THE WESTERN ADVERTISER. FOUR WEEKLY EDITIONS. By mail, per annum..... $1 00

JOHN CAMERON, President and Manager.

"The Advertiser" is an organ of news and of thoroughly independent opinion. The ADVERTISER alone is responsible for opinions expressed in these columns.

"The Advertiser" advocates Continental Free Trade, free trade with Great Britain, free trade with the world.

"The Advertiser" looks forward with hope to Canada's future as that of an independent Canadian Nationality, in equally friendly alliance with the United States and with Great Britain, believing that such a status would be best for Canada, best for Great Britain, and promotive of the best attainable relations with the United States.

"The Advertiser" advocates prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor; and all expedient general legislation and persuasion in the meantime.

"The Advertiser" is an advocate of equal rights for women, whether as regards the franchise, or equal wages for equal work.

"The Advertiser" is a believer in Christian Union, and considers the time has come when the various Christian denominations should come closer together. Those bodies which are now nearest should unite first. Under the present system there is an unjustifiable waste of men, means and effort.

"The Advertiser" advocates Obligatory Voting as both necessary and practicable. Nothing would so much purify electoral contests. Nothing would so much enforce the idea that the franchise is a duty, not a chattel.

God's in His heaven, All's right with the world. —[BROWNING.]

London, Tuesday, Jan. 10, 1893.

The man who prophesied that this winter would be an open one is now keeping as close as an oyster.

The year is not yet two weeks old, and they have another Ministerial crisis in France! They bet there on the number of Governments which they are likely to have in the course of a twelvemonth.

"Here's a state of things!" Conservative discipline on the subject of the exodus seems to be relaxing. Mr. G. R. B. Cockburn, Conservative member for Center Toronto, said lately: "We are bound to make this as cheap a country to live in as the United States, else the exodus will continue and increase." Is it possible, Mr. Cockburn, that you have never seen the trade restrictionist papers solemnly declare that instead of an exodus from Canada to the States, there is actually an exodus from the States to Canada?

SPEAKING of two-rowed barley, a grain dealer of Cobourg said to the Globe representative: "The farmers were told on the hustings not to trouble about the loss of the American market; the Government was finding them a better one in Britain, where 80 cents a bushel would be an ordinary price. To-day two-rowed barley is quoted at 25 cents a bushel, and is not wanted at that price except for feed." Surely the intelligent agriculturist can never again be fooled by monopoly upholders.

EX-MAYORS JOHN CAMPBELL, Murray Anderson and other leading citizens are proud men to-day. They stood by the ADVERTISER in the early days of the London and Port Stanley Railway and took strong ground in favor of having the line maintained as an independent connection between London, the great lakes and United States ports. Now that the City Council of to-day, after twenty years trial of the opposite system, has unanimously endorsed the new bargain to re-establish the independence of the road, and to provide for low freight rates to and from Port Stanley, we congratulate these sturdy maintainers of London's rights, and trust that they may live long to enjoy the fruits of their labors.

OUR LONDON boys hold their own. There was our old friend, Tom Martindale, well known as a young fellow in London years ago, with his pet hobby then, as now, music. Tom finally anchored in Philadelphia, where he kept working up, until he has become one of the leading mercantile spirits of the big city, as Thomas Martindale, Esq. We suppose he will be going into Congress next. Mr. Martindale recently took a tour of shooting, fishing, sight-seeing, exploring, walking, rowing and riding in the Northwest, covering a distance of about 9,000 miles. He was by C. P. R. and returned by Northern Pacific. By request Mr. Martindale contributed letters describing his tour to leading Philadelphia journals, and these have now been reproduced in neat and handy form.

Mr. B. W. WEBB, speaking at the close of the recent address by Prof. Robertson before the London Produce Exchange, bore testimony to the truthfulness of the speaker's contentions. Mr. Webb, who is one of the originators of the great pork packing industry recently set on foot in the eastern suburb of this city, declared that Canada will be "one of the future food-producing countries of the world." Without a doubt of it. Mr. Webb has shown that he has faith in Canada, and particularly in this portion of it, as he had no hesitation, after representations by his friend, Mr. J. D. Piggott, of this city, and also by personal inquiry, in pronouncing London to be an admirable center in which to conduct the business of pork packing for home and foreign consumption.

A WHOPPER FROM "GREATER BRITAIN."

A writer in "Greater Britain," published in London, Eng., says that in Canada "a tolerably good dressmaker can earn $2 a day in addition to her meals by going out to sew at ladies' houses. Milliners are also well paid, and there is an opening for shorthand and type-writers, who can combine both attainments." Does any reader of the ADVERTISER know of the field for dressmakers at $2 a day and meals in Canada? The alleged remuneration is not to be obtained in any locality that we know of. Nor is there a field for immigrants who are shorthand and type-writers. Canada, as we all know, now produces more short-handers and typewriters than the country can absorb. Indeed, probably a full half of the Canadian young men who go into this business no sooner become proficient than they go to the United States for situations. It is time that these attempts to overcrowd the labor market in certain vocations were put a stop to. Disappointment and loss of time and money must come to everybody who place confidence in reports so full of rose-color, and direct injury to Canada must be the result. The influence of the immigrant, who is fooled by false promises, whether issued, as they have been, by Government agents or by private individuals, is invariably injurious to legitimate settlement on our vacant lands, the only kind of immigration that we need to-day.

PROF. ROBERTSON IN ENGLAND.

Prof. Robertson, of the Dominion Experimental Farm staff, who has been addressing meetings in England on the farm product question, gives small comfort to the protectionists, either at home or abroad. Interviewed the other day, he said that protection in the ordinary sense of taxation to the consumer to increase the price to the producer can be no permanent remedy for depression in trade. Of that his own experience—in Canada, undoubtedly—convinced him. "Protection," he significantly added, "has been a name for the method of taxing the many to enable the few to fasten economic wrongs on the body politic." Cobden himself, or Sir Thomas Farrer, his later-day exponent, could not have described the system in language more terse or more true. The Canadian farmers, who have great faith in Mr. Robertson's judgment in all matters pertaining to their welfare, will doubtless note what the commissioner has been saying to their British brethren. The Canadian farmer, who does not allow political bias to influence him when he considers questions affecting his pocket, must have long since reached a conclusion identical with that which this officer of the Dominion Government has resented and promulgated with a courage that does him credit in these days of trimming. Let him henceforth act.

But Mr. Robertson, in the interview from which we have quoted, and in his latest address before the influential London Produce Exchange, has pointed out to the British farmer wherein he ought to profit by a species of protection, while having little to fear from the development of the newer Canadian dairy products. It is not by good produce so much as by bad produce that the British farmer is under-ruled—by lardy bacon, by filled cheese, by margarine sold as butter, by foreign meat sold as home-grown. Why not, therefore, says Prof. Robertson, protect the British farmer and the British consumers against such fraudulent imitations. The Field takes up the same point, and quite confirms what the Dominion Dairy Commissioner says: "So far as our own experience serve us," the Field remarks, "it is absolutely impossible to account for the consumption of the vast quantities of frozen meat which reach this country. Without the slightest desire to injure the reputation of either an individual or a body, we cannot help feeling that the shops which openly profess to sell Colonial meat could not dispose of anything like the quantity imported." What the farmer needs, in fact, is, as the Chronicle says, a Merchandise Marks Act applied to agricultural produce. Great Britain compels toys and sweetmeats and a thousand other things to bear the label, "Made in Germany"; meat ought to be equally compelled to declare itself "Slaughtered in Australia," and cheese "Made in Canada." This is "protection" of a genuine brand, because it helps, rather than retards legitimate trade. It will not tax the many for the benefit of the few. It will enable the Canadian farmer as well as the British farmer to get the highest market price for everything that is good, while it will be most difficult, if not impossible, for unscrupulous dealers to injure legitimate trade by palming off on customers inferior articles as first-class brands. That would be legitimate protection to all parties concerned, and Commissioner Robertson takes an unsalable ground when he advises its adoption.

LONDON'S RETIRING COUNCIL.

The Board of Aldermen of this city for 1892, which held its closing meeting last night, did good work for London, and fitly concluded its labors by completing the agreement with the Cleveland syndicate that for twenty years to come will operate the London and Port Stanley Railway. Almost one-half of the council of 1892 retire, some of their own volition, others by the mandate of the electors.

It was no empty honor which the aldermen paid the retiring mayor when they acknowledged the valuable services he had rendered to them and to the city during his term of office. Mayor Spencer certainly proved a model chief magistrate, and there has been general regret that the demands of his business should compel him to adhere to his expressed intention, when elected, that he would serve the city in the capacity of mayor for one year and then retire.

Becoming modestly prevented the council from praising the retiring aldermen as well. Yet every one must concede that the council of 1892, taken as a whole, faithfully served the city, and sacrificed many an hour that should have been spent with their families, or in sleep, in order that they might toil for the benefit of their constituents. We will not say that the retiring council was the best that has ever been returned to serve the city, but it was certainly equal to any that had preceded it. Ald. Yates, Jeffrey, O'Meara, Wm. Heaman, Gartshore, Leonard, Hannah, Bartlett and Judd, who retire from the council, all did good work for London, and will be missed at the board of 1893.

THE BEST POLICY.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier favors tariff reform all along the line. There can be no mistake about that. Such a policy honestly carried out would be the making of Canada. It cannot be honestly carried out by men who are hand-in-glove with the combines, and who have publicly pledged themselves to that effect.

HON. WILFRID LAURIER.

The Talented Liberal Leader Arrives in Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Jan. 9.—Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, who is to be principal speaker at the Young Men's Liberal Club banquet at the Palace Rink to-morrow evening, arrived in this city this afternoon. He was received at the station by a large deputation representing the Reform Association and the junior organization, among whom were Hon. J. M. Gibson, Provincial Secretary; Mr. James Dixon, president of the Reform Association; Mr. John Cramer, Q.C.; Mr. H. G. McMillan, president of the Young Men's Liberal Club, and the members of the executive and reception committees, and Messrs. A. Zimmerman, Henry Airland, James O'Brien, Henry Carswell, Q.C., Joseph Hobson, Adam Leitch, Wm. G. Macdonald, A. T. Wood, W. Robinson, W. G. Moore, F. Malloch, Jos. Wallace, John Eastwood, Adam Balentine, C. K. Donville, W. T. Evans, E. Fernside and others. Hon. Mr. Laurier was driven direct to "Lorimer's," the residence of Mr. John Cramer, whose guest he will be while in the city.

CULLED AND CURTAILED.

News of the Day Without Note or Comment.

Dewey, Rogers & Co., the largest wholesale shoe house in Toledo, failed Monday. Liabilities $400,000, assets $350,000.

A Syracuse dispatch says: The will of Lucius Gleason, late president of the Third National Bank, divides the entire estate, estimated at $1,250,000, into nine parts equally between relatives. Charity institutions were not remembered.

The Leeds Land and Improvement Company, of Sioux City, Iowa, has failed with liabilities of $500,000 and assets less than $100,000. The failure has carried down with it three other companies, and the total capitalization of the four is $3,000,000. Much of this is watered.

The Ungarische Post (Berlin) says that the Government signed an agreement with the Rothschilds by which the latter will take at $1,515,000,000 crowns' worth of 4 per cent. paper notes that will be issued to replace the present paper and silver certificates of the Hungarian Government.

Two of the juveniles of the Stone family in Dyerville, K. I., who blew themselves up with powder, have died from the effects of the wounds and the mother of the children and another child are very low.

To-Day Hood's Sarsaparilla stands at the head in the medicine world, admired in prosperity and adversity, by thousands of would-be competitors. It has a larger sale than any other medicine. Such success could not be won without poster merit.

Hood's Pills cure constipation by restoring the peristaltic action of the alimentary canal. They are the best family cathartic.

In Which Case, Though Not Likely, a Reduction of $3,000 a Year in the Rental is Conceded—Reception of Lord Stanley—London West Amalgamation—Mayor Spencer Deservedly Eulogized—Praise for Number One.

The final meeting of the City Council of 1892 was held last night. It was a genuine case of "last, but not least," for its dying act was such that it deserves a eulogistic epitaph on its tombstone.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S RECEPTION. The matter of receiving the Governor-General this week came before the City Council last night again.

LONDON WEST AMALGAMATION. A letter from Mr. W. H. Bartram, village clerk, stated that the council of London West had ratified the amalgamation by-law carried at the polls.

WHAT THE CITY IS ENTITLED TO. As the Great Western Railway, when the lease was made, agreed to hand over the buildings and appliances in connection with the London and Port Stanley Railway as a condition at the expiration of the lease as at the beginning, the council recently instructed Messrs. John Shopland and Henry Childs to make a valuation of the same in order to ascertain the city's position.

1. Port Stanley: Repairs to elevator, freight house, platform, and replacing engine, hopper scales, track scales, and repairs to turn tables—$5,622.

2. St. Thomas: Replacing freight house, station, platform, whodshed, tank house, tank, scales and cattle pen—$8,879.

3. London: Replacing freight house and station, platform, scales, carpenter shops, fitting shop, engine house and cattle pen, and repairing pit of turn table—$11,136.

The other buildings on the line were found in a fair state of repair. They had not been taken into account the steam sledge and two scoops at Port Stanley, which would cost a further sum of $2,500. These were reported as the property of the Dominion Government.

Neither had any valuation been made of workmen's tools or other material that may have been on hand at the time of the transfer. They were told that these, together with the rolling stock, were sold to the G. W. R. Company at the time of the lease.

Messrs. Shopland and Childs concluded by saying that the above estimates provided for new buildings, and no allowance was made for depreciation between time of erection and date at which these buildings came into the hands of the G. W. R.

A BATCH OF BY-LAWS. No less than 22 by-laws were put through preparatory to consolidation. The free library and the electric light by-laws were left for the incoming council, as was that providing for the appointment of the directors of the London and Port Stanley Railway Company's Board.

THE L. AND P. S. R. LEASE. Then came the consideration of the London and Port Stanley Railway lease, 30 of the 31 clauses of which were passed at Saturday night's meeting.

It is hereby further agreed by and between the parties hereto that the parties of the first part will, on or before the termination of the lease, erect on the terminal facilities for the parties of the second part either as the same were conferred by the Great Western Railway Company of Canada upon the said parties of the first part by the said agreement, dated the 25th day of April, A. D. 1879, or by the use of the terminal facilities of the London and Port Stanley Railway Company, or by a passenger station to be erected on one side or the other of Bathurst street, west of Wellington street, in the said city of London (at the option of the said parties of the first part, such option to be exercised on or before the 1st day of March, A. D. 1894), and the parties of the first part will in lieu thereof allow the said parties of the second part a reduction of the rent hereby reserved of $3,000 per annum, and will also allow them to retain out of the first two years' rent a sum not to exceed the sum of $5,000 towards the cost of a permanent passenger station on the site of the old London and Port Stanley station, if erected by the said parties of the second part, and a sum not to exceed $10,000 towards the cost of a temporary passenger station on the said site, if erected by the said parties of the second part, such permanent and temporary passenger stations to be completed on or before the 1st day of March, A. D. 1895, and the temporary station in respect thereof incurred before the 1st day of March, A. D. 1894, both said stations if and when erected to become and to be the property of the said parties of the first part and to be insured by and at the expense of the said parties of the second part.

There had been no friction in the council; he hoped the coming board would do their work as well. In concluding he thanked the members again and retired amid hearty applause.
