GERMANY BIDS FOR BIG CANAL

Ready to Buy Rights for the Panama Ditch.

$40,000,000 FOR A CONCESSION

Canadians Quit S. A. Constabulary—A Number Returning Home—Britain's Big Trade.

London, Jan. 9.—The Washington correspondent of the Daily News states, on what he claims is unquestionable authority, that the Panama Canal Company has received a German offer to buy for $40,000,000 all the company's rights and concessions if the United States does not exercise its option, which expires March 4. The German Government has offered to buy Colombia's shares in the company, agreeing to take them at par in full liquidation of all German claims against Colombia.

The German view of the right to build the canal without violating the Monroe doctrine is that the Colombian constitution is not alienated nor the sovereignty thereof transferred to a foreign government. Therefore, if German capital builds the canal, neither Germany nor individual Germans acquire sovereignty in Colombia or perpetual occupation of Colombian territory.

Furthermore, the United States, in not opposing the French company in building the canal, established a precedent that such building is not regarded as a violation of the Monroe doctrine, for which reason the United States would have no justification in interfering with Germans completing the French company's work.

YEAR OF BRITAIN'S TRADE.

London, Jan. 9.—An official report says the exports of England for the year 1902 amounted to £283,529,990, or $1,417,639,900. The exports for the previous year were £280,022,376, or $1,400,111,880. The imports for 1902 were £238,300,284, or $2,641,501,420, as compared with £241,960,990 for the previous year.

The monthly statement of the Board of Trade shows that during December imports increased $7,002,500, and exports decreased $472,500.

CANADIANS DISGUSTED.

London, Jan. 9.—Some Canadians who were members of the South African Constabulary arrived in England on Tuesday, and twenty or thirty more are expected soon.

Inquiry shows that some were discharged in certain cases for bad conduct, and it is alleged that others resigned because they resented being transferred to different sections under other officers than their own. Some difficulty exists regarding their passage back to Canada, but negotiations are now being carried on with the Colonial Office, as the men were enlisted in the Dominion, but most of them expect to return home on Saturday.

Another authority confirms the statement that most of the men resigned on account of their dislike for English officers. It is announced that Gen. Baden-Powell

STRONG TALK BY CHAMBERLAIN

Boers Need Not Expect General Amnesty—Should Recognize British Generosity.

Pretoria, Jan. 8. — Mr. Chamberlain, replying to the address of the burghers, said the terms already granted to them were decidedly generous, and that there was no prospect of a general amnesty. The cases of the burghers now in Europe would be considered individually on their merits, said Mr. Chamberlain, and these burghers should prove their loyalty by accounting for the gold taken to Europe. The secretary said also that the annexation of the Vryheid and Utrecht districts to Natal was irrevocable, and that the natives would be compelled to observe their obligations. He declared he would have been better pleased had the address of the burghers, instead of consisting merely of demands, contained some recognition of what His Majesty's Government had already done for the Boers.

HOW HE TRADED OFF HIS WIFE

Peculiar Bigamy Case on Trial at Cobourg—Gave Spouse for a Watch.

Port Hope, Jan. 9.—A case was tried at Cobourg yesterday in the county court before Judge Benson, preferred by County Crown Attorney Kerr against George Albert Reynolds, of Percy Township, near Dartmouth, of inciting to commit bigamy. On Dec. 10, 1900, George Albert Reynolds and Annie Clark were married by the Presbyterian minister at Norwood, and they lived together as man and wife until last fall, when an elder brother, Walter Reynolds, aged 28, came home from Michigan, and revived a former intimacy existing between himself and George's wife. George resented this, or else he was tired of his wife, and offered to sell his wife and household effects to Walter, the consideration being a watch bought in Michigan for $15.

A bargain to this effect was made, the marriage license procured under false pretenses by the two brothers at Roseneath, and husband No. 1 took charge of his two children, while his wife and brother were being married in innocence by the Methodist minister at Warkworth, in November, 1902. After which husband No. 2 took immediate charge of his brother's wife, two children and household furniture. The affair culminated today in Walter Reynolds and Annie Reynolds, who were defended by Mr. E. C. S. Huycke, K. C., of Cobourg, pleading guilty to charges of bigamy, and receiving sentences of four months each in the county jail at Cobourg. George Albert Reynolds, the first husband, who was defended by J. B. McColl, M. P., was convicted of the charge of inciting his brother and wife to commit bigamy, and received three months. In passing sentence his honor pointed out that the lightness of the sentences was due to the fact of the ignorance of the parties concerned, and because their offense against society and morality had affected no innocent party injuriously. The parties in this unique domestic mixup remain unaffected in their relationship, husband No. 1 having promised to take back the wife and children he had sold as soon as the sentences expired.

LORD KITCHENER LEADS THE TROOPS

Superb Military Spectacle at Delhi—Closing Scenes of the Durbar.

Delhi, India, Jan. 9. — The review by the Viceroy, Lord Curzon, of 30,000 British and native troops, led by Lord Kitchener, was the last important event of the coronation durbar. The Duke of Connaught, the Grand Duke of Hesse and the Viceroy, surrounded by a brilliant staff, took up their positions in the order named, the cavalry in line of regiments, followed by the artillery, galloped past again and formed half a mile in front of the grand stand, and from this position charged down in long and magnificent line to within a short distance of the saluting point.

Of all the soldiers reviewed none made a better impression than the native volunteers, who were led by native princes, magnificently uniformed and horsed. The Imperial Service Corps composed of natives who saw service in China, excited great admiration.

ANOTHER FATAL COLLISION ON PENNSYLVANIA RAILWAY

Disaster Due to a Storm—Three Persons Killed and Fourteen Hurt—Occurred in City.

Aden, Ohio, Jan. 8.—Three men dead and fourteen or more persons injured, one fatally, is the result of a collision between two trains on the Pennsylvania system, on the main street of this city tonight.

The dead are: Jos. Stein, Fort Wayne, Ind.; McPool, Fort Wayne; Alonzo Padley, Van Wert, Ohio. Among the injured is J. J. Casey, of Toledo, who it is expected cannot recover.

The accident occurred on the main street at a time when the thoroughfare was crowded with people on their way home from work in the stores. Train No. 35, westbound, for Fort Wayne, had started out of the station, but at the main street crossing was compelled to stop on account of some accident to the air-brakes. A flagman was sent back to notify No. 19, a fast train going in the same direction, which was several minutes late. On account of the driving snowstorm the engineer of No. 19 was UNABLE TO SEE THE SIGNAL in time to slacken his speed, and his engine crashed into the rear coach of No. 35 at the rate of 40 miles an hour. No. 35 consisted of two coaches, the rear one being a combination baggage and passenger car, with another passenger car in front. Both were completely wrecked, and scarcely a passenger escaped injury of some sort.

The scene about the wreck was frightful. Assistance came promptly, and the dead and injured were once carried to the station and laid on improvised cots.

The engine of No. 19 was almost demolished, but the cars behind it were not damaged in the least, and none of the passengers were even bruised. Every physician in the city was summoned, and by midnight those not seriously wounded were resting in their rough hospital cots, or had been removed to more comfortable quarters.

KILLED AT A CROSSING.
Toronto, Jan. 9.—Daniel Norris, a traveler for the Queen City Oil Company, was killed at Port Credit by a Canadian Pacific train, which struck his wagon, as he was driving across the track. He lived in Toronto and was unmarried.

authorities are busy fighting the plague. It is characteristic, too, that the disease increases in malignancy as it progresses. In some cities in Ohio and Indiana, the death rate has been 10 per cent, and has reached as high as 27 per cent. All over in every place from which we receive reports the disease is described as very virulent. Yet Detroit has been a notable exception. We have had 459 cases thus far, with only three deaths, and two of these were newly-born babes, who could not have survived anyhow. The disease itself is on the decrease and the situation in Detroit is very favorable. On Dec. 12 we had 97 cases under our care. Today there are 69.

For Canadian Soldiers' Widows.
Ottawa, Jan. 9.—The Government has been advised of an important decision by the Imperial authorities. Some time ago it was announced that the same rate of imperial pensions would be granted to Canadian soldiers who suffered injury by reason of service in South Africa as would apply to regulars in the army. Now it is intimated that the pension order has been extended so as to include the widows and orphans of Canadians who were killed or died while serving during the war.

The man who introduced an anti-kissing bill in the Virginia Legislature is named B. Ware.

SQUEEZE PUBLIC TO THE LIMIT

Coal Barons Curtailing Output of Anthracite.

ARE SENDING PRICES SKYWARD

An Unprecedented Shortage Even in Scranton—Operators Securing Unreasonable Prices.

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 8.—The price of anthracite coal is soaring "skyward" by leaps and bounds, and the relief that the people of the country over have hoped for is further distant today than at any time since the approach of winter weather. Even in Scranton, the heart of the coal fields, where coal in almost unlimited deposits underlies the surface, there is an unprecedented shortage, and the clamor for coal daily grows among all classes of people. The operators are taking advantage of the present conditions to get unreasonable profits, and unless there is an outlook for change the price of anthracite coal will steadily increase, and no relief can be expected before the summer.

OPERATORS CURTAILING SUPPLY.
The shortage of coal must be traced primarily to the great miners' strike of 1902, but it is greatly augmented, beyond any doubt, by the action of the coal companies in unnecessarily curtailing the supply. This is their time of harvest, and they are losing no opportunity to reap enormous profits at the expense of the masses of common people and the great industries of the country.

It is estimated that 30 per cent of the mine workers who went on strike have not been re-employed. The operators' plea is that the coal properties were so damaged by lack of care during the strike that it is not yet possible to resume full operations. In some few instances that may be true, but in the great majority of cases it is not the operators' desire to employ more men or to work more veins. The coal will not spoil, and yearly it grows more valuable.

COULD INCREASE OUTPUT 90,000 TONS DAILY.

Estimating that under ordinary circumstances 500 mine workers can produce 1,000 tons of coal for market per day, and that of the 150,000 mine workers who went on strike, 45,000 are idle or working at some other calling, at least 90,000 tons a day are left unmined, and out of the market. Furthermore, 50 per cent of the collieries in this section could be worked on a "shift" if the operators felt so disposed. Thousands of miners would be willing, even anxious, to work extra time and thereby recoup their losses during the strike, and the thousands who are still unemployed about the coal mines could also be given work. In that manner the supply could be increased, the demand lessened, and the price reduced. But this is precisely what the operators do not want. Their losses during the strike were enormous. The season to retrieve is at hand, and they are making good.

The action of the independent operators in breaking away from their contracts with a coal carrying road has also greatly aggravated the evil.

TORONTO'S SUPPLY.
Toronto, Jan. 9.—Toronto is not obtaining much hard coal as a fortnight ago. Receipts of coal now are two-thirds soft coal.

THE FAMINE AT TOLEDO.
Toledo, Ohio, Jan. 9.—A physician's certificate is now required by local coal dealers before they will sell even a ton of coal. It must show illness in the home of the world-be purchaser and that coal is necessary as a safeguard for the patient.

THE COAL DUTY.
Washington, Jan. 8.—The resolutions of Senator Vest, of Missouri, directing the finance committee to report a bill removing the duty on anthracite coal, occupied the attention of the Senate for some time today, but no action was taken.

A BABY IN JAIL.

The Mother is incarcerated on Charge of Murder.

St. John, N. B., Jan. 9.—At Fredericton on Wednesday the grand jury returned a true bill against Mrs. Annie Marston, of Meductic, charged with poisoning her husband with strychnine in June last, and because of the absence of a material witness, George Sims, who is now in the Ontario lumber woods, north of Lake Superior, the trial was postponed until January 27.

Mrs. Marston, who has given birth to a son since her preliminary examination, has been out on $10,000 bail, but on the grand jury's finding a renewal of this bail was refused, and she is now in jail and has her child with her.

When formally arraigned she pleaded not guilty, in a calm and seemingly disinterested manner.

SMALLMAN & INGRAM

149, 151 and 153 DUNDAS STREET.

WESTERN ONTARIO.

Miss Annie Clarkson, for the past two years on the office staff in the freight department of the G. T. R. at Ingersoll, is to be promoted to a responsible and more lucrative position in Toronto.

Mr. Charles Jenkins, of Petrolia, a petroleum expert, has left for Cuba to prospect for oil for the Cuban Petroleum Company. Accompanying Mr. Jenkins was Mr. James Peat, who will act as superintendent of operations, and Messrs. George Peat, J. J. Ble and J. D. Thompson, as practical drillers.

Some of the members of the Lucan Presbyterian congregation recently waited on their minister, Rev. Alex. Wilson, who has been settled over them but a few months, and presented him with a fine new up-to-date and very strong string of bells. This was a complete surprise to Mr. Wilson, who could not find words to express his appreciation of their kindness, but sincerely thanked his people.

The first consignment of wood for Windsor's civic woodyard arrived on Wednesday, and Col. Guillot was besieged with people who wished to order. The soft wood, 4 feet long, is sold at 2½c cord, and hard, the same length, is sold for 4½c. This is away below the prices which have been demanded in Windsor by the local dealers since the fuel famine commenced.

Mrs. William Gilpin, of St. Marys, met with a strange mishap the other evening. She fell just outside her door, breaking the small bone of her ankle. With difficulty she got into the house, and, as Mr. Gilpin was away, she sat at the window and tried to attract the attention of the passers-by, but in vain. She got to bed, not being able to attend to the fire. In the morning she managed to make one of the school children hear, and he went across the road and told a neighbor. Dr. Brown was sent for, and he pronounced it a case of broken ankle. The injury is such as will probably keep Mrs. Gilpin still for three months.

Mr. E. N. Toronto, Jan. 8.—Reports received at the Bureau of Mines go to show that the iron range in Hutton Township, about 30 miles northeast of Sudbury, is of immense extent, and possibly equal to the Helen mine. SMALLPOX AT ST. THOMAS

Patient Carried Disease There From Galt.

Whole Civilized World Threatened, Says a Detroit Doctor.

St. Thomas, Ont., Jan. 9.—A young man named McLean, son of R. McLean, proprietor of the Columbia Hotel, this city, who has been working as a cigarmaker in Galt, arrived here yesterday. He was not feeling well, and Doctor Gustin was immediately summoned. After examination the physician decided that the man was suffering from smallpox. The hotel has been quarantined and the board of health have taken every precaution to prevent the spread of the disease.

THE WORLD THREATENED.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 8.—Health officer Kleier agrees with Dr. Probst, secretary of the State Board of Health of Ohio, that the whole civilized world is threatened with a smallpox epidemic; in other words, that the disease has become pandemic instead of epidemic. "I certainly know," said Dr. Kleier, "that it is raging all over the country, and that in Germany, England, France and other countries the health authorities are busy fighting the plague. It is characteristic, too, that the disease increases in malignancy as it progresses. In some cities in Ohio and Indiana, the death rate has been 10 per cent, and has reached as high as 27 per cent. All over in every place from which we receive reports the disease is described as very virulent. Yet Detroit has been a notable exception. We have had 459 cases thus far, with only three deaths, and two of these were newly-born babes, who could not have survived anyhow. The disease itself is on the decrease and the situation in Detroit is very favorable. On Dec. 12 we had 97 cases under our care. Today there are 69.

For Canadian Soldiers' Widows.
Ottawa, Jan. 9.—The Government has been advised of an important decision by the Imperial authorities. Some time ago it was announced that the same rate of imperial pensions would be granted to Canadian soldiers who suffered injury by reason of service in South Africa as would apply to regulars in the army. Now it is intimated that the pension order has been extended so as to include the widows and orphans of Canadians who were killed or died while serving during the war.

THE CONDITION OF CITY'S HEALTH IS SATISFACTORY

Board of Health Hears Gratifying Statement From M. H. O.

Mortality Statistics Include List of 18 Violent Deaths in Year.

The regular meeting of the board of health was held yesterday afternoon, those present being Ald. Campbell, ex-Ald. C. C. Taylor, and Wm. Skinner, Mr. H. C. McBride and Dr. Hutchinson. After the report of the last meeting had been read by Secretary Bell, Medical Health Officer Dr. Hutchinson submitted his annual report, as follows:

To the Chairman and Board of Health: Gentlemen—In presenting my annual report for the year ending Nov. 15, I have to repeat what I said in last year's report as to the very satisfactory condition of the city's health. Five hundred and seventy-four deaths occurred during the year, exclusive of 34 still-born, which are not counted in mortality statistics. Consumption, as usual, carried off the largest number, viz., 66, as compared with 48 last year, and 60 the year before. Pneumonia, also a disease of the lungs, comes second in the list with 48 deaths. Leaving out what is called heart disease, which may mean anything, organic diseases of the heart caused the deaths of 48 persons and cancer 23. There were 18 deaths by violence, of which 2 were suicides. There is a very satisfactory and comforting increase in the number of deaths from old age, viz., 36; from octogenarians to the century mark. The number of deaths due to infectious diseases is comparatively small, viz., 25, as follows: Diphtheria 20, typhoid fever 3, measles 2, and none whatever from scarlet fever. This is a very low death rate from what is called preventable diseases for a city of London's population, and breaks the record for typhoid and scarlet fevers. It is especially so when the difficulties contended against are considered. Many parents show an utter disregard of the Golden Rule, allowing their children, while convalescing from mild forms of scarlet fever, to mix with other children; send them to stores and sometimes to school. Placarding a dwelling is a notice to the public to keep away from that dwelling, and that the inmates must remain at home, but there are cases where it would require the establishment of a "peaceful blockade" by a police constable to effect complete isolation. Some of the city physicians are equally culpable, for they, knowing the requirements of the public health act, do not report all the cases coming under their notice. Although there were no deaths during the year from scarlet fever, there was an unusually large number of sporadic cases of a mild type, many of them due to the carelessness of parents and neglect of physicians. Hereafter physicians and householders neglecting to promptly report all cases of infectious diseases in accordance with the act, will be given opportunities in the police court to explain why they did not do so.

The death rate for the year is 14.6 in the 1,000. One hundred and seventy-eight herds and dairies were examined during the year. One cow had actinobacillus bovis (lumpy jaw), and was destroyed. An examination of 161 samples of milk gave an average of 4 per cent of butter fat; 2 samples were cream added, and 2 cream removed. The average shows that London is being supplied with good milk. The public ice supply comes from the same sources as allowed by the act, a few years ago and has been of fairly good quality. That obtained from the cove is being sold for cooling purposes only, and so far there is no evidence that it has been used in any other way. No improvement has been made in the Covent Garden Market. The building should either be put in proper condition or torn down.

Several complaints were made during the year that the Talbot street school is not in a sanitary condition. There had been odors in the school at times; especially was this the case upon the holidays. This school is heated and ventilated by the Smead-Dowd system, and as long as the doors and windows are kept closed the furnace stacks will both heat and ventilate, but these small stacks can only be used in the winter. For ventilation, when the furnaces are not in use, and also for the destruction of waste material, two small stacks are kept burning during the summer, and accomplish what they are intended for. During the holidays these are not kept burning, consequently, when the school opened, in September, one or two weeks elapsed before all waste matter was rendered innocuous. This is the way the Smead-Dowd system works, and it can work no other way. It will heat buildings well, but for ventilation purposes it is not safe. So far as the Talbot street school is concerned, I do not think there will be any further trouble there, and the janitor is a very efficient one. The last two cases of smallpox were discharged from the isolation hospital in February last. No epidemic visited the city during the year.

The population of the city according to the assessment commissioner returns is 39,285.

CONDITION OF TALBOT STREET SCHOOL.

Dr. Hutchinson then complained that he had been repeatedly attacked in regard to the sanitary condition of Talbot street school, and read the following letter in defense of his work there:

"To the Chairman of the Board of Health, City:

The street I have heard rumors of the unsanitary condition of Talbot street public school, and these rumors are causing an anxiety which seems to me to be without any real foundation. To the best of my knowledge this school is clean, in freedom from infectious diseases and in being comfortable to teachers and pupils, is the equal of any in the city. The attendance during 1902 was 90 per cent of the enrollment. Dr. Hutchinson has made repeated examination of the premises and has never, in any case known to me, given cause of alarm in the health

DR. HUTCHINSON REPORTS UPON CONDITION OF HERDS

Semi-Annual Statement Concerning Dairies Which Supply London's Milk.

Dr. Hutchinson submitted his annual milk report as follows, at yesterday's meeting of the board of health: The Chairman and Board of Health: Gentlemen—I beg to lay before you the semi-annual report of inspections of herds, dairies and milk supplied the city. The herds and dairies as heretofore are classed A, B and C, and the milk according to quality, first, second and third class. That having 4 per cent and over of butterfat is No. 1; from 4 to 3.50 per cent is No. 2; from 3.50 to 3.00 is No. 3.

REACHES SEAT OF TROUBLE

Don't Try to Cure Hemorrhoids With External Application.

When it is such a well known fact that hemorrhoids or piles is a disease originating in the morbid dilation of the veins of the rectum, and that the cure is internal, it seems incredible that people afflicted with this painful trouble should go on doctoring with external salves and washes, when the diseased parts can only be reached by an inward application.

The suppositories used in Pyramid Pile Cure are composed of the most soothing and healing oils, and lotions known to Materia Medica, and act on the diseased glands, and surrounding tissues like magic, giving almost instant relief. The dilated blood vessels are relieved, the irritation of the mucous membrane ceases and bleeding is stopped.

The predisposing causes of piles are such as produce fullness of the hemorrhoidal veins and impede the return of blood from them, such as constipation, sedentary habits, city life, pregnancy, constipation, etc. The causes are all fully covered in a very interesting little book published by the Pyramid Drug Company, Marshall, Mich., and the same will be sent free to any address upon application.

The general principles of treatment are, according to the evident causes, active habits, attention to diet, and other hygienic rules, etc., avoidance of constipation and each night the injection of a Pyramid suppository to heat and cure the afflicted parts. That this treatment has been effective is instanced by the testimony of thousands of people who have been permanently cured, and by the evidence of druggists. The case of Samuel Gouldie, 526 Moyamensing avenue, Philadelphia, is a fair sample. "For twelve long years I suffered terrible torture from piles. I had been under two surgical operations, once in Cleveland, Ohio, in the year 1895, and once in Toledo, Ohio, in 1900, and also tried a number of salves and ointments from different doctors. I at last found a permanent cure by only using two 5c boxes of Pyramid Pile Cure. The first two or three applications gave me relief at once. I am now entirely cured and thank God for finding such a medicine as the Pyramid Pile Cure."

conditions of the school. Will the board of health kindly make a definite statement regarding the condition of Talbot street school through the public press and relieve the anxiety of the ratepayers and the general public?

"Yours very sincerely,
"W. H. LIDDCOAT, Principal.
"Jan. 7, 1903."

The board decided that in adopting the annual report, in which was embodied the sanitary condition of the school, and which would be published in the press, they were showing their complete confidence in Dr. Hutchinson.

MARRIED ON FERRYBOAT

Preacher Helped Out a Soldier Who Had No Marriage License.

Elizabeth N. J., Jan. 8.—The law of New Jersey which exacts a license before marriage brought about a romantic wedding on Sunday evening when a young soldier in full uniform was married to a pretty young brunette on the little ferryboat Arthur Kull, plying between Elizabethport and Staten Island.

The soldier awakened the Rev. John W. Trout, of the First Methodist Church, and asked him to marry them. Mr. Trout asked to see the license, but they said they had none. The dominie told them that the only way he could see out of the dilemma was to board the ferryboat and he would wed them when it touched the New York shore. When the craft was moored to the Staten Island side the preacher quickly tied the knot which made the couple man and wife.

The bridegroom said his name was Harry J. Smith, 30 years old, a soldier-carpenter, of Fort Wadsworth. The bride gave her name as Helen Bundow, of Rosebank, Staten Island.

Capt. Bulinger, of the ferryboat as a witness, as were several of the deck hands. The bride said she was just 20.

Normal School Changes.

Toronto, Jan. 8.—The three principals of the three Normal schools of the Province—Mr. Scott, of Toronto; Mr. Merchant, of London, and Mr. White, of Ottawa—have been conferred with the Minister of Education as to the programme of studies for the approaching fall.

The term of the Normal schools is to be doubled in length. The term next begins in September and closes the following June. To meet these changed conditions a radical change in the course of studies is necessary, but just what the changes are the minister or his conferees are not prepared to state. The three separate school inspectors of the Province—Messrs. Prendergast, O'Brien and Power—have also conferred with the Minister of Education as to their duties in the current year. It is likely that Mr. O'Brien will be assigned the eastern part of Ontario, Mr. Prendergast the center, and Mr. Power the west of Ontario.

Sober Second Thought.

This province has been so long accustomed to good government that, like good health, we take it as a matter of fact, and fail to realize what we have until we lose it. We believe this view of it had much to do with the bye-election results, as compared with the general elections. Take, for instance the temperance vote and our own city. The Ross Government lost a supporter and Whitney gained one by the presence of the temperance candidate in the field. Many voted for Mr. Daly sincerely believing they were thereby furthering the cause of temperance, when in fact, they were striking a blow at the best friend the temperance cause ever had. They were playing into the hands of their opponents. Subsequent events, particularly the vote polled in the referendum, have shown how unjust were some of the accusations against Mr. Ross, and if tomorrow a vote was taken in many constituencies where Conservatives hold seats, the verdict of the general election would be reversed. Doubtless the temperance electorate, having had time to weigh the facts, and desiring to do right, helped to return the Government supporters in the north ridings of Perth, Grey and Norfolk.

Mr. Ross has earned fresh laurels. He fights like a man. His "life is in the right." He worthily and ably follows Sir Oliver Mowat, and the province can rest assured that the past policy of the Ross Government will be continued and that whatever a government can do to advance and perfect the conditions of life in this province, will be done. Well done, Ross!

The Roorbach.

It is almost 60 years since the thing that has come to be popularly known as a roorbach came into existence under that title, although under other designations it has doubtless been known for a very much longer time. The bye-elections that took place on Wednesday last have settled which party is to hold power in the Province of Ontario for another term of years. The Dominion elections are also some distance removed from us in all probability, and it might be well for those who have used the roorbach in the past to consider in these calmer moments that supereater after the strife, whether it were not well to let this thing that was conceived in iniquity, die, and pass into a merited oblivion.

For one thing, it is decidedly unfair. That which lends a true zest to all contests is that the game should be played fairly, and the grasping of victory by unfair methods is no real triumph. "Not the winning counts, but the winning fair." Even then if an election is to be gained by aid of the roorbach, no honorable man should wish to gain advantage by this unfair method. If men are so foolish as to change their vote and opinion because of some startling story published the last day before the polling, no political party worthy of the name should wish to take such unfair advantage of an opponent.

But does it ever serve such a purpose? The trick is well-known, and even the electors whose intellectual gifts are of a low grade have come to realize that the story published of some monstrous iniquity that has just been discovered is almost sure to be unworthy of credence. There is perhaps no way by which it could be shown to a demonstration how many votes are gained in any particular case by such tactics, but the probability is that they are exceedingly few, and frequently, instead of changing votes as they were intended to do, by their every extravagance effect an opposite result. It was heralded far and wide that there had been some underhand method to control the vote of the employees of the Grand Trunk shops in Stratford, and that Mr. Whitney and his lieutenants had exposed this wickedness and had received assurance from headquarters that there was no thought of pressure being applied to influence the elector's free choice. The stillness of the tale was manifest on the face of it, and judging by the results, if any effect was produced it was the opposite of that which was desired. One can easily imagine one or more of the Grand Trunk employees, men of intelligence, waxing wroth when this fairy tale appeared in the newspapers, and saying to themselves that any man who was posing as the defender of their liberties as freemen was not the sort of man to receive the votes which they might poll. The day has passed for railway corporations to interfere with any man's right to vote, as his conscience may lead him, and there is no such defender needed to stand or pretend to stand between such tyrannical power and the workmen of Ontario.

This case is given as a timely illustration of the apparent uselessness of the roorbach, although no election is held that we have not the same fault in evidence. It has not always been on one side, but whatever proportion of blame may be assigned to the opposing parties and their newspaper advocates, it is pretty plain that the trick has become, in Ontario at least, stale, flat and unprofitable, and that it is time it was laid away on the shelf with other worn-out political armor. We are some distance from the ideal state of affairs yet, but a long step will be taken when, by common consent, the contending parties will depend on the presentation of their claims as they have been brought forward in the campaign, without endeavoring to sway men in the last hours by some absurd tale of discovered iniquity, which has opportunely been laid bare, and which calls for judgment on the sinners.

Mr. Blake's Letter.

Mr. Blake's letter was made the text for attacks on the Government during the contests in North Perth, North Grey and North Norfolk. It is much to be regretted that Mr. Blake wrote the letter referred to, as the name Blake has been for many years associated with the Reform party in this province and always with honor, his father, the late Chancellor Blake, having been regarded as even a more eloquent man than either of his sons, the Hon. Edward Blake or the Hon. S. H. Blake.

Where the error appears to have been made by Mr. Blake, was in mistaking what was at most a personal contest between two claimants for the Helen mine, for a principle of sufficient magnitude to justify him in attacking the Government. What he complains of is similar to the complaints made every day regarding the results of law suits. Both sides cannot win; the losing side naturally feels aggrieved and frequently alleges that there has been a miscarriage of justice. It is said in one of our courts a lawyer was pressing, with little success, for a verdict for his client, and finally blurted out, "But how am I to explain it to my client?" The judge said, "Just tell him you couldn't get it through the judge's thick skull. I've known that explanation to be given more than once." It would have been far better if Mr. Blake had followed some similar course, rather than the one he did, but we must allow the best men sometimes to stumble. We must not forget the good he has done. He is a man whom Londoners have delighted to hear and honor in time past. In private life he has been open-handed in his benefactions, giving large sums to charitable and religious purposes. His great ability commands respect, and we hope personal differences will not prevent him from continuing to ally himself with the Reform party, which has always sought the best interests of the country, whose past, in which he and his family have taken a prominent part, has been a glorious one, and whose future, unless all signs fail, will be more glorious still.

The aldermen this year may save themselves the trouble of making committee slates. The Club will do that for them.

The Toronto Mail says the people of Ontario will hear the result of the bye-election with indignation. This is really funny. The three tailors of Tooley street must haunt the Mail office.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has returned from the sunny south in the pink of condition. This must be annoying to the London Free Press, which had already picked out his successor.

Chamberlain has sharply rebuked the Pretoria burghers for crying for more without returning thanks for what has been already given them. This will correct the impression that he went to South Africa simply to soft-soap the Boers.

A Toronto dispatch says the Ontario Legislature will probably be called together at an early date. No bye-election can be held in North Renfrew till the House meets, and there is no knowing when decisions will be handed down in the election petitions now hung up in the courts. Public business should not be kept waiting on the convenience of the judges.

Mr. John Lewis has transferred his brilliant pen from the Toronto Globe to the Toronto World. This will be a heavy loss to the Globe, but Mr. Lewis may do something towards steadying Billy Maclean's erratic organ and raising its tone.

The late Archbishop of Canterbury was another of the great men trained in the "bracing school of poverty," as Carnegie calls it. In an address not long before his death the primate of all England spoke thus frankly of his early struggles: "I have earned my own living since I was 17 years of age. Though I had received an excellent education, and though I have exerted my brains to the full stretch of their powers, I have experienced many privations in my time. I have known what it was to be unable to afford a fire, and consequently had many cold days and nights. I have known what it was, every now and then, to live upon rather poor fare, and I have known what perhaps I felt most—what it was to wear patched clothes and shoes."

A feature of the London municipal election was the deal set made on the Medical School by its enemies. The election of a representative to the Hospital Trust was fought bitterly, and the enemies of the school won. Just what the effect on the school will be remains to be seen, but evidently many Londoners have no love for the institution—Hamilton Times.

The Times is right in saying that a dead set was made on the Medical School by its enemies. The people of London, however, do prize the institution, and when they wake up to the fact that it is being unjustly treated they will make it warm for somebody. They have been deceived by the slanders and misrepresentations of men who are jealous of the school and its faculty.

Heart Beats.

In almost all cases of organic trouble, the heart is apt to beat rapidly, irregularly, with worry, dissipation, overworking until the nervous system is a wreck, is a sure way to create a 90 pulse rate. However, when there is no

Anxious thoughts sometimes perplex the wife who sees maternity before her. If she is treading an untrodden path, she sometimes frets herself into a nervous condition which is injurious and prostrating. If motherhood has already been a painful experience she is apt to shrink from the coming trial and by her very mental anxiety increase the possibility of her suffering.

There is no cause for anxiety for those prospective mothers who use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite, induces refreshing sleep and produces mental cheerfulness as well as physical vigor. It gives strength and muscular elasticity so that the baby's advent is practically painless. It is the best tonic for nursing mothers.

"I am so thankful for what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for me," writes Mrs. John T. Smith, of Slocan, Brit. Col., Box 50. "It helped me through the long months before baby came and I have a big, strong baby girl, the most healthy of the three, and it cured me of a disease which was taking away all my strength."

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines. His profit is your loss, therefore accept no substitute.

A Tribute to Our Banking System.

[New York Post.]

Although the crop of 1902 was much the largest ever gathered in the Canadian Northwest, there has been at no time any deficiency of banking facilities to handle it; nor has there been any rise in the rate of interest in consequence of its movement. On the contrary, Canadian bank facilities have also been largely used for crop-moving purposes on our side of the line during the same period. The gist of the matter is that in Canada there is substantial freedom of note issue. The banks can put out their circulating notes whenever there is a demand for them. They are not required to buy bonds and lock up their capital and go through a rignormale beforehand. These facilities for note issue are denied to our banks; hence the superiority of the Canadian system in its power to respond quickly to the demands of the crop-moving season.

At Westville, N. S., burglars entered the Bank of Nova Scotia and attempted to blow open the same with dynamite, but got nothing. Then they entered the jewelry store of R. H. McCarty, opened the safe and took over two dozen gold watches and other jewelry. In all about $1,000 worth of jewelry was taken. The robbers then entered Fraser's drug store, where they got a small amount of money.

DEATH NEAR THE ALTAR

Dying Multi-Millionaire Married to His Secretary.

Milwaukee, Jan. 8. — William H. Bradley, a lumberman worth $400,000, whose marriage on Monday to Miss Marie Hannebryer, his secretary, while he was dying in his chair, caused a sensation, is dead. He died early last night. Mr. Bradley had been in failing health for several years, cirrhosis of the liver having set in. Doctors knew the case was fatal, but Mr. Bradley did not give in and to the last hoped for his recovery.

Mr. Bradley was one of the most successful lumbermen in Wisconsin. He was born in Maine and came west when a boy. He founded the towns of Tomahawk and Spirit Lake, Wis., and at different times operated successfully in Oshkosh, Janesville and Milwaukee, Wis., and Muskegon, Mich. Mr. Bradley also established and maintained Episcopal missions at Tomahawk and Spirit Lake. He was 65 years old.

MANIFOLD.CHASE & SANBORN,
MONTREAL AND BOSTON.

"But I do not wish to see him, dear; and I must say, I think it rather forward in the young man to present himself here simply upon your invitation."

The little heiress of Shannondale arose, her face scarlet, her eyes flashing with something very like anger. Usually she was a gentle and docile girl, easily governed, if the right way was open, though she could show her blood and temper to some purpose when occasion required.

"Then I am going to see him," she said, unconsciously emphasizing her words by a decided tap of her dainty slippers. "It is impossible and unkind to send Mr. Keith away like this, when he has taken the trouble to come to see us. Aunt Kate, I just think you are—nice sometimes!"

She turned away, as if to put her threat into execution, and Miss Kavanagh flushed. Before the latter could give expression to her dismay at being thus opposed, the servant returned, and said the gentleman regretted to trouble Miss Kavanagh, but he desired to see her upon a matter of vital importance, and must respectfully insist upon an interview.

Miss Kavanagh grew suddenly pale at this, and for a moment sat absolutely motionless. Then she arose with a resolute, haughty air, as if racing herself against some impending evil.

"Isabelle," she said, in a tone which she had never used but once or twice during the guardianship of her brother's child, "you will remain here. If Mr. Keith wishes to see me on business I will see him alone."

"But, auntie, I must see him, too, before he goes," the girl pleaded.

The woman made no reply, but swept from the room with the bearing of an incensed queen. Kenneth arose as she entered the magnificent drawing-room in which he had been ushered, and greeted her courteously.

"You will excuse me, I hope, Miss Kavanagh," he began, hesitating upon this interview, but I wished to see you upon a matter of great moment to me."

Miss Kavanagh remained standing, and waiting for him to go on.

"I am seated," Kenneth continued, politely, for I have a little history to relate to you, and I am sure you will be weary if you stand."

He placed a chair for her, but stood himself until she was comfortably seated, when he took another where he could look directly into her face while he talked.

Kenneth began by succinctly relating his own personal history. He told her how all his life he had been troubled and hampered by the suspicion and fear that his birth might not have been an honorable one, until he at last had obtained a clue to the mystery of his parentage, and having followed this up, one thing leading to another, he had finally become convinced that he could prove his identity. The quick, anxious gleam that passed into Miss Kavanagh's eyes at this statement did not escape him.

"The clue to which I referred," Kenneth remarked, after a slight pause in his narrative, "you will perhaps be interested to know was furnished me by the letter which you wrote to me last fall."

This was so unexpected that Miss Kavanagh gave an involuntary start, but quickly recovering herself, she asked, with an appearance of surprise:

"How could that be possible?"

"The handwriting is identical with that upon the slip of paper which was left at St. Asylum, when I was an infant there, and stating what I was to be called."

A look of dismay came into the proud woman's eyes, but she still held herself well in hand.

"Do you mean to imply that I could have written both?" she lightly demanded.

"I think any expert would so decide," the young man calmly responded; and, drawing both papers from a wallet, he laid them before her.

Very reluctantly she turned her gaze upon them, and Kenneth could see that she was trembling.

"It seems to me that this is very slight, very weak evidence upon which to base your belief that I should know anything of the mystery of your birth," Mr. Keith, she observed, with a note of derision in her tones.

"Indeed it does seem so, taken by itself," he assented, "and I never should have presumed to seek you for an explanation if I had not supplemented it with even stronger proof."

"Indeed!" Really, am beginning to be interested. Pray let me hear the remainder of this wonderful romance," Miss Kavanagh remarked, with stinging sarcasm.

Certainly, Kenneth returned, not at all disconcerted; then he continued, with the utmost deliberateness: "One day, it was the 10th of November, 18—, a woman living in New York, a nurse by profession, Mrs. Morris by name, received a telegram bidding her come at once to the suburban town of F—."

Miss Kavanagh seemed to have become petrified as she listened to this, for she scarcely seemed to breathe, while her pale face was starting to become more animated.

Then he briefly narrated that portion of Nurse Morris' story regarding her engagement by a vilified lady at F—, where she was the nurse of a young mother, and the latter's death and burial.

"All information regarding the identity of the child," Kenneth continued, in conclusion, "had been concealed from Mrs. Morris—she was not even told who they were—the only name she had spoken while there being that of 'Annie,' and, madam, I have been most fortunate. I have since learned that the name of that young mother was Annie Kavanagh."

Miss Kavanagh sprang to her feet at the sound of this name, her eyes blazing with fear and anger.

"It is false!" she cried, with a quivering, angry voice. "How dare you come here to me with such a foul slander upon my family name?"

"It is no slander, Miss Kavanagh—it is every word truth," Kenneth replied, as he drew a copy of old Mrs. Morris' confession from one of his pockets. He verbally gave the important points in the confession, showed her the two rings taken from the hand of the dead young mother, described how they had been evidence which to him seemed convincing that his mother was Allan Kavanagh's wife.

The woman listened like one petrified. When Kenneth had finished his story an ominous flash leaped into her dark eyes, a hard, cruel expression settled about her handsome mouth.

"I defy you," she said, bending toward him and speaking in a low, furious tone.

"I would not, if I were you, Miss Kavanagh," Kenneth returned, quietly.

"I will," you simply want to be acknowledged the child of Allan Kavanagh, in order to gain possession of his fortune. You are a miserable fortune-hunter; but Allan Kavanagh Langford has but one heir—the Lady Isabelle. You shall never succeed in your cunning scheme. I tell you again, I defy you, and if you persist in your demands you will find you have a terrible battle to fight."

She gave him no opportunity to reply, but swept from the room with a haughty, resolute air, and Kenneth was left alone.

She had not deigned to notice the continued upon the table where Kenneth had placed it. He meant she should read it, however, and, after perceiving a few words upon the outside of it, he, too, arose and left the house.

ONLY AMATEURS CAN DRIVE.
Toronto, Jan. 8.—At a meeting of the Toronto Driving Club it was decided to abandon the racing game as far as professional drivers are concerned. WINDSOR TRACK LEASED.
Detroit, Jan. 7.—Sam Wagner, of Chicago, has leased the Windsor track for a number of years, and contemplates holding a meeting of larger proportions than has ever been held on the Canadian course. There were several eastern applications for the course, but as Mr. Wagner had the lease several years ago and then disposed of it to Messrs. Chambers & Walker, his bid was given first consideration.

Mr. Wagner is identified with the Worth Club and will hold the meeting at Windsor immediately after the spring session at Worth, which will be May 20. The Windsor session will be an extended one, Mr. Wagner reserving the right to run as long as he sees fit. The plan brings Windsor a month before the Grosse Pointe meeting and two months in advance of Highland Park.

CANADIAN STAKES INCREASED.
Detroit, Jan. 7.—Secretary Palmer, of the Highland Park Club, announces the list of stakes that will be run at the meetings to be given by the club for Erie and Highland Park, Detroit. The club's financial success last season, both at Port Erie and at Highland Park, has permitted the organization to raise the values of its stakes considerably above the regulation standard, which was in vogue last year.

The Frontier stakes, which will be run at Highland Park, will be worth $2,000, and the other three stake races, $1,500. At each course there will be a stake race for the jumpers. The star event at Port Erie will be the Canadian Derby, open to 3-year-olds. The value of this event will be $3,000. Races of a uniform value of $1,500 complete the Port Erie programme, which includes Derby, open to 3-year-olds. The value of this event will be $3,000. AFTER MONTREAL'S FRANCHISE.
Montreal, Jan. 8.—If any United States syndicate will offer big enough inducements, Montreal will lose her baseball club. There are half a dozen parties after Montreal's franchise. If any of these make an offer large enough to interest the people interested in it here will sell out. The offer will have to be a pretty large one, however. If it is not large enough, the people who are now trying to form a new club, syndicate, will hang on to the franchise, and see if it is possible to make some money out of it.

FOOTBALL.
ANOTHER SET-BACK.
Cardiff, Jan. 7.—The All-Canadian football team met the Welshmen for the first time today here and were thrashed to the tune of 29 to 3. The weather was fair and the grounds in good condition. The crowd numbered about 7,000. Cardiff scored 19 in the first half, the Canadians scoring their three points on a penalty kick in the second half. The clever passing of the Welshmen was what beat the visitors, who in the matter of speed were also inferior to their opponents. The Canadians, expected defeat through the inability to play Powers, Munro and Schofield, played only a half-hearted game in the second half. It was Tait who scored off the penalty kick. The playing of the Cardiff team was splendid and showed far more than any of the previous games how much the Canadians have yet to learn. The Welshmen are not only clever, but they are very tricky. A Canadian success at Swansea, or Llanelli, where they play on the 15th and 17th inst respectively is very doubtful. Farrell, McClure and Craig were the best men today. The match which had been arranged for next Jan. 12 is declared off. Powers is progressing splendidly. Schofield is now laid up. "Old Stager" in the Cardiff Echo, writes appreciatively of the Canadians, which, he says, are the nucleus of a smart team, their conspire to get better lack of unity in passing. The quickness of the Welshmen in this respect non-plussed the colonialists who will now appreciate that an efficient check is to tackle the man carrying the ball and not anticipate passes.

BASEBALL.
SOLD TO CHICAGO.
Chicago, Jan. 8.—It was reported here last night that the franchise of the St. Paul Baseball Club of the American Association, has been transferred to this city. The deal for the third professional baseball club in Chicago, it is said, was completed yesterday at a conference between President T. J. Hickey, of the American Association, and Owner Lennor of the St. Paul Club. According to the report, Lennor received the amount he asked for his team and franchise. President Hickey was not at his office yesterday afternoon, nor could he be found last night, and the report could not be verified.

CURLING.
SCOTCH CURLERS COMING.
Toronto, Jan. 7.—Secretary Macfadden, of the Ontario Curling Association, stated today that the Scotch curlers would leave Ottawa at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday, the 20th inst., and arrive in Peterboro at 5:30 that night, playing all the next day in that town. Then they will come to Toronto for three days' playing, and a rest on Sunday, as they will visit Niagara Falls on their return journey from Chicago to New York. It has been definitely decided that London will be visited on the Western Ontario tour, but the dates given out may be revised to suit the transportation agents.
