INSURANCE RATES GO UP.

TORONTO, Sept. 11.—Insurance rates are again to be advanced in Toronto, this time on machine shops and foundries. The first meeting of the Toronto board of fire underwriters since the holidays was held yesterday afternoon, at which the advance was decided upon. The basis of the schedule under which the machine shops and foundries were rated was increased 50 cents. This means an advance of 50 cents on one hundred dollars on the class of business in question, and on other classes of metal workers. The increase is made to bring rates into harmony with outside places where rates were increased by the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association last spring.

WHAT BRO. ARMSTRONG THINKS.
(St. Andrews Beacon.)

The "Lord's Day Alliance" is striving to prove that St. John is a very wicked city, and the members thereof have petitioned the local government to appoint a commission to enquire into the causes which are responsible for this wickedness. The inaction of the police is alleged as one cause and it is this feature of the matter that is to be specially enquired into. We do not know what grounds the Alliance members have for the allegations they have made against the police, but we do know that St. John is not the wicked city they represent it to be. Perhaps the sermons of some of the Alliance members are not listened to on Sundays by very large numbers, but this fact does not prove wickedness. If it proves anything it proves that the sermons and services of the churches need brightening up, and, perhaps, the clergymen also.

LIKE OUR SHORE LINE.

CALAIS, Sept. 10.—The work of cutting down expenses on the Washington county railroad goes steadily on, and on Saturday some 40 employees in the various departments were notified that their services were no longer required. At the Salmon Falls repair shops some seven men, including machinists, carpenters, etc., were dropped, among the number being W. E. McAllister, formerly master mechanic of the road; Thos. W. Maxwell, one of the most expert machinists on the river; and Edgar C. Jackson of the woodworking department. The news of the removal of this number of employees created considerable surprise in Calais when it became known, and everyone is wondering what the next move on the part of the railroad officials will be. The road has not proved a paying venture as yet, and all unnecessary expense will be curtailed in order to make the best showing possible.

THE TERM BLUENOSE.

The Editor of the Star, Sir—I remember that more than sixty years ago the boys who lived on King street, which was then the country market, called the boys or men who sold "Early Blue" potatoes, "Bluenoses." The potatoes got their names from the color of the "seed end."

After the publication of the "Clockmaker" it was remembered that Mr. Halburton had been in St. John and made some remarks about the name. If the old newspapers of that time were looked up, it will be found that a discussion took place and the matter at that time seemed settled that "Sam Slick" got the name in St. John, which has since stuck to the natives of the two provinces.

ANOTHER BLUENOSE.

CIRCUIT COURT

Att.-Gen. Pugsley Called Attention to What He Considers a Flagrant Attempt to Interfere With the Course of Justice.

There was a sensational development in the Morrison v. St. John Railway Co. case in the circuit court this morning. When the court opened the attorney general arose and said that he became aware of a flagrant attempt to defeat the ends of justice.

From the information in his possession it appeared that one James Crawford of the north end, professing to act for Dr. Morrison, had sought to induce Conductor Whittaker, who had charge of the car when Dr. Morrison was hurt, to accept a situation in New York, and that Whittaker has since received letters from that city in regard to the situation spoken of.

And further, the defendant company the day before yesterday, subpoenaed Miss Brownell, formerly bookkeeper for Dr. Morrison. Fred Morrison, brother of the doctor, tried to induce her to go away from the province for a week and a statement shortly after noon was made that she had returned to the Pure Milk Co. would be open for her on her return. She went for advice to J. R. Curry of Curry's Business college, and he told her not to leave the court, as that would be contempt of court. After she left J. S. Curry came in and was informed of the matter. He went to the depot and found Miss Brownell with her valise ready to go away. Fred Morrison was there. Mr. Curry at length induced Miss Brownell to return home and he accompanied her.

Judge Gregory at once issued an order that James Crawford and Fred Morrison attend the court on Monday morning at ten o'clock, to answer for certain contempt of court, then to be charged, and to show cause why they should not be punished.

Patrick Griffith was then recalled and cross examined by Mr. McLean. He had made a statement shortly after noon, but could not remember whether he had made several statements that were in it. He and Rogers had been taken to White's to dinner twice since the court opened by Dr. Morrison's brother.

Re-examined by Dr. Stockton, he said that the car jerk was enough to throw Dr. Morrison down.

Albert McArthur testified that he had helped Dr. Morrison into a coach at the time of the accident. He appeared to be suffering greatly.

John B. Blood was then called by Mr. Hazen. He testified that he was a consulting and designing engineer of Boston, a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. If Dr. Morrison's statement to the effect that the car was correct it would be caused by throwing the controller round too far, which would give the car a start ahead and the flashing light would cause a retreating effect. Such a retreating effect, without reversing switch, cannot be obtained except by improper operation of the motor. If the machinery were in proper order and it were operated properly it would be hard to arrive at the result described. The car would start with a slight jerk on account of too much current in the motor, from three causes, improper handling, improper condition of controller and improper resistance.

Cross-examined by Dr. Pugsley, witness said that he had operated cars at Schenectady somewhat and he was familiar with all kinds of motors. He had tested the Westinghouse motors. He would not say that the motor in question was not perfect. In his opinion No. 12 Westinghouse motor was at the time it was designed a good one, but not so good as No. 2. Flashing could be caused by metallic dust in the motor. If it were regularly and thoroughly cleaned the amount of dust that would get in between these times would not cause flashing.

Court then adjourned until a quarter past two.

THE UN-HAPPY HOME.

The unfortunate woodboat Happy Home, which has proven herself to be sadly named, is now the primary cause of a civil suit. Early in the spring the Happy Home started from Indiantown in charge of Capt. John McKel. By some reason or other, up Lové Gagtown the woodboat left the river and gently floated over the flats, and the vessel and settled down for the summer. Now Capt. McKel is suing Robert Orchard, the owner, for wages from the time he left Indiantown until he got back home. S. Alward, K. C., is appearing for him, and Hamilton & MacIntosh for Mr. Orchard.

TODAY'S FUNERALS.

The funeral of the late Mary E. Seeley, wife of Benjamin Seeley, took place at 2.30 this afternoon from her late residence, 80 Victoria street. Interment was made in the Church of England burying ground. Rev. David Long conducted the service. There were no pall-bearers.

From the residence of his son, Walter Knowles, 61 St. Patrick street, the funeral of the late Walter Knowles took place at four o'clock this afternoon. Interment was made in the Methodist burying ground. The services were conducted by Rev. W. O. Raymond. There were no pall-bearers.

A CALL TO REV. H. H. ROACH.

The Faberella Baptist church last evening unanimously decided to extend a call to Rev. H. H. Roach, B. A., of Annapolis, to become their pastor. It is expected Mr. Roach will accept. He is a young man, an excellent speaker, and a good worker. He has preached several times in the city.

The present pastor, Rev. P. J. Stackhouse, will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday evening.

A "ROAST."

The Fredericton Reporter is "roasting" the Gleaner in its style by quoting the very strong articles which the Gleaner printed in November, 1900, and June, 1901, in praise of Dr. McLeod's course. The Gleaner is not now supplanting Dr. McLeod, and will have difficulty in answering its own previous articles.

THE HAY TRADE.

There is a temporary scarcity of hay at the press at Sand Point. Four steamers are under charter to load and no doubt others will follow, and the trade continues through the winter. Some New Brunswick hay is being pressed, but most of it comes from Quebec. The press will have to be moved before winter trade opens, and will probably be located at Fairville.

THE GUN BURST.

A young man named Brown, son of E. H. Brown of Brown's Falls, was severely injured yesterday by a gun bursting. It appears that he was firing with the stock of the gun placed against a barn door, when the barrel burst, shattering the right hand. The last two fingers were blown off and the hand was split and lacerated. Dr. Gilchrist attended to the injuries.

C. P. R. IMPROVEMENTS.

The extensive C. P. R. improvements on the west side will eventually lead to the removal of the round house at Fairville to Sand Point. An attempt is being made to break the early closing agreement, but that it is not likely to succeed, for two reasons. The first is that the grocers generally are so highly pleased with early closing

EARLY CLOSING.
A merchant in the grocery line informed the Star this morning that an attempt is being made to break the early closing agreement, but that it is not likely to succeed, for two reasons. The first is that the grocers generally are so highly pleased with early closing and the greater enjoyment of life they have got out of it that they do not want to go back to the old slavery of the counter every night. The other is that he thinks public opinion will not back up any merchant who tries to go back to the old order of things, but that patronage will go to those stores which stick to their agreement.
