Kent counties are discussing a project to have a bicycle path built from Windsor to Amherstburg, and there to be a connection with Lake Erie. The proposed road would then run to Windsor by way of Chatham and St. Catharines. If the road is built, it will be one of the finest in the country, as it will follow the water front of the lake, and there will be an exception of the road between Chatham and Windsor.

It is indeed one of the Arrapahoe Wheel Club, of Denver, has won the road record for 100 miles in 1907, and the record for 200 miles was made by A. L. Hackenberg last year, and has withstood many efforts to be supplanted, and they are now returning, making his ride about 102 miles.

Team work has become such an essential part of the racing circuit that a star should be provided with a class helper. Bald and Cooper are not so supplied, and they are losers, for this reason and this cause.

London, Wednesday, June 23, 1897.

The Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, G.C.M.G.Sir Wilfrid Laurier says Canada is a nation. The premier is right.One year ago today the Liberals were returned to power in Canada.
How much history has been made since then!On Tuesday next Premier Hardy will be banqueted at Brantford, and on July 1 he will attend a big picnic at Mount Pleasant Park, Burford township.Lord Glenoe is the new title of Sir Donald Smith, the Canadian high commissioner. The right honorable gentleman takes his title from the historic estate of Glenoe, celebrated for the massacre of the Highlanders of the glen in the days when international amity did not prevail as it does today.Hon. Mr. Duffy was re-elected in Brome, Que., when he returned to his constituency to seek approval of his election as a member of the new Liberal Government in Quebec.
His majority was increased to over 200 more than registered for him at the general election. The Montreal Gas-ette asserts that this is "punishment" for Mr. Duffy. We are on the outside, but it appears to us that it was the other chap, whose name is England, who was punished.

The World-Wide Celebration.

The manner in which the celebration of Queen Victoria's jubilee passed off is highly gratifying. Fears were naturally entertained that so all-embracing a demonstration would not be held without some great disaster, and many persons waited for the report of the day's proceedings in the British metropolis with some degree of trepidation.
But the splendid spectacle seems to have ended without any serious accident, even without the accustomed number of minor casualties.Queen's weather there was in the mother country, as well as in Canada, and the countless demonstrations of affection for her majesty were especially marked for unity and cordiality.
It is needless to say that in the great procession in London of the old world the colonies took high rank, and that Canada's representatives had a place in the acclaim of the millions of sightseers second only to that of her majesty.The news from every portion of the empire is that no such imposing demonstration of national strength and solidarity has ever before been witnessed in the history of mankind. Canada has taken her full share in the unique celebration, and this good city of London in the new world well sustained its prestige.A new, and, we hope and believe, a better era is opening out for the great English-speaking race.

A WARM WELCOME TO ENGLAND.

In an article written by Mr. Laurier to England, the London Daily Mail says: "It should be remembered, too, that Mr. Wilfrid Laurier enjoys a power and popularity in Canada which, fresh though both be, have never been paralleled in the history of the Dominion, not even by the power and popularity of the late Sir John Macdonald. Since his accession to the premiership this French-Canadian who, despite his long descent from an old and honorable French family, is yet proud to call himself a Briton, has succeeded in removing many of the political, racial and religious obstacles which have so long threatened the prosperity and concord of the Canadian peoples. In this masterly settlement of the Manitoba schools question, largely against his own race and religion, he has convinced the French-Canadian Catholics that he was right (a conviction shown by their recent enormous laboring majorities in Quebec), and he has won the support of his Holiness the Pope himself. In his numerous important national measures, such as the fast line steamship service, the Pacific and Jamaica cable projects, and the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, he has demonstrated that in him the Dominion possesses a prime minister who is not only foremost in eloquence and ideas but not worthy in action. * * * Once for all, we cannot give Mr. Laurier too warm a welcome. Let us not fear an exhibition of over-zeal. 'Hands all round'; let the motto be; but let the grin on the hand of Canada's gifted son be strongest and heartiest today.
We need not fear intercolonial jeal-ousies.

Queen's Weather.Nowhere in the wide world was the Queen's jubilee more enthusiastically celebrated than in London, Ontario.
The outpouring of loyalty had no local parallel, except, perhaps, on the occasion of the Prince of Wales' visit.
The streets were gay by day with flags and bunting, and radiant by night with illuminations. Incandescent lamps by the thousands, and Chinese lanterns by the tens of thousands, were pressed into patriotic service. The business portion last night was as radiant as day. Very few left the city, the official programme was executed with brilliant success, and without a hitch. The people responded loyally to the call, and were generous to a splendid degree in their financial contributions to a worthy cause. The Victoria Hospital will profit handsomely by the park receipts.Nearly the whole population spent the day out of doors in the good old healthful way. Very few left the city, the masses going to Queen's Park and Springbank. It was perfect Queen's weather, and a pleasure to be out.
The official programme was executed
hitch. The people responded loyally
splendid degree in their financial contributions to a worthy cause. The Victoria Hospital will profit handsomely by the park receipts.Early in the morning The Advertiser bulletined the cablegram sent by the Queen to the Governor-General, and it was scanned by thousands of eager eyes during the day. A duplicate dispatch was sent to Mayor Little by his excellency, with a request that it be posted for the information of her Majesty's subjects. It was a holiday, and the posting of a royal proclamation was no easy task. First, The Advertiser job room manager had to be hunted up, so that the type-setting part of the work might be undertaken.
Then City Clerk Kingston had to be searched for his bicycle till he overcame an Advertiser pressman on a ball field, and had impressed him into the service. In the comparatively short time, the mayor, however, had the job accomplished, and her Majesty's message to her Canadian people was duly proclaimed throughout this London of the new world.Messrs. Belton & Roote are to be congratulated for their energy and labor in hunting up bill-posters in order that the royal message might be circulated.
Scores of people invaded The Advertiser office asking for copies as souvenirs. "I would give any money for one," said a Canadian from New York, who had come home to celebrate the jubilee. "I want to show the people over there our loyalty."The Morning Parade.
It was an ideal day for a military display, the sun shone brightly, and could make the least objection. The soldiers had expected for a week previous to have jolly good time, and most of them did after the drill was over. At 8 o'clock in the morning the men were formed up, preparatory to marching to the grounds. Col. Smith was surrounded by his staff—Lieut.- Col. Stacey, Lieut.-Col. Dawson, Lieut.- Col. White, Major Hegler, Major Wad-more and Capt. Carpenter.
The procession formed up as follows:
First Hussars—A, B, C and D Squads, London Field Battery,
Guilford Field Battery, Windsor Light Infantry,
Middlesex Light Infantry,
St. Clair Borderers,
Brace Battalion,
Staff.The procession marched down Adelaide street to Queen's park, where the Hussars and artillery turned east to Quebec street. The infantry continued on to Dundas street, and thence east to the park. The dust on Queen's avenue and Quebec street rose in clouds as the brigades passed along, and it seemed a relief to enter the gate. The whole of the militia passed in the order given above. The Hussars were applauded, as were also the artillery regiment. The people expressed their appreciation more fully when the Twenty-sixth Middlesex Light Infantry, headed by Col. Irwin, marched past. Then came the Twenty-seventh St. Clair Borderers, under command of Col. C. S. Ellis, and as each company marched forward the audience on the grand stand gave rounds of applause. The Thirty-second Bruce Battalion, under Col. Scott, was the last and the largest. The march past was in a column of sections, and as each section of men pressed ahead as straight as a line as it was possible to get them, expressions on the stands were to this effect: "Oh, they're the best," "Look at how straight they are," "Don't they march nicely?" It would indeed be hard for any person other than a military man to decide which of the battalions was the best.
The whole brigade, after marching past at the slope, paraded again at the trail. On this occasion the Indian companies of the Twenty-sixth Mid-dlessex Light Infantry received well-merited applause. The corps were then formed up in the ring in columns and sections, and moved to the left and the Bruce Battalion in four, forming a line of quarter-column. They were then retired, and moved to the left in columns, and reformed in line of quarter-column to the front. The officers and colors then took part in review order.
The royal salute of 21 guns was fired as the band struck up "God Save the Queen." After the salute the whole brigade advanced in review order andwhich added greatly to the beauty to the scene was the turn out of London Wheelmen, who each wore "fey" caps and rode elaborately decorated wheels. They rode in single file but in a serpentine direction, winding from one side of the street to the other, producing a kaleidoscopic effect.AT THE PARK.
On arriving at the park gates the wheelmen dismounted to allow the Seventh Band to lead the way around the ring in front of the grand stands and out at the south gate. It was 2:25 o'clock, and some thousands of spectators had already gathered on the stands, so that a rousing reception was given the paraders. It took 25 minutes for all to enter. Quickly the crowd on the grand stand increased in size, until about 4,000 people had assembled there. Nearly 2,000 more surrounded the fence overlooking the track, and the large gathering was kept in the best of humor for a few hours by some clever programmes of sports which was carried out. It was ably arranged, both as to individual events and as to the general arrangement, and the spectators were equaled.
There were no delays, and the fact that some number was kept continuously under way was great feature which reflected creditably upon the energetic chairman, Aid. Winnett; the judges, Messrs. J. H. Brown, H. H.
Mihnick, Aid. Draney and Aid.
Carrothers; the starters, Sergt. Widger, Messrs. J. H. Brown, H. H. Mihnick, Jones; and their many assistants, who included Aid. Rumball, Gerry, McCallum and Douglas.The introduction to the programme was a happy one.
The band played a variety of Drill Corps executed a multiplicity of difficult movements in a style that elevated hearty applause. This company was obtained under Capt. Brown, a people in fancy drill, the equal of which is rarely seen.The short address was the bicyclist followed. Nearly 100 of them rode up and down in front of the grand stand in a lovely and the Scotch litter-ally covered with red, white and blue tissue paper. The London Wheelmen were the show, and were awarded the cash prize, donated by ex-Aid. J. W. Jones. In the contest for the best decorated bicycle and most costume, the following were judges: Mrs. A. Seraton, Mrs. (Dr.) Meek, Mrs. Lipsey, Messrs. Charles Hayley and Charles Graham. The prize, prize, donated by Mann & Co., a bicycle attachment, valued at $5, was awarded to the winner, a pair of bicycle shoes, to F. Holman, and the third, donated by Aid. E. N. Hunt, a picture and frame, $3, to D. W. Alred.The next event was the butcher boy's race, half-mile dash. It was in fast time between the following: Idlewild (Terry), and Cadillac (Steel), with Idlewild (Terry) a good feature.
The military steeplechase, one of the best events of the day, followed. Five of the finest horses entered. The course lay from the judges' stand to the north entrance, then to the interior of the ring, where was a series of four jumps. The final jump was in front of the grand stand, and like each of the other jumps it was taken with ease by every horse and rider.
The winners were as follows: 1. Lieut. H. Richardson; 2. Pte. Longfield; 3. Sergt. Major Canagah; 4. Sergt. Chalk; 5. Pte. W. Alred. The winners were as follows: 1. Lieut. H. Richardson; 2. Pte. Longfield; 3. Sergt. Major Canagah; 4. Sergt. Chalk; 5. Pte. W. Alred.An interval occurred here, Mayor Little and the following proclamation, which he had just received from the Lieutenant-Governor:By command of his honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, these are to make known that the following message has been received from her most gracious Majesty the Queen:
"Buckingham Palace,
London, June 22, 1897.The governor-general of Canada, Ottawa, 11:07 a.m.: From my heart, I thank my beloved people, may God bless them.To which his excellency the governor-general has sent the following reply:
"Ottawa, 6:12 a.m., 11:12 Greenwich time.The Queen's most gracious and touching message this moment received, shall be immediately made known to your Majesty's people throughout the Dominion, and will stir afresh heartily the feelings of the Dominion.
We offer the glad tribute of loyal devotion and affectionate homage to God save the Queen.The hands struck up "God Save the Queen."
A half-mile foot race between seven Indian volunteers was won by Alf.
Ninhum, with his brother Isaac second, a Riley third, and L. Williams fourth.The exhibition of high jumping by horses owned by Mr. Adam Beck and ridden by Willie Wilson was given during the last hour of the day, and was an excellent event. The horses competed over the jumps, the famous Huntsman Lord Rosburgh, from Indiana, was the highest jumper was 5 feet 6 inches.
The tent-pegging by the First Hussars produced a great deal of interest.
The riders were remarkably skillful, and were warmly applauded for their efforts. Sergt. Smeaton carried off the honors. A wooden peg is driven into the ground at an angle, and the mounted Hussar gallops toward it with a heel-pointed shoe. The first to hit the firmly implanted peg from the ground, Sergt. Smeaton made 13 out of a possible 15 points; Lieut. Lay-borne second, with 5 points, and Sergt.
Major Canagah third, with 3 points.
Also competing were Lieut. Richardson, Trumpeter Evans and Sergt.
Chalk. Sergt. Smeaton is a member of "A" Squadron.A tug-of-war between eight men each of the Twenty-sixth Battalion, under Capt. Niven and Capt. Garnett, and First Hussars, under Lieut. Lay-borne, resulted in favor of the red-coats in two straight pulls. The victory was won by the redcoats. The grocers came in here. Idlewild again finished first, Nellie K. (Kilborne) second, Wild Ross (Christians) third, and Bay Hill fourth.The concluding event was of a military character, known as "heads and tails," and the again the participants, and won high praise.
Four posts having small wooden heads and two more posts, from which hungsmall rings, were placed some 15 feet from one another and just close enough to allow a horseman to ride between. It required remarkable dexterity to cut off the heads and thrust the rings, but Lieut. Layborne succeeded in making every point but one upon one trial. The result was as follows: Lieut. Layborne, 22 points; Sergt.
Smeaton, 16 points; Sergt. Major Can-agah, 14 points; Trumpeter Evans, 12 points; Lieutenant Richardson, 6 points; Sergt. Chalk, 13 points; Corp. Thompson, 10 points; and Sergt. Major Showler, 10 points.

AT SPRINGBANK.

Large Crowds There All Day—The Scotchmen Celebrate at Night.The street railway did a big business yesterday, and handled the large crowd effectively. A five-minute service was maintained, and every car was filled, despite the immense crowd that went to Queen's Park. There was no formal celebration, excepting in the evening, when the Sons of Scotland, by request of the grand chief of the order, displayed the fiery cross. The cross, composed of incandescent lights, was attached to the roof of the summer house, on the extreme heights of Springbank, where it could be seen for miles around. It was eclipsed, however, by the big bonfire. It was 20 feet high, composed of very inflammable material. The match was applied by the veteran, Mr. Robert Reid, whose patriotic enthusiasm aided him in climbing the long steep hill with the agility of youth. The flames shot up with great rapidity, and soon the sky was ablaze, and people in the park below clambered by hundreds to the spot. Previous to the ceremony, the big audience, which had been employed by the big bonfire, which had done so much to build up.The Springbank Theater did a good business afternoon and evening, and the show seemed to meet with the approval of all. Manager Roote has some new talent on the week, including first-class singers and dancers.

THE ORATORIO "SAMSON."

A Grand Production at the Princess Rink—Chorus and Orchestra.The promoters of the oratorio have every reason to be gratified with public appreciation of their efforts. A splendid audience, which a building less spacious than the Princess could not comfortably have held, rewarded the performers, and were rewarded in turn by a brilliant production, which has never been excelled here by amateurs.The members of the choir were seated on the members at the south end, and presented an imposing appearance, the ladies being dressed in white. The choral effects were grand, and the accuracy and smoothness revealed most careful training.
The soloists were fully equal to requirements. Miss Eva H. Roblyn, as Delilah, and Mr. H. R. McDonald, as Samson, and Harrah, as Samson, were in a community where they have already gained many. It is a matter of local pride that London has artists of such high caliber. As Samson, Mr. Bruce Wikstrom, of Hamilton, as Micaiah, used her superb alto with rare effect. As Samson, as Samson, as Samson, san gthe tenor parts with every satisfaction.The London Symphony Orchestra of 50 pieces played the accompaniment, and did magnificent work. The vocal and instrumental ensemble was times sublime. In honor of the day, "God Save the Queen" opened the programme.
Prof. Pococke deserves the greatest credit for his assiduous and successful effort as conductor.Blood

Bridgewater, N. S., June 21.—There is no man in this town better known than J. S. Morgan, tinsmith, who, for eighteen years has been suffering from a worse without help until last he got hold of the right treatment. He says: "It began with the backache pains in the limbs, and finally settled down as rheumatism. I was a cripple, and after I ran down greatly in weight the doctors said it was diabetes. About a year and a half ago I quit everything else and took Dodd's Kidney Pills. Have taken 23 boxes, and have regained my weight, health and strength. I am perfectly cured."

Jubilation in Canada.

Imposing Jubilee Processions at Toronto and Montreal—Demonstrations Elsewhere.

St. Thomas, June 22.—Yesterday the majority of business men had their places elaborately decorated with cuts of the Queen, flags and bunting. Indeed, not only were public places to the fore in this respect, but many private residences looked very pretty, festooned in flags and bunting. Not only was such the case with Canadians, but many residences of American citizens presented a pretty sight. The M. C. R. cannot be too highly commended for their manifestation of loyalty in this respect. Every station on the line in Canada was elaborately decorated, and the station in this city was a bower of beauty. The decorations cost the company several hundreds of dollars.

LEAMINGTON.

Leamington, celebrated with a Caladonian games; Watford, with a bicycle parade, and athletic sports.

A grand military jubilee review and parade was given in honor of the Queen's jubilee, and was participated in by over 5,000 men. Rain spoiled the celebration at Quebec.

TORONTO.

The jubilee celebration in Toronto passed off brilliantly, and was not marred by a mishap of any kind, so far as reported late at night. The feature of the day, of course, was the great procession of the morning, which included between 12,000 and 15,000 people, and was about five miles in length. The processionists marching as a rule in four ranks, the militia turned out 1,750 strong. There were about 2,500 school boys, whose smart appearance drew much applause from the spectators. It is estimated that 70,000 people visited the exhibition grounds.

TRAGEDY AT ST. THOMAS

A Kettle Creek Bridge Tender Meets Instant Death—Killed by Cars at Perth.

St. Thomas, June 22.—A lamentable accident occurred at the bridge north of this city on the L. E. and D. R. R. shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday morning, in which John Peacock lost his life. Mr. Peacock had been watchman on this bridge for upwards of 20 years. He was crossing the structure when the south-bound train from London came thundering along, and was unable to get clear when the train came flying past. He stood at the extreme edge as he had previously repeatedly done, but upon this occasion the baggage car struck a basket he was carrying and hurled him back into the ravine below, a distance of 80 feet. He was instantly killed, his skull being crushed and his body otherwise badly bruised. He was for a number of years bridge watchman at Perth, where he died of a heart attack, and he left a wife and seven children survive him, all residents of this city.

Perth, Ont., June 22.—William John Lang, about 25 years of age, was killed near Perth station Sunday night, while heading a freight train from Renfrew. He fell between the cars, and the train, passing over his body, cut it in two. The driver of the morning express found the body. He had to all appearances been dead for some time, and was found in "the home" and worked in this section last spring.

Aristocratic Animals.

Prof. Gentry, who is the acknowledged foremost animal trainer of the period, and whose company of educated dogs and ponies have delighted the denizens of almost every known part of the globe, will shortly visit this city with his company of aristocratic and sagacious animals, some one hundred in number, who, it is said, have never been equalled from a point of intelligence. They will arrive in their own private cars and will exhibit under a thoroughly waterproof tent for three nights, beginning Thursday, June 24, matinees Friday and Saturday at 3 p.m.

The exhibition, which is very attractive to ladies and children especially, will no doubt, receive the hearty support of our citizens. The prices of admission are: Children, 10 cents; adults, 20 cents. Will exhibit on north Richmond street.

The best things in life are not those which are old, nor yet those which are new, but those who are perpetually and increasingly new and old.—Dr. Charles A. Berry.

Rapid Heart Beat.

Mrs. Jas. Grist, Blenheim, Ont., says: "I was troubled with rapid beating of the heart and a strange sinking feeling. I took Muller's Heart and Nerve Pills, and they have cured me. The heart weakness and throbbing, too, with the nervousness which caused, have completely disappeared and I am now strong and well."

Prof. Gentry's dog and pony show will exhibit on Chapter lot, opposite C. F. R. station.

Chauncey M. Depew's Glowing Tribute to the Queen.

How the Jubilee Day Was Celebrated Throughout England.

IN MEXICO.

Mexico City, June 22.—The British residents here celebrated the Queen's jubilee with enthusiasm. A banquet given last night, followed the garden party and the sports on the two preceding days. British residents decorated their houses and places of business. A subscription fund has been raised to endow the British orphanage as a permanent memorial of the jubilee.

MR. GLADSTONE MADE AN ADDRESS.

London, June 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone passed the day at the residence where Mr. Gladstone delivered a patriotic address in connection with the children's fête. It was attended by the colonial premiers who were the guests of Mr. Gladstone early in July.

CHAUNCEY'S TRIBUTE.

London, June 22.—Chauncey M. Depew, who witnessed yesterday's procession as the guest of the Baroness Burdett-Couttes, when asked for his impression of the jubilee, said: "The diamond jubilee procession has left a lasting impression. Its preparation required 60 years, and it was over in 90 minutes. Pride, power and adoration were its characteristics. Pride in the imperial position of Great Britain in the world, and exhibition of power which inspires this national exaltation, any other people should be proud and thought for the Queen. As to the pageant, it was dramatic and historical, and the people and the country and rejoice mightily. We were not marching in the procession, but we are present as the proud equals of all that constitutes a free people and a great nation. It was pleasing to our neighbors of Canada. They easily took the lead among the colonial, and the fact that the Province of Quebec was in rebellion when Victoria came to the throne, and that her premier, now here, is a Frenchman and a Roman Catholic, appealed to English imagination. The descendants of Montcalm and his countrymen should vie with the children of Wolfe and his soldiers in their loyalty, and that Canada has made a beginning by favoring Great Britain as against other nations in her tariff, have touched both the British heart and pocket. I can conjecture no tribute like the popular ovation to the Queen ever being given to any human being."

Packing is considered quite a formidable task by many. Yet it ought not to be so. First, collect all you wish to carry, looking carefully through bureau drawers, closets and wardrobes, and make sure nothing is left behind.

PACKING A TRUNK.

A Needed Proceeding Before Starting on a Journey.

By Mrs. J. W. Wheeler.

Packing is considered quite a formidable task by many. Yet it ought not to be so. First, collect all you wish to carry, looking carefully through bureau drawers, closets and wardrobes, and make sure nothing is left behind. Lay aside your cravenette sandals, your slippers, your shoes, your hats and your dresses for your traveling bag; it is wise to take an umbrella in case of rain, and a pocket watch to this, but in case of a shower you would not know what to do with the watch, and it is better to have it in your trunk. Those with adjustable handles are best for packing. Fasten in layers, having everything as flat as possible. This economizes room. A professional packer will put about the same things as many people do, but he will give you a plan, and you will almost hold your breath, thinking your gown will be ruined, at the journey's end, but not so. She understands her business, and everything she comes on well. All delicate apparel should be wrapped separately in tissue paper or towels, and sleeves of the gowns should be stuffed out with newspapers, also the crowns of hats and bonnets, after which they may be pinned that part to the bottom or sides of the box to keep them from shaking about.

Never double over the bottom of trunk, if it is longer than the trunk, double from the top instead, where there is no stiffening to hold creases. Fold the waist inside out as smoothly as possible, and stuff out the loops of large boxes with newspapers.

Hose, Jersey undergarments, etc., may be saved out to tuck into corners and spaces to keep the layers from jar-jar-jar. Some think they are wise in packing heavy articles in the bottom of trunks and light ones on top, but if they will watch the baggage men for five minutes they will be convinced of their folly, for trunks are just as liable to be turned upside down and endwise as right side up, the main point to keep a smooth surface in packing, placing layer upon layer, and when bulky articles are put in, building around them until you have a smooth surface again. Never crowd breakable articles in the corners, but rather wrap them in newspapers and place among the clothing.

Some may advise you to carry bottles in your trunk; don't do it unless, of course, they are done up in drugstiff fashion. I have carried shoe dressing and preserves among my clothing several times, but the last time it was a success; and so I advise you to take such articles by hand, or pack by themselves and send by express.—Christian Work.

THE CELEBRATION THROUGHOUT ENGLAND.

London, June 22.—The British capital did not monopolize the celebration of the 60th milestone of the Victorian reign. Throughout the United Kingdom and in all the colonies and dependencies of the empire and other places where English men and women have been, the day of jubilee was celebrated with enthusiasm. The United Kingdom, found expression in parades, fireworks, religious services, orations, dinners, gift giving and charitable uses. From Ireland alone came the one discordant note in the chorus of congratulation and reverence. The newspapers estimate that more than $2,500,000 have been disbursed by provincial magnates in the endowment of parks, grounds, and other charities. Hardly a village in England but was richer in public institutions by the day. Maidstone was given a Victoria library, Sandwick a Victoria hall, Stamford a Victoria fountain, Leicester an infirmary, one town a life-boat, and another a fire engine. Hundreds of thousands of England's people were given dinner and hundreds of thousands of school children received medals.

The Leicester celebration was one of the most elaborate, and a typical one, from which an idea of the programmes in other cities may be gained. There an endowment fund for the infirmary, amounting to $50,000, was contributed by subscriptions.

The 22,000 children of the city schools were provided with a tea, the poor people of 60 years of age were given a dinner, the mayor distributed 30,000 commemorative mugs of a design selected by the Queen. There was an open-air thanksgiving service in the market place, attended by all the troops of the district, with singing of the "Hallelujah Chorus" and "God Save the Queen" by a choir of 2,000 voices, accompanied by massed bands. More than 20,000 men marched in procession to Victoria Park, where the mayor planted an oak in commemoration of the diamond jubilee. The athletic sports and fireworks, which were a conspicuous feature of the celebrations, began yesterday, and will be continued until tomorrow night.

PICTURESQUE STRATFORD-ON-AVON was the scene of the most picturesque fetes in all England. A fleet of barges was manned for a water pageant by the villagers arrayed in Elizabethan costumes, a spectacular array of floats, which drifted down the classic Avon past the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre to the green, where the rose queen was crowned with quaint ceremonies. Preceding this display was a show of four white horses. On these cars scenes of tragedy, history, comedy and farce were depicted. Afterward came a tea for 2,000 children, followed by a march on the green, with an evening devoted to a dramatic performance and national past the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre, fireworks and illuminations out of doors.

Honors will be paid to another English author next week as an incident of the Victorian anniversary. A memorial to Charles Dickens will be erected by the inhabitants of Broadstairs, the scene of the creation of many of the novelist's works, the memorial taking the form of a club for the class whose life he depicted, the fisher folk, sailors and workmen, to which end a fair will be held through the week.

DON'T EAT EGGS WHEN ANGRY

A Boston Man Says It Is Dangerous and May Cause Death.

St. Louis Republic.

"Never eat eggs while you are angry," said A. E. Stewart, of Boston. "My attention was first called to this strange fact by the tragic and sudden death of a lady acquaintance in Boston several years ago. I accepted her husband's invitation to dine with them. Just as we were going in to dinner a servant did something that caused the lady to fly into a terrible rage. She had been irritated from some minor complaint for several days, and her husband calmed her ruffled feelings sufficiently for the dinner to be eaten in good temper. I noticed that she ate an unusual amount of soft scrambled eggs. Fifteen minutes after we left the dining-room, before the corpse, she died in frightful convulsions, before the nearest doctor reached the house. The doctor was unable to ascribe the cause. A few months later I was visiting a brother in Connecticut and one of his sons died under similar circumstances. Before breakfast one morning the boy, who was about 15 years old, had a fight with a neighbor's boy. Before his anger had subsided my nephew was called to breakfast. He ate four soft-boiled eggs. Had I known as much then as I do now I would have prevented it. In less than a half hour after breakfast the boy died. The cause was the same. Symptoms that were present when my friends wife died. This set me to thinking about the cause. I was not long after this before a Beacon Hill friend of mine expired suddenly after a meal. The doctors, as usual, were divided in opinion on the cause of death. Some of them contended that it was heart failure, whatever that is, and others are still holding out that it was apoplexy. Inquiry by me developed the fact that my friend was very angry when he sat down to table, and that he ate five eggs. With these developments I searched to further for the cause of his death. He was angry, he ate eggs and he died. If these are not links in the chain of cause and effect, the human intellect is incapable of logical thinking.

In the Dining-Room.

THURSDAY, JUNE 24.

BREAKFAST—Sliced pineapple. Poached eggs with sauce. Veal trifles. Warm breakfast rolls. Potato patties. Coffee.

LUNCHEON—Soup—Olla-podrida. Grandmother's greens. Graham gems. Orange jelly. Cocoa.

DINNER—Chicken fricassee. Cold breakfast rolls. Mashed potatoes. Creamed peas. Strawberries and cream. Tea.

Cut out these recipes and paste them in your scrap book.

Veal Trifles—Purchase the evening before and place to stew with water sufficient to cover a veal soup bone costing not less than 5 and not more than 10 cents. Be sure that it is fresh and from the hind quarter. Cook until tender. Pour off the liquid and strain. Cut off the choicest meat and place in ice box till morning. This can be done while getting dinner. In the morning take one pint of bread crumbs or crackers rolled fine, one egg, cayenne pepper enough to lie on the point of a small knife, half teaspoonful of black pepper, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one ounce of butter, one quarter of an onion chopped fine, one spoonful of tomato catsup, one spoonful of stiff batter, in which roll the pieces of veal and fry in lard or butter till a light brown.

Poached Eggs with Sauce—Drop in boiling water. Make sauce—one tea-spoonful each of flour, vinegar and butter, one quarter teaspoonful salt. Let boil and pour over eggs after removing from water.

Soup Olla-Podrida—Take the veal soup bone, boil one hour, then strain; add the liquor left in ice-box; add one onion cut very fine, one sprig of parsley, one carrot, sliced, two good-sized potatoes, one-half teaspoonful of salt, half salt-spoonful pepper; boil one hour; make dumplings; half cupful of flour, dressing; moisten with a little of the soup enough to make a stiff dough; roll out very thin and hang the sheets of dough a few minutes by the fire; then cut in pieces or threads no larger than a whip cord; boil two or three minutes and serve immediately.

Grandmother's Greens—Take of wild things—by this I mean sour docks, dandelions, lamb'squarters, etc.—for they are excellent and have a medicinal quality of their own; pick and wash carefully and boil till tender; drain and pour over a pint of water a dressing made thus: One teaspoon of pepper, one-quarter cup of vinegar, one spoonful butter, one spoonful oil, one tea-spoonful mustard (better not ground) salt to taste; stir well together and serve hot.

Chicken Fricassee—Have a small chicken nicely prepared, boil for one hour at lunch time whole. Split in the back so that it will lie open, make a dressing of one cup of bread crumbs, one-quarter teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter teaspoonful of pepper, butter one tea-spoonful. Lay the dressing on chicken, which has been seasoned and placed in dripping pan with small lump of butter, cover the dripping pan with another pan tightly and place in oven. Cook till tender, adding the top of the broth left from the boiling from time to time. Cook dry, and uncovering, let it brown. Make gravy to be served with the chicken. The chicken was boiled in the pan from which the oil was removed, and stirring in a thickening made of a spoonful of browned flour moistened with milk or cream.

Creamed Peas—Peas have a finer taste to have the shells boiled and the peas cooked in the water after they have been taken out. Add a salt-spoon-

PICNIC AT PORT STANLEY.

The Elgin school picnic at Port Stanley yesterday was the best held for years. The attendance was estimated at fully 5,000. The L. E. and D. R. R. broke the record in St. Thomas. They sold upwards of 2,500 tickets, about 300 of which were to London, and the balance to Port Stanley. In addition to this they carried about 1,000 passengers from points on the M. C. R. to the port. This is by far the largest passenger business ever done from St. Thomas over the L. and P. S. R. in one day.

SCHMIDT-M'GINN.

Yesterday morning at 8 o'clock in St. Peter's Cathedral, a pleasant event occurred, when Miss Nellie McGinn, well and favorably known to London society, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Leo C. Schmidt, cutter for the large firm of Robinson, Lindsay & Wilcox, St. Thomas. Rev. Father Tierman performed the ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of friends and acquaintances. The bride was charmingly attired in white, her bridesmaids in white organdie and carried sweet peas.

Mr. Schmidt was assisted by Mr. Joe E. Knapp, of this city. After the ceremony the party returned to the home of the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. J. Moyer, English street, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was enjoyed, after which the happy couple left for Western points to spend the honeymoon.

STRUCK BY A TROLLEY

A Lambeth Party Experience a Narrow Escape From a Serious Accident.

A fatal trolley accident was narrowly averted yesterday morning through the carefulness of Motorman Reycraft. About 9 o'clock Conductor Griffith was bringing his car along Askew street, and when nearing the Methodist Church a democrat wagon, driven by Mr. Patrick of Lambeth, accompanied by Mr. Annett and his married daughter and her child, passed on to the track in front of the car. The motor was reversed, and the trolley averted. The car, however, struck the rig lightly. No damage was done, but the spirited horses took fright and galloped along the track in front of the car. The horses had not gone far when they collided with a pile of lumber on the side of the street. The occupants were thrown out and the horses continued at a mad pace down to the Wootley road, where they collided with a trolley pole. The occupants were all more or less hurt. Mr. Patrick jumped immediately and pursued his runaway team, apparently uninjured, but when examined by Dr. Ferguson a little while later, he was found to have sustained a broken rib, on the left side, and also fractured one of the small bones of his elbow. Mr. Annett was badly cut and bruised about the head and face. Strange to say, the lady and her child received no serious injury.

UNIQUE CELEBRATION.

St. Andrew's Church People Plant a Maple in Commemoration of the Diamond Jubilee.

The congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church began the jubilee celebrations on the church grounds, where a maple tree was planted to commemorate the event, by Mr. Jas. Gillen, who for the past 55 years has been a valued member of the church. His first assistant was Mr. Daniel Lester, who celebrated his 55th year in connection with the church last Sunday morning.

Janitor McDonald had prepared the place for the tree, and in digging it struck a brick wall, which for years has been buried in mother earth. At 9 o'clock Rev. Robert Johnston assembled the infant class in a circle around the tree, while the teachers and congregation stood back of them, and raised their voices in the first verses of "God Save the Queen." Mr. Johnston procured from Mrs. Craig a Bible 175 years old, printed in Dublin in 1722, and read the first three verses of Psalm c. Mr. Johnston advanced bearing the tree, and as he planted it, he said: "In the name of our gracious King, Queen Victoria, and on the 60th anniversary of her accession to the throne, we plant this tree. Long may it flourish. God Save the Queen."

Mr. Lester, John Elliott, J. Campbell, James Anderson and Mr. Allan, each put in a shovelful of earth, while the little sons of prominent members—John Houston, Gilbert Chisholm and Robert Gardner—watered the tree for the first time.

The Maple Lecture was heartily sung at this lecture. Short addresses were afterwards given by Dr. Gardiner, on behalf of the Improvement committee; Mr. Houston for the board of managers; R. A. Little and George Armstrong.

The gathering dispersed after singing the doxology, prayer, and the benediction.

A Day of Accidents.

Several Narrow Escapes on the Camp Grounds.

Capt. Hugh Clark, of the 22nd Bruce Battalion, Presented With a Silver Water Service.

Yesterday was a quiet day in camp. The parade in the morning took them away from the canvas city, and few were inclined to remain there in the afternoon.

The feature of the day at camp was the presentation of a handsome silver water service to Capt. Hugh Clark, No. 2 company, Kincardine, Thirty-second Bruce Battalion, by the men of his company, as a slight token of their esteem. The captain was taken wholly by surprise, and expressed his appreciation of their kind regard. Capt. Clark is known as a general favorite throughout the battalion, and, as Col. Scott, has expressed it, "He's one of our best men."

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

The orders for today are as follows: Lieut.-Col. Smith, commanding.

Field officer of the day, Major Weir.

Thirty-second, Bruce Battalion; next for duty, Major McEwan, Middlesex Light Infantry.

Sanitary officer, Surgeon-Major Martin, Bruce Battalion; next for duty, Surgeon-Major Piper, Seventh.

Medical officer of the range, Surgeon-Lieut. Hayes, St. Clair Borderers; next for duty, Surgeon-Major Martin.

The St. Clair Borderers will furnish the brigade guard and duty band; next for these duties, Middlesex Light Infantry.

CAMP NOTES.

Pte. Seneca, of No. 2 company of the Twenty-sixth Battalion, was taken to the barracks hospital yesterday, suffering from an attack of measles. Seneca is an Indian.

Major Stuart, of the Twenty-sixth, Middlesex Light Infantry, had a narrow escape. While at the fair grounds his horse reared and fell backward, almost on top of the gallant major. Fortunately the only injury he received was a pinched arm and a bad scare.

Pte. Bartley, of the London Field Battery, met with a painful accident while wrestling with one of his comrades. He slipped and fell heavily to the ground, fracturing one of the ligaments in his right ankle. He was taken to the military hospital.

Pte. W. H. Davis, of the First Hussars, had a narrow escape from being trampled to death yesterday morning. The brigade had just formed in line to proceed to the fair grounds, when Davis's horse became unmanageable and threw him to the ground. His comrades scattered when he fell, to lessen his chances of injury. He was very thankful to escape with a dislocated wrist and a badly bruised face and body.

Today the four sections of the First Hussars went out on a reconnoitering expedition to Dorchester Station. Each of the four sections was accompanied by the Governor's road, Hamilton road and the Gore road, the others taking the route to the north.
