On board the packet, I am sure that was the name I heard. "How strange," said Carlotta. "Do you know him, Lady Mildred?"

The usual salutations were gone through, and Mr. Hartfield, quite at home in a lounge-chair, was calling to her ladyship's mind several little parties at which they had met, when Lady Mildred, with her usual suddenness, entered.

"The Hon. Clarence Hartfield," said Lady Mildred, reading the card which a servant brought her. "Why, Carlotta, my dear, that must be the good-looking gentleman who was so attentive on board the packet."

How Zam-Buk Saved me a lot of money

For the benefit of others who may be similarly situated, Mr. R. Howard, Sr. of Bracebridge, Ont., requests that we publish the following narrative. He says: "If people only knew the great healing power of Zam-Buk, they could be saved much unnecessary suffering and expense." He continues: "Four years ago I sustained a scratch on my leg, which turned to an ulcer. I was confined to my bed for six months under doctors' treatment, during which time I did not care a cent, and, in addition, spent dollars upon dollars before a cure was effected. Recently I sustained a scratch on my other leg. It became very inflamed and swollen, and finally turned to an ulcer. This time, I knew about Zam-Buk, and I acted very differently from what I did in the previous instance. I used Zam-Buk alone, with the result that not only was the ulcer healed in much shorter time than the previous one, but I was able to go to work all the time it was healing, and I did not lose a single day's pay. Zam-Buk is certainly a wonderful ointment, and should be in every home."

WHAT ZAM-BUK IS BEST FOR
Zam-Buk is just as good for eczema, blood-poisoning, abscesses, running sores, boils, pimples, piles, cuts, burns, scalds, all skin injuries.

'Twas in the prime of summer,
A call for soldiers came
To cross the broad Atlantic
To win our country's fame.

Then the soldiers stepping forward
To join the many crowd,
To protect the dear Old Country
And its honour and its pride.

And then a grey-haired mother
Wag sitting all alone,
Thinking of her dear one
And wishing he was home.

Now he is in the trenches,
Writing a letter home,
Thinking of his mother,
Sitting all alone.

She received his loving letter,
And on its pages fell
Tears that from a loving heart,
Tell her she loves him well.

Not that she would wish him
To come home to her again
Until he'll do his duty,
That the British lads may gain.

He who is the consoler
Knows her grief and pain,
Shields her son from danger
And brings him back again.

SALVIA is a non-sticky preparation and is the ladies favorite. A large generous bottle 50c.

Imperial Councils.

London Times: No point in the new Ministerial program outlined by Mr. Lloyd George will give more satisfaction, when the people have had time to digest it, than the decision to call an Imperial Conference at an early date. This step will meet a general desire long and warmly cherished, but hitherto rebuffed. Its realization at last is significant of the new spirit at the head of Imperial affairs and a proof that Mr. Lloyd George has correctly read the mind of the nation. An Imperial Conference was repeatedly urged upon the late Government, but in vain. Reasons were always found for rejecting the difficulties insuperable. Now they have suddenly vanished, like a good many others. The Conference will be called for the purpose of a joint consultation with the Dominions on the conduct of the war. The part

The Can Industry.

The subjoined communication was read at last night's meeting of the City Council. It was sent by Government Analyst Davies and suggests the opening up of a tin can industry, now operated with such profitable results in the Old Country.

"In pre-war days old tins were shipped from Britain to Germany at an average cost of £1 a ton. At least 30,000 tons were shipped every year.

"About one per cent of tin was received from the old tins, and the tin thus received was equal in value to the amount paid by the Germans for the old tins.

"The steel received was employed in making useful steel articles.

"A company known as 'The Tinning Company' has been formed at home with the object of utilizing old tins.

"On payment of royalty to the company for the process, a company can erect works at its own expense and trade on its own account.

"I am under the impression a town of the size of St. John's consumes large quantities of tinned goods, and the old tins are at present a total loss.

"It might prove worth while for the Municipal Council to find out approximately the quantity of old tins wasted every year.

"Enquiries could then be made in order to find out whether it would pay to erect works in the town. The steel sheets could be made up at the works into new tins for the shipment of canned fish abroad.

"The Council will enquire into the amount of tin goods imported into the country yearly so that they can arrive at the wastage; meanwhile they have asked Mr. Davies for the name of the patentee.

"Councillor Ayre spoke on the subject and stated that Germany had an industry of the kind worth nine millions annually.

MISSIONARY SERVICE.—Rev. Dr. Jones will be the preacher at the missionary service in the interest of the Women's Home Missionary Society at St. Thomas's Church to-night. MUST BE FREE OF SNOW.
At the request of the Municipal Council their Solicitor has prepared a new bye-law dealing with the clearing of sidewalks and roofs of houses, of all snow within twelve hours after the falling of the same. The law is only to be enforced on Water Street from Job's Bridge to Temperance St. and includes vacant lots and sidewalks in front of unoccupied houses or stores which must be cleared by owners or agents. The fine is $5 for each offence and it is the intention of the Council to see that the law is conformed with.

Look at a Child's Tongue When Cross, Feverish and Sick

Take no chances! Move poisons from liver and bowels at once.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

After boiling salt beef leave one or two carrots in the liquor until it is cold. The carrots will absorb the salt and the liquor can be used for soup.

FRIDAY, January 26th, 1917.

Unadulterated Theorism.

One of the leading German newspapers calls President Wilson an "unadulterated theorist." It is unkind, but for once we are able to agree with our enemy. The most superficial examination of the speech that called forth the epithet reveals how thoroughly it is deserved. If the President really wishes to effect anything, he must get down from his lofty perch of idealism. The usage and language of diplomacy demand often that the realities of a case be winked out of view, but even diplomacy does not demand it in a situation like this. If Mr. Wilson imagines that this war is going to be ended upon any other basis, or through the operation of any other agency, than the hard cold facts of it, he makes a great mistake. Those facts he has so persistently and so completely ignored that we begin to wonder if he knows what they are, or has ever known.

was contemptuously silent as to her objects in August, 1914. Let her acts speak for her. What did they say? What the writings of Bernhardi, and Treitschke, and her other military gospellers? What her confessed violation of Belgium's neutrality? What the enormous avalanche of troops upon Paris, upon a plan clearly preconceived and in positions almost actually prepared for them? What these and a hundred other facts, if not that her object was utterly to crush France, to leave her after a few weeks no more national existence, we cannot say life, than the magnanimity of her victor might permit her? And, turning then to the east, if not utterly to crush, at least utterly to paralyze Russia? And, these accomplished, to gather together her forces for the final effort that was utterly to crush Great Britain? There is no need to answer these questions: they have been answered already in Germany itself.

On these premises, which we consider utterly false, the President's whole syllogism is erected. He deduces from this supposed unanimity of purpose of all the belligerents an out-and-out draw as the only fitting result of the war, and indicates, indeed, that he expects it. He goes on to speak of an equality of nations, meaning thereby an equality of rights and not of power. This is not a new idealism, but it is idealism. Much Belgium's equality of right with Germany availed to compensate her inequality of power! What is wanted is not an equality of rights—that is understood and inherent—but an equality of regard for them. That we shall never have as long as Prussia retains anything approaching an equality of power with other nations, either actual or potential, in her influence over other nations such as she now exercises. This may be bad theory, but it is good sense, founded on actual indubitable facts. Mr. Wilson's idealism is in many ways admirable, but his inability is surprising to see the great stumbling-block in the way of its realization, and in its removal the one paramount object of the Allies.

More Revenue For City Council.

Acting on the recommendation of their Sanitary Supervisor, the Municipal Council Board have adopted a new rule, which, it is expected, will benefit the city revenue from two to three thousand dollars annually. In his annual report the Sanitary Supervisor stated that actually 270 individuals and public and private concerns had ashes and refuse removed from their back yards, cellars and furnace rooms by sanitary men, but that the city received no returns whatever for the performances of this sort of work. A resolution, which takes effect February 1st next, has been passed stating that if anyone wants sweepings, etc. done by city employees they must apply to the Secretary-treasurer, whose rates are $15 per year for factories and public buildings, and $9 a year or 75 cents a month for dwelling houses. Of course if refuse is put out in the regular way it will be taken as usual, without charge, but no sanitary employees are allowed to enter backyards, etc. after January 31st and have been so instructed.

Newfoundland Seaman

Executed for Acting German Spy. Information has just reached this city to the effect that a well known young mariner, who sailed out of St. John's for several years, though he claimed Catalina as his birth place, had been executed quite recently in the Old Country for acting as a spy for the Germans. The exact character of the offence was that he was caught selling charts to the enemy. He was court-martialed and sentenced to be shot. The execution took place in a building in London. In connection with the foregoing it is noteworthy that the seaman in question was on a vessel which was submerged and sunk by the Huns last fall.

The funeral of the late Joseph McNamara, whose remains arrived by the S. S. Florizel from New York, will take place from the residence of Mrs. Thomas O'Neill, 168 Water St., at 2.30 p.m. on to-morrow, Saturday. Jan 26, 11

Newfoundland Auxiliary Bible Society

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Newfoundland Bible Society was held last night at the Methodist College Hall, being not very well attended. His Excellency the Governor occupied the chair and was accompanied on the platform by Lady Davidson and Captain Riley, M.C. Following a reading of Scripture and prayer by the Rev. Gordon Dickie, Canon Bolt read a letter from the Bishop regretting his inability to be present, and spoke sympathetically of his Lordship's illness. He referred in eulogistic and affectionate terms to the late President of the Society, Hon. H. J. B. Woods, whose passing was a severe loss to the Society. He moved a resolution of sympathy and regret, which was seconded by Mr. John Leamon.

His Excellency, being moved to the chair, also spoke warmly of the late President, in whom he had found the highest qualities of a man and a Newfoundlander. His regular devotion to, and attendance at, the Sunday-school for forty years, which denied him his weekly rest from his arduous duties, of itself stamped him as the man he was. The Governor then read an address to the Society treating of the present war situation and the question of peace, comparing it happily to the days of the great Pitt and the Napoleonic struggle, when the first statesman of Britain rejected the false peace until the truth should be won.

The Rev. W. H. Thomas, taking the place of Rev. Mr. Sutherland, then read the Report of the Society for the past year. The report both showed an excellent record and was itself a masterpiece of composition. The Society is fortunate in having its activities and endeavours so well summarized and expressed. Mr. R. A. Templeton presented the accounts, which were most gratifying and encouraging, and were received with applause. Hon. J. Robinson in a short but eloquent speech moved the adoption of the report and accounts and congratulated warmly the officers responsible for them. He was seconded by Mr. H. A. Winter.

The Rev. Canon Colley, who was the speaker of the evening, then gave an address, based upon the Bible, "the divine library." In striking language he told of the comfort he had derived from its pages in the isolation of many outposts and on lonely Labrador. He pleaded, with many eloquent instances from the lives of great men, for greater attention to the Bible itself and its study, and less to its commentators. He told how a great divine of Oxford had advised an earnest student of theology to study the Gospels to begin at the beginning which all could read and know. He had himself been impressed by the want of vision of learned men, "without vision the people perish." The Bible provided the light for such vision. It was the truth, and the truth the strongest thing in the world. The whole address was one of great beauty and force.

The election of officers was proposed a happy speech by Superintendent Macpherson, seconded by Mr. C. Henderson and adopted. The officers and committee for the ensuing year are as follows: President—His Excellency the Governor. Patron—His Excellency the Governor. Hon. President—The Lord Bishop of Newfoundland. President—Rev. Canon Bolt, M.A. Vice-Presidents—J. E. P. Peters, Esq., Wm. Frey, Esq., R. W. Neely, Esq., John Leamon, Esq., Rev. Dr. Curtis, Lt. Col. Otway, S. A. Treasurer—R. A. Templeton, Esq. Corresponding Secretary—Rev. Gordon Dickie, M. A. Recording Secretary—W. R. Stirling, Esq. Distributing Secretary—John Leamon, Esq. Committee—All clergymen who are members of the society: Hons. A. F. Goodridge, James Angel, John Harvey, M. G. Winter, Messrs. P. J. Duley, John Steer, W. B. Grieve, P. G. Tessler, R. White, Arthur Mews, John Tovan, Wm. Fittors, Archibald Lindsay, Chas. H. Hitchings, K. C. Jesse, Whiteway, Albert Soper, J. A. Clift, K. C. Ell Dawe, J. R. Harvey, Jas. H. Thomas, J. J. Mackay, John Clouston, H. Macpherson, S. E. Garland, Alex. Robertson, A. Marshall, Adjt. Oxford, H. W. LeMessurier, C.M.G., Geo. Bursell, Adjt. Bruce, J. C. Puddister, N. S. Fraser, M.D., Chas. P. Ayre, Adjt. Hiscock, John Maunder, Harold Ayre. A vote of thanks to their Excellencies was proposed by Rev. J. Brimble, seconded by Mr. H. W. LeMessurier, C. M. G. The Rev. Canon Bolt, whom the Society is fortunate in having as its President, thanked Mr. H. W. Stirling and the St. Thomas's choir for their assistance in the musical programme, and the collectors for their services. The meeting closed with the Benediction, pronounced by the Rev. Dr. Curtis.

At Rest.

The mortal remains of the late John Dwyer, J. R., were laid to rest yesterday at Belvidere. The funeral took place from his late residence, "The Oaks." Amongst the large concourse of mourners present, including a guard of honor from the B. I. S., members of both branches of the Legionnaires, His Excellency the Governor was represented by Capt. Riley, M.C., A.D.C., and Hon. R. Watson. Rt. Rev. Mons. McDermott officiated at the Cathedral.

At The City Hall. At the opening of last evening's meeting of the Municipal Board, Mayor Gosling referred to the recent death of Mr. J. P. Grace, City Collector. He had held that responsible post for 27 years, and a tribute to his faithful services was paid by the Mayor. A resolution of sympathy was passed and a copy of it will be sent to the family of the deceased. The Imperial Oil Company reported that they had completed their plant for the storage of kerosene and gasoline on the Southside and asked for Council's approval. The City Engineer approved of the plant, according to the specification given. It was ordered by the Board that a copy of the Company's letter and the Engineer's report be sent the Inspector General before formal approval is granted.

THE IMPERIAL PEACEMAKER.

PARIS, To-day. L'Oeuvre publishes a curious story regarding a new peace move by the Kaiser. It is vouched for by a friend of the author of the famous German War Book, "J'accuse." The writer's identity is known to only three Swiss friends, one of whom furnished the information in question. It is known, says L'Oeuvre, that this anonymous writer has reliable sources of information in Germany. He asserts that the Emperor's letter to the Chancellor regarding peace proposals was written subsequently to the Chancellor's proposal and did not refer to it but to a new peace move which the Emperor contemplates making shortly, perhaps next Saturday on the occasion of his birthday. The Emperor's proposals would take the following lines: "The Allies are posing as future organizers of world peace. My note was to prove my love for peace. Since the Allies rejected my offer, but all adhere to the idea of universal peace, I will be the first promoter of this peace and propose that all parties meet forthwith to discuss the primordial article of war's ends namely, the reorganization of future peace. The Emperor: It is alleged, will on this occasion cite Emanuel Kant, who said "One day a powerful enlightened nation will establish the basis of Federal Union and by the cohesion of other nations will extend this union to other civilized nations."

FRENCH MEALS CUT DOWN.

PARIS, To-day. France to-day followed the example of England and Italy in restricting meals in restaurants. Dinners in restaurants are hereafter restricted to hors d'oeuvre or soup, two dishes and cheese or dessert. In regard to the two main dishes, the bill of fare, instead of 50 or 70 items usually presented, is confined to the minimum of nine. The nine consists of one egg, two fish, three meat and three vegetables.

THEATRICAL PERFORMERS COMING.

There will be all new variety show at Roseleys to-night, also some first class pictures. Roseleys have been most fortunate in securing Mr. Ed. Fox and Miss Carolyn Carr, who will open their engagement on Monday, January 29th. They are the most versatile theatrical people in the business and have played leads in many of the big New York productions, and have played their two people acts on both sides of the Atlantic. They come to St. John's city highly recommended by press and public. They have a wonderful collection of first class sketches, shows, dramas, good comedies and can give lots of changes. On Monday one of the best pictures seen in a long time will be "The Expiation" in three parts, a masterpiece of acting and photo play.

SPAIN TO STAY NEUTRAL.

MADRID, To-day. Whatever may happen, Spain will not intervene in the European war and will continue to observe loyal neutrality, according to a statement made by Count Romanones, Premier, in a speech at a luncheon given by the Mayor of Madrid to the Provincial Mayors. Referring to the situation created by the war, the Premier expressed the hope of seeing King Alfonso one day act as mediator. He added that intervention will only take place at an opportune moment and not before.

Best Literature of All.

Detroit News.—The Gideon society plans to increase to a million the number of serviceable, well-printed Bibles now to be found in 333,667 hot rooms in the United States. The society hopes to rescue the unregenerate traveller from darkness. If the Gideons employed a modern advertising expert to call attention to some of the stirring reading matter contained in the Testaments, they would confer an additional favor on a section of the public which, from all observation, confines its consumption of literature largely to periodicals bearing the portraits of insipid young women on their front covers and to the sporting page. The salesman or other wayfarer who will go back over the stories of Joseph and his brethren, of Samson and Delilah, of the Israelites' exile, will discover a profitable and pleasant method of filling in the terrible gap between dinner and bedtime in a strange town. The man who likes his Omar will discover a more profound hedonism in Ecclesiastes. For the lover of poetry, the Psalms and the Songs of Solomon are full of sonorous music. Without wishing to hurt business for the ladies who purvey magazines in the lobbies of our caravansaries, it must be truthfully said that there is no current fiction so capable of lifting an appreciative reader out of himself as the literature of the Scriptures.

Economy the Safeguard

Westminster Gazette: The submarine danger must be squarely faced. Our very success of last year has produced a new and temporarily more difficult problem which cannot be overcome all at once, and it is useless to rail at the Admiralty, which, so far from being asleep, is exceedingly alert on this problem. Wisely, it does not make promises or forecasts about the future, but certain things may be borne in mind. If the destruction of ships is increasing temporarily, so is their output here and in neutral countries. And even now the chief problem in shipping and the chief cause of the scarcity of tonnage is not the destruction of ships by submarines, but their absorption for war services. Certain economies may be made in this direction, but the greatest safeguard is, once again, economy in the consumption of supplies brought from overseas.

Killed in Boston.

Thomas Furlong, Once of St. John's, Meets Tragic Death.

We regret to record the death of Mr. Thomas Furlong, which event took place in Boston on Tuesday evening, January 16th, under very sad circumstances. The following clipping is taken from the Boston Globe, January 17th:—

"Early to-day the man who was killed by an electric car on Summer Street extension, near Fargo Street, South Boston, at 6 o'clock last evening, was identified as Thomas Furlong, 75 years of age, of 354 K Street, South Boston. He was the father of Walter Furlong of 25 Clarkston St., Dorchester, a clerk in the City's Treasurer's Office. Last night the old man was riding on the end of one of the wagons of the Brine Transportation Company, when an electric car ran into it. He was thrown to the ground and crushed under the car. He was taken to the Carney Hospital, but died on the way. The car was in charge of Conductor John E. Mallard and Motorman Michael J. Donovan. The deceased was well and favorably known by the older cooper in this city, and worked for many years as cooper in the employ of the late Messrs. Walter Grieve & Co. Having left here some 28 years ago for Boston, he secured employment as cooper with the Foster Shipping Co., and was still with that concern at the time of his death. He is survived by three sons: Walter, Matthew and William; one brother, Joseph, and one sister, Mrs. Lawlor, all of whom at present reside in Boston, to mourn their sad loss. His brother Alexander predeceased him a few weeks ago in this city. He leaves also a large circle of friends here, who will regret to hear of his tragic death. To all the Telegram extends its sympathy.

Revolting Crime.

COMMITTED BY GREYBEARD.

A 77 year old resident of Rantem, who had been living at that place with his granddaughter, was arrested some time ago for a most revolting crime that he had committed. He was put in the Penitentiary to await his trial. After a short stay there he became seriously ill and was transferred to the General Hospital. This morning he was conveyed to the Magistrate's Court, where he was released on signing bonds to appear when called upon. The old man is badly crippled in the legs and arms from rheumatism and is a complete physical wreck. The facts of his crime are unfit for publication.

McMurdo's Store News

FRIDAY, Jan. 26, 1917. For chronic or obstinate cough, or for what is known as Winter Cough—that unpleasant and sometimes dangerous affection that troubles some people regularly during the months of severe weather—Gault's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil can be depended upon to perform the maximum amount of service. Many people, indeed, have found it an absolute cure for the above and other more recent coughs and colds. Gault's Tar and Cod Liver Oil is not merely a cough mixture though it is that, but a powerful tonic and builder for the whole system. Price 50c. a bottle. Just in: Stearn's Headache Wafers, Stearn's Wine of Cod Liver Oil.

Reids' Boats.

The Arryle not reported since leaving Placentia at 8 a.m. yesterday. The Glencoe left St. Jacques at 8.20 p.m. yesterday, going west. The Kyle reached Port aux Basques at 8.10 a.m. to-day. The Sagona left Port aux Basques at 6.10 a.m. to-day.

BODY ON EXPRESS.—The remains of the late Geo. Maiden, who was killed at Boston on Sunday last, are on the incoming express and will be transferred at Brigus junction to-morrow where they will be taken to his late home at Brigus for burial.

Man Killed by Runaway Horse.

At 10.30 a.m. to-day Mr. Denis J. Sullivan, aged 66 years and for several years an employee of the St. John's Municipal Council, was killed by a runaway horse. It happened that the victim who was performing his regular duties as a sanitary man, was in the act of cleaning up some ashes that lay in the drain on the north side of Water Street, two doors east of Alexander Street, when the horse, owned by Mr. T. J. Edens and attached to his delivery sleigh, took fright at the foot of Leslie St., and dashed down Water Street. The left shaft of the sleigh struck poor Sullivan in the back of the head and knocked him down by the side of a hopper, the runners passing over his body. The frightened animal continued at break-neck speed down Water Street and turning up Job Street was captured near the West End Fire Hall. The unfortunate man was picked up by Mr. Isaac Barrington, a co-worker, and Mr. John Murphy, of the West End and brought to the home of Mrs. Edward Fortune, who keeps a small grocery store at the foot of Alexander Street. Mrs. Fraser and Anderson were summoned but their services were of no avail for the poor man never regained consciousness and twenty minutes after the fatal blow passed away. Rev. Frs. Pippy and Renouf reached the scene shortly before death set in and administered the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church to the dying man, while Rev. Dr. Greene, of the Cathedral, who was informed of the sad occurrence, broke the news to the widow of the deceased at her home 8 Gorman's Lane. The late Denis J. Sullivan was well known to many in St. John's and was gifted with humour and wit that marked him as a person who will be greatly missed by those who were associated with him. The remains were placed in a temporary casket by Undertaker Martin and conveyed to the late home of the deceased at noon to-day. Left to mourn, besides his widow are several grown-up sons and daughters, including one son in the Royal Navy now on active service. To the bereaved relatives the Telegram offers sympathy.

Man Drops Dead at Bell Island.

We learn from people who reached the city from Bell Island this morning that a man belonging to Placentia dropped dead while eating and drinking at the tables at 6.30 o'clock this morning. The man, whose name is not known, intended returning to his home to-day and had been out early in the morning to secure the services of Mr. Patrick Brian to drive him to the boat. No further particulars were received.

In Milady's Boudoir.

HOW TO KEEP YOUNG.

Few women of the present day will acknowledge that they have grown old, and in fact, they have not mentally, only their bodies have grown old, or it may be possible that the body is still young and active, but they have carelessly allowed it to grow old in appearance. The latter is, in most cases, the cause of many a young woman appearing old beyond her years. There is really no excuse for this condition, and in order to avoid it, I would suggest that at least a part of one day each week should be set apart for taking stock of one's self.

In this manner one will be able to discover one's shortcomings, and then it is one's duty to take steps that will correct their shortcomings. A mirror and a tape measure should be a woman's adviser, for they, like the photographic camera, will not misrepresent her true condition. When one finds that one is losing either youth, beauty or symmetry, it is high time to take steps that will restore these valued possessions.

One's mental attitude has much to do with one's appearance, but at the same time restorative remedies must also be sought, and as different constitutions demand different treatments, it would be wise and proper to consult a specialist who is versed in treating your particular shortcomings. But prevention is better than cure, so I will confine this article to prevention.

To be young, beautiful and be the happy possessor of a symmetrical form one must be healthy. Health demands plenty of sunlight, pure air, proper respiration, a clean body, exercise, restful sleep, good digestion and the drinking of plenty of pure water and easily digested food.

Members of Gower St. Choir will meet for practice to-night at 9 o'clock. A full attendance essential.—Jan 26, 11

Pigeon Holes for People.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

You simply can't pigeon hole people. There is a time in our early youth when we think of people only as individuals, and don't try to class them as types. A little later comes a time when we begin to classify and generalize. And then it is that we try to put all the people we know in pigeon holes, according to types, and keep them there. Then we grow still a little older, and we discover that people are individual as well as types and that you simply can't keep them in pigeon holes for any length of time without having them pop out at you.

She Says "That Open Fireplace Are Too Dirty." For instance, a friend of mine, who is fond of reading aloud in the evening and seems to me just the person who would adore open fireplaces, started me the other day by saying that she wouldn't have one in the house—they were too dirty.

Whereas the woman who is so punctiliously neat that all her friends clean their houses when she comes to see them, gave me an equal surprise by saying that it was one of her greatest ambitions to have an apartment with a fireplace.

The Man Who Does Not Like Dogs. Again, there is the man who does not like dogs. He is a big, typically out-of-doors man, open-hearted and open-handed, indifferent to clothes and appearances. It seems as if he must love dogs. And he has no use for them—says they are dirty and stupid—turns from them with an aversion that one might expect from a little, over-dressed fop. The Case of the Three Brothers. And then there is the case of the three brothers. The oldest is another out-of-doors man, large voiced, large hearted, loves to swim and hunt and fish. The second is a very quiet, generally reticent person, likes outdoors but in a quiet way—a great worker and thinker. The third cares less for outdoors—goes in much for social gatherings, has quite a way with women. When the dancing craze came along, any one would have unhesitatingly picked him as one who would care the most for dancing. He hates it. And both the other brothers have gone quite mad over it.

It is the same way when you try to pigeon hole any one, as all good or all bad. Just when I think I have a good hate on a person, he ups and does something so kind and generous that I can't hate him any longer. It's most discouraging, isn't it?

Your Boys and Girls.

As a rule babies are overfed rather than underfed. But if the baby cried as soon as his bottle is taken away, and again before the next feeding time, a careful increase may be made day by day toward a stronger mixture stopping at a point where he is satisfied.

If a baby sleeps restlessly, vomits his food, or has loose movements, it usually indicates that he is being fed too much, too often, or that his food is stronger than he can digest. If the baby is breast fed, the interval between nursing should be lengthened to four hours, as a first measure. For bottle fed babies the amount of the day's feeding may be decreased by using one half the usual contents of each bottle until the disturbance has ceased.

BROKEN VOWS.

W. S. COYS

I made a vow on New Year's day that never, never would I say a word to shock the gentlest soul; I'd spring no smoky rigmarole, however often trouble came, or tribulation climbed my frame. But when I didn't know that car would pitch my person in a loathsome ditch, and wrap the windshield round my neck, and make of me a grewsome wreck, I didn't know cold waves would come, and knock the plumbing out of plumb. I didn't know I'd freeze my feet while wading through ten miles of sleet. I didn't know the coal I'd bought with coin for which I'd fiercely fought, would all be gone two months before Spring could be looked for at the door. Man's vision cannot pierce the veil which hides the future's vital tale; so when he says, "I'll make a vow, since pledging is the fashion now; I will do this, I won't do that," he's simply talking through his hat.

Advance of the Newfoundlanders

4.30 p.m., October 12th, 1916. (By W. S. Coys, 1st Nfld. Regiment.)
 (By W. S. Coys, 1st Nfld. Regiment.)
 Our lads from Newfoundland far over the sea. Onward they swept till the last man had fallen. Had fallen for Britain, the land of the free. With guns in front and rear, With death and danger near, To them unknown was fear, Gallant five hundred!

Oh, well might we love the fair land that bore us, That can boast of such sons, so loyal and true. Who gave of their all to keep the flag flying, The flag of our Empire, the red, white and blue. For no braver deed hath e'er been recorded. That their steady advance o'er the shell-riven soil, The scene of long months of horror and anguish Amid death and danger, privation and toil. On swept that gallant band, Falling on every hand, O'er that dread No Man's land Went that five hundred!

The United States and the War.

We have hesitated to say anything on this subject heretofore, but after the article that appeared in the Churchman of New York a couple of weeks ago we need scarcely hesitate any longer. We do not think that it would have helped the cause of the Allies very materially had the United States declared war on Germany, but we do think that to place the sinking of innocent ships with hundreds of innocent women and children on board, on practically the same level as the interference with commercial shipping is unworthy of any Christian nation. The United States is in very real danger of losing the respect of every other civilized nation, whether of the Allies or of the enemy. The article referred to above states that the total war profits of the United States "are conservatively reckoned to be $2,400,000,000," and their war charities $34,000,000. They have given $12,000,000 for the relief of Belgium as compared with $238,000,000 sent to the United States by England and France to buy food and clothes for that unfortunate nation. Out of this latter sum the United States made a profit of over $47,000,000, or nearly four times as much as its total contribution. In other words, it in reality gave nothing and made a profit out of Belgium's need, of $35,000,000. We are reminded of the words of the late Jacob Riis about one "man's greed that fattens on his neighbour's need," and we are reminded also of those other words, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" The danger that faces the United States as a nation, as it faces individuals here and there even in our own land, is that she may lose not only the respect of other nations but her own self-respect. She may be "too proud to fight," but she is evidently not too proud to reap profit from those who are the innocent victims of war. We are convinced though that thousands of people in the United States are heartily ashamed of the situation and would gladly have it otherwise.—Canadian Churchman.

The Bill of Particulars

(From the New York Sun.)

The German people have the bill of particulars drawn by the Allies, while the German leaders are on their side evading the presentation of an equivalent statement. The perception by the German people of this main fact of the situation is bound to count sooner or later for peace. The first effect of the discovery that they have been misinformed when told that their enemies were a beaten band, ready to compromise for peace by any process that may save their faces, will doubtless be to exasperate the deceived German population and to embitter their determination to fight it out at whatever cost of present suffering and possible future humiliation. Following this state of mind, it is reasonably sure there will come to the German people an increasing acquiescence in the idea that terms of peace may be severe and yet honorable because they are just. Nations do not keep on fighting forever in a hopeless cause for dynastic benefit. Whole peoples will not consent to sacrifice the last man to the trenches and the last woman and the last child to starvation at home in order to cover the mistakes and crimes of unsuccessful leaders. When the uselessness of the sacrifice becomes apparent, when there has been a period for consideration in the light of the truth as now elicited from one set of belligerents, it is not probable that the Germans themselves will be asking their leaders the same question which Mr. Wilson put to their Governments without getting an answer: "What are we fighting for?" For that reason it may perhaps be fortunate, in the interest of future peace, if no bill of particulars is rendered just now from the German side.

If your hands are inclined to be red in cold weather, wash them in tepid water and pure soap; dry them thoroughly and apply a softening solution.

In Five Minutes! No Indigestion, Gas Or Sour, Acid Stomach

The moment "Pape's Diapepsin" reaches the stomach all distress goes.

"Really does" put bad stomach in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back. It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach regulator in the world.

AT THE CRESCENT. A great week-end variety program is on at the Crescent Picture Palace to-day; the Lubin Company presents a two reel mystery drama: "The Avenger." The Selig Company presents Tom Mix in "The Cowpunchers Peril," a western drama. The Biograph: "A Moaher's Son" and the Kalem Company Rose Melville as "Sis Hopkins" in "Setting the Fashion," a clever comedy. Professor McCarthy plays a programme of new music to accompany this big show. The usual big matinee on Saturday, extra pictures for the children, send them to the cozy Crescent.

LONDON, Jan. 25.

(Via Reuters' Ottawa Agency.)—Right Hon. David Lloyd George gave an important interview to-day on the subject of the forthcoming Imperial War Council to the London correspondent of the Australian United Cable Service. The Premier said: "I do not wish to interfere in any way with the affairs of the great self-governing Dominion, but we took the step, urgently inviting the Dominions' Premiers to London, despite the fact that it might cause much inconvenience locally, because we desired their advice and assistance in the coming decisions about the conduct of the war and negotiating peace. Australia knows that I am no jingo, my record contains no journeying into flamboyant imperialism, yet I regard this Council as marking the beginning of a new epoch in the history of the Empire. The war has changed us. Heaven knows, it has taught us more than we yet understand. It has opened a new age for us and we want to go into that age together with our fellows overseas, just as we have come through the darkness together and shed our blood and treasures together." It was obvious, says the correspondent, that in Lloyd George's mind the first duty of the Council would be to consider the immediate task of winning the war. "The Empire War Council," continued the Premier, "will deal with all general questions affecting the war. The Prime Ministers, or their representatives, will be temporary members of the War Cabinet, and we propose to arrange that all matters of first-rate importance should be considered at a series of special meetings. Nothing affecting the Dominions, the conduct of the war, or the negotiations for peace will be excluded from its purview. There will, of course, be domestic questions which each part of the Empire must settle for itself, questions such as recruiting in the United Kingdom or home legislation. Such domestic matters will be our only reservation, but we propose that everything else should be, so to speak, on the table." "Will the discussion include such matters as the fate of the German colonies?" was asked. Lloyd George said, "That is one obvious question, but there are many questions of equal moment. All difficult problems connected with the making of peace, as was stated in the Government's invitation, will be threshed out. The war policy of the Empire will be clearly defined, and of great importance is, what I may call preparation for peace. That will involve not only demobilization, but such after-the-war questions as the migration of our people to other parts of the Empire, settlement of soldiers on land, commerce and industry." "You have not hesitated to depart from precedent?" "We certainly have not," answered the Premier, "but in these days we can't hesitate, because we are breaking precedents. The Empire has thrown itself heart and soul into the war. We would be failing in our duties if we did not take every possible step that its leaders get together from time to time. You do not suppose that we think that the overseas nations can raise or place in the field armies containing an enormous proportion of their best manhood and not want to have a say, and a real say, determining the use to which they are to be put. That seems to us an impossible and undesirable proposition. That is why one of the first acts of the new Government was to ask the Overseas Premiers to come over, not to a formal Imperial Conference, but to the Executive Cabinet of the Empire. That is why we have arranged for a representative from India, which has rendered invaluable service to our common cause, to be present also." "This implies," suggested the correspondent, "that the Conference should be as soon as possible?" "Certainly," replied Lloyd George. "The war is not won yet. We want to concert our efforts so that we may exert our maximum strength at a critical moment. Further, we are most anxious that during the last and most trying phase of the war, the British Empire may present to the world an absolutely united front. Up to the present the British Government has shouldered the responsibility for the policy of the war, alone. It now wishes to know that in its measures for prosecuting the war to a finish, in its negotiations for peace, it will be carrying out the policy agreed upon by representatives of the whole Empire, sitting in plenary council together." "What about after the war?" he was asked. "If you mean by that, constitution and reconstruction," answered Lloyd George, "I can only say it's too soon to talk about after the war." But I can say this, things can never be the same after the war as before it. Five democracies, all parts of one Empire, cannot shed their blood and treasures with heroism and disregard of cost which has been beyond all praise, without leaving memories of comradeship and great accomplishment which will never die. Of this I am certain, the peoples of the Empire will have found a unity in war such as never existed before, a unity not only of history, but of purpose. What practical change in imperial organization that will mean, I do not venture to predict. That it will involve some change is certain. I believe all the statesmen of the Old Country and the Dominions who have spoken about it are unanimous on that point. The forthcoming War Council, however, cannot deal with these fundamental post-war problems, but it may afford some insight into the form they may take." "Then you are sanguine about the future of the Empire?" "If we see the war through, I certainly am," the Premier answered. "You do not suppose that a great combination of peoples who make up the Empire can have stood steadfastly together with their allies in order to discredit and overthrow the most brutal and inhuman machine for the destruction of human liberties that the world has ever seen, and not have discovered a new ground for friendship. We stand at this moment on the verge of the greatest liberation the world has ever seen since the French Revolution. Do you tell me that the peoples who have stood together staked literally everything in order to bring that liberation about, are not going to find some way of perpetuating that unity afterwards on equal basis? I am certain that they will. There will be much for them to do. Peace will be only beginning after they are sufficiently ar-

What a Gas Range Means for You, Mrs. Housekeeper.

The gas range is a muscle saver and a step saver. Think of the many tons of coal you used in that coal range, and how you have had to handle it all twice; first, carrying it up out of the cellar; then, from the kitchen to the ash barrel. No more soot to wipe away; no more ashes to cart away; no more wood to fetch; no more coal dust; no more smoke and no more reason why the kitchen cannot be kept as clean and as orderly as the parlor. The gas range means just this.

Saves 50 Per Cent. of Kitchen Cares.
Half of the labor in the house is caused by dust from the coal range. Every time it smokes, no matter how good the draught may be, clouds of ashes rise and settle on the furniture.

It Eliminates Hard Work.
Use a gas range and you will live better, you will play better, and you will work better because the use of the gas range eliminates the drudgery of carrying coal, ashes and the chopping of kindling, as well as the drudgery of cleaning up a lot of dirt, and, best of all, for the cook it makes it unnecessary for her to stand over a hot stove from two to three hours a day.

anged. We shall have to set at work to build up that ordered freedom and fraternity which is the only security for human peace and progress, which militarism has destroyed, and is it not certain that the nations which have borne the heat and burden of the day in overthrowing that militarism will take a leading share in building a new earth which they have made possible by their sacrifices? No, if we endure to the end, I have small fears for the future, and not the least important of the foundations for the work we shall have to do together for that future will be this War Council of British peoples."

BIG BATTLE CONTINUES UNABATED.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.
The big battle between the Germans and Russians over the frozen marshes southwest of Riga, continues unabated. Further progress for the Germans along both sides of the river was reported yesterday by Berlin, which claims an advance over a front of about six miles and the capture of Russian prisoners numbering 14 officers and 1,714 men, and 13 machine guns. Petrograd admits that southeast of the river the Russians have had to fall back a third of a mile, but says the attacks by the Germans on the marsh were repulsed. Aside from this battle, fighting on various other theatres continues to be carried out mainly by artillery and small reconnoitering raiding parties. In Roumania the extremely cold weather has virtually put an end to operations for the moment. Lively fighting has taken place on the famous Deadman Hill, in Verdun region, in France, but no details have been made public. Reciprocal artillery duels, which have reached considerable proportions at some points, are being fought from the Swiss frontier to the North Sea. The British Treasury, under Defence of the Realm Act, will shortly requisition such foreign securities held in Britain as may be required to strengthen the country's financial position.

ON THE WESTERN FRONT.

LONDON, Jan. 25.
The British War Office to-night made public the following: "We carried out a very successful raid at noon to-day in the neighborhood of Mülh. Many of the enemy were killed in their trenches and also in a dug-out destroyed by us. We secured some prisoners. Our casualties were four men slightly wounded. Two hostile raiding parties were driven off last night east of Fauquissart. A third party succeeded early this morning in reaching our trenches east of Ypres, under cover of heavy bombardment. The raiders were immediately driven out and our position re-established. The enemy's artillery activity was most marked during the day in Ypres sector. Our artillery also effectively replied. We carried out a successful bombardment of the enemy's trenches east of Neuville St. Vaast. There was much aerial activity yesterday on both sides. One enemy machine was brought down by our anti-aircraft guns. In the course of the air fights four other German machines were destroyed and three more driven down damaged. Three of our machines are missing."

AN OFFICIAL DENIAL.

LONDON, Jan. 25.
The following official was issued to-night: "In view of the repeated allegations in German official statements, it is necessary to state again, quite clearly, no British vessel engaged in the fight on the morning of Tuesday was rammed by any enemy ship or in any way damaged, other than the torpedo boat destroyer reported sunk after being torpedoed."

IRISH-CANADIAN RANGERS.

DUBLIN, Jan. 24.
The 199th Irish-Canadian Rangers, who arrived here to-day, under command of Colonel O'Donohue, are being received with warm welcome by the population. The presence of journalists not only from London and the Provinces, but from the Spanish, Norwegian, Swedish and American press, shows that significant interest is taken in the visit. The journalists were guests at dinner to-night of Lord Decies, Irish censor.

MACKENSEN DECORATED.

BERLIN, Jan. 25.
Emperor William conferred upon Field Marshal Von Mackensen the Grand Cross of the Iron Cross to-day at the same time he sent the Field Marshal a letter expressing the thanks of the Fatherland for his achievements. Field Marshal Von Hindenburg had the Grand Cross conferred upon him by Emperor William on Dec. 19th last.

THE ARMY VIEW.

LONDON, Jan. 25.
The Army's views of the peace discussions were expressed to the Associated Press to-day by Major General F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the war office, who declared that the position of Britain was closely analogous to that of the Federal States in the American civil war at its most critical phase, inasmuch as the British like the North possessed great points of superiority in blockade, man power, resources and wealth. General Maurice said: "I cannot say much about the actual military operations as general winter has taken charge on all fronts, even in Mesopotamia where heavy rains prevent operations; but I do want to say something about the peace discussions again brought to our attention by President Wilson's message to the Senate. My comments are entirely from a military standpoint. If I am correctly informed by the extracts from the various American papers it seems that a certain section of American opinion holds that with traditional British build-up obstinacy we are keeping up a hopeless war without any chance of a favorable termination. The Associated Press may recall the first interview I gave it after the Somme offensive began. I was asked point blank by its correspondent if the great push had begun. I replied that if by the big push Britain's maximum effort were meant my reply must be no, as in recalling this I might say I was looking a long way ahead. The condition of Britain, if an historical analogy is followed, may be compared with the position of the Federal States at the critical Hundreds of people are suffering from Coughs and Colds at the present time. You may be as careful as you like in trying to avoid catching this miserable Cough and Cold but you'll get it don't matter what you do—so "Don't Worry" while Stafford's Phorastene Cough and Cold Cure is obtainable. "Whooping Cough" is also very prevalent amongst children, you can use nothing better than "Stafford's Phorastene". The above preparation is manufactured only by DR. F. STAFFORD & SON, Theatre Hill, St. John's, Nfld. Open every night till 9.30."

"DON'T WORRY."

stage of your last great war. The North had been very unfortunate in the early stage of the war, but like the British it possessed three great points, superiority in blockade, man power and wealthy resources. We started unprepared. We had to make a great army from a very small one. Not only had we to supply this vast army but had to find suitable command, as recalling your history, you will remember the North also had to. Our blockade is causing some inconvenience to the United States, but your civil war blockade caused actual starvation in Lancashire when mills were compelled to close by lack of cotton. In man power we certainly have not reached our zenith. While the progress of the present war loan will show our wealth we still have ample for our purpose. People who are closer to public opinion than I am tell me the vast bulk of our people are not ready to conclude peace. Undoubtedly a small section of our public consider our chances of victory so hopeless that they are willing to make peace on almost any terms as were certain groups in the Northern States. If the idea that we are stubbornly fighting without hope of victory is at all prevalent, I am sure it will be useful to call the attention of your readers to the above civil war analogy. Quoting a higher authority than myself, from General Haig's last despatch, you can see that the army would consider peace now as nothing short of a crime." (Continued on 8th Page.)

Doctor Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home. Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are your eyes strained or tired? Do you have to squint? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is a new hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man writes after trying it: "I was almost blind, could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not wear any more. At first they would pain dreadfully, now they feel like all the time. It was a miracle to me." A lady who used it writes: "My eyes were so sore they would not open. After using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read the print without glasses. It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and without any cost will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules set forth in the prescription: Go to any drug store and buy a bottle of Eps-Opto tablets. Drop one Eps-Opto tablet in a tumbler of glass water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid wipe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and in a few days you will be able to read and do your work without any glasses. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, this is the time to have them put to rest. It is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

(Continued from 7th Page.) GERMAN NOTE NOT YET RECEIVED. WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. The wireless despatch, reported to be sent to the State Department by Ambassador Gerard from Berlin at the urgent request of the German Government, containing the German official view of President Wilson's peace address, had not arrived to-day. Secretary of State Lansing said he would have no objection to announcing the mere fact of its arrival, although it was doubtful if its contents will be made public.

SCHER, SUPPOSED LOST. CHARLOTTETOWN, Jan. 25. The ship Mary Fleming, Capt. Silver, of 100 tons, loaded here with a cargo of potatoes, sailed from Charlottetown on Dec. 8th for New York. She called at Lunenburg and left there Dec. 12th. No word has since been heard of her. She is supposed to have been lost on George's Bank during the big gales of middle December. The captain and crew of six belong to Lunenburg.

Citizens' Committee

Complete Revision of Their Work to Date. Vice-Chairman Mr. W. A. O'D. Kelly presided at last night's meeting of the Citizens' Committee when Sections 226 to 255 were gone over. This completes the revision of the work of the committee, since it was called into being in April last year and the further discussion of the remaining 142 Sections will be commenced at the next night of meeting. Concerning Section 245, dealing with the Municipal Arrears Commission, it was the opinion of the Citizens' Committee that the Governor in Council shall appoint two members of the Municipal Council and another person in no way connected with the Council or its employees. The duties of the said Commission shall be to collect and arrange for the payment of all rates or taxes due the city. Considerable discussion in relation to the housing problem occupied the attention of the meeting for upwards of an hour and on motion of Mr. Joyce, seconded by Mr. Way and supported by Messrs. Merrills, Chafe and Lindsay the following new section was drawn up:— The Council shall appoint a Board consisting of any three persons, giving them powers to control the renting of all houses at $100 or less and all tenement houses, providing this shall not apply to houses built under the proposed new law or which have been built in accordance with the same. Section 255 dealing with license fees on certain businesses it was decided to support the Mayor in his demand from the Government the annual license fee of $4 for each telephone in the city limits which amounts to $3,496. The tax on Loan and Investment Companies shall not apply to local Thrift Clubs. Junk Dealers Tax to be raised from $25 to $50. Journeyman plumbers shall pay 25 cents a year for their annual certificates instead of $1. The idea of the tax is that the Municipal Council will have some system of keeping track of those who handle the water, sewerage and all other pipe fittings belonging to the city. The meeting adjourned at 10.45 p.m.

ORGANISING MAN POWER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25. The Sun publishes the following special cable from London under yesterday's date: The first steps toward civil mobilization indicating Great Britain's administrative determination to fight to a finish and to victory, have crowded out any discussion of the attitude of the United States toward distant peace league schemes. Labor support expressed at the Manchester conference has greatly gratified the Government and will pave the way for Neville Chamberlain's fast maturing plans for the mobilization of all industries, and the cutting down of the number of men workers in non-essential trades to a minimum, and increasing to a maximum the efficiency of all vital trades. Mr. Chamberlain's scheme contemplates the dividing of Great Britain into six districts, Wales and Scotland each constituting a division; the other centres being Leeds, Manchester, Birmingham and Bristol. With these points as basis he intends to rush all war work and food production to the limit of the laborers' capacity and maintain high speed until the war ends. The first call for volunteers under the national service rule was made a few days ago. There is no age limit and both men and women are accepted. Speakers are spreading all over the country to carry out the campaign of recruiting, similar to the early days of the war when soldiers for fighting were recruited. As fast as recruits are gathered they will be drafted into battalions, according to their fitness for various kinds of work, the strongest women becoming members of the land service corps, and the weaker ones joining the munitions making army.

Burns' Night.

A Great Success — A Message from Provost Mitchell, of Ayr. The members of the St. Andrew's Association very fittingly celebrated the anniversary of Robert Burns, the great Scotch poet, at their club rooms last night. Mr. J. Browning, President, occupied the chair and in his address extended a hearty welcome to the guests of the evening. He referred briefly to the life and works of the famous bard, and pointed out that a great many contemporaries of Burns had passed out of the minds of men, but it was a significant fact that he lives more to-day than ever in the hearts and minds of the people. The following message was then read by the President which was received from Provost Mitchell, of Ayr:— Secretary St. Andrew's Club, Saint John's, Nfld. Auld Ayr, joined with your gallant lads here and in France, sends greetings. By all Europe's woes and pains By our sons in service chains We will drain our dearest veins But we shall be free And have peace with victory. At the conclusion of the President's address a very enjoyable concert, which was followed by a dance, took place. The programme, consisting of songs by Mrs. F. J. King, Messrs. McIntyre, P. Jardine, Butt, Williams and McIntosh, a recitation by Miss Hamilton, duet by Messrs. Hague and McIntosh and a quartette by Messrs. Young, R. Ross, Alec Ross and McIntosh was nicely rendered. A feature of the evening was the recitation by Miss Hamilton of a poem on Burns and Auld Scotia composed by Mr. James Murphy. Miss Jean Robertson acted as accompanist and the dance music was furnished by Miss Power. Ayrshire Bacon and Scotch Beef Ham at ELLIS'. INSTRUCTION COMPETITION. The different section commanders of the C. L. B. are now busy getting their lads into shape for the instruction competition for the Outer-bridge Shield which will be held shortly. New England's "Greatest Classic."

Here is what New Englanders like to call their "greatest classic." 'Twas on the whaler Mozambique, a hundred and forty days at sea an' not a drop of ice in the tanks. An' I was forrard, an' I hears the man in the crew's nest say: "Thar she blows!" An' I goes aft, an' I says: "Cap'n Simmons," says I, "the man on the lookout says: 'Thar she blows. Shall I lower?'" He tuk a look at the clouds, Cap'n Simmons did, an' he says: "Mr. Simms," says he, "it's a-blowin' quite too peart, an' I don't see fitten for to lower." An' I went forrard, an' the men on the lookout sings out again: "Thar she blows an' spouts!" An' I goes aft, an' I says spouts to Cap'n Simmons, says I: "Cap'n Simmons," says I, "thar she blows an' spouts; shall I lower?" An' Cap'n Simmons, he says to me, says he: "Mr. Simms," says he, "as I told you once before, the wind is blowin' quite too peart, an' I don't see fitten for to lower." An' I went forrard, an' the lookout hailed again: "On deck, sir," says he. "Thar she blows, an' spouts an' breaches!" An' I goes aft, "Cap'n Simmons," says I, "thar she blows, an' spouts an' breaches! Shall I lower?" An' Cap'n Simmons, he says, says he: "Mr. Simms," says he, "I've told you twice already that it's a-blowin' quite too peart, an' I don't see fitten for to lower." An' I went forrard, an' I hears the man on the lookout say: "Thar she blows, an' spouts, an' belches, an' breaches, an' sperm at that!" An' I goes aft, "Cap'n Simmons," says I, "thar she blows, an' spouts, an' belches, an' breaches, an' sperm at that! Now shall I lower?" An' Cap'n Simmons, he tuk another look at the scuddin' clouds, an' he says to me, says he: "Mr. Simms," says he, "it's a-blowin' right smart peart, an' I don't see fitten for to lower; but you may lower if you like, an' be damned to ye!" An' I went forrard, an' sings out for volunteers, an' the boys just tumbles over each other a-droppin' into the boat. An' I tuk the steerin' oar aft, an' we clumped that critter into the middle of the next watch. "Way enough, boys," says I. "Now put me just three seas nearer an' give me the iron, because I'm hell on the long dart." An' they gin me the iron an' I socked it to her—an' it tuk, Daown she goes, an' the rope fairly smoked as it payed out of the tub an' aroun' the roller. Up she comes, clost alongside, an' I give her the lance, an' that settled her. Cap'n Simmons, he'd worked the ship to wind'ard, an' thar he laid, clost alongside, with his yards backed. He done it smart an' handy, I'll give him credit for that. An' when we tows alongside, thar stood Cap'n Simmons at the gangway with tears in his eyes as big as fishballs. An' he says: "Mr. Simms," says he, "forty years," says he, "I've sailed the seas," says he, "as man an' boy, an' you're the best fut mate I ever see. You're the finest mate that ever sailed on the good ship Mozambique, or as ever I sailed shipmates with. Mr. Simms," says he, "down in my cabin, in the forrard till of the port locker, you'll find whiskey, gin, terbacker, an' the best New England rum. Them's yours for the rest of the v'y'ge." An' I says to him, says I: "Cap'n Simmons," says I, "I don't want yer whiskey, nor your gin an' your terbacker, nor your best New England rum. All I wants from you, sir, for the rest of this v'y'ge, is sea-v'il-t-tee, and that of the blank-blankest cheapest kind." An' I went forrard.

Quarter-Master Fred. Churchill

ARRIVES ON FURLOUGH. Quartermaster Fred Churchill, of the Canadian torpedo boat destroyer Grise, reached the city last night on a ten days furlough, and left for Portugal Cove this morning to visit his relatives. The marvellous escape of the Grise in the big December gale that swept the coast of Nova Scotia has been told in the public despatches, while the part played in saving the ship from a ten days furlough, and left for Portugal Cove this morning to visit his relatives.

Big Hockey Match.

ARMY VS. CITY. The much talked of meeting between seven hockeyists from the Regiment and a picked team from the city will be pulled off next Monday evening at the Prince's Rink, commencing at 7.30. The proceeds of the game will be devoted to the Patriotic Fund. The probable players will be: Regiment. Power, L.-Corp. Duley goal. Tobin, Lieut. M. Churchill point. Watts, Lieut. C. Strong cover. Jerrett, L.-Corp. Winter rover. Bennett, Pte. White centre. Kelly, Lieut. E. Churchill left wing. Brien, Corp. Mews, right wing.

CITY'S HEALTH.

Five cases of diphtheria were reported in the city within the past week; one patient died. Two cases of scarlet fever were reported during the same period, one resulting in death.

Household Notes.

Fondant, the basis of all good cream candies, can be used as a covering and also as a filling. Whenever you take stock out of the stock pot, add an equal amount of water to keep up the supply. A simple dessert is made by adding chopped nuts to stewed apples and serving with whipped cream. If a soft piece of home-made bread is rubbed on a scorch on woolen goods it will remove the scorch. It is better to have too much than too little of the mineral substances found in milk and fresh vegetables. All cereals should first be boiled rapidly for a few minutes and then slowly for hours in a double boiler. Two parts of one part of lemon juice will make a good baking powder substitute in an emergency. Indoor clothing in winter should not be much heavier than in summer; put the weight into the outer clothing. Never wash hair brushes in warm water if you would like the bristles to stay in. Use cold water and ammonia. When drying knitted things, do not hang them up, but pull them into good shape and lay them on a towel, flat, to dry. The beauty of a good washing machine is that it does much of its work while the housewife is busy with other tasks.

Crowds in Streets of Cratz, Austria, Cry "We Want Peace"; Troops Called Out, Refuse to Attack Populace. Amsterdam, January 13.—The news has just leaked out that there were serious popular disturbances at Cratz, last Saturday and Sunday. Huge crowds thronged the streets, demanding increased rations. They cried "We are starving," "We want peace." The crowds were riotous and attacked numerous shops. The disturbances reached such a point on Saturday night that troops quartered at Cratz were called out. The troops included a battalion of the 27th regiment. Another regiment was composed chiefly of Czechs. The soldiers refused to attack the populace, and the officers being powerless marched the men back to the barracks. The disturbances were renewed on Sunday without any aid from the military. The police were unable to restore order.

Rann-dom Reels. LIFE. Life is a short journey which people are not consulted about until it is too late to back out. Under our present rules and regulations nobody is allowed to choose his birthplace, parents, antecedents or future prospects. This condition of affairs works a great hardship upon people who would prefer to have been born into some home where nobody is required to perform any manual labor except to fill out a blank check ever and anon. It is extremely annoying to a sensitive young man with a keen intellect and bulging feet to be born into a home of poverty, where everybody else works, and have to borrow money from an old maid sister who dressmakes for a living. The only remedy for such a young man is to marry some girl who inherited four or five farms well stocked with alfalfa and sorrel pigs. Life is very seldom appreciated until we get where we can peek over the edge and see the stepping-off place. One of the most dismal sights that can strike the human eye is that of an old man who is just as sour-tempered at eighty as he was at forty and who has no idea where he is going when he gets through. Life has no boundary line for the good mother who, after own, slips away upon an unchartered sea with a faith as unshakable as the everlasting hills. Life would be more satisfactory all around if people would regulate it themselves. A certain amount of theology is all right, but it is a mighty poor substitute for paying a decrepit drygoods bill. We would rather take our chances at the judgment seat with the man who pays his bills and sits up with a sick neighbor, than with the occupant of a rented pew who passes the collection box with one hand and holds out 24 per cent. interest with the other.

Charge of Tommies Ends Peace Meeting.

Soldiers Eject Ramsay MacDonald and Mrs. Snowden, the Speakers From London Hall.

London, Jan. 9.—A whirlwind rush by soldiers in khaki wound up an attempt to hold a peace meeting tonight at a hall in Walthamstow, on the outskirts of London. James Ramsay MacDonald, a Labor member of Parliament, and Mrs. Philip Snowden, wife of a pacifist member of Parliament, who herself recently visited America on a peace errand, were hustled off the platform by the soldiers, who, after clearing the hall of all pacifists, turned the affair into a meeting to push the war to a relentless end.

Mr. MacDonald, expecting to reserve for himself the opportunity of closing the meeting with a speech, allowed Mrs. Snowden to take the platform first. She launched into an impassioned demand for peace, while Mr. MacDonald acted as chairman. She was unable to say very much, as the throng kept interrupting her, while Mr. MacDonald banged on the table, trying to keep order, so that she might be heard.

Mrs. Snowden was attempting to reply to a woman in the crowd of a thousand who wanted to know why she had been in America asking for funds for prospecting a peace campaign when suddenly through the main doorway popped twenty-five soldiers in uniform. Looking as if they meant business, they started through the main aisle when a cry went up "Three cheers for Tommy!" Nearly the whole of the audience rose and cheered frantically, while others with peace sympathies tried to howl them down.

Mrs. Snowden stood with her face livid and hands thrust in the pockets of her jacket, regarding the soldiers while Mr. MacDonald waved his arms to the air, trying to restore quiet.

The soldiers, led by a young Canadian Sergeant Major, looked at Mr. MacDonald for a moment and then made a rush for the platform. In an instant the hall was in furious confusion.

The Sergeant Major, his lips compressed and his eyes blazing, edged his way to the platform, and, taking Mr. MacDonald by the sleeve, urged him to make his escape from the hall. "I won't do it!" shouted MacDonald. "This is a meeting of free Britons, and we won't let anyone interrupt us."

"If you don't go quietly, we'll have to put you out," said the soldier, firmly.

MacDonald defiantly replied that he would not go, and shouted to Mrs. Snowden and the others on the platform to "stand by their guns."

Amid the uproar the soldiers formed a line and charged slowly, but resistlessly, upon the platform. MacDonald tried to cling to the edge of the table, but it was swept away and he was pushed rapidly off the platform. Mrs. Snowden, who had not had a chance to utter another word, backed quietly off the platform, with the soldiers in front of her. They politely insisted that it would be better if she took the hint and left the hall.

While the soldiers were clearing the platform the whole hall was in a wild riot. Benches were overturned by the crowd, in a rush either to get out or to press to the platform, and women's muffs and men's hats were lost in the scuffle.

The New York Times correspondent, who had been sitting at a table before the platform, had just time enough to step aside before the onslaught of soldiers. He saw the table thrown into the air and falling with a crash. The last he saw of Mrs. Snowden she was disappearing, pale faced, through the main doorway, with Mr. MacDonald just ahead of her. Nothing more was heard of her or MacDonald in Walthamstow after that but it is said that they hastened back to London in a taxicab, thoroughly disgusted.

After the hall had been cleared of pacifists, many of whom reluctantly allowed themselves to be pushed through the doorway, the soldiers took charge of the meeting, and, after singing "God Save the King!" made speeches one after another for an hour and a half. Not one peace advocate tried to get back into the hall. —N.Y. Times.

Everyday Etiquette.

"How should a young lady address a letter to a young man?" asked troubled Marporie.

"If you know him well enough to call him by his first name, write him as 'Dear Frank.' If you are on formal terms with him address him as 'Dear Mr. Blank,' and if very formal, as 'My Dear Mr. Blank,'" advised her sister.
