made that turn that way impossible. Contrasting conditions a year ago the elder Dr. Broga said that that on Oct. 31, last year, they gathered blueberries as large as the end of a finger in country where snow was three feet deep this season.

On their arrival in Gaspé it was necessary to send out from their camp for snowshoes. Caribou were found plentiful. They killed two, one with 33 points. They may go after bear on the Keswick while here.

LIBERA LSAYS PARTY WHICH CAN REMAIN IN POWER NOW IS SURE TO STAY FOR FEW YEARS

Wave of Prosperity Coming, He Says, Which Will Cure Country's Ills.

New York, N. Y., Oct. 31.—All the christian churches might be fused into a single denomination before this century has ended, Bishop Robert L. Rudolph of Philadelphia, dean of the Reformed Episcopal Theological Seminary prophesied in an address here last night before fellow churchmen.

A sixteenth century saw the formation of protestantism the nineteenth century saw the beginning of tolerance, the twentieth century, may well see the attainment of the union churches," Bishop Rudolph declared.

FIRST PAPER MADE AT MADAWASKA

New Mill of The Fraser Paper Co. at Madawaska Turning Out High Quality Paper

Edmundston, Nov. 2.—The Fraser Paper Company's mill at Madawaska, across the Saint John River from here on the Maine side, manufactured its first paper during the week end, the meeting requirements to have the first machine in operation by the end of October. The mill makes magazine and other kind of fine paper and a second machine will be in operation about the middle of December. Pulp supplies are pumped through a pipe line from the Fraser Companies' mill here, across the international bridge to the paper mill at Madawaska.

ISSUE WAS HIGH TARIFF VS. LOW

Robert Forke Says Progressive Elected on Low Tariff Platform.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—The Star publishes the following special from Winnipeg: "That is a question Premier King would give the world just now to know."

Thus answered Robert Forke, leader of the Progressives, when asked whether the Progressives would support Premier King in order to help him retain office.

Further than that the man on whose shoulders has descended the burden of the Progressives, would not commit himself. He said in conversation over the long distance telephone from his Pipestone farm that he had just returned from a conference with the Progressive executive and would issue an official statement in a few days. He was silent when his intentions respecting a trip to Ottawa for a possible conference with Premier

According to information received at the Customs Office here this morning, the "Castlneau", an oil-burning craft of twenty tons owned by Joseph Allard of Carleton, sprang a leak on her way down the river yesterday afternoon and sank in shallow water.

It is not definitely known whether the boat is a total loss or not but after last night's tide it is thought she will be seriously damaged. The boat, engaged in coastwise service on the upper bay, cleared port here yesterday about noon with a cargo of general freight. A part of this, consisting of a quantity of sugar, was destroyed. Some of the cargo, it is understood, was salvaged.

The craft evidently struck a snag broke a hole in her bottom. She was manoeuvred to shallow water and the crew escaped to safety. It is not known whether the boat is covered by insurance or not.

This is the second misfortune suffered by the Allard brothers of Carleton in the past few weeks. During the recent storm the tug "Lord Roberts" broke from her moorings at Carleton and was dashed to pieces on the beach there.

PROPHESIED ALL CHURCHES MAY UNITE
New York, N. Y., Oct. 31.—All the christian churches might be fused into a single denomination before this century has ended, Bishop Robert L. Rudolph of Philadelphia, dean of the Reformed Episcopal Theological Seminary prophesied in an address here last night before fellow churchmen.

A sixteenth century saw the formation of protestantism the nineteenth century saw the beginning of tolerance, the twentieth century, may well see the attainment of the union churches," Bishop Rudolph declared.

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—A new slant to the advantage of Mr. King's staying in power to the Liberal party and to the reason for the Conservatives determination to do the same if the Government vacillates, was given here today by a man who prefers to remain anonymous.

"The party which can remain in power for the next few months," he declared, "is the party that will probably remain in power for the next few years."

The reason is that all the first of a wave of prosperity very seldom experienced in this country are here right now, and will be so apparent in a few months as not to be questioned. The party in power then, whether Liberal or Conservative, will be able to claim the credit. The present government's low tariff policy has had something to do with it, but there are other inevitable causes, tariff or no tariff, and those causes are the recovery abroad from war time depression and the increased buying power of foreign countries.

"Who could blame Mr. King for retaining power? The majority of members in the House, as shown by the election results, are for a low tariff policy. It is certain the Conservative party cannot carry on if they adhere to their high pledges. And it seems fairly certain that Mr. King can carry on with the low tariff. Progressives an offshoot from the Liberal party."

King were sought. "Would the Governor General be justified in calling upon Mr. Meighen to form a Cabinet?"

"That is for him to decide, but the Progressives were elected on a low tariff platform."

"The situation is very complex. What do think will happen?"

"The issue was very clear. It was one of high tariff versus low tariff."

J. M. FLEWELLING DIES AT MONTREAL

M. L. A. for St. Stephen Passed Away After Undergoing Operations.

St. Stephen, N. B., Nov. 1.—John Medley Flewelling, member-elect of the Legislative Assembly of New Brunswick, died yesterday at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, where a few days ago he underwent an operation. He had been ill for several months and had been to Montreal for treatment a few months ago. The community was greatly shocked at the news that Mr. Flewelling had passed away at 6 o'clock. Only in the noon mail had come letters to relatives and friends here stating that the operation, the second he underwent during his illness, had been thought to be successful and everything looked brighter than before for his recovery.

DALHOUSIE

Victor Jameson, Dalhousie Junction, and Miss Greta Dawson, Maple Green daughter of Robert Dawson, were married October 22, at the Rectory Dalhousie, by Rev. R. J. Coleman. The happy couple are very popular and the good wishes of the community is extended to them for a long life of happiness and prosperity.

Miss Flossie Thompson, R. N. of Montreal is spending her holidays with her brother Mr. James Thompson.

Hugh Blair has returned from the west he went on the first Harvest train in August.

Mrs. Edger Hicks of Bathurst is visiting her mother, Mrs. Blair. Her friends all sympathize with her in the loss of her little son, who died in Bathurst Hospital on October 28.

Miss Harquail, Campbellton, our popular teacher, had a Halloween party in the school house for the pupils on Friday evening. The pupils wore masks, and dressed like "Grown up folks" the ghost appeared in the basement and when they were playing an interesting game the "Old Witch" appeared to the great amusement of all present.

Some time ago Miss Harquail made an "afternoon tea" for the parents. It was a pleasant way of getting acquainted and all enjoyed the social time together.

The weather is very unfavorable, quite a number have turnips and garden produce yet to be taken in and stored for the winter.

NO REASON TO RESIGN

Hon. Clifford Sifton says: "There appears to be no reason whatever why Mackenzie King should resign," when interviewed here.

The main issue in the election was the high protectionist policy of the Conservatives and the Conservative party failed to get a majority of the House elected on that policy. The Progressives in the west are to a man elected on the policy of opposing a high tariff and therefore Mr. Meighen cannot expect any support from them. Apparently there are one hundred and twenty-six low tariff members elected and one hundred and sixteen high tariff members."

BIG EARTHQUAKE NOW PREDICTED

New England States Will Suffer
Shock Equal to 1775 Quake—
Be Prepared

Providence, R. I., Oct. 31.—New England should be prepared at any time to experience an earthquake of the intensity that shook this section in 1775. Professor Kirtley F. Mather of Harvard University told the Rhode Island state teachers' convention yesterday.

The quake of 1775 was about equal in intensity to that which shook Santa Barbara last summer, Professor Mather said, and he pointed out that conditions at the present time were vastly different from those in 1775.

"Modern conditions of city life obviously make such an earthquake much more dangerous to-day than it was at an early date," he said.

"In spite of the fact that property damage would certainly be much greater at this time than in 1775, it is probable that the greatest danger now is from panic. Earthquakes cause unreasonable fear unless the mind is prepared either by previous experience or by proper training. Rushing wildly into the street is the most foolish procedure possible. With very rare exceptions, safety may be found by remaining indoors. Here, as elsewhere in human life, knowledge of what to do in an emergency must be gained in advance of the emergency."

OBITUARY

John Clifford Traverse

John Clifford Traverse second eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Traverse of Maple Green passed away on Wednesday, October 29th, at his late residence Maple Green. After an illness borne with Christian fortitude and patience and until the last year always enjoyed good health and was always interested in his farming and enjoyed deer hunting for his sports—he was a general favorite in the community, his demise at the early age of 37 years is felt to be a distinct loss.

He is survived by his parents, a wife and five small children, five sisters; Mrs. Wm. McKay, Richardsville; Mrs. Pat Smith, Lily Lake Road; Mrs. Edw. Smith, Campbellton; Mrs. Irvine Menzie, Maple Green; Mrs. Peter Deroche, Lily Lake Road. The brothers are: Edward, Richardsville; Philip and Harvey at home. The funeral services were held at his residence on Friday afternoon, many friends from distant parts being present, his favorite hymn was sung "Safe in the Arms of Jesus". The remains were laid to rest in Campbellton Cemetery, floral tributes from friends and relatives were many and beautiful indeed. The Rev. Mr. Coleman assisted by Ensign Whitte officiated at the house and grave.

The pall bearers were friends of the deceased, Wm. Smith, Sip Major, Wm. Scott, Andrew Flowers, Alex Doyle and Gordon Campbell.

A COURSE IN PRACTICAL AGRICULTURE

The third annual practical course in Agriculture will be held in the New Brunswick Agriculture School, Experimental Farm, Fredericton on November 16th to December 19th. These dates are practically two weeks later than the opening dates of the two previous courses. This should be conducive to a larger attendance as the press of the Fall work will be practically over by that time.

Tuition is free for the entire course board and lodging is furnished at the rate of $3.50 per week in the School Dormitory. The principal in residence with the students to look after their interests at all times.

The work accomplished by the students of the previous courses in judging competitions of various kinds and the added interest these young men have taken in farm work since leaving the school has amply justified the expense and time devoted to the course. One of the best advertisements of the first course was the attendance at the second course of a young man, an older brother of a young man who had taken the first course.

The expenses incurred by a student include his railway fare to and from the school, his board and lodging at $3.50 per week and a small amount for laundry and incidental expenses.

Readers of this notice will confer a favor on the School and on the young men of their community by bringing the merits of the School to their attention.

NEEDED IMPROVEMENTS TO LOCAL SKATING RINK ARE DISCUSSED BY HOCKEYISTS

Former Club Officials Voice Need Of Improvements In Building—Hockey Rooms and Better Lighting Necessary—Chatham Spends $7000 on Rink Improvements.

With the hockey season of 1925-26 now in the offing some discussion has arisen over the question of much needed improvements to the local skating rink. Fans are naturally interested in this matter but the promoters of hockey here realize even more fully the need of these improvements if the coming season is to be a successful one.

What Is Needed

In conversation with the writer yesterday officials of last years club voiced their opinions in the matter. They declare that suitable hockey rooms, for the home and visiting teams, are sorely needed; that better provision for adequate lighting is essential and that, according to the regulations of the league, the interior of the building must be white-washed. While none of these improvements would necessitate any large expenditure, their institution would make the rink building much more suitable for hockey activities. In the light of these facts the hope is expressed on all sides that these requirements will be attended to without delay.

It is likely that local officials of the league will get in touch with the rink management without delay and take up the matter. The season is advancing, and no time should be lost in having everything in readiness for the opening of the league games.

In Chatham

In other places all necessary arrangements are being made to help along this popular winter sport. In Chatham the sum of $7000 has been expended for rink improvement. With an example like this, set by the little town of Chatham, Campbellton should (for obvious reasons) show a proper sporting spirit.

WHERE INDEED, IF ANYWHERE?

This year's winner in the air race round Britain, Captain F. L. Pardard, says that the only question regarding his aeronautical experiences he was quite unable to answer, was asked him by a child.

He was visiting a friend, and his best's little girl, aged about eight or nine, after putting him through a lengthy cross-examination, wound up with this poser.

"But tell me, captain," she said in all earnestness, "if the end of the world were to come, and the earth were destroyed while you were up in your aeroplane, where would you land when you came down?"

AN ARMISTICE SPECIAL

for Nov. 9th—10th—11th.

ARMISTICE DAYAND THE PURPOSE OF THIS PAGE

THERE is probably no date in the whole calendar year which has a more definite and universal significance than Armistice Day. Since the close of the World War—seven years ago—November the 11th has continued to be a day of silent rejoicing in every heart for deliverance from the Sorrows of War. And although the urge is to forget the terrible strife of those dark years, yet it is fitting that Armistice Day and what it means should be remembered. For it is not the celebration of War; it is the commemoration of the winning of Peace.

On this special page we present the advertisements of merchants to whom, because of their part in the World War, Armistice Day means much more than to the average citizen. These former "fighting men" are back in business life after having played their part in the winning of Peace and we trust that in presenting this page our readers will join them in commemorating the day in a way that will make these Veterans feel that their Service has been appreciated to the fullest measure.

We ask our readers to give these advertisements the thoughtful consideration they deserve and to

PRESENT SEASON A RECORD ONE IN HUNTING ACTIVITIES IN THE GASPE DISTRICT

Baker's Hotel The Rendez vous for Scores of American And Canadian Sportsmen—Many Fine Heads Secured By Hunters Making Their Headquarters At This Famous Hotel—Interesting Facts About The Beautiful Gaspé District.

According to word received from Gaspé this week game is very plentiful in that locality this season and a great number of sportsmen from various parts of the country in search of a trophy have during the past month, made Baker's Hotel their headquarters in that district.

The influx of non-resident sportsmen registering at Baker's this fall is said to exceed that of the average year and many of these have been exceptionally successful in their search for moose and other game. To one familiar with Baker's—the now famous rendezvous for sportsmen and vacationists—this is readily understood for there are few places anywhere so eminently well fitted, both naturally and artificially, to gratify every expectation of the visitor.

A Great Game Country.

Gaspé is a great game country and as a hunting-ground it is only beginning to receive the recognition and popularity it deserves. Beyond the limits of Gaspé proper lie thousands of acres of untrammelled forest land in which big and small game abounds. The hunter is afforded the pleasure of tracking these creatures of the woods through vast reaches of unviolated forest where he may behold them in their natural haunts unmolested by civilization, in a forest empire all their own. The beautiful York Lake district constitutes in itself everything the hunter could desire and here life in the glorious open embraces every attraction for the sportsman. This country is notably beautiful and in the fall when nature is arrayed in the full glory of her autumnal colors and a purple haze crowns the mountains the scenic splendor of this district is a sight well worth the trip. It is little wonder that sportsmen from remote corners of Canada and the United States as well as a number from foreign countries, make an annual trip to Gaspé to bring home a trophy of the woods.

A Record Season

The past summer has been a record season in tourist business at Gaspé. Vacationists from all parts of America, coming by rail, by steamer and by auto have been guests at Baker's Hotel during the past summer. As a result of very careful and efficient management accommodation at this increasingly popular resort seems almost unlimited and even at the busiest season the unexpected guest may be assured of every comfort upon his arrival.

The growing popularity of Baker's Hotel as a mecca for vacationists is not only well merited but also easily accounted for. The Gaspé district, one of the most scenic watering-places in Eastern Canada, is blessed with such a variety of natural attractions for the holiday visitor that every stranger urges his friends to visit this new resort at his earliest convenience.

A Wonderful Playground

A visit to Gaspé affords the health or pleasure seeker an opportunity to enjoy every phase of out-door recreation. Boating, bathing, lake, river and deep-sea fishing, riding, motoring and mountain-climbing all offer diversion for the out-door enthusiast. In addition to this the Gaspé district is replete with points of historical and

REVENUE LARGER THAN ESTIMATED

New Brunswick Government Has Advantage of Veniots Good Management

Fredericton, Oct. 31.—New Brunswick's estimated territorial revenue of $1,092,000 for the 1924-1925 fiscal year ending today will be exceeded when all payments have been made, according to a statement issued today by Hon. C. D. Richards Minister of Lands and Mines.

Heavy payments on the province's stumpage account for the year estimated at $755,000, have been made during the past few days. Final payments are being made today before the closing of the books for the year.

The rate at which stumpage payments have been made during the past few days reducing the outstanding accounts against the various lumbering concerns has been satisfactory said Mr. Richards, and arrangements were made with the banks to remain open today for the purpose of handling last minute payments.

One of the revenue features this year is connected with game receipts which will exceed those of last year which amounted to $65,000.

This year's estimate was fixed at $70,000 and while it is not believed that this estimate will be reached there will be a satisfactory excess over 1923-24 payments, licenses from the sale of salmon fishing licenses also will be greater than last year.

DESTROYED BY FIRE

Damage estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000, was done and 50 men thrown out of employment, as a result of fire which early Saturday morning destroyed the woodworking factory of the George Eddy Co., Ltd., Bathurst. It is believed that the fire started in the boiler room of the Wightman Lumber Co., Loss fairly well covered by insurance.

Parisian women who find cigarette smoking too tame are now indulging in cigars and jeweled pipes.

legendary interest for the stranger and motor-boat and auto excursions to at least two dozens picturesque localities fill out the balance of a varied program—a program that crowds even a protracted visit with lots of interesting things to do.

Baker's Hotel

As for Baker's Hotel, this famous hostelry is, in itself, a sufficient attraction to induce holiday visitors from distant places to spend a vacation in Gaspé. And usually when a stranger comes to Gaspé, his visits become an annual affair. This is easily explained for there is no place on the growing lists of summer hotels just like Baker's. At once both quaint and modern it meets even the most extravagant hopes of the fastidious guest. Located in a charming spot and commanding an inspiring view of the basin harbour and surrounding hills, it is endowed with every essential for a glorious holiday. For sheer comfort it surpasses anything in our recollection, as far as country hotels are concerned and every department of the hotel service is up to a high standard of excellence.

A Notable Distinction

A notable distinction of this service is that it is almost continuous. No matter what hour of the evening or night fortune may deposit you in Gaspé, you are met by genial representatives of this hotel and taken without delay, to the big comfortable house overlooking the basin. Whether it be 6 p. m. or 1 a. m. you may sit down to an appetizing meal in the big dining-room and there recoup your reservoir of vitality from an ample spread without fear of being unnecessarily charged for this most appreciable privilege.

Hospitality.

While service is a slogan with any up-to-date hostelry, Baker's Hotel in different in that, to the fullest measure of service is added a degree of hospitality that cannot be found in any commercial hotel. No long ago a traveller while crossing Gaspé basin in company with the writer, remarked:

"One would think, looking at Baker's Hotel from this point, the building had three roofs. Looks that way, doesn't it?"

So it does, and the writer can conscientiously add that he has been extended as much generous-hearted hospitality at Baker's Hotel as under any "three roofs" he can remember.

Good Prospects

"What's tickling Hickey so?"

"A bootlegger offered him a commission for new customers, so Hickey, by way of a joke, gave him the Membership roster of the Civic Dry Enforcement League."

"Well?"

"Today Hickey got a commission check for $550."

Motorist: "Hey, you ought to look out!"

Victim: "Wassa matter, you gonna back up?"

LANDMARKS STILL

RETAIN EARLY NAMES

Les Mille Roches and The Thousand Islands Were Known to Voyageurs

Two landmarks of the voyageur as he paddled up the St. Lawrence river were "Les Mille Roches", a rapid above Cornwall and "Les Mille Îles" above Brockville. The first name means "The Thousand Rocks", the second "The Thousand Islands". Both are in use to-day, the former in the original French form as the name of a village, the latter in the English form. And just as the word "Thousand" is used in the one case to designate the numerous rocks in the river at this point, so it is to be understood in the second case as indicating not that there are 1,000 islands, more or less, but only a large number. Modern usage applies the name to the islands small and large, on the stretch of the river between Brockville and Kingston, but the name signified, originally, the smaller islands on the shorter stretch between Brockville and Gananoque.

The first reference to the Thousand Islands on maps in the collection of the Geographic Board of Canada is one by de Lery dated 1727, where "Les Mille Îles" are indicated. Few of the islands possessed names before the war of 1812-14 with the United States. After the war Captain Wm. Fitzwilliam Owen (1774-1857) surveyed lake Ontario for the Admiralty in 1815 and 1816, following this up in 1818 with a survey of the St. Lawrence river between lake Ontario and Cornwall. The results of his survey whistling. He imitated a locust with of the river appears on a chart in five sheets, published in 1828, which shows that he had thought out an ingenious scheme of nomenclature for the islands, the result of which was the entwining of the history of the war with the geography of the region.

The group of seventeen or more islands at Brockville named after 1812 after Major General Sir Isaac Brock, he called the Brock group, giving to the individual islands the names of various officers who had seen service in the war, such as Cockburn, Corran, de Rottenburg, de Watteville, Everett, Sheaffe, Sparrow, Stovin, and Skelton.

Higher up came the Hydrographer group of some nine islands in which those commemorated include Owen himself and his assistant, Bayfield. The Indian group includes Tecumseh and another group was called the Old Friends and another the Amateur islands.

CHAMPION WHISTLER

CAN OUTWIT CATS

Louis Warner, aged fourteen, won the whistling championship of Jersey City recently. There were sixteen contestants, each representing a playground. Louis did both plain and fancy whistling. He imitated a locust with such realism that several women in the audience became nervous. Then he imitated a baby chick and a canary bird so naturally it fooled the cats. Finally he did an imitation of a traffic cop. Motorists on a nearby street jammed on their brakes.

RE-ORGANIZATION MUST FOLLOW

There is no one who will deny the fact that it was Liberal votes which made possible Mr. Culligan's victory at the polls on October 29th. Life-Long Liberals throughout this constituency, dissatisfied with the present Liberal organization, and with the lack of interest displayed by Mr. Michaud in this part of his constituency, not only voted with the Conservatives, but in many instances worked for Mr. Culligan.

The question now is how are these Liberals to be brought back to their party. The only answer is by a thorough re-organization, and an open mind so far as these are concerned. In speaking of those who, at this particular time for no doubt good and sufficient reasons, voted Conservative, a prominent Liberal voiced the opinion that any who left the fold should be set severely aside and not counted among the faithful. Now, in our opinion, this is sheer nonsense. It is the ones who have strayed from the Liberal ranks that a concerted effort should be made to return to the fold, and that effort should be made at once.

It is generally conceded that Premier King will be forced to appeal to the people, possibly next spring, at all events within a year. Under these circumstances it will be necessary for the Liberals of Restigouche-Madawaska to perfect their organization at an early date, and thus be ready for the fray.

It will also be necessary to choose a new standard-bearer as we have been assured that Mr. Pius Michaud will not again offer. Under these particular circumstances the party has no time to lose in petty party squabbles. Let every elector who has the true principles of Liberalism at heart get together and help present a united party at the next election.

WHY MEIGHEN IS IMPOSSIBLE

One of the curious comments on the existing political situation is that Hon. Mr. King should not carry on because he gets two-thirds of his support from one province, Quebec. Apparently the writer thinks that it would be all wrong for Quebec to furnish two-thirds of the Liberal strength, but quite all right for Ontario to provide two-thirds of the Conservative strength, which it does. The fact of the election returns which must be kept in mind is that the Conservatives get their strength from the Maritimes and Ontario while the Liberals get theirs from Quebec and the Prairies. The relation of Quebec to the Liberal party is exactly the relation of Ontario to the Conservative party. The Maritimes, although it will hurt rather than help them, ask for protection and the prairies ask for a low tariff because they honestly believe it will help them. These circumstances of the voting tell plainly why the situation is difficult but they do not tell all the situation. The Ontario vote was against Meighen. That fact cannot be left out of the consideration of the situation now confronting Canada. The Conservative party, as such, made no fight in Quebec. Its leader was told plainly to stay out of that province. He obeyed the order. The Quebec opposition to King and the Liberal party repudiated the leadership of Meighen and declared independence of Conservative authority. Meighen's name was not mentioned at opposition meetings. He was ignored. This is a fact of the election which rises up now to confront the Conservatives. They played what they thought a smart political trick. It failed, but it remains the reason why Meighen should not be called upon to head a Canadian government. The man who was not permitted to go to Quebec, whose name was never mentioned in Quebec, cannot be made the premier of a Dominion when that province voted almost solidly against him. The humiliating position in which he allowed himself to be placed should make it impossible to name him premier. That fact should be clear to Mr. Meighen and to all Canada.—St. John Globe.

POPPY DAY

The annual Armistice Day sale of Poppies will be conducted again this year by the Campbellton Red Cross Society on Wednesday Nov. 11th and it is hoped that those who canvass the town will meet with a generous response from every citizen.

The purpose of this dominion-wide sale of poppies should not be forgotten. It should be remembered that for every one of these flowers sold, four cents finds its way directly to the disabled ex-service men who make them and who not only need richly deserve this help in their efforts to make a livelihood. It is no more than right that citizens should contribute to this work, at least to the extent of securing a poppy and wearing it in commemoration of the winning of peace. The Federal Government has promised to have November 11th, proclaimed as a National Memorial Day for the first time and the Poppy—the Flower of Remembrance—will live a greater significance than ever before.

In a circular recently issued the provincial secretary of the New Brunswick G. W. V. A. makes the following timely remarks.

The purposes of the Poppy Campaign are threefold:

1st. The establishment of the universal custom of wearing the Flower of Remembrance on Armistice Day.
2nd. Providing employment for our disabled comrades and dependents in Vet-Craft Shops.
3rd. The augmentation of Funds for the relief of ex-service men and dependents in distress.

4th. To inculcate in the younger generation the highest spirit of patriotism which a proper explanation of the POPPY must implant in their minds.

With these thoughts in mind the Red Cross Society should meet with the support of everyone in this particular patriotic activity.

MARKETS FOR CANADA

In former days we rejected the offer of the United States for the free exchange of agricultural produce. Without desiring to comment on the merit of this popular verdict, there is one result which is beyond question, that we are completely disarmed today, for the purpose of remedying the situation created by the United States in hermetically sealing her domestic market to us. There is no use in blaming fault, blaming others, will do good. What we must do is to look elsewhere for other markets to take its place.

THE SPIRITUAL ELEMENT

In conclusion to an article in Truth and Freedom pointing out how famous scientists believe in religion, Professor A. E. Taylor, Professor of Moral Philosophy in Edinburgh says: "As to the actual trend of thought today, I can only say that to my mind, both in science and philosophy, the best men are getting steadily farther and farther away from atheism and more and more pronounced in the conviction that the world requires a spiritual explanation, and that spiritual religion is a right and indispensable element in our civilization."

A number of newspapers have been explaining to their readers in a semi-apologetic tone why they accepted advertising from the opposite political party. Surely such an explanation is unnecessary in this enlightened day. Any editor who is running a newspaper, not an organ, will report speeches from both sides. Advertisements are simply the same arguments presented in a more striking form and there is no reason why a newspaper should not publish them, and make a few dollars—provided they contain nothing of an objectionable nature. The amount of space used in the campaign just closed shows that party managers and candidates recognize, more than ever before, that the newspaper is the easiest and most effective way of getting their arguments before the electors.

It costs $12,000,000,000 per year to clothe United States women. And they do not get much for their money, either, remarks the Toronto Telegram.

One of the candidates in the late election stated a simple truth when he said that no government was likely to enjoy great popularity in Canada during the next forty years.

During wet September people looked for a nice October and through gloomy and unsettled October have been hoping for a fine November. Now the weather chief comes along and says he doesn't look for any Indian summer this fall.

The Liberals of the Maritime Provinces should not be down hearted over the result of the Federal election. Four years ago they cleaned up everything in sight in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, but the Tories seem to have had no difficulty in staging a come-back. For the next twenty-five years governments in Canada are going to have a difficult time providing a service that will satisfy the majority of the people.

THEY ARE SEVEN

A great English divine recently classified seven social sins. They are points out The Kingston Whig, quite recognizable to the ordinary mind and are worth meditating upon:
Politics without principle.
Wealth without work.
Pleasure without conscience.
Knowledge without character.
Industry without morality.
Science without humanity.
Worship without sacrifice.

THE PACT OF LOCARNO

Oshawa Reformer: Incredible as it may seem, France and Germany, through their representatives, have agreed never to go to war again. Every issue that may arise is to be submitted to arbitration and mediation. Along the Rhine there is to be a demilitarized zone which, as Julius Caesar might say, neither is to cross "in a hostile manner". If either nation does cross this zone to attack the other, Great Britain and Italy will assist in opposing the aggressor. This is the gist, apparently, of the Pact of Locarno. There are other guarantees, other conditions regarding existing treaties and regulations of the League of Nations, but nothing that seems to weaken in the slightest degree the central and outstanding agreement. The man on the street will say that this looks like a common-sense arrangement. The cynic will recall the "scrap of paper." There will probably be wild talk and wild scenes, in the German Reichstag and elsewhere, before the Pact is finally ratified. But it seems to be a wonderful step in advance, something almost too good to be true.

A COMMUNITY PROPOSITION

Mr. E. Roy Sayles, former manager of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association and therefore thoroughly acquainted with the weekly newspaper situation in Canada, says editorially in the columns of his newly-acquired paper the Renfrew Mercury:

"Everywhere there is a growing understanding among business men that the newspaper while an individual business problem of some publisher, is at the same time, a community proposition—a community asset. The newspaper serves the man who publishes it. The time is coming when everywhere business men will feel a personal interest in the newspaper's welfare. The fact is, a community cannot make progress without it. It can exist, but cannot grow."

"With the realization, there has also come an understanding that one newspaper serves better than two or three. It has become a simple problem of business mathematics to centre the strength of a community behind the newspaper that has made itself, through work and service, the strongest journalistic factor in community development."

"So far as Canadian newspapers are concerned there have gone out of business since 1914, fifty daily newspapers, while 224 weekly newspapers have suspended publication or been absorbed by the other paper in the town. In some counties of Ontario from four to eight weeklies have suspended publication. "The announcements of newspaper consolidations will continue. The result will be better and more outstanding weekly papers with improved service to advertisers, subscribers and the community generally."

Canadian Motorist: So many lives are being lost in accidents occurring by reason of the lack of lights on horse-drawn vehicles that one may well ask the question: Is life to be held cheaper than light? Coroners' juries every few weeks have placed the blame for accidents in which motor vehicles and horse-drawn vehicles were in collision on the lack of lights on horse-drawn vehicles and have recommended legislation remedying this situation. Indeed, the Courts appear to be in advance of the Legislature, for recent decisions would indicate that judges regard the carrying of lights on horse-drawn vehicles as a reasonable precaution, and that those who go driving at night without lights assume, in a large measure, legal responsibility for any accident which may happen. The provincial law requiring lights on all vehicles so badly needed and so long delayed, cannot be written into the statutes any too soon, from whatever standpoint, private or public, this vital question may be regarded.

REAL CAUSE FOR ALARM

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald recently made a little dissertation on Scotsmen.

"The Scotsman is his own worst enemy," he said. "All the jokes at the expense of Scotsmen are invented by Scotsmen. I once employed a parliamentary secretary for the purpose of supplying me with two original jokes against Scotsmen every day of the week."

Mr. MacDonald's real opinion of Scotsmen is contained in his sly reference to the present administration. "Those of you inclined to be pessimistic," he observed, "fearing that the country will never recover again, have the best reason for believing that, because there are no Scotsmen in the present government."

"Mary, Johnny tells me that when he went into the dining room last night he saw Mr. Biff with his arms around your waist."

"What a story, mamma! Why, the light was out."

Here and There

It is understood a Scottish syndicate has purchased sixteen acres of land adjoining the best residential section of Vancouver, B.C., and will erect one hundred residences there.

Although only three years old the Oliver district of British Columbia has already become noted for its production of very fine cantaloupes. This year the production is expected to be about 25 to 26 carloads.

The 1,250,000-bushel Government Terminal grain elevator being built at Prince Rupert, B.C., will be completed by November 1st, when a test shipment of ten carloads of grain will be made through it.

Notification has been received by the Hon. John S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, that his showing of white Wyandottes at the New York State Fair at Syracuse, has captured the trophy for the best display for the twentieth consecutive year.

By a recent Order-in-Council of the Lieutenant-Governor, premiums for clearing land, which had previously been set at $6 an acre, were increased to $8. The Order also provides that the premium will be paid for a maximum of twenty acres of land and, as a result of it, a settler may obtain a grant of $160 from the Government as a reward for his work.

Considerable progress has been made during the past few years by R. M. Palmer, at Cowichan Bay, B.C., in the cultivation and propagation of new species of gladioli. In his garden, Mr. Palmer has at present growing about 150 different varieties, bulbs having been secured from all parts of the world, even Central Africa contributing its quota to this wonderful collection.

Having completed their tour of Canada as the guests of E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the ten British journalists left Canada early in October for England, to relate there the story of their experiences and to give their readers the impressions they have gained of the Dominion.

During the month of August 1,332 vessels, comprising 131 trans-Atlantic, 85 coasting and 966 inland steamers, entered the port of Montreal, these having a total net registered tonnage of 1,936,945, while in the same period 1,141 vessels went out, these representing 1,932,145 net registered tons. Since the opening of navigation 757 ocean-going vessels, representing 3,468,965 net tons, have entered the port, as compared with only 649, representing 2,280,073 net tons last year; these figures being up to the midnight of September 5th.

F. F. Norcross, a well-known Chicago lawyer, had an amazing experience recently while staying at the Banff Springs Hotel and playing on the golf course there. His approach to the ninth hole was disrupted by a huge bull elk which tossed its antlers and stood pawing the ground with evident hostility as the lawyer prepared to play his ball. Mr. Norcross was about to observe the better part of valor when the bull's attention was distracted by the appearance of a cow elk which made an effective substitute for the golfer and both animals disappeared into the neighboring bush.

Freddie's father always expected instant and unquestioning obedience from his children. One day there was a sudden downpour of rain, so he told Freddie to go upstairs and close the trapdoor in the roof.
"But father—" began Freddie, remaining on his chair.
"Fred, close that trapdoor at once!"
"Yes, father, but I—"
"Frederick!"
Without another word Freddie went upstairs and closed the trapdoor.
An hour later, when the family sat down to tea, Freddie's brother did not appear, and his father asked what had happened to him.
"He's out on the roof!" replied Freddie.
And it was still raining.

After an absence of over ten years he had returned to his native village, and there he ran into an old friend.
The greetings usual to such occasions passed between them, and then the one asked the other:
"Well, don't you find the streets winding?"
"I do, indeed," was the reply. "Why the first day I came down here the wife asked me to take an old cat we had and drown it in the river a mile away."
"And did you lose the cat all right?"
"Not a bit of it! I should never have found my way home if I hadn't been able to follow the cat."

BUNKERS ON THE MOON

"Sandy" Herd is busily engaged just now superintending the laying out of a new British golf course. In answer to a request for a story he told one about a friend of his, also a professional golfer, who was giving lessons to a well-known astronomer at his private links.
One day the pupil took him to his observatory and showed him the moon through a huge telescope.
After the golfer had gazed his fill at the wondrous and awe-inspiring spectacle, he was asked what he thought of it.
"It's a grand sight," he replied, "but I'm thinking it's too full of bunkers."

ONLY WORM SHE KNEW

A lady was showing her child a dress of silk.
Wishing to impart useful knowledge, she said, "Daughter, do you know all this was given us by a poor worm?"
The little girl looked puzzled for a minute, then asked, "Mother, do you mean daddy?"
A WORD TO THE WISE
One step won't take you very far, You've got to keep on walking; One word won't tell folk who you are, You've got to keep on talking.
One inch won't make you very tall, You've got to keep on growing; One adverb, cannot do it all, You've got to keep them going.

A constant drop of water Wears away the hardest stone, The constant gnawing terror Masticates the toughest bone;
The constant cooling lover Carries off the blushing maid, And the constant advertiser Is the one that gets the trade.

LORD PEEL DENIES RECENT REPORT

That He Is To Be Next Gov.-General of Canada.

London, Nov. 3.—A report in the Sunday Express that Lord Peel would probably be the next Governor-General of Canada, in succession to Lord Byng, is emphatically denied by Lord Peel.
"I have not heard a word about it, it is entirely incorrect," His Lordship said.
Lord Peel was Secretary of State for India from 1922 to 1924. Among the public positions he has occupied are the following: Under Secretary of State for War, 1919-21; Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, 1921-22, and Minister of Transportation, 1921-22. Lord Peel was Conservative member of the House of Commons for the Southern division of Manchester from 1900 to 1906, and M. P. for the Taunton division of Somersetshire from 1909 to 1912.

OBITUARY

NELSON COURT
On Nov. 25th, there passed from this life to a fuller life beyond one of our most respected citizens in the person of Mr. Nelson Court of Escuminac in the eightieth year of his age. About eight years ago he was stricken with a paralytic stroke from which he never fully recovered, although he was able to be up around and enjoyed a fair measure of health, until recently when he was again stricken with two more strokes within two days which terminated fatally in spite of medical aid and loving care. The deceased gentleman came to this place from P. E. Island 37 years ago and settled on a farm which was then in its virgin state as there was no clearance on it whatever, and there he raised a family of 13 children who grew up to man and womanhood, the first break in the family circle was 11 years ago when his second son Daniel of Campbellton passed away. And then the Great War came which made serious inroads in his family for no less than 4 sons enlisted two of whom made the supreme sacrifice, and a daughter and her two children were killed in the Halifax explosion. And then to add to his cup of sorrow his son Nelson a promising young man who went out west to look after the property left by one of his dead and loving brothers, was stricken with pneumonia and died in a few days. So many deaths so close together was a terrible blow to the father and mother who was formerly Miss Susan Brown, sister of Daniel and the late Charles Brown of Escuminac and who predeceased her husband nearly three years ago. But they bore their sorrow like true patriots.
The late Mr. Court was one of those quiet and reserved good natured men who went his way without giving offence to anyone, and will be missed by a large circle of friends. He leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and loving father four sons and four daughters. Three brothers and a sister also survive him. The funeral was held at his late home on the 28th. The Rev. George Gough officiated and delivered a very inspiring address. The hymns "Rock of Ages" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" were beautifully rendered, and after the benediction the remains were borne to the Escuminac cemetery and tenderly laid by his pall bearers the Messrs. David Glover, John Elliott, Thomas Williamson, and John Edwards, in his grave beside his helpmate and partner in life, there to await the summons when we shall all be contemporaries and make our appearance at once.

CANADA LIFE
The Canada Life Assurance Co. has opened an Office in the Mowat building, opposite the Subway, Water Street, to accommodate their staff for the North Shore and Gaspé Coast District.
Mr. James Gilchrist, who has recently been appointed General Agent for this District, is well qualified for his new position, having been one of the big producers of the Company for six years and has had a long organization work. Associated with Mr. Gilchrist will be Mr. E. G. Ferguson who has represented the Company in Campbellton since July 1924 during which time he has made a host of friends and secured a large volume of business.
Mr. Nathan B. McDavid, of Flat Lands Rest. Co. is well and favorably known throughout the country, having been with the Company many years, during which time he has been one of the largest producers in New Brunswick.
Mr. D. Moreau of Lower Carleton Place, who had recently joined the staff is a young man of great promise. The Company announces they have already written more new business in N. B. this year than in all of 1924 and no small portion of the credit for this achievement is due to Messrs. Gilchrist, McDavid, and Ferguson.

"If you tell a man anything it goes in at one ear and out at the other," she remarked.
"And if you tell a woman anything," he countered, "it goes in at both ears and out of her mouth."

ANCIENT CITY FOUND UNDER CASPIAN SEA

Moscow, Oct. 29.—The discovery of an ancient submerged city near Sukov, a sandy bank on the Caspian sea was made yesterday by Alexis Alayeff, captain in the Soviet mercantile fleet. Alayeff's ship bound from Parda to Baku accidentally changed her usual course and, while sounding were being made, he noticed buildings on the seabed.
Alayeff asserts that under the bright sunshine he was enabled to distinguish streets and buildings of ancient Asiatic architecture. A further investigation revealed a well preserved roadway leading to the Baku fortress.

Bents Electric or Gas. A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, J. M. The Wife Who Wasn't Wanted

By DOROTHY A. F. MARCELL

Copyright, 1925, Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.
"THE WIFE WHO WASN'T WANTED" with Irene Rich is a picture-ization of this novel

SYNOPSIS
The unscrupulous Jerome Wallace is a candidate for District Attorney against John Manning, who is standing for re-election. As a young man he was a suitor of Eileen, now Mrs. Manning. To-day he is looking fondly at a girl's photograph, lovingly inscribed by Eileen. His reveries are interrupted by a telephone call from "Slick" Jennings, a notorious ward healer, who is assisting him in his campaign. Wallace is a handsome man and believes himself a winner with women.

Politically speaking, Mr. Jennings was a man of parts. He was reckoned in such matters a skillful hand capable of producing results, rather remarkable results, too. It was Mr. Jennings' practice to get out the vote for his candidate. He got it out, careless of where it came from. For voting purposes, Mr. Jennings had liberal ideas. He held a transient guest to be quite as good as a permanent boarder and a residence in a vacant lot equal to that which could be obtained by dwelling in a mansion. Furthermore, Mr. Jennings was not one to shed tears over the disappearance of a ballot box so long as it came from a precinct favorable to his opponent. In a word, Slick Jennings was a man of action, a sort of modern freebooter, feared by his enemies and beloved by his sports and near sports, who added zest, a very piquant sauce, it may be added to the exercise of the rights of suffrage by their fellow citizens.

But as Slick waited at the telephone for Wallace to respond, he was troubled and unduly moved. When emotion was combined with his flesh—Slick was fat—he perspired excessively. So now he sat there with his hat on the back of his head, and chewed viciously on a cigar, while drops of moisture arose in great beads upon his florid countenance. "Hello—hello," shouted Slick, seemingly crunching a half inch off the butt of his cigar and swallowing the debris. "What the h—?"

A novel summons, this latter, and having a fire and vim much to be preferred to the "Are you there?" of our English cousins.

It was effective, too, for over the line came the calm voice of Wallace, and it might have been an echo.

"Well?"

"Have you seen the Star—the Star paper?" Once Slick had been a newspaper man and there were memories of this former occupation in his conversation.

"No, not yet. Is there something of interest to us in it?" Even Wallace's studied calm could be shaken at times.

"I'll say there's a plenty, an eye-fall, or I'll chew my tie." If gaudy colors are derived from poisonous dyes, this was a perilous pledge.

"Well," said Wallace curtly, passing over the fact of Slick's tie in a most callous manner. "What did the Star have to say?"

Slick rolled his cigar from one side of his mouth, to the other, with astounding dexterity and swallowed hard. For an instant, it looked as if the whole cigar was going, but it came back safe and sound.

"The Star paper," he said, and it was as if he spared for time, "had a piece in it about the election."

"There is nothing unusual in that, it ordinarily contains some election news."

"Well—it said it said," worried Slick as if that which he was about to impart would be melancholy tidings to his hearer, "it said that a poll of ten precincts showed a big leaning towards Manning."

But Wallace took the news easily.

"Oh, that doesn't amount to anything," Slick said, "it's just plain propaganda, the Star has been supporting Manning from the very first."

"Sure" agreed Slick, but the drops of perspiration which fell upon the desk showed that he was by no means reassured. "But I got a friend—a friend, that's got a intimate friend in the Star office. An' he says with the staff's straight—they got the dope."

"Ah," Then after a moment's silence, "did you happen to get a line on the precinct they polled too?"

Don't a flivver drink gas?" pro-played itself through his troubles. claimed Slick with a pride which dis-"They're all on your side of the town in the high hat district."

"Ah," said Wallace, once more, "that will make it interesting for you, Slick, open up a larger territory for your amusement, give you a chance to show your metal, eh?"

So moved was Slick by this remark that he raised his eye to one of the many posters bearing Wallace's picture upon the wall and there was something almost supplicating in the look.

"Listen, Mr. Wallace, you got me wrong. I don't never let my boys use metal. I frisk 'em myself before they go out. I don't stand for no rough stuff, just fists, maybe a club or two if somebody gets mean. An' listen, Mr. Wallace, I got a

A Salve which Releases Medicated Vapors when Applied Over Throat and Chest.

Inhaled as a vapor and, at the same time absorbed through the skin like a liniment, Vicks VapoRub reaches immediately inflamed, congested air passages. This is the modern direct treatment for all cold troubles that is proving so popular in Canada and the States where over 17 million jars are now used yearly. Splendid for sore throat, tonsillitis, bronchitis, croup, head and chest colds, catarrh, asthma or hay fever. Just rub Vicks over throat and chest and inhale the medicated vapors. It quickly loosens up a cold.

VICKS VAPORUB

OVER 21 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

Feed meal cost $70.00 per ton; this gave a profit per steer fed turnips of $10.39 and a profit per steer fed cabbages of $9.94. A balance in favor of the turnips of 45 cents per steer. When cull potatoes are available they may be used to advantage to replace turnips or other succulent forage crops provided the ration is balanced and the laxative tendency of the potatoes is counteracted by some other food in the ration.

Miss Audrey Devereaux who is attending the Convent in Chatham spent a few days at her home here last week.

Miss Pearl Guitard of Westbrook Me. has returned after spending her vacation here the guest of her parents.

Miss Doris Boulay is spending some time with friends in Jacquet River.

Mr. Ray Lapoint, Nashes Creek spent the week-end at his home.

Mrs. Wm. Archibald, Jacquet River was the week-end guest of Miss Clara Anderson.

Mrs. Geo. Miller, Dalhousie was the guest of her daughter Mrs. H. Ellis last week end.

Mr. Edmund Daley who went west on the harvest excursion has returned home.

Mr. John Daley, New York is spending sometime here and in Dalhousie Mr. Sheldon Miller spent the week end with friends in Jacquet River.

DAIRYING

The extraordinary progress made by the dairy industry of the Dominion during the past few years continues and it is gratifying to find that the demand for Canadian dairy products is becoming greater and wider each year.

The output of creamery butter last year was 184,290,908 lb., valued at $63,449,160. Canada's best customer for the product during the year ended 31st July last was the United Kingdom, other markets being the United States, South Africa, Bermuda, West Indies, Newfoundland, Ireland, Cuba, Alaska, China, Japan, Germany, Belgium, Holland, New Zealand, Philippine Islands, South America, and Panama.

The growth of the industry in the prairie provinces has been remarkable, particularly in the case of Saskatchewan, which only a few years ago was regarded as entirely grain-growing territory. For the first six months of the current year the butter production of that province was 6,392,461 lb., exceeding the figures for the corresponding period of the previous year by 25 per cent. Manitoba's increase was even greater, being 52 per cent. higher to the end of May last. Alberta, which in 1915 imported 4,116,000 lb. of butter and last year exported 4,100,000 lb., expects to increase its output by 20 per cent. this year. The outstanding reason for this growth, doubtless, is that the farmer is realizing, as never before, that dairying provides a steady source of revenue and affords relief from many of the cares which go hand-in-hand with the production of grains alone.

The above is from the Canadian Bank of Commerce, a monthly trade letter, and should be read with interest by local farmers. It took several years of poor crops in Manitoba and Saskatchewan to make the farmers realize that they must have something besides grain to depend upon. New Brunswick farmers, particularly those in Restigouche should profit by the experience of Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

In order to feed a balanced ration and counteract the laxative effect of the potatoes, cotton seed meal was fed in the grain mixture while oil cake meal was added to the grain fed with turnips. The cattle all ate heartily and remained healthy throughout the experiment.

The amount of oil cake meal fed was 6 pounds per steer per day at the beginning. This was gradually increased to 12 pounds per day at the close of the test.

At the commencement of the test the nutritive ratio for the ration containing turnips was 1:7.3 and for the ration containing potatoes it was 1:7.4, except lot G, which was fed oil straw instead of hay.

The nutritive ratio of the ration for this pen was 1:8.6.

The steers fed turnips made an average gain of 151 pounds in the 89 days. Those fed cull potatoes made an average gain of 155 pounds in the same period.

The average cost per pound gain was 17 cents for those fed turnips a 20 cents per pound gain for those fed cull potatoes. The oil cake meal cost $58.00 per ton while the cotton seed meal cost $70.00 per ton.

When cull potatoes are available they may be used to advantage to replace turnips or other succulent forage crops provided the ration is balanced and the laxative tendency of the potatoes is counteracted by some other food in the ration.

ALL FROM PEANUTS

The peanut is rapidly becoming an article of the greatest commercial value. Already it is being used in the production of 145 foods and useful articles.

From the peanut we obtain peanut butter, ten varieties of milk, five kinds of breakfast food, two grades of flour, ice-cream, salad-oil, sauce, metal-polish, toilet and laundry soaps, oleo-margarine, wood stains, leather dyes, ink and glycerine.

A teaspoonful of peanuts can be made into a pint of milk, while the nuts make a better lard substitute than does cotton-seed oil. Mixed with wheaten flour, peanuts make a palatable and highly nutritious bread; they also make excellent biscuits and cakes.

Strictly speaking, the peanut is not a nut at all; it is what is called a "legume"—akin to the bean and pea.

The peanuts grow underground, and the crop is harvested with a plow, there being special machines which clean and bunch the nuts.

"I suppose you are getting a good fee, doctor, for attending the Smith boy? His father's rich."

"Well, yes. Why?"

"Well, I hope you won't forget that it was my little Tidd who threw the brick that hit him."

The Value of Father John's Medicine as a Body Builder

Is Positively Proven By Over
70 Years of Success

First—The quality of the Cod Liver Oil used, along with other valuable ingredients in compounding this remedy.
Dr. Harvey A. Sell, one of the best known analytical chemists on this continent, made an analysis of Father John's Medicine and said, "We have never examined finer cod liver oil than used in Father John's Medicine."
Second—The tiny particles into which the Cod Liver Oil is divided by the wonderful equipment in our new Montreal laboratory. Concerning the degree of fineness, Dr. Sell states in his report on Father John's Medicine, "The cod liver oil is broken up more completely than in any other medicine we have ever examined of this type, many of the oil particles in Father John's Medicine being only one-tenth the size of the particles of butter-fat found in cream."
The cod liver oil is so excellent in quality and is so finely divided that its full food value is easily absorbed by even weakened digestive systems.
This is why people, especially aged and weak, and pale, thin, underweight children grow healthy taking Father John's Medicine.

SNOWBALL OPERATIONS
In Northumberland County there is satisfaction because of the decision to operate the Snowball limits and the sawmill at Chatham. The Snowball firm because of market conditions had not carried on extensive operations for some seasons. The expectation is that the Snowballs will operate on the Tabusintac and on the Southwest Miramichi. Long lumber is to be manufactured and railroad ties also to be got out. Chatham expects a total cut at the mill there which may reach ten million feet.

MANN'S SETTLEMENT
For the second time in the course of a year the home of Mr. Daniel Irvine has been invaded by death, and all regret to hear of the passing away of his daughter Mamie, who died on the 29th ult. The deceased, who had reached the age of thirty years, had been in poor health since June, but few realized that the end was near, as her quiet cheerfulness, and uncomplaining patience hid from her friends the real battle that she was making for health. The end came suddenly while at the home of friends at Campbellton. The funeral which was held at the home and church on Sunday afternoon was largely attended. Rev. E. V. Forbes of Tide Head conducted the services, and friends from near and far gathered to pay their respects to the memory of one who in a quiet way had filled a large place in the home and circle of friendship. A large group of brothers and sisters remain, to whom, as also to the bereaved father, the sympathy of all is extended.

sits under a street light playing with toothless he has to explain to some

SICK FOR YEARSWants Women to Know How
She Was Made Well by Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Cornwall, Ontario.—"I am now giving your medicine a fair trial and it surely is doing me good and I am going to keep on taking it. I used to feel tired in the morning that I didn't want to get up, but that feeling is leaving me now. I also sleep better and feel more like working. For seven or eight years I have had headaches, tired feeling, pains in my back and across my body. I read letters in the newspapers saying what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine until I am better and haven't an ache or a pain. Isn't that the right way? I have great faith in your medicines. They must be good when those who take them speak so highly of them. I am recommending them to my friends and I will gladly answer letters from women asking about them."—Mrs. B. H. Hart, Box 1081, Cornwall, Ontario.

Mrs. Hart wants to help other women and is willing to answer letters from sick women asking about the Vegetable Compound.

PARENTS TO BLAME FOR THE SELFISHNESS OF YOUNG FOLKS

Not long ago a young woman who came from a home of moderately good circumstances, boastfully confessed that she had never made a bed in her life. "I attempted to do it, but they were so frightfully looking that mother had to make them over, so I never bothered any more."

Which calls to mind another business girl who had left a comfortable home to make her own way. She had a complaint, a complaint which was mostly a wish, that her father had never taught her the value of the money she earned. "While I was at home, they would take no board money and my dad backed my credit in the shops of the town, so I spent my earnings on entertainment and when, all of a sudden, our home was broken up, and I found that not only must I pay for my clothes but also for my room and board. My lesson in personal economy was a bitter one."

No more eloquent argument than this could be advanced to strengthen the statement that the modern generation is not entirely to blame for the many shortcomings found in it. There are many parents who fail to realize that their responsibility is a life-long one and does not end when a fair academic education is given. The home should also be a school of practical education where the children are given a sane and wholesome outlook on life. One international figure recently declared that it was the parents of the modern young person who was to blame for their much discussed selfishness.

"Time after time I have found," he declared, "that those persons who chafed under restrictions in their youth, swing to the other extreme with their children and allow them too much freedom of activity and freedom from worry."

Far more important than academic knowledge is an understanding of values in friendship, character and morals. The home life and relation between parent and child should be from a training school for the battle with life. The child, therefore, should not be pampered, but taught to look out for himself, for it is only through things conquered that life takes, on its finer meaning. Parents are too inactive!

A case is cited of a young woman who had graduated from college with honors and knows all about the conduct of an office and the financing of such. Yet the other day, when she had occasion for the first time to purchase some groceries for the family, she was flustered at the price. "Why, I never thought household things were so expensive," she exclaimed, while an old friend of family remarked "You should have asked your dad—he probably knows!"

"Very good, Mr. Bones. And have you anything to offer this evening, Mr. Tambo?"

"Yes, sir. Can you tell me why a pretty girl is like a wagon wheel?"

"No, Mr. Tambo. I cannot. Will you tell us why?"

"Because she is always surrounded by fellows."

STORY OF THE DUNGARVON WHOOPER
A LEGEND OF THE S. W. MIRAMICHI

(Polough Pogue in Vancouver Province.)

Old man Angus and I were alone in the bunk car; the rest of the men who bunked in the car had gone to the river on a speeder.

The night was fine and we sat on the car steps contemplating the myriad stars. The big camp was very silent; the only sounds were the hiss of steam from locomotive and the heavy humming of the electric light plant.

These noises were some distance away and did not seem to disturb the silence. But suddenly an unaccountable cry came from the black timber behind the siding on which our car was. It was like the wail, very much amplified, of forest boughs in a strong wind blowing. The mournful sound was repeated, louder, with a note of foreboding to it. To me it was mysterious, but the old man Angus readily explained:

"The Dungarvon Whooper, by the Holy Mackinaw!" With a strange look on his rugged face he answered my immediate inquiry.

"The Dungarvon Whooper, by the whoop on the Miramichi but I ain't heard the old whooper for forty years."

The old logger was silent then for a time, while he listened for another whoop but heard no more.

"When I was logging on the Miramichi we used to hear the oldwhooper often. The Indians had been heading her for a long time, before white men came into these woods, and those Indians decided she was a spirit."

"Some of the loggers thought so too and wouldn't work in the country where the whooper whooped. Some of the shantymen thought she was a sign of a storm, or a spell of bad weather. Some said that the whooper was always heard just before the death of somebody who heard her. Some told you she was some kind of animal that had never been seen."

"You're not a superstitious man, how do you explain the whooper?" I asked.

"I can't explain it. It might be some kind of a bird."

"It couldn't be that." As if to verify what I had said, the cry came again from the black forest, a long and much amplified moan. I felt a touch of superstitious dread.

"Holy Logger," swore old man Angus. "What the Royal American Judas is the old whooper doing up in this country!"

For some time we sat listening and looking toward the blackness of forest from which the cries had come. But presently we went inside and started a fire in the stove. Old man Angus sat moodily smoking, memories of the Miramichi wilderness probably passing through his mind.

The night grew damp and cold and we heard the uncanny sound no more. An hour passed, and still the men did not return, and old man Angus prepared for bed.

"Many a time," he told me, "I have heard the Whooper in the woods on the Miramichi." He arranged his blankets around him, and filled his Scotty pipe for a last smoke before going to sleep. "I wonder, I wonder now what she's doing up here. Maybe I think, maybe, she's callin' me." He lit his pipe and said no more.

To me the Dungarvon Whooper was only another of the strange and inexplicable sounds heard in the great Coast forest after dark. The primitive mind easily accounts for these by attributing them to ghosts and spirits. To the civilized mind they must remain mysteries of the forest darkness.

REMARKABLE REGENERATION
Senator Robinson, of the United States, who has been on a visit to Ireland, declares that there has been nothing more remarkable in modern history than the regeneration of the Free State. As an indication of the wonderful change that has been brought about, Senator Robinson points to the fact that during the last two years, Ireland has almost disappeared from the news columns. Political agitation has almost ceased. Nothing sensational is happening. The people are devoting themselves quietly and steadily to their task of making a new Ireland. And they are succeeding.

But a couple of years or so ago, the whole of southern Ireland was in a state of turmoil. The country was cursed by guerrilla warfare; assassinations were common, and the torch was in frequent use. Now, according to Senator Robinson, there are few crimes of violence as compared with any equal area of continuous territory in the United States. Taxes are still oppressive, but they are being reduced, and the efficiency of the Free State Government is demonstrated by an example of economy in public expenditures of our states, as well as by the government at Washington.

The news which Senator Robinson has brought from Ireland is good news, and will be so regarded by most people everywhere. If there are exceptions anywhere, they are probably to be found among some of the irreconcilables in the senator's own country. But these irreconcilables are few in number, although they are sometimes noisy in action.

MONEY FOUND IN LONDON DUSTBINSJewelry and Valuables Found in Rubbish Heaps Yield Many Dollars.

In London dustbins it is not only rubbish that is always found, for silver spoons are among the things most commonly thrown away by mistake. Rings and purses occasionally come to light, and even a case of jewelry has been reported as one of the contents of a bin.

A good deal of what is found is, of course, simply rubbish. But a much larger portion is put to good use.

The majority of the London borough engineering departments are provided with apparatus for crushing refuse into small particles, in which state it is used by farmers as manure; and one borough is at present engaged on a scheme for mixing rubbish with coke for the manufacture of coal briquettes.

Such methods of economy are, however, practised more scientifically in the provinces than in London. In Birmingham, for example, old tins are collected, tied together in bundles and melted down into tin sheeting. One of the most efficient refuse disposal depots in the country is in Leicester. There the streets are literally paved with rubbish, for the clinkers from the dustbins are separated from the rubbish, put through a crushing process, and made into paving-stones.

OUR PULP AND PAPER

Canada is now definitely listing its pulp and paper industry as a leading industrial activity, and after her grain and grain products, the second largest item in the Dominion export trade. The rapid expansion of the market for this product is due not only to the increased demands from the United States, but from a continually enlarging clientele in other countries.

A recent statement from Montreal says that Canada will unquestionably produce a greater volume of newspaper in 1925 than will the United States and thereafter will remain unrivalled in this trade. This is a broad statement but it is made possible through the record of the year when for the fourth time the monthly Canadian newspaper production exceeded that of the United States. In September the Dominion produced 124,704 tons against 121,019 in the United States. For the first nine months of the year Canada produced a total of 1,116,881 tons of newspaper against a total in the United States of 1,109,921 tons, giving the Dominion the slight advantage of 800 tons, but an advantage. The combined product of the two countries for the period is greater than in any nine months in history.

According to the reports issued by the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association the exports of pulp and paper from Canada for these first nine months of the current year amounted to $111,519,865, an increase of $5,469,532, over the corresponding period in 1924. Taking the items singly it is seen that exports of pulp amounted to $34,181,917; of paper, $77,337,948; newsprint alone gives 1,017,500 tons worth $71,713,172 as compared with 906,747 tons, valued at 463,003,040 in 1924 and pulpwood exports for the 1925 period amounted to 1,185,405 cords, valued at considerably over eleven millions of dollars, $11,775,969 in fact, as compared with 1,090,425 cords valued at $11,140,838 in 1924.

Many a time, "I have heard the Whooper in the woods on the Miramichi." He arranged his blankets around him, and filled his Scotty pipe for a last smoke before going to sleep. "I wonder, I wonder now what she's doing up here. Maybe I think, maybe, she's callin' me." He lit his pipe and said no more.

The development of the pulp and paper industry in Canada has been rapid, especially in the production of newsprint. Comparison between the first nine months of 1921 and the current year show an increase of 90 per cent. in the production for 1925.

The report says, significantly, that although forest exploitation is causing concern, there is no apparent halt to production. Three new machines making possible an increase of 275 tons per day are to be added at once, while an additional ten to be in operation before the end of the year will make possible an increase of 925 tons.

There is also the prospect of an increased plant in 1926 that will bring the output up by a further 535 tons per day. These will tend to put Canada's production of pulp and paper well in the world's lead. To maintain this it will be necessary to look after forest conservation. The United States is seeking pulp wood and newsprint elsewhere because in her country there are large areas of forest woods protected against cutting until trees planted by citizen's organizations are matured or have at least reached a growth that will insure their permanence. Canada should carefully prepare for the future of this industry which has come to her through the luxuriance of her forests.

It cannot be maintained without wood and the forest expert sound a deep note of warning against the very thing the industry fears, the injudicious exploitation of the forests. To New Brunswick this changing view of the forest has an especial significance.—St. John Globe.

THE LADY SWOONED

Amongst a host of good sea stories told by Admiral Reginald Bacon, of the famous "Dover Patrol," is one concerning a "middy" who once attended a social gathering at Portsmouth.

He was such a little chap that the ladies had no idea he was really a midshipman, but took him for somebody's "dear little boy" in a royal navy get-up.

At last one of them, on whose lap he had been sitting, and who had just kissed him rapturously, asked:

"And how old are you, little dear?"

"Twenty-two, ma'am," he said in a voice like a fog horn.

Mrs. Sims: "What are you doing with that string tied around your finger?"

Mr. Sims: "You put it there to make me remember to mail a letter for you."

Mrs. Sims: "Well, did you do it?"

Mr. Sims: "No, my dear, you forgot to give it to me."

Little Betty had been visiting the city, and when she arrived home she said to her sister: "Margaret, I suppose people haven't such good memories as they had many years ago."

"What makes you think that?" asked Margaret.

"Well," replied Betty, "in Boston I saw a number of statues that had been erected to the memory of various famous men."

Some Tasty New Oyster Dishes

Fried Oysters
Lay a dozen oysters (or as many as required) in the shell on a roasting pan, sprinkle them with anchovy butter and grated bread crumbs, then again a layer of anchovy butter. Shortly before serving place them into a very hot oven for a few minutes and brown them with a red hot paucake flipper, then serve immediately.

You can use ordinary butter instead of anchovy, in which case the bread crumbs should be mixed with parmesan cheese.

Stewed Oysters

When opening the oysters, save the juice. Lay them into hot water until they stiffen, then cut off the beards and put them into a white sauce until it bubbles. The white sauce should be made thus: Melt 2 tablespoons of butter and mix with 1 tablespoon of flour. Add the oyster juice and 2 yolks of eggs and bring to boil.

Devilled Oysters

Treat oysters as above, making them firm by cooking in their own juice. Beat 3 eggs with 1 tablespoon of English mustard. Cover the oysters with this paste and bread crumbs. Then bake quickly in hot lard and serve upon a serviette with sauce Colbert.

Sauce Colbert—Beat 4 tablespoons of stock (lukewarm) and mix with 4 tablespoons of butter cut into small bits. Beat until frothy, add salt, pepper, lemon juice and some parsley to taste and cook moderately.

Take 2 teaspoons each of Hervey sauce or Worcestershire sauce, essence of anchovy and stock let them simmer and when still lukewarm beat into same with an egg beater, 3 tablespoons of butter cut into small bits and bring to a boil.

Oysters on the Spit

Boil oysters in their juice mixed with an equal quantity of white grape juice, just bringing it to a boil. Then detach the beards and lay the oysters upon a serviette. Then distribute them on a cooking plank and cover them with a thick white sauce. Let wooden or silver skewers, smear them over with the rest of the thick white sauce, cover with bread crumbs and bake until done.

The thick white sauce—Take a standard white sauce and add the juice of the oysters. Then cook therein some giblets and mushrooms, adding 3 yolks of eggs and some cream. When quite thick strain through a haircloth and apply as directed above.

The Proper Care Of Furniture

The wooden beds and other pieces should be washed with clean cloths in a lukewarm, white soapwater, drying the clean spots with soft cloths as rapidly as they are washed. After the pieces are clean, they must be gone over with a good furniture polish and then rubbed until they shine.

Fainted furniture may be carefully washed with lukewarm water and white soap, then dried and rubbed clean with the soft cloths.

Brass beds should be carefully dusted daily and rubbed over with a soft flannel cloth or a chamois. Once in a while the beds should be stripped, and after dusting they may be gone over with a good brass polish, being rubbed absolutely dry with soft cloths for the bright finish. For the satin finish a careful going over with melted paraffine on a damp soft cloth will clean and restore them to cleanliness. The same treatment is given the black enamel beds and wash-stands. Where the white enamel is used, washing it carefully and drying it thoroughly will clean the surface but if chipped and defaced it must be done over by professional methods. Many women give their metal beds a good coat of white flat paint, then a coat of enamel. This makes a good finished surface that will wear quite a long time, but, of course, it is not as good as when painted and baked by

Some Good Things For The School Lunch Basket

When the urge for something seizes you when you feel that you must get away from the meat and potatoes and pie, or go on cooking strike, one of these recipes may save the day.

Yes, you've heard of jelly sandwiches, but not this delicious kind. And for the children's noon lunch nothing could be so good as this economical recipe and seed cookies.

Jelly Sandwiches

Split squares of fresh sponge cake and spread a layer of jelly between, then lay up sandwich fashion and dust with powdered sugar. Make only as many as will be eaten at one time as they dry up quickly and are not good to keep.

Seed Cookies.

Beat one egg in a mixing bowl, adding slowly a cupful of sugar. Pour in a half cupful of milk, then three and a half cupfuls of flour with a large teaspoonful of baking powder. Beat well then add a half cupful of butter, melted over hot water, and a heaping teaspoonful of caraway seeds. Beat well, then turn over a large shallow buttered baking pan, sprinkle with sugar and bake. When cool cut into convenient squares.

Ginger Snaps.

Mix a half cupful of butter and a cupful of sugar to a cream. Add one cupful of molasses, tablespoonful of ground ginger, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and enough flour to make a dough to roll, not too stiff. Turn onto a lightly floured board and roll, then cut in rounds and bake in a buttered pan.

The regular methods of cleaning with a vacuum cleaner, using the proper attachments. After the dust is removed, the small double-ended brush may be used to free the tuftings and buttons or cordings from the surface dust rolls that may still cling to them.

Some New Recipes

Cracker Pudding.
6 common crackers, 1 qt. milk, 1 cup milk, 1 cup seeded raisins, 3 eggs, 4 1/2 tablespoons of butter. Split and butter the crackers. Place raisins between the crackers and put together in original shape. Pour the milk over them after being scalded, beat the eggs, add one-third cup sugar (or to taste), little nutmeg, and salt to taste. Bake 45 minutes. Serve with sauce. This is delicious.

Roslinvale. M. N. CHAMBERLAIN.

Peach Pie

Slice or chop 2 cups of peaches. Stir in 2-3 cup of sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons cornstarch to which 1 cup cold water has been added. Bake in a single crust. When ready to serve frost with whipped cream, sweetened and flavored with vanilla.

WRIGLEY'S PEPPERMINT TOOTH PASTE

Every Woman Deserves One

The SMP Roaster is a fine time saver. You put the roast or fowl in the oven. The roaster does the rest, bastes, roasts to perfection. It roasts with very little shrinkage, thus saving dollars every year. None of the tasty meat juices are lost; all the rich flavor is retained. Besides you can buy cheaper cuts, for it makes cheap cuts taste like choice ones.

The close fitting cover keeps all the cooking odors and the grease inside the roaster—the smell of cooking doesn't fill the house, and the oven is kept sweet and clean. Best of all, it cleans out in a jiffy after the roasting. These are splendid reasons. Price $5.00 to $15.00 according to size and finish. Sold in all hardware stores.

DEPOSITS OF MARL IN NEARLY EVERY PROVINCE

Canada Well Supplied With This Important Source of Life for Land Treatment

Deposits of marl, according to Dr. F. T. Shutt, Dominion Chemist, who during 1923-24 was called upon to analyse some forty samples received from Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Alberta, and British Columbia, are found in nearly all the provinces of Canada and are important and valuable sources of lime for land treatment. They occur in beds from a few inches to several feet thick on old lake bottoms are often overlaid by peat or muck. Some marls are almost pure carbonate of lime, while others contain more or less sand, organic matter, etc., which decrease their value for agricultural purposes. Marls as found, are usually soft and pasty in consistency, frequently showing small shells. On air-drying by simple exposure they are found to be readily friable, breaking down to a coarse powder that easily permits of uniform distribution on the land. "Indurated" marl is a hard rocklike material with a honey-combed structure. It occurs by deposition from the waters of streams and springs that are rich in carbonate of lime. Large deposits are to be found in the valleys of British Columbia, Mar, which can not infrequently be had for the cost of digging and hauling may be used on both heavy clay and light sandy loams and is especially valuable for the former. As a supplier of lime it corrects acidity or sourness, furnishes an element for plant nutrition and promotes nitrification, hence assisting in rendering available the soils' store of inert nitrogen; it is particularly valuable as an amendment for sour soils.

FIVE WISE COONS

Some of the stories about wild animals printed recently in "The Companion" have reminded a reader of an experience that he had with a family of raccoons a number of years ago, while he was living on a ranch in the Oklahoma Panhandle. The summer, he writes, the raccoons made frequent raids on my corn. They were particularly destructive in one large field near the ranch buildings, where they ruined many bushels of the best roasting ears.

More than once, my dog, Laddie, treed some of the coons in a large cottonwood that stood near one end of the big hay barn. The cunning animals always managed to escape before I could arrive to take a hand in the affair. But one moonlight night about the middle of August, I was awakened by Laddie's baying. He was down by the cottonwood again in a state of excitement; so I armed myself with a twenty-two and, picking up a flashlight, hastened out to his assistance.

The cottonwood was taller than the barn and stood far enough away so that the tip of the longest branch was about nine feet above and nearly four feet out from the comb of the roof. I threw a beam of light up into the tree, and at once caught sight of a big can far out on the long limb toward the barn. I raised my rifle to my shoulder and took aim. The animal vanished, and an instant later, I heard several soft thuds on the roof of the barn. I dashed out from under the tree. Then I stood still in amazement as I beheld a procession of five coons hurrying along the comb of the roof toward the other end of the barn.

A thirty-foot section of twelve-inch iron pipe, set firmly in concrete, stood upright, ten feet out from that end of the barn. The top of the pipe was eight inches lower than the comb of the roof and supported one end of a steel track, four inches in width, that carried the big hay-fork used inside the building. When the coon at the head of the procession reached the end of the roof, he never slackened his pace, but walked fearlessly out on the narrow, steel track, and in the twinkling of an eye, was hugging the pipe with his front legs and sliding rapidly earthward. A second later, he had reached the ground and was hurrying away.

One after the other, in rapid succession, the other coons slid down the pipe and hastened away after their leader. In less than a minute, the last coon had vanished over the creek bank. Then I awoke to the realization that I had stood, rifle in hand, throughout the entire performance, too much interested to think of interfering with the escape of these clever creatures. Considerably chagrined, I returned to my interrupted slumber.

SILVER FOX POPULAR

Over 600 Skins Sold at New York Fall Sale.

New York, Oct. 19.—Silver fox started at session of the annual fall fur sale here. Clear-black skins with plenty of silver in them sold best; the half silver grade bringing the top price of $390. So active was the market for silver fox due to the excellent demand for this season, that the entire offering averaged twenty-five per cent above the levels of the New York Auction Company's spring sale. More than six hundred silvers were sold. Blue fox sold to $90 for the best, but declined fifteen per cent. The only other fur sold to-day was a large collection of skunk. The finest brought $3.00. Some of the skunk buying was for the Canadian account. Bidding was irregular with "blacks and shorts" off ten per cent, and northwesterns five per cent. lower.

"What's the big idea?" demanded the boss.

"I'm sorry," replied the barber, "but while I was shaving I talked myself into shampoo, hair cut, and massage."

WEMBLEY SHOW HAS CLOSED

27 Millions Have Viewed Exhibits at Great British Empire Fair.

London, Oct. 31.—The British Empire Exhibition which opened at Wembley in 1924 to benefit the trade of the British Empire, closed its doors today. The buildings will be immediately dismantled. In the two years it has been running, 27,000,000 persons have visited the exhibition. Despite its popularity, largely due to the constant patronage of the King, members of the Royal family and the prominent personages, it has not proved a financial success. It is contended, however, that the ultimate results will be incalculable in money. Confidence is expressed that it will prove to have stimulated trade and aided in the development of the resources of the empire.

There was an elaborate ceremonial closing program.

EARNEST PLEA FOR A UNITED CANADA

The Governor General Addresses Winnipeg's Last Night

Winnipeg, Oct. 21.—An earnest plea for a united Canada was made last night by His Excellency Baron Byng, at the regular monthly dinner of the Canuck Club.

The Governor General, who is a life member and honorary patron of the club, instanced the unity which prevailed in the Canadian Corps as exemplified on Vimy Ridge.

"I ask you one and all," said Baron Byng, "to strive with that same overpowering purpose to work for the good and advancement of Canada and to sink all petty differences in the one great aim we all have at heart, the unity of the Dominion."

LOCAL CHINAMEN ARE ACQUITTED

Wong Chung and Wong Ning Freed On Assault Charge This Morning.

The trial of the two local Chinamen, Wong Chung and Wong Ning, proprietors of a Chinese restaurant here, charged with assault, was completed this morning before Judge McLatchey in the County Court at Dalhousie and, following a ten-minute deliberation by the jury, a verdict of "Not Guilty" was returned. The prisoners were accordingly acquitted. T. T. Goodwin of Moncton and A. P. N. McLaughlin of Campbellton constituted the counsel for defence.

The only other criminal case on the docket is occupying the attention of the court this afternoon. This is that of the King vs George Diamond on a charge of theft. J. L. Hebert is defending the accused. M. A. Kelly, clerk of the court prosecuted both cases.

All civil cases were postponed.

BANQUET HELD IN ST. ANDREWS HALL

Over One Hundred Friends Were Guests of Men's Bible Class On Tuesday Evening.

The Hall of St. Andrews United Church here was the scene of a happy event on Tuesday evening when over one hundred men of that and other congregations were guests at a banquet given by the Men's Bible Class of that Church. A most appetizing spread was provided by a number of ladies of the congregation and all those about the banquet board did full justice to the repast. A well arranged program of speeches and music contributed to the pleasure of the occasion. A solo by Miss Gladys Allanach, leader of St. Andrews' Choir, one by Mrs. F. W. Campbell, and two violin selections by Miss Vera Campbell were received with much well-merited applause.

Rev. Mr. Forbes of Tide Head spoke very entertainingly about a number of things. Mr. D. C. Fitch a veteran Sunday School teacher of St. Andrews Church spoke on the responsibilities and opportunities of teachers and made many thoughtful and timely statements. Mr. James W. Day spoke in the interests of the Temperance Alliance, and urged the co-operation of everybody in bringing about better conditions in connection with the enforcement of the prohibition law.

Rev. W. S. Godfrey spoke on "Playing the Game", and his short address was listened to with close attention. Rev. W. W. McNairn dealt with the matter of Bible Studies in a very helpful address.

Mr. F. G. Bridges, Principal of the Grammar School proposed the toast to the ladies and this was responded to by Mrs. F. W. Campbell. Mr. S. H. Lingley acted as chairman and made appropriate remarks. The occasion was a particularly pleasing one and the unusually large attendance added to the success of the event.

PAQUET CLAIMS IRREGULARITIES

Asks for Official Record In Bonaventure—Some of Allegations.

Major Theo. Paquet, the conservative candidate in Bonaventure County filed a petition this morning before Chief Justice Lemieux, asking for an official record before a judge of the Superior Court, claiming gross irregularities, such as several ballot boxes being broken, and also that some of the ballots had been rejected when they should have been held valid. It is understood that a judge will be delegated by the Chief Justice, in a few days, to sit at New Carlisle and preside over the recount. According to an official proclamation issued yesterday by the returning officer, Hon. Charles Marcell would have been elected over his opponent by a majority of 536 votes. It will be recalled that for some time Major Paquet had been leading by a large margin.
