On its way back the train picked up at Frere a native runner carrying a number of letters. He said that Ladysmith was bombarded on Thursday, Nov. 9, by six 40-pounders, one shot from which struck Illings' store. The British big naval guns were still silent when he left. Little damage was done by the Boer bombardment, and there were few casualties. The runner further said, that the Boers intend to visit Colenso tomorrow. BOMBARDMENT HEARD AT LADY-SMITH ON SUNDAY

CHAPLAIN MATTHEWS HEARD

FROM AGAIN. London, Nov. 16.-The Times' Durbar correspondent, under date of Sunday, Nov. 12, says: Chaplain Matthews arrived here today. He testifies to the splendid defense of the Royal Irish Fusiliers and the Gloucester Regiment against an overwhelming force of Boers, who held positions on three sides of the British troops. Retirement on the fourth side was impossible, as the way was too precipitous. Surrender was the only alternative to annihilation, as the Boers were on the point of opening a shell fire upon them. It was pathetic to hear the Fusiliers bemoaning their misfortune, several with tearful eyes saying: "Father, I would rather have been shot than this." The Boers have few tents, and are thought to be suffering severe privations. While in Pretoria Father Matthews understood that President Kruger was about to visit way was too precipitous. Surrender was President Kruger was about to visit Natal and encourage the burghers there. Many empty trucks have been sent to Natal, but the Boers declare that these are to bring the Ladysmith garrison to Pretoria.

ONLY ONE STORY PASSED. The only story allowed to pass the censor yesterday comes from Cape Town, where great excitement prevails over the report that Joubert threatens to kill, six British officers if any harm is done to Nathan Marks, an alleged Transvaal spy, now in the hands of the British. Joubert, it is said, claims Marks is simply a criminal detective who was present in Natal on other business before the war other business before the war. Gen. Buller replies to this threat, which comes from Joubert through the Transvaal secretary of state, that the Transvaal should, upon declaring war, have withdrawn its detectives from Natal, and hence he is justified in holding Marks until a reasonable planation of his presence in Natal is given. The final decision of the matter rests with Gen. White.

Estcourt, Natal, Friday evening, Nov.

Another correspondent says that in the attack upon the Free State forces at Dewdrop the Boers had 300 in killed and wounded.

If the reports that the Free State burghers are tired of the affair and are going home should prove true, the fact would be most important, as their retirement would probably compel Gen. Joubert to withdraw northward. The statement that the Boers are entrenched so closely to Ladysmith is held in some quarters to indicate that they are running short of ammunition for guns.

THE ADVANCE. All of Gen. Buller's arrangements for the advance from Durban are practically completed, and news of it may be expected in a few days. The war of-fice has received several dispatches, dealing with military details, but it is not likely these will be published. The whereabouts of Gen. NEWS FROM BOERDOM.

Cape Town Pridom Man. AnLondon, Thursday, Nov. 16.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Mafeking, sent by way of Magalapye, describes the fighting during the last week in October. The correspondent says: "After the failure to rush the town, Gen. Cronje had recourse to the tactics employed in the siege of Potischfroom, in 1881, making advances on the town by a series of trenches in echelon. Such a move had been anticipated for some time, and there had been sent out parties to worry the Boers incessantly by night attacks. These tactics the enemy disliked, but he contented himself with a daily shell fire, which exposed him to little personal risk. Then Col. Baden-Powell played his trump card by sending out Fitzclarence's party to worry the occupants of the trenches. The little force stole out silently in the darkness.

A BAYONET CHARGE. "No shot was fired, and the men, with fixed bayonets, creeping rather than walking along the veldt, gradually approached the chief Boer position in straggling course. Then, as they closed in, there was a shrill screech. Fitclarence's whistle, and the was signal for onslaught. A single British cheer, which the listeners back in army and provender for the horses. camp caught up, was uttered as they lashed into the trenches.

A FEARFUL STRUGGLE! "Then there was a fearful struggle, the attacking forces hatcheting and bayoneting the Boers under the tarpaulins where they crouched, crying for mercy. At least fifty bayonets got to work, and the havor they wrought was terrible. For just a moment there was no systematic return, but then a perfect hail storm of bullets poured in from trenches to the rear. Again Fitzclarence's whistle sounded. It was 'Cease fire and scatter homeward.' The British forces scattered, silently crossing back under the furious fire in the darkness to the appointed rendezvous, where the roll was called Col. Baden-Powell met and congratulated Capt. Fitzclarence and his men upon their splendid work, saying that it was a heavy price to pay, but that the Boers had to be stopped making rifle trenches within range of the town The members of the party are now the envy and pride of the garrison Even the Boer commander, Botha, expressed admiration of the attack.

BOERS WASTED 30.000 CART-RIDGES. "All Sunday night the Boers poured a rifle fire into the town. It was set going after dinner Sunday evening, from the Transvaal until the British when Col. Bader-Powell hoisted a red lamp on the commanage, which was the signal for Capt. Clarence's nightattack. The ruse answered splendidy. The moment after the Boers opened correspondents for minimizing all the fire, and their fusiblade lasted the whole HOLDING THE FORT. The garrison is hanging on finely. Col. Baden-Powell has the fullest confidence of everybody, especially in the matter of implicit obedience to the order to hold the fire until the Boers get to close range. The shelling con-tinued all Sunday at intervals. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon Gen. Cronje sent in a flag of truce, giving Mafeking a last chance to surrender at the eleventh hour. While the flag was receiving attention the heavy bombarddent continued.

dent continued. HOTTEST FIGHT OF THE SIEGE. The dispatch then describes Gen. Cronje's great attack of Monday, the details of which have already been cabled from Col. Baden-Powell's official dispatches. "The end came," says the correspondent, "after five hours' fight. The enemy retired, being heavily beaten for all time so far as Mefeking is concerned. It was the hottest day of the seige, and the firing was terrible, the Boers evidently recognizing that the way into Mafeking, if any, was by a kopje, which was gallantly defended by Col. Walford's men. The garrison is jubilant, while the Boers have been hurled back in disorder on their larger. hurled back in disorder on their laager, and will have to content themselves with a long-range bombardment unless they are strongly reinforced. THE ENEMY'S HEAVY LOSS. "The enemy lost heavily. For hours after their fighting line had been rolled back, two wagons went slowly along their position, picking up dead and wounded. The kopje resembled a shambles after the fight. All the men were killed by bullets or shells. The look-out tower was shot to pieces, while even the saddles of the horses were fearfully battered. The whole place was simiy smashed up by the concentrated fire of seven guns and a thousand rifles. The Boers at first held on their advance pluckily, but they could not live when they came to short range, the men being shot down at 300 yards. The enemy is expected draw off early in order to defend Pretoria. There is still no ..ews from As I send this message off

600 Boers have gone south with wagons and have commenced shelling." ARTILLERY DUEL. London, Nov. 16 .- A dispatch from Kimberley to the Daily Mail, dated Friday, Nov. 10, by way of Cape Town, Sunday, Nov. 12, reports an exchange of artillery with the Boers that morning, no damage having been done to the town. Subsequently an armored train went toward Dronfield, where it was fired upon by ne Boers, after which it returned to Kimberley in safety. NINETEEN THOUSAND MEN. The total reinforcements that have arrived in South Africa since Friday are 19,000, chifly infantry, nearly 13,-000 horses and mules, three batteries of field artillery and a number of quick-firing Maxim guns.

The fact that the Britannic has sailed for East London is taken to mean that Gen. Buller is satisfied that the troops that have already landed, or are now on their way to Durban, will be sufficient to carry out his plans for the relief of Ladysmith.

The admiralty has obtained the fast steamers Gaul, Norman, Dondecastle and Avondale Castle to embark the greater part of the third division of 10,000 troops at Southampton for the Cape.

FUMING CRITICS.

London, Nov. 16 .- Scandals are not unusual concomitants of military warfare, and the British army and navy are now being sharply criticised. The charge against the admiralty board is that high-salaried but incompetent men were appointed as surveyors of transports, and while the seaworthiness of the various craft is unquestioned, the surveyors were careless of the welfare of the empire, because they appear to have been indifferent to the matter of speed.

The commissariat department is said to have showed undue haste and lack of good sense in selecting food for the A letter in the Times, written by an officer on board the transport Nubia, asserts that "1,600 rations of salt carrion labeled 'New York, 1899,' had to be thrown overboard, as it was full of disease," adding. Says Ward Foreman Hamilton Should Be Dismissed.

Startling Statements Made Before the Board of Works, Full Investigation to Take Place on Friday.

The Board's Financial Dilemma-Ex-Ald Cooper's Storage Account Filed-Other Matters of Interest.

This has been an eventful week for John Hamilton, city foreman of No. 4 ward. So far he has been twice suson the strength of charges made by Ald. Malloch. Later, Ald. Douglass, chairman of the board of works, and It could not be initiated by the council Ald. Garratt, the member for the ward, until next year. brought enough pressure on the engineer to have Mr. Hamilton put back to lay the walk this year if no petition work. Last night the board met, and was put in against it. suspended Mr. Hamilton, pending an investigation Friday night. The meeting had a number of interesting feadiscovery through a letter from the city rates that the overdraft at the end of the year will be $3,150. This sum does not allow for contingencies of any kind, and the engineer added that $1,000 should be provided for these. No solution of the financial difficultles was offered, but these difficulties dwindled into insignificance when Ald. Malloch began his impeachment of Foreman Hamiiton. Among those who participated in the cross-firing which followed were Ald. Graham, Carrothers. O'Meara and Winnett, in addition to the members of the committee present, Ald. Douglass (chairman), Wilkey, Garratt, Parnell and Reed, and Engineer

"I say that Foreman Hamilton has been drinking and not attending to his business," Ald. Malloch said.

The engineer stated what had been done in the matter since the first com-plaint was made by Ald. Malloch on Monday, and Ald. Malloch continued: He had spoken to Hamilton several times about matters in the ward, and had received insulting answers. "Once Hamilton called me a 'scab,' and told me to go to —, and do my d—," said Ald. Malloch. "When a foreman talks that way it is time to call quits. I make the direct charge that Hamilton was drunk a week ago last Friday. At 4:45 p.m. he lay up in a yard at the north end of the city, and was taken home on a wagon." In support of this statement he called Philip Edwards, who took Hamilton home on the day in question. In answer to the chairman dwards said he had done so becouse Mr. Connolly asked him to do so. Two men helped Hamilton into the rig. It tax, but should be required to pay was then about ten minutes to five. "Couldn't Hamilton walk home?" one

Ald. Parnell said he wanted it understood that he was not going to let the thing drop on Hamilton's admission of drunkenness. If the paysheet was plugged in the manner stated, it was bout time the committee got to know that such a state of affairs could exist. Provision should be made against similar cases in the future. If Hamilton had been guilty of doing what he was charged, he had committed a crime which the committee could not allow to drop, even though Hamilton might be dismissed on the charge of drunkonness. Ald. Parnell favored the suspension of Hamilton until Connolly could appear before the committee.

ANOTHER INVESTIGATION. Mr. G. W. Andrus objected to an account of $27 85 charged by the engintures, not the least of which was the eer's department for the laying of a drain on Dundas street. He had been on the ground all the time, and accordto borrow money to meet the board's overdraft. And the city engineer estivised the work, was present, and submitted his time-book, according to which more time was put in than Mr.

Andrus allowed for.

Mr. Andrus was also positive that no lumber had been used in the construction of the drain, though an item of 50 cents was included in the account. The amount of Mr. Andrus' deposit with the department was $30, and he complained of being unable to get a statement from the engineer for several months after it should have been forthcoming. He considered it was a trumped-up ac-

Ald. Wilkey was informed that the charge made was not unusually high. Then, if Mr. Andrus' figures were correct, the city was paying too much for all drains, he said.

On motion of Ald. Parnell, others in-terested will be asked to give evidence to the committee at the next meeting. Upon the application of John Barned permission to tap the main sewer on Becher street, the city engineer re-ported that in 1893 residents of Becher between the Ridgeway and Wharncliffe road wanted a sewer. There was no outlet for it except by a tile drain put down by Mr. Barned and others from the Ridgeway to the river some years previously by private subscription-not with the city's consent. The court of revision in 1893 recommended that No. 2 committee take over the sewer. No. 2 did so, and allowed $75 for the right to tap the sewer. Mr. Graydon considered the original ownall time to come without a frontage frontage tax if they wanted to use the new trunk sewer.

Lieut.-Col. Holmes, D. O. C., No. 1 military district, wished to stone the 6th Field Battery guns at the Queen's Park. The committee consented to this and fixed the rental at $10 a month. The engineer reported regarding a cement walk on Elmwood avenue, which complaint had been made. He found it cracked in several places, but did not think it was injured. Other walks had similar cracks. These were liable to occur in the best of work, more especially on the soil found in No. 6 and No. 1 wards. No action.

EX-ALD. COOPER'S ACCOUNT.

With regard to ex-Ald. Cooper's account of $30 for the use of his property for storage purposes, Mr. Graydon's report was as follows: At present a lot of old sidewalk material is stored on the property, together with 50 feet of crossing stone and 50 or 60 old cedar posts. All I know about this case is that when Wolfe street was being macadamized there was an oak kerb on that street (cedar block pavement), which had to be removed to be replac-ed with stone kerb. Mr. Cooper was then an alderman, and on No. 2 committee, and said he wanted kerb and posts saved, so that he could use them some place else in the ward. He told the foreman he could put them on his vacant lot on Oxford street, in rear of where he lived. He (Ald. Cooper) also told me that he had told the foreman to put them there. I said at the time "If the lot is vacant the stuff will be stolen," and his reply was: "Not while I am living there to keep an eve on There was nothing said or implied about a rental being charged. posts there now are. The mayor, the aldermen and the members of the hospital trust met at the city hall at , 2:15 o'clock, where carriages were waiting to convey them to the hospital. At one end of the long ward, on the ground floor of the women's pavilion, a platform had been erected for the speakers. The ceremonies were begun at 3 o'clock by singing "God Save the Queen.' A brief meeting of the city council was opened with prayer by Very Rev. Dean Innes. The report of the hospital building committee was read by the chairman, Ald. Jolly. Mrs. Yarker, on behalf of the ladies' committee, then formally turned over the children's pavilion to the city. Mayor Wilson then formally opened and handed over the buildings to the hospital trust, which were accepted on behalf of the trust by Col. Lewis, chairman.

A SYMBOLIC KEY. Mayor Wilson was presented by Mr. Thomas Gillean, the jeweler, with a massive gold key, beautifully embellished. The handle of the symbolic key is surmounted by a royal crown, be-neath which is a shield bearing the city's coat of arms, enameled in red and blue in the center, and encircled by the words "Victoria Hospital." Beneath the shield, on a chased knob, is engraved "1899." Half-way down the Half-way down the key, on a chased gold ground, the Queen's head is enameled in blue. On the reverse side of the shield is the inscription: "Presented to His Worship Mayor Wilson, by Thomas Gillean, London, Nov. 16, 1899."

Mr. Gillean also presented Victoria Hospital with a magnificent solid silver tea service of six pieces.

THE HOSPITAL.

Victoria Hospital was built according to the most modern approved ideas. Instead of a single huge building the cottage or pavision style was followed, the advantages of which, in ventilation, light, sanitation and isolation, are readily apparent. The architecture is colonial and the imposing tecture is colonial, and the imposing beauty of the splendid group of buildings reflects the highest credit on the architect, Mr. H. C. McBride. Mr. McBride has nothing but praise for McBride has nothing but praise for the work of the contractors. He says the city probably never before had so superbly finished a piece of work, and that $25,000 was saved to the city by building last year. The total cost of the structure, when completed will be about $100,000. It is built of local brick with cut stone foundations and terra-cotta trimmings. Near the center of cotta trimmings. Near the center of the group is the administration build-ing, which is connected with all the others. It is approached by a handsome parte-coche, and an open porch, leading to a wide vestibule, with tiled floor, buff pressed brick walls and ornamental ceiling. This opens on a spacious hallway, in which are the passenger elevator and the main stairway. The reception-room is on the right and the offices of the superin-tendent on the left of the hall. The nurses' quarters are on the secon floor and the kitchen on the third floor of the administration building. There are separate pavilions for maternity cases, contagious diseases, children, men, women and paying patients. Each pavilion has its own sun room. There are two splendid operating rooms, one for private and one for general patients. The hospital will contain 150 beds.

The contractors for the building were the following: Brick work and cut stone, Martyn and Hammett, $30,-967; John Purdom, carpentering, gal-vanized iron and slating, $23,295; painting and glazing, Pace & Fitzgerald, $2.280; plastering, Pritchett & Murray Bros., $4,170; heating and ventilation, Joseph Chambers, $11.440; plumbing and marble fittings, Smith Bros. & Co., $6,000; electric wiring and switchboard, London Electrical Company, $1,800; generators and engines, Electrical Construction Company, $3,150; wiring and fixtures, Rogers Electric Company, $400; elevators, Electric Company, $400; elevators, Bland, $1.800; engine and boilers, E. > Early Advance of Kimberley Expected -Departure of the Last Mountain Battery From England.

London, Nov. 16 .- The reports that the Boers have penetrated southward from Colenso to Chievely, where they are said to have cut the railroad, shows that they are adopting a proper strategical plan to impede the advance of the British relieving force. Perhaps this may turn out to be Gen. Schalkburger's force, which, when last heard from was raiding Zululand. This force, it is asserted, may next be heard from south of Estcourt, which they will probably attempt to isolate before further reinforcements arrive. Indeed, it is already reported that a Boer force has been seen in the neighborhood of the line north of the Mooi River.

Thousands of people lined the streets, cheering and singing, and the battery had difficulty in reaching the train through the dense mob. THE REPORT OF JOUBERT'S

London, Nov. 16.-The most startling news from the seat of war today is the report of the death of Gen. Piet Joubert, the commander-in-chief of the Boer forces. The report needs confirmation, but many people believe it to be well founded, as the general's death is said to have occurred Nov. 9, when the Boer riflemen were understood to be within 1,500 yards of Ladysmith.

between the British and the Boers the same day has since been reported and it is regarded in some quarters as quite possible that Gen. Joubert, always noted for his personal courage and coolness, may have dangerously exposed himself in a personal reconnoissance of the British position. Even Gen. Joubert's most bitter enemies admit that he fought squarely and fairly, and his action when Gen. Symons died in expressing his sympathy, elevated him to the high regard of all soldiers. It is claimed that the death of Joubert would be likely to lead to the adoption by the Boers of bolder and more active tactics, as he had considerable difficulty in mpressive Obsequies of the Late Magistrate Parke.

The funeral of the late Police Magistrate Parke took place at Woodland Cemetery yesterday afternoon. The ceremonies were of a very quiet character, but it was so in deference to the desire of both himself and family. The number of friends and prominent citizens who gathered at the residence, "Ingleside," Ridout street south, was very large, and the esteem which the kindliness of the late gentleman had won for him among the poorer people of the city, was evidenced by the large numbers of those of the humbler classes who gathered to pay their tribute to one who was always their friend. The representation of the Bar was very large. Impressive services were conducted by the Very Rev. the Dean of Huron. Among the many beautiful floral tributes were a pillar from the members of the police force, a pillow from the members of the Bar and a harp from the officers and clerks of the Dominion Savings Society. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. C. H. Elliott, Geo. B. Harris, Ira Lewis (county crown attorney of Huron), W. J. Mc-Murtry, Toronto; Col. Leys, M.P.P., Dr. Bettridge, Strathroy; Geo. A. Som-erville, John Purdom, John Milne, Francis Love, Col. Macbeth and Thos. Partridge.

A detachment of 25 policemen, under the command of Chief Williams, marched at the head of the cortege. The members of the Bar Association also walked a short distance. The city council was represented by Mayor Wilson. The number of carriages con-

The counter irritant and diffusive stimulant properties of Radway's Ready Relief admirably adapt it for the cure of this disease. The Ready Relief should be applied to a large surface and well trubbed in. It is quite wonderful how readily it relieves the pain of this distressing complaint. In some cases the pain is so extreme that there is danger of inflammation that there is danger of inflammation setting in and extending to the kidneys. In that case, take at once a dose of Radway's Pills, and at the same time keep up the application of the Ready Relief, and the most obstinate case will yield to this treatment. A Progressive Premier... A Pro gressive Policy. There was a fine optimistic ring about Mr. Ross' speech at Whitiby. It as full of enthusiasm, vigor, and condence. In some respects it was one of the most important utterances in note of his future policy, and we beout the whole province. With char- furniture is manufactured, you require acteristic energy, Mr. Ross does not intend that the Administration shall repose on its laurels, but that it shall move forward even faster than before to which he and his colleagues will address their efforts. These will be dividing up the great area of New Ontario by two means-railways and colonization roads. As a preliminary, it is in- so as to retain our own labor in the nattended to survey that vast stretch of some 100,000,000 acres, lying between the C. P. R. and Hudson Bay. This district has not even been explored; nobody knows its agricultural value, its timber wealth or mineral resources. By means of this survey we shall find out if the lands are good for farming. Beyond question they are rich in timber and probably minerals also. As in the earliest days of Ontario, trunk colonization roads will be built into those parts of this new country which are shown to be good for settlement. The Government will also subsidize railway construction and the Premier suggests that public aid will largely take the form of land grants. The land at present is valueless; railways will make it valuable. If Northern Ontario could be settled with the same density as a population of nine millions.

But New Ontario is not to have a monopoly of Government favor. Mr. free, there are no institutions more Ross promises an equally progressive stable, no people more intelligent than policy for Old Ontario. In the first ours. No premier of any country can policy for Old Ontario. In the first properly indulge in greater feelings of place he hopes to project a system pride than I can indulge in, in being whereby the 3,000,000 acres of swamp the first minister of this great province. lands in the province, now useless and pestilential, will be reclaimed and rethat I—a native Canadian, educated in stored to the farmers. Furthermore, her schools, trained in her institutions, the Government with whom the farming interests have always been the first care, intend establishing cold storage ince-shall devote all my energies, not collecting stations after the methods simply to the development of the practiced in New Zealand and some Australian colonies. At these stations the farmers can store their butter, limit of a man's greatness is the limit their roultry, apples and other perish- of his moral perception. You cannot able products, until they choose to market them. This will be supplementary to the system of cold storage transportation which the Dominion Government have inaugurated. Mr. Ross pledges his word that the On-tarlo Government will do all in their not by making farcical pretensions as power to encourage the Dominion Government in providing quick and cheap transportation for Ontario farm produce to Great Britain. Mr. Ross expressed the opinion that there ought to be fast express trains that would bring these products, as in the case of Armour trains, quickly to the seaport, pretensions, without any blowing of and from there an efficient cold stor- trumpets, or any exhibition of age service to the English market. The Premier also called attention to the great opportunities of the chilled and we trust to show to the younger meat trade, of which Canada had as yet taken no advantage. New Zealand. Australia and the Argentine Republic in 1897 sent to England a total of 6,770,000 carcases by cold storage process through heated latitudes, and these were landed in London and Liverpool in perfect condition. We will see, said Mr. Ross, if some means cannot be devised whereby a chilled meat market of that kind can be established for the benefit of the farmers of Ontario. Out of $855,987,300 worth of farm products imported by Great Britain in 1897, Canada sent only $62,-125.056 worth, or 71/2 per cent. To improve this showing is a work in which the Government will co-operate with the farmers of this province.

Mr. Ross indicated another line of policy equally radical. The law requiring all logs cut on crown lands to be menufactured into lumber in the province, had, he pointed out, resulted in the springing up of large lumbering Jan. 2, 1900. industries on the Georgian Bay. Why not apply the same policy to all our mineral and timber wealth? asked Mr. Ross. We surely have enough intelligence to take our own raw wool and make woolen goods out of it and to convert our wheat into flour. In the same way, why not take our nickel or copper or iron ore and encourage the manufacture of these into the finished article? One would infer from the Premier's remarks that the Government contemplate the prohibition of the export of pulpwood and nickel ore. Mr. Ross also pointed out that the consumption of pig iron in Ontario is 140,000 tons, of which only 40,000 tons were produced in the province. The policy of the Government will be, in every feasonable way to encourage the manufacture of raw material in order to find employment for our own people and develop the latent resources of the country.

In regard to education, Mr. Ross said he was unable to propound any new policy, but he thought a special effort should be made to introduce into the province a system of technical education for the artisan classes. He had been for many years endeavoring to arrive at that point. He had made drawing in the schools compulsory, and that is the basis of technical training That was done fifteen years ago. He had also made the teaching of agriculture compulsory in the schools as the Outrages Perpetrated by the basis of agricultural education. "But we want something more than that,' added Mr. Ross, "we want to take the intelligent workingman of this province and in a technical school fit him to be useful in adding skill and intelligence to the value of Mr. Ross' career. It struck the key- the raw material in every department of industry. For instance, if you Meve it will find hearty echo through- have establishments where high-class technical skill in order to enable you to produce it. We have the intelligence, but I doubt whether we have as much of the technical skill as ed between New Ontario and Old On- we ought to have, and I hope you will see in this province in a very short colporteurs are occurring in various time, as they have in the large cities Mr. Ross pointed out, what the peo- of the United States and England, a ple of Ontario do not bear in mind system of technical schools wherein sufficiently, that of the 150,000,000 acres your son, if he does not wish to enter in this province only 23,000,000 or one- a profession, can obtain the education sixth is occupied, and only 12,000,000 that will fit him for earning a liveliunder cultivation. > Mr. Ross has always been animated by a sturdy Canadianism, and alluded with pardonable pride to his efforts to inculcate the spirit of patriotism in the rising generation. One of the pleasantest features of his administration as minister of education, he justly declared, had been this fact: that he believed he was able to instil into the half-million of school children of the province a greater love for Ontario, for from the mandarins,

"We think of the great expanse of the Old Ontario, this province would have still greater expanse. We talk of the London Nov. 16.—The steamer St constitutional development of England, Paul, which arrived at Southampton forgetting that we have made even yesterday had a unique experience as greater development constitutionally than England. There is no land more having the confidence of a constituency for 27 years, and now apparently having the confidence of the whole provcountry, but to the moral improvements of the people. "Righteousness exalteth a nation." Tennyson says that the make a people nobler in character or purpose than they are in heart or con-viction. Let us strengthen the moral foundations of this country, let us purto our virtues, but by living noble, manly lives as Canadians, and showing to the world and those who come into contact with us that we have convictions founded on the principles of morality. The result will be to secure for Ontario its pre-eminence as the home of an intelligent, well-educated people. The government will, without any tues, go to work as straightforward, honest men, and develop country on the lines I have indicated, men that we are not unworthy of their confidence." (Loud cheers.)

In one instance the viceroy was forced to telegraph for troops.

The Chinese society known as "the boxers," is said to be provoking agitations and antagonisms. Two colpor-teurs of the Bible Society visited Peh Shud Chlang, Province of Kansuh, and were invited to circulate Bibles in the Chinese temple. As soon as they were inside the temple the gates were closed and the colporteurs set upon and terribly beaten with long, thick rods. Four were severely hurt, two others were attacked, but not so badly injured as the other four. Some of the elders of the town took part in the beating.

The men were tied to the pillars of the temple and spat upon, the people shouting, "We have tied you up as they did your Jesus on the cross.' They then began to strike them on the face and shout, "This is what your gods can do for you. Call on your Jesus to come and save you." A merchant remonstrated with the leaders, when the crowd seized the merchant and beat him also. It is understood that the agent of the Bible Sowill endeavor to obtain redress cables from Kwang Chow Wang that had previously entertained. The pre-mier developed this theme in a glowing prudently crossed the river, have been murdered by Chinese. The French admiral seized the prefect of the Province of Hainan and his gunboat. The French minister at Pegin has been instructed to demand from the Chinese war office the punishment of the murderers.

> London, Nov. 16 .- The steamer St. she approached England. Signor Mar-cont, from a wire attached at the main-mast, established communications with wireless installations at Alum Bay and Poole, and received dispatches from both points regarding the war in South cruiser Charleston and other important events. This news was published in the Times, printed on board ship, the paper selling at $1 a copy, and the procated in per selling at $1 a copy, and the proceedings being devoted to the seamen's fund. Mr. W. W. Bradley was the editor. The passengers also availed themselves of the opportunity to send wireless greetings to friends in England, one actually arranging for a party in town on his arrival in London. Six of Signor Marconi's assistants have gone to the Cape at the request of the government, with instruments. He says he has sent no plant, either directly, or indirectly, to the Cape.

PLAGUE SPREADING. Trieste, Nov. 16 .- The captain of the Austrian Lloyd steamer Bernice, from Santos for Trieste, reports from the Cape Verde Islands, Nov. 5, that he has the plague on board. Three of those attacked had since died.

At Oporto, five additional plague cases were reported yesterday, with one death from the same cause. Dr. Camara Pestana, director of the Bacteriological Institute, Lisbon, died there Wednesday of the plague.

THE QUEEN AT BRISTOL. Bristol, Nov. 16 .- The visit of Queen Victoria here yesterday to open the Convalescent Home of Clifton, was made the occasion for a great display of patriotism. The town was lavishly decorated, and her majesty passed through six miles of Venetian masts, imperial standards, heraldic designs and garlands of flowers. The procession started for Clifton in the midst of a tumultuous popular acclamation.

Making a stop at the council house, the Queen knighted the mayor of Bristol. She expressed her gratification at the city's growth since she had visited it as a princess, and at the fact that Gloucestershire had contrib-uted so many members of the army and navy who had recently been so conspicuous for their valor and de-votion. A force of 7,000 volunteers and regulars lined the route to Clifton. An address by the mayor and corporation was presented to her majesty in a gold casket. During the ceremony or the inauguration of the home 27,000 children sang the jubilee hymn, and an address was presented to the Queen, who expresed the deep personal interest which she took in the charity, and earnestly expressed the hope that the home would contribute in no small degree to the allevation of human suf-fering. The dedication ceremony was interesting and impressive. Her ma-jesty rode to Windsor in the evening. The home is intended as an adjunct to the Bristol Royal Hospital, which cost $500,000, and was privately do-

Replying to the address of the mayor and corporation, the Queen said: "The sense of union and brotherhood, which under the divine blessing has welded together my empire in time of peace, is now proving itself in the hour of our trial also, and I share the pride you must feel that the men drawn from the district have recently been conspicuous among my gallant soldiers and sallors in South Africa for their valor and devotion to duty."

STEAMER ON FIRE. London, Nov. 16.—The Hamburg-American steamer Patria (Capt. Frelich), which left New York Nov. 4 for Hamburg, passed the Lizard on fire, near Dover. The Russian steamer Cerea sighted the Patria showing signals of distress, and rescued her 150 passengers, most of whom are Americans. Among the saved are many ladies and children, as well as six babies in arms. The hurry of the rescue was indicated by the fact that most of them were enveloped in blankets only. When the fire got be-yond control there was very great ex-citement among the women and children, but the example set by the cool-ness of Capt. Frelich and the crew had a calming effect upon the passen-gers generally. The boats were prompt-ly got over the side, the crew work-Ing as if they were at drill.

Hamburg, Nov. 16.—The crew of the

tria, on fire, are on board the com-pany's steamer Athesia, from Phila-delphia, Nov. 2, for Hamburg, which is towing the Patria toward the Elbe. RAN INTO TYPHOON.

San Francisco, Nov. 16.—Additional particulars of the terrible trip of the transport Siam from the port of Manila, state that she left Siam on Aug.

6, and on the 17th ran into a typhoon, losing three horses. Oct. 1 a terrific typhoon was encountered near Guam Island, four days from Manila. The storm broke at 1 o'clock in the morning, and at the first roll of the vessel the horses stampeded. Wave after wave crashed over the decks of the steamer throwing the animals about

PROFITS.

The different life insurance companies charge about the same premium for the same kind of policy, but the profits returned to policy. holders make a vast difference in the ultimate cost. Saving in death losses and expenses contribute very much to the profits of a company. Look at these two groups:

Average annual cost for expenses and death losses per $1,000 of insurance for the past nine years:

$18 44 average of twelve leading

$13 80 Ontario Mutual.

In other words, the average policyholder of the Ontario Mutual pays $4.64 a year LESS for his insurance than the average policyholder of the other companies, Does not that explain why the Ontario pays greater profits to policyholders?

breaking their legs, and otherwise maiming them. The scene was frightful. Three hundred and fifty horses were killed, and their bodies remained on deck for days before they could be disposed of. Thousands of sharks followed the vessel, being attracted by the stench and the possibilities of a feast. The transport was blown 1,000 miles out of her course.

Verdict of $25 for Boycotting a Brewer -Rail-Workers' Big Wages.

Montreal, Nov. 16.—The daily conferences between the G. T. R. officials and the conductors and brakemen have ended. Mr. Morrison, one of the representatives of the men, said last night that the agreement reached was entirely satisfactory to them, but de-clined to say what it was. Mr. Logan, the secretary of Mr. Hays, said no official statement would be given out for a day or two.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR. Boston, Mass., Nov. 16.—The 31st general assembly of the Knights of Labor, representing organizations in the United States and Canada, is being held here. Governor Wolcott welcomed the delegates in behalf of the state. General Master Workman Parsons, of New York, responded.

RECORD-BREAKING WAGES. Chicago, Nov. 16.—Beginning Jan. 1, steel rail workers in the South Chicago mills of the Illinois Steel Com-pany will receive record-breaking wages. Owing to increased price of the finished product, the men, some 300 in number, will be enabled to earn from $150 to $300 a month. This is due to the fact that the company failed to readjust the sliding scale of wages last June, and under the contracts a new scale cannot be arranged before June 1, 1900, and cannot go into effect for six months after that date.

VERDICT OF $25 FOR BOYCOTT. Boston, Mass., Nov. 16.-The damage suit of Magnus Friedberg against members of the Coopers' Union today resulted in a verdict of $25 for the plaintiff. Judge Gaskill ordered the jury to acquit all the defendants except Cummings, and judgment for $25 was given against him. The action was brought to recover $10,000 from the defendants for the alleged blacklisting and boycotting of the plaintiff, who is a brewer.

The demand for labor still continues at Ottawa, and the lumbering industry is specially active in engaging hands. Between 3,000 and 4,000 mer have already been sent to the different lumbering centers this season from the Ottawa and Hull employment agencies. The threatened strike of coal miners at Lethbridge has been postponed, the having decided to abandon their claim for the present for shorter hours.

THE SHOWER OF METEORS

A Large Number of Leonides Counted by Harvard College Star-Gazers-Observations at Other Points.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 15.—One hundred and forty-seven meteors, 58 of them leonides, were observed this them PICTON, Ont., Nov. 15.-Three fac- morning at the Harvard College obtories boarded 185 boxes of cheese; the highest bid was 10 13-16c; no sales; the one time the meteors fell at the rate of one a minute, and some of them were as bright as stars of the first magnitude. Several photographs were taken, but a cursory examination failed to show meteoric trails on the plates.

Madrid, Nov. 18.-The watchers at the observatory here last night per-ceived one bolide moving from west to east. It did not burst. Many shooting stars also were seen

Lima, Peru, Nov. 16.-There were Lima, Peru, Nov. 16.—There were no celestial phenomena last night, but at 12:30 o'clock there was a strong earthquake shock, accompanied by a great rumbling. The people of Lima and Callao were alarmed and rushed to the streets, public squares and sea beach.

Boston, Nov. 16.—The sky cleared beautifully in this vicinity about 1 o'clock this morning. A number of meteors were seen.

Chicago—One faint meteor was seen through the big telescope at the Yerkes observatory, Williams Bay, Wis., at 10 o'clock last night. It was too faint to be photographed.

Detroit-The exhibition of "shooting stars" was postponed on account of the weather this morning. Dark, heavy clouds hid the sky.

London—London has been badly disappointed regarding the Leonid shower.

Tuesday night was foggy, and last night cloudy and misty. No observations were practicable anywhere in England.

From the Brussels observatory be-tween 1:30 and 6 a.m. Wednesday numerous Leonides were visible, ranging in brilliancy from the second to the third degree, having in most instances a train resembling a comet's. At 2:23 a.m. a globe of fire, very bright, was seen in the direction north north-east 30 degrees above the horizon.

Wichita. Ks.—Between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday morning a slight shower of meteors were witnessed by an chserver an observer.

Webster City, Ia.—A large meteor fell in the woods just east of this place last night. It made a hole about five feet square and was still seething and steaming so that its full size could ANOTHER WITNESS.

Verdict of $25 for Boycotting a Brewer -Rail-Workers' Big Wages.

Montreal, Nov. 16.—The daily conferences between the G. T. R. officials and the conductors and brakemen have ended. Mr. Morrison, one of the rep-resentatives of the men, said last night that the agreement reached was entirely satisfactory to them, but de-clined to say what it was. clined to say what it was. Mr. Logan, the secretary of Mr. Hays, said no official statement would be given out for a day or two.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR. Boston, Mass., Nov. 16.—The 31st general assembly of the Knights of Labor, representing organizations in the United States and Canada, is being held here. Governor Wolcott welcomed the delegates in behalf of the state. General Master Workman Parsons, of New York, responded.

RECORD-BREAKING WAGES. Chicago, Nov. 16.—Beginning Jan. 1, steel rail workers in the South Chicago mills of the Illinois Steel Company will receive record-breaking wages. Owing to increased price of the finished product, the men, some 300 in number, will be enabled to earn from $150 to $300 a month. This is due to the fact that the company failed to re-adjust the sliding scale of wages last June, and under the contracts a new scale cannot be arranged before June 1, 1900, and cannot go into effect for six months after that date.

VERDICT OF $25 FOR BOYCOTT. Boston, Mass., Nov. 16.-The damage suit of Magnus Friedberg against members of the Coopers' Union today resulted in a verdict of $25 for the plaintiff. Judge Gaskill ordered the jury to acquit all the defendants exwas given against him. The action was brought to recover $10,000 from the defendants for the alleged blacklisting and boycotting of the plaintiff, who is

The demand for labor still continues at Ottawa, and the lumbering industry is specially active in engaging hands. Between 3,000 and 4,000 mem have already been sent to the different lumbering centers this season from the Ottawa and Hull employment agencies. The threatened strike of coal miners at Lethbridge has been postponed, the having decided to abandon their claim for the present for shorter hours.

OF METEORS

A Large Number of Leonides Counted by Harvard College Star-Gazers-Observations at Other Points.

Mass., hundred and forty-seven meteors, 58 of them leonides, were observed this morning at the Harvard College observatory by about a dozen persons. At one time the meteors fell at the rate of one a minute, and some of them were as bright as stars of the first magnitude. Several photographs were taken, but a cursory examination falled to show meteoric trails on the stars also were seen.

Madrid, Nov. 18 .- The watchers at the observatory here last night per-ceived one bolide moving from west to east. It did not burst. Many shooting

Lima, Peru, Nov. 16.—There were no celestial phenomena last night, but at 12:30 o'clock there was a strong earthquake shock, accompanied by a great rumbling. The people of Lima and Callao were alarmed and rushed to the streets, public squares and sea

Boston, Nov. 16.—The sky cleared beautifully in this vicinity about 1 o'clock this morning. A number of meteors were seen.

Chicago—One faint meteor was seen through the big telescope at the Yerkes observatory, Williams Bay, Wis. at 10 o'clock last right. It was too faint to be photographed. Detroit-The exhibition of "shooting stars" was postponed on account of the weather this morning. Dark, heavy clouds hid the sky.

London-London has been badly dissuppointed regarding the Leonid shower. Tuesday night was foggy, and last night cloudy and misty. No observa-tions were practicable anywhere in England.

From the Brussels observatory be-tween 1:30 and 6 a.m. Wednesday numerous Leonides were visible, ranging in brilliancy from the second to the third degree, having in most instances a train resembling a comet's.
At 2:23 a.m. a globe of fire, very bright, was seen in the direction north north-east 30 degrees above the horizon.

Wichita, Ks.-Between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday morning a slight shower of meteors were witnessed by an observer

CUTTING CANCERS

WON'T CURE

They Frequently Come Back With Increased Severity After Being Re moved by Operation.

The statistics of operations for Cancer show that fully eighty-five per cent of all cancers removed by the knife return, usually within a year after the operation is performed, and with rapidly fatal results. Such an appalling record of failure should be enough to make anyone who is suffering from this dread disease, hesitate and ponder well his chances before submitting himself to the knife.

As Dr. Walsh, the eminent surgeon, aptly put it: "Excision of a cancerous tumor seems to awaken a dormant force and hasten a fatal termination.' There is not a surgeon of prominence but recognizes that operation for cancer is a serious and at the same time unsatisfactory procedure. The new method of treatment which was introduced to the cancer sufferers of Canada some years ago, has revolutionized the manner of dealing with this disease. We have superseded the cruelties of the knife and plaster by a pleasant constitutional remedy that permeates every part of the system, removes the cause, strengthens and builds up the exhausted body, eases the pain, and day by day the cancer gradually subsides, the flesh round about takes on a healthier appearance and finally the disease spot disappears. We have disease spot disappears. We have many cases of cures that bear out these statements. We do not publish testimonials in the papers to satisfy idle curiosity, but if you are interested write us, inclosing two stamps, and we will send you a full account of our treatment, and testimony of those who have been cured by the Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont.

A GALAXY OF ORATORS.

There will be a feast of oratory at St. Andrew's banquet Nov. 30. Among the speakers will be Adam Brown, of Hamilton; Sir John Carling, honorary colonel of the Seventh Fusiliers, will and firm cabiles; May, 38%c; Dec., 39c. Cotoner of the Seventh Fusiners, will respond to the toast of "The Army and Navy." Hon. David Mills, minister of justice, will reply to "The Empire and What It Stands For." The name of Rev. W. J. Clark is to be coupled to 25c. state creamery, 21c to 26c. westwith the toast of "The Land of Burns and Scott," and in response to "Canada Our Home," Hon. J. Israel Tarte will speak.

AT THE POLICE COURT.

John Gilbank, a middle-aged man, was charged at the police court today with having assaulted John H. Sharpe, a small boy. It is alleged that accused knocked the boy down and kicked him repeatedly. A number of small boys were having some sport at Mr. Gil-bank's expense, and the complainant, it is understood, was one of the party, and was caught by the defendant and punished. The case was adjourned until Nov. 24. One drunk was allowed to go and another was fined $1. CITY HALL NOTES.

The board of works has been brought up short. Their appropriation is now overdrawn $275 78, and the city engineer estimates that at the end of the year the overdraft will be over $4,000. A redistribution of the funds at the disposal of the other committees is not possible, as none of the appropriations will admit of it. Therefore the treasury must be closed to the board. If the council knowingly contracted a debt for the incoming council the aldermen voting for the expenditure would be personally liable to the citizens. A supplementary assessment is theoretically the only step the council could take to raise the money, but that would be too costly

The board's breakwater account is now overdrawn $481 98, and there is an account of $71 yet unpaid. With regard to the exhibition buildings account, which is overdrawn $248 73, Mr. Graydon says this was the result of the immense quantity of glass destroyed by stone therefore stroyed by stone-throwers. The asphalt pavement will be flushed soon. It is very muddy and slippery.

Police Magistracy.

There appears to be a unanimous opinion that Mr. Francis Love, barrister, of this city, will be appointed police magistrate in the place of the late Mr. Parke. Mr. Love is wellread in the law, has had many years' expenience as a criminal lawyer, and is regarded by all as a fair practitioner, one who never strikes below the belt. When appointed, as we presume he will be, he will doubtless bring to the duties of his office the same fairness and ability that have characterized him in his legal practice. Mr. Love's appointment would have general approval, without regard to party.

THE STREET RAILWAY STRIKE

Present Situation

Various statements relative to the street railway strike continue to appear in hostile quarters, some of which are misleading. The present situation of the strike. as it affects the three parties involved, the Company, organized labor and the general public, seems to be somewhat as follows:

1. The Company. They are still running up against a strong public opinion. It is true the intensity of that opinion has somewhat subsided, it not being in the nature of things that such a feeling could continue forever at white heat. It is doubtless true, also, that, especially in dirty weather, somewhat larger number of persons use the street cars. That this would be so was to be expected. But the Company know well that until they dis-cover some means of conciliating the larger mass of public opinion still alienated, they will be at disadvantage in a dozen directions.

2. Organized labor. We refer to organized labor, in its large sense, rather than only to the street railway employes who went out on strike, because the larger body made the contest its own. There has been little change in the attitude of organized labor towards the attitude of organized labor towards the Company, beyond what has been alluded to in the preceding paragraph, namely, the natural diminution through time of some portion of the earlier intensity of feeling, and a moral boycott somewhat less exacting in the case of those who through necessity occasionally use the cars. But it will be forgotten only by the feeling the be forgotten only by the foolish that organized labor, and the immense numdirectly affiliated to or affected by it, are too influential to be treated as a force that can be ignored or trampled on with impunity. Company, nor connected directly with organized labor. The great bulk of the general public have sympathized, either actually, or practically, with organized labor, by refraining from riding on the street cars. They have done this during nearly six months, enduring whatever inconvenience it has cost, cheerfully, and in many cases enthusiastically. If they are now willing to be released from the sacrifices they have for so long a period borne, it is nothing more than natural. Many of the shrewdest of the labor leaders, looking beyond the present, are of the opinion that the friendly public should not be called on for sacrifices of convienience to an indefinite extent. They argue that the good-will of the public which has proved so valuable an asset to organized labor throughout present strike, should be conserved for the future.

In summing up the results of the strike, up to the present time, one naturally inquires what each of the three parties gains to compensate for the half-year's conflict. While the Company's loss is obvious, we do not see that they have gained anything of advantage. Had they taken The Advertiser's advice, and submitted everything to arbitration, they would have been better off in many ways. Organ-ized labor is better off in every respect. It has shown that it possesses a cohesion, a solidarity, capable of making, when necessary, even a six months' protest against what it considers the opposite of right treatment. It will find it easier henceforth to secure its fair demands through arbitration. The chief advantage to the general public, apart from the satisfaction of having been on the right side. Hes in the demonstration (1) of the necessity of having our municipal bodies composed of men of courage and capacity to cope with possessors of such important privileges as railway running rights over public streets; and (2) the absolute necessity of pro-moting such legislation looking to compulsory arbitration as will render another lengthened contest such as that through which we are passing, an impossibility in the future. One of the prominent planks of the municipal platform of organized labor in London is compulsory arbitration in just such cases. Every candidate should be catechised on the subject before polling day.

MR. MILLIKEN HAS RECOVERED

His Wife and Son Also Show Signs of Improvement.

Mr. Samuel Milliken has almost fully recovered from his recent misfortune. Mrs. Milliken is still very ill, but the improvement in her condition is reassuring. Robert, the son, is none the worse apparently. Mr. Milliken said to an Advertiser reporter that the damper of the stove must have been closed accidentally, and thus the draft was shut off, forcing the gas into the house. Before retiring on Sunday evening he had conducted family worship as usual, and the youngest boy, Andrew, had sat upon his knee, looking the picture of health and strength. He has never seen him since. Mrs. Milliken is worrying about the boys-always the boys -and the mother does not know as yet that one of her sons is dead.

Canadian Contingent.

Conspicuous among the numerous boxes sent to South Africa for the use of the Canadian contingent were two large tin cases, marked Foot Elm. Those who have not had any experiences in long marches know nothing of the misery endured by the soldiers, owing to their feet becoming tender from sweating and chafing. They often get so inflamed and blistered that walking is almost impossible. Foot Elm has been so successful in relieving these troubles that the authorities very wisely secured a supply for the entire contingent. It is doubtful if any article ever became more popular in so short a time as Foot Elm. It seems to be just what the people were needing, and Messrs. Scott & Jury, of Bowmanville, Ont., certainly deserve credit for their enterprise in placing so valuable a remedy on the market, and it is fortunate that the remedy has been included among the supplies for the use of the Canadian contingent. Foot Elm has been large-

The phenomena was expected to be most in evidence between midnight and dawn on the nights of the 13th, 14th and 15th of this month, but there is a possibility that observers tonight may be repaid by a glimpse of them. Scientists in the city have looked forward to this event for years and failed to see it on account of the adverse circumstances, and, as it occurs only once in 33 years, some were much disappointed.

Union Man No. 2.

To the Editor of the Advertiser: I have been reading lately that only one shot out of about one thousand is fatal, but it appears through your columns that my first shot was fatal; and I am glad, not only for your sake, but for my own, for I terribly dislike to waste ammunition on such small game.

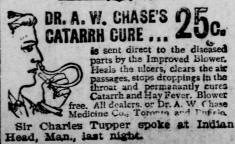

Union Man No. 2 says that I have been airing myself at his expense. Now, if he will send in his bill I will pay him, for I know how bad it makes him feel to be out anything, as he cannot even give his "Triangular' lecture without his expenses. I am glad that he is coming to his senses. Last week he knew everything this week he does not know whether "J" stands for "Jane" or "Joe." I suppose he hoped it was "Jane," but will find before he gets through that "no maiden's arms are round him thrown." He says it also stands for a sore-headed man. I wonder whose head it would not make sore, and heart also, to have to do with some of Union Men No. 2. I have done business with all classes of the community, from the publican down to the lowest tramp, yet I have found some of Union Men No. 2 to eclipse them in downright dishonesty, hypocrisy and untruthfulness, and I am not at all surprised that a Union Man No. 1 with the same experience would "We do not want any such resay. presentation of Jesus Christ here." I would rather have a sore head and something in it than to have the big head and nothing in it, and have to part my hair in the middle to keep it balanced. I would like Union Man No 2 to point out to me one single line of living in which he represents Jesus Christ. I never said that the Methodist church was a tyrannical union; but he would fain crawl in behind the Methodist church and cry for the space of two hours, "Great is Richard Hobbs! Great is the Methodist church, for by it I get my living!" I spoke of clerical union and not of Methodist union. I am just as loyal a Methodist as Union Man No. 2, and am not living on the church, either, and have done as much work for the Methodist church, for nothing, as he, for which he has received a fat salary. father did more for Methodism and Christianity in Western Ontario than whole regiment of such as Union

Man No. 2. He says he preaches free grace, freewill offering, etc., but he does not practice it twenty-four hours, and I doubt the truthfulness of his statement. What a magnanimous heart! What a philanthropist! How selfsacrificing to give me a free seat and a free gospel for evermore! How liberal with other people's property! How willing to give that which costs him nothing! How any sane man can say that he preaches a free gospel when he is under contract for a stated salary, and tells his congregation that if they do not pay his insurance that he will have to do it himself. I wonder if this is not compulsory, and if you do not you are then under the vane of this tyrannical Union Man No. 2, who has placed all this freedom at our dis-

I have not censured all. I have as much respect as anybody for the selfsacrificing man who has placed his freedom at our disposal, who. like Paul, said "We preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus, the Lord, and ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake." But how is it with Union Man No. 2, he says, "We preach ourselves and ourselves the bosses for our own sake." I still say that the man who belongs to such a prodigious union has no moral or legal right to find fault with any labor union when the command has gone forth "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread," but Union Man No. 2 eats bread in the sweat of somebody else's face. Thanking you for your space, Mr. Editor, I remain yours J. BROWN.

ANTIQUITIES.

Almost as great a curiosity as this is a house 1,100 years of age and yet fit for habitation. This old dwelling, the oldest inhabited house in England, was built in the time of King Offa of Mercia. It is octagonal in shape, the walls of its lower story being of great thickness. The upper part is of oak.
At one time the house was fortified and known by the name of St. German's Gate. It stands close to the River Ver, and only a few yards from from home.

But, though his purpose was now within easy reach, his spirits were far stood for some time by the rail-within, unable to summon up resolu-tion to move from the spot and present treasure them in secret with pride and himself to his unsuspecting family. It was a cold night, with a howling wind, and high in the blue-black sky fleecy white clouds were coursing swiftly along; he obliged himself to set out at last, and walked down the flags toward his house, shivering, as much from nervousness as cold. There was a dance somewhere in the terrace that evening-a large one; as far as he could see there were close ranks of carriages with blazing lamps, shouts of the link-boys and the whistles of the commissionaires. As he came nearer he had a hideous suspicion, which soon became a certainty, that the entertainment was at his own house; worse still, it was of a kind and on a scale calculated to shock and horrify any prudent house-and he even fancied he could hear the holder and father of a family.

The balcony above the portico was positively hung with gaudy Chinese lanterns, and there were even some strange sticks and shapes up in one corner that looked suspiciously like fireworks. Fireworks in Westbourne What would the neighbors think or do? Between the wall which separates the main road from the terrace were no less than four piano organs, playing, it is to be feared, by express in-vitation; and there was the usual crowd of idlers and loungers standing about by the awning stretched over the portico, listening to the music and loud laughter which came from the brilliantly-lighted upper rooms. Paul remembered then, too late, that Barbara, in that memorable letter of hers, had mentioned a grand ren's party as being in contemplation. Dick had held his tongue about it that morning; and he himself had not thought it was to be so soon.

For an instant he felt almost inclined to turn away and give the whole thing up in sick despair-even to return to Rodwell Regis and brave the doctor's anger; for how could he hope to explain matters to his family and servants or get the Garuda Stone safely into his hands again before all these guests, in the whirl and tumult of an evening party? And yet he dared not, after all, go back to Crichton House—that was too terrible an alternative—and he obviously could not roam the world to any extent, a runaway schoolboy, to all appearance, and with less than a sovereign in his pocket.

After a short struggle he felt he must make his way in, watch and wait, and leave the rest to chance. It was his evil fate, after all, that had led him on to make his escape on this night, of all others, and had allowed him to come through so much, only to be met with those unforeseen complications, just when he might have imagined the worst was over. He forced his way through the staring crowd, and went down the steps into the area; for he naturally shrank from braving the font door, with its crowd of footmen and hired waiters. He found the door in the basement open, which was fortunate, and slipped quietly through the pantry, intending to reach the hall by the kitchen stairs. But here another check met him. The glass-door which led to the stairs happened to be shut, and he heard voices in the kitchen, which convinced him that, if he wished to escape notice, he must wait quietly in the darkness until the door was opened for him, when-

The door from the pantry to the kitchen was partly open, however, and Mr. Bultitude could not avoid hearing everything that passed there, although every fresh word added to his uneasiness, until at last he would have given worlds to escape from his involuntary position of eavesdropper. There were only two persons just then in the kitchen-his cook, who, still in her working dress, was refreshing herself, after her labors over the supper, with a journal of some sort; and the housemaid, who, in neat gala costume, was engaged in fastening a bow more securely in her mob-cap.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE FARMERS

How the Ontario Government Will Assist Agriculture.

Premier Ross Outines New Plans for That Purpose.

Cold Storage Stations To Be Established-Chilled Meat Trade-Reclaiming Waste Lands.

In his great speech at Whitby on Tuesday, Premier Ross had the following to say, which is of vital interest to the farmers of Ontario:

Now, having dealt with new Ontario, We have the same hopeful cry or policy in regard to old Ontario as in new; and, firstly, I would say that we must endeavor to develop the latent resources of old Ontario by means of the agricultural department of the province. If Mr. Dryden is not prepared to give his whole energies, if he is not prepared to throw all his force into the agricultural development of the Province of Ontario, let me tell you and it is no secret—I will have to get a new minister of agriculture; no doubt about it. The secret of our prosperity is in the development of the agricultural resources of the province. That is the philosopher's stone, that is the Midas' touch which will turn everything into gold. We may have mineral wealth and forest wealth, but the broad foundations of the wealth of this country is its loamy farms and its skilled agriculturists, and you will allow me as an old school master to say that we want to put a skilled, intelligent, well-instructed farmer on every farm in the province. Mr. Dryden says you must change your methods of farming. You have changed them. We cannot hold our own, we cannot make the most out of the soil, we cannot make the most out of raising stock or raising grain, or raising fruit or dairy produce without the highest de-gree of intelligence. You all admit

TO RECLAIM WASTE LANDS. We ought to deal with the waste lands of the province. We have in Ontario three million acres of swamp lands. They are a nulsance, they are pestilential, and some of you may, perhaps, get malaria from them. We hope to project a system whereby these three million acres may be properly drained, and when you drain your swamp lands you restore to the farmer what is the best meadow land he can possibly have. Think of three million acres of swamp lands! If we can change what is today worth three million dollars into property worth thirty millions, don't you think that would be money well spent, so as to widen the area on which we may labor? More particularly we hope by the methods adopted by Mr. Dryden so improve the agricultural condition the people of this country that we will get better results even on the same sent $9,953,350 worth, or one-fifth of the area. Now, I think no man can esti-supply. England imported $4,472,934 area. Now, I think no man can esti-mate how much Mr. Dryden's management of the agricultural department has added to the wealth of this country. I will give you a figure or two that struck me as effective in some investigations I have made. For instance, in 1888 we sold 4,415,381 pounds of butter to Great Britain, a trifling, insignificant quantity. That was ten years ago. Last year we sold 11,253,pounds of butter to Great Britain. That is a very satisfactory increase in ten years. You see, the product has been increased by means of the dairy schools, the farmers' institutes and also through improvements in live stock within those ten years. In 1888 we sold 84,163,267 pounds of cheese to Great Britain; last year this had risen to 196,703,723 pounds, worth seventeen millions of dollars. Twenty years ago the United States sold more cheese in the British markets than we did; now we sell four times as much as all the United States put together. No, we have not been idle. Mr. Whitney will tell you when he comes here tomorrow night that we are corrupt. Does he discuss any of these questions with the people of this country? I never heard him express an intelligent idea in regard to agriculture or the development of this country. (Cheers.) You may take his policy from beginnig to end, examine it with a microscope, and you will not see a plank on which a man can stand. (Renewed cheers.) It has no existence; It is mere invective, declamation and denunciation. How ever, you have substantial proof of the utility of the department of agriculture. We promise to proceed on the same lines. We propose to aid the farmer in raising more crops on the same quantity of land if skilled agriculture will produce them, and to give him better live stock if a better selection of stock will give it to him; a larger income from every department of agricultural industry than we now have if skill and intelligence will bring it about. That is one thing. OPPONENTS OF PROGRESS. Another very important department of work to which attention must be immediately given is the question of transportation. Mr. Dryden deserves unstinted praise for the appointment of a road commissioner, or of an en-gineer to give instruction as to road-making in the province, and I am bound to say that in all these movements he has received the active op-In fact, in this great agricultural country, would you believe it, that when position of Mr. Whitney and his allies Sir Oliver Mowat proposed some years ago the appointment of a minister of agriculture Mr. Whitney opposed it? There is the farmer's friend; there is the man who would make this country rich! As if the thousand millions you have invested did not require the guiding hand of one minister, such as our forests or any other department of state! Then when we wanted a road commissioner he voted against it. So that you see whenever we propose anything progresive you may be sure to find Mr. Whitney and his followers will vote against it, simply because it is progressive, or for some other reason. We want to improve our system of transportation in the province for this reason. You have your valuable produce to be marketed, and its value depends upon your ease in bringing it to market. In conjunction with our system of transportation I think Mr. Dry-den. I think the people of Ontario, might very well consider the establishment of collecting stations, of coldstorage stations, where the produce of the farm could be put in cold-storage for a convenient time until perhaps a surfeited market is relieved. This system is in use in New Zealand.

COLD-STORAGE STATIONS. In Australia they have cold-storage stations, or collecting stations, as they call them, at reasonable intervals, where the farmer places his butter and where it is perfectly safe and preserved until he wishes to sell it or to take it out for the use of his family. Poultry is stored in the same way. At certain seasons of the year butter is very plen-tiful: there is a glut in the market seasons of the year butter is very plentiful: there is a glut in the market and the butter may be lest in fold-storage till the prices like. Some of these stations are used for apples in the same way. In the fall the buyer comes to your orchard; he says: "I will give you a dollar a barrel for your apples;" that is the market price, and you cannot make better terms with him. These stations are used for the storage of fruit, and you can bide your own time. This is a matter to which own time. This is a matter to which the government proposes to give its attention and to follow up to a certain extent the action of the Dominion Government in connection with cold-storage for creameries.

TRANSPORTATION. An important matter is the transportation of farm products to the English market. We are not connected with getting goods to the English market. The Ontario Government has not to do with the control of railways. The control of railways has been taken from us. I was in the House of Com-mons when that change was made, what do you propose in old Ontario? and I regret that it was made. We want to get into the English market, and I pledge my word as leader of the government that the Ontario Government will lend all the assistance in its power to encourage the Dominion Government in providing a quick and cheap transportation for our produce to England. A Dominion Government cannot afford to turn a deaf ear to our representatives in the Ontario Legislature. When the Ontario Legislature asks, they must move, because more than one-half of the influence of this country lies in Ontario. It shall be my early duty to see if there can-not be a reduction of freights to ocean ports on agricultural produce. There ought to be fast express trains that would bring these products, as in the case of Armour trains, quickly to the seaport, and from there an efficient cold storage service to the English market

CHILLED MEAT TRADE. A word as to cold storage. You send to England alive. In Australia they have long abandoned that. They send their chilled meat there, and as a consequence the trade in this has grown enormously in the last few years. In 1880 the exports to Great Britain were 400 carcases from Australia. In 1897 the Australians sent 1,394,500 carcases of chilled mutton to the English market, very nearly a million and a half carcases. New Zealand in 1897 sent 2,696,000, the Argentine Republic 2,680,-000, that is, a total of 6,770,000 carcases sent by cold storage process across the line from the Isthmus of Suez, through the heated climate of the Mediter death, $5,000. ranean, is landed at Liverpool or London in perfect preservation. We will see if some means cannot be devised whereby a chilled meat market of that kind can be established for the benefit of the farmers of Ontario. There were also 77,000,000 pounds of fresh beef. There are enormous facilities in the Dominion for a trade of that kind, if we would only avail ourselves of the

Let me give you a figure of two to show the extent of the British market for the products of the energies of our people in that respect. Last year, that is 1897, England imported $6,104,562 worth of horses, and we only sent $1,-364,891 worth. England imported $50,orth of cattle, and we only worth of sheep, and we only sent $465,-263, or half a million dollars' worth. England imported $61,075,752 worth of bacon and hams, and we sent of this orly $3,000,000 worth. England imported $34,065,440 worth of beef, and we only sent $207,012 worth. England imported $77,462,329 worth of butter, and we sent only $2,164,995. England imported 140,-317,540 dozen eggs, and we sent only 5,-678,690 dozen. England imported 117,-115,003 bushels of wheat, and we sent of this only 8,998,267 bushels. Of barley England imported 44,237,013 bushels, of which we sent only 158,597 bushels. Of 10,461,174 barrels, of which we sent only 857,186 barrels, and of apples England sent only 1,020,929 bushels. Out of $855;that is to say, John Bull bought in Canada only 7½ per cent of the breadstuffs which he consumed, the other 92½ per cent he bought in the United States and other countries. So that we have by cheap transportation and such opportunities as lie in our hands for opening up trade with the English market, facilities to develop to any extent we please the native energy of the people of the province. That is way in which we propose to develop old Ontario.

THE FAT STOCK SHOW.

Workmen are busy at Queen's Park making preparations for the Dominion Fat Stock and Dairy Show, which will open Dec. 11. Extensive alterations are being made in the immense cattle and sheep barn. At the north end will be the dairy department, divided from the other exhibits by a temporary parti-tion. A tightly boarded room is being built for storing milk. In the machinery hall the block tests will take place. There from 100 to 200 head of cattle will be killed, and prizes awarded for the best carcasses. Dressed poultry will also be exhibited in the machinery hall.

COMPLAINANT FAILED TO AP-PEAR.

Mr. Hiram Wilson, of Komoka, came up before Squire Lacey yesterday on a charge of assaulting Warren Jenkins, a lightning rod agent. The case was adjourned for a week, as the complainant did not appear. Mr. Wilson says he was not arrested, as stated by a contemporary, but came to the city and gave himself up to the authorities. He further states that Jenkins' solicitors are now trying to have the matter dropped. The defendant wants the case tried, so that he can show that Jenkins was the aggressor.

MR. McGREGOR SUSPENDED. The Appin case was taken up at the last meeting of the London Presbytery, and after the evidence was heard the following motion by Dr. Johnston, seconded by Rev. J. G. Stuart, was adopted: "The court finds, on the evidence of the session records, statements of witnesses heard in the case, and on acknowledgments made by Mr. Mc-Gregor himself, that all the statements made by Mr. Henderson, as moderator of Appin session, in this case are fully substantiated." It was further agreed "That Mr. McGregor, on account of his untruthfulness revealed in the case, be suspended from church membership until he gives satisfactory evidence of repentance."

Leave was granted to the respective moderators of Glencoe, Westminster and Thamesford to moderate in calls before next meeting of prephytory is before next meeting of presbytery, if required. The presbytery will next meet in St. Thomas (Knox Church) on the second Tuesday of January. THE FROEBEL SOCIETY.

The Froebel Society held a most successful mothers' meeting in Aberdeen kindergarten Tuesday afternoon. In spite of the bad weather there was a very large attendance, the room being crowded. Mr. Kirk gave a short address, and spoke of the great advantages the child gained by a kindergarten course before entering the primary room. After a short programme, in which Miss Robertson, Miss Phoenix and Miss Colhour tech. Miss Phoenix and Miss Calhoun took part, the subject for discussion, "Punishments," was taken up. Miss Mac-kenzie spoke of the need of punishment as the outcome of violating law. Law was a necessity of life; therefore Law was a necessity of life; therefore disobedience to law must bring punishment. Miss Hendrie took punishment as exercised in the kindergarten. It must have a natural connection with the offense, so the child sees it is not the caprice of the teacher, but a law governing both child and teacher. There must be confidence between teacher and child. Miss Brenton showed the harm done by whipping, as. ed the harm done by whipping, as, among other things, it aroused anger and retaliation, and defeated its own end. She also spoke of the necessity of discrimination between badness and the lack of a true ideal of right.

A CALL GIVEN TO REV. C. E. OAKLEY

First Congregational Church Choses a Detroit Divine.

Rev. E. C. Oakley, of Detroit, will be invited by the members and adherents of the First Congregational Church, to become their pastor. This decision, which was unanimous, was arrived at last night, when a meeting was held to consider their choice.

Mr. Oakley impressed the congrega-tion favorably when he preached before them some time ago. The members are in hearty unison in the call, and will anxiously await the reverend gentleman's answer. Mr. Oakley has been in rather poor health for some time past, and at present has no charge, but is recuperating. It is feared, therefore, by some, that he is not anxious to take this position, though it is the strong
