CHAPTER XXIII. The Unexpected Happens.

Toney sat to-day at the open window expecting Jim. When he came besides provisions, he brought Trick and a letter from the faithful Chum. When Toney had hugged Trick she opened the letter and uttered an exclamation of joy, making the dear Mrs. Grenham hurry in to see what was the matter with the young lady. Toney had to make the most of her companion's capacity for joy when her's overflowed. To-day it was caused by Miss Crump's note.

"Oh, my dear Toney, how can I tell you of our happiness. Henry has had to-day the offering of a living from a gentleman who lives twenty miles from here. He is a friend of General Stone, and it is through him that he heard of Henry. He has taken some time to make enquiries, but he says he has now much pleasure in offering him the living of Woodside, a small country village, possessing a pretty parsonage house, and he says the income is only three hundred a year, but that there are few expenses. This sounds like great riches to us. Henry wants our wedding to take place as soon as possible, but what shall I do? What will Lady Dove say? I tell you the news first, Toney, as I know it is your doing. You have been our good angel, and Henry begs me to say that he hopes you will look upon Woodside as your home, that is if ever you are in need of one. You know all we have shall be yours. My joy makes me selfish. I hear this morning that the kind General is worse, and that the Captain has asked Sir Evas to come up and see him. He will never know how grateful we are, though of course I shall ask Sir Evas to tell him so if he finds an opportunity, but he may be too ill to listen. I am glad you will soon be here again. Every one says that the danger is over now; but "I hear that Dr. Latham means to see to everything himself, and Sir Evas says he will have the whole cottage white-washed and repaired when you go out of it. Lady Dove is going to have some friends to tea to-day, so I must do the flowers and a hundred things besides, but everything seems easy now. We do not meet often, but Henry writes every day to me, and his are such beautiful letters! I am not at all worthy of him.

"In haste, "Your grateful CHUM."

Toney was as happy as possible except at the thought of the dear old General's pain. She sat down and wrote a few lines to him to thank him for the living, and her gratitude was expressed in no measured words.

The next morning was Sunday. It was now settled that they were to go on the Monday to a cottage at Porlock Weir, lent to Dr. Latham for their benefit by a friend who owned it. Toney had soon finished the simple packing, and then she sat down to read the Morning Service to Mary and the grandmother, whose responses seldom fitted into the text. Next she heard Mary's Catechism and taught her a hymn, and then she began wondering what to do, because her Sunday dinner had been sent ready cooked from Aldersfield House. The sweet May air was coming in at the open window, making her long to go out.

She did not expect visitors this morning till after the service time, but suddenly she heard herself called.

"Miss Whitburn!" It was Lewis Waycott.

"Oh! gracious stars! Why aren't you in church, Mr. Waycott?"

"I had a little note from Sir Evas, and he begged me to tell you that he could not come this morning because Lady Dove is indisposed. Here is another letter that I was to give you, and this is some money for your journey, but Dr. Latham is going to travel with you. He says you may all come back in ten days."

Toney drew up her basket containing her letters and found with them a beautiful bunch of lilies of the valley, which Lewis Waycott had picked himself for her.

"Oh, these are sweet! Thank you so much. I like getting letters! How is the dear old General, did uncle tell you? And oh, do you know that he has found a living for Mr. Faber? I am so happy about it."

"Yes, Faber wrote and told me. I am truly glad."

"This will be the last time that you will see me at liberty most likely. In future I shall be living in altered circumstances," said Toney, laughing.

"Oh, nonsense! It's impossible!"

"I shan't mind very much, I've learnt so much here. I expect I need to learn to sit still, but oh, it will be nice to run about! I shall run up and down the shore when I have time, and I long to feel the sea breeze, and I love the sea, don't you? And I shall drink tea with all our meals as we did at home."

Ladies of Culture and Refinement Use Salvia Hair Tonic. It Makes the Hair Beautiful.

At last a remedy has been discovered that will positively destroy this pest.

That Dandruff is caused by germs is accepted by every sensible person. Dandruff is the root of all hair evils.

SALVIA will kill the Dandruff germs and remove Dandruff in ten days, or money back.

McMurdo & Co. guarantees it. It will grow hair, stop itching scalp, falling hair, and make the hair thick and abundant. It prevents hair from turning gray, and adds life and lustre.

SALVIA is a hair dressing that has become the favorite with women of taste and culture, who know the social value of beautiful hair. A large generous bottle costs only 50c., at leading druggists everywhere, and in St. John's by McMURDO & Co. The word "SALVIA" (Latin for sage) is on every bottle, and sold at all first-class Drug Stores.

"Very bad for your nerves," said Lewis, laughing.

"But I haven't any. Oh! Mr. Waycott, I have never thanked you for being so delightfully chummy all this time. I shan't ever forget it, indeed I shan't."

"There's nothing to remember," said Lewis, smiling up at the bright face surrounded with lovely hair. "I shall be very glad when you come back as to being Lady Dove's companion I can't allow it. Aunt Honor says it's nonsense. Do you know that you have quite won her heart?"

"Have I? Well, that is good of her but it isn't nonsense. If you know how happy Crumpet is you wouldn't mind. But she shan't learn to ride. Can she keep a pony carriage on three hundred a year, do you think?"

"That shall be my wedding present," said Lewis suddenly. "A pony, carriage and a pony. A real nice little turn out, in remembrance of you and Miss Crump's visit to me."

"Oh!" said Toney. "Well! I shall be happy when I get back. You'll be there when it comes, won't you? Crumpet's face will shine like anything."

"Of course, and you shall choose anything you like for their house."

"Do you mean it?"

"Of course I do, Miss Whitburn. You know how he saved my life, but even—"

Toney turned her face away a moment. She felt a little lump in her throat for very joy.

"Well, you are nearly as nice as the General," she said, popping back again.

"When you come back I want to ask you to do something for me, Miss Whitburn."

"For you! Why, what could I do? But of course I will, only you have everything you want."

"Aunt Honor says I always get all I want."

"Does she? It's nice getting what one wants for other people."

"Oh, I know you think that, but I'm not you."

"You see you are much nicer. I can't give Crumpet anything because I've got no money. The dear old General would have— Well, he may get better. I shall soon come home. But what do you want?"

"I want you to promise not—not to be Lady Dove's companion."

Toney laughed happily.

"I can't really. I shan't mind much, and I shall earn my board and keep."

"The NEW FRENCH REMEDY TRADE MARK THERAPION MARK"

This successful and highly popular remedy, as employed in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Kossak, Robert, Velpeau, and others, combines all the desiderata for a medicine of this kind, and surpasses every other well-tried remedy here known.

THERAPION No. 1 maintains its world-renowned and well-merited reputation for derangements of the kidneys and bladder, pains in the back, and kindred ailments, affording prompt relief where other well-tried remedies have been powerless.

THERAPION No. 2 for impurity of the blood, scurfy, pimples, blotches, pains and swelling of the joints, gout, rheumatism, and all diseases for which it has become much a fashion to employ mercury, sarsaparilla, &c., in the destruction of surface vessels, and cure of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates every poisonous matter from the body.

THERAPION No. 3 for exhaustion, sleeplessness, and all the distressing consequences of dissipation, worry, overwork, &c. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigor to those suffering from the enervating influences of long residence in hot, unhealthy climates.

THERAPION is sold by all Chemists and Druggists throughout the World. Citizens of this country are required to observe above Trade Mark, which is a facsimile of word "THERAPION" as it appears on British Licenses; and Stamp (in white letters) on a red ground, above every package by order of His Majesty's Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.

and oh! indeed, I can't promise that. You must ask something else."

"Well, so I will some day, Miss Whitburn."

"Oh, do say Toney! at least till I'm Aunt Dove's companion, and then she'll not think it becoming," and Toney laughed happily.

"Well then, Toney, will you promise that when you come back you'll grant me something I'll ask of you?"

"I can't think what it can be, but of course I will. It can't be to make you a whistle, because I expect you can make them yourself, but I did make that dear old General a very nice one."

"That was very nice of you. I wish you had given it to me instead."

"But I sold it to him."

Lewis laughed, and Toney joined in. "Sold it! Was it expensive?"

"It cost five shillings! You see I wanted the money badly to finish Crumpet's arm-chair. I really did hope Mr. Faber would propose to her when she sat in it, but he didn't."

"You never want anything for yourself, but I'm in earnest when I say that I won't have you plagued by that aunt of yours. She ought to consider you more."

"Why? I'm only Toney, you know, and I'm not half educated, and I'm not a young lady, Aunt Dove says so."

"I don't want you at all different anyhow. There now, is it a promise that you will do something for me as well as for the General when I ask you?"

"Yes, if I can, because you have been so awfully nice and chummy."

"May I trust you?"

Serving Two Masters.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

"But father says I can."
"That doesn't matter. You are with me now, and you must do as I say."
"But father says—"
"That will do, Philip. Run right along now, and don't say anything more unless you want me to take you right home."
The youngster turned away with an obstinate look on his small face which seemed to say, "Just wait till I get father to back me." While the little mother, who sat beside me on the bench in the park, gave a worried sigh. It was apparently a familiar situation with which she was dealing and quite evidently one which she did not like.
Can you blame her?
It is not the easiest thing in the world in these strenuous times for a father and mother to command a child's obedience with all the force of her united authority. What is likely to happen, then, when the house is divided against itself?
Suppose there were two supreme courts in the United States with equal authority? What a state of chaos we should have! And yet, in how many homes there are two supreme courts, each giving out judgments independently of each other, one most severe in its ruling in one direction and lenient in another; the other just the opposite. What wonder that the clever child learns to appeal from one court to another and to obey the decision which he likes the best! What wonder that the chief justices of these supreme courts often have very bitter disagreements as a result of this chaotic condition!

A certain young couple are just having their first serious disagreements over this matter. His mother says he shall not have anything to eat between meals; his father frequently takes him out and treats him to candy. His father refuses to give into him when he cries for anything, while his mother is sure to let him have it. His mother always wants to bundle him up for fear he will catch cold; his father is a fresh air faddist; and so it goes. The child is already learning to appeal from one to the other and to tease and sulk and fret and get all the other troublesome tricks which the child who knows a parental authority is weak is sure to acquire.
Sometimes the two supreme courts in a home are not equal, but one stands far above the other and reverses its decisions freely and scornfully. And that, I do not think, is one whit better. No child should hear either his father or his mother disparaged by the other.

Then what is the right course to follow? Well, listen to what a mother of three fine children, who respect and obey both their parents, says on this subject:
"My husband and I," she declares, "made it one of our strongest rules never to knowingly give the children conflicting orders and never to argue about their discipline in their presence. If I have given any command which he did not approve of, he would stand by it until we could get together privately and discuss the matter and come to some decision about it. When we had done that, if we thought best we sometimes reversed the command, but we did it together."
Perhaps that is not the simplest course in the world to follow, but surely you will own it is the wisest.

FOR WOMEN ONLY.

That is the nature of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—the one remedy for women which contains no alcohol and no habit-forming drugs. Made from native medicinal forest roots. Dr. Pierce tells its every ingredient on the bottle-wrapper. Prominent physicians and some of the best medical authorities endorse these ingredients as being the very best known remedies for ailments and weaknesses peculiar to women.

This is what Mrs. GENETTI E. COFFEY, of Longstreet, Ky., says: "I feel it my duty to write and tell you what your medicines have done for me. I was a great sufferer for six years from a trouble peculiar to women, but I am thankful to say, after taking four bottles of your Favorite Prescription I am not bothered with that dreadful disease any more. I feel like a new woman. When I first wrote you for advice I only weighed 115 pounds—now I weigh 135. I thank you very much for your kindness. You have been as a father to me in advising me what to do, so may God bless you in every effort you put forth for good. I hope this testimonial will be the means of some poor suffering woman seeking health."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition, answers hundreds of delicate questions about which every woman, single or married ought to know.

Fads and Fashions.

The Directoire collar is the new note in neckwear.
Shoes in all colors are being worn to match the frock.
Deep rose brocade patterns in gold are much in evidence.
High collars are coming in again, and so are long, set-in sleeves.
Spats are much in favor, even striped ones being seen abroad.
Draped and pleated effects in skirts are gaining in favor.
Small flat bows of velvet ribbon or silk are popular trimming.
Touches of brilliant coloring are used upon many of the smart suits.
Wide belts and girdles of leather, ribbon, satin or silk are much worn.
Long sleeves and draperies are very evident in the newest costumes.
Piping as an ornamentation is still very fashionable on silk and wool suits.

The apache collar has close rivals in the Robespierre and modified Medical collars.
The normal waist-line will return. This permits of wearing belts and girdles.
Wraps both for day and evening show a tendency to the three-quarter length.
Digby, N.S. MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., LIMITED GENTLEMEN.—Last August my horse was badly cut in eleven places by a barbed wire fence. Three of the cuts, (small ones) healed soon, but the others became foul and rotten, and though I tried many kinds of medicine they had no beneficial result. At last a doctor advised me to use MINARD'S LINIMENT and in four weeks' time every sore was healed and the hair has grown over each one in fine condition. The Liniment is certainly wonderful in its working.
JOHN R. HOLDEN.
Witness, Perry Baker.

Swansdown is seen again on charming little shoulder wraps for evening. Hats are still rather low on the head, but show more of the hair than formerly.
Parasols are of colored and white linen, embroidered or plain, to match the gown.
In Paris sleeve frills are very important; also jabot frills with vests and revers.
Women are once more wearing the old cream-tinted Spanish lace for evening scarfs.
Leather handbags promise to have things all their own way rather than fancy bags.
The dominant style tendency is better described by Directoire than anything else.
Buttons of crystal, pearl with rims of color and covered moths are still being used.
Carved crystals are a charming jewelry novelty. Often they are mounted in platinum.
Embroidered batiste and voile is much used to fashion the large square, round or biblike collars.
The midsummer hat is made of tulle, and there is much use of algettes, paradise and wigs.

Cuba.

BY H. L. RANN.

Cuba is a three cornered section of uninterrupted hell with which your Uncle Samuel was gold-bricked by Spain a few years ago. It was discovered by Columbus, who never forgave himself. Columbus did not stay long after learning what band of climate the Cubans were using, and sailed away as soon as he could get rid of some of the insect life of which every Cuban is so justly proud. Soon afterward Spain, which was looking for a cheap form of slow death for some of her undesirable citizens, came over to Cuba and took down the smallpox signs which Columbus had hung on the brow of Morro Castle, after which she populated the island with bug-proof patriots and set them to counterfeiting the Havana filler. From that day to this Cuba hasn't grown anything but tobacco and nine different shades of pestiferous purgatory. Whenever Spain would send over her standing army to bring order out of chaos, the Cubans would collect a battalion of native tarantulas, milk-fed mosquitoes and unemployed typhus germs, and turn them loose upon the Spanish soldiery as they were wrapped in slumber and the well known Cuban jaundice. It cost Spain so much for quinine capsules and squirrel whisky that she finally agreed to let us have Cuba in exchange for the price of a new navy. The impartial historian will have to admit that this was the cutest thing Spain ever did, and it cost the American people more to subdue the Havana water mains and the proud, astilian soap spirit of the inhabitants than the whole Spanish navy would bring on a rising market. After remaining in Cuba long enough to introduce the Saturday night bath and fertilize the grape fruit industry with Americans certificates of stock, we took away our flag and plumbing tools and left the island to its fate. As soon as we left, Cuba set up the most torrid and pestilential form of government the inhabitants could think of, and is now scattering incense strife and busted stock companies from shore to shore. If Congress should trade Cuba for a good amly driving horse, nobody would protest loudly enough to disconcert her body politic.

King George Institute.

OPENING DAY.

A 3 o'clock this afternoon His Honor the Deputy Governor, Sir William H. Horwood, formally opened the King George Seaman's Institute. It will be remembered that His Majesty not only gave the use of his name to the Seaman's Institute, but on his way from the Coronation ceremonies at Westminster Abbey presented a button which sent an electric impulse from Buckingham Palace to the building's foundation stone of the building, and at the touch of the King the foundation stone dropped in its place. Since that time the erection of the building has proceeded apace, and is now arrived at a sufficiently advanced stage of interior finishing and furnishing that everything was ready for the formal opening this afternoon.

The outside appearance is massive and solid, but most unpretentious in the way of architectural design or beauty. The plainness of the exterior in no way prepares for the finish and furnishings of the interior. The change affords a pleasant surprise to the visitor. The corridor on the ground floor is spacious and lengthy and well finished. To the east is a nicely finished billiard room with three tables installed. To the south of the corridor is a good sized auditorium with a stage platform. On this floor are other rooms and a kitchen. Perhaps the most attractive feature in the basement is the swimming pool, with slides, bottom and pavement around finished in white mosaic. Adjoining are a number of compartments with sides of white marble and fitted with shower baths. The dormitories are small but each has its radiator and will no doubt be warm and well ventilated. We do not propose to give an exhaustive description of the Institute, but to give sufficient to indicate that the building is large, with extensive accommodation, well fitted to serve meals and refreshments, with baths, swimming pools, and recreations on a scale and magnificence which are not equaled in the city. The interior is most attractive and if the management comes up to the accommodation the Institute should prove most popular.

Yesterday the first meeting in connection with the opening was held in the Auditorium, which was crowded to an overflow into the corridor.

At 3.30 Dr. Grenfell accompanied by Dr. Van Dyke, Mr. Warburton and Mr. Archibald took their seats on the platform.

Mr. Archibald spoke on the Bible as affording a guide for the life of man. Dr. Grenfell followed and told of the object of the Institute and what it was hoped would be accomplished. The last speaker was Rev. Dr. Van Dyke. He touched on the scenery of Newfoundland and then spoke of three things which Jesus knows: (1) that man has a tendency to sin; (2) a capacity for sorrow; (3) a desire for joy and fellowship. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Dr. Curtis.

Fire This Morning.

At 8 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in a house on Catherine Street occupied by a family named Dyer, and the Central and East End Companies were called out. Sparks from a defective chimney ignited the woodwork of a partition. The blaze that followed reached the bedroom where three children were sleeping. Then the bed clothing caught and in a few minutes this part of the house was wrecked. The screams of the children attracted the attention of their mother who saved them from being burned to death. A stream of water from the chemical engine quenched the fire before any further damage was done. It is alleged that the children had been playing with matches in the bedroom.

The Loan.

There is much comment about town from the fact that nothing has been published in the Government press about the Loan of £2,000,000 sterling which the Legislature authorized last Session. Was not the floating of this Loan the chief public business which took Sir Edward Morris to London? If not, what was the public business which took him there? If so, why does silence prevail?

Red Rubber Atrocities in Peru

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, To-Day.
Disclosures as to the state of affairs in the rubber industry at Peru, published in the Blue Book just issued by the Foreign Office, as a result of Sir Roger Casement's investigations, attract great attention and caused comparisons to be drawn between those at one time reported from Congo Free State. The British Consul General at Rio Janeiro fully confirms the charges brought against native agents of the Peruvian Amazon Company, a British concern, formerly engaged in the rubber collection in Putumayo's district. The gruesome story was first published in the States and was brought to the attention of the British Foreign Office by the Washington State Department. Casement was sent out to Peru a year ago and found overwhelming evidence of murder and torture of defenceless Indians. He discovered that kerosene had been poured over men, women and children who had been tied to stakes and were then set on fire. The brains of children have been dashed out and limbs of Indians have been cut off. Fever broken they had been left to die. The tortures also included deliberate starvation of many people. The Foreign Office says that after many months of futile attempts to get the Peruvian government to take measures to prevent a recurrence of such horrors and punish many persons, it was decided with cordial acquiescence of States government that the only course to take was to publish facts in full. An exposure of these atrocities was made by "Truth" some years ago.

Placed for Death

Special to Evening Telegram.
CHICAGO, To-Day.
Thirteen killed and 20 were injured in a train wreck on the Chicago Burlington Quincy Railway at Western Springs, a suburb of Chicago, yesterday. Coming through the fog with a supposedly clear track ahead, a fast mail train ran full speed into the rear of an express from Denver, which was standing still on the track, telegraphing two overland pullman cars. A fire starting from gaslights in the sleepers then broke out. Many victims who were pinned down by heavy timbers and iron pleaded for death. Members of the fire department at Western Springs and Lorraine were on the scene a few minutes after the wreck occurred. They put out the fire. The cause of the wreck is not yet decided.

BISLEY, ENGLAND, July 14.
Corporal Mortimer, of Quebec, made a world's record, winning the first prize of $150 on Saturday, at the competition for four prizes amounting to $350. At a distance of 1,200 yards, in fifteen shots Mortimer's score was 73, consisting of 11 centrals, 3 bull's eyes and a magpie. He tied with Henry, of the Irish Royal Artillery. Shooting off, Mortimer secured 2 centrals and an inner, thus beating his opponent. England won the Elcho challenge shield, open to teams of eight, representing England and Scotland, at 900, 1,000 and 1,100 yards fifteen shots each. In the English aggregate of 1,687, Jones put together a score of 222, using the Ross rifle.

A Common Weakness.

Old Bilhad and I are neighbors and oft when today is through and done are our divers labors, we argue an hour or two. And thus, in our pleasant tithing we thrash out a hundred themes, jump on the pomes of Milton, he says that those pomes are screams. I spend quite a while contending the Giants will rake things in; he labors away defending the P rates, and says they'll win. We spend many hours discussing the nebula thingumbob, with never a bit of fussing, and never a sore heart throb. We spend the long eve debating, an then, when the orgy ends, to home and to bed go skating, the best kind o' chums and friends. But gone is our friendly manner when politics is the theme, when under some statesman's banner, we grid up our lungs, and scream! Discussing some party matter that makes not a bit of odds, we stir up a bug-house clatter, and argue with bricks and clods. My lily white nose is broken, my collarbone is in ailing, for Bilhad, some words I spoken, resented like everything; and Bilhad is blue with bruises since we had our last debate; I argued wit fists and shoes, but couldn't convince the skate.

Decoration Day.

Yesterday morning thousands of citizens interested assembled at All Carmel Cemetery, hearing floral offerings to bedeck the graves of departed relatives and friends. The grounds were splendidly prepared. At 10:30 Mass was celebrated by Rev. Dr. Kitchin, after which the rev. gentleman ascended a newly made small portable pulpit and delivered a very learned and touching discourse on the Resurrection, exhorting his congregation to lead pure and holy lives. Pa-thetic references were made to the sudden death of the late Fr. Curran and the large number of our people who met watery graves in the ill-fated vessels during the past winter. A the conclusion Dr. Kitchin, accompanied by the Committee, were entertained at the cottage of Mr. Jas. Keena. The voluntary collection toward the maintenance of the cemetery was a record one. The management sincerely thank the people for the substantial collection and trust that years go by the same generosity may continue for the upkeep of God's acre.

Appreciated by Artists.

The two oil paintings by Master Frank Keating, son of Mr. J. S. Keating, of the Treasury Department, which are now hung in the Museum here have earned for him the highest praise from artists of repute in Holland and Belgium. Frank sent these pictures to the International Art Exhibition at Amsterdam and recently received a letter praising the making up of the subjects and the harmonious colouring and excellent taste evident in the compositions. Not being a student under the masters there, the pictures could not be exhibited, but the exact words of praise bestowed on his works by the artists of the Exhibition were conveyed in the letter. These strongly advise Master Keating to take an art course either in Holland or Belgium and promised him, if he does, a most successful career as an artist, discerning as they do the genius of which Frank is undoubtedly possessed.

Found Starving.

Mrs. Thomas Curran, whose husband is a seaman on the Lake Simcoe, now on her way here, lives in the upper part of a small house at the foot of Casey Street, the lower portion of which is tenanted by Kung Wah, a Chinese laundryman. It has been known for some time that the woman was mentally affected, and as she had not been seen for two days, neighbors became anxious about her. Saturday night, Mrs. Martin, her other neighbor, found the door locked and the place in darkness, knocked repeatedly but could get no answer. Mr. John Ryan, who keeps a grocery nearby, then found Head Const. Sheppard and Constable Nugent on New Gower Street, and these going to the house, forced the door and procuring a light entered the house. There was neither food, light or fuel there, and the woman, who seemed to be very ill, lay in bed with her three young children near her. Two of these are boys and the other a little girl. An infant, 9 months old, was at the breast but could get no sustenance from the mother, who with her hapless offspring had been starving for two days. Dr. Campbell was summoned, prescribed for the unfortunate and gave an order for groceries, &c., for the family. Soon the neighbors had a cheery fire in the grate and the four were given food, which they wanted so badly. The little ones were furnished with the hunger and ate with avidity what had been given them. A woman was employed to look after the family Saturday night and last night, and to-day steps will be taken to put the poor creature in the care of those competent to deal with such cases. Had the matter not been made known for another 24 hours the woman and children no doubt would have succumbed.

Wedding Bells.

Messrs. Furness, Withy & Co.'s premises are decorated with bunting to-day in honour of the wedding of Capt. J. T. Yeoman. The following notice of the event is taken from the Halifax Herald of the 12th inst.:

YEOMAN—HUGHES.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the season took place at number 3 Jubilee Road, Wednesday, at 6 o'clock, when Marguerite Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hughes, of Halifax, but formerly of Birmingham, England, became the wife of James Thomas Yeoman, captain of the Furness liner "Tobasco," son of the late Thomas Yeoman, of Salcombe, England.

The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. A. F. Dykeman, pastor of the West End Baptist church, took place in the drawing room, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, under the supervision of F. W. Killam, manager of the Nova Scotia Nursery, a friend of the bride and groom. In front of the large bay window a bower of palms and trailing English ivy had been artistically placed, and it was directly in front of this that Captain and Mrs. Yeoman were pronounced man and wife.

The chandelier in the center of the room was also ivy-clung and depending from it were three large white lilies. To complete the effect of the whole arrangement, jardiniere and vases of field daisies were placed on the chiffonier, mantel, piano, etc. These were all the more appropriate, as they were emblematic of the bride's name.

Promptly at the appointed hour, the sweet strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin were heard, being skilfully rendered by Mr. Woodin, organist of the North Baptist church; and presently the bridal party appeared, the bride leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She looked very lovely in a gown of white silk with overdress of brocade and pearl trimmings, and wore the conventional veil faughed with a wreath of orange blossoms and white heather. Her bouquet was a handsome shower of roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride and groom were attended only by Miss Helen Misenner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Misenner, of Woodside, who acted as flower girl. She was daintily dressed in white, with pink trimmings and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

At the conclusion of the impressive ceremony, a wedding luncheon was partaken of by guests to the number of about fifty. The dining room was very prettily decorated with roses, pink carnations and ivy. The table was a sight long to be remembered, being literally heaped up withainties and centered by a magnificent two-tiered cake, surmounted by a handsome bouquet of roses. This cake was sent out as a present to the bride, by the groom's sister, from Liverpool, England. Directly above it was an ivy bound hoop, suspended in space from the chandelier by means of white satin ribbons, fastened below to the corners of the table.

At the conclusion of the luncheon the health of the bride was drunk and a social time enjoyed, which passed away all too quickly, until it was time for the happy couple to leave in a motor car which bore them away for a short trip to a neighbouring town. They will return to Halifax this afternoon in order to sail by the steamer "Tobasco" for England. After reaching the other side, Captain and Mrs. Yeoman will spend three months in visiting their many friends and relatives, after which they will return to Nova Scotia and reside with the bride's parents for a year, when it is their intention to make England their home.

It is very seldom that so large and beautiful a collection of gifts is seen as that received by Captain and Mrs. Yeoman. It comprised solid silverware, cut glass, linen, cutlery, etc. One of the handsomest presents of all was a complete cabinet of solid silver and mother of pearl dinner cutlery, the gift of Furness Withy and Co.'s staff.

The groom's present to the bride was a very beautiful pearl and amethyst necklace. To the little flower girl he gave a gold locket and chain. —Halifax Herald, July 12.

The Laborites are Resentful.

Special to Evening Telegram. HANLEY, To-day. Southneair, liberal, was returned to Commons at bye election on Saturday to fill vacancy caused by death of Enoch Edwards, laborite. He defeated the Unionist candidate by 654, and laborite by 553. The action of the liberals in contesting the seat is bitterly resented by the Labor Party and is threatening to strain alliance to breaking point.

Hymenal.

On last Wednesday evening, July 10th, a very pretty wedding took place at the R. C. Cathedral when Mr. John Coleman lashed to the altar Miss Kitty Toucher, of Jersey City, N.J., formerly of St. John's, daughter of the late Wm. Toucher. The ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Roche. Mr. John Duffy, cousin of the groom, performed the duties of best man. The bride wore a charming gown of Duchess satin draped with a tulle of ovetnet, and wore a veil and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. She was assisted by Miss Annie Ivey, who was gowned in a dress of blue silk, with hat to match. Miss Georgie Long, niece of the groom, and the Misses Cecilia Kehoe and Molly Doran acted as flower girls. After the ceremony the happy pair drove to the residence of the groom's sister, Carter's Hill, where the reception and wedding supper were held, after which in conjunction with their many guests they enjoyed themselves till the wee sma' hours of the morning, when the bride and groom drove to their future home, Hayward Avenue. The happy pair were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents.

Torbay En Fete

AT FATHER CLARKE'S RETURN.

A most spontaneous display of whole-souled enthusiasm was witnessed at Torbay yesterday when Rev. Fr. Clarke, for many years the rev. pastor at the place, returned on a short holiday from Ireland. The entire population turned out in a body and met the Rev. gentleman at Piper's Stock Hill. Preceded by the Total Abstinence band of the place, with the members of that Society also present, the procession moved to the village amidst tumultuous cheering. Here Father Clarke addressed them in his usual eloquent manner and in a speech which showed how deeply he appreciated this profession of regard from his old parishioners, thanked them sincerely for the honour done him. It was easy to observe with what pleasure he again visited the scenes of his forty years of labour. In the evening at 7 o'clock the people again assembled at the Total Abstinence Hall, where an address of welcome was made by Mr. Michael Parsons, the venerable President of the Society. To this another response was made by Father Clarke, and the scenes of joy of the early afternoon were again repeated. An impromptu concert was organized and the people generally gave way to an expression of rejoicing at having their beloved old pastor again with them. It was decided that a demonstration in his honour will take place on Wednesday night.

This is the third voyage so far this season, and Capt. Tom has caught 3,400 qts., which breaks all records up to this date. The Donald E. Hollett is a new craft, built last year, and is of the knock-about-type.

Saturday night a seaman who was going in the Neptune, and who had been released from prison on heavy bonds a few hours previously, was on board the ship and started to whip out everybody and everything in the forecastle. Two stokers also had a "friendly" combat, and Inspector Collins, Head Sheppard and several policemen had to be called to remain until the steamer moved off from the pier. One of the "lucky" Scott's party retorted that this would be an ideal spot for Jack Johnson to make his mark.

Hr. Grace Notes.

Miss Lizzie Walsh, daughter of Mr. Thomas Walsh, of LeMarchant Street, after spending three years in Boston, returned home by Thursday's train. Miss Walsh likes Boston very much, and will probably return after spending a little time home. She received a hearty welcome from all her friends.

Mr. Norman Mann, of Geo. Knowling's employ, spent a couple of days of this week in town. He was accompanied by a friend from St. John's.

Collectors are now around soliciting contributions for the Marine Disaster Fund. Every person in the district, in the island in fact, should help in this commendable cause, thus showing sympathy and helping to somewhat relieve the suffering of the widows and orphans rendered helpless by the loss of the bread-winners at sea last fall.

Miss Madge Oke, C. of E. teacher at Mussel Harbor Arm, Placentia Bay, is spending her vacation home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Oke. She returns to her duties about the 1st of September.

Miss Lillian Ward left for St. John's on Wednesday to spend a few weeks with friends there.

The downpour of rain yesterday morning, followed by the cool damp day at night, did much to raise the hopes of the farmer for a better crop. The ground badly needed the moisture as it was very dry.

Mrs. W. Ward and her sister, Miss Rutherford, left for Brigus by train this morning to spend the day with friends there.

Mr. Andrew Kennedy, of Bear's Cove, while boarding his boat at the wharf there, fell a week or so ago and injured himself to such an extent that he has been laid up ever since. The wharf had been made slippery by the landing of cabin, hence the accident.

Mrs. Elizabeth Noseworthy, of the South Side, passed peacefully away on Tuesday last at the home of her son, Mr. Archibald Noseworthy, postmaster. Mrs. Noseworthy had passed her 90th year and was only sick a few days. She leaves several sons and daughters to mourn the loss of a kind parent.

Mr. John Hare, an old resident of this town, died on Thursday morning at his home on the Hill at the age of 70 years. Mr. Hare, who was a native of Kent, England, came to this town when only 16 years of age, and being pleased with the place and people decided to remain here. His mind becoming unbalanced three years ago, he was taken to St. John's for treatment, and returned home 12 months ago. Since then he has been attended by his wife and daughter. He leaves besides a wife, five sons and one daughter to mourn their loss.

Great preparations are being made here for the camping out of the C. C. C., which will take place at North River next week. The brigade, accompanied by the band, will leave their armory at 10 a.m. Wednesday, and march to North River. Concert will be held at North River, Brigus, and Bay Roberts. We wish the lads a very enjoyable time.

CORRESPONDENT. Harbor Grace, July 13, 1912.

Does This Interest You?

A PLAIN TALK ABOUT CLEARANCE SALES AND THEIR DOLLAR-VALUE TO YOU.

By J. R. Hamilton.

If you do not take advantage of these Clearance sales in July, you have paid too much for your merchandise during the previous part of the year.

All merchants must naturally make enough profit to continue in business. They could not sell goods below cost now unless they had sold them sufficiently above cost before to show a general profit on the year.

And nearly all of them are selling goods below cost now.

Therefore, if you are going to get the most out of your money, you must buy when prices are down as well as when prices are up.

Any shrewd woman who can see six months ahead will have a fatter pocket book clear to Christmas time if she will only follow the advertising carefully now and plan her purchases according to her future as well as her present needs.

Thousands of people, of course, will not follow this suggestion, but that makes it all the more valuable to the other thousands of people who will.

If all of you understood the dollar-value to you of these Clearance Events all the stores in this city could not possibly hold the crowds, and these sales would not last very long.

No merchant with a good business head cuts his prices down to red figures and absolute losses because he likes to. He does it because he has to. He knows he has got to clear that stock at any cost. There is nothing affectionate about a buyer's lead pencil when he reduces a price.

And there is nothing soft-hearted about a merchant when he pays his good money to advertise those cut prices in this newspaper.

He does so because he knows that there are so many thousands of you readers waiting for those prices. And if you don't see those prices you won't come to his store. And if you don't come to his store he will not be able to clear his merchandise.

Now you know why this paper is filled full of bargains at this season of the year and why it will be a mighty good plan on your part to begin looking for those bargains right now and to continue to look for them on every page of this paper from day to day.

You will find in this advertising the biggest human interest story you ever read. For in these days, whatever affects the pocket-book affects the heart.

Bell Island Regatta Ripples.

JULY 27th.

The special feature of this year's Regatta is the appearance on the course of race boats precisely the same as the St. John's style of races, with the exception that the Bell Island boats are 4-oared.

When the Bell Island Regatta started some 8 or 10 years ago the old black punt was the racer, since that time the races have been brought down finer and finer till to-day we have boats the regular racing style, built, we understand, after the model of the "Guard." May we predict that the next move we will have will be the introducing of 6-oared boats.

Another welcome feature on the course this year, will be the appearance of a committee tent and blackboard, on the latter the names of winning crews, time, etc., will be written.

A swimming race was anticipated, but the majority of the committee thought it better not to introduce it. The committee have wisely decided to make this Regatta Day a whole regatta day. In the past regatta day here was sub-divided, the morning being devoted to the regatta and afternoon to the Field Sports. This year the field sports take place on the afternoon of August 24th.

The prizes this year are very fine and certainly worth working hard to win.

Crews are practicing here every evening, and excitement is intense. The old boys race in which all competitors must be 55 years and over will create much interest, three crews are practicing for it, and according to reports their time and the time of the amateurs will not be much different.

The committee are working energetically and hope their efforts will be repaid by having this year the best regatta ever held here.

For the past two years Jupiter Plus has been somewhat unkind on Regatta Day, but given fine weather this year it will be a day of enjoyment for all.

The Tale of Perfect Time in a Watch

From Mainspring to Hairspring, between them lies the secret.
The Mainspring is the power which it transmits to the active parts of the watch. The Hairspring has the control and regulates the motion. The setting is most delicate; imagine a 100th part of a hair, (impossible to see!) Yet it is enough to interfere in its performance, so wonderful is the adjustment. The friction from accumulating dirt, lack of oil, etc., destroy these perfect fittings. Do not let your watch run to ruin from neglect. Remember our business is the care of watches, and our opinion costs nothing.
