First Prince of Wales Flag Is Won Deloro Loan Team

Tudor, Limerick and Cashel Awarded Second Flag—Trenton Gains Slightly on Us in Heated Contest.

Prince of Wales' Flags, the first to be awarded in Hastings County, were won yesterday afternoon by Messrs. Norman Laing and Arthur Yates, Deloro, and Mr. W. A. McMurray of Gilmour, canvassing for Tudor, Limerick and Cashel. These honors are given to districts when they attain their objective in the Victory Loan campaign.

The first to win the flag was the Deloro team. Their returns have been well up since the start of the campaign, and they have exerted every effort to be the first to win this coveted honor. The winning of the second flag by Mr. McMurray came as a great surprise. Up till yesterday he had made no returns, and his first telephone message to headquarters announced that he had got an even 100 per cent. of his objective. Several teams have been in the race for the first flag and the contest has never been certain.

The splendid returns which commenced to come in this last week and are continuing. Yesterday $88,500 brought the County total up to $741,250, and the fine weather today, together with several returns which came in too late for last night's report, are expected to pile up a big total. Enthusiasm has at last been aroused, and the most optimistic reports come from everywhere. Every one is trying hard to win a German field gun for the county, which will be awarded if we win the highest percentage of all counties throughout Ontario.

Trenton gained slightly on Belleville in the heated contest which is going on between the two. Belleville's percentage is now 40.75, and Trenton's 50.61. The utmost efforts are being exerted on both sides, and it looks as if Belleville may possibly gain on their rivals soon.

Hastings County is climbing high in comparison with other counties. We are now only slightly behind Prince Edward as highest in the Division, and our showing compares very favorably elsewhere.

Grand Trunk Purchase Bill Passes Commons

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—The third reading of the Grand Trunk Railway acquisition bill was carried at 1.30 this morning by 84 to 53, being a government majority of 31, after the six months' hoist motion of James A. Robb, chief Liberal whip, had been defeated on the same division reversed. The bill now goes to the Senate and should be ready to receive the royal assent by the end of this week or early next. It was a day and night of divisions, the members being called in no less than six times to record their votes. The senate is expected to return the Grand Trunk bill to the House of Commons with an amendment asking that guarantee shares should be submitted to arbitration, if the bill gets through at all. In such a case it is believed the government will accept the amendment.

HONOLULU, Nov. 5.—Japan will spend over eight hundred million dollars on her navy, building nearly two hundred war vessels.

Strike Will Continue for Some Time

(Special 4 p.m. Despatch from Canadian Press Ltd.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Labor leaders who had taken hopeful view of strike situation after hearing of Samuel Gompers' suggestion for settlement, were plainly disturbed by news that the department of justice would let injunction stand. All agreed that it would keep the strike going for some time. This also was the view of operators.

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—The third reading of the Grand Trunk bill passed by a vote of 84 to 53 at two o'clock this morning.

ROYAL CAFE HOLD-UP; YOUTH FLOURISHES PISTOL

Second of Duo Cuts Telephone Wires—Police Arrest Suspect With Dirk and Cartridges in Possession at C. N. O. R. Depot.

A daring holdup in the early morning, the pointing of a revolver and the cutting of telephone wires, put Belleville into the bowery class at 2.35 this morning, when the Royal Cafe was robbed. But the Belleville police, in the persons of Sergeant Naphin and Constable Deshaune, arrested at the C.N.R. depot a sixteen-year-old youth who is believed to be one of the two who entered Tom's restaurant. The prisoner gives his name as Cecil Simpson, aged 16 years, and his address 313 Church street, Toronto. He was brought to the lockup.

At 2.39 this morning two young men entered the Royal Cafe, holding up the Chinese clerk. One pointed a .38 revolver at him, while the other pulled out a dirk or large knife and cut the telephone wires at the front of the restaurant. Fortunately this was only an extension, and did not cut off the rest of the place from "central". The till was rifled, and about $14 taken. The brigands also took the Chinaman's overcoat and a large box of Player's cigarettes. They then left.

The celestial sent in an alarm to the police and Sergeant Naphin and P. C. Deshaune responded. Having got the story from the Chinaman, the policemen went to the C.N.R. depot. There they found a youth and questioned him. He had first brought two single-barrel tickets for Toronto. On him was a belt with a dirk attached and twenty-five rounds of .33 calibre ammunition. He was arrested, and gave the name of Cecil Simpson, saying he sometimes went by the name of Tanner. The officers found the Chinaman's coat and the cigarettes at the depot.

Every effort was made to find another man, but failed. A good description of him was secured.

The point of the dirk was broken and on it are blood stains. It is said Simpson says he had cut his finger and the blood from the wound got on the knife.

Late this morning the police got a better story of the holdup. The front door of the restaurant was locked. The pair of holdup youth came in at the rear, where one of the Chinamen was carrying coal. He and three other celestials were harried in a room and from Tom Deep $14 was taken, and three or four dollars from the other three. It was the rear wire of the phone that was cut.

In police court this morning, Cecil Tanner (or Simpson) pleaded guilty to robbery from the person of Tom Deep. The knife he said he had bought. He declared he would be 16 years old on Nov. 19th, but he looks older. He has a scar on his face, the result of injury in the Halifax explosion. He is a native of Lunenburg, Nova Scotia.

Crown Attorney Carnew asked for a remand. Tanner was not represented by counsel.

He stated that his companion was named Brown, and resided on Jarvis street, Toronto.

Republicans Gained Seats in New York

(Special 4 p.m. Despatch from Canadian Press Ltd.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Indications early today were that Republicans had gained several seats in the New York state assembly. As the result of the election yesterday their representation has been increased by five, with no reports available on ten districts in King's county. Both women who served at the last session were defeated by men for re-election, but two other representatives of the fair sex will sit at the next session.

TOUCHING INSTANCE OF WIDOW'S PATRIOTISM

Bearing down under her three score years of hard work and absolutely dependent on her own resources, Mrs. Mary Cross, a widow who works in the kitchen at the Quate Hotel, yesterday provided a touching instance of self-sacrifice, real patriotism and motherly instinct when she bought a $50 Victory Bond for her three young grand-children, who are starting out in life under the most pathetic circumstances.

"I want to buy $21 worth of Victory Bonds for my grand-children, so they will have something when they grow up," she said, timidly approaching a canvasser in Victory Loan headquarters, 194 Front street.

Worried over the prospect of the little ones being launched into the world beset with every disadvantage and knowing that she could help her country in a true patriotic way, Mrs. Cross with her small subscription of a few dollars displayed an example of self-sacrifice which should put many to shame.

Little Edna McCutcheon, aged 6, and Bernard McMillan, aged 4, are living in the homes of kind strangers at Bancroft and Sadegrow, Ont. Their fathers were killed in the war, and their mothers are not in a position to give them the bringing up wished. The other grand-child is Marjell Miller, aged 11, a cripple. Out of her own savings, her grandmother is endeavoring to provide against a gloomy outlook.

Kindly told that it is not possible to buy less than a $50 bond, Mrs. Cross decided to avail herself of the arrangement made by the Minister of Finance with the banks and is getting her bond on the instalment plan.

H. A. WOOD CO. PURCHASES CANNING FACTORY BUILDING

Will Manufacture Automobile Valves and Other Valves—Big New Industry Will Soon Employ 300 Men.

Arrangements have just been completed whereby the H. A. Wood Mfg. Co., Ltd., secures possession of the cannery building on South Pinnacle street. This is quite a large three-story building, and the above company will immediately commence installing machinery for the manufacture of automobile valves and other valves for high pressure work. This company owns the Canadian rights of the Wood Airtight Valve Co., Ltd., and is capitalized at $1,000,000. The American rights have just been disposed of to a very strong group of capitalists in New York and the American company will be capitalized at $10,000,000.

The principal men interested in the Belleville company are Dr. I. G. Bogart of Kingston, who is well known in Belleville, Mr. Henry Handgrove, also of Kingston, Mr. S. W. Jencks, manufacturer of Sherbrooke, Que., and St. Catharines, Ont., Mr. Jas. R. Ness, grain merchant of Toronto, Mr. M. G. Hunt, barrister, Toronto, Mr. L. E. Denyes of Toronto, and Mr. R. J. Graham of Belleville.

It is expected that when the factory gets going to full capacity during the next year, probably about 300 men will be employed. For the present the company will not require all the room that is available in their new building, and it is likely that arrangements will be concluded to rent some space to another manufacturing concern.

The City Council last evening fixed the assessment of the company for a period of ten years at $10,000.

TRUISCH FAMILY ALMOST SUFFOCATED WITH COAL GAS

Cry of a Child Wakened Household to Realization of Smothering—Discovery Was Just in Time.

Police Constable John M. Truisch and his family, Church Street, had a narrow escape from asphyxiation between the hours of six and seven o'clock this morning. Five minutes more of breathing the deadly carbon gases and fatal results might have followed. Yesterday a coal fire was lighted in their house and apparently there must have been a slight defect in the stove or the wind must have caused gas to escape from the stove.

Mr. Truisch is on his holidays. The first intimation that anything was wrong came when one of the children started to cry. Mr. Truisch was awakened and at once detected gas. He opened the window and although very weak from breathing the fumes, he carried out most of the children to the lawn in front of his house. Mrs. Truisch made efforts to get to the window but fainted a number of times. The windows were thrown open and a circulation of air set up which cleared the rooms. Dr. Yeomans was summoned to attend the family.

Two of the children were very nearly suffocated by the escaping gas and were turning blue, when found. Five minutes more would likely have brought their death.

Mrs. Truisch remained in the house and will have to rest for a few days until the effects are worn off. The youngest child, Catherine, who is but a baby, came through the ordeal well and was soon quite recovered. Helen is still quite sick. Some of the children stayed at the homes of neighbors this morning. Mr. Truisch himself is much improved.

It is expected that no dangerous results will follow.

The family is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Truisch and six children, John, Jr., Margaret, Helen, Nora, James and Catherine.

AUTOMOBILE FOR POLICE; NEW FIRE ALARM SYSTEM

Recommendations Made By Special Committee on Police Matters.

The special committee of the Council which met the Police Commissioners regarding the question of the efficiency of the police department, brought in the following report to Council last evening. It was received and referred.

Belleville, Nov. 3, 1919. To His Worship the Mayor and City Council:

Dear Sirs—Your committee appointed to confer with the Police Commissioners beg leave to report as follows:

We met in Judge Deroche's office on Tuesday evening, the 28th Oct., at 3 p.m. Judge Deroche, Mr. Massen and Mayor Platt representing the Police Commission, and were given a careful hearing. The police force, fire alarm system, parking by-law, etc., were discussed at some length and other matters pertaining to the efficiency of the police department. We feel assured that much good will result from this conference and would make the following recommendations in the meantime:

That the fire alarm system be changed from the police station, and either placed elsewhere or a proper fire alarm system installed.

That an automobile be purchased for the use of the police force.

Some further recommendations were made and we are assured that the Commissioners will give the matters their careful attention at an early date.

Yours truly,
(Sgd.) Chas. Hanna,
Jamieson Bone.

GAS MANAGER'S RESIGNATION ACCEPTED BY COUNCIL

Carried by Six to Four—Griffin's Manager Asked Protection—Ald. Simmons Threatens to Resign as Gas Chairman.

The gas problem again faced the city fathers last night. Finally, after the expenditure of opinions for about an hour, the Council adopted a recommendation of the Gas Committee to accept Gas Manager Gardner's resignation. Gas Chairman Simmons threatened to resign his chairmanship.

Ald. Woodley moved the acceptance of the recommendation.

Mayor Platt wanted to hear an expression of the opinions of the members of the City Council.

Ald. White, explaining, said—Mr.

Gardner put in his resignation. We did not ask for it. He could have withdrawn it and has not done so.

Ald. Woodley—I have firmly made up my mind I am not going to occupy any more of my time with this. Ald. Ostrom and I solved the problem and somebody stepped in. I didn't think we, as custodians of the city's interest, have to be dictated to. Shall we go to Mr. Gardner and ask him to withdraw his resignation? No.

Ald. Simmons said most of the trouble arose in his absence. "I think we have in Mr. Gardner a first class man. I believe those at the head of this agitation don't know much about the gas plant. If the Council insists upon overriding the chairman of gas, I'll simply resign as chairman."

The gas department has always been a bugaboo. Mr. Gardner makes people pay their bills, and hence enemies are made, declared Mayor Platt. "If I were chairman, and others interfered, I'd resign. The chairman is right in threatening to resign. Some of the aldermen have been saying that Mr. Gardner has to go. They are set in their opinions."

Ald. Ostrom asked under what terms Mr. Gardner should be retained.

"Under the same conditions as heretofore."

"You're ordering then that he replace Mr. Cook?"

"No; but leave that to the manager. It is time the cause of friction is removed."

Ald. Hanna declared Ald. Ostrom did everything in his power to harmonize conditions in the department. After Mr. Gardner signs an agreement and a by-law is passed, he tenders his resignation. He has been asked to withdraw his resignation. He does not do so, and wants us to beg him to stay. I say no.

Ald. Hunter said he understood words in the by-law did not coincide with the agreement.

Mayor Platt—There is told on the street that there is an alderman wants to push Mr. Gardner out and take his place. Perhaps there is truth in it.

Ald. Bone said Belleville gas was the highest priced but one in Ontario. The works are not so bad, but they have, it seems, not been well managed. Either Mr. Gardner or Mr. Cook would have to go, it seemed, as they could not agree.

Ald. Bone criticized Ald. Simmons for threatening to resign. He should submit to the majority of the Council, and stay with the ship.

"The fire chairman submitted gracefully," said Ald. Ostrom. "And the waterworks chairman did," said Ald. Woodley.

Ald. Riggs—You can't have two managers.

Ald. Trevorton—How is it Mr. Gardner wants to get rid of Mr. Cook? At the same time he says he is the best gas maker between Toronto and Montreal.

Ald. Simmons—A man may have all the necessary ability, if there is to be friction, the sooner one or the other is removed the better.

Ald. Trevorton—I am going to stand by the recommendation. Do you think it is right for four aldermen to make a joke of this council.

Ald. Riggs moved that his resignation be not accepted.

The amendment lost by 4 to 5. The original motion carried by 5 to 4.

"You see the plot," declared the mayor, "in getting you in the chair." This was directed at Ald. Ostrom.

Ald. Ostrom defended himself, explaining his action as acting gas chairman. "If Mr. Gardner wants to remain in the face of Mr. Cook being established as gas maker, I do not want to kick him out."

The yeas and nays were recorded as follows:

Yeas—Bone, Hanna, Ostrom, Trevorton, White, Woodley—5

Nays—Mayor Platt, Simmons, Hunter, Riggs—4.

Mr. George J. Forhan, local manager of Griffin's, addressed the Council saying he did not think it fair for the city to allow small companies to appear at the City Hall in opposition to the Griffin houses. If the companies are any good they can secure bookings from Mr. Small. Griffin's are heavy tax payers. Griffin's were not opposed to concerts in the City Hall.

The matter was referred to the committee.

Mr. G. A. Bennett said he planned building a residence on Coleman street, opposite Pringle's mill. He requested the Council to permit him to use it for a shop for two years. At present this area is restricted to residences. The matter was left to the engineer and Ald. Woodley with power to act.

Mr. Alfred Skinner asked for water service, 104 feet along Albee street to enable him to build two houses.

Mrs. George Naylor of Bull street or Hazelwood avenue in Thurlow one street east of the city limits, aired a complaint about the fees for attendance of non-resident children at the schools. "We pay taxes in the city, having property in Belleville. Last year the residents of the street spent $12,000 in the city. All the residents asked was a fair fee. The Board of Education demanded $25 per non-resident pupil. There are fifteen children on the street who will have to attend Albert College gymnasium." Mayor Platt said the Council could not override the Bd.

of Education.

Ald. Bone said the city limits should be extended to include the street.

Ald. Ostrom favored recommending a cut in two of the present fees.

Comrade E. D. Finkle headed a deputation who asked if there were anything doing in regard to the Pinnacle Street School property.

Mayor Platt, Ald. Bone and Ald. Woodley said that a business proposition would likely be made public in a day or so.

Ald. Ostrom thought there should be a fine monument as a memorial to the fallen.

Ald. Simmons referred to the sewer inspection by Mr. Post. He thought the city engineer could do this.

Street Foreman J. S. Henderson said there should be an inspector on every sewer under construction.

Ald. Simmons was informed that the Catharine street petition for a concrete sidewalk on the south side of the hill was not adequately signed, and was referred to the Board of Education.

Ald. Bone asked if it would not be advisable to lay a storm sewer on Bridge street from Pinnacle to Bleeker avenues.

Ald. Woodley thought it should be further considered.

Ald. Bone asked if something could not be done to provide the cannery factory with sewer accommodation. A new industry, which has acquired the property will employ 400 men, and another many more. Ald. Bone thought Belleville had the chance of its lifetime to progress.

Ald. Woodley said there was no trunk sewer to join to. The engineer should look over the matter.

Ald. Woodley stated that a letter from Mr. Porter, M.P., had been received, in which he stated that he had received word from the bay bridge company, who did not think it advisable to sell the land they own south of Dundas street and west of the bay bridge approach.

The Oakoal site is not yet settled, as was gleaned from a number of inquiries.

Ald. Simmons referred to the condition of Murray's Hill. Ald. Woodley said the foreman was awaiting the finding of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board on the matter of the paving of the hill. If it was likely to be adverse the city would grade the hill this autumn.

The following motions were passed:

Bone-Hanna—That the H. A. Wood Mfg. Co. be granted a fixed assessment of $10,000 for ten years on the cannery factory property, commencing with the year 1920, on condition of the plant being kept in operation.

Bone-White—That the clerk write the Board of Education to see if reduction cannot be made in fees for non-resident pupils of Bull street from $25 to $15.

Hunter-Hanna—As there appears to be some mistake as to the methods pursued by the Housing Committee to Building Supervisor George Walton be chosen to wait on Mr. Ellis at once with a view to straightening out the apparent tangle.

Simmons-Woodley—That Ald. Ostrom, Riggs and Hunter be a committee to investigate a suitable site for the Oakoal Company.

"Nothing to Say" is Attitude of Strikers

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 4.—With the officials of the United Mine Workers of America maintaining an attitude of "nothing to say" as the result of a federal court restraining order issued here last week, both union leaders and government officials are awaiting the outcome of a hearing in the federal court next Saturday as the next development in the coal strike situation here.

THOUGHT THAT COAL STRIKE MAY SOON BE OVER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Influences are being brought to bear by officials here and it is believed that the coal strike will soon be over.

OVER ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS NOW.

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—The total Victory Loan subscriptions up to last night in Ontario is over one hundred million dollars.

Do It Now—Disorders of the digestive apparatus should be dealt with at once before complications arise that may be difficult to cope with. The surest remedy to this end and one that is within reach of all, is Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. The best laxative and sedative on the market. Do not delay, but try them now. One trial will convince anyone that they are the best stomach regulator that can be got.

Picked Up Around Town

Belleville's hickshope are satisfactory in every respect, declares a report presented to the city council last evening by Sanitary Inspector T. E. Wills and Bread Inspector B. Quincey. The report goes into details of the various shops. In a number of places whitewashing or calceining was recommended.

The Sodality held a most successful euchre party and dance at St. Michael's Academy last evening, which was attended by hundreds. Euehre, bridge and five hundred flourished. Some indulged in dancing and at midnight there were abundant refreshments served.

The well-known artist, Mr. F. M. Bell-Smith, of Toronto, addressed the Women's Canadian Club at the High School last evening. This morning he held an exhibit of paintings and miniatures at the Y.M.C.A. parlors, which was attended by quite a large number of connoisseurs.

Constable Harris of the G.T.R. last night arrested Jack B. Mendelsohn, 19 years of age, and George Goldberg, 19, on a charge of vagrancy in trespassing on G.T.R. property. They pleaded guilty this morning and were remanded for a week. Their homes are on Edward street, Toronto.

During a discussion of industries last night at the City Council Ald. Jamieson Bone declared he was again going to ask the electors for support for the year 1920. Ald. Bone is deeply interested in the industrial growth of Belleville and wants to see more of municipal life.

Dr. Scott Demolishes J. Burnham's Quibbles

Pastor of Bridge Street Church Replies to Member for Peterboro

The letters that appear below were published in The Toronto Globe last week. J. W. Burnham, M.P., the erratic member for Peterborough has been giving expression to his chagrin over the endorsement of the Ontario Temperance Act by introducing a "joker" bill in the Commons to prohibit playing cards and the use of tobacco in any form. He also has written a superficial letter to The Toronto Globe which Dr. Scott riddles with pitiless logic. Following are the letters:

MR. BURNHAM ON PROHIBITION

To the Editor of The Globe: The following opinion is that of a private individual. As a member of Parliament it is my duty to represent the people's will.

Prohibition has superseded the old cry of Salvation. If the prohibition of one possible means of evil is right and proper, the prohibition of all such means is right and proper. It is plain that this method should have been adopted from the first, and that the Creator made a serious mistake in allowing humanity to run wild when He could have stopped it all by prohibiting all means of evil.

Prohibition marks a new era. The Christian era, dating from the death of Christ, founded upon the regeneration of the hearts of men, is no more. Regeneration has given way to prohibition. Henceforth the clergy will preach the prohibition of the means of committing the seven daily sins. The modern idea is that an ounce of prevention is worth a ton of cure. People will yet live to regret that they have rejected the Divine plan in favor of their own. It is useless to point to the ravages of sin in all its forms and to the means of salvation through repentance when the people have rejected the advisability of repentance in favor of abolishing the means of sin. Regulation is control, and self-regulation or self-control is the command of God, both through natural and revealed religion. Henceforth we are to be told that religion is not a voluntary matter; that the free will and the free agency are discarded theories. When a regiment of the saved march into Heaven it will be under the flag of Compulsion. They were not saved through the Death of Christ, but through the law of prohibition. That pleat? The yeast plant is one of the germs active in the process of decay. Its product is the poison known as alcohol. Just as ptomaine is the product of germs in the decay of animal matter, so alcohol, one of the poisons of the decay of vegetable matter, is inimical to life. Neither of these poisons was made to be injected into the human system even though the Creator made the germs which produced them.

Lake Lodge Welcomes District Deputy Symons

Masonic Brethren Turned Out in Force Last Night to Visit Ameliasburg.

About one hundred of the brethren of the Masonic fraternity from Belleville turned out last night to accompany the district deputy grand master, Chas. J. Symons, on his first official visit to Lake Lodge, Ameliasburg, (Roblin's Mills). Strong delegations came also from Picton and Wellington.

In the early part of the evening the brethren repaired to the lodge room where the third degree was exemplified by the officers of Lake Lodge. The master of the lodge, Bro. Ben. Anderson, and the capable staff of his degree team were highly complimented by the district deputy and others for their proficiency in the work.

R. W. Bro. Symons gave a brief address, making a number of suggestions as to methods of carrying on the work of masonry during his term of office. He strongly recommended not putting on too many degrees on the regular meeting nights but to try to make the "Fourth" degree particularly bright and attractive. This, he believed, would maintain interest and increase attendance.

Elaborate preparations had been made for the entertainment of the visitors. And when Lake Lodge undertakes to entertain, half measures will not do. There is no doubt about the reality, the feast proper or the subsequent feast of reason and effort of soul. But last night's effort surely surpassed all its predecessors. The roast chicken, deep pumpkin pies, four-stories cakes and other viands formed a repast fit for the gods. And those who were fortunate enough to share in its sumptuousness only relaxed their efforts from pure exhaustion.

Bro. Anderson, the worshipful master, very capably presided as toast-master and caused an unusually full and rich program to pass off with a verve and swing that left no doubt of the fine appreciation of the audience. In fact those who did the speaking and entertaining were somewhat embarrassed by the tumultuous nature of their reception.

The District Deputy's Address

When the district deputy, R. W. Bro. Symons arose to respond to the toast to the "Grand Master and Grand Lodge," he received an ovation, giving testimony, if any were needed, that he will be one of the most popular deputies who has ever filled that chair. The subsequent address by Bro. Symons was a masterly effort and delivered in that clear and impressive manner that seems so well to fit his message. His address was an interpretation of the spirit of masonry and gave the brethren an enlarged vision and conception of their duties and privileges.

The toast to "Canada and the Empire" was honored by two splendid patriotic addresses—the first from Wor. Bro. Lt.-Col. Adams of Picton and the second from R. W. Bro. H. F. Ketcheson, of Belleville.

The toast, "The Learned Professions," brought able and eloquent responses from Bro. Rev. W. G. Swayne, of Belleville, J. E. Benson, of Picton, Inspector of Schools for Prince Edward, and P. C. MacLaurin, principal of Belleville High School.

The toast to the "Visitors" was adequately honored by apt and witty responses from R. W. Bro. F. Davey Diamond and John Newton, of Belleville, Wor. Bros. Hubbs, of Wellington and Wm. Cooke, Dr. Morley Day and A. E. Thrasher, of Belleville.

The toast to "Lake Lodge" proposed by the district deputy was briefly acknowledged by Wor. Bro. Anderson.

A vote of thanks was tendered to wives, mothers, daughters, sisters and sweethearts of the members of Lake Lodge for the splendid feast so abundantly provided.

Interpersed with the speeches were a number of remarkably fine vocal selections.

R. W. Bro. J. Shurie, of Wellington in addition to responding to the toast to the "Grand Master," sang with Bro. Thos. Pillingham, of Wellington a rare and beautiful duet, "After the Pray." Bro. Pillingham further contributed a most amusing humorous number, "Under the Circumstances." Wor. Bro. John McElroy, of Belleville was loudly endorsed after giving a fine rendition to "The March of the Cameron Men." He later sang "Mother Machree." Bro. Fred Sprague, of Belleville rendered with spirit that splendid baritone solo, "The Blacksmith" and as an encore gave "Annie Laurie."

12 Year Old Boy Shoots Big Bear

Lindsay, Nov. 3.—A few days ago, Master Bruce Givens, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. Hugh Givens, of North Harvey, sighted a bear while out looking for the cows. The next day Bruce took his Winchester rifle with him, and was fortunate enough to have another view of bruin. He brought his rifle into play and fired seven shots, four of which found a resting place somewhere within the anatomy of Mr. Bruin, which was sufficient to place him hors de combat.

The bear was about two years and a half old, and weighed three hundred and fifty pounds. When you consider the age of the youthful hunter, this was quite a wonderful feat, and Bruce has every reason to feel proud of his trophy.

Another Lady Badly Burned

Mrs. H. Waddell Injured When Her Clothing Caught Fire.

Kingston, Nov. 3.—A most remarkable coincidence, in connection with the serious burning of Miss Annie McDermott, on Wednesday, is the fact that Mrs. H. Waddell, living in the same block, was also seriously burned on the same day as Miss McDermott and in somewhat the same manner.

Mrs. Waddell had prepared to retire, and was clad in only her night clothing. Passing a grate burner, the switch of her night clothes fanned the flames, and her clothing took fire. In an instant she was a mass of flames, and she cried to her husband, who rushed to her assistance, and extinguished the flames by the use of some of the bed clothing. Mrs. Waddell was seriously burned about the back, and was attended by Dr. Mylks, who, singularly enough, also attended Miss McDermott.

Mrs. Waddell, while still suffering from the burns, is doing as well as can be expected to-day.

A Good Performance

The Albert College Dramatic Club Played Before the Public Last Night the Play Entitled, "The Private Secretary."

The Albert College Dramatic Society very ably played to a full house in the City Hall, the play entitled, "The Private Secretary," last night.

The players certainly deserve a large amount of praise, in the way they so adeptly handled and effectively staged it.

"The Private Secretary," living in the city of London, had incurred a great many debts, which he was unable to pay. He had a very rich uncle in India and some day he hoped to inherit his fortune. His creditors kept pressing him, so his friend decides to take him to his uncle's in the country as a private secretary instead of the one he had engaged. He brings the former one to this fellow's lodgings and tells him to remain there. Meanwhile the uncle comes back and mistakes this fellow for his nephew.

They go down to the country and it is not long before "the private secretary's" uncle comes and the nephew almost gives away his identification. This uncle in the country has a devotee to spiritualism living with him. The former engaged secretary, getting tired of London, also comes to this place and then all kinds of complications arise. He is taken as the "medium" by the lady spiritualist. One of the creditors also comes and they serve this supposed nephew with a writ. The creditor then explains, that was not the man but it was "the private secretary" who was to be served with the writ. The uncle from India then finds out who is his nephew and everything ends well.

Mr. Anglin played the part of the former engaged secretary and Mr. Staples, the uncle from India. These two, so entirely different in nature, kept the audience in continued laughter the whole evening. Miss Taitte played the part of the spiritualist and brought forth her part with dramatic force exceedingly well.

Between the second and third acts Mr. Harold Barrett favored the audience with a song and an encore. Mr. Sparling Beach played an instrumental number. Mr. Beach is totally blind, and he played one of the most difficult pieces, never missing a note. It was wonderful to see him, blind as he was, playing this piece, which is indeed exceedingly difficult for one to play who can see. He deserves much credit.

The play was an entire success and anyone who missed seeing it certainly missed a good performance.

Bodies of Two Victims Found

Burial of Joseph and William Kerr at Toronto

Two bodies from the wreck of the steam barge Homer Warren, which sank in Lake Ontario in a 72-mile gale last Tuesday, have been brought to Toronto for burial. They were those of two brothers, Joseph and William Kerr, of Goderich. Stanley Foster, of 36 Wolsley street, Toronto, was wheelman. He had only been back from overseas six months after several years' fighting. His brother, James Foster, was also a member of the crew, but did not sail as he injured his foot three weeks ago. Mrs. Foster has given up hope that her son will be found. Stanley was a native of Belleville. "I cannot understand that four of the men were found with lifebelts on them," said Mrs. Foster. "My boy was the wheelman, and he may have gone down with the wreckage."

DIVISION COURT

Judge Wills presided over a busy Division Court yesterday, the chief feature of which was a wages and damage case from the township of Sidney, which took up nearly the whole day with many witnesses and stringent cross-examinations. Verdict for the plaintiff for $93.90. No witness fees allowed. W. N. Pouton, K.C., for plaintiff; F. E. O'Flynn for defendant.

LATE S. A. LAZIER.

All that was mortal of the late Stephen A. Lazier was laid to rest in Belleville cemetery in the family plot on Monday afternoon. A deeply impressive service was held at his late residence, 91 Bridge street, by the Rev. A. S. Kerr, M.A., of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Numerous flowers had been contributed although it had been requested there be no flowers. The pall bearers were immediate relatives.

Are Looked On As Old Tried Friends

Dodd's Kidney Pills Have Earned Their Popularity by Their Cures

Alberta Lady Who Suffered from Kidney Trouble for Ten Years is Now Recommending Dodd's Kidney Pills to Her Friends.

Tolland, Alta., Nov. 3.—(Special) "I can recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to anyone who needs a remedy for sick kidneys." So says Mrs. Fred Wolters, a well-known and highly respected lady living here. And Mrs. Wolters gives her reasons for making this statement.

"I suffered from kidney trouble for ten years. I felt heavy and sleepy after meals, I was always tired and nervous and I had a bitter taste in my mouth, especially in the mornings. I was often dizzy, my memory was failing and I was very irritable. Stiffness in the joints, backache, headache, and finally rheumatism were added to my troubles.

"I finally decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills and I took two boxes. I found them satisfactory in every way. I do not think they can be excelled."

You will notice that everyone who recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills has tried them and found them good. They are recognized as old and tried friends in thousands of Canadian families. Ask your neighbors about them.

JOHN C. HARRIS

The obsequies of the late John C. Harris were held yesterday from the residence of his brother, Mr. S. T. Harris, College Hill, Rev. George Marshall officiating. Interment took place in Belleville cemetery, the bearers being John Mather, Angus Martin, Ambrose C. Darce, J. Gay, J. Donaldson and H. Redner.

United States Elections Taking Place Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Election in five states went to polls today to ballot for governors, while election of lesser officials and decisions on constitutional questions faced the voters of several other states. Governors are being elected in Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi and New Jersey. The elections in Ohio are being watched with interest by wet and dry advocates as there, for the first time in any state, a popular vote is being taken on the 15th amendment to the constitution. This is being accomplished by a referendum on the legislature's action in ratifying the amendment in Kentucky, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Jersey, Virginia and New York.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1919.

ROMANCE OF THE RINGINGS

Alfred T. Ringling, head of the Ringling family of circus owners, died suddenly of heart disease a few days ago at his country home, Old Ridge, N. J. Mr. Ringling was in his 56th year. He was born at McGregor, Ia., and was one of seven brothers who became famous the world over as showmen. Alfred T. leaves a widow and one son, Richard. The only other members of his own generation in the family who survive are his brothers John and Charles.

The Oak Ridge estate is the winter quarters of some of the animals and equipment of the Ringling Brothers' Circus, which has headquarters at Baraboo, Wis. The winter quarters of the Barnum & Bailey's show, owned by the Ringlings, is at Bridgeport, Conn.

Arthur T. Ringling was apparently in good health when he retired. When he manifested signs of distress by shortness of breath and other symptoms that betoken heart failure, a physician was hastily summoned, but Mr. Ringling died soon after the doctor's arrival.

Alf Ringling, who was the oldest of the Ringling brothers, died of heart disease on January 1, 1916, at his home in Baraboo, Wis. He was 63 years old, and had been ill for about three years from the time of his frantic efforts to save the Ringling Circus from destruction when it was caught in the flames of a burning lumber yard.

Otto Ringling, the second of the brothers in age, died at the residence of John Ringling at Fiftieth street and Fifth avenue, New York, March 11, 1911, from chronic nephritis.

Otto was 52 years old, and since the fall of 1907, when the Ringlings bought out Barnum & Bailey, he had been in charge of the circus property and menagerie at Bridgeport, Conn.

Augustus Ringling died in New Orleans in 1903. The fourth was Charles Ringling, the fifth Alfred T. Ringling, the sixth John Ringling and the seventh Henry Ringling.

The firm of the Ringling Brothers comprised five of the seven brothers, Augustus and Henry not being members of the firm of showmen.

In 1884 the five brothers were engaged in harness making at McGregor, Ia. The family was of Alsatian and Huguenot parentage, and was extremely musical, each member being a master of one or more musical instruments. They began their career as showmen by giving at first concert tours through the towns of Iowa and Wisconsin, and eventually went into the circus business. In seventeen years they became the veritable masters of the show world. The surviving brothers all credit Otto Ringling with being the lieutenant-general of the family. He was a master of detail.

He had three hobbies—horses, books and mathematics. He was a wide reader, especially familiar with history and all classics of literature, and if he had any pride at all it was in his knowledge of current literature. His private car attached to the show trains, contained a voluminous library. He was buried in the family plot at Baraboo.

In the purchase by the Ringlings of the Barnum & Bailey circus for $410,000 the "five little brothers of Baraboo" reached the top of the pedestal, or, in the language of an admiring editor of a show publication "unquestioned monarchs of the show world."

The Ringling family thus began to direct the destinies of the Barnum & Bailey, the Ringling Brothers, the Forepaugh-Sells and the Buffalo Bill shows, employing not less than 5,000 persons, and dominating the situation in the tented show world.

Their earliest billing read: "Ringling Brothers' Moral, Elevating, Instructive and Fascinating Concert and Variety Performance One Night Only."

The year following they joined a pair of wandering troubadours and toured the Northwest with a so-called concert and sketch troupe. At the end of the season they had $300. This was $60 each. It looked good.

In the winter following their first concert season they conceived the idea of putting out a one-ring tent show. Al was now quite a juggler. John could sing, "Root, Hog or Die" and was a good clown as well. Alf T. and Charlie were pretty fair examples of bucolic "wind-jammers" and little Otto could beat the bass drum.

There were, of course, a thousand and one trials the ambitious lads were called on to face.

In another year they added a trick horse and a bear to the ring stock and the menagerie. And so they expanded by degrees, getting just a little larger each year, husbanding every dollar, jollying every possible agency which might contribute to their success, and always returning at the end of the season with a little larger surplus than that of the season before, until, finally, at the end of a successful season in the eighties, on returning to Baraboo greatly elated, Brother John went down to see Grandma Ringling, who was still frowning her awful Lutheran frown, when John casually remarked: "But Grandma, we made $15,000 this year."

South Africa, like the rest of the world, civilized and uncivilized, is caught in the impetuous progress. The old policy of isolation is obsolete. It no longer stands, as Gen. Smuts truly says. For good or for ill we are involved in a world movement of profound import to our future. We enjoy a new international status but it is not a status of precarious independence and inglorious isolation such as belongs to other small states. It is an independence, plus the advantage of membership of a group or league of nations, widely scattered communities of free men united for certain common purposes. They represent an actual and potential influence, the effect of which is incalculable, but, rightly inspired, cannot but be the greatest of all conceivable guarantees of liberty, progress and peace. Here again we have the substance as compared with the shadow of the larger but more experimental league. There will be difficulties to solve. There may be sacrifices to be made, but the sacrifices will be worth the immense gain of maintaining the Commonwealth. For if this Commonwealth is shattered, what effective safeguard will remain, either for ourselves or for the other sister nations? And when we dwell—justly and with pride—upon our efforts in this terrific ordeal through which humanity has passed, let us also remember the price the Old Country paid that we might live in peace and prosperity.

YANKS

O'Leary from Chicago and a first-class fightin' man,
 Born in County Clare or Kerry where the gentle art began,
 Sergeant Dennis P. O'Leary from somewhere on Archie Road,
 Dodgin' shell and smellin' powder, while the battle ebbed and flowed,
 And the Captain says, "O'Leary, from your fightin' company
 Pick a dozen fightin' Yankees and come skirmishin' with me,
 Pick a dozen fightin' devils, and, I know it's you that can."
 And O'Leary he saluted, line a first-class fightin' man.
 O'Leary's eye was piercin' and O'Leary's voice was clear,
 "Dimitri Georgeopolos!" and Dimitri answered "Here!"
 Then "Vladimir Slaminski, step three paces to the front,
 For we're wantin' you to join us in a little Heinie hunt."
 "Garibaldi Ravioli!"—Garibaldi was to share
 And "Axel Ole Kettleston!" and "Thomas Scalp the Bear."

Who was Choctaw by inheritance, bred in his blood and bones,
 But put down in army records by the name of Thomas Jones,
 "Van Winkle Schlyder Stuyvesant!" Van Winkle was a bud
 Of the ancient tree of Stuyvesant, and had it in his blood,
 "Don Miguel de Colombo!" Don Miguel's next of kin,
 Were across the Rio Grande when Don Miguel went in.
 "Ulysses Grant O'Sheridan!" Ulysses' sire, you see,
 Had been at Appomattox near the famous apple tree.
 And "Patrick Michael Casey!" Patrick Michael you can tell
 Was a fightin' man by nature, with three fightin' names as well.
 "Joe Wheeler Lee!" and Joseph had a pair of fightin' eyes,
 And his grand-dad was a Johnny as perhaps you might surmise.
 Then "Robert Bruce McPherson!" and the Yankee squad was done,
 With "Isaac Abie Cohen!" once lightweight champion.
 O'Leary paced 'em forward, and says he, "You Yanks fall in!"
 And he marched 'em to the Captain: "Let the skirmishin' begin."
 Says he, "The Yanks are comin' and you beat 'em if you can!"
 And saluted like a soldier and first-class fightin' man.

OTHER EDITORS' OPINIONS

COMING INTO THEIR OWN

It is not a calamity that farmers and labor are coming into their own. The issue may involve the disappearance of that intense partisanship that used to prevail, but that fact need not necessarily be detrimental to the State. In fact I think it will be decidedly beneficial to the real working classes.

Only the machine politicians need be disturbed at the idea that people should do some independent thinking and vote for principle or in accord with the dictates of sound judgment.

Such a condition would not mean the death of party government. It would mean a healthier party system. Party government there will be as long as men differ in their views on public questions. The emergence of the United Farmers as a political factor, far from indicating the end of party government, means simply that a new party has arisen to supplant for the time being at all events, the Liberal and Conservative parties. Their avowed aim was the break up of slavish party allegiance. Faced with the responsibilities of office, they will themselves need to be on guard against encroachment of a narrow party spirit. They have the lessons of the political history of the province as a guide and a warning.

It would be manifestly unfair to place the entire burden of responsibility upon the United Farmers, however. It is probably the truth that they expected as little as any of us that they would be called to carry on the administration of public affairs. The most they hoped for, if not all they wanted, was to obtain such power as would enable them to exercise a direct influence upon the Government.

Faced as they are with responsibility, however, it is up to the farmers to realize it—and I haven't any doubt they will make good, perhaps for longer than is generally imagined. In the meantime we shall be given the opportunity of witnessing how a new order can work out the problems of government. It will do good to throw light into the dark corners of old governments and let the farmers and labor show what they can do at bettering a method of government that they have long criticized and said all manner of things about.

We shall see what we shall see, and in a manner it ought to be pleasant—as well as novel—for the two old-line parties to sit on one side and watch for the loopholes to criticize that they used to be the targets for themselves when their party was in power. We can now criticize instead of the other fellow, and the attacker always has the advantage, you know, with the knowledge that if you throw enough mud some of it is bound to stick.—Guelph Herald.

NOT WANTED

In their selection of a leader the U.F.O. have apparently brushed aside in indifferent silence the unsolicited advice of Becktle organs and all the news propaganda in the interest of the hydro magnate. It does not seem likely that official Labor was any more interested than agriculture to promote the local Mordecai into Haman's place. The people's own men having their hands the disposal of power delight to honor or not the silk ties but the safe and sure democrat.

It grows more and more sure that London Labor made no mistake in its distrust of Sir Adam Beck. Labor is not to be deceived by a band of Toronto claqueurs chanting a mechanical chorus into supposing the local knight a democrat or a suitable head for a people's government. Despotism, however benevolent, is out of date in this country. Independent farmers' and unassuming town people do not propose to eat out of a ruler's hand.

Not only Sir Adam Beck's autocratic character, but his failure to measure up anywhere near to a prohibition standard makes him simply impossible as the leader of a progressive party in power. The farmers and laborers are beginning to show signs that they really mean to carry out their promises, to enforce prohibition, as it never has yet been enforced, and to enact and enforce such legislation as may secure the equal rights of all and put privilege at last into the discard. No one associated with the Hearst and Borden element could possibly be altogether persona grata to the workers' government nor lead its policies with conviction. It is hard to imagine

Sir Adam, with all his love of power, bringing himself to accept the conditions under which he would have to lead such a government, even less acquiescing in that capacity to the satisfaction of the sturdy, democratic new occupants of the right benches. Kismet—the logical thing has been done.—London Advertiser.

General Debility Following Influenza

Strength Can Only be Regained by Enriching the Blood.

Following a wide spread epidemic of influenza, general debility is on the increase, and its effects may be noticed in the worn listless appearance of so many of the men and women you meet. Influenza always leaves behind it impaired vitality, and with the modern conditions of life that use up nerve force so rapidly, general debility becomes one of the most common maladies. The symptoms of debility vary, but weakness is always present. There is poor digestion, languor, weak, aching back, wakefulness at night, often distressing headaches and a feeling of fatigue. These symptoms indicate impure and impoverished blood. It is significant of nearly every attack of influenza that it is followed by anaemia and debility.

For all such run-down conditions, new blood is the most reliable cure. Sufferers should at once begin to make thin blood rich and red with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Under a fair treatment with this medicine they will realize more and more the health-restoring influence of good rich blood, and how this new blood brings a feeling of new strength and increased vitality. Proof is given in the case of Mrs. G. Robertson, Wingham, Ont., who says:—"When the Spanish influenza spread over our town I happened to be one of the first attacked, and the attack was a very severe one, and worse still the after effects of the trouble left me in continuous misery. I had severe pains in my side, felt low-spirited, and with no ambition whatever. My head ached almost continually, my eyes felt heavy, and pimples broke out on my face. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking them for a time, felt like my old self, able to do my housework, and feeling well and strong. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the serious after-effects of influenza as I am sure they will restore all sufferers to good health."

You can get these Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail, postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CATTLE MARKETS

UNION STOCK YARDS

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—With receipts of cattle totalling more than 9000, or, to be absolutely accurate, 9057 head at the Union Stock Yards, yesterday at noon, all records in point of numbers were, we believe, broken on the local exchange.

With all this volume of trading, and the bulk of the receipts of inferior quality, there was a good demand for the finished butcher class, heifers and steers, and the good and choice feeders.

There was a steady market for canner cows and choice butcher cows, but medium butcher cows were slow of sale.

Good springers and milkers commanded satisfactory prices, and, taken all in all, and considering the exceptional run, we cannot but regard the market as satisfactory.

Victory for Labor

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 4.—Labor has won a sensational victory in the municipal election, not only in London, but throughout Great Britain, as far as can be judged by the reports already at hand.

"While labor polled probably quite a fair proportion of its voting strength, the other parties suffered very heavily from the supineness of their supporters, and only in a few instances did 50 per cent. of the electors take the trouble to vote.

"The women voters probably exercised a considerable influence on many of the results, the discontent of the housewife no doubt having satisfaction in a decisive pronouncement in favor of a forward policy. But the women candidates at the polls were not, on the whole, successful."

COUNTY CONSTABLE CONQUER-GOOD AND OTHERS SPENT DAY IN SEARCH

Burglars Believed to Have Used a Boat.

Lindsay, Nov. 3.—County Constable P. Conquergood returned this morning after being absent the better part of the week looking for clues in connection with the recent robbery at Pleasant Point and Bald Point, some nine cottages in all having been entered.

He reports that a thorough investigation was made around Fenelon Falls, Bobcaygeon, Cameron, Bald Point and the vicinity and not a single clue could be obtained. In his search around Fenelon Falls he was assisted by Constable Jones and others.

The County Constable is of the opinion that there were three or four thieves, and that a boat was used to carry away the goods, as the mark of the boat could be discerned on the shore in front of Dr. Caven's cottage.

Little Child Died Under Chloroform

The entire neighborhood as well as the village of Fenelon Falls were shocked to hear of the sudden death of Lloyd Leonard Brooks, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Brooks, Verulam.

The little fellow was only two years and seven months old, and was the very picture of health. He was troubled with his tonsils and adenoids. Drs. Graham were going to operate on them, but as soon as the chloroform was administered the little chap's heart stopped beating. The doctors worked hard with him for almost an hour, but it was impossible to do anything for him.—Gazette.

Anti-Bolshevik Army Reported Surrounded

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A claim that the northwestern Russian army of Gen. Yudenitch which has been attacking Petrograd, has been surrounded by the Bolsheviks, is made in a Soviet Govt. wireless despatch from Moscow dated today.

G. W. V. A. NOTES

The regular weekly meeting of the Belleville branch, Great War Veterans' Association, of Canada, was held in the association room on Monday evening. The meeting was well attended and new applications were received.

Owing to the absence of the President, Comrade E. D. Ponton on association business in Toronto, Comrade C. W. Carter, 2nd Vice-President, occupied the chair.

The cases of four comrades who through medical disabilities, are unable to follow their former occupations were again taken up with the D.S.C.R. The association intends to fight their cases to the limit.

A committee of three were appointed to wait upon the city council relative to the "Memorial Home."

An invitation from the Third Annual Town Planning Convention of South-Western Ontario to be held in Hamilton, Nov. 27th and 28th was received. Considerable discussion took place relative to housing conditions in Belleville and the meeting decided to send Comrade E. D. Finkle as a delegate to the convention.

This association heartily commends the action of the executive in being the first to subscribe to Victory Bonds in Belleville.

SIX TO ONE

Written for The Ontario by Chas. M. Bice, Lawyer, Denver, Colorado.

"Great Britain has six votes to America's one in the League of Nations." This is the best argument the opponents of the league have yet advanced. It has the virtue of simplicity, brevity and direct appeal if it were only true, but there is the "if" in the way. That is why the argu- ment is being iterated and reiterated to-day in the final stages of a struggle in the senate in which all other arguments against the league have failed.

But it has the vice of being only a half truth, dependent for its efficacy upon misrepresentation or suppression of the facts.

The main fact to bear in mind is that set forth in the first paragraph of Article V., as follows:

"Except where otherwise expressly provided in this covenant, or by the terms of this treaty, decision at any meeting of the assembly or of the council shall require the agreement of all the members of the league represented at the meeting."

At present the British dominions are represented only in the assembly of the league. It is there only that Britain has more votes than the U. S., or any other league member. But decisions of the Assembly can be reached only by unanimous vote—except in such cases as we shall note later—and on a unanimous vote six votes are no better than one.

Wherever unanimous decision is required a multiplicity of votes adds nothing to the strength of any single interest.

Now let us note the instances in which it is "expressly provided" that decisions may be reached in the assembly by majority vote.

There is only one instance in which the provision is absolute. The assembly may determine "all matters of procedure" at its meetings and the "appointment of committees to investigate particular matters" by a majority vote of the members of the league, represented at the meeting. It requires a hectic imagination to discover any danger from Britain's six votes in this provision.

In every other case the majority action of the assembly is controlled by the requirement for unanimous confirmation by the council, or by the "unanimous" initiation of the council requiring majority confirmation by the assembly. Briefly these other instances are:

1. The election of additional members of the council. Such members must be elected by unanimous vote of the council and then confirmed by majority vote of the assembly. Here America's one vote in the council could veto any undesirable candidate.

2. An increase in the number of members of the council to be elected by the assembly. Such increase must be first voted unanimously by the council and the confirmed by majority vote of the assembly.

3. Amendments to the covenant. All amendments must be ratified by all members of the council and by a majority of the members of the assembly. No member signifying dissent from such amendment can be bound thereby, but in that case it ceases to be a member of the league.

4. When an international dispute is submitted to the assembly for report, if the report is approved by a majority of the members of the assembly, exclusive of the parties to the dispute, and concurred in by all the members of the council, exclusive of the parties to the dispute, it shall have the same effect as if it were a report made by the council and concurred in by all the members, exclusive of the disputants.

This exhausts the "expressly provided" instances in which a majority vote of the assembly has any effect. And in no one of the four cited is the majority vote of the assembly effective without concurrent unanimous action by the council.

A good deal has been made of the possibility that at some time or other the assembly might elect a British dominion to a place on the council, thus giving Britain two votes in that body.

The possibility—a very remote one—is admitted. It could only occur with the consent of the U. S. through her representative in the assembly and in the council. There is no case in which one adverse vote cannot prevent the election of a new member of the council. So there is nothing to fear from such a contingency.

THE UNBELIEVERS

Editor Ontario.—When Stevenson made the first locomotive engine, he was laughed at and was asked the question, "What would you do if a cow got on the track?" he replied, "All the worse for the cow." People declared him a fool. When Marconi erected a lotty stick of timber on the ocean shore, and ran two wires to the top, leaving loose ends fluttering in the breeze. These men said it was a pity to permit him to be at large, he was simply stark mad. When a man announced he could so condense the air we breathe, that it would become liquid and could be poured out like water, and solidified, so that a nail could be driven into it. People declared him mad. When these men declared that the earth revolved around sun, authorities would have burned them, if they to save their lives, had not corrected this. And so all down the centuries the man on the street, the unthinking call everything that is not within the compass of their own feeble minds humbug, fraud, nonsense, and declare, "I don't believe it." "It is false." These people would have shut up the great inventors in asylums if they had been permitted to have their own way. To day, people call everything they do not understand, fraud and nonsense. Take the human frame. Analyze it. All that you can find is blood, bone, sinew, membrane etc. Dissect the corpse. Does the scalpel of the surgeon find anything which accounts for thought, mind, or mental power? He does not. Is there anything which we call soul, or mind discovered? There is not. Yet these combinations produce, orators, statesmen, intelligence of the highest order, the literate of the world. Scientists tell us that mind intelligence etc., are simply caused by the nervous elements found in the body, and everything dies with the body. The religious disagree with science. They say there is in each body something which is immortal, not flesh or blood—which survives the body. All religions, pagan and otherwise, believe and assert this fact. How can it be proved? Sacred books of many religions declare, there is a sand in each body, which survives the death of the body. Religions greatly differ as to what becomes of the soul, is there any evidence outside of these books and the general belief? There is but one answer, which is, that spiritual phenomena prove the existence of the soul after death. This belief is entirely contradictory to science. Science does not believe in what the sacred books declare, and all other evidence and, also deny the statements that believers in spiritualism make. Religious people should therefore favor the views of spiritualists, because, the teachings of spiritualism confirm the statements in the books referred to. Why then should religious people condemn spiritualists? No doubt fraud, imposition, falsehood, have tended to make spiritualism a byword. But if you examine the lore and books, manuscripts, and history of every nation in the world, no matter how degraded, how ignorant, how debased, you will find evidences of this belief in a future life, and also in the return from that other world of spirits. Many numbers of books have been written of ghosts, spirits, etc., for many years. Recently an immense number of such books written by eminent persons have been published. These books contain a vast amount of information of this character. It is likely, or reasonable to suppose, that the great physical society of London, including such men as Gladstone, Balfour Crooks, Zomes, Ledgreveot Doyle and Lodge, should all be declined by imposters, and frauds? Dr. Bruce has written a book containing nothing whatever, but stories of spirits which have appeared from time to time. Florence Morragt and the great Stedon book also written upon the same lines. Can Dr. Watson, (the great religionist of Toronto), be classed as a fool or impostor? I grant, there are many popages in Raymond, and other works which appear absurd, ridiculous, and so far as we know, untrue. At the same time, there are many most interesting things stated only to be accounted for by revelations of spirits. The Bishop of London in a speech the other day, stated, he knew of a lady, whose son had been killed in the war. He stated that the son had appeared to and conversed with his mother since his death, and appeared he was happy. Sir Conon Doyle declares, he had a message from his son, declared in his natural voice. Crook's the greatest scientist the world has seen declared that for months in his own study he had seen materialized profile of a very young girl. Can it be possible that such distinguished men have been fooled, and deceived, by imposters? People tell me very wonderful experiences. The former manager of the Bank of Montreal, here (Mr. Richard son,) told me, that he lived with his mother on a farm in England. Near by was another farm house, in which resided a young girl, the daughter of the farmer, and owner. He said: "One summer afternoon his mother was in the kitchen of their house, ironing. The front door was opened for air. Suddenly the young girl al- luded to entered the front door, walk- ed past the table where his mother was standing and went out at the back door. He said, his mother called to her as she was passing, but received no answer. His mother threw down her iron, and ran to the farm house, opened the door into the kitchen and found the girl's body suspended, hanging from a hook in the ceiling. The girl had suffocated."

In order to convince the most incredulous, I will advise proofs of a return of spirits which will be accept- ed and believed by every one. No family in England, probably achiev- ed a greater celebrity than Wesley family, which produced John Wesley the founder of Methodism, and Charles Wesley, one of the greatest and most distinguished of Anglican Clergy men. Their mother was a highly edu- cated and cultured woman, so great was her talents, so widely known her culture, that she was buried in Westminster Abbey. I have stood by her tombstone, and read the inscription. The family published a book called the "Wesley family" which I have read. For many years their home was haunted by a spirit. Almost every evening, this spirit would announce his presence by a noise re- sembling a saw forced through wood. The children called it "Old Sowers" from the peculiar noise made. Rapp- ings would be heard all over the house. In bed rooms, the clothes would be hurled from the beds. The bedsteads rocked. Furniture was hurled around the room. All sorts of strange noises were heard. One night a daughter, saw the illuminated form of a venerable man ascending the stairs. A strange looking animal of a white color, was seen dashing thru the kitchen and disappearing.

Noises would be heard as if all the crockery in the house was being smashed. Hearing this noise one night Mr. and Mrs. Wesley arose and began to descend the stairs, when suddenly a noise was heard as if a large mass of chains had been dropped on their feet, and poured down the stairs. The entire family went to church one Sun- day locking every entrance door. On their return the furniture was thrown in every direction, beds stripped of their clothing. These disturbances lasted for a number of years. John Wesley in one of his many works mentions that he was going to at- tend an appointment in a village some miles from London. He was on horse-back. Passing by a field of grain, he saw a man cutting grain with a sickle. A high hedge bordered the road. The man seeing Wesley alone, evidently formed the plan of robbing him. He ran along the hedge in the direction in which Wesley was travelling. The road dipped into a deep, dark hollow with over hanging trees. As Wesley approached this hol- low he became aware of a man riding on horse-back at his side. He heard no sound from horse's feet, surprised he addressed the man, but received no reply. They rode side by side. As they descended into the hollow, Wes- ley saw the man with the sickle look over the hedge. Seeing two horsemen the man turned and ran back. Wes- ley turned to thank the horseman, and found he had disappeared, and he was alone. Will any one accuse John Wesley of fraud, or falsehood? I throw not. Several Signs Point to a Mild Winter

Thin Skin on Animals; Small Hoard of Nuts; Berries, Robins, Mush- rooms.

Bridgeburg, Nov. 5.—Goose-bone prophets in this section maintain that we are in for a mild winter. The following are the signs which seers in this district declare in- dicate the coming of a mild season in place of ye olde tyme Canadian winter. The first, of course, is the skin on animals, which is declared to be very thin this fall; the second is the small supply of nuts which the squirrels are gathering in the adjacent woods; and the third is the fact that one farmer in the vicinity of Crystal Rock declares that strawberries on his patch are preparing for a second crop. Another sign is the fact that the robins are still plentiful, and an additional and convincing one is the fact that mushrooms are still growing in the soil, good luck greeting hunters of that delicacy daily.

Gives Prince An Apple

Little Jack King, of Perth, Pro- vides the Prince with His After-dinner Fruit.

Perth, Nov. 5.—Erlite Jack King of this town provided the Prince of Wales with his after-dinner fruit when the Royal train passed through. Young Jack arrived at the station with the rest of the town's population, with a big red apple in his hand. The apple, he told the folks, was for the Prince of Wales, and the only thing that worried him was getting it to the Prince, as the Royal train was not scheduled to stop. Miss W. Humphreys overcame this difficulty, and as the train slowed down going through the station yard, threw it to the Prince who was standing on the back plat- form of his car. The Prince "made a sensational catch with his left hand" and the crowd roared, and no one any harder than little Jack King. As far as the train could be seen His Royal Highness was waving to the little chap and the young woman who threw the apple.

Late Henry Robinson

The death occurred in Toronto on Wednesday, Oct. 29th, of Henry E. Robinson, a well known native of Prince Edward County, who had been living the past four years in Toronto. The remains were brought to Massasauga to the home of his brother, George Robinson, the family homestead, and were thence taken for burial to Simonds' burying grounds. The bearers were, two brothers, George A. and James E. Robinson, three brothers-in-law, B. O. Frederick, of Belleville, Ell Leat, of Toronto, and Frank Lent, of Massasauga and an old school friend, Edward Simonds. Many beautiful flowers had been contributed by friends of the deceased. The late Henry E. Robinson was in his 69th year. He lived most of his life near Massasauga. His illness was of eighteen months' duration and took a serious turn two months ago.

Deceased was the eldest child of James and Catherine Robinson, his mother having died on May last. Surviving are his widow and one daughter, Mabel, at home in To- ronto, three sisters, Mrs. Wm. Mc- Coy, Belleville, Mrs. E. W. Hawkins, Rawdon and Miss Ella Robinson at home and two brothers, George A. and James E., of Massasauga.

CARMEL

The Halloween concert given at the school was a decided success. The wet evening hindered the at- tendance but those who did attend were full of appreciation and good humor.

B. of T. Objects to Increase of Tolls

Belleville, Oct. 30, 1919. Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada, Ottawa:—

Your notice of meetings to con- sider application for increased tolls is received. There will be no neces- sity for our representative being present if you will be good enough to enter our Board as unalterably opposed to such a retrograde step as is sought by the Telegraph Com- panies to be taken. The Associated Boards of Trade of Ontario are, on our motion, uniting to ask that rates of business and commercial telegraphs and cables should be re- duced so that the interchange of trade and commerce may be facili- tated and accelerated. The high cost of telephones, especially at night, since the recent increase, has rendered that method of communi- cation prohibitive and we trust that you may not further shackle indus- try and commerce by permitting these public utilities, who enjoy our franchises, to further impede the progress of Canada at this critical time of reconstruction and re-es- tablishment. Telegraphs and tele- phones are, or rather ought to be, the veins and arteries of the circula- tion of Canada's life. We should not short-circuit the electric cur- rent.

Yours truly, W. N. Fonton, Secy., Belleville Board of Trade.

Found Whiskey Still in Calgary Church

Calgary, Nov. 4.—The discovery of a raising whiskey still in full opera- tion in the janitor's quarters in a local church was made here Satur- day, when the home of Joseph Fal- line was raided by city police. Fal- line is now in the police cells, facing charges under the Inland Revenue Act.

Burglars Again Busy

Entered Little's Blacksmith Shop and Low's Garage at Port Hope

Port Hope, Nov. 5.—The young men who are conducting their whole sale burglaries about town will evidently steal anything that can be carried away. Friday night the in- truders entered the blacksmith shop of Mr. Fred Little, Ontario street, and carried off five boxes of horse shoe nails valued at about thirty- five dollars. They also visited John Lowe's garage and stole a couple of tubes, the spare tire and the crank from Mr. Little's car, also a number of spark plugs and tools from cars in the garage.

Pessimism Has Been Transformed to Feeling of Ardent Jubilation

Victory Loan Had a Great Day Yesterday With Total for the Day of $168,050 and Grand Total of $703,950—Race Between Trenton and Belleville Grows Keener With Trenton Slightly in the Lead.

The expected has happened. The Victory Loan Campaign proper is on. Splendid returns, even exceeding those of last year, are rolling into Victory Loan headquarters, yesterday totalling $168,050, and bringing up the county total to $703,950. Following a week of only indifferent results, the enthusiasm of the people everywhere has been aroused, as was expected, and the path looks rosy for the last two weeks of the campaign. We are now only a little more than 2 per cent. below our percentage of time gone, and if the present rate is kept up Hastings County has a good chance of beating its last year's record. Canvassers who were pessimistic last week are jubilant now. Teams are working with might and main to bring up their districts in the county standing. Congratulatory telegrams arrived from Ontario Headquarters. News comes that all over the country the sudden change for the better is felt and team members' subscriptions have shown splendid increases. Up to the present Ontario's high total has been kept up by special subscriptions, an unpleasant fact, which caused some depression as to final results. At last the hoped-for is happening.

Contest Rages

The contest between Belleville and Trenton rages. The neighboring town has managed to hold its lead but with great difficulty, and the local men hope to get ahead of them within the next few days and hold it. Trenton has now 43.90 per cent. of its objective and Belleville 38.51. Progress for the day for both teams was practically the same with Trenton ahead by a small margin, Belleville with 8.49 and Trenton 8.97. Great interest is being taken in the contest by the canvassers on both sides and it looks like a long drawn out fight.

Flag Race

In spite of the fact that they brought in the highest day's returns, 22.22 per cent., Messrs. Norman Laing and Arthur Yates, Deloro, are still unable to wrest first place in the Prince of Wales' flag race away from Tyendinaga, Messrs. J. F. Hinchey and G. N. Spafford, Tyendinaga, have no less than 74.53 per cent. of its objective with Deloro close upon them with 70.66. An indication of the growing interest in the Loan in the more isolated districts is the splendid rise of Wollaston, Mr. C. B. Rollins having brought in 9.60 per cent. yesterday. Messrs. Thos. Montgomery, T. F. Thompson and Dr. J. D. Blasonette also made a great showing in Rawdon. They were only slightly below Deloro on the day's returns with 21.14 per cent. Messrs. Hinchey and Spafford yesterday secured application for $11,500 from the Mohawk Indian Reserve. This is the first time in any loan campaign that such a large amount has come from this locality. While most canvassing districts are making wonderful showings in comparison with last, there are a few who are not having the same good fortune. Notable among them is Madoc, 15.50 per cent.; Sidney, 17.69 per cent.; and Deseronto, 32.46 per cent. This does not always represent the true effort of the canvassers and it is hoped that they will improve soon as the others have done.

Over 400 Whales Were Harpooned

THEIR VALUE EXCEEDS MILLION DOLLARS

Seattle's Fleet Returns From Arctic Sea

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 3.—After months of battling with the leviathans of the deep, Seattle's fleet of whaling schooners, smelly with rich cargo, have reached port with the wonderful record of 419 mammoth whales to their credit for the season, which was one of the most successful in the history of the industry here. The arrival of the daring little whalers with their valuable cargo precedes the arrival in this port of the U.S.S. Nanshan, which will dock here shortly, carrying a cargo of seal skins from the Pribilof Islands valued at $2,000,000. Advice has been received by the Bureau of Fisheries here that the Nanshan is en route with 25,000 seal skins, which, measured in present day fur values, makes her cargo as rich as the old days of Alaskan gold bullion shipments. The whalers have been scouring the wind-whipped stretches of the Arctic sea since last May and have reaped a harvest of ocean mammals whose products are valued at more than a million dollars. The four vessels credited with this record catch are Kodiak, Tankinak, Unimak and Patterson. More than 100 more whales were captured this year than last, despite an epidemic of influenza that swept the Aleutian Islands, killing many of the natives used by the whalers as laborers. The Kodiak, a vessel of ninety tonnetons, a monster blue mammal measuring 87 feet in length, that was harpooned by Capt. E. M. Pederson of the Aleutians, at a distance of 150 feet. The furious monster in the throes of a death struggle churned the waves to a foam and endangered the ship by sweeps of the mighty tail. It was finally subdued and killed.

ELISHER'S SMILE

Elisher—he's our hired man—Allows there ain't no better plan of circumventin' woe an' cares Than smilin' when y' come down stairs. Elisher smiles and fore you know The rest of us is smilin' so Ketchin' like it is. My law! It fits from him to me an' maw; I've seen it set the pup A-waggin' fore the sun was up! Then dimby, as like as not, Some men will pass that's mebbe got A mortgage that his crops can't fetch. But like as not the man will ketch Elisher's smile and drop his brow; An' tote the smile away to town, An' peddle it where, bein' wuss. The people need it more than us! An' then the feller brings it back At night along the back-urds track, An' scatters it on either side. The country road, both far an' wide, Until, by time when we get in From work, the smile is back again! Back home agin—an' seems to bless Elisher for his cheerfulness. "Because you smiled," it seems to say. "The world has had a holiday." —John D. Wells.

Cure for Seasickness

Alexander Factor, medical student, 33 Park street, claims to have discovered a cure for seasickness without the use of drugs. When returning from service overseas in June last on his third trip across the Atlantic he adopted his experiment with success and surprised a number of his friends who were suffering from the effects of the voyage while he thoroughly enjoyed the trip. Mr. Factor is perfectly willing and anxious to receive inquiries concerning his method from the medical profession. Although but 23 years of age he has had a wide experience in the British army and admiralty services, occupying many different positions in both branches of the service. —Brockville Recorder and Times.

Murderer Transferred to Hamilton Asylum

Herbert Copeland, who has been held in Cobourg jail since last April on the charge of murdering his mother at Newtonville, and was found to be insane, was yesterday transferred to Hamilton Asylum, Inspector Fox coming down and taking him to Hamilton, where he will likely spend the rest of his life. —Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

Fatally Kicked by Horse

Jeremia Lagrol, a farmer near Agton's Corners, who was employed on the Provincial Highway construction between Kempsville and Beckett, was fatally injured one day this week when picking up the reins of his team. Without warning one of the horses kicked, striking him on the side of the head. Before he could be rescued, he received several more kicks. Lagrol was hurried to Kempsville but died of his injuries the same night. Interment took place at Alexandria. The horse was shot. —Brockville Recorder and Times.

Thanks Chief Burke

Chief Burke has received a communication from R. G. Chamberlin, Dominion Commissioner of Police, dated at Montreal, October 29. The letter read as follows: "We arrived safely at Montreal Monday afternoon after our memorable tour through Ontario. The hearty welcome accorded the Prince throughout the Province of Ontario has been rarely equalled and never excelled during His Royal Highness' tour through the Dominion. I want to thank you for your hearty co-operation in regulating affairs in your city, and hope to be able to reciprocate in the near future." —Brockville-Recorder and Times.

Committed to Jail

Thomas Sanderson, 55 Blair avenue, Toronto, was this morning sentenced to serve three months in the county jail in lieu of a fine of $207.75 imposed on him at police court by Magistrate Page for a breach of the Ontario Temperance Act. Sanderson was arrested this morning by local police at the Union Depot on the arrival of G.T.R. express 13, from Montreal and besides being intoxicated at the time had in his possession a bottle of whiskey. Sanderson has wired his relatives in Toronto for the money to pay the fine. —Brockville Recorder and Times.

Arrested on House Breaking Charge

On Wednesday Chief Ruse went of Toronto, and returned with Mrs. Rathbun, an Indian woman, who was arrested in the city at the request of the Chief. Mrs. Rathbun is charged with breaking into the residence of W. G. Scobie, William street, where she was formerly employed as a domestic, while the family were away. She will come up on Tuesday morning. —Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

Has In for Shelter

Cobourg harbor looked rather busy over Sunday with the big storm.

on. In addition to the two ferries, the tug Lakeside, with a scow load of stone from Point Anne to Toronto, and the tug Gilbert, which was disabled, in tow; there was also the steamer Lake Michigan, with Capt. Jas. Cuthbert, formerly of Ontario No. 1, in charge, with scow, bound light from Toronto for Point Anne for stone. All laid up here until the storm was over. —Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

Distressing Accident to Mr. Harry Johnson on Saturday.

Harry Johnson, a well known Grand Trunk Railway employee in the Belleville yard, was the victim of a distressing accident on Saturday evening. He was engaged at work and his left foot was caught and crushed by the wheel of a car. Mr. Johnson was rushed to the Belleville General Hospital and it was found that an amputation was necessary. He is resting easily today.

The School Teacher

Picture of American Teacher Which Suggests Those of Ontario

A school teacher is a person who teaches things to people when they are young. The teacher comes to school at 8.30 o'clock and when she has gotten enough children for a class in her room she teaches them reading, writing, geography, grammar, arithmetic, music, drawing, deep breathing, bird calls, scientific eating, patriotism, plain and fancy bathing, forestry, civics, and other sciences too numerous to mention. When school is out she stays behind with five or six of her worst pupils and tries to save the State the job of reforming them later on. After that she hurries home to make herself a new dress, and snatch a hasty supper before going back to attend a lecture by an imported specialist on the history of tribal law in Patagonia, which may give her some information which may be useful in her school work some day. A great many lecturers roam the country, preying on school teachers, and some of them are very cruel, talking to them so long that the poor things have to sit up until morning, when they get home to get their daily test papers corrected. School teachers' salaries range from $50 a month up—but not far enough up to make them dizzy. On her salary the teacher must dress nicely, buy herself things for work which the city is too poor to get, go to twenty-nine lectures and concerts a year, buy helpful books on pedagogy, pay her way to district, county and state institutes, and enjoy herself at summer school during a three months' vacation which her salary takes every year. In addition the teacher is supposed to hoard away vast sums of money so that when she becomes too nervous and crosses to teach, at the age of fifty or thereabout, she can retire and live happily ever afterward on her income. —Philadelphia Bulletin.

Provide Needed Rink and Big Auditorium

Union Evangelistic Campaign Committee's Solution of Double Problem.

Trenton, Nov. 5.—Trenton's new skating rink and union evangelistic campaign, are going forward apace.

A few weeks ago, King Street Methodist Church, St. Andrew's Presbyterian, Grace Street Methodist and the Salvation Army decided upon a union evangelistic campaign. No building could be found suitable to accommodate the expected large congregations, so it was decided to endeavor to supply Trenton's long-felt want for a skating rink, and at the same time secure an auditorium for union services.

Captain, the Rev. W. G. Clark was asked to take the matter up, and it was found feasible to buy some aviation buildings at Deseronto. The new building will be erected at Quinte street, and will be 200 feet long by 80 feet in width. It will have an ice space of 72 feet by 180 feet, and commodious reception rooms, with galleries for spectators, and will be capable of accommodating more than two thousand persons. It is hoped to have the building ready for the union campaign services this month. The material includes a hangar and a half. Seven thousand dollars has already been subscribed towards the cost of erection.

Guard the Children From Autumn Colds

The Fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day is warm, the next is wet and cold and unless the mother is on her guard the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose will prevent colds or if it does come on suddenly they will quickly relieve it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Gala Night at Moira Chapter

Grand First Principal Welcomed—Kingston Companions Put on Degrees

Last evening was a gala night for the officers and companions of Moira Chapter No. 7, R.A.M., at the Masonic Temple, for not only did they do honor to the Grand First Principal, Most Excellent Companion Col. W. N. Ponton, who is a member of Moira Chapter, but they had the pleasure of having as their guests the officers and companions of Ancient Cataracti Frontenac Chapter No. 1.

It is a long way back to May 29th, 1858, but on that date the officers of Ancient Frontenac and Cataracti Chapter formed Moira Chapter. Last evening the visiting team did not come empty handed, but brought with them a gift which will be treasured by the local companions—a beautiful keystone, with a brass plate bearing the inscription: "Presented to Moira Chapter No. 7, R.A.M., by the Ancient Frontenac and Cataracti Chapter, Nov. 4th, A.E. 5919." The Kingston companions told while Rt. Excellent Companion H. J. Milne delivered an address and presented the gift to Ex-Companion C. B. Scantlebury, who graciously received it on behalf of the local Chapter. The visitors were made honorary members of Moira Chapter and were presented with tokens of the event.

Ex-Comp. Scantlebury gave a historical address on Capitalism in Belleville, which dates back over 100 years, and told of the work of the Kingston Chapter in founding Moira Chapter 63 years ago.

The presence of the Grand First Principal, M. E. Comp. Col. W. N. Ponton, was made the occasion of congratulation to the Belleville Royal Arch Masons, who stand highest in Capitalism in Canada. Past Grand First Principal M. E. Comp. Abraham Shaw, Rt. Ex. Comp. Mills, Rt. Comp. Spencer of Trenton, Grand Third Principal, were present to take part in a reception.

The degree team from Ancient Frontenac, and Cataracti Chapter who put on some of the work, was composed of: First Prin.—Rt. Ex. Comp. H. J. Milne, Second Prin. Comp. W. Bryant, Third Prin. Ex. Comp. W. A. Bearance, Scribe E.

Brutally Slabbed in Back at Leaside, Suburb of Toronto

TORONTO, Nov. 5.—J. G. Rowland, aged 35, a returned soldier and taxi driver, was brutally assaulted and stabbed in the back at Leaside, one of the north eastern suburbs of Toronto, shortly after midnight and died in Davisville Military Hospital, after having dragged himself one hundred yards from the scene of the assault to a neighboring residence and obtaining assistance. Rowland was unable to complete his story before death ensued, but declared that a foreigner, apparently a Russian, hired him at Union Station to drive him to Leaside. There his story stopped. There were nine different slashes on the victim's face and a great gash in his throat. It was evident that he has been attacked from behind. Police are working on various clues. Rowland served with the 2nd Machine Gun Battalion overseas and was wounded and gassed. He was a quiet retiring man of good character.

Lost Arm On Shooting Trip

Edward Pope who resides on Grove Street, was yesterday afternoon the victim of a distressing accident while on a duck shooting expedition up the bay. His right arm was amputated above the elbow at the Belleville Hospital. Mr. Pope was with two friends in a boat and in moving the shot gun caused it to discharge, the contents of the shell entering the right arm above the elbow, mangle it. Pope was rowed ashore by his friends and started back to the city. He was taken with weak spell from loss of blood and had to rest. A truck came along and Mr. Pope was brought into Belleville to the hospital, where the injured member was amputated. Pope is resting easily today.

Power of Dollar is Easily Shown

Keep One Moving and See What It Will Do for Your Community
PAYS MULTITUDE OF DEBTS
When it is Sent out of Town, However, to Pay for What Can Be Bought at Home It is Gone Forever.

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union)
It is a rather wonderful thing, when you stop to think about it, what one lone dollar will do, if it is kept at work. This has been illustrated in a striking manner on several occasions by means of a very simple experiment. If you want to see just how important a role a silver dollar or a dollar bill plays in the life of a community here is the way to do it. Just attach a tag to the dollar and turn it loose, with the request that every person who receives the dollar make a note on the tag as to how he received it. The result will be an eye-opener.
Here is the way it works. Smith, the lumber dealer, who first possesses the dollar, buys some groceries for m'brown and pays for them with the dollar. About that time Jones, the plumber, who had done some work for Brown, sends his collector around and Brown pays the bill with this dollar. Jones owes Green, the printer, a small advertising bill, so he sends this dollar with possibly some others to Green to pay his bill. Green had just put the dollar in his cash drawer when in comes Black, the milkman, to whom Green owes a dollar for milk delivered at his house. Green takes the dollar out of his cash drawer and pays Black. For some time Black has owed White, the carpenter, for some work done on his dairy house, so now he takes the dollar that Green has paid him and pays up what he owes White. White still owes for some lumber dealer, so he takes the dollar and squares up his account with Smith. Smith now has his dollar back. Brown has been able to pay his plumbing bill, Jones has squared up with the

THE DAWN

Written for The Ontario by Matilda B. Arthur, Trenton.

O'er this fair land where stillness reigns and autumn glories shine so bright,
Hushed in old Nature's sweet repose, rang out the cry: Will there be light!
The reign of darkness now is past, the night of grief is vanished quite;
The dawn of hope breaks calm and still, and rings the cry: Now there is light!

No more in all this land so rare shall wine enslave or rum ensnare,
Our children ne'er the serpent meet, that lurks within the cup so fair.

No more the grog-shop's open door shall lure our boys to enter there,
No more the glittering bar attract and lead them on to dark despair.

Grim Poverty and Hunger gaunt shall haunt our homes and streets no more;
The drunkard's child his rags shall flaunt no more 'mid scenes of vice and woe.

No more we'll mark the bleary eye, the bloated form, the maudlin fool,
The staggering forms that tell so well that poison lurks within the bowl.

So we can pray: "God bless our land, and give us peace and plenty" now,
Since we arose at His command and marked our voting ballots "No."
Trenton, Oct. 22, 1919.

A Brotherhood For Every Church in City

Belleville Branch of Christian Men's Brotherhood Federation Formed Last Evening - Addresses by Thomas Howell and J. O. McCarthy, of Toronto.

A branch of the Christian Men's Brotherhood Federation was organized for the city of Belleville at the city hall last evening with the following officers—President, John Elliott; Vice-President, Rev. D. C. Ramsay; Secretary, Rev. W. H. Elliott; Treasurer, Rev. W. H. Wallace. Tuesday evening, Nov. 18, was set for a future conference at the Y.M.C.A. to which there will be invited a minimum representation of at least three men from each church in Belleville.

Speaking in the afternoon at the Y.M.C.A., Mr. Thos. Howell, Toronto said the Victory Loan showed what can be accomplished when the manhood of the nation is aroused. The first business of the brotherhood is to try to entice the men of the churches. Where do you find the basis of the movements of the Y.M.C.A. committee of One Hundred or the Referendum, but in the manhood of the church, and the church gets little or no credit. Men say, "Born of this way is a religion of comradeship or brotherhood." Men have had the idea that you cannot find activity in the church. The keenest minds of today are looking for men of calm minds and contentment to alleviate the unrest abroad in the world. Mr. Howell told of the founding of the Brotherhood Federation in England in 1906 for men's work anchored about the church.

All men in the various organizations under some leadership should be brought together so that we can catch their interest. Reference was made to the student character of the British laboring man. What keeps the old country going along is the ballot. That's why Britain is not like Russia today. Thank goodness men are beginning to think. We must have a brotherhood and make men feel the church is the centre of all attraction. The church is the Kingdom of God in the world. Why should we not have expert men in the church take their part? The chairman, Rev. W. H. Wallace, said the work of the church has been too much a one-man job.

Field Secretary, R. McHardy, of the Brotherhood Federation answered a few questions.

Mr. John Elliott presided at the evening session held in the city council chamber.

Ex-Controller J. O. McCarthy, of Toronto, was the speaker. "The truth that men are brothers is as true as that God is our Father," stated Mr. McCarthy. "This is a momentous moment in the world's history and it is our duty to interpret the time. Few men will contend they have not changed their thinking in the past five years."

Mr. McCarthy interpreted the Brotherhood World Congress in London, England, in September, 1919, when 20 nations were represented. The whole-hearted cooperation on the part of the Anglican Church was the sensation in England.

Aims of the Brotherhood
The aims of the Brotherhood Movement are to organize men into brotherhood, to promote the observance of a world Sunday, to interpret and exemplify brotherhood according to the life and teachings of Jesus. It is believed the Christian Church needs the spirit of brotherhood, that the individual unrest can be solved only by the sense and spirit of brotherhood, that the League of Nations will be ineffective unless it is upheld by the spirit of brotherhood.

There are two courses before society: to reconstruct society on the basis of brotherhood as taught by Christ, or to follow the red flag of revolution. There are masses of men outside the church whose thoughts are turning back to the church. They may not come back to the conventional churches. The brotherhood will produce the contact that the minister has been so long looking for. We can gather the men about the churches, but the churches are not ready for them. It is my opinion that the church has been so busy preaching the historical Christ that it has forgotten the living Christ. The man on the street has no quarrel with Christ and His teachings, but says that in the church we preach and practise Christ as long as it is convenient and then sidestep. Unbelief is not the religious trouble today. We forget that religion never changes but theologians do. When the church is ready to give man a warm hearted Christianity, man will come back in thousands to the church.

He was not unmindful of the great work of the church in the past and during the great war. The church more than any other agency was responsible for the United States seeing the light and entering the war.

John Bull realizes that unless the spirit of brotherhood can be put into the League of Nations, this carnage may have to be done over again and likely will be. Old Britain is looking to Canada to interpret Britain to the U. S., and the U. S. to Great Britain. Canadian Brotherhood has to carry the spirit into the United States.

If we fool away with our unrest two or three years, the worst fears may be realized. Germany may win by Bolshevism what she lost by arms. It is a hard problem to separate Bolshevism from the legitimate demands of labor. Unrest today is a great spiritual problem. The Christian Church cannot lend its recognition to the condition in the Eastern States, where by 59% of the wealth is in the hands of two per cent. of the people.

Mr. McCarthy recalled scenes along the battle front four weeks ago, where he saw refugees returning to the ruins of their homes, and referred to the relief funds supplied by Canadians. The Brotherhood movement goes hand in hand with relief to the needy and unfortunate.

Every church in Belleville should have a brotherhood, said Mr. McCarthy. Mr. Thos. Howell declared: "You do not need to employ a Gypsy Smith to wake up Belleville if you have active brotherhoods." Rev. Mr. Ramsay moved that a branch of the Canadian Brotherhood Federation be organized in Belleville, that an executive committee be appointed, and that a date be set for a further meeting. Rev. W. H. Elliott seconded the resolution, which carried unanimously.

Mr. J. A. Higgs referred to the work of Bridge Street Business Men's Bible Class.

Mr. McHardy, Field Secretary, declared that each brotherhood should have a definite program for a week night and have a social evening. Then there should be a Bible Class on Sunday under the inspiration of the Brotherhood.

Honest John O'Neill Represents Toronto

"The Statements" Tribute to the New M. P. P.

Prominent among the men elected to the new Legislature of Ontario is "Honest John" O'Neill, M.P.P., who carried the banner of liberalism and democracy to victory in Seat "A" South-East Toronto, on Monday last. A man of the people, he has found a place in the hearts of the citizens of Toronto that is unique, for among all classes and creeds he is universally popular; and now, after his ten years of magnificent service in the City Council as Alderman and Controller they have sent him to the larger field of endeavor, where the people of the Province will have the benefit of his great ability. "Service for the people" is his motto; and it has been the controlling influence of his public life which he has dedicated to the work of obtaining honest and fearless administration of the affairs of government.

John O'Neill is one of those men who hold the secret mainly possessed by the Irish people, of geniality, or rather something richer and finer than that—the outpouring of an overflowing generous nature. There is in this, however, no art of manner, or atmosphere. He is big, blunt, broad, and massive, of the pioneer type that blazes the trail of democracy, and civilization and has a dauntlessness that has developed in keeping with this splendid physique. He is not an orator, but his words ring true, his delivery registers sincerity, and his attitude to every question is one of careful and considerate application. A powerful ally in support, he is gallant and courteous in opposition and can, when occasion demands, bring to his aid a verbal hammer of Thor.

Toronto, is indeed fortunate in having John O'Neill as a citizen, born and reared without a silver spoon in his mouth, he has risen to his place in the community by sheer force of character, honesty of purpose and sound business judgment. These qualities have marked the man not only in his private and social life, but have placed him in the forefront of public men in the Province. It is doubtful if any man in the history of Toronto has accomplished as much real service to the city as has John O'Neill in the last decade. His brilliant work for the people has never been equalled, and it stands as an ideal for men in municipal life. The present efficient and capable administration of the city's affairs is due to "Honest John" more than to any other man of his time in the City Council. His successful efforts towards the abolition of patronage in the City Hall, his instrumentality in appointing efficient heads of departments, and his fearless attitude on matters affecting the interests of the citizens have been important factors in making Toronto, in many respects one of the best governed cities in Canada. And, while on the matter of his service in the City Council, it might be well to mention a few of the many projects that he has fathered and which show his largeness of heart, his consideration of the poor and unfortunate, and his progressive instincts. The Municipal Jail Farms for men and women, located at Thornhill, were established by "Honest John" while he was an Alderman and Chairman of the Property Committee of the Council; and the fact that these institutions have reclaimed hundreds of delinquents by humane methods, and are now self-sustaining, is evidence of their value in the community. Mr. O'Neill was mainly responsible for the appointment of the Board of Harbor Commissioners to deal entirely with the water front, and for the great scheme of harbor improvements which is now being carried out at a cost of more than twenty millions. When completed Toronto will have a waterfront of fourteen miles—one of the finest of the American continent. He established playgrounds in all parts of the city for children, and fitted them with equipment for all kinds of children's games and amusements "O'Neill's Playground," the first in the city, was established on the property where John O'Neill was born, on Regent street, "Cabbage Town." This property he donated to the city for the purpose in the poorer sections of the city where there is no bathroom accommodation in the houses, he established the public bath-houses where the inhabitants obtain bathing facilities free of charge. These bath-houses have been a great boon to the poorer class of people and are largely patronized every week. The Civic Abattoir, where facilities are provided for the small retail butcher to compete with the large meat corporations was brought about by John O'Neill, as were the Ashbridge's Bay development and Bloor Street viaduct. These are just a few of his many endeavors, any one of which is a splendid accomplishment, but they alone are sufficient to perpetuate his name in the annals of the city. He was first in assisting in the work of charitable institutions and any worthy project could always depend on his support. An ardent follower of sport, he played lacrosse in his younger days, is one of the fathers of the Don Rowing Club and a member of the Granite Curling Club. He is also a highly respected member of the Toronto Board of Trade and of the Engineers' and Ontario Clubs.—The Statesman.

Smuggling Liquor From Montreal by Means of Airplane

AVIATOR MADE FORCED LANDING AND RELIEVED OF CARGO.

OFFICERS NOW ON LOOKOUT.

Flier Carries Sufficient Hard Stuff to Ensure Good Profit for Importer.

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—The story of an airplane being employed in Europe on America to avoid the payment of customs duties has been recounted more than once, but it remained for an enterprising and far-sighted owner of a blind pig in the Gatineau Point district to resort to the use of the flying machine to import liquor from Montreal into the prohibited territory.

The airplane has already made two successful and highly profitable trips the last trip to be undertaken came to an end Tuesday afternoon, when the plane with its precious cargo of about 15 gallons of assorted liquors after a graceful glide, landed without mishap in the stubble field of a farm situated on the outskirts of Gatineau Point and near the extreme southern border of the township of West Templeton. The landing place was opposite the wide bend in the Ottawa river near the head of Kettle Island.

Eye-witnesses of the landing of the airplane after its first trip to Montreal state that a more or less clever ruse resorted to by the liquor importer to convey the impression that an accident had compelled the flyer to make a forced landing. Men with picks, shovels and axes rushed to the assistance of the "embarrassed" aviator who was quickly extracted from his "precarious" position. The liquor done up in suspicious looking parcels was hastily spirited away.

It is stated that the airplane that has been used to import liquor illegally is capable of carrying one hundred gallons of "hard stuff." It is easy to calculate the phenomenal profits that will be reaped by the fortunate (?) buyer after the hundred gallons have been treated to a more or less generous addition of Ottawa river or well water.

The success of the two trips undertaken so far has encouraged the promoters of the scheme who are considering the advisability of again chartering the airplane. In the near future, it is reported by those that know.

Unless the aviator selects a less conspicuous landing place the next time, he is likely to land in the lap of Quebec revenue officers who have got wind of the affair and are on the lookout.

Why are so many men anxious to work when sick and anxious to avoid it when well?

Belleville Boy Among the Lost

Stanley Foster was Deck Hand on Ill-fated Steamer, "Homer Warren"

Stanley Foster, a Belleville boy, who served four years overseas, and had been away from Belleville about eight or ten years, is one of the missing crew of the steamer Homer Warren of Toronto, which sank off Sodus, forty miles from Oswego in a sixty mile gale which swept Lake Ontario on Tuesday afternoon. All hands were lost.

Foster was deck hand and was the son of Mr. Herbert Foster, of Toronto, formerly of Belleville. The young man's grandfather is Mr. David Babcock of Belleville. Stanley was about 25 years of age.

Despatches from Sodus report that two bodies with life preservers of the Warren have been washed ashore and the water is reported strewn with wreckage. It is not known how far out the vessel was when she went to the bottom. The pilot house came ashore Wednesday. Coastguards and citizens are patrolling the shore for more bodies. The vessel was last seen off Putneyville, 35 miles east of here at 11 a.m. Tuesday, while the gale was raging fiercely. She is believed therefore to have gone down during the night. The bodies washed ashore have not been identified.

The Homer Warren was owned by the Milnes Coal Company of Toronto, and there were on board a crew of nine, Capt. Wm. Walker, married of penning; George Stalker, a brother mate; Joseph Kerr, second engineer; George Kerr, brother, fireman; Stanley Foster, thought to be a Toronto man, deck hand; Patrick Howe, cook, and three other deck hands.

The chief engineer is the only member of the crew who is known to have escaped, as he for some reason left the ship at Oswego before she sailed and came to Toronto by train.

In politics he was very prominent in the East and West ridings of Hastings and was offered the Conservative nomination, which he refused. He was a great friend of the late John White, M.P., for East Hastings for many years.

In 1866 he was on duty at Prescott as a captain of the Militia. In the old days there was no hall for drilling and the militia men drilled in his father's farm house.

In religion he was a Presbyterian and a communicant of St. Andrew's church. He was a member of Shannonville Lodge A. F. and A. M.

Personally the late S. A. Lazier was of a quiet retiring disposition, adverse to publicity and performed many deeds of charity unknown to the general public. He was highly esteemed by all classes of the community.

His only surviving brother is Col. S. S. Lazier, local master in chancery, three brothers and two sisters having preceded him to the grave.

To mourn his death he leaves his widow and the following family—Col. T. C. Lazier, of New York City, Robert E. Lazier and Stephen D. Lazier, of Belleville, Dr. D. B. Lazier, of Nelson, B. C., and Miss Kathleen Lazier, of this city.

The late S. A. Lazier was of French Huguenot ancestry and his forefathers came from the United States with the United Empire Loyalists after the American Revolution.

Robert T. Gray, in Business There For 60 Years Passed Away Last Night.

Robert T. Gray, one of the best known business men of the Madoc district passed away last night after an illness of short duration.

The late Mr. Gray was a native of Belleville where he was born about 35 years ago. When he was but a child the family moved to Madoc. As a young man he was identified with the Eldorado gold rush of 1866 and '67 and then he embarked in mercantile pursuits as a member of the firm, Dean, Gray and McGregor, general merchants. Upon the death of the senior partner, Gray and McGregor continued in business and moved across the street and confined their attention to groceries. After the death of Mr. McGregor, some years ago, Mr. Gray continued to manage the business and remained active in it up to the time of his last illness.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Fred Curry, of Madoc and by one brother, Walter, also of Madoc. His wife, nee Maria VanNorman, a very estimable lady, predeceased him many years ago. A younger daughter, Ina, also passed away as a child.

Mr. Gray was strongly identified with the community life of Madoc

Close of An Active Career

Stephen Allan Lazier Passed Away This Morning.

Stephen Allan Lazier, one of Belleville's oldest and most prominent residents, passed quietly away early this morning at his home, 91 Bridge Street. He had not enjoyed the best of health lately, and his demise was not unexpected.

The death of the late Stephen A. Lazier closes one of the most active and enterprising of careers. He was born in Tyendinaga in the year 1833, being a son of Col. Richard Lazier, collector of customs at Shannonville and head of the militia, and of Anna B. Appleby, who was a sister of the late N. S. Appleby, member for East Hastings in the Ontario Legislature. When the Grand Trunk line was being built, he was engaged in contracting for certain sections of that railroad and in railroad construction in Nova Scotia. In the early sixties he carried on business in Prescott and Ottawa, where he conducted a general store besides his contracting work. He supplied the G.T.R. with ties and with wood when the engines were run on this class of fuel. He also furnished fuel to the Deaf and Dumb Institute, (now the O.S.D.) and the county jail. He had two saw mills and flour mills in Shannonville and Milltown, besides a carriage factory in the latter place.

About the year 1873 he secured the flour and paper mills on the Caninton Road, just outside Belleville. After his removal to Belleville, he engaged in the grain business, and the coal and wood business, which he ultimately disposed of to the late Capt. N. Allen. Latterly he had been living a retired life.

In politics he was very prominent in the East and West ridings of Hastings and was offered the Conservative nomination, which he refused. He was a great friend of the late John White, M.P., for East Hastings for many years.

In 1866 he was on duty at Prescott as a captain of the Militia. In the old days there was no hall for drilling and the militia men drilled in his father's farm house.

In religion he was a Presbyterian and a communicant of St. Andrew's church. He was a member of Shannonville Lodge A. F. and A. M.

Personally the late S. A. Lazier was of a quiet retiring disposition, adverse to publicity and performed many deeds of charity unknown to the general public. He was highly esteemed by all classes of the community.

His only surviving brother is Col. S. S. Lazier, local master in chancery, three brothers and two sisters having preceded him to the grave.

To mourn his death he leaves his widow and the following family—Col. T. C. Lazier, of New York City, Robert E. Lazier and Stephen D. Lazier, of Belleville, Dr. D. B. Lazier, of Nelson, B. C., and Miss Kathleen Lazier, of this city.

The late S. A. Lazier was of French Huguenot ancestry and his forefathers came from the United States with the United Empire Loyalists after the American Revolution.

THE DAILY MISERY OF ILL-HEALTH

Three Years of Suffering Quickly Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. GASPARD DUBORD

159 Avenue Plus IX, Montreal.

"For three years, I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and my general health was very bad. I consulted a physician and took his medicine and faithfully carried out his instructions; but I did not improve and finally the doctor told me I could not be cured."

At this time, a friend advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives" and I did so. After taking two boxes of "Fruit-a-tives", I was greatly relieved; and gradually this marvelous fruit medicine made me completely well. My digestion and general health are splendid—all of which I owe to "Fruit-a-tives".

and took a keen interest in all business movements and in public affairs but he never sought after public honors. He did, however, act as license commissioner for several years.

Originally a Conservative, he changed his allegiance to the Liberal party at the time of the Canadian Pacific scandal and remained a staunch Liberal the remainder of his life. He was one of the oldest Free Masons in the district, having joined Madoc lodge as a charter member. In religion he was a Presbyterian.

Mr. Gray was a man who was universally and deservedly popular. He was held in more than formal respect by the public because of his geniality, his capacity for friendship and his unquestioned integrity. By his death Madoc loses one of her most estimable citizens.

Two Automobiles in a Collision

One car turned turtle and another was badly damaged on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, when W. J. Clancy, 508 Sherbrooke street, driving south on George street, struck the car of Mr. Edward Wood, of the Stewart House, Hunter street, who was driving east on Charlotte street. Mr. Wood's car was badly damaged, the radius rods being broken, and was pushed up on the sidewalk near the marble works on the corner of Charlotte and George streets.

Mr. Clancy states that he was driving slowly, and that he applied the brakes, but they would not work. His car lay upside down on the pavement, and the top and windshield were broken into splinters. Both parties settled by paying their own damage.

The police state that Mr. Clancy failed to give the right of way to Mr. Wood.—Peterboro Examiner.

THE MIRACLE OF THE WAR

Written for The Ontario by
Chas. M. Bice, Lawyer, Denver, Colorado.

They had Miracle-Morality plays in Germany. The "Fasson Play", performed at stated intervals at Oberammergau, was perhaps the most notable. Other nations will pray that the sacred festival may be continued in peace time, as it will help the League of Nations in its work of binding the wounds on continents. These plays taught morality—the triumph of right over wrong. Vice was enthroned; virtue was meek and unarmed. The onlooker could not see until near the end how vice could be overcome; and yet there was something mysterious—the miracle—working toward the end that must be attained to round out the whole principle upon which our universe holds together.

The war gave us the Miracle Play of Nations. It followed, on a very much greater scale, of necessity, the mise-en-scene of "Everyman" and other plays of this character familiar to us at home. The onlooker for a long time could not see the real end, the one that was inevitable as the movement of the planets, but there was a factor behind the scene—the Miracle of the continental overcome. This was morality—the difference between right and wrong, the law that maintains civilization.

Both Ludendorff and Bernstorff agree on one point—the leading part morality played in the great war—and they agree in nothing else. The one was the great military figure of the war, the directing genius, strategist; the other, diplomat and politician, engaged in a life and death struggle between morality and "immorality." Ludendorff's hook is out. Bernstorff's is coming. The two together will form themes innumerable for the moralist. Bernstorff is going to be a prime factor in Germany in the immediate future. He is probably the brainiest man before the German public. He lost in the game he played for he was playing with loaded dice and they only win for a time; until the exposure comes.

What Bernstorff is playing for in the articles he is furnishing the press and in his book that is to be published is rehabilitation, particularly with the American people. Bernstorff was ambassador at Washington before the war and until he was handed his passports when the U.S. made the momentous decision to enter the war. He has to come back some day, to secure for his nation the goodwill of this country. He realizes that Germany cannot struggle back to the surface without the friendly hand of this country. He is willing to sacrifice everything for that purpose. His emperor's reputation, the reputation of warriors and diplomats are cast into the scrap-heap for that one purpose. But what Bernstorff, throughout it all, what Ludendorff in his monumental volumes, that have started another kind of war, make clear and hold aloft is that not force, not the long and careful military preparation, into poison gas or huge Austrian howitzers, but Morality, won the Great World War.

Ludendorff, a notorious representative of Prussianism, manipulator of great armies, the man who stood on the battlefield and beheld as a result of his strategies half a million Russians lost in the bog; Ludendorff, who stood on a height overlooking Amiens and saw 60,000 of his troops piled up in front of him, through the miscarriage of his strategy, walls through his testimony that the armies of Germany were weighted down by world enmity and could not win the war. The war was lost in the "fourth dimension." It should have been won by all calculation on land, at sea and in the air. Possibly it was in all three and lost in the fourth.

The Prussian strategist tells us that he protested bitorily against the plan of campaign approved by the general staff for the impending struggle. He went on his knees to his emperor, but without avail. Until Germany found it could not do without his brains, he was cast aside for his entreaty. He was not a moralist or a sentimentalist; but withal he was broad enough militarist to realize what morality meant to an empire and its army. To the last moment he opposed the rape of Belgium; not that he cared a mark for Belgium, but because he foresaw what was going to come from the invasion. He protested against the German brutality, not that he cared in the ordinary sense, but he knew instinctively what the effect would be upon the moral of the German army. He fought against unrestricted submarine warfare as long as he could, not that he bothered regarding the fate of the innocents, but because as he tells us, of the effect the barbarity would have ultimately upon the German navy. It made him angry when he read of Turkish atrocities, not because his heart bled for Armenian or Syrian or other victims, but because Turkey was a German ally and Germany would be linked with the atrocities and the invisible weight upon the empire and its armies and navy would be greatly augmented.

The war was lost to Germany because world sentiment was against Germany from the beginning of the war to its conclusion. He, the brains of the army, felt it more and more; the Kaiser paled and wasted under it. When poor China entered her protest against Germany's defiance of morality, the imperial council, from Kaiser to commander, wilted. The nightmare became unbearable; the emperor was a weakling, gringing at his own shadow. Wherever the German rulers and people turned they faced angry enemies, open or hidden. The German machine in this country, that was to be of such great force at the right moment, was covered by the force of morality—public opinion. No country dared to stand out openly and defend Germany.

Germany violated the moral law, and outraged public opinion. World sentiment bore her down even when her armies were believed to be winning. Her navy was doomed to the degrading end that came to it because it did degrading things in sending to the bottom innocent women and children. Bernstorff could not face the record of Germany in Belgium and the sinking of the Lusitania, and his nation failed because it had not behind it a just cause. A greater German than either declared: "Two things move me to greater awe: the starry heavens above and the moral law within."

BENJAMIN L. MYLKES.

The funeral of the late Benjamin L. Mylkes, formerly of Moira, who passed away on Sunday morning at Essex Junction, Vt., was held on Wednesday afternoon from his late home. Interment took place at Lake View cemetery, Burlington, Vt.

In addition to the biographical facts reported in Monday's issue we have learned that Mr. Mylkes was born at Rome, N.Y., Dec. 28, 1831, the son of George and Melissa Dunbar Mylkes. In 1874 he was married to Miss Sarah Smith of Stirling who survives him. Mr. Mylkes spent his boyhood days in Rome but later came to Stirling where he was married and returned with his bride to South Butler, N.Y., where their eldest son, George H., was born. They soon after returned to Canada and remained in this country up to last August when he and his wife moved to Essex Junction, Vermont, to be near his son who is a leading merchant of Burlington. They had just got comfortably settled in their new home on Parks street, where they were surrounded with all the comforts of life, when Mr. Mylkes was taken ill and in about a week, in spite of all the attentions that loving care and the most skilled physicians could offer, he succumbed and entered into eternal rest.

The evaporator is still running; quite a few apples are coming in.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Rose, sixth line, were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Nell Davis on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Robin and family spent Sunday at the home of her brother and sister, Miss Amelia Clarke and Mr. Will Clarke.

Miss Tena Watt was the guest of Miss Helen Davis on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Ashley of Belleville visited relatives in our village on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Snider and family motored to Madoc on Sunday and visited relatives.

The hum of the threshing machine can be heard in this vicinity. Mr. Derby Empson shipped a large number of hogs from here on Wednesday of this week.

Pluck and Luck
in the Air Flights

MANY FINE PILOTS ENDED THEIR CAREERS BY OVERCONFIDENCE.

How Canadians Fell a Victim of Chance Shots of a Scared Hun.

Many fine pilots both German and British, were shot down in aerial combat on the Western front through over-confidence and pure bad luck. One of the most glaring exhibitions of carelessness that ended in disaster was displayed in the last month of the war by Captain Baron von Schroeder of the German Imperial Flying Corps. He paid for it with his life.

A British artillery aeroplane was sent out about noon to locate and destroy two German batteries situated somewhere behind Cambrai. This was to be done by means of artillery fire. The artillery bus found the two batteries. He "took them on" and two of our batteries opened up. Three of the Hun guns were silenced after direct hits on their pits. The weather grew thick and hazy. The job was not completed, so the pilot and observer decided that they would have to work further over the line. A Hun patrol appeared, and then veared off in the midst.

Quite suddenly the enemy formation swung around to the west of the artillery bus, cutting it off. They attacked and the British pilot "stuck his nose down" and dived straight into the formation. As they tore through the astonished patrol the pilot and observer both got a good view of the machines. They were all Fokker biplanes painted black, pink, and white.

The Fokkers turned quickly and soon overtook the laboring Britisher. They attacked singly and then in groups, the observer replying heartily, but to no effect. Meanwhile the pilot both he and the observer were hit a just cause. A greater German than either declared: "Two things move me to greater awe: the starry heavens above and the moral law within."

By some miracle neither the pilot nor observer were hit, although the wings fuselage and tail were riddled. The observer tried hard to down one but the fast Hun scouts avoided his sights.

"If the Fokker dives on your tail and hooks up to the right, go after him. He'll hang for a minute." That advice had been given the observer by a famous pilot only a few days before and he remembered it. "If one only does, watch me," said the grim observer.

The leader of the formation, the fastest Fokker of all, who had been taking shots at the English machine from all angles, put his nose up and climbed behind the RES just out of shot of the observer. Suddenly he "stuck his nose down," his guns spitting venomous tracers and explosive bullets at the two Canadians. He got very close; the observer was banging away hard at him. But, strangely enough, neither scored.

The Hun pulled up, climbing hard to the right.

The observer sat down calmly on his stool, took careful aim between the wheels of the enemy machine, and pressed the trigger. The Hun rolled slowly over, dived vertically, and started to spin rapidly. The rest of the Huns, dazed by the fall of their leader, drew off and gave the delighted British machine a load good enough to get away. Had they kept on at the artillery bus he most certainly would have become their victim.

The Hun spun all the way to the ground, and as he struck burst into a great sheet of flames. A week later when the territory was captured the infantry found a small oak cross beside the charred wreck of a German aeroplane and on the cross was inscribed in German: "Here rests Captain Baron von Schroeder, German Imperial Flying Corps. Victor in forty-two aerial engagements with the British and French."

In one of the greatest air battles of the war, the great dog fight in which the famous Captain Baron Richthofen was shot down by Captain Brown, D.S.C., D.F.C., a Canadian, a rank German beginner shot down a promising young Toronto flight commander. It was a pure fluke, and the worst luck possible.

This gallant young Canadian in an S.E.5, a fast type of British scout, was having a fine time in that famous "dog fight." His companions told afterwards of how he had shot three down and forced two others to quit the fight. He was seen diving vertically on another Hun. From outside the main fight a wary enemy machine started both guns crackling. They kept on going, both spitting tracers at nothing. But down came that young Canadian sights on a Hun below, and straight through that flow of bullets he went. His machine burst into flames.

And the Hun who had shot him down kept straight on, flying slowly along, both guns playing away at nothing. He was in a blue funk. One of the young Canadian's comrades at once dived on this machine and shot it down with no show of resistance from the enemy.

On another occasion a British formation was bombing a railway junction 20 miles behind the lines. No enemy machines came up to fight them. Far below, thousands of feet beneath them, one of the observers saw an enemy machine. He tipped his two Lewis guns over the side, took what he thought to be the right aim, and fired. To his intense astonishment, and the astonishment of the other observers who had also seen this machine, the enemy turned sharply, emitted a great gush of smoke, and fell in a mass of flames to the ground!

Through a Cloud.

On another occasion a British reconnaissance formation, bound over the lines, encountered thick grey clouds at the altitude at which they had hoped to fly. So the leader signalled, and they went down beneath the clouds. One of the observers, to test his machine gun, fired into a cloud bank.

His amazement knew no bounds when from beneath the clouds the remains of an enemy aeroplane came tumbling down. They were to have been ambushed, for in the east of that cloud the patrol discovered five enemy machines.

Miss Campbell
Stirs All London

Is Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Campbell of Kingston

Miss Marjorie Campbell, daughter of Mr. J. M. Campbell, of the Gananoque Electric Light Co., has almost overnight, as it were, become a theatrical star of the first magnitude and today is the talk of all London, Eng., where she is the leading lady in that wonderfully fascinating play "Tiger Rose," which ran so successfully for many months on the American side, says the Kingston Standard. The play, after a week's "try out" in Bourne-mouth, England, opened at the famous Savoy Theatre in London on the night of October 16th and made an instant and remarkable hit, with Miss Campbell fairly captivating the large audience and instantly winning her way into the hearts of the people and, incidentally, gaining for herself a lasting place in theatrical stardom; for as a consequence of her brilliant success she has been literally besieged by managers seeking to sign her up for other plays at fabulous salaries. As a consequence, too, of this success, her name is now blazoned forth each night in great flashing letters before the Savoy theatre as the chief attraction of that great playhouse.

"Tiger Rose," a Belasco play, is a drama of the great North-west, by Willard Mack, and is put on by an all-English company with Miss Campbell the one exception. It is under the direction of J. J. Sacks, Ltd., and is produced by W. J. Wilson, under an arrangement with Gilbert Miller. The Savoy, it may be stated, is under lease to H. B. Irving, who died only a few days ago—a son of the late Sir Henry B. Irving—and is noted for the high class plays it has produced.

All the London papers are loud and lavish in their praise of Miss Campbell's acting, the leading dailies devoting considerable space to the opening night.—Gananoque Reporter.

In Memoriam

In fond and loving memory of Nurse M. Helena Crozier, dearly beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Crozier, of Midland, late of Lindsay, who gave her life in the service of others in the epidemic of influenza on Oct. 31, 1918 in the Belleville Hospital.

The prophets afflicting are always predicting that evils are coming to pass; the oil we are pumping is billed for a stupping, and soon we won't have any gas. The prophets are waiting that coal mines are tailing and soon we'll have nothing to burn; we'll sit up and shiver from washbone to liver; and wish the old times might return. Our lands are exhausted and husbandry's frosted, and soon we'll have nothing to eat; there's not enough leather to make a good tether, and there'll be no shoes for our feet. A STRONG LEADER

In selecting Ernest Charles Drury, of Crown Hill, as their leader the United Farmers of Ontario have chosen well. There is among the foremost men in the agricultural movement in this province no other personality that combines so many of the qualities of successful leadership.

He is an honest man. Honesty and politics may not always or usually go together but it would perhaps be better for the country if they were more frequently combined. Politics is the science of government. The fundamental principle of all science is truth, or honesty. The politics with which most of us are familiar is neither scientific nor honest. Politics has come to mean the petty maneuvering of shifty manipulators, filled with the lust for office. This madness of the many for the gain of only a few was what caused the greatest revolution in the political history of Ontario, when, on October 20th, the electorate of this province smashed the partisan machinery beyond recognition and swept all but a feeble remnant of the old guard into oblivion.

Drury is honest and the people tired to death of the schemers and tricksters, are now demanding honesty in their servants. Drury's honesty is of that unsuspecting type that believes in the honesty of other people. He assumes that they are like unto himself. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was also of that same ingenuous cast of mind and looked for good rather than evil in his fellows. And, strangely enough, such men call forth the better nature of mankind and their own transparent truthfulness inspires similar qualities in their associates. Sometimes these splendid souls are deceived or betrayed, but oftener than not, the would-be doer of evil becomes ashamed of his own natural crookedness and tries in turn to emulate the other.

Drury is sincere and very much in earnest. No man ever succeeded in a big way who did not believe in himself and the cause he represented. Drury believes in his cause. No person who has listened to one of his public addresses ever doubted his sincerity however much he may have disagreed with his logic. He has the fervor and zeal of a prophet of old and for twenty years he has carried on his warfare for an emancipated agriculture. Some of his neighbors up in Simcoe think he is visionary. They mistake the earnestness of his message for the fantastic imagining of a crusader. But Drury is not an idealist or a dreamer. His farm at Crown Hill bears evidence of the skill of a thoroughly practical man who loves animals, beautiful home surroundings and the big, free life of the country.

The coming premier is eloquent. His eloquence is the natural and unaffected expression of a clear-headed thinker who has something to say. His manner is quiet and not inclined to spell-binding or garrulity. He gives the impression of reserve power. A pleasing voice, modest gestures, dignified bearing and prepossessing appearance contribute to the general effect of his oratory.

The leader is a man of wide reading and deep culture. Like all men who are truly educated, his culture is largely a matter of self-instruction, though he can write the letters, B.S.A., after his name. His language betokens the clear-cut expression of a man of the logical type of mind whose vocabulary is rich and varied.

Drury has force of character. He will lead his party. He is not an autocrat. He is a good listener and receives suggestions sympathetically and with an open mind. But when he feels sure that he is right he goes ahead. No sophist can turn him to the right or the left. His will is inflexible, once he has made up his mind the right course to pursue.

He is a good mixer in the sense that he is genial and companionable and a most interesting conversationalist. But he does not belong to that smooth type of hand-shaker who gives a smirking imitation of affability.

Clean and strong and forceful and progressive, and at the same time sane, moderate, independent, and democratic. E. C.

Drury should give to his party able and efficient leadership and to his native province a government genuinely in the interest of the people.

Both in English and French commercial circles there appears to be a natural hesitation to resume trade with Germany. But the Americans are out to capture any trade that offers, and any that may be caught. Their latest proposition is to establish a $75,000,000 bank at Bremen to finance cotton shipments.

A revolution in Turkey is reported to be a possibility. When the armistice was concluded the Committee of Union and Progress was left with an army in Anatolia, which has been strengthened by thousands of demobilized officers and men. Now the committee is openly defying the Central Government recognized by the Allies. By the time the Peace Conference decides what to do with Turkey the mandatory power may have a pretty problem on its hands.

Bankers in conference in San Francisco, have decided that it is a good thing to advertise in newspapers. Of course it is. It is always wiser to tell your own story than to intrust the telling of it to another. Banks and railroads have come in for so much abuse and misrepresentation that those who say a good word for them put themselves under suspicion. There is nothing like talking straight and backing up what is said with facts and figures.

The Bulgarian Peace delegation told a correspondent that it was not military strategy which conquered their army. "The rhetorical tanks of President Wilson and Lloyd George had opened a wide breach in the Salonika front," they said. This tribute to the power of speech would be impressive if it were not unlikely that the Bulgarian troops were permitted to know that the Allied Statesmen were saying before the Allied soldiers had convinced them of the futility of further resistance.

Taking cigarette smoking as a standard of civilization, the savages of British East Africa are fast catching up. A few years ago the natives were content with crude raw tobacco mixed with all sorts of things. Now they are smoking cigarettes at the rate of 25,000,000 a month. An official of the British-American Tobacco Company said that the Kavironda, a tribe on the shores of Lake Victoria Nyanza, and one of the proudest, most moral and most naked in Africa, have an improved method of smoking. "We packed our cigarettes in boxes of four," he said, "because the Kavironda smoke four at a time, putting one in each corner of the mouth, and one in each nostril!"

Clemenceau "The Tiger" of France has generally been a somewhat intolerant champion of liberty. A radical and free thinker he has long been rather bigoted in his attitude to the church which he helped strip of power; during the most of his career he was known as an eater of cures. But in announcing his retirement from political life The Tiger took occasion to pay an eloquent tribute to the conduct of the French clergy during the war. So splendidly patriotic were they, he said, that most of them should be taken to the hearts of all Frenchmen and Republicans. With Clemenceau patriotism covers all the virtues, but his declaration may not have the effect doubtless intended of promoting political peace. The Monarchists and Clerical Right will probably spread the story that the Grand Old Man of France has become reconciled to Mother Church in his old age, and then there will be loud railing among the radicals of the extreme Left.

WHAT DOES A FELLER SAY THEN?

Say:—
When the minister comes
To your house,
To make you and the wife a
Little call,
And the conversation gets to be
About prohibition,
And the minister remarks
How thankful he feels
That so many homes have been freed
From the curse of beer and whiskey,
And you say "Yes, indeed,"
And keep nodding your head,
Agreeing with him heartily
In all that he says:
And then your little son
Comes in,
When the minister is there,
Carrying a pint bottle,
And says,
"Look, Pa, a bottle of the Home brew broke—"
Listen here:—
What does a feller say then?
—Charles T. Schermerhorn.

Dr. T. E. Kaiser Was Disappointed in "Non-Freeze"

Gallon Cans of "Alcohol" Had Two Compartments—Can on Exhibit in Henderson's Window—Ninety-Ninth Pure Tap Water.

(OSHAWA REFORMER.)

A man, unknown, and still unidentified, called at a railway station last spring for a number of gallon cans of alcohol, or high wine, consigned to him as syrup. The cans were so corked that they could readily be opened and the goods approved of before paying the C. O. D. charges. The stranger drew the cork, smelled, tasted, and approved of the syrup (?). He then loaded it into his buggy and hurried into the country.

Behind him, but at some distance, a farmer was also driving hurriedly to his home. The syrup (?) merchant took him to be Lewis Luke, License Inspector for South Ontario. Panic-stricken he began to unload his syrup (?) cans into the ditch. The farmer diligently began to pick them up, and the faster he picked the faster they came.

The doctor immediately scented "high wines" or absolute alcohol. Upon being asked what useful purpose it could be put to he told them to use it in the radiator of their car for a non-freeze substitute, as there was nothing better. He was told that they had no car, but as he had one they would gladly give it to him if he would only come and take it away.

This was agreed upon but the doctor did not go for it till last week, when weather conditions suggested a coming need. The quantity was so generous that the doctor did not like to "hog" the whole find so he divided it up with Dr. McKay. By this windfall the doctors felt fortified against zero weather for many years to come.

Two Storey Affair. Saturday night Dr. Kaiser thought he would open one can, and test the quality of the non-freeze. A cork was drawn and about half a tumbler of high class-alcohol was poured out but alas! no more could be persuaded to flow. Upon examination he discovered the can had two sections in it; a very small upper wine chamber and a very large lower water chamber as he surmised. He called over Dr. McKay for a hurried consultation.

Water Enough to Float a Ship. The two doctors held a post-mortem examination of the remains and they found that the cans were all dead ones. Just enough live alcohol in the little wine chambers to induce the poor consignee at the station to pay for the goods, and enough water in the lower chambers to float a ship. The total alcohol in all the cans would scarcely keep a stomach from freezing up in the month of August, instead of an auto radiator in the middle of winter.

Can on Exhibition. Although the doctors enjoyed the joke upon their high expectations of a cheap supply of non-freeze, they agreed it was a better joke on the man who paid for the goods.

The fraud was so unique and exasperating that Dr. Kaiser has had one of the cans cut into a cross section for exhibition. In Henderson's window as a warning to all purchasers of foreign goods of this nature.

Young Girl Badly Burned

SKIRTS CAUGHT FIRE ON GAS BURNER, AND SHE SUFFERED SEVERE BURNS.

Flames Were Extinguished By Geo. Payne, With a Horse-Blanket. Kingston, Oct. 29.—Miss Annie McDermott, a domestic in the employ of Jas. Swift, 132 King street, was very seriously burned Wednesday morning, when her clothing took fire from a gas burner, and before the flames could be extinguished she was very badly burned about the limbs and body.

At the time of the accident there was no one else in the house but Miss McDermott. A three-pipe gas burner was on the coal range, and was burning. She took the gas burner off the stove and set it on the floor, preparatory to kindling a fire in the range. While stooping over her skirts caught fire on the gas burners and in an instant she was ablaze. An elderly man, who had been working nearby, removing ashes, rushed to her assistance, and did everything possible for her.

Meanwhile Mr. Geo. Payne, Carpenter contractor, who was working in the home of Mrs. Pense nearby, heard the screams of the burning girl and rushed to the street as quickly as possible. By this time the girl was on the street and two flames had tried to extinguish the flames by wrapping their coats around her. Mr. Payne seized the blanket he had on his horse and rushed to the unfortunate girl he wrapped the blanket about her and soon extinguished the flames, not, however, before she had been severely burned. Jas. Reid's ambulance was called and also Dr. Mylkes' and the unfortunate girl was removed to the Hotel Dieu, where this afternoon she was in a serious condition.

Miss McDermott had been in the employ of Mr. Swift for some years and was a conscientious and faithful employee. While her condition is serious it is hoped that she will recover.

explained absence are rarely duplicated in real life but might well, could full details be secured, be chosen by a writer of "best sellers" to form the basis of his efforts.

Eight years ago Mrs. Dunn lost a diamond ring, valued as having belonged to her great-grandmother and because of its clear water qualities. The circumstances surrounding the loss of the ring she cannot now definitely recall, but effort was made to locate it, advertisements being inserted in the newspapers of several cities and others steps looking to its recovery being taken all Mrs. Dunn's efforts were to no purpose. The ring seemed to have vanished into thin air and its owner considered that it had been irrevocably lost. The ring was finally almost forgotten.

Mysterious as was the loss of the ring, more mysterious still was first glance the method by which it returned to Mrs. Dunn. Yesterday she was summoned to the custom's house where a small parcel done up in wrapping paper awaited her. On the wrapper was her name and address, together with the words: "Villanova Penna. C. P. O'Neill." Opening the cardboard box which was enclosed by the paper, she was surprised to find the missing ring, packed in tissue paper, intact and apparently none the worse for its long absence.

Further search of the contents of the box resulted in the discovery of the following note, written in ink on a small piece of paper.

"Dear Mrs. Dunn: I am enclosing you a diamond ring which was stolen from you some years ago. It was given me a few days ago to return to you. I hope you will receive it all right and pardon the poor unfortunate who took it."

"Very sincerely yours, "A Catholic Priest." The ring had evidently been recovered by the priest through the confessional, but who the thief was Mrs. Dunn has absolutely no idea. That he or she should have been able to recall, at the end of eight years, the exact name and address of the person who rightly owned the ring is abundant proof that the misdeed had weighed heavily upon his or her conscience and that finally the penitent had determined to return the ring where it rightly belonged. What a story could be written were the missing chapters of the dramatic episode available!

Motor Bus and Car Meet in Collision

Iroquois People Shaken Up By Rear-End Smash on King Street.

Brockville, Oct. 30.—Shortly after five o'clock Tuesday afternoon the auto bus owned by McCarney & Fleming, Prescott, and operated between here and the Fort Town and a Briscoe touring car owned by Alex. Strader, Iroquois, were in collision at the corner of King and Park streets, but fortunately the accident was not attended by serious results.

Mrs. Strader in company with her son, Edward, aged 15 years, Mrs. Oliver Fisher and son, Keith, aged seven years, came to Brockville on Monday to attend the reception to the Prince of Wales. Owing to motor trouble they remained in town over night and were on their way home with Edward Strader at the wheel when the accident occurred. The motor car had just descended the Park street hill and was turning east on King street when the bus, which was travelling westward, crashed into the rear end of the motor car. The rear tires were torn from the wheels of the Briscoe and the left hand runningboard was also smashed. The autobus was also smashed in the back axle.

The occupants of the motor car were more or less shaken up by the impact but no bones were broken. The occupants of the bus escaped injury.

Mrs. Strader and the members of her party were cared for at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Cossit and their car was taken to Price's garage for repairs.

When the youngsters begin to grow up these Victory Bonds will very likely be a most handy thing to have around the house. It might mean "pinching" a little to buy them now, but it will soon be over. The savings being left in the bank "in case something might happen" will be every bit as safe invested in Victory Bonds and they will be bringing in more money as interest. Victory Bonds are easily turned into cash and those persons who subscribed to the former loans could now get more than they paid for them if they so desire.

Do not be afraid of buying bonds on the instalment plan. In a few months from now you will be glad you did it. Get a Victory Bond for each one of your children.

Rush for Whiskey Sends Price High

When the news was received in Montreal that President Wilson had vetoed the prohibition bill, the price of Canadian whiskey increased almost automatically. Even though the United States House of Representatives passed the bill later, over the veto, the act had no effect and day whiskey is from $1 to $4 per case higher. The new prices for Canadian draught whiskey show that the increase is from 50 cents to $3 per gallon Foreign brands, including Scotch Irish and brandy, are to be increased proportionately.

The distribution of whiskey in Canada is controlled almost entirely in Montreal, but the most of the distillers are located in Ontario. The majority of the Ontario vendors procure their supply from Montreal and hence the higher prices will affect the consumers in a very short time.

While the importation of liquor into Ontario is not legal, the order-in-council prohibiting importation will be nullified on the proclamation of peace until the new legislation to be passed in the Commons becomes effective. The world, it is expected, will be officially at peace within three weeks, and then liquor may be purchased in Quebec for shipment direct to the consumer. The man or woman who wants to stock a cellar will find that prices are high.

The distiller's explanation of the increase is that there is a very heavy overseas demand for Canadian whiskey and that the fact that the United States may be selling liquor until the end of the year makes the demand greater than the supply.

Within a few days those fortunate citizens who have doctors' prescriptions for liquor will find that the vendor will charge more for the "hard stuff" because the manufacturer is changing more.

BOLD BURGLARY

Port Hope, Oct. 30.—The grocery store of John Curtis and son was again burglarized Tuesday night and the spice tins on the second shelf, this time the burglars, were bolder than usual. Entrance was gained by throwing a medium sized stone thru the plate glass window in the front door. That stone was thrown with great force was shown by the fact that it was found this morning more than half way down the store. About fifteen dollars in silver and coppers was removed. The burglary no doubt was committed by local men. Mr. Curtis for years kept his silver and coppers in a small cotton bag behind the bag was placed in its customary place at closing hour last night but this morning it was gone. The thieves were well aware of the hiding place and after securing the bag left without disturbing anything else, in fact they did not even open the till. There is grave suspicion to the parties who are carrying on these burglaries and it will be welcome news to our citizens when the guilty ones are brought to justice.

Said Rum Ration Gave Him Appetite

Blaming the rum that he drank while in France, gave him an appetite for liquor, a young man, Morley Sanford Easton was before Magistrate Hind on Friday on a charge of intoxication. Easton asserted that he had been recently ill with bronchitis and through a doctor's prescription had obtained liquor which he considered would be good for him during the convalescent period. The Magistrate accepted his story but did not see that it gave him any license to be drunk on the streets, fining him $10 and costs.

The case of the King vs. Robert Blair, which was to have been heard on Friday the charge being an offence against morality, was enlarged for one week at the instance of the Crown, certain witnesses not being present.—Oshawa Reformer.

Obituary

DR. A. J. MACAULAY At the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital Brockville, Monday night at 2.30 o'clock the death took place of one of Brockville's best known professional men in Dr. A. J. Macaulay. He had not been in 2 good health the past few years and four weeks ago suffered an attack which proved fatal at the hour mentioned. In his last moments he was attended by his nephew, Mr. R. D. Macaulay, Toronto, and an old friend, Mr. B. P. Davy, Napanee. The late Alexander John Macaulay, M.D., C.M., was born in the township of Sidney, County of Hastings, 55 years ago. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Macaulay leading residents of that place. He was educated at the primary schools of that township, the Belleville Collegiate Institute, the Belleville Model School, and the Madoc Model School. Deciding on the medical profession for his life work, he entered Trinity University, Toronto in 1884, and was graduated from it in 1888 with high honor and marked distinction. He was for a time a house surgeon at the Toronto General Hospital, and then commenced the practice of his profession at Frankford, Ontario. He built up a large and lucrative practice there. Desiring a larger sphere of action, he came to Brockville in 1895 and for the period of twenty-four years had practiced in this town. He soon became a leading physician of this district. He was considered one of the leading diagnosticians in Eastern Ontario. In 1900 he was appointed Medical Officer of Health for Brockville, and brought to the discharge of his duties splendid executive ability was recognized by his fellow members of the Leeds and Grenville Medical Association, and on the medical staffs of the St. Vincent de Paul and General Hospitals. Dr. Macaulay is survived by one brother, Mr. Justice C. D. Macaulay, of Dawson City, Y. T. The latter paid a visit to his brother here a few months ago, owing to the great distance between Brockville and the Yukon. It was impossible for him to reach Brockville for the last illness of the Doctor. In religion the deceased was a Catholic and a member of St. Francis Xavier church. He was an active member of that congregation and never tired of advancing the interests of all concerning it. He was a fourth degree member of the Knights of Columbus and was the first Grand Knight of Brockville Council No. 1049. He was very zealous in promoting the work of the order. Aside from his ability as a physician, Dr. Macaulay was a man of great kindness and affability. Possessing a fine physical constitution, he was unsparring of himself in assisting those in need. He gave of his fine talents for the relief of the unfortunate and for securing those in distress. His numerous acts of charity were performed in an unostentatious way. He was never known to turn a deaf ear to those in need. Dr. Macaulay has gone and it is almost superfluous to say that this world was the better for his sojourn here. He was a big man in physique but he was bigger in good deeds for the welfare of his fellow citizens. He is called from this life in the fullness of prime manhood, and his memory will ever remain enshrined in the hearts of those whose privilege it was to be numbered among his friends. The sympathy of the community goes out to his brother and other relatives in the great loss they have sustained. The funeral took place from St. Vincent de Paul Hospital Thursday morning to St. Francis Xavier church—Brockville Recorder and Times.

Mrs. Poste and Elmer spent Saturday and Sunday in Belleville. Miss Stella Wilson arrived home on Friday accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Vice from Oshawa. Mr. Nell, the traveller for the Rawleigh Co. was through the neighborhood last week. Some of our young people are striking out for the winner. Mrs. W. Benson who was on the sick list is better again. Rev. McQuade and Rev. Fredrick are having some holidays hunting and fishing. Mrs. R. Eggleton has returned home after spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Benson. Mrs. McQuade who has been stopping at her mother's in Smithfield has returned home. Mrs. R. Haggerty spent a few days at her sister's, Mrs. Abbott's last week. The Daley tea men are also taking their annual trip through the country. Mrs. Pitman and Mrs. Cooke took dinner at Mrs. Sarle's on Monday. Mr. W. Kingston and family spent Sunday in Sidney visiting the latter's brother. The regular quarterly service is to be held in the Methodist Church next Sunday at 10.30. Sunday school is to be held in the evening at seven o'clock. Everybody come. Everybody welcome. Every day has a hearty welcome to the open meeting at Eggleton on Wednesday evening for the W. M. Society. Mrs. S. Geen is visiting at her brother's, Mr. Alex. McIntyre. Miss Nellie D. Donnan is visiting in Stirling.

VICTORIA

Church next Sunday at Rednersville, it being quarterly service. Mrs. Annie Brickman is spending a few weeks with relatives at Trenton. Mrs. Jennie Weese and Miss Minnie entertained company on Tuesday and Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Aleya took dinner at Mr. H. Pulver's on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Stoneburg took dinner at Mr. Lorne Brickman's on Sunday. The people from the Gore attended a husking bee at Mr. J. F. Weese's on Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Will Elliott, of Madoc, also Mr. and Mrs. N. Wilson took tea at Mr. Everett Brickman's on Sunday. Tom, Beatrice and Clayton Wannamaker spent Sunday with Melvin Pulver. Mr. and Mrs. S. Fox, Mr. A. Lout and Mrs. Lout spent Saturday at Mr. W. Elliott's, Madoc. Mr. Lorne Brickman attended the Victory Loan banquet at Hotel Quinte Wednesday.

BAYSIDE BRIEFS

Despite the rainy weather on Sunday, the Anniversary services at Wesley Methodist church were well attended, especially in the evening. Rev. E. E. Howard (a former pastor) preached at both services. Miss Grace Reid and Mr. Chas. Marvin, both of Avondale, were quietly married at the Bayside Methodist parsonage, on Wednesday last in the presence of their immediate relatives. After the union in the holy bonds of matrimony the apparently happy couple left for New York where they will visit relatives. The people of this town extend congratulations and best wishes for a happy useful life. Master Howard Hall (while at school on Monday) was struck with a stone above the eye and badly hurt. Mr. David Hall (the father) hurried him to Dr. Farley at Trenton, where the wound was stitched up. The little chap is doing nicely. A short time ago a younger brother fell and broke his arm. It's nearly time the trustees introduced steel helmets and other safety appliances. When we went to school it was a common occurrence to have a tree-for-all scrap almost daily and any guy that came through with a black eye or a few broken limbs was considered a mighty lucky. And after the show was over, the teachers always gave us their views on the fighting question in a practical way with a rubber strap. Then if the folks at home happened to hear about it, we generally got the flogging touches put on with a rawhide whip. That was away back in the misty ages of the past, but just listen what transpires if any of the dear little "creations-of-clay" chance to get hurt at school nowadays. Someone gets a blif in the eye, the fact is immediately reported by telephone to the father, of the injured youngster, the father places his foot on the self-starter of a six-cylinder limousine and speeds to the school at sixty miles, an hour. The damaged offspring is placed in a reserved seat and rushed to a medical pain-killer for treatment. The bill is charged up to the chap that did the damage, the teacher is fired and the trustees usually get a pedigree about as a pure bred holstein cow. There is no class of people under the canopy of heaven that has done more in the building up of this Dominion than have our public school teachers, and no class has come in for more unreasonable abuse than these Empire builders. Not only are teachers expected to put up with all kinds of abuse, but are also expected to teach for about the same salary that a farmer pays his hired man for feeding the hogs. And people wonder why they can't keep a good teacher. The high wind on Tuesday did considerable damage in this locality. The large smoke-stack on the Bayside factory was blown down and is badly damaged. Considerable damage was done to the roof of Mr. Fred Rose's barn. Mr. and Mrs. Percy Boulton are visiting friends at St. Catharines. A very select company met at the home of Mr. George Sharpe on Monday evening. The usual exercises were indulged in.

MELVILLE

In these last days of autumn (of October), the quiet is broken by the persistent drip of falling rain and by the wild, wild, bluster of the autumn wind. The lake is lashed to fury by the wind, and the tall, leafless trees along the shore, sway rhythmically in the autumn gale, just beneath the rolling clouds. From the orchard trees, thinly clothed in scanty foliage, the leaves are blown to the ground where they form a carpet of the softer shades of green and gold. On their way to the little old school house, the boys and girls, in rough and tumble fashion, are battling against the elements, but these strenuous efforts but give them rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes and a toughened physical and mental fibre which will stand them in good stead when they come to battle against the forces which they will inevitably meet in later life. The bracing air of Canada, to say the least, is not enervating, and has been of material benefit in producing a race of brave and brain that is able to compete with the best of the world. Mr. Albert Adams had a splendid crop of alfalfa this season, the seed bringing him the splendid sum of over a thousand dollars. Mrs. William A. Davern, the bride of a few weeks, was at home to a number of callers on Wednesday afternoon. Among those present were Mrs. James Wallbridge, Huff's Island; Mrs. John Wallbridge and Miss Ella Anderson, of Massasauga; Mrs. Ridley Anderson of Mountain View and Mrs. Fred Morton, Melville. The sale of farm stock and implements, the property of Mr. John Rollinson on the Al Brewer farm, was well attended on Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Rollinson, who have spent 17 years on this farm, are removing to Pleasant Bay to reside with their daughter, Mrs. Horace Thompson. Mr. and Mrs. Brewer, who have resided in Picton during that time, are returning to their farm. Mrs. Miller of Picton is residing with her son, Mr. Alva Miller. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Huff came up from Mount Pleasant on Thursday to remove the household effects of their mother, Mrs. M. Johnson, from the old Melville homestead which was recently sold to Mr. J. H. Chase. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zuffelt were callers at W. H. Anderson's Wednesday evening. Mrs. Malcolm French and Mrs. Herbert Zuffelt were recent guests of Mrs. W. E. Davidson. Mr. Gerald Ferguson is driving a fine horse purchased at Mr. H. A. Anderson's sale at Bowensman's. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson having sold their farm, are removing to Picton where they have purchased the brick dwelling of the late Dr. Morden on Main Street. Their sons, "Howard" and Frank were given a surprise by their young friends from Wellington and vicinity on Friday night. Rev. D. Moutier spent several days last week in Toronto. Mrs. Moutier at the same time visited her parents Dr. and Mrs. Wright, Trenton. Little Kathleen French, who has been suffering from throat trouble is improving. Albert Morton was the guest of Clare Zuffelt on Sunday. Wild geese are seen in large flocks feeding in the fields of corn and buckwheat. Mr. Sherman Fox, of Banff, Alta., is spending a few days in the county having come east with the remains of his mother, the late Mrs. Louisa Fox, Stafford, who died suddenly of heart failure at the home of her daughter Mrs. Robert Anderson, of Edmonton. The deceased had been in the West, but a few months ago having returned home with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Anderson, after their visit to the country last summer. She leaves to mourn, a son, Mr. Sherman Fox, and a daughter, Mrs. R. H. Anderson both of Alberta. The elder son, Dr. Donald Fox, of North Carolina, died several years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Delong of Picton, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. James Morton and other friends. Mrs. E. Cooper and niece were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Moreland, South Lakeside. The splendid victory won by the temperance force last Monday at the polls, has caused great rejoicing. The influence of women in the field of politics may be relied on for the advancement of social and moral reform and the general up-lift of the home life, and the community. The victory of the United Farmers is an indication that agriculture is being acknowledged as the basic and foremost industry of the province. The return of Prince Edward's farm or candidate, Mr. Nelson Parliament to the Legislature is most gratifying to the rural communities of the county. Mr. Charles Morton spent Sunday afternoon at W. H. Anderson's.

BURRIS

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Brason and Miss Leta, Mr. J. S. Pearsall, Miss M. and Mrs. H. Noxon were at Mr. Bruce McPaul's on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Noxon at Mr. D. S. Doolittle's on Sunday. Miss Mildred Fox visited her sister Mrs. W. F. Blakely, Mountain View on Sunday. A number of friends and neighbors met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rollinson one evening last week to spend an enjoyable evening and say good-bye. Dr. Cody, Minister of Education, visited Burr's school on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Herb Brason, Miss Leta at Dan Mordens Sunday evening.

NILES CORNERS

The many friends of Mrs. Wm. Ellis were very sorry to get the sad news of her death in the west. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis were former residents of this place, but moved to the west a number of years ago where they were doing well. Deceased had a very weak heart and was stricken with pneumonia and died Oct. 15, and was buried the 17th in Mount Pleasant cemetery at Edmonton. Deceased was a Methodist in religion and will be greatly missed in the church as well as by a large circle of friends. Besides her husband she leaves to mourn two sisters, Mrs. Benj. Ellis, of this place and Mrs. William Brown of Mt. Pleasant and two brothers Washington of Campbellford and Clayton of the west to whom much sympathy is extended. O! How sweet it will be in that beautiful land. When free from all sorrow and pain, With songs on our lips, And with harps in our hands, To meet one another again. Mrs. Fanny Draper of St. Paul, Mrs. Jane Clarke, of Scotia and Mrs. Lucinda Murphy of Wellington were guests of Mrs. Earl Ellis on Wednesday. Mr. Benj. Ellis lost a horse last week.

6th, LINE OF SIDNEY

Mr. Earl Sine accompanied by his aunt Nurse Grass left on Monday for Toronto where he expects to undergo an operation early in the week. Rev. Mr. Hinton of Campbellford, occupied the pulpit on Sunday. There will be no service here next Sunday owing to a quarterly service at the stone church. Miss Myrtle Bell spent over Sunday under the parental roof. Mrs. Walter Scott is visiting at Mr. Ezra Anderson's near Picton. Mrs. H. A. Dewey who has been spending the summer with her daughter Mrs. J. A. Lott, has returned to her home in Havelock. Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Rose spent Sunday in Foxboro. Mr. Playter and daughter Bessie, of Trenton spent Wednesday last with friends here. A number of our young people attended the King - Fox wedding on Wed. last. Mrs. J. A. Lott spent Wednesday last with Mrs. Maffland Sine. Nearly every person from this way were able to get out to vote, on Monday last.

GLEN ROSS

Glen Ross was not asleep on election day on the contrary were unusually wide awake. Plenty of gasoline and energy was spent to gather in the votes, but our prohibitionists were well rewarded by a big majority for the temperance cause. Mrs. J. McLaughlin et. al. has returned home after spending two months with her daughter in Trenton where she has been receiving medical treatment. Mrs. H. Hubble and daughter Vera spent Friday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Richardson, Kawdon. The funeral of the late Mrs. F. Palmer who died in Belleville hospital on the 18th was held on Tuesday the 21st from her late residence, River Valley to St. John's church in Stirling where the Rev. B. F. Byers conducted the service. Interment was made in Frankford cemetery. Mrs. M. Anderson has been visiting friends in Stirling for a few days. Mr. A. Hagerman has been under the doctor's care a few days. We hope he speedily recovers. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Green also Miss Gladys and Helen spent the dinner hour with Mr. and Mrs. J. Weaver of Anson on Sunday. They also attended the Anniversary services at Stirling, morning and evening, as did several others from this appointment and all enjoyed hearing their old pastor, Rev. Capt. W. G. Clarke. The falls work on the farms is now being rushed by many as they are now preparing for the hunting season.

AMELIASBURG

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Mastin, and children spent Sunday in Little Kingston, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Mastin. Mr. C. C. Wannamaker of Salem, the President of Ameliasburg S. S. Association visited our Sunday school last Sabbath. Mr. Robert Stapleton has returned from Wellington and is with his daughter Mrs. E. J. Blakely. Mr. and Mrs. Percy White of Sydney and Mr. and Mrs. Smith Brown of Young's neighborhood spent Sunday under the parental roof. Mr. and Mrs. C. Martin (nee Miss Lena Malden) visited at Geo. Aleya's one day recently. Several from the neighborhood attended the sale on Monday at Mr. Sergeant's, Lake Shore. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brooks were guests of Mrs. Arnold Mastin on Monday. Miss Alberta Adams is convalescing rapidly from her recent serious attack of flu and pneumonia. Mr. Jas. Broad and Miss Hattie Broad of Massasauga called on Mrs. E. O. Adams on Sunday. Mrs. Adams has been confined to her room for the past week but at time of writing, as we are glad to say slowly improving.

CROFTON

The Crofton Ladies' Aid met on Oct. 24th at the home of Mrs. David Moran for the purpose of organizing a W. M. S. Mrs. Hall of Stirling, President of Kingston Presbytery was present and gave a very interesting talk which was much enjoyed by all. After reading the constitution which was adopted by a standing vote the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Isaac Clarke. 1st. Vice Pres., Mrs. Clayton Morden 2nd. Vice Pres., Mrs. Stanley Warden Secretary, Mrs. George Fox. Treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Boyav. Supply Sec., Mrs. J. Eaton Moran. Messenger Sec., Mrs. John Boyav. Press Sec., Mrs. George Fox. It was decided to meet the 1st Thursday in every month at 2 p.m.

WALLBRIDGE

Church was well attended Sunday night the Rev. Hinton of Campbellford occupied the pulpit. A little three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Kemp of the 9th con. of Murray on Friday afternoon drank Gillette Lye by mistake and was rushed by auto to Frankford, Dr. Simmons in attendance reports she is doing as well as could be expected. WHERE BONE-HEADS FLOURISH

The prospective formation of a government by Mr. E. C. Drury, leader of the United Farmers of Ontario, is regarded by many people as a joke. They assume that it is altogether impossible for anybody, who is not a lawyer, or a member of the so-called "learned professions" to possess the sound judgment, mental balance, skill and acumen necessary to govern this great province of Ontario.

The patronising and cynical smiles, the derisive remarks and the confident predictions that the career of the newly elected agrarian government will be short, indicate a pretty general belief among those who live in towns and cities that by some fluke of fortune, or freakish judgment on the part of the electors the people of this province have given a party of wooden-headed rubes the control of our legislature.

The Ontario does not agree with the estimates that are being so confidently put forward in reference to the capacity of the men who have been selected by the United Farmers as their representatives in the provincial parliament. Nor are we convinced that their stay in Queen's park is necessarily going to be short.

Those who deride the United Farmers are themselves ignorant of essential facts and altogether wrong in their conclusions about the character and ability of the farmer members of the new legislature.

Residence in a city does not necessarily imply that a man is an intellectual giant. From an extensive acquaintance with both, we would say that the average intelligence is very considerably higher in the rural settlements than among our urban populations. The larger the city, the lower is the average of intelligence. While the metropolitan center draws to it many men who are national leaders in their various vocations it also attracts a far larger proportion of human derelicts, slum dwellers, outcasts and society's scum.

Those who characterise the Farmers' party at Toronto as a rabble of barn-yard savages don't know what they are talking about, for a cleaner, straighter, more level headed or more efficient group of men have never been elected to our legislative assembly.

Where will one find a finer type of citizen than Mr. Henry K. Denyes, member-elect for East Hastings? It requires quite as high an order of ability, and perhaps greater resource and initiative, to manage a farm with conspicuous success and breed prize-winning stock as it takes to manage a grocery store or conduct a law office. Nelson Parliament is another farmer representative who has proved that he can hold his own in debate at Toronto with the city-bred talking specialists and probably no constituency in Ontario was better served by its representative than was Prince Edward by Mr. Parliament. Then there is Montgomery of East Northumberland, a man of excellent education, solid and reliable.

Then if one goes farther afield to the leaders of the movement in Ontario he will find men capable of keeping up their end in any company—E. C. Drury, the coming premier who vanquished the redoubtable Russel, secretary of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, in debate, W. C. Good, of Paris, university graduate, able speaker and writer and keen student of political economy, J. J. Morrison, secretary of the United Farmers, a powerful speaker and marvellous organiser, Martin Doherty, of Peel, former professor at the Ontario Agricultural College, Halbert of North Ontario, W. L. Smith, editor of The Farmers' Sun, Burnaby and a dozen others we might mention.

Mr. Drury can select from his following a cabinet that will be the peer in ability of any we have ever had in Ontario. If he is fortunate in attracting to his banners the best in the old parties we see no reason to believe that his stay in the seats of power will be only a brief episode.

There are plenty of things that need doing that would never be done by the party that went out of power. The Farmers' party, which Mr. Drury would call the People's party, will view public service from a new angle. From this new viewpoint much useful legislation may be projected. If the new party is inexperienced in the arts of the old-time politician, the country is not going to worry because of failure of its government in that direction.

Mr. Drury's address upon accepting the leadership has the true ring of statesmanship. One period will bear repetition.

"In a very real sense," said the coming premier, "we represent not alone the forty per cent. of the people who are on the farms, but also the great bulk of the common people of all classes, the people who are desirous of good government, of stability, efficiency and economy, and of the fair and equal enforcement of law. Our success, therefore, depends not on political maneuvering, but on the breadth and fairness of our policy, and on our adherence to the high ideals of democracy and public service which have made this movement a vital thing in the life of the nation. May we not hope that before long this movement, which has had its birth in one particular class, may expand and broaden till it shall become not merely a Farmers' party, but in a very real sense a People's party."

The Ontario views the advent of the farmers with entire equanimity. Their arrival produces no misgivings whatever. They are merely coming into their own as the largest and most important class of producers in our province or country. Why shouldn't they have representation? They are neither Bolsheviks nor revolutionists as some have hinted. They will manifest the same sanity and practical good sense at Toronto as they do in their township and county councils. They will give us neither freak nor class legislation but will do for us many excellent things the old-time parties have failed to accomplish.

Most people have their own notion as to how much the cost of living has increased since the outbreak of the war. And most countries have had statisticians trying to figure out the matter in the cold-blooded form of per centages. And most of the statisticians do not agree.

The War-Trade Board of the United States has completed an exhaustive investigation into price movements, and it finds that the cost of living in the United States has gone up 102 per cent. since August, 1914. According to Bradstreet's index-number of wholesale commodity prices, the advance in wholesale prices from August 1, 1914 to Nov. 1, 1918, was 117 per cent., and there has been no material change since. These two findings seem to indicate that retail prices in the U. S. have not advanced in the same proportion as wholesale prices.

The War-Trade Board computes the increase in the cost of living in Canada since the beginning of the war at 107 per cent.; in England 133 per cent., and in France 200 per cent.

THE THINGS THAT HAVEN'T BEEN DONE BEFORE

The things that haven't been done before, Those are the things to try; Columbus dreamed of an unknown shore At the rim of the far-flung sky. And his heart was bold and his faith was strong As he ventured in dangers new, And he paid no heed to the jeering throng Or the fears of the doubting crew.

The many will follow the beaten track With guideposts on the way; They live and have lived for ages back With a chart for every day. Some one has told them it's safe to go On the road he has travelled o'er. And all that they ever strive to know Are the things that were known before. A few strike out with map or chart, Where never a man has been, From the beaten paths they draw apart To see what no man has seen. There are deeds they hunger alone to do; Though battered and bruised and sore, They blaze the path for many who Do nothing not done before.

The things that haven't been done before Are the tasks worth while today; Are you one of the flock that follow or Are you one that shall lead the way? Are you one of the timid souls that quail At the jeers of a doubting crew, Or dare you, whether you win or fail, Strike out for a goal that's new? —Edgar A. Guest.

Big Merger of Cheese Plants

Peterboro.—The cheese makers of Peterboro county has formed a company with $1,000,000 capital and will take over and operate all the cheese factories in Central Ontario, starting with perhaps 150 of them.

Colonel Stone Returns

After over five years' service overseas, in the course of which he rose in rank from captain to colonel, was mentioned in despatches and was decorated with the C.M.G., Colonel Ervin L. Stone, M.D., of the Canadian Army Medical Corps, arrived here at noon today and proceeded to his home. Col. Stone was accompanied by his wife, formerly Miss Nellie Earl, of Athens, was met by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stone, of Fortar. Lately, Colonel Stone has been officer commanding the Canadian Special Hospital at Witley. He is a graduate of the Athens High School and of Queen's University and intends spending the coming winter in Kingston.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

Deprived of their Liberty

Two prisoners after serving long sentences in the Portsmouth penitentiary, Kingston, were about to be discharged on Tuesday and had passed through the usual discharge formalities, even having signed receipts for the travel allowance. One of them had been irritated and given vent to his feelings, but no notice was taken of it at the time. One official, however, did not forget, so the story goes, and at the last moment made a complaint. The result is that the two convicts were placed in confinement.

Struck by C.P.R. Train

While engaged in unloading milk from a freight car just west of the C.N.R. station at noon today, Willard Easter, 22 Georgina street, a carter, was severely crushed and bruised about the body, and suffered an injury to his spine, when the wagon on which he was standing was struck by C.P.R. passenger train No. 56, as it rounded the "Y" shortly after its arrival from Ottawa. When Easter noticed the train approaching he got on the wagon and held the reins, but the horse becoming frightened backed onto the track in front of the engine and was struck. The animal was injured so badly that it later had to be shot by the police. The wagon was demolished. The victim is at his home under the care of Dr. J. A. McBroom. Engineer Fanning was the engineer and J. S. Alexander the conductor of the passenger train.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

Was Allowed His Freedom

The young French-Canadian who was gatheted in for trespassing on the property of the Grand Trunk railroad at Kingston, was allowed his freedom, on condition that in future he would stay off the company's property. On Monday when the young man, who was unable to speak a word of English, was handed over to Justice of the Peace Hunter, he got in touch with Chief of Police Robinson, who after questioning the young man learned that he had been working in the lumber camps, but had the misfortune to have part of his foot cut off and he was trying to make his way to his home.

New Home for May Irwin

May Irwin the comedienne, will have a new home at the Thousand Islands next year. She has now placed her home on Irwin Isle on the market and already there is a demand for its purchase. She will build a bungalow home on her 100-acre farm in the spring, where she will live during the coming summers and entertain her friends.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

Struck by Automobile

To avoid being struck by one automobile in Beckwith street, Smith's Falls, yesterday, Bobbie Barr, aged 10, stepped in front of another car driven by J. E. Burns, which was passing at a slow rate of speed. The boy was picked up from beneath the car with a severe gash in the head and was taken to the public hospital for treatment.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

Oshawa Man Implicated

Recently a motor car owned by the Fairbanks-Morse Co. came to grief on the Kingston Road, just east of the C.P.R. subway. Whitby, due probably to excessive speed, the driver losing control and the car crashed into the steep bank at the south side of the road. Fortunately the driver was not hurt, but the car was badly damaged. During the absence of the driver, while in town getting assistance, some passerby removed certain loose parts and articles. Some residents nearby secured the number, however, and the offender was thus located, being an Oshawa man, said to be a jitney driver. Proceedings will be taken against him.—Oshawa reformer.

Costly Gouverneur Fire

The New York Central freight house and the Noble coal sheds adjoining in Gouverneur, N.Y., were destroyed by a fire which broke out in Sunday morning at 3 o'clock. The village fire brigade was called to fight the flames, which raged most of the day. The loss was estimated in the neighborhood of $100,000.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

Campbellford Old Boy

We are in receipt of a copy of the 40th anniversary number of The Niagara Falls Review, which contains a portrait of Mr. Robert M. Gay, now an alderman and prominent business man of the city. The Review says Ald. Gay is "a man prominent in civic affairs and one of the pillars of temperance in the city and district. Mr. Gay is chairman of the Finance Committee of the council." Mr. Gay's friends will be glad to learn of his success. He was formerly a salesman in Mr. J. A. Irwin's store.—Campbellford Herald.

Played Checkers in Peterboro

Members of the Lindsay Checker Club will journey to Peterboro to compete with the players of that city for a silver cup emblematic of the championship of Eastern Ontario. A return match will be played in Lindsay next week, the winner to play Belleville. The Lindsay team will comprise Messrs. M. B. Annis, J. H. Hopkins, M. J. Dodman, J. Fell, F. D. Moore, J. McKeown.—Lindsay Warder.

Trackman Injured

While engaged in changing rails near Shannonville, John Doherty, aged 18, of that place, a Grand Trunk Railway trackman, let the rail fall upon his left foot, which was badly crushed. Dr. Moore attended him but found that no bones were broken.

Killed by Train at Dorval

Struck by Grand Trunk passenger train No. 48, Conductor Lemay, Engineer Johnston, at Dorval Station, Miss Norah Ryan, aged 23, employed at the Forest and Stream Club, Dorval, was almost instantly killed. Miss Ryan was on her way to the station to meet her sister who was about to arrive on another train, and is said to have crossed the tracks in spite of the fact that the gates were down.

Steamers Weathered Rough Storm

One of the roughest wind storms of the season was experienced Wednesday morning on the river in this vicinity. The wind blew a gale from the southwest and the waves ran at a considerable height. The ferry steamer H. P. Bigelow had a rough time in crossing from Morristown on the nine o'clock trip and was forced to go below the Sister Islands in order to negotiate a passage. The freighter Imperial was caught in the gale in the vicinity of Dark Island and on reaching port here Capt. Anderson stated that the storm was one of the worst he had ever experienced during his many years of river navigation.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

AN UNFORTUNATE CRAVING

On Monday morning, when a young man appeared in Kingston Police Court, he told the magistrate a rather sad story. He stated that his craving for liquor was so great that he was compelled to drink a number of bottles of essence. He may be, but we are not much the wiser for that, even if we know both what is a neuron and what happens to it when it is synaptically dissociated. No, we do not know just what sleep is nor why it happens.

up human life there is, perhaps, none more remarkable than that by which at regular intervals our consciousness is blotted out, the activities of our bodies and minds cease, and sleep alone possesses us. Yet since this miracle happens in the ordinary every day of his life, the wonder of it never strikes us. We do not stop to ponder on it and to ask what is it that happens when life is thus almost completely interrupted. Why do we sleep, and more, why do we wake again? Like most natural phenomena that appear so simple the explanation is hidden from us. The physiologist tells us that sleep is a "synaptic dissociation of neurons." It may be, but we are not much the wiser for that, even if we know both what is a neuron and what happens to it when it is synaptically dissociated. No, we do not know just what sleep is nor why it happens. It used to be thought that sleep happened because the circulation of blood through the brain grew so feeble that this the seat of consciousness, could work no longer and sleep took the place. Many years ago, indeed, a surgeon studying the subject watched a falling circulation of the brain through a hole in the skull of a sleeping animal. Yet this is only effect, not cause. The brain has less blood because it sleeps; it does not

Mr. A. P. Gillies Returns From New York With Definite Promises of Co-operation by Leading Capitalists—A Deputation of New York Financiers and Captains of Industry to Interview Government.

Mr. A. P. Gillies, the well known industrial promoter, has just returned from New York and has brought with him the gratifying assurance that one of the largest financial corporations on Wall Street is willing to back his project with an initial investment of five million dollars. Mr. Gillies has also succeeded in interesting the T. W. Price Engineering Company of New York in the proposed industry. The Price Co. is the largest manufacturer of electric steel-producing furnaces in the world. This firm has just completed a season's output of eighteen million dollars' worth of these furnaces.

It will be recalled that a few days ago The Ontario published a letter from the Dominion Bridge Company of Montreal in which they offered to take a minimum output of 200 tons daily for a period of five years of the Tivania steel.

Bohannan Duo Pleased Crowd

Successful Opening Entertainment of "Star Course."

The Y.M.C.A. star course for the season 1919-20 was launched last evening with the brightest prospects for a most successful series of entertainments during the winter months. The Women's Auxiliary who have had charge of the work this year have made a fine beginning and are to be congratulated on their enterprise in furnishing such standard entertainment as will be provided by the Lyceum artists.

Jean and Ord Bohannan, known as the Bohannan Duo, opened the season with a varied program at the "Y" symposium last night. There was a very large attendance and bursts of applause and insistent hands for encores, demonstrated the people's appreciation of the work of the artists.

Mr. Bohannan is an impersonator, a singer of note, a magician, a humorous entertainer and a histrionic artist of merit. His work in any of these fields was very satisfactory and his whole program reached a high standard. Mrs. Bohannan is a clever pianist and accompanist, and interprets child life very faithfully.

The program was as follows:
Song—"Spring Time, Love Time, May."

Reading—"An Old Sweetheart of Mine," Mr. Bohannan.
Song—"Some Little Bug is Going to Find You Some Day," Mr. Bohannan.

Two songs of Liza Lehman interpreted by Mrs. Bohannan. "On the Day I Get to Heaven" and "Daddy's Sweetheart."

Song—"That Wonderful Mother of Mine," Mr. Bohannan.

Duet—"The Singing Lesson," Mr. Bohannan as the master and Mrs. Bohannan as the pupil.

Grand opera, "Pot-pourri" by both artists.

"The Doughboy" a very clever sketch by Mr. Bohannan in which he throws light on the irrepressible private soldier in France.

Song, Mr. Bohannan, "Over There" in English and French.

Patriotic Description Selection, piano, Mrs. Bohannan.

Mrs. Bohannan's "Second Mazurka" piano.

Sketch, "The Matrimonial Venture," Mr. and Mrs. Bohannan.

Some Changes in Market Prices

Meats are easier but Apples and Eggs Higher

Today's market was not as large as usual and some lines showed considerable changes in prices. Potatoes sold as low as $2.25 per bag up to $2.50, while eggs were very scarce and were quoted at $1.75 each.

Apples were quite plentiful at $1.75 to $2.00 per bushel.

Meats are easier. Hogs are selling at $15.50 to $16.00 per cwt. live weight. Lamb is quoted at 20 cents and beef at 16c to 18c.

Baled hay is worth $13.00 to $19.00 per ton. Loose hay is quoted at $21.00 to $22.00.

Citrons and pumpkins were sold at 10c each today.

PUTMAN — COLE

A wedding ceremony was quietly celebrated in Bridge St. Church on Monday, Oct. 27th at 11 a.m. when Private Harold Putman of Southampton and Miss Minnie Cole, daughter of John Cole, Liverpool, England, were joined in holy wedlock. Rev. Dr. Scott performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives of the groom.

Frame House Was Burned

Midnight Conflagration on City Boundary.

An old landmark was wiped out by fire which broke out about 11.40 last night when the frame house on Sidney Street owned by Mrs. S. Hibbard, of Ridley Ave., was totally destroyed. The origin of the fire is unknown. The place was not tenanted and it is possible that some boys may have been in the building and dropped matches or cigarettes, or that it was set fire as a Halloween joke. The fire brigade was summoned but could not do anything as the nearest hydrant was at the corner of Bridge Street west and Yeomans Street. The barn which was nearby was not burned. There was a small insurance on the house.

W. M. S. At-Home at Eggleton Church

Port Hope's Oldest Mariner

JAMES HILL GOES DOWN TO A WATERY GRAVE

Was Member of Crew of Homer Warren Which Went Down in Lake Ontario

Port Hope, Nov. 1.—Port Hoppers will learn with sincere regret of the tragic death of their old townsman, Mr. James Hill, who lost his life when the steam barge Homer Warren fell a victim to the storm on Lake Ontario last Monday. The report from Rochester states that the entire crew has been lost. Several bodies have been washed up on the shore, but at the time of writing the body of Mr. Hill had not been recovered.

The late Mr. Hill was one of the oldest mariners in this section, having sailed the lakes for more than sixty years. When a mere lad he was engaged a horse boy on the Anna Craig with Capt. Dan Manson; Mr. Hill was for fifteen years with Captain Colwill on the Clara Yule, Kalsadin, Norseman and Renvoll; later he was with Captain James Peacock on the schooner Arthur and for the past two years has been wheelman for the company which owned the Homer Warren. He had decided last year to retire from the service but at the urgent request of the company decided to help out for one more year.

In addition to his widow who resides at the corner of Elgin and Francis streets, one son, George, survives, and Port Hoppers extend sincere sympathy to them in their hour of sudden and sad bereavement.

GREENFIELD — WHEELER

In Piton on October 22nd a very quiet wedding took place when Miss Olive Helena Wheeler, only child of Mrs. A. Wheeler, was united in marriage to Hubert J. Greenfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Greenfield of Talbot street. The young couple, who were unattended, were driven to the parsonage of the Methodist church by Mr. George Johnson where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Alfred Brown. The bride looked girlish and lovely in her costume of hand embroidered grey silk. After the ceremony they returned to the home of the bride's mother where a dainty luncheon was served to only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom, owing to the delicate health of the bride who has been under the doctor's care for some weeks. The honeymoon trip which was to have been a tour of some of the States had to be postponed until the bride has regained her health sufficiently to travel. Mr. and Mrs. Greenfield have great musical ability, both being teachers of music. Mrs. Greenfield a pianist, and Mr. Greenfield a violinist, so we bespeak for this young couple a life of usefulness in musical circles, and their host of friends both young and old join in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous journey through life.—Piton Times.

PRINCE DECORATES 3 OSHAWA MEN

Flying Cross and Two Military Crosses Won for Town

Oshawa, Nov. 1.—Three Oshawa men who distinguished themselves in the war were decorated by the Prince of Wales, one at Hamilton and two at Kingston.

At the ceremonies at Hamilton in connection with the visit of the Prince to that city, Norman Hamley, Division street, was decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross. Mr. Hamley first served in France with an infantry battalion and later was transferred to the flying corps. He was on active service with the Air Force in Italy for eight months and was wounded on three different occasions.

Lieut. W. R. Carmith, accountant at the Canadian Bank of Commerce, whose home is in Merrickville, was presented by the Prince of Wales at Kingston with the Military Cross. Lieut. Carmith enlisted and went overseas with the 156th Battalion from Brockville, later being transferred to the 2nd Battalion. He distinguished himself at the battle of Cambrai, September 27th.

Another Oshawa boy to be decorated by the Prince at Kingston was Capt. A. M. Eastwood, of the Parts and Service Department at McLaughlin's. He also won the Military Cross for distinguished bravery while attached to the 2nd Battalion.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Malyea and family desire to express their sincere thanks to their friends for the many acts of kindness and sympathy shown them during the last illness and following the death of husband and father.

It is easy to walk the light-ropes of society if you have a good bank balance.

Wedding Bells

CLARK — McRAE

A quiet wedding was solemnized in St. Mary's Church, October 28th, when Marjory, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McRae, of Dundee, Scotland, was united in marriage to Mr. Andrew Clark of Campbellford. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Whibbs in the presence of many friends. The bride looked lovely in a suit of navy serge with hat to match. She was attended by Mrs. James McAvilla, sister of the groom, and Mr. McAvilla acting as groomsmen, after which a breakfast was served at the home of the groom's mother. Their many friends wish the young couple a happy married life.—Campbellford Herald.

GODIN — VANLUVEN

At Trenton on Wednesday afternoon, October 22nd, a quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Vanluven, when their youngest daughter, Mabel Mary, became the wife of Mr. Percy James Godin in the presence of intimate friends. After the ceremony the young couple left on a honeymoon trip touring Quebec. Mr. and Mrs. Godin will reside in Trenton, where Mr. Godin is engaged as a fireman on the C.N.R. The bride is well known here and her many friends with The Times extend congratulations.—Bancroft Times.

GILLESPIE — YULE

On Wednesday, October 22nd, at 12.30 noon, at "Pleasant Valley" farm, Campbellford, the marriage was solemnized of Rachel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Yule, to William Allan, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gillespie, Hastings, the Rev. Mr. Thomas of Hastings officiating.

The bride was prettily attired in a gray taffeta dress and carried a sheaf of maiden-hair fern. Little Miss Mary Dinkins of Cobourg, who acted as flower girl for her cousin, looked very pretty in a white embroidered dress with touches of pink and carried a basket of white carnations and maiden-hair fern, and was the only attendant.

After the signing of the register a sumptuous repast was served, after which the young couple motored to Cobourg. The brides going away dress was navy serge, with hat to match. Their many friends join in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous future.—Campbellford Herald.

MOUNT ZION

The King cheese factory closes on Monday, Nov. 3rd—three more trips and the milk drawers will be done.

Mr. G. Way is improving his kitchen by shingling it new.

Quite a few from here were in the town of Trenton on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Dafeo and Viola and Mr. and Mrs. D. Brundage were Saturday evening guests at Mr. Chas. McGuire's.

Sunday school and preaching service on Sunday as usual. Rev. R. A. Whattam of Cobourne occupied the pulpit.

On Sunday evening last Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McGuire entertained Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, also Mr. and Mrs. C. Ostrander.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson Searls accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Burton Searls and children, of Oak Lake, visited at Mr. Harvey Dafeo's recently.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Harrington called on Mrs. S. Harrington on Monday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Baker entertained company on Sunday last.

Quite a heavy rain passed over this section on Saturday evening, accompanied by lightning.

Some from this vicinity attended the fowl supper at Stockdale, which was a great success.

SILVER KILLED HORSE

A. Hall of Lindsay, lost a horse in a strange manner recently. He was driving from Little Britain with Mrs. Hall and daughter, when the horse became frightened and bolted for liberty. During the mix-up, silver entered the animal's breast. Mr. Hall attempted to bring the horse to Lindsay, but it died on the picture hat ornamented with ostrich way.

SIMCOE COUNTY FARMER IS THE UNANIMOUS CHOICE AS ONTARIO'S NEXT PREMIER

E. C. Drury Elected — Expects to Form Stable and Progressive Government in a Short Time — Goes Back to His Farm to Prepare for Busy Days in Toronto.

E. C. Drury, Barrie, was the choice as leader of the U.F.O. caucus late yesterday afternoon. It was 10:30 last night when the caucus sang "God Save the King" and the members began to leave the offices on East King St., where they had been in session all day.

The newly-elected leader then issued a general statement to the public and had a word for The World. He said: "I candidly appreciate the journalism of The World and its fairness to all parties and to the public. I say this to The World, that my outlook is exceedingly bright. I have every hope of building up a working majority in the legislature and of carrying on a stable, honest and progressive administration."

Mr. Drury leaves for his farm to-day. He said: "I have to get the farm in shape while waiting to hear the call that today's work implies." It was learned last night that the Hearst government may not leave the parliament buildings for two weeks. In that time Mr. Drury will hold no meetings.

For Dominion Organization The U.F.O. however, will not be idle. The next agrarian event of national importance affecting the political situation is the meeting of the Canadian Council of Agriculture at Winnipeg on Nov. 11. The political question will be discussed and action taken of Dominion-wide interest.

In the interval also organization in Ontario will proceed apace. A county convention for South West-worth will be held on Nov. 3 and a convention for Middlesex Nov. 25.

Mr. Drury, immediately following his election, had three seats offered to him by U.F.O. members-elect, but is likely to choose Centre Simcoe.

The situation in North Ontario waits upon the issue of the new writ for the federal seat. There is talk that one of Sir William Hearst's fallen followers, Major Hart, may take up the gauntlet against President Halbert, the U.F.O. candidate.

No Portfolios Arranged Nothing was said at yesterday's caucus touching the new distribution of portfolios in Queen's Park. Mr. Drury has not himself considered what portfolio he will take. There is nothing more than gossip about the appointment of a minister of labor.

U. F. O. and Labor Significance seemed to attach to the text of the following resolution which was passed before the caucus broke up; but one of the prominent members-elect said there was no intention of implying by his phraseology an organic union of U.F.O. and Labor—only a co-operative union.

Moved by P. Heenan, member-elect for Kenora, seconded by Roy D. Hughes, treasurer of the Independent Labor party:

"As representative of the workers from the most westerly point in this province, I take great pleasure in moving that this joint session heartily endorse E. C. Drury as the leader of the Farmer-Labor party, and that we have full confidence in him."

Mr. Drury's election was unanimous, and the following who were nominated withdrew from the ballot: Peter Smith, South Perth; Andrew Hicks, South Huron; R. H. Grant, Carleton; Beniah Bowman, of Mantoulin; J. J. Morrison, of Toronto; R. W. E. Burnaby, Richmond Hill; Manning Doherty, Peel; Joseph Cridland, South Norfolk; W. I. Johnston, South Lanark; Earl Biggar, Brantford.

A Simcoe County Man. E. C. Drury, of Barrie, in favor of whom other members of the U.F.O., including J. J. Morrison, the secretary, asked that their names be withdrawn from the ballot for the leadership of the party in the legislature is a Simcoe county man. He was born at Crown Hill, January 22, 1878. His family represents the front line of settlers in Simcoe county. His great-grandfather, one hundred years ago, emigrated from Warwickshire and located at Crown Hill upon hundred-acre grant. The Drury family, in addition to the inheritance of the soil, have absorbed the traditions of representative public service. The homestead was handed down from sire to son, and enlarged a generation back when

New Leader of United Farmers Tells Where His Party Stands

Hon. Charles Drury, first minister of agriculture for Ontario, was the freholder of Crown Hill. The homestead is now 250 acres, and driving towards it on election night in company with a representative of The World, E. C. Drury, not knowing then how the elections had gone, made the remark that political life offered no real compensation to the man whose thoughts were of the land.

An O. A. C. Graduate E. C. Drury's record, however, is one of keen interest in the concerns of the Ontario farmer. He is an O. A. C. man of the class of 1900, and in 1905 was deputed to go before the Liberal tariff commission as representative of the Farmers' Association of Ontario. He was "Master of the Grange" for three years, and in 1910 attended the first session of the Canadian Council of Agriculture at Prince Albert. He was chosen secretary of that association.

Mr. Drury was one of the organizers of the monster deputation of farmers to Ottawa urging the government to take up reciprocity. Later he was one of the organizers of the U. F. O., and is now the vice-president of its co-operative trading department.

Last session he was chosen by the U.F.O. deputation to debate the road roads question with Hon. G. S. Henry and Hon. Finlay MacLaurin, and put both representatives of the government at a disadvantage in presenting the farmers' standpoint. Mr. Drury is happily married and has five children.

His Strong Tariff Views The premier-designate of Ontario is well known to hold strong tariff views. His latest expression of these views before the recent U. F. O. convention when he put forward the following statement of the farmers' standpoint:

"We may claim without undue egotism that the farming class are Canadians of Canadians, that they are bound to this country by ties that bind no other class to it; that they are bound in many cases by a hundred years of education in the one place and that this country is our fatherland. We are the class whose homes are in the country and whose homes are of love of home, love our country."

He put the following proposition in political economy to the convention: "That to produce commodities for ourselves which we can more cheaply buy abroad must necessarily result in diverting capital and labor from profitable industry to unprofitable, as well as burdening profitable industry with the extra cost of the commodities produced."

A Fighting Leader His personal attitude he expressed in the following words: "I might as well say I am a crank on the tariff. I have been fighting those fellows for the last thirteen years. During that time I have seen some progress made. I have suffered somewhat personally. I have had hard knocks, and I think I have been able to give some hard knocks—thanks be for that. This question is at the present time a finish. It is not a question of the farmers' seeking; we have laid it aside during the war, but while the war was on our opponents, the manufacturers, and the Industrial Reconstruction Association have brought it forward and made it a propaganda, and we must remember that now we cannot shelve the question. It has been put before the people of Canada by a powerfully backed propaganda for the last six months. We must meet it fairly and squarely. We must meet the tariff question, (hear, hear)." In discussing that question I am not going to ask favors for the farmers of Canada, but I am going to show that unless we get fair play, not only we, but the country as a whole, will suffer.

Mr. Drury's wish was to enter the federal parliament but the wish of the U.F.O. and particularly the decision of J. J. Morrison has changed the current of his career which becomes now one of the most interesting in Canada.

Manslaughter is a penal offence, but man's laughter isn't—got. If Adam had been wide awake he wouldn't have lost that rib. French, self-taught, is usually confined to French self-understood. If manners make the man, that explains the undone condition of some men.

No dress is immodest unless the wearer is. It requires a good sized closet for some family skeletons.

Mr. Drury, newly elected leader of the U.F.O., spoke as follows: In accepting the position to which you have elected me, I feel keenly sensible of the honor which you have conferred upon me, and also of the great responsibilities which accompany that honor. The position is unique in the political history of the province, and so far as I am personally concerned, is not one which I should have chosen, as I realize that the bed upon which you have placed me is likely to have more thorns than feathers in it. I do not, however, entertain any fears regarding the situation. It is true we may be lacking in experience, but the situation is not one which calls for the fine arts of the politician. It is true that in a sense we represent the farming community, and in all truth, that section of the people has been in great need for many years of a greater voice in the legislatures of the province and of the country, a voice which it is our duty adequately to supply. But in a very real sense we represent not alone the forty per cent. of the people who are on the farms, but also the great bulk of the common people of all classes, the people who are desirous of good government, of stability, efficiency and economy, and of the fair and equal enforcement of law. Our success, therefore, depends, not on political manoeuvring, but on the breadth and fairness of our policy, and on our adherence to the high ideals of democracy and public service which have made this movement a vital thing in the life of the nation. May we not hope that before long this movement, which has had its birth in one particular class, may expand and broaden till it shall become, not merely a farmers' party, but in a very real sense a people's party.

Against Special Privilege It is too early to speak of our legislative program. We have not yet been called on to form a government, and it would be unwise to anticipate. We can, however, lay down certain broad principles which must and should govern us in the matter. Our war, in the past, has been waged on special privilege. We are not at this time going to abandon the principles of justice and fair play, which have actuated us in the past. If we are called to power we must stand for no class legislation of whatever kind. Our legislative program must be framed for the benefit of every just and honest and legitimate interest in the province. It, in the carrying out of such a program, the unjust and dishonest interests got in the way, so much the worse for the latter.

If called to power, one of our first administrative duties must be fearlessly and effectively to enforce the will of the people as expressed in the recent prohibition referendum. With that mandate I am personally in thorough accord and sympathy. We must see to it that it has its effective enforcement. It may be that it will be found that there are loopholes or defects in the law which render it difficult to enforce. If so, it will be our duty to correct them.

MURNEY'S HILL PAVEMENT BEFORE RAILWAY BOARD Judgment Reserved Until Board's Engineer Reviews Situation—City Council and Petitioners Present Arguments.

The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board met in the city hall yesterday afternoon to deal with the petition of Mr. L. C. Yeomans and other residents of Bridge street west against the paving of Murney's Hill from James to Octavia Street by the city under the local Improvement Act, Sect. 9, with an asphaltic concrete and asphaltic macadam centre on a concrete base. The commissioner present was Mr. D. M. McIntyre, commissioner, and Mr. Wm. C. Coe acted as secretary.

As a result of the hearing, the commissioner reserved judgment until the Board's engineer makes his report. He may come to Belleville to go over the situation.

Mr. E. J. Butler appeared on behalf of Mr. Yeomans, and some of the property owners and Mr. Wm. Carney for the Murney estate. Mr. S. Masson, K.C., represented the city council. Mr. J. W. Evans, C.E., was engineer for the petitioners.

Mr. Butler said the pavement proposed would be unsuitable and dangerous. The matter was considered by the Good Road Commission Engineer, who said the only pavement suitable was a rock pavement.

Mr. Masson said the hill was on what was to be the government highway.

Mr. McIntyre stated that it would be well for the city to present its case. Two things were needed to be shown—the need of a pavement; and the suitability of the proposed pavement.

Mr. Masson said the hill was cut down and that $1,200 would be required to restore the road.

Mr. Carney said the Murney-Paulkner estate was almost inaccessible from the road now since it was cut. At present there is an improvised approach.

Mr. McIntyre: "Are the property owners taking steps to secure compensation?"

Mr. Carney said he had not heard of any such steps.

Mr. McIntyre declared the property owners had the right of redress and compensation for damage to property. Any public work cannot be held up.

Ex-Mayor H. F. Ketcheson, first sworn, testified that in 1916, Mr. Muir of the Provincial Highway Department examined the hill, who advised paving with rocmac or rock, as he did not think a smooth pavement was advisable.

Mr. McIntyre: "Are the property owners set again any pavement?"

Body Hung to Rallers in Heart of Whitby

Discovered in Stable Loft Near Town Hall—Was Badly Decayed—Believed to be Body of Chinese Lad.

Whitby Oct. 28th.—Whitby found itself very much excited this morning when the news was spread around that a suicide by means of hanging had been committed in the left of an old stable to the rear of Tony Calderone's fruit store, south of the Town Hall. Whether it was a case of suicide, or a case of foul play has not yet been determined as the deed must have been committed several months ago. The body has decayed so badly that there is no flesh left and the cuticle is dried on the bones. The clothes also have become rotten. The odor emanating from the body was horrible.

Chinese Boy? While considerable mystery surrounds the identity of the dead person, it is believed he is Seto On, a brother of Joe On, who runs the Chinese restaurant here. The Chinese lad who was fifteen years old, and attended Henry Street School, was last heard of, according to his brother on March 25 last. The latter stated he had telephoned to Toronto, Hamilton, Oshawa, as to his whereabouts, but never received any information.

Inquest Held. The body was discovered this morning by Tony Calderone who went to the stable in order to prepare the loft to take in a load of hay. The officials were notified and an inquest was immediately held. Dr. McGillivray, coroner, presiding. After being sworn in the jury went to the stable to view the body. The position of the corpse indicated hanging as the cause of death, as a barrel was placed at the feet and the body was suspended from a beam by means of a narrow rope.

The body was lowered but there was little to identify who the dead man was. A scrap of paper with words relative to school work written on it, a handkerchief and a package of cigarettes were found in the pockets of the coat. The clothes tag was marked "Toby, 203 James St., Hamilton." The knot which tied the rope was a "loose" knot and not the "slip" variety. This fact considerably impressed the jury and the rope was kept for evidence.

Chinaman Detained. An incident in connection with the case was the prevention by Chief McGrotty, of one of the local Chinamen to board the train for Toronto this morning. The Chinaman said he had only been in Whitby for seven weeks but the Chief claims he has been here longer than that.

After hearing evidence from Joe On, the restaurant keeper, the inquest was adjourned until next Tuesday, Nov. 4th.

MURNEY'S HILL PAVEMENT BEFORE RAILWAY BOARD

Mr. B. Aldrich, Toronto, testified he was a chemical engineer and district engineer of the Asphalt Association. In regard to the pavement proposed to be put down on the hill in question he said asphaltic macadam is the best in certain weather, especially where horses have to haul loads. He had laid it where the grade was 8%. It was a durable pavement and safe for horses. There is a liability in this pavement.

He laid a pavement a mile long in 1913 at Baltimore, Maryland. The grade was the same. The climate has ranged in Baltimore from 6 degrees below zero to 33 degrees for three months. In the summer the weather is very hot.

To Mr. Butler—"There is a hill outside of Hamilton treated with asphaltic macadam." Tarvia in his experience was very slippery in winter and tended to run away in the summer.

This concluded the case for the city.

Mr. J. W. Evans, C.E., former city engineer, testified that he had investigated the question of paving the hill. "We found that the grade was 12% and figured cutting it down to 6%. He had met Toronto Highway Engineer, Mr. Stewart, the latter advising against asphaltic concrete. Mr. Evans' opinion was that it was too slippery for the grade. It is said that up to 6% grade, asphaltic concrete is all right but not beyond. Even the crown on the level Front Street is considered too great.

Mr. Evans thought a water bound macadam or rocmac advisable on Murney's Hill. A macadam pavement like these on the hills on the Provincial Highway would suffice or create block asphaltic macadam was more or less experimental.

To Mr. Masson—He was engineer for the city when the rocmac pavement was laid on Victoria Avenue. It was showing holes in places.

Late Michael Malyea

The funeral of the late Michael Malyea took place this morning from the family residence, Coleman street, to St. Michael's Church, where Rev. Father Killeen chanted a solemn requiem mass. The obsequies were attended by a large number of the friends of the deceased citizen. The interment was made in St. James cemetery, the bearers being Messrs. L. P. Hughes, F. P. Carney, F. Allord, D. Watkins, W. Bird and J. Perkins.

Many beautiful floral tributes and spiritual offerings bore silent testimony to the high esteem of the public for the departed.

RETROSPECT

O thou sunlit prairie, thy brightness is calling. Is calling to me as I'm sitting aside And thinking of Strasburg, so quiet and sunny. Where the great still prairie extends far and wide.

We remember thee now as the rain is falling, And murky the skies at the break of the day; We recall that so often we roamed o'er thy meadows With no dew on the ground as we went on our way.

How happy our home in the sweet little village. Though humble and lowly, 'twas pleasant withal. When the bright morning sun streamed in at the window, And far better than gold its bright rays on the wall.

No less to us then was the peace and the plenty That bountiful Nature bestowed on us there. Where the crops never fail, nor the frost or hail deadens, And the golden wheat ripens so lovely and fair.
