On Sunday evening W. E. Roscoe, Esq., K. C., delivered an address at St. Stephen's (Methodist) Church, in which he made a patriotic appeal which was illuminated by a clear and concise statement of the causes of the war, both ostensible and ulterior, the comparative strength of the combatants on either side and the probable reserves of men which could be drawn on by each in the future.

While by no means pessimistic, the speaker indulged in no illusions regarding the difficulty of the task before Britain and her allies, and adjured all loyal subjects of the Empire to do their utmost for the cause of their country and liberty.

The speaker closed with an eloquent peroration, quoting from the world-famous words of Abraham Lincoln at Gettysburg. The hymns were patriotic, a solo by Miss Graham was greatly enjoyed.

We had the pleasure of a call on Tuesday from Rev. Gordon Baker, for eleven years pastor of the Temple Baptist church, Montreal, whom we had not seen for nineteen years.

Mr. Baker is a native of Lunenburg County, and when a student for the ministry spent a few weeks in Shelburne, and later was in charge of the Baptist church at Sable River for two years. He is an able preacher and has recently completed, a sixty thousand dollar church in Montreal. Mr. Baker preached at Sable last Sunday and attended the Baptist Quarterly at Sandy Point this week. It is unnecessary to say that his many friends in this vicinity were delighted to see him. Shelburne Gazette.

St. James Dramatic Club presented their drama "My Brothers' Keeper" to a very good sized audience on Thursday night. The play was a good one and the characters were well taken in fact several would compare well with professional actors. The one great drawback to the complete success of the evening was a terrible electric storm with continuous flashes of lightning which alarmed the audience and caused many to leave while the third act was being played.

The cast of characters was as follows: Abel Benton, Merchant. G. L. Benson. Matthew Allen. F. W. C. Bailey. Richard Carns. L. W. Hiltz. Charles Benton. Eric Boulden. Job Layton, (Scraps), Rag-picker. A. E. StClair. Grace Benton, Abel's daughter. Miss C. M. Young. Rachael Allen. Matthew's sister. Miss M. E. Adams. Betsy Benton, Abel's sister. Miss O. K. Reeves

The Unspeakable Turk

If the following extract is true there should be no cessation of the war until the unspeakable Turk is completely subjugated and rendered powerless for similar outrage. — "The horrors of the Mesopotamia failure have not yet ended. With General Townsend there surrendered 2,970 British troops and 6,000 East Indians. A recent report from Asiatic Turkey says that more than half of these have since died. The Turk has always been a brute, and so it is not at all surprising to hear these evil tidings. Ill-treatment, lack of food and medical attention have decimated the ranks of the prisoners terribly. Where European hospitals existed they were destroyed and in one case 37 prisoners died as a result. A German subaltern states that he saw the bodies of 400 Indians who had died of starvation in one of the prison camps, and many similar reports have come from Anatolia during the past six months."

MIRACULOUS CURES REPORTED FROM SHRINE

A sad drowning accident occurred at Tusket Forks Monday morning when Edmund Fitzgerald, aged 14 years, lost his life while bathing. In company with other boys he was bathing in the Little River and was seen to sink. An alarm was given and the body was recovered in about an hour in 18 feet of water. He leaves a mother two brothers and four sisters.

MAY LAST FOR WEEKS OR MONTHS

PARIS, Aug. 1.—The battle of Flanders has begun and the indications are that it will be the biggest battle of the war. The offensive of the French and British Allies had been expected for some weeks past, for, although the French and British official communications gave no inkling of it, the German reports showed clearly a large scale operation was in preparation. The French public however, did not know that French troops had been dispatched to share in the assault. Originally the front of the North Sea coast to Ypres had been held by the French, in the Nieuport region, then by the Belgians as far as Elverdinghe, and then by the British. The British troops received the French and part of the Belgians along the coast. It is recognized here that the operation is only the beginning of a battle, that will last weeks, perhaps. The first part of the program has been carried out with complete success in a way which augurs well for its accomplishment as a whole. What has been effected fully justifies the German apprehensions and the French jubulations. French military observers say it is not too much to hope that the Germans may soon be cleared out of French and Belgian Flanders if things continue to go as well as they did yesterday.

WHEN A CHILD LED THEM

The terrific battle in progress for a small French village stopped suddenly. Not a rifle was fired. And the unexpected, uncanny stillness was like that which precedes an attack by infantry—yet neither side left their trenches. The Prussian cavalry officer who was in command of the section lifted his head above the dugout to find the cause of the peculiar silence, and, when he had found it he could not believe his eyes. The sun had risen and the fog of the early morning had disappeared. Between the trenches stretched meadow and these were no delusion—exposed to fire of both sides, crawling about on hands and knees was a little baby. It seemed perfectly happy, chuckling at the long rows of steel helmets cautiously raised above the trench parapet by the amazed soldiers. What follows is told by the Prussians officer, Edgar von Schmidt-Pauli: "Before my weary brain can summon up any convincing reasons how that child got there—whether some poor mother lost it in the panic due to the battle of the night before—a German soldier jumps out of the trench and runs to where the child is crawling out. "Absolute stillness prevails in the trenches, and only to our right from which this extraordinary sight is hidden by a clump of trees is the sound of gunfire heard. "And this spot, which all through the night had been a veritable inferno of shot and shell is now like some peaceful island or a cool, friendly oasis in a burning desert. "Over there in the enemy's trenches, we can see the helmets of the Frenchmen as they peer over the edge. No one is any longer thinking of the enemy, or the war or the danger. All eyes are on the tall soldier and the child which he is approaching. And as he picks up that little frightened, helpless piece of humanity and fondly takes it in his arms, a laugh, a low friendly laugh, passes along our entire column. "The laugh is infectious, and we can feel how it is going along the ranks over yonder. And suddenly—what—are they going to shoot? no, on the contrary, a great wave of applause, with shouts of 'Bravo!' from thousands of French throats, breaks the stillness. Then as the soldier jumps back into our trench with the child safely in his arms our ranks, too, burst into a triumphant shout which passes all along the line. "Even for some time after not a shot is fired. It is as if we felt ashamed of ourselves, and no one touched a gun while that child was in our midst. "When the firing did start again it was rather desultory and indifferent, and there was nothing dangerous about it. The little child had worked a wonderful change in the hearts of both friend and foe that morning."

National registration showed that there are in the United States 90,000 physicians from 22 to fifty-five years of age, and of these 24,000 are to be called up for war service. By October first 12,000 medical officers and 60,000 enlisted men will be needed in the Medical and Sanitary Corps alone. Prospective medical officers are now going into training camps at the rate of 200 a day. An Englishman touring in the highlands of Scotland had the misfortune to lose his way. Noticing a small cottage by the roadside, he went up knocked at the door and when the guide wife came he explained: "I am very sorry to trouble you, madam, but I have lost my bearin's." "Dae ye tell me that?" was the astonished reply. "I hope their mither's wi' them."

Growing Desire in The West For Formation of National Win-The-War-Government. Ottawa, Aug. 3—A deputation from the "Win the War" convention in Toronto will wait upon the Prime Minister tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and adopted. Among these it is understood will be one urging the formation of a national government. Sir Robert Borden's efforts during the past three months having been directed toward that end it is believed that he will assure the deputation of his sincere desire to accomplish the object which they have in view. If a national government is formed it is understood that Sir Robert will select as his colleagues, earnest and able war advocates throughout the Dominion without regard to race, creed or party. Those interested in the formation of a national government are confident that their purpose has been practically accomplished. Reports reaching Ottawa from the west indicate a growing desire on the prairie for a war government and the most prominent liberals in western Canada will, it is practically assured take this position at the gathering in Winnipeg on Tuesday. While union government is practically certain of accomplishment there will be no cabinet re-organization until after prorogation although the legislative program yet to be presented to parliament will be made to harmonize with the views of war party to be represented in the new government. The physician to whom the Irishman had applied for relief from a stomach ailment asked on the occasion of his last visit: "Have you been drinking the very hot water an hour before each meal, as I directed? If so, how do you feel now?" "Doc," said the Celt, "I tried hard to do it, but had to quit. I drank for thirty five minutes, and it made me feel like a balloon!"—New York Times.

Hospital Ship Broken in Two.

Halifax August 4—The hospital ship which went ashore at Portuguese Cove on Wednesday is now a complete wreck. She has broken in two just forward of the bridge, the stern and the bow rising partially up from the ledge. A lot of fittings were taken out yesterday and early this morning, tugs are going down from the city in an endeavor to save still more. One life has been lost at the wreck that of a fireman who was asleep when the rest of the crew left the ship. Waking up and finding the steamer over, almost on her beam ends and still settling, the man jumped overboard and was drowned. His body has not been recovered. A representative of the owners arrived on the scene and went into conference on the with Mr. McGregor regarding the possibility of salvaging vessel. It was recognized that to pull the vessel off without having her sealed so that compressed air could be used freely would mean that she would sink in deep water at once. S. M. Brookfield, after an inspection of the wreck stated that at least three days would be necessary for the sealing and had the vessel been together this would have been attempted. Resting as she did on an overhanging edge she could not stand the strain and when the bulkhead broke allowing the great weight of water to rush aft the steamer was doomed. The officials are unanimous in expressing the opinion that Captain McNeil is absolutely without blame in the matter. The entire responsibility for the staggering disaster, they claim rests upon Pilot Walter White. He places a share of the responsibility upon the captain of the pilot boat which he left to take charge of the steamer.

Fitting Memorial to Late M.P. Yarmouth County

In the House of Commons recently, it was suggested by the members for Moose Jaw, Sask., that a memorial tablet be erected in the new Parliament buildings at Ottawa to commemorate the death of the late Mr. Law M. P. for Yarmouth, who lost his life during the burning of the Parliament buildings. Hon. George E. Foster replied that he would have the matter brought to the attention of the erection committee. The project appealed to him personally and although "it was a sad thing to commemorate" yet as there was no other place where the remains of Mr. Law rested it would be fitting that this be done. This town will regret to note the departure today for New York again of Delancey P. Harris whose summer visits here are always beneficent to the place as well as cheerful. His benefactions this year have included not only the $1,000 to the local Red Cross but $1,000 to the Yarmouth Red Cross and 1,000 to the New York Red Cross, in addition to a motor ambulance for the front and its maintenance with a chauffeur for a year. His son is with the Harvard unit. The excursion of the Cornwallis Street Baptist Church of Halifax to this town last Thursday proved a highly successful event, with the finest kind of a summer day. The long train pulled direct to the wharf siding shortly after 12 o'clock, having left the city at 6.45, bringing about a thousand visitors with a band, who went to the Fort grounds and enjoyed the afternoon and evening in picnic fashion. The concert at the Bijou Dream Theatre in the evening was to a crowded house and the train left again shortly after 11 p. m. to return.—Spectator.

Hard Fighting Continues Along British Front

London, Aug. 2—Telegraphing from the British Headquarters in France and Belgium the correspondent of Reuter's says:

"Despite the weather there has been much hard fighting during the past twenty-four hours. The Germans were manifestly perturbed at our gaining so much ground along the Pilkem Ridge and they launched several counter-attacks although these were repeatedly checked by our artillery. Yet in places they reached the stage of hand-to-hand fighting of a ferocious character. The Germans are throwing in their best troops to relieve the situation and their losses must be colossal. Our preponderance of gun power enables our artillery to maintain a steady barrage upon the rear of the new German lines so that they can organize for attack. The enemy artillery has been concentrating heavily upon certain sectors and the weather prevents our airmen directing counter-battery work to any extent.

London, Aug. 2—Heavy counter-attacks by the Germans in the region northwest of Ypres between the Ypres-Roulers railway and St. Julien were repulsed by the British forces today, according to the War Office communication issued tonight.

The Germans sustained additional heavy casualties in their fighting.

Will Prolong the War London, Aug. 2—"Looking from the broadest extent at the events of the past fortnight," said Major-General Frederick B. Maurice, Chief Director of Military Operations, at the War Office in his weekly interview today, "it will necessarily mean a prolongation of the war. We count on any great material assistance from Russia. This means a greater burden on the other Entente Allies, and for the United States it means that she must come into the field as soon as possible and with the greatest possible force."

General Maurice continued: "This week the battle in Flanders was an entire success. General Sir Douglas Haig, fixed a definite line of objectives, and speaking generally, he attained it successfully. On the southern third of the front he attacked, and gained his objective easily.

"On the northern third the enemy's resistance broke down so completely that General Haig felt justified in permitting his troops to go well beyond the objective. In the central third we fell a little short of the objective, owing to the stubborn enemy resistance."

No Canadians in Big Battle. General Maurice said that the British Commander's next move was to determine another objective and then after the customary process of preparation to proceed similarly to achieve it.

"In cases of this kind," said the Director of Military Operations, "the objective line depends mainly upon the range of the artillery. The attack must be patient and methodical.

"In this way we can gain ground and inflict heavy losses on the enemy without heavy losses to ourselves. That is the system we used at Arras and at Messines and the one now being used in Flanders.

"In this week's battle we cooperated with the French. There were about six times as many British troops as French soldiers. Of the British four-fifths were purely English and one-fifth Anzac (Australians and New Zealanders.) "Welsh and Scotch, no Irish or Canadian troops participated."

All Canadians Who Are For the War on One Side, Against Those on Other Side

Toronto, August 2—The war convention opened in the arena this afternoon. There was a large attendance of men and women from over the province. John M. Godfrey was appointed chairman. In a speech which stirred the great audience, and which punctuated with loud, recurring applause, Mr. Godfrey, a strong liberal, virtually challenged all liberals to declare FOR or AGAINST Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the great question at stake.

"We are gathered together to face, as true Canadians, a National crisis," he said, in opening the convention. "In the midst of this world-wide conflict, the demand has been made by a considerable body of fellow citizens that we go no further in the fight. They have insisted on their constitutional right to try the issue in a general election. The challenge has been accepted and you are here to enroll yourselves in the grand army in this country which carry on the battle for human liberties and free democracy. We will fight the good fight until the victory is ours, until we have swept aside those who would deny Canada's right to maintain her place in the struggle to save the world."

Mr. Godfrey said the issue was a clear one, either the government of Canada was to be a war government or an anti-war government. The time had come for all who were FOR the war to get on one side and all who were AGAINST the war to get on the other side.

The politician who attempted to wander in No Man's Land must be ruthlessly destroyed. The first move was to scrap the two political machines which had proved utterly worthless in the present emergency. A new machine would have to be organized, strong, vigorous, free from power and patronage for the gratification of personal vanity.

"I earnestly believe Sir Robert Borden will form the very best government he can. Official liberalism will no doubt be offered a strong representation. An invitation has already been extended," said Godfrey. (Applause.)

Speaking of Quebec, he said that bad leaders were the curse of that province. "If we win this election Quebec must and will submit to the decision. Quebec will obey the law, but on the other hand, IF WE LOSE, we must submit, we must hang our heads, in shame and realize that we are the first country to say to Prussians, 'hold, enough!' May Toronto extend a welcome to the men and women gathered for this convention."

Brief addresses were delivered by Sam Carter, M. P., and Hon. W. D. McPherson. A resolution moved by Col. G. T. Denison, of Toronto, seconded by Col. Charles McCullough of Hamilton, was adopted, containing a tribute to the memory of the dead in the great war, extending sympathy to the bereaved relatives, greeting men and women of the allied countries engaged in war work and assuring them of the support of the Dominion and sending love and sympathy to fellow citizens throughout Canada bent on winning the war. The chairman was instructed to send to General Currie the following cablegram:

"The people of Ontario, assembled in the Arena, Toronto, in a great win-the-war convention, made up of men and women of all parties, are demanding that party politics be dropped; that a National, non-partisan, win-the-war government be established, that all win-the-war elements in Canada support such a National government, and that conscription be at once employed to reinforce the brave soldiers battling on the field of honor, to whom are sent greetings of admiration, affection and confidence."

BORROWING AND TAXING

The negotiations of Sir Thos. White, minister of finance, for the placing of a Canadian loan in the United States will be followed with interest by Canadian business. The indications are that he will be successful although the measure of success will depend largely upon the amount secured. In fact THE POST has the best of reasons for believing as stated last week, that it is largely a question of arranging whether the flotilla will be taken up by the American government as parting or whether it will be placed on the open market.

In order to meet her war burden Canada should develop her production. Capital is an important factor. It is good policy for Mr. White to borrow all he can from the outside markets for there are indications that if the war continues foreign borrowing will become more and more difficult. Then the trade relations between Canada and the United States, particularly as regards raw materials for munitions, present a strong argument in favor of national credit from the United States.

At the same time we believe that Mr. White should not delay in enforcing an equitable scheme to increase taxation. If further foreign loans simply result in taxation being postponed the benefits to the country will be largely lost. An individual is wise to borrow upon assets which can be developed thereby but will gain no benefit if daily extravagance prevents him meeting the interest on his obligations. And so with the nation.

When Mr. White brought down his last budget THE POST stated that while the minister avoided the income tax that either he or his successor would have to adopt it. An income tax is now proposed for the present session of Commons. We are informed that the minimum amount will not be lower than $4,000. We sincerely hope that Mr. White will make no such decision. It is imperative that taxes should be equitable on all the people. An income tax should start at $1,000 at say 1 per cent and increase as the scale ascends.

TAXATION should serve two ends—it should increase revenue and it should check extravagance. To check extravagance the mass of the people must be taxed. Merely taxing the wealthy is to discourage the accumulation of that capital which is so necessary to maintain national production and to create national wealth. Production must be encouraged and extravagance discouraged if we are to discharge the war burdens we are shouldering.

GERMAN ATTACKS ALL REPULSED

PARIS, Aug. 3—Troops of the German Crown Prince, after an intense artillery bombardment last night delivered several violent attacks against the French positions near Cernie, in the Aisne region, along front of about 1,500 yards. The French official statement issued this afternoon says that all the attacks were repulsed.

AYESFORD SIGNALLER WOUNDED IN ACTION

(Herald) Charles Blackburn, of Aylesford has received a letter from Lieut. W. H. Henderson, a signalling officer, regarding the wounding of his son, Pte. A. M. Blackburn, who enlisted in a battalion at Edmonton and was recently wounded. The letter says: "Pte. Blackburn had just come back from England about three weeks ago and was signaller in my section. He and two other signallers had a telephone station in a dugout. A shell hit the trench, burst and pieces went down the dugout. The dugout was eleven steps deep, but it wounded your son and one other signaller. His left arm was broken, but he got back to the dressing station quickly, where the doctor fixed him up and he was taken right back to the clearing station and I expect by now (7 p.m.) he is on his way to England. The doctor assure that his arm will be none the worse. I am very sorry, indeed to lose him, as he was a good signaller and well liked by all. All the boys join in expressing their regret at his bad luck." Pte. Blackburn is a brother of Sergt. C. R. Blackburn, of the St. Francis Xavier unit. Sergt. Blackburn was recently invalidated home and is now undergoing treatment at the Provincial sanatorium, Kentville. Previous to enlisting, he was on the staff of The Halifax Herald.

GOOD NEWS FOR POTATO BUGS

The price of Paris Green, like that of everything else, has increased enormously since the beginning of the war. Before the war, Paris Green was retailed at the rate of from 20 to 25 cents the pound, and now the buyer is not only asked to pay 80 cents a pound for it, but it is so scarce that yesterday it could be obtained in only one store in this city.

A prominent local chemist explained to a representative of The Telegraph yesterday that the rise in the price of this product, which is really arsenite of copper is occasioned by the higher price ruling for copper. To overcome the scarcity of paris green a preparation called arsenate of lead is being sold and is said to in a great measure, take the place of the paris green.

F. JR PROPOSITION

The Amherst News puts it this way: "A few days ago we received a letter from a subscriber residing at Shinimicas Bridge. He wrote us to the effect that he had taken our paper for over forty years and would continue to do so if we would give it to him for the old price of $1.00 per year. We will make our subscriber a sporting offer which we think he should accept—we will give him the News and Sentinel for 50 cents year if he will sell us our pork, beef, geese, turkeys, potatoes and vegetables the same price he sold them forty years ago. We shall look for an early acceptance of the challenge and will expect to have our cellar and bins filled with products from our subscriber's farm."

Bulgarians Have Learned Well Lesson of Hun Brutality

Paris, Aug. 1—Forty thousand Greeks have been starved to death in eastern Macedonia since the Bulgarian occupation began, according to authentic reports received by the Greek government says a Havas despatch from Athens under Tuesday's date. "The Bulgarians," adds the correspondent, "have carried on a systematic persecution of the Greek element in the population, looking to its extermination. They have inflicted all sorts of privations upon the Greeks, burdening them with military work and deporting them to Bulgarian localities."

CANNING

The Rossley Concert Co. went through from Kentville to Kingsport on Saturday and spent the day at the beach.

Mrs. Foster is quite ill at the residence of her sister Mrs.
Eaton.

The strawberry season is now over. The Perea and Elomidon section raised a fine crop of berries.

On yesterday's train there arrived a sad party at Canning. It consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Geo.
W. Newcombe, their son, Philip Newcombe, Barrister of Saskatoon, and his wife. They came with the remains of Miss Emily Newcombe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Newcombe who died at a hospital at St. Stephens N. B., on Saturday morning, of pneumonia. The family will have much sympathy in their bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. Newcombe left but a short time ago for their summer home in Lubec. The funeral service will be held today at 2 o'clock
burial at Habitant.

Mr. Philip Newcombe has arrived in Canning accompanied by his wife. Mr. Newcombe is a barrister of prominence in Saskatoon and formerly was practising law in Kentville with Mr.
W. P. Shaffner. Mrs. New-combe was formerly a suffrage leader of renown in New York and was well known in many parts of the United States but she is a Canadian by birth and has spent most of her life in this country. She took a prominent part in the electoral contest in Saskatchewan and is undoubtedly an eloquent and forceful speaker. Kings County people will want to have an opportunity to hear Mrs. Newcombe while she is in Kings Co.

CANARD

Rev. Frank Eaton and wife of Bridgewater were at Canard last week with Mr and Mrs Freeman Eaton parents of the former.

Mr. S. I. Parker who has been with Mr. William Eaton since early spring has gone to Halifax.

Rev. Ross Eaton and wife of Mansfield, Massachusetts, are spending the month of August here with Mr. Eaton's father, Mr. Albert E. Eaton.

Rev. Austin T. Kempton of Cambridge, Mass., was visiting his friends here a week ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Borden are rejoicing on the arrival of a daughter on Sunday, July 29.

Mrs. Baxter and two daughters of Wolfville were in Can-ard on Friday week attending a picnic held here.

Mr. A. B. Clarke of Kentville, makes frequent visits to this street where he is occupied in helping along increased production. He has a two acre plot of potatoes a large field of beans, etc., growing and the crop is growing well.

A very enjoyable picnic was given by Mrs. J. E. Eaton to several of her relatives and friends at the beach adjoining farm of Mr. A. E. Eaton on Friday, 27th. Tea was served and a very pleasant time spent.

Edward Greenough formerly of Canard has been faithfully doing his share of hard work in helping to knock out the Huns on the Western front. He has been remarkably lucky but recently received a slight wound.

Mr. James Higgins who resided here with his aunt Mrs.
Louis Haliburton is one of our boys whose work in this war has heretofore not been mentioned. He enlisted in the 219th Battalion and has been fighting with the 85th. He has won on the field the Corporals stripes, and no doubt will qualify for further advancement. He has many friends here who wish him the best of luck and a safe return.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hutchinson spent Saturday at Kentville.

Mr. Herbert S. Dickey has been somewhat ill of late and unable to attend to his haying.
The grass crop here is good and prices are not ruling very high.

OUR SHARE IN THE WORLD'S STRIFE

We have entered upon the fourth year of the great strife
the fourth year of barbarism,
the fourth year of destruction,
the fourth year of extermination, the fourth year of endurance, and of royal self-sacrifice and of brave and noble deeds, and of the larger vision, which only ends in victory.

In this peaceful fruitful land,
with plenty still at our doors,
and with war gardens abounding in every luxury and want far from us, what share are we taking in the world's work for freedom and liberty.

In all parts of the English speaking world today services are being held in the churches, and prayers are going up to the God of battles, to stop this terrible strife from our King and Queen, and rulers of the nations, down to the humblest subject in our vast dominions are imploring Divine help in this, our country's great need.

We as a town are helping liberally in many ways, we have given the best of our young manhood, and followed them with necessary comforts the Red Cross has nobly responded but we have not yet fully grasped our part in the great struggle. Unnecessary pleasures still go on, and we must remember that our papers are sent broadcast and descriptions of these festivities are read on the blood-stained fields of France, letters that have come from the front, contain such expressions as, oh! how can they, oh! if they only knew and could see the fearfulness of our surroundings and know what their own boys are enduring, the whole Dominion would be down on its knees, imploring God to stretch forth His mighty hand and say as He did, to the Destroyer of old "It is enough." "Stay now thine hand."

Above all let us begin this year with a determination to guard the sanctity of the Lord's Day, Sunday. No nation has ever been known to prosper, that disregard its laws, and we, in this favored country, with plenty of leisure at our command, can maintain a standard worthy of our traditions, and thus help in winning the great war, and in the uplift of the world.

This poem, by Rudyard Kipling in inserted by request:

THE WAR

(By Rudyard Kipling)
For all we have and are,
For all our children's fate,
Stand up and meet the war,
The Hun is at the gate.

Our world has passed away
In wantonness o'erthrown.
There's nothing left today
But steel and fire and stone.

Once more we hear the word
That sickened earth of old;
No law except the sword,
Unsheathed and uncontrolled.

Once more it knits mankind,
Once more the nations go...
To meet and break and bind
A crazed and driven foe.

Comfort, content delight
The ages' slow-bought gain
They shivered in a night,
Only ourselves remain.

To face the naked days,
In silent fortitude,

Through perils and dismays
Renewed and re-renewed.

Though all we knew depart,
The old commandments stand,
In patience keep your heart,
In strength life up your hand.

—Kipling on the War (Copyright, 1914, By Rudyard Kipling.)

N. B. French Senator Heard in Conscription Debate at Ottawa

Ottawa, Aug. 1.—Senator Poirier, of New Brunswick, resumed the conscription debate in the senate, disputed the contention of Senator Dandurand that the reason French Canadians had not more freely was because they had been 200 years in Canada. The reason they had not enlisted more freely, Senator Poirier said, was because they had been misguided and misdirected. He would refrain from stating who
would refrain from stating who was responsible for that, but he thought it a pity that a fine and gallant race should have been so directed in war that they were now subjected to adverse criticism of the remainder of Canada.

He denied the statement of Senator Dandurand that Sir Hugh Graham had bought, in 1911 twenty Quebec ridings for -2,000 each; the people of those ridings were not to be bought.
The people of those ridings were not to be bought.

Senator Poirier said that he was against the principle of conscription, but when his country was assailed when democracy was assailed and in danger, he repudiated his former views and joined in the call to arms.

Senator Dandurand rose to say that he had not stated that Sir Hugh Graham had bought the twenty ridings referred to,
but had endeavored to do so,
and had sent -2,000 to each of them for that purpose.

The Sands O' Dee

The Welsh call the Dee Dyfrwy. This is mentioned in passing, because the Dee in its origin, and in part of its course, is a Welsh River, and its Welsh name should in any mention of the river, be duly recorded. This name need not, however, enter further into anything that may be said about it. Anyone who knows the Dee well thinks ever gratefully, of course, of its upper reaches, of the beautiful Lake Bala, where it takes its rise; of the wonderful Vale of Llangollen, and of the river's journey, thirty miles or more down to Overton, through the narrow valley, inclosed on the south by the steep lower slopes on the Berwyn Mountains and on the north by a series of lesser hills running away to the sea. If he is an Englishman, however, he thinks of it firmly as the Dee, all the way.

Then he will remember it lower down, when it has ceased the tumbling and rushing and rock-dodging habits of its Welsh days and has become a gracious, placid stream which flows, rich, brown and clear, under the great trees of Eton Park, past the red city walls of old Chester, past the historic woods of Hawarden, and so on to the famous sands. Now, on a first view, whether the day be fair or dull, there is little about the sands O' Dee that one should desire them. Viewed from the Cheshire side, there is of course the grand prospects of the Welsh coast, with its wooded hills and distant mountains, but lying in between, when the tide is out, there is just one vast stretch of wet, grey sand, through the midst of which meanders aimlessly the thin thread of the river. Such is the view, for instance, gained from the heights above Holyake, just a great gray waste, with here and there a gaunt tide-washed pile sticking up crookedly out of the sand with festoons of seaweed about its feet, and flapping idly in the breeze. About a mile from the Cheshire shore is the little island of Hilbrae, with its solitary white house, but beyond this, there is nothing in all that 70 square miles of immensity but sand and sea gulls.

Then suddenly the tide turns, and the daily repeated miracle begins. The water rushes in like a mill race. Shallow channels become filled. One minute islands, peninsulas, grotesque promontories are being formed in all directions, the next, they are blotted out in a flood of water. All the time the narrow thread of the river seems to be expending by leaps and bounds and so the water comes steadily on, until, in an incredibly short space of time, it has flooded the whole vast estuary, and is washing the sand dunes of the Cheshire coast and the pebbles on the shore of Wales five miles away. It is then, of course, when sands o' Dee are covered, that most people would acclaim the prospect at its best; but those who lived with these strange wastes any length of time, and have seen them in all their varying moods, learn to love them. Summer or winter, there is no place in all England where the sunsets are more wonderful, and it was to Holyake, overlooking the famous sands, that Turner, the great painter of sunsets, resorted to do much of his work. And to see the sunset at its best, the tide must be out, and the waste must be wet, and the dull red glare from the west must light up a thousand pools of water in a wilderness of sand. Then of course there is the moonlight view, when the moon casts in silver what the sun a few hours before had cast in red and gold, and the lights on the far-away Welsh coast twinkle and twinkle again, like so many groups of stars. So it was anyway, in the day before the war. Here, indeed, is the only reminder of the war amidst these silent stretches of land sea and sky. It is specially noticeable, perhaps, just now in the long summer evenings. No longer do lights flash out suddenly from the distant shore of Wales, as the half darkness of the Summer night at last takes possession. Nowadays, the moon alone does all the lighting there is to be done at night over the sands O' Dee as over the rest of the country. — Christian Science Monitor.

SEVERE ELECTRICAL STORM AT WINDSOR

Three Barns Struck by Lightning and Destroyed, Together With Four Horses and Large Quantity of Hay

WINDSOR, Aug. 3.—Windsor was visited by a very severe electrical storm last night, at least three barns being struck by lightning and burned to the ground. Two barns belonging to A. L. Redden, at Martoch, were destroyed, together with three horses and about fifty tons of hay, all harness and farm implements. The furniture was removed from the house, but the building was saved from the flames.

A large barn at the Mantua farm, the largest farm in the province, on the Avondale road, was struck and destroyed together with one horse and a quantity of hay. The farm is owned by Thomas Mounce, who resides at Avondale.

Memorial Service For 4 Heroes For Four Heroes

Berwick, July 31—A memorial service was held in the Baptist church in Morristown, Kings Co., on Sunday afternoon in memory of four of its young men, who had made the supreme sacrifice and given their lives for their country; they were Vernon S. Wilson, Philip Beals, both of the 85th Dana Felch, of the 219th and Erwin Bartheaux, of the 25th. The church was packed to the doors with people who had come from the surrounding districts to take in the solemn and impressive exercises, the pulpit and communion rail were banked with flowers. Rev. G. P. Raymond, a former pastor delivered a magnificent and touching address in which he touched upon the lives of the departed young men. Maj. Rev. Dr. Cutten followed and spoke on soldier's life in the great struggle. The music was of high order and was under the leadership of Mrs. R. N. Clark, of Berwick. Solos were given by R. N. Clark, F. S. Bennett and Miss Minerva Hutchinson also of Berwick. It was a service that will be long remembered in the community.

Fertilizer
It is hard to make most of the farmers realize that there is a great possibility of them not being able to get what commercial fertilizer they will require this spring. But never the less it is an absolute fact and the wise farmer will take home his fertilizer soon. As if you wait till spring you may not be able to get any. As even now it is very hard to get what you want as transportation is so bad we have only a few more cars of Basic Slag to sell.

THE JEWS AT WAR

Sixteen thousand Jews have gone into the ranks of the Allied armies from Great Britain alone three have already won the Victoria Cross. Five Jews are in the British cabinet and one holds the position of lord chief justice. In France more than ten thousand Jews are in the ranks and five hold important cabinet positions. In Belgium, fifteen thousand Jews are suffering unto death; while the ambassador to the court of St. James from Belgium is a Jew. In Germany 3,167 German-Jews have won the Iron Cross. In Austria-Hungary it is estimated that 180,000 Jews are in the ranks while six Jews are generals.

The Work of Coughing

If you cough once every fifteen minutes for ten hours you expend energy equivalent to two hundred and fifty units of heat which is equivalent to the nourishment contained in three eggs or two glasses of milk. So says a German who has specialized on the waste of energy in coughing.
At a normal rate we expel air from the chest at the rate of four feet per second but in violent coughing we expel it at the rate of three hundred feet a second. Thus a persistent cough not only weakens the constitution according to the same authority. Such weighty statistics lead to a reiteration of the oft-repeated injunction "never neglect a cough."—Popular Science Monthly.

Always a Reason.

The price of honey has gone up. It's the war of course. The vibration in air caused by the firing of the big guns in Europe caused the bees in America to treble so that they spill most of the honey in flight from the blossom to the hive.—Albany Herald.

Watch For German Money

German agents and German money have caused the partial collapse of Russia. They are now engaging in trying to paralyze France and the United States, and there are many indications of their presence in Canada. Millions of dollars of German money have been spent, and are still being spent, to arouse hostility towards Great Britain in many American States. Similar expenditures will undoubtedly be made in Canada during the next few months. The duty of every loyal Canadian is to watch for evidences of such outlays and to report all suspicious indications to the police or the military authorities.

One in Thirty Killed in Warfare

Boston, July 31—Roger Babson, the eminent statistician of Wellesley, has gathered the following figures from a close study of war casualties:
Fourteen men out of every fifteen so far have been safe. Under present conditions, where man power is being saved no more than one in thirty is killed.
Only one in 500 loses a limb—a chance no greater than in hazardous conditions at home.
Mr. Babson's conclusions are based on the mortality figures of the French army for the full three years of war. Attention is called to the fact that present fighting is not claiming anywhere near the number of dead recorded for the first two years.
He says: Most of the wounds sustained in the trenches are clean cut and of a nature that a few weeks in the hospital makes the subject as fit as ever. But 300,000 French soldiers have been discharged on account of wounds during the three years of the war.
"Most of the wounds received in the trenches are on top of the head, simply scalp wounds. Practically speaking, a wound is either fatal or slight, with but a few in between these two extremes."

TO BUSY TO EAT

Once upon a time there was a man too busy to eat.
In the morning he swallowed a cupful of coffee and smeared half a soft boiled egg on his mustache where he could lick it off on his way downtown in the cars.
At noon he allowed himself fifteen minutes for luncheon, and as it takes the average waiter longer than to walk to the kitchen and back, the fifteen minutes was about all the nourishment he got.
He usually got home late for dinner in the evening, because he hated to tear himself away from his place of business so long as there was the slightest possibility of making another nickle before he closed down his desk, and when he did sit down to the table he devoured the stock market reports in the evening paper instead of digging into the fodder.
He couldn't see any sense in wasting his time on food while there was so much money in the world that did not belong to him.
At the age of forty he died of what the doctors called acute indigestion but I know better. It was just plain starvation.
Anyhow, he left his family well provided for.
The moral is: Perhaps it was all for the best.

Willing, But Not Anxious

Ministers sometimes observe some curious phases of human nature among persons soliciting their services in the performance of a marriage ceremony.
"Will you take this woman for your wedded wife?" asked a clergyman of a would be bridegroom.
"Yes; I'll take her," remarked the man in a half dejected tone. "but," he added, with surprising frankness, "I'd rather it were her sister."

The Bunco Game

You can't fool all the people all the time.
"You don't need to. If you can fool half of the people some of the time you can make a good living."—Exchange.

Mrs. Fred A. Wallace and children, of Newton, Mass., have been at Amherst visiting Mr. E. L. Wallace. Mr. Wallace will arrive later to take his family back home.

Yarmouth Herald— On Saturday afternoon, little Paul Amiro, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Amiro, strayed from his home and as he did not return at tea time search was begun for him. No trace of him being found by the family, at 10 o'clock the firemen were summoned to a search by the ringing of the central fire bell. An all night search was fruitless, but early in the morning his lifeless body was found in the southern dock of Killam Bros. wharf. He had probably lost his hold of the wharf whilst endeavoring to get into a dory tied there. He was about 6 years old. The body was forwarded to Pabnico, his former home for burial.
