WEEKLY IRISH REVIEW

IRELAND SEEN THROUGH IRISH EYES Copyright 1921 by Seumas MacManus METAMORPHOSIS!

The amount of reserve strength still left in the Irish people will be the determining factor in the Peace Conference. If they feel they cango forward with the fight for even another six months they can compel worth while terms from France from worth while terms from England. For England and England's ministers are today in more desperate straits than they have known in a hundred years—if we except their utterly desperate condition just before America entered the War. Chiefly because of the marvellous (we pright say miraculous) fight (we might say miraculous) fight that the little Irish Republican Army has made, England's power in Europe, in Asia, in all corners of the world is paralyzed—and her vast schemes for after-the-war vast schemes for after-the-war aggrandisement have all proved futile. Pole, Persian, Turk, and Arab flout her. And among the bigger powers at the diplomatic table she, with her hands tied by little Ireland, can no longer bully and browbeat so that she is moving heaven and earth to defer the diplo-loved to tell the world that have the Irish murder-gang by the throat, and there will be no let-up till we strangle it." But by one of his most recent utterances in the House of Commons Lloyd George, making his astounding right-aboutface, not only forgot to call De Valera the "chief of the murdergang"—but actually made many of the old hard-shell Tories gasp by politely terming the same murder chief "The Chieftain of the overwhelming majority of the Irish nation!"—and he was wiring to the murder chief "I shall be glad indeed to welcome you on Thursday next." And George's Army Commander in Ireland was meeting and making terms with "murderers"— for whose heads a few days before, he would gladly have paid ten ### thousand pounds apiece. WILL THEY BARGAIN ON EQUAL TERMS?

In the terribly desperate condi-tion, then, of English affairs, which drove Lloyd George to this extrem-ity, the success of Ireland's de-mands as was said) depends on the amount of stamina still left in the Lyish people after their long and Irish people after their long and fearful ordeal. If they are at the end of their strength Lloyd George end of their strength Lloyd George will make a good bargain for Eng-land. If they feel they are not yet breaking under the awful strain, Lloyd George will pay a just price for his purchase of peace. So far as for his purchase of peace. So far as we on the outside canknow, the spirit of the people is as steel, and they can, if necessary, face the dread night of horrors again. But will England dare again to inflict her mighty pressing reason for Mr. George's coming to earth and con-senting to "gladly welcome" to his parlor the Irish murder-chiefs. parlor the Irish murder-chiefs. What English ministers call (Irish) murder seems to resemble treason—in that if it is successful it must cease to be called murder. And the Irish "murder campaign" now seems to have been infinitely more suc-cessful than we, on this side of the ocean were given the slightest inkling of. We knew of course that the cables constantly gave us user truth by the acre. But they gave that they concealed than by the lies that they concealed than by the lies that they concealed than Porion of we had to place before the world a they stated. The London Review of Reviews lifts an edge of the curtain—and the consequence is that even England (by its masters lied to almost as much as America) is shocked. The English Review of Reviews created not only sensation, but perhaps consternation, by the glimpse it has given at the con-cealed facts of the Irish situation.

The Review of Reviews sent its special correspondent to investigate in Ireland and find what he could in treiand and find what he could find. The result was to the English public, painfully startling. He found, that the vast English army which was supposed to be subduing Ireland seemed—despite its great numbers, its elaborate and enormnumbers, its elaborate and enormous equipment, its cannon, machine guns, aeroplanes, armored cars, tanks and the rest of it—practically beaten to a standstill in the chief scenes of operations—that is in Cork, Kerry, Limerick, Timerary, parts Kerry, Limerick, Tipperary, parts of the western midlands, and And again—"The question bound to arise before many more months have passed is whether the Army of Occupation must give up its attempts to administer the country." These conclusions of the Review's correspondent gave the self-sufficient Britishers a shock.

And again—"The question bound the result of her observations. She had gone to, and inspected the scene of operations in various parts of the South. "The Government's of the South. "The Government's of the South. "The Government's variety of the South." It is doing the property. self-sufficient Britishers a shock.

WHAT THE PUBLIC WERE NOT

The fact that the half-armed raw Irish boys by their admirably organized guerilla warfare were depleting King George's magnificent forces he intimates in guarded words—"Itis impossible to avoid the suspicion that the wastage of men has been much greater than nas been much greater than the Government has permitted the public to know." Judging from the statements of Irish fighters, and statements of civilians, "supported in every case by a wealth of circumstantial evidence," he considers that the hundreds of Fredience. that the hundreds of English soldiers officially reported as killed should, instead, read thousands. He considers that the big success of the I. R. A. (Irish Republican Army) "dates from the capture, last November, of an important military arsenal in Cork (which was never reported in the newspapers) which the I. R. A. succeeded completedy that it replenished its own poor stores with vast quanti-ties of machine guns, rifles, ammunition, and bombs."

Then he gives to the light some items of carefully concealed history. "In one ambush at Ballyvourney, of eight lorries of heavily armed soldiers, seven of the lorries were matic game, and mark time, till she is again in position to dominate the board.

This is one compelling reason for the amazing climb-down of Lloyd George, who a few short weeks ago, loved to tell the world that "we have the complete the forries were completely destroyed and only a handful of wounded men escaped." A great quantity of arms and ammunition was taken. At Clonbannin Cross, soon after, General Cummings and his whole escort, loved to tell the world that "we were the completely destroyed and only a completely destroyed and only a manuful of wounded men escaped." with the exception of a few mounted men were annihilated. "At Cross-burry about the same time, there was another ambush in which Sinn was another ambush in which Sinn Fein claims that nearly a hundred men were killed while military re-enforcements coming to their aid, were driven back." In every one of the cases the Sinn Fein casual-ties were very slight ties were very slight.

The correspondent of the Review says that at the time of the armistice the I. R. A. had driven the English army completely out of a large section of the South west— and that in other sections the English regiments were practically shut up in their strongholds, unable to move about the country, and unable move about the country, and unable to keep up their lines of communications with one another. As sample of how the figures of dead and wounded are juggled by the Government, for the deception of the country, he instances that, after a high fight at Mill street, a short time. big fight at Mill street, a short time ago, in which heavy casualties were inflicted on the British Army, Dublin Castle in issuing report of the casualties, gave only the numbers of dead and wounded brought back to Mallow headquarters. But the I. R. A. secret service reported that numbers of dead and wounded were also brought to Killarney, to Cork, to Tralee—of whom no record was given to the public. The foregoing are only a few out of many startling items of information which the Review Correspondent obtained at the Irish front. Little wonder he was astonished—less wonder that Lloyd George came off wonder that Lloyd George came off his high horse gladly to welcome "murderers"—England's official of the contributed by England dare again to inflict her dread horrors on the heroic little nation?

ANOTHER REASON FOR THE COME-DOWN
But there was still another

But there was still another

THE COURAGEOUS STAND OF THE BISHOPS

and spoliators from

When Ireland was being bullied with threat of newer and deeper horrors, on the very eve of Lloyd George's coming down from his high horse to "gladly welcome" the Irish "Chieftain," the Irish hierarchy, assembled under Cardinal Logue at Maynooth, had addressed burning words to the world. burning words to the world.

"Ireland's condition has now nallenged the attention and lovers of liberty. Last October we had to place before the world a picture of Ireland which, however horrifying, in itself, was but an inadequate representation of the indignities and outrages to which our country had been subjected. Since then every horror has been intensified, and we are now threatened with even darker doings because our countrymen spurn, as they rightly do, the sham settlement devised by the British Government." These strong words, going forth to the world coming from all the Bishops and Archybishops of Ireland under the leadership of such a propounced Conservaour country had been subjected. ship of such a pronounced Conservative as the venerable Cardinal Logue, undoubtedly had their effect in helping Mr. Lloyd George to alight from his very tall steed, and "gladly welcome" the "murderers."

MRS. SNOWDEN TESTIFIES TO FAILURE At the very same time that the Irish Bishops were crying aloud to the world on the horrors with which the "Friend of Small Nations" was visiting Ireland, the of the western midlands, and Donegal. The correspondent's final conclusion is expressed in a few pithy sensational words—"Sinn Fein has proved itself more than a match for General Macready." And again—"The question bound to arise before many more months to arise before many more months.

anything at all to destroy the Republican movement, and if there Republican movement, and if there is one thing which has impressed me more than another it is the futility of this policy." She witnessed the destruction of two houses, under military order, in Cork. Cork people were asked she observed, what Gen. Strickland expected them to do. He places the responsibility on the citizens for everything that occurs, and they are powerless to do anything. In the meantime this destruction of property and the loss of innocent lives, which frequently happens, is converting people to Republican-ism, and stiffening Republicans in their views, and opinions. I have talked with many unionists who told me they have adopted Republic lican views as a result of this coercion policy.

"COULD GIVE POINTS TO THE BOLSHEVIK

IN TYRANNY AND TERRORISM' In Cork she saw Crown forces driving lorries on to the footpaths, scattering the people in every direction, and the attitude of these men in the streets was intensely provocative. Another thing which impressed her was the manner in which women were being terrorised to compel them to give information about the hiding places of men. Revolvers were held to their heads, their houses were pulled to pieces, and their bedrooms invaded. She had met many women who had not taken their clothes off for weeks, they were so fearful of what might happen. The children's nerves were the effected by the present also greatly affected by the present state of affairs. "I have been in Russia, and I have come back very antagonistic to Bolshevism. I am entitled to be so, because I had always maintained a critical attitude against the tyranny of the minority over the majority, and of the methods of terrorism necessary to maintain this rule. But no supporter of the British Government in porter of the British Government in its policy towards Ireland is entitled to criticise Bolshevism, because the British Government could give points to the Bolshevik in the matter of tyranny and terrorism."
SEUMAS MACMANUS,
Of Donegal.

HOOVER'S WORK APPRECIATED

(By N. C. W. C. News Service) New York, July 22.—The American Relief Administration, of which Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Com-Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, is chairman, made public today expressions of appreciation from X. G. Cardinal Piffl, Archbishop of Vienna, and Ignatius Rieder, Archbishop of Salzburg, of the Hoover organization's child the Hoover organization's child feeding work in Austria. The feeding operations in Austria, as in other war stricken sections of Central Europe and Eastern Europe, are supported by the

$29,000,000 contributed

an insight into the large extent of the American relief work which is being carried on for the benefit of Austria and I can clearly see how much the childfeeding work, along with the dollar parcel operation, has helped alleviate our misery.

"I therefore feel that I owe a deep debt of gratitude to the American Relief Administration, all the more since I know that a great many institutions which are being operated by clergymen or Catholic organizations have been considered you over and over again and that you have been always kind to Archbishop Rieder wrote: "On reading of the activities of Mr. Herbert Hoover I was filled with deepest gratitude and admiration for the noble philanthropist who inspired the great relief work and who achieved all these things. I regard Mr. Hoover as the man predestined by Providence to save thousands and thousands of poor Austrian children from starvation. I trust that God will bless him and

VILLA RETURNING TO THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

(By N. C. W. C. News Service

the chapel at Canutillo, which was erected by Spanish priests years ago, and more recently used as a granary. There Villa regularly attends Mass on Sunday.

Villa, during himself, has rebuilt were not in existence when the Assessment Act was last amended to meet the need of Separate schools.

The directors of the chapel at Canutillo were not in existence when the Assessment Act was last amended to meet the need of Separate schools.

SEPARATE SCHOOL TAXES

ARCHBISHOP McNEIL REFUTES MR. HOCKEN'S CHARGES

MR. HOCKEN'S LETTER

To the Editor of The Star: Sir: In reply to your correspondent "North Toronto," I desire to point out that the present law secures to Separate schools all the school taxes paid by incorporated companies upon shares held by Roman Catholics. All the R. C. shareholders have to do is to get the boards of directors to pass a who cepubithis this somewhere about thirty per cent., of the school taxes paid by such companies to be taken by Separate schools. That would divert hundreds of thousands of dollars of thousands of such as the schools. taxes paid by Protestants to sup-port sectarian schools that teach the catechism of the R. C. Church. The essential principle of all Separate school legislation is that the taxes of R. C.'s only shall go to the separate system. The bishops are trying to introduce the new prin-ciple of dividing the school taxes of incorporated companies on the basis of population or school attendance. Nothing could be more un-

> H. C. HOCKEN. Toronto, July 18.

THE ARCHBISHOP'S REPLY

To the Editor of the Star: regarding the use of streets, and one clause of the agreement reads

Section 21.—And it is hereby agreed that all the said railway property liable to be assessed for school purposes shall be assessed for Public school purposes, and that the rate levied in respect thereof shall be payable to the Public school fund of the city of Toronto."

Last year the Public schools of Toronto received about $40,000 in taxes from this company. Catholic shareholders paid nearly twelve thousand dollars of this tax.

In The Star Mr. Hocken expresses ndignation at the possibility of the Separate schools getting any money in taxes from Protestants. I beg been made for such cases. to assure him that we have no his friends did in 1891. The School Act of 1863 exempted Separate school supporters from all taxes assessed for the support of other schools. We depend on the Assessment Act to make this exemption real and effective, and as the Assessment Act has not been amended since 1886 in this respect the result is that now no Separate school supporters are exempted from certain Public school taxes.

that are primarily interested, but the Separate school supporters who find that the Assessment Act has run for thirty-five years without amendment to meet changed conditions, with the result that a large part of the school taxes assessed upon Separate school supporters now goes to the Public schools. The Assessment Act now violates the School Act of 1863. We are not asking "some-where about" 30%. We have not formulated any demand or proposed any definite amendment.

any definite amendment.

Mr. Hocken insists that the Assessment Act needs no amendment in our regard. All we need do, he tells us, is to get the Catholic share-holders to induce the boards of directors to pass resolutions stating the amount of stock held by Catholics, and, presto, the thing is done. We have tried all this and found it unworkable. Shares in companies are a form of property which changes hands every day without public record. The owners are found in many and all those that have been assisting widely separated countries. There is no way of ascertaining the religion of shareholders in the larger companies.

The board of directors of a com-El Paso, July 25.—Considerable credence is being given a report from Juarez that Francisco Villa, noted Mexican rebel leader, has returned to the teachings of the Catholic Church and is practicing again the religion which he abandoned.

Villa is now farming at Canutillo Durango, and, according to the reports received here, has rebuilt ate school supporters are paying grants.

taxes through these railways to the

their Catholic shareholders an opportunity to support Separate schools in Ontario. The effort required to ascertain the religion of System of Ontario does not receive System of Ontario does not receive their shareholders is too great and too expensive. Many of their shareholders are estates, institutions, and other collective bodies.

The Separate schools are in a difficult financial position. We are not asking anything unreasonable or unfair. So far we have not asked more than that the subject be taken into serious consideration. The education of seventy-five thousand children of Ontario is the duty of the Separate schools. It is a public service under public supervision, efficiently performed, and at moderate cost. The high cost of living and of building has forced the supporters of this service to seek justice in a fair amendment of an obsolete Assessment Act.

N. McNeil, Archbishop. Toronto, July 20, 1921.

THE LONDON KNIGHTS STRONGLY SUPPORT SEPARATE SCHOOL CLAIMS

A Meeting of London Council, Knights of Columbus, Number 1410 representing a membership of four hundred men was held on Friday, July 22, at their club rooms, question of securing the legislation necessary for the proper functioning of Separate Schools was discussed with great interest and considerable warmth. That public utilities in which Catholics Sir: Thirty years ago the Toronto Railway Company entered into an agreement with the city to the Public Schools was characteristics. terized as a crying injustice that demanded immediate redress. The resent provision for the division of the taxes of incorporated companies in proportion to the amount of stock held by Catholics and non-Catholics respectively was shown to be ineffective and entirely unworkable except in the case of small companies whose shareholders were known. In the case of companies where shares are held, and are bought and sold daily it is an obvious impossibility to determine the proportion of stock owned by Separate School supporters. This has been recognized in Alberta and Saskatchewan and a suitable legislative provision has

In the matter of Secondary Eduassure nim that we have no bught of attempting to do what of friends did in 1891.

In the matter of Secondary Data-cation it was pointed out that in 1863 when the Separate School Act was passed the Common School System embraced the entire course now divided between the Public and High Schools. It was, therefore, held that Catholics have by the British North America Act the full right to establish High Schools where their numbers warrant such Separate High Schools. In any case the right to the Fifth Class in that alcohol is causing more into Mr. Hocken states that what the bishops want is "somewhere about 30% of the school taxes paid by companies." He is referring to the financial difficulties in which the Assessment Act has placed the Separate schools. It is not "the bishops" that are primarily inter-bishops" that are primarily inter-bishops want is "somewhere about 50% of the school taxes paid by companies." He is referring to the financial difficulties in which the Assessment Act has placed the Separate schools. It is not "the bishops" that are primarily inter-bishops want is "somewhere about 50% of the school taxes paid by companies." He is referring to the first Class work in High Schools the World War. He testified that Murtha was suffering from alcoholic insanity and that his was one of many cases that had come to his attention since that had come to his attention went into once been questioned; but Separate 50% of the Schools that was caused by shell shock and kindred influences during where the companies." He is referring to the first class work in High Schools the World War.

This is a plain infringement of constitutionally guaranteed rights in probabilities and the companies. The companies were the school taxes paid by companies." He is referring to the first class work in High Schools the World War.

The companies were the companies where the companies w the Elementary Schools has never Denominational Education.

The fact that Catholics are deliberately excluded from the taxpayers right to vote for the Board of Education which controls the Secular High Schools makes this glaring.

The feeling was general amongst the large number of members present that fair-minded Protestants when informed of actual conditions would whole-heartedly co-operate with Catholics in their effort to secure a fair measure of legislative relief from the disabilities under which Separate Schools now labor.

The following resolution moved by Mr. E. V. Hession and seconded by J. J. Callaghan and Dr. P. J. weeney was unanimously adopted.
Whereas under the British North America Act, which is the constitution of Canada the educational rights in the matter of denomina-tional schools of Protestant minortional schools of Protestant minority in Lower Canada and of The Roman Catholic minority in Upper Canada were guaranteed by Section 98 of the said Act which reads as follows: "In and for each Province the Legislature, may explained." the Legislature may exclusively make laws in relation to education, subject and according to the following provisions:

"Nothing in any such law shall rejudicially affect any right or Czecho-Slovakia after the World privilege with respect to denominational schools which any class of persons have by law in the Provential of the country.

ago, and more recently used as a granary. There Villa regularly attends Mass on Sunday.

Villa, during his infidelity, attacked the priests of the Church and damaged much Church property.

The directors of the Canadian National Railways are not trying to divide the school taxes, because they know that the Assessment Act and damaged much Church property.

And whereas amongst these rights are the full development of the Common School System and the equitable division of the school taxes for minorities and the porportional distribution of all school grants.

taxes through these railways to the Public schools.

And whereas the School System of the Roman Catholic minority of Ontario is deprived of the legal machinery necessary for its com-

> System of Ontario does not receive its just and proper share of certain thool taxes and school grants.
>
> Therefore be it resolved that this meeting respectfully requests the Government and the Legislature of Ontario to enact such legal measures as will place the Roman Cath-Minority of this Province in the full enjoyment of its educational rights under the constitution.

And that a copy of this resolution The Honorable, The Minister of Education and their colleagues in the Ontario Cabinet; to the members of the Ontario Legislature to the Catholic press of Ontario and to the local newspapers.

IRELAND NORTH AND SOUTH

Presiding at Limerick Protestant

Diocesan Synod, Rev. Dr. Hackett,

Dean of Limerick, said:

"My opinion is that where our people have suffered it is not because of their religious opinions and as the present representative of the City and County clergy, I am glad to be able to say that never in their experience have the relations between all religions been more harmonious, and never have our clergy been more kindly and more courteously treated by their neighbors in the Diocese."

The North of Ireland is the only place where religious intolerance prevails. There Catholics have as such been persecuted by the Orange men. For the property of Catholics destroyed in the town of Lisburn by Orange mobs compensation amounting to $1,250,000 has been awarded by the Courts. In this town the Protestant proprietors of a factory refused to dismiss Cathlic employees. The position of foreman in this store was occupied employment "after this week we will burn the mill!" The firm did not dismiss him or any other Cath-olic worker. The mill was burned All these facts were deposed to on oath. Immediately after the occurrence it was represented in the anti-Irish press that the burning was a Sinn Fein outrage.

BOOTLEG WHISKEY

WRECKING MORE BRAINS THAN WAR SHELL-SHOCK N. Y. Times

Dr. Perry M. Lichtenstein, resident physician at the Tombs, testi-fying before a Commission in Lunacy sitting to determine the condi-tion of Philip Murtha, twenty-eight, of 541 West 141st Street, said ity since prohibition went into effect than was caused by shell prohibition. Many steady drinkers, he added, are unable to give up intoxicating liquor and will drink the poisonous substitutes now being offered for sale. He said this alco-hol is absorbed through the lyminvasion of their rights all the more glaring.

phatic system and causes a toxic condition which deadens the nervous system and produces what is known to alienists as alcoholic psy-

Whether a person was incurably insane, he said, depended upon how much damage was done to his nerv-ous system before treatment began. He admitted that some acute types recover following withdrawal of alcohol and general hygienic measures, but that others remained chronically insane, and that in one particular type definite alteration destruction of the nerve cells and their processes are present.

Y. M. C. A. PHILANTHROPY COMES HIGH

(By N. C. W C. News Service Prague, Czecho-Slovakia, July 10. Prague, Czecho-Slovakia, July 10.

—Legal representatives of the Y. M. C. A. are still pressing—but thus far without result—their demand for payment of 6,000,000 Czecho-Slovak kronenfor the services its agents and workers are supposed to have rendered to the people of Czecho-Slovakia after the World ments in this country.

And whereas no rights either educational or religious were surrendered by the minority in any Province at the time of Confederation.

And whereas amongst these rights are the full development of business ventures in this country. Some of them failed. His salary was 800,000 kronen a year. The Y. M. C. A. also is accused of having profiteered in food and supplies which it distributed.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Paris, July 3.-Cesar Caire, who was recently chosen president of the municipal council of Paris is a staunch Catholic and a member of the Christian Newspapermen's Corporation.

The Bishops of Poland have issued a letter of thanks to the French Episcopacy. The document was addressed to Cardinal Lucon, Arch-bishop of Rheims, who was one of the first to order a special novena of prayers for Catholic Poland.

Dublin, July 15.-Irish Catholics Dublin, July 15.—Irish Catholics are determined to make this year's collection for the Pope a record one. Relatively the collection in Ireland is the highest of any Catholic country; but so touched have the people been by the sympathy and generosity shown by the Holy Father in his Apostolic Letter that everybody who has the means is anxious to contribute more now than on any previous occasion. than on any previous occasion.

Paris, July 14.—Col. Rollin, a prominent artillery officer, who left the army at the conclusion of the War to complete his theological studies, said his first Mass in the Cathedral of Montanhan lest week Cathedral of Montauban last week. The new priest, who is the son-in-law of a Senator, is a widower with ten children. On the day of his ordination, one of his sons received the tonsure.

Dublin, July 18.—By an arrangement for which there is no justification in logic or in fact, the Board of National Education in Ireland has since its foundation nearly one hundred years ago been composed of Catholics and Protestants in equal number. One-fourth of the population has had the same representation as three-fourths. Will Catholics have any voice at all in Northeast Ulster?

Worcester, Mass, July 22.-Registrations for admission to Holy Cross College next year have reached the full capacity of the accommodations and about 150 foreman in this store was occupied by a Catholic. The proprietors received a written notice stating that if they retained him in their employment "after this week we president. Present accommodations and about 150 applicants will have to be turned away, according to announcement of Rev. James J. Carlin, S. J., president. Present accommodations and about 150 applicants will have to be turned applicants will have tions provide for 600 boarding and 150 day students. It is hoped that additional dormitories will be completed by the Fall of 1922.

Washington, D. C., July 25.—
Georgetown University has been named by the United States War Department as one of the thirty-four education institutions to be known as "distinguished colleges and honor military schools, respectively for the year 1921." The ively, for the year 1921." The recognition gives each college and university the right to one appoint-ment virtually without examina-tion to the Regular Army each

Paris, July 14.—The recent ordination in the Church of St. Sulpice of Paris was the largest witnessed for some time, fifty-six priests and eight deacons having been ordained. Among the priests was the Abbe Garlier, former secretary of the Conference of Lawyers of Paris who promised to be one of the most eloquent lawyers of the Paris bar. Formerly president-general of the Formerly president-general of the Catholic Youth of France, he had just entered the Seminary when the War broke out in 1914. When he celebrated his first Mass in the Church of St. Sulpice in Paris, a large number of Parisian lawyers came to present their congratula-

Boston, July 22.—A striking reminder of the service and sacrifice of the Catholic young men of the country was given last Sunday when five important squares in this city were dedicated to the honor of five Boston boys who died in the service of their country in the recent World War. Not only were all of them Catholics, but all were members of St. James' Parish. The five young men whose memory was Boston, July 22.-A striking re five young men whose memory was five young men whose memory was thus honored were Thomas F. Burke, Co. H., 47th Infantry, killed in the second battle of the Marne; Lieut. Jeremiah E. Sullivan, of the 101st Infantry, killed in Argonne Forest; and Francis E. Shea, Thomas F. Foley and Corporal Denis D. McCarthy, all of the 101st.

Washington, July 25.-Announce-Washington, July 25.—Announcement was made here today that Dr. Hardee Chambliss has been appointed to take charge of the work of the Department of Chemistry at the Catholic University, owing to the prolonged illness of Rev. Dr. John J. Griffin, who has been in charge of the department since its opening in 1895. partment since its opening in 1895. Dr. Chambliss is one of the most distinguished chemists in the United States. He graduated from John Hopkins University in 1900, and since then has devoted himself to chemical research and teaching. During the War he was commanding officer of the U. S. Nitrate Plant, No. 1, Sheffield, Ala., with the rank of lieutenant colonel. A member of the principal chemical societies in the United States and England he has been given by the Published by permission of Burns, Oates & Washbourne, London, England

HONOUR WITHOUT RENOWN

BY MRS. INNES BROWN

Author of "Three Daughters of the United CHAPTER XXV—CONTINUED

Norah watched the figure of her master disappear. She had observed of crushed paper in piece his hand, and connected its contents with his stern voice and look of agitation. "I wonder what's up now," "I do hope it's no bad news for Lady O'Hagan, or her family. But he did look so upset! Perhaps I had better be somewhere near in case my

Lady wants me. De Woodville opened the folding doors, and passing between the heavy curtains, walked towards the group, There was our little friend Marie as busy as ever. The little matron was at the very work she had always most excelled in. Mounted on some small steps, she was decorating with lovely flowers Our Lady's Altar. There hung the very silver wreath she had won at dear St. Benedict's; whilst a small figure in white-the eldest daughter (aged six summers), the Lady Marystood on tiptoe, stretching out her arms in the endeavor to hand her mother a piece of costly lace to hang upon the wreath. "Oh, here's father!" whispered a baby voice very loudly. "Do tum and It was the other little daughter, Beatrice-a tiny dot of three-who speke. She was seated upon the floor, surrounded by leaves and flowers, which she was stuffing promiscuously into a vase that stood between her small fat legs. Marie turned; and hearing her husband's quick step, jumped from her perch on to the floor.

What is it, dear ?" she said, coaxingly, for she knew that he was always afraid of her climbing, lest she should slip and injure herself. "You see it is Our Lady's month, and I love to keep her altar nice !'

'Quite right, darling," he answered, slipping his arm through hers, without noticing the faint flush of confusion that tinged her cheek. "Leave the children for a moment; they will be all right; I have something to say to you.

She looked up at him quickly, for his serious tone surprised her, and a look of alarm came into her sweet upturned face. He led her to the private entrance, under the portals of that the important telegram and the mysbroad archway where once before they had stood together, when she had unwillingly listened to his almost hopeless tale of love, and, in her startled confusion, had endeavored to tear the fore rose with alacrity, and no small and polyanthus, the violet and daffodil, chaplet of pearls from her fair young neck. They had not altered much since then. It was but a few years ago, and time had dealt very leniently with both of them. Her figure was a trifle fuller and her step more dignified than of old; respects; then stood awaiting further sang as sweetly as on that sunny day but her heart was light, for she was very happy. Yet was it as full of it was possible to be. If a little stern others, Nature had formed him so; to the 7.30 to town." her he was all kindness and conde-

some sudden news ?"

"Yes, dear one, I have. Wait, and I her! alarmed. You see we have no details ; lady." we can but surmise."

"It is a telegram," she said hurwhich he had crushed within his hand: then answered slowly:

"It is from Percy-from Father

She did not speak; but glancing over his arm, she hastily deciphered the following:

"Come at once to the Convent in the injured. Is very ill."

cried Marie, bursting into tears and go at once. sinking upon a velvet-cushioned seat "My darling Bertie, shall I never see you again !" Her husband stood over her, and throwing his arms | might a' knowed it, me Lord. She around her, pressed her closely to him.

tenderly. "Percy was always quick and thoughtless. It may not be so bad as we suppose. We will go to her, dear. When can you be ready?"

She looked very young and girlish as he held her to him. Her dress, of the palest blue, hung in graceful folds around her little form, whilst some rare old creamy lace fell in dainty ripples from her neck and arms. Who could say they did not make a lovely picture yet? Truly, they had changed places -the figures have moved in the tableau since that memorable night when he, the strong man, wept, and she would fain have comforted with distant, but maidenly reserve.

"Don't weep so, Marie," he said, more tenderly than before, as he heard the heavy sobs and felt the helpless weight of the little form press still nearer to him. "Try to bear up, my wife; and after a good night's rest be ready to accompany me to Sister Mar- enough for me, me Lord," said the old guerite's side. Think how delighted man with some dignity.

she will be to see us; and let us try to nurse her back to health."

"Yes, yes ! of course ; how selfish I am, Regie, dear. But I love her so !" she sobbed again. "O, how base and and see her." cruel to shoot such a sweet and noble

"But, Marie, dear, you are jumping to conclusions. The message does not | wait. say that she was shot."

They shot the Archbishop; why should they spare her? Oh, I have known as it were." read the awful accounts of all their cruel ways. Poor little Bertie !"

At this moment there issued from the but sadly. childish cry of fright. "Oh, my babies !" cried the anxious deed?"

mother. "What can have happened?" Norah, who was hovering near, heard was only busy little Mary's hands that, in her efforts to "help mother," had knocked from off its perch a flower-pot, scattering plant and soil over the head of little Beatrice, who stood beneath. The little maidens were soon pacified and led away by nurse, who had been summoned by the Earl.

Marie had three children. Little Lord Grantheuse was the eldest and the only son. He was a fine, healthy boy, and strongly resembled his grandfather in both looks and ways. Lady Mary was fair, tall and delicate. It was difficult to say whom she resembled most; but it was thought that her quaint little face was very like the picture of an ancestor which hung upon the wall. Little Lady Beatrice had a look of her aunt Sister Marguerite, about her tiny mouth ; but she had stolen her mother's hair and eyes, and had all her father's determined ways. They were sweet little children, without being remarkably pretty or striking.

After they had departed, De Woodville beckoned Norah aside and talked to her gravely. Many times during the colloquy the maid nodded her head. When he had ceased she turned with confidence and sympathy to her mistress, and led her to her own apartments. She would endeavor to induce her to rest, while she made the necessary preparations for their journey

The Earl retired to his library and, ringing the bell, inquired of the footman whether Ryder was in the hall.

"Yes, my Lord." "Then tell him I wish to see him." Now the old coachman had seen and spoken with the boy John waiting in the yard, and had learnt from him of terious effect it had had upon his Lordship. So he was a little anxious and curious; for everything that touched "the family" affected him. He therefeeling of importance, when the summons came. It was not the first time the family had consulted him in matters of grave importance. He opened the orders.

"Oh, Ryder," said his Lordship, thoughtful kindness for others as ever. looking up, "I shall require the dog-He was as devoted, as proud of her as cart, if fine-if not, the carriage-early tomorrow morning. Her ladyship and

"To Paris!" The words fell like a grant that nothing has happened to He still looked upon and spoke will read it to you; but you must not be of Sister Marguerite as "our young

"Yes, to Paris, Ryder. I trust we irate, and said in an indignant tone: shall have a good journey. Your misriedly. "Who has sent it? Tell me, tress is not very well just now." As a ing that the back door would be fitter He smoothed out the paper matter of fact, travelling rarely ever for the loikes o' you." upset the Countess; she was a very healthy little woman. "I hope so, me Lord?" he faltered, still standing and turning his hat nervously round in his hands. "But wire-"at once, mind ye. For wasn't may I make bold," he ventured, "to I towld, 'Hurry, Micky, me boy, for ask if our young lady, Lady Beatrice as was, is all right?" No, John: I grieve to tell you she Rue de Cloys. Sister Marguerite badly is not. God help her, she is very ill- what's within a tiligram? And go has had an accident of some sort. I fear "O, my God, they have shot her !" Father Basil has telegraphed for us to his Lordship thinks fit to send you an

"O Lord! O Lord!" cried the old man, throwing up his arms in terror. "Has it comes to this at last? We was never fit to be among a lot of rough, "Don't cry so, little wife ?" he urged quarrelsome curs, like them Frenchmen. A kind, gentle-hearted lady like her! Oh, me Lord, may I go and see this class of study, and had collected a her also!' "You, Ryder?" said the Earl, yery kindly, for he was sorry to see the old man shake and tremble so; "you are servant, advancing with it on a salver. getting old, John; the journey might be too much for you; and I only in- careless reply. "I'll see to it prestended to take Norah with us. You ently.' see, we must make all speed to reach

"Oh. I don't wish to detain you, sir. But may I go on my own account. I'll impidence to hint that this same tilitrouble nobody. I'm not so old and grame was of mighty importance : and feeble as to be afraid of a Frenchman yet.' "You may do as you like, Ryder. But take care of yourself. Travel comfortably; you have not done much anything but agreeable in Paris just

"What's good enough for her is good

"At least take some one who will help to look after you." "Yes, sir. I'll take a friend as'll do tiful specimens to one side. all that, and more, if only we may go

"Very well, then. There is her Take this to the little teleaddress. graph-boy: he has had rather a long dying?"

"Your Lordship won't tell her we're coming. I'd rather go to her unbe-

"All right, John!" But when he left the room the master smiled kindly, "Poor old John, how fond precincts of the chapel a noise as of and attached he has always been to my something falling, followed by a sharp little sister! Will he be in time to see her. I wonder? Will any of us, in-

Ryder tried his best. For long before his master or mistress were stirring, it also and rushed to the rescue. It even by daybreak the next morning, the old coachman, who had never lair down to rest, or even closed his eyes in sleep, since he left his master's presence, donned his new shining suit of livery, fed, brushed, and smartened up with his canine companion was trudging on the road to Oakhome.

aware that in the selfsame boat which rang out pleasantly in the distance. conveyed them to France, hidden away amongst the passengers, were these two faithful creatures, bound for the ame port as themselves.

CHAPTER XXVI.

It was Micky O'Brien, the widow's eldest son, a fine, sturdy boy of eleven,. who delivered the telegraphic message at Bracken Park, the home of the

Micky was now the head of his family; and since the good lady up at the Hall ("God bless her!") had clothed and shod his little form, and put him in a "dacent" way of earning an honest living, why, not only his fond mother, but the whole tribe of her helpless little ones, looked up to him with a kind of awe, mingled with grave respect; for "sure now, wasn't our Micky every inch a gintleman!"

Leaving his companions, two merryfaced, unshod urchins, outside the great lodge gates. Micky drew himself up with an air of importance, and dived boldly into what seemed to him fairyland itself.

Up and down rose and fell the rich green sward in sunny hill and sheltered fairy dell.

All here was Nature as she loved to thrive and grow. The fresh young grass was studded with sweet spring flowers of every shade and hue; snowdrops and lilies of the valley, grown strong and luxuriant by years of unnolested peace, stood out in bold and peerless groups. The sweet primrose all blossomed side by side; so numerous were the hyacinths and bluebells you knew not where to tread. The homely rooks in the elms above were busy with study door and, hat in hand, made his their young, and the birds piped and when Marie Blake and Beatrice de Woodville, seated on the fallen tree, had whispered their heart's secrets to each other. Micky took a short cut across the and haughty in his manner toward I are called to Paris, and we must catch park. He looked neither to the right nor to the left, but made straight for the great door. His mind seemed filled sudden weight of lead upon the old with but one idea. He was on Her "What is it, Regie?" she asked, man's heart. "Isn't that where our Majesty's service; all else must give clinging to his arm; "you have had young lady is?" he thought. "God place to that. So the hall bell pealed loudly to announce his presence. The call; but when the old man-servant discovered who the visitor was, he was

"Be gad, me foin man, but I'm think-

"Is the master within?" inquired Micky, never heeding the rebuke. "He is !"

"Then take him this"-handing the 'tis of grave importance.'

'And faith, is it becoming, think ye, for the loikes o' you to be repateing round to the back wid we, and wait till answer." The old man then closed the door abruptly, and went in search of his master, whom he at last discovered poring over a case filled with rare beetles and butterflies, in a room set apart as a

Our old friend Louis, Lord O'Hagan, spent a great deal of time and money in most valuable assortment of animals, insects, rare china, and jewellery.

"A tiligrame, me Lord," said the "Put it down, Thomas," was the

"Begging your I ordship's pardon," said the man respectfully, "the bowld spalpeen that carried it had the livin' would there be an answer?"

took it up rather impatiently: it was somewhat annoying to be disturbed just then. But noticing how the envelope more seriously and read as follows: 'Come at once to the Rue de Cloys. Sister Marguerite injured. Is very ill. Wishes to see you. - BASIL DE WOOD-

"Thomas, where is your mistress?" necessary for Grace to take a position. cried his Lordship, pitching his beau-

"She's been out since lunch, your beyant at Biddy McGuire's, for isn't only thirty miles away. I'll run in and the ould critter in sore distress and get you, and you'll have a spin every

Send for her at once. She must come home. I want her ?"

"Now, be Javy !" an' I make speed enough, I'll be able to catch the young gintlemen, who are just after mounting their ponies out in the yard there. They're the boy's that'll fetch her." And away hurried Thomas.

"Tell Lady O'Hagan I want her as quickly as she can come !" shouted his Lordship, who had read over the telegram again.

Tom was lucky enough to catch the Each was mounted upon a pretty, well-bred pony, and they were engaged in a brisk argument with the groom as to which road they should take, when the sudden appearance of his old friend Leo, and by early dawn the old servant put an end to their discussion. Nothing loth, off they set on their errand-to fetch mother-and the Marie and her husband were not sound of the iron-shod galloping hoofs

They were sturdy, bonnie boys, these scions of a noble race; whilst the daughter of the house, little Margaret, the third, was a sweet, beautiful child -but more of her anon. Loo, the eldest son, was full of fun and laughter, curly-haired and fearless. Basil was more thoughtful, stolid and determined : whilst baby Willie was fair, like his mother, with clear grey eyes and chestnut hair. He was more fragile and

After the boys had gone, O'Hagan wandered restlessly about. He paced the house with an anxions step; then strode out into the park with the telegram in his hand. Poor dear Sister Marguerite! What a good friend she had always been to them. What should they do? Madge was wise; she must decide it all. He would go and meet her down the drive. Hark ! there was clattering of hoofs-now it was hushed -they had passed the lodge, and were now on the soft green turf rising the hill in front. Yes, there was the bounding chestnut; and seated upon its back-so firm and graceful her seat and attitude-was Madge; whilst not very far behind, plying whip and heel, came Loo on his gallant steed. Then stolid, steady Basil; and last of all the groom. Madge spied her husband and cantered to his side; then, observing his unusually serious look, sprang lightly to the ground, saying cheerfully :

TO BE CONTINUED

ELINOR'S HOUSE PARTY

By Emily S. Windsor in Rosary Magazine It was the first really warm day of the early summer. Elinor Dalton had settled herself comfortably on the veranda with her embroidery. The air was sweet with the odor of the opening roses. Robins and blackbirds having a joyous time in their bathing pedestals on the lawn.

A gay voice hailed her from the street. Elinor glanced up. Grace Hall was standing by the gate.

"Isn't this the loveliest day?" said.

"Come in," returned Elinor. the gate and came up the walk. "I liked. She found her with seated herself in the chair which Elinor pushed forward.

"Oh, Grace, just think," began Elinor eagerly, "father has taken a cottage for the summer at Crystal Lake. We are to go out there in a few weeks. He has to take several business trips during the summer, and mother will go went with them.' with him. So I'm to have house parties as often as I like. Cook is nice about She is willing for me to have them. Mother has told her she can have that little sister of hers go with us. So, you see, it works two ways. It makes Johanna willing for me to have company, and gives her sister an outing. Besides, her sister can help her a good

"Why, how nice!" said Grace "You will have a delightful warmly.

summer. Yes, indeed. I love Crystal Lake. The country all around is so beautiful. The roads are good. I run the auto so well now that father is willing for me to use it there. Of course, I needn't tell you that a certain Miss Grace Hall is invited to spend the whole summer with me." "How good of you, Elinor! But there will be no vacation for me this summer."

Hinor looked up quickly. "Why not? I thought you said your mother was going to Newburg to be with her invalid sister. That will leave you "Mother is going to my aunt's. But

"I'll soon tell you." And O'Hagan I-" Grace colored and hesitated. "I am going to take a position. I am going to help the matron at The Haven. You see-well, the salary is fair. I'll of it of late: besides, you will find it was addressed to his wife, he opened it have my expenses-we need the frock, with her blooming complexion they were heavy enough to make it parties.

But she did not express her surprise Instead, she said :

"I'm sorry. But you shall have honour. I've a brave notion she's down rides all the same. Crystal Lake is few days."

Grace gave Elinor a grateful smile. 'That will be dear of you."

"What about your flat ?" asked Elinor after a minute of silence. "We are renting that until Haven, you see." After a little further chat Grace hurried away.

Elinor's thoughts dwelt pityingly on her. "Poor Grace! A summer at The willing," said Grace, "so we'll go and Haven! And some of those old women get ready." are so cranky!" Elinor remembered two young rogues ere they left the how difficult it had been to please them mending and left the room. Grace one time when her Sunday School class lingered behind them to say: "I am so undertook to give them a little party.

The Haven was a home for old wome which had been established by means of applications for admission, so there was them. cheap apartment houses and stores.

"My," thought Elinor, "how I do pity Grace, spending the summer in that Mason, the matron, came into the veranda. And she does so love to be woman. Elinor had met her before. out of doors! Dear me, I wish she didn't have to do it."

to go. So she did not see Grace before leaving the city.

Elinor had planned her various house deal of pleasure. Those invited to her | make out." first one were four college friends of whom she was very fond. She had expected enthusiastic acceptances from them, having told them of the beauty and delights of Crystal Lake. It was a very great and unpleasant surprise to receive regrets from each of the four. All had previous engagements.

She next invited several of her cousins for a fortnight following. They too, sent letters of regret. They were starting for a stay at the seashore.

of girl friends at home. "I'm going to drive in and see them personally, Elinor told Johanna, the cook, when talking over her disappointment. "Sure, I think that would be a good way to do. It's too bad if they don't come. Though, Miss Elinor, dear, what with your driving about so much, and boating on the lake, you seem to be havin' a pretty good time at that," said Johanna, laughing.

"Oh, I'm having a splendid time. But I want to share it with some one.' 'Sure, there's lots you could share it with, if you knew them.

"Of course I want my friends Johanna."

Elinor drove to town the next leaving for Crystal Lake. Her first comfortably taking a nap; the others call was on Hattie Farrel, a bright placidly gazing at the blue waves "I believe I shall." Grace opened vivacious girl whom she particularly sparkling in the sunlight. Grace was ought not, though. I have a lot of ankle. She was profuse in her expressthings to do today," she added as she | ions of regret that she could not accept | laughingly exclaimed Elinor's invitation.

for at least two weeks. Yours is the second I have had to decline. The she seated herself near the hammock Ralston girls wanted me to go with Presently Grace fell asleep. them to their cousin's at Mount Pass. There's a gay time on. Miriam Manter then around the circle of the old women.

Manter!" exclaimed Elinor in dismay. invite them, too. How provoking !"

"They're going to be at Mount Pass several weeks. On leaving Hattie, Elinor decided that she would go to The Haven to see Grace, whom she had neither seen nor heard from since coming to the lake. She found her friend sitting with several of the old ladies in the big living-room, mending table linen. Grace introduced Elinor to the old ladies, and then gave her a seat near a window, overlooking a narrow strip of yard in which a patch of grass and a take turns coming out each week for a few straggling plants were trying to grow. As she glanced out Elinor thought of the wide lawns around her cottage at the lake, and the great expanse of water stretching before it. How dreadful it would be to spend the summer in The Haven's stuffy atmos-

Grace was saying, "Tell us all that laughed Elinor, as she ran back to her you have been doing. I know you have been having a delightful time."

Elinor gave her a lively account of her drives and walks and boat rides. The old ladies watched her and listened with evident interest. She was very pleasant to look at in her dainty summer Elinor was greatly surprised. She blue eyes sparkled with health and high knew that Grace's mother had had spirits. She did not mention her dismoney losses. She had not known that appointment in regard to the house acceptable day to end, and we had not

Presently, at a lull in the talk, a dden thought came to Elinor

Turning to Grace she said: "Can't you come out for a drive? Surely you can be spared for an hour or two. Do

Grace answered hesitatingly, as she glanced around the circle of old ladies, I would love to but-

"Oh, why not all of you come?" exclaimed Elinor impulsively. She turned to the old women. "You would like to take a drive, wouldn't you?" autumn. I shall be living at The she asked.

"Indeed, I would !" declared one of them emphatically. The others agreed with her eagerly.

"I'm sure the matron will be

The old women hastily put away the glad you asked them, | Elinor. The poor old creatures have so few pleasures. Several have gone to visit a legacy left by a wealthy man. There relatives in the country, but these have were certain limitations connected with no friends outside to do much for never a large number of inmates. At While Elinor waited for the party, a present there were only ten. The plan formed in her mind. Why not Haven had been at one time the winter take them out to Crystal Lake to spend home of the donor. It was then in a the day? Yes, she would! She could fashionable part of the city. Now the telephone Johanna to prepare for them. neighborhood was closely built up with She could buy the extra supplies needed and take them with her.

She had decided to do this when Mrs. stuffy place. There's not even a room. She was a kindly-faced elderly

"I am so glad that you are giving them this treat, Miss Dalton. It is the A few days later Elinor's father was first one they have had this summer. unexpectedly called out of the city on Miss Hall does a great deal for them business, and as Mrs. Dalton went with and they are all so fond of her. But I him, it was thought best for Elinor to think the close confinement to the house go at once to Crystal Lake. This was is telling on her. I am very glad that some weeks earlier than she expected she is to have an outing," she said, as she shook hands with Elinor. "Can't you come, too, Mrs. Mason? The matron shook her head. "Not parties for the summer with a great today. I have a lot of accounts to want to take them to Crystal Lake to spend the day. Do you mind." No, indeed. How nice of you to do it! Here they come, all ready.

"Then you shall go another time.

It took a little crowding to seat them all in the car, large as it was, but they were all finally comfortably arranged, and as they sped along the smooth roads through beautiful stretches of country, there were frequent murmurs and exclamations of delight.

Grace, who was seated beside her, said: "I am so glad that you thought of doing this, Elinor.'

Elinor nodded. "So am I," she returned briefly. Johanna, who was waiting to receive them when they reached the cottage, served glasses of delicious iced lemonade and bustled about doing various things for the comfort of the old women. "They will have time for a good rest before dinner," she told Elinor, "and I have a good one on the way! I'm glad you brought out all those extra things. Well, Miss Elinor dear, you have a house party at last." 'A house party is for several days, Johanna," laughed Elinor, as she ran off to see what her guests were doing. They were all seated in big chairs on morning soon after breakfast. It was the great veranda facing the lake. the first time she had been there since Two or three of the old ladies were stretched out in the hammo "See how lazy

Elinor noticed again how tired her 'Why, I'll not be able to walk a step friend looked. "Well, she's going to come out here often," she thought as Elinor gazed at her thoughtfully, and How happy they all looked! How glad "The Ralston girls and Miriam she was that she had hrought them out! Then Johanna's words about he 'Why, I was going from here to having a house party at last recurred to her. Elinor suddenly sat up straight in her chair. Why not have them for her house parties? All her girl friends seemed to be having plenty of good times without her help. These poor old people had nothing. Then Grace, too could come! She would do it! It would be the very thing that her mother and father would like her to do. She ran quickly out to the kitchen to tell Johanna her plan. The latter paused in her biscuit-making to listen. 'Good for you, Miss Elinor! We've three spare rooms. We can have them few days, or as long as you want them. Give them all a chance. Sure, they'll be a little trouble, but, then, we can't get along without taking some trouble !" was Johanna's hearty agreement to her plan.

"I don't think there is any danger of these house parties not materializing, guests. "I am going to give those old women the best time ever.'

Nothing astonishes men so much as common sense and plain dealing.-

A day is short, and when the time of and shining hair, simply arranged. Her its setting has come no power on earth can prolong it one moment. It would be a fearful thing for us were the availed of it for salvation.

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS

MURPHY & GUNN BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES Solicitors for The Home Bank of Canada Episcopal Corporation Suite 53, Bank of Toronto Chamber

FOY, KNOX & MONAHAN BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES, ETC

LONDON, CANADA Phone 170

Cable Address : "Foy" Telephones { Main 461 Main 462 Offices: Continental Life Building
CORNER BAY AND RICHMOND STREETS TORONTO

DAY, FERGUSON & CO.

BARRISTERS John M. Ferguson Joseph P. Walsh TOPONTO TORONTO, CANADA LUNNEY & LANNAN

BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, NOTARIES Harry W. Lunney, B. A., B. C. L. Alphoneus Lannan, LL. B. CALGARY, ALBERTA

JOHN H. MCELDERRY

BARRISTER, SOLICITOR NOTARY PUBLIC CONVEYANCER

to Loan Telephone 1081 HERALD BLDG. ROOM 24 GUELPH, ONT.

ARCHITECTS WATT & BLACKWELL

Sixth Floor, Bank of Toronto Chamber LONDON, ONT.

DENTISTS DR. BRUCE E. EAID

Room 5, Dominion Bank Chambers
Cor. Richmond and Dundas Sts. Phone 568: EDUCATIONAL

30 Calls for Office Help Came to Westervel School

IN THE MONTH OF JUNE Westervelt Training is appreciated by men ho want the best office help. St. Ierome's College

LONDON, ONTARIO

Founded 1864 KITCHENEP, ONT.

REV. W. A. BENINGER, C. R., Pracident FUNERAL DIRECTORS

John Ferguson & Sons 180 KING ST.

The Leading Undertakers & Embalmers Open Night and Day Telephone House 373 Factory 543

E. C. Killingsworth FUNERAL DIRECTOR Open Day and Night

Phone 3971

LOUIS SANDY

GORDON MILLS Habit Materials and Veilings SPECIALLY PRODUCED FOR

THE USE OF RELIGIOUS COMMUNITIES BLACK, WHITE, AND COLOURED SERGES and CLOTHS, VEILINGS

CASHMERES, ETC.

Stocked in a large variety of widths and qualities Samples forwarded on application LOUIS SANDY Gordon Mills, STAFFORD, ENGLAND Telegrams – Luisandi, Stafford. 'Phone No. 104

in the Country of Jesus By MATILDA SERAO

A very charming account of travel and worship in the Holy Land by a writer of the first rank, recording the impressions of a devout and truly poetic mind. Postpaid 90c Gatholic Record

LONDON, ONT. 87 YONGE ST., TORONTO

Phone Main 4030 пеппеѕѕеу

PERFUMES

CHURCH CHURCH

CUT FLOWERS

to Cincinnati Bell Fo

ARE CATHOLICS CARELESS?

In numbers, says an American Catholic contemporary, we Catholics far exceed all other religious bodies together; yet no Christians are persecuted so much and as constantly as we are. Nor is the persecution restricted to governments that are un-Catholic; on the contrary, the flercest persecution, as in Italy, Mexico, France, etc. . . often comes from countries and governments that are Catholic in name at least, and in which Protestantism has succeeded in gaining no effectual

The most obvious inference from all this is that Catholics are to a large extent indifferent as to what befalls them, or perhaps, more truly speaking, vast numbers of them have grown indifferent to their 'Faith. It must be so; otherwise they would never submit to the restrictions put upon the practice of their worship; to the wholesale seizure of ecclesiastical property; to the expulsion of bands of innocent monks and nuns, or to the constant interference of the State with the Church's prerogatives. Catholics are supine; and if their increasing troubles serve to arouse them from their lethargy into active practical life, they may thank God for the merciful affection with which He has been pleased to visit His lukewarm people. Protestants are not supposed to be as earnest and self-sacrificing in their faith as we Catholics. They are, however, infinitely more worldly wise in their regard for the beliefs that they profess; and beyond question they are far more sturdy in defense of their rights and active in the propagation of their interests. So, too,

It is all very well to ascribe this activity and public spirit of non-Catholics to pure worldliness. It is greatly to be regretted that Catholics have not a large share of worldliness. It would interfere but little with Almighty God or to the clergy. God expects much of us. Religion is not mission of the Church Militant—to weaken in his or her faith, but we preach, to teach, and to convert the people to God. Our missioners and saints, the body of the clergy and the nuns, do wonders in this work; and we continue to allow them to do wonders. We don't set our shoulders to the wheel in the practical manner Among them very many have a personal interest in each church and a personal work in it. With us too often the priest slaves, year in, year out, almost alone. We go to Mass and put our pennies or our nickles

We are reluctant to engage in the work of the Sunday-school; reluctant to join the sodalities and other associations for pious and charitable purposes, and for the improvement of the young; reluctant to make a of the parents is a Catholic, little sacrifice for God's service. The priest is there, and it is the priest's business to do all this; to say Mass, to preach, to baptize, to attend the sick, to bury the dead, to hear confessions, to build the church and the school, to organize the choir—in short, to do everything connected, however remotely, with the public worship and service of God. And this is the Catholicity that is to convert the world! This is the spirit that we see and know among ourselves. We may be sure that the same spirit of spiritual inertia in other lands has culminated in the encroachments by the State on the spiritual domain and spiritual rights.

At last Catholics have awakened in European lands to the sense that the care of their souls and of the souls of their children has just as severe and practical demands on their activity and intelligence as the care of their bodies; that religion is not merely an affair of priests and nuns but equally of all Christians; not a mere matter of prayer, but of constant work and human activity. When Catholics everywhere are fully roused to this sense, persecutions will soon diminish, if they do not cease; but Catholics will be too strong and united for persecution; and probably they will not need them as chastisements or as stimulants.—The Sentinel of the

MIXED MARRIAGES

Of all the laws the Church has made concerning Matrimony, the one for which a dispensation is most frequently requested is that gener-ally known as "Mixed Marriages." ally known as "Mixed Marriages."
Today, we shall devote a few minutes to considering: What is a mixed marriage; the conditions under which a dispensation is granted, and why the Church does not like them.

Of the church bells at the hours consecrated to the prayer, the will still be maintained by the earnest Catholic, though the time may vary according to circumstances of duty and place.

WHAT IS A MIXED MARRIAGE

For all practical purposes a mixed marriage may be described as, one between a Catholic and non-Catholic. between a Catholic and an unbaptized non-Catholic, entered into withtized non-Catholic, entered into without a previous dispensation, that is, without the permission of the Church, is null and void. A marriage contracted between a Catholic and a baptized non-Catholic, entered into without the permission of the Church, though valid, is sinful.

CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH A DISPEN-SATION IS GRANTED

For weighty reasons, the Church grants dispensations for mixed mar-riages. The conditions are: The Catholic party must be granted the free exercise of religion; all children granted by God to the alliance must be reared as Catholics, even if the Catholic party dies first; there must be no other ceremony; the Catholic party must use every prudent means for the conversion of his or her partner. When these promises are made, it is thought that the evils attending these contracts, if not prevented, are at least diminished. It is only after these preliminaries that the marriage is permitted, but to further show her disapproval, the Church forbids the wedding in the Church, and strips it of all the cere-mony which she glodly ellows mony which she gladly allows when two of her own children join hands and hearts.

WHY THE CHURCH DISLIKES MIXED MARRIAGES

The Church clearly states in her sixth precept that Catholics are not to enter into such marriages. This is not new legislation. It has existed in the Mother Church since the beginning of her history, and we read even in the old law, the most solemn and uncomprising prohibition to the Jew to intermarry with unbelievers, "Thou shalt not make marriage with them : thou shalt not give thy daughter to his son, nor take his daughter for thy son." If the Scriptures, the Church, the Popes, forbid such marriages, what is the reason? Is it because we consider the non Catholic socially, financially, intellectually undesirable? No these matters the Church has noth ing directly to do. The reasons why their devotions while at the same time it would make the paths of faith, much easier for countless the faith of the Catholic party, and thousands. Catholics are apt to the danger to the faith of the chil-leave sltogether too much to dren. We are willing to admit that in every parish there are Catholics an affair of mere sentiment, but of practical life. The greatest work to whose parents are of different faiths, be accomplished in the world is its conversion. That is the chief and not the rule.

It takes but little experience to prove that the faith of the Catholic party to a mixed marriage in many he wheel in the practical manner our non-Catholic brethren. fore marriage were very faithful to their duties, but after some few years become very dilatory.

An American Bishop stated in a public sermon that out of 450 cases of mixed marriages which had come under his immediate observation, 400 on the plate, come away, and are had proved fatal to the faith. A canvass made by a non-Catholic organization, in a large American city, shows that in families in which both parents are Catholics, 8% of the young men do not attend church, while in families in which only one of the young men are not church members. To prove that such marriages are dangerous to the faith, one needs but to observe.

ALL CATHOLICS MUST MARRY IN THE PRESENCE OF PRIEST

Before leaving the discussion of matrimonial impediments, it is well to recall that the Church requires Catholics to be married in the presence of the priest. A ceremony at the City Hall, merely civil, is valid before the law, but effects no religious bond. If either or both of the contracting parties is Catholic and non Catholic preacher or minister officiates, while legally valid, it creates no religious tie, and the Catholic is excommunicated. While living in this condition, the Catholic cannot receive the Sacraments. The only solution while cohabiting, is a revalidation of the marriage before a priest.—The Tablet.

FILIAL LOVE IN PRAYER

It will be a pity and a real spiritual loss if the Catholic people ever grow careless in the long sanctioned and beautifully devotional recital of the Angelus. Morning, noon and night, for long centuries, the salutation of her children has been wafted from earth to heaven to our Blessed Mother.

It has become in private Catholic It has become in private Catholic life just such an expression of Catholic loyalty as adherence to the Friday fast has long been in the public acts of religion. Made more difficult now by the complexities of city life and by the failure to hear and to identify the devotional tones of the church bells at the hours consecrated to the prayer, the

Like so many of the pious prac-ices of our religion, this moment of personal greeting to our Blessed Mother cannot but redound to the

WHEN USING WILSON'S CAREFULLY AND FOLLOW THEM EXACTLY Best of all Fly Killers 10c per Packet at all Druggists, Grocers and General Stores

mother, doubly justified from a child of earth to the heavenly Mother.—Catholic Standard and

THE STATE AND THE FAMILY

The family is far from being completely subject to the State. Indeed, its right to exist and to function is superior to that of the at least, in degree. As Pope

Leo XIII. expresses it:

"Inasmuch as the domestic household is antecedent, as well in idea as in fact, to the gathering if men into a community, the family must necessarily have rights and duties which are prior to those of the community, and founded more immediately in nature." (Encycli-cal on the Condition of Labor, par.

The rights of the family are State because the family are superior in degree to those of the State because the family is more necessary than the State to human welfare. And human welfare is the end to which both the family and the State are means. Therefore, human welfare determines fore, human welfare determines the necessity and scope and limits of both the family and the State. It is conceivable that a family, or a group of families, could get along in some fashion without political organization. No State could survive for any great length of time, if men and women were not organized into families. If we had to choose between the abolition of the State and the abolition of the family, we should accept the latter alternative, since it would be, in the long run, less destructive of human welfare.

The contention, then, that the civil government should at its option intrude into and exercise intimate control over the family and the household, is a great and pernicious error." (Op. cit., par. 16.) While Pope Leo XIII. thus condemns the indefinite intrusion of the State into family affairs, he does not exclude a reasonable amount of governmental intervention in that province. He declares that State may step in either to aid a family which is in hopeless distress, or to protect the rights of some members of the family against encroachment by other members.
"But," continues the Pope,
"rulers of the State must go no further: here nature bids them stop."

The State comes into contact with the family in three principal relations: As regards the marriage contract, the rearing and education of children, and the general attitude toward the family in contradistinction to the individual. The marriage contract was raised by Christ to the dignity of a sacrament. Therefore, all its essential elements and conditions are properly under the control ly under the control, not of the destruction of the State itself. State, but of the Church. This On the same general princip refers marriages baptized persons; for according to canon law these, and only these, are subject to the spiritual jurisdiction of the Church. Hence the State has no right to nullify such marriages, either by preventive legislation, or by divorce legisla-tion. In other words, it has not the moral authority to institute impediments which attempt to render a marriage of baptized persons invalid, nor to grant an absolute divorce to such persons. It exceeds its power when, for example, it prohibits as invalid a marriage between two persons of different race, or between persons below the age of legal majority, yet above the age of puberty. Only the Church has authority to create diriment or nullifying impediments to the marriage of baptized persons, and it has not taken such action with regard to marriages just specified. Christ made marriage absolutely indissoluble in the new dispensation; hence the State has no right to grant divorce.

The only authority which the State possesses over the marriages of baptized persons relates to what the canonists call the civil effects; f or example, the registration of the marriage and the legal legitimacy of the children. To the objection that the State needs to exercise the power of declaring marriages null beforehand which tend to the injury of society, such, for instance, as unions between those afflicted with certain diseases, the reply is that the Church is quite as much interbetween a Catholic and non-Catholic. When the non-Catholic is baptized we call it a case of mixed religion. When the non-Catholic is not even baptized we refer to it as a case of disparity of cult." In the eyes of the Church a marriage contracted on the Church a marriage contracted on the contracted of the church is quite as much intersuch the Church a marriage contracted morning, noon and night, renew in between a Catholic and an unbap- words of hallowed significance the closely related, and by other impediments. As long as the church has not prohibited as invalid marriages of people afflicted with certain disease and other so-called "unfit" persons, the called "unfit" persons, the presumption is that human welfare is on the whole, better promoted through such marriages than through their prohibition. That the Church is not indifferent to the social and civil aspects of the marriage contract is further shown by the fact that it regards as illicit all matrimonial unions which are prohibited by the civil law on account of the legal relationship arising from adoption. As a general rule, the authorities of the Church discourage those matri-monial unions which are prohibited by the civil law, but they do not admit that such marriages are rendered invalid by the mere fact of civil prohibition.

The State has, indeed, the right to establish even nullifying impediments to the marriages of persons who are unbaptized. Cf. Petrovits, The New Church Law on Matrimony," pp. 4, 5.) That is to say, the State has the authority to recognize, apply, and determine those diriment impediments which are contained in the moral law of nature. However, this power has no practical value in the great majority of States today, inasmuch as none of these is likely to enact marriage legislation applying to only one class of its citizen

The second important relation of the State to the family concerns the rearing and education of the children. Both ecclesiastical and natural law declare that the child belongs not to the State but to the parents. This is in the interest not only of the children and the family, but of the community. The welfare of the child and the welfare of all the citizens are much better promoted through family than through State care of the children. Therefore, the parents have the right and the duty of providing for all the needs of the children and determining their training for all the departments of their adult life. The State has no right to require that any group of children be fitted for any particular avocation, or that they attend any particular kind of school. In the words of the Pastoral Letter of the American

Hierarchy (February, 1920:

"The parent has both the right and the duty to educate his children; and he has both, not by any concession from an earthly power, but in virtue of a Division of the concession from the concession f but in virtue of a Divine ordinance. Parenthood, because it means cooperation with God's design for the perpetuation of human kind, involves responsibility, and there-fore implies a corresponding right to prepare for complete living the whom the parent brings into the

In the interest of both the child himself and of the common welfare, the State may, indeed, require the parents to give their offspring a certain reasonable minimum of education. To quote again the words of the "Pastoral Letter":

"The State has a right to insist that its citizens shall be educated. It should encourage among people such a love of learning that will take the initiative and, without constraint, provide for the education of their children. Should they through negligence or lack of means fail to do so, the State has the right to establish schools and take every other legitimate means to safeguard its vital interests against the dangers that result from ignorance. In particular, it has both the right and the duty to

On the same general principle of individual and social welfare, the State may provide, so far necessary, for the support of the necessary, for the support of the children or other members of a family who cannot be sufficiently cared for by their natural protectors and providers. In the absence of adequate care by private charitable effort, the State may extend relief of various kinds to families in distress. A good example of this intervention is found in the Mothers' Pension Laws enacted by many of our common-wealths. This and many other wealths. This and many other forms of State assistance are in harmony with the principal, noted above, laid down by Pope Leo XIII. On the other hand, such general proposals as State endowment of motherhood are absolutely contrary to correct principles of family and social welfare. Governmental intervention in the economic life of the family should always be excep-

According to Catholic teaching, the family, not the individual, is the social unit and the basis of civil society. This is more than an empty logical distinction. Since the State could not long exist and cannot carry on its work effectively without the family, families are necessarily the cells of the social and political organism. Individuals as such cannot perpetuate the State. Therefore, the State should

College and Academy of St. Joseph ST. ALBAN STREET, TORONTO

Residential and Day School for Young Ladies and Little Girls St. Joseph's College is Affiliated to the University of Toronto Through the Federated College of St. Michael

- ST. JOSEPH'S CURRICULA: ollege Course of Four Years—Classical, Moderns, English and History, and General Courses ading to Degrees.
- giate Course (Upper, Middle, and Lower Schools), in which the pupils are prepared our and Pass Matriculation, for Entrance to Faculty of Education and Normal - School.

  3 -The Academic Course. In this course special attention is paid to Modern Languages, Music, Expression, Art, and Needlework. In this Department students are prepared for Music Examinations (Instrumental and Vocal) at the University of Toronto and the Toronto College of Music.

  4 -The Commercial Course (Affiliated to the Dominion Business College) prepares students for Commercial Certificates and for Diplomas in Stenography and Typewriting.

  5 -The Preparatory Course includes the usual Elementary Subjects, also French, Drawing, Plain Sewing, Physical Culture, and Singing.

For Prospectus, apply to THE MOTHER SUPERIOR.

Full Arts' Course. Also High School and Preparatory Departments.

Boarding and Day School. Ideal, healthful location. Fifty acres.

Beautiful new fireproof buildings.

REV. W. H. HINGSTON, S. J., Rector.

Assumption College

SANDWICH, ONT

AFFILIATED WITH WESTERN UNIVERSITY CONDUCTED BY THE BASILIAN FATHERS

Boarding School for Young Men and Boys

College Course leading to the degree of BACHELOR OF ARTS, and offering a complete foundation for the study of the professions, and especially designed for students preparing for the Priesthood.

High School Course fitting students for Matriculation into Amer-

Commercial Course equipping students for a business career. Preparatory Department for younger boys.

Good Staff; Good Buildings; Good Equipment; New Gymnasium; Swimming Pool; Running Track; Handball Alleys; Tennis Courts; Foot-ball and Baseball Grounds; Acres of Campus. Private Room accommodation for one hundred students.

The 52nd Year Begins Tuesday, Sept. 6th

For catalogue and particulars address:

REV. T. V. MOYLAN, C. S. B., Principal.

HAY FEVER, ASTHMA Catarrh and Chronic Bronchitis All surrendered their terrible effects upon the human bodies of no less than 10,000 Canadians by use of Buckley's 2 Bottle Treatment. Don's suffer one minute longer. Send to-day for tris

W. K. BUCKLEY, Limited, Mfg. Chemist 142A Mutual Street, Toronto, On .

Painting and Decorating

JOHN UYEN 39 Briscoe St., London, Ont. Phone 5763.

Ladies, Boys, and Girls! Take Advantage of This Exceptional Premium Offer

Ve have just received 100,000 beautiful religious pictures in mild delicate coloring, size 5x7 inches each, of the following subjects: The Sacred Heart of Jesus, the Immaculate Conception, the Holy Family, the Crucifixion, Our Lady of Perpetual Mount, the Guar dian Angel, the Good Shepherd, St. Joseph, Christ Knocking on the Door, Our Lord and St. John (Master, is it I), and St. Rita. These and St. Ruta. These pictures sell at the very low price of .05c. each, and sell quickly, as they are a real bargain. If you sell 40 of these pictures, we will give you as a premium, one beautiful pair of Rosary Beads, imported from France, imitation cut stone, Gold-Filled mounted, 18 inches long. Send in your order to the contract of the contract o immediately, as this supply will go quickly. Address all communications to

CATHOLIC SUPPLY COMPANY MONTREAL, P. Q. 46 ST. ALEXANDER STREET

$2.50 up, Single

600 Baths $4.50 up, Double

Agents Sample Rooms $5.00 per Day HEADQUARTERS IN DETROIT FOR Old Colony Club

Motion Picture Exhibitor's Association Detroit Transportation Club Table D'Hote Dinner $1.50 and $1.75 Business Men's Lunch 75c.

Detroit Automobile Club

Cafe A La Carte

Cafeteria Men's Grille

St. Joseph's Academy Lindsay, Ont.

Boarding School and Day School for Young Ladies

COURSES—Upper, Middle, Lower and Commercial Schools, Domestic Science, Art, Music.

Galendar on Application

Ursuline College "The Pines" Chatham, Ontario

Residential and Day School for Young Ladies and Little Girls. Beautiful situ-ation. New Buildings with all modern equipment. Twenty-acre campus. An ideal school.

Collegiate, Preparatory and Commercial Departments.

School of Music Affiliated with Toronto Conservatory

Write for Illustrated Prospectus to the REV. MOTHER SUPERIOR.

St. Joseph's Academy NORTH BAY, ONT.

Residential and Day School for Young Ladies and Little Girls

Middle, Lower and Commercial Schools Art and Music

Prospectus on Application

Windsor Businiss College

The Causgrove-Surby School WINDSOR, ONTARIO

Places hundreds in positions in Border Cities and Detroit. Write for Catalogue D.

Irish Orators and Oratory

Alfred Percival Graves, M. A. William Magennis, M. A. Douglas Hyde, LL.D. With an Introduction by Professor T. M. Kettle

SPEECHES BY

Edmund Burke (1780-1797) Henry Flood (1732-1791) Walter Hussey Burgh (1742-1788) Henry Grattan (1746-1820) John Philpot Curran (1750-1817) Richard Brinsley Sheridan (1751-1816)

Peter Burrowes, K.C. (1758-1841) John Sheares (1756-1798) Theobald Wolfe Tone (1768-1798)

William Conyngham Plunket (1764-1854) Thomas Goold (1766-1848) Daniel O'Connell (1775-1847) Robert Emmet (1778-1803) Richard Lalor Sheil (1791-1851) Isaac Butt (1812-1879) Thomas Francis Meagher

(1823 - 1867)The Rev. Mr. Cahill The Manchester Martyre A. M. Sullivan (1830-1884) Lord Russell of Killowen (1832 - 1900)Charles Stewart Parnell

(1846 - 1891)Michael Davitt (1846-1906) John E. Redmond (1851) Price $1.50

Postage 100. Extra The Catholic Record

LONDON, CANADA

Diabetes

JIREH FOOD CO., Brockville, Ont.

The Catholic Record

Price of subscription—$2.00 per annum. United States and Europe—$2.50. Publisher & Proprietor, Thomas Coffey, LL.D. Editors { Rev. James T. Foley, B.A. Thomas Coffey, LL. D.

Associate Editor – H. F. Mackintosh.

Manager – Robert M. Burns.
Address business letters to the Manager.
Advertisements for teachers, situations wantetic as course and insertion. Remittance accompany the order. Where Catholic course of the course of the course of the course and for address is required send lo cents to course of postage apon replies.
butturny and marriage notices cannot be certed except in the usual condensed form.
ch Insertion 50 cents.

Insertion 50 centrs.

The Oatholic Record has been approved and recommended by Archbishops Falconic and Sharetti, late Apostolic Delegates to Canada, the Archbishops of Toronto, Kingston, Ottawa, and St. Boniface, the Bishops of London, Hamilton, Peterborough and Ogdensburg, N. Y., and she clergy throughout the Domindon. In St. John N. B., single copies may be purchased from Mrs. M. A. McGuire, 249 Main St. and John J. Dwyer. n St. John N. B., single copies may be pur-sed from Mrs. M. A. MoGuire, 249 Main St. I John J. Dwyer. n Sydney, N. S., single copies may be pur-used at Murphy's Bookstore. n Montroal single copies may be purchased m J. Milloy, 241 St. Catherine St. West. n Ottawa, Ont., single copies may be pur-used from J. W. O'Brien, 141 Nicholas St. "he following agents are authorized to leive subscriptions and canvass for The tholic Record: Catholic Record:
Catholic Record:
General Agents—M. J. Hagarty, Stephen V. Janes, Vincent S. Cox. Resident Agents—Ms. Bride Banders, Sydney; E. R. Costello, 141 loth Ave. West, Vancouver, B. C.; Silas Johnson, 210 Rochester St., Ottawa: Mrs. Geo. E. Smith, 2263 Mance St., Montreal; Miss Anne Hogan, 37 Langside St., Winnipeg, Man.; Henry Baillargeon, Norbert Sylvestre.

LONDON, SATURDAY, Aug. 6, 1921

SHAMELESS DISHONESTY OR CRASS IGNORANCE

The Globe, July 25th, in an editorial on the Irish situation indulges in the childish game of putting up a straw de Valera and triumphantly knocking him out.

De Valera talks of Ireland and confines himself to Ireland.

The Globe sidesteps the question raised and talks of "the spirit in which the peoples of the Empire have banded themselves together' and other such evasion and claptrap. Altogether it is a sorry performance for a great newspaper.

We quote: "Had Celtic Ireland, instead of sulking for centuries, taken the view of Union that Scotsmen and Welshmen took, the 'Celtic fringe would doubtless be even more evidence than it is in places of authority.'

This, if it means anything at all, assumes that Ireland has been governed as Scotland and Wales have been governed, and that Ireland's discontent is Ireland's own fault. It is rather a common argument with many people who would warmly resent the imputation of ignorance. Nevertheless ignorance, crass ignorance or shameless dishonesty is the only excuse for such an argument.

We shall give two or three quotations from authorities whose competence will hardly be disputed even by the ill-natured writer of the Globe editorial.

J. H. Morgan, Professor of Constitutional Law in University College, London, is the author of an article entitled "How Ireland is Governed" in The Nineteenth Century and After, September, 1918. As a text at the head of this article he has this:

Debates on the Union Bill, 1800.

Crimes Act, which enables him at others who repudiate his authority the Treasury is already responsible any moment to substitute summary with some vigour, but over whom for more departments than it can jurisdiction for trial by jury in he can exercise an intermittent effectively answer for in the House cases of riot, conspiracy, intimida- control by advising the Lord Lieu- of Commons. . .' tion, and unlawful assembly. Her tenant in framing rules for them, local authorities have no control and by putting a spoke in their in substantial agreement with the over either education or police, and wheel with the Treasury in the case demand of Professor de Valera: are under no obligation to compel of such Estimates as they have to attendance at public elementary submit. . . .

impossible to know what the Gov- eight different departments in ernment of Ireland really was; but Ireland, conducting their work on evidence taken by a Royal Com- basing its grants on inspection, mittee, which, for the first time, local support. . . . present something like a complete Crown Colonies, with which indeed | that of the Inspector-General. . it possesses many features of ties. .

"The Chief Secretary is a Prime Minister without colleagues, though

he is by no means without rivals,

for there are many departments who dispute his pre-eminence and repudiate his responsibility. He is not, strictly speaking, Chief Secretary for Ireland, but Chief Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and the proper medium for communications between the Crown and the Lord Lieutenant is the Home Secretary, who, we may therefore presume, will, on the dissappearance of the Chief Secretary when the Government of Ireland Bill becomes law, be the Minister responsible for Irish affairs in the House of Commons. At present that responsibility is discharged by the Chief Secretary. The responsibility is enormous, for although only ten of forty-five departments are under the full control of the Lord Lieutenant, he has to answer in the House of Commons for the whole of them, with the exception "It leaves us every appendage of of twelve which are merely a kingdom except what constitutes the essence of independence, a resitive essence of independence, a resitive essence of independence, a resitive essence of independence of i this stupendous task is that success of a policy which takes a Professor Morgan then goes on: derived from the Vice-President of people into partnership. . . "Time has accentuated rather the Department of Agriculture and "Such, in brief outline, is the than attenuated the administra- Technical Instruction, who alone system. We are familiar with tive separation since the Union, among Irish officials (with the Boards and Commissioners in Engwith the single exception of the Act exception of the law officers, who land-we have our Board of Trade s of 1817, which amalgamated the have not sat for some time) has or and our National Debt Comtwo Exchequers. Successive stat- can have a seat in the House of missioners, to name but two of the utes of the Imperial Parliament in Commons. From time to time most fanciful of them all—but their the nineteenth century have created suggestions have been made in the collective character deceives no one, one department after another until House of Commons that he should and the principle of Parliamentary their total number reaches, to quote be assisted by Parliamentary responsibility is so well established Mr. Birrell, 'at least forty-five.' colleagues, but they have come to that they never meet. But in Ire-Some have put it as high as sixty. naught, and Mr. Forster, while land these Boards-Prison Board, Ireland has her own Viceroy, enjoy- welcoming the suggestion, des- Intermediate Educational Board, MR. HOCKEN, M. P., AND THE ing prerogatives which are denied paired of successfully delimiting Commissioners of Public Works, to the Governors of the greatest of the responsibilities of the Chief Commissioners of National Educaour Colonies, her own Privy Council, Secretary. 'The Irish offices,' he tion, and all the rest-represent a her own Lord Chancellor. She has pleaded, 'are so entwined one with real distribution of power and a her own Courts, from which no the other that I do not see how a corresponding diminution, amountappeal lies to the House of Lords man in any position is to get rid of ing to a concealment, of responsibilin such cases affecting the execu- the responsibility of being con- ity. Only in one case—the Board tive as Mandamus, Quo Warranto, cerned, more or less, with them of the Department of Agriculture—schools; and the dignified yet priests, the finest and most gifted is the Niobe of the nations, our school or facing his first struggle and Certiorari. She has her own all.' He has ten departments com- do they represent an element of crushing reply of the Archbishop statute law and her own law of pletely under his control, he has popular control and of Minis- of Toronto. Up to the time of And for what enterprise? That in which surely Canadian Catholics marriage. Even the liberty of the three others partially under his terial responsibility. They are consubject is governed by a separate control; there are three of which trolled neither by the Irish Govern- Hocken, M. P., who has been prodi-Habeas Corpus Act, conferring he is ex-officio head, not as Chief ment nor by the English Governupon the Viceroy the power to pro- Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant ment. The Treasury may obstruct claim its suspension, and by a but by statute; there are five them, but it cannot rule them, and silence with regard to the Arch-throes of a World-War, and wise public meeting without a police- the constitution of these different the Lord Lieutenancy to place Irish ferred specific charges against "the of 'The Castle' in the preparation men set to do the work of one, as the administration of Ireland with on Mr. Hocken. This fearless the only things that matter." of that 'complete modern history Lord Morley once put it, commist the general administration of the champion of civil and religious of Ireland' upon which successive sions of twelve or even twenty United Kingdom.' It is surely liberty, of justice and equity and generations of officials are always unpaid gentlemen, enjoying a life obvious that the only logical course right, is silent.

engaged, weaving like the workers | tenure, and administering the is to complete this administrative land registry which will be a com- representative Boards whose con- it to order." plete Domesday Book of all the tenan-stitution suggests a faint adumcies in Ireland. She has an execu- bration of the principle of popular tive which reminds one of nothing representation, all disposing of ing" Irishman: so much as Burke's description of a relatively vast sums of money and famous ministry of compromise-a conducting Irish affairs with tessellated mosaic of every con- almost paternal power, as if the ceivable hue and pattern-Boards whole people were still in statu and Commissions which, officially, pupillari. No logical principle are hardly on speaking terms with seems to govern the distribution of one another, which appear to meet their work. Education, which in when they please and do what they | England is in the hands of a single like. Until quite lately it was department, is distributed among we have now two official volumes of entirely different principles, on mission and a Select Com- another on examination, a third on

"There is, however, one group of survey of Irish administration, and departments over which the Chief incidentally throw a most vivid Secretary's control is supreme and light upon the social condition of undisputed-the departments con-Ireland. With these, and the aid cerned with the maintenance of material, it is possible to recon- Petty Sessions Clerks and Resident struct a picture of what is the most | Magistrates. Here, indeed, he has highly centralized, the most pater- authority and can say to everyone with the exception of India and the appointed without his sanction or

and the anomalies attaching to it popular representation by the are largely due to the transforma- provisions made in the case of the tion effected in it by the Act of most modern of them, the Depart-Union. He is a Minister, a mem- ment of Agriculture and Technical ber of the Ministry of the day, Instruction, for giving a place carrying out a particular policy, upon it to representatives of the and yet he cannot be proceeded County Councils. Together with against in the Courts for any of the Congested Districts Board, his official acts; he is, in fact, in- which in a more limited sense is vested with quasi-regal immuni- also representative, it is by far the most hopeful experiment that has yet been made in Irish administration, and the department is distinguished by having its own Parliamentary Minister. Upon its Council every County Council in Ireland is represented, and it has made a new departure in Education in Ireland by recognizing the right of local authorities to have from his own experience, which is some voice in public instruction. Irish farmer instruction in the technique of his craft; teaching him the use of feeding-stuffs, be honestly put in the same class fertilisers and potato-spray, the arts of butter-making, dairying, horticulture, and poultry-farming. It has given new life to the lost industry of Irish fisheries by providing the fishermen of the West Coast with boats and nets and tackle on loan, and with such success that it has 'the smallest percentage of bad debts that almost anything can show in by devils, written in human blood Ireland.' This is high praise, for and registered in hell.' the good faith of the purchase-of the Gobelin tapestry a picture education of the whole country differentiation by annexing to it an thirty years legalized robbery of Fogarty, strong in the sense of inculcation of virtues essential to which they never see. She has a down to its minutest detail, semi- Irish legislature which shall reduce Separate School taxes in Toronto Divine direction, and of the provi- good character. The Scout Move-

"It is too late to return to the drastic proposals of Lord John

> Here is another authority not of "centuries" ago; nor is he a "sulk-Addressing his constituents on June 17 1885, Joseph Chamberlain said : "Is it not discreditable to us that tional means that we are able to secure peace and order in one of her Majesty's Dominions? "I do not believe that the great majority of Englishmen have the slightest conception of the system attemps to rule the sister country. sequence of his rashness. It is a system which is founded on cratic as that with which Russia of the Law Reports, the Parlia- law and order, the police, the governs Poland, or as that which mentary Debates, and some other prisons, the Crown Solicitors, the prevailed in Venice under the this moment cannot move a stephe cannot lift a finger in any nal, and the most bureaucratic Come, and he cometh; Go, and he parochial, municipal, or educational government in the British Empire goeth! Not a constable can be work without being confronted with, interfered with, controlled by, Toronto he will have to confine him-went to Ireland by way of New an English official, appointed by a "Outside this circle of Castle foreign Government."

departments stands a concentric The third witness we shall everything he would welcome the been running on China met Father "The legal position of the Lord circle of departments whose peri- summon is Lord Morley. He is opportunity. But, alas, he knows Fraser. From that moment, re-Lieutenant is a very peculiar one, phery fades into something like speaking in the House of Lords,

> "I submit this to your Lordships," said this statesman of thirty years' Irish experience and fifty years' thinking on Ireland. 'I have no desire to figure as an oracle of political wisdom, but there is nothing worse in the whole range of the political system than irresponsible power. Any one who has thought at all about these things in theory or observed them in practice will cheerfully admit that. The whole administrative system of Ireland is sealed, stamped and branded with irresponsibility from top to bottom, and my noble friend Lord Crewe did not go a bit too far when he said, speaking very much mine, that it was really It has brought to the doors of the Crown Colony Government masked and disguised.'

> > Ireland, Scotland and Wales can of "equal partners" only by those who are totally ignorant of Irish history

"Sulking for centuries!" Well, the Union is not yet a century and a quarter in existence. If we pluralize at all we are plunged into the days of the Penal laws, "that hor-

Yet Irishmen "sulked;" it is a annuitants under the Land Acts bare half century since the infam-The only assistance he receives in magic of ownership and the Church were abolished at a cost to "sulking" Irish Catholics of over $60,000,000. The stolen Irish rible code [which] was conceived churches are still retained. It is not a century, not a decade since "the great betrayal" when and of the vigor and determination their efforts one generation may historic association or to investiconstitutionalism in Ireland was killed forever. To pander to ignorance and prethe great newspaper; yet it is prenewspapers too often descend.

ARCHBISHOP OF TORONTO reckless misrepresentation of the land in an extraordinary manner. foolish ones of the world does He Catholic request for an equitable We awoke one morning to find at choose to confound the wise; and admirable variety a splendid prodistribution of corporation taxes our door the strangest sight im- the little one He seems to have gram of endeavor for every normal between Public and Separate aginable—a band of young Irish chosen for the conversion of China boy. Whether he be rich or poor, in gal of his charges against "the millions of far-off China." "We bishops," has maintained a discreet were," adds Dr. Cleary, "in the bishop's answer.

Professor Morgan's conclusion is ous Richard Bagot with the school of battle and the rattle of artillery. question in a letter to The Globe.

has not attempted to reply.

silent; he would be eloquent.

But eloquent as the ex-Mayor of now is still more eloquent.

and forgot to drag in the Spanish encamped permanently as in a raised by himself. He cannot hope reaped for God in China. hostile country. It is a system as to draw His Grace into a discussion completely centralized and bureau- "de omni re scibili et de quibusdam aliis."

Toronto's half million readers of that the intelligence and sense of fair play of Toronto will insist that he stick to the issues he himself has raised.

So Mr. Hocken, M. P. lacking a Twelfth of July audience defaults. viewed the bishops in regard to He will not answer Archbishop McNeil for the simple but sufficient reason that he cannot do so. Valorous but discreet Hocken!

"BOY LIFE"

all who are interested in boys, a curious dispensation of Proviwill find our "Boy Life" column a dence that student was to become source of information and inspir- associated with Father Galvin in ation. It will be above all things the foundation of the Maynooth practical as it is written by one Mission to China. Thus, in a twowho has had thirty highly success- fold sense, Father Fraser may be that he is personally responsible ful years of practical experience in called its real founder. dealing with boys.

No more important subject can engage the attention of intelligent Catholics no matter what be their station in life: but to those who are interested in education-in the full meaning of that term-" Boy Life" will be an aid invaluable and inspirational.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

members.

"WHILE WE lay as it were whole being to present to the Lord entering to engage that mind in buried in sleep," wrote the Most these four hundred millions whom wholesome thought. On page one of this issue of THE Rev. Dr. Fogarty in 1917, "the He loves but who knew Him not? RECORD we reproduce Mr. Hocken's Spirit of God has passed over Ire- Strange are the ways of God; the we had, begging for assistance. own little Ireland "-an aspiration with the industrial or commercial going to press the valorous Mr. they might be allowed to go and may join for themselves as well as preach the Gospel to the heathen for Ireland with full hearts! men shook their heads and pitied Replying to another correspond- the few poor enthusiasts who in ent Mr. Hocken has since mixed up the folly of youth hoped to make the Pope, the War, and the notori- their appeals heard above the din But others who saw with the eyes But to the Archbishop's letter he of faith, and who knew something the betterment of the Canadian where many other worthy efforts of the world's history, believed that The issue is clear; it was raised it was just such a time, when men purpose, this movement aims to busy. The Scout never loses spirit schools. She can hardly hold a "When we come to inquire into Russell in 1850 and by abolishing by Mr. Hocken, himself. He pre- were sick of the catch-cries of develop self-reliance, initiative, for want of something interesting humanitarianism and civilization, resourcefulness and the spirit of to do. Troops do not disband man being present to write up departments we shall find an amaz- affairs in the hands of a Secretary bishops." A bishop has answered that God might choose to turn a report of it for the information ing hierarchy—Boards of three of State so as to 'mix and confound these charges, and turned the tables men's thoughts once more towards ship in a scout troop and active Under intelligent interpretation least as Ireland is concerned. For broadening of his interests, the ests of aspiring young scouts.

If he could deny the charge of the little band described by Bishop formation of good habits and the ex-Mayor Hocken would not be dential mission of their race, have ment appreciates and understands Toronto would have been if he did become an accomplished fact; some are met and satisfied by a program not feel shamefacedly guilty of three score young men have dedi- of activities so varied and so broad that very thing which he falsely cated themselves and their lives to that the true scout is always movimputed to the bishops, his silence the work; a college for the training forward, becoming keener in He rushed in where prudent and is already on an assured foot- deduction and growing stronger as even now it is only by unconstitu- Orangemen fear to tread. He tied ing; the active sympathy and desirable habits are woven permahimself down to specific charges support of the Irish people has been nently into his character. enlisted; a distinct Irish district Inquisition, the Bishop of Cork, the (Han-Yang, in the very "heart of Devil, the Kaiser, the Pope, the the heart of China", has been War and the parallax of the moon. allotted by the Holy See; and a appeal to the boy. Scouting makes As we have noted he has made a score of Irish missionaries are a boy eager to learn. The Scout's under which this free nation childish attempt to repair the con- already on the ground. These recreation is the Scout's education. surely may be regarded as so many But he is bound in honor and evidences of Divine approval, and solution of the much-discussed boy

IT WILL be of especial interest to readers of the CATHOLIC RECORD and to Canadian Catholics generally to the public press are, in great major- know that it was to our own Father Austrian rule. An Irishman at ity, of quite a different type from Fraser that the first impulse of the Mr. Hocken's 12th of July audi- Irish mission was due. Space forences. Of this Mr. Hocken is pain- bids us to reproduce what Dr. fully aware. He knows that in a Cleary has to say in this score. We controversy with the Archbishop of can but summarize it. The impulse self to the questions in issue. If he York, where a young Irish priest, could only rant about anything and Father Galvin, whose thoughts had lates Dr. Cleary, Father Galvin knew instinctively his fate was sealed. This was in the summer of 1911. Later in the same year Father Fraser visited Ireland, interhis work in China, and lectured on the same subject at Maynooth. The lecture, though he had little reason to suspect it, had a far-reaching effect. For among his hearers was a young divinity student in whose heart he Fathers, teachers, pastors, and struck a responsive chord; and by > cannot do better than reproduce tying,-a useful accomplishment, the concluding paragraph of Dr. oftentimes indispensable in an Cleary's pamphlet:

BOY LIFE SCOUTING

ITS SIGNIFICANCE

The Boy Scouts of Canada represent a nation-wide movement for tions for boys. Scouting succeeds boy. Educational in its spirit and fail, for Scouting keeps scouts service in growing boys. Member- because membership is irksome. participation in the attractive and application the activities of the scout program bring to the boy scout program do not fail to AND so it has proved, so far at opportunity for clear thinking, a develop and to maintain the inter-already achieved what men said the sentiments and interests which was impossible. The mission has belong to the boy. These interests ing of missionaries has been opened his capacity for observation and

The genius of scouting lies in its Scouting has proven an excellent the bayonets of 30,000 soldiers decency to stick to the question harbingers of a great harvest to be problem. The activities which every normal boy craves are utilized in scouting for the making of a sturdy and manly boyhood, the brightest promise of an honorable and loyal citizenship. Yet scouting is not play. Scouting is a serious work. Scouting awakens a sense of personal responsibility and stirs up in heart and mind the spirit of earnest devotion to duty. The Scout promises on his honor to do his duty to God and to his country, to obey the scout law, to help other people at all times and to keep himself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight. The scout is trustworthy, loval, helpful. friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, brave, clean and reverent.

> "Be Prepared," is the scout motto. For what? "For a Good Turn daily and for every emergency," is the answer. Parents, teachers, leaders of boys have begun to see the movement in its clear light. They are recognizing in scouting a distinct contribution to the happiness and welfare of the boy of today and to the community and civic prosperity of tomorrow.

THE VARIETY OF ACTIVITIES

The Scout is always busy learning to do things for himself. On the day of application for admission to the troop, he is made to realize for his own progress. When he has learned the scout promise and FOR THE rest we feel that we the scout law, he is taught knot emergency. The lessons in sig-"At the present moment an nalling call for quick mind and opportunity presents itself to the a clear eye. First aid, skill in Irish nation of emulating those bandaging, and artificial respiraglorious days when she sent forth tion, make him self-reliant in a her Columbanus, and her Columb- crisis. The Scout's constant field cille, her Gall and her Virgilius, of operations is the great out-of-THE IRISH Mission to China, or the and her thousand valiant sons to doors. Tracking, pacing, kindling Maynooth Mission" as it is spread the name of the Lord a fire in the open, bring him into officially termed, becomes, as it through the heathendom of Europe. close contact with the wonders of steadily rounds into shape, one of Four hundred millions of souls are nature and develop in him power to the most remarkable religious crying across the world to the little care for himself when denied the manifestations of this generation. isle in the western sea to come and comforts and supports of modern In issuing a series of pamphlets on bring them a knowledge of the city life. Scouting directs the boy's missions generally the Catholic God who died in vain for their enthusiasm into channels of healthy Truth Society of Ireland devotes fathers. They have lost their own enjoyment. The hikes with his the latest to China, in which the faiths and are groping for a new. fellows always have a definite author, Rev. Patrick Cleary, D. D., Those thirty thousand Protestant objective. He goes out under comgives an interesting and inspiring missionaries who have spread petent and interested leadership to account of the Progress already through the land have grasped the study some great industrial plant, made by this Maynooth enterprise, significance of the fact, and through to visit a spot hallowed with with which the Irish people, despite see China lost forever to the Cath- gate some engaging problem in the the present disturbed state of the olic Church. Would it not be a sad life of the woods. The Scout loves country, have thrown themselves thing if such a calamity should Nature and studies her beauties at judice is not the high function of into it. As Dr. Cleary informs us occur? And would it not be a close range. The birds, the flowers, the League which has undertaken grand thing if our little isle, as a the trees, and how to save themcisely that to which many great to support the hands of the mission- thanksgiving to the Lord for hav- these activities establish permanent aries already numbers some 80,000 ing left us the Faith when the interests outside of self. Scouting mighty nations of the earth have has countless keys with which to fallen, should set herself with her seek entrance to the boys' mind and

THE PURPOSE

Scout activities constitute in their world. Scout activities offer him definite aims and positive purposes which hold his interests fast. These activities are almost beyond counting. Yet there is no confusion in their arrangement and presentation. Each has a purpose, clear and definite, with its peculiar appeal to the young mind.

The program of scout training meets a need vital to all organiza-

The city boy stands in special need of the strong appeal of the Scout Program. His life in our cities relieves him of many home obligations and responsibilities which are accepted every day by the boy on the farm. Conveniences of modern living develop a receptive frame of mind and make for selfish habits in the young. The city boy has few urgent calls for home service. On the contrary, he is quite accustomed to be served. A boy scout, however, must do a Good Turn daily. The Scout Law reminds him of this responsibility. Membership in his troop is a call to loyalty to its standards. His eyes are opened to the countless things he ought to do in spirit of service royal party on their arrival at for those at home. The little Dun Laoraige (formerly Kingstown.) for those at home. The little household tasks take on a new importance. They are part of scouting and they have a meaning. A scout uniform has changed the attitude of many a city boy towards the little home duties which in themselves are seldom enjoyed.

Scouting places the city boy in the right relationship to the community in which he lives. Community service is an important scout activity. The scout is trained to a sense of civic responsibility. When the call comes he is prepared. If the mayor of the city calls the scout to welcome visitors to the city the scout is ready. The spirit of the program, awakens in the boy a sense of civic pride and keen ambition to make a worthy contribution to the progress of the community. Scouting trains for co-operative effort in all the good turns which better home and community life. With this platform and with this purpose, the scout receives solid and effective preparation for an intelligent, sympathetic and loyal citizenship.

WHO'S WHO IN IRISH PARLEY

DIVERSE BACKGROUND OF MEN WHO ARE TRYING TO FIND BASIS OF PEACE

By Kathleen M. O'Brennan Formerly Editor of a Dublin Newspaper N. Y. Times

As the eyes of the world were turned on President Wilson when he went to Versailles with his Fourteen Points, there were many of his friends who believed he would be outwitted by Lloyd George, so today Eamon de Valera, who, like Mr. Wilson, emerged from a pro-fessional chair to steer the ship of lish seats in Rutland, Sutherland State for his people to cross swords with the wily Welshman—the Premier of England. There is this difference, however—Mr. Wilson's Cabinet was selective. He was given supreme supreme and the control of the Unionist Women's given supreme power by his Cabinet, while Mr. de Valera's is elective, and whatever his controversy with Lloyd George, and no matter how secret the negotiations, he returns to his people for his mandate.

Ireland settle their differences in land. Ireland, and that there be a united and interested in keeping Belfast the financial captain of Ireland, he household for the principle of self-determination. This was the chief point involved when he invited Sir point involved when he invited Sir James Craig, representing the Northern Unionists, to meet him in the Irish capital, together with the Southern Unionists, at a continuous south of the boycett which the Day of the Bast Six months addressing the country in the name of that particular the particular than the pa and was not regarded by them as "packed" in advance. In consequence a feeling of hope prevails in Ireland; the long tension is relaxing, due chiefly to the great confidence of the people in their leader and his counselors.

leader and his counselors.

Lord Midleton, who took a leading part in bringing about the initial parleys, is the most prominent of the Southern Unionists. He is a large land owner in the south of Ireland, and has been bitterly opposed to the ruthless campaign of the "Black and Tans" in the country. He has strongly censured the British Government in both the House of Commons and the House of Lords. He has been actively co-operating with the Peace with Ireland League, started by Lord Henry Bentnick, Lord Buckmaster and others, to create a moral geons, a famous ear and throat specialist. As President of the Royal College of Surgeons when George V. visited Dublin, he was knighted for his services to

WEALTHY BUSINESS MAN

Sir Maurice Dockrell has sat as Unionist member for Dublin since A wealthy business man he has taken an active part in Unionist politics, and is a strong imperialist. He was knighted by King Edward in 1905 when he was President of the Port and Docks Board oraige (formerly Kingstown.) Lady Dockrell is as prominent as her husband in politics, making her voice heard at elections, and her presence felt on all committees of which she is a member.

Andrew Jameson, another leading business man, is a Magistrate and a director of the Bank of Ireland. He lives in a beautiful Dublin suburb, Sutton, and takes a deep interest in the agricultural and horticultural organizations in the country. Miss Sarah Harrison, the Irish portrait painter, is a sister of Mrs. Jameson. Unlike her con-servative relatives, she was a prominent suffragist and interested in ity.

Dublin's labor problem. She was first woman admitted to the Dublin Municipal Government when the women received the vote, and was presented with her robes of office by the women of Dublin. The broad views of Miss Harrison, and the democracy of her friends, might be seen on that occasion when among the guests at her home were Lady Lyttelton, the wife of the British Commander in Chief of the British Forces in Ireland, and James Larkin, the Dublin labor leader now serving a term in jail for labor activities in this country. It was activities in this country. It was of Miss Harrison that George Moore glibly remarked that as she painted his portrait, he found "she was putting her soul into his face," and fearing he might deceive the world, he had to remonstrate!

contrast to the Southern Unionists are the new members of Unionists are the new members of the recently established Ulster Parliament. These include Sir James Craig, Premier; the Marquis of Londonderry, Minister of Education; H. N. Pollock, Minister of Finance; A. M. Andrews, Minister of Labor, and A. E. Archdale, Minister of Agriculture.

Lord Londonderry is a Privy

Lord Londonderry is a Privy Councillor of Ireland. He is the most important man in the Orange party among the landowners of the North. He owns 50,400 acres of land. This is distributed between his places at Mount Stewart in County Down, Ireland, and his Engand Stockton-on-Lees. He is English seat, Maidstone, and was M. P. from 1906 to 1915.

THE POWER OF THE BOYCOTT

H. N. Pollock, a wealthy captain It is as spokesman of all Ireland he acts, elected by 88% of the people, and as such insists that the representation of inclustry in Belfast, might be described as the most powerful influence in Ulster and the bitterest sentatives of the minority living in Ireland settle their differences in land. A large importer of lumber the Southern Unionists, at a conference in the Mansion House Dublin. Sir James Craig refused, but all the Southern Unionists, the Ministers of Ulster together to decide the industrial future together to accepted. It was the first conference of its kind for many years that had the confidence of the people, and was not regarded by them as "packed" in advance. In conseeventually hurt them, and stated that the shipbuilding industry of Belfast in 1919 brought £10,000,000 to the country. The Sinn Feiners replied that eggs valued at £5,000,-600 had been exported in 1919, and the Mansion House conference, are also in London awaiting developments.

Sir Robert Woods is the Parliamentary representative for Dublin University, a seat formerly held by Sir Edward Carson. He is one of Dublin's most distinguished surgeons, a famous ear and throat startled Ireland as the most revolustance of interest of the first Republicans, and is largely responsible for the editing of the Irish Bulletin, the organ of Sinn Fein, regarded by friends and enemies alike as a master of the startled Ireland as the most revolustance. startled Ireland as the most revolutionary movement in history. The policy of non-resistance to the policy of non-resistance to the British in Ireland, as proposed by a necessary part of revolution and that a boycott of England and her institutions would bring the same results. He insisted that if England, her laws and institutions were ignored in Ireland the British Government must automatically cease to exist. In the earlier days of Sinn Fein his demand was a return members of the Dail Eireann. He was a great traveler in his youth, was a great traveler in his youth, and at one time worked in the South African mines. He has a deep knowledge of international questions, and is a student of world problems. He is known among his followers in Ireland as the "silent statesman," a man of fow words and strong personal. few words and strong personal-

Minister of Agriculture in the Dail, was an officer in the British Army until 1916, when he resented the action of the British Government toward his fellow-countrymen after the rising of Easter week. He exchanged his post as Major in the British Army for that of Commandant in the Irish Republican forces, and has suffered several terms jail for his convictions. Many dra matic escapades in his escape from the jails during his period "on the the jails during his period ' run" have covered him with a certain romance. He has a fine estate in County Wicklow, and was elected as a member of the Dail from his county.

Lieut, Commander Childers, R. N. V. R., was educated at Trinity College, Cambridge. He is a member of the Dail from Dublin. Mr. Childers became interested in the Irish Republicane movement through his study of the movement through his study of the Irish co-operative societies, organized by Sir Horace Plunkett and George Russell. The problem facing Ireland from the agricultural viewpoint seemed appalling. He is viewpoint seemed appalling. He is the author of "In the Ranks of the C. I. V.," "The Riddle of the Sands," Volume V. of The Times "History of the South African War," and "German Influence on British Cavalry." His book "The Framework of Home Rule," was a surprise to his many English friends. Since his writing of that book his ideas have gone much book his ideas have gone much further, and today he is directing he Sinn Fein Land Bank, one of the creations of the Irish Republican Government. For the proper working of the schemes of land purchase and the reimpropriation of the landless men, with suitable equipment on the economic holdngs, it became necessary to institute a national banking system.

The bank was opened out of Irish governmental funds, and in spite of the constant raids, recently added eight branches. Mr. Childers married the daughter of Dunean U. Fletcher, United States Senator from Florida. He is at present acting as the Secretary of the Irish delegation in London. He is a nephew of the Chancellor of the Exchequer under Gladstone.

"I arrived here, May 4, In the company of Bishop Seguin and Father Vion, one of our priests returning after a visit to France for the sake of his health. The journey from Yunnan to here was interesting, if at times fatiguing.

FAMOUS IRISH ATHLETE Austin Stack, one of the representatives of the Irish Republican Army, is a famous Irish athlete. Although by profession a law engrossing clerk, which one usually associates in a country town in Ireland with dusty law tomes, he has all the appearance of an outdoors man. He captained the famous Kerry football team that won the man. He captained the famous Kerry football team that won the his comrades he has done a great part, of his work while "on the run.

Count Plunkett, late Director of the Dublin Museum, is a noted archaeologist and a distinguished lecturer on archaeological subjects.
He is closely identified with the Royal Irish Academy of Dublin, which contains many of the most valuable documents and historical records in Ireland. Some years Henry Bentnick, Lord Buckmaster and others, to create a moral propaganda in England which would force the Government to take decisive action. His sister, the Honorable Albinia Broderick, is a trained nurse, a well-known figure at the Nurses' International Congresses in London and elsewhere. She established a cottage hospital in Kerry several years ago, where medical attention for poor women was so badly needed. She is well loved among her neighbors, and is a familiar character tramping the country roads in top boots and short skirt. She recently became a convert to Sinn Fein.

Mr. Andrews was very popular as a mediator of labor in the North, as was also his brother, whose tragic death on the Titanic will be remembered. The latter was the designer of the famous ship on which he met his death. When the behaved like a man, refusing to leave the ship as long as there was another to be saved.

A. E. Archdale, Minister of Agriculture in the newly formed Cabinet, is M. P. for Fermanagh. He is a Director of the Irish Horse Show and the Royal Dublin Society and is a well-known breeder of Smorthorns.

The young band which de Valera one of the seven signatories of the most was also his brother, whose tragic death on the Titanic will be remembered. The latter was the designer of the famous ship on which he met his death. When the behaved like a man, refusing to leave the ship as long as there was another to be saved.

A. E. Archdale, Minister of Agriculture in the newly formed Cabinet, is M. P. for Fermanagh. He is a Director of the Irish Horse Show and the Royal Dublin Society and is a well-known breeder of Smorthorns.

The young band which de Valera one of the seven signatories of the most waluable documents and historical records in Ireland. Some valuable documents and historical records in Ireland. Some valuable documents and historical was countered to be saved.

A. E. Archdale, Minister of Agriculture in the newly formed Cabinet, is M. P. for Fermanagh. He is a Director of the Irish Horse Show and the Royal Dublin So from an internment camp to attend the delegation in London, is the brilliant young Director of B.

terly piece of journalism. Professor John McNeill, Minister of Education in the Dail, mentioned to me as kindly, patient, simple Griffith in 1905, is now being worked by Gandhi in India. Arthur Griffith did not believe that bloodshed was a learned family. His brother in dispatches as one of the advisers Hugh was professor of classics in the old Royal University of Dublin, "Ever and another held an important posi-tion in the local Government Board of Ireland. John entered the High Court of Justice in Ireland by competitive examination, and was Chief to the Accountant General in the Four Courts, Dublin. This position he resigned at the establishment of the National University, some years ago, to take the post of Professor of Modern Irish history.

Week. His order was again countermanded by Connolly, and resulted in the dramatic meeting which decided the rebellion. He has been very close to de Valera. When he returned from jail he received a tremendous ovation as he passed through the streets of Dublin, and the rumor that he had been dis-credited, which was spread through this country, was untrue.

The recent propaganda that there was any Irish division is also repu-diated in a report of the Irish Bulletin when a rumor was spread that de Valera had fallen into disrepute with the extremists. The Bulletin states: "No such division has ever No such division exists existed. Mr. de Valera repeatedly said in public that the National Army was under the control of the National Civil Government and that the Ministry of Dail Eirann is responsible for policy and executive

Note: Of the Sinn Fein colleagues of Eamon de Valera at least two, Mr. Barton and Mr. Erskine Childers are Protestants.-E. C. R.

LETTER FROM FATHER FRASER

To the Editor, CATHOLIC RECORD:-I would be very much obliged if you would publish the following article. Yours sincerely, China Mission College, Almonte, Ont. July 24, 1921.

LETTER FROM FATHER CAREY Rev. Daniel Carey, the first priest to be ordained in China Mission College, Almonte, Ont., has arrived at his far distant mission in the heart of China.

The following extracts from letters recently received from him Father Fraser, will interest Readers of the CATHOLIC RECORD, who have always shown such a arked sympathy for the Chinese

Missions. 'When I was a little boy away home in 'holy Ireland,' it was always a treat for me to receive a E. R., Raymond, Ont...... letter from you from China. the tables are turned; but it is still a real pleasure to receive—interesting, if at times fatiguing. We travelled eighteen days by 'chair' through a country, wild, uninviting and dangerous but, I hasten to add, extremely picturesque. Magnificent mountain, hill and valley scenery helped to make us forget present difficulties and in-conveniences. About thirty porters sufficed to carry us and our baggage. Owing to the presence and unwelcome attentions of the championship of Ireland, and is one of the most popular figures in Irish athletic circles. He is a member of the Dail from his home town, Tralee, County Kerry, and for the last three years had been head of an important department of the Irish Government. Like most of his comrades he has done a great part of his most of his comrades he has done a great part of his compact of his could in the matter of resting, eating, etc. We were sheltered in all sorts of places—Chinese inns, military barracks, merchants' stores military barracks, merchants' stores and, best of all, mission-residences. The 'cuisine' was not always 'a la Canadienne;' yet, we thrived and prospered. From early morning till late in the evening we rode, slept, read, walked, talked, etc., etc. Our good bishop was more than surprised at my 'penchant' for steep and almost inaccessible than surprised at my penchant for steep and almost inaccessible mountains; for I must say it was more than a delight for me to 'climb, climb, climb and keep on climbing all the time.' I found it good for digestion; and also a good appetizer.

appetizer.
"At one or two of the residences familiar character tramping the country roads in top boots and short skirt. She recently became a convert to Sinn Fein.

Sir Robert Woods, ir Maurice Dockell and Andrew Jameson, the three other Unionists who attended Sin Dockell and Andrew Jameson, the three other Unionists who attended Sin Director of the Irish Horse familiar character tramping the sountry roads in top boots and is a well-known breeder of Smorthorns.

He is a Director of the Irish Horse Show and the Royal Dublin Society young poet and dramatist of great young poet and dramatist of great several pious, intelligent and cheeryoung became a well-known breeder of Smorthorns.

The young band which de Valera has called around him are either Ministers in his Cabinet or members of the Dail Eireann, the Irish of the Dail Eireann, the Irish of the Dail Eireann, the Irish of the Irish Republic.

The young band which de Valera has called around home are either Ministers in his Cabinet or members of the Dail Eireann, the Irish of the Irish Horse Sacrament of Confirmation to several pious, intelligent and cheer young poet and dramatist of great for the various social functions to be given in honor of the wisting sany one thing more than another which especially struck me in regard to the Chinese with whom I have come in contact, it is their is my one thing more than another which especially struck me in regard to the Chinese with whom I have come in contact, it is their is any one thing more than another which especially struck me in regard to the Chinese with whom I have come in contact, it is their is any one thing more than another which especially struck me in regard to the Chinese with whom I have come in contact, it is their is any one thing ments for the various social functions to be given in honor of the visiting sand is a well-known breeder of young several plous, intelligent and cheer, when the several plous, intelligent and cheer when the several plous, intelligent and cheer when the several plous, intelligent and cheer when the several plous, in their assertion. But, number one, the exception proves the rule; and, number two, I for one intend to 'wait and see,' and, if necessary, bring forward many examples prove the truth of my own first impressions. Pagans as well as Christians, have shown themselves honest, very hardworking people. My heart has gone out to them, as my own poor suffering people in

"Everybody here, from His Lord-ship to the latest arrival from Paris, is kindness personified. I feel terribly about inflicting on them the little bit of French I them the acquired in Mungret seven or eight years ago. However, they always take it in good part !

"One thing, Father. Don't worry about me here. I am getting along raritament and her last vestige of legislative government. Since 1916 he has joined his colleagues in the establishment of the republic. Griffith is one of the most brilliant members of the Dail Eireann. He and only work: the winning of souls to Christ. And then, when the boys from Almonte begin to pour in here, we'll soon make Kwiechow 'the hub of the Universe

"I was more than delighted to learn of the splendid progress all along the line in Canada. More along the line in Canada. vocations, more money, and more ccommodation for the studentsthere you are! Our little 'factory in Almonte has grown too small. Let's get busy and build one that can never grow too small!"

FATHER FRASER'S CHINA MISSION FUND

There are four hundred million pagans in China. If they were to pass in review at the rate of a thousand a minute, it would take nine months for them all to go by. Thirty-three thhousand of them die daily unbaptized! Missionaries are urgently needed to go to their

China Mission College, Almonte, Ontario, Canada, is for the educa-tion of priests for China. It has already twenty-two students, and many more are applying for admittance. Unfortunately funds are lacking to accept them all. China is crying out for missionaries. They are ready to go. Will you send them. The salvation of millions of souls depends on your answer to this urgent appeal. His Holiness the Pope blesses benefac-tors, and the students pray for

Gratefully yours in Jesus and

J. M. FRASER.

QUEEN OF APOSTLES BURSE Previously acknowledged $2,028 80 ST. ANTHONY'S BURSE

Previously acknowledged $1,194 20 5 00 A. N. McPhee, Victoria... Mrs. Jno. Murphy, Mel-rose, N. B.....

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION BURSE Previously acknowledged $2,464 48 your kindly, encouraging, 'energetic' letters—even though it be only from Canada.

"I arrived here, May 4, in the like the composition of the comp ST. JOSEPH, PATRON OF CHINA, BURSE Previously acknowledged $2,016 59 Mrs. Walsh, Quebec .....

BLESSED SACRAMENT BURSE Previously acknowledged $321 05 ST. FRANCIS XAVIER BURSE

Previously acknowledged $229 00

HOLY SOULS BURSE Previously acknowledged $1,050 75 Friend, Quebec..... Two Most Destitute Souls 2 00 Grateful.

LITTLE FLOWER BURSE Previously acknowledged $662 34 SACRED HEART LEAGUE BURSE

Previously acknowledged $1,620 32 Friend, Ottawa, Ont...... 5 60 M. A. McCart, Bryson.... S. McKeown, Quebec...... Mrs. A. Campbell, Mabou Mrs. P. Kealy.... Rev. J. L. Quinnan, St. 1 00 5 00 Mary's Cathedral....... Vm. Gillis, Old Bridge-100 00

K. OF C. CONVENTION SAN FRANCISCO KNIGHTS

1 00

PREPARES FOR GUESTS

Plans for the entertainment of visiting ladies to the 39th Annual International Supreme Convention of the Knights of Columbus, to take Count His Lordship administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to ments for the various accounts and the several pieces intelligence and the ments for the various accounts and the several pieces intelligence and the ments for the various accounts and the several pieces are several pieces.

IRISH RELIEF FUND Previously acknowledged will be many.

tions are also co-operating with the Knights of Columbus and their ladies' associations of this city. Indications point to a large number of visiting ladies in San Fran-cisco during the week of the

FATHER CROCHETIERE

(Killed in Action, April 2, 1918) His priestly hands, that cradled brave; Upon his breast now lifeless lie, Nor more shall bless the warrior's

His priestly lips, that whispered

Or bid the plaint of conscience cease, sealed to swell a tyrant's

His-priestly feet, that led him Charlottetown, P. E. I., Death lurked in trench or shell scarred waste, No more shall bring the Comforter Love's labour done, now heaven- Extension? ward haste.

yore. Dear comrade this the boon we

Haulage

Lower

Transportation

Costs

Solving

sightseeing auto tours and picnics to be held, there will be brilliant social affairs, including elaborate teas in the leading downtown hotels dansants and receptions. All the ladies' civic and patric the ladies' civic and patriotic organizations of San Francisco have joined hands in receiving the visiting ladies, and the activities to take place for the visitors during week of the Supreme Council

Supreme Conclave, and the advance preparations are being made in anticipation of such a great attendance. Mrs. Costello and her variof local women waiting to receive

The Lamb of God o'er kneeling grave

peace, Bespoke a pardon for the soul.

Staunch Victim Priest thy course and won Th' unfading crown as Paul of them daily.

A Burse of $5,000 will support a student in perpetuity. Help to complete the Burses.

Contactable and the students pray for the main and the students pray for the weak of the wending weep, and the helf thy priesthood gave, and half thy heavenly harvest

Amherstburg Counci Knights of Columbus... an article some your paper suggesting an easy method for the members of the Members of the Daughters of Isabella, Young Ladies Institute and other Catholic ladies' organiza-Sacred Heart League to help Father ous committees have already met and discussed the numerous methods of entertaining the visiting ladies, and when the visitors arrive here, they will find a corps is run

And God's good fight for thee is the Sacred Heart Burse and con-

Fraser's Mission College at Almonte The suggestion was the taking up of a collection at the Benediction ladies' committee, so that there will be one general committee inmonth. This collection to be taken cluding [all of the officers and up by the Spiritual Director of the prominent members of the leading Society or by someone appointed by In our Cathedral parish at 5 cents from each member would mean at least $50 on each first Friday, $600 a year. Now take all the parishes the Dominion and the sum would be something great for this worthy Listening to an excellent sermon by Rev. Fr. Daly, C. S. S. R., at our

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor CATHOLIC RECORD : I read

Cathedral recently on the good work being done by the Catholic Church Extension Society, mentioned the fact that in United States last year the children attending Sunday School contributed $500,000 in their small offerings to the mission fund of the Methodist Church.

Let the members of the League of the Sacred Heart get together and at this time on next year they will be surprised at the result. I noticed that Rev. Dr. Foley of St. Mary's Parish, Halifax, and Rev. Francis McQuaid of Freetown, P. E. I., have established this collection in their parish. Why not make it general in all the parishes of the Dominion?

Enclosed you will find $5 for an offering to the Sacred Heart League

Member of the League of the Sacred Heart.

July 20th, 1921.
Postscript: Would it be wise to divide this collection one-half to Sacred Heart Burse and one-half to

The idea is admirable. Though it o'er; Thy steadfast faith hath sought tinue collection permanently for Church Extension. What do others think? Either plan is acceptable to the CATHOLIC RECORD. E. C. R.

> Fame is as natural a follower of merit as shadow is of body.—Sir Richard Steele.

And half thy heavenly harvest reap.

-W. B. C.

Let us cherish any good thought and good resolution, any holy impulse that has been awakened.—H.

R. Haweis.

Made

in

Problems is the Business of RUGGLES

TONCKS

Canada in Transit Everywhere

Less

Speilage

RUGGLES MOTOR TRUCK CO. LTD. LONDON - ONTARIO

"There's a Ruggles for every purpose."

FEATURES

Service

Stations

"Canada's largest exclusive truck builders."

Votive Candles For the Next 30 Days

We can offer Votive Candles at the following Extremely LOW PRICES F. O. B. Winnipeg LB. 213/4c 213/4c 22c 18's..... 201/2c 21c 21½c 22€ 20's..... 201/2c 221/2c 22c 211/2c 22c 22's..... 21c 221/2c 22c 22c 25's..... 21c 21½c 221/2c 22c 22c 211/2c 28's..... 21c 221/2C 23c 221/2c 32's..... 21½c 22c

221/2c 22½c 23c 22c 36's..... 21½c These are full weight (16 oz.) Candles. TERMS - 30 days' net from date of shipment. Put up in 40 lb. cases-weil wired. ORDER NOW, as these prices are for a limited time only. Special Quotations in Lots of from 5 to 25 Cases The Catholic Record, London, Ont.

FIVE MINUTE SERMON

BY REV. WILLIAM DEMOUY, D. D. TWELFTH SUNDAY AFTER

PENTECOST

THE CHURCH OUR TEACHER "And behold, a certain lawyer stood up, tempting Him, and saying: Master, what must I do to possess eternal life?" (Luke x, 25.)

What a lesson this world might learn from this Gospel of today! And it is a lesson of which the world is sorely in need. Never, perhaps, more than at the present time, has this lesson been applic-able to a great part of the human race. A young man advanced toward Our Saviour, and asked Him what he needed to do in order to possess eternal life. He was trying Our Lord. He was, no Catholics never the control of the doubt, far from sincere in his ques-tion. Being instructed in the Law, he evidently thought he knew what he should do in order to save his soul. But this lawyer wished to see if Christ would answer as the law of Moses taught, or whether He would give utterance to a new doctrine, in which latter case, like the Pharisees, he would probably the Pharisees, he would probably have found fault with Christ. However, he did what all men should do—namely, he went to Christ to learn the greatest truth man can possess. And herein lies a lesson for us to learn—that is, to lesson for us to learn—that is, to search for truth from the proper source. So, we shall not judge of the intention of the questioner; but, rather, learn a great lesson from his action in asking of our Divine Saviour what was necessary in order to possess eternal life.

Certain it is that God is infinite in His intelligence, as He is infinite in all His other perfections. True it is also that we have only a very limited intelligence; so restricted is it that we can not even under-stand all the things with which we come in constant contact. Even the amount of intelligence our first parents possessed during the state of their innocence, though far sur-passing what we have now, was very limited when compared with the intelligence of God. It is true that man has progressed in his intellect and grasps more truths now than did his forefathers, but how many truths are yet hidden from his eyes! He will progress yet more, but he will never comprehend all truths. The very laws of nature, its wealth, and its power never will be fully known to man. But need he lament this fact? No, for with the knowledge of the most ignorant peasant, he can do the one thing necessary—save his soul.

But our ignorance is greater and still more manifest when we consider the truths of the supernatural order. The history of man clearly indicates how faint is the knowledge he has of the superna-tural, even after the revelations given him by God. Man gradually lost most of the knowledge he had, and God, both in the Old and in the New Law, besides revealing new truths to him, had to suggest again old ones which man should have known from former revelations. God informs us of the existence of these truths of the supernatural order, and faith makes us believers in them. We can not learn them by study as we can acquire natural truths; nor can experience impart them to us as it teaches us many

God, however, requires of us that we know these truths and accept them. But, since neither study will make them known to us nor experience teach them, it is evident that God has provided some other way by which we may come into possession of them. This way is the one indicated by the action of the lawyer in the Gospel—we must go to God and ask Him to teach us these truths. If we do not, we always shall remain ignor-ant of them and, besides, we shall become guilty of the gravest

It is true we cannot approach Christ as did the lawyer mentioned in today's Gospel; but God has provided for us a substitute which speaks for Him—nay, through Him. This substitute is His Church. Rather than His substitute, she is His representative—but, call her what we may, His divine seal is upon her; His sinfallible voice is heard from her; His saying grace the least of the heart of the heart with it! Outside of the Church, man is worshipping man. It may not be the material man himself that he has erected as an idol, but it is man's worldly benefit and man's earthly comfort. It is well for man to help man but it must not become a worship. Are not multitudes at the present time teaching their children only worldly knowledge? What place does religion hold in their schoolrooms or in their university halls? or in their university hans: And will you say that they can, or will, learn afterwards? They certainly will not. But suppose it could be so, why neglect to teach the young the most important truths in life? Many will not listen to the voice of Cod. God, through His one representa-tive, the Church; and the deceiver with his cunning will keep them

Catholics never should cease to praise and to thank God for their great heritage and their faith. And they should never endanger it for ranything no matter how president Continue to listen to the Continue to listen to the voice of your Church, especially regarding the education of your children, your marital affairs, your whole belief regarding the super-natural. She will not fail you. Her hand will never grow weak, for Christ sustains it. Her voice will never grow faint, for it re-echoes the voice of Christ, which ever speaks clearly.

WOMAN OF MISTS, IRELAND

Tis tired you might be, woman! (And she walking by the lonely shore

Where the curlews were crying.) "Tis the long miles I have yet to travel

And the gray rocks still to be climbing."

'The mother of many sons am I and of many daughters. But my daughters come clutching my knees The wild hair of them falling

My sons at the plow again,
My green hills studded once more with white houses-The plump white houses chimney nippled red Like glad young mothers. .

Then a mist whirled up and around

The angry sea thudded-It washing her words away As it washes away the sea-shells. -KATHRYN WHITE RYAN in Catholic World

SCOTLAND AND ROME IN THE MIDDLE AGES

opinion that the fitting and proper what we may, His divine seal is upon her; His infallible voice is heard from her; His saving grace flows through her. From her, and from her alone, can we hear the truth; through her, and through her alone, can we be saved. Through no other source than His Church does God speak to man. All the wisdom of the world is nothing compared with the wisdom of the world is nothing compared with the wisdom of the church. The teachings of man count for naught, except when they are in conformity with her instructions. Nowhere else, in fact, can man learn the sublime truths that the Church is commissioned to teach.

Hence he who remains away from the Church will never experience her saving care. Men, alas, have wandered from within her sanctum, they have sought God elsewhere. But what have they found? View the world today, and their substitute will stand out clearly to you. Worships, if such they may be termed, have been invented—worships more pagan, or at least more human, than that of the pagans of ages long past. Today religion's highest ideal is humanitarianism. Would that there were some true Deism to that end are proofs of his loyalty "in faith and morals" to the Holy See. He sent envoys to Rome, one being his nephew, asking the Pope's pardon, and promising respectful scholars have as Bishop Graham Holy See, and was finally and full. pardon, and promising respectful obedience to the injunctions of the Holy See, and was finally and fully absolved in a brief dated October 15, 1828. The Scots bishops were informed of the absolution in a special letter. In the famous "Declaration" which was signed at Arbroath Abbey by Bruce and his nobles, acknowledgment is made of the spiritual supremacy of the lim, as his contemporaries saw in temporals is claimed. "We now are, and shall ever, as in duty bound, remain obedient sons to you as God's vicegerent." May the Most High God long preserve your Holiness to His holy Church." "Our Most Holy Fathers, your predecessors, did, with many great and singular privileges fonce and tion" and seek to prove him there-by a non-Catholic, are most anxious wrathful with such nations did they follow the example of Bruce. Supposing the Pope had rebuked Austria during the War, and Austria had replied thather conduct of the War was her own business, and that she would take care of herself there would have been loud herself, there would have been loud denunciations of that declaration by those desirous of papal intervention on behalf of the allies; but they would not have claimed Austria as a "reformed" nation There's the shadow of many sorrows

Under your eyes, woman;
And the mystery of a long endurance.

"The mother of many sons am I and the many sons am I an of Dunblane, in preference to an English Dominican, the very Abbot of Inchaffray who had offered Mass before the battle of Bannockburn—

The wild hair of them falling
And they with the sob of the parting sea in their hearts.
And my strong sons wander away from me
Aye! a woman broken in dreams that am I!"

before the battle of Bannockburn—both proceedings expressive of anything but Presbyterianism. The "Chronicle de Lanercost" tells us that the Abbot confessed the king, celebrated High Mass in the most solemn manner, absolved every penitent soldier, and walked bare-And where now might you be journeying, Mother?
The wind lashing the sea
And it weaving its mist-shroud?
There's a spring in your step that stops not

And a stops not

And where now might you be journeying, Mother?
There's a spring in your step that stops not

And a stops not

Line that king of scots to whom stops not

And a new light on your face surely.

"On the far side of those rocks I'll be climbing—

Where thorns shall bloody the hands of me—

"Tis my bog lands fertile with blossom I'm seeing, My sons at the plow again.

To poish from the start. William the Lion, that king of scots to whom the Pope sent the golden rose founded the Abbey for the Benedictine monks in 1178, and it was dedicated to that champion of the rights of the Holy See, the martyred St. Thomas a Becket. William and his successors richly endowed it. Its last Abbot was the great Cardinal Beaton. Private great Cardinal Beaton. Private misinterpretation of Bruce's "Declaration" leads to his being claimed as a true-blue Protestant who flung the fetters of Rome from himself and his country; and events follow-ing the "Declaration," which prove him and his people Romanists to the nim and his people romanists to the core, are conveniently ignored. But as it is perfectly impossible by the wildest stretch of imagination to prove Beaton other than a Romanist, a section of searchers of history-made-to-order refuse to admit even his patriotism, and brand him as a libertine. In their eyes, the way for a priest in the sixteenth century to escape this stigma was to break his yow of allegiance to the Catholic Church to take to himself a lady, and induce certain of his compatriots to call her his wife. If Cardinal

The discovery in Melrose Abbey of the actual, or supposed heart of Robert Bruce has inspired a number of interesting letters and discussion, but so far I have not seen in any press report or correspondence mention of the fact that Bruce was the Catholic king of a Catholic country. On the contrary, an eloquent minister, who presumably adheres to the revised and modified who could not be bought, who enemies." As Scotsmen, truly they held their honor cheap. Would the hero of Bannockburn have acknowl-

of the spiritual supremacy of the Pope whilst independence in temporals is claimed. "We now his country's liberties and independence in the population of the spiritual supremacy of th ence. And Catholics are but giving him his due reward when they pay homage to his memory as the last great and noble figure that stood, and stood almost alone the fearless and stood almost alone, the fearless and zealous champion of the Catholic Faith." Bruce and Beaton, predecessors, did, with many great and singular privileges, fence and secure this kingdom and people," are sentences which show beyond dispute what was the faith of Bruce and his people.

and Eatlous champion of the Catholic Faith." Bruce and Beaton, king and Cardinal, outstanding figures in different centuries of Scotland's history, each acknowledged the Pope as "God's vicegerand his people." nd his people.
Yet on the strength of this document, efforts are made to claim Bruce as a kind of No-Popery man, a sort of precursor of Knox.
Strange that the persons who applaud Bruce for this "Declaraplace for the heart of the Catholic king would be in a kirk, where Mass may not be offered; by whos that the Pope should interfere in the temporals or politics of other nations today, and would be most wrathful with such nations did they a grim, though doubtless unconscious, mockery the proposal is!—M. C. L. in Glasgow Observer.

MIRACLE OF LOVE

If we were but to stop for a moment each day to consider how barren and bleak this world would be without the Blessed Sacrament, we would understand how to thank Him with brimming hearts for remaining with us in this miracle of His love.

DO IT NOW

I shall pass through thiseworld but once. If therefore, there be any good thing I can do, or any kindness I can show my fellow creature, let me do it now; let me not defer it nor neglect it, for hall not pass this way again.

It is while you are patiently toiling at the little tasks of life that the meaning and shape of the great whole of life dawns upon you. It is while you are resisting little temptations that you are growing stronger.

Batistes, Cottons

Do not think of LUX as a cleanser for only georgettes, chiffons, tricolettes, crepe-de-chines. The bubbly LUX lather means double life to anything you can wash -anything that pure water will not harm. Chiffon or linen, it's all the same - use LUX.

Care of Dainty Lever Brothers

209

Ireland Since the Larne Gun-running

A Chapter of Contemporar History by

John J. O'Gorman, D. C. L. with a Foreword by Bishop Fallon

Single Copies 10c. 1 Doz. " 75c. 50 Copies $2.75 100 " 5.00

Catholic Record LONDON, CANADA

In Rash All Over Body. Burned And Itched. Could Not Rest.

"My little sister had eczema all

"My little sister had eczema all over her body. It came like a rash, and was burning and itching. She could get no rest, and we would have to wet her clothing to take it off. She was cross and irritable, and the breaking out caused disfigurement.

"She had the eczema about five months when we tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. We could see she was getting relief, and we just used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment when she was healed." (Signed) Miss Jessie Campbell, Sunny Brae, Nova Scotia, January 16, 1919.

You may rely on Cuticura Soap and

You may rely on Cuticura Soap and Ointment to care for your skin.

"Honour Without Renown"

A NOVEL By Mrs. Innes-Browne

Sequel to "Three Daughters of the United Kingdom"

New Edition with Frontispiece We get glimpses of life in Paris during the siege by the Germans, and from cover to cover the interest is unflagging.—Catheli-Times.

$1.42 Post Paid The Catholic Record

LONDON, CANADA

The soul that perpetually over-flows with kindness and sympathy will always be cheerful.

Human nature is all right; the difficulties are in the improvements people have tried to make upon it.

How Coca-Cola Resembles Tea

If you could take about one-third of a glass of tea, add two-thirds glass of carbonated water, then remove the tea flavor and add a little lemon juice, phosphoric acid, sugar, caramel and certain flavors in the correct proportion, you would have an almost perfect glass of Coca-Cola.

In fact, Coca-Cola may be fairly described as "a carbonated, flavored counterpart of tea, of approximately one-third the stimulating strength of the average cup of tea."

The following analyses, made and confirmed by the leading chemists throughout America, show the comparative stimulating strength of tea and Coca-Cola stated in terms of the quantity of caffein contained in each:

Black tea-1 cupful-----1.54 gr.

Green tea-1 glassful_____2.02 gr.
(cold) (8 fl. oz., exclusive of ice)

Of all the plants which Nature has provided for man's use and enjoyment, none surpasses tea in its refreshing, wholesome and helpful qualities. This explains its almost universal popularity.

The Coca-Cola Company has issued a booklet giving detailed analysis of its recipe. A copy will be mailed free on request to anyone who is interested. Address:

The Coca-Cola Co., Dept. J, Atlanta, Ga., U. S. A.

A fine quality tire is bound to win recognition—and that's why Partridge has "come to the top"

A tire dealer says -

"To my mind there is nothing like Partridge quality."

PARTRIDGE TIRES

Game as Their Name

Transcontinental Service DAILY

The "NATIONAL" Lve. TORONTO 10.30 p.m.

For Sudbury, Port Arthur, Fort William, Winnipeg Edmonton, Prince Rupert, Vancouver, and Victoria

Alternative routing: Through Standard Sleeping Car Service to Winnipeg. Leave Toronto 8.45 p.m. Daily via G.T., North Bay, thence "Continental Limited" via T. & N.O., Cochrane and C.N. Rys.

Tickets and information from any Agent, Canadian National or Grand Trunk Railways.

Canadian National Railways

CHATS WITH YOUNG MEN

TO A NEWLY ORDAINED PRIEST Thou clad about and coronaled with power! On whose young brow, That was so clear of care this latest

The awe of Christ's anointing shineth

What mystery

A suttle splendor shines upon thy hands, That late were kissed

By the sweet unction's heavenly balm, and blissed

And bound with virginal and jealous Now, in thy face, story, My wondering eyes can trace The very look of Christ's beloved

What new and leaping love assails thy heart,

That now must be Compassionate of all earth's misery, And sealed to Christ, from fleshly loves apart!

Thy, lips are fragrant with the Bread of peace, Thy breath

Is sweet with healing for the hearts of men,

Even to the doors of death Thy voice can make the sinner clean

And at thy word, the spirit carked with woe
Will leap and laugh like suns upon

To more than archangelic ministry, What offices and powers, glad and great, Have sudden bloomed and fruited full in thee!

Thy youth is crowned with what supernal state!

From His unutterable height, Enthroned in splendor, Christ is For thy stupendous summons. Thou canst bring His living Self from that celestial hands will rise

The savors of th' eternal Sacrifice!

Now Mary smiles on thee, thou happy

For unto thee hath passed her earthly care, In thy close hold to bear

That Hope and Joy who is her very -EDWARD F. GARESCHE, S. J.

GHOSTS WHICH DESTROY

HAPPINESS The man who lives under this terrible shadow of impending danger, with dread that something is going to happen to his business, his family, or himself, is in no condition to ward off the evil before which he cowers. His mental attitude lowers his vitality, lessens his powers of resistance, vitiates his efficiency, and ruins his resourcefulness.

I once met some people traveling in Europe who said they did not enjoy their travels because they were worried about affairs at home. They said, if they only knew how things were going there, and that everything was right in the store or factory, if they only knew that those dear to them were safe and well, and that nothing would happen to them; if everything was prosperous, they could enjoy themselves. absence of assurance, kept them in a state of semi-terror.

Nothing will stunt one's growth, and starve and strangle his vitality, like living in the constant atmosphere of fear.

Many people live so perpetually under the dominion of this demon, that they never develop normally. As children, their lives were starved and stunted; they were inoculated with the germ of fear way back in childhood when the mother was constantly reminding the little ones of terrible results which would follow if they did this or that. Fear shadows were constantly projected into their susceptible little minds, until the demon became so thoroughly intrenched in their lives that it follows them through the years like a hideous ghost, hovering round to destroy.

The words of love then spoken; The eyes that shone, Now dim'd and gone, The cheerful hearts now broken; The in the stilly night. their peace of mind and happi-Every ugly thing told to the child, every shock, every fright given him, will remain like splinters in the flesh to torhim all his life-long. Anxiety, fear, horror, will twine themselves round these memor-

We all know how violent fear has bleached the hair in a single night, and how terror of some Whose garlands dead, great impending doom or danger And all but me departed! has taken years out of a life in a few days. Many soldiers have died in battle who thought they were mortally wounded, when were mortally wounded, when they had not been touched by HER INFLUENCE FOR GOOD the bullets or shells, and when not a drop of blood had been drawn.

is always gnawing in some form testimony to the silent power of at the heart of many people.

As a nation we are too sober, too sad, and take life too seriously. Our theology, our creeds have too much that without much preaching in words taught daily by what it was. "Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after right-Hath just been wrought and perfected in thee, whose presence and too little of joy and gladness; when, like a flame, when, like a flame, too much of the shadow, and too others. The Holy Ghost upon thy spirit little of the sunshine of the soul.

When I was a boy in New England, I lived with a clergyman and his wife who scarcely ever I got the impression that ministers were not supposed to laugh. The faces of the minister and his wife were long and sad; they always seemed As in St. Catherine's in the olden anxious about the future. They carried a great load of anxiety for the welfare of others' souls. Everything was solemn and sad about their house, and when I ventured to laugh, one Sunday, the minister told me I had better be reading my Bible.

The most fearful waste of energy in human life is caused by the fatal habit of anticipating evil, of fearing what the future has in store for us, and under no circumstances can the fear or worry be justified by the situa-tion, for it is always an imagin-

What we fear is invariably something that has not yet happened. It does not exist; hence is not a reality if you are actually suffering from a disease you have feared, then fear only aggravates every painful feature of your illness and makes its fatal issue more certain.

The fear habit shortens life, for it impairs all the physiological processes. Its power is shown by the fact that it actually changes the chemical composition of the secretions of the body. Fear victims not only age prematurely but they also die prematurely.

Fear comes from the consciouslight.

Henceforth, each morn, from thy pure of our not being able to cope with the situation which we dread when it arrives. If we knew we would be equal to it we should not fear it.

Sensitive, nervous people, and those who are physically weak, suffer most from fear. We all know how imagination tends to exaggerate everything, and people with sensitive, nervous organizations, and those in feeble health usually imagine that the worst possible will happen. Strong, robust health itself will kill a great many fears which cause intense suffering when the vitality is low and the power of resistance is weak.

you would quit any bad practice truth, righteousness, love and which has caused you suffering. holding persistently the thoughts apt to fret and worry us most is ance.

The chemist quickly destroys —riches, honors, and pleasures the corrosive power of an acid That we should have our wishes by adding its opposite—an alkali. for these things ungratified is We can neutralize a fear thought one of the conditions of learning just as quickly, by applying its to value more precious things, natural antidote, the courage Our natural desires are only too thought, the assuring, confident often traitors, leading us to seek thought to overcome their fears by sheer for their possession would pre-But this constant anxiety, this force of will power, by suppressing them. This cannot be done.

The only way to neutralize fear, to crowd it out or kill it, is by find our hopes disappointed and applying its antidote holding persistently the courage thought, the confident thought, the tent and make us more active thoughts directly opposite to the things you fear.—O. S. M. in besides, prepare us for the enjoy-

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

THE LIGHT OF THE OTHER

Oft, in the stilly night, for slumber's chain has bound me, Fond memory brings the light Of other days around me; The smiles, the tears Of boyhood years, The words of love then spoken; The eyes that shone, Thus, in the stilly night, Ere slumber's chain has bound me, Sad memory brings the light Of other days around me.

The friends so linked together, I've seen around me fall Like leaves in wintry weather, I feel like one Who treads alon Some banquet hall deserted,

When I remember all

"She makes me want to be good," said a young girl of a teacher under · whose influence Fear is a canker worm which she had lately come. It was a a pure, strong character, a life anxiety and fear, too much of eousness," but oh, the blessed-

THE LEADER

The boy who is not asking favors or gifts or loans; who stands on his own feet and does not want other folks to prop him up, is the one who is going to be a leader instead of a follower one upon whom others will depend, instead of being a dependent himself.—True Voice.

ART OF FORGETTING

As time goes on, and we go on with it-more rapidly than we like—it becomes necessary to cling tenaciously to the remembrance of a few things and forget a great many others. The - the average mind - has not room enough to hold all that has been learned, observed, experienced in the course of a lifetime. It must let many things to make space for the rest. And the first things to forget are the failures, the disappointments, the crumbling of our idols upon their feet of clay, the hard knocks dealt us in the jostling concourse of the broad highway. The things to remember are the multifold blessings that have been our portion from the beginning-the kind face, the hospitable welcome, the thought that was taken for us even when we did not take thought for ourselves, the sympathetic understanding that out ran our own and found an excuse for our shortcomings.—Philadelphia Ledger.

GOD'S WILL AND OUR WISHES

lessons of life is to learn to value the things of real permanent not very well pleased with his worth as compared with the new home, for they tell you that things adapted to satisfy us for ever since, his hideous form may the moment only. Parents and teachers would have the young prize their studies, because an lake which the poet Callanan has and happiness in after life. The is so beautiful that we quote a hearts of the young, however, are apt to go out in wishes for pleasure and amusement. And many, rather than forego their recreation, sacrifice their intellectual training. As time goes on the lesson of this folly comes home, but at an age when it is too late to repair the evil done.

Resistance is weak.

Quit worrying, fearing things that may never happen, just as to learn the beauty and worth of goodness. We feel the want of Antidote your fear thoughts by these undoubtedly, but what is our earthly life more satisfactory for things which, if they could Many people struggle very hard be gained, would be a hurt to us, vent us from learning to value our wishes ungratified; it will serve both to increase our conbesides, prepare us for the enjoy-ment of the world to come. -Young Catholic Messenger.

SAINT FINBARR'S ISLE

Nearly every province or town-land in Ireland has its own shrine or holy well, which is associated with one or more of the holy men or women who made that country famous as "the land of saints and scholars." Of these, perhaps none has been more celebrated than the Shrine of Saint Finbarr in the southwestern part of the County Cork.

Away up in the mountains, from the top of which you get a fine view of the Bay of Bantry and the Atlantic Ocean stretching far to the west, there nestles in peaceful solitude the little body of water, Gougane-Barra, celebrated in song and story. Not a sound breaks the stilkness except the harsh caw, caw of the crow, or the shrill cry of the raven, or the rapid rush of the mountain streams, tributaries of the River Lee which has its source in the lake. In the center of the lake is the small island on which Saint Finbarr, the first bishop of Cork, and his

Whichever you choose it will be the BEST you ever tasted.

BLACK TEA Rich, Satisfying Flavour, From the finest gardens.

MIXED TEA Just enough green tea to make the blend delicious.

A Revelation in Green Tea. Pure, translucent and so Flavory. No man can advance three

The knowledge of one's defects is all the more beautiful inasmuch as it is only the most necessary of all sciences, but forbruises

Absorbine, Jr. should be applied promptly,

for the chief danger

from cuts and bruises

s the danger from in-

Absorbine, Jr. is both corrective and a prevent ive remedy; an efficien ntiseptic it prevents in-ction, and its healing and soothing properties take out all the soreness from

$1.25 a bottle at most druggists

W. F. YOUNG, Inc. 344 St. Paul St., Montreal

Absorbine.J

he wound.

also the most rare.—Bossuet.

fection.

him.-Msgr. Benson.

GREEN TEA

monks built their church and monastery. Here he was wont paces on the road of perfection to retire for prayer and rest from unless Jesus Christ walks beside his many labors.

Today a stone causeway connects the island with the mainland, and on the site of the Saint's own hermitage a pretty chapel has been built. You are shown the circular piece of wall--all that is left of the church built by the Saint and the monks. Stations of the Cross have been so arranged, that the pious pilgrim, when making the Stations, visits eight of the cells of saints who either lived in or visited the monastery.

Thousands of people come from various parts of Europe and Ireland annually to visit this shrine, not only on the feast day of the Saint, but on every Sunday in the year; and it is edifying to to see them passing devoutly from Station to Station, or praying at the large cross. leaving the pilgrim drinks from the well which supplied the Saint and his monks nature's beverage." That the water is blessed is believed by many, for many cures have been effected through its use.

The peasants tell of a wonderful serpent that lived in the lake before Saint Finbarr came, and he was such a fierce monster that he frightened the good monks to such an extent that Finbarr banished him to a loch (lake) on One of the most important the top of Mount Gabriel. It seems that his serpentship was sometimes be seen on a rock gazing longingly down on the education fits one for usefulness immortalized by his song, which

There is a green island in lone Gougane-Barra.

Where Allua of song rushes forth like an arrow; In deep-vallied Desmond, a thousand wild fountains, Come down to that lake from their home in the moun-

Habits form the character, and the character forms the counten-God made the features. that tend in the opposite directihe want of things that will make but each man makes his own countenance.

SUFFERED DAY AND NIGHT

The Tortures of Dyspepsia Relieved By "Fruit-a-tives"

LITTLE BRAS D'OR, C. B. Dyspepsia and Constipation for years. I had pain after eating, belching gas, constant headaches and did not sleep well at night. Finally, a friend told me to try"Fruit-a-tives". In a week, the Constipation was corrected and soon I was free of pain, headaches and that miserable feeling that accompanies Dyspepsia. I continued to take this splendid fruit medicine and now I am well, strong and vigorous". ROBERT NEWTON.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Now It Can Be Told

PHILIP GIBBS PRICE $3.25 Postage 16c.

Philip Gibbs has startling that, at to say that he could not tell the world until now, and he has singled the permanent values out of the bewildering world panorama of the past few years. He comes to a new vision to which the world is just awakening.

Catholic Record LONDON, CANADA

Why Not Make Your Will?

It is a business arrangement which we should not neglect, and it is a simple matter. If you should accidentally be killed without making your will, your estate might be distributed contrary to your wishes. Endless sorrow and litigation is often caused by the failure to

Your wishes will be faithfully carried out and your heirs properly protected if you appoint this Company your Executor. See your So or arrange for an interview with us. Correspondence invited.

CAPITAL TRUST CORPORATION Temple Building

10 Metcalfe Street OTTAWA

Schools! Colleges! Y. M.C. A's! DENNISTEEL INDIVIDUAL STEEL LOCKERS are made specially for the use of these institutions.

use of the space they save, and the necessary safety they ide for the personal belongings of those who attend these is, Dennisteel Lockers have become standard equipment cialize in Locker-building.

Steel Cabinets, Steel Shelving, Steel Bins, Steel Chairs and Stools, Steel Lavatory Compartments. Bank Cages, Railings etc. Ornamental Iron and Brouze. Commercial Wirework o all kinds, General Builders' Honwork. Booa Solid Steel Sasl

THE DENNIS WIRE AND IRON HA WORKS CO. LIMITED LONDON

Registered Under the Board of Regents STATE OF NEW YORK

The School of Nursing of Saint Mary's Hospital Saint Marks and Buffalo Avenues, Brooklyn, New York City, Offers a two and One-Half Years' Course

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENT — One year High School or equivalent. Uniforms, Text Books, Laundry, Maintenance and Monthly Allowance of $10, for the first, $20. for the second at $30, for the third ten -month period.

Graduates are eligible for State and Municipal positions.

Nurses' Home, Separate fireproof building. Tennis Court.

For further particulars, write to Sister Superior or Director of the School of Nursing.

EXTRA QUALITY Canadian-Made Votive Candles Imperial Votive Candles are made from the best stock obtainable and burn with a steady, clear They have a high melting point and will not drip when subjected to heat from surrounding candles. Consequently, they remain erect on Votive Candle Stands and burn with complete Imperial Votive Candles are sold at a price "per pound" in sizes shown below. Attractive quota-IMPERIAL tions to the clergy on request. NITE-LITES IMPERIAL NITE-LITES 15 Hour Size. A widely-used candle for ritualistic as well as secular purposes. When burned in suitable tumblers, carried by all supply dealers, Imperial Nite-Lites are absolutely safe and can be relighted. Made in 10-Hour and 15-Hour sizes. If your church supply house cannot furnish you samples, prices and full particulars regarding Imperial Votive Candles or Imperial Nite-Lites, write our nearest branch office. IMPERIAL! OIL LIMITED 18's Branches in All Cities 22's 25's

IMPERIAL VOTIVE CANDLES - ACTUAL SIZE

WEEKLY CALENDAR

Sunday, July 31.—St. Ignatius, founder of the Society of Jesus, who was born at Loyola in Spain in 1491 and served the king as a courtier and soldier until his thirtieth year. Being wounded, he was called by Divine grace to leave the world, and embracing poverty and humility, he won others to join him in God's service, he and his companions placing themselves under the obedience of the Pope. Our Lord promised Ignatius that the precious beritage of His passion the precious heritage of His passion, a heritage of contradictions and persecutions, would never fail his society. Ignatius died July 31,

Monday, August 1.—St. Peter's Chains, commemorating the miraculous delivery of St. Peter by an angel, who cut his chains when he had been imprisoned by Herod had been imprisoned by Herod Agrippa.

Tuesday, August 2.—St. Stephen, Pope and Martyr, who was by birth a Roman and was elected to the Holy See on May 3, 253. He was beheaded, while sitting in his pontifical chair, by satellites of the emperor, on August 2, 257. This day is also the feast of St. Alphonsus Ligouri, born in Naples in 1696.

Wedneday, August 3.—The Finding of St. Stephen's Relics, commemorating the discovery of the memorating the discovery of the body of the first Christian martyr concealed under the ruins of an old tomb twenty miles from Jerusalem by a venerable priest named Lucian.

Many miracles attended the finding of the body, which was transferred to the Church of Sion of Jerusalem.

Thursday, August 4.—St. Dominic, founder of the Order of Friar Preachers and to whom the Blessed Virgin gave the Rosary, was born in Spain in 1170. His eloquent words rescued countless souls and three times raised the dead to life. He died August 6, 1221, at the age of fifty-one.

Friday, August 5.—The Dedication of St. Mary ad Nives, one of the three patriarchal churches in Rome, the site of which is declared to have been chosen by the Mother of God by a miraculous snow that fell to earth in the middle of summer.

Saturday, August 6.—The Transfiguration of Our Lord on Mount Thabor in the presence of the apostles Peter James and John.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH EXTENSION SOCIETY OF CANADA

BUILD A MEMORIAL CHAPEL

A beautiful and practical custom was introduced to Catholics in America when the Extension Society advanced the erection of memorial chapels in place of expensive mon-uments in drear graveyards.

The people took up the suggestion very quickly and saw how sensible and Catholic it was. To date nearly 2,500 chapels have been erected in the missionary sections of Canada and the United States as memorials of departed friends or as tokens of thanksgiving to God or favors received.
What does this mean? It does not mean that the dead have been less honored, but the contrary. The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass has been offered up in the memorial chapels for scattered Catholics and for the departed friends of the donors of these little citadels of God's holy Church. In every good work performed by the little church, the reception of the Sacraments, etc., etc., the donors and the dear departed participate. What a departed participate. What a glorious thing to know that when you rest in your narrow cell with your beloved ones, that thousands are enjoying the fruits of your good work and that year after year because you established the nucleus of a parish, thousands of Masses are said and sacraments received by Catholics, the result of your good work! Surely the Good God will measure unto you and yours as you measured unto the Good Shepherd

How different is the memorial chapel from the marble monstrosity, in many cases, seen in our cem-eteries! The one ever useful and a blessing to the living and the dead and the other useless, cold, stark and lifeless beneath the summer heat or the winter's gloom!

At present there is a great demand for chapels. The $500 required will not build a chapel, as may be readily understood, but small and all as the sum is, it is a nest egg and gives the impetus necessary to a scattered flock—twelve or fifteen families in most cases—to be up and doing. The Extension Society supplies the altar and the required linens and vest-ments. The great privilege of the donor of $500 is to name the chapel.

Just imagine a chapel named after your beloved one's saint's name and as a memorial?

"Five hundred dollars is a lot of money?" Not at all! You are not giving it away. You are making an investment for yourself and for the spiritual welfare of your departed ones. How gladly you would have expended twice—yes, ten times, the amount if you could have henefited them whilst they ten times, the amount if vou could have benefited them whilst they were with you! They need your help now. You need their help too, and will need it, especially, when you go before the Great Judge of life and death to render an account of your deeds. Then your investment shall be of incalculable value to your soul.

for God's glory!

Donations may be addressed to: Rev. T. O'DONNELL, President, Catholic Church Extension Society. 67 Bond St., Toronto. Contributions through this office should be addressed:
EXTENSION,

CATHOLIC RECORD OFFICE, London, Ont. DONATIONS Previously acknowledged $4,663 90 Mrs. W. J. Power,

Irs. W. J. Power, Amherst, N. S..... MASS INTENTIONS Evelyn Frosireter, Chi-

Favor received.....

K. OF C. TO CELEBRATE MISSOURI CENTENNIAL

By N. C. W. C. News Service St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—The Fourth Degree Assembly of the Knights of Columbus will carry out a distinctive feature of Missouri's centennial celebration at St. Charles on Sunday, August 14, when a memorial tablet will be unveiled on the building on South Main Street, which was the first capital of the State. Dorothy Emmons, great-great-great-granddaughter of Ben-jamin Emmons, president of the first Missouri State Senate, will draw the cord at the unveiling.

THE TITLE ON THE CROSS

It hung above His blessed, bleeding (His beauteous Face disguised by blood and bruise), And all who looked upon that tablet

"Jesus of Nazareth, King of the

'Jesus''-Redeemer, Hope of Adam's race; Saviour of poor, enslaved humanity!
"Jesus of Nazareth"—Mary's flow'r of grace, Fair virgin fruit of David's royal

'King"-not of Jews alone, but sovereign Lord
Of all believers. Juda signifies "One who confesseth;" and the Incarnate World

Is King, confess'd of earth and Paradise!

Hence, by divine suggestion, Pilate Christ's cause in threefold text-in Hebrew, Greek

And Latin. In that age and clime remote The Hebrews (heirs of laws and rites unique.

Were sole custodians of the truth

The Greeks most learned were in mundane lore; While haughty Rome proclaimed with iron rod

Her rule as earth's imperial conqueror. And thus Christ's title on the Holy

Rood Bears triune witness; thus on

OBITUARY

MR. GILBERT A. BAYARD

At his residence 112 Hall Avenue, Windsor, Ont., there passed away on Friday last a well-known and highly esteemed Catholic citizen, in the person of Mr. Gilbert Bayard, brother of the late Reverend Joseph Bayard. He was the son of Amable Bayard and his wife Judith Tonpin. De Perrot near Montreal, where Mr. Bayard was born on June 8, 1841. His brother the Rev. Edward Bayard, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Albany, N. Y. for some years, died in Tampa, Florida, in 1882. Reverend Joseph Bayard was during twenty-one years pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Mercy, Sarnia. After a few years of Sarnia. After a few years of pastoral duties in Windsor and St. Thomas he died at St. Joseph's Hospital, London, on Oct. 21, 1903. A sister Elise became a member of the Sacred Heart Sisterhood and died in Rochester, N. Y., in 1917, the only surviving member of his family being Sister Mary Angelique of St. Mary's Academy, Windsor. He leaves his wife, two stepsons, and Mr. Bert. Bayard, his son and Felicie a religious of the Sacred Heart, Rochester, N. Y.

The funeral took place from the Immaculate Conception Church, Windsor, then to St. Alphonsus Cemetery. May he rest in peace.

McIntosh.—At St. Andrews West, Ont., July 9, 1921, Hugh McIntosh, aged eighty-nine years and five months. May his soul rest in peace.

TEACHERS WANTED

TEACHER wanted for S. S. No. 1, Papinear Apply stating qualification and experience ec., to U. A. Fink, Mattawa, Ont. 22:2-3

WANTED for the Bilingual school, No. 2 Massey, two Bilingual teachers, one as princi-pal. Address The Secretary, Separate school, No. 2, Massey, Ont. 2231-3

Write us today and name your memorial chapel! Build a church for God's glory! OF CANADA TOTAL

The Certainty of Saving

.No economist has ever disputed the fact that there is no gain so certain as that which arises from sparing what you have.

Branches and Connections Throughout Canada

British and Foreign Correspondents in All the Principal Cities of the World

Fourteen Branches in Middlesex and Elgin Counties

WANTED experienced Normal trained 1st or 2nd class teacher for Catholic Separate school at Cormac, County of Renfrew. Apply stating salary and experience to John B. Kitts. Sec., Cormac, Ont.

QUALIFIED Catholic teacher with experience required. Salary $1,290 per annum. Board half mile from school. Recommend from parish priest required. Apply to A. F. O'Leary. Sec. Treas., Good Land School District No. 1999, Claybank, Sask.

NORMAL trained teacher wanted, holding 1st or 2nd class certificate for S. S. S. No. 16, Kenyon, Apple Hill Village, Apply stating qualifications and salary expected to A. L. McDermid, Sec. Treas, Apple Hill, Ont. Ones 9

WANTED second class professional teacher for C. S. S. No. 8, Huntley; experience neces-sary. Duties to commence Sept. 1st. Apply stating experience and salary expected to Thomas Manion, Sec. Treas., Corkery, Ont. 2232-3 tion school, to teach Latin, French, History, English etc. Apply stating salary and experi-ence to Rev. J. McAuley, Ennismore P. O., Ont. 232-3

TEACHER wanted, second class professional Town of Charlton, New Ontario, Catholi Separate School. Apply stating experience and salary to M. T. Devine, Chairman. 2232-4

NORMAL trained teacher wanted for S. S. No. 1, Hay; school is near church and good boarding house; duties to commence Sept. 1st. Salary $800 to $850 according to qualification and experience. Apply to John Laporte Sec. R. R. No. 2, Zurich, Ont., Phone 86 r7, Dash wood central.

QUALIFIED teacher wanted for S. S. No. 9-14 in Rochester, who is able to teach French and English. Duty to commence on Sept. 1st. State salary, Apply to Victor Gagnon, Sec. Treas., Ruscomb. Ont. R. R. No. 1. 2232-3

TEACHER wanted for Fergus Separate school

QUALIFIED teacher for S. S. No. 3, Puslinch Tp., five miles south of Guelph on County road, Duties commencing Sept. 1st. Statesalary and experience. Apply to M. P. Lynch, Sec. Treas., R. R. No. 6, Guelph, Ont. Phone 68, ring 12,

The Writing on the Wall

indicates that present Bond prices are very low and interest rates most favourable. This is all the more noticeable in view of the decline in wages and commodity prices.

Those who are in a position to do so, should purchase Dominion, Provincial, and Municipal Government Bonds while they are to be had upon the present favourable terms.

Write for our List of Offerings.

Wood, Gundy & Company Canadian Pacific Railway Building

Toronto

Montreal Winnipeg

WANTED a qualified Catholic teacher for Separate School, section No 5 Percy; duties to commence Sept. 1st. Apply, stating salary and experience to Patrick J. Doherty, Sec. Treas, Dartford, P. O., Ont. R. No, 1. 2235-2 WANTED teacher for Lethbridge Catholic Separate School. Commercing Sept. 1st. Salary $1,000 per year. Apply to D. J. McSwain, P. O. Box 541, Lethbridge, Alberta.

CATHOLIC teacher wanted for S. S. No. 1, Logan, Duties to commence Sept. 1, 1971. Apply stating experience and salary expected to William Bannon, Sec., R. R. No. 5, Mitchell, Ont. 2223-2

CATHOLIC teacher wanted for Jockvale Grade C, Continuation Class, holding Interim or First Class Certificate, with Elementary Certificate in Art or Physical Cutture. Salary 81,330. Duties to commence Sept. 4th. Starty experience if any, with qualifications. Apply to M. J. Kennedy, Sec. Treas., Jockvale, Ont.

WANTED an experienced Catholic teacher for Separate School Section No. 4, Asphodel; must have second class Certificate; duties to com-mence Sept. 1st. Apply, stating salary and experience to David Garvey, Sec. Treas., Norwood, Ont. 2231-4

TEACHERS wanted for Catholic Separate schools, Fort William, Ont., holding second class Ontario certificates. Salary $750 per aunum. Duties to commence September, 1921. Apply to G. P. Smith. Secretary, Room 11, Murray Block, Fort William, Ont. 2229-tf

DE LA SALLE COLLEGE, AURORA, ONT.

(RAINING COLLEGE AND NOVILLE)

Students are prepared to become qualified teachers and members of the Institute of the Brothers of the Christian Schools. The course of studies is that of the High Schools of Ontario leading to the Normal School and the Faculty of Education. It includes Music, Art and Manual Training, For particulars apply to Rev. Brother Director.

2228-12

COOK WANTED

WANTED

PHYSICIAN, Catholic desires a good openin unopposed preferred. Information is reque ed. Apply Box 266, CATHOLIC RECORD, Londo Ont.

WANTED cook and room maid for Catholic Rectory in an Ontario town. Must be experi-enced—two relatives or friends preferred. Apply with references to Box 264, CATHOLIC RECORD, London, Ont carry good house, Separate school on corne lot. For particulars apply to Michael Cullito R. R. No. 2, Ayton, Ont.

FARM FOR SALE

TRAINING FOR NURSES

sional nursing offering unlimited future opportunities. For particulars regarding thorough, standard, diploma courses registered modern school, Class A hospital good surrour dings, private residence, address of Training School, St. Catharine Hospital Bushwick Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

THE CALL FOR NURSES

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES

ALL ABOARD FOR

Ste. Anne de

Beaupre

Steamer "Toronto" will leave

Yonge St. Wharf, Toronto, on MONDAY, AUG. 8th

at 4 p.m. Daylight Saving Time

grimage, will be at Knights of Columbus Rooms, 582 Sherbourne St.,

Toronto, on Sunday, Aug. 7th, from 2.30 to 5.00 o'clock p. m., and at the Yonge Street Office of Canada Steamship Lines from 9.30 a. m. to 1.30

p. m. on Monday, Aug 8th, to supply

tickets to any who have not made reservations. Choice staterooms are

J. J. CALLAGHAN

CONDUCTOR OF TOURS

J. J. Callaghan, Conductor of Pil-

CONDUCTED BY THE CHRISTIAN BROTHERS ONTARIO (TRAINING COLLEGE AND NOVITIATE)

WANTED second class professional teacher for C. S. S. No. 1, Cornwall. Apply stating salary and qualifications to Angus H. Chisholm, Sec. Treas., Northfield Sta., R. R. 2, Ont.

QUALIFIED teacher wanted for S. S. No. 7 Huntley, Carleton County. Salary $900. Duties to commence Sept. 1st. Apply to M. L. Kennedy, Sec., Corkery, R. R. No. 1, Ont. 2234-3

WANTED for C. S. S. No. 4 Bromley, a second class pre-fessional teacher. Apply to Joe Sheedy, Sec. Treas., Cobden, Ont. R. R. 5. 2231-2 stating experience and sanctions. 2234-1

Sec. Treas., Owen Sound, Ont. 2234-1
CATFIOLIC teacher wanted for S. S. S. No. 7
Gleneig, Grey Co.; one holding second class professional certificate. Apply stating qualifications and salary expected to Donald McMillan, Sec., Priceville, Ont. R. R. No. 2.
2234-3

WANTED six assistant teachers for Pembrok Separate school. Applicants to state salary experience and qualification to A. J. Fortie Sec., Pembroke, Out. 2234-3

Bears triune witness; thus on Calvary's height
Doth it declare Him, 'spite of wounds and blood, Eternal King of Wisdom, Truth and Might!

-ELEANOR C. DONNELLY

B. -ELEANOR C. DONNELLY

APPLICATIONS will be received by the undersigned for the following teachers up to August 1, 1921: 4 English teachers holding and class professional certificates. Salary, Minimum $4,000. His English teachers holding and class professional certificates. Salary, Minimum $4,000. The Hoard of Trustees of the Catholic Separate Schools for the Town of Sudbury, M. J. Powell, Sec. Treas., Box 10°3.

WANTED qualified teacher for S. S. No. I. Griffith. Salary at the rate of $900 per annum Duties to commence Sept. 1st. 1921. Apply stating experience to Daniel Donovan, Sec. Treas, Balvenie P. O., Ont. 2322-3

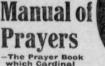

TEACHER wanted for S. S. No. 15, Hunting don. Duties to begin Sept. 3rd. Apply stating salary to Thos. O'Reilly, Madoc, Ont. 2232-4

apply stating qualifications and salar xpected to Jos. Cushing, Sec. Treas., Fergus 2231 tf

TEACHER for La Passe Catholic School, S No. 4. Normal trained. Capable of teach both French and English: please write p ticulars, stating, salary, and experience ies to commence Sept. 1 O'Drowski, Sec. Treas v 2. 2234-3

Everything a Catholic should know-is told:

"urged all Catholics to use It is more than a prayer book — it is a concise Cath-blic cyclopedia. Comprises

The Mass is Printed in Plain Type For those with Poor Eyesight

JOHN MURPHY CO., Dept. D, Baltimor Md.: Please send me the "Manual Prayers," with Book Mark.

Your Name on Cover, 50 Cents

W. E. Blake & Son, Ltd.

University of St. Francis Xavier's College

ANTIGONISH, NOVA SCOTIA

COURSES IN ARTS SCIENCE, ENGINEERING AND LAW

School Opens Sept. 15th, 1921 Apply for Calenda

Rev. H. P. MacPherson, D. D. PRESIDENT.

Agents Wanted to handle our beautiful

METAL

PLAQUES

Sell on Sight All Sacred Subjects

Write for territory and all information regarding commission. STUDENTS will find this an attractive method of augmenting their income during the vacation period.

Address all communications to The Catholic Record London, Ont.

Don't Throw Your Old Carpets Away

The Famous VELVETEX Rugs

Reversible—Will wear a lifetime—Prices reasonab We have hundreds of recommendations from satisfic customers. SEND FOR CATALOG. We pay express both ways on large orders. One way on small orders. Canada Rug Company 98 CARLING STREET, Established 1909

Votive Candles

For the Next 30 Days

We can offer Votive Candles at the following Extremely LOW PRICES 18's..... 201/2c 21c 20's..... 201/2c 21c 22c 22's..... 21c 211/2c 22c 221/2c 25's..... 21c 21½c 221/2c 21½c 221/2c 28's..... 21c 22c 22c 32's..... 21½c 22c 221/2c 22½c 23c 221/2c 36's..... 21½c 22c 22½c 23c

15 Hour Lights - $4.50 Gross These are full weight (16 oz.) Candles. TERMS-30 days' net from date of shipment. Put up in 40 lb. cases—well wired. ORDER NOW, as these prices are for a limited time only.

J. J. M. LANDY

Phone M 6555

YOU TOO—can have that SOFT, ROSY, VELVETY

My great complexion beauty marvel has instantly produced a sensation.

Get the Wonderful Beauty

405 Yonge St., TORONTO, ONT.

Methods of this Beautiful Woman

this fairly and truthfully-FREE to you.

Diemishes Removed Quickly ONLY ASK THAT YOU WRITE ME FIRST. Send no money. All confidential. No one else will know. Then to you, and any reader of this paper, I'll give full details of my wonderful and astonishing treatment. No obligations. No Miss Pearl La Sage, former actress ions. No risk. You be the sole judge. I offer

You can try it without risk and prove all I say—all that thousands of others say who know the results. You have never in your life used or heard of anything like it. Will make muddy complexions, red spots, pimples, blackheads, cruptions vanish almost like magic.

All Wethods neads, eruptions vanish almost like magic.

No cream, lotion, enamel, salve, plaster, bandage, mask, masage, die or apparatus, nothing to swallow. It doesn't matter whether or not your complexion is a "fright," whether your face is full of muddy spots: peoperly blackheads, embarrasing pimples and eruptions, or whether your skin is rough and "porey", and you've tried almost everything under the oun to get rid of the blemishes. This wonderful treament beautifies your skin in a marveilous way. You look years younger. It gives the bloom and tiut of purity of a treshly blown rose. In ten days you can be the subject of the wild admiration of all your friends, no matter what your age.

So, this minute, send me your name and address on the free coupon, or postal or letter, and by return mail I will write you full details in plain scaled envelope free. Decide now and do it for your own

Now Known are Cast Aside by Pearl La Sage

Promise You

YGU. Tee, Can now Have a BEAUTIFUL Complexion.

Pearl La Sage, Reg. Dept. 562 Box 289, Station B, Montreal.

