London, June 13-4 a.m.-Gen. Buller was unable on Monday to follow up the Boers for lack of cavalry, as well as water. The dispatches describe him as fighting a spirited advance over a rugged field, under prolonged rifle fire. The Boers had two guns, which they got away. Few dead or wounded Boers were found. WHERE IS METHUEN? London, June 12 .- The following dispatch has been received at the war office from Gen. Forestier-Walker, in command of the lines of communication in South Africa:

"Cape Town, June 12 .- The following is from Kelly-Kenny: "June 11 .- No communication from Methuen since June 7. He was fighting June 6 to the north of Vetchkop. Steyn is near Reitz. "The British prisoners sent to Vrede are well treated.' RESTORING CONNECTION. London, June 12 .- A comparison of Gen. Kelly-Kenny's dispatch, at Honing Spruit, with the maps available, shows apparently that the British line of communication, cut by the Boers, has been restored by the movement of troops from the north towards Honing Spruit, to reach which place they would have to pass through Roodeval if they followed the railroad. The fact that Gen. Kelly-Kenny says Gen. Knox will move out from Kroonstad to "intercept the enemy" would seem to indicate that the Boers are retreating before the northern British force, of Honing Spruit, have been sent to intercept them, if possible. GEN. HUNTER. London, June 13.-From the subjoined telegram, dated Bloemfontein, June 12, it would appear that Gen. Hunter was in command of the troops refer-red to by Gen. Kelly-Kenny in the above dispatch: "Gen. Hunter is coning up rapidly from the northwest, having severely defeated a large commando of Boers who had destroyed

MIDDLEBURG. A dispatch from Lorenzo Marquez says that 15,000 Boers are reported to be retiring on Middleburg, from various quarters, and that after weeding out the faint-hearted, 20,000 steadfast men are still left. Lord Methuen, Gen. Rundle and Gen. Brabant are reported to have 35,000 men and guns engaged in inclosing the Boers in the eastern part of Orange River Colony.

BRITISH CASUALTY RETURNS. The war office casualty returns up to June 9 aggregate 23,664, besides 792 officers and 12,355 men sent home as invalids, but not including the sick in South African hospitals.

Review

OF THE SITUATION. London, Wednesday, June 13.-Two pieces of news encouraging to the British in the official dispatches are that the broken communications of Lord Roberts are in a fair way to be mended by the forces moving northwards and southwards and driving off the roving commandoes, and that Sir Redvers Buller is at last master of Lord Roberts and Lord Methuen have Laing's Nek. Telegraphic communica-tion with Lord Roberts is expected to be restored today, as a dispatch from Bloemfontein yesterday says that the railway is in British possession again, and that the work of repairing the line is going on rapidly with the abundant material warehoused at Bloemfontein. A dispatch from Lorenzo Marquez reports the arrival there of Greenberg. the agent of the Creusot works, from the Transvaal, on his way to Europe. He says that Boer resistance is prac-

posted by President Kruger on Sunday

London, June 12-9:12 p.m.-The war 1 at Machadodorp: "On June 7 four divisions of burghers, commanded by Steenkamp, Froneman, Duploy, Fourie and Nel, attacked the British at Roodeval, killed 200, took 700 prisoners and captured immense stores of food and ammunition, a Maxim gun and 1,000 lyddite shells. Some food was taken by the Boer farmers and the rest was The English mail was taken. The burghers attacked from the open veldt, and gave evidence of unprecedented bravery.

Gen. Dewet was also fighting on June 6, whether at Roodeval or elsewhere is not clear; but the Boer war office gives it out that he captured 3,000 suits of clothing, blankets, gloves, boots, etc Being unable to carry them with him in his rapid sweep through the country, according to the Transvaal war office, he burned the whole mass. Gen. Dewet has also reported that he put 1,000 British out of action and destroyed property valued at £100,000. As Lord Methuen is officially described as fighting on June 7, it is possible that he was engaging Gen. Dewet.

According to a dispatch to the Daily Express from Machadodorp, dated June 10, via Lorenzo Marquez, those around President Kruger say that Louis Botha and Delarey have been offered indirectly £10,000 a year to lay down their arms, and President Kruger expects the same offer to be made to himself, President Steyn and Dewet. President Kruger believes that the British make these offers to close the war on the principle that it would cost less than to fight it out.

DID LEYDS DECEIVE THEM? Antwerp, June 13.—A correspondent interviewed Dr. Leyds, the diplomatic agent of the Transvaal, on the present situation in South Africa. Dr. Leyds said that it was decided months ago to abandon Pretoria. The fortifications were not prepared for a defense of the city, and it would require too many troops. Besides this, it would not leave any men to harass Gen. Roberts' rear and line of communications. The moral effect of the occupation, Dr. Levds said, was nil.

Despite his declarations, Dr. Leyds' position is becoming untenable. generally believed here that he wilfully deceived the presidents of the two Boer republics by telling them that Euro pean intervention was sure to come. Interest in the war here is declining.

THE CAPE CABINET. Cape Town, June 12.—Premier Schreiner is engaged in reforming the cabinet owing to the resignation of Messrs, Merriman, treasurer: J. Sauer, commissioner of public works, and Dr. Te Water, minister without portfolio. At the recent bond caucus, the premier's policy was generally condemned. The chief point of difference relates to the treatment of rebels. The Bond, led by Messrs. Hoffmeyer and Te Water, desired general amnesty. Mr. Schreiner urged a scheme, recommended by the imperial government. under which a special tribunal will try the rebels. Convicted leaders will be imprisoned and personally disfranchised, and the rank and file will be disfranchised for a period. It is understood Mr. Schreiner's policy will be supported by the entire Loyalist party, which is indorsed by the loyal public opinion of South Africa.

INVALIDED MEN. London, June 13 .- The officials returns show that five Canadians invalided home have now returned to South Africa, namely: 7,664, Pte. Martin; 7,393, Corp. Stewart; 7,474, Pte. Colman; 7,852, Pte. Proulx; 7,659, Pte. Moore. One Canadian, Pte. Bateson, 7,020, has joined the Royal Horse Artillery, and Pte. Craig and Pte Beach, 7,179 and 7,021, are on furlough here, instead of drafting them back to South Africa.

The war office still continues to send them to the provisional camp at Shorncliffe to await the development of imperial Canadian plans. The military authorities are at a loss to know what to do with some of these Shorncliffe Canadians. One has become insane. The war office publishes the names of four officers and 43 men who have died from disease in the hospitals, including Lance-Corporal A. F. Vanornan, of the Canadian mounted infantry, who died of enteric fever at Bloemfontein.

RED CROSS WORK. Ottawa, June 13 .- Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, writing to Lord Minto, under date of May 24, and inclosing correspondence from Lord Roberts and Lord Methuen, says: "I observe with great pleasure the high terms on which reported of the work of the Canadian Red Cross Society." On March 29 Lord Roberts writes the secretary of war from Government House, Bloemfontein, forwarding a letter from Lord Methuen, bearing testimony to the excellent work done by the Canadian Red Cross Society at Kimberley, and the energy and zeal of Lieut.-Col. Ryerson. The date of Lord Methuen's letter is March 19. He says, in writing to the chief-of-staff: "I wish to bring before the commander-in-chief the fine and unostentatious work performed by the Canadian Red Cross Society here, under the guidance of Lieut.-Col. Ryerson." The day that following bulletin, the Boer version of Lord Methuen wrote four Canadian the disaster to the Derbyshires, was nurses had arrived. toria residency at 8:08 a.m. today: Pretoria, June 12.-Pretoria and Johannesburg are perfectly quiet, and several of the inhabitants have expressed gratitude for the peace and order which prevail. After surrendering the city, Botha retired to a place about fifteen miles east on the Middleburg road. He had a small force at first, but during the last few days his numbers increased, and his being so near the town kept up the excitement in the country, prevented the burghers from laying down their arms, and interfered with the collection of supplies. It therefore became necessary to attack him. This I did yesterday. He held a very strong position, practically

UNASSAILABLE IN FRONT, which enabled him to place the main portion of his troops on his flanks, which he knew from former experience were his vunerable parts. I sent French with Porter's and Dixon's cavalry brigades and Hutton's mounted infantry round by our left, and Ian Hamilton with Broadwood and Gordon's cavalry brigade, Ridley's mounted infantry and Bruce Hamilton's infantry brigade round by our right. The Future

OF THE AFRICAN COLONIES. London, June 13.-It is learned by the Associated Press that the government has decided upon a plan for the civil settlement of South Africa. The Orange River Colony and the Transvaal will become crown colonles, the latter probably being renamed the Transvaal Colony. Sir Alfred Milner, it is declared, is to be high commissioner of South Africa. The crown colony form of government can best be understood by reference to the system in vogue in the West Indies, Sierra Leone and Ceylon. Sir Alfred Milner appears to believe that civil reorganization and military pacification can proceed simultaneously, and that a possible scattered rising will not seri-ously retard the progress of reorgantzation once it is begun. The colonial office is said to be of the opinion, however, that the maintenance of goodsized garrisons at such centers as Bioemfontein, Kroonstad, Johannes-burg and Fretoria will be necessary for a long time after the crown colony system gets in working order. For this reason and others put forward by Sir Alfred Milner, the idea of granting an autonomous form of government has been abandoned. It is believed that a portion of the Transvaal will be partitioned off to Natal. The final steps in this decision have been taken during the last few days. Mr. Cham-berlain sent for Mr. J. P. Fitzpatrick, author of "The Transvaal from Within," who is well known in connection with South African affairs, and spent a whole day in consultation with him. Mr. Fitzpatrick will sail for Cape Town June 16 to join the advisory committee which Sir Alfred Milner is forming. Sir Alfred Milner asserts that he is doing all that is possible to reopen business, but is discouraging the return of the uitlanders until the questions of transportation and food cupply is more settled.

BLEEDING,

A Middlesex Farmer Who Suffered Intense Agony Montreal. for About Five Years-Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

It is doubtful if there ever was a remedy that was indorsed by such an overwhelming mass of evidences as is Dr. Chase's Ointment. The remarkable soothing, healing qualities of Dr. Chase's Ointment are a mystery to physicians, and though they are slow to recognize merit in any discovery they oin heartily with people of other callings in indorsing and recommending Dr. Chase's Ointment as the most suc cessful treatment ever devised for piles and itching skin diseases.

The following letter from a prominent farmer of Middlesex county is sample of thousands of such letters on file in these offices. It goes to prove the claim that Dr. Chase's Oint-ment is an absolute cure for piles, and this claim is made because in the past 30 years Dr. Chase's Ointment has never been known to fail to cure

Mr. F. G. Harding, retired farmer, living at Nilestown, Middlesex county, Ont., writes as follows: "I have been troubled with bleeding and itching piles for four or five years, and suffered intense agony at times, I had tried almost everything, but could get nothing that would give relief. On hearing of Dr. Chase's Ointment I procured a box, and it only required part of it to cure me. I am recommending it to all afflicted as I was." Dr. Chase's Ointment is sold by all dealers in every part of this contiment, and is recognized as the one positive cure for piles and itching skin diseases. 60 cents a box. By mail, Remarkable Curative Properties of a Ramady for Indigestion and Stomach Weakness.

Stuart's . Dyspepsia Tablets, a pre-vegetable and fruit essences, pure pep-sin and Golden Seal, every one of which act effectively in digesting the food eaten, thereby resting and invig-orating the weak stomach; rest is nature's cure for any disease, but you cannot rest the stomach unless you put into it something that will do its work or assist in the digestion of food.

That is exactly what Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do. One grain of the digestive principle contained in them will digest 3,000 grains of meat, eggs or similar wholesome foods; they will digest the food whether the stomach is in working order or not, thereby nourishing the body and resting the stomach at the same time, and rest and nourishment is nature's cure for any weakness.

In persons run down in flesh and appetite, these tablets build up the strength and increase flesh, which the weak stomach cannot do: they increase the flow of gastric juice and prevent fermentation, acidity and sour, watery Charges Relating to the Emergency Rations Will Be Investigated-Papers Brought Down.

Ottawa, June 12.-The minister of militia this afternoon laid on the table of the house papers relating to the emergency rations supplied to the 1st and 2nd battalions of Mounted Rifles, now on duty in South Africa. He promised to supplement these documents with certified copies of affidavits made by the five soldiers who underwent the food test in Kingston last year, to gether with the chemical analysis of the food used at that time and of samples served out to the troops, as soon as the papers are obtainable. The samples of rations analyzed were taken from the boxes intended for the troops while in transit to Halifax, and the analysis in that case will show the exact composition of the condensed ed, Gen Knox adds that Kroonstad is food given to the mounted rifles, and quite safe." will set at rest the question of whether or not the food was as nutritious as it was represented by the contractor to be. Sir Wilfred Laurier gave the assurance that if the papers were found to be obscure and did not clear the matter up sufficiently it would be in the power of any member to ask for an inquiry, and the government would furnish the fullest information they were able to afford. Mr. Monk, paration for the cure of dyspepsia and who has been pondering the matter the various forms of indigestion and over for several days, intimated that stomach trouble, owes its great success a charge would be forthcoming shortas a cure for these troubles to the fact ly. He asked for the production of that it is prepared for disease and an order made by the minister of mi-weakness of the stomach and digestive litta, under which food intended for weakness of the stomach and digestive organs only, and is not recommended or advised for any other disease.

It is not a cure-all, but for any stomach trouble it is undoubtedly the safest, most sensible remedy that can be advised with the prospect of a permanent cure. It is prepared in tablet form pleasant to taste composed of mation on the subject would be given. form, pleasant to taste, composed of mation on the subject would be given to the house, and if necessary an investigation granted, but Mr. Clarke Wallace and other members persisted in an attempt to cross-examine the minister of militia. The member for West York in particular, spoke in a most abusive strain, and soured into the realms of imagination when he alleged that there was evidence of an enormous piece of rascality. Unfortunately for himself he overstepped the mark with a reference to the 'minister who is charged with wrongdoing." Instantly Dr. Borden was on his feet and bowled Mr. Wallace over with the question of "Does the honorable gentleman make the charge?" Considerably nonplussed the member for West York hastisted apparently at for West York hesitated, apparently at for West York hesitated, apparently at a loss for a reply. "Does the honorable gentleman make a charge? I ask him right now," demanded the minister of militia sternly. By this time Mr. Wallace had gained his usual assurance somewhat, and he rather weakly answered: "That transparent game of bluff won't go now." It is quite evident from the course which the opposition are pursuing in this the opposition are pursuing in this and other matters that they have resolved upon a campaign of mud-slinging, a policy of making hints and innuendoes against members of the government in the belief that finally they will stumble upon something which will enable them to raise the cry of tactics have proved unavailing, and there is not the faintest prospect of the Conservatives being able during the remainder the session to raise any question which is not capable of a complete and thorough explanation. The return which Dr. Borden laid on the table contains several interesting documents.

Mr. Davin today undertook to vente what he alleged to be a scandal but the result was a ludicrous failure. The honorable gentleman, in fact, was literally hoisted with his own petard. He charged that Hon. Mr. petard. He charged that Hon. Mr. Sifton changed the timber regulations in Manitoba in order to allow his brother-in-law, Mr. Burrows, to get a timber berth without public tender, but that subsequently the minister re-scinded the change, and that the permit to cut timber was not granted to Mr. Burrows until after the cancellation had gone into effect. Hon. Mr. Sutherland characterized the statements of the member of West Assinibola as untrue, and gave facts in support of this assertion. The change in the regulations to which Mr. Davin referred was recommended in the interest of the settlers by the land commissioner, and other sawmill owners were granted permits at the same time as Mr. Burrows. After an exhaustive debate Mr. Davin's motion for an investigation was defeated by 71 to 37, and the house went into committee of supply.

The senate having concurred in the address of congratulation to the Queen upon the fall of Pretoria and the approaching completion of the war in South Africa, upon motion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, seconded by Mr. Foster, it was forwarded to the governor-general for presentation at the foot of the throne

ON TRIAL

Wilson, Defaulting Teller at Toronto Gives Testimony in His Own

Toronto, June 13 .- George McC. Wilson, defaulting teller of the Toronto branch of the Merchants' Bank, who has already admitted the theft of $2,-000, and is on trial on a charge of stealing the package of $10,000 in notes that disappeared while in his charge, took the witness stand on his own behalf. He swore that he knew nothing of the missing $10,000. Witness said that many years ago he had taken money from the bank, and had been struggling to make it good. He had kept these de falcations from being discovered by sending out bogus checks from time to time to straighten the balances. He had fallen into the hands of money-lenders, who had fleeced him without mercy. Wilson gave the names of a number of men to whom he had repaid rarge sums. In all, by the various devices he had practiced, he had taken about $6,400, of which the last $2,000 was in sums of $1,000 each. He said he was entirely innocent of stealing the $10,000 now charged against him, and believed someone else in the bank had taken that. It might easily have been abstracted from the teller's cage, par-ticularly if, as he believed, he had left the cage unlocked when he went to lunch on the day the package disappeared.

Wilson's wife swore that she had been told to see her husband in jail, and tell him that there would be no prosecution if he would tell where the stolen $10,000 was to be found. His answer was: "Allie, if you were lying

The old saying "The best is always cheapest," simply means that if you have to pay more for the "best" its greater value will compensate for the extra cost. Cash Talks

It is frequently a matter of wonder how we can sell such good goods at such close prices. We have no difficulty answering. There are no "etceteras" to this business. Cash and cash only buys goods here. The Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, though a wonderful woman, could not get credit here. She wouldn't ask it. She doubtless knows that cash buys bigger parcels, like queens hereabouts. Whenever a sale is made at this store that ends it—no bad accounts. Under the credit system some who buy don't pay. Query-Who stands the loss, the other customers or the storekeeper?

Five Members of the McArthur Family Buried Today.

Moosomin, N. W. T., June 13 .- The funeral of the McArthur family, murdered by the man Morrison, took place today, when Mr. and Mrs. McArthur and three children were laid to rest in Moosomin cemetery. A large procession from Welwyn district followed the bodies, and when the procession arrived at the burial grounds hundreds of Moosomin people were waiting to pay their last respects to the respected family.

Moosomin ladies decorated all the coffins with flowers and trimmed the graves with boughs. The five coffins were laid side by side in one large grave. It was certainly the saddest sight Moosomin has ever witnessed. During the funeral services a number of the stores were closed and the town in general had a sad appearance. The only girl who was left uninjured attended the funeral with her uncle from Winnipeg, and had to be supported at the grave.

Rochester, N. Y., June 12.—Mike Don-ovan, of Rochester, and Charley Johnson, of Philadelphia, fought 25 rounds to a draw before nearly 1,300 spectators at the Fallsfield A. C. last evening. Donovan had the better of the mill to the 17th round, after which he seemed to tire somewhat, and at the close of the bout Johnson was using his right freely. As both men seemed to be in good condition at the wind-up Referee McCarty could find no other decision than a draw. Straight Marquis of Queensbery rules governed.

New York, June 12.—Terry McGov-ern, of Brooklyn, knocked out Tommy White, of Chicago, in the third round of what was to have been a 25-round bout at 128 pounds, before the Coney Island Sporting Club tonight. The little champion gave his opponent no rest from the sound of the gong in the opening round until the referee had counted off the fatal ten seconds.

Progress in the Northwest.

How the Northwest is being taken 1p is shown by the enormous increase in the sales of land to actual settlers far the best record in the world. by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. During May, this year, the company sold 66,000 acres for $215,00 pared with 39,470 acres for $125,922 in the corresponding month of last year.

It will be observed that the company continues to sell its lands-all choice selections-at a low price. Its managers exhibit wisdom. It is much better to sell the land to those who will work it and add to the prosperity of the country than to hold it for a rise in the future. The development of paying traffic is what the company is after.

An Important Distinction.

It is of the highest importance that in a democratic country there should be freedom of speech, and that men should be trained to listen calmly to views different from their own. If our case is strong, we should be all the icisms upon it.

In England recently there has been considerable intolerance manifested towards those who have on the platform espoused the cause of the Boers. This Will can be understood when we remember the great loss of life caused by the Boer attack on Britain, but none the less it is to be regretted. In the British House of Commons there are members who hold out and express similar erto co-operated if he only holds out for views to those of Mr. Bourasssa, and terms a little longer.

The Upposition with whom he has inthepartment of the Upposition with their speeches are listened to, and accepted, as part of the situation. We think that Mr. Bourassa has a perfect let us remember that toleration does keep courageously to its moderate size, that coincide with our own. It was proposed to congratulate the Queen upon the prospect of an early termination of the war. Surely that is a matter upon which all may unite. The gracefulness of an address to the Queen is somewhat marred by a stormy scene and apparent want of unanimity.

Frenchmen are, as a rule, noted for their courtesy and quick perception of the fitness of things, and so we are all the more surprised that Mr. Bourassa should take that attitude. Still there was no need to get wild and shout over it. If freedom of speech is to be preserved, the hearers, especially if they are leading men, must keep calm, but the speakers also must show some consideration for the feelings of others.

Some think that Sir Wilfrid Laurier seized the essential point of the situation. It is not that a member is not tree to dissent from the policy of the but not seriously.

Government; but it is this: that there is a time to speak and a time to be silent. To speak when the only possible effect can be to stir up fierce anger is not a proof of wisdom, though it may show some courage.

Three sites are mentioned as possibilities, each of considerable height above Lake Superior. One is on top of the far-famed Thunder Cape, a second on Pie Island, in Thunder Bay, and the third on the top of Mount McKay, overlooking Fort William, three miles distant. One neceselement in the location is freedom from musquitoes. The hotel would of course be of the very first class, and correspond as a summer resort to the southern places for the winter. A steamer would also run to the hotel from Lake Erle ports.

Two Thousand Boxers Defeated by a Few British Bluejackets.

Chancellor of the Japanese Legation Massacred-The Composition of the International Expedition to Pekin.

London, June 13. - Sixteen British to Pekin, fought and chased 2,000 Boxers on Monday, killing 20 or 30. A correspondent accompanying the column, in a dispatch, dated Tien Tsin, June 12, via Shanghai, June 13, 6:15 a.m., says:

"While the working parties, accompanied by a patrol of 16 British marines, commanded by Major Johnson, were repairing the line Monday afternoon, eight miles beyond Lofa, they encountered small parties of Boxers who were destroying the line. The Boxers moved away from the advanced marines, and apparently dispersed into the country, leaving the rails moved and the sleepers burning.

"The marines, when two miles in advance of the first train, near Lang Fang, suddenly perceived the Boxers streaming from a village on their left. It was estimated that they numbered 2,000, some of them being mounted, and they were trying to get between the marinese and the train. Most of them were armed with spears and swords A few had firearms, which they handled awkwardly. The marines retreated, keeping up a running fight for over a mile, and killing between 20 and 30. The Boxers pursued the British for some distance.

BOXERS PUNISHED.

"Then seeing more marines from the train coming to their assistance, Major Johnston's sixteen halted and poured a heavy, continuous fire into the crowd. driving them across the front of the reinforcing bluejackets, who punished the Boxers severely with Maxims. The Boxers fled, and the Europeans, following up their success, cleared out two villages. The total loss of the Boxers is estimated at 40 killed and wounded. Seven of their wounded were attended by British surgeons. The British was nothing.

HEADLESS BODIES. "Unless their loss causes the Boxers to lose heart, the international column will have much trouble before it reaches The railway is so much damaged that the column only covered 34 miles Sunday and Monday, and there is reason to fear that the road beyond is more badly damaged. Evidences of Gen. Nieh's operations were found in headless bodies. The whole country presents a desolate aspect, entire villages having been deserted.

THE INTERNATIONAL FORCE. "The expedition numbers 2,044, as follows: British, 915; German, 250; Russian, 300; French, 128; American, 104; Japanese, 52; Italian, 40, and Austrian,

Heart Disease. Kilbourne, Wis., June 13. - Belle

Boyd, famous confederate spy during the civil war, died here Monday night from heart disease, aged 57 years. She was here on a lecturing tour. Belle Boyd's father held a place under the federal government at Washington before the war. She was a sharp-featured, black-eyed woman of 25, with a dash of manner, a quickness of retort, and an utter abandon of manner and bearing which often carried her over the boundary of modesty. She carried a revolver in her belt, rode a spirited horse, and easily ingratiated herself into the attention of young Union officers, from whom she would extract valuable military information. She also had in the valley of Virginia a sisterhood of coadjutors, who reported to her frequently—ladies who had the good sense not to make themselves so conspicuous as she was, and whose services were unknown, except to her, and were therefore effective. She went to England after the war and married. When her husband died she went on the stage. In the early seventies she married again. Of late years she has lec-

WEEKLY. The principal feature of the grain markets for the week just closing was the recovery of part of the losses in oats and wheat the previous week. At today's session, good wheat sold at $1 08 and oats at 95c to 97c. The supply of both has been light all week and the demand good.

Very little of any other kind of grain came in, and with the exception of beans-of which a few single bag lots offered - the prices quoted are based on sales from one to two weeks old. The seed business is about over for this year. No Hungarian, millet or buckwheat offered, and these are the only seasonable lines now.

Both dressed and live hogs have made quite an advance this week; the was light thd the demand good; the advance was about 25c to 50c re-

WEAK LUNGS.

Many persons are in a condition to invite Pneumonia or Consumption by reason of inherited tendency or other causes. They catch cold easily-find it difficult to get rid of an ordinary cough or cold. We would advise all such people to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It is a wonderful strengthener and healer of the breathing organs, and fortifies the lungs against serious pulmonary diseases. Miss Clara Marshall, Moore, Ont., writes: 'I have suffered several years with weak lungs and could get no cure, so became discouraged. If I caught cold it was hard to get rid of it. I started using Dr. Wood's Morway Pine Syrup, and as a result my cough has been cured and my lungs greatly Detroit Street Railway Deadlock About Over.

Hamilton Molders Will Not Strike-Quiet Reigns in St. Louis-Labor Notes.

Detroit Free Press, June 13: Vice-President Hutchins and General Manager du Pont, of the Citizens' Street Railway Company, met the executive committee of the Street Railway Employes' Union at the company's office yesterday afternoon, and discussed the new method of arbitration that the men have been trying to have accepted for some time. The method which the company offered is, in the opinion of Delegate McLeod and most of the committee, a very fair one.

In case of dispute the subject in question is first brought up before a board consisting of the superintendent of the company and the officers of the association. In case these may not be able to agree, the matter is to be referred to a board of review consisting of the president, vice-president and the manager of the company, which sits the first and third Tuesday of each month. If the matter cannot be satisfactorily settled here, the whole is referred to a board of arbitration the day following.

The manner of choosing the board of arbitration has been changed so as to obviate any danger of the deadlock, which has been a feature in the past. The company and the association each selects one member, and these in turn choose a third. If judgment is not rendered promptly the matter is referred back to the board of review. Either party may object to the arbitrator chosen by the other, and in such case a new selection must be made within two days. If a new arbitrator is not named within that time, the matter in dispute is considered forfeited by the party failing to do so.

While the representatives of the men were well satisfied with the proposition made by the company, it was consider-ed advisable to lay the matter before the men before accepting it. A meeting will probably be called for Thursday evening, and there is little doubt the agreement will be signed the following

The strike of the Ottawa builders' laborers is practically over. The men who had been getting $1 50 wanted $1 80 per day; $1 65 was offered, but they re-fused to accept it. The contractors have now got enough non-union men to permit them to go on with their work

AGED 93 YEARS

Death of Samuel Alcorn, a Prominent Resident of Toronto, Who Married Miss Harvey, of This City.

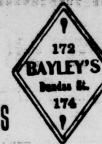

Toronto lost one of its wealthiest and most philanthropic citizens last night by the death of Mr. Samuel Alcorn, at his residence, 143 Bloor street west. Mr. Alcorn had been in his usual good health until a week ago, when, being down town at a meeting of the Consumers' Gas Company, he caught a chill, which developed into bronchial trouble and proved fatal, despite the careful attention of his physicians, Drs. Albert Macdonald and J. D. Thorburn. The great age of the patient-Mr. Alcorn was in his 93rd year-was greatly against recovery.

Mr. Samuel Alcorn was born in Ireland, and over 50 years ago came to Canada and established himself at Quebec, where for many years he carried on a wholesale crockery business. A little over twenty years ago he retired from business, and went to live in Toronto, the home of his only child, Mrs. John Macdonald, of "Oaklands," widow of the late Senator Macdonald. Mr. Alcorn was greatly interested in charitable work and has been for many years one of the most active of the managers of the House of Industry. He married first, Miss Norris, of Quebec, who died about three years ago. Some time after her death he married Miss Harvey, of London, who survives him. Mrs. Macdonald, of "Oaklands" was not able to reach her father's bedside last night, but Mr. Fraser Macdonald was

A Toronto Physician Says It Never Exists Without the Presence of Some Kidney Disease.

Toronto, June 11.-The number of sudden deaths due to heart disease is appalling. The medical profession is devoting more attention to the heart and its ailments at the present time than ever before, and many physicians are making a specialty of diseases of this organ. A Toronto doctor, who devotes much of his attention to this branch of his practice, said to your reporter today, "I have yet to learn of a single case where heart disease caused death, in which a post mortem examination did not show the existence of Bright's Disease, Diabetes, or some other kidney disease." Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure all disease of the kidneys and thus ward off the danger of heart diseases.

HIGH PRAISE BY

Adjutant-General of the Canadian Forces.

London's Camp Among the Best That He Has Seen.

Removal of the Camp From London-Arrangements for Tonight's

Yesterday at noon, Col. Aylmer, adjutant-general of the Canadian forces. took over the command of the camp on Carling's Heights. In company with Lieut.-Col. Holmes, D. O. C., he rode through the lines, and made an informal inspection of the camp. In a subsequent interview he said that its controops were of a splendid class. He lines were kept.

The adjutant-general mentioned the 1st Hussars as being composed of men of fine physique; and also that their mounts were exceptionally good. He commented particularly and approvingly upon the strict observance of the canteen law. Since his arrival in London he had seen only one drunken man, in command. and he was a civilian. "In fact," he continued, "I have seen many camps here and elsewhere, and this is the best one I have seen yet."

Such commendation coming from the the officers of this district peared to enter into it with renewed capital will be assured. vigor.

There appears to be considerable dissatisfaction among the officers with London as the seat of the camp. It had its foundation, apparently, in the Pretoria demonstration. A considerable number of the officers chose to believe that they were not received with due applause, and consequently that the citizens are not as appreciative as they should be. The feeling that was thus aroused was strengthened by certain succeeding events. For instance, they believed that the city ought to help defray the expense of the tattoo, since it was arranged entirely for the pleasure of the public. However, what appears to be the greatest cause of dissatisfaction is the camp ground itself. With the new tactical drill that is being introduced, more ground is necessary. For these reasons the officers consider themselves justified in commencing an agitation for the removal of the camp from this city. They speak of some place in the neighborhood of Port Stanley, on the lake shore, being a more suitable location.

The grounds this morning were unusually busy. The presence of the adjutant-general, Col. Aylmer, and of the quartermaster-general, Col. Foster, who arrived this morning, caused all corps to have the smartest appearance possible. Both the brigades were inspected by the former. Col. Foster toured the camp and inspected the 1st Hussans condition of the various regiments was very satisfactory.

Several fatigue parties were busily engaged this morning arranging for tonight's tattoo. It will undoubtedly be a grand success, if the weather is propitious. Thousands of chairs have been placed in the ring for the accommodation of the public, and every-thing possible will be done to assure comfort and pleasure. The officers in whose hands arrangements are, say that there will be no cause for easiness because of frightened horses. The entertainment will commence about 8:30 o'clock. The programme is as follows:

Gun Fire First Post....Buglers, 1st and 2nd Brigades, Trumpeters, 1st Hussars Bands....1st Brigade and Cadet Corps "Rule Britannia."

"British Grenadiers" Bugle March.....1st and 2nd Brigades Massed Bands.. "Soldiers of the Queen

The programme will be supplemented with pyrotechnic effects. Major Galloway, who has been appointed musketry inspector for the various camps, has gone to Niagara.

Thence he will go to Kingston. Since camp opened there have been 65 cases in the hospital. Thirty patients were received this morning, and 21 had to stay in the hospital. of those in hospital are seriously ill. Last night Pte. The Dowager Empress Gone Over, Bag and Baggage, to the Boxers-Extraordinary Rumors.

New York, June 13 .- A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: There is a general feeling in diplomatic circles that the European powers have been united by the dismissal of Prince journed for another week to allow Ching, and that in the purging of the Chinese war office of all its moderate men, the empress dowager has gone over to the Boxers, bag and baggage, and that the powers have been forced to operate in the restoration of order at Pekin, even if the services of Russian troops are required. Lord Roberts' Dispatch Ends Suspense -Buller Fulfilling the Commander's Hope.

London, June 13 .- Lord Roberts' dispatch is regarded as eminently satisfactory. It ends a period of suspense, and indicates what a strong grip he has on the situation. The result of the battle between Lord Roberts' forces and those of Gen. Botha is eagerly awaited here, but it is believed the Boer commander will only complete his retirement, which he seems already to have commenced. The decisive victory scored by Gens. Methuen and Kitchener is regarded as likely to have a more far-reaching effect than any other recent action in the Orange River Colony. Gen. Kitchener's progress south, it is believed, must have almost equaled the records of all forced marches.

BULLER'S SUCCESSFUL MARCH. Gen. Buller is rapidly fulfilling Lord Roberts' hope that he will make his forces felt. A dispatch from Joubert's Farm, under today's date, announces the continuation of Buller's successful march, the occupation of Volksrust, without opposition, and the capture of a number of prisoners, while the Boer casualties yesterday are reported to have been very heavy.

a train at Smaldeel and destroyed two miles of the line. But subsequent dispatches show that Gen. Hunter routed all the Boers in that neighborhood. The Earl of Airlie, whose death Lord Roberts deplores, was one of the most popular members of the nobility, and commanded the 12th Lancers. Lieut, Cavendish was the son and heir of Lord Chesham. Major Fortescue was formerly aide-de-camp to Lord Seymour in Canada.

Yes, he was most noble; but I-Ishowed him that I could be as noble as he, though I was only the gardener's caughter. They praised her in the most glowing words they could command, and Lindsay Greville added: "After all, the triumph would not have been so great as it seemed, for Tracy is comparatively poor now. It transpired only a few days after your disappearance that there was another claimant to Cedarhurst, so the Tempests had to step down and out." A cry of wonder and alarm came from her beautiful lips. She gazed at wonder, mixed with dismay. How had the secret so sacredly guardtrunspired. Was it possible that Tracy Tempest aiready knew her as whom he had been so kind so chivalrous, yet who was to come between him and a noble inheritance?

Many months ago her father had told her all, and, strange, to say, she had failed to connect the story of the woman she had released from the haunted wing at Cedarhurst. Perhaps one might have done so, but that he showed her a grave in sunny Italy with her mother's name on the stonea grave that was in reality that of the consumptive maid the Tempests had taken abroad with them to represent Virginia Tempest while she was locked into the ruined wing at Cedarhurst, an almost maddened prisoner.

By Vixen's own desire their stay abroad had been protracted two years. She was reluctant to return since she had learned the truth. She had hated to think she should come between Tracy empest and the noble inheritance he believed would be his own.

And now, when homeward bound, at last, she was to hear suddenly the curred to interrupt it as before." news that her place was filled by a usurper; that trouble and loss had come to her idol by the false arts of one he despised and scorned.

'I see you have not heard one word of the story," said Herbert Arden. "It is as romantic as one of Lindsay's novels, and, by the by I see your are reading his 'True Love and False.'" "Yes; but go on with your story," she said, with unconscious impati-

He smiled, and began:

"'Once upon a time,' as the story books say, Tracy Tempest's father had an old uncle who married late in life. His wife died soon after the birth of a daughter, and the father died when the girl was twelve years old, and left Cedarhurst and the little heiress to the guardianship of Mr. Tempest."

"Oh, yes; I have heard all that before," said Vixen. "And the little heiress grew up and contracted a secret marriage. She had one child, a daughter, and then she went abroad with her guardian and died in Italy. That is the story, is it not?"

They stared at her in amazement, and Herbert Arden said:
"I thought you did not know the

"A little bird whispered it to me," smiling pensively at his astonishment. "But you did not know it all," he continued, "for you see, the heiress, Virginia Tempest, or Mrs. Dougles, as she was in secret, did not die at all. There were some mysteries about the explanation of it all that I do well understand; but anyhow, Douglas returned last year and claimed her own, both her fortune and her daughter, who all the time had been hidden away in Sunny Side at the old gardener's cottage, everybody believing she was his own child."

He paused for breath, but she did not speak, only gazed at him with di-lating eyes, full of vague terror, as of some coming blow.

To fill up the pause and express his honest sentiment, too, the author said: "There was no poetic justice in the story, Miss Jarvis, for it should have been you who turned out to be the

of horror. There was a roaring in her ears that was not the sound of the sea, a swimming in her head. Strange lights flashed before her eyes, then grew dim as the white lids fell, and her head dropped upon her bosom. She

Arden brought a glass of water and Greville lifted the bowed head, and pressed the glass to her lips. A long sigh and the lids unclosed and the dazed blue eyes looked up. "It was the sun-that was all!" she said, when she had swallowed, with difficulty, the water. She lay back, pale as death, against the chair, with closed eyes, her heart throbbing wild-

The truth had all rushed over her. It was her own mother she had released from her imprisonment at Cedarhurst. She had gone away and found out that her daughter was at the old gardener's at Sunny Side, and when she went to claim her own, Lettie-wicked, heartless Lettie-had usurped her place, and palmed herself on Mrs. Douglas as her own child.

Vixen's hear swelled with indignation against unprincipled Lettie.

CHAPTER XXVI.

"Shall I betray her? Shall I tell them the truth?' she asked herself indignantly. There arose before her a vision of the false, cruel girl filling her place in her mother's love, and jealous misery took possession of her heart. "Dear, dear mother, I pray heaven that you may not have given her the love that belongs to me!"

While she was dwelling miserably on the thought, Herbert Arden exclaimed: "The worst of it, Miss Jarvis, is that our friend Tracy, whom we thought so noble, so chivalrous, has fallen from the high pedestal he occupied in our minds, and shown himself as mercenary and time-serving as ordinary humanity. He disliked Miss Douglas exceedingly when she was only Lettie Jarvis, the gardener's daughter; but now he is engaged to marry the heiress." It was a sudden, terrible blow. She could not repress one long shudder, as if an ley wind had blown across her. Then she sat up straight and looked at him with steady eyes, although lips and cheeks had paled to an ashen hue. "To marry Lettie?" she said, trying to speak calmly, and praying heaven that they might not detect the quiver of despair in her voice. Oh, how the beauty of the day was dimmed; how discordant sounded the voice of the waves! Why should not Lettle have been satisfied with taking her mother's love that she must lay her snare for Tracy Tempest, too-her Prince Charming of two years agonay, of now, of ever, for how could she ever tear her heart away? The old sweet song of those careless days at Sunny Side seemed to blend with the voice of the waves: Dark his eyes must be, and bright, And his hands so lily-white: Sweet Prince Charming-it is he

Come at last to marry me. "To marry Lettie!"

Those three words in flaming letters seemed painted on the sky and sea, blurring her vision everywhere she looked, and then she heard Lindsay Greville's voice going on with the horrible tale.

"It is most likely they are married now, Arden, for the day was set for June, you know, unless something oc-The blue eyes questioned him mutery and he continued:

"You see, it was this way, Miss Jarvis. Mrs. Douglas took her daughter abroad for a year after she found her, and gave her a foreign polish, you know. They came back last summer and never went near Sunny Side, but right off to some watering-place, where the Tempests were staying, and in a very short while the engagement was announced."

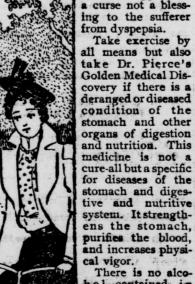

She sat looking at him, pale and rigid, almost as if carved in marble, all the color gone out of her face, all the light from her eyes, all the hope from her heart; but they thought it was the sun, as she had said, never dreaming that it was despair over the man whom, two years ago, she had bravely refused to marry. The voice of the young man went on in its careless tones, searing her heart as with a red-hot iron.

Tracy took brain fever. I believe myself he did it on purpose to put off the marriage"—laughing. "Anyhow, he was ill for weeks, and convalesced very slowly, so then the doctor ordered him a trip to Florida, and of course the wedding was off until his return. When we crossed the 'herring pond' the first of April, he was still in the South, and me heard that the wedding day was set for the first of June." (To be Continued)

A "CHANGE" BREAKFAST.

Getting Ready for Warm Weather.

A complete change in breakfast would, at this time of the year, improve the health of anyone. Meat, potatoes and coffee become tiresome. The system calls for a change, but what to? Hot and halfcooked pastry and starchy cereals are unattractive.

Vegetables taste good but furnish too little nourishment to sustain one until the next meal, particularly if brain work is required.

A most appetizing, convenient and healthful breakfast can be made on Grape-Nuts (a ready-cooked food), a cream or milk, some fruit and perhaps two soft eggs.

(Pint tin cup of sharply boiling water, put in two eggs, not one nor three, cover and set off the stove, serve in just nine minutes. Whites will be like cream and half digested.) The Grape-Nuts food is concentrated and but three or four teaspoons should be used at one meal; that amount furnishes full strength and nourishment up to the next. A change from the old breakfast to one like this will refresh and invigorate the system in a surprising manner. Good food, in proper variety, and a
