REPORT FROM FIGHTING
GROUND CONTINUES GOOD

Is of Violent Character But Allies Do Well—British Repulse Further Attacks by Germans -- Enemy's Guns Silenced in One Place

Paris, Nov. 12.—The French official statement given out in Paris this afternoon says:

"On our left wing the fighting still continues with violence and has been conducted with alternate advances and retirements, without importance. Speaking broadly, the battle front has not varied greatly since November 10. In the evening of yesterday it extended along the line between Lombardes and Neuport canal to Ypres; the approaches of Ypres; in the region of Zonnebeke and to the east of Arrmentiers.

"There has been no change in the positions held by the British army, which repulsed the attacks of the enemy, and particularly an offensive movement undertaken by detachment of the Prussian guard.

"From the canal of Labasse as far as and up to the river Oise, there have been minor engagements.

"In the region of the river Aisne, in the neighborhood of Vailly, we retained our positions against a counter attack, and we strengthened our positions in the territory previously conquered by us."

"In the region of Craonne and on the Huestebles, our artillery succeeded in reducing to silence the cannon of the enemy. Several of their pieces were even destroyed. We also made some progress in the vicinity of Berry-Aux-Bac.

"In the Argonne in the Woerthe district in Lorraine and in the Vosges the respective positions show no change."

Washington, Nov. 12.—The official report from Petrograd to the Russian embassy here today contained the following in addition to what was published from Petrograd: "On the Caucasian front on November 9, on the Kerkelid position, the artillery fighting continued. From some points on the shores on the Black Sea the appearance of the enemy's ships was observed."

ALLIES HOLD YPRES

London, Nov. 12.—The Amsterdam correspondent of Reuters telegraphs the following:

"Sluis advises indicate that the Germans continue to blow up bridges and that among the structures so destroyed is the bridge near Heyst, in West Flanders. Sentinels are guarding the railways from Bruges to Ghent, from Courtrai to Ostend, and so forth.

"The allies continue to occupy Ypres, but shells falling in town yesterday killed four children. Aeroplanes are reported to have dropped bombs which damaged the church and town hall, and set fire to several other buildings.

"The Kaiser, in journeying through Flanders, visited Courtrai and expressed his satisfaction to the municipal authorities for the manner in which the German troops are quartered."

TURKISH TORPEDO BOAT CAPTURED

London, Nov. 12.—An Athens despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that a Turkish torpedo boat, which escaped from the Dardanelles, has been captured off Tenedos, an island five miles off the northwest coast of Asia Minor.

KAISER'S PLANS FOR MOHAMEDAN PRISONERS

London, Nov. 12.—An Amsterdam despatch to the Central News says:

"The Kaiser has ordered that all the Mohammedans captured from the allies be sent to Constantinople to serve in the Turkish army.

"A telegram from Bucharest, Roumania, says that the Kaiser, uncle of Enver Bey, the leader of the Young Turks, has arrived there on a special mission in behalf of Turkey."

GERMANS DESTROY BRIDGES

Sais Van Gent, Holland, Nov. 12.—German engineers today dynamited bridges across the Leopold canal at several places in the northwestern part of East Flanders, near the Dutch frontier. The Germans also threw a number of large trees across the roads leading to the Holland frontier. In this way the night of peasants, which commenced on November 8, is made practically impenetrable. Since this morning, the customary roar of heavy cannons has been lacking.

THE DESTRUCTION OF THE EMDEN

Sydney, N. Z., Nov. 12.—The naval board here has details of the fighting in which the German cruiser Emden was put out of commission. The Emden arrived at Cocos Island and sent two armed launches ashore. Forty men with three officers and four maxims were landed in fifteen minutes, and the landing party smashed the wireless instruments and the engines of the plant.

In the meantime, the Australian cruiser Sydney was sighted on the horizon and the Emden immediately put out to sea, leaving the landing party, both boats and men, behind. The Emden started the firing. Her practice at first was excellent, but afterwards it fell off. She lost two funnels and took fire at the stern within an hour, while the Sydney was scarcely touched.

The Emden is now ashore north of Kolling Island and burning. The captain of the Sydney says he found only thirty men on her. The landing party, having commandeered two months' supplies, left on schooners belonging to the owner of the island. They are still at large. It appears that the presence of the Emden was made known to the Sydney.

WANT ALL THE
AVAILABLE MEN
FOR THE MILITIA

Dominion Government, Therefore,
Discourages Formation of Volunteer Naval Corps

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—The government does not want a volunteer naval militia corps organized. The fact was made clear to a meeting called by the local motor boat association to consider the organization of a company of naval volunteers.

Dr. Mark G. McElhinney, president of the association, was in the chair and there were present many of the gentlemen prominent in local boating circles. There was much enthusiasm at the opening of the meeting, but the speaker did not last for the chairman said that he had seen the Canadian naval service officials and they had declined to give any assistance toward the formation of a company or to recognize one if it was formed.

He told him that Canada should concentrate attention upon providing aid entirely for the army and that the organization of naval volunteer companies would not be permitted for fear that it might interfere with the work of enlisting men for the contingent.

Before the gathering dispersed there were references to the fact that the formation of the company of naval militia at Victoria had not been encouraged by the government, but that it had forced recognition and was now doing useful work manning His Majesty's Canadian Rainbows. There were also several references to the success of the Australian cruiser Sydney against the German commerce destroyer Emden.

MORE THAN 250
NOW ENLISTED

By tomorrow the work of refitting the armory for the housing of the 26th Infantry Battalion for overseas duty will have been completed. The crew has begun the job so that the sleeping and dining apartments are ready, and the other rooms all prepared for the accommodation of the volunteers. The supply of rations to the men of the 26th Infantry is carried out by the men of the Army Service Depot under Lieut.-Colonel A. E. Macleod.

A detachment of volunteers from Newcastle is expected in the city today besides a few from other provincial points. Several others have enlisted from about the city, bringing the total number of recruits up to the present to 253, with other names available just as soon as the enlistment process is completed. Each man is given a number as he is enrolled. Other names added to the roll of honor today were—J. C. Johnston, S. H. Jones, C. Bishop, G. S. Power, Wm. Duncan, F. Murray, Sydney Hart, F. Hickwood, A. Newell, A. Bayner, A. S. Anderson, H. McLean, A. E. Duffy, J. H. McDonald, F. Riley, C. Duncan, R. McEachern, W. D. Burrows, J. Daley, J. F. Westmorland, C. Mills, H. W. Peacock. The numbers today run from 232 to 263.

Active drilling is done each day by the recruits, from reveille sounding at 6:30 a.m. to Lights Out at 10:15 p.m., with hours off for mess and recreation. Each day sees a certain lengthening of the route marches, which are intended to harden the men to walking, and these, with the physical drill given, are features into which the men enter with vigor. Special military police have been assigned for duty at the Union Depot to watch out for recruits coming to the city, as well as to see that the regulations regarding discipline are adhered to. Captain George Keefe was officer of the day today.

From P. E. Island

On Saturday morning thirty infantry men recruited by Captain T. E. McNutt, of the 82nd Regiment, will leave Charlottetown, P. E. I., to join the 26th Battalion for the front.

Heroic Act Saves Russian
Cruiser From Destruction

London, Nov. 12.—A despatch from Petrograd to the Times says: The correspondents of Finnish newspapers report the heroic sacrifice of the crew of a Russian picket boat in order to save a Russian cruiser which was unwittingly approaching a mine in the Gulf of Finland.

Realizing that it was too late to signal the danger, the boat deliberately rushed at the mine at full speed; a terrific explosion followed and six out of the crew of seven perished. The survivor, who was severely wounded, has been awarded the decoration of St. George.

The Queen Pays Visit
To Wounded Soldiers

Gifts and Kindly Words to Men Who Have Suffered For Country—Hospital
Work Praised

London, Nov. 12.—Queen Mary gladdened the hearts of 200 wounded "Tommys" in the American Women's Hospital in Paignton, Devonshire, by a visit today and a personal gift to each wounded soldier. At the invitation of Lady Arthur Paget, chairman of the American women's committee supporting the hospital, the queen left London early in the morning on a special for the waiting; Sir Charles Cast, of the king's household; Lady Arthur Paget, Lady Randolph Churchill, and Mrs. Lewis Harcourt, the last three members of the hospital committee.

Upon arrival at the hospital, Dr. Howard N. Beale, and the other surgeons, and the nurses, were presented to the queen, who remained for two hours, visiting the wards and talking to the wounded and presenting to them pipes, shirts, cigarettes and mufflers.

The queen was enthusiastic in her praise of the beautiful hospital. She highly commended the immaculate wards, thanked the surgeons and nurses for their efforts in behalf of the British soldiers, and congratulated the soldiers upon falling into such good hands.

Only seriously wounded privates are sent to Paignton, as it is felt that they have the greatest need of salt air and are less able to look after themselves. Practically all the patients are bed-ridden. The queen did not overlook a single man. She chatted with men injured at Mons, Courtrai and Ypres, discussing these battles and the conditions under which the men were wounded, invariably congratulating them on their valor and thanking them for their service to the nation.

The queen was specially impressed by the efficiency of the hospital staff, which consists of two Red Cross units of six surgeons and twenty four nurses under the direction of Doctor Beale. She expressed to the committee of ladies her appreciation of the assistance the Red Cross is rendering at a time when skilled surgeons and nurses are so badly needed.

Both the king and the queen left Buckingham Palace a little after nine o'clock this morning. While Queen Mary was at Paignton, King George was spending the day with the troops at Aldenham.

CROWN PRINCE
LOST BATTLE
LIFE IN PRISON
FOR GERMAN SPY

Insight Into Recent Great Russian
Victory—Six Princes Killed

London, Nov. 12.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Mail sends the following:

"It is now admitted semi-officially, but not yet mentioned in the official communications, that it was the failure of the German Crown Prince to hold his position in the center which compelled a retreat along the whole line. While General Von Hindenburg on the right, were both maintaining their positions, the crown prince's army was fleeing back to the Fatherland.

"The Russians poured in between the wings thus left in danger and attacked them, each on two sides, forcing them to scramble back to the frontiers and losing terribly all the way.

"The German excuse of bad roads is ridiculous here since, in spite of the bad roads, the Russians achieved marvels in marching. The Russians, unlike the Germans, do not depend upon the resources of the country they are traversing, but bring ample provisions with them."

"It appears that six German princes were killed in the battle, three of the Lippe family and one each of the houses of Hess, Waldeck and Reuss."

"The most severe storm in ten years has been raging along the coast, but is now abating. Several bridges are submerged, and a number of ships in the harbor here are damaged or ashore. Mail service is discontinued.

"Most of the coasting steamers succeeded in reaching refuge owing to ample warning of the approach of the storm."

AUSTRIA FEELS PINCH

Petroleum Supply From Roumania Latest
To Be Cut Off

Venice, Nov. 12.—Austrian manufacturers are finding increasing difficulty in procuring raw materials from abroad. Trade unions constantly are restricting the classes of wares permitted to be exported.

Roumania has just added petroleum to the prohibited list. This creates a serious situation for Austria, since the Russian occupation of Galicia has interfered greatly with the working of the oil wells there. For weeks it has been virtually impossible for private persons to obtain gasoline for automobiles.

NEW WATER WORK

Substantial progress has been made by the water and sewerage department in the work of making connections with the county hospital for tuberculous patients. A four inch cast iron water main is being laid from the hospital to the roadway, of permanent construction, and from that point a temporary repair pipe will connect with the Norton and Griffiths main on the shore. A nine inch sewer is being laid from the hospital building as far as the Municipal Home where it will join the big main from the latter institution. From the home to the shore the old wooden box sewer is being replaced by a fifteen inch terra cotta pipe.

The mild weather is giving the department an excellent opportunity to finish up other work around the city also. An improvement which will be much appreciated is a new water main which is being laid on the south side of Queen square. On a portion of this block there was an old two inch pipe but the other half of the block was without direct connection.

The extensions in Adelaide street have been completed; work is in progress in Bryden street and a start will be made in Durham street this week.

RUSSIAN BEAR JUST RISING TO THE ATTACK--TIMES WRITER WATCHES CZAR'S FIGHTING HOSTS GATHER

So'ld Peasants and Fierce Tribesmen, Alike Fearless of War's Hardships and German Bullets, Sweep Into Eastern Fighting Zone—Letter From Russia's Front

By W. H. Nevison
(By messenger to Athens and mail to Canada.)

Petrograd, Russia, Oct. 16.—The war is really just starting in Russia. The bear is only now rising to the attack. Despite the millions at the front, they are still flocking to the colors, tramping and galloping in by every road. This has been going on for two months. It probably will go on for a year and the never ending ranks will be made up of faces new to the fighting front.

On they come—Circassians, Cossacks, Little Russians, Siberian men from the regions of the Altai and the Ural, and most terrifying of all, the wild-eyed, confused, Mahometans, from Turkistan and the Kirghes steppe—the stolid peasants to fight for the little white father, the tribesmen to loot and slay!

I would hate to be a German fighting man after what I have seen. And that is no slur on the German. For even if a soldier of the Kaiser vanquished ten of these fierce Russians ten more will rise up to take the place of their slain fellows. These are my impressions after an eventful trip to Warsaw.

Russian Bear

But perhaps my opinions are swayed by visions of the unconquered and untamed Bash-Bazouks, a thousand motley bands of savage horsemen, with whom murder is a pleasure and robbery a boast. In mob formation they clatter along the abominable road, ponies snapping and biting at each other, their masters grunting strange Moslem oaths—"Mamallah" and "Allah" and "Bill Jah"—which seem to start deep in the throat and get no farther than the teeth.

The only uniformity in the half-crazed horsemen is found in their riding boots, and in the broad knives and wooden-buffed pistols which are stuck in their sashes.

My interpreter is a young student, son of a high official in the government and exempt from military service because he is awaiting appointment to a diplomatic post as an under-secretary. He had spent a year in England studying through his father's connections I was enabled to see Warsaw—as much of it as they would permit me, without an army officer as guardian. I suppose this was partly because Russia needs every officer she has and further because these Russians are extremely hospitable people.

The word hospitable may sound strange after just describing the Bash-Bazouks. But these wild men are by no means the Iran Slavovich, or ordinary soldier of Russia. The real Russians outnumber them twenty to one. My young interpreter didn't let them see their being in the war, but he disposed of it with a shrug and gesture.

"They are Russians," he said. "Let them fight for their country."

Real Russians

The ordinary Russian, the man from the small towns and farming country, is a good natured fellow who would give you his shirt or coat to wear if you were to bed hungry in order that the traveler could eat. He is stolid, easy going and easy—but I like him. I have known Ivan at close range and find him what we would call in America a regular guy.

But without Ivan is a queer creature. Devotion to the emperor—they don't call him "Car" over here—is not the only thing that makes him go to war with delight. He has another reason. If he goes to war he doesn't have to work and Ivan shuns work with a constancy that would put to shame the American boy. For war is merely getting shot, sleeping in damp trenches and going without food—an every day experience to the Russian peasant. That's the violent devil-may-care he leads during peace and the delightful programme is interrupted by three days of work every week.

On Friday Ivan doesn't work because it's the end of the week. Saturday is the end of the week; no labor, Sunday, naturally is a rest day. Monday is too early to get started. On Tuesday Ivan has a good old American hangover and a brown tale in his mouth when he starts off to work and perhaps he'll take the day off.

Of course, the czar's prohibition order, which really prohibits, has done much to remedy this condition and now it is declared the factories are running fire and six days a week and the work in the fields is not started.

The little white father did a daring thing when he abolished the vodka traffic. It cut 25 per cent off the nation's income as the government controlled the output. But a new system of taxation which hits the wealthier classes alone most exclusively is now being established to make good the lost revenue.

"Let us deliver our people from the alcohol evil. Finance will take care of themselves," he is reported as saying. By the way, this is the same czar of Russia who was the author of The Hague peace conference and only a few years ago proposed disarmament to the nations.

Poland Pays Awful Toll.

General Rennenkampf continues to hold back the German invasion along the Vistula west of Warsaw, but Poland, like Belgium, has paid its awful toll. The country is devastated, the crops ruined and the people near famine. The Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the armies, divides his time between the Polish theatre of war and the operations in Austria, conducted by General Russky.

Many are the deeds of heroism heard at the front. A story which has been repeated back from the banks of the Vistula offers an example of the demonic fury with which the Cossack battles his foe. One Cossack, unhorsed in the confusion of his command, screamed for his fellows to attack and charge. But charge they could not. This did not hinder the lone Cossack, however, and with a cry of "Nichevo" (Russian equivalent of I should worry) at his comrade he pointed his lance forward, bent his head low and dashed to his doom amidst the Germans.

A gruesome example of what war in this nation means occurred in one of the battles at Lyoff, near Lemberg. In a hospital I have seen a Jewish soldier who is raving mad. He was in the ranks of the Austrians, and in the man-to-man fight he drove his bayonet through the chest of his opponent. As the Austrians fell wounded to death he shouted the Hebrew death prayer, which begins "Hear, O Israel." The Russian Jewish soldier fell in a faint. When he had recovered he was a raving lunatic.

Three more of Digby's young men have volunteered for the front—Bernard Hutchinson of Jones Drug Store, who goes in the Medical Corps; James Merkle and Edward Webber, as chauffeurs.

C. Hadley Blackford, for Tiverton; Captain Wilfrid L. Snow, Captain Herbert Clayton, arrived here last night from Larnough having sold her fare at that port.

A large plate glass window was smashed and nearly all the liquor left exposed in the window was taken. The heaviest loss to the store was in the case of the children of liquor taken, but the cost of replacing the window.

EARNING HIS TROUSERS

A parish clergyman, walking round a village met an old parishioner named George.

"Well, George," he said, "how is it I have not seen you at church for several Sundays?"

"Hain't got no Sunday trousers," answered George.

"Well," said the clergyman, "I think we can remedy that. I have a pair at home which will just about fit you, and I will have them sent to you today."

"Thank you, parson," said George. The trousers were duly sent and the following three Sundays George was seen at church. Then, after being absent for some time, the clergyman again met him.

"Well, George," he said, "you have no excuse for not coming to church lately. How is it I have not seen you there?"

"Look here parson," said George, "I like a man to speak plain. I know what you mean; you're a-thinking about them trousers. I come to church three Sundays, an if you don't think I earned them trousers, jest tell me how many more Sundays I shall have to come afore they're mine altogether."

AND FOR WARS TO END

"Is there anyone present who wishes the prayers of the congregation for a relative or friend?" asked the minister.

"If do," said the angular lady who arose from the rear pew. "I want the congregation to pray for my husband."

"Why, Sister Abigail," replied the minister, "you have no husband yet."

"Yes, but I want you all to pitch in and pray for me."

AUSTRIAN STILL HELD

An Austrian reservist who was anxious to get back to his country was arrested last evening by Policeman Dykeman. He is still being held at the police station.

"It is thought that the pyramids were built to give employment to many people."

"Of course," replied the viciously positive girl. "Anybody could guess that."

Look at all the quipps who depend on them for a living."

ATLANTIC HARBORS
CAREFULLY GUARDED
Halifax and St. John Ports Will Be Especially Important This Winter.

(Toronto Mail and Empire)

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—On account of the important part the ports of Halifax and St. John will play this winter in connection with Canada's military activities, special precautions are being taken by the marine department to ensure safety of navigation at these points. J. G. McPhail, commissioner of lights, will leave for Halifax tomorrow to see that lights, buoys and other navigation aids at the winter ports kept in proper shape.

This work is generally left to the department's agents at Halifax, but it is desired to take special precautions this season.

The naval service department is charting several sea-going tugs for patrol duty on the Atlantic coast during the winter months. Vessels of ten-knot speed and about 150 feet length are being advertised for.

HOW DUNBAR II GOT THROUGH GERMAN LINE.
English Derby Winner Was Placed in Shed on Peasant's Farm for Ten Days.

London, Nov. 11.—While a dramatic story of the escape of Dunbar II, winner of this year's Derby from German hands has already been circulated by the press, its circumstances do not at all agree with those vouched for by Edward Johnson, the head trainer of H. P. Duryea's stable at Chantilly, near Paris. Instead of Dunbar being spared because he was an American flag with the words "Shoot me not" across his breast, the trainer, who is now in London, says the Germans never saw Dunbar nor did they see his companion, Shannon, and the two American colored men in charge. The reason of the escape, he explains, was that during the German raid the two horses were hidden in a shed on a peasant's farm while the two blacks lay in a protecting haystack.

For ten days and ten nights the colored men lay in fear of the Germans. By a mistake in the road, they had led the animals into territory occupied by the invaders. There they obtained the protection of the peasant, who told the hostlers that if captured by the Germans they would be mistaken for the hated Turcos of Algeria, who had been distinguishing themselves with bayonet work. Hence the pair would be tried by a drumhead court and shot dead. The peasant promised to look after the horses and to bring food to the liders. During the ten days Dunbar lay frequently, but they did not discover the racers or their guardians.

When the news first came to Paris that the Germans were sweeping south, Mr. Duryea, an American citizen, obtained permission from the French government to send his stock to his stud farm in Normandy. But Dunbar and Shannon were unequal to the trip, as their legs had been fired and were badly swollen. They were left with the two colored men to follow up at leisure. Not knowing the roads, the blacks went north instead of west. It was their unexplained absence that led Duryea to think the Germans had made a capture. Dunbar will never race again. His legs have given way, although improved by the fire treatment. But his value has not decreased on this account, as he may be the sire of future Derby winners.

ATLANTIC HARBORS
CAREFULLY GUARDED
Halifax and St. John Ports Will Be Especially Important This Winter.

(Toronto Mail and Empire)

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—On account of the important part the ports of Halifax and St. John will play this winter in connection with Canada's military activities, special precautions are being taken by the marine department to ensure safety of navigation at these points. J. G. McPhail, commissioner of lights, will leave for Halifax tomorrow to see that lights, buoys and other navigation aids at the winter ports kept in proper shape.

This work is generally left to the department's agents at Halifax, but it is desired to take special precautions this season.

The naval service department is charting several sea-going tugs for patrol duty on the Atlantic coast during the winter months. Vessels of ten-knot speed and about 150 feet length are being advertised for.

HOW DUNBAR II GOT THROUGH GERMAN LINE.
English Derby Winner Was Placed in Shed on Peasant's Farm for Ten Days.

London, Nov. 11.—While a dramatic story of the escape of Dunbar II, winner of this year's Derby from German hands has already been circulated by the press, its circumstances do not at all agree with those vouched for by Edward Johnson, the head trainer of H. P. Duryea's stable at Chantilly, near Paris. Instead of Dunbar being spared because he was an American flag with the words "Shoot me not" across his breast, the trainer, who is now in London, says the Germans never saw Dunbar nor did they see his companion, Shannon, and the two American colored men in charge. The reason of the escape, he explains, was that during the German raid the two horses were hidden in a shed on a peasant's farm while the two blacks lay in a protecting haystack.

For ten days and ten nights the colored men lay in fear of the Germans. By a mistake in the road, they had led the animals into territory occupied by the invaders. There they obtained the protection of the peasant, who told the hostlers that if captured by the Germans they would be mistaken for the hated Turcos of Algeria, who had been distinguishing themselves with bayonet work. Hence the pair would be tried by a drumhead court and shot dead. The peasant promised to look after the horses and to bring food to the liders. During the ten days Dunbar lay frequently, but they did not discover the racers or their guardians.

When the news first came to Paris that the Germans were sweeping south, Mr. Duryea, an American citizen, obtained permission from the French government to send his stock to his stud farm in Normandy. But Dunbar and Shannon were unequal to the trip, as their legs had been fired and were badly swollen. They were left with the two colored men to follow up at leisure. Not knowing the roads, the blacks went north instead of west. It was their unexplained absence that led Duryea to think the Germans had made a capture. Dunbar will never race again. His legs have given way, although improved by the fire treatment. But his value has not decreased on this account, as he may be the sire of future Derby winners.

Corner Brindley Street CARLETON'S*STORIES OF OLD LORD WEYMSS

(From the Youth's Companion)

"The only thing to do at ninety, after ninety, and before ninety," declared that fine old English nobleman, Lord Wemyss, who recently died at the age of 86, "is to keep on fighting for what you believe to be right. That is the main thing. And remember that the world is ever in its infancy of discovery and invention. I began life with tallow dips, and am to end it with electric light."

Lord Wemyss, perhaps better known by his earlier title of Lord Elcho—giver of the "Elcho shield" for marksmanship the trophy most famous among riflemen—was himself, through all his long life, a vigorous fighter for the right as he saw it.

He lived under six British monarchs. He helped Sir Robert Peel reform the corn laws, and was long a useful and energetic member of parliament; but perhaps no incident of his parliamentary career is better remembered than one more amusing than important that occurred during a debate in the House of Lords during the reign of Queen Victoria.

The Prince of Wales, later King Edward VII, was present as an interested listener, and was seated—wearing his hat according to custom—immediately in front of Lord Wemyss, when he rose to speak. In the course of his argument, the noble lord, carried away by the fervor of oratory, brought down his fist with an emphatic thump on top of the prince's silk hat, smashing it down about the princely ears, to the mingled dismay and entertainment of his audience. The prince disengaged himself from the damaged "topper" with a good-natured laugh, but he took care to remove himself out of reach of the too-earnest orator until the speech was concluded.

Queen Victoria, whose sense of humor was less than her son's, and her sensitiveness on the point of personal dignity greater, might have been less forgiving than he, had a ball that once narrowly missed her royal

MORE RECRUITS NEEDED

It may be hoped that the movement to organize a Home Guard of citizens of forty-five or more years of age will have a stimulating effect upon younger men, so that there may be much more active recruiting not only for foreign service, but for home defence. It is quite useless to assert that we are getting on bravely while the militia is not recruited up to war strength, and while there are yet to be recruited about three-fourths of the men required for the New Brunswick battalion for foreign service. A little plain speaking is necessary, and the sooner the campaign of public speaking is commenced the better. We ought also to see much more of men in uniform marching about the city, as a constant reminder to all the people that this country is in a state of war, and that it is the duty of all Canadians to take a lively interest in the work of recruiting, until Canada is properly represented at the front and has at home a militia recruited up to war strength. When this has been accomplished, we will be in a better position to talk, and will more fully deserve the nice things that are being said in the Old Country about the loyalty and devotion of Canadians. Lord Kitchener says he must have more men. His appeal ought to be as forceful in Canada as in England.

THE WAR NEWS

A German submarine has been able to get so close to the English coast that it was able to sink the little British gunboat Niger in the Downs, between the mouth of the Thames and Dover. The sinking of the vessel and the rescue of her crew took place right under the eyes of people upon the shore. Naturally the incident gives rise to fear of much greater damage by German submarines in the Straits of Dover. Apparently no one saw the slightest traces of the craft which sank the Niger, and the Niger was the only vessel attacked, although it is said that nearly a hundred vessels were at anchor in the Downs at the time.

There was also some cause for anxiety in the news which came last night from Belgium. The Germans have succeeded in capturing the town of Dixmude, which is on the road to Dunkirk, one of the French Channel ports which are the goal of the operations of the German armies. Very obstinate fighting has been in progress in the country between Dixmude and Ypres, and until yesterday the enemy had failed in all their attacks. Whether the capture of Dixmude is to be followed by further successes on their part is a question which naturally arouses anxiety, and today's news will therefore be scanned with very eager interest. The French official statement last night said that the Germans were being held, and had been repulsed every time they attempted to advance beyond Dixmude. The attack in force by the Germans was anticipated by the despatches of the last day or two, which expressed the view that they were preparing for one more desperate effort to break through the allied lines. Evidently they have brought up all available reinforcements, and whether they gain their point and reach the Channel coast in France, or whether they are defeated, the result may fairly be regarded as the beginning of a new phase of the war. Should they win through to the coast the conditions would be completely changed, and on the other hand they could hardly endure a decisive defeat near Dixmude and Ypres without falling back a considerable distance toward their own borders.

From Russia the news continues to be very satisfactory. It is claimed that the German defeat in East Prussia was more serious than had been stated in the official report, and that the Russian advance in Poland has lately been at the rate of fourteen miles per day; while in Galicia the Austrians continue to fall back before the Russian advance. There is good reason to believe that, while the Russian armies may be held in check here and there along the extended battle front, they will not again be forced to retreat, but will continue their movement with accelerating force toward Vienna and Berlin.

UNITED BRITAIN

Three notable speeches were made in the British parliament yesterday. "The Empire is on trial," said Premier Asquith, who also expressed the view that the war would not last as long as some people had originally predicted. The prime minister dwelt, however, upon the importance of making prompt and full provision to replace all losses in the field, to add reinforcements and conduct the war to a successful issue.

Mr. Bonar Law said that the opposition would give the government its undivided support in prosecuting the war, and said that the allies now stand in a better position than at the outbreak of the war, because Germany had failed on both fronts to gain the victory she had hoped to gain before the full resources of the allies were available. The opposition leader also expressed the view that as soon as Germany realized that she must be beaten there would be pressure of economic forces in that country which would have a marked effect in bringing the war to a close.

Viscount Bryce in the House of Lords made a speech that is more significant because he has always been a pronounced advocate of peace. He pointed out that the course pursued by Britain is justified by public opinion in the United States, which, judging the whole matter on moral grounds, condemns the course pursued by Germany. Viscount Bryce declared there could be no talk of peace at present, nor until there had been a complete triumph of the British ideal, which is that of peaceful communities dwelling tranquilly under the protection of treaties, over the ideal of a military state resolved to dominate all the neighboring countries.

There has been nothing more inspiring in the long annals of Britain than this spectacle of men of all shades of opinion sinking their differences and uniting as one man to prosecute a war which was not undertaken as a mere act of aggression, nor through a desire for territorial gain, but in order that the principle of international good faith, and of the protection of the rights of smaller communities, might be guaranteed for all time.

THE CITY'S HEALTH

The report of the board of health shows that the new hospital for advanced cases of tuberculosis will not be prepared any too soon, and that even after it has been prepared and contains patients there will still be need for vigilance to prevent the spread of the disease. There are far too many deaths from tuberculosis in this city and province. With a sanatorium at River Glade and the hospital for advanced cases in St. John there should within the next five years be a considerable change in this city.

A very striking feature of the report is that showing the large number of deaths of infants during the year. The all far too heavy. Much more attention must be paid to sanitary measures, to the cleaning up of premises, the removal of the breeding places of flies, and the spread of information concerning hygiene in its relation to the care of infants. Every citizen is interested in the health of the community, and therefore everyone has a personal interest in making this a healthier city in which to live. The annual report of the board of health is a document which ought to be carefully read and pondered over by the people, and the rather sad impression it makes upon the mind ought to be deep and strong enough to make every reader a staunch friend of every measure for the promotion and preservation of the public health.

Major-General Hughes, although in Ottawa, did not attend the cabinet meeting yesterday or the day before. The fact is the subject of comment.

The cables continue to bring stories of atrocities committed by German soldiers on Belgian women and children. This is one of the fruits of German "kultur."

If the Petrograd report that an Austrian general has withdrawn his army and refused to co-operate any longer with the German generals in Galicia is true it is one of the most significant items of today's news.

It is evident from the discussion in the British parliament yesterday that more than Kitchener's million men are to be recruited. Will New Brunswick be able to furnish that battalion for the second Canadian contingent?

Arrangements have been made for a great patriotic meeting in the Imperial Theatre next Tuesday evening. A similar meeting is to be held in Sussex tonight. Such meetings should be held all over the province, and doubtless leading men in the different cities and towns will heartily co-operate with the committee having the matter in charge.

Quickest, Surest Cough Remedy is Home-Made

Readily Prepared in a Few Minutes. Cheap but Unequaled

Some people are constantly annoyed from one year's end to the other with a persistent bronchial cough, which is wholly unnecessary. Here is a home-made remedy that gets right at the cause and will make you wonder what became of it. Get 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth) from any druggist, pour into a 16-ounce bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Start taking it at once. Gradually but surely you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether, thus ending a cough that you never thought would end. It also cures the dry, hoarse, or tight cough and heals the inflamed and painful cough with remarkable rapidity. Ordinary coughs are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, whooping cough and bronchial asthma. This Pinex and Sugar Syrup mixture makes 16 ounces—enough to last a family long time—at a cost of only 64 cents. It is perfectly and tastes pleasant. Readily prepared. Full directions with Pinex. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine resin, rich in quercetin, and is famous world over for its ease, certainty and promptness in overcoming bad coughs, croup and throat colds. Get the genuine. Ask your druggist for 2½ ounces Pinex, and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. CHRISTABEL SAYS MILITANTS WILL HELP THE MEN DURING WAR

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 11.—Citing the European war as "an instance of the danger and injustice of depriving women of the ballot," Miss Christabel Pankhurst, the English militant suffragette, rounded the closing session of the Southern States Suffrage Conference to an enthusiastic demonstration here tonight.

"But notwithstanding the suffragette's differences with the men's government in England," said the speaker, "the women are now concentrating their efforts to helping their country in its time of trial and peril."

AN APPLE CALENDAR

(By Peter McArthur.)

This season has taught the Canadian apple grower a severe lesson, and if they profit by it the apple business will be placed on a sure foundation. Throughout the whole dominion apple growing has been a happy-go-lucky industry. Since pioneer times farmers have been visited yearly by agents from the nurseries who carried beautifully lithographed pictures of many varieties of apples. With only these pictures and the smooth talk of plausible agents to guide them, farmers have planted out orchards of all sizes with an almost infinite variety of apple trees. The result is that the channels of trade are cluttered with all kinds of apples, many of them good enough, but not sufficiently known. Apple consumers have learned with two fancy buttons. The patch pockets at the front may be omitted, but they are considered exceedingly chic.

To make the coat requires 3 1/2 yards 54-inch material. The front has to be cut from an open fold of the tweed, and from this same breadth of goods may be obtained the cape, cuffs, collar and sleeves.

Now, folding the material, lay the back on the lengthwise fold and on the opposite edge place the underfacing of the front.

The back is the most difficult part of the construction, the front being easy to make after the underfacing is stitched in place, pockets added and dart stitched at upper edge. Form box-pleat at center of back, sew sleeve to back and adjust cape into position. Bring single large and small "o" perforations to corresponding perforations in back, under box-pleat and stitch cape to position. Sew sleeve and cape to front as notched. Close under-arm and sleeve seams as notched. Sew collar to neck edge as notched. Close cuff seams as notched; arrange together, notches at lower edges even and sew to sleeve as notched.

Slash back under box-pleat on line of three small "o" perforations to pass belt through and bring single large and small "o" perforations to corresponding perforations in back and tack. Large colored bone buttons are used almost exclusively on coats of this kind.

to the use of different apples that are good in different seasons. On the latter point it has occurred to me that we might easily have an apple for each month, just as jewelers have different gifts in the different months. For instance, my birthday is in March, and I choose a Golden Russet as my birthday apple. It would be to allot apples to the different months as follows:—

August—Red Astrachan or Yellow Transparent.

September—Duchess, or Wealthy.

October—Gravenstein, or Pippin.

November—Kings or Pears.

EDISON'S SUBMARINE

Present Type, He Says, Will Be Revolutionary

West Orange, N. J., Nov. 12.—Thomas A. Edison is still studying the submarine, and he predicts that the type of underwater craft in use today will be revolutionized.

age to protest against the supply of rum to the troops at the front. He points out that, instead of being adequately supported against cold and wet by the issue of hot food drinks which are real, not false stimulants, soldiers are to be given the cheapest spirit obtainable, which will render them more susceptible to cold, spoil their shooting, impair their efficiency, and ultimately injure their morale and discipline. Sir Victor also wishes to know what is to be done for the many thousands of soldiers who are pledged abstainers from alcohol.

The authorities should be urged to take these matters into consideration. We are glad to say that the Russian government is acting more wisely in this matter, as the Czar has decided "to prohibit for ever" the government sale of alcohol in Russia, in which the sale of spirits is a government monopoly.

When the war began, all the spirit shops were closed, with the result that there was an instantaneous decrease in crime. Now that closing has been made permanent it entails a loss of revenue to the government of more than £20,000,000 a year. This means great courage on the part of the government.

If table silver is placed in hit soap most signal act of prohibition the world has ever seen. France has also closed her shops during the war, and in various places in the United Kingdom the authorities have closed the public-houses earlier than formerly.

Girl's Body Found.

The finding of a body in the St. John river at Fredericton yesterday cleared up the mystery of the disappearance on Sunday last of Miss Reta Williams, an employee of the Barker House. Just how the girl came to her death cannot be surmised and Coroner Weaver will hold an inquest. Miss Williams belonged to Acton, York county, and is survived by her parents and eight brothers.

HAVE YOU A NEEDLE—ECONOMY HINTS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

BY MARGARET J. BLAIR
(Lecturer on Home Economy, University of Minnesota).
(Copyright, 1914, by Margaret J. Blair).

There are few things more objectionable than the "fashionable" little girl, unless it is the "fashionable" little boy. Leave the fold-overs and the follies for the grown-ups—childhood should be simple and unaffected. The wartime mother will appreciate the economy of this and make a virtue of simplicity.

As pretty as it is practical is the little one-piece dress for school and a pair of bloomers of the same material—not the full gym-size bloomers but a garment about the fullness of knickerbockers.

The little garment serves as substitute for both petticoat and drawers. It may be gathered at the knee with a buttoned band or with an elastic run in.

For the dress, there is nothing so pretty and smart as the Norfolk style with its two plaits front and back from shoulder to hem, or the killed skirt in plaid materials. Material with a hard thread wears best and retains the platings, which, in soft materials, calls for frequent pressing.

There is a revival of the old-time long sleeved gingham apron with ties at the back, and it may look well for school wear, pretty and economical.

Careful Mending Saves the Pennies
When a girl's garment tears, to mend it carefully means to make it serve longer. I give here some hints for the proper mending of such a tear in gingham frocks, etc.

Darning is used in mending a tear or cut, by drawing the edges together and the same distance down the cloth, cutting the thread carefully so as to prevent the edges from becoming rough and the threads pulling out.

With the thread fasten the corner of the tear into place with small run.

1. You must hold your needle straight.

2. You must have your thread fine enough.

3. You must darn on the right side.

4. You must draw your stitches just tight enough so the tear will not pucker.

Darning a Three-Cornered Tear

1. Near the centre of the piece of flannel, make a cut 1 1/2 inches across the same distance down the cloth, cutting from the same point. (Fig. 1)

2. Hold the tear carefully so as to prevent the edges from becoming rough and the threads pulling out.

3. With the thread fasten the corner of the tear into place with small run.

4. Draw the edges of the cloth along the tear together with fine running stitches, three or four on each side of the tear. Slant these stitches to the right, one row up and the next row down. (Fig. 3)

5. Keep your work turned so that you sew from right to left.

6. Do not fasten your thread, but cut it off.

7. Draw the second side of the cut together as you did the first, only slant your stitches to the left.

8. Be careful not to pucker the tear when you draw it together, and be sure you do not sew too far on either side of the tear.

9. Begin at one end of the tear and darn toward the corner with very short running stitches. Have your stitches run within 3-8 of an inch of the corner.

10. The rows of stitches must run with the threads of the material again about 3-8 of an inch beyond the corner.

11. Cut the threads without fastening.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALT
If Your Back Hurts or Bladder
Bothers, Drink Lots of Water

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

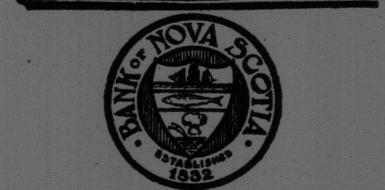

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

SHEEP RAISING PROFITABLE
Canada Should be a Good Sheep
Country—Farmers Can Make Small Flocks Pay

(Conservation.)
Conditions in Canada are as favorable for raising sheep as for cattle, horses or swine. Yet we find these latter have rapidly increased during the last thirty-five years, while there has been a considerable decline in the number of sheep raised during the same period. Various reasons are given for this falling off. Mutton and wool prices fell, and sheep-keeping, conducted carelessly, brought little profit. The thorough-going sheepman, however, did not find it necessary to abandon the business, and he has consequently reaped the reward of good prices and clearer and richer land.

Much effort has been put forth to further the swine and cattle industries, but sheep culture has been allowed to drift along with the current of indifference. In 1911, however, work was undertaken by the Ontario Department of Agriculture having as its object to stimulate this neglected industry and to demonstrate that sheep-raising pays. Nine flocks of from ten to twelve grade ewes a flock, in various parts of Ontario were used in the demonstration. These were owned by the farmer in each case and the work was conducted in a manner quite within the reach of all other farmers who own, or could own, sheep.

Interest on the capital invested in the flock and the cost of feed were in each case deducted from the receipts. In every instance substantial net profits were made, the average being within few cents of $39 a flock a year, or $3.50 a head.

Prominent sheep papers of the United States are forecasting good times for sheepmen, and they are not seen far wrong; when it is considered that during the war there will doubtless be a demand for sheep destroyed in Europe, it would seem to be an opportune time for those contemplating entering upon the breeding of sheep to get a few breeding ewes and start a flock.

It does not cost much to start in the business, and the monetary returns are rapid; the wool and the lamb crop are saleable annually. Sheep eat almost all classes of weeds and, as their manure is rich and evenly distributed, they are good soil improvers. Expensive buildings and constant care are unnecessary.

"Sheep-Raising Pays." Try it with a flock of ten or twelve grade ewes, and a pure bred ram, and increase the profits from your farm, and at the same time you will be cleaning and enriching your land.—F. C. N.

The reason of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical profession. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the system and restoring him to his normal state. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they will pay $100 for any case that it fails to cure. Send for literature.

DOLLAR STATUE MUST WAIT TILL WAR ENDS

(Montreal Gazette.)
Adam Dollard des Ormeaux, who in 1600 with fifteen young, brave companions and forty Huron Indians, saved the city of Quebec from destruction by the Iroquois when the city consisted of forty small houses and Canada contained barely three thousand of white population, will have to wait until the end of the present war before the tardy recognition that his heroism deserves will be accorded to him by the erection of the monument designed for Viger Square.

The competition was opened to the sculptors of the whole world, and already five plaster casts have arrived in bond at Laval University awaiting the time when the judges will be able to adjudicate between the merits of the models. Notable and famous sculptors of every country known for pre-eminence in this art were appraised of the competition and of the particulars of the historical event that it was desired should be embodied in bronze in this way. In the ordinary course of events the models would have been ready at the Laval University for judging this fall. But, sculptors have to fight as well as the blue-bloused worker, and a good majority of those who had been expressing most interest in this competition, are at the front, fighting for their countries.

It is thought that so soon as communication is opened up regularly between Havre and Canada and between Paris and Havre so that there will be no danger of things shipped being lost, other plaster casts will come forward, and the judges have decided to postpone indefinitely the date up to which these models can be received.

South Huron Liberals Choose Candidate.
Clinton, Ont., Nov. 11.—Thomas McMillan, of Huron, son of the late John McMillan, M. P., was nominated for the federal house by the Liberals of South Huron, at an annual convention here today. F. P. Jarvie, M. P., was the principal speaker.

Night Cables On War Situation

The country between Dixmude and Ypres, where the belligerents have been engaged in violent attacks and counter-attacks for weeks past and where the losses have been heavier even than those in the battle of the Yser, is again the scene of a battle, which for fury has seldom, if ever, been equalled.

Behind Dixmude is the direct road to Dunkirk, one of the French ports on which the Germans have set their hearts, and if they can break through here the Allies will be compelled to fall back to new positions. The invaders have therefore been concentrating their forces at this point, and their success in taking Dixmude, where they claim to have captured 500 prisoners, and positions to the west of Langemark, where, according to the Berlin report, 2,000 prisoners fell into their hands, shows that the statements, so freely made, that they have been sending troops from the west to Poland, are without foundation.

It is considered quite certain that with the enormous forces required for the effort to get through to the coast and to protect their own country from Russian invasion the Germans will not be able to throw any additional troops into the lines which stretch through Northern France and along the Franco-German border.

On the other hand the French, whose army is growing daily, might attempt an offensive against Lorraine or Alsace as a diversion which would relieve the pressure in the west.

The Germans, according to Petrograd despatches, have suffered a more serious defeat on the East Prussian front than the official statements have disclosed. Advances from the Russian capital today state that in the recent fighting there the Russians have captured more than 20,000 prisoners, together with quantities of guns and munitions.

After the predictions that the war could not be ended within three years, the British prime minister, Mr. Asquith, in a statement in the House of Commons today that he did not believe it would last so long as originally expected, struck another cheerful note. While some continue to believe that the war will be one of years, there is an increasing number who think that the great offensive campaign by the Allies in the spring, when England's new army of 1,000,000 men can take the field and Russia and France will be stronger than ever, will bring the conflict to an end, exhaustion also playing its part.

When Premier Asquith was asked how many more men would be required, he would not risk a reply. Mr. Asquith further intimated that a vote of credit of considerable dimensions would be asked by the government, and that there would be another vote for men. This indicates that the government intends to go beyond the million men asked for by Earl Kitchener, secretary of state for war, and that the recruiting will continue until the war is concluded.

Mr. Asquith announced that the responsibility for the sending of a naval brigade of marines to Antwerp to assist in the defense of that city while it was being besieged, for which Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, has been criticized, rested with the government as a whole. The premier said that Earl Kitchener had been consulted, and approved the step.

REPORTS OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS SHOW GAIN
Sessions of N. B. & P. E. I.
S. S. Association in Sussex Yesterday

Sussex, N. B., Nov. 11.—The sessions of the N. B. and P. E. Island Sunday School Association were continued here today, with Rev. J. H. A. Anderson presiding. Various reports were presented. Rev. Mr. Anderson reported upon the Y. M. C. A. Boy's Conference in St. John last spring. Rev. Mr. Alexander gave an address on the "Teen Age Field."

Rev. Mr. Ross as general secretary referred to the organization which had been during the year and spoke of school work in general.

Far too many schools close during the winter months about 40 per cent are in this dormant condition during from three to seven months of the year. By comparing county statistics with available denominational reports it has been possible to present the most complete report of recent years. Our gains are marked, due to better reports being received rather than phenomenal increase. From schools reporting out of 750, the enrollment of scholars is 88,548, a gain of over 10,000; teachers and officers, 4,962, a gain of 1,500; cradle roll membership, 2,996, a gain of 185; home department, 2,128, a loss of 82; grand total enrollment, 49,591, a gain of 12,746.

The percentage of the Protestant population in Sunday schools is only 80 per cent, and the problem is to reach the other 20 per cent, as well as to hold what we have.

The secondary division superintendent stated that there is an enrollment of 7,692 with 46 organized classes. There are many hundreds of boys and girls who will be brought into the division this year.

The report of the adult division shows that twenty-two new classes are enrolled with a membership of 551 making in all 1,297 members with a total enrollment of 4,014.

GO BRAGH AND GREEN FLAG

London, Nov. 12.—A letter from Corporal J. J. Cunningham, of the First Irish Guards, to a friend at Loughlin, Essex, says: "You may be surprised to hear that the Irish flag I bought from the dealer before parting with you I still have got. At first I was told that it was the fate of the day seemed to water in the balance, that faded flag turned a threatened defeat into decisive victory."

"On our left were the Munsters and on our right the Leinsters and Connaught Rangers. All were hard pressed and were about to retire when suddenly from the firing line one of our comrades rushed out flourishing the old green flag and shouting 'Erin Go Bragh!'"

"With a mighty cheer that seemed to rend the heavens, and that rose and swelled even above the din of battle, those hard pressed sons of Erin charged down on the advancing enemy with fixed bayonets."

"The Germans turned and fled in all directions, completely routed and wholly disorganized."

Why We Do It
Six years ago we commenced business in St. John as blank strangers and in every way handicapped foreigners. Although natives of Hungary we have learned since becoming naturalized citizens of the British Empire, what it means to enjoy freedom of speech, action and a true spirit of business and social co-operation. We thank our British fellow-subjects for prospecting us and gladly do we hand over our thriving business for the sake of the splendid charities made necessary by the terrible war. We trust that the people of St. John will accept our donation in the spirit in which it is offered.

MORE HORRIBLE TALES OF GERMAN ATROCITIES

Toronto, Nov. 11.—D. Mayall, a Toronto financial broker, recently returned from the seat of war, bears personal testimony to the atrocities committed by the Germans in Belgium. He said in an interview tonight:

"At Rosendael I came in contact with the mother of a young woman who had been mistreated by four German soldiers to such an extent that she had to be placed in an asylum. The incident took place in Aerschot, and, according to her mother, the soldiers had compelled the parents to witness the atrocity. The father protested against such treatment of his daughter, and when he stepped forward to defend her he was tied hand and foot and shot."

He declares that he saw two children whose hands had been cut off, and a nine-year-old girl who had lost all the fingers of both hands.

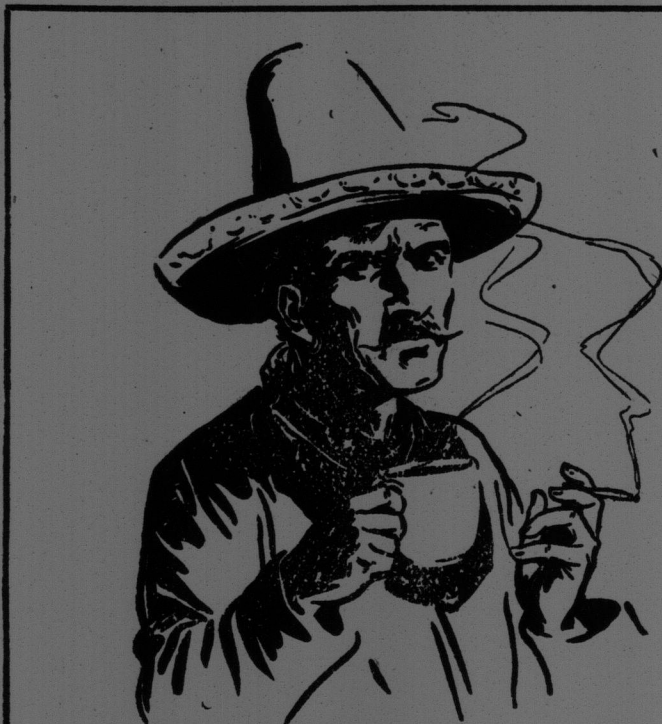

RECENT WEDDINGS

Brown-Duncan.
At the residence of Mrs. Harry P. Bennett, Duke street, yesterday, her sister, Miss Annie E. Duncan, daughter of I. W. Duncan, of Salisbury, was married to Duncan R. Brown, I. C. R. conductor, living in Moncton. The bride wore a travelling suit of midnight blue serge. Mrs. George N. Palmer of Moncton played the wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will reside in Moncton.

A very interesting wedding took place last night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dean, Seaview House, Lomeville, when their eldest daughter, Hazel, was united in marriage to George Luther Tyner, of Chance Harbor. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. W. Malcolm, of East St. John. The bride was becomingly attired in a traveling suit of grey and wore a white beaver hat. Miss Pearl Dean, sister of the bride, acted as flower girl. After the marriage a dainty luncheon was served, after which the bride and groom motored to their new home at Chance Harbor. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly gifts, including cut glass and silver. The groom's gift to her was a check.

Law School Students.
The annual meeting of the King's College Law School students was held last evening. The classes this year are probably the largest ever assembled at the local school and much interest is being taken in the arrangements for the programme as prepared by the students, in addition to the course of lectures in the curriculum. Dr. Silas Alward, K. C. dean of the school, was chosen honorary president. W. H. Teed, president, R. A. Davidson, vice-president, and E. J. Henneberry, secretary-treasurer, Thos. E. O'Leary was appointed correspondent to the King's College Record and a debating committee was appointed to consist of Messrs. McLaughlin, Dever, Vincent, Smith and Gale.

Charges of Heresy.
The Presbyterian Synod of Manitoba has laid a charge of unorthodox teaching against the Manitoba College (Presbyterian). It is charged that the Virgin birth of Christ, the Atonement and in fact the very Dely are being done away with. The principal, Dr. A. B. Baird, is exonerated.

ANY DYSPEPTIC CAN GET WELL

By Taking "Fruit-a-tives" Says
Capt. Swan

Life is very miserable to those who suffer with indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach and biliousness. This letter from Captain Swan (one of the best known skippers on the Great Lakes) tells how to get quick relief from stomach trouble.

Port Burwell, Ont., May 8th, 1913.

"A man has a poor chance of living and enjoying life when he cannot eat. That was what was wrong with me. Loss of appetite and indigestion was brought on by constipation. I have had trouble with these diseases for years. I lost a great deal of flesh and suffered constantly. For the last couple of years I have taken 'Fruit-a-tives' and have been so pleased with the results that I have recommended them on many occasions to friends and acquaintances. I am sure that 'Fruit-a-tives' have helped me greatly. By following the diet rules and taking 'Fruit-a-tives' according to directions, any person with dyspepsia will get better."

RECENT DEATHS

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Longon were shocked last evening by the death of Mrs. Longon, who passed away at her home, 140 Britain street. She had been seriously ill for about four weeks with typhoid fever but seemed to be gaining as well as could be expected until Sunday last when she became suddenly worse. Since then her family has known of the great danger of the relapse but it was hoped she would recover. Death came in spite of all that could be done.

Mrs. Longon was highly esteemed, and friends here and in St. Stephen have lost a greatly respected companion. She was formerly Miss Jennie Hewitt, of St. Stephen, where two brothers and one sister reside.

Besides her husband she leaves a family of one son and three daughters to mourn. They are William, Edith, Alice and Ruth—all at home. Her brothers are Robert and Herbert Hewitt, and Mrs. Clarence Dean is the sister.

The funeral is to take place on Friday at 2.30 p. m.

Reuben Lunt Peck, formerly of Albert county, died recently in La Conner, Wash., aged fifty-three years. E. E. Peck, police magistrate of Albert is a brother.

Had Good Trip.
James P. Murphy and Walter Harrington of North End have returned home after a very successful hunting trip in the woods some miles distant from Clarendon station. They saw plenty of big game, at one time from a hill-top spying to less than seventeen moose. They brought home two deer and a moose, all of which were of splendid size and having a good spread of antler.

CANADA IN THE WAR

At a meeting called to arrange for home defence yesterday, Mayor Frink said that he had the names of about sixty persons anxious to drill with the Home Guards. All that was required was their willingness and ability to drill. It being understood that they were above military age, 45 years. A committee consisting of Col. E. T. Sturges, Cde J. R. Armstrong, Capt. E. A. Smith, T. H. Estabrooks and Josiah Fowler, was appointed to act with the mayor in making preliminary arrangements to start the Home Guards in St. John.

A patriotic meeting is to be held next Tuesday night in the Imperial Theatre in the interests of recruiting and the patriotic fund.

Word has been received that Great Britain needs all the wool raised in Australia so that the embargo on exports from that colony will not be raised, unless the goods manufactured from the wool in question be sent to England.

Sir George Foster yesterday cabled to Premier Fisher of Australia, "Bravo, Australia! All our congratulations to you," his reference, of course, being to the capture of the Emden.

Full equipment is now available for the eight battalions of Infantry now mustering for the second contingent.

Col. Rutherford, of Halifax, while in the city yesterday inspected the remount depot and was pleased with the general arrangements. There are now 1,600 horses in the depot, 400 more having arrived last night.

Pimples For Three Years

Marvelous Zam-Buk Cure

Mr. Willard F. Allen, of 258 Pleasant St., Halifax, N. S., writes: "Up to a year ago my face was a mass of pimples, which, besides being extremely embarrassing, caused me a good deal of pain. I used all kinds of tonics and salves, also remedies prescribed by my physician. These were of very little benefit to me. My face would clear somewhat at times, and I would think that I was on the road to a permanent cure, and then the trouble would return and the pimples and sores be worse than ever. This condition of affairs continued for about three years."

"One day I happened to see an account of a remarkable cure of eczema by Zam-Buk; so I thought I would try Zam-Buk also. I sent for a box and the results were so very pleasing that I procured a larger supply. I persevered with Zam-Buk for three months, and at the end of that period my face was cleared of all unsightly pimples."

"I attribute my recovery solely to the use of Zam-Buk, as I did not use any other remedy during the time I was using it. As my case was of long standing and very obstinate, I consider my cure a wonderful triumph for Zam-Buk and would heartily recommend it to anyone afflicted as I was."

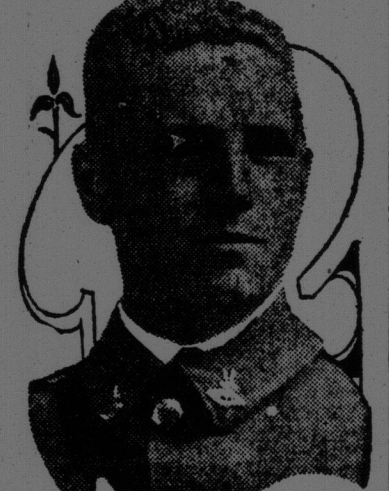

If you are suffering from eczema, ulcers, running sores, or any skin trouble you should apply Zam-Buk.

At all druggists and stores, 50c. box, 8 boxes $1.25, or postpaid from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, on receipt of price. Refuse substitutes. Send this advertisement, name of paper, and 1c. stamp for free trial box.

NEW ZEALAND TO DEVELOP NAVY

Important Announcement by Mr. Massey, the Premier

Wellington, N. Z., Nov. 12.—An important development in New Zealand's naval policy is foreshadowed by Mr. Massey, the prime minister, in a manifesto in which he outlines the platform of the reform party in the dominion.

Every effort would be made, says the manifesto, to develop the dominion's share in the responsibilities and obligations of the British Empire. The party he represented would undertake to preserve the national defense system already in operation throughout the country, and at the same time would promote a naval policy under which the dominion would train its own personnel and gradually develop interests in the Imperial navy that could protect the empire as a whole and at the same time maintain the supremacy of the British flag in the Pacific ocean as well as ensure the safety of the trade routes from hostile raids.

A CLEVER CAPTURE

(From Beck's Weekly, Montreal)

The story of how a hundred and forty Germans were cleverly captured by a group of thirty-five French soldiers is told in the "Matin." The French were a party of cooks left in a village by the regiment to prepare the evening meal. They were in occupation of a farmyard and suddenly heard the sound of marching. One of them managed to observe the advancing troops without being seen. All but one of the cooks hurriedly took up position in the wood, and their comrade remained in the yard. As the Germans came up he went forward to meet them, shouting to them:

"Lay down your arms!" he said, "and surrender or you will be shot down to a man." The officers halted their men and the French soldier said again: "Surrender or we open fire." Meanwhile the men in the wood blew their whistles, suggesting that they were in force. Believing they were ambushed the enemy agreed to surrender, but the question was how to disarm them. First the French soldier made the officers lay down their arms; then the men had to do the same and advance in file and pile their arms. It was not until all had been thus disarmed by the single soldier that the thirty-four came out of the wood with fixed bayonets. It was then, however, too late to resist, and when the regiment returned they found the hundred and forty Germans securely locked up in one of the barns waiting for an escort to take them to the rear.

A SUSPICIOUS MONUMENT

One in French Village Ready for German Guns

Paris, Nov. 12.—The intransigent calls the attention of the authorities to the remarkable nature of the monument erected in 1910 at the village of Champigny-sur-Marne, 19 miles east of Paris. Acting on information received Champigny readers, intransigent reporters visited the monument. It consists of a granite obelisk with an inscription commemorating Wurtenburgers killed during the battle there in 1871. The obelisk is situated on a platform twenty yards square, on hills commanding the Champigny fort, with a full view of the towers of Notre Dame.

According to their instructions, the reporters tore up the sods covering the platform, which they found to be of the most solid construction, the material resembling cement. At two points of the platform were holes six inches in diameter suitable for affixing supports for mortars with which to bombard Paris. Inquiries elicited the information that a large number of official-looking Germans visited the spot last June, while a retired Uhlan major, who left a little before the mobilization had been living in the neighborhood since 1910.

TOMMY ATKINS UNDER FIRE

All the old stories of the coolness of "Tommy Atkins" on the battlefield are being resuscitated; he has fished in Belgian canals using his bayonet as a rod, with the enemy on the other side of the hill; when almost under fire he has snatched time to shave and has behaved with inconspicuous levity when quite under fire. And the present war is yielding a new supply of stories. A Belgian tells the following in the London Times:

"What impressed me above all were the coolness and dash of the British soldier. His utter indifference to danger, and his general air of 'Don't care,' simply carried me away. At moments of critical danger I have seen him worrying as to when he was to get his cup of tea from his little traveling kitchen. 'I shall never forget the admirable reply given by an English soldier, wounded in the hand, whom I found sitting by the roadside outside Mons wearing an air of contentment. I began to talk to him and asked him if his wound was hurting him. 'It's not that,' he said, with a doleful shake of his head, 'but I'm blessed if I haven't been and lost my pipe in that last charge! I gave him mine and he was instantly comforted.'—The World's Work."

I have been treated by many doctors without any results. One day a friend in Boston advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. After using two boxes I noticed great improvement, and after the fourth box I was completely cured. My digestion is good. I never feel any pain in the back. Thin People Can Increase Weight

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and most any thin man or woman can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it turns the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepares it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. All this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol stops the waste and does it quickly and makes the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Druggists sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—for a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Mail Brings Further Word From Soldier Lads at Salisbury Plain

If there is worry over the Canadian boys waiting the call to the firing line in Europe the lads themselves, judging by the tenor of their letters home, are not contributing very largely to it. A rather humorous letter was received by a friend from Wm. Wood, formerly a street car conductor, who left here with the Ambulance Corps. He speaks of the desire of the local volunteers to get into action. "We're not going to stop at any crossings," he wrote, "and there'll be no transfers given, either. And if the Kaiser ever tries to board our car we'll tell him that his money is no good, and that the only bell we'll ring for him will sound a funeral note. But say, Mac, wouldn't it be some idea if we could only capture the old codger, take him back to St. John, and make him a motorman? We'd never let him do it unless he joined the Union, and think of the fun we'd have watching him ride the goat!" Mr. Wood closed with best wishes to his former associates in the local Street Railway Men's Union.

Mrs. Bert A. Alcorn, of St. James street, has received a letter from her brother, Ned Sargent, with the Canadian contingent now at Salisbury Plain, telling of his trip across the ocean and of the life at the great camp. He says that it is quite cool in the mornings and the frost is thick on the ground. The soldier says that the men are able to buy an excellent meal for the small sum of twelve cents. Mr. Sargent was planning on going to London during the three days leave allowed the men.

He says that the men are anxious to get to the front and thinks that it will not be long before they are on the firing line. The letter was written by the soldier boy under difficulties, he being compelled to use his wash basin for a writing table.

Mrs. Alcorn has also received a letter from another brother, Etc. J. M. Sargent, who is also at Salisbury Plain. The brothers are camped about five miles apart. Both men send regards to friends in the city.

JUST A YEAR SINCE KANE'S CORNER STREET CAR LINE WAS OPENED

Yesterday marked the first anniversary of the opening of the street car line around Kane's Corner and the One Mile House and the people of the East St. John district were in hopes that the street railway people would celebrate the day with the announcement that the mile more street has been lying idle between Kane's corner and the Municipal Home since early in the spring would soon be employed for a very worthy purpose. But the anniversary passed off without any such explosion. However, the people out that way, hardened pedestrians every one, are consoling themselves with the thought that, even if they have nothing else, they have the tracks there upon which they may gaze at pleasure, and point out to their visiting friends as one of the sure signs of the expansion and development of the city.

ST. JOHN YOUNG MAN WEDS IN VANCOUVER

Many friends in St. John will be interested in an event which took place in the Mount Pleasant Presbyterian Church, Vancouver, on Tuesday evening, November 3, when Miss Vera Annetta, daughter of Mrs. Mary L. Fenton, of that city, became the bride of a former St. John boy, Harold Stanley Cunningham. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Joy Woodside, in the presence of only intimate friends. Miss Margaret Mitchell was bridesmaid and Allan Macdonald supported the groom. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham left on a honeymoon trip to Seattle, Tacoma and Portland, Ore. On their return to Vancouver they will reside at 68 Fortieth avenue west.

The best wishes of many friends in this city will be extended to Mr. Cunningham and his bride. Mr. Cunningham was formerly with the Western Union Telegraph Co. here and went west about five years ago. He is now an operator with the C. F. R. Telegraph Co. in Vancouver.

DESTROYING TREES IN WATERLOO STREET GETS $179.19 VERDICT

Commissioner Potts and the officials of the street department would be very grateful for information fixing responsibility for the destruction of trees along the streets. At least half a dozen trees in Waterloo street have had the tops or branches broken off by horses permitted by careless drivers to stand within reach. It is useless to plant trees and attempt to beautify the streets unless teamsters and others protect them. If information can be got, prosecution will promptly follow.

HEAVY DAY IN THE CITY COURT

Ninety cases were on the list before Hon. R. J. Ritchie in the city court this morning. This was a record day, the usual number of cases being between fifty and sixty at the most. Many this morning were contested and consequently there was very little time in which to dispose of the business of the police court. Twenty-eight of the cases were brought by Doctor Preston's estate for accounts on his books. Some of the accounts were eight or ten years old. J. H. F. Teed acted for the estate. In one of these accounts, the defendant denied ever having seen Doctor Preston. Mr. Teed asked for a judgment on the ground that an entry in the books showed the amount due. Hon. Mr. Ritchie said he thought Mr. Teed should ask for a judgment for the defendant as he would then be more likely to get a decision in his favor when it was appealed because he said that his judgment would be almost sure to be reversed whichever way. Judgment was given for the defendant.

Mr. Justice Barry delivered judgment this morning in the case of Samuel L. Gregory vs. Frank E. Williams et al for the plaintiff for the amount of $179.19. This was a suit to recover $1500, $1000 of which was alleged to be due as salary and $500 as commission. The plaintiff entered into an agreement with the defendants whereby he was to receive for his services $2,000 as salary as well as a minimum commission of $500 from the defendants who were known in the transaction as the Fundy Fox Company. The contract dated from May 7th, 1913 and was to run for one year, but the plaintiff was dismissed from his employment on December 10, 1913. He had been paid a six month's salary and brought suit to recover his wages for the balance of the term of his contract. The court held that as the plaintiff had treated the contract as rescinded and sued for wages, he was only entitled to recover the amount due for the work he had actually done, and gave a verdict accordingly. At the trial J. B. M. Baxter, K. C. appeared for the plaintiff and Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C. and J. A. Sinclair for the defendants.

GREY-MACKENZIE
A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of E. A. Benn, 106 Waterloo street, last evening, when Roy Cecil Grey and Miss Mary Elizabeth Mackenzie were united in the bonds of matrimony by Rev. Mr. Thompson. The bride was becomingly attired in a costume of steel grey silk and carried a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums. The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. Walter W. Grey played Mendelssohn's wedding march. After a buffet luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Grey left for their future home, 14 Bentley street.
