OTTAWA LETTER.

Something Happening in Inner Government Circles.

A Bill of Much Interest to Seafaring Men.

Mr. Fielding's Period of Best Very Much Closer Than He Anticipated -A Pointer for Business Men-Mr. Tarte Quietly Working to Defeat Hr. Blair's Schemes Against the C. P. R.-Minister of Railways on

OTTAWA, April 6.-Sir Louis Da vies introduced a bill last week which will be of great interest to seafaring men, particularly those who hold certificates of competency from the British board of trade. It is entitled an act to amend the act respecting enquiries and investigations into shipping casualties. Under present laws it has been customary to hold an investigation in Canada in all cases. vestigation in Canada in all cases where a ship has been lost within Canadian waters. The court of enquiry was almost invariably presided over by Capt. W. H. Smith, R. N. R., and such gentlemen as he might select as associates. The court so constituted ses where officers holding British certificates of competency were at fault. It now turns out, however, that any decisions rendered by this court, unless concurred in by the British board of trade, were invalid and that they have really no force. Sir Louis Davies stated that he had consulted the British board of trade in the matter and that they had refused to recognize any interference by the Candian authorities in such matters. It was suggested by the British board of trade that the Canadian law should be ended as to bring the enquiries under conditions similar to those surrounding them in the old country, and the minister of marine and fisherles readily acquiesced and changed the dominion act in accordance with the

The procedure under the law, as amended, will be somewhat different from that of the past. Any government officer, or a county court judge, or a magistrate will take the evidence and try such cases as may be placed iperts will be associated with the judge to advise him on any points which might need explanation. The evidence so taken will then be sent to the Brit-ish board of trade, who will consider at and pass judgment on the defending wifeer or officers. Under the old law nister of marine and fisheries claimed power to reinstate any officer suspended for neglect of duty, gross ss or any other cause might be deemed sufficient to result in the suspension of his certificate. This power seems to have been taken upon the British authorities have in every certificate of competency from the British board of trade. The effect of this announcement will be to prac-tically reinstate any who may have been suspended by dominion courts of marine enquiry during the past unless

In cases of captains holding Cana lian certificates, however, the govern ment will still retain ats power to pend or cancel. It was suggested in connection with this court, that if, Canada was to refrain from interfering with certificates of British issue then the British authorities should b then the Enitish authorities should be prevented from taking any action in the cases of Canadian captains who may meet with disaster in the waters of the motherland. And this proposition does not seem to be an unreasonable one. If the British authorities are unwilling to consider a Canadian court a competent tribunal for the arraignment of an officer holding a British certificate, the Canadians should have the right to deal with certificates. sued by this country, in cases whe aptains may be at fault, in territo over which the British board of trace claims jurisdiction. But the govern-ment is inclined to think that Canaand so they are quite willing to yield this point. The result of the enforce-ment of the new law will probably be-that a county court judge will in future be selected to hold all enquiries in connection with marine disasters, and under such conditions it is expected that much greater satisfaction will be felt by those who are often placed in a trying position, through disaster, which may or may not be due to any ness on their part

Mr. Gourley, the member for Colchester, N. S., is making a good impression in the house. It is advisable that new members should in all cases, or nearly all cases, be seen and not heard during the first session. It often means that a man who talks too much will rapidly find himself a candidate for the back benches. Two gentlemen ber for Halifax, and Mr. Emmerson once Mr. Elair's pride. Both have sitions since their entrance into do minion politics. Mr. Gourley, unlike these gentlemen, has preserved a diserect silence, except in one or two in-stances in which he felt called upon to make an appeal on behalf of his constituents, and on the two occasions which he spoke he received most attentive hearing from a large house.

Mr. Gourley sees no reason why the country should not have all the railways necessary for her to retain her own transportation business. If money borrowed for railway purposes is spent judiciously, and not handed over to boodiers, he thinks that the governnent can provide its system of railways at a cost which will not place any considerable burden on the country. He asked for the maritime provinces, that in any proposals the gov-ernment might adopt in regard to the solution of the transportation problem that the east should be considered. Mr. Gourley contended that the attention the government had been paying to canals and inland waters and St. Lawrence route was time wasted. His idea was that the government hould take steps to bring the produce Canada, and by doing so they will solve a question which seems to be greatly troubling them at the present time. What is needed most are railways to get the grain from the west and land it at St. John or Halifax or some Atlantic port, and he asked that

For the government railway men Mr. Gourley had a good word to say. He called the attention of the railway epartment to the fact that the m of the I. C. R. in many cases are work-ing for wages which were insufficient to support them and their families. In many cases raitway employes are compelled to work early and late in order to earn a bare existence for themselves and those depending upon them. As they are an unusually intelligent class of men, the member for Colchester thinks they should receive more remuneration from the I. C. R., and he suggested that Mr. Blair should make some provision to deal more generously with them

OTTAWA, April 8 .- The correspondence in connection with the Paris exposition was brought down the other day, and as a result, Hon. Sydney Fisher, minister af agriculture, was placed in the most humiliating position. Only a few days ago, Mr. Fisher occupied the attention of the house for some hours, telling them of the great things achieved by the dominion ere altogether irrelevant to the subunder discussion, an additional vote of $30,000 to the exhibition pense fund, but irrelevancy does not trouble Mr. Fisher. He quoted from the leading newspapers of the country to show how successful had been the Canadian exhibit and the work of the staff in charge, and it was noticed during the reading of some of the paragraphs that Mr. Fisher was very nt in some of them. Somebody gested that he might have written ed that they were the work of out-siders, and to prove his contention, siders, and to prove his contention asked if the opposition would accur im of having supplied the Montreal Gazette and other conservative papers with matter for their news columns. But he was finally forced to admit that on the Canadian staff were a number of young ladies who were paid to supply readers to the Canadian press. Of course these writers were acting under instructions from Mr. Misher, and as they were largely deendent upon him for any favors they might receive, he came in for a lot of taffy which it now appears he did not bold man and utterly lacking of me esty, who would have failed to feel hurt in consequence of an exposure

But if Mr. Fisher were humiliated on the occasion referred to above, what must his feelings be today, in riew of the fact that Mr. Tarte en fit to make a clean breast of his colleague's utter incapability in conection with the Canadian exhibit aris? When Mr. Fisher told house of his successes and read notices of himself, which he paid marked that it almost seemed as Mr. Tarte had been once forced to o ister of public works, but the triumph of the Hon. Sydney was short and sweet ALUANAT TIEM OF THAM

With Mr. Tarte's arrival in Paris new condition of things was inauguated. The first thing the minister of mblic works did was to sweep the anadian section clean of British re-resentatives. Whether this was done eling towards France or not, the orrespondence does not set fouth. The difficulty, however, lain, who recognized Mr. Tarte, and then Canada succeeded in obtaining isher been left to himself, would probably never have been granted. But the minister of agriculture got a hange later on when Mr. Tarte, his pro-French orations, forced the and they were compelled to send over three ministers in search of the scalp of the minister of public works. But Mr. Tarte was not to be caught napping, and lost no time in moving for Canada, so that while his colleagues were looking for him in the French capital, he was squaring things up at Ottawa. So that with odds of four to one against him, Mr. Tarte was enabled to come out considerably ahead and to demonstrate pretty effectually that he was as he is now, the first minister in the government. It is pro-bable that the position of Mr. Fisher on that occasion will be further ven-tilated in the house when the esti-mates for the department of agriculture are again talked over. But it is hardly likely that he will again invite egation from the agricultural dis tricts to witness his degradation.

The period of rest, to which Mr. Fielding referred with so much hope, in his budget speech, seems to be com-

The Canada Gazette of Saturday shows that the total net debt to March 31st, 1900, amounted to $260,828,-449 55, while to March 31st, 1901, it amounted to $262,403,760.09, or an increase of $1,575,320.54. For the month March, 1901, as compared with March, 1900, there was a decrease in the revenue of $273,438.15, while the expendi ture for the same periods shows an norease of $939,255.92. The toatl exenditure for the past nine months has peen $28,627,612.23, as compared with 26,051,556.83 for the correspon period of 1900, or an increase of In capital account, the $2,576,055,39 ncrease for the nine months of 1901, as compared with the nine months e and for the month of March, 1901, there is an increase as compared with Mach railways and canals, the expenditure for March, 1901, was $863,206.86, while in March, 1900, it was only $128,809.95, or an increase for March, 1901, of $634,396,91. Considering that a large part of this latter sum has been devot-ed to meeting I. C. R. accounts chargeable to consolidated fund, the forecast made by Mr. Fielding, if anything, seems to have been minimized. To find the debt of the country and expenditure increasing at the rate of gin, and every means will be used to millions and the revenue falling off, make Quebec show up to the best adwill not tend to reassure those who i vantage have placed so much trust in the policy of the government. The real situation is that the government is be-ginning to experience a period of de-pression, which will be more or less felt throughout the world during the deserve. Mr. Fisher's feelings on that felt throughout the world during the occasion may be better imagined than next few years. It must be rememthe Anglo-Boer wars did much for Canadian trade, but the markets opensecond direction, so that the country will now have to rely on ordinary outlets for her commerce. These features of Canadian trade seem to have been lost sight of in the hour of elation, when money was pouring into the must produce a sobering effect on the minds of those who now find them-selves face to face with a situation with before. Last month the govern-ment organs endeavored to hide the real situation by a great flourish of trumpets over an increase in the re-ceipts for February, but it was only a spurt and now we hear little from the same source, of the financial state-ment for the last thirty days preceding March 31st.

The house will resume its sittings tomorow, and it is expected that con-siderable attention will be devoted to railway matters during the next few days. On going into supply, Col. Sam Hughes will move that in the opinion of the house it is advisable to have the I. C. R. double tracked and the grades reduced at all points to one-half of ne per cent. This is a particularly ticipated, second only to that on the budget speech. Many of the maritime province men will have a chance to air their opinions, and an opportunity will be afforded for getting a line on some of the new eastern representa-tives. Mr. Blair's estimates are also to be discussed and it will not be sur-prising if the minister of railways will have to go on the penitent form for a minister of the crown should be allowed to expend the enormous sum of capital account, when he should have provided the cash from consolidated fund, is not in keeping with the views of the opposition, and some ight will be thrown on Mr. Blair's business methods. Business men, if they keep their eyes open, may ge some pointers from Mr. Blair, who seems to be in a position to spend more than he earns and at the same the advantages of doing business in this way, we all might be rich and even happy if riches can be taken as a basis of true happiness. Some star-tling facts are likely to be forthcoming and the period after Easter will

OTTAWA, April 9 .- If the French population of Canada is not fully recorded during the present census it will be the fault of Mr. Tarte or his associates. First in everything in which the government is connected, tor of the census in so far as it con-

Mr. Cote is known as assistant census commisioner, and his duty is to see that every French speaking resident of Canada is placed on the records, which are to be filed at the census bureau, and to take such steps as may be necessary to make a favorable comparison between French and English speaking Canadians. When it is re imbered that no distinction will be made in the other nationalities, empraced in our population, where the term Canadian can be used, the significance of this move is apparent.

Complaints are being made in this part of the country, that the census enumerators are not doing their duty as they should. ing matters connected with the ennial census of Canada will begin on 1st April next and will continue dur-As you also know, the object of the census is to ascertain as exactly as and thereby to give a true idea of its relative position among nations.

To attain this object, that is to say, to know as correctly as possible the number of the population and resources of the country, it is necessary that the citizens of the country in which the census is taken should contribute by their influence, by their words and by their example to the success of the ommon work.

This leads me, sir, to ask you to aid us in making this census as exact as possible in your locality. You are probably aware that on the occasion of each former census many citizens of this country imagined that the census was for the purpose of imposing additional taxes and for the purpose of enrolling their children for foreign wars.

That was a complete mistake, the results which the census furnishes have not for their object the imposi-tion of new taxes, but are, on the contrary, directly connected with the administrative science which presup poses a general knowledge of the means, defects and advantages of the country in which the census is taken, all of which is to be presented in a numerical form. Neither is it reasonable to fear that the census has for its aim the enrollment of any citzen of the country for any war. The nilitary service which a certain num-er of Canadians recently performed in outh Africa was, as you know, purely voluntary, and there was no power in the world capable of forcing anyone to go there unless it was his own de-sire to do so. There is also another error into which a certain number of our compatriots have fallen; that is to imagine that the census tables, or rather the information furnished the enumerators, could either serve them as an advertisement or could be used in any way to their detriment. real truth, however, is that these tables are never seen except by the of-

These officers are bound by their oath of office not to divulge any information concerning individuals, and besides, as you may well believe, I am sure that not four-fifths of the enum-erators have any leisure to give atten-ed on every occasion, and when the tion to the personal information which they have obtained in going from a course he generally carries it to a house to house and interrogating the citizens

Some people have also in certain cases objected to give their names to the enumerators. Names are taken purely and simply as a guarantee of the truth of the information furnished in order to afford a check upon the information as written down.

There is another thing to which ention, and that is the peculiar situation of the groups of French familes in your district. In the census of 1891 the people of French origin in the maritime provinces, in Manitoba, and Northwest Territories, and in Ontario did not receive justice. A large numher of citizens of French origin have French domination. Some very pointbeen enumerated in the census of 1891 as being of English origin.

The true cause of this injustice has Quebec, and it was asserted by some never been thoroughly known. Perthat the government was quite indehaps it was owing to the fact that a pendent of the French vote, inasmuch

OTTAWA, April 10.—Something appening in inner government circles used days. During the Easter holicays only one cabinet minister was usent from the city, the others having the requested to remain in town until the house re-opened. The single exception was Hon. Sydney Fisher but as he apparently has little weight with the government, his absence was not a matter of any great moment. Just what the trouble is cannot be gathered on the outside, but it is cer tein that things are not going along in that calm and peaceful way that is said to have characterized the earlier days of the Laurier administration. It is hinted that the ministers are dis greeing as to several important matters, and therefore, the absence Ottawa of any of the more important members of the cabinet might result in one side or the other getting an ad-

Down at the bottom of the trouble is said to lie Mr. Blair's determination to oust the Canadian Pacific in his fight against them. In his efforts to humble Mr. Shaughnessy, the minister of railways has the assistance of the western members of parliament, but opposed to him is that giant of the government, Hon. J. Israel Tarte, who possible the number of the population has once before succeeded in humbling cerns the French speaking portion of and of the resources of the country, Mr. Blair. While Mr. Blair is bent on carrying his point in his contest against the Canadian Pacific, Mr. Tarte is quietly working to effect the defeat of the railway department's policy. Behind Mr. Tarte are some members from Quebec and a number of strong men in the ranks of the Engficers whose duty it is to make the lish speaking liberals. By antagonizing the C. P. R. to such an extent as Mr. Blair proposes, the minister of public works considers that Canada's interests will not be served to the best advantage. He sees no reason why ed on every occasion, and when the minister of public works decides upon successful conclusion. Into this fight he has entered heart and soul and it looks as if Mr. Blair would have to give way and that the C. P. R. will be conceded anything they may ask for within reason.

A significant feature of the battle between the minister of public works particularly desire to draw your at- als is that the kind feelings manifested heretofore for the province of Quebec and its representatives is not so apparent on this occasion. has it that at a fashionable five o'clock tea, held here a few days ago, attended by several of the wives of the ministers, a discussion arese as to ed remarks were made in regard to the balance of power being held in circumstance adds considerably to the strength of the evidence that some coming, as it does, from the wives of cabinet ministers, is increased

Mr. Blair, who is unwell, spent the afternoon in exunwell, spent the afternoon in explaining to the house his system of book-keeping and part of his programme for the coming year. An item of $500,000 for steel rails was considered and was allowed to stand until the minister of railways can furnish the opposition with some particulars with regard to the contracts he has made this season. Mr. Haggart and Mr. Barker took the cross-examination of the minister of railways in hand, and they succeeded in showing that the system of book-keeping on the Intercolonial is far from satisfactory. Under such conditions it is not the Intercolonial is far from satisfac-tory. Under such conditions it is not hard for Mr. Blair to show surpluses, capital account for the purposes of maintenance was partly laid bare. Mr. Blair told the house that he had been replacing the 59 lb. rails of the Intercolonial with 80 lb. steet rails. In order to do this, he pays from caplaid down and fails to charge any por tion of them to maintenance tion of them to maintenance account.

Mr. Barker contends that on any properly managed road the cost of maintaining the roadbed is always charged to running expenses. That is to say, that if a 59 lb. rail is to be replaced by a 59 lb. rail, the company considers that by so doing it is only maintaining the efficiency of its road. So, when an 80 lb. rail displaces the 59 lb. rail, Mr. Barker claims that only the difference between the 59 lb. rail and the 80 lb. rail should be charged to capital occount, or 58 lbs. of the heavy rails should be paid for out of maintenance account, while 21 lbs. count. Unless this is done, Mr. Blair is actually paying from capital account for the repairs to the roadbed. To keep the Intercolonial in good order, without any expenditure at all. Mr. Blair would only have to replace the old rails on the road, from time to time, by a rail of a little heavier weight, and by charging the cost to weight, and by charging the cost to apital account he would be able to seep the road in thorough repair without the outlay of a single dollar from

Mr. Blair says that such a policy would be madness under the present conditions existing on the Intercolonial. With the increase in the weight of the rolling stock and the growth of business, he claims that it is actually necessary to re-track the Intercolonial Therefore, he argues, it is only

Exhibition Association Ask the City and Province to Take Over Its Assets and Liabilities.

Provincial Government Refuses Grant and Directors Consider This the Only Means of Settling Indebtedness.

A meeting of the shareholders and members of the Exhibition Association held, last week for the purpose of considering a plan for closing up its affairs. President D. J. McLaughlin was in the chair, and there were present: C. A. Everett, W. M. Shaw, R. B. Emerson, T. H. Hall, Jas. Reynolds, J. DeW. Spurr, Lt. Col. Markham, Lt. Col. Cunard, W. M. Jarvis, R. R. Patchell, W. W. Hubbard, for the W. F. Burditt, S. S. Hall and Dr Thes.

D. J. McLaughlin, in calling the meeting to order, said that he and other members of the directorate had ; seen some of the members of the goverament and were informed that it would be useless to send more delegal tions to Fredericton this session. The government this year was in a measure ommitted to help the smaller exhibitions throughout the province, but he judged from their talk that they had different arrangements for the coming year. He then reviewed the action of the directors in the matter for the past three months, and of the endeavors to get the government to assume the association's liabilities on the same system as is used in Nova Scotta. Failing this, an attempt was made to procure a grant of $5,000, but this also was found impossible. Now the action decided upon was to present a resolution asking the provincial government and city council to jointly pay off the debts and take over the assets of the association

W. L. Jarvis thought that under the present conditions, with a deficit of about $3,200, it was impossible to carry on an exhibition this year. But he would like to hear from any who might think otherwise in the matter. Wm. Shaw thought that without at-tempting to hold an exhibition this year, an attempt should be made to off the indebtedness without the association losing control of its pro-

Mr. Jarvis then moved the following

Whereas, in the opinion of the members of the association, the Exhibition Association of the city and county of St. John is unable

And further resolved, that the directors of And further resolved, that the directors of the Exhibition Association shall be and they are hereby authorized to transfer the real and personal property, effects and assets of the association to the provincial government and the city of St. John, upon payment of such amount, and that the amount so received shall be applied by them in liquidation of the debts and liabilities of the association.

tion, and thought there was no other course left for the association. If it were possible to retain possession of the property for another year, the association might be enabled to carry on its work another gear. Mr. Jarvis said the principal source of revenue from an exhibition was from the admission tees. This had never proved enough to meet the various expenditures, a large amount of which went out directly to the citizens of St. John, for which reason the city council ought to contribute to the help of the association. Another large expenditure was in prize lists, and as this benefitted the country at large, the government should also assist. There were two alternatives, before the association now. One course would be to struggle to pay off the liabilities, retaining the assets with the hope of holding an exhibition another year. This was very difficult. The other was the course proposed in the resolution, Speaking of the various assets, amounting to nearly $20,000, Mr. Jarvis said these consisted in part of the these consisted in part of the ngs and fittings, on which it was sible to realize anything like their full value, and which were of no use except for the holding of exhibitions. There were other floating assets, among which were the engine and boiler, portions of the land and the seating of the Amusement Haft. These could be sold for enough to pay the liabilities, but the result would be a heavy loss. He suggested that the Nova Scotia exhibition commission be approached regarding the proposal to hold exhibitions alternate years in St. John and Halifax. If this could be done the St. John exhibition might be done the St. John exhibition might be run by a joint commission on the same system in use in Nova Scotia. He thought that in view of such a possibility the present association should remain intact. Under the present conditions he thought the course offered by the resolution was the only feasible one.

Mr. Shaw opposed the resolution and said if it were adopted the holding of exhibitions in the future was improbable. He considered that it would be difficult to get the city and government to act in partnership in taking over the liabilities of the association. He suggested that the city should be asked to assist in paying off the Habilities and that an extra effort should

Mr. Jarvis said if the association held the property it would be under a constant expenditure for taking care of it. If it were handed over to the city or the government they would be responsible for its maintenance.

Mr. Shaw asked what would be done in the case of the city and government refusing to accept the proposal of the resolution, and the president responded that in such a contingency the affairs would be practically in th same condition as now, and it would devolve upon the shareholders to de vise another means of settlement.

Mr. Shaw thought that the executive was to blame for the present indebtedness and would like to know what were the reasons for the large liabili-ties. He thought the expenditure should have been kept within the an

LUBRICATING WATER.

It Takes the Exact Place of Machine Oil in Wolfville.

D. R. Munro of Wolville, N. S., at the request of a St. John engineer, furnishes the Sun the following account of his experience in running an engine with water as a labricant: I have been running our 125 h. p.

Leonard Peerless Compound Engine
(self-oiling type) for over five months with nothing but water to lubricate the main working parts. It came about partly from experiment and partly from necessity, being short of oil at the time. The results have been most remarkable and satisfac-tory. Before using water I was tory. Before using water I was obliged to adjust the engine oscasionally, particularly the wrist pin, quite frequently (which is a weak point in any engine). Now since water has been used as a lubricant there has been no adjustment whatever for five months, and today the engine is running perfectly, although very heavily loaded. I am quite sure the idea is entirely original, and anyone using water instead of oil in this type of engine will never use oil again, as water is so much less trouble. When using oil I found that the churning it got aused it to disappear in the form of vapor, I suppose. This is how I began to use water to raise the oil in the reservoir after it had become so low that the crank discs would not touch it. I kept on adding more water when necessary, until the oil entirely disappeared and left nothing but water. Another good feature is that while the oil continues to grow less, the water, on the other hand, accumulates, due to drip from piston rod, so there is no possibility of the engine running dry. I was somewhat anxious about rusting at first, but find all the parts remain perfectly clear and bright. I am sending the Sun a sample of water drawn from reservoir of engine.

WILL SAIL SHAMROCK.

Man for the Task is "Wicked Willie" Jameson.

How He Got Nickname-His Pearlessness in Face of Danger-Career of the Man Who Will Manage Shamrock II.

Shamrock II., declared recently that next to Providence he pinned his faith in the English yacht on "Willie" G. Jameson, he intended only to voice his belief that, out of American waters, the manager of the challenger is without a peer as an amateur yachtsman. This belief is shared by Sir Thomas Lipton, who has expressed the opinion that if Jameson had been able to be on board the first Shamrock in its race for the cup that trophy would now be with the Royal Yacht Club

Jameson first came into the sport in then he has won many notable vic-tories by superior skill and knowledge not the least of his feats being the whipping of the victorious cup defender, the Vigilant, with the Prince Wales' Britannia.

His nickname of "Wicked Willie" was earned in 1882, during a race in Kingstown harbor with yachts of a culiar species known as water wags The water wags were fitted centreboards of iron, pivoted at the forward end of the - and of mot more than four feet in length. As a rule the wags did not exceed thirteen feet in their over all length, with a beam of four feet ten inches, but there were some few eighteen-footers. The oats carried fore and aft sails of an a spinnaker of sixty square feet for use only when running squarely before the wind. Flat built, they spun around like a top when the tiller was put hard down, and with the boile late centreboard raised they floated asily in a few inches of water. Young on became a crack hand in the "single-hand" salling matches with the water wags, which was specially favored by Commodore Lyle of the Royal Alfred Yacht Chib of Kings-entries—the Petrel, owned by Mr. Jameson: M. Corrigan's Mocassin; M. the previous day Jameson's weathe knowledge scented a dangerous storm besides, I have a presentiment of dis-aster." He was laughed at for his pains, and so next day, at the appointed hour, the five yachts were pointed nour, the five yachts were on hand, ready for the starting gun.

The course lay for forty-eight miles over a wicked piece of water at best—to Roseberg Bank buoy, to the Kish lightship and back to the East Pier. At the starting hour there was really a fierce sea, but the skies were still clear, and even the regatta committee laughed at Jameson's fears. the boats were manoeuvring for a start the officials twitted him on his was going to withdraw. This was too much for Jamesono's blood, and he shouted back the deflance: "I'll sail while myself or an inch of her mast remains above water." This, linked with his subsequent performance and the accidents which made a day of sorrow to be long remembered Kingstown, gave to Jameson the title

Wicked Willie." The starting gun was fired imme diately afterward, and the five boats went off on a reach, with the sea smashing over the port quarter, Soon, indeed, it "blew great guns," as Jameson had foretold, and in a little while the Mocassin went out of the race. The Madcap was saved from foundering when three miles from the starting line by a steam yacht, the Pleione, while the Torment made for whore with all possible haste. The Petrel and the Peri succeeded in weathering it to the first mark, but by the time they set out on the second leg a fierce gale was blowing, and shortly afterward Jameson was sail-ing alone. The sea enguifed the Peri, and nothing was afterward seen of the craft and her skipper. Jameson feught wind and wave for hours and covered the course, learning only of the ill-fate of the Peri when he reached the shore. This ended the water wag "single-hand" contests so far as the Royal Alfred Club was concerned. Ever since then Jameson has been prominent in every frish and British regatta of any moment. In 1892 he especially distinguished himself when he tied the Iverna twice with the Meteo on the Clyde, and in the third race became the winner by 2 minutes 56 seconds, having sailed through a howiing storm. This race was called a "Clyde steeplechase," so fierce was the sea. Capt. O'Neil, who was the sailing master, speaking of this famous race, said:

"I never saw such a man as Jameson. He has a knack of making a yacht slide on an even keel over the roughest kind of course. Had I charge of the boat alone I should have most certainly lost the race. I newer saw a more fearless man or a better sailor." In 1893 Jameson snatched several In 1893 Jameson snatched several victories with the Irex from such superior craft as the Queen Mab, now in these waters; the Thalia White Slave, Creole, Varuna and Corsair. In beating the latter, he scored over Capt. Edward Sycamore, who will be with him now on the Shamrock.

In the first trial race of the Valwrie, Jameson won with the Iverna from the Britannia, Callona, and the Valkyrie on time allowance. On the first lap the Iverna was eight minutes behind the big boats, but on the beat home he almost caught them. He was equally successful in the second trial, when every effort was made to give him an unqualified beating. Later in a race for a $500 cup at the Hunter Quay regatta, when amateurs were at the helm, he easily beat the Valkyrie with Carike's Satanita, which was andled by George Watson, her designer, who is so ardent now in singing Jameson's praises.

With his work in these races "Wicked Willie" astonished the yachting world. He followed it up by sailing the Prince of Wales's Britannia in Rothesay Bay, when he placed the Valkyrie 41m. 40s, astern. He again sailed the Britannia to victory at the Royal Irish regatta at Queenstown, and in the royal yacht squadron race for the gold challenge cup at Cowes the Valkyrie and 1m. 23s. ahead of the American boat, the Navahoe, which is now lying at City Island.

The Navahoe, which went over capture the Victoria gold cup and the Brenton Reef cup, was again beaten by the Britannia in the race for the former trophy. Jameson won by 15m. s. In the Brenton Reef race of 120 miles, from Needle's Rock, around Cherbourg Breakwater, the Navahoe led into Cherbourg Roads by 25 secled into Cherbourg Roads by 25 seconds, but in the windward work to the other side of the roads the Britan-

Preliminary Investigation Into a Lively Shooting Affray.

AMHERST, N. S., April 12—At the preliminary trial of Camelle Fisher, arrested here this morning for shooting Murdock Cutliffe and Leon Rockwell, he was committed for trial. The fellow boarders had taunted each other to such an extent about their girls that the fun ended in wrath, with the result that the prisoner askel his brother Seymour if he was going to see the pupples again that night, to which his brother replied no. Cutliffe heard of this, and as Fisher was going to his breakfast this morning he met him in the ball. in the hall. In answer to Cutliffe the prisoner acknowledged to calling them pupples. Cutliffe then struck the prisoner twice, whereupon the prisoner drew a revolver and fired. Cutilifie then threw up his arms, and cried, "I am shot." Another boarder, James Mc-Kenzie, then rushed to the scene, grasped the prisoner's wrist and threw him on the floor. Leon Rockwell then ran out to assist McKenzie, when the revolver went off, a bullet lodging in him on the floor. Leon Rockwell then ran out to assist McKenzie, when the revolver went off, a builet ledging in Rockwell's foot. After securing the revolver from the prisoner, McKenzie allowed him to get up. The prisoner then remarked that he was sorry he did not take better aim. The revolver was a 32 calibre, with five chambers, two of which contained exploded cartridges. He was admitted to bail for the sum of sixteen hundred dollars, Councillors Job Seaman of Barronsfield and Ephraim Howard of Middleboro and Ephraim Howard of Middlebo going security.

Girl Who Gives Her Name as Barrington, Foiled in an Attempt to Take Her Life.

CHARLOTTETOWN, April 14.-Last night about half-past nine Dr. Shaw was called to the residence of W. John Fraser and there found a girl of 20 years suffering from spasms. As soon as he saw the girl, Dr. Shaw charged her with taking strychnine, which she admitted doing. She said she had taken three grains with a view of killing herself, because she was tired of life. She begged the doctor to let her die, but he administered the usual antidote and had her removed to the hospital, where she is considered out of danger. The girl gives her name as Barrington, and claims Fraser is her uncle, although he says they are not related. She left New York last month and sometime ago created a sensation in Truro. about three weeks past she has been at Pictou, and yesterday she cross to Charlottetown by the Princess. During the trip over she was seized with what the passengers thought to be hysterics, but which she afterwards onfessed were spasms caused by the ise of strychnine. She had taken a dose that morning before leaving Pictou and another at six o'clock, before the boat arrived. This was not the time, she informed the people at Mr. Fraser's house, that she tried to put an end to her life, before with oform, and she had with her bottle of the drug, purchased in Pic-tou, and an inhaler which bore stains proclaiming the use of the poison. She was quite cool when telling of the attempts on her life and appeared ra-tional. Why sae attempted to end her young life is a mystery at present.

Twenty years commis-sioned service is necessary to entitle an officer or retired officer to receive it. The decoration may be forfeited for misconduct. Similarly there has been created a new medal as a reward for long and meritorious service in colonial auxiliary forces, to be de-signated as the colonial auxiliary long service medal.

BOMBARDED WITH WHISKEY BOTTLES

BRUNSWICK, Me., April 14.—Quite a sensation was caused here today by the report of an assault upon Deputy Sheriff John S. Towne late last night. Mr. Towne is an ardent prohibitionist, and has made himself very unpopular with a certain element by his vigorous enforcement of the prohibitory law. As Mr. Towne was retiring about 11.15 o'clock last night, he was startled by the report of a revolver, accompanied by a crash o'glass which followed the entrance of a large whiskey bottle into the room through a window, and again a moment later by another bottle. Mr. Towne was cut about the head by the flying glass, but otherwise received no injuries. No clue to the perpretators of the deed has yet been established.

ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 17, 1901. POINTS IN THE STEEL RAIL CONTRACT.

In Mr. Blair's steel rail deal the fol lowing points may be noticed: Mr. Blair assured the house that no ontract had been made for more than 25,000 tons, whereas he had specifically agreed to purchase 125,000 tons. He stated that he had made no agreemen beyond this year, whereas he had agreed to purchase 25,000 tons a year for five years.

The order in council for this $4,000, 000 contract was made after the issue of the writs for the general election and was kept secret for six months.

The other party to the contract took an active interest in the federal cam

The order in council auf orizing the purchase of 25,000 tons of rails, for delivery a year later, was made on a falling market. On September 30th the price in the open market had been $30 per ton. The price October 2nd was $26. Yet on October 9th the government agreed to purchase 25,000 tons for future delivery at $32,60.

The Russian government has jus contracted for rails for the Siberian radiway at $24 per ton.

The cost of 25,000 tons of rails $32.60 is $815,000. The cost at the time the bargain was made at current quotations would have been $650,000. same rails could now be bought for $600,000 for delivery at the same date.

As to the future contracts, the government has given Mr. Clergue the job of providing rails for 1,000 miles of track thus shutting off all future Canadian manufacturers from a chance even to compete for a share of the Intercolonial supply.

At the prices paid for the first lo "she contract calls for the payment of $4,075,000 of Canadian public money to this one contractor.

The market price in England is fixed as the price to be paid to Mr. Clergue, though England is today importing rails from the United States, and though Mr. Blair himself explained to the house the other day that he had recently bought 30,000 tons of rails in the United States because the English price was higher. There is very little doubt that Canadian industries will be shipping rails to England before five years. Mr. Blair has therefore agreed to pay for future purchases the American or Canadian price, plus the cost of transportation to England.

While Mr. Blair has bound the go ernment to purchase if the company is able and willing to deliver the goods, it does not appear that the company is bound to do anything.

There is no provision that the rails shall be made from Canadian ore, or by Canadian labor.

THE CHANGE OF MASTERS.

The Ouban people will in the end provide for themselves or have provided for them by others, the sort of constitution that the United States congress demands. This constitution will establish a United States protectorate, and must inevitably lead up to annexation. Such a conclusion of the trouble will probably be the best thing for Cuba, and many of the Cuban people think so. But the fact remains that the United States intervened with the solemn assurance to the world that the only purpose was the establishment of Cuban independence. It is also a fact which no acts of congress can change, that the people of Cuba had the assurance of the United States government that as soon as order should be restored they would be invited to hold a constitutional convention and allowed to freely determine their own form of government The United States military adminis trator declared that order had been restored. It was he who called the convention. Everything went accord ing to promise until the constitution was drafted and was found to contain no mention of the United States. At this stage the United States congress stepped in and told the Cubans that they were perfectly free to adopt a constitution with the Platt amendment, but not at all free to adopt another sort of constitution. It does not appear that the constitution makers of Cuba object to giving special recognition to the United States, but Canada are the embarrassed parties, not see the point of the United declaration that Cuba ought to free, when this intervention is followed by United States domination They say that they fought for free nd not for a change of m The result is a new maste whom they cannot fight. But the new one will be found much more thrifty and capable than the old, and Cuba, though still enslaved, will gain

AN IMPUDENT IDEA

Last week the leader of the Ontario opposition produced in the legislature copy of a circular, sent out in thou sands to census enumerators, directing stating the politics and religion ery male over sixteen in their district and to forward the form to the libera member or defeated liberal candidate Premier Ross admitted that he had eard of this circular, but he made light of it, as a matter which th numerators were free to disregard.

The cool impudence of the proceeding would have been astonishing at any earlier stage of Canadian history The census enumerators are public officers, paid by the puolic for a purely non-political service. They are sworm to secrecy, and are performing an important and responsible service. A political party which asks the enumerators to combine with this service quantity of hack-work for the party is guilty of a serious offence. If the officers comply with the request they will commit a grave breach of public trust: If they fail to perform this party service they are likely to incur the disfavor of the machine, which is the same thing as the disfavor of the government. Hitherto it has been found much safer for an officer to commit a crime against the country than to refuse to perform improper services for his party.

The enumerators are all appointed from the government party, but no one complains of this. .It is another story when these officers are asked, in way that amounts almost to a command, to collect political information while engaged in their public work. The members and defeated candidates to whom the information is to be furnished are the men who recommended the enumerators for appointment, and if they insist that the officers shall perform party service at the expense of the country most of the enumerators will probably believe that their interest will be best served by cheerful compliance.

Just before the election Mr. Blair gave an order for locomotives to a new company at Kingston. The old company did not get much government business and closed down. The new one was organized by a well known Ontario politician and received the government contract before it commenced operations. In answer to questions, Mr. Blair explained the other day that he had since been paying the company for engines before they were made. The government has instituted a new system of paying for ocomotives in advance on progress estimates. In this way the people of Canada provide the capital for the operaations. The former proprietors of the Kingston works would not have been obliged to close down and sell to the politicians at a sacrifice if they could have had such a deal as this.

The town of Sydney has easily go over the difficulty of providing maintenance for the Carnegie library. Rev. Charles H. Talmage of Barre Mass., is to address a meeting in that town tomorrow for the purpose forming those interested what he has earned of the conditions leading up to the murder of her six hildren Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Narramore last Mrs. Narramore was a Miss Craig of Chamcook, Charlotte Co.; N. and for a time . Eved in .astern Maine. Many persons claim that so-cial conditions had much to do with making the woman desperate. The family were very poor, but apparently honest in every way, and because of their unfortunate circumstances it asserted the townspeople took little notice of them, whereas had a Chris-tian spirit been made apparent in Barre, it is urged, such a terrible tragedy would not have happened. Th e situation is receiving a thorough ventilation, with the result that conditions in Barre are being made the object of a severe ridding, both from the pulpit and the press.

CLEVER SWINDLE

By a Young Man Who Claimed to Come from This City.

TORONTO, April 14.—The Imperial Bank and Bank of Commerce of this city have been swindled to the tune of $2,455 and $2,850 respectively, and there is strong presumptive evidence that other monetary institutions have also been victimized. Late yesterday afternoon the im perial Bank authorities discovered tha a marked cheque for $10, made payable to G. A. Winton, had been raised to $2,455, presented in the regu-lar course of business and duly cashed by the teller. A similar discovery was made by the Bank of Commerce, but from $20 to $2,900. Winton, who is described as of age, fair and about 5 feet 7 height, arrived in this city about eight days ago. He gave out that he was from St. John, N. B., and claimed to be the representative of a bicycle com-pany at 70 King street. On April 12th he opened an account in the saving department of the Imperial Bank, de positing $50. Yesterday morning he presented a cheque for $10, which was marked good by the ledger keeper. In he afternon the marked cheque raise o $2,455 was duly cashed by the teller. The same plan was followed with the Bank of Comerce The cheques were not made out on the regular bank forms. Acid was used in perpetrating the fraud, the work being of such an artistic char-

Mrs. H. E. Emmerson.

DORCHESTER, N. B., April 14.—Mrs.
Emily C. Emmerson is dead, and gloom, the outcome of true sympathy and regret, has settled over this community. From Friday afternoon, when the symptoms indicating a rally began to retard, her strength rapidly declined until last evening, when k was thought doubtful if life could last through the night. The end came at eight o'clock this morning.

the night. The end came at eight o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Emmerson was 47 years of age and was a daughter of the late C. B. Record of Moncton. Her mother, who of late years has made her home with her daughter here, was present at her bedside, as were Mr. Emmerson and their five children and other immediate relatives. Words will not estimate the loss occasioned by Mrs. Emmerson's death. The funeral will be held on Wednesday and will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Thomas, paster of the Baptist church, of which congregation the deceased was a constant and prominent member. In the Sunday school also Mrs. Emmerson was a devoted worker, and to her influence much of the present status of that branch is due.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmerson were married June 12th, 1878. One son is now attending the cavalry school at Toronto.

THE ASYLUM SUICIDE.

At the Provincial Lunatic Asylum on Saturday afternoon Hon. H. A. Mc-Keown held an investigation into the suicide of Charles Oakley. The evidence taken led to the conclusion that the case was one in which no blame attached to any of the officials. Mr. Oakley during his two years at the institution had not shown any suicidal tendencies, and at the time of his escape was in the care of Bruce Wright, a competent, guard, who as soon as he saw Oakley moving in the direction of the fence started in pur-suit. Unfortunately Oakley was able to scale the fence while Wright slipped and fell. When he got up again Oakley was on the bridge.

Death of Sheriff Ballock of Carleton Co.—Bad Maple Sugar Season.

CENTREVILLE, April 12.-W. D. Ballock, high sheriff of Carleton Co., died on the 10th inst. and was buried in the church cemetery, Rev. E. W. Simonson having charge of the ser-vices at the burial. He was the eldest son of the late John Balloch, was born in Carleton county, and for many years conducted a hotel in Woodstock, after which he followed same business in Centreville. Some four years ago he succeeded David Irvine as sheriff. No man serv ing the public as proprietor or sheriff stood higher in the estimation of the people. He was never known to dis-tress a poor man, but frequently came to his relief by his own means. His wife was a daughter of the late Mr. Blanchard of Maine, who, with one daughter, the wife of G. L. An old lady named Blake, who died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McConvey at the Cove, is said to have been 105 years old. She retained her faculties to the last. She was a native of Ireland, and for many years was employed in the family of the late Robert Watson of St. Stephen. Rev. Father Dollard officiated at her funeral on Saturday last. Mrs. R. B. Clarke, widow of the late Hon, Randall B. Clarke of Eastport, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles S. Neil, in Calais, where she had been living for some years, on Easter Sunday morning, after two weeks' illness. Rev. C. G. McCully officiated at the funeral on Monday. John Fitzsimmons died in Milltown, Me., on Sunday last, aged 65 years.

Jessie Grimmer died at Old Ridge a few weeks ago, at the great age of 98 years, 1 month and 13 days. Rev. Mr. Bridgham baptized two young men in the Milltown, Me., church on Sunday morning last, and at the evening service a school concert was given and an offering of $27 was taken for missions. FREDERICTON, April 12.-Rev. J. D. Freeman, pastor of the Baptist chruch, was this evening presented by the congregation with an address on the eve of his departure for St. John to assume the pastorate of the Germain street Baptist church. Mr. Free-man preaches his farewell sermon on Sunday night, and leaves on Thursday for St. John. Mrs. Freeman and fam ily remain here for a few weeks yet. At a business meeting of the Baptist church, held at the close of the social tonight, it was unanimously decided to extend a call to Rev. J. H. McDonald, to succeed Mr. Freeman in president of the Baptist Seminary at Wolfville, and was previously at Amherst. N. S. The York election case has been be fore the supreme court nearly all day, on a motion to rescind an order made by Judge Gregory for substitute service of petition, and to dismiss the petition from the files of the court. O. S. Crocket showed cause against the motion on behalf of the petitioner, and A. J. Gregory occupied the greater part of the afternoon in replying on behalf of the respondent. He had not finished his argument when the court adjourned at 6 o'clock. The chief ground against Judge Gregory's order were that the affidavits on which it was granted did not show sufficient efforts to make a personal service, and that the application for the order not hav-ing been made until after the expira-

His honor had no jurisdiction to grant it. Affidavits were read on behalf of the petitioners to prove that the respondent had been in hiding to evade the service of petition from the day of its presentation on December 17th down to January 5th, when Deputy Sheriff Hawthorne reported that he had served the petition on respond-ent at his home, and made an affidavit that he had done so. The suspicions of the petitioners as to the genuine ness of this service were aroused a few days later, when they learned, on interrogating Mr. Hawthorne, that h had made the service in the dark in the hall of Mr. Gibson's house, and that he could not distinguish respondent by eyesight, and within a short time af terwards they were able to gather sufficient evidence in confirmation of their suspicions to satisfy Judge Gregory notwithstanding Hawthorne's affidavi that respondent had not been personally served, as alleged. The time for the personal service had in the mean time, however, elapsed, and the respondent's friends have been building on the hopes that the trick was not discovered in time. From the com ments made by all members of the court there is not very much ground river and foot passengers crossed to-for hope tonight. The judges were day. evasion, and that the affidavit of re the evidence offered on behalf of the petitioner, practically by its contradictory and evasive statements confirmed it. Notwithstanding the respondent's denial of complicity in fraud, Judge Landry repeated what he had stated before on this motion for the rule at the last term, that it would have been much better for respondent if he had never made such an affidavit, and Judge Hanington stated that the explanations Mr. Gibson offered were utterly absurd, and that it would have been more to the respondent's credit if he had never made them. The chief justice said it was scarcely possible to believe that the respondent was not aware of the fraud that was being perpetrated, and that the petitioner's agents were not only guilty of laches in the matter, but were keenly alive to the situation; and the only wonder, he was that the trick had not succeeded. On the legal question as to the power of the judge to make the order correct they seemed to entertain no doubt, the chief justice and Judge Hanington intimating to Mr. Gregory that it was useless for him to argue the matter further. Judge Laudry expressed the same opinion, but said he was concluded in the supreme court Saturday morning. The court reserved judgment, the chief justice stating that it would probably be delivered next week.

B., April 12.- Coniderable excitement was developed on the street at noon today when it was discovered that the substitution of the word "and" instead of "or" in the section of the law regarding qualification for aldermen, practically disqua-lified several of the prospective candidates. Some blamed the committee who framed the new amendment, some the printer, and some commented upon the fact that in a spirit of practised economy the local govern-ment had not seen fit to appoint a law clerk at a salary of a few thousand dollars, by which such faulty legislation might have been prevented This new phase of affairs was the allbsorbing topic during the day, and at five o'clock when the town clerk prepared to receive nominations a large gathering of citizens was in attend ance to see what the outcome would be. By some convenient section by which a new allotment of taxes appeared to be admissible, two of the candidates were allowed to file their papers upon paying some taxes in excess of what they had paid. A HARD WINTER.

Some Interesting Statistics Regarding the Snowfall and Tem-

Several Inches More Snow Fell Last Year

The long and cold winter of 1900-01 is now practically over, and in view of the fact that it has been generally referred to as an "old fashioned winter" and that old inhabitants of St. John have been assuring the newer comers that more snow has fallen than during any of the twenty preceding years, a comparison of weather statistics will be interesting to many readers of the

As a matter of fact, while the mean emperature has been lower than that of the past 18 years, the fall of snow has been less than many, even than last year. The unusually long period of uninterrupted sleighing, from Dec. 4 to date, has been due not to the amount of snow which has fallen but to the lack of rain and to the steadiness of the cold weather. During November, December, January and March of last year the fall of snow was considerably greater than this year, but it was ac-companied by mild weather and much rain, so the beautiful was taken off almost as fast as it came. Following are a few comparative tables showing the difference in the temperature and snowith.

NOVEMBER. 1899. 38. Average temp. 25 58. Highest temp. 60 14. Lowest temp. 16 53½ inches. Snow fasil 9 inches.
DECEMBER.
1900. 1899. 24
JANUARY.
1901. 1900. 20. Average temp. 22 42. Highest temp. 48 15 below Lowest temp. 8 below. 28 inches Show fall. 11 inches.
FEBRUARY.
1901. 1900. 20. Average temp 23 39. Highest temp. 47 4. Lowest temp. 10 below. 10 inches. Snow fall 16 inches.
MARCH.
1901. 1900

During this March there has been practically no snowfall. As will be seen from the tables, the total snowfall of this winter, exclusive of March, was 31-2 inches greater than last year, but the 14 irches of snow that fell last March puts last winter

In November this winter the weather, although comparatively mild, was wet and decidedly stormy. The most severe gale occurred on the 9th and 10th, when the maximum velocity of the wind recorded at St. John was at the rate of 60 miles an hour from the southwest. During this gale the John in face of the storm warning, foundered near Yarmouth on morning of the 10th, with large loss of life. John river closed on the 19th. At the close of the month the river ice measured 3 inches at Fredericton and 21-2 inches at Chatham; srow on the ground ranged from a few patches near the coast to 7 inches in the northern counties. Sleighing began Dec. 4, though at the end of the month the covering of snow was decidedly scanty, ranging from 1 inch at St. John to 10 and 20 inches further north in the province.

The principal features of January were the extremely low temperatures and steady cold weather, with frequent falls of snow, and, excepting the 24th, the marked deficiency of rain. No important gales occurred, though many high winds were experienced. Sleigh-ing was good throughout, and condi-tions were most favorable for lumbering operations. The amount of snow on the ground at the end of the month was 6 inches.

February continued the wintry rec-ord. High north to west winds and cold weather prevailed during the greater portion of the month, and sleigning was good throughout the month, with abundance of snow in the woods. No gales of importance oc-in St. John at the end of the month in St. John at the end of the month was 12 inches, in Moncton 2 feet, Fredericton, 3 feet; Sussex, 18 inches in the open and 5 feet in the woods; St. Stephen, 16 inches in the open and 52 inches in the woods. During the last month the precipitation has taken the form of rain and hall almost entirely, and the fall of snow has been practically nil. Owing to the early arrival of the snow the frost has had little chance the snow the frost has had little chance to penetrate the ground, and the ice on the river is much thinner than temperature, so that when the thaw comes, as come it will soon, the long continued and heavy coating of snow will go very quickly.

Rev. J. N. Van Natter, of Streator, Ill., writes:—"About one year ago I obtained from you six bottles of Dr. obtained from you six bottles of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. I gave away two and took the other four.'I had been seriously afflicted with Chronic Bronchitis for ten years and could get no relief. A leading physician told me that it was only a question of time until it would wear me out, but thanks to this wonderful remedy of Dr. Chase I am now a strong man." 25 cents a bottle, all dealers.

Not exactly sick; but neither are you well. Sometimes you have a headache; slight exercise fatigues you; your appetite is variable; there is a want of energy; you are easily irritated; you feel depressed and "out of sorts." That is the Spring feeling. It is easily accounted for; close confinement; indifferent or bad ventilation and want of exercise during the winter months are responsible.

What you need to put you right is a tonic, and is the greatest of all tonic medicines. These pills make rich, red blood, build up tired and jaded nerves and make weak, depressed men and women bright, active and strong.

Rev. Geo. Read, Methodist Mission, Hartley Bay, B. C., says:—"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been of great benefit to my wife. She was greatly run down in health and very weak and nervous. They have made her an feel an entirely new woman."

W. C. Graham, 98 Lombard Street, Winnipeg, Man., says:—"We keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the house all the time and have found them invaluable as a blood builder and regulator of the system. As a spring medicine they are unequalled."

The world over, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are known as the greatest tonic medicine medical science has yet discovered. What these pills have done for others they will do for you. But you must insist upon getting the genuine with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around every box. If you cannot get these pills at your dealers, send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and they will be mailed post paid at 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

BRUTAL MURDER

Of a Young Canadian Near Askwith Maine, Last Week.

Robbery Evidently the Motive for the Crime -Op His Way to Take the Train for His Home When He was Killed.

GREENVILLE JUNCTION, Maine, April 14.—The finding of the body of Woodsman Mathison Pare, at Askwith, Me., last Thursday, has revealed a most brutal murder, with robbery as worked during the winter months on Moosehead Lake, above Kineo, for Sylvester Gaudet. On March 8, when he had finished his winter's work at the camp, he received his wages, amounting to $108, and remained at Gaudet's house on Moose River until the morning of March 11. Being anxious to reach home, he started to walk to Askwith station, some eight miles, to take the train for his home in Canada, having then all but two or three dollars of his winter's wages on his

About 10 a. m. on the morning of March 11, he reached the camp Percy Johnson, two and a half miles from Askwith, and it was when he had departed from here for the station that he was last seen alive. His folks in Canada, knowing his intention of returning home, were worried over his non-appearance, but no tidings as to his whereabouts were learned until Thursday last, when his lifeless mu-tilated body was found by a party of

been informed of the crime. County Attorney G. W. Gower of Somerset county, was notified Saturday of the finding of the body, and in company with Sheriff Pennell and Coroner Additon of Skowhegan, reached the scene of the supposed murder early this morning. The place where early this morning. the body was found is on a lone winter road on the banks of Misery son's camp, where Pare was last seen, man. Its present owner will probably and two miles from Askwith station, sell this animal at a good figure.

in Raymond Plantation. The body, which was frozen stiff, lay in the snow by the roadside and the man had evidently been shot from ambush; a rifle ball striking him in the face.

There were indications that a struggle must have taken place and that the rifle wound had not proved fatal as there were knife cuts on the face and neck. The right side of the head was terribly crushed as if from a blow with the butt end of the rifle, and the tones in the face were crushed out. The money and a valise filled with clothes which Pare had taken with him were missing, and this fact lends color to the bellef that robbery was the motive for the murder. The body was taken to the Holling-worth & Whitney storehouse, where Pare's former employer and his wife, the latter the cook at the camp, identi-fied the man. They both spoke in the and peaceable nature of the dead man This afternoon the body was remove to Jackman, where an autopsy will be

County Attorney Gower says that no expense will be spared to discover the murderer. Thus far the only possible chie obtained is that one Joe Murray who is at work on a drive some distance away, but has been sent for is said to have stated that he could name the party. Abraham Pare, the father of the murdered man, lives in St. Benoit, Canada, and the has also mother and a sister living.

His parents are poor people, and a yet they are in ignorance of their son's fate. Deceased was unmarried. The state will probably send the body to his relatives.

Circumstances.-We are still studying about Jesus on that same wonder ful Sunday of his resurrection. He had appeared twice to the women early in the morning, as we saw in our lesson. After that he appeared to Peter (v. 34: I Cor. 15: 5). On the afternoon of the same day, before the re-port that some had actually seen him had reached them, two disciples took a long walk, the story of which is our lesson for today. They were not apostles. The name of one was Cleopas the name of the other is not known.

15. While they communed on the way to Emmaus. The site of Emmaus is unknown. The name means warm water, probably used for baths, and suggests spring in its vicinity. Canon Tristram inclines to the view that it is the "ruined village called Khamasa a natural corruption of the Hebrew Hammath, or Emmaus; that is, 'the baths.' It is eight miles, or sixty-four furlongs, southwest of Jerusalem." The International Critical Commentary favors El Kubeibeh seven miles north-west of Jerusalem, the place pointed out as Emmaus to the crusaders. Reasoned.—Exchanged opinions, arg-

But the minister of railways seems to forget that when he inaugurated his present business methods he entered upon a policy of deceit, which has not, however, had the effect that he desired, that of deceiving the people of the country. He has been able to manipulate figures and to show an apparent surplus in running expenses of the road. But the hollowness of his claims has been exposed, so that it seems as if it would be better for him to adopt the suggestions of the opposition and conduct the affairs of the Intercolonial on a that ye have one to another, (a) as ye basis similar to that adopted by any private railway company.

From present appearance it looks as if the Intercolonial estimates would engage the attention of the house for ome days. The opposition is making a determined stand to unearth some of the tranactions of the past year. The different items will be passed with a good deal of diffidence.

WOODS HOLE, Mass., April 3.—The storm which broke over Vineyard Sound this forenoon is raging fiercely tonight, in fact it is severer than any previous blow during the past winter. Although shipping is at a standstill, repeated whistling was heard this afternoon out in the sound, but the thick weather prevented any view of the vessel. The sea in the sound was very rough all the afternoon, and no steamer either came or left for Cottage City. The tug Lehigh came in from Hyannis this noon, after anchoring her barges off Bass River.

THEY ALMOST FOUGHT

But for the Interference of Members Mr. Clarke Wallace and Mr. Talbot Would Have Had It Out

On the Floor of the House - The ting of the Private Bills Committee - Mr. Talbot Used Strong

OTTAWA, April 13.-"You are talking to the gallery," said Onisphore Ernest Teibot, member for Belle-hasse, in the public accounts commitee on Thursday morning to Clarke "I am not catching fleas," replied Mr. Wallace.

"If you were you would be kept busy," said Mr. Talbot.
This was a little passage at arms which led to a most disgraceful scene this morning in the comm the moment the speaker had departed It had evidently caused hard feeling for when he was speaking in the even-ing, Mr. Wallace, who supposed Mr. Talbot was interrupting him, threatened to give the record of the member for Bellechasse. When the speaker left the chair Mr. Talbot crosed the floor, and standing in front of Mr. Wallace's desk said, "I see Mr. Wallace you know something about my history. Now I want you to state it like a man if you dare." Mr. Wallace, who was standing talking to Mr. Borden with his silk hat at a rakish angle and ugly looking black thorn in his hand, laid it down on the desk, and made a reply that was inaudible in the gallery. Evidently he charged him with interrupting, for Mr. Talbot denied it, and referring to the incident in the committee said, "I only said you were talking to the gallery Now if you know anything about my history, tell it. Put it in any paper." He also used certain most abusive epithets when Mr. Wallace said, "Don't talk that way or I will knock the face

MR. TALBOT WAS ANGRY. Mr. Talbot stepped back with a vol-ley of oats and invited him to "Step out here," indicating the space around the clerk's table.

Talbot was seized by his friends and an effort made to hustle him out of the house. He tried to break away, at the same time hurling abusive and profane words at Mr. Wallace, among which the quietest was "A low mean

T. Davis had him by one arm, and another member by the other, when he succeeded in breaking away from the other member as Mr. Wallace was laughing at him in a sarcastic manner. John Costigan, who is a giant for strength, seized hold of his arm, but he struggled fiercely, and as Mr. Costigan was standing on the steps of the throne he was overbalanced and had to let go, having a narrow escape from a nasty fall. Then "Jim" Sutherland seized Mr. Talbot from behind, and neld him for a time, and he hustled out of the house shouting defiance to Mr. Wallace. The latter made an effort to push his way through the group once or twice, but was stopped by his friends.

ABUSED MR. WALLACE. He arrived out in the corridor as an effort was being made to hustle his opponent into No. 16. "You are not in an Orange lodge now, d- you, you low, mean cur, Clarke Wafface. There are gentlemen here. Now, give my history, if you dare. Mr. Talbot shouted. From the door of No. 16 he hurled defiance at Mr. Wallace, who stood smiling grimly upon him, and remarked, "I would not dirty my hands with you.'

Then the proper opera bouffe air was added to the scene by members of the press gallery, who were in the crowd, singing, "Good morning, have you used Pear's Soap?" to the tune of the doxology.

Mr. Davis and Richard Blain, mem per for Peel, came into collision as Mr. Taibot was struggling violently to get away from Mr. Davis, and the two gentlemen exchanged remarks that made it look as if they might come to blows, but both cooled off quickly.

MORGAN'S LATEST INVESTMENT

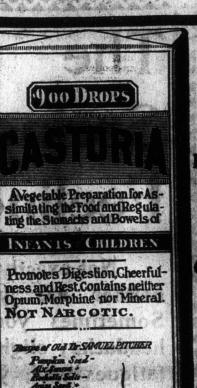

LONDON, April 16.—"L. Pierpoint Morgan's investments in British enterprises," says the Daily Mail this morning, "have thus far been confined to the purchase of a Scotch coolie for £400. We are informed that the following is an authentic expression that the following is an authentic expression of his views:

"He declares that the steel trust will not make a specially aggressive fight for the central of the British market. On the contrary, it will only meet legitimate demands and will spoil the popular theory that American steel and iron for foreign business represent purely the surplus production. As a matter of fact-still stating Mr. Morgan's position—the concerns comprised in the trust are full up with orders for fully ninemonths forward. Probably London will become the headquarters of the corporation's foreign business."

Sgt. Weatherbie joined the Royal Canadian Artillery at Quebec a few years ago. TOO MUCH KHAKI.

(Lieut.-Col. Mande in the National Review.)

It is just as well to recall some of the extreme absurdities to which even the leading newspapers have commitguishing badges on their helmets were dangerously conspicuous, that the ser-geants' red cloth stripes on their khaki serges would draw the enemy's fire, Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere, A Vapo-Cresolene outfit, including the Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Cresolene complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cr als free upon request. VAPO-liton St., New York, U.S.A. ly provided with great stocks of this their voyage, they stepped on board the transports and in due course arrived at the scene of action, where they found men busily engaged in painting their horses khaki and were themselves duly drilled in the new formation for "taking advantage of ant heaps," as Gen. Hilyard wittily christened it. Is it any wonder that the whole army got a fit of "nerves," which ultimately delevoped to such portentous dimensions that on one occasion a whole British brigade-say 3,000 bayonets-was held up by a Boer commando of 300 men? It must be clearly understood that this condition of "nerves" does not imply "cowardice;" the two things are entirely different psychological phenomena. There has been very little cowardice in our recent operations; on the contrary, the men are seemingly entirely under the impression that the are facing M. Bloch's "unprecedented and appalling fire" with astonishing heroism and showing wonderful skill in so rapidly adapting themselves to the "changed conditions of modern warfare." Yet a very few minutes' consideration should suffice to prove that though rifles can be fired faste and kill further nowadays than they did twenty years ago, the essential features of warfare remain much as they have been for the last two centuries. The ground remains the same; the variations of climate do not alter, and it is immaterial to a dead man whether he is dropped at 200 or 3,000 yards, whether he dies alone or in company, or whether the bullet which killed him was put in at one end of the barrel or the other, while as for the name of the firm which made the weapon, or the country of its origin, that remains a matter of complete indiffer-ence to him.

WOLFVILLE. Smallpox Scare Rapidly Dying Out-High Spring Freshets.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., April 13.—The small-pox scare in this county is rapidly dying out. There was one death in Kentville, and one child is ill with the disease, but is rapidly recovering. There are no other cases in the county, or in the province either, so far as known.

child is ill with the disease, but is rapidly recovering. There are no other cases in the county, or in the province either, so far as known.

The spring freshets were unpracedentedly high on Saturday and Sunday last, flooding cellars in many parts of the county, but the real damage is comparatively small.

The college and affiliated schools took an Easter eccess, and a number of the students took advantage of the low rates to visit their homes. The Church school for girls in Windsor would not allow their pupils to leave, through fear of cantagion.

Easter Sunday was duly celebrated here in all the churches. In St. John's church (Anglican) there were two celebrations of the Holy Communion, and the attendance was large. The floral decorations were very attractive. St. Andrews (Presbyterian) celebrated their quarterly communion, and Rev. Mr. Dill preached a very effective sermon on "Now is Christ, risen." Two were received into membership. In the Methodist church for honkin preached an Easter sermon and baptized six candidates. In the evening a sacred concert was given, and twenty-one were received into the followship of the church. In the Baptist church there was a communion service in the morning, and in the evening Pastor Hatch baptized eighteen candidates.
