Fireworks Conclude Exhibition This Evening.

Early morning rains failed to seriously affect the success of the closing day of the Western Fair. The autoraces will be proceeded with this afternoon, along with all the other features of the grandstand program.

At an early hour, in fact before the majority of the concessionaires had opened up their booths today, visitors began to arrive on the grounds, which at that time presented a very bedragiled appearance. However, it was early decided that the rain had not been heavy enough to interfere with the carrying out of the big Saturday feature, the automobile races, and the Midway people and all the concessionaires hurrledly prepared for business.

Exhibits Not Moved.

Not a single exhibit could be found missing from the grounds this morning, and not a single exhibit will be removed before 10 o'clock tonight. The livestock exhibits, the horticultural, the art and fancy work, and the main building exhibits are exactly the same as on the carller days in the week.

While the damp appearance of the morning deterred any noticeable crowds gathering on the ground before 10:30 o'clock, the reappearance of a bright sun in the sky overhead about that time growdly restring the confidence of a system of the constitution. TORY CAMPS IN CITY ARE LOST IN A QUANDARY

Waiting For Crack of Whip To Fall in Parade.

NOTHING IS SURE

Mystery Surrounds Probable Choice of the Meighen Standard-Bearer.

Following a week or more of "hushed lence." a slight stir of activity was discernible to the observing eye about the local Tory camps this morning.

It will be noticed that the plural is used here in reference to the Conservative encampments, as it appears that at this moment the forces are about equally distributed about the field, and as yet any effort to get together under the main tent has not apparently been hugely successful.

The Boys of 1917.

The real dyed-in-the-wool Tories—the Sir John A. Macdonald breed—are finding themselves pretty much all by themselves, a sort of a sideshow affair, as it were, just to the immediate left of the main entrance. In the big show will be found the top-liners, the boys of '17, who, although it has been hinted by the management that their contracts have just about expired, ar sticking hopefully around the band-wagon, under the impression that the Meighen show is going to take to the minister would "find means to accom-modate Mr. De Valera and his friends."
"Public opinion in Ireland," the news-paper added, "made this step on the part of the Sinn Fein leader inevit-meignen snow is going to take to a road again for another season.

Who Will Crack Whip?

Just who will crack the Tory whip in the London cage, however, seems to be just as much a mystery to the old party generals and box-office officials party generals and not strength and file perched up on the bleachers. Several are mentioned but the chief difficulty will be, judging offhand to pick some person that will please all the trainers and "spielers" as well as the patrons.

The latter have been pretty well used to the old parade before the grandstand with the blare of bugles and the waving of huge flags, with the psychological display of mediocre fireworks as the grand finale. Even the reserved seat frequenters are demanding more for their money, so this year the executive it can get together before nomination day will make the supreme attempt, it is promised.

"We do not know whether it is in our hands or not," a member of the executive of the Conservative Association explained to The Advertiser today. "We are not sure whether the Union Government committee will handle the mination and subsequent campaign (Continued on Page Three.)

FALL CATTLE TRADE

The Producers Should Guard

Against Heavy Rush To Market In Fall Months.

The fall of 1921 will prove a delicate, very worst thing for farmers. At the same time it will load the refrigerators

As a precautionary measure, therefore, packers believe that producers should carefully guard against a heavy rush to market in the fall months. The state of the packing trade is very much like that which faces farmers themselves—labor costs, upkeep, and all other charges still comparatively high, yet with a declining market for packers are as anxious as farmers to avoid, i.e., a disastrous slump in prices. The basis of agricultural well finished.

What appeals to the packer, from a business standpoint, is that the comparatively low prices at which feeders will probably be available this fall should be attractive to every farmer who has winter feed. While no one can positively foretell market conditions next spring and early summer, the history of past price depressions and advances makes packers believe, if faced with the same condition in their own business, they would be justified in taking what risk there is and serious conditions.

Aberdeen public school has been thoroughly renovated during the holidays, a leak in the heating system making it arrived at by the Western Fair directors at their meeting yesterday. Positively no exceptions to this rule will be allowed.

Resolutions intended to normal.

The information bureau was probably one of the busiest spots on the grounds and W. E. Casson, in charge of the bureau, was kept busy from early morning till late at night answering all manner of questions.

While The Advertiser reporter was in the general offices of the Western Fair a lady rushed in and asked one of the clerks, "Have you a phone?" and when the tired clerk answered in the affirmative, she asked, "And could you tell me the number of so and so's store?"

Resolutions intended to permit some deviations from this rule were moved, but finally withdrawn after considerable adverse discussion. It was proposed to allow exhibitors of perishable products, such as fruit and flowers, to remove them after 8 o'clock tonight, but as this promises to serve as a precedent for special requests for the removal of grain and other exhibits at the earlier hour, for the purpose of showing them Monday at Strathroy and other fairs in the surrounding territory, the directors decided to make no exceptions to the rules already laid down, Resolutions intended to permit some ceptions to the rules already laid down, that everything must be left in place until 10 o'clock tonight. eptions to the rules already laid down, hat everything must be left in place antil 10 o'clock tonight.

Personally, I respond to Dr. Nansen's way of argument, which is to get on with the rescue work. Get food to the starving people and demand nothing from the Soviet Government except the safeguards that relief officers shall be helped and not hindered, and the supplies shall be used for starving peasants, and not for the red armies. The work of the Quakers, which has now been going on quietly for many months, shows that such methods are successful. I have been severely criticized for suggesting that Soviet organizations should be used locally to provide for transportation, and assist in distribu-tion. There seems to me to be no alternative except to let the starving millions die. It is the only organization that exists and could be smashed only by a great war which is inconceivable

During the fall months the owners of open cars give serious thought to the means of obtaining comfort until the warm days of spring arrive again. While a certain degree of comfort may be nad simply by keeping the ordinary side curtains in place, all drivers know the inconvenience of this and the fact that only partial inclosue is obtained. There is nothing better than a top fitted to the open body, except it be a regular inclosed car itself.

The tops or inclosures for the proper conversion of the open car consist essentially of a fixed canopy, with detachable sides or windows. There are two definite types, one in which the old fabric top is used and windows fitted and the other in which everything but abric top is used and windows ... and the other in which everything but the windshield and body proper are removed, and an entirely new upper structure built for the particular make of car upon which it is to be installed. If one is a fairly good mechanic he can purchase the material himself and build a very good top. If the car owner is not mechanically inclined there are afferent kinds of tops which he add to the service of the machine and the comfort of the owner.

ANNOUNCE

That every model of the LONDON SIX was originated and designed by W. R. Stansell, president and general manager of the company, and under his strict supervision were produced in our plant on King street.

We wish to state plainly that we have absolutely no connection with any other corporation or companies, either in London or out of London.

The bodies for the various models of the LONDON SIX are made and painted in the plant on King street. These body designs are as unique as they are beautiful and pleasing, and in designing the cars in their entirety Mr. Stansell had a wonderful conception of the three major qualities-STABILITY, UTILITY, BEAUTY.

THE CHASSIS

This is the height of simplicity in Chassis construction and every unit is so assembled that the locating of any trouble is most wonderfully facilitated, consequently the cost of service is greatly reduced.

THE SEDAN

This Car is decidedly beautiful, and is indeed an innovation in Sedan construction. The luxurious riding comfort, combined with its beauty of line and stability of construc-tion makes "every owner a proud owner."

Hon. John Oliver, premier of British Columbia, indulged in some plain talk at a meeting in Vancouver, held for the purpose of discussing unemployment, which promises to be more prevalent at the coast this winter. The premier said he had no doubt at all as to the ability of British Columbia to bear its burdens. To think otherwise would be a reflection on the energy and intelligence of the people. But as things are now, there are men wearing broadcloth who ought to be in overalls, and women wearing silks who ought to be in gingham and helping in their homes

"I cannot reconcile it with my conscience," said the premier, "to put the province in financial danger by administering palliatives that are simply get-bys. I cannot do it and I will not do it. I will give you the best service of which I am capable along lines of which I approve and which I think tend in the direction of a permanent solution. I will not go the other way."

STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN BEFORE DECIDING ON ONE'S FALL CLOTHES.

When fashion begins to show a decided revolutionary tendency and nothing seems to be quite as it was before, the wise woman holds fast to her common-sense and her sense of the fitness of things, and makes long and careful surveys of herself in the mirror, seeing not the lithe, beautiful manequin in the hat or frock, but herself. It is painfully easy to idealize one's own figure or face and to get into the frame of mind that because a fashion is smart on these beautiful creatures who are selected for just that purpose, they are going to be smart on Mrs. Smith, Jones or Brown. Errors of judgment as applied to the selection of one's clothes are costly, for no sensible woman can be expected to wear with pleasure a model which has turned out to be a sartorial error; it being a part of every woman's duty at all times to appear at her best, she may be excused if she balks at wearing what she has purchased in the blind belief that because it was good on some other woman, ould be good on her. > Bout Will Be Held in New York in February.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.— Georges Carpentier will meet Tom Gibbons of St. Paul for the world's light heavyweight box-ing championship next February at Madison Square Garden. Tex Rickard, promoter, received to-day a radiogram from Manager Deschamps in which the latter stated that Carpentier would be ready and fit by that time to defend the title he won from Battling Levinsky.

KILBANE AND FRUSH READY FOR FIGHT

CLEVELAND, Sept. 16. - Feather weight Champion Johnny Kilbane and Danny Frush of Baltimore, challenger, expressed themselves as being in per fect condition tonight after the final day of secret training for their 12-round decision bout here tomorrow afternoon. After his workout, Frush weighed 1251/2 pounds, half a pound less than he is required to make at ringside. Under the contract Kilbane is to receive $60,000 win, lose or draw, and Frush $25,000 for training expenses." On the eye of the battle the champion has leaped from an even money plon has leaped from an even money choice to a 10 to 8 favorite. Many 1 to 4 bets are being made that Frush will win by a knockout. Despite a prediction of fair weather, the promoters insured themselves against rain with a $25,000 policy. The gate receipts already total more than $80,000. The promoters are sanguine that tomorrow's receipts will reach $125,000.

TILDEN AND JOHNSON MEET FOR NET TITLE

PHILADEDPHIA, Sept 16.—William T. Tilden II. and Wallace F. Johnson, both of this city, will meet for the national turf singles tennis championship on the courts of the Germantown Cricket Club here tomorrow. Each won his way into the final round of the fortieth titular tournament of the United States Lawn Tennis Association today by decisively defeating opponents in the semi-finals round. Tilden eliminated Willis E. Davis of San Francisco in straight sets by scores of 10-8, 6-2, 6-1, and Johnson won from James O. Anderson of Australia, member of the Australasian Davis Cup team, 6-4, 3-6, 8-6, 6-2.

OF BRANTFORD SQUAD

London for the first time in a decade with the war period of course excepted, will not figure in the O. R.F. U. program, and in the usual three corner fight with the Hard Oils of Petrolea and the Sarnia Blue and White. The real fact of the matter is not lack of rugby talent, but lack of support, which is chronic where rugby is concerned in London. True, crowds have been artificially produced in London, as was the case when the Dominion championship was brought here, but London does not respond to rugby spontaneously. Sarnia and Petrolea on the other hand are essentially rugby towns—and some more besides—as St. Marys is a lacrosse town first and everything else after, or Galt is strongly soccer.

It seems strange, however, that rugby aside from intercollegiate and scholastic can't swing a percentage of the sport following of London to its side. the presidency of the local rugby club is acting as coach for the time, and the boys are getting out in good numbers for grid practice. The first game of the season will be an exhibition with the local collegiate institute boys next Saturday

—Utilities Confident.

All records for soccer games in London when Hamilton and Public Utilities mix it in the first of the finals for the Plenty Cup.

The affair will quite likely be looked upon in Hamilton as in the nature of tworkout for their bids, but Public Utilities go into today's game with the mixer of condition. They are tright in form to set their usual 30-minute pace.

The affair will quite likely be looked upon in Hamilton as in the nature of a workout for their bids, but Public Utilities go into today's game with the knowledge that they were the team which gave Toronto Scottish, Dominion champions, one of the hardest games of the season.

Utilities aren't going into the game

The Utilities will have no excuse in the matter of condition. They are right in form to set their usual 90-minute pace.

Albert Plenty, donor of the cup, Bobbie Muir, vice-president of the D. F. A. and O. F. A., secretary and other prominent soccer officials will be spectators.

JACK NORWORTH. Jack Norworth and the Grew players "My Lady Friends" will be the stellar attraction at the Majestic Theatre all next week. Following a very suc-cessful season on the Keith vaudeville circuit Mr. Norworth was enticed into the ranks of the legitimate and has now undertaken a limited number of engagements with several of the most prominent stock companies in "My Lady Friends," a comedy which one of the most famous of New York critics said was "Just one giggle after another." These engagements were limited to ap-pearance in Cleveland and Toledo, but as soon as William A. Grew became acquainted with developments he made acquainted with developments he made every effort to induce the star to appear in London with the Grew players. Norworth was not particularly keen to postpone his return to vaudeville, but finally agreed to appear in this city for eight performances, the convincing offer of $1,500 in American money for the week proving too much even for one of the highest-priced artists on the one of the highest-priced artists on the American stage.

Mr. Grew realized that he was establishing an unheard-of record for Canada when he made his offer, but, in his desire to make a success of the visiting star system, he felt that he had to bid high if he was to secure the artists he wanted. He is convinced that the people of London will be with him in his venture, and that the money will be well spent, for it should result in an attraction extraordinary, especially an attraction extraordinary, especially as it will be far outside of the beaten. BILL HART IN "THE WHISTLE."

The whistle awakens untold thousands of workers each morning to their day of toil. To "jump to the sound of the whistle" is the creed of the men who labor with their hands.

Mr. Hart provides an admirable portrayal of one of these toilers, and his son is another. But his mercenary employer indirectly causes the death of the latter by refusing to protect the open shafting in the mill with safety devices. This turns Robert Evans (Mr. Hart) into a vengeful man, a man of iron who thinks only of his great loss. Desolate, he strives to take the work of Providence into his own hands, but in the end realizes the impotence of his course. The finale is a happy one, and the drama proceeds to a wonderfully effective conclusion.

Unemployment-Freight Rates---and The Railways

The indicator of true prosperity is employment. The presence of unemployed men, unemployed machinery, unemployed railway equipment, and unemployed capital in Canada is reason enough, therefore, for every large Canadian business interest to study its relation to the general problem, to see whether anything in its power remains to be done to advance the general prosperity of the country.

In this connection the railway companies have been specially interested. Freight rates touch everyone, and because they touch everyone are always close to the public consciousress, and more conveniently attacked than the true causes of depression, which are less easily discerned and more difficult, if not indeed impossible, to control.

FURTHERMORE, the railways, while joining with everyone else in the general agitation for deflation of prices and wages, found themselves recently in the seemingly anomalous position of demurring when it was proposed to lower railway rates.

They were made to appear as though they were endeavoring, with one hand, to put wages down, and with the other hand, to keep rates up, thereby securing for their own treasuries, instead of passing on to the Canadian public, any saving effected on the wage rolls. They were placed in the equivocal position of having urged blanket increases of rates when wages went up, and of opposing blanket decreases when wages were seemingly decreased.

THE following statement is offered, therefore, with a view to exhibiting what the railways believe to be the true relation of railway freight rates to the question of unemployment, outlining the history of Canadian rates, explaining something of the ground work of rate-making, and clearing up the seeming anomalies referred to, so that none may remain as possible causes for future weakening of confidence between the public and the carriers.

Freight Rites and Unemployment

With a large part of the world's population idle or only partially efficien owing to wars or disturbed political conditions; with inventors it many parts of the world almost afraid to expose their inventions, reganizers afraid to organize, capital hesitating to invest, a corresponding proportion of world production is missing.

The total of gods available for the world is less than normal. Those who do not roduce, speaking generally, cannot buy. Few purchasers, few sais; few sales, little employment. This is the great world-wide fudamental of the unemployment situation.

The condition isinternational, not local, to Canada. If Canadian railway rates ere a determining factor in making the sale prices of our export oods—in other words, if Canadian prices were higher in international markets than the goods of our competitors—then railway rates would be contributing to unemployment in Canada by opressing our sales abroad, lowering the number of our customs and the orders coming to our producers.

But in the first play the real effect of freight rates on pricemaking is a debatable pint. This is proven: (1) By the fact that prices fell last fall fter the rates were increased, instead of rising as the retail tradehad prophesied. (2) By the fact that a ten per cent reduction 6 western coal rates, offered in order to stimulate coal movement, the summer months, was followed by a drop in the coal tonnagoffering, instead of an increase.

In the second place, suming for the purposes of argument they did have serious effect Canadian export rates are lower and not higher than the rates icountries with which Canada may be compared. Mile for mile, a haul from western Canadian points to the head of navigation icheaper than in the United States. The export rate on grain is wer than it was last August.

In other words, in internional competition on her chief items of export, Canada is helpedy her railway rates. So far as international trade is concerd, they are alleviating unemployment rather than aggravating.

Inside Canada the same itrue. Although it is a very difficult point to prove or disprovene railways of Canada are sincere in claiming that, by and large ods are carried more cheaply in Canada than in the United Stes. Canada had one blanket reduction of five per cent last Juary, whereas there is still no decrease, nor immediate prospe of a blanket decrease in the

The Trend of FreighRates

With the exception of war id post-war conditions—the whole tendency of freight rates ithis country, as in any other progressive country of its kind, is twnvard. As Canada's population rises, as our industries multiy and the density of traffic becomes more nearly like that of der countries, some of the principal costs of railway service c, b sub-divided among a greater number of shippers and travers, levying on each, therefore, a smaller fraction of these cost that before. For twenty years prior to the war, traffic was other nerease. For twenty years, therefore, the railways have bee adasting rates downward—quite apart from special decreases ut a effect by the Board of Railway Commissioners. These resion have been skillfully applied by experienced, practical ecopmis—that is, by the freight traffic experts of the railways, voscousiness it is to know all branches of industry intimately, so that the benefit of these voluntary rate adjustments would go to "key commodities," thus stimulating further growth of the country, increase in traffic, and in the end, further reductions of rates. The difference between giving a reduction to a "key industry," rather than spreading over all kinds of goods, is illustrated in the case of a certain small railway which by concentrating rate reductions on lumber enabled the mills of that region to remain open and the people to remain at work, whereas if the effect of the reductions had been scattered over all the goods carried by that road each family would have been able to save a small handful of silver in a year (provided the decreased rates had been passed on as decreased prices by store-keepers)—but there would have been almost no employment.

So much for the day-to-day reductions arranged on thousands of articles by the Traffic Departments of the roads. In 1907 a substantial reduction in eastern rates was made. In 1914 a very material cut was applied in the West. So that the trans-continental lines entered the war period with a depressed earning power.

Now, while all—even the railways—see the desirability for low freight rates, there are certain limits beyond which no one urges reductions. Of course, there are theorists such as Mr. Bernard Shaw, who believe that all railway service should be free. But leaving aside views so far in advance, as yet, of public opinion, it is assumed by most people that a railway will give best service at least cost—because, of course, even free railways must be paid for by the taxpayer—when their managements are allowed to show their mettle by meeting the obligations of their properties out of their earnings. It is usually recognized that these obligations fall into two groups:

Group One.—To pay their employees; to pay for current supplies of materials such as coal, etc.; to pay for repairs and replacements.

Group Two.—To pay such a wage or hire for the use of the capital which built these railways as will make Canadian railway securities always desirable and easily marketed, whether as bonds or stocks. This involves more than the mere payment of the established rate of dividend in the case of privately-owned roads. It involves the earning also of some surplus, a safety margin of income over expenditure which will assure investors of complete safety. This principle of a surplus was definitely established by the judgment of the Board of Railway Commissioners in 1914, under the chairmanship of Sir Henry Drayton, and upheld by its judgment of 1920, when the matter was again considered exhaustively. On this principle rests Canada's ability to enter the money markets wherever she may need and feel confident of bringing back funds for extending her railways as she may require in the future.

War conditions, following the western and eastern rate adjustments, brought the railway managements sharply up against these fundamental problems. Comparing the Government's figures for 1907 against 1919, the last year for which the railway blue book is available, the wage bill of the railways rose 306 per cent, coal 345 per cent, ties 320 per cent. But neither the volume of traffic or the scale of freight rates increased in comparable degree during that period. The actual revenue per ton per mile (which is the real proof or disproof of the matter) advanced only 20 per cent over 1907. The year 1920 enlarged the discrepancy, although an increase of 35 per cent on western lines and 40 per cent in the east was supposed to yield enough additional revenue to meet the increased wages. The increased wages were effective from May 1, the increased rates not until September. The effectiveness of that increase depended on the volume of traffic remaining at a fairly high level. It did so for a time, then began to drop; today it is very low, nevertheless a 5 per cent decrease was applied in JanuFor the first six months of 1921, as compared to the first six months of 1920, the volume of traffic on the most fortunately-situated Canadian road, fell 26.72 per cent. And its revenue on this business, in spite of the higher rates, fell 11.14 per cent.

The net result of these changes has been a state of emergency in the offices of even the most-fortunately situated of all Canadian roads. Wages could be paid and bills met on time. Even the usual dividend was paid and a very slight surplus. One of the factors in the maintaining the reputation of Canadian railway securities was earned.

But this was only done by deferring work that must ultimately be done on current account.

Such economies cannot long be continued without eating toc far into the broad safety margin which the Canadian roads maintain. Nothing but slackened speed of trains and reduced Canadian industrial efficiency can result if these savings have to be long continued. Falling traffic still further aggravates the condition. Maintenance cannot continue to be sacrificed to protect the credit of our railway securities. Neither can be neglected.

In May, the managements approached the task of reducing their wage bills. For the first time in many years it was the managements and not the men who were taking the initiative. They had been forced to adopt the wartime increases granted in the United States, where 92 per cent of the members of the railway unions lie. Therefore, when the reverse movement was undertaken in that country the Canadian roads at once gave due notice and a provisional and conditional decrease of roughly 10 per cent -corresponding to the same movement in the United Stateswas put in effect, tentatively, as from July, 15. This reduction has not been accepted by the United States membership of the unions, where a vote is being taken on the question, nor by the Canadian membership, who have applied for a board of conciliation. Every resource of the managements will be used to sustain this imperatively necessary and only too, moderate reduction of their wage bills-which account for 60 per cent of the cost of operation-they are compelled to regard the matter as still unsettled and therefore not to be considered as a basis for the reduction of railway rates, a view which a majority of the Board of Railway Commissioners has just expressed in its judgment.

In Conclusion

The railway managements welcome deflation of railway rates, and are working steadily toward that end. On two grounds, however, they asked that any general decrease be deferred.

First—Because the so-called wage decreases are not yet assured and cannot be until the parallel decreases in the United States, where 92 per cent of the union membership lies (and where no general freight rate reductions have been ordered) are settled.

Second—Because the volume of traffic in the immediate future is problematical and any serious decline, if coupled with a decrease in rates, would have very grave effect on even the most favorably situated managements.

The railways have spoken against blanket decreases on the grounds that it would be in the interests of the country as a whole to concentrate any beneficial effect to be expected on "key commodities" rather than distribute them over all classes of goods, thereby benefitting only the distributors.

They have been actuated throughout by the desire to assist in the process of deflation, objecting only when that process might seem to threaten their solvency and injure them, and through them, the ultimate interests of the Canadian public.

TEACHER NOMINATED

[Special to The Advertiser.] BRANTFORD, Sept. 16.—A. W. Burt, teacher of the Brantford Collegiate Institute, was this evening nominated for the riding of Brantford in the coming federal election at a meeting of the Brantford branch of the Independent Labor party. It will be recalled that some time ago the Provincial L. P. executive cancelled the charter of the Brantford Independent Brockville, Ont. BRANTFORD, Sept. 16 .- A. W. Burt,

Labor party for its refusal to break away from M. M. MacBride, M.P.P. The charter was reissued, and it is this branch with the reissued charter which nominated Mr. Burt. The executive of the first I. L. P. met here tonight to make recommendation as to their candidate in the forthcoming election. This decision will be presented at a mass meeting to be held soon. M. M. MacBride, M.P.P., an-nounced that he will not be a candi-

PORTER MAY BE CANDIDATE. [Special to The Advertiser.] BRANTFORD, Sept. 16.—The litical pot is boiling in the rural sec-tion of Brantford riding, and the fol-lowing names will go before the U. F. O. convention at Maple Grove on 'uesday: C. W. Gurney, Peter Porter, Tuesday: C. W. Gurley, Feel Folica:
Earl Biggar, Rupert Greenwood and John McKinnon. Peter Porter is thought to be the likely U. F. O. candidate in many circles. Meetings have already been held in the riding of Brant in favor of W. C. Good, U. F.
O. candidate. O. candidate.

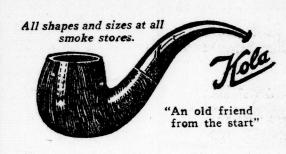

MAY BE DEPORTED.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 .- Three hundred Armenians, mostly women and children, who came to the United States to escape the Turks, are held at Ellis Island for deportation back to Turkey because of an alleged technical flaw in the immigration law or its inerpretation that prevents Armenian immigration altogether.

WHEN BABY IS ILL

When the baby is ill; when he cries a great deal and no amount of attention or petting makes him happy, Baby's Own Tablets should be given him without delay. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus drive out constipation and indi-gestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make teething easy. cerning them, Mrs. Desire Theberge, Trois Pistols, Que., writes: "I am well

Nothing Else is Aspirin

Warning! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets, you are not getting Aspirin at all.

Accept only an "unbroken package" of "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," which contains directions and dose worked out by physicians during 21 years and proved safe by millions for Headache, Earache, Toothache, Neuralgia, Colds, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Lumbago, and pain generally. Made in Canada.

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents-Larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Mono-aceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

Hello everybody -look who's here ARRYMIN

Here he is, folks, the lively little beggar, always ready with the glad hand and the broad grin. 'Arry was bern for the sole purpose of putting joy into life—through Aromints — and believe us, he sure does it, too. 'Arrymint is so chuck full of joy himself that he simply bubbles over and we can't help catching it from him.

'Arry is almost as crazy over jingles as he is over Aromints, and being the good natured little cuss that he is, we want him to have all the fun he can, so starting this week we are going to run a

Big Cash Prize Contest and Give Away $225.00 in Cash Prizes

$20.00 a week for ten weeks to everyone, from the "littlest" to the biggest who will send us in some jingle rhymes to make 'Arry happy. Here is a great chance for everybody to make some easy money. Every week, for ten weeks, we will pay out $20.00 in cash for the 13 best jingles sent in. In addition, at the end of ten weeks, $25.00 will be divided into four extra cash prizes, to be paid to the four persons sending in the greatest total number of jingles during the ten weeks-no matter whether prize winners or not.

So come on, folks, read the simple rules—send in your jingles, win some money prizes, and make both yourself and 'Arry Mint happy.

You youngsters, too, don't leave it all to the grown-ups, but get busy and win some real pocket money—in Cash Prizes.

CONDITIONS:

The only conditions are that each jingle should contain the word "ARO-MINTS" (which, by the way, is 'Arry's favorite and only candy), and that each jingle must be accompanied by an outside wrapper from a package of "ARO-

Simply write out your jingles, pin an outside AROMINT wrapper to each one and send them to

The Aromint Mfg. Co., Limited, 107 Duke St., Toronto.

Keep on sending in all the jingles you can think of-you may win all the prizes every week, as well as the special prize for the greatest number sent in. All jingles will become the property of The Aromint Manufacturing Company.

At first the wheat market showed onsiderable weakness, owing largely o a sharp break in sterling exchange. Complete ending of the Argentine drought counted also as a bearish fac-tor and so, too, did an apparent lull in export demand. Later, however, sterling exchange turned upward again and more confidence in the foreign financial outlook was shown, especially after information was received which gave some promise of better business conditions in Germany. Bullish sentiment was fostered likewise by advices which emphasized rain damage to wheat in shock in the Northwest. It was said arrivals at Minneapolis were damp and lacked quality and that millers were becoming active buyers at Kansas City.

EVENING STOCK LETTER.

[Reported by Jones, Easton, McCallum Co., Limited.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. — The stock market today was somewhat professional. There were some fairly large transactions, but on the whole, there was less business from commission houses which under the circumstances is not at all surprising since it is apparent that there is decided lack of condidence throughout the country in the stability of the market.

The prolonged impression has made too strong an impression on the public of mind to make quick reversal of opinion possible and commercial progress has not yet reached such proportions as to become plain at all. The point that is important for consideration now is that we are merely at the start of improvement in business as well as in the stock market, and it is at such times that we must be watchful to detect signs of the coming change, and these signs are beloning more numerous every day.

There are no doubt some unfavorable spots and some lines where the improvement is not yet manifest, but when all is clear and distinct, the level of values in the stock market will not be where they are today. Some of the former leaders in market were easter, because of the absence of support and a disposition to accept some profits, but at no time could the market be regarded as weak.

U. S. Steel assumed the leadership today on the upside, and we have faith in the upward tendency of the market and feel that every adverse period should be met with buying orders.

Plums Are Nearly

Historians of the local market claim that market days in fair week are always slow, and that the assertion is cor rect has been evidenced by the few changes in prices during the past week. The fruit market has nearly reached the jumping off point, and plums are taking the lead in disappearing. Very points, while gains did not exceed a second. # WALL STREET AND WHEAT MARKET REVIEW BY EXPERTS

Advertiser Specialists Explain Movements of Stock and Give Wise Advice To Speculators.

(Copyrighted Collyer's Publishing Company.) NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Wall Street has gone wrong again. Once more the "experts" have fallen down badly in doping out the course of the stock market. While the rank and file of professional observers were continuing ex-tremely bearish, stocks suddenly de-

Regardless of what happens in the stock market I say: Buy bonds and put them away for investment Gold is flowing into the country at a record-breaking rate. One banking firm alone has imported $115,000,000 of the yellow metal since January 1 and no signs of a let-up in the movement are to be seen. In fact gold is coming into the country in such volume that it is difficult to see what use is to be made of it all. If it were used to expand bankit all. If it were used to expand bank-ing credits we would enter upon another exactly three trading hours wheat broke almost 10c a bushel. This break requires a new diagnosis.

Wheat at $1.37 for December means one thing and the same option at $1.28 means something vastly different. It will supply the artificial buying power to start another ascension. In the opinion of the writer the wheat market will be a succession of flip-flops. One week it will advance—the next week it will slump and the margineers will get caught, going and coming.

The big interests are back in game. It is rumored that no other than James Patten is heavily, but craftily, committed to the long side. And with him are aligned the same old coterie of master traders, famous for the deft twists they can give to any market.

For months the Bartlett-Frazier house has pointed to the intrinsic strength underlying the whole grain list-although it is believed that Mr. Patten favors the long side of wheat to the exclusion of everything else. But at the same time the big bulls, supposedly under Mr Patten's guidance, are lending a hearing hand to the weaker Bankrolls in these parlous times need extra careful nursing, and no one who wishes to sidestep the bankruptcy stage will sell grain, and especially wheat, at the end of sharp declines. For after these declines all the undounted bullish tremely bearish, stocks suddenly developed strong recovering tendencies and worked upward in a rallying movement that has carried prices forward bever before was the whole world so to the actual breadline-never ment that has carried prices forward bever before was the whole world so ment that has carried prices forward with gratifying vigor.

gin of world requirements. In such circles of the marine average price of the leading industrial shares is today some eight short, since sellers have no chance of making deliveries on contracts. Of course those who speculate in grain before recorded as vigorous a technical recovery as a very way over extended. When this great short interest started to cover it was inevitable that prices should boom upward.

Now, with a large part of the short interest gone into retreat and the technical position of the market greatly weakened as a result, one wonders what is going to happen next. Personally I for one do not seen any signs of the public rushing madly in to buy securi-

it all. If it were used to expand banking credits we would enter upon another orgy of inflation that would make Germany look like a piker. As it is the federal reserve is seeing to it that the gold is not made available for inflation ary purposes so that the country is likely to escape from the evil consequences of such unwarranted expansion. Inflation is pleasant while we are inflating. It is when deflation starts that we have trouble. A review of the happenings of the last year and a half shows this in striking fashion.

The Break in Wheat.

The big break in wheat, predicted by the writer last week, came on scheduled time. Two hours after this publication appeared in La Salle street, wheat emulated Humpty Dumpty and the whole grain market fell out of bed. In exactly three trading hours wheat broke.
