TOWN COUNCIL IS WELL AWAY

Budget Calls for $1,000 Less than Last Year—New Committees Appointed

The inaugural meeting of the Town Council on Monday evening in the absence of Mayor Kelly was presided over by Ald. McLeod.

Committees for the ensuing year were appointed as follows:

Roads: H. H. Hatfield, H. R. Nixon, W. B. Nixon.

Fire and Water: C. R. DeWitt, W. B. Nixon, G. M. McLeod.

Finance: R. B. Hagerman, H. H. Hatfield, H. R. Nixon.

Police: G. M. McLeod, C. R. DeWitt, R. B. Hagerman.

Poor: W. B. Nixon, H. H. Hatfield, H. R. Nixon.

By-Law: H. R. Nixon, R. B. Hagerman, G. M. McLeod.

The chairman of the Finance committee introducing the budget went into the question of why and how the money is raised and expended. His remarks were to the point and ought to clear the air concerning any reports to the contrary. Concerning the conflicting reports which appeared in the Observer, one over his name and another over that of W. D. Keith, he said there were citizens who would believe the contradictory statement, signed by an ex-mayor. He went into detail and explained numerous errors in the published statements.

The question of County assessment was taken up and explained, showing that the County had been revalued to the amount of $9,000,000. Woodstock is assessed $2,000,000, or two-thirds of the county value, while that town was only paying one-seventh of the county budget. There was an agreement between the Municipality and the Town of Woodstock. The County budget for 1922 is $43,000. Woodstock's share under arrangement is $7,100. If it was evenly proportioned with the remainder of the county it would be $5600. The difference is borne by the parishes of the county and the Town of Hartland. Ald. Hagerman argued that Hartland paid cash for the county proportion and should not pay taxes which did not belong to it. Woodstock should have no special agreement with the County, any more than each parish or the Town of Hartland. If there were overdrafts they should be charged to the party in arrears who should pay the interest. Before the last County revaluation Hartland was classed with the parish of Brighton and bore two-fifths of the whole. If the Parish is behind, the County Council charges fifty per cent of the arrears back to the parish and Hartland bears two-fifths of the charge after having paid its just share in full. The county Councilors should have the matter adjusted. It was working an injustice upon those who pay their taxes.

Where there are two distinct town corporations, water and general, two separate budgets are necessary. The following items were voted and passed upon for 1922:

GENERAL

|-------------------|--------|
| County | $2200 |
| Roads | 1200 |
| Sidewalks | 500 |
| Miscellaneous | 500 |
| Salaries | 600 |
| Police | 150 |
| Poor | 100 |
| Discount | 100 |
| Election expenses | 50 |
| | $5300 |

WATER

|--------------|--------|
| Debtentures | $2000 |
| Improvements | 700 |
| Interest | 500 |
| Fuel | 200 |
| Salaries | 200 |
| Discount | 100 |
| | $3700 |

The total of $9000 was an election pledge to reduce taxes $1000 for 1922.

Ald. Hagerman, pursuing the topic, pointed out that the Town finances were still in initial stages. There have been no arrangements during the past twenty years to liquidate the debtentures on the Town when they fell due. The burden would have to be borne by the present generation. This could be very easily accomplished by rebonding the Town, raising more money for improvements and issue serial bonds, say $1000 payable each year. He condemned a sinking fund scheme on the grounds that private enterprise did not hire money at 5 per cent and put it in the Bank at 3 per cent.

It was recommended that water taken outside of the protected area be assessed $10 a year instead of $8 for water, as they were out of proportion to the rest. A notice was served that the by-law be changed at next meeting.

A notice was also given that the by-law governing the fee for moving pictures and the nights for opening be changed at next meeting.

Ex-alderman Faulkner, heard by indulgence, subjected the Chairman of the Finance committee to a grueling cross-examination, endeavoring to prove a deficit of $3000 for 1921, discrediting the auditor's report as well as the report of the Finance committee.

Ex-Councillor McIntosh was heard in the interests of the housing scheme. Alderman Hatfield and Hagerman throwing some light on the subject.

Some taxes for 1920-21 are still in arrears and will be collected.

ELECTION EXPENSES OF T. W. CALDWELL

Excite a Big Toronto Paper, which Says as Work of Reference Ranks with Dictionary

The Tory Toronto Telegram finds both mirth and enlightenment in the recently published details of T. W. Caldwell's election expenses. The comments of the paper are here given in full:

Thomas Wakem Caldwell, M. P., the lone Progressive from New Brunswick, invites an admiring world to scan his election expenses in the recent Federal campaign. Farmer Tom got through on $923.97, and doesn't care who knows it. In fact a page and more of the Observer, a small weekly published in the village of Hartland, Carleton county, is given up to copies of affidavits and lists of payments, setting down exactly for what and to whom each payment even to items of twenty-five cents was made.

Mr. Caldwell was not asked to pay the whole $923.97 himself. The sum of $798.47 was contributed, and as no less than 338 persons shared in this wild orgy of giving one may easily figure out what is cost the Progressive stalwarts of Carleton-Victoria on the average.

For the information of politicians in general it should be set down that not a single promised contribution remained unpaid when the reckoning was made. They all came across. Twenty-seven of them parted with 25 cents each, thirty-five with 50 cents, one with 75 cents, one hundred and seventy-one with $1, forty-five with $2, four with $3, two with $4, eighteen with $5, there was an occasional contribution of $10 and two of $25, which was high water mark.

The preliminary statement of the expenditures is as follows:

|-------------------------------|----------|
| Candidate's personal expenses | $125.50 |
| Postage | 31.88 |
| Telegrams | 36.15 |
| Petty claims | 102.75 |
| Hire of premises | 104.00 |
| Services | 399.50 |
| Travelling expenses | 39.55 |
| Goods supplied | 68.14 |
| Advertising | 16.50 |
| Total | $923.97 |

But Farmer Caldwell goes into particulars. There was, for example, an outlay of $1.26 for nails, which may have been for the political coffin of his doughty opponent, Hon. B. Frank Smith. There was also a load of wood $7.60, which may have been needed for whitening purposes at the corner stores of an evening during the campaign. The cost of halls for meetings varied from $2 in a country place to $30 for a theatre in Woodstock. A cheque book cost fifty cents. Items for teams, meals, railway fares, telegrams, posters and other services are set down with minute detail. Next to the dictionary and the almanac this publication will doubtless be value as a work of reference in the constituency until the next election.

The newspapers (there are four weeklies in the constituency) did not fare very well. The bill for advertising is set down at $16.50, but there is another item of $27.75 paid to one of the papers, making a tribute of $44.25 paid to the power of the press. But Farmer Tom got away with it, and if anybody in Parliament has anything to say about excessive cost of election he will be right there with a copy of the Hartland Observer.

PRODUCE PRICES

Today dealers are paying $1.25 for potatoes; $25 for hay; 45 cents for oats. There is a good demand for fresh butter in prints and the price paid is 35 cents, while tub butter finds poor sale and brings hardly 30 cents. Eggs are being bought at 40 to 42 cents.

Have you heard about Peps? Peps is a scientific preparation put up in a pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles.

Peps contains certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into a vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence healing.

MOTOR CAR EXPORTS

Three months ago when the General Motors Corporation policy of concentrating export business at its Oshawa plant was announced it did not seem that this development would be of much importance to Canadian industry for some time to come. Export business in every line was at its lowest ebb. In the very short space of time that has elapsed much has happened; the Washington Disarmament Conference in particular has succeeded in injecting a note of confidence into international trade; the possibilities of a solution of international currency problems, suggested by the study being given by men of finance to questions of exchange and foreign credits, is another factor that is making exporters and importers more hopeful of the outlook.

Now an average of one hundred automobiles a day are being shipped by the General Motors Oshawa Plant to all parts of the world. This is in addition to the domestic business of the McLaughlin, Chevrolet and Oldsmobile units. The total is rapidly mounting and it is quite possible that shortly the export business of the corporation will exceed the total daily domestic production in Canada before this most recent development.

The cars shipped include Buicks, Chevrolets and Oldsmobiles while the Oakland, another General Motors Corporation car that has never been manufactured in Canada will be added to the list shortly. All of these cars are manufactured in Oshawa. The countries they are shipped to include practically every nation on the map. In a recent visit to the plant the writer passed through the Shipping Room and one trainload that was being made had cars packed for Baranquilla, Canary Islands, London, Eng., Sydney, Christians, Ragoon, Barcelona, Hong Kong and Buenos Ayres. The cars shipped to a subsidiary company in the British Isles but the automobiles for the other points are shipped to local dealers and agencies who have established credits with the General Motors Export Company.

The requirements of the nations to which the cars are shipped are always kept in view. For the English market the cars are all right hand drives, have grey rather than black or blue bodies, cloth tops and the batteries are on the running board. The first is an essential in the British market; the last three features are a recognition of the value of observing the small points that bring favor.

The new shipping building put up by the General Motors Canadian interests at Oshawa about two years ago is now proving its usefulness in the handling of the new business. There is room under one roof for forty-eight freight cars which are loaded with the most scientific precision. The packing of the individual cars is the result of deep study of the subject. The General Motors shops in Oshawa are running to almost full capacity. About 1800 employees are at present on the pay roll. In Walkerville, Ontario where the heavy parts for General Motors cars are made the factories employ about 750 at present. This staff is engaged in the manufacturing of motors, Axles, Transmissions and other heavy parts of McLaughlins, Buicks, Oldsmobiles and Chevrolets which are assembled and finished in the Oshawa factories.

To Canadian business men there is a deep interest in the fact that such a large export business has been built up in Canada practically overnight. In many ways the manufacture of these cars in Canada and their export from Canada will help to solve some of Oshawa, the employment of more men at the plant, and the creation of new business for tanneries, foundries, lumber mill, tire companies, etc. are important considerations but they are not the only ones. The creation of new traffic for the country's underfed railway lines and the building up of a favorable trade balance to offset our already none too satisfactory balance abroad are two benefits that will accrue to Canada from this new development that must be met with general satisfaction. The fact that the shipments are being made as far as possible in Canadian boats is also worthy of attention.

Traffic for a time became entirely blocked, while returned soldiers, weeping women, the "Home settlement board," and private citizens puzzled their wits in vain. Meanwhile the chimney smoked and the stove cracked, desks creaked, tables tilted and chairs upset, until it would evidently appear that the gods of war had suddenly gone into the furniture business.

WINTER ECZEMA 'CHAPS' & COLD-SORES

KEEN wintry weather brings a host of skin troubles. Cold-sores, chapped hands, unsightly face-sores and blotches, become a source of discomfort and annoyance. To end the trouble and make your skin clear, healthy and flexible, give the face, arms and hands, a nightly dressing with pure herbal Zam-Buk.

Zam-Buk instantly soothes the smarting irritation, it kills disease germs, and quickly heals all soreness, roughness and chafing which, neglected, often develops into eczema or other chronic skin disease. Use also Zam-Buk Medicinal Soap and enjoy real skin health.

This was an obstinate case.

Mrs. Henry Amey, 42, Lyall Avenue, Toronto, says:—"My daughter's face and neck were a mass of eczema. Her doctor prescribed treatment for over two months, but to little avail. I was about to call in a skin specialist when I heard of Zam-Buk treatment rescuing other sufferers from this dread disease. So I got a box of Zam-Buk and a tablet of Zam-Buk Medicinal Soap. In a few days these wrought a decided improvement. Day by day the sores gradually healed, and within a month my daughter's skin was thoroughly cleared of the terrible disease."

A Precious Trophy

Val des Bois, about 35 miles from Buckingham, in Quebec Province is a celebrated fishing hunting and trapping district. Mr. A. Larivee, White Deer Lodge, Val des Bois, has a remarkable full grown white deer. How this deer escaped detection and subsequent killing took a long time while Larivee was in the mountains. It was not until the first of January that he was discovered. He lived on the high mountains of Val des Bois. A natural background of white birch and snow made him invisible to the hunter who could not get close to him. Once snow fell his white coat was practically invisible on account of the white background. Not a black or colored hair could be found on his body even the eyes were white. Mr. Larivee first saw the deer as a charge on the white patch on the side of the mountain. Upon examination through field glasses he perceived that it was a white deer. He had seen two specimens before mounted by the taxidermist but he had never imagined he would see one in the wild. He spent about fifteen minutes planning the stalk and studying the mountain in front of him across Green Lake. Mr. Larivee proceeds to tell his story.

"The mountain was negotiated by a chimney or V shaped indentation which I climbed by holding on to the cracks, and small projections of rock by hand and feet. I was a 99 H.P. Savage, ever getting hung over my head. I had been there for an hour and a half when I made a wide circle and came back to the edge. I saw the deer lying down among the white birch trees, a small branch across his back. I saw the deer's head and neck. I decided on an approach. This time I came out at a point where I could not see him, while there was a sheer drop of several hundred feet to be overcome. I was within open shooting distance. It took me two more hours to accomplish this noiselessly, as perfect care having to be taken not to start stones rolling; the dried leaves and small branches were also too much in evidence. I finally secured the position desired only to find that Mr. Deer had got up and wandered farther down the mountain side and was laying down again about six hundred feet below me. With my glasses I found that only six or seven inches of his neck right back of his head, were clear of branches, and the only spot I could get to aim at with a chance of getting the bullet to its mark. "After I shot him it began to rain. I had to get a boat and then had a terrible job of it to drag him down the last two hundred feet to the boat. He was very large; 14 points in the velvet and weighed 201 lbs. dressed. I was tired and wet, but happy after I got him in the boat. It took me four hours of hard and careful stalking, but he was worth it. Three hours later, after securing help, the deer was hung up in my shed, about half a mile from where I shot him, the last portage being done by the light of my electric torch over a mountain."

Railway News in Brief

Vancouver, B.C. — Madame Clara Butt, the famous English contralto, accompanied by Kenneth Humphreys, her husband, a celebrated baritone, will start from Vancouver on February 11th, travelling over the C. P. R. in the private car "Montmorency," on a concert tour which will extend across Canada to Halifax. After completing the tour of Canada Madame Butt will visit the United States, giving concerts at New York, Boston, and other Eastern cities. The company recently completed a tour of Australia.

Winnipeg, Man. — Canadian Pacific Officers at Winnipeg

tendered a complimentary luncheon to W. C. Bowles, formerly general freight agent of Western lines, but who has been promoted to be assistant freight traffic manager for master lines with headquarters in Montreal. The luncheon was presided over by D. C. Coleman, Vice-President, and attended by nearly one hundred officers.

William Campbell Bowles, who is to be assistant to Mr. W. B. Lanigan, freight traffic manager, with offices at Windsor Street Station, Montreal, has ascended the long ladder to success step by step. He joined the service of the C. P. R. on September 1st, 1891, as junior clerk in the office of the general freight agent, Montreal. He continued with the following promotions: September, 1892, stenographer, same office; January, 1896, rate clerk, same office; July, 1896, correspondence clerk, same office; October, 1897, correspondence clerk, freight department, Winnipeg; July, 1899, chief clerk in the freight department, Winnipeg; May, 1900, chief clerk from the department, Calgary; January, 1904, general freight agent, Calgary; March, 1905, assistant general freight agent, Vancouver; November, 1907, general freight agent, Vancouver; March, 1908, general freight agent, Winnipeg; June, 1909, general freight agent, Vancouver; June, 1911, again general freight agent, Winnipeg; January 1st, 1922, promoted to be assistant freight traffic manager, Eastern lines.

Winnipeg, Man. — On his return from Montreal recently, D. C. Coleman, Vice-President of the C. P. R. Western lines, issued the following official statement regarding conditions and improvements of the company's lines west of Fort William:

"Commercial conditions as they exist at the moment have imposed on the C. P. R. as on all other business organizations, a policy of extreme caution with respect to the carrying of large expenditures on capital account. It has been decided therefore, to announce a beginning on such works only as are of an urgent character. Consideration of further expenditure including that for the construction of branch lines, has been postponed until March or April when it is hoped that the outlook will be more clear and that the indications of a steady revival in railway traffic will be more definitely apparent.

"The most important work to be undertaken at once is the building of a large ocean pier at Vancouver. This is justified by the constant growth of ocean traffic through Canadian Pacific ports. It will take approximately eighteen months to complete the work. The filling and dredging for the site has already been completed. The pier will be eight hundred feet long (with provision made for further extension later), three hundred and twenty-eight feet wide, and will carry four way tracks to enable freight to be handled expeditiously between ship and cars. It will be equipped with the most modern facilities for handling passengers and freight, with the construction of this pier, following on the reinforcement of the ocean fleet by the great steamships, the 'Empress of Canada' and the 'Empress of Australia,' the company is confident that it will hold for Canada for many years the blue ribbon of supremacy on the Pacific. To assist in the prompt movement of traffic, mechanical coaling plants of an improved type will be erected at Eagle River, Ont., La Riviere, Man., Estevan, Sask., Swift Current, Sask., and Medicine Hat, Alta.

"The growth of the fruit traffic on Okanagan Lake justifies the building of an additional ice storage building at Okanagan Landing, B.C., and this will be undertaken at once. Automatic protection signals will be installed at Sidney, Man., and Ruby Creek, B.C.

"Water supplies at the following plants will be improved with a view to meeting the demands of increased traffic which may be expected, Rathwell, MacGregor, and Wheatlands in Manitoba; Friesburg, Macoun, Elbow, Parkburg, Fauna, Outlook and Gulf Lake in Saskatchewan; Bow Island and Lundbreck in Alberta; and Elkton and Creston in British Columbia.

"The new office building at Moose Jaw and the important extension to the island coal dock at Fort William will be pressed to completion and a considerable amount of work will be carried on in the replacement and standardization of bridges on the line."

Headaches Gone

Perhaps you can imagine what this means to one who has suffered terribly with headaches for ten years.

Read about it in this letter.

Mrs. Tena A. Smith, Country Harbor Cross Roads, N. S., writes:

"I feel that if anyone can recommend Dr. Chase's medicine I certainly can. I suffered for ten years from severe headaches, and although I took all kinds of headache powders they just relieved me at the time. I became very nervous and run-down, and everything seemed to trouble me. I have taken eighteen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and it has made an entirely new person of me. I felt that I could not have lived without it. I do not have one headache now for every hundred I used to have, and my nerves are good and strong. I just weighed 109 pounds when I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and now I weigh 121. Knowing what this treatment has done for me, I cannot too highly recommend it to others."

DAUGHTER WAS WEAK AND NERVOUS

Mother Gave Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with Happy Results

Cobourg, Ontario.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me for my daughter. She had trouble every month which left her in a weak and nervous condition with weak back and pain in her right side. She had these troubles for three years and frequently was unable to attend school. She has become regular and feels much better since she began taking the Vegetable Compound and attends school regularly.—Mrs. JOHN TOWN, Ball St., Cobourg, Ontario.

Every mother who has a daughter suffering from such symptoms should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It is prepared from roots and herbs, and can be taken in safety by young or old. It has been used nearly fifty years, and many, many women owe their good health today to the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
