The "Royal Grand" Range.

Rough, uneven casting, full of holes, denotes poor iron. The castings of the Royal Grand are very smooth and will take a high polish, as the best quality of pig iron only is used in its construction. Then again, the Enterprise Foundry Co., who make this range, employ only skilled labor, which accounts for the thorough manner in which the castings are made. Have you seen this Range? Over 300 satisfied customers are using them in this city alone.

PEARY LIKELY TO REACH SYDNEY TOMORROW
SYDNEY, C. B., Nov. 17.—Mrs. R. E. Peary, who is staying at the Sydney Hotel, received word yesterday from Lieutenant Peary stating that the Roosevelt had passed Chateau Bay, at the northern end of the Straits of Belleisle, at seven o'clock yesterday morning, bound for Sydney. Lieutenant Peary had left orders with the operator at Chateau Bay to wire Mrs. Peary as soon as the Roosevelt passed this point. Mrs. Peary, upon this morning, said she did not know just when the Roosevelt would be along. "We all know that her rubber had been damaged badly and that the boat had a hard time," she said, "I am told that steamers come from Chateau Bay to Sydney in a little over twenty-four hours, but I will give the Roosevelt twice that time."

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM SAY STANDARD DIRECTORS
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Directors of the Standard Oil Company met yesterday and decided to issue to stockholders today along with the dividend notices, a brief statement setting forth that the management of the company believes that it has acted honestly and legally and reassuring stockholders that in the opinion of the board, there is no cause for alarm. The whole matter having now been taken before a legal tribunal, the Standard Oil Company has no reply at this time to make to the charge, nor is it intended to do anything that could be construed as discourtesy to the administration. The company's full answer, it was said, will be made at the proper time and place.

BOER LEADER TERREIRA HAS BEEN CAPTURED
CAPE TOWN, Nov. 17.—Terreira, leader of the Boer raid from German Southwest Africa into the northern part of Cape Colony and all his followers were captured today by colonial patrols.

HAS BLOOD POISONING IN BOTH HIS HANDS
And Chum, Gray's Chum, Who Rowed Him to Town Was Was Nearly Swamped.
W. J. Gray, a young Englishman who has been employed at Partridge Island in the installation of the water system, was brought to the city yesterday suffering from blood poisoning, which is in both his hands. Mr. Gray received several scratches some time ago, but thought nothing of them until yesterday when a sign of blood poisoning was noticed on his hands. Dr. March attended the young man up to yesterday when he came to the city. He was moved to the city in a small boat by A. D. Chum, who is also employed at the island. Mr. Chum landed his passenger, and after finding him a looking place, started off again for the island. The storm was then at its height, and had Mr. Chum not been an experienced oarsman, he would have surely been swamped. When he reached the light house on his return the sea was very rough, and more than once did the craft nearly go under. Mr. Chum knew that the weather would be still rougher further out, so he returned to the city where he remained until this morning.

BOYS' DAY IN THE POLICE COURT.
Magistrate Asks What the Town is Coming to.
A Lot of Youngsters Charged With Different Offences—Many Others Reported.
The boy problem was given an airing in the police court this morning, and in dealing with cases in which boys were the principals, the magistrate said he did not know what the city was coming to, for the small boys were to have taken charge of the place. The prisoners arrested last night were kept in their cells until the boy cases were disposed of, as the magistrate's order is that boys or girls should not be in court when older prisoners are being tried.

THE AIR GUN.
The first case called was against two boys, Hampton and Lasker. The latter owned an air gun, and in company with his brother they were riding to the woods to shoot at a target. Hampton says he was firing in the air, and when on the corner of Park and Mount Pleasant streets he heard a crash and down came the electric light globe. He did not mean to hit Lasker, who was allowed to go and Hampton was fined one dollar.

THROWING SNOW BALLS.
The next case was for breaking a plate glass window. A young man named Thorne was charged with throwing a stone which broke a window in the Adams grocery store on St. James street. He was represented in court by Homer Forbes. Thorne and a chum named Howe testified that last Monday while going to their work a crowd of boys threw snow balls at them, and one struck Thorne on the neck. He picked up a stone and threw it to frighten the boys. The stone bounced from the gutter to the window. Howe was discharged and Thorne was told that he was liable to a fine of eight dollars or throwing the stone. The residents of the street on St. James street, who were reported for throwing the snow balls were John McLaughlin, Edward Storey, George Layhey, George Hains, Daniel Bridges and Percy Storey. The first three did not appear in court. One of the other three pleaded not guilty and with trembling lips said they did not do it. The magistrate asked if they were there on the stand he was put through a rigid examination, in which he said that he did not know who threw the snow balls, but that he had not been to school for three weeks, but was just loafing about. He was told to take his three square meals a day. He was told by the magistrate to tell the court that he saw other boys throwing snow balls and that he threw two himself, but did not know whether he hit Thorne or not. Doody was then given a seat with Storey, Hains, and Bridges. They were all found guilty and sent to the cells in default of paying a one dollar fine. Friends paid the fines, however, and the youngsters were allowed to remain long behind the bars.

BREAKING WINDOWS.
The next case called on was one in which between 20 and 30 panes of glass had been wittily broken in the Howe factory at the east end of Union street. In this case there were five boys named Charles McLaughlin, Robert Clayton, Herbert Monahan and a boy named Moore, who were charged with breaking the windows. Young McLaughlin was the only one of the four in court, and a man present stated that he had seen the boys break the windows. McLaughlin said that he did not throw any stones and did not break any windows. The police were instructed to locate Clayton, Monahan and Moore and have them in court next Tuesday. The case was adjourned until that time. Police Sergeant Baxter and Policeman Ross informed the court that they had the names of about 40 boys who have been hanging about corners smoking cigarettes and being members of a disorderly crowd.

CITIZEN REPORTS POLICE.
In connection with the case where the Adams grocery window was broken by a stone Joseph W. Doody, who resides at 274 Germain street, took the stand and said that he had made a number of complaints to the police about bad boys, but that the police had taken little or no action. He has found it necessary to close the windows in his house to prevent his family from being compelled to listen to bad language from a gang of cigarette smoking boys. He called on a policeman to break up the gang, and the officer said it was his duty to do so. The boys are making complaints against the boys, as nothing would be done with them. At this stage the magistrate would like to get hold of the policeman who would make such a statement. Mr. Doody said that he had asked the chief of police for the officer's name, but it was not given. He said he had requested another policeman to break up the gang, and almost got a calling down for making the request. The officer asked for the names of the boys, but as Mr. Doody did not have them the blue coat walked away and

Big Section Shows Signs of Weakness

Streets Flooded by the High Tides Since Gates on the Salmon Pond Were Removed.

Judging from the present indications, the trouble at Union street, W. E., is not yet over. Last evening about 75 feet of Rodney wharf took a slide toward the slip, and it is feared that serious consequences may follow, as a large crack now exists in the wharf opposite Fowler's office. Rodney wharf, at the upper end, is filled in underneath with earth, and when the first slide occurred on Union street, a quantity of this material also fell into the slip. The old wharf, a portion of which remains at the end of Rodney wharf, has also shown signs of falling away. The water pipes were broken when the slide occurred, and today a crew of men are at work making repairs. The water is spouting up from the earth and is running out into Union street, making walking very unpleasant. At one place, the water is over several hundred native Cubans of high intelligence, representing many millions of capital. Its special form, which will be urged on the Roosevelt administration and upon Congress is most carefully guarded as it is certain of denunciation by the Liberals, who soon may be put in power and would frighten sympathetic Cubans of property from openly embracing it lest they later lose their all.

THE MARATHON ROAD RACE TAKES PLACE TODAY

Several of Those Who Entered Have Dropped Out but a Lot of Good Runners Remain.
The much-talked of Marathon road race takes place this afternoon. Interest is manifested in this race, as it is the first of the sort which has been held in this city since 1891. While fourteen runners have entered, it is understood that several will not be able to start. Hay, of Montreal, who was to have arrived this morning was unable to get away, while it is understood that several of the local men have got chilly around the feet during the last day or two. The favorites for the winners are Atkinson, of Mount Allison, Lord, of the Marathons and McNutt, of the Clippers. "Jerry" Stubbs is also being backed by many friends. Emery, Barbour, Morrow and Sterling are dark horses and are expected to do something. The race will start at Brookville at three o'clock (sharp) and will finish at Stricker's Corner, King Square. While the roads are not in first-class condition, yet they are much better than would be expected, and it is thought that fast time will be made. The officials will be Chief Clerk, referee, K. J. Macrae, starter, Aid, McGoldrick, A. O. Skinner and Col. G. West Jones judges; Detective Williams and Frank McCafferty timers. The detective is one of the runners in the race of '91. The starters and their numbers will probably be as follows: Geo. Emery, 2; J. Barbour, 3; G. A. Stubbs, 4; H. Atkinson, 5; J. S. Lord, 6; T. M. Morrow, 11; A. McNutt, 12; W. Garnett, 14; E. Sterling, 15. After the race the medals will be presented at the Park Hotel by Frank White. The result of the race will be bulletined in Our Hall window.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON SAILS FOR ENGLAND
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Sir Thomas Lipton sailed for home today on the steamer Tharmasia. Just before sailing Sir Thomas said he would probably challenge for the America's cup this time in 1908. He expressed himself as much pleased with the kindness extended to him by yachtsmen on this side of the water and was satisfied to leave the whole question in their hands, being convinced that he would get fair treatment. "I favor a wholesome type of boat, and will not come over here again with a freak craft like the Shamrock II," said he. "A boat of that style is good only for the scrap heap after the race, but with the Shamrock IV, which I shall bring over I expect to carry away the cup."

OPPOSING INTERESTS MAKE CUBA'S FUTURE DOUBTFUL

One Party Threaten to Destroy British Property in Hope of Forcing U. S. Protection—Others Object to This and Want the Americans to Clear Out.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—According to a Havana despatch to the Herald, from Novon, it is declared that the United States establishes a protectorate or makes way for another Cuban republic a revolution is not the Cuban result, that now threatens. There is a conspiracy on foot to blow up English railway property with dynamite if after the contemplated election the United States hands the government over to the Liberals and ends its control of affairs. This is the avowed plan of a large body of influential and wealthy Cubans to force England to compel the United States to continue a supervisory government. One Cuban told the Herald correspondent he had 500 pounds of dynamite, which he would use for this purpose and that bands of radical Cubans in Havana and in Cienfuegos have been armed to do the same with American sugar estates. On the other side Juan Guadalupe Gomez, a negro leader of a majority of the Liberals, came yesterday with an avowed threat of revolution if the Americans do not go away on time and leave the government to the Cuban people. His fire was drawn by the discovery of the movement to demand some form of protectorate after the election had been held. The government has reached considerable proportions and embraces several hundred native Cubans of high intelligence, representing many millions of capital. Its special form, which will be urged on the Roosevelt administration and upon Congress is most carefully guarded as it is certain of denunciation by the Liberals, who soon may be put in power and would frighten sympathetic Cubans of property from openly embracing it lest they later lose their all.

CITY HALL MATTERS
Will Begin Proceedings for Queen Square Injunction Next Week.

At City Hall yesterday afternoon at three o'clock a meeting of the Fisheries appeals committee was held and Aid. Lantulum was elected chairman. There will be no changes in the arrangements regarding the sale of the harbor fisheries, which takes place in January.

The appeals committee of the Water and Sewerage Board is called for Monday of next week. The repair work can hardly be completed before the end of next week and the impression is growing at City Hall that the testing will have to be abandoned until next spring.

Hazen & Raymond were yesterday authorized to begin formal proceedings for an injunction against the building of the street car line through Queen Square, and they will begin the necessary steps next week. Those who are moving in the matter ridicule the contention of the railway about the street line being impracticable without sewerage.

A despatch from Ottawa says that John Costigan will be one of the New Brunswick senators. There is a big scramble for the other vacancy, but it is difficult to say who will be the man.

A request has been issued for all the I. C. R. Freight Handlers in meet at their rooms 25 Charlotte street at sharp 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to attend in a body the funeral of their late fellow worker, Florence Driscoll, who was the first member to die since the Freight Handlers Union was formed. All the railway men in the city have been invited.

Analysis of the stains seen on the axe found by Detective Killen in Father Molloy's barn at New Ireland, and which has been kept as possibly having connection with the murder of Miss Mary Ann McAuley, was made yesterday by Dr. G. A. E. Addy. It is learned on good authority that the analysis did not reveal any blood.

The loss on the house of J. Fred Evans, on Paradise row, which was damaged by fire on Monday night, has been adjusted, the amount being fixed at $120. James Myles represented the owner of the property, and W. A. Munro, the Manitoba Fire Insurance Co., which held the policy.

The sale of felt hats for women, misses and children at M. R. A's Ltd., will be brought to a close this evening at 10 o'clock. The stock has been freshened and replenished since the commencement of the bargain sale, and tonight's purchasers may be assured of getting real satisfaction. Hats right up until the last minute. Sale in the millinery room.

Several petty burglaries have been committed during the past few days and the police have as yet made no arrests. The boot and shoe store of James V. Russell on Brussels street was broken into on Thursday night. The store had been entered through a rear window. Several pairs of boots and shoes were stolen. John W. Aldous keeps a butcher shop directly opposite to Mr. Russell's place of business and this too was entered. The thieves gained access to the shop by removing the transom over the front door. A ham was taken from the front to the rear of the store and several slices cut out of it.

The Scots Companies of the Boys' Brigade gave an interesting entertainment in St. Stephen's school room last night. ABANDONED ST. HELENA, NAPOLEON'S EXILE HOME

The British Garrison There at Last Withdrawn—Its Only Population an Imported One and of the Dolce of the Far Niente Sort.

The island of St. Helena is a mistake, never was a colony. It was a fortress, the key to the South Atlantic. A little Gibraltar of grimly fortified rock, it was held worthy of an annual expenditure of £20,000 to £30,000 of good British gold. A mongrel population was attracted to the island to serve the garrison and live upon it. Other means of livelihood than this the little handful of imported islanders had but one. Heavily being a fortress and a supply station for the British fleet, St. Helena was an important port of call for merchantmen under all flags. Sweet water in abundance flowed down her precipitous rocks, having let drop so precious a scrap of land, and straightway set about recapturing it. The English hung round the harbor, however, building factories, and from that time to this have been in undisturbed possession.

THE GOLDEN AGE This was the Golden Age of St. Helena. The East India Company maintained a British garrison in Jamestown—the capital and the seat of the island—and a great staff of well-paid officials. A goodly garrison was established and English and French began springing up on the beautiful heights above the town. The landed proprietors were rich and the English and French were busy. There was even a small beginning of an export trade in guano and coffee.

Alas! In 1833 the East India Company having first superintended the gradual emancipation of the slaves. At one blow the English settlers lost their servants and many a fat salary. For Great Britain cut down the governor's stipend to a quarter that of the company, and abolished many lucrative posts altogether. Many a family dropped from opulence to penury in a single month.

Their very misfortunes, however, brought them some gain. The fight against slave-trading in the South Atlantic waters led to the establishment of St. Helena of a vice-admiralty court for the trial of vessels caught stealing slaves. Together with a liberated African depot founded on the island, and the constant visits of the naval squadron engaged in chasing slaves, this court brought a good deal of money into St. Helena.

Pearl was their plight, therefore, when with the end of the American civil war slavery got its death-blow, the liberated African depot; the Vice-Admiralty court and the West African squadron all vanished together. Then indeed, did hard times set in.

It would have been hard enough to lose the profits of slavery, had they not fallen heir to a doubtful legacy from the ill-fated traffic. An abandoned Brazilian slave, rotting in the harbor of Jamestown, brought ashore in her rotting timbers a swarm of white ants. And the white ants literally ate up the town. Houses lifted by the tiny pests had to be burned and replaced with stronger ones of teakwood and iron, unless, indeed, as was not infrequently the case, they were not replaced at all.

THE SUEZ CANAL Then came the Suez Canal, the passing of the sailing vessel, and now the withdrawal of the supporting British garrison.

What will be left of St. Helena? Perhaps twenty-five hundred to three thousand souls of the most astonishingly mixed character. The English-born of the better class may be counted on to take themselves off in the wake of the garrison. Those who must stay behind are descendants of Frenchmen who came there before the Revolution; of Chinese, Malayan, Polynesian and African slaves; of British tars and of an indescribable mixture of all the above races. They are quiet, tractable, inoffensive people, many, civil and honest. They live in comfortable cottages set in pretty gardens. Murder is unknown among them, and burglary is so little feared that the locksmith cannot pick up a living. They are good churchgoers, and frequent either the Baptist or Church of England forms, unless they prefer the sounding cymbals of the Salvation Army. In point of education, they are said to be on a par with the common people of Great Britain. The whole mixed mass speaks English, and purer English on the whole than that of Lancashire or Devon, though a twist in the islanders' tongues makes them say "Villie" for Willie, and "dis" and "dat" for this and that. Gov. Stedman maintains that few

IS FALLING TO PIECES
COLOGNE, Nov. 17.—Serious fears are entertained for the safety of Cologne Cathedral. It is the centre of the island that is the garden of the world. Cool trade winds fan it the year round, keeping the temperature down to about 74 degrees in the hottest of summers. In the high interior the forests are dense and studied with curious tropical trees. The soil where it is laid bare is of vivid colored clays, violet, orange and red. From the great semi-circular central ridge which divides the island you look down into the huge bowl of an extinct volcano in the sea. A wild, fantastic jumble of rock-belted, shelving cliffs and crags, ridges, without a sign of vegetation, falls from the forests of the interior to the blue of the Atlantic; and from out the world, tumbling mass rise two strange shaped monoliths of hard gray stone, "Lot" and "Loth's Wife," the invalid, the tourist. But if neither they nor the capitalist takes pity on them the wretched farmer-folk of St. Helena—their little holdings already heavily mortgaged to the few moneyed mercantile firms on the island—must inevitably sink into the position of slaves.

DEATHS RESULT FROM FLOODS
Worst Freshet in History of Puget Sound Region
Melted Recent Fresh Snow in Cascade Mountains—Traffic in Many Places Practically at a Standstill.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 16.—A heavy rainfall Wednesday, 2.48 inches in four hours, and a Chinook wind which melted recent fresh snows in the Cascade Mountains, were the cause of the heaviest and most disastrous floods in the history of the Puget Sound region. The valleys of the White, Duwamish, Cedar, Green, Stuck, Black and Fuyi-ally rivers are under water, flooding 200 square miles of territory. This includes practically every acre of low land lying back of the eastern shores of the Sound and extending from Seattle to Tacoma. The power plant which electric is submerged and Seattle and Tacoma are dependent on their local auxiliary stations for power to move street cars and provide electricity for lighting purposes. All traffic over the Northern Pacific and Great Northern interurban lines is at a standstill. A week will be required to repair the damage to the road, after the water subsides. These lowlands are thickly occupied by small towns, hopfields and dairy farms. The damage done to fields and herds will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars. Seattle's milk supply comes from them, as this city will be without milk for days. Six persons have been drowned. To the north the Skagit, the largest river in the state, is on a rampage and railroad traffic in that direction is at a standstill. The greatest loss by the floods to the north has been done to the lumbering interests, where millions of feet of logs and shingle bolts have been carried out to sea. High tides combined with the floods have converted all the river banks into muddy torrents, hundreds of farms and villages are submerged and houses and great tracts of fertile farms are homeless. The loss to the Northern Pacific railroad alone will be $10,000, and the total loss in the district will reach half a million. No rain has fallen in the flooded territory is as deeply covered with water as at any time since the freshet started, the feeling throughout the valleys today in general is that the worst is over, and that if conditions now prevailing last for another 12 hours a further danger will have passed. From upper points to the southward of Auburn, along Green and Stuckey rivers, come reports that the streams are receding rapidly, but north of here, in the lower country, adverse advice is still to be received. PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 16.—Reports from the Cowlitz River region tonight indicate that the crisis of the flood situation has passed. The waters which swept the river clean of all

ARMOR-PIERCING SHELLS

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The Daily Mail says that the admiralty has lately tested a new type of armor-piercing shell instead of a sharp point, the thickness of the projectile has a cupped form. A six-inch projectile of this new type went through armor of the thickness of the Dreadnought's turret armor. The test seems to indicate the necessity of thickening armor.

SPITZBERGEN'S FUTURE IS STILL DOUBTFUL

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 17.—The Christiania Aftenposten states that the Norwegian government has not yet come to any definite decision with reference to the annexation of Spitzbergen. The Swedish Press is devoting considerable attention to this question, and is urging the government to investigate Norway's claim to the land. It is rumored that a committee of which Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, 1 Norwegian minister in London, is president, has been appointed by the Norwegian government to institute inquiries into the international point of Spitzbergen. It is probable that Norway will propose an international conference next spring to discuss the whole question of the ownership of the island.

TAKE IT QUICKLY.

An Irishman passing through a wood in a lonely part of the county was accosted by a highwayman who thrust a revolver in his face, said: "Your money or your life?" The Irishman, trembling with fear, replied: "Take me! Take me! Take me! Oh! my saving money for me and my wife."

THE PRICE OF BREAD.

Manufacturers are always willing to advance their prices whenever there is any good ground for doing so, but they do not show a great anxiety to make reductions when the cost of material goes down. Now take bread for instance. Some few years ago it was six cents a loaf. Then four went up and a cent was added to the price of bread. Later it was again advanced to five cents but this lasted for only a short time and the seven cent rate is now in existence. Why not make it six? The price of flour during the past four years has been as follows:

Date.	Manitoba.	Ontario.
Oct., 1902.	$4.95	$4.30
Apr., 1903.	4.85	4.30
Oct., 1903.	5.45	4.90
Apr., 1904.	6.00	5.50
Oct., 1904.	6.75	6.25
Apr., 1905.	6.80	6.30
Oct., 1905.	6.90	6.90
Apr., 1906.	8.50	8.50
Oct., 1906.	8.60	4.60

It will be seen from the above that at the time of the increase in the price of bread in the fall of 1904, the high grades of Manitoba flour sold for $1.15 more than at present while the Ontario flour sold for $1.70 more. Now that prices are down and with every indication of going lower, it is argued that there is no reason why bread should not be put back to the old figure and retailed at 6 cents per loaf, the claim being made that the reduced cost of flour fully justifies this.

THE QUEEN SQUARE KICK.

What's all this fuss about a street car line through the field in Carleton Place known as Queen Square? It would appear that there is a general widespread opposition to such a work, while in reality the objections so far as the Star can learn are made by only a comparatively few residents of the district in question who take an active interest in the matter. Queen Square as it is at present, and as it undoubtedly will be for years, is nothing more than a bare field, good only as a playground for children. It has never been beautified, though occasionally half-hearted attempts have been made to plant a few trees, which trees have, however, usually died from neglect. There are no paths through the square, which are at for use. No effort to speak of is made to keep the place in order, and it is difficult to understand what possible harm can be done by the construction of a street car line. The St. John Railway Company offer to remove the tracks upon a year's notice when one of the street bounding the square is put in proper condition. This is a reasonable proposition, and for the time which will elapse until this is done the square cannot be very seriously injured. It is hard to spoil a bad egg.

UNITED STATES AND JAPAN.

The London Times believes that the United States will be very careful in its policy regarding Japan, realizing that retaliation on the part of the eastern nation would prove a serious blow to commerce. The Times goes on to say: "The Japanese cannot be expected to carry beyond a certain point their allowance for the municipal difficulties of another nation. If California persists, the Japanese Government and people will come to the conclusion that treaty obligations are being set aside by the United States, and that Japanese subjects are being treated with gross indignity. Japan is in a position to retaliate. She can say—If Japanese are not good enough to mix with Americans, then Americans are not good enough to mix with Japanese. The day she says that, a great and growing branch of American commerce is likely to go by the board. A Chinese boycott on no great scale was found extremely inconvenient. A Japanese boycott will be very much more serious. Its effects would be very heavily felt by the offending state because San Francisco is the centre of a great trade with the east and the home port for important lines of American steamers. It is not always that the offender bears the brunt of his mischief, and perhaps in the fact that in this case he will do less the best hope of a settlement of the question."

SATURDAY SERMONETTE.

Go to the dogs.

"Without are dogs."
Few questions from the Book have been more plain than the one just cited. "Without are dogs." I have known children to fret and cry and refuse to be comforted because a favorite dog who had been their playmate, protector and friend had died, and foolish people had told them that dogs could not go to heaven. He said that "Without were dogs."

THE CLERK'S EXCUSE.

A floorwalker in a large department store is noted for his overbearing manner to those under him. One day he approached a junior assistant, from whose counter a woman had gone away. "You let that lady go away without making a purchase?" he asked, severely. "Yes, sir, I—"

THE POOR DEACON.

"Sister Henderson," said Deacon Hypers, "you should avoid even the appearance of evil."
"Why, deacon, what do you mean?" asked Sister Henderson.
"I observe that on your sideboard you have several cut-glass decanters, and that each of them is half-filled with what appears to be ardent spirits."
"Well, now, deacon, it isn't anything of the kind. The bottles look so pretty on the sideboard that I just filled them half-way with some floor stains and furniture polish, just for appearances."

Second bald-headed man—What did you do?
First bald-headed man—Had a spider's web tattooed on my bald spot.

HIS HOODOO.

"Yes," said the clerk, "if it wasn't for several severe attacks of dyspepsia I'd have a good paying job by now."
"I didn't know you suffered from dyspepsia."
"Oh, my, yes! My boss has had an attack of it every time I applied for a raise."

CAUGHT SENATOR PLATT TRIPPING

The Old Reprobate Forced Out of Public Life by Exposure of His Conduct

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The authorized announcement that Senator Thomas C. Platt, and his beautiful wife, formerly Mrs. Lillian T. Lathrop, have signed a legal agreement of separation, has brought to light astounding details of how Mrs. Platt led a secret national raid of a house in West 33rd street, and trapped the senator with a handsome young woman, accompanying Mrs. Platt in the raid were J. K. Hedges, the Platt coachman, whose name figured in the Platt family troubles, two law clerks, and a well known private detective.

THEIR GOLDEN JUBILEE.

Three Sisters of Charity Will Celebrate This Happy Event Next Week (New Freeman).
Wednesday next, the feast of the Presentation, will be a day of great rejoicing among the Sisters of Charity at St. Vincent's Convent, when three members of the community, Sister Mary Michael, Sister Mary Bernard, and Sister Mary John will celebrate the golden jubilee of their religious profession.

The exercises will be of a purely religious character. Mass will be celebrated in St. Vincent's chapel by His Lordship Bishop Casey, who will also address the reverend jubilarians. In the evening benediction will bring the celebration to a close. Sister M. Michael who has the happiness of completing a half century as a religious, holds also the proud distinction of having in the same Order two nieces, Sister Beatrice and Sister Genevieve, and two grandnieces, Sister Thekla and Sister Evelyn. Sister Beatrice who is the principal of St. Joseph School, and Sister Thekla, who is on St. Peter's staff, will be present on the happy occasion. Sister Michael, taught in the schools for some years but retired from this work at the introduction of the public schools. She enjoys excellent health and for one so far advanced in years is bright and active. Sister Bernard will be held in fond remembrance by many of her former pupils, having taught for many years in the time of private schools and after the introduction of the present system. At the present time she is also enjoying good health. Sister Mary John is the youngest of the jubilarians, and those who know her will find it hard to believe that fifty years have elapsed since she answered the call of the Master. Sister John has taught music to hundreds, and is at the present time actively engaged in this work at the convent in Carleton.

To the reverend sisters we offer congratulations and good wishes. In these we feel that our readers, many of those have profited by their devotion of duty, will heartily join.

THE CHARGE OF THE LIGHT BRIGADE

Letter Written Years Ago by One of the Survivors Which Gives a Vivid Description of the Famous Folly—Personal Experiences Related.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—A letter, never before published and written by Lord Tredegar shortly after Balaclava, is now printed. The following is an extract descriptive of the charge of the Light Brigade on the Russians at Balaclava.

"We, the Light Brigade, were drawn up at the other end of the valley, facing their position, distant about three-quarters of a mile, waiting, I had imagined, for infantry to come to our support, when suddenly an aide-de-camp (poor Nolan) galloped up with an order, 'The Light Brigade will attack; the 11th and 13th will advance supported by the 8th and 14th and 15th. Knowing the strength of their position and our want of proper support, I felt it was a critical moment, but, grasping our horses by the head, away we went. We had not gone many yards before we were under fire of the first battery on our left, the first shot of which killed poor Nolan, a splinter going right through his heart, and his horse carried him back to us. On we went, the pace increasing, amidst the thickest shower of shell, shot, grape, canister, and mince, from front and flanks—horses and men dropping by scores every yard. The whistling and cracking of shells was beyond description. Under this we went for three-quarters of a mile, the enemy's guns firing in front of us till we were within a hundred and a half of them. Just as I came

CHINESE EXCITED AGAINST AMERICA

Systematic Campaign is Being Conducted. A Wave of Reform is Sweeping Over China Which Promises to Have Important Results.

PEKING, Nov. 17.—Posters widely circulated here and in the provinces give promise of inaugurating a new literature of revolt—one circular is issued by the warm-hearted people of T'ipoh. It is a passionate protest against the "cruel laws" made by America against the Chinese, and it calls on the people to maintain the boycott of American goods. It points to the success of the boycott, and asserts that it is carried on in such a civilized manner that no excuse can be found for its suppression.

"The foreigners have characterized us Chinese as being without patriotism and without unity," it says. "It is our duty to prove that this is not true. Mr. Chang, a wealthy merchant of Shanghai, left his great fortune unshared for in order to start the boycott. Mr. Fung, a young man of great talents, sacrificed his life for the purpose of encouraging his countrymen. Mr. Liang, Chinese minister at Washington, fought for the cancellation of the cruel exclusion laws at the risk of losing his appointment.

"Wealth, honor, and life are things we all care for. But these three gentlemen were quite ready to give them all up in order that they should help their own countrymen. Ought we not to respect their motives and avoid the disgrace of being called 'cold-blooded creatures' 'Boycott! Boycott!'

"The cruel cold-blooded creatures of the lowest order who still buy American goods. Do not argue with them. Let all Chinese with warm blood flowing in their veins apply to these low

FOOTBALL GAME WON BY AID OF WITCHCRAFT

Malayan Players Resorted to Incantations Which Upset the Nerves of Their Opponents.

SINGAPORE, Nov. 17.—A Malay football club here has won a valuable trophy by demoralizing its opponents with the aid of witchcraft.

A rich Chinese merchant gave a cup to be competed for by native football clubs, and twenty teams entered the competition. One of the most successful played, and finally two Malay teams were left in the final.

One of the finalists determined to leave no stone unturned to win the cup, so they sought out the local magician. They met him on the football ground at midnight, and a mysterious ceremony was gone through. Lighted tapers were placed in the centre of the ground.

The magician then performed some weird contortions and muttered incantations. Members of the team swiftly removed the tapers from one goal to another, and more incantations followed. This performance was kept up for some time, and then the conspirators left the field in silence.

HYPNOTIZED HIS WIFE AND BURIED HER

"Professor" Barclay Refuses to Dig Her Up Until After She Has Been Underground for Six Days.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 17.—"Professor" W. A. Barclay, a colored hypnotist, hypnotized his wife and buried her. He declared that she would be as fit and well as before burial.

The ceremony took place at Rockport Gardens. The grave was already dug when the "professor" and his wife arrived, and the coffin placed by its side. Mrs. Barclay stepped into the coffin, lay out at full length, and closed her eyes peacefully.

"Professor" Barclay, after making passes over his wife's head, announced that she was hypnotized and ready for burial. The coffin lid was then fastened down, and the coffin was lowered into the grave to a depth of eight feet.

Barclay assured the people that his wife was not in the slightest degree affected by the burial, and suffered no discomfort. In fact, he said, she was much better off than good many who were walking on the earth.

When the full details of the burial became known, a storm of protest was raised in Kingston. Mr. Foster Davis, who has control of Rockport Gardens, has control of the burial ground, and he had no idea of the realistic character of the performance, and adding—

"In these circumstances I must ask you to be good enough to make arrangements to disinter your wife this evening."

Barclay, on receiving the letter, replied that he had pledged his word to the public that he would bury his wife alive for six days, and he did not mean to break it.

The matter, therefore, remains at this point, and the "professor" will not bury his wife, and the authorities fear to do so owing to the possible consequences of removal.

SHOULD HAVE MURDERED ALL THE LANDLORDS

Remarks Made in the Past by Secretary of Irish League Are Now Causing a Sensation.

DUBLIN, Nov. 17.—Considerable indignation has been caused throughout Ireland by the publication in the London Times of the following from the report of the Editor of Grievances from Ireland:

"At the American Convention of the United Irish League just held in Philadelphia, Mr. T. P. O'Connor conveyed to his hearers, on behalf of Mr. John E. Redmond, M. P., a very strong opinion of Mr. John F. Finerty, who has just resigned the office of President of the American United Irish League. He said:

"I am going to tell you my private instructions. I was told by the leader of the Irish party that if the organization was to be deprived of the inestimable services of that splendid leader, Finerty (Irish World, Oct. 13, 1906), then Michael J. Ryan was the man to take his place."

A part of Mr. Finerty's services to Ireland is recorded in the official Commission, Vol. 1, page 215, in which a speech of this same gentleman following the following murderous opinions:

"Honest John Mitchell used to say that he was sorry the Irish people had not shot half enough Irish landlords. He would go further, and he would say that he was ashamed of the Irish people, if they had powder and shot, they had not shot enough of the landlords. The Lord Lieutenant, the Chief Secretary, the Privy Council, were all guilty of murder, and if any man could have power to replace them all beneath a single guillotine and lop their heads off at once, that man would be justified in the sight of God and man."

"There is nothing to show that Mr. Finerty has ever apologized for these murderous utterances, or altered his views. At this latest convention he said:

"I say without wishing to compromise my Parliamentary friend—Mr. T. P. O'Connor, M. P.—in any way to hold him or his party responsible for my sentiments, that I would ask of you to give me grace and strength to live to see the British Empire broken into smithereens." (Irish World, Oct. 13, 1906.)

Such are the views of the "splendid" Irishman who for several years past has been President of the American United Irish League, the paymaster of the Irish party at home, and whose "inestimable services" to the Home Rule cause has just been gratefully acknowledged by Mr. T. P. O'Connor, in the name and by the authority of Mr. John E. Redmond."

LORD ROSEBERY HAD TRYING TIME

Caught in a Storm on a Lonely Moor But After Some Difficulty He Found His Way to a House and Obtained Shelter.

GLASGOW, Nov. 17.—Further details have leaked out regarding the Earl of Rosebery's mooring adventure in the terrible storm on Carnwath Moor, a lonely stretch of heathland about five miles from the one-time market town of Carnwath, now a neat Lanarkshire village. His Lordship had been on a visit to Glenconner with the King's shooting party, and having to journey to Edinburgh, resolved, in spite of the severe snowstorm, to cover the distance by motor. Carnwath lies in a somewhat exposed position, and the village around the surrounding roads the snow lay almost a foot deep. All went well, however, till the motor reached a lonely stretch of road on the moor lying about five miles distant from Carnwath. Here the road, which is the old coach road, leaves the fences behind, and the motorist, to keep his path, must need to be well acquainted with the district. Ordinarily, a firm typical moor track, over which the sheep are wont to stray at their will, on this occasion the slush made motoring the most perilous means of travelling, and the car struck fast.

It has been stated that the machinery broke down. Such, however, is not the case. It is understood that Lord Rosebery decided to go back when half way across the moor, in turning the motor, it is believed that it ran over a small rise at the side of the road and into a little ditch on the other side. Under the circumstances it was impossible to move the car, and Lord Rosebery and his chauffeur de-

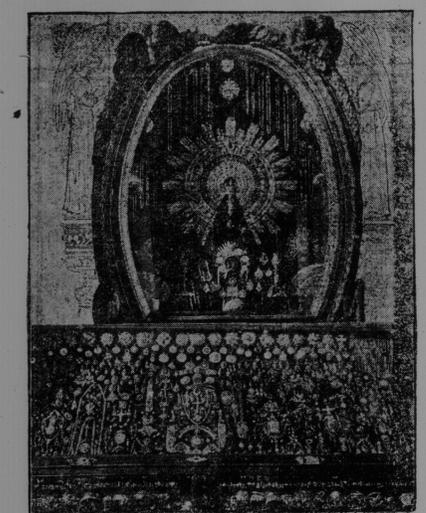

A SUMMER RESORT THAT DOES NOT PAY

Russian Grand Duke Spent Millions on an Unhealthy Place.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 17.—The scheme for a railway between North America and Asiatic Russia is no new one, although it has reached a new point of departure in the incorporation of a company in the state of New Jersey to construct a railway tunnel under Behring Strait. At first sight it does not strike one as probable that a capital of $2,000,000 will go far towards carrying out the design originated several years ago by a French engineer, and approved by the czar of Russia. Nor does the idea of a submarine tunnel seem much more feasible than that of a bridge across Behring Strait, which one found some favor among arm-chair engineers. Anyhow Russian engineers agree that it will be some time before through trains between New York and St. Petersburg will be announced.

A good story is told regarding Gaghri, a story which illustrates the Russian way of doing things. Two or three years ago one of the grand dukes came yachting in these parts. He was struck with the charm of the situation. He saw what a nice thing it would be to have a fashionable watering-place on this side of the Black Sea, to be in time, maybe, a rival to Yalta, in the Crimea. Also, as he thought ground, he saw a means of enriching himself. Next to the emperor, the wish of a grand duke is a thing to be obeyed. Six million roubles of public money were spent close to one it went off, and, naturally, round went my horse. I turned him round and put him at it again, and got through, the cavalry retreating to the other side. Not more than a dozen of the 11th and the same number of the 13th were to be seen, so we turned to some back, knowing we could not hold the guns we had taken. The 8th, 4th and 11th followed us in, and suffered nearly as much as ourselves. We saw the enemy between us and home, and at them we went. I cut down one fellow as he ran one of my fellows through with a lance, and, digging my spurs in my horse's sides, he went at it as he has often gone to the bil fences in Monmouthshire. I got through them with only a few lance pikes, which I managed to pry, but the number of men had diminished. We had to retire through a shower of musket bullets, and we re-formed in rear of the Heavy Brigade. I number the worst of the whole thing was that the enemy still retained possession of the ground, and there were now forming detachments. Much mistaken if they think we are going to attack them."

MILLIONS WORTH OF JEWELS AT THE SHRINE OF EL PILAR

MADRID, Nov. 17.—This photo shows the shrine of the Virgin of El Pilar, Saragossa, with jewelry worth millions, presented by the sovereigns of Spain. It is announced that Queen Victoria Eugenie will go very soon to pray at the shrine of the Virgin of El Pilar at Saragossa. Charles VII, Ferdinand VII, and Isabella II, presented many of the gifts which appear in the lower photograph. In the upper part of the picture is a crown valued at a million, which was presented last year by the Spanish aristocracy. There also is the head of a walking stick given by Alfonso XIII.

DO THIS, YOUR HEART IS AS FEROCIOUS AS A WOLF

Are you not afraid that the thunder will strike you?

The final paragraph of this poster reveals its source of origin. "Should you wish to smoke cigarettes, smoke the Dragon or Phoenix brands, manufactured by the Japanese Government tobacco trusts, whose agents at the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha."

The third piece of literature is a small pamphlet which was issued and circulated in immense quantities in the province of Honan. This province was up to quite recently the most bitterly anti-foreign part of China, and was noted for its bad treatment of white men and the east. Russia had been caught in the wave of reform, and is mending its ways.

The pamphlet is written in the most familiar colloquial Chinese in order to appeal to the common man. It is local and able, and what we should call a masterly political appeal. It points out that China today is surrounded by six to the north, England, France, Germany, America to the west. All of these are stronger than China, and they have all determined to steal Chinese territory, if a nation's land is gone, that nation is ruined. What can be done to stop them?

First, the Chinese must learn. There is not a foreigner who does not give twenty years to study, the wostan of foreigners carry books about with them, so that evidently even they can read. These foreigners study not the classics, but practical things. Technical education is their strength. Let China have technical education.

The Chinese woman must abandon foot binding, and the Chinese man must put his opinion pipe on one side. China must be united. So long as there is no cohesion, China cannot stand.

The writer uses the familiar illustration of the bundle of sticks to enforce this point. The Chinese must show increased love for one another, each helping the other.

Following the German example of last year, Italy has broken off commercial treaty negotiations with China. The new Chinese policy forbids the smallest attempt to meet the foreigner's half-way, and it is regarded as unlikely that either of the remaining treaty powers will open similar negotiations. Article 8 of the Mackay Treaty of 1902, becoming a dead letter, other dues, thus abolishing a dead letter.

DIVORCED WIFE KILLED HERSELF AND CHILDREN

GENEVA, Nov. 17.—A tragic sequel to a divorce case just occurred at Blankenburg, in the canton of Berne, yesterday.

Five months ago a merchant of Cassel, Germany, named Schopf-winkel, secured a divorce from his wife, and was awarded the custody of his two children, aged four and five years respectively.

Before he could secure the children, however, the mother fled from Cassel, taking them with her. For five months Herr Schopf-winkel and a detective pursued her all over Germany and Switzerland, and at last found her living in apartments at Blankenburg.

When Schopf-winkel and the detective, accompanied by a local gendarme, entered her apartments they found Mme. Schopf-winkel and her two children lying in bed, shot through the heart.

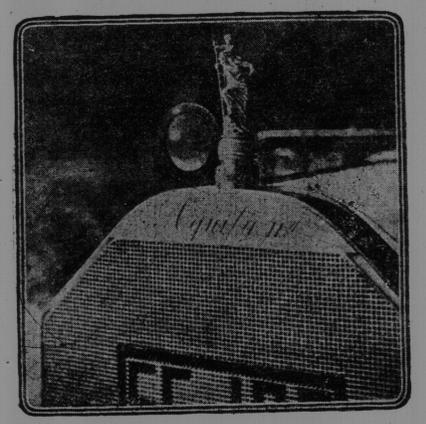

Lying on the table was a note in which the wife declared that she was "as innocent of the charge against her as her babes," she had killed them, and then committed suicide.

Captain Daniel's journey from the Indian Ocean to the mouth of the Congo is 1,500 miles in a direct line by way of Lake Tanganyika. He is now on his way to Boma.

SILVER STATUETTE ON THE FRONT OF MOTOR CAR

ROME, Nov. 17.—On the front of Queen Margherita's 50-h. p. motor car is a silver statuette of St. Christopher, the patron saint of travellers. The idea of thus placing a motor car under the protection of a saint is becoming very popular.

elled to turn back in search of assistance and shelter. A fierce gale was blowing, and the roads were ankle-deep in slush. It was a three-mile walk over a bleak country to the nearest habitation, and the unfortunate motorists found themselves severely handicapped with their heavy motor-leg costumes, which by then were soaked through. At one time, according to Lord Rosebery, it seemed as if they would have to encamp for the night in a plantation or in the lee of a wall, for which purpose they had provided themselves with a heavy travel rug. The chauffeur became almost exhausted, but with remarkable energy Lord Rosebery pushed on, and reached the shelter of the lodge at the entrance to Kereswell House, the property of Colonel Bertram, but at present tenanted by Mr. Frank Warwick. The lodgekeeper is John Somerville.

The door was opened by Mrs. Somerville, and forthwith Lord Rosebery introduced himself, adding, "I am benighted on the moor, and my lad is behind me." The lodgekeeper, on hearing the news at once made ready to go in search of the chauffeur, but in the meantime His Lordship, who had, characteristically enough, "saved" a couple of volumes of the "Life and Letters of Lord Durham," had laid the books on the lodge table, and himself gone in search of the chauffeur. Little difficulty was experienced, as the young man in question was following not far behind. In spite of his adventure His Lordship was in excellent spirits, and as he and Somerville covered the half-mile drive between the lodge and Kereswell House on foot, was able to chat to the lodgekeeper, and remarked on the "lovely timber" lining the drive to the house. Afterwards he laughingly commented on the contrast between the night of his adventure and the previous night,

A TRAIN FERRY THAT WILL RUN SEVENTY MILES

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—A gigantic steam ferry will shortly be established to connect the German port of Sassnitz with Trelleborg, at the Southern extremity of Sweden.

The new ferry-boat will be able to ship the entire train with the exception of the locomotive. The through train from Berlin to Stockholm will thus be shipped on the ferry and be transported across the Baltic Sea on the deck of the ferry-boat. The distance from Sassnitz to Trelleborg is approximately seventy miles, and the ferry-boat will cover the distance in four hours.

This Baltic ferry will be unique, both in point of size and owing to the fact that it will ply across the open sea. After this example of German enterprise, similar steam-ferries for the transmission of trains from Dover to Ostend and from Queenborough to Flushing, may follow.

WALKS UNDER DIFFICULTIES

CALCUTTA, Nov. 17.—Walking around the world for a wager, the American athlete Lorimer has arrived at Cawpoore. He has already been attacked by a pack of wild dogs, of which he killed four, has narrowly escaped being run over by a train, and has been suffering from ptomaine poisoning.

"When," he said, "I was dining with the King."

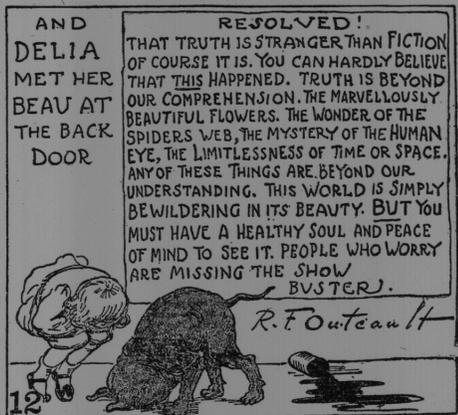

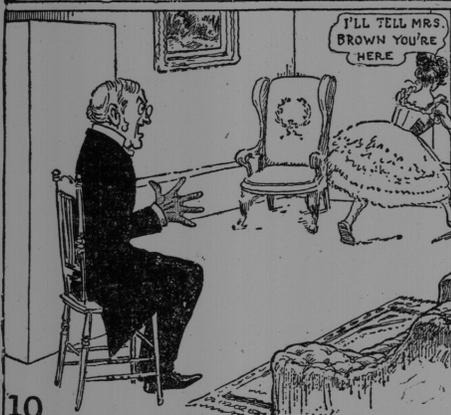

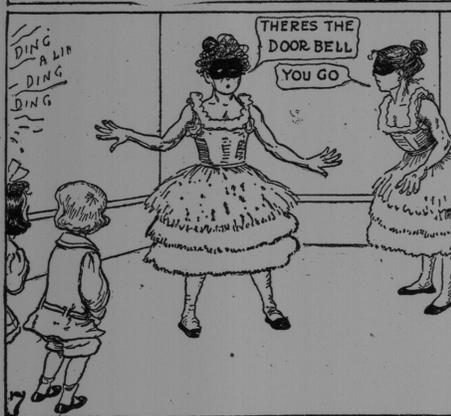

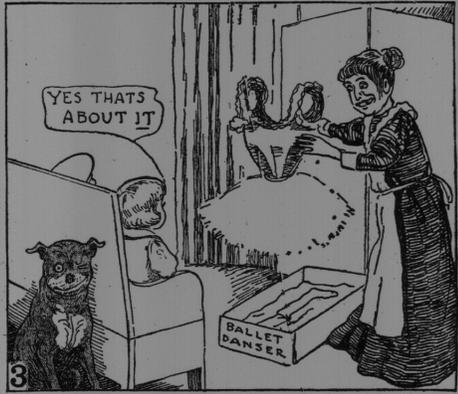

It needs only to be added that under the hospitable roof of Kereswell House Lord Rosebery's wants were at once attended to, and there he remained for the night. On the following morning he drove to Carnwath Station, where he took the morning train for Edinburgh. The motor was "rescued" about the same time.

Three Stunning Suits of Broadcloth From Paris

THE dead shades, of any and every color, but notably of brown and green and rose, over which Paris is waxing so enthusiastic, are another proof of the increased popularity of dull and sombre tones for this year's most beautiful cloths. Yet the way that those sombre cloths are treated robs them of any possible depressing effect—a tone deeper or lighter, a judicious introduction of white or of the soft gold laces (so delicate as to be rid of every suspicion of garishness), a bit of exquisite lace bringing out the beauty of the cloth, or the very dulness of tone emphasizing the richness of the furs worn with it.

For the suit in the centre, plum-colored broadcloth would be stunning, or plum-colored velvet would be even handsomer. And Paris is as enthusiastic over velvet as she is over broadcloth. Whoever is used, a fancy velvet (they are legion, and most of them beautiful) may make collar and cuffs, with tiny knife pleatings of soft silk set about them. The skirt is one of the many pleated styles which are the circular skirt's most formidable rival. And the jacket is a favorite model with Parisiennes. It may be made heavy enough to be comfortable on the cold, sharp days without interfering with the easy, graceful way in which it fits the figure. With it may be worn a hat of mauve felt, with a scarf of plum-colored velvet drawn around the Large Tam-o-Shanter crown, and tied at one side. For the gown at the right, broadcloth in the new shade of brown may be trimmed effectively with bands of fur and with braid, which, somehow, finds its way into almost every sort of thing this year.

A hat of fur, with grapes and red velvet ribbon for trimming, completes it. Another stunning hat is shown, of green felt, with a great bird for its only trimming, and birds are almost as ubiquitous upon hats as braids are upon suits.

LACE ROBES

LACE robes are worn more than ever. Indeed, some authorities go so far as to say that no woman's wardrobe is complete without one. They come in prices to fit all pocketbooks and in styles to fit all tastes. If you are going to get a fresh lining for your lace robe, nothing is so suitable as chiton—which, by the way, is more used this season than ever before. If you are of an economical turn, however, your last year's evening gown can be utilized for the purpose. A costume whose freshness for outside wear is a thing of the past often becomes a source of renewed joy when worn under a lace robe. Robes of princess lace are exquisite, and proportionately expensive. A black lace robe offers an opportunity for the black-over-white idea. Separate lace blouses still hold their own, and those that are embroidered are the handsomest. These blouses are being made, for the most part, with elbow sleeves,

MAXIM GORKY MAKES A STIR IN ITALY

And Has Been Advised Not to Go Too Far.

Rome Sends a Replica of the Capitoline Wolf to the Municipality of Bucharest.

ROME, Nov. 15.—Maxim Gorky's pro-Russian revolutionary meeting at Naples was followed by rioting in the street and by action of the Italian Government, which suggested to Mr. Gorky that he must exercise a little more prudence while acting as the apostle of revolution. Italy has already suffered from the effects of a socialist revolutionary campaign in relation to Russia. A campaign of this nature some years ago prevented the proposed visit of the Tsar to Italy. Official circles in the Tsar's dominions at the time regarded the affair as an insult from little Italy to mighty Russia, and it seriously embarrassed the negotiations then pending for a commercial treaty between the two countries. Similar negotiations are now proceeding, and the authorities have issued stringent orders that the Gorky propaganda shall be kept within severe limits, as the government is determined not to have its action hampered a second time by anti-Russian propaganda in Italy. Gorky has been watched by police and soldiers, who have received rigid instructions to put down any attempt which may be made by the admirer of the Russian author to resist the regulations laid down for their guidance.

While receiving a number of pilgrims the other day, the Pontiff, notwithstanding the severe attack of gout which he had, looked his old self, and was tranquil and benevolent as ever. At the end of the ceremony, however, he evinced great signs of fatigue, and appeared to be in pain. His Holiness was at once conveyed to his private room.

There has just been inaugurated in the exhibition of retrospective art at Bucharest, a replica in bronze of the famous bronze group of the Wolf suckling Romulus and Remus, which is preserved in the Capitoline Museum at Rome. It was the gift of the municipality of Rome to the municipality of Bucharest; and the representative of the former, Count di San Martino, pronounced a discourse on the occasion which was delivered amidst immense applause. The miniature of industry, give a brief sketch of the story of the traditional relations between the two countries, dwelling upon their common origin and the reciprocal sympathy shown by the one to the other on various occasions.

The Wolf of the Capital is, like so many of the objects which contribute to make Rome renowned throughout the ages, a symbol and a sign of the great antiquity of the city. The actual statue in bronze has been the subject of learned dissertations, and contradictory arguments. Even at the present day authors do not agree concerning its origin and style of art. Herr Wolfgang Hellig, the German writer on the

BRIDGEWATER, N.S., MAY HAVE CAR WORKS

Special Meeting of the Board of Trade to Receive Report of the Committee Appointed to Investigate the Report of the Proprietor Submitted to the Town by Phil. P. Moore and Others Whereby a Plant for the Construction of Cars Would be Located Here.

BRIDGEWATER, N. S., Nov. 16.—A special meeting of the board of trade met this afternoon to receive the report of the committee appointed last week to investigate the report on the proposition submitted to the town by Phil. P. Moore and others whereby a plant for the construction of cars would be located here. The company asked for a free site, exemption from taxation, free water, free light, and that $25,000 worth of bonds of the company be purchased by the town or by private individuals.

The report of the committee was in the main favorable for granting the terms asked for by the company, and it was unanimously adopted by the board which has passed the report on to the town council. The recommendation will be considered by the town council at a special meeting and will very likely be accepted.

The establishment of car works here whereby nearly 200 men would be given employment would mean much to the industrial growth of Bridgewater and there is no doubt now but that the project will go through as all the leading citizens are enthusiastic in the matter.

The Serbian Minister here was seen today regarding the reports of the insanity of Crown Prince George of Serbia. He said it was true that the Crown Prince has shown lately excessive irritability and that this had caused great anxiety in court circles. He does not believe the Prince's affliction will be admitted officially, although the efforts of physicians to cure him have ended in failure. The Prince has shown such abnormal symptoms that he must be isolated.

STORM CAUSES SEVERAL WRECKS

The Schooner St. Bernard on the Rocks at Beaver Harbor.

The Silver Wave Battered by the Waves, Abandoned by Crew—Other Damage to Vessels.

The storm which raged Thursday night and Friday morning resulted in much damage being done to shipping in the bay ports. Four vessels are reported ashore and another was badly damaged. The schooner St. Bernard, of Parrsboro, was driven ashore on Friday morning on the rocks near Beaver Harbor. The schooner St. Bernard, which is owned by Capt. Magnus Benjamin and Newton Pugsley, of Parrsboro, was bound for Bridgewater, Conn., to Wood Point, N. B., in ballast. Early Friday morning the captain was obliged to put into Beaver Harbor. Two anchors were dropped, but in spite of this the schooner soon dragged ashore on the rocks of Breakwater Pt. The tossing about of the boat caused the stove in the cabin to upset and soon the whole cabin was a mass of flames. The crew then decided to make the shore so they dropped over the side and waded shelter-deep onto the rocks. All hands went to a nearby house where they received attention. The captain and mate lost all their belongings and the sailors only saved a small amount of clothing.

At daylight a number of fishermen from the rocks of Breakwater Pt. took the vessel off the rocks and she was taken to the public wharf where she now is.

When Capt. Benjamin endeavored to board his vessel in the morning to get some clothes he was roughly handled by the fishermen and not allowed to get anything. He further alleges that everything on the ship that could be stolen had been stolen.

The St. Bernard was insured with Wm. Thomson & Co. for $5,000. The schooner Besse 2, also owned by Newton Pugsley is ashore somewhere in the bay it is not known just where.

The schooner May Bell, Capt. Olive, left Shulex, N. S., on Thursday for St. John. When off Cape Spencer Friday morning the ship's foremast was carried away and part of the deckload of deals was washed overboard. The vessel anchored off the Beacon Eddy and later drifted into Kane's wharf from where she was towed to the tug Lord Kitchener to Dunn's slip.

The schooner Silver Wave, Captain Goodwin, is a wreck off Sea View. The schooner Silver Wave left Boston on October 22nd for St. John, but was delayed by contrary winds. On Thursday afternoon the vessel was off Quaco Head. The vessel refused to answer her helm and about midnight struck on the rocks at Sea View. All the crew escaped.

James Harrover, of Chance Harbor, reports having seen the wreck of a two-masted at Split Rock below Parrsboro Island. It is believed to be the Silver Wave.

The Schooner Wood Bros. is reported ashore at Spencer's Island and the cargo is completely ruined. The Wood Bros. is owned in Parrsboro.

They were convicted and fined $500 each, with alternative of serving three months in prison. JURY FINDS J. W. KING'S DEATH WAS THROUGH INCENDIARY FIRE

Coroner's Inquest Into Waterloo Street Fire Tragedy Concluded Last Evening—Coroner Maintains He Was Fully Justified in Conducting the Inquiry in the Manner Which He Did, Despite Press and Officials—Interesting Evidence.

The inquest into the death of James W. King was concluded last evening, the jury bringing in a verdict of death through suffocation in a fire caused by an incendiary. In addressing the jury, the coroner stated that he was justified in holding the investigation about the fire, as it had a strong connection with the man's death, and did not hint at the press and members of the community, summon them to hold a fire investigation.

When standing on the roof of the building he first saw smoke coming out slightly between Mrs. Sweeney's two buildings. He could not understand it and some others on the roof noticed it too. Two young men jumped over the railing between Mrs. Sweeney's and the building on the roof and saw the door from which the smoke was issuing.

They kicked it and the flames came out in their faces. They tried to put the fire out with the pails in the yard, but they might as well have spat on it; the fire was inside. He then opened the back gates to Union street, and when the chemical engine came along, took it to the right spot at once. The firemen soon came with water and fought the fire, who by their good work had saved his property.

Q. By Juror—Did you see anybody smoking around? A. No. The coroner then addressed the jury. He said: "The press and certain members of the community have run away with the impression that I have called upon you to hold a fire investigation."

SYSTEM NEEDS CHANGES

Loose Form of Inspection of Canadian Banks. Number of Amendments Required to the Banking Act—Caldwell Tells of Defunct Ontario Bank Affairs.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 16. It is scarcely likely that in all Canada there is a more serious form of inspection as obtained in the Ontario Bank, says Robert B. Caldwell, formerly inspector of the defunct institution, given today, there appears to be a number of amendments required to the Canadian banking act.

At the present time, he pointed out, the inspector has to inspect things very much as he finds them in various branches, and he is allowed no supervisory insight over the books in the head office. "Without this privilege, in position to deal effectively with any schemes to defraud that may be placed on foot."

In the case of the Ontario Bank, Caldwell informed the court that he had sometime previous to the two last annual meetings, approached the president with regard to the inspection of the head office. Cockburn had given his consent, but in each instance Mr. Gill had postponed action until it was too late to undertake the work.

Under the Canadian system, where the branch banks sometimes numbered over one thousand, the method proposed and consequently involve the retention by the government of an unwieldy and expensive staff. Magistrate Denison suggested that the directors would be called today. They will doubtless be examined when the case resumed Tuesday.

This afternoon R. E. McKay, counsel for McGill, took Inspector Caldwell to task for his criticism of the Ontario Bank. He said he was all right and four were not. Before the cross examination of Caldwell, the witness was asked what steps had been taken to examine the New York agents of McGill.

FAST TIME OF OVER-SEAS LIMITED. Whole Run From Coast to Coast Made at Rate of Thirty-eight Miles an Hour.

MONTREAL, Nov. 16.—Over-seas limited carrying the China mail, arrived here this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, having made the record trip across the Atlantic in 79 hours and 19 minutes. The actual running time between Vancouver and Quebec, 3,000 miles, was 79 hours and 19 minutes. The train left Vancouver at 9:40 p. m. Monday, having been delayed eight hours from forty minutes, owing to the non-arrival of the Empress of China, which had encountered rough weather and there was a further delay of six hours in the mountains, but notwithstanding this general handicap Quebec was reached 21 minutes ahead of schedule time. There were several notable runs in the different divisions.

The run over the four ranges of mountains was made at the rate of 41.2 miles an hour. Between Calgary and Winnipeg at the average speed of 42.2 miles an hour was attained and the whole run from coast to coast was made at the rate of 38 miles an hour. For a long distance run of over 3,000 miles, this is something to be credit of the Canadian Pacific railway.

INDUSTRY WAR C.P.R. FORCED TO GO TO HALIFAX

No Settlement of Difficulties Has Been Reached. Senator Forget, Vice-President of the Steel Company, Talks About Condition of Affairs at Present.

MONTREAL, Nov. 16.—Senator Forget, vice-president of the Steel Company, gave out the following statement this morning: "It is to be regretted that the articles appearing in newspapers yesterday and this morning are of a nature to mislead the public as to the true state of affairs between the Steel Company and the Coal Company."

"Reference to these letters will show clearly that the Steel Company has simply offered to buy coal from the Coal Company in exactly the same way as it has been buying coal from outside concerns since the Coal Company fell short of its deliveries, and it stopped supplying coal."

"In other words the Steel Company is buying its coal in the open market to the best possible advantage until such time as its rights under contract with the Coal Company can be determined, and until such determination of its rights, the Steel Company will charge any loss it may sustain to the Coal Company as damages arising out of the Coal Company's breach of contract."

WARDEN NORTON THINKS HE HAS FRANCIS IN TRAP. CAMDEN, Me., Nov. 16.—Warden Norton of the State prison at Thomaston, who is leading the search for the escapee Francis, said today that he was still confident late tonight that he had the elusive negro surrounded in the woods between village and Rockport, notwithstanding the failure of the efforts to drive Francis out of the supposed cover today. The warden had a cord on along the highway around the swamp and the highway between the shore. So many guards and officers from the prison were pressed into service that the force left at that institution according to the regular routine, so the prisoners were kept locked in their cells all day and operations in the workshops suspended.

With all this array of prison guards, assisted by county deputies and local officers of Rockport and Camden, Warden North felt that he had a force sufficient to prevent the escape of Francis from the swamp tonight and to insure his capture if he should attempt to break cover by daylight.

LOCAL NEWS.
Ensign Cornish, assisted by the city officers, will conduct a united meeting in Carleton S. A. hall on Monday evening.

Registrar Jones reports that thirteen births were recorded during the week, ten of the infants being boys. There were ten marriages.

The W. S. Harkins Co., comprising most of the members of last year's company, will open an engagement at the Opera House on Monday evening presenting The Crisis.

T. Gordon Boyne, of Exmouth street, left on the Governor Cobb for Boston last evening where he will be a principal in a marriage next week.

The excavators are up against a tough proposition in Waterloo street in making water connections for the new manual training school. The deep hole has to be cut out of the solid rock and several workmen have been engaged weeks already. The school building is being made ready inside as rapidly as possible.

Any man and every man in St. John is invited to the next meeting of the Everyday Club in Brussels street church parlors Monday night. This is the formal—if such a word will do—opening of the organization for the season of 1906-7 and a rattling good programme is being prepared. Every man is welcome.

MAY BUILD NEW LODGE ROOM IN THE NORTH END

Temple of Honor Said to be After a Property—K. of P. Lodge is Starting Out Well.

St. John Lodge No. 30, Knights of Pythias—the new lodge in the North End branch—will hold its first legal meeting a week from Monday night in Orange Hall, Simonds street. While the session will be largely of a business character, it is expected one or two charter members who were unavoidably absent at the institution proceedings last Monday will be given the three ranks.

When the new lodge gets into full working order a large number of North End young men will become Knights. It was said today it would not be surprising if the North End organization tallied one hundred members in a year's time.

Just at present an energetic committee is dickering for the purchase of lodge-room paraphernalia and insignia. That of a cancelled lodge in this province may be purchased, though there are ample funds to buy a brand new outfit, it is understood.

The question of a permanent place of meeting is also a live one. Orange Hall, Simonds street, is already the home of numerous lodges, and the Pythians look to the Temple of Honor to carry out its new building project. For some time Alexandra T. of H. members have been contemplating the erection of a place of meeting to succeed their old quarters opposite Adelaide street, which they sold to St. Peter's church a few years ago.

It is stated that to this end an option has been secured on a dwelling property on the south side of Main street, near Douglas avenue corner, and about opposite D. J. Purdy's premises. This, it is reported, may be the site of a handsome new T. of H. and Pythian hall, a credit to North End.

OBSERVED THEIR SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY
Home of Mr. and Mrs. James Browne, of Britain St., the Scene of a Merry Gathering Last Evening

On Thursday evening, the 16th inst., a very pleasant event took place at No. 235 Britain street, the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Browne. It was the anniversary of their wedding day, twenty-five years ago, and about forty of their relatives and friends gave them a surprise by invading and taking possession of the house and making themselves thoroughly at home. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Browne were called into the centre of the group of friends and after a few happy and humorous remarks from the Rev. Mr. Marshall, were presented by them, on behalf of those present, with several good and useful household articles in sterling silver. Mr. Browne thanked those present for their kind wishes and gifts and a few short and merry speeches were made by others.

After discussing the many good things provided by the ladies, games were indulged in until a late hour, when the gathering dispersed after wishing the happy couple many more happy anniversaries.

NO THOUGHT OF PARK LINE TILL NEXT YEAR AT LEAST

Street Railway is Unfairly Treated in all its Undertakings Says Col McLean.

Colonel McLean talking this morning about the proposed extension of the street railway to Rockland Park, said that he had not yet considered the matter. He had not received any notice from the park commissioners relative to giving permission for the cars to run through the park. All that he knew about it was what he had read in the papers. Before such an undertaking could be started the matter would have to be laid before the directors and the engineer would have to go over the ground to find the best route. It would be too late now to do anything this fall, and the energies of the company are directed to completing the West Side work.

Speaking of the work being done in Carleton, Col. McLean said that great difficulty had been experienced in laying the tracks because of the nature of the ground. This was composed of soft clay, and before the rails could be laid a foundation had to be built up. Now that the work is nearing completion another difficulty arises over the action of the people in preventing the laying of the tracks through Queen Square. This is only to be a temporary arrangement, and as soon as the lower side of the square is fixed by the city the track would be laid on that street. To go around the square with the street in its present condition would hardly allow the company to give any service during the winter, because the tracks would freeze over and could not be kept clear. The action of the people is, he thinks, very unfair, as the company has received the permission of the council and has all plans perfected. Now the work will be delayed until the controversy is settled.

Col. McLean said that $300,000 had lately been spent for extension work and the new lines are hardly paying expenses. He considers that the company is being hounded, and it is very discouraging that when the directors tried to meet the wishes of the public they should be blown up by the newspapers and treated as rogues and liars. They were only trying to meet the requirements of the people. The road as a whole is hardly paying expenses, and if it were not for the lighting plant the company would not be able to run at all. The stock holders are putting their own money into the company and receiving very little in return.

As regards the new park line nothing would be done till the spring, and the company would use all their endeavors to finish up the work in Carleton before the winter. Col. McLean thinks the park line would be a difficult one to construct and operate.

FORTY FOUR YEARS MARRIED; CELEBRATED YESTERDAY

Mr. and Mrs. James Dinsmore Made the Recipients of Suitable Gifts

Mr. and Mrs. James Dinsmore, Sr., were married on November 16th, 1862, and yesterday celebrated their forty-fourth anniversary. At their home on Princess street, east, last evening there were gathered relatives and intimate friends to the number of more than a score, who bestowed on the respected couple their heartfelt wishes for many more years of happiness. During the evening Mrs. Dinsmore was made the recipient of a comfortable embossed leather rocker and Mr. Dinsmore's heart was gladdened by the gift of a nice meerschaum pipe. The presentations were made on behalf of friends by James W. Barnes, and Mr. Dinsmore replied in an apt and appropriate speech. The gifts came as an entire surprise to the delighted recipients. Refreshments were served and the members of the company spent the evening very pleasantly with games and music.

BROWN-OLIVE
A very pretty wedding took place this afternoon at the residence of the bride's grandfather, John C. Harrod, 59 Prince street, West End, when Walter G. Brown, of the C. P. R. foreign freight department, Montreal, was married to Miss Mabel Lillian, only daughter of LeBaron R. Olive, of Palo Alto, Cal.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. D. Marr, in the presence of the immediate friends of the bride and groom. A large flower bell profusely decorated with red and white carnations and smilax suspended from the ceiling of the parlor formed a canopy under which the ceremony was solemnized. The bride wore cream silk solitaire. Her travelling suit was navy blue chiffon broad cloth with large black velvet hat.

The happy couple leave on the C. P. R. express for Montreal and other upper Canadian cities where the honeymoon will be spent.

We Study His Winter Clothing Wants as Earnestly as we do His Father's or Big Brother's.

THERE'S ALWAYS Enough Self Respect in the Average Boy to create in him a like or a dislike for his clothing. When he grows old enough to distinguish between styles he rebels against the Kiltie suit or the childish overcoat. All parents of boys have gone through this experience, or have yet to encounter it.

It is just here we step into the good graces of our manly little friends. If they want a swagger outer garment—like the picture here—we can suit them in every particular. By insisting upon getting only those coats the boys like, we have built up a personal friendship that means much to both the lads and to us.

This winter's supply of Overcoats embraces Fancy Cheviots, Tweeds and Vicunas, as well as Plain Grey Friezes and Cheviots. The Shoulders are Padded, the Chests Roomy, Vents at Back, Self and Velvet Collars, etc. By long odds the most mannish coats this side of the real men's sizes.
