

CONSERVATIVES WIN PARLIAMENTARY FIGHT

Effect of Laurier's Speech Spoiled by Discourteous Discrimination of Speaker Marcell and Bad Manners of Liberal Back Benchers—Premier Weakens After Demonstration Lasting Fifteen Minutes—Debate Adjourned by Next Speaker

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 29.—There was no vote on the Borden and Monk amendments tonight and the debate goes over. The reason was an extraordinary incident in which the House became involved through Conservative resentment of the attitude towards a member of that party by Speaker Marcell (Bonaventure $125 per head). The Conservatives gained their point and forced him to deal equal measure; but when the fifteen minutes fight which was necessary had ended the temper of the House was so ruffled that Mr. Crothers, who was about to speak, adjourned the debate.

The affair arose over a piece of bad parliamentary manners to which the Liberals are particularly prone. They took in the chamber when Sir Wilfrid Laurier is up, and they have a trick of raising the moment he finishes and ostentatiously and noisily trooping out. Tonight Sir Wilfrid Laurier finished his speech at 10.30 o'clock. Mr. Crothers rose to reply. The Liberal exodus was so noisy as to drown his opening sentences, though the Conservatives raised cries of order. The Liberals paid no attention, and Mr. Crothers paused. There were Conservative expressions of dissatisfaction and Dr. Schaffner cried "disorders."

Instantly Speaker Marcell was on his feet rebuking Dr. Schaffner.

Dr. Schaffner promptly withdrew the word.

Thereupon the Speaker rose again and insisted that Dr. Schaffner apologize.

The House listened in amazement at this. Dr. Schaffner rose and said that as he had to obey the Speaker's ruling, he would also apologize.

Distinction With Difference.

Now the other day Mr. Gauvreau did not notice him, but next day, on seeing the word reported in Hansard, called on Mr. Gauvreau to withdraw. This Mr. Gauvreau did, in so grudging and defiant a manner, as to cause Mr. Monk to utter his defiance to come outside and settle it. The Speaker did not call on Mr. Gauvreau to apologize.

When the House recovered its breath after Dr. Schaffner had been treated in this manner, Mr. Foster said, "What about 'liar'?"

Mr. Borden rose and suggested to Mr. Speaker that "coward" was not more offensive a word than "liar." (Loud cheers from the Conservatives.)

Then Mr. Foster's voice was heard: "Make the other man apologize." Mr. Speaker pleaded that on the former occasion he had not heard the word "liar." He had heard Dr. Schaffner's remarks.

TRAVELER'S LOOKS BRIGHT FOR HATTIE LEBLANC

District Attorney Admits Weakness of Case if Dying Declaration of Glover is Not Admitted—Judge Reserves Ruling, but Intimates He is Against Admission—Day Spent in Argument

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 29.—The question of what constitutes a "dying declaration" overlaid all others at the second day of the trial of Miss Hattie LeBlanc, the little Cape Breton girl charged with the murder of her employer, Clarence F. Glover, a Wallingford laundryman. As a matter of fact, there was no trial at all today, for the jury filed in and fled out with the witnesses after them, so that the district attorney and the defendant's counsel might substantiate or disprove to the satisfaction of Judge Bond, that Glover was in "extremis moribus" when he declared that Hattie LeBlanc shot him.

A legal combat over the question was initiated yesterday, and today it broke out vigorously when M. M. Johnson, for the defence, objected to the introduction of any such statement or even a reference to it by the prosecution. Judge Bond listened all day to evidence of those who stood around Glover in his last hours in Dr. Cousens' private hospital a few yards from the laundry. Nearly all these witnesses were positive that Glover had accused Hattie LeBlanc, but many of them said he hesitated in making such a declaration, and others testified that he continually asked the doctors to operate upon him, remarking that unless they did so, he was gone.

District Attorney's Plea.

District Attorney Higgins admitted that he was surprised when Judge Bond at the opening of the session, today decided not to admit this "dying declaration" until he heard the evidence to substantiate it. But in the afternoon, when Judge Bond announced that there should be no reference to the statement in the opening of the case, to the jury, the district attorney jumped to his feet and declared to the court that unless this statement of Glover's were allowed to go to the jury, the case of the prosecution would be very weak, and that it must rely on circumstantial evidence to prove its accusation against the girl. Furthermore, he was handicapped by the fact that the interpreter who took much of the evidence at the inquiry was in Nova Scotia and declined to come here.

The pleadings of the district attorney were so vehement that Judge Bond said he would withdraw his first decision, ruling out any reference to the prosecution to the dying statement in its opening to the jury, and would render two decisions tomorrow, first, whether the government should be allowed to refer to the declaration, and second, whether it should be admitted as evidence.

After Hattie LeBlanc, whose knowledge of English was scarcely sufficient to enable her to understand more than a few words, learned the true meaning of the decision of Judge Bond, her face beamed for the first time since she had been arrested by the police.

1,000 Attended.

So intense is the public interest in the case, that more than a thousand men and women waited about the court house in a pouring rain before the opening of the afternoon's session. When the doors were opened there was a rush for the court, and the officers had their hands full in pushing back the remainder of the crowd.

Judge Bond heard the evidence today of a half dozen persons, who happened to be near when Glover sank exhausted on the piazza of Dr. Cousens' private hospital a short distance from the laundry. These witnesses said that Glover told them that he "had been shot by a woman and it was Hattie LeBlanc." All said that he intended to be operated upon as the only hope of life. Glover reached the hospital shortly after 9 o'clock, lay on the piazza for some minutes growing weaker and weaker and was then taken into the house and placed on a bed.

He was told, according to the testimony of three or four physicians, that he was in a critical condition, but no one told him that he was dying. He died within three hours after reaching the hospital.

It has been many years since such a hearing as that of today has preceded the taking of evidence in a murder trial in this state, and many members of the bar expressed great

UNIONISTS ARE SPLIT UP OVER TARIFF REFORM

One Section Of Party Put Forward Home Rule And Referendum As Leading Issues—Bitterness In Fight.

London, Nov. 29.—The politicians of all parties are straining every nerve to crowd into a few days the work which in ordinary elections is spread over weeks or months. Nearly all the heavy guns were in action tonight. Arthur J. Balfour, leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, before a big meeting in Albert Hall, where he warmly supported the referendum, described the government as puppets dancing to the tune of John Redmond and his American paymasters.

The prime minister Mr. Asquith, spoke at Reading; Chancellor Lloyd George at Cardiff; John E. Redmond, leader of the Nationalists, at Dublin; Winston Spencer Churchill, home secretary, at Colchester; Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, at Bristol; John Burns, president of the local government board, at Battersea, and Austin Chamberlain at Ashton.

The issues are narrowing daily. The Conservatives make much of the menace of home rule. They proclaim that the plan of the Liberals for the reform of the House of Lords means a single chamber government and put to the front their new policy of referendum.

Split on Tariff Reform.

There is great fervor among the Liberals. An interesting factional cleavage has occurred in Balfour's party over tariff reform. The Spectator which is the spokesman of the Unionist free traders has proposed that the tariff reformers pledge themselves to submit the question to a referendum if the party wins, it not being a leading issue of the campaign.

The most ardent tariff reformers led by the Morning Post, contend that it is the foremost principle of the Liberal party to support the referendum. The Morning Post says the Unionist victory does not mean tariff reform.

Mr. Balfour pronounced strongly in favor of the referendum as the best method of settling deadlocks between the two Houses without requiring the reform of the House of Lords, and said it could be carried into effect before the House of Lords was reformed. This he declared to be Lord Lansdowne's plan. The cost of a referendum he said, would be nearer $1,000,000 than the estimate of the Liberals $10,000,000.

"Some people seem to think," continued the Opposition leader, "that asking whether I would submit a referendum to a referendum, will put me in a hole. I frankly say that tariff reform would be a great change. This election cannot be described as taking place on tariff reform simply and I do not have the least objection to submitting tariff reform to a referendum. It seems to me that our opponents should respond with the generosity of honorable combatants and say 'we agree that home rule shall be the subject of a referendum, too'."

J. H. Stovens, who was a member of parliament for the Brighton division of Lambeth in 1906, and who was at one time a resident of Boston, has become the Liberal candidate in the same constituency against Davidson Dalziel, Unionist, once a resident of New York.

Lord Joice, who was created a peer by Liberals, has announced his defection from that party because of its failure to provide for the defense of the country, and for its alliance with the Socialists. It is stated that several other Liberal peers are tending in the same direction.

Churchill Mobbed.

Colchester, Eng., Nov. 29.—Riotous scenes attended the appearance here tonight of Winston Spencer Churchill at the Home Secretary. Thousands congregated in the streets, jeering and shouting. Many of them gathered around Mr. Churchill's carriage at which they threw fish, eggs and other missiles. Many of the windows in the Liberal headquarters were smashed. A large draft of police was sent out to patrol the streets, the authorities fearing counter demonstration.

WRIGHT BROTHERS TO TREAT MONCTON AFTER GRAHAME-WHITE DOGS WITH SEVERITY

American Inventors Bring Suit For Infringement Of Patent Rights Against English Aviator—Machine Imported.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 29.—Claude Graham-White, the English aviator, was served today in a suit instituted in the United States circuit court by the Wright Co. for infringement of patent rights for a heavier-than-air machine is alleged and an injunction sought.

The complaint asserts that before importing and using the machine in this country, Graham-White knew that the federal courts had sustained the Wright patent in the cases against Louis Paulhan, and the Harring-Curtiss Co. and Glenn H. Curtiss.

FAULTY MECHANISM.

Washington, Nov. 29.—An investigation of the accident at Indian Head, October 19, resulting from a proving test of the five-inch gun and which cost the lives of four men, has established the fact that the design of the breech mechanism of the gun is faulty. The pattern is now being changed at the Washington navy yard.

SEVEN HURT IN TRESTLE FALL

A C. P. R. steamship will convey the expedition. Trade conferences will be held on board during the cruise and at the various ports of call. The steamer will carry nearly 1,000 tons of samples of Canadian products and manufactures for exhibition. The steamer will probably leave this port in January or February.

BEHEADED ON R. R. TRACK

New York, Nov. 29.—Daniel Arthur, vice-president and treasurer of the Arthur Machine Company, a New York concern, was beheaded by a passenger train at the Pacific avenue station of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, Jersey City, this evening.

In a statement to the police, John Sauer, an eye witness, declared that he had seen Arthur deliberately lay himself across the rails as a west bound express approached.

JURY SPENT DAY IN TRAMPING SNOW

Greenfield, Mass., Nov. 29.—After a day spent in tramping through the snow to view the scene of the murder of Deputy Sheriff Emmett F. Haskins at Monroe Bridge last June, the twelve men who comprise the jury, which is to decide whether or not Silas N. Phelps is guilty of the murder, returned to the court house at Greenfield tonight.

The party in charge of the deputy sheriff left Greenfield by train at 9 o'clock this morning. It was snowing when they left, and when they arrived at Monroe they found a foot of snow on the ground.

that a 35 mile gale was raging. Tonight, however, the wind had diminished to about 15 miles an hour, but the weather continued thick.

EVERY MAN IS IN NEED OF A REFUGE

Dr. Torres Tells Plainly Why Men Should Turn to Jesus—Getting Away from Personal Devil.

Dr. Torres preached last night on Every Man's Need of a Refuge. Every one, he pointed out, needs a hiding place from the accusations of their own conscience.

"Every man and woman here tonight," he said, "has a conscience, and every man and woman here tonight has signed against their conscience. There is no torment like the torment of an accusing conscience. But you say, 'My conscience does not trouble me.' That may be, for it is a well known psychological fact that conscience sometimes sleeps, but conscience never dies. The day is coming when that sleeping conscience of yours will awaken and woe be to that man or woman whose conscience wakes up who has no hiding place from his own conscience.

"Every one of us needs a hiding place from the power of sin within ourselves. Now every man and woman here tonight who know themselves as all well know that there are powers of evil resident within themselves which are more than they can master in their own strength. We need a hiding place from the power of sin within."

"Every one of us here needs a hiding place from the power of the Devil. There are a great many people who are too wise to believe in a personal Devil, I believe in the existence of a personal Devil. I will tell you why. First, because the Old Book says so, and I have found that the man who banks on the long run always comes ahead in the long run. But friends, there is another reason why I believe in a personal Devil, and that is because of the teachings of my own experience and common sense. We see everywhere in this magnificent universe the footprints of the Creator. But, alas, we see everywhere in human society the footprints of the enemy. We need a hiding place from the subtlety, the cunning, the power of the Devil."

THE WORTH TO COME.

"In the fourth place, we need a hiding place from the wrath to come. There are a great many people who do not believe in the wrath to come. I do. Why? Because again the Old Book says so. Another reason why I believe in the wrath to come is because my common sense says so. Of course, there is a judgment day and you and I need a hiding place from it every one of us, for every one of us has sinned and come short of the glory of God."

"Is there a hiding place? I close with my text instead of beginning with it. Isaiah 32:2: 'And a man shall be as a hiding place from the wind and a covert from the tempest; as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land. Who is that man? There is just one man that is a hiding place—the God-man, Jesus Christ. He is a hiding place from the wrath to come. He is a hiding place from the wrath to come. He is a hiding place from the wrath to come. Who will come to this hiding place tonight?'"

BOARD OF WORKS DISCUSS WIDENING OF MILL STREET

Committee Appointed to Confer With C.P.R. Regarding Use of Property—No Action Taken Regarding Offensive Material in Germain Street—Refuse Application for Lease of Slip.

The members of the Board of Works at their meeting last evening expended much eloquence in discussing complaints of the material taken from the catch basins to adorn the city's new boulevard, but decided to let the matter lie over till spring.

A committee was appointed to interview the C.P.R. with the object of having Mill street widened, and a considerable lot of routine business was transacted.

Besides Ald. McGoldrick, the chairman, there were present: Ald. Holder, White, Smith, Hayes, Sprout, Vanwart, Christie and Potts, with the common clerk, the engineer, the recorder, Harbor Master Aldward, Ferry Supt. Waring and street inspector Winchester.

The engineer reported that when he had ordered bulbar for planting he did not know that Mr. Pederson had them for sale. He said that at the order had been sent to Toronto Mr. Pederson had offered bulbs gratuitously. He was instructed to patronize local florists in future.

The engineer submitted a statement of the amounts spent for street purposes, showing that there was a balance on hand of $5,484.45.

No Right to Damages. In reference to the claim of A. C. F. Sorell for damages on account of quarrying operations in Kennedy St., the engineer reported that the house was built on a rock foundation and that the work done by the city could not have damaged the walls. He recommended that the complaint be ignored. The report was adopted.

Michael Clancy, city watchman, applied for an increase of pay from $1.35 to $1.50 per day. Ald. Smith moved that the increase be made.

Ald. Willet said such requests should come in at the first of the year.

After some discussion it was decided to leave the matter with the engineer with power to act.

T. M. Bishop, M. D., and James Manning wrote, objecting to the placing of material from catch basins on the Germain street boulevard. The engineer stated that Mr. Gould had said the material being principally sand, was unsuitable for raising plants.

The engineer reported that the material was too strong. He thought the material was suitable as it consisted mainly of manure washed from the streets. He had, however, stopped placing the material in front of Messrs. Bishop's and Manning's premises. R. B. Emerson, he said, had requested that the material be placed in front of his residence.

BOILER SET ON WHEEL CART

Great Loyalty Plea of Liberals Shattered by Conservative Leader—Opposition Finished First Week Creditably.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—The first week of the session has passed and the debate on the address has not been finished.

First and foremost this must be said. The Liberals are desperately frightened and angry. Particularly in this case with the French Canadian ministerialists. When one sets down on paper the statistical aspects of the Drummond and Arthabaska by-election, the result is impressive: A majority of 2,476 turned out in a minority of 207. But when the French Liberals troop here and after acting opinion in their own constituencies and comparing notes with each other, a sense of excitement, disturbance and anger, it is easy to understand. They at least take a serious view of the situation.

What does that mean? It means that the Liberal Government is in a bad way. So far as his own province is concerned, Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a tenant under notice to quit. The incoming Premier is waiting for the next general election.

Next in point of time if not of importance there is this to be chronicled. The Liberal Government, it seems to be much disturbed at the anger shown by English speaking Canada at the style of campaign waged in the Drummond and Arthabaska. It is altogether probable that some impressions of that contest entertained in English speaking Canada are hardly accurate. The ministerialists are served in Quebec by an active and unscrupulous press; the Nationalists and Conservatives have a feeble press.

It is possible that an exaggerated idea has been put forward by the Nationalists, it is possible that real appeals were made by the Liberals in Quebec. Be this as it may, English speaking Canada came to the conclusion that the Nationalist part of the campaign was desperately anti-imperial and anti-British, and English speaking Canada was not seriously won.

Quebec Takes Notice. This anger has been marked by Quebec, and all sides, and is being fed into the Empire and shouting to English Canada. "Please, it wasn't me, it was the other fellow."

Mr. Monk's reason for the most part is that the Liberal party was the most honest and the most energetic. One could hardly imagine them responsible for the tumult and the shouting of that struggle in the "Bolshevik" as the Drummond and Arthabaska region is locally known. Mr. Blondin, Dr. Paquet, Mr. Nantel, all vowed eternal loyalty. Led by Mr. Brodeur, the Liberal party in the province waved the flag with a violence never reserved for Tories of the old school.

Meanwhile, each told appalling tales of the Messrs. Carson, Nicholson and mutual accusations, a correct by-election must have been such a competition in separatism as a meeting under the eyes of all Canada has been a competition in loyalty.

In the third place, linked with the preceding fact, is the additional fact that the Liberal party in English speaking Canada and throw themselves as the victims of French effective imperialism. It would be an effective imperialism, against Mr. Brodeur, to say, "Laurier is too British for those Nationalists who are firing the heather in Quebec. The Conservatives are hunting with those same Nationalists, pandering to the racial hatreds in which they trade. Vote for the real Imperialist, Laurier. This plan was being evolved by the Liberal party. It has grown visibly during the week."

SOBO KEPT IN OPEN SEA DURING STORM

West India Steamer Came In Yesterday Two Days Overdue—Brought 19,000 Bags of Sugar.

Pickford & Black, West India line steamer Sobro, Captain Bridges, arrived in port yesterday morning from Bermuda, Windward Islands and Porto Rico with a large general cargo including 8000 bags of raw sugar for Montreal, and 4,600 bags sugar for Halifax. The steamer brought 14 passengers—five cabin, five second class and four Chinese, who are on their way to Hong Kong. The steamer had a very rough trip up north from Bermuda.

The following is a list of her first-class passengers: Louis B. Seale and Daisy E. Burns, John M. Emery, Harold Burns and David C. Laws.

Left on Friday night and Saturday morning the storm the sobro was off the mouth of the Bay of Fundy, and Captain Bridges did not venture into the Bay in such a northeast, but held her in deep water until the storm abated, which at times was most severe, the steamer making little headway against the force of the wind. This storm was the cause of the Sobro not reaching this port on her scheduled time.

The annual meeting of the St. John County W. C. T. U. was held yesterday afternoon in the rooms, Mrs. Mary McAvity presiding and there was a fair attendance of members. The reports of the branches comprising the county union were read, and showed that the union had had a successful year. Mrs. T. H. Bullock read a report of a state convention which she attended in Troy, N. Y., and which was most interesting.

The election of officers resulted in the re-election of the retiring board as follows: President, Mrs. Mary McAvity; vice-president, Mrs. J. H. Gray; secretary-treasurer, Miss Jane Lockhart; "y" secretary, Miss Jean Clarke.

Continued from page 1. Mr. Foster: "Why did you not call on him to apologize as well?" "I did not hear it," was the Speaker's reply. Finally the Speaker submitted and asked Mr. Gauvreau to apologize.

Mr. Gauvreau's Apology. Mr. Gauvreau, who had been sitting looking very ill at ease, replied in French, that "it was against the rules he had nothing to say."

Mr. Brodeur pressed his motion to adjourn the debate, and after the Liberals had shown some reluctance Sir Wilfrid Laurier nodded and the debate was suspended.

Thus the Conservatives carried their point and forced first the Speaker and then Mr. Gauvreau to exhibit contrition. Speaker Marcell did not monopolize the whole proceedings. He succeeded, however, by his sudden pursuit of the effect of the Premier's speech. This was to have been the feature of the day. It lasted for an hour and a half; it concluded with a carefully phrased peroration and it was instantly followed by the uproar to which the bad manners of some of his followers, and his Speaker's conception of his duties, gave rise.

Cape Town, Nov. 11.—Nov. 4 will always be considered an important day in the history of South Africa, being the day on which H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught formally opened the first parliament of United South Africa on behalf of His Majesty King George V.

The Speech. On being received by the President and the Speaker, the royal party proceeded to the House of Assembly, where the royal speech was read.

Bloomfontein, Nov. 28.—Their royal highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, accompanied by Princess Patricia, were accompanied by a most hearty and enthusiastic welcome from the crowds who had gathered to greet them here.

The Basutos were, the address declared, a small nation among other nations of the Empire, but at the same time they were anxious to become useful citizens, although they feared that coming into the Union at this early date would mean national suicide.

Many Suffer For Few. "As far as the signs are concerned the travel is not in the least degree as to the real reasons from the elevated standpoint as to why they are thousands of thoughtful, kindly gentlemen who morning and evening regularly go through the trying crowds of the congested centres of elevated traffic.

"It would seem that in rush hours business people should have the right of way, and women who will or must go into business must expect to share the many of the aggravations of elevated traffic.

"All signs that warn, instruct and remind men of safety of life and limb and all efforts to stop jumping upon cars while they are in motion will receive hearty support from all sane-minded people, but it is not so clear that the wholesale condemnation of the manners of men as is suggested by the Dudley-st signs will be for the general good.

"Fourth, they insult the whole travelling public for the sake of the few who are guilty, and in a bold way suggest what is not true, that the majority of men using the elevated are ill-mannered and thoughtless toward women.

SAINT JOHN, WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 30, 1910

FARM WORK TOO EASY.

Many explanations are offered to us why boys leave the farm. What has been written and spoken on the subject would fill volumes, but when it is all reduced to its lowest terms the consensus of conclusion seems to be that their drift city-ward is caused by the drudgery and monotony of their occupation. Certainly, in some localities it cannot be denied that it does involve drudgery. The monotony depends upon the imaginative quality and the love of nature that is developed in the boy. To one well endowed in these respects there is no place that presents a richer variety of interests than the farm, so in a few instances, at least, the boy makes his final decision on the basis of drudgery alone.

An Arkansas philosopher, who is also a farmer on a large scale, presents a novel theory, no less than that the great strides made in perfecting farm machinery are responsible for this movement among the rising generation of farmers' boys. In other words farming is too easy. They are getting the monotony without the drudgery. The plough, the cultivator, the mowing machine, the reaper, the hay stacker and a hundred other things give the lad whose ideas and visions are in the formative period nothing to build upon. He is simply a part of the machinery. Any boy who can drive a team can do a man's work. His value develops at an earlier age and consequently he is kept out of school and put in the treadmill of the farm, backward and forward day after day.

There is quite likely some fact underlying this theory. There were certain duties on a farm in the old days that challenged rivalry. The young man who could lead his fellows in laying a wide and straight swath across the meadow was a person of mark in a rural community. People spoke of him admiringly as one of the possessors of a valuable accomplishment. The champion cradler in a grain field enjoyed a like distinction, and raking and binding tested mettle and muscle to as great an extent as baseball and tennis do today. There was no monotony about that striving. It was not even regarded as drudgery. It took the place of the sports of today. There was just as much enthusiasm, just as vigorous endeavor, and just as much satisfaction with victory.

The past fifty years have revolutionized these conditions. Labor-saving processes have been developed. Not only are the hours of labor fewer on the farm, as elsewhere, than they were in days gone by, but the standards are lower. Labor itself is less intelligent, less ambitious, and the man today who does more than his fellow who receives the same pay is almost ashamed of himself. He has been too easy. He is self-defrauded. There is little for the farmer's boy to measure himself against, almost nothing if he simply holds the reins and guides the horse or the machine that does the work.

IRRITABLE.

Discussing the irritability of the Liberals, which has been much in evidence during the present session of Parliament, the Toronto News points out that their attitude is easily understood. They lost Drummond and Arthabaska. They have sought a petty satisfaction in shooting out the lip at the Nationalists. The Bourassa forces and their sympathizers are aggressive and boastful. The secret lies in the fact that both sides are found out. For years the Liberals have sought Quebec support for Sir Wilfrid Laurier solely because he was a French-Canadian. The Premier has boasted a great deal about saying the same things in Quebec as he does in Ontario and the West. But did he? At Sorel before the last general election he made a race appeal in indirect form. His workers constantly have made reference to the Orange fanatics of Ontario, and have sought to set French-Canadians in antagonism to the Conservative party.

Since 1896 the Government has sown in Quebec distrust of Great Britain and of the English speaking portions of Canada. The record of the Ministry has not been fairly examined. Opposition newspapers could not be maintained. Opposition speakers have not had a hearing. "Vote for Laurier, the greatest man of our race," was the sum of Liberal appeals to the voters. Le Canada published a certain cartoon in 1904 showing John Bull picking the pockets of a habitant. In those days the Liberals practised and enjoyed this style of fighting. But not long ago the same cartoon appeared in Le Devoir, Mr. Bourassa's paper, established to oppose Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Then the forgetful Liberals shouted "Traitor!"

Mr. Bourassa and the Nationalists have followed a Liberal example in making race and creed appeals. They also misrepresent English speaking Canada and Great Britain. But they do it in the open, while the Liberals have tried to conceal this feature of their campaign. The Drummond and Arthabaska election has brought everything to light—not only the threats of conscription made by Mr. Lavergne and his friends, but the separatist and racial appeals in Mr. Perraull's pamphlet. The Quebec Liberals fired the prairie indignantly for every election. This time the wind changed and blew the flames back upon them. They labored for a solid Quebec which would vote for a personal idol, instead of expressing honest opinion on the Government's record.

Quebec has chosen a new idol but there will continue to be discussion of national questions in the contemplation of Nationalist pettiness. Bourassa can beat Laurier in Quebec, and will do so. A bloc of Nationalists will be in the next Parliament and Mr. Borden will be Premier.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE IN THE UNITED STATES.

The voters in the State of Washington by ratifying an amendment to the constitution have added 130,000 women to the electorate. This victory for the cause of woman suffrage is naturally being hailed with jubilation by leaders of the movement. In the brief space of years since the movement started in the United States five stars have been added to the woman's suffrage banner. It is evidently something which in the future will have to be reckoned with.

Looking back we find that the State of Wyoming established woman's suffrage as long ago as 1869. Colorado followed in 1893, Utah and Idaho in 1896, and now Washington joins them. The growth of the movement where full suffrage does not obtain is shown in Kansas, where women possess school suffrage, established in 1887, and bond suffrage, established in 1903. School suffrage for women now prevails in thirty states, including Washington. Most of the states have recognized in some form the right to the ballot of women who pay taxes, and have enacted legislation accordingly. These steps, perhaps, are only forerunners of others that will lead to the elimination of restrictions which bar women in the United States from voting on every public office.

It is interesting in this connection to note that women vote for all officers in Great Britain except members of Parliament. In Australia, New Zealand, the Isle of Man and Finland they have full suffrage, and municipal suffrage has been granted them in many of the provinces of the Dominion, also in Iceland, Denmark and Sweden. In France women engaged in commerce vote for judges of the tribunal of commerce, and in Cape Colony women also have some voting privileges. The showing already made by the woman's suffrage cause, in fact, is not at all soothing to those who as yet cannot regard it with unqualified favor, although the movement is, of course, looked upon as still experimental when considered in its entirety. Suffragist propagandas have their quiescent spells, but the broad tide thus far has not ebbed appreciably.

BRITISH POSTAL STATISTICS.

One of the remarkable facts given in the British Postmaster-General's report, recently issued, is a decrease in the number of London letters due to the growth of the telephone. This is the first decrease for years. The number of telephone calls increased from 54,500,000 to 70,000,000. The number of London letters was about 800,000,000. On an average each person in the United Kingdom receives fifty letters a year, or fully one a week. The total number of letters, postcards, newspapers, and parcels delivered was 5,195,890,000. There was a great falling off of postcards, presumably picture ones, in Scotland and of postal newspapers in London.

The British public is growing more careless in sending money in unaddressed or undelivered packets which totalled 31,241,000. Registered letters, containing $75,635 in cash and notes and $3,163,825 in checks, postal orders, bills, and the like found their way to the returned letter office.

The effect of penny postage to the United States has been to increase the number of letters by one-fourth. Reduced newspaper and magazine postage to Canada and Newfoundland mean that nearly 3,000,000 lbs. of journals was dispatched from the Old Country. The cash on delivery system with many of the Overseas Dominions is rapidly fostering a trade within the Empire in small articles.

For the first time for years there was great increase in telegrams, home, press, and foreign. On an average each person received two. Much of the increase was due to the general election; and in the last fortnight of January the post office dealt with 200,000 more messages than for the similar period in 1909. The delivery of telegrams by telephone will be extended. The growth of wireless telegraphy marks the progress of the times. During the year, 3,266 messages were sent to ships at sea, an increase of 1,449 over the previous year, and 27,727 messages were received, being 4,995 more than in 1908-'09.

Current Comment

(Toronto News.)

There was a young man of Berlin Who often remarked with a grin: "Your free trade is free To the Yankee and me, But I don't see where Britain comes in."

This election Limerick, posted on walls and fences all over the British Isles presents in brief form the All-or argument that one-sided free trade is not fair trade, and that it exposes the nation to unchecked competition from abroad without bringing adequate compensation of any kind. England and Ireland are already converted to tariff reform. With the Home Rule question and the House of Lords issue out of the way the electors would not be long in adopting moderate protection with preference to the colonies.

(Fredericton Gleaser.)

The Telegraph, the servile organ of the St. John dredging grafters, heads its Fredericton despatch today: "Jas. H. Crockett held in $500 bail; Fredericton editor charged with criminal libel," etc. It was the Telegraph which said, when Henry B. Emmerson made his demonstration over the swearing out of his warrant, that Mr. Crockett had run away to escape the process. Are the grafters getting panicky again?

(Toronto News.)

In ten years American manufacturers have expended $225,000,000 in establishing 175 branch factories in Canada. Mr. Eugene Foss tells the people of Massachusetts that unless reciprocity is obtained $300,000,000 more of good United States cash will be spent in the same way in this country. Why should we move our hands to check this flow of capital, industries and employment in our direction?

(Vancouver World.)

A Vancouver little girl, some five years old, saying her prayers before retiring, the other evening, introduced some variation into the language. She duly invoked the divine blessing on her father, her mother, her brothers and her sisters, and then paused. Presently she proceeded:—"And, now, what about me? Shall I say me and Buster?" Buster, it is almost unnecessary to point out, is a dog.

(London Free Press.)

The Western Grain Growers' Association are wise in arranging to have their tariff deputation wait upon the whole House of Commons instead of member of the Government alone. They probably have a lurking suspicion that there may be others holding the reins before long, in whose hands the final decision may rest.

(Windsor Record.)

Instead of promising franchise laws for women, the British Government should revive an old law that placed common scolds and female shrews in the public stocks. The suffragette movement has reached the frenzied stage and they are too easy in the old land with a nuisance of this kind.

WATSON TO ASQUITH

London, Nov. 29.—William Watson, who obtained great notoriety by his attack on Mrs. Asquith in "The Woman with the Serpent's Tongue," came out last week with some verses directed against that lady's husband. The Morning Post accorded to hospitality of its columns to thumpem, which is entitled "The Chief." "Strange and yet true, in it's not long Flected we thought him cold and strong, Prudent, deliberate, cautious, rave, Moulded without a passion, a passion For hard chill light on level trays And for a lucid, well turned phrase, His lack of genius seemed to be itself a best security. Behold him now, caught up as whirled Into a wild and alien world Where demagogues with doctrine crude Debauch the phrase-led multitude, And truth is pawed for piper, and they Who govern must themselves obey Him of the falcon beak and eye. That hawk-like o'er them poses nigh. Laugh if ye will, Olympeian Gods, Who watch from your unweavable robes; But ask not men to share your mirth— Much warbled men on English earth."

AMERICAN SPEAKS WELL OF BRITISH NAVY

S. S. McClure Addressed Canadian Club at Ottawa on Problems of Government—Would Reduce Status of Provinces.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—S. S. McClure, of New York, editor of McClure's Magazine, addressed the Canadian Club here on Saturday on some Problems of Government.

He dealt with question of law enforcement, corporation control, restricted immigration, arbitration and world peace. Dealing more particularly with Canadian problems, he said: "First, I would make it a matter so clear and plain that every man, woman and child should know it in his heart that the most important institution in the world today for human peace and justice and the maintaining of the great highways of trade is the British navy. Second, I should regard the breed of men as important as the breed of horses and cattle."

"Now, my next point will not get the same applause. I am afraid, I should reduce the status of provinces to about that of city charters and make this a real nation, and not an assemblage of more or less semi-sovereign states."

OF INTEREST TO METHODISTS.

The sum of $740 has been received at the Methodist Book Room, Toronto, in aid of the fund for the rebuilding of the Methodist church at Campbellton.

Rev. Thomas Marshall, who for some time past has been Missionary Superintendent for the three Maritime Conferences, has been, it is understood, the part of work in Newfoundland and will henceforth confine his labors to New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

Moncton Memorial church has raised the salary of its minister to $900, the advance to date from the beginning of the present conference year. The Mount Allison institution rejoice in a bright outlook, and to keep abreast of the times the authorities ask for the sum of $40,000, and they will no doubt get it.

A statement has been going the rounds lately that at a recent meeting of the Truro Presbytery, out of 14 who voted on the union question, 12 were in favor, with one opposing. The Eastern Chronicle furnishes the information that many of the members did not vote at all.

RICHIBUCTO.

Richibucto, Nov. 29.—R. Phinney and W. D. Carter returned on Saturday in a five weeks trip to the West. During the time they met a good number of people who have gone out from here and are now doing well.

J. A. Edmunds a former teacher in the advanced department of the Grammar School, is at present teaching in the High School at North Head, Grand Manan.

Vital Richard of Moncton has charge of Dr. Bourque's drug store during his absence.

Mrs. Rankine McKinnon is quite ill and Dr. Doherty is attending her.

Pratt Perry who attended the Grammar school here two years ago, after securing a normal school license last June, went to the West, where he now holds a good position as teacher in Tadoussac, Alaska.

Richard Kingston, of Straford, N. H., is visiting his old home in Kouchibouguac.

George Jardine was in Fredericton last week as guest of his daughter, Mrs. John Palmer.

Robert Irving came home from Jacques River yesterday to remain over Christmas.

He is reported that smallpox has broken out in the family of William Curwen of this town.

Don't neglect kidney trouble—it's too dangerous as well as painful. That old, reliable family remedy, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, has cured thousands and will cure you. It is equally effective in curing constipation and its attendant evils, biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches, and in purifying the blood.

Matty and Birmy Have Rival in Joe Jackson as Greatest Thrower

BASEBALL'S THREE GREATEST THROWING OUTFIELDERS.

For some years baseball writers have been wont to rave over the marvelous throwing of Matty McIntyre, the Detroit left fielder, and Joe Birmingham, who plays the same garden for the Cleveland club.

Whenever a scribe wanted to describe something fast and true, he fell back upon the wings of these two catapults for comparison. Both McIntyre and Birmingham have retired speedy runners at the plate with long, accurate throws, heaving the ball 150 or 200 feet into the hands of the waiting catcher before fast men could score from third base.
