A BATTLE IN THE BALKANS; INSURGENTS DEFEAT TURKS

Three of the Sultan's Battalions Attack a Thousand Revolutionists and Are Repulsed---200 Killed.

EIGHT HUNDRED MUSSULMEN MURDERED AT MONASTIR

Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 18.—A fierce battle is reported to have occurred in the neighborhood of Monastir. Three Turkish battalions attacked a thousand insurgents and after the fight had raged for six hours the Turks were repulsed with the loss of 210 men killed or wounded. The insurgents' loss is not given.

Constantinople, Aug. 18.—The Russian squadron of warships which left Sebastopol yesterday, is expected to arrive off the Turkish coast this afternoon to support the demands made on Turkey by Russia in connection with the assassination, August 7, of M. Rostkovski, the Russian Consul at Monastir. The notification received here of the sailing of the squadron was an unwelcome surprise to the Turkish government, which had pretended to believe that the Rostkovski incident had been closed with the punishment of the guilty parties.

The most recent advices received here from Monastir were forwarded Sunday night, and announced that the fighting between the insurgents and Turkish troops in the vicinity of Krushevo continued, and that several villages inhabited by Greeks had been set on fire by the insurgents.

According to advices received at one of the foreign embassies, at Constantinople, 800 Mussulmans have been massacred throughout the district of Monastir by insurgents. Emmer Rushdi Pasha, who is nominally in command of the Turkish troops operating in the Monastir district, is seriously hampered by the fact that the instructions he receives from here are constantly changed. The Turkish commissariat department is in a wretched condition. The troops at Monastir, for instance, have not been served with rations of meat for six weeks.

The insurgent bands in the vilayet of Adrianople are also active.

Twenty-four battalions of reserves The insurgent bands in the villayet summoned to the colors.

The repeated attacks made by the insurgents on the railroads and the inadequate protection afforded by the Turkish authorities, have compelled the railroad officials to order a suspension of traffic on the Salonica, Monastir and Uskub lines.

Dispatches received here from Belgrade, Servia, say that the Turkish minister there has secured the detention of a quantity or arms and ammunition destined for Bulgaria.

Vienna, Aug. 18.—A curious suggestion has been made in some political circles to the effect that the Russian squadron bound for Turkish waters is not so much intended as a menace to Turkey as to protect the Sultan in the event of a serious outbreak at the Yildiz palace, resulting from the dissatisfaction of the Albanians and of the Arabian-Syrian clique.

KILLED IN A RUNAWAY

Man Meets a Cruel Death Near Owen Sound.

Owen Sound, Aug. 18. — Samuel Smith met with a horrible death here yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. He attempted to drive down a difficult roadway which runs down to the river bank on the farm of William Bell, in Derby, near the corporation limits, with a load of lumber. It is assumed that the lumber slipped forward, and that the horse ran away. At a tree half-way down the hill the victim was found with his head jammed to a jelly between the spokes. One of his arms was fifteen feet away, having been torn from his body. Death was instantaneous. Deceased was a former resident of Elmwood, having moved to his present residence last spring. A widow and three daughters —Ettie, Bertha and Laura—survive.Out of a family of eleven, of which the eldest is over 60, this is the first death. The victim was 55 years of age.

CZAR DISMISSES CHIEF OF POLICE

He Was Offended by the Detective's Proximity During State Banquet at Paris.

Copenhagen, Aug. 18.—An important change has taken place in the Czar's immediate circle. The highly-trusted chief of the Russian Secret European Police, M. Raskowsky, who has always been kept busy organizing precautionary measures when the Czar travels, and who also has been in other ways a trusted agent of the court, has now been discraced and dismissed.

The original cause of the trouble was Raskowsky's increasing self-esteem. He maintained that he had been an important factor in the establishment of the Franco-Russian alliance, and manifested his sense of his own dignity when the Czar visited Paris by demanding a place at the state banquet near the Czar and President Loubet. The Czar, however, was highly displeased on seeing his special detective sitting at table so near him. The direct reason of the disgrace was Raskowsky's behavior in connection with the well-known affair of the "mystical magnetizer," M. Philipee, who was called in to cure the Czar's and Czarina's nervous complaint. Philippe, it will be remembered, exercised for some time considerable influence on both, but Raskowsky spoke in a very derogatory way about him, and this deeply offended the Czarina. Raskowsky has accordingly now been requested to retire, and he is living at Kieff upon a considerable pension.

BOY OF 14 SUICIDES

Went to Theater, Was Punished and Took His Life.

Norwich, Conn., Aug. 18.—Charles H. Botand, a schoolboy, aged 14, took his life during last night, apparently because of punishment for disobedience. He went to the theater, notwithstanding that his parents forbade him to go. Later when he did not return his parents searched and found him dead in the yard. The boy had twisted a rope about his neck and attached the other end to a tree and then crawled away on his hands and knees until strangulation had been produced. The coroner's inquest gave a verdict of suicide.

APPROVES CONCORDAT

Pius X. Likes Relations Between Vatican and France.

Paris, Aug. 18.—The Figaro's correspondent at Rome says that in the course of an audience which a member of the French aristocracy had with Pope Pius, his holiness said the concordat between France and the holy see was a prudent work. It was not faultless, like everything human, but it was the best thing for the interests both of the church and the French Government.

RUSSIA MUST GET OUT

And Not Interfere With Korea, Says Japan.

Pekin, Aug. 18.—A member of the Japanese Diet, who is here to investigate the Manchurian situation, says that when Gen. Kuropatkin, the Russian Minister of War, visited Japan recently, he tried to sound the Government regarding a possible Manchurian agreement. He was informed that any agreement to be acceptable to Japan must provide for the Russian evacuation of Manchuria, excepting the maintenance of a reasonable number of troops to guard the railway, and for Russian non-interference in Corea. Gen Kuropatkin thereupon dropped the subject.

GAZE QUIETED DOG

Plucky Woman Saves Children from Mad Canine.

New York, Aug. 18. — O. Freeman Ferrier and his wife, of St. Louis, are visiting here. Yesterday, Mrs. Ferrier saw a mad dog making for several children who were playing on the boulevard. Fearless of her own safety, she seized the dog by the collar just as it was about to spring among the children. The dog struggled at first, but its eyes fell before her direct gaze, and he was soon quiet. A policeman came along and relieved Mrs. Ferrier of her charge. She is visiting at the home of Mrs. Fred James, 3910 Calumet avenue.

VESUVIUS STILL ACTIVE

A Magnificent Spectacle on the Moonless Nights.

Naples, Aug. 18.—Vesuvius continues active, and the eruption has now lasted two weeks. On nights when there is no moonlight, the spectacle is magnificent, the crater belching flames and smoke to the height of nearly 4,000 feet. In spite of the legend that Naples will be destroyed by Vesuvius, the Neapolitans firmly believe that their patron saint, San Genarro, will stop the flow of lava with a gesture should it advance too near Naples.

The stream of lava, after flowing 2,500 feet in the direction of Ottajano, has stopped, while the other stream is still moving and has reached a point 2,550 feet toward Pompeii.

Refused a Judgeship.

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—Mr. Isaac Campbell, K. C., Winnipeg, has refused the vacant judgeship of the King's bench in Manitoba.

WESTERN WHEAT CROP

Reports Indicate There Will Be Heavy Harvest.

Winnipeg, Aug. 18.—The crop reports of the Canadian Northern Railway for the past week show that all along the company's lines grain has made a most decided improvement, and that the estimates formed three weeks or a month ago were far below the actual condition of the crop. While the weather in nearly all sections of the Province tapped by the lines of the company has been cool and wet, and not favorable for cutting, it has had the effect of giving the grain a new chance to head out, and for this reason the yield will be heavier than anticipated. In the Red River valley and in the southwestern portion of the Province wheat will average twelve to eighteen bushels to the acre, while in the north and the center the yield will easily reach between 20 and 24 bushels. Nowhere has hail or frost done the least damage, and the indications are that the farmers will have a bountiful harvest. Cutting will be general by the end of the week.

CHINESE AGREE TO OPEN PORTS

Two Are Guaranteed in Convention With the U. S.

THE TREATY TO BE SIGNED

On the Date Russia is to Quit Manchuria—Prince Ching's Attempts to Avoid Treaty.

Washington Aug. 18.—Minister Conger, at Pekin, has secured a written promise from Prince Ching to sign on Oct. 8 a treaty with the United States which will include a guarantee that Mukden and Tatung Tao shall be open ports.

Pekin, Aug. 18. — The arrangement made by Minister Conger for the signing of a treaty between China and the United States providing for the opening of Mucken and Tatung Tao, on the date of Russia's promised final evacuation of Manchuria, ends the stubborn resistance by the Chinese which for some time promised to be successful. Prince Ching made one defense after another until all were exhausted. He first argued Russian opposition to the opening of these ports. He then said that he was not informed that Russia had consented to the opening. Finally he refused on the ground that China was unable to open towns which were held by another power.

When the present settlement was proposed with the explanation that China must presume that Russia intended to fulfill her evacuation agreement Prince Ching reluctantly gave in.

Tatung Tao is a small port which does not promise much business to attract foreigners in the near future. Its opening is mainly important as a victory for the open door principle.

JACK THE LION AND THE DENTIST

Lassoed, Bound, Chloroformed and the Aching Molar Extracted by Four Men.

New York, Aug. 18.—Jack, the big African lion at Glen Island, had a tooth extracted yesterday, and it required the united efforts of four strong men to accomplish the task. Ten days ago Jack became very irritable. At times after eating he would fly into a paroxysm of rage and dash about his cage roaring viciously.

Head Keeper Frank Healey discovered the cause of the trouble—a jumping toothache. The lion suffered so that he had to be removed to the animal hospital. There was but one thing to be done. The tooth had to come out.

Early yesterday morning Jack's cage was wheeled out, and after a great deal of maneuvering a noose was slipped over the lion's head. Ropes had been attached to two sides of the noose, and while these were tightened and held to the floor Mr. Healey slipped in the door. In an instant he had put over the lion's head a large peach basket containing sponges saturated with chloroform.

Before Mr. Healey was safely out of the cage the lion had demolished the basket with his paw and the attempt to administer the anethetic had to be abandoned. A second attempt was made half an hour later. This time a rope was run under the lion and with the rope about his neck he was hoisted to the top of his cage, when it took but a moment to twist a few coils of rope around his legs. When he was lowered to the floor he was helpless. Then he was chloroformed. Two men pried open his massive jaws and inserted a block of wood. The decayed tooth was found, the forceps applied, and the big molar pulled out. Then an antiseptic was placed on the wound, and when all was completed the ropes were loosened and the cage wheeled out in the open air.

Within fifteen minutes the lion had revived and was sniffling about his cage. His actions showed that he was aware that something had happened, but did not realize what it was.

New C. P. R. Officers.

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—The C. P. R. is centering a large number of officers with their staffs here, making Ottawa an important divisional point. Within the past month officers have been removed hither from Montreal, Brockville, Carleton Place, Chalk River and Pembroke.

CONGRESS BEHIND MR. CHAMBERLAIN

Commercial Chambers Will Petition for Commission.

TO INVESTIGATE CONDITIONS

The Resolution Agreed To By Committee Formally Pledges Convention to New Policy.

Montreal, Aug. 18.—The congress will today formally indorse the principles of preferential trade, and petition the Imperial Government to name a commission to investigate the colonial conditions and define the terms. This much was agreed upon last night by the special committee appointed to consider the subject.

The committee met at 11 p.m. The chairman is E. J. Gillespie, chairman of the London Chamber, and there are twelve other members, five representing the United Kingdom and the balance the different colonies. The committee was appointed to arrange the preferential debate for today, and to it was referred the six resolutions touching the tariff reform from as many different sections of the empire.

The deliberations of the committee were animated. The colonials favored amalgamating the six resolutions into one strong motion. The United Kingdom delegates favored preferential relations, but were opposed to pledging the congress in so radical a manner. After much discussion the resolution agreed upon, to be embodied in their report, formally pledges the convention to the most radical Chamberlain policy and preferential tariffs.

The debate, however, on the floor today, when the resolution is formally moved, promises to be animated, as many representatives are opposed to so formal a stand. The determination of the convention became public property last night, and provoked enthusiastic comment from the colonial contingent.

GLENISTER SWIMS THE WHIRLPOOL

He Gets Through Successfully, But Is Delirious From Terrible Trip.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 18.—A special from Niagara Falls says: "Jack Glenister successfully swam the whirlpool rapids this morning. Glenister is now under the care of a physician. No bones are broken, but he is partially delirious."

REDUCED POSTAL RATES

The New Regulation for the 300-Mile Limit.

Ottawa, Aug. 18. — The postoffice department has issued a circular, stating that in order that publishers may be enabled to take advantage of the reduced rate on newspapers within the three hundred-mile zone, they must separate the newspapers which they have hitherto sent at half a cent per pound rate into two parts, one containing those to be delivered within the three hundred mile limit, and which are not to be delivered to places having a free delivery system, and the other those which will still be liable to the half a cent per pound rate. The free delivery offices in Canada, in which newspapers cannot be delivered at the reduced rate of one-quarter cent, are Victoria, Vancouver, Winnipeg, London, Brantford, Toronto, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec, St. John, Fredericton and Halifax. The three hundred miles must be from the office of the actual place of publication, and there is no choice of center outside of that point, as in the case with the twenty-mile limit for weekly newspapers. All papers which have heretofore enjoyed free transmission within the twenty-mile limit will continue to do so.

KING BREEDS CANARIES

Thoroughbred Songsters Being Raised at Windsor Castle.

London, Aug. 18.—The King is taking a great interest in canaries, and the breeding of these birds on an extensive scale is now being carried on at Windsor Castle under the personal supervision of one of the royal princesses.

Some elaborate cages have been fitted up in the Henry III. tower. The variety in chief favor there is the Norwich Plainhead, a consignment of which, all in pairs specifically matched for breeding, has been sent direct to the castle from Norwich.

The art of color feeding is practiced, and many of the birds are what is known as "red fed," their natural color having given place to a rich tone of red, produced by feeding the birds upon either paprika or cayenne pepper. These color-fed birds have greatly attracted the royal fancy, and in the last purchase made special instructions were given that all birds sent were to be artificially colored.

MAY PROSECUTE INSURANCE MEN

Charge of Conspiracy Against Fire Companies.

FOR INCREASING THE RATES

Because of Heavy Losses Sustained by the Big Fires at the Capital.

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—There is going to be an interesting time in insurance circles in Canada. Recently, with a view to getting even with the city of Ottawa for the heavy losses which they have sustained since 1900, the insurance companies ordered the imposition of from 25 to 50 cents on each $100 of insurance premiums taken in Ottawa. This was done through the medium of the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association.

Mr. Belcourt, M. P., has expressed the opinion that every company constituting the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association is guilty of an infraction of the criminal code, and today information will be laid against 28 companies combined in the association. The action will be taken under section 520 of the criminal code, which makes any corporation liable to a penalty ranging from $1,000 to $10,000 for combining or conspiring, among other things, to unduly prevent insurance upon person or property.

A second action may be taken under section 527 of the criminal code, which distinctly states: "Everyone is guilty of an indictable offense and liable to seven years' imprisonment who, in any case not hereinbefore provided for, conspires with any person to commit any indictable offense."

EXPANSION OF CHEESE TRADE

Great Increase in Exports to England—Canadian Cheese Unexcelled.

London, Aug. 18.—The agricultural correspondent of the Times says that Canada still has a great deal to do before butter arrives in as satisfactory a state as that from Australia and New Zealand. Weddel's report suggests that a great advantage would accrue to Western Canada if Toronto were made a collecting point from which to dispatch butter and cheese to the seaboard. Butter on arriving at Toronto should go straight into a freezing store and not into an ice store. The shipping companies should examine the temperature of butter before shipping and should reject any above a fixed standard, say over 35 degree Fahrenheit.

The article also affords a remarkable illustration of the growth of the Canadian cheese trade with Great Britain. It states that the british importation of foreign butter far exceeds that from the colonies. During the past ten years the imports of foreign butter has increased by 70,000 tons, while that from the colonies has only increased by 14,458 tons. In 1895 the import of butter from Canada amounted to 2,197 tons, while this year the amount of Canadian butter brought in figures 13,238 tons. The butter, however, says the Times writer, does not arrive in so satisfactory a state as that from the Australian colonies. The colonial cheese importation is now more than double that of the foreign. Since 1894 the colonial cheese, chiefly Canadian cheese, increased over 33,000 tons, while the foreign product has diminished by 13,000 tons. In 1894 the Canadian cheese import into Great Britain amounted to 55,119. This year it amounts to 87,883 tons. Canada and New Zealand are now the only colonies which export cheese to England, Canada sending 40 times as much as New Zealand. Both in quantity and condition last year's Canadian cheese imported into this country were never excelled.

Yesterday's papers again call attention to the scarcity of home-grown fruit, especially apples and pears, which promise a poor crop, thus giving an opening for Canadian fruit-growers.

A Montana Duel.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 18.—Pat Rogers, one of the six men who broke from the Butte jail on the night of Aug. 8, has written a letter in which he says he will give himself up if City Detective Murphy will fight him a duel. Murphy has accepted the challenge.

THE EMPRESS OF INDIA SINKS A CHINESE WARSHIP

The C. P. R. Pacific Liner Collides With the Huang Tai Off Hong Kong---Fourteen Drowned.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY ON CRUISER SAVED

Hong Kong, Aug. 18.—The Canadian Pacific Railroad's steamer Empress of India (from Vancouver, B. C., July 27, and Yokohama, Aug. 10, for Hong Kong) collided near this port today with the Chinese cruiser Huang Tai. The warship sank an hour after the collision. The Empress of India saved 170 of the crew of the cruiser. The captain of the Huang Tai, who refused to leave his ship, and thirteen of her crew were drowned. The Empress of India was badly damaged midships.

The Huang Tai was a tender to the naval engineering college of the southern Chinese squadron at Nanking. She was of 2,110 tons displacement, had a speed of 15 knots and carried 300 men. She was built in England in 1888. Her armament consisted of three 7-inch Krupp guns, seven 40-pounders and six small rapid fire guns. The Empress of India is one of the fine vessels of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. She is 440 feet long, and is of over 3,000 tons net register. She was built at Barrow in 1890, is driven by two propellers and has 10,000 indicated horse power.

CLANS CONVENE

Big Meeting of the Order Being Held at Cleveland.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 18.—The 21st biennial convention of the Order of Scottish Clans of the United States and Canada began here today, and will continue until Friday night. It is expected that some amendments will be made to the constitution and bylaws. The meetings of each day will be devoted to the business of the order, and in the evening speeches and banquets will be given. Tomorrow the royal clan will be in session all day. About 200 delegates will take part in the convention.

MAY CORNER WHEAT

American Farmers May Force Price To $1 a Bushel.

Guthrie, Okla., Aug. 18. — The National Farmers' Co-operative Union of America, composed largely of wheat growers in Oklahoma, Nebraska and Kansas, is sending out a circular letter to all wheat growers in the west and southwest, trying to secure their consent to hold their wheat crops until the market advances the price to $1 per bushel. It is believed that his plan would corner the wheat crop so that the price could be forced to that figure.

WORLD'S APPLE CROP

Canada's Yield Promises To Be Quite Heavy.

Boston, Aug. 18.—The report on the world's apple crop of 1903 has just been issued by the Boston Chamber of Commerce. It shows Great Britain short of all fruits, notably apples. Europe is generally short of apples, but with a heavy crop of Valencia oranges and Almaria grapes. New England, in the aggregate, will have a very generous crop. New York State reports plenty of apples, the middle west only fair, the far west very heavy. Canada also promises quite a heavy yield.

DIAMONDS IN LIBERIA

Also Fine Specimens of Rubies and Sapphires.

New York, Aug. 18.—A Herald dispatch from London says: It is officially stated by Mr. Hayman, consul-general of the republic of Liberia in London, that diamonds have been discovered in the country, and following this it is now announced that a prospecting party, sent out by the West African Gold Concessions Company, Limited, has returned with fine specimens of corundum in the form of both rubies and sapphires. This news is of interest in America, and in France, where a fair proportion of the stock of the company that owns the mining rights in the republic is held.

A MISSING WOMAN

A Wealthy 'Frisco Widow's Mysterious Disappearance.

San Francisco, Aug. 18.—Ellen Kelleher, a wealthy widow, 65 years old, left Lawrence, Mass., July 24, and has not been heard from since. She had purchased a ticket for San Francisco and all the evidence of her movements after leaving home are the stubs which were taken up by the conductors en route, and which indicate that she left the train somewhere between Albany and Buffalo.

Mrs. Kelleher is an aunt of Mrs. J. J. Dunn, of this city, and was on her way to make her home with Mrs. Dunn, when the misfortune, whatever it was, which put an end to her journey, overtook her. Every effort is being made to trace the whereabouts of the missing woman, but so far without success.

A BOY SCIENTIST

He Astounds Parisians With Electrical Discoveries.

Paris, Aug. 18.—Another young Brazilian has come to the fore in scientific circles in Paris. Oswaldo de Faria, a youth of 16, who is solving problems which have foiled electrical specialists, has invented a regulator permitting him to transform the currents and regulate light with incredible ease and simplicity. Last week the Brazilian minister and a number of leading electrical and scientific authorities and engineers assembled at his mother's drawing-room and enthusiastically applauded his achievements. His apparatus, utilizing a Champs Elysee electric current, produced a fixity of light, propelled a four horse power motor, and bobine, giving a 55 centimeters spark, besides charging the accumulators rapidly.

A WILD WEST YARN

Report of a Fierce Battle Officially Denied.

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—The report that a detachment of Mounted Police had been sent out with a field gun to capture a half-breed who had entrenched himself on a hill proves to be a gross exaggeration. Inquiries at Edmonton shows that there is very little foundation for the story. It appears that a rancher named Alexander Rattenden at Bresaylor complained that he had been shot at but not hit by a man supposed to be a lunatic. A number of police have been sent to arrest the lunatic, but have not yet returned.

Rev. Canon Dann.

At a meeting of the congregation of St. Paul's Cathedral the other evening Rev. Canon Dann was unanimously chosen as the successor of the late Dean Innes as rector of the cathedral, and his name ordered to be submitted to the Bishop of Huron for approval. Canon Dann is also spoken of as likely to secure the appointment to the position of dean of Huron. He has been assistant rector of the cathedral for several years, coming from Ireland to take up the work, and it can be said of him that there is no more popular Anglican clergyman in the diocese. He is an enthusiast in military matters, holding the office of chaplain of the Twenty-sixth (Middlesex) Regiment. He is one of the few chaplains who spends the entire time of the annual camp of instruction under canvas with the troops.

Pope Wants Satolli.

Rome, Aug. 18. — The Pope insists that Cardinal Satolli accept the post of papal secretary of state. In a recent audience Satolli strongly recommended the appointment of Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli, who will probably be selected if Satolli persists in his refusal.

MELONS CAUSE THREE MURDERS

Alabama White Men Invade a Negro's Patch—He Kills Three and Wounds Ten.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 18.—A special from Heflin, Ala., says:

News has just reached here that three men have been killed and ten woundede in Randolph County by a negro named Sledge. The sheriff and posse are now in pursuit, but have not yet captured the murderer.

The trouble arose over a difficulty in a watermelon patch last Saturday. A party of white men were working on the public road at Beaver Creek, near Lamarx, and when they finished work they asked permission to eat a few melons in the negro's melon patch. They tried to help themselves. The men began to cut and slash melons and vines, while Sledge looked on. The negro warned them to stop and then went after his gun. Returning, he emptied his weapon into the crowd, wounding nine out of the eleven.

Immediately Sledge fled. A posse headed by the sheriff overtook the negro near a bridge over the Tallapossa River, five miles from Wedowee. He was ordered to surrender, but replied by firing his shotgun, instantly killing Thomas Ebbit and Robert Ford.

Sledge was accosted on the road today by James Moore and Bud Wilson. Without warning the negro raised his gun and fired, instantly killing Moore and mortally wounding Wilson.

QUIET DEBATE ON RAILROAD POLICY

Colonel Hughes Criticises the Transcontinental Railway.

MR. MORRISON DEFENDS SCHEME

And Shows How Greatly It Will Benefit British Columbia and Pacific Coast.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—There was but a slim attendance in the House of Commons this morning. All routine business was, by consent, allowed to stand, and discussion resumed on Sir Wilfrid's resolution declaring it expedient to ratify the agreement the Government has entered into respecting the construction of the national transcontinental railway.

Mr. Houghton Lennox (West Simcoe) had the floor. He ridiculed the statements made by Mr. Oliver in the memorandum the member for Alberta read to the House on Friday. He denied the charge of Mr. Lemieux that the Conservatives were decrying the capabilities of Canada's great lone land. He praised Premier Roblin's Manitoba railway policy as a magnificent measure for the development of Western Canada's resources. He urged that the Premier should appeal to the country for its mandate in regard to his Grand Trunk Pacific deal.

Hon. Sydney Fisher had two years ago declared that more railways were not necessary, as the improvement of the canals was the solution of the transportation question, said Mr. Lennox. Holding these views, Mr. Fisher ought to resign instead of voting for this scheme. Referring to Mr. John Charlton's support of the scheme, Mr. Lennox said the member for North Norfolk had protested against the Quebec-Moncton portion of the G. T. P. system. Now he was supporting it. Though Mr. Blair had acquitted Sir Wilfrid Laurier of personally suggesting that position in the cabinet, while disapproving of the plan, yet Sir Wilfrid Laurier was quite willing for Mr. Blair to do this.

Canada had already two all-Canadian lines. There were no state papers to show that for the past seven years there had been any threat on the part of the United States authorities to withdraw the bonding privilege. The bonding privilege argument was a mere afterthought by the Government. If the United States did attempt to coerce Canada in this way, Mr. Lennox declared he was prepared to fight for Canada's rights.

Mr. Aulay Morrison (New Westminster) declared that Mr. Lennox's four and a half hours' speech had been like dreary waste of territory. Mr. Lennox claimed the Grand Trunk Railway was to pass through. Mr. Morrison declared the Government railway project was entirely satisfactory to British Columbia. The contract contained a number of clauses, specially protecting the interests of the people of the Pacific province. The introduction of the Grand Trunk was desired even by Conservatives. The fear that the interests of Vancouver would be prejudiced by the building up of Port Simpson was unfounded.

In the House of Commons this evening, after the 6 o'clock recess, Mr. Morrison continued his argument on the Government railway scheme. He showed that British Columbia not only needed the Grand Trunk Pacific, but wanted several more such railways. He quoted extensively from surveyors' reports, and proved that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway would traverse a profitable country on its Pacific section. The railway would lead to development of immense fishery reserves at present unexploited. Lumbering and mining would also be greatly developed. The railway would also assist in greatly expanding Canada's Asiatic trade, thus building up Canada's Pacific ports and ocean shipping. Vast quantities of wheat and flour from the Northwest would be shipped via the Pacific Ocean.

The Grand Trunk Pacific, Mr. Morrison said, would result in the reduction of freight rates in British Columbia and assist in the repatriation of Canadians now in the United States.

Col. Sam Hughes (North Victoria) said that the Liberal members discussed everything but the proposition before the House. The Liberals were today eulogizing different sections of the country. It was not so much a question of route as a question of announcement, made some twelve months ago in the American press, as to Senator Cox's intentions of extending the Grand Trunk Railway from Chicago, via Minneapolis, to Winnipeg, with a branch from Winnipeg to Duluth to connect via the lakes with the Grand Trunk system at Midland. This was the original scheme, and it was not a bad one. The object was to intimidate Mackenzie & Mann. But the coons did not come down. (Laughter.) Then the patriotic end of the scheme was tacked on, and it was announced that the Grand Trunk would parallel the Mackenzie & Mann lines in Canada and build the Gravenhurst and North Bay. But still the coons did not come down. Then the Minister of Justice saw how the interests of the Quebec bridge promoters might be benefited by running the line further east. So the scheme in its present shape, with all the large Government assistance proposed, was evolved.

Col. Hughes referred to the success which had, he said, attended Premier Roblin's policy of Government control of railways in Manitoba. The policy of Government control was even better than Government ownership and operation. As the result of the policy, the farmers of Manitoba had saved last year $400,000 in freight rates. This year they would save $1,500,000. From Chicago to New York the freight rates were kept down by the competition of water carriage. As to the threatened withdrawal of the bonding privilege, if the United States authorities attempted that it would cause such an outbreak of opposition in the United States itself as has not been seen since the civil war. American interests would be far more adversely affected than Canadian interest.

Any money the Government had to spare on railways should be spent in improving facilities between Winnipeg and Port Arthur, and securing control of rates such as the Roblin Government had secured. If control of rates could not be secured the Government should itself extend the Intercolonial Railway to the west. The Government should also improve the navigation of the Red River at St. Andrew's, so that navigation from the foot of the Rocky Mountains to Winnipeg could be established. The St. Lawrence route and the Maritime Province harbors should also be improved.

Mr. Russell (Hants) quoted lierally from an autobiography by Col. Sam Hughes in order to show that Col. Hughes had claimed he was the originator of the idea of a second Canadian transcontinental railway. The gallant colonel should therefore be supporting the Government's scheme. Col. Hughes had destroyed Hon. Mr. Haggart's argument that the line crossed nothing but granite ridges and musbkegs. Mr. Russell claimed that the contract was a bona fide attempt to build up Canadian ports. All that was necessary was a little patriotism on the western end and a little push on the eastern end to make the project a success. Mr. Russell contended that the provision as to running rights over the G. T. R. were valuable and practicable. He claimed that Sir Sanford Fleming had been misrepresented as to the route through Central New Brunswick. Even at the time the Intercolonial was constructed, it was recognized that the Central New Brunswick route was the more direct.

At this stage Mr. Russell moved the adjournment of the debate.

RUSSIA INSISTS ON PEACE

And Sends Her Warships to See It Is Carried Out—Many More Massacres Reported.

London, Aug. 17.—According to information in possession of diplomats, there is no reason at this moment to fear danger because of the differences between the powers in respect to Macedonia, or that the trouble will spread beyond the confines of Turkey. One of these who is participating in the exchange of notes regarding the situation said today:

"The powers are acting harmoniously. Nothing has developed to indicate any suspicion, or cause for suspicion of the motives underlying the demands made by Russia upon the Porte. A full exchange of views has occurred between the powers interested. War between Turkey and Bulgaria might lead to complications of such a grave character that every effort is being made by the powers to maintain peace between those countries.

"I have no information regarding the exact destination of the Russian squadron which has been ordered to the Turkish waters, but within 48 hours it will reach whatever point has been selected. There is no doubt that the sole object is to make Turkey understand that Russia is in earnest, and that her demands must be complied with without delay.

"I have confirmatory advices as to the general character of the revolution. Turkey has a free hand so far as the military operations within her own territory are concerned; but the suppression of the revolt is not a matter of a week, and the longer it drags on the greater is the danger of international complications, which all the powers are zealously laboring to prevent."

Sebastopol, Aug. 17.—The squadron of the Russian Black Sea fleet, which has been ordered to the Turkish coast, sailed today. It is under the command of Rear Admiral Krueger.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 17.—A dispatch received here from Uskub says that 600 Bashi-Bazouks, under the command of Albanian chiefs, who are notoriously cruel, have pillaged and destroyed a number of Christian villages in the districts of Debre and Okrida. The Turkish authorities, it is added, connived at the outrages, and furnished the Bashi-Bazouks with old uniforms, so that they might appear to be regular soldiers.

Belgrade, Servia, Aug. 17.—A mass meeting will be held here Aug. 23 to express sympathy with the Macedonian insurgents. Prominent politicians have promise to make speeches.

Constantinople, Aug. 17.—The managers of the railroads have notified the Porte that they disclaim responsibility for the damage done to the lines or for the injuries sustained by officials while the present conditions prevail in Macedonia. A dispatch from Salonica says two persons were killed, a number of people were injured and several cars were destroyed by an explosion which occurred yesterday on the railway between Amatora and Karazolili.

Berlin, Aug. 17.—According to a dispatch received by the Frankfort Zeitung, the river near Monastir, Macedonia, is full of the mutilated bodies of women and children who have been massacred by the Bashi-Bazouks.

Vienna, Aug. 17.—In connection with Russia's action in sending a squadron to Turkish waters, the Associated Press is officially informed that Austria has every reason to continue to believe that Russia does not intend to violate the spirit of the Russo-Austrian Balkan agreement. Austria's ambassador at St. Petersburg, it is understood, however, is making efforts to induce Russia to carry out the proposed demonstration.

Rome, Aug. 17.—The memorandum of the Bulgarian Government to the powers, regarding the situation in Macedonia, has produced a great effect here. The general impression is that the Bulgarian Government is no longer able to hold back popular feeling which unless it is repressed in time will lead to war with Turkey. The fate of Bulgaria in that event, it is thought, would probably be the same as that of Greece in the last war with Turkey. The Italian Government is exchanging views on the subject with Vienna and London.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 17.—Orders have been issued for the mobilization tomorrow of two divisions of the reserves. It is rumored that they will be employed to strengthen the force on the frontier to prevent the raiding of Bulgarian bands into Macedonia. The officials state that this rumor is unfounded, but that the reserves will be called out to undergo their customary training of 15 days.

A CALIFORNIAN MYSTERY

One of a Picnic Party Returns With a Terrible Tale.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Aug. 18.—Miss Katherine Grathwole, of St. Paul, Minn., is dead; Frederick Lueders, an artist, of this city, is a raving maniac, and Fred Webster, Nellie Stone, Fred Gilbert and Grace Porter, also of this city, cannot be located, and at this time mystery surrounds the whole affair. The party left here Sunday for a day's picnic at the summit of the mountain, which is reached by the Lacumbre Trail. Frederick Lueders arrived in town Sunday night and reported that one of the party, Miss Grathwole, was dying, but he was so exhausted none of the particulars could be learned. A party then left for the scene, and Lueders followed them. They returned at midnight with Lueders, who was found at the foot of the grade, a raving maniac, and who gave no account of the whereabouts of the rest of the party. The efforts of the searchers so far have been fruitless in finding any trace of the lost excursionists. Miss Grathwole was staying in Santa Barbara for her health and was only 24 years old.

THE CONGRESS AT MONTREAL

Preferential Tariff and Imperial Defense Discussed.

THE LATTER WAS APPROVED

With the Added Clause That the Colonies Act Upon Their Own Initiative.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—The Chambers of Commerce Congress was opened here this morning. Lord Brassy, president, and Lord Strathcona, were loudly applauded when they entered the congress hall shortly after the stroke of 10, all the delegates rising to their feet. Referring to the question of preferential trade within the empire, Lord Strathcona said the colonies were prepared to make some sacrifices in order to bring about what they regard as a desirable result, and they must wait and see what the inquiry into the question which was going on in the United Kingdom was likely to bring forth. No general policy, so far as the empire was concerned, could be adopted unless the mother country and the colonies were in accord upon this question.

Lord Strathcona then introduced Lord Brassey. In commencing, the chairman made a few remarks in French, which was highly appreciated, judging by the applause of the French delegates. After expressing thanks for the cordial reception of the Montreal Board of Trade, Lord Brassey said the prime object of the meeting was to strengthen and conserve by every practical means the noble empire to which they belonged. Referring to Mr. Chamberlain's proposals, the speaker said they had raised the keenest discussion, but they must inquire exhaustively before they acted.

The congress made good progress today with the disposal of resolutions on the order paper. The first subject was the question of imperial defense and on this the following resolution was adopted:

"Moved by Col. Denison, Toronto, seconded by Mr. Mason, Montreal, that this congress hereby affirms the principle that it is the duty of the self-governing colonies to participate in the cost of the defense of the empire, but the colonies claim the privilege of keeping their own initiative as to the nature and mode of help which they may agree to offer."

The resolution was passed amid great enthusiasm and the singing of the National Anthem.

At the afternoon session, the following resolution, moved by Cyrus A. Birge, Hamilton, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, was adopted:

"That in the interests of the British Empire, and particularly in the interests of the motherland, measures should be adopted which would direct British capital and emigration to the colonies rather than to foreign countries."

A long discussion resulted from a motion presented by Col. Denison, of Toronto. The resolution was as follows: "Whereas, the assurance of a constant and ample supply of food to the citizens of the United Kingdom in both peace and war is a matter of first importance for the safety of the empire, it is resolved that in the opinion of this congress the fool supply of Great Britain can be most safely relied upon by developing the output of her own territories to such an extent as to make her independent of supplies from foreign countries, and that to best achieve this end it is most desirable and necessary to divert as far as possible, all of her able bodied citizens to the shores of her domains beyond the seas."

Col. Denison made a long speech in supporting the resolution, pointing out the danger that England would be exposed to in the event of a war actually with the United States and the importance of making the motherland independent as regards her food supply. After a long discussion the resolution was carried.

Another resolution carried was: "That in the opinion of this congress all treaties between Great Britain and foreign countries should leave Great Britain to enter into such relations with the colonies and dependencies as might be deemed expedient."

Another resolution was adopted in favor of His Majesty's Government taking immediate steps in conjunction with the governments of the colonies interested, in order to obtain for British colonies most favored nation treatment from those countries which have granted most favored nation treatment to the United Kingdom and against which the colonies are not discriminating in the application of their customs tariff.

The delegates tonight were the guests of the Montreal Board of Trade, at the inauguration of the new board of trade building, which was a brilliant social function, over 1,500 guests being present.

TRADE WITH THE U. S.

Last Year's Was Greater Than Any Other Year.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—Trade with Canada in the fiscal year just ended reached its high-water mark. Both in imports and exports the commerce between the two countries exceeded that in any previous year.

Statistics completed in the department of commerce and labor show that the imports from Canada last year amounted to $54,660,410, and the exports to Canada, exclusive of Manitoba and the Northwest, $123,472,416. About $38,000,000 of the imports were from Quebec and Ontario; $10,000,000 from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and $6,000,000 from British Columbia. Of exports, $110,700,000, was to Quebec and Ontario; $7,000,000 to New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and $6,000,000 to British Columbia.

The imports never before reached so much as $50,000,000 save in one exceptional year, 1881, when they barely touched that figure.

London, Aug. 18. — The Standard's correspondent at Tien Tsin reports that the educated Chinese in that city are imploring the foreign consuls to afford them protection on account of the approaching visit of the Chinese official who arrested the Pekin reform journalist, Shen Chien, who was afterwards beaten and then strangled to death. The official is thought to be on his way to Tien Tsin to seek victims among the reformers there.

THREW BABE IN THE RIVER

Terrible Confession of a Girl From Strathroy.

Arrested in Windsor—Says a London Man Is the Child's Father.

The Windsor police have in their custody a girl named Ella Rice, 19 years of age, who went to that place from London about three months ago. The charge against her is that of murdering her infant.

The girl has for some time been employed in the dining-rooms of a number of hotels here and in Windsor, and belongs to a very respectable family in Strathroy, where she resided up to the time of her coming to London. When she left here she secured employment in the Crawford House at Windsor, where it is said she made many friends among the patrons of the house by reason of her pleasant manner. She remained at the Crawford for some weeks, and then went to the Manning House, kept by Mr. Appleton, formerly of this city, and it was there that she gave birth to a child on Monday morning.

A remarkable thing about the case is that an hour after the baby was born the girl left the Manning House with the child and went to the International Hotel, some distance away, where she remained during the day and evening, when she went to the Michigan Central docks, and, it is alleged, threw the child into the river, where it was found a few hours later by some boys.

Miss Rice was located at the Hotel Campus, in Detroit, where she was taken into custody. She has acknowledged throwing the baby into the river. In reply to questions by the police of Windsor, she said that a young man well known in this city was the father of her child.

DESTRUCTIVE HAIL

Moosejaw, Manitoba, Hit by a Furious Tempest.

Moosejaw, Man., Aug. 18. — A most destructive hailstorm passed over this section last night and damaged a section 21 miles square. It commenced about four miles north of the town and took in a section seven miles wide, going south.

The loss has not yet been figured out, but it got up into the six figures.

In the town every house with north windows had the glass destroyed. It is figured that the damage in glass alone in the town and country will be $1,200.

The storm was the worst known here in ten years. Hailstones as large as 50-cent pieces were picked up after it had passed.

PIUS AND THE VATICAN

His Holiness Not Familiar With Court Usage.

London, Aug. 18. — "My jailers confined me here and then ran away." This, according to the Daily Mail's Rome correspondent, whome the Pope received yesterday, is how Pius expressed his embarrassment at the ceremonial lif of th Vatican, his jailrs being the Sacred College of Cardinals. The correspondent found his holiness placid and kindly, but quite confused about the ceremonial to be followed. One of the Vatican officials said that they could not suggest many points of usage to the Pope, and he could not gues them. Thus the Pope bowed to instead of blessing the party, among whom was the correspondent, when they withdrew.

An Artillery Range.

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—The supplementary estimates may contain an amount to buy land up the Gatineau for an artillery range. Sir Frederick Borden, accompanied by Col. Biggar and other officers has made two trips to Danford Lake and Kazubazua district recently and while the militia officers will not speak, it seems highly probably that the proposed new ranges will be situated in the Gatineau hills.

Fighting the C. P. R.

Toronto, Aug. 18.—Application was made today on behalf of J. P. Thomas, of Belleville, to have a receiver appointed in respect to certain claims held by John Arthur Codd against the Great Northwest Central Railway, now part of the Canada Pacific system. Poor Girl, Pity Her.

Growing! Yes, into weakness, but not strength. Studies—plenty of them. Tired—of course she is, and weak, too. Does not eat enough and digests far less than enough. This condition is so frequent, but how seldom noticed even by fond parents. Give her Ferrozone, then watch her appetite improve, her cheeks and lips grow ruddy, her step elastic, her spirits buoyant. All this simply the result of eating and digesting enough, making blood, and thereby strengthening the nerve and brain power. Ferrozone gives a woman's strength to weak girls. Your daughter or wife needs Ferrozone. Get it today.

The mind that is much elevated and insolent with prosperity, and cast down by adversity, is generally abject and base.—Epicurus.

SOME PERSONS have periodical attacks of Canadian cholera, dysentery or diarrhea, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Change of water, cooking and green fruit is sure to bring on the attacks. To such persons we would recommend Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial as being the best medicine in the market for all summer complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed no further trouble will be experienced.

TO KNOW IS TO PREVENT.—If the miners who work in cold water most of the day would rub their feet and legs with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, they would escape muscular rheumatism and render their nether limbs proof against the ill effects of exposure to the cold. Those setting out for mining regions would do well to provide themselves with a supply before starting.

Fishing Under Difficulties.

Some people are disposed to think that fishing is a very monotonous amusement. But the experience of a Yankee fisherman in Lake Erie a few days ago shows that it is not difficult to get up a little excitement in connection with this peaceful occupation that ought to satisfy anybody. It is only necessary to go and fish in forbidden waters; then, when the owner of the property, or his watchman, comes along, try to run away without making explanation; whereupon the fisherman will get peppered with buckshot, or its equivalent. The Canadian gunboat Petrel found the Yankee tug Silver Spray poaching in Canadian waters. The unlucky fisherman was ordered to stop, but he preferred to run. The Petrel is not such a very fast boat; but she carries a little brass gun, which makes up for slow speed. A ball from that gun travels much faster than even a poacher's tug. So the result was that the man who was trying to net Canadian fish went home to show his wounds, and the wounds in his boat, and call for vengeance on the "blasted Britisher."

Some of the papers on the other side of the line are taking this little scrimmage seriously, and clamoring for more gunboats to be put on the lakes, to meet the aggressive and intolerant Canadians; and for demands on the British Government for reparation for the wounded honor of the United States, and the splintered bulwarks of the Yankee tug. But most of them take the matter very calmly; and do not seem to think there is any casus belli. If the fisherman was poaching in Canadian waters he got no more than he deserved. When he was summoned to stop, he should have stopped. That he did not do so is prima facie evidence that he knew he was where he had no business to be. The captain of the Petrel no doubt felt sure of his position before he took extreme measures with the poacher. There has been a little too much of this poaching going on. The United States authorities would make short work of any Canadian poacher; and they would be justified in so doing. There is no reason why we should follow any other course.

The fishermen from the south of the line, have not, we believe, shown any particular judgment in the management of their own fisheries. They have made no special efforts to care for their own fish, or to preserve their own waters from the depredations of their own people. And it will not be of much use for Canada to try to protect her fisheries by stringent laws that shall only be operative against Canadians, while the Yanke poacher works his sweet will. This little episode may, however, have a good effect. It may lead to mutual arrangements between the two countries for the proper protection of inland fisheries. And if it does not even do that much, it may lead to more careful surveys, and delimitations of the waters of the respective countries, so that no mistakes should arise as to which is Canadian and which is not. If the trespassing boat has any just cause of grievance, it will be found that Canada will make ample reparation; but if it was really on a stealing expedition, the captain may be thankful he got off as well as he did. His own wounds are not fatal; they certainly have not affected his speech; and the profits of some former poaching trip will doubtless repair all damages done to his boat.

A Difference of Opinion.

While the special prominence given to the man from Manitoulin by a certain section of the Conservatives would almost justify the assumption that, for lack of more worthy material, Mr. Whitney and his associates have accepted Mr. R. R. Gamey as their standard-bearer, there are many indications that this person is a pile too numerous for clean-minded Conservatives to swallow. The rabble at a Conservative picnic may clamor for him in preference to Mr. Roblin, the Premier of Manitoba, and demagogues of the Beattie Nesbitt type may announce their determination to "stick by Gamey." But against that we may put the emphatic language of Senator Sullivan, of Kingston—a Tory and a gentleman. Twitted in the Senate by Mr. Frost that the Conservatives had taken the Manitouliner into their affection and esteem, Dr. Sullivan made an indignant denial. These are his words, as reported in the Hansard:

"I desire to repudiate with all the force in my power, the charge the honorable gentleman has just made. No Conservative of any respectability that I know of his indorsed Mr. Gamey or put him forward as a standard, nor desires to do so—nor would any Conservative desire to come into power on the strength of Mr. Gamey."

King Peter of Servia (Is it Servia of which he is king?) is talking about abdicating. If he waits a little while his subjects will no doubt settle the matter quietly for him by pumping him full of lead some evening.

A railway official in Indiana has issued an order forbidding trainmen flirting with girls on his road. Evidently he believes in the truth of the old idea that whenever a disaster occurs, some woman is concerned in the matter. Still, under the laws and customs of civilized countries every woman is guaranteed the right of flirtation. And if the women along the railway are disposed to flirt with the trainmen, how are the officials going to stop it?

It was a fortunate thing for the Conservatives at Ottawa that Mr. Blair opposed the G. T. P. bill. He has supplied them with arguments and a policy. He has given them an apology for a backbone, which they sadly needed. Still, the back has more gristle than bone. Mr. Borden's new ally is immeasurably superior to Mr. Whitney's Gamey, but is not enough.

Sad Is Our Youth.

[S. E. Kiser.]

Sad is our youth, with voices ever calling
And ever sternly bidding us to stay;
Sad is our youth with all the hapless falling,
The anguish after being warned away.
Sad is our youth, with all the tears, the aching
That comes from dainties we are warned to shun,
With all the futile fights to keep from taking
The bitter doses when the harm is done.
Sad is our youth with all the promised gladness
Beyond the weeks that drag so slowly past,
With all the threats of punishment, the madness
Of being tempted, and denied at last.
Sad is our youth, a period of sorrows,
Of promised joys that ere we taste are gone,
Of rosy, golden, beautiful tomorrows
That never, never, never seem to dawn.

His Only Object.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]

No sooner had Tuffold Knutt made his appearance at the kitchen door than the mistress of the house opened out on him.

"I think it's a shame," she said, "that a lazy, good for nothing, greasy, dirty, shiftless vagabond like you is allowed to run the streets and disturb people that have to work for their living, when you know you could get something to do if you would only ask for it, but you don't want to work, and you know it, and wouldn't take it if anybody was to give it to you, and it's a waste of good victuals to give it to fellows like you, when——"

"But, ma'am," he broke in, "let me ax ye——"

"'Ax'! What do you say 'ax' for when you mean 'ask'?"

"Because, ma'am," said Tuffold Knutt, impressively, "I wuz tryin' to git a word in edgeways."

With which parting shot he straightened up, touched his battered hat with dignity, and strode away from the premises.

Good Old Summer Time.

[Pall Mall Gazette.]

Earth has doffed the bridal raiment which her virgin form arrayed,
Fairer far the graceful mother than the shy and trembling maid;
As the iris to the bluebell, as the heather
to the ling,
As the sunshine to the twilight, so is summer to the spring.

Golden on her golden bosom is the waving of the corn,
Bright and flaming red the poppies that her comely waist adorn;
And she weaves the thousand emerald
tints that play among her trees,
In the brilliance of the banner she is fluttering to the breeze.

There's a honeysuckle garland bound about her shapely head,
Sending down its scented tendrils with her neck and breast to wed,
And the roses and carnations in her tangled tresses meet,
As they wind about her body on their way to kiss her feet.

Now she knows no thought of sorrow,
and her only uttered sigh
Is a breath of fragrant perfume in a rustling field of rye,
And she laughs through every moment of her sun-bespangled day,
Where her streamlets chase the pebbles and her silver fountains play.

Poetry and Prose.

"Yes," answered Mr. Brimkin, "but my devotion has taken a more practical form. Every month I pay the meat bill."

"How is my studious niece," said Uncle Jabez.

"Still pondering on the fitness of things," answered her father.

"With her books, eh?"

"No. Dressmakers."

Fresh Air and Sound Health.

[San Francisco Bulletin.]

There are many persons who seem afraid of the fresh air. A little rain, a little wind, a little fog, a little chill in the air will keep them within doors. Going out, they bundle up in clothes so thickly that one would think they were tender shrubs transplanted from some more genial clime. The healthy people, however, are not the health cranks, not the people who run to the doctor every time they feel an ache. They are the people who walk a great deal in the fresh air, who live in the open as much as they can and who take a vacation in the country every year.

Floods at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 18.—Owing to the rise in the waters of the Kansas River at this point, the James street bridge, the only means of street car communication between here and Kansas City, Kan., was carried away yesterday. It was struck by a great mass of driftwood. The bridge was built of piles to replace the one carried out by the June flood. Other structures, including the stock yards and the belt line bridges, are in immediate danger.

A False Report.

Belgrade, Servia, Aug. 18.—There is no truth in the report, circulated in the United States yesterday by a news agency, that the Russian vice-consul at Monastir, Dr. Mandelstram (who succeeded the murdered consul, Rostkovski), had been shot near Monastir.

A DOG'S FUNERAL

"Vickey" Was Placed in White Casket and Buried.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—In a white broadcloth casket, imbedded in roses and covered with the costly garments it had worn in life, "Vickey," the foxterrier that for eleven years had accompanied Mrs. M. J. S. Hodgson on her travels round the world, was buried on Saturday afternoon. The casket was carried from the house at 2,921 Indiana avenue to a cemetery—Mrs. Hodgson will not give the name of the cemetery—and was placed in a stone vault.

"I cannot bear to think that the grave may be desecrated," said Mrs. Hodgson. "Then, too, many valuable articles were buried with 'Vickey' her fur robe that matched the furs I wore, her two tailor-made automobiles, made for her in Paris, and her neckties, including one given her by the daughter of the Brazilian minister. Even the little gold pins for her blankets and other jewelry were buried with her."

During the day Mrs. Hodgson received a kind message from a man who had read the account of her pet in the papers, expressing sympathy and offering her a thoroughbred Scotch collie pup.

"But it would seem almost sacrilege for anyone to take 'Vickey's' place," said Mrs. Hodgson.

WHIPPED A MANIAC

Remarkable Display of Courage by a Welsh Girl.

Cardiff, Wales, Aug. 18.—All Britain is discussing the extraordinary heroism of a young Welsh woman, who, armed only with a broom, confronted a maniac murderer after he had killed his wife, prevented him from slaughtering his children, and drove him to flight. The heroine's name is Anne Owens.

W. D. Evans, a veterinary surgeon, of Llangian, Wales, living in an isolated cottage with his wife and children, became suddenly insane on Wednesday last. Seizing a knife, the maniac chased his wife into the yard and stabbed her to death, shouting out that he would kill all the children, too. As Evans started into the house, Anne Owens confronted him at the kitchen door. The maniac attacked her, but undaunted by the jibbering madman who flourished his dripping knife at her, the brave girl attacked him with a stout broom and drove him out of the yard. Surprised by the fierce onslaught, the madman fled and the police caught him after a battle. The heroine told her story modestly to the Coroner's jury, and the Coroner commended her for her extraordinary bravery saying, "The whole community feels indebted to this brave girl. Few men would have had the courage to confront an armed madman. Undoubtedly her bravery prevented the slaughter of the entire family."

TO SEE MANEUVERS

Three Canadian Officers to Attend British Maneuvers.

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—The war office, having invited three Canadian officers to attend the maneuvers that will take place in England this fall, the Minister of Militia has selected Col. Evans, C. B., Winnipeg; Col. Drury, C. B., Kingston, and Col. Otter, C. B., Toronto. These officers will have to leave for England immediately as the maneuvers start on Sept. 6. The military operations they are invited to witness will involve the employment of over 50,000 troops. The maneuvers are planned on the line of an invasion of England from the south conducted by Major-Gen. Sir John French, with about 28,000 men. Sir Evelyn Wood will command the defense, which will be carried out by the second army corps, with about the same number of men.

MOTHERHOOD

Is a natural instinct which shows itself in the girl as soon as she is big enough to play the mother to her doll. Unfortunately the womanly health does not always keep pace with the motherly instinct, and when real motherhood comes it often comes to mothers who suffer intolerably during maternity and who are unable to nurse the weakling child which frets and moans in their arms.

Motherhood is prepared for and provided for by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures nausea, tranquilizes the nerves, gives a healthy appetite and promotes restful sleep. It makes the baby's advent practically painless, and gives the mother abundant strength to nurse her child.

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." There is nothing "just as good" for weak and sickly women.

"Two years ago I was very sick and began taking your 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mrs. Ed. Hackett, of Chardon, Geauga Co., Ohio. "When my baby boy came he weighed twelve pounds and a half. Have had good health ever since, until about three weeks ago, when weaning my baby, I contracted a heavy cold. Am taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I am thankful that poor sufferers have such a grand chance to regain their health by using Dr. Pierce's medicines. It would take pages to tell the good it has done in our family, and in a great many more families under my observation.

"I thank you for your kind medical advice."

THE DOMINION EXHIBITION

Unique Features This Year at Toronto Fair—9,000 Animals to Be on View.

The Exhibition at Toronto is celebrating its 25th annual existence by holding an All-Canadian Exhibition. Every province has united to make this year's exhibition a comple representation of the industries and resources of the country. The Federal Government has subscribed liberally to the cost, and the premiums that will be distributed this year amount to upwards of $50,000. A like amount will be spent in special features and attractions, so that this year's exhibition promises to be a very grand and elaborate affair.

A quarter of a million dollars has been spent in new buildings and redecorating and renewing old ones. The executive now boldly declare that the exhibition property is the very finest in America, and they challenge comparison. All these buildings, which embrace between 40 and 50 acres of floor space, will be full to overflowing, with the industrial and agricultural products of the whole of Canada. There will be no fewer than 9,000 animals on view at the one time; something which the Dominion Exhibition authorities boast no other fair in the world can show.

A unique feature is also the process buildgs, in which between 30 and 40 different industries will be exhibited in active operation.

Although the fair is called the Dominion Exhibition, it is really an imperial exhibition, for so exalted a personage as his Majesty the King has sent a number of exhibits. Among them are the presents received by the late Queen Victoria at the time of her jubilee in 1887 and her diamond jubilee in 1897. These gifts are from all parts of the world and are valued at several million pounds. In addition his majesty is sending some treasures presented to him during his tour in India in 1875 and 1876. These comprise saddlery and many trophies of the chase. The King has further sent a whole gallery of pictures from his palaces at Sandringham, London, and Edinburgh. H. R. H. the Duchess of Argyll (Princess Louise) is sending some of her paintings, and the Dowager Marchioness of Dufferin is forwarding a large number of presents received by herself and her late husband during their residence in India. These comprise some of the most precious gems in the world, and many articles of rare value presented to his late lordship by the King Theebau of Burmah when he was yet on the throne.

As well as these material articles, an exhibit of live stock will include animals bred on the King's estate at Sandringham, Lord Rosebery's place at Mentmore, and Herefords bred by the late Queen Victoria. All the wealthy men of Canada have also contributed loans of pictures or of prize animals bred on their respective farms.

In the way of attractions, the executive have arranged for a brilliant spectacle by Bollossy Kiraify entitled, "A Carnival in Venice." Other high-priced features make up a programme that is well worthy of a national exhibition.

Single fare and excursion rates have been arranged by every line of travel connected with Toronto. bd bw Purest of Emollients and Greatest of Skin Cures.

The Most Wonderful Curative of All Time

For Torturing, Disfiguring Skin Humours

And Purest and Sweetest of Toilet Emollients.

Cuticura Ointment is beyond question the most successful curative for torturing, disfiguring humours of the skin and scalp, including loss of hair, ever compounded, in proof of which a single anointing preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap, and followed in the severer cases, by a dose of Cuticura Resolvent, is often sufficient to afford immediate relief in the most distressing forms of itching, burning and scaly humours, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure when all other remedies fail. It is especially so in the treatment of infants and children, cleansing, soothing and healing the most distressing of infantile humours, and preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, scald and hair.

Cuticura Ointment possesses, at the same time, the charm of satisfying the simple wants of the toilet, in caring for the skin, scalp, hair, hands and feet, from infancy to age, far more effectually, agreeably and economically than the most expensive of toilet emollients. Its "Instant relief for skin-tortured babies," or "Sanative, antiseptic cleansing," or "One-night treatment of the hands or feet," or "Single treatment of the hair," or "Use after athletics," cycling, golf, tennis, riding, sparring, or any sport, each in connection with the use of Cuticura Soap, is sufficient evidence of this.

Cuticura Resolvent, liquid and in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap are sold throughout the world. ATTACKED BY DOGS

Cyclist Runs Down Geese and Throws Pepper at Owner.

Richfield, N. J., Aug. 18.—George S. Martin, a bicyclist, while spinning along the Brookdale road, was pursued by three dogs that flew out of a farmyard. In trying to escape the dogs, Martin ran into a flock of geese and was thrown off on his head. Two geese were killed. A farmhand made Martin a prisoner and summoned the farmer.

Martin failed to prove to the farmer that his dogs were the cause of the trouble. The farmer insisted that Martin should pay for the geese. In the quarrel the farmer threatened Martin, who, reaching down as if to get his purse, drew a handful of red pepper from his pocket and threw it in the farmer's face. The farmer yelled, and several other farmers came to the scene. Before they got there, however, the bicyclist had escaped.

CAR ROWDIES APOLOGIZE

Six Made to Go on Their Knees to Insulted Women.

Brooklyn, Aug. 18.—Members of the Law and Order Club of Brooklyn, recently organized to break up the bands of ruffians who are in the habit of insulting women on cars returning from Coney Island late at night, arrested six of these pests early yesterday morning and released them only after they had bent on their knees to the women they had insulted and made ample apology.

The six men who got the lesson were on a train of this line with two women.

All were talking loudly, and their conversation soon grew so coarse that several women in the car appealed to the guards to compel them to cease. The trainmen's remonstrances were met with shouts of derision, and matters were becoming serious when Edward Hughes and Karl Holsten, two members of the league, who were passengers in the car, stepped forward, and, showing, their shields, arrested the whole party. When the train reached the Third street station the prisoners were taken off, the train being held to await the arrival of the police. The action of the officers had a sobering effect upon the roysterers, and when they realized that a cell awaited them the men lost their bravado and begged for mercy.

"Just give us a chance," one of them pleaded, "and we will apologize to every lady in the car, and promise never to misbehave again."

Several other members of the league, headed by the president, Henry S. Dyruss, appeared on the scene and held a consultation. They decided to allow the men to apologize and let them off with a reprimand.

While the guards still held the train the men got on their knees and made profuse amends, much to the embarrassment of the women who had been the targets of their insults. After being released the hoodlums got out of the station and ran away.

President Dyruss says that a number of "Law and Orders" will be out nightly from now on until they teach a few more rowdies a lesson.

AN IOWA KIDNAPPING

A Woman Held for Fifty Thousand Dollars Ransom.

Davenport, Iowa, Aug. 18.—Reports come from Sunbury, Iowa, of the kidnapping late yesterday of Mrs. John Hilsrow, wife of a wealthy farmer, followed by an attempt to extort $50,000 ransom from her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Hilsrow were decoyed from their home by a man who said their son was ill in a nearby town. While driving along a lonely road with the stranger, it is said that Hilsrow, who is aged and feeble was thrown from the buggy and was told that his wife would be held until he brought the money to a certain secluded spot. Mrs. Hilsrow was imprisoned in the cellar of a deserted farm house. During last night she escaped to a farm house in the neighborhood. Meantime her husband had communicated with the county authorities, but no trace of the kidnapper could be found. Mrs. Hilsrow is in a critical condition from exposure.

THE ATLAS LOAN COMPANY

The Shareholders and Depositors Hold a Meeting.

St. Thomas, Aug. 18.—The advisory committee appointed by the shareholders of the Atlas Loan Company, to act in conjunction with the liquidators, the National Trust Company, held a joint meeting with the committee appointed by M. C. R. employes, many of whom are stockholders or depositors. There was some dissatisfaction expressed at the length of time being taken in winding up the company's affairs, and a letter was read from R. Home Smith stating that this was owing to the long vacation, during which the master in ordinary was not transacting business.

The joint committee has sent a resolution asking Mr. Wallace and the ex-directors of the company to meet and confer with them.

A COMMERCIAL TREATY

One Being Arranged Between the Germans and Russians.

Berlin, Aug. 18. — It is stated that Germany's commissioners in the commercial treaty negotiations at St. Petersburg will return to Berlin at the end of August to lay before the Government the details of Russia's demands and receive the instructions thereon. In the meantime the Russian Finance Minister, M. Witte, will take a vacation until October 15.

He has commissioned an expert to visit Germany and collect certain information concerning German industries bearing on the treaty.

The organ of the Central Industrial Association calls on the manufacturers not to give any information to the Russian expert, claiming that it will be used to German's disadvantage in the treaty negotiations. The daily newspapers indorse this advice.

SAVED HIS LIFE.

Darnley, P. E. I., Aug. 17.—John J. Burns, lot 18, Darnley, has given for publication a statement concerning his wonderful cure of Inflammation of the Kidneys by Dodd's Kidney Pills. It reads:

"For over eight years I suffered from Chronic Inflammation of the Loins and Kidneys. It got so bad I could scarcely sit, walk or sleep. I was about to give up in despair when I was led to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and they did a wonderful work for me. I am completely cured and anyone who knows me can vouch for it that Dodd's Kidney Pills and nothing else cured me."

If the Disease is of the Kidneys or from the Kidneys, Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it.

IT IS AN ELIXIR OF LIFE.—Since forgotten time men have been seeking for the Elixir of Life, which tradition says once existed. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is an Elixir, before which pain cannot live. It is made up of six essential oils, carefully blended so that their curative properties are concentrated in one. It has no equal in the treatment of lumbago, rheumatism and all bodily pains.

Major Daniels will be accompanied by Dr. C. G. Seligman, a member of the Cambridge anthropological expedition to Torres Strait and Sarawak, Borneo; Dr. William Strong, of Trinity College, Cambridge, and Mr. A. H. Dunning.

Major Daniels has equipped a schooner and the Royal Geographical Society has furnished the instruments.

The Royal Society and British Government are helping the expedition financially.

DEVERY'S BIG SPREAD

"Big Bill" Invites All New York to His Picnic.

New York, Aug. 18.—All New York has been invited to "Big Bill" Devery's picnic, which is to be given at Sulzer's Harlem River Park.

"It's going to be the biggest blowout on record," said "Big Bill," "and every mother and kid' in New York can have ice cream, cake and candy to the limit."

He came to town to order more refreshments. The refreshments ordered Monday include 10,000 quarts or 25,000 portions of ice cream, 100,000 sandwiches, 1,500 quarts of milk and five tons of candy. Previously ordered were 75,000 sandwiches, 20,000 pies, 500 kegs of beer, 300 cases champagne, 1,000 cases soft stuff and a carload of popcorn, ginger bread, apples, oranges and peanuts.

THE "GIANT BIRD"

It Is Supposed To Be Fifteen Feet High.

Berlin, Aug. 18.—The senate of the university has received letters from Professor Krause from Madagascar, saying that he has started on a hunt for the "giant bird," and expects to secure one alive.

The scientific name of the giant bird is Aepyornis, and he was supposed to be extinct up to a short time ago, when one of his eggs was found on the southwest coast of Madagascar, floating in a river that had carried it from the interior. This egg was 16 inches high, measuring 12 inches in diameter. It was sawed apart and its contents amounted to the equivalent of 190 chicken eggs.

The weight of the egg was 27 pounds. Madagascar being a tropical country, it must be assumed that the egg was laid no more than eight days ere it was found, as otherwise it would have been putrid. On that theory the Berlin University fitted out an expedition to hunt and capture the giant bird and find out all about its life and condition. The bird is supposed to be between 14 and 15 feet high.

NOTHING TO LAUGH AT.

A man who has a Boil sometimes receives scant sympathy. Jokes even are made about Boils. One is, "The best place for one is on the other fellow." Boils are tumors, varying in size from a pea to a hen's egg, painful and annoying. Any part of the body may be affected by a Boil.

Impure blood is the cause of Boils. The blood is rendered impure by the presence of poisonous matter. The liver or kidneys are acting imperfectly. The hot season is favorable to the production of Boils in persons whose blood is not thoroughly cleansed of all foreign matter. THE KIDNEYS MUST BE KEPT WELL AND THE LIVER ACTIVE OF YOU CANNOT BE WELL. Boils are only one variety of the effect of imperfect kidney and liver action. The great kidney regulator and invigorator is

THE BIG FISCAL FIGHT IS NOW ON

Cobden Club Opens the Campaign Against Chamberlain at Manchester.

London, Aug. 18. — The fiscal fight is now raging strongly. The Cobden Club has opened a campaign at Manchester and elsewhere against Mr. Chamberlain's proposals. The Standard publishes an interview with John Charlton, M. P., who, discussing the preferential question, says if Britain is prepared to give Canada a preference for grain, flour, butter, cheese, meat, and other farm produce, that would be a tangible preference calculated to confer great benefit on the Dominion. Canada could then make large concessions in return. If the idea of a preference is confined to breadstuffs, the proposal would not strike Canadians as very important. Mr. Charlton added that the free admission of Canadian wheat into the United States would be of more importance to Canada than a British preference of 1½ shillings per quarter. The Standard correspondent says it is evident that Mr. Charlton does not take as optimistic a view of the prospects of imperial preferential trade as in some quarters.

Glasgow bakers raised the price of the four-pound loaf one half-penny on Saturday, the reason being the advance in the price of flour. It is stated that London bakers will likely follow the Glasgow example.

Writing to the Times, James B. Campbell says: In a late edition of your paper Mr. Carnegie predicted a very blue outlook for my country (Canada) if the present fiscal policy of Mr. Chamberlain were adopted by the United Kingdom. Among other things he stated that 22,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat were shipped to Europe via the United States seaports, his object being to show our dependence on the United States. We have Halifax and St. John, open ports all the year round. But he omitted to allude to the exports of United States products via Canadian ports. For the fiscal year, June, 1901, they were: United States grain, 24,000,000 bushels; United States cheese and butter, 4,750,000 pounds, and a variety of mixed goods. While I was a member of the Chicago Board of Trade, several years ago, there was a little difficulty about our Canadian canals. The board of trade directors took energetic action, and a resolution was adopted to the effect that the west did not believe in being wholly at the mercy of New York and Philadelphia.

The answer to the question in the House of Commons respecting the position of the Pacific cable was not made orally. According to the statement given out, the operations of the Pacific cable show a net loss for the year ending March 31, 1903, of £30,500 —not £120,000. This sum included £46,000 of interest upon the debt incurred for construction, and £16,500 set aside as a provision for the estimated renewal of the cable and other property.

The London Morning Post, referring to the Grand Trunk Railway situation, says there is one thing about the company which must commend itself to all, and that is the sound manner in which the business of the road is being administered. Respecting the dividends, the Morning Post remarks that when the third preference comes it will be to stay and grow.

Today official notification was sent out to all concerned in the proceedings of the Alaskan tribunal to meet at the foreign office on Sept. 3 There being no time for even a brief visit back to Toronto, Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, K. C., will remain here.

G. T. PACIFIC ROUTE

Supplies Colag Forward to Survey Party.

Wabigoon, Aug. 18. — The Hudson's Bay Company, which has the contract for forwarding supplies to the Grand Trunk Pacific survey party, are shipping several tons of freight to depots which have been erected at Frenchman's Head, Ragged Lake and Osuaburgu. J. L. Campbell, of the supply department of the G. T. R., was here for a few days superintending the shipment of supplies to the different depots. Engineer Wm. Meyer, who has charge of a survey party of the Grand Trunk Pacific working from Frenchman's Head, has located the line to Ogoke River, a distance of 105 miles. The line will run within fifteen miles of Frenchman's Head, and as it goes eastward it passes through considerable farming land covered with a second growth of poplar, jack-pine and birch.

SOCIETY DANCE ON BEACH

Newport Has a New Sunday Evening Service.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 18.—Dancing on the beach is something new for Newport society, yet that is what took place Sunday night, the scene being Hazard's Beach, a private place on the ocean drive. In the absence of a moon the beach was lighted by means of bonfires, and there Mr. J. Norman De R. Whitehouse and his guests met.

It was a surprise, as the guests little knew what to expect when the invitations read Hazard's Beach, but the decorations had transformed the small pavilion into a floral bower where supper was served, followed by the dance on the sand.

The music was furnished by the Strollers Club, and it proved one of the most pleasing entertainments ever given in Newport.

WON A CHURCH IN RAFFLE

A Mill Worker Paid Twenty-Five Cents for a Ticket.

Passaic, N. J., Aug. 18. — Michael Glita, a mill employe here, has a church on his hands which he won at a raffle. It is an old building, now used by St. Michael's Greek Rite congregation, which is erecting a new edifice. Father Molscanyci decided to raffle off the old building.

Tickets were sold at $1 each, and the drawing was held in the old building. Blita won. He bought his ticket for a quarter from a friend who had gone to the old country. He will tear the building down when the new church is occupied, next month, and put up a home for his family with the lumber.

MILITARY DEFENSE

Important Measures Being Taken by the Government.

Ottawa, Aug. 18. — Step by step, important measures are being taken to put Canada in an excellent state of military defense. The militia force is being armed with modern rifles and modern artillery, and such important branches as medical equipment, commissariat and transport, intelligence, signaling, etc., have been or are about to be established. And now the announcement is made that a skilled imperial officer is to come to Canada and undertake the supervision of our military surveys. The officer in question will, it is said, be Major Edmond Herbert Hills, C. M. G., of the Royal Engineers, deputy assistant adjutant-general at the war office.

TRADE DEVELOPMENT

How Canada Has Grown Commercially Since Confederation.

Ottawa, Aug. 18. — The trade and commerce department has for the benefit of the delegates to the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire issued a pamphlet, descriptive of the growth of Canada's foreign trade since Confederation. In 1871 the imports and exports of Canada amounted to $170,266,582. Thirty years later, in 1901, the total had grown to $386,903,157, while in the past two years an aggregate of $467,061,494 has been reached, or almost half as much as it increased in the ten years between 1891 and 1901. In 1891 the total trade of the country was $218,384,934. In her percentage growth, Canada's trade is higher by about double than that of the United States, and three times that or Great Britain. The pamphlet dilates upon the enormous development in every branch of Canada's export trade.

PIUS X QUITE RECOVERED

The Pope Gives Audiences to the Roman Nobility.

Rome, Aug. 18.—The Pope has given 20,000 for distribution among the poor of Rome.

His Holiness seems to have quite recovered his health, as he is giving more audiences than before he suffered from his recent fainting fit, although the heat is still suffocating. Yesterday, among others, the Pope received Prince Chigi, marshal of the conclave, and questioned him regarding the discharge of his duties as marshal. The prince said it would be better for him to be inside the conclave precincts instead of outside, as there were many efforts to establish communication with those inside and they could be more effectually checked if he marshal was inside.

The Pontiff afterwards received Prince Orsini, assistant at the Papal throne. The Pope greeted him with saying he would be glad if the Prince would retain his office, which he had resigned before the death of Leo XIII., and expressed the hope that he would not again resign. In reply Prince Orsini gave the Pope to understand that his resignation had nothing to do with the duties of his office, but was tendered on account of his dissatisfaction with the conduct of certain matters under the late Pope.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

PREVENT DISORDER.—At the first symptoms of internal disorder, Parmelee's Vegetable Pills should be resorted to immediately. The means are simple when the way is known.

COLOMBIA TURNS DOWN TREATY

A Tremendous Sensation Due to Rejection of Panama Canal Treaty With U. S.

Colon, Colombia, Aug. 18.—The rejection of the canal treaty by the Colombian Senate has produced a tremendous sensation on the Isthmus. It was generally believed that the treaty would pass, with modifications. There is good reason to suppose that the majority of the members of the senate regard the Spooner amendment to build a canal by the Nicaraguan route, if the Panama route was rejected by Colombia, as a mere threat on the part of the United States.

Panama, Aug. 18.—The unanimous rejection of the Panama Canal treaty by the senate is the talk in all circles. The question on all lips is what will become of Panama. The only consolation the Colombians have is that the rest of the republic, with an exchange at a very high figure and with an upward tendency will suffer a great deal more. It seems that the Government never expected the treaty to be ratified and it was not supported at all in the senate.

Bogota, Colombia, Aug. 18. — The Panama Canal treaty has been rejected unanimously by the Colombian Congress.

Washington, Aug. 18.—Very little additional information concerning the action of the Colombian senate could be obtained at the state department. Mr. Adee, acting secretary of state, would not discuss Colombian affairs nor indicate what course the United States would pursue.

Dr. Herran, the Colombian charge d'affaires, has received an official cablegram from the Colombian secretary of state, dated Aug. 13, containing the brief announcement of the senate's rejection of the treaty on the day previous.

New York, Aug. 18.—When word was received in this city that the Panama Canal treaty had been rejected by the Colombian Senate, William Nelson Cromwell, of Sullivan & Cromwell, made the following brief statement as counsel for the Panama Canal Company:

"A committee of the Colombian Senate on the 5th inst. recommended the treaty with a number of amendments. Our cable advices state that various parliamentary motions have been made, more or less involving these amendments, and a recent one indicates that the treaty is not acceptable without amendment, but this is not regarded as final."

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18. — The reason given for the rejection of the treaty by the Colombian Senate, it is said here, was the alleged encroachment on Colombian sovereignty which its opponents contended would result from the treaty. This information was contained in a dispatch received by Dr. Herran, the Colombian minister, from Foreign Minister Ricos, at Bogota. This dispatch showed the treaty had been rejected unanimously by the senate.

NEW YORK.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington today:

New York, Aug. 18—Noon.—No attention whatever was paid to the range of prices for Americans in London, almost all stocks opening higher than they closed last night, the impression being strong that the London market had been manipulated in order to assist purchases of stocks here. Rock Island was the leader in point of activity. More brokers were open buyers, but it was thought that selling orders had been distributed from the same source as the buying orders, and that consequently there was a great deal of cross trading. It was thought to be an encouraging feature that such stocks as Amalgamated Copper, preferred, and Missouri Pacific, in which Standard Oil people are heavily interested, were conspicuously strong. A remarkable feature during the last few days has been the scarcity of selling orders on the books of the specialists. Sales to noon, 557,200 shares.

AMERICAN MARKETS.

CHICAGO.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carington, yesterday:

Chicago, Aug. 17.—Wheat—The profit-taking, which commenced at the top figures on Saturday, was continued today, aided by short selling by local operators; the foreign markets were similarly affected. The English markets were lower on heavy shipments and lower continental markets. On the break longs who had taken part in the profits were getting in again, and a large elevator interest was a good buyer. Acceptances were light in the Southwest and some reports were received of damage to wheat in stack from the recent heavy rains. The market is in a much healthier condition tonight, owing to liquidation. Local receipts were 90 cars, with 195 estimated for tomorrow.

Corn opened with ½c decline, and maintained that level throughout the session, although pounded by pit operators on the weakness in wheat and the somewhat higher temperatures throughout the belt. While the temperatures on the whole are higher, they are not such as to promote good growth and development. At many places in the surplus states the days are still very cool and nights cold. Personal investigation by a member of this firm in Dupage County, this state, revealed very much worse conditions than he had anticipated. Prices showed remarkable resistance to the pressure upon them, and we think it is only a question of time when short sellers at these prices will be forced to realize their mistake. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 340 cars.

Oats—Rather small trade in oats market, almost entirely a local one, up and down with wheat and corn. The only feature was the weakness in September, which was for sale at all times by cash houses. Demand very slow. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 350 cars.

Provisions—The market opened 5c to 10c under Saturday's close. Cudahy brokers sold lard and pork early, causing a decline of 12½c to 15c on lard and 15c on pork. Lard held firm. Pork regained 10c early, declining towards the close. Ribs closed at bottom prices, with little demand. Estimated receipts for tomorrow, 20,000 hogs.

TOLEDO.

Toledo, O., Aug. 17.—Wheat—Cash, 83¼c; Sept., 83⅞c; Dec., 84⅞c. Corn—Cash, 54c; Sept., 54c; Dec., 52¾c. Oats—Cash, 36c; Sept., 35¼c; Dec., 36½c.

NEW YORK.

New York, Aug. 12—Noon.—Flour—Receipts, 39,747 bbls; sales, 3,100 pkgs; flour was steadier but dull. Rye flour—Steady. Wheat—Receipts, 52,750 bu; sales, 800,000 bu; wheat was firm and higher on the strength at Minneapolis, local covering and showers in harvest sections; Sept., 87⅜c to 87 11-16c; Dec., 87⅝c to 88c; May, 89c to 89¼c. Rye—Steady; state, 58c to 59½c, c.i.f., New York; No. 2 western, 59c, f.o.b., afloat. RUSSELL DEFENDS RAILWAY BILL

He Says Ex-Minister Blair Has Been Drifting Since Leaving the Cabinet.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 18.—Dr. Ben Russell, of Hants, went on with his defense of the transcontinental railway scheme this morning. Puttee, of Winnipeg, follows him, and at 3 o'clock or thereabouts R. L. Borden will begin a two-hour speech to be answered in the evening by Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick. Dr. Russell dealt more particularly with the situation in the Maritime Provinces. He described the ex-Minister of Railways as having "bounced out of the council chamber and slammed the door in his colleagues' faces." When a man was smarting under a sense of injury it would seriously discount the political power of anything he said. The cost to the Government of the Winnipeg-Moncton section would be $3,000,000 only.

The so-called paralleling of the Intercolonial, Dr. Russell said, must have come about if the Intercolonial had been built down through the middle of New Brunswick. In the first place, all the people of the settlements on the south side of the St. Lawrence must have come to Parliament for a railway, and must have got it. New Brunswick was equal in every way except in density of population, to the New England States, and in the New England States there were railways crossing each other all over the country, and paralleling each other, at 20 miles, 10, or even less. Dr. Russell's view as to the effect on the Intercolonial of building the G. T. P., was not the view of the ex-Minister of Railways. The Intercolonial had become, with Mr. Blair, a fad, like golf or billiards. It had taken the form of a disease. The ex-minister had been "drifting ever since he left his safe anchorage as a loyal member of the cabinet."

PROVED TO BE BAD CROWD

Notorious Gang of Pickpockets Nabbed by Local Detectives.

Detroit Police Authorities Send for the Lot—Fully Identified.

The bunch of suspects arrested at the G. T. R. station here on the day of the travelers' picnic by Detectives Nickle and Egelton and G. T. R. Constable Logan, have been identified by the Detroit police as a notorious gang of pickpockets. Detective Rider took photographs of the suspects to Detroit for identification and the result was that the police there immediately recognized the group as one of the most noted gangs of light-fingered crooks in the state of Michigan. They say that London was fortunate in having officers shrewd enough to detect the gang on their arrival here.

The local police, it will be remembered, sent the men back to Detroit, as they could prefer no charge against them. It appears that the man who gave his name as Alexander Powers, is known to the people in Michigan as Alexander Scofield. He has a reputation of being one of the smoothest men in the business, and has done several terms for pocket-picking.

Another of the quartet who called himself James Wells, is down in the Detroit records as John Morty, alias Mansfield Scott. He is a notorious sneak-thief, and has been caught and sent down on different occasions.

With equally as bad a reputation is Daniel Henry who gave his name as Frank Kelly. He has also spent his summer months in Jackson.

The fourth, who gave the name of Alex Woods, is rightfully Alex Dufria. His career of crime has given him close confinement at different times.

All the men are Detroiters and are wanted for several daring jobs at celebrations, such as the picnic here. They have the reputation of being men who never go out to work unless they are sure to make a big haul.

SYRIANS IN A FIGHT

Fare Badly in Set-To With Two Londoners.

Warrants are out for the arrest of Ernest Donohue and Timothy Sullivan on a charge of assaulting three Syrians at the corner of Ridout and King streets. For some unknown reason, Donohue and Sullivan took offense at the Syrians and a fight began. The Syrians, who are not familiar with Canadian pugilistic methods, got the worst of it all through, in spite of their numbers, and finally when the blows came too thick, and too fast, and the crowd gathered, they started to run. Only one of them got very far, Donohue and Sullivan soon overtaking the others.

The man who escaped, returned in a few moments to their assistance, and with a hammer which he had secured, he struck one of the white men a heavy blow in the back, knocking him down. This broke up the fight generally and the party soon dispersed, word having been received of the coming of the police. The latter found none of the participants when they arrived with the patrol.

This morning a couple of the Syrians, pretty badly blackened and bruised, came to the police station and had warrants sworn out. The officers had not found the men at a late hour this afternoon.

One of the Syrians was unable to leave his home on Ridout street today as a result of his injuries.

HAS SAVED MANY LIVES

Capt. J. R. Moore.

Capt. J. R. Moore, of Port Stanley, has been instrumental in saving the lives of a number of persons at that place. He is in command of the lifesaving crew stationed at the Port, and it was only last October that he, in company with Capt. Brown, of a tug, and six seamen of the lifeboat crew, went to the rescue of the men on the schooner Mineral State, coal laden, which had sprung a leak during a gale off the Port Stanley lighthouse and was sinking rapidly. The greatest difficulties and dangers were experienced in taking the men off the sinking vessel, but after hours of work it was accomplished. The act was suitably rewarded by the American Government in May last, when Capt. Moore and Capt. Brown were each presented with a gold watch and chain, and the other members of the crew with gold medals. The presentation was a public affair, being made at the centennial celebration in St. Thomas, and it was witnessed by a large company of admirers of the men who had risked their lives for the sake of others.

INTERRED AT MT. PLEASANT

Funeral of Mrs. Welbon, Dawson City, Who Died While on Visit Here.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Lillian Welbon, daughter of Mr. James Wilkins, of Woodward avenue, West London, took place this afternoon to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. Impressive services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Harris, of Lambeth, formerly pastor of the Centennial and Empress Avenue Methodist Churches. The circumstances of Mrs. Welbon's death were sad. She had been living in Dawson City, Yukon, for the past seven years, and came home a few weeks ago, when she became ill. Her husband, who had remained in Dawson, on hearing of the seriousness of her illness, started for London, and arrived in the city only two hours before the end came on Sunday morning. Besides her parents, Mrs. Welbon is survived by several brothers and sisters. A host of friends in this city will mourn her death.

EXCURSION TO THE FALLS.

No. 6 express on the Grand Trunk, due to leave here for the east at 10:25 a.m., was run in two sections this morning, owing to the heavy traffic from the west. The annual excursions from points in Michigan to Niagara Falls were commenced today, and they are attracting a large crowd—fully as large as those of former years. Three hundred went through this morning, and during the afternoon a special train of eleven coaches passed through the city. It also has Michigan excursionists to the Falls.

FARM LABORERS GOING WEST.

The time when the farm laborers are in the greatest demand in the Northwest is now at hand, and from all parts of the country men are going to the harvest fields. The railways are giving cheap rates, and by the time the excursions are ended the population of Manitoba and the West will be increased temporarily by many thousands of Ontario's sons. One hundred harvest hands left this city on the Grand Trunk this morning for Winnipeg, where they will be engaged by the farmers for short periods. A number of excursions are to follow in close succession. This morning's contingent came from many points along the line west of London. Those from London district leave on Wednesday.

DEATH OF ARTILLERY OFFICER.

The death took place in the St. Thomas Hospital on Sunday of Major G. W. Van Tuyl, of Petrolea, who at one time was the commanding officer of the London Field Battery, now disbanded. Major Van Tuyl died of typhoid fever. He was the son of a military officer of some note, and, like his father, took a keen interest in the affairs of the armed forces of the country. His father was the late Major B. S. Van Tuyl, of Petrolea, and he was born at Petrolea on Feb. 2, 1871, making him 33 years of age at the time of his death. At the age of 20 he graduated from the Royal Military College at Kingston with honors, and two years later he graduated from the Boston School of Technology. He began his military career in January, 1900, when he was appointed first lieutenant in D Battery, of the Royal Canadian Artillery, remaining in South Africa until the close of the war. He then accepted an appointment as captain under Col. Girouard. Since his return to Petrolea in 1902, he had been engaged in the oil business. Two brothers—Bloss and Louis G., both of Petrolea—survive him. The funeral took place in Petrolea this afternoon.

A HANDSOME SOUVENIR.

The Hamilton Spectator's special carnival souvenir is a magnificent production in its typographical appearance. Special issues to be of value must contain attractive features that will appeal to the individual as well as the industrial and business life of a community. The Spectator has embodied in this souvenir chronological facts that will interest all engaged in the "Old Boy" movement of Hamilton and the visitors to that city. The souvenir is handsomely illustrated with pictures of Hamilton's industries and noteworthy public and private buildings. The many interesting places near Hamilton are also given extra care. The manufacturers and business men have very liberally supported the souvenir with their advertising patronage. The Spectator souvenir will be a welcome revelation to many returning Old Boys as to what can be accomplished by one of the best newspapers in the Dominion.

The Rose of Wentworth

He laughingly told her that she would be regarding him as an intruder in a few days if she progressed at that rate. for his visits would be needless.

As he came out upon the street he almost ran up against a man who appeared to be lounging about the door.

"What do you want?" he demanded, curtly, and, eyeing him suspiciously.

"There is an English lady sick within?" the stranger said, questioningly.

"Yes," was the brief response of the physician, who saw that his interlocutor was a foreigner and evidently English, although he spoke the language of Spain very correctly.

"Is—is she better?"

"Yes," again briefly.

"Will she get well?"

"Yes, she is very nearly well now, but still weak, of course."

The stranger turned his head quickly, but not before the keen eyes of the doctor had caught the look of disappointment which flashed from his eyes.

"The lady is a stranger, perhaps — would it be proper for one of her own countrymen to offer sympathy and assistance?"

This was asked with a sort of nervous hesitancy.

"Sympathy is well—assistance in time of need is better; but thanks, senor—she has a friend who can do for her all that she needs at present," and with a stiff little bow went his way.

Philip Paxton—for it was he—glared after him, a flash of hatred in his eyes.

He had heard of Arley's ilness almost immediately, and had been in the habit of prowling about her lodgings and interviewing servants regarding her condition.

They had given very unfavorable accounts, enjoying, as their class always do, something exciting to talk about, and he had been led to believe that she would not recover.

It was a shock to him now, therefore, to be told that she was getting well, for horrible, as it seems, he had actually hoped that she would die, so that he could carry out a cunning scheme, which of late had been developed in his brain.

He left his lodgings the same day that Arley went away, and had also gone into humbler quarters; while, a few days later, he might have been seen in a gambling den, watching with wild eyes and haggard face, the turn of the wheel which would either make him a beggar or fill his purse with gold.

He won, and with a hoarse cry of joy he swept the pile of glittering coins towards him, and then, in spite of the enticing invitation of the banker to "try his luck again," cramming them into his pocket, he staggered from the place as if intoxicated with his good fortune.

The next day found him in another den of the some kind—he was too cunning to try twice in the same place—and again he won.

"That will do," he muttered, "it's enough to give me quite a start, and I'll stop while I'm safe," and buttoning his coat close over his hoard, he stalked from the place, wholly unmindful of the dark looks of the disappointed banker.

He had told Arley, on that morning when she had paid their board out of their earnings, that he had no money.

Whence, then, came the gold that he had staked at the gaming table, and that had enabled him to win more?

* * * * * * *

As soon as Arley was able to get out she went once more to the art store, where she had sold pictures, to ascertain if she could still continue to supply sketches there.

The proprietor was shocked at the change in her, and she did, indeed, look more like some frail, beautiful spirit than an earthly being; but he told her that he would take all the work that she could do.

Every day she grew stronger; every day she was able to draw a little more, though the doctor, coming in occasionally to see how she progressed, and looking over her shoulder at her dainty work, muttered with a scowl of disapprobation, that he should have her again on his hands if she did not take care.

Arley raised her lovely dark eyes to his face, and he saw the terrified expression in them.

"Will it make me ill again? Please don't tell me so, for I must work — I must go home!"

He knew that she had been robbed—she had confided so much to him—and that she would have to earn money before she could return to her friends, and he had favored her all he could in his charges. He wished now, as he saw the desperate homesickness in her eyes that he had taken nothing from her, and so he had not the heart to tell her that she must not work—indeed, he began to think that if deprived of employment she might be in even more danger of another illness.

"Well, well, be moderate, then, senora. Be careful and not apply yourself too closely," he said, and so her work went on.

Arley wondered where Philip could be all this time. She wondered if he knew what she had been suffering during the last six weeks. If he had known and been there in the same city with her, he was certainly very unfeeling and cruel not to come to her, and at least offer her a word of sympathy in her extremity.

A month passed, the passage money was almost earned, and Arley had decided to sail on a certain steamer which would leave for England within the coming fortnight, when, one morning, a servant brought an official-looking document to her.

With a look of wonder upon her face, which was growing wondrously lovely every day now—sickness and sorrow had given it a sort of refined beauty, such as it had never possessed before—she took the strange-looking missive and broke the seals.

She saw at a glance it was written in French; therefore whoever had sent it knew that she was not familiar with spanish.

She began to read it, though the formalities and legal terms puzzled her, but she kept on, until at last a low cry of horror burst from her. Her eyes dilated with pain, her cheeks faded to the hue of death, and she trembled so that the paper rattled in her hands.

A blur seemed to obscure her sight, so that the words ran together until she could not read them. She passed her hand across her eyes to dispel it, and read again those stiff, formal sentences which had agitated her so deeply.

Then, as she comprehended their full meaning a vivid crimson mounted to her brow, her nostrils dilated, her lips curled with mingled and scorn and bitterness.

Philip Paxton had applied to the court of Madrid for a divorce from his wife, Arletta Paxton, and the paper stated two reasons for this—an illegal marriage and subsequent desertion, and she was notified to appear on a certain day to defend her case.

Had it come to this, that with all her other troubles, she must be a divorced wife?

What was the man, who had won her with such fair, fond words—who had vowed fidelity and sworn to love, honor and care for her until death should part them—made of, that he could contemplate this fearful thing?

But why should he claim that their marriage was illegal?

This charge surprised her.

How could their marriage be illegal when it had been performed in the presence of so many witnesses, and with all the necessary forms and ceremonies?

Then, like a flash, it came to her that she had been married under a name to which she had no right. She was not Arletta Wentworth, nor Arletta anything else. The name that she was known by was not here; it was only retained for convenience, since she must be called something.

LACTATED FOOD

MAKES BABIES HEALTHY

Babies fed on a diet of Lactated Food lose their pinched, puny look almost immediately, their sleep becomes sound and restful, and their pale cheeks and blue lips grow full and ruddy. Hosts of mothers are grateful to Lactated Food for the joy of seeing their pale, drooping little ones turn into bright-eyed, healthy babies that eat, sleep and grow in a way to delight a mother's heart.

A trial of only a few days will tell its own story of the great worth of Lactated Food by the increase in baby's weight and by its gain in sturdiness and high spirits.

If your baby is cross, fretful or peevish, is troubled with constipation, colic or diarrhea, if its sleep is short and easily broken, if its life is not perfectly healthy, then you may know that its food is disagreeing with it, and that the little one is in danger of disease. Put dear baby at once on Lactated Food, and it will grow hearty and strong.

AT HAWTHORNE.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—Pulled up to a common gallop and in the fast time of 1:40 4-5, over a track that was at least two seconds slow, Dick Welles won the Speculation stakes at Hawthorne today. Only three out of the original starters were left in when it became known that Dick Welles would start. Welles took command at the first turn, and with an advantage of two lengths won as he pleased. The stake was worth $1,800 to the winner. Summaries:

GRAND CIRCUIT SEASIDE MEET.

New York, Aug. 16.—The Grand Circuit seaside meeting began at Brighton Beach today with ideal racing weather, and attendance of 6,000 persons and an excellent programme. The star feature of the card was to have been a mile against the world's trotting record of 2:02¼, by Lou Dillon. It was decided, however, that the state of the track was not favorable, and the mare was sent a fast exhibition mile in 2:03¾. She will go to beat the record later in the week. The $5,000 stake found Jay McGregor as the choice. John Taylor won out, however. In the 2:15 pace Frank Wilson was a strong favorite, but Major C. had the speed and won after several exciting finishes. Betting was very heavy in the 2:07 trot, with Monte Carlo and Prince of Orange the choices. Summaries:

The Hiram Woodruff, $5,000 stake, 2:20 class, trotting, 3 in 5—John Taylor 1, Jay McGregor 2, Laddie Patchie 3. Best time, 2:08¾. Horace W. Wilson, Senator Mills, McAdams Jun., Katrinka K., Nickelette and Monroe also started.

2:15 class, pacing, purse $1,000, mile heats, 2 in 3—Major C. 1, Frank Wilson 2, Kiowa 3. Best time, 2:06¾. Direct L. also started.

2:09 class, pacing, purse $1,000, 1⅛ miles dash—Nonamie 1, Ebony King 2, Diablito 3. Time, 2:25¼. Birdina, Page Hall and Dart also started.

2:07 class, trotting, purse $1,500, 2 in 3—Rythmic 1, Fereno 2, Monte Carlo, 3. Best time, 2:07¾. Prince of Orange, Dan T. and Sasie J. also started.

2:09 class, pacing, purse $1,000, mile dash—Prince Alert 1, Knox's Gelatine King 2, Horace H. 3, Dan R. 4. Time, 2:03¼.

GOLF.

BRITISHERS AT CHICAGO.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—Capt. J. L. Low's visiting team of Oxford and Cambridge English golfers today won the honors in the first international golf contest in the west, defeating Capt. L. T. Boyd's all-western team on the links of the Chicago Golf Club in the scheduled four-ball foursome events, 3 to 2, and winning the team competition by the score of 8 to 3. Harvard champion, H. Chandler Egan, and Norman F. Hunter, the Oxfordian, furnished the most exciting match of the contest. Five hundred enthusiasts who watched the play saw Hunter total 71 on this most difficult golf course, breaking all records for competition and practice made by amateurs and professionals. Egan totaled 76, which is one better than his former record, and only one stroke worse than the record of 75 made yesterday by H. G. R. Ellis, of Oxford, and equaled early today by P. W. Leathart, of Cambridge. Not even British Champion Harry Vardon, who made the Chicago course in 74, played such a remarkable golf at Norman Hunter, who is a product of North Berwick, Scotland, and who was cheered enthusiastically by a big gallery. Hunter frequently holed putts of 15 feet. He used but 30 putts in the entire round. At the third tee he topped his drive, but recovered so well that he took the hole one under bogey from his young rival.

YACHTING.

THE OWNERS MAKE A BET.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 17.—During the review of the North Atlantic fleet by President Roosevelt today he and his guests discussed at some length the international yacht races, which are to begin on Thursday. Among the distinguished yachtsmen abroad the Mayflower the merits of the Reliance and Shamrock were a topic of constant discussion. The discussion finally resulted in the making of an unique wager. Sir Thomas Lipton, if the Reliance should win, will present the binnacle of the Shamrock to the New York Yacht Club, while if the Shamrock should win the binnacle of the Reliance will be presented to the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, which the Shamrock represents.

THE BETTING ON THE RACE.

New York, Aug. 17.—Outside of Wall street there never has been, or never will be, much betting on yacht races, and this year is no exception to the rule. While one or two men may wager thousands on the result of the cup race, the majority of yachtsmen and the public generally seldom bet over $5 or $10 on the result, as nine people out of ten favor the chances of the American boat. So when nearly everyone thinks the same way, there is little chance for argument or speculation.

Fred H. Brooks, Wall street broker, said yesterday that he had placed very few large bets up to the present time. He had placed one bet of $5,000 on Reliance to $2,500 on Shamrock, two bets each of $2,500 to $1,000, and one bet of $1,000 to $450. While he has plenty of Reliance money at odds of two to one, he finds little Shamrock money.

Brooks has handled the yacht betting for 20 years. He said: "I do not, in the course of all my experience, remember so little betting as there is at present. At the corresponding time of the last match I had placed a great many thousand dollars. Shamrock supporters appear to lack confidence. Why they should I do not know, unless it can be that they have been disturbed in the rumors of a change in the boat's rigging, such as putting in a longer bowsprit. If these changes had been made over on the other side they would have produced little effect, but being made over here, they are taken to mean that the boat has not been going to suit her managers."

Saturday was reception day for the yachts Reliance and Shamrock at Erie Basin, Brooklyn. More than 8,000 men, women and children swarmed about the dry docks, where the pride of American and British yachtsmen lay almost side by side, and freely commented on the difference in their appearance.

All day the hammers were ringing against the rudder and port bow plates of the defender, under direction of men from the yards of T. Herreshoff. It was found after the last trial races that the rudder of Reliance had been considerably bent by the grounding of the yacht, and that the port bow plates had also been knocked somewhat out of line. From the edge of the dry dock these defects could not be seen, but to careful observers, who are watching the yacht with care of a mother over a new-born child, they seemed glaring faults, and work of repair was kept up.

LIPTON'S FAITH IN SHAMROCK III.

Sir Thomas Tells of His Great Ambition to Go Home With the Silver Bit.

BY SIR THOMAS LIPTON.

[Special to Chicago Record-Herald.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Which craft will win the coveted cup? Will the America's trophy remain with those first-class sportmen who have so gallantly defended it for so many years or will it accompany the Shamrocks across the briny deep?

"Winds of the world, give answer!" After years of Homeric struggle between the best boats, manned by the best picked men of the best nations on earth, I can only say that the America's cup is once more in the lap of the gods. Maybe it will stop there—and maybe it will slip through their knees this time like the ball of yarn that betrayed Tom Sawyer. If chance and the fates are toward us and we at last reap the reward of a long and hard struggle, we are ready and willing to pick up and carry that precious piece of silver across the Atlantic, and invite the other fellow to come after it next time. If he comes and should fail, we will try to treat him so that he will not feel too badly. For myself, I will try to return in kind the consideration and courtesy which have been shown me on my various expeditions to America.

If the year of our Lord 1903 shall prove another Waterloo for the race of Shamrocks, and the cup stil says in the hands of our dear friend, the enemy—and that is the next best place for it—I will be first to cheer the victorious craft.

WILL BE A FIGHT TO THE FINISH.

And I want to say right here that, speaking from the memory of the many kindnesses I have received from my American yachting friends, I am concinced they would not wish to keep anything from me that they could possibly send my way. My friends of the New York Yacht Club know how greatly I covet that little cup. I can only believe it refuses to leave America because it has taken out naturalization papers. But the end of this month will show whether it has grown homesick in exile after all these years, and would like to go back to its native land again for a change—at any rate, to make a short stay until we fight again.

But if it does stay this time 'twill be after a fight to the finish. Victory at last will be worth all the heart-burnings, hard work and anxiety, which have gone before, and afford me the best lasting memory of my life. If the "Wizard of Bristol" has designed a craft that will slip through the water faster than Shamrock III., then all hail to Herreshoff! I will take off my cap to him.

The world has just witnessed some remarkable scenes in the brotherhood of nations. The white squadron has "snuggled up" against the inner recesses of Britain's great arsenal by the gracious invitation of his majesty. American sailors have been received with open arms by the navy of the mother country. Across the channel the crews of a hundred great war ships have competed in friendly rivalry at the annual maneuvers of the German navy. And finally down through Europe, near the blue waters of the Mediterranean, a historic scene has been enacted which held the breathless attention of the entire world. A great prelate lay awaiting the last call after nearly a century of useful and beautiful existence, with the prayers of the world to cheer him in his brave struggle.

PRAISE FOR YANKEES.

But the life of the world goes on—for men must play as well as work, laugh as well as weep. It was gratifying to me to realize how many true sportsmen in this great republic held out the right hand of fellowship and heartily wished me luck. While fully intending to do their best to beat me in the one thing I want to accomplish, I honestly believe today a pretty large proportion of the American people would be reconciled to see a Shamrock carry away the cup, that a Yankee craft and a Yankee crew might come after it. I want to score a victory over the very highest specimen of American shipbuilding craft. If both boats this year represent the very pinnacle of achievement so much greater will be the triumph.

It is pleasant to know, too, that so much real interest is evinced in the international event, and that from so widely diversified sections of this great country. Interest in the outcome of the battle of the boats is not confined to the seaboard states by any means, but even in the far West the aquatic duel for the yachting supremacy of the sea has roused remarkable enthusiasm. I suppose it is the latent "sporting blood" of the Anglo-Saxon coming to the surface. From almost every part of the earth come daily words of cheer and messages of good will.

It is difficult to say much more than has been said about the event. Nearly all the hard work has been done and the supreme moment is at hand. We will soon know who has builded well. All our sentiments may be summed up in one statement of fact and one fervent wish—"The best boat is here; may the best boat win!"

My American friends have called me a plucky sportsman. The royal rivals I contend with would make any sportsman that, and you know the men of a certain green little island are bad to beat, at any game!

From the days of ancient sagas, when the roving sons of Thor set sail upon the northern seas, each speeding his craft to prove its prowess over his brother, it has been the delight and glory of their hardy children of the Northland to pit the best product of cunning craftsmen against the sea racers of other nations. Every Viking had the best wishes of all—everyone intended to win—and every wassail bowl was uplifted to the conqueror.

I can just refer to the many questions that have been asked me. Bless you! if I should try to answer the tons of mail that reach their destination on the Erin, I should have to write a book. But one thing. In case of failure shall I try again? Why should we consider eventualities when the present gives us a good handful? Besides, "that is another story," as our friend Kipling says. Time enough for that two weeks hence. For the present, I have in my mind's eye that supreme moment when the victorious yacht runs in across the finish line. Should my star be crossed and I strike out (as you say in baseball), maybe there will be another inning.

Constitutionally, I don't fancy sitting on the bench and watching others play. But it is unprofitable as well as unlucky to speculate, either in stocks or eventualities, or yacht races. I shall have this run for the glory of Red Hand of Ulster. Four-leaved Shamrocks are found by those who seek. This year I shall pin my faith upon the emblem of old Ireland — Shamrock III.

BELIEVES CUP IN DANGER.

If gallant Reliance flirts her nose first over the fatal line, then our American cousins may have the satisfaction of knowing they have beaten a fine boat and a fine crew. In confidence I may tell you, I believe the cup is in danger, but then a race is never lost or won before it is sailed. Yachting is as uncertain as life—it is the most uncertain honest sport in the world. That is where the fascination comes in, and that is the reason that a true sportsman will leave nothing undone to achieve victory.

Challenging and defending the cup supersedes at this time of the year the "sport of kings" and all sports. It is no small undertaking to compete for the America's cup, and no business for a lazy man. The long and arduous weeks of trying out and making ready for the final races, the training down of boats and men, the doubt of whether the best thing has been done, the tension following a momentous decision, mean a terrible strain upon the nerves of many hundreds of men, each of whom is depended upon for the highest possible performance of his allotted task. For on his faith and work victory or defeat may hang. But the free life of the sea, the jockeying of those beautiful specimens of men's handicraft, and, more than all, the speculation into the future and the glory that may be hidden by the enshrouding clouds—it is worth while! So you will understand that Sandy Hook represents its own part of the "strenuous life" and the "bulldog tenacity" of purpose that have made both our great nations what they are today.

LIPTON PROMISES MUSIC.

When the race is run and won and the cup to harbor comes, then we will sing with "Pinafore," "Three's plenty of time for play." Just at present, "the wind whistles fre o'er the bright blue sea," and we must stick to our guns all day.

What an unconquerable ambition is this craving for supremacy! But millions are gladly spent in the hope of separating from the holding nation a bit of silver that did not cost originally to exceed 100 guineas. But it represents a life's ambition. Nothing matters but the fate of the mug.

A remarkable interest is taken in this year's race. This may be accounted for by the Mystic Three. Possibly, too, it may be because people are becoming more and more in love with outdoor sports—with the clean life of the open, which made the Vikings the heroes of story and song.

The races for the America's cup for two generations, since the saucy little Yankee schooner ran away from the deep-lying cutters in the British waters, have furnished more brilliant stories of aquatic battles than any other sporting event known to the history of the two nations.

The most notable race in the history of that most famous trophy is now upon us. For those who know something of yachting the interest was strong from the days when the high development of the competing craft insured a race typical of the cleanest, sweetest and most beautiful sport known to man.

And now the whistling winds off Sandy Hook are waiting to tell the story of victory or defeat for the youngest daughter of Ireland, and the emblem of the Emerald Isle—Shamrock III.

May the best boat win!

Jockey Price Will Be in the Saddle Again in a Few Weeks.

Jockey Billy Price, who has been invaliding at his home in this city for some time, left yesterday morning for Fort Erie, accompanied by his employer, Mr. Flaherty. The latter has a string of 14 horses, which he is racing at the big tracks. "Billy" will not be in shape to ride for a few weeks, but expects to get his first mount at the Washington meet. He is a boy in whom local horsemen who have seen him ride place a great deal of confidence. Mr. Flaherty, who, jointly with the mayor, holds a contract for his services, has every faith that Price is one of the coming riders of the day.

FOUR HOURS IN ICE BOX

Drank Case of Beer to Keep Him Alive.

Pittsburg, Aug. 18.—William C. Johnston, an employe of Coll Bros.' butcher shop, noticed a case of beer, which had been placed in a big refrigerator. He went in and sampled the beer. While in there the door accidentally flew shut.

He remained there four hours, and was almost frozen to death when one of the members of the firm finally arrived and released him. He had consumed the entire case of beer. He did it in order to keep alive, he said.

SET OF DICKENS, $130,000

The Amazing Extravagance of New York Suicide.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 18. — When Howard T. Goodwin, cashier for Cassatt & Co., bankers and brokers, killed himself last December, it was said that, aside from his stock speculation, his only extravagance was book buying. To what lengths Goodwin carried this develops as a result of the cataloguing of his library, preparatory to its being offered for sale. He permitted himself indulgences in first editions de luxe, rare works and extra illustrated volumes, that halted at no expense.

Pre-eminent in the collection is a set of Dickens, for which Goodwin had contracted to pay the enormous price of $139,000. There were to have been 125 volumes with an extra portfolio of illustrations. When Goodwin committed suicide only three volumes had been delivered to him.

A WORD TO MEN AND WOMEN

SUFFERING FROM KIDNEY AILMENTS.

Few men and women have perfectly sound kidneys. When an honest personal interest is awakened, it is found that there are existing dangers. There is pain in the small of the back, too frequent urination, cloudy urine, deposit of sediment, loss of strength, and very frequently bladder difficulties add to other dangers.

Dr. Pettingill's Kidney-Wort Tablets immediately arrest the decay of the kidneys and restore health and perfect action to the diseased organs.

Kidney-Wort Tablets

Cure Weak and Diseased Kidneys.

Kidney-Wort Tablets have done a wonderful work for men and women given up to die by physicians. Give them a trial today; they will meet your case as surely as night follows day. They are strictly pure and non-alcoholic and cannot injure the weakest child. All druggists sell them at 50 cents per bottle or six bottles for $2.50. The only guaranteed kidney medicine in the world. If they fail, money is returned.

"NO"

Not a very big word, nor hard to pronounce—unless it means something substantial. Some schools, when asked if they guarantee positions find it hard to say NO, when they know perfectly well that they cannot find openings for one-half of their students. Two hundred and fifty is the record of the this year. How many are out of positions? They are few and far between.

NEWS STAFF SCATTERS.

Mr. Bert Stein, of this city, leaves in a fortnight for Winnipeg, where he has secured a position on the Tribune. Mr. Stein was city editor of the News. His departure from London will be regretted by his many friends, but all will join in wishing him the best of success in his new position. This also can be said of Mr. John Elson, who left yesterday for Montreal, where he has secured a position on the Gazette. Mr. Elson has been a reporter on the News for some months and has made many fast friends.

THE NEW DRAY STAND.

The question of a new stand for the draymen is agitating the minds of the men who for years have been allowed to stand in the rear of the G. T. R. station, but who are now likely to be sent elsewhere on account of the damage which their horses would occasion to the new pavement. Upwards of 20 of the draymen were at the council last night to present their views on the matter, which is of such importance to them, but they were referred to the board of works, which on Thursday night will consider a report from the engineer as to the most suitable place to locate the draymen. Ald. Matthews and Ald. Cooper wanted to have them heard, but the mayor refused this as the report was not before the council. The document was in the hands of the clerk, but it was addressed to the board of works, and for this reason the mayor refused to allow it to be read. There was so much other business on the docket, also, that it kept the aldermen busy getting through before midnight. Mr. Graydon finds that the only suitable places for the dray stand are the south side of Bathurst street, from Clarence street to Wellington, and the south side of York street, between Wellington and Waterloo. Any other place, he says, might meet with objection from the owners of property in front of which the drays would stand.

COUNCIL WORKED LATE AFTER LONG VACATION

Much Business Had Accumulated During Adjournment.

Permission to Build Bridge Is Granted Chelsea Company.

King and Dundas Street Pavement Matters Attract Attention—Mr. McMechan's Charges.

N a session that dragged along until midnight, the council last evening decided by a vote of 9 to 3, to grant the request of the Chelsea Land and Building Company for permission to erect a traffic bridge over the Thames at the foot of Adelaide street.

That was not all the aldermen did. They had not been in session for a month, and much business had accumulated. They had a visit from ex-Ald. McMechan, who was granted a four-minute audience, and said things in that short time that brought many severe rebukes from those around the board. Mr. McMechan's remarks were on a matter of which the council had no intimation whatever, and being of the outspoken nature so characteristic of him, they took the council by surprise.

Mr. McMechan was after the city engineer again, and made charges against him which were sent to the fire and light committee for investigation. He alleged that the engineer had for a long time permitted his friends or favorites to break the fire limits bylaw, and made other charges of misconduct against the engineer.

While an effort was made to prevent the ex-alderman from finishing the reading of his statement, he succeeded in having it all read to the council. Afterwards the aldermen spoke their minds freely in the matter and denounced the course taken by Mr. McMechan.

Pavement matters also came in for a share of consideration. As far as the movement for a pavement on Dundas street, from Waterloo to Wellington streets, is concerned, affairs are in exactly the same position as they were five years ago. The property owners decline to bear the cost of the extra 14 feet on the north side, of the street, and the city is without the funds this year to pay for it. The King street petition got another temporary setback, the aldermen preferring to go slowly in the matter and avoid any legal complications. They were also doubtful if the majority of the owners wanted a bitulithic pavement, and will give them another opportunity of presenting a petition.

THE BRIDGE QUESTION.

The question of giving the Chelsea Land Company the right to erect the bridge at the foot of Adelaide street was discussed for some time, there being many points to consider in connection with it. The street, on the city side of the river is owned partly by the city and partly by London Township, the property across the river being owned by the company, and the consent of all the corporations interested had been obtained with the exception of the city. The entire cost of construction is to be borne by the company, but the maintenance is to be borne equally by the city and county. In order to make this the minimum, the city engineer submitted a report, recommending that if the consent of the city was given its interests should be guarded by compelling the company to have the floor of the bridge of asphalt or cement, with proper railings to protect the public. The plans submitted to Mr. Graydon contained no objectionable features. The elevation of the structure above the high water line was enough to allow a free passage to the river when it was at its highest, and the roadway was sixteen feet with a walk of five feet, and an approach on the city side 176 feet long. It was not the intention of the company to erect the walk at present, but to prevent the city from having to bear one half of the cost of it later on, the engineer wanted a provision in the agreement, protecting the city in this respect. A petition was submitted by owners of property in the immediate vicinity of the site asking the council to grant the request of the Chelsea Company.

Col. Gartshore, the president of the company, waited on the council, and he told the aldermen that the only alternative for the company in the event of the petition being refused, was to erect a bridge on private ground, which would mean that if the city ever wanted to have a bridge at the foot of Adelaide street it would either have to build a structure of its own or buy the one built by the company.

When the aldermen expressed their views it was seen that they looked at the proposition in many different lights. The maintenance of the structure was made one of the grounds of objection by some members, but in reply to this it was pointed out by others that with the bridge of iron, with cement or asphalt floors, the cost of maintaining it would be a mere trifle, as the only attention it would require would be a coat of paint, and that only once in a few years. It was also held by Ald. Wyatt that the bridge was going to benefit an adjoining municipality more than it would the city, for it was the intention of the company to erect cottages on Chelsea Green for the McClary Company employes. This would mean that many would move out of the city limits, giving London Township the benefit of their taxes. Mention was also made of the McClary Company getting a fixed assessment for their plant two years ago, on the understanding that their hands were to be increased in number, and it was charged that instead of increasing them, the company by the move of the building company would be taking many out of the city. Another argument used by those in support of the petition was that in time the business interests of the city would benefit, as the people of Chelsea Green would do their shopping with the city merchants.

The motion of Ald. Campbell and Becher to grant the request on the ground that the interests of the city are protected in the ways suggested by the engineer was carried on the following division: Yeas—Ald. Judd, Campbell, Stevenson, Greenlees, Becher, Matthews, Saunders, Gerry and Cooper—9. Nays—Ald. Forristal, Abram and Wyatt—3. The mayor did not vote, although he spoke against the petition. It was his opinion that the company should agree to the maintenance of the bridge for a number of years.

MR. McMECHAN SPEAKS.

Mr. McMechan was one of a large number of spectators up to the time the clerk came to his letter asking permission to address the council for three or four minutes. The request was granted, after it was ascertained that he did not want to talk about the King street pavement.

Before he had gone far he was called to order by the mayor, but the calling was in vain, for Mr. McMechan continued to read, raising his voice as the interruptions of the mayor and members of the council rendered it necessary.

"You are making statements here to which I object," said the mayor, loudly.

"You can't judge these statements until I give the evidence," answered Mr. McMechan.

When he was through Ald. Matthews said: "This is the same man who made charges on the platform a few years ago," he said, "and who was unable in this council as an alderman to substantiate those charges."

Ex-Ald. McMechan—I did not.

Ald. Matthews—I know you did. You had better get out of here.

Ald. Becher said the council should not waste time with Mr. McMechan.

Ald. Judd said this was only one of the smart tricks of the ex-alderman.

"Yes," said the mayor, "we are getting accustomed to these things from him, but I really did not think he would stoop so low as to make charges against the city officials in this kind of a way. They will probably be found as groundless as other charges made by him."

The mayor agreed with Ald. Campbell that the only thing to be done was to send the matter to No. 3 committee.

KING STREET PAVEMENT.

The King street pavement matter was brought before the council in connection with the report of the board of works. There were in the hands of the clerk letters from James Greenaway and Mrs. S. Elliott, asking that their names be withdrawn from the petition for a bituithic pavement, as they understood that roadways equally as good were being constructed elsewhere for less money and could be secured for London also. The petition from Mr. Greenaway was signed by a number of other ratepayers, and the statement was made that without the names referred to the original petition was not sufficiently signed. The question was asked whether it was compulsory for the city to strike out the names after the petition had once been acted upon by the council, and this is a matter on which the opinion of the city solicitor will be secured. Ald. Cooper accused Mr. McMechan of coming to the council with untrue statements, and also of having Mr. Greenaway place his name on a petition for withdrawal, after he (Mr. McMechan) had made the statement that he was not entitled to be on the original petition. "Now," said Ald. Cooper, "if Mr. Greenaway had no right to be on the first petition, why does Mr. McMechan get him to sign his name on a document asking for a withdrawal?"

There was a question in the mind of Ald. Matthews if the King street people wanted the pavement, and there was also a feeling on the part of other members of the council that slow action should be taken to avoid a fight in the courts. Action was accordingly deferred, on motion of Ald. Matthews, until the next meeting, to give the King street ratepayers an opportunity to present a petition for some other kind of pavement if they so desire, the opinion of the solicitor to be obtained in the meantime as to the right of the ratepayers to have their names withdrawn from the petition after it had been passed by the assessment commissioner.

THE FINE WILL GO.

The penalty of $300, recently imposed upon the Warren Company, for failing to complete the King street pavement within the specified time, will stand, the council deciding that it was time to put a stop to the practice of allowing contractors on city work the swing they have enjoyed. The company claimed in a letter to the council that the delay was due to an accident to the crusher and to the acts of God, and that the courts of the land would never hold them responsible under those circumstances.

A petition of Dundas street ratepayers for a pavement between Waterloo and Wellington streets was presented. The petitioners wanted the city to bear the cost of the 14 extra feet on the north side of the street, but the city has not the necessary funds this year, and an effort was made to get the parties to agree to some other way out of the difficulty. This was impossible, and the board of works sent the whole matter back to the council for action.

The petition was filed, thus throwing the question back to the position it occupied five years ago. Rather than see it get this setback it was advocated that the amount which would have to be borne by the city, about $2,000, be taken out of the funds of the committee, but the mayor said this could not be done, as there was already in sight that horror of the average alderman—an overdraft.

The appointment of a park commissioner was sent back to the board of works.

CLAIM FOR $400 DAMAGES.

A claim for damages arising out of the recent outbreak of scarlet fever was presented by Mr. R. Jackson, of 604 King street. Mr. Jackson is a Grand Trunk fireman, and the proprietor of a small store, and when his child was taken ill with fever, he applied for its removal to the isolation hospital a request which had to be refused, as every available room was already taken. The medical health officer had the family quarantined, Mr. Jackson losing six weeks' employment, and also having his store closed. Later a quantity of his household effects were burned.

Mr. Jackson's claim was for $409, the items being $102 for loss of wages, $139 for goods destroyed, $100 for loss of business, and $18 for the board of a woman who was visiting the family when the quarantine was enforced. The claim is based on the ground that under the public health act the city was compelled to provide isolation for the patient when it was demanded.

The claim was referred to the finance committee with instructions to consult the solicitor as to the liability of the city.

WILL BE RUSHED THROUGH.

Petitions for three local improvements, desired by the ratepayers this fall, are to be hurried through the council at the earliest possible date, in order that the works can be completed before the frosts set in. One petition was for an asphalt pavement on Dundas street, from Waterloo to Colborne streets. Another was from the owners on King street, between William and Colborne streets, asking for a similar pavement, and the third was for a cement kerb and gutter on Albert street, from Richmond to Talbot street.

The request of the city firemen to be paid semi-monthly instead of monthly, was granted, the city treasurer having informed the finance committee chairman that it would not disarrange matters in his office.

Inspector Howe's report on the fire appliances of the city was referred to No. 3 committee.

H. K. McCormick headed a petition from residents of the south end of the city asking the council to close a rag, bone and scrap iron business on Simcoe street, between Clarence and Richmond streets, on the ground that it had become a nuisance, a danger to the health of the people of the neighborhood, and a means of preventing persons from building in that locality.

The statement was made that Dr. Hutchinson, the medical health officer, had several times reported that the place complained of was not a nuisance or dangerous to the public health. He will be asked for a written report to the council.

WHISTLING IS A NUISANCE.

A number of Stanley street ratepayers petitioned the council to enforce the bylaw prohibiting the blowing of railway whistles inside of the city limits, on pain of a $50 fine. Their chief cause of complaint was the repeated whistling on the Grand Trunk in rear of their properties, which had become "a detriment to peaceful comfort, and unbearable to any of a nervous temperament or who may be on beds of sickness."

The petition was refered to the engineer, who will notify the railway authorities of the violation of the bylaw.

The third annual meeting of the Union of Canadian Municipalities is to be held at Ottawa on Sept. 16, 17 and 18, and W. D. Lighthall, the secretary, asked the council to name delegates. The appointment of representatives was left with the mayor, who is second vice-president of the association. The mayor spoke of the advantages of the union, which had come to the assistance of Toronto in a recent fight with the Toronto and Hamilton Railway Company, and would do the same for London if it ever found itself in a similar position.

ADVISED AGAINST ACTION.

On behalf of Richard Haramond, Mr W. H. Bartram asked to have a defective walk on Walnut street, West London, repaired. Mrs. Hammond had sustained injuries by reason of the walk being out of repair, but as the accident occured seven days before the writing of the letter, Mrs. Bartram had advised her not to sue for damages.

W. J. Lashbrook and others petitioned for the removal of a high board fence erected on the east side of Richmond street, north of Hyman, on the ground that it was on the public highway.

Rev. Father McKeon, rector of the new St. Mary's Church, was granted the use of Queen's Park for a garden party to be held during the last week of August, provided the date does not conflict with that set apart for a band concert.

Applications for the admission of John Beattie, Miss Spore and Miss Bates to the Aged People's Home were referred to the mayor and relief inspector with power.

Mrs. Carrie Waterman expressed her thanks to the council for the kindness shown her on the occasion of the death of her husband, Mr. Isaac Waterman.

Two applications for the proposed position of park commissioner were referred to the board of works. They were from George Benbow and W. R. Garner.

WANT TO LOCATE.

A letter from the Cormack Manufacturing Company, of Toronto, asking what inducements the city would hold out for the establishment of a refrigerator manufactory in London, was sent to the manufacturers' committee, which is also to consider a letter from a Lorain, Ohio, concern, desirous of establishing a rolling mill in Canada, employing from 200 to 300 hands.

The following petitions for permanent improvements were referred to the board of works: George T. Hiscox, for cement walk north side of South street, William to Adelaide; Henry T. Hyatt, cement walk on west side Malmelon, Hamilton road to Layard street; John Wheatcroft, cement walk north side Hill, Clarence to Wellington; A. Beck, cement curb and gutter, Richmond street, Sydenham to St. James; A. Beck, cement walk east side Richmond street, Sydenham to St. James.

The commanding officer of the Twenty-sixth Regiment, Lieut.-Col. McEwen, applied for exemption from taxes of the property No. 219 Rectory street, now used by the corps as an armory. The application was referred to the finance committee.

The use of the East End Hall was granted to All Saints' Church for a concert to be held on Aug. 25.

HOT WEATHER—NERVOUS WOMEN.

Pe-ru-na Is a Catarrhal Tonic Especially Adapted to the Nervous Depression Incident to Warm Weather.

Miss Blanche Grey, a prominent young society woman of Memphis, Tenn., in a recent letter from 174 Alabama street, writes:

"To a society woman whose nervous force is often taxed to the utmost from lack of rest and irregular meals, I know of nothing which is of so much benefit as Peruna. I took it a few months ago when I felt my strength giving way, and it soon made itself manifest in giving me new strength and health."

Two Well Known Canadian Ladies Send Letters of Indorsement to Peruna.

Miss Mary Burns, 28 Spring Garden road, Halifax, N. S., writes: "Having used Peruna for indigestion and stomach trouble and to build up a broken-down system with the very best results I am pleased to state my experience with this excellent medicine. I had been troubled with stomach trouble and poor digestion for some years, and although I tried many remedies and dieting, nothing seemed to restore my health until I used Peruna. My system was in a very rundown condition when I began to use it, and in three short months I had entirely recovered health and strength."—Mary Burns.

Miss Mabel Richardson, Wolfe Island, Kingston, Ont., writes:

"As I am a teacher by profession I am exposed to all kinds of weather and I really feel that I owe my excellent health to Peruna. I can safely recommend it to all women as a perfect blood purifier and an excellent tonic to build up a worn-out system."—Miss Mabel Richardson.

Nervousness is very common among women. This condition is due to anemic nerve centers. The nerve centers are the reservoirs of nervous vitality. These centers become bloodless for want of proper nutrition. This is especially true in the warm season. Every summer a host of invalids are produced as the direct result of weak nerves.

This could be easily obviated by the use of Peruna. Peruna strikes at the root of the difficulty by correcting the digestion. Digestion furnishes nutrition for the nerve centers. Properly digested food furnishes these reservoirs of life with vitality, which leads to strong, steady nerves, and thus nourishes life.

The unsolicited praise that Peruna receives surely proves that Peruna is without an equal as a nerve tonic and vital invigorator.

Buy a bottle of Peruna. If you do not receive all the benefits from Peruna that you expected, write to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Peruna is for sale at all first-class drug stores at $1 per bottle.

Peruna is in great favor among women, especially those who have vocations that are trying to the nervous system. Peruna furnishes the lasting invigoration for the nerves that such people so much need. Thousands of testimonials from women in all parts of the United States are being received every year.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
