Punished For Giving Aid To Rum Runners

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—After the crew of the coastguard boat CG-126 had been declared fraternizing with and aiding rum-runners they had been set to watch, they were taken to sea in a cutter and kept in solitary confinement, chained hand and foot, and fed on rotten meat until they confessed, their captain testified, under cross-examination yesterday.

CLOSED CAR MODELS FEATURE OF SHOW

Frederick Women to Encourage Home Industries

FREDERICK, Jan. 8.—Frederick branch of the Women's Institute of New Brunswick at its meeting last night pledged preference wherever possible to goods produced in New Brunswick, the Dominion and the British Empire.

Still Missing

FREDERICK, N. B., Jan. 8.—(Special) The official record of evidence taken before Chief Justice McKewen in 1917 in connection with the inquiry concerning the Saint John and Quebec Railway and the payment of money to Hon. J. K. Fleming, then Premier of the province, by Hon. A. R. Goud, is still missing.

HANGMAN PASSES

MOSCOW, Jan. 8.—Ignace Ghabin, hangman for the late Czar Nicholas, who the Bolsheviks charged officiated at 648 hangings, is dead in the gloomy Buterka prison, Moscow, where he was serving ten years' solitary confinement for his responsibility for the death of many "innocent political prisoners."

ARRANGED AT OTTAWA

Arrangements for the payment were made in Ottawa without his knowledge, and he first heard of it when he saw one of his partners, F. J. Lisman, of New York, shaking hands with Mr. Fleming in a bank. Told that this meant the payment of $100,000, Gould testified that he told Lisman he would not stand for "any graft."

YARMOUTH, N. S., Jan. 8.—(Special)—Among the passengers by the Boston Yarmouth liner Prince Arthur to Boston last night was Edward Butler, who for the past several days was at Lunenburg recuperating after his harrowing experience of being adrift for six days in a small dory on the Atlantic Ocean.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 8.—Quotations on the Boston Fish Market today were as follows: Large cod 7 to 10; market cod, 6 to 7; haddock, 9 to 11; pollock, 5 to 6; hake, 5 to 6; cusk, 4 to 5 1/2.

BECOMES INTENSE

This pressure against the government to sever relations with Russia is becoming all the more intense because of the opinion that the only recognition possible will be if Canton rejects the British proposal as having been dictated by selfish motives, which besides being unfair to the other powers, are felt to be transparently insincere and likely to harm rather than to improve British relations in China.

Steamers Go Adrift In Nashville Streets

THERE was plenty of water in the downtown streets of Nashville, Tenn., for big river steamers after the recent floods had had their say. This shows two big boats drifting down the centre of a thoroughfare after the rising waters had carried them away from their docks.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Prophecy that the British Labor party would form the next government in England was made here yesterday by Commander Joseph M. Kenworthy, M. P. Eavesdropping Develops On Opening Day of Radiophone

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Eavesdropping—a new service problem—developed at the end of the first day of trans-Atlantic telephone conversations. Radio experts in London were able to overhear almost every word that passed between New York and London by tuning in on the wireless arc that spanned the Atlantic. By merely changing the coils in his regular set, Frank Pinkerton, chief United News cable operator, easily tuned in on the Rugby station, which was carrying the words of London subscribers to New York.

TENSION EASES AT HANKOW WITH POLICE CONTROL

 of assertions published by the newspapers in every part of Europe that British prestige has been irreparably damaged throughout the far east owing to the incidents at Hankow.
 The criticism directed at Chamberlain by European newspapers and by antagonistic writers at home is said to be disturbing the Foreign Minister's equanimity with the result that the British attitude is stiffening. In official circles here today it was stated that the British have no intention of being driven out of their concession at Hankow by the hostility of the Chinese, while Chamberlain looks about for a scapegoat. It is considered likely that since his handling of the Chinese situation leaves him open to the severest criticism, he might now be persuaded to take a step which he previously strongly opposed, and that is break with Russia, although the cabinet is known to be hopelessly divided on the Russian question.

BIRKENHEAD'S VIEW.

Sir William Joynson-Hicks, the Home Secretary, and Lord Birkenshead are said to be in favor of kicking the Soviet representatives out of England, while the Foreign Secretary has urged that no good could come of such a move, that it would only damage British trade and open the floodgates of Soviet propaganda and intrigues in India, China and Turkey against Great Britain.
 Premier Baldwin, it is declared, supports Chamberlain's view in a half-hearted manner, but now that the pressure has become so great and insistence that Russia be punished so pronounced, there is much speculation as to whether the Prime Minister will continue to give such support, which is essential if Chamberlain is to maintain his present viewpoint.

Legal Battle Over Indian Citizenship

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—A legal battle to determine whether North American Indians are to be treated as aliens when entering the United States from Canada, or accorded the rights under treaties nearly 200 years old, opened in Federal Court yesterday. Paul Dinbo, a full-blooded Iroquois, is the central figure in the test case. The principal question involved being whether the immigration act of 1924, can "by implication" repeal the treaty of 1794. Standing staunchly behind Dinbo is the Six Nations, a confederation of the big Indian tribes of North America, the most powerful of which is the Iroquois. Dinbo was ordered deported last March by the immigration authorities.

S., Jan. 8.—With the Boston marathon nearly four months away, Johnny Miles, record holder and winner of last year's 26-mile jaunt over the hills and dales of Greater Boston, has started training. ### YARMOUTH POLICE STATISTICS READY

Total of 267 Cases Before Court in 1926—Fines For Year Fairly Light

Special to The Times-Star.
 YARMOUTH, N. S., Jan. 8.—Police court statistics for the town of Yarmouth for the year ending Dec. 31, 1926, have just been given out by Stipendiary Magistrate Pelton. They show that during the year there was a total of 267 cases before the court.  During the year there were 15 cases under the Nova Scotia Temperance Act and out of that number there were 10 convictions. Twelve drunks were tried for the year and all were convicted, while five others were given tickets for being drunk and disorderly. The sum of $916.75 was collected in fines and costs and paid to the town treasurer, while fine totalling $220 were paid to the provincial treasurer. Fines and costs amounting to $983.50 were imposed, but not collected and the defendants were committed to jail. Four children were committed to the care of the Children's Aid Society, one was sent to the Provincial Home

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF SAINT JOHN

A BIG MIX-UP AT IMPERIAL MONDAY

A temperamental and flighty movie star; a pretty blonde shop-girl who resembles her; a hard-working press agent; a cynical, rumor-hunting reporter; a nouveau riche Romeo; a picture producer fearful of his star's conduct; the jealous husband of a movie star and an ambitious young cigar clerk—this is the odd mixture of personalities in the cast of "Her Big Night," the Universal production in which Laura La Plante is the star, which comes to the Imperial Theatre Monday and Tuesday. All these varied characters combine to make up what is declared to be one of the funniest farce comedy productions of the season. Miss La Plante is now one of the prime favorites of moviedom. The Imperial will also have a scenic trip review of the big events of 1926 and the Acropolis Fabrics.

QUEBEC ELECTIONS EXPECTED IN MAY

Dissolution of the House is expected shortly after the prorogation of the session, which will open next Tuesday, according to Liberal organization headquarters. The session will probably last until the first week of April, so that little time will be available for the campaign."

AUTHORITIES
SEEK TO TRACE
CAPITAL MAN

John Thomas - Faulk Is Known in Name But Not in Person

FREDERICTON, Jan. 7.—The mystery surrounding the name of John Thomas Faulk, a native of Virginia, whose relatives in Boston, Mass., have been endeavoring to trace in connection with his reported death, has been cleared up by the discovery that there is a small piece of property on the Rightbank Road, in Devon, owned in his name.

A few days ago Chief of Police Nathaniel Jones received a communication from Joseph Faulk, 23 Arnold street, Boston, Mass., addressed to "the chief of police, Fredericksburg, N. S.," thanking him for services performed in connection with the death of the writer's uncle and asking as to the disposition of the latter's property and effects. Chief Jones has so far been unable to secure any information as to the death of anyone by that name either in New Brunswick, or Nova Scotia, or by the name of John Thomas, a name which the supposed deceased man is said to have used at times.

Premier King's Pledges

IN view of the general discussion on the Duncan report and its recommendations, there are many enquiries as to the position of the Liberal party during the election campaign of last year. The assurances he gave in a speech delivered in the House of Commons on August 22 last, were very definite and related not only to the report of the Duncan Commission but that of the Maritime Commission as well.

(Telegraph-Journal, Aug. 26, 1926)
RECOMMENDATIONS by the Royal Commission now investigating claims of the Maritime Provinces with respect to Confederation and also by the Board of Railway Commissioners concerning the freight rates structure as it affected the eastern provinces would be given proper effect by Parliament if the Liberals were returned to power, was the definite pledge made by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Opposition and former Premier of Canada, during the course of an address in the Imperial Theatre, last evening, before a crowded and deeply interested audience.

He asserted that it was a Liberal administration that passed the order-in-council appointing the Duncan Commission and ordering the investigation into the freight rate situation, and he felt this was evidence of the Liberal party's desire to assist in removing any causes militating against the Atlantic provinces.

Picking up the Telegraph-Journal, Hon. Mr. King said he proposed briefly to consider the matters brought to his attention. It seemed, he said, that every time he came to Saint John he was caught in regard to matters engrossing Maritime attention. He found this helpful, he said, in discussing these issues.

Touching on the resolutions at the Charlottetown conference, the Liberal leader said, speaking generally, he was heartily in sympathy with them.

On the question of immigration, he recalled that a bill was in process of preparation on this matter at the opening of the last session but that there was so much obstruction of legislation that it had not received consideration.

Respecting the revision of freight rates, he read the order-in-council instructing the Railway Commission to enquire into this matter as it affected the Maritimes. This was before the Commission now and if he and his party were returned to power, they would be prepared to give effect to their recommendations in the right way by Parliament. On the diversion of grain and products of Canada through American ports, he asserted it was the late Liberal government that held out the British preference to induce trade through Canadian channels. Respecting equipment of national ports, he said he was heartily in favor of it as it was important to Canada.

He believed everything possible should be done to assist the fish industry and in regard to cooking plants he said a bill had been prepared in this regard for the last session but Parliament ended before it was presented. He said he was in sympathy with any project designed to assist ferry connection with Prince Edward Island.

In regard to economic disabilities of the Maritimes, he pointed out it was his government that took the first step, namely appointment of a Royal Commission to get at the facts. He asserted that Liberals of other parts of Canada were not only willing but anxious to throw in their support in aid of the Maritimes and that if returned to power, measures would be adopted to give effect to the recommendations of the two commissions.

To Operate Plant On Larger Scale

Just as soon as the government bond is issued in favor of the British-Canadian Packing Company, which is expected to be early in February, the plant will be operated on a larger scale than at present, he was said last evening by a member of the directors attending a meeting of the directors yesterday afternoon. It was also decided at the meeting yesterday that, for the present, the plant will not run on full capacity. The plant, however, will continue to operate, it was said. It was said that no successor was appointed as yet to G. C. P. McIntyre as president.

SANT JOHN, N. B., JANUARY 8, 1927.

CIVIC BUSINESS

SAINT JOHN is fully alive to the fact that the Mayor and Council have on their hands two extremely weighty matters in addition to the ordinary administrative work as Commissioners.

Scarcely, if at all, less urgent are the matters disclosed in the British report. The city desired an expert survey of its affairs, and the city has obtained that survey. Now comes the question of setting the municipal house in order, and the urgency lies in the fact that legislation for the Provincial Assembly must be prepared if certain portions of the British report are to be acted on.

PUTTING AN END TO IT

THE MINISTER of Customs decided recently that the cargo of the "Chris Moeller," detained at Vancouver, should be impounded, thereby furnishing a reading of the customs regulations the opposite of what is understood previously to have been held.

However, the main thing is that the present Minister of Customs evidently does not intend to allow causality in his department. It is probable that no very great harm in the ordinary sense was done by connivance at irregularities and worse, but the harm to the public and official conscience of Canada was immense.

Other Views

"PEDESTRIANS, where no police officer is present and no traffic light control system is in operation, shall have the right of way on crossings, and vehicles must slow down and stop, if necessary, to permit pedestrians on crossings to pass."

THE MANGO

THE newspapers of the United States have apparently discovered that the mango is a succulent fruit. They would like to see more mangoes eaten in the United States, and the New York Herald-Tribune goes so far as to describe how it thinks mangoes should be stuck on a fork, peeled and consumed.

ONE OF THE PENALTIES

CHARLIE CHAPLIN in his own defense said, "as an illustration of what he had to put up with, that his wife insisted on buying him neckties. Well, try as he may, we do not suppose Charlie will ever get a wife who will not want to select ties for him, burn that hat of his, and those pants and boots of his."

RUBBING IT IN

PROPOSALS that the United States store cotton to restrict exportation and keep up the price of that commodity must horrify people in that country who denounce the Stevenson system of control of the rubber output of British Malaya.

News and Views From The British Capital

LONDON, December 28, 1926.—General Sir James Willcocks in his 69 years saw more active service than most soldiers. Like Lord Reading, he ran away to sea as a boy, and served on tramp steamers.

THE ALLISON PLAYGROUND

THERE should not be any misunderstanding between the City Council and the Saint John Playgrounds Association regarding the cost of upkeep of the playground at the entrance to Rockwood Park. After the Rotary Club had provided a pavilion for those grounds the Playgrounds Association took over its care, with the understanding that the city would provide the necessary funds apart from the regular grant from the city to the Association.

THE FINANCIAL POST SURVEY

THE FINANCIAL POST survey has issued its third, 1927, volume. To the business man, the politician, the writer, indeed to everybody who has occasion to refer to statistics regularly or occasionally, this survey of Canadian financial, industrial and commercial happenings, up to the minute and exhibiting the trend of events by comparison with leading countries, is well nigh indispensable.

Maritime Population

THERE is no doubt that it is constant loss of population that underlies the economic situation which has made the Maritime Provinces feel their position so keenly and seek desperately for some means of improving their lot.

Queer Quirks of Nature

A great spider crab is shown here, by the small crab in the centre and the two-foot rule. An estimate of its size can be gained by the small crab in the centre and the two-foot rule.

Sitting and Serving

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE sits more or less patiently at the edge of the world waiting for it to start up again. "The people of America," he mourns, "have evinced no interest whatever in the emotional side of politics since the defeat of Woodrow Wilson."

Status and War

THE London (England) Morning Post puts it in a nutshell when it says, "Were the British Empire to fall, the status of the Dominions would be that of a republic, but they would be left in a state of chaos, helpless as single units to defend their trade, their liberties, and even their existence."

What Next?

FIFTY years ago the telephone found its place, twenty-five years ago wireless telegraphy became known; today it is radio. What about a quarter of a century hence?

Poems I Love

"At the Aquarium," by Max Eastman. I HAVE always been fond of the literature which makes its business to seek to discover the point of view of animals, as well as of man; which gives to an inanimate object animate qualities.

OF FRIENDSHIP

Subject Is Enlarged Upon by District Secretary
W. E. Hoyt

GOOD START MADE IN WORK FOR NEW YEAR

St. Paul's Plans Church Parade—Lectures to be Resumed

District Secretary W. E. Hoyt writes: "As the New Year is ushered in both boys and leaders are looking forward to an even more successful year in scouting than the previous year. The New Year will see the boys returning to their meetings with renewed vigor and enthusiasm and with an eagerness to do their scout work, which will result in real strides of progress in all lines of scouting. During the Christmas holidays many of the troops have taken advantage of the excellent weather conditions and enjoyed several very fine hikes. This is certainly 'keeping the out in scouting' and it is hoped that as many troops as possible will follow out the same plan and have more hikes than in the last year."

LECTURES RESUMED.

Next week will see the lectures resumed. St. Paul's, Mission and St. Luke's Troops will assemble in St. Paul's school room to hear a lecture on "The Work of the Post Office in Canada," given by Rupert Taylor, postmaster of East Saint John. On Friday evening, January 28, in the Natural History Museum, Dr. W. Macdonald will speak on "Birds and Bird Houses," to St. Andrew's, Victoria street Baptist and Portland Unitarian troops. Both lectures will be illustrated. A group of lectures is also being arranged for the Wolf Cub Scouts. The Scout Leaders' supper for January will be held soon.

THE FIFTH SCOUT LAW.

"A Scout is a friend to all and a brother to every other Scout." Thus if a Scout meets another Scout, even though a stranger to him, he should speak to him, and help him in any way he can. A Scout must never be upon another because he is poorer or who is rich. A Scout accepts no other man as he finds him, and makes the best of him. "Kin," the Boy Scout, was called by the Indians "the friend of all the world," and that is the name that every Scout should earn for himself. The honors of ancient knight-hood belonged to persons of noble birth. Membership in the great brotherhood of Scouts is open, however, to all who desire it and the Chief Scout's desire is that Scouts everywhere should earn the name which Kin gained for himself.

Making friends, like everything else in life that is worth while, involves effort. Some fellows are slow in making friends by reason of an inborn diffidence or shyness, while others should strive to overcome. Others are naturally so friendly that popularity comes to them without the seeking. True friendships are among the greatest blessings that God has given to mankind and the fellow is to be pitied who goes through the world without them. Scouts are expected to be ever on the lookout for opportunities of putting this Scout law into practice. After all one seldom has far to seek in any company for strangers, or others in need of the cheer that a kindly greeting never fails to bring.

This troop met on Jan. 3, and at the close a Court of Honor meeting was held. The scout meeting was well attended and scout games were played. Miss I. E. Barbour spoke briefly regarding the first aid teams and advised the boys to work hard for a severe examination. On Dec. 30 the patrol leaders enjoyed a hike to Fryer Pan Lake. During the Christmas season the scouts of Trinity Troop rendered services for the church, such as delivering Christmas stockings and church envelopes. The meetings of Scoutmaster C. E. NO. 19-ST. JAMES' PACK

Nineteen boys were present at last Tuesday evening's meeting. After a short talk by Cubmaster A. N. Peckman, the Cub program of games and activities was carried out and the boys enjoyed the evening very much. After the Christmas holidays the boys are full of enthusiasm and intend to make 1927 the best year yet. The meeting was left in charge of Scout instructor Craig Laidlaw at 8 p. m. and closed in the usual manner.

NO. 7-STONE PACK

Fifteen boys attended on Tuesday evening, and of these four were new recruits. The meeting consisted of Cub games and instruction and further work was outlined for the coming meetings. This pack is under the supervision of L. J. Arthur, who was assisted on Tuesday by Scoutmaster N. G. Smith. The pack has at present four sizes, and although they were not quite up to the standard in attendance it is expected that next week will see the attendance well up to the average. This pack meets every Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

NO. 13-YOUNG JUDEANS

This troop met on Wednesday evening with 18 boys present, in charge of Mr. Isaacs and E. Elmslie. As some of the boys are finding it necessary to leave they are reorganizing into two patrols, each of which is to have about eight or nine boys. Instruction is to be delivered in patrol corners. On Wednesday evening the inspection by the Scoutmaster and Hawk Patrols was held. Hand signal and first aid instruction featured the evening and singing and Scout games were carried through. In a few weeks they expect to see nearly all their boys as Second-Class Scouts. The meeting was brought to a close by a brief council circle. They were glad to hear that word has been received by Scoutmaster E. Boyaner that Nathan Badovitch, former P. L. of the Beaver Patrol, and who has taken up residence in Kitchener, Ontario, has been successful in forming a Young Judaea Troop there. In the two or three months that he has been there the number in the troop has risen from four to 14 boys. Although too young to act as a Scoutmaster, Nathan has been given permission to fill the position of assistant scoutmaster.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Take the word of a canon for it, in the bright lexicon of British youth, there is no such word as "petting." Canon William Thompson Elliott, vicar of Leeds, inquired yesterday after his arrival, what "petting" that word does not exist in England," he said. "And 'necking' doesn't either. The things don't happen over there. I'm sure they don't."

Avoid the Girl Who Bosses Her Family, Flee From Her Who is Too Jealous, and Sidestep the One Who Dresses Beyond Her Means—But if You Find a Girl Who Stands the Test of a Camping Trip, Cling to Her, For She's a Winner.

ARE there any earmarks by which a man can tell what kind of a wife a girl will make before he gets her in time to sidestep a bad matrimonial bargain?

So queries a male reader. Matrimony is generally conceded to be the greatest game of chance in the world and the picking of a life partner is believed to be attended with about the same degree of certainty as locating a bean in a shell game at a country fair. To a degree this is true, because both men and women play the game of matrimony with their eyes shut and their eyes stuffed and they refuse to take note of the eye-posts that are erected along the road to the altar.

IN REALITY, matrimony is only a stage of evolution. It develops whatever is best and worst in men's or women's nature. It doesn't give them an entirely new set of characteristics. Whatever a girl is before marriage, she is going to be after marriage, only a little more so, for marriage is a cocoon that sets the color of a woman's nature. Thus any man can forecast with a reasonable accuracy the sort of a wife a woman will make from the sort of a girl she is.

EVERY man, for instance, prays to be delivered from a jealous, nagging wife, but he looks to his guardian angel to preserve him instead of depending on himself. Yet the matter is absolutely in his own hands, for a hunchbacked woman could more easily conceal her deformity than the green-eyed woman her jealousy.

IF, THEREFORE, you are engaged to a girl who has fits and hysterics every time you notice another woman and who can't accept a reasonable explanation of why you should have taken an old schoolgirl friend to luncheon, or why you walked up the street with some feminine comrade who works with you in the office, why, son, be warned in time. Break off your engagement with that girl before you let yourself in for a lifetime of misery.

SHY will make the sort of wife that will keep you in terror all your days, so that he will have to lie to her and deceive her until you hate her and have a contempt for yourself. She will go through your pockets looking for letters from women, sniff at your clothes to see if there is any powder on the lapel of your coat. She'll be forever popping into your office to see what you are doing and you won't dare to employ a stenographer under 60 who hasn't a bald head and false teeth.

JEALOUSY doesn't develop suddenly, like appendicitis. It is a chronic complaint that is constitutional with some women and it's an incurable malady. So pass up the maiden who gives unmistakable signs that she is afflicted with it.

EVERY man, likewise, has a horror of getting a wife who is a domestic tyrant. And well he may, but it is his own fault if he does. Just see whether she loses her family. If she rules the roost, if mother looks at her before speaking and if her little brothers and sisters kick in the very background when she is about, duck and run, though you be on the very steps of the altar, unless you feel that you would actually enjoy being pecked.

THE girl who can run her own family can run a husband with one hand tied behind her. In marrying her he hasn't even a chance to call his soul his own and he will spend the remainder of his life eating what she thinks is good for his digestion, going to the church she approves of, visiting her family and friends and wearing the necktie she chooses.

EVERY man also desires to avoid marrying a woman who is extravagant or unduly fond of dress. He can blame nothing but his own stupidity if he marries one. Every woman wears a price tag on her clothes which proclaims whether or not she is a good bargain as a wife.

WHEN a man deliberately picks out a girl who looks like a living fashion-plate and who, he knows, is dressed far beyond her means, what right has he to complain if in time he grows as hump-shouldered trying to pay her bills as her father did? He had his warning, but he refused to take it.

EVERY man desires a wife who will be companionable and sympathetic and who will understand the things that he does. And there are not a thousand ways to test out whether a woman is broad and intelligent or narrow-brained and prejudiced before you are tied to her for life. I know one wise youth, a man of heart and soul, who was very much taken with a girl and on the verge of popping the question to her. Fortunately for him, just before he took the fatal step he invited the girl to go with him to see a play that swept the whole gamut of the finest emotions.

THE man's heart was wrung with its pathos and his throat choked with the passion of it, but the girl sat up, absolutely untouched and unmoved, her eyes as dry as a baseball game.

THE man took her home and simply dumped her at her door and never went near her again. "Why, she is a stick, a stock, a stone. I'd rather be dead than married to a woman like that."

IF I WERE a man, I'd never marry a woman until I had been on an excursion or camping expedition with her. If I found a girl who could be as entertaining at breakfast as at dinner, who looked as neat and attractive in her sport togs as in her dance frock; who could take missing a train or a rainy day with good-natured philosophy instead of acting as if the misadventure were a personal affront; if she were cheerful and helpful and unselfish, a good companion and a good fellow under all circumstances, I'd keep on that girl's trail until I'd persuaded her to marry me. For I would know that I had that girl's number and that it was a winning one every time.

BUT if she were peevish and selfish and exacting and didn't know how to do anything and expected every one to wait upon her, she would never lure me up to the proposing point, not even if she were as beautiful as Venus and stacked up to her neck in gold.

OH, YOU don't have to be a prophet or a prophet's son to tell what kind of a wife a girl will make. She carries her sign about with her, if a man will only take the trouble to read.

Fashion Fancies.

Three of the Favored Hats About Town.

Above are shown three hats much seen about New York. The tendency toward close-fitted models that go well with full collars is shown in all three. At the top of the column is shown a smart little French felt in soft green, with a band in deeper green velvet. The fold at the back is very good. The brim may be worn turned up at the front, or turned down so it will stipple slightly. Below this is a closely fitted felt in navy blue. At the bottom of the column is another version of the popular beret type. Black velvet is used, with a black grosgrain band and two small bright feathers at the front.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

By GILBERT PICKARD
ENCOURAGED by the fair success of "Fascinating Youth," the movie made by students of its picture school upon their graduation, Paramount is planning to make another film with an entire cast of "new faces." They have a large number of youngsters on their payroll whom they expect to use in "Sheiks and Shebas," which will go into production some time in January. Perhaps four or five of the graduates of the school which marks Paramount's attempt to teaching the young idea how to act have succeeded in planting their feet on the rungs of fame's ladder. Charles "Buddy" Rogers has had several prominent parts and his latest role is the lead in "Wings." Josephine Dunn is receiving her first big chance in "Love's Greatest Mistake," in which she has the leading feminine role. Mona Palma is leading woman for Thomas Meighan in "Stardust."

Almost every film company is out to get new players. They contend the public isn't satisfied to see the same players over and over again. They have, therefore, instructed their directors to be constantly on the alert for promising boys and girls. There are some who are inclined to doubt the contentment of the movie heads. Is the public tired of the stars of today or couldn't it be that stars are becoming so popular that they can demand almost anything and get it, thereby causing much annoyance to those to whom they are under contract? To combat this tendency producers are eager to get new players away from their old ones, thus increasing the number of stars, hoping eventually the supply will exceed the demand and they will be able to set their own price on the services of their artists.

James Cruse, director of "Old Ironsides," didn't find much trouble in finding plenty of old salts for the big battle scenes, but he couldn't find an actor who knew his battleships. He had to have someone who had actually followed the sea if they were George Bancroft, the villain of "The Pony Express." He is one of the only two enlisted men ever sent to Annapolis and he took part in the Battle of Manila Bay. Also he actually sailed on the "Constitution," a sister ship of "Old Ironsides."

Dorothy Walters, who doesn't have to diet because she gets paid for being fat, is playing in the daytime—the likely to be brought under control within the next few years.

Antitoxins are developing. A single discovery like that of the doctors who learned that scarlet fever is caused by a poison developed by a bacterial organism at once threw open the field for investigation, so that erysipelas, measles and purpural infection are under control within the next few years.

Pharmacology today is studied in the medical schools in such a manner as to throw light on the fundamental phenomena of life, to permit the study of disease by producing artificial disease, and to furnish more efficient tools for the treatment of disease.

It has been learned that one disease often will drive out another. Malaria, simply controlled by the use of quinine, is driving out certain forms of paralysis. The malaria introduced into the patient artificially. Diagnosis and treatment of nervous diseases has been greatly improved by our increasing knowledge of normal and abnormal psychology.

See-Sawing On Broadway

SEE-SAWING up and down Broadway, saw William Haines, the latest of the Charlie Ray-type of movie actor, sitting beside his beaming mother watching himself act in "Tell It to the Marines." . . . Saw John Drew, the perennial blade, wearing the inevitable garlands in his buttonhole. . . . The tale goes that he was born thus. . . . Saw Ben Lyon at theatre with the very charming dancer, Marilyn Miller. . . . Elsie Janis, looking just a couple of years older. . . . But perhaps it was the presence of her mamma, who looks so incredibly young. . . . Thomas Meighan, one of the movie stars you are almost certain to see in company with his own wife. . . . Saw Mal St. Clair, yep film director, enjoying the long holiday which started when Florence Vidor, whose picture he was to direct at Astoria, fell ill. . . . They tell me that Mal knows more quaint places in which to eat in Manhattan than all the swaggering columnist combined. . . . The story goes that he starts forth in the morning in his doxy motor chariot and disappears down the tangled lanes of the foreign quarter, dashing through a Hungarian place with a dirty front and ending up in a squallid back room where a red tablecloth awaits. . . . Here, Mal is willing to take oath, may be had the finest mushroom omelet to be found on seven continents. . . . Similar places intrigue him from time to time at dinner hour. . . . He has for them a zealous loyalty and a jealous sense of possession. . . . Only his intimates are taken there with him, but these places he "discovers" at the world at large and grow popular.

St. Clair generally travels with a carefully selected retinue, never failing to have a court jester who will feed him "gags."

Saw Samuel Goldwyn, who makes a few dimes now and then from the cinema, at a tea regaled over by Mrs. Manhattan, who is none other than the former musical comedy star, Frances Howard. . . . And most attractive off-stage is she.

Saw Daniel Frohman in the midst of celebrating his 50 years (or whatever it is) association with the theatre. . . . He is 73, I believe, and has ceased active management, but his office carries on the tradition of being a gathering place for the profession. . . . Frohman began his career as an office boy on the New York Tribune of Horace Greeley vintage and, through the efforts of his brother, was thrust into the show business as an advance man for a minstrel show.

RADIOPHONE TELLS OF VISIT OF WALES HERE

Ottawa Expected to Announce Date Soon—Going to U. S.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The first news despatch received by the Associated Press of the newly-inaugurated radiophone commercial service between London and New York came from its London Bureau this morning and furnished further confirmation in regard to the visit of the Prince of Wales to Canada next summer.

THE PRINCE'S VISIT WAS FORESHADOWED in a Canadian Press despatch from Ottawa shortly before Parliament opened, and confirmation was contained in the Speech from the Throne. Announcement that the United States will be included in the Prince's overseas trip is "news."

TO VISIT ALBERTA RANCH Shortly after the radiophone conversation was concluded the following cable despatch was received from London by the Associated Press: "Only urgent demands for the presence of the Prince of Wales in England on official duties, it is understood, will prevent an American visit this year."

FUNDAMENTALS ARE SAME. Trans-Atlantic radio telephony is based on the same fundamentals as the broadcasting system which picks up on the receiver at home.

Without the carrier wave and its twin side-wave the voice is dumb and useless, but at the receiving end the carrier wave and the other side band are restored, modulation becomes possible and the single side wave delivers its message without loss.

He made his first trip to Springhill with the late Conductor John Hughes. He ran as a conductor in the freight service for some time, but of late years was yard foreman here. He was only in one serious mishap, being a brakeman on one of the trains that met, with fatal results, near Aulac in 1913, when Driver Enoch Kustion of Moncton was killed. Here are new bodies of beautiful lines—brilliant in their modish new Duco colors—irresistible in their distinguished smartness—and outstanding in that individuality and perfection of silhouette regularly associated with costly custom-built creations. Here are score upon score of advancements in design—a new and massive radiator shell—full crown fenders—bullet-type head lamps and coil lamps—new, heavier running board—new gasoline gauge—new A.C. Oil Filter—new A.C. Air Cleaner—Co-incident ignition and steering lock—new, luxurious upholstery—new sliding seat in the Coach model—new large steering wheel—and many others too numerous to mention. But, however complete—however enthusiastic—no mere description of the Most Beautiful Chevrolet in Chevrolet History can adequately portray the new measure of individuality and style it brings into the field of the low-priced car. This can only be gained by inspection of the cars themselves. So, we urge you to visit our show-rooms. And we ask you to come in anticipation of the revelation you would expect when the World's largest builder of gear-shift automobiles announces the Most Beautiful Chevrolet in Chevrolet History, at the Lowest Price for which Chevrolet has ever been sold in Canada.

Deprived of Railway For Refusing to Pay $50,000 to a Premier

Senator Gould Tells U. S. Sub-Committee He Made No Payment of $100,000—E. S. Carter on Witness Stand Yesterday at Capital

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—Senator Gould, Republican, Maine, today told the Senate elections sub-committee, investigating charges of bribery against him, that he had taken no part in the payment of $100,000 in connection with a New Brunswick railway deal, but had been driven out of business in the province because he refused to pay $50,000 to a Premier.

The new Senator in 1912 when, as president of a company building a railroad in that province, he said two Premiers openly solicited funds from him, threatening to stop his railroad operations if he refused.

Without his consent, Gould said, his New York associates paid $100,000 to the campaign fund of the Conservative party of the Canadian province, but that he later learned that "Premier Fleming got most of it."

HELD UP ALL WAY. Senator Gould told the committee he had been held up all along the way in building the road until it ran into hundreds of thousands of dollars, by violation of agreements and promises on the part of Canadian officials.

LIEMAN LATER TOLD HIM THAT HANDSHAKE HAD MEANT THE PAYMENT OF $100,000. Gould said, asserting that he had protested that he would not stand for "any graft."

PHONE CONVERSATION. The committee also was told by Senator Gould that he had been held up at his home and asked him to meet him in Centreville. He met him that night, he asserted, adding that Fleming said: "I am going to be Premier and I am a poor man. You people, doing big business over here ought to contribute $40,000 to my campaign and should put me on a salary of $5,000 while you are building the railroad here."

Mr. Gould said he refused to pay anything and broke off all relations with him, but later, upon the plea of Fleming he renewed negotiations for the railroad contract and obtained one to build the road for $31,000 a mile.

At the very start, the Senator declared, he was forced to pay $20,000 for a survey which had been promised would be only $10,000 and "that sort of thing continued until it ran into hundreds of thousands of dollars."

PARTNERS WITHDRAW. Continuing his testimony, Mr. Gould said: "It got so bad that my partners withdrew. They decided they were being taken in and offered to get a guarantee through the legislature for an additional $10,000 a mile for the remainder of the construction. Then Clarke came in as Premier. He was a little country lawyer, who had never seen $50,000. He said: "Money seems to be flowing right freely around here."

his New York associates without his knowledge or consent. Gould's counsel endeavored to show that any outsider who transacted business with the New Brunswick government in 1912 and later was compelled by Premier Fleming and his immediate successors to pay tribute and to be the general impression and belief of the public that Gould would not pay Premier Clarke a large sum of money which his railway company was legislated out of business.

MR. CARTER TESTIFIES. E. S. Carter, of Saint John, N. B., who described himself as a special newspaper writer and political organizer for the Liberal party of New Brunswick, testified that it was the general understanding in New Brunswick that every outside corporation doing business for the province was Fleming in a bank.

lost Papers Found. Canadian Press Despatch. FREDERICTON, N. B., Jan. 7.—George Bidlake, clerk of the New Brunswick Legislature, takes exception to the statement made by Oliver H. S. Garrett, a New York World reporter on the witness stand at the Gould case investigation at Washington, that he (Bidlake) had said that he "presumed the Liberal party had removed the missing documents" when he was here looking for the official records in this province.

Mr. Bidlake said tonight that what he said was: "It might have been required by the Saint John & Quebec Railway Company officials in connection with some other matter belonging to the railway or that it was possible that the late government may have wanted it back for some other purpose. I never said the Liberal party."

C., Jan. 7.—In making a detailed announcement concerning the new ship to be built by John Brown & Co., of Clydebank, Glasgow, Scotland, to the order of the Canadian Pacific Railway for operation by the British Columbia coast steamship service on the Vancouver-Nanaimo run, Capt. J. W. Troupe, manager, states that the vessel will be 20 feet longer and eight feet more in breadth than the present steamer on the run, the Princess Patricia, known far and wide in the old days as the Clyde as the Queen Alexandra. She will also be five feet deeper. This new vessel, said Capt. Troupe, which will be ready in about a year from now, will be designed for oil, geared turbines, with triple screws and using Yarrow boilers, will be capable of steaming 17 knots on one boiler or 18 on two.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Jan. 7.—Charlottetown coal teamsters went on strike today because of the refusal of coal dealers to supply an extra man to assist in unloading cars, the men claiming that they have to handle the coal twice, shovelling from end of the car to the door and then to the load, and are only paid by the load, not by the hour. As a consequence no coal was handled today. It was thought that a settlement would be reached in a day or two.

Fundamentals of Canadian Market Are Sound

MONTREAL, Jan. 8.—That there is nothing essentially "wrong" with the present condition of the stock market in Canada is a pretty well accepted fact...

By the aid of the market follower, this same authority believes that the development of greater prosperity in this country over the next few years is inevitable...

Another good omen for the future, as seen by this commentator, is the broadening field for securities available to the stock exchanges through the steady additions being made to the curb listings in both Montreal and Toronto.

Good Tone Kept Up In London Stocks

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The stock markets have maintained a good tone. Movements in gilt-edged stocks, as a rule, were in favor of holders, the feature being a further rise of 1/4 in the 4 per cent. tax free war loan.

Another good omen for the future, as seen by this commentator, is the broadening field for securities available to the stock exchanges through the steady additions being made to the curb listings in both Montreal and Toronto.
