It's Easy! As Plain as A B C

Why we can Sell Cheaper than Anyone Else in Chatham. Now You Know that a Million and a Half Dollars worth of goods can be bought cheaper than a thousand or two—the Canadian Dry Goods purchasing Syndicate buys to the extent of a Million and a Half Dollars each season—and we, as members of that Syndicate, reap the advantages gained by such tremendous purchases. Of course it gives us a great advantage over competitors, but that's our business, and it's your business to buy your goods (from us) when you get the best value for your money.

INDIAN LINOLEUMS AT 90c SQ. YARD.

You always have paid $1.10 and $1.25. Here's a chance to save, better now, while the assortment is in.

SCOTCH LINOLEUM AT 50c A SQ. YARD.

The trade discount given to members of the syndicate on these is 20 per cent. That's a trade secret, but still you might just as well know that we can save you that much. The same applies to 65 and 75c qualities.

CANADIAN FLOOR OILCLOTHS.

These are sold at the same price all over Canada, 25c, 35c and 40c, but we'll give you the very best quality at these prices.

TAPESTRY RUGS.

Up to 4 yds square. Just the size that will fit your room, in designs and colorings, copied from the most expensive carpets, they're pretty, serviceable and at small prices, $7.50, $8.50, $9.00, $10.00 and $12.00.

LACE CURTAINS.

Just bear in mind that we bought one thousand pairs, more than usual, and must sell some of them to YOU but that is easy when you see the curtains, and if you don't come and see them you'll be money out of pocket.

200 pairs at $1.00 per yard.
150 pairs at $2.50 per yard.
100 pairs at $4.00 per yard.
and many others at different prices.

TO GIVE ALL A GOOD TIME

Splendid Work Being Done by the Secretaries of the Big Summer Carnival

Old Boys and Girls, Who are Never Old, Being Urged to Turn Wandering Steps Homeward

J. W. Aitken, assistant secretary of the Old Boys Re-union, stopped long enough from his arduous labors this a. m. to remark that the Old Boys Re-union would be a howling success. "We are getting the names of 'any number of old boys,'" remarked Mr. Aitken, "but, unfortunately, we are not getting the names of many of Chatham's ex-girls. We would like to get more names of Chatham ladies who have left the old town and are now residing in 'other places.' We know if we get the ladies interested the men are bound to come."

"We already have about a thousand names and are busy sending circular letters to all the wanderers bidding

RECLUSE'S COIN TO KENT WOMAN

Says Yesterday's Buffalo Express—

Mrs. Anna Hartley, of Tilbury, Ont., who will get about $9,000, left by Anna Mailey, an aunt she has not seen in about fifty years, is in Buffalo for the settlement of the dead woman's estate.

Miss Mailey, who was about 75 years of age, long lived as a recluse in a Washington St. house. E. E. McIntyre, the administrator of the estate, was instructed to take $500 to pay debts.

them to come home for the Re-union. We have now approached the schools and have asked the teachers to request the pupils to bring in the names of all the old Chathamites resident in other parts that they can. We will revise this list so obtained by comparison with the one we now have. This scheme was worked very successfully in London."

The Old Boys Re-union is hurrying along to a successful issue and everybody is expecting a good time. The following letter has been sent to all the old boys whose addresses have been obtained—

Dear Sir—The sons and daughters of Chatham are scattered over all parts of the Globe. They were good people when they lived in Chatham and are the best people now in the city or town where they live. Chatham, as you may or may not know, has gone ahead at a lively rate the last four or five years and like the good paterfamilias, when things are going right and everything is neat and prosperous at home, we want the old boys and old girls back for a few days' re-union to see old friends and acquaintances of their boyhood days. It will do us much good.

For several years the citizens of Chatham have desired to hold an Old Boys' Re-union, but on each occasion when the scheme has been put before the public some unforeseen circumstance has blocked the movement. However, this spring the time is ripe. From the 30th of May to June 4th Chatham will be at home to her children and will hold a Grand Street Carnival and Old Boys' Re-union. There will be ample accommodation for all and a continuous entertainment for one whole week. Single fare from all points is being negotiated for. Literature and programs will be mailed to you shortly, but in the meantime make it a point to see all the Chatham Old Boys and Girls in your town, take it up and organize. Start at once to arrange your summer vacation for the week above-mentioned. There will be doings in the old town of which has never occurred before.

Advise the Secretary if you will be able to come and also send him the names and addresses of any old Chatham boys or girls in your town.

Yours truly,
W. W. SCANE,
Secretary.

MORNING WEDDING

John J. Doyle, 5th concession, Harwich, was married this morning at nine o'clock to Miss Annie Creamer, Raleigh Township. The Rev. Father James officiated at high mass at the marriage service, which was solemnized at St. Joseph's church.

Miss Lizzie Hogan was bridesmaid and C. A. Doyle assisted the groom. The bride looked charming in a cream wedding dress trimmed with lace and ribbons. She wore a large picture hat. The bridesmaid was attired in a dress of linen muslin over pale blue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Doyle will reside on the 5th concession, Harwich Township.

The more trouble some people have the more they want to borrow.

SCHEDULE FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

Government Appointments to the Staff Said to Include Local Teachers.

Fifteen Days will Comprise the Course—Definite Date Not Yet Set But Likely in July.

It is understood that all arrangements for the summer school, to be held in the Maple City during the coming vacation, have been completed by the Education Department, and that on Friday last the Hon. Mr. Harcourt, Minister of Education, officially approved the appointments for the teaching staff, whereon Chatham educationists will be well represented.

Among the local appointments are said to be the following:—
Principal and Lecturer on Nature Study—J. W. Plewes, principal of the Central School.

Lecturer in Drawing—Miss Esther Abram, principal of McKeough School. Demonstrator in Drawing—Miss Georgia A. Morrison, of McKeough School staff.

Demonstrator of color work—Miss Ella Arnold, of the Central School staff.

It is also understood that the three local kindergarten directors, Misses Green, Aylesworth and McTaggart, will be offered appointments to assist in the manual training work.

The summer school will be held in this city for fifteen days, probably in the month of July, although the date has not yet been definitely decided upon.

The securing of this summer school is a distinct advantage to Chatham in an educational way. Considerable credit in this connection is doubtless due our enterprising Board of Public School Trustees and Dr. Geo. T. McKeough, their zealous and energetic representative to the recent Educational Association gathering in Toronto.

BAD WRECK NEAR 'BURG

Break in a Special Pere Marquette Freight Causes Collision and Blocks Road.

Early Passenger Trains Transferred Travellers and Baggage—Now Clearing the Track.

A very disastrous wreck occurred on the Pere Marquette about a mile and a half south of Wallaceburg early this morning.

A large special freight with 81 cars attached bound north broke in two when nearing Wallaceburg and the two ends came together with a crash and a wreck was the result. Two loaded cars and three empties suffered in the wreck and some of them were ground up to kindling wood. No one was injured.

The track was not clear this morning and will not be cleared until late to-night, so completely has the road been blocked. Conductor Whitley, who went north this morning, was forced to stop when he came to the wreck, as also was Conductor Pierce coming south. They transferred their passengers and baggage and Pierce returned to Sarnia and Whitley came back to Chatham, arriving here at noon.

The auxiliary from Chatham is working industriously on the wreck and will have the track clear as soon as possible. The loss to the railroad will be great.

CALVE DODGED

Hose Stream Intended for Obstreperous Students Hits Celebrated Prima Donna.

New Haven, Conn., April 26.—Mme. Calve recently bore the brunt of a hose attack intended for a band of college students, and with her garments trailing like Ophelia's in "Hamlet" she went to her dressing room. She appeared half an hour later as Carmen.

At least 300 Yale students went to the stage door of the Hyperion theatre on a recent evening, insisting that they be hired as supernumeraries. The management selected twenty-five. The others declared they must appear on the same stage with Mme. Calve.

The students refused to move, and Mme. Calve's carriage drove up. It that moment the stage carpenter turned on a stream from a fire hose and Mme. Calve emerged just in time to catch the water. She said something in French, and the students gave three cheers for her.

TERRIBLE HAVOC OF A TORNADO

Texas, Arkansas and Indian Territory Suffer From Storm's Force.

A Number of People are Injured, and Many Houses Blown to Pieces.

Prior Creek, I. T., April 25.—Six persons were killed by a tornado which swept through the country about four miles south of here last night. Reports have been received that a number of others were injured but names of only two are known.

Dead—John Abbott, wife and two children; Albert Dealy, aged six years; Lucy Betting, aged eight years.

The storm started near Chouteau, eight miles from here, and swept to the northeast, cutting a path from one-half to a mile wide, and about twenty miles long. The Abbott home was demolished, and the four members of the family instantly killed. The storm then struck the Dealy home, blowing it to pieces, killing the young son and probably fatally injuring the father, Albert Dealy. At Grand River, eight miles farther on, the Betting house was demolished, and breaking both the legs of her father, Leopold Betting, a farmer. The tornado then passed into the flat hills, east of the river, and tore a strip through the woods as clean out as though made by wood choppers. The tornado was followed by a torrential rain.

HAS HAMILTON GOT THE CALL?

The Guelph Herald of Yesterday Says—

The proposition submitted by the Petrie Cream Separator Company to Hamilton as to the removal of the business to that city has been approved by the Finance Committee, and will come up for ratification at the Hamilton Council to-night. It is more than likely that the arrangement suggested will meet with the sanction of the Council. Mr. Petrie does not intend if the matter goes through to reside in Hamilton, but will continue to live in Guelph.

WORST EVER KNOWN.

Fort Worth, Texas, April 25.—A special to the Record from Mount Vernon, Texas, says: "The worst tornado ever known in this section struck Mount Vernon yesterday. Eleven houses were blown down. The residence of J. H. Majors, vice-president of the First National Bank, was completely demolished. Mr. and Mrs. Majors were injured and Mrs. C. P. Harp and son and daughter were injured. The home of W. W. Arnold was shattered and strewn for hundreds of yards, and Mrs. Arnold and a young lady visiting them were painfully injured.

SEVERAL HOUSES DEMOLISHED. Houston, Texas, April 25.—A tornado passed within three miles of Mexia, Texas, to-day, demolishing several houses. Mrs. Shanks was probably fatally injured, and all of the members of the Shanks family were hurt. W. E. Bonner and his daughter were blown from a carriage and seriously hurt.

TWO CHILDREN KILLED.

Pine Bluff, Ark., April 25.—A tornado to-day passed over Jefferson county, killing two negro children, and doing heavy property damage. At Sherill many buildings were blown down.

INAUGURAL MEETING

The Park Street Methodist League held their regular meeting last evening, when the reports of the different committees and officers of last year were given, and showed that the League has had a very prosperous year's work. The committees have fully accomplished the work which was set forth for them to do and the outlook for the coming year is very bright indeed.

The new officers were then introduced and they assumed charge of their different departments. Miss Snell and Miss Darling sang a duet and Miss Brown gave an instrumental solo. The Executive Committee met after the League meeting and drafted the different committees for the year and so the League is now ready for the coming year's work.

MEET TO-NIGHT

The Maple City Philharmonic Association will meet this evening in Harrison Hall to receive the report of the committee on constitution and transact other business. The President, his worship Mayor McKeough, will preside.

TUESDAY, APRIL 26.

END OF A COSTLY SESSION

The session of the Ontario Legislature commenced under auspices which, while characteristic of the Ross Government, would be regarded as discreditable by any other Ministry. It is ending, after a series of crises, with the minority Administration in worse shape than ever. There was but one reason for the sudden calling of the House, namely, the necessity of averting a temporary escape from anticipated exposures of crime in these proceedings. A controller in Toronto has had the decency to resign because offences were committed, without his knowledge, at the election in which he was returned. The Ross Government has no such delicacy of feeling. It promoted the wrong-doing, and then called the Legislature to meet that the fraudulently elected members might sit and vote, and that the more direct offenders might be shielded from the law.

There need be no wonder that a machine-elected House—for through the machine the wrong is done—should be as bad as the instrument which created it. As water cannot flow up-hill, so a legislative majority cannot be superior to its master. All through the session now closing the influence of this political engine has been felt. As a result of useful legislation, outside of the amended assessment law, which Mr. Whitney and his colleagues carefully supervised in the public interests, there has been none worth a special mention. The efforts of the improperly acquired majority have indeed been directed towards the obstruction of measures making for the improvement of the condition of the people and the protection of public rights. One of the crises, with its all-night session and its special train to bring in an absentee member, was produced by the determination to thwart a movement affording the public a slight return, in the way of reduced railway charges, for the great subsidies that are voted. While appeals for legislation of a reforming character have fallen upon unwilling ears, an unusually strong demand for action—a demand promoted by Mr. Ross himself—has been resisted. When the House opened the Lieutenant-Governor was asked by his Ministry to announce that a measure dealing with the liquor question would be introduced. No such bill has been brought down. It is clear now that the chief adviser of the Government trifled with his Honor and placed in the speech from the throne a promise, the fulfilment of which was not intended. The deceit of which the Lieutenant-Governor was made the medium is, however, very far-reaching. For years a body of thought has been invited by Mr. G. W. Ross, who has posed as its leader, to expect legislation. It has been tricked from time to time with piousness, referenda and constitutional technicalities. When the announcement was made in the speech from the throne that something was coming it supposed that legislation was really at hand. But it turns out that the declaration was a new imposture, and, as a consequence, the Government has lost a measure of strength upon which it formerly relied. Deprived of this support the Ministers and their majority have hastened to make friends in another quarter.

This explains the enormous grants and guarantees and the ten per cent. "rake-off" that has so astonished and scandalized the province. There can be no doubt that under ordinary circumstances the Government would not have agreed to lend $2,000,000 of public money to the American mill-owners who are reorganizing the Sault industries. It would indeed have declared that the excellence of the Outlook required these millionaires to do business with their own money on their own credit. But with two powerful members of the House financially interested in the affair as unpaid contractors, with a constituency about to be vacated because of the criminal acts by which the member was elected, and with the better elements of the party falling away, the proposition bore a different coloring, and $2,000,000 was not regarded as too large a sum to pay for the political results that are wanted.

The calling of the session to postpone election trials and to install as members men who had not been honestly returned, certainly added to the popular dislike entertained for the Ross Government. During the session nothing has been done to remove the bad impressions thus rubbed in. Far from rehabilitating itself the Government has made its position worse by its capitulation to all sorts of agencies, by the new obligations it has incurred, and by the unhappy revelations, first, with regard to the Sault wages, and, secondly, with reference to the ten per cent. "rake-off" on contracts. If the Ministry was distressed before the House met, it is viewed now as a public menace. We have passed from the "evil practices in the constituencies to a condition even more shocking in the Legislature itself. During the session Mr. Whitney and his colleagues have conducted a splendid fight for sound principles and for reform. The leader of the Opposition has endeavored himself more than ever to his followers, and has won the admiration of the whole province. Mail and Empire.

STARVING IN THE MIDST OF PLENTY

Terrible Experience of Mrs. M. Sears of Lochaber, N. S.—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets To The Rescue.

Mrs. M. Sears, of Lochaber, N. S., relates an experience that should make all sufferers from indigestion stop and think. It shows what the future may have in store for those who neglect the first slight aches and discomforts that tell of a disordered stomach. "I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia," says Mrs. Sears. "I had terrible pains in the pit of my stomach and lost about fifty pounds in weight. You can imagine my case as very acute. I was almost starved. I tried various medicines and on several occasions tried to get relief through the use of a stomach pump. I went to Newfoundland on a trip for my health. "But it was no use. I could not get relief and had almost given up hope of ever being cured when an advertisement led me to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. I got one box and must say I never had such relief in my life. I continued using them and gradually regained my lost weight and strength. "You can quickly cure your indigestion and escape the terrors of dyspepsia by using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They mean comfort now and security for the future."

MUSICAL..

Chatham music lovers were given a treat last evening in the Foster concert which was given at the Grand. The entertainment was one of the best that has been here this year, and, considering the lateness of the season, it was well patronized. The audience was not a large one but it was a cultured and appreciative one and they took many an occasion to show their approval of the efforts of the different artists, who appeared on the program.

The only disappointing feature of the whole evening was the illness of Miss Foster, the celebrated English contralto, who was the star of the evening. For the last few days Miss Foster has been suffering from a severe cold and she found it impossible to attempt some of her more difficult songs. Indeed, it was with difficulty that she sang at all and singing under such conditions made her at once admired by her audience. She appeared first in two English songs, "The Boatman's Song" and "An Indian Lullaby." The latter number was her best selection. Her second number was "The River Flows to the Sea," and on her last appearance she sang a group of three songs "If Heaven I Will," "Because My Love is a Rose," and "Happy Song." It was indeed unfortunate that Mrs. Foster could not attempt some of her heavier numbers as it was plainly evident from her singing that she is a contralto of wonderful ability and training. She has a voice full of both sweetness and power and her department in the stage is that of a finished artist. Cyril Dwight Edwards, the baritone, is a very brilliant singer and was the good feeling of his audience upon his initial entrance. He has an excellent stage appearance and this added to his magnificent voice, makes him an imposing soloist. He is not a stranger here having sung in the auditorium once this season. Mr. Edwards is an English singer and has received his training in Paris and England. He sings remarkably well and was at his best last evening in "O Du Mein holder Abendstern," from "Die Meistersinger," by Wagner. His other songs were "The Spring has Come," "Mignon," "The Boatman's Song," "O Mine," "Stand to Your Honor," and "King Charles." This last number was also one of his best and he sang with a free and vim that could not but enthrall his audience.

Emiliano Renaud, the talented French pianist, was by no means a secondary consideration in the artistic accomplishments of the evening. Renaud is one of the most gifted pianists who have visited Chatham for some time. He played an exceedingly heavy program last evening and he played well. He appeared four times on the program and each time he appeared he was greeted with hearty and well deserved applause. He was repeatedly called back and obliged to respond to encores. It would be impossible to describe his playing for it was far beyond the understanding of the average concert-goer. He played his whole program with the ability and skill of a true artist. His last selection, a Fantasia on Themes from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mendelssohn-Liszt, was a work of art and he played it in a manner which a skill that is seldom seen in Chatham concerts. Renaud is a native of Montreal and has played in all of the larger cities of America and everywhere he goes he is greeted with favorable criticism and is pronounced a general favorite.

Miss Kate Eads was the accompanist of the evening and performed her part of the entertainment faultlessly.

The many people who enjoyed the program last evening, are indebted to W. W. Scane for this excellent entertainment. Chatham should have more of these high class artistic evenings and for the future this one Mr. Scane deserves unbounded credit and praise. The same company appears in London this evening.

CHILD FATALLY BURNED.

St. Catharines, April 24.—The home of Rev. Dr. Smith, pastor of Knox Church, was last night the scene of a sad occurrence and which terminated fatally this morning. His only son, who is just two years and a-half old, was put to bed last night at his usual hour, and left alone for a short time. When his mother returned to the room she was horrified to find her child seated in a chair wrapped in flames. The supposition is that the little fellow, not being inclined to sleep, got out of bed, and by standing on a chair, reached some matches and managed to light them. The flames were quickly extinguished, but the child received such severe burns that he died this morning at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Smith also received several burns while extinguishing the flames. Rev. Mr. Smith was formerly pastor in Thamesford, Ont.

A GOOD WORD FOR CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

"In December, 1900, I had a severe cold and was so hoarse that I could not speak above a whisper," says Allen Davis, of Freestone, N. Y. "I tried several remedies, but got no relief until I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, one bottle of which cured me. I will always speak a good word for that medicine." For sale by All Druggists.

The worries of a weak and sick mother are only begun with the birth of her child. By day her work is constantly interrupted and at night her rest is broken by the wailing of the peevish, puny infant. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It lightens all the burdens of maternity, giving to mothers strength and vigor, which they impart to their children. In over thirty years of practice Dr. Pierce and his associate staff of nearly a score of physicians have treated and cured more than half a million suffering women. Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free of charge. All correspondence is strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Spencer and Beecher.
Herbert Spencer visited America in 1882 and on that occasion, a banquet was given in New York in his honor. Henry Ward Beecher was one of the after dinner speakers.

"I am asked," said Mr. Beecher, "how I reconcile Spencer with theology. I don't."

"A man who has a baldheaded deacon watching everything he does or a gold spectacled lawyer—not a fat one" (looking at Mr. Bristow), "but a long, lean, lank one" (looking at Mr. Everts)—"can't afford to talk Spencerism from the pulpit."

"It is to be borne in mind that when a man is driving a team of fractious horses that are just all he can manage, anyhow he is not in a state of mind to discuss questions with his wife by his side, who is undertaking to bring up delicate domestic matters."

It had been said that Mr. Spencer had no sense of humor, but he joined heartily in the merriment which Mr. Beecher's speech provoked.

Pitt's Foodness For Fort.

The ruin of Pitt's health was attributed to his physicians, who made him take port in large quantities in his youth, so that he could not do without it later. Lord Grenville has seen him swallow a bottle of port in tumblers before going to the house. His hands shook so much that when he helped himself to salt he was obliged to support the right hand with the left. Stothard, the painter, happened to be one evening at an inn on the Kept road when Pitt and Dundas put up there on their way to Walmer. Next morning the waiter said to Stothard: "How much wine do you suppose they drank last night? Seven bottles, sir!"—Rogers' "Table Talk."

The Way They Do In Iceland.
Icelanders never think of "locking up" at night, and yet only two cases of thieving have occurred in many years. One was a poor man with a broken arm, who stole several sheep to save his family from starving. The punishment meted out to him was that food was provided for his family, he was placed under medical care and work was given him when his arm had healed. The other case was of a foreigner who stole seventeen sheep. The law demanded that he restore the value of the thefts and then leave the country or be executed. Naturally he left.

Playing a Trick on McCullough.
Will McConnell and John McCullough were playing "Virginus" and McConnell was doing Idilius. When he had to go up to John and shake hands with him he put a hard boiled egg into his palm and left it there, and McCullough, being in the center of the stage and alone, could not get rid of it. He discharged Will, as usual, that night, but he never stayed discharged, and he was taken on again when they found him on board the train on the way to the next stand.

How She Felt.
"I hope," said Mrs. Oldcastle, "that you didn't feel that you were de trop when you called the other day and found Mrs. Beesum present."
"Oh, no," replied her hostess. "That was just the back of my waist that I kept feeling. One of the hooks was loose, and somehow I couldn't help being kind of nervous about it."

An Irish Gem.
An Irish journal had this gem in answer to a correspondent: "We decline to acknowledge the receipt of your post card."
Which is very much like the Corkonian who traveled into Kerry to an insulting enemy to "tell him to his face that he would treat him with silent contempt."

Only Two Occasions.
"You always appear to be nervous," remarked the friend solicitously.
"But really," replied the housekeeper, "there are only two occasions when I am nervous. One is when I have a servant girl, and the other is when I haven't."

Carefully Brought Up.
"Were you carefully brought up, my lad?" asked the merchant of the applicant for a situation.
"Please, sir, yes, sir; I came up in the elevator, sir," said the respectful youth.

A prominent Southern lady, Mrs. Blanchard, of Nashville, Tenn., tells how she was cured of backache, dizziness, painful and irregular periods by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Gratitude compels me to acknowledge the great merit of your Vegetable Compound. I have suffered for four years with irregular and painful menstruation, also dizziness, pains in the back and lower limbs, and fitful sleep. I dreaded the time to come which would only mean suffering to me."

"Better health is all I wanted, and cure if possible. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness in a few short months. I feel like another person now. My aches and pains have left me. Life seems new and sweet to me, and everything seems pleasant and easy."

"Six bottles brought me health, and was worth more than months under the doctor's care, which really did not benefit me at all. ### THE CELLAR.

A Place Where Perpetual Cleanliness Should Reign—Often a Death Trap.
"It isn't typhoid, malaria, grip or spring fever half so much as decayed vegetables in the cellar," said one physician to another when called in consultation over a severe case of fever.

It is a popular notion that the cellar should be cleaned in the spring cleaning time, but by spring the seeds of disease and death may have been sown, and cleaning comes too late to save the life of some member of the family.

Cleaning the cellar should be a weekly affair, but with the breaking up of cold weather greater attention to its condition is required.

Decayed vegetables should not be allowed to remain one hour, and all specked or spotted fruits should be removed.

The cellar should receive a daily airing. This does not mean to leave the windows open long enough to freeze the vegetables and fruit, but in the severe cold weather let the windows be opened to allow a circulation of fresh air and closed quickly.

Jars, pots and barrels should be thoroughly cleared before putting away, and untiring watchfulness should preside over this portion of the house.

In the spring the walls should be swept down, sprinkled with water and a little sulphur be burned in the cellar. Upon a warm, sunny day, hot or cold, place a tablespoonful of sulphur in a little heap. Touch a lighted match to it and leave it to burn. It will slowly consume and will kill all unpleasant odors and disease germs.—Table Talk.

In her search for the ideal man a girl often overlooks a lot of real ones.

The crowning joy of womanhood is motherhood and the crowning joy of motherhood is to have healthy children.

But there can be no joy in motherhood without health, and without health for the mother there can be no health for the child.

It is of vital importance for women to know that the health of mother and child is in general entirely within woman's control. The thousands of women who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when expecting motherhood, have testified that it made them healthy and happy in the days of waiting, made the baby's advent practically painless, and gave them health to give their children.

Mrs. W. J. Kidder, of Hill Dale Farm (Hosburg Center), Housburg, Vt., writes: "During the past year I found myself expecting maternity, and in rapidly failing health. I suffered fully from bloating and urinary difficulty. I was growing perceptibly weaker each day and suffered much sharp pain at times. I felt that something must be done. I sought your advice and received a prompt reply. Took twelve bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and also followed your instructions. I began to improve immediately, my health became excellent, and I could do all my own work (we live on a good sized farm). I walked and rode all I could, and enjoyed it. I had a short, easy confinement and have a healthy baby boy."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

A Clergyman's Letter.

The following letter and editorial appeared in recent issues of the Calumet and Houghton (Mich.) Daily Mining Gazette. The letter was written from Denver by Rev. John B. Whitford, former pastor of the Lake Linden (Mich.) M. E. Church, and we understand the editorial is from the pen of Mr. Homer E. Guck, managing editor of the Gazette.

Both letter and editorial serve as way-marks in the progress of the Christian Science movement up to its present position of honor and prestige, and they reflect credit upon their broad-minded writers.

REV. MR. WHITFORD'S LETTER.

Having incidentally made a reference in a former article to the spacious and magnificent temple of the Christian Scientists now nearing its completion, and having been told of their wealth and intelligence, I yielded to the solicitation of friends and went to their prayer meeting one Wednesday night. What I saw and heard were to me a revelation. I have seen nothing comparable to it in Denver. The size of the audience astonished me. The capacity of the building was tested to the utmost. Nor was this exceptional, but a common occurrence. Imagine a building of such dimensions as the Calumet M. E. Church filled in every part, gallery included, and you have the vision. I have not seen such a prayer meeting since my boyhood days in Cornwall, where the great chapels were filled with jubilant and songful people. But what about the people? Radiant faced, joyous, exuberant, optimistic, and expectant as the skylarks in the morning. They gave every evidence of culture, refinement, and wealth. It is not extravagant to say that the Christian Science in Denver represents some of the very best from all the churches. It is a confluence of many streams, a gathering of many forces, a concentration of diversified experiences.

Promptly at 8 p. m. the service commenced. There was a hush, a profound quiet like the coming of night on a ruined city. As the strains of the organ, like soft, enchanting lays, filled the building, the atmosphere seemed laden with reverence, idealism, sublimity, and God. All the conditions were favorable to the hallowed ministrations of silence and to serene contemplation. The very air seemed quivering and healing, as though angels were winking in with their wings. Then came the opening hymn, with its choral and full-throated melodies. What a volume of song! But it was stateliness majestic, reverential, suggestive of other kingdoms and a divine world. Here again I was reminded of the congregational singing across the sea. Following this choral outburst a refreshing and uplifting song came the reading of the Holy Scriptures in a natural and impressive manner. And how the people listened. They listened as if for the first time the simple and oft-repeated words had condensed broad areas of light into flashes of brilliant and iridescent beauty. After a careful survey of the audience I could not discover the slightest trace of difference of reverence. Everywhere there was order, devotion, harmony, as though the people were under the sovereignty of magnificent and boundless Love.

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" then followed. After this order of exercise there was perfect silence. Had a stranger crept into the room with no particular liking for the things of the Spirit, he would have been caught and held in sweet captivity by Blondel's sweet song caught and chained the ear of the non-hearted prince. This silence gave full scope to thought as space full of truth. After a few minutes of silence the audience broke out into the Lord's Prayer like a great chorus. The volume, the sweep, the majesty and grandeur of the prayer seemed to melt all horizons, dissolve all boundaries, and looked out into the illimitable vastness of worlds. The very dome of the sky seemed lifted, and amber streams of gladness went rippling along the firmament and sparkling to the edge of the remotest constellations. I have listened to the great orators and have seen thousands swayed to and fro and they poured forth melodies plaintive and tender, tumultuous and overwhelming, but the Lord's Prayer uttered by a thousand voices, deep, full, measured, and musical is a rare experience.

Another hymn and a brief address and we are in that part of the meeting devoted to testimony or demonstration; and those who stood on their feet revealed in a moment that they had a message to deliver. Several of them quoted from the Bible with exquisite felicity. At the close of the testimonies another hymn was sung and the people went their several ways, a great throng like unto a Sunday audience addressed by some famous preacher. Even Mark Guy Pearse, of London, England, with all the Methodist churches to draw from, did not face a finer audience while in Denver. And yet at this mid-week meeting there is no preaching, no paid quartet of trained voices, no sensational advertising, and the edifice is not large enough to hold the people.

At this service and all the services, there is no preponderance of women over men. Both sexes seem to be equally divided. The men are intelligent, sagacious, and far-seeing business men. Many of them have large interests under their control. They represent the professions of the city. Some of them were widely traveled extensively, and were at one time members of the orthodox churches. Those who think Christian Scientists do not equal in intellectual measurement the other sects have only a superficial knowledge of the subject. I have not seen a more cultured audience in many a play than the one I saw the other night, and I have not heard saner testimonies in any meeting. As I saw this multitude of people, the most of them once members of orthodox and liberal churches, I could not refrain from asking, What is the secret of Christian Science and where is its magnet? It has been assailed, ridiculed, and branded as a heresy. Scores of writers have vehemently branded it as anti-Christ. And yet the truths I heard that night hover in the van of the race, five in the proudest chancellings of the sculptor, and breathe in the deepest thoughts of the poet.

Mark Twain, in an elaborate article in a great review, harried his keen and glittering darts of wit at it (Christian Science); and when his wit, piercing as a two-edged sword, failed, he pounced upon it the flaming petroleum of his ridicule, and still it is unconsumed. Other levitians of the sea of controversy have attacked it, but it dives and grows in the very teeth of opposition. It has its being in something more substantial than poetic dreams of human perfectibility. Did it have no rootage in reality it would pass away like the mottled splendor of the sea after the sun is out of sight. Without discussing its philosophy, I simply note it as a fact to be reckoned with. It is here. Is it here to stay? Will it gradually absorb the strength of the churches and make orthodox creeds more tolerable to the expanding intellects of the age? Does it present a fine thought of God and man and proclaim a richer constellation of truths? Or, as a system of thought, will it yield to another more refined and ethereal? Whatever the future may reveal, not one glint or ray from the central orb of truth will be quenched. Isms, sects, cults are but scuds of foam upon the boundless deep. But the great and wide sea of humanity, heaving, tossing, now tremulous with liquid gold, then dark with fearful frowns; now tragic, then comic, will remain, and no sect will ever be so broad as to minister to all its creeds. Each sect is a segment of the circle and not the circle itself. They sustain the same relations to the allness and wholeness of truth that leaves do to a forest and single notes to a symphony. Christian Science claims to be more of this circle than any other sect. Posterity will decide, and the decision will be reached in the electric light of the historian's impartial pen.—Advt.

FROM PULPIT TO GREEN CLOTH

Providence Finally Smiles on Preacher in the Gaming Saloon.

Will Now Start Life Over With a Snug Bank Deposit—Dangerous Doctrine.

Butte, Mont., April 26.—O. E. Henderson, a Methodist minister 60 years old, lost his pulpit in Salt Lake City a year ago on account of his age and came to Butte with his wife and two children. Since then he has been unable to get a suit as pastor and has eked out a scant living for himself and family. He has worked in the streets, washed dishes at hotels but could not supply his wants. At the city employment agency, where he had for a year been a daily caller, he announced that he was going to Los Angeles. He had a prosperous appearance and said that he had suffered from want long enough; he had turned gambler and fortune had smiled on him.

"I would have committed crime to save my family from hunger, for I could get no assistance," said the old preacher. "I believe it was God that put it into my head to try my luck at roulette. I played my last dollar on the red and won. I doubled and won again. I played them all and Providence remained with me and lifted me from the quagmire of despair. Every day for two weeks I have played and continued in luck and now I have $1,500 in my pocket and we are going to California to start life over."

NO SUGGESTIONS

Stratford's Mayor Could Think of Nothing Further to Complete this Metropolitan Centre

A deputation from the Stratford City Council arrived in the city today and were entertained by Mayor McKeough and the members of the City Council.

The Stratford delegation are our examining pavements in the various cities of Western Ontario. Stratford has no pavement except macadam and they contemplate putting down a large amount of pavement this year. Mayor Wm. Hepburn, Aldermen H. Paul, W. J. Norfolk, Wm. Daly, Thos. Savage, M. J. Mallon, and the city engineer, Angus Smith, composed the party.

After the visitors had been driven around the city, Mayor McKeough turned to Mayor Wm. Hepburn and asked if the latter had any suggestions to make for improving the city of Chatham.

Mayor Hepburn, of the Bard of Avon's town, thought for a few minutes and then said that the Maple City was both of fine appearance and up-to-date. He could give no suggestions for improvements. Apparently Chatham had them all.

The home aldermen took the deputation over the various pavements in the city. They began with the wooden blocks on William St. across the creek, then exhibited the brick on William St. and the bitulithic on Queen St., and ended with the asphalt block pavement on King St. West.

The Stratford civic representatives said that Chatham had more pavements for its size than any place they had ever been in. Although the population of Stratford was 11,000, Chatham seemed to have more business houses and be a busier place.

Although they are short in pavements, they have Chatham beaten in the matter of an electric street railway.

Ald. Thomas Savage, of Shakespeareville, is a brother of Abe Savage, of this city, and an old Chatham man. He said he noticed wonderful improvements in the city. Mr. Savage knew all the old landmarks. He is chairman of the Board of Works.

Scotch Linoleums

Kirkcaldy is recognized as the centre of the floorcloth industry of Great Britain. The largest mills of that kind in the world are to be found there. The mills send their representative twice a year to Canada to take the orders of the wholesale houses and the large retailers.

Our ability to handle quantities direct from them in this way means that we save from 7 1/2c to 10 per cent. smaller stores have to pay to brokers or commission agents, who by taking their order and putting it with a number of other similar stores orders are thus enabled to buy the required quantity from the mills.

WE BUY DIRECT AND SAVE THE COMMISSION

Your reap the benefit by getting the higher grade goods at the prices other stores have to ask for the lower qualities.

See our designs and qualities in 4 yds. wide Linoleums, in Floral and Tile Patterns.

INLAIN LINOLEUMS in Tile Patterns, at prices that mean a saving to you because bought direct.

CANADIAN FLOOR OIL CLOTHS

The same ability to handle quantities enables us to buy direct from the Canadian Mills.

Quantity and Cash is the consideration with them. Every yard is paid for by the tenth day of the month. From the Mills it comes direct to us and we pass it on to you with only our modest profit added to it.

To-day we received our second shipment of oilcloths, and can show you an extra big range of patterns in 1 yard wide, 1 1/4 yds., 1 1/2 yds., 2 yds. wide at 25c, 35c, 40c a yd.

SNEAK THIEF

Yesterday afternoon a man pretending to be deaf and dumb called at the residence of Fred. H. Briscoe. He had a paper signed by a minister and a doctor stating that he was a worthy subject for alms. Mrs. Briscoe gave him some change and he then asked for a drink of water, which the lady secured for him. Shortly after the beggar left Mrs. Briscoe noticed that her watch was gone. It had been lying on the piano. She went to the front of the house and the man was still in sight. Mrs. Briscoe then telephoned the police. P. C. Groves went out but could find no trace of the man. The fellow is described as being of medium height, sallow complexion, peculiar eyes, dark hair, prominent features, and about 24 years old.

Old Hagar's Secret...

By Mrs. M. J. Holmes...

An audible groan from the depths of the satin hood, as Betsy Jane passed out and the cars passed on, showed plainly that the mother and sister of George Douglas were recognized, particularly as the former wore the red and yellow calico, which, having been used as a "dress up" the summer before, now did its own service as a garment of every day wear. But not long did Madam Conway suffer her mind to dwell upon matters so trivial. Hilda was not far away, and she came each moment nearer. Two more stations were reached—the haunted swamp was passed—Chicopee River was in sight—the bridge appeared in view—the whistle sounded, and she was there.

Half an hour later, and Theo, looking from her window, started in surprise as she saw the village omnibus drive up to their door.

"Tis grandmother!" she cried, and running to meet her, she asked why she had returned so soon. "They are coming at noon," answered the excited woman; then, hurrying into the house, and throwing off her hood, she continued, "He found her at the Falls; they are between here and Albany now; tell everybody to hurry as fast as they can; tell Hannah to make a chicken pie—Maggie was fond of that; and turkey—tell her to kill a turkey—it's Maggie's favorite dish—and ice cream, too! I wish I had some this minute," and she wiped the perspiration from her burning face.

No more hysterics now; no more lonesome nights; no more thoughts of death—for Margaret was coming home—the best-loved of them all. Joyfully the servants told to each other the glad news, disbelieving entirely the report fast gaining circulation that the queenly Maggie was lovingly born—a grandchild of old Hagar. Up and down the stairs Madam Conway ran, fitting room to room and tarrying longest in that of Margaret, where the sunlight came in softly through the half-closed blinds and the fair summer blossoms smiled a welcome for the expected one.

Suddenly the noontide stillness was broken by a sound, deafening and shrill on ordinary occasions, but falling now like music on Madam Conway's ear, for by that sound she knew that Margaret was near. Wearily went the half hour by, and then, from the head of the tower stairs, Theo cried out, "She's coming!" while the grandmother buried her face in the pillows of the lounge, and asked to be alone when she took back to her bosom the child which was not hers.

Earnestly, as if to read the inmost soul, each looked into the other's eyes—Margaret and Theo—and while the voice of the latter was choked with tears, she wound her arms around the graceful neck, which bent to the caress, and whispered low, "You are my sister still."

Against the vine-wreathed balustrade a fairy form was leaning, holding back her breath lest she should break the deep silence of that meeting. In her bosom there was no pang of fear lest Theo should be loved the best; and even had there been, it could not surely have remained, for stretching out her arm, Margaret drew her to her side, and placing her hand in that of Theo, said, "You are both my sisters now," while Arthur Carrollton bending down, kissed the lips of the three, saying as he did so, "Thus do I acknowledge your relationship to me."

Sure Mrs. Edmund Brown, Inwood, Ont., when she had almost given up hope of ever getting well again.

She writes: "I was so run down that I was not able to do my work, was short of breath, had a sour stomach every night and could scarcely eat. My heart palpitated, I had faint and dizzy spells and felt weak and nervous all the time. My husband got me a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills but I told him it was no use, that I had given up hope of ever being cured. He however persuaded me to take them and before I had used half the box I began to feel better. Two boxes made a new woman of me and I have been well and have been able to do my work ever since."

Professor of Theoretical and Practical Pharmacy, Massachusetts College of Pharmacy.

"Why don't she come," the waiting Madam Conway sighed, just as Theo, pointing to the open door, bade Margaret "go in."

There was a blur before the lady's eyes—a buzzing in her ears—and the footfall she had listened for so long was now unheard as it came slowly to her side. But the light touch upon her arm—the well-remembered voice within her ear, calling her "Madam Conway," sent through her an electric thrill, and starting up she caught the wanderer in her arms, crying imploringly, "Not that name. Maggie darling; call me grandma, as you used to do—call me grandma still," and smoothing back the long black tresses, she looked to see if grief had left its impress upon her fair young face. It was paler now, and thinner, too, than it was wont to be, and while her tears fell fast upon it, Madam Conway whispered, "You have suffered much, my child, and so have I. Why did you go away? Say, Margaret, why did you leave me all alone?"

"To learn how much you loved me," answered Margaret, to whom this moment brought happiness second only to that which she had felt when on the river bank she sat with Arthur Carrollton, and heard him tell how much she had been mourning without her—and how sad were all their hearts.

But that was over now; no more sadness—no more tears, the lost one had returned; Margaret was home again—home in the hearts of all, and nothing could dislodge her—not even the story of her birth, which Arthur Carrollton, spurning at further deception, told to the listening servants, who, having always respected old Hagar for her position in the household as well as for her education, so superior to their own, sent up a deafening shout, first for "Hagar's grandchild," and next for "Miss Margaret forever."

CHAPTER XXV.

By Theo's request, old Hagar had been taken home the day before, yielding submissively, for her frenzied mood was over—her strength was gone—her life was nearly spent—and Hagar did not wish to live. That for which she had sinned had been accomplished, and though it had cost her days and nights of anguish, she was satisfied at last. Margaret was coming home again—would be a lady still—the bride would be Arthur Carrollton, for George Douglas had told her so, and she was willing now to die, but not until she had seen her once again—had looked into the beautiful face of which she had been so proud.

Not to-day, however, does she expect her; and just as the sun was setting, the sun which shines on Margaret at home, she falls away to sleep. It was now this hour that Margaret was wont to visit her, and now, as the treetops grew red in the day's departing glory, a graceful form came down the woodland path, where for many weeks the grass had not been crushed beneath her feet. They saw her as she left the house, Madam Conway, Theo, all, but none asked whether she was going. They knew, and one, who loved her best of all, followed slowly after, waiting in the woods until that interview should end.

Hagar lay calmly sleeping. The servant was, as usual, away, and there was no eye watching Margaret as with burning cheeks and beating heart she crossed the threshold of the door, passing not, until the bed was reached—the bed where Hagar lay, her crippled hands folded meekly upon her breast, her white hair shading a whiter face, and a look about her half-shut mouth, as if the thin pale lips had been much used of late to breathe the word "forgive."

Maggie had never seen her thus before, and the worn-out, aged face, had something touching in its sad expression, and something startling, too, bidding her hasten, if to that woman she would speak. "Hagar," she essayed to say, but the word died on her lips, for standing there alone, with the daylight fading from the earth, and the life light fading from the form before her, it seemed not meet that she should thus address the sleeper. There was a name, however, by which she called another—a name of love, and it would make the withered heart of Hagar Warren bound, and beat, and throb with untold joy.

And Margaret said that name at last, whispering it first softly to herself, then bending down so that her breath stirred the snow-white hair, she repeated it aloud, starting involuntarily as the rude walls echoed back the name "Grandmother!" "Grandmother!" Through the passage locked in sleep it penetrated, and the dim eyes, once so fiery and black, grew large and bright again, as Hagar Warren woke.

Was it a delusion, that beautiful form which met her view, that soft hand on her brow, or was it Maggie Miller?

"Grandmother," the low voice said again. "I am Maggie, Hester's child. Can you see me? Do you know that I am here?"

Yes, through the films of age, through the flimsy of coming death, and through the gathering darkness, old Hagar saw and knew, and with a scream of joy, her shrunken arms wound themselves convulsively around the maiden's neck, drawing her near, and nearer still, until the shrivelled lips touched the cheek of her who did not turn away, but returned that kiss of love.

"Say it again, say that word once more," and the arms closed tighter round the form of Margaret, who breathed it yet again, while the childish woman sobbed aloud: "It is sweeter than the angels' song, to hear you call me so."

She did not ask her when she came—she did not ask her where she had been; but Maggie told her all, sitting by her side with the poor hands clasped in her own; then, as the twilight shadows deepened in the room, she struck a light, and coming near to Hagar, said, "Am I much like my mother?"

"Yes, yes, only more winsome," was the answer, and the half-blind eyes looked proudly at the beautiful girl bending over the humble pillow. "Do you know that?" Maggie asked, holding to view the ambrotype of Hester Hamilton.

For an instant Hagar wavered, then hugging the picture to her bosom, she laughed and cried together, whispering as she did so, "My little girl, my Hester, my baby that I used to sing to sleep, in our home away over the sea."

Hagar's mind was wandering amid the scenes of bygone years, but it soon came back again to the present time, and she asked of Margaret whence that picture came. In a few words, Maggie told her, and then for a time there was silence, which was broken at last by Hagar's voice, weaker now than when she spoke before.

"Maggie," she said, "what of this Arthur Carrollton? Will he make you his bride?"

"He has so promised," answered Maggie. Hagar continued: "He will take you to England, and you will be a lady, sure. Margaret, listen to me. 'Tis the last time we shall ever talk together, you and I, and I am glad that it is so. I have greatly sinned, but I have been forgiven, and I am willing now to die. Everything I wished for has come to me, even the hearing you call me that blessed name; but, Maggie, when to-morrow they say that I am dead—when you come down to look upon me lying here asleep—you needn't call me 'Grandmother'; you may say 'poor Hagar,' with the rest. And, Maggie, it is too much to ask that your own hands will arrange my hair, fix my cap, and straighten my poor crooked limbs for the coffin? And if I should look decent, will you when nobody sees you do it—Madam Conway, Arthur Carrollton, nobody who is proud will you, Maggie, kiss me once for the sake of what I've suffered that you might be what you are?"

"Yes, yes, I will," was Maggie's answer, her tears falling fast, and a fear creeping into her heart, as by the dim candle light she saw a nameless shadow settling down on Hagar's face.

The servant entered at this moment, and glancing at old Hagar, sunk into a chair, for she knew that shadow was death.

"Maggie," and the voice was now a whisper, "I wish I could once more see this Mr. Carrollton. 'Tis the nature of his kin to be sometimes overbearing, and though I am only old Hagar Warren, he might heed my dying words, and be more thoughtful of your happiness. Do you think that he would come?"

JUST ONE MORE DIRECT PROOF

That Dodd's Kidney Pills Cure Promptly and Permanently

All Forms and Stages of Kidney Disease—New Brunswick Man Tells of Terrible Urinary Complaint Banned Once And For All.

St. Mary's Ferry, York Co., N. B.—April 25.—(Special).—Thomas Harrison, a well-known resident of this place, adding a testimony to that of the thousands who have proved that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure promptly and permanently any form or stage of Kidney Disease. Mr. Harrison says:

"Some years ago I began to suffer from pain in the back, accompanied by a lethargy impossible to overcome. I was attended by a physician, but continued to grow worse, and began to pass bloody urine. "On the advice of a friend I started using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and by the time I had taken one box I passed a stone which is now in the doctor's possession. "Three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me completely, and though it is now years since I was cured I have had no return of my old complaint. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the Kidneys, and with sound Kidneys you need never fear Urinary complaints."

Beautiful Spring Confections for Dressy or Smart Street Wear.

Pink straw, white lace and flowers compose the lovely Easter confection of the upper figure sketched by the Designer. While white straw, black straw and a black quill form the other very smart affair. The same authority says:

There is a suggestion of the picturesque "baby" hat in some of the dressy models. One of rare beauty was made entirely of ruffles of lace outlined with gold. The lace was caught up at the left side, where the palest pink roses nestled and fell over on the hair. In black lace ruffles edged with gold, American Beauty roses supplanting the pink ones, this would be a striking style for a young brunette. The lace ruffle falls over the brim and shades the face slightly in these new "baby" hats, and oftentimes a pretty touch is given by a spray of blossoms caught in the ribbon bow and trailing over the brim to the back, where it falls on the hair. For street wear this pretty hat is fashioned of place taffeta or liberty satin. It should match the gown in color.

The black picture hat trimmed with a white feather is one of the essential items of a fashionable wardrobe, and it has come forth again in tulle and lace. The brim of this hat is straight and suggests the large, round sailor. It is slightly raised at the left side and in front by a bandeau. Hats of this type are becoming to almost every woman, but they should be worn only upon dressy occasions.

There is a touch of gold in nearly all of the newest models, and it is rumored that the military suggestion will be more and more in evidence as the season progresses.

A bonnet or headpiece that is especially appropriate for evening wear is formed of a hoop of wire about an inch wide, over which is twisted black or colored velvet ribbon.

Flower toques and turbans are especially attractive at this season, for the flowers that now pervade the millinery world have copied nature very closely, some of them almost defying detection as imitations. There are flowers, though, that in no way suggest nature which are nevertheless beautiful and full of delightful possibilities.

The new toques are much smaller than those that were worn during the past season. They are quite oval in shape, forming almost a point in front. At the sides they are close fitting, and in nearly every instance a long lace drape that falls over at the back is a distinguishing feature. All sorts of materials from coarse straw to the finest lace will be employed to fashion these modish hats.

A cavalier gown composed entirely of tiny red rosebuds is the distinctive feature of a new and dressy hat. The wide, straight brim is of black chantilly lace, the finely scalloped edge of the lace falling over.

So fashionable is ostrich plumage that in some cases it forms almost the entire hat. A model of rare beauty had the entire crown of pale pink ostrich feathers, with the wide, straight brim of cream lace.

The violet hat is included in almost every spring outfit.

Sausage Rolls.

Sausage rolls are a favorite in our family these crisp mornings, says a Good Housekeeping correspondent. Try my recipe: Make a rich biscuit dough with milk and cream, roll thin and cut with a large cookie cutter. Have the fried sausage, in links, hot; roll one link in each disk of dough, pinch ends together and bake in a quick oven. Serve on hot platter, pouring gravy around them when sent to the table.

A Pointer on Prunes.

Don't order prunes of the grocer boy when he calls for orders and then cook any old thing he delivers. It is best to select them yourself the first time or two; then after awhile the grocer will learn what you mean when you say, "Bring me some more of those nice prunes."

Brain Beds and Drafts.

The objection to brass or iron beds that drafts are noticeable is overcome by the use of dainty curtains at the head. In hospitals squares of heavy plique tied by tapes at the corners to the uprights of the bed are landered weekly with the other bed linen.—Pittsburgh.

SCOURGE OF THE AGE IS KIDNEY DISEASE

Terrible Increase in the Number of Deaths from This Ailment

It is Common to All Classes and Conditions of People

It Creeps Stealthily Into The System And Develops Into Many Diseases.

Bright's Disease, Heart Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy and Rheumatism, are Among The Forms It Takes.

Dodd's Kidney Pills The One Remedy That Never Fails To Cure It, No Matter How or Where It Is Found.

Of all the diseases the human body has to combat in its struggle for health, the one that is steadily growing in strength and terror is Kidney Disease. Quietly, stealthily as a serpent, it creeps on its victim (still the latter is enveloped in its folds, and the greatest physician the world has ever known stands helpless before it. As the last fold goes around the struggling victim and the doctor shakes his head and whispers "Bright's Disease," hope fades to nothing, and the sorrowing friends feel that death has marked their loved one for its own.

The alarming increase this terrible disease is making is evidenced by the columns of almost every newspaper. For not among the lowly of the earth alone does it look for its victims. Statesmen, judges, eminent lawyers, and honored divines are numbered among those who in recent months have gone down to their graves with the fell marks of this dread disease upon their bodies. In fact, so prevalent has the disease become that a celebrated New York specialist stated recently that not one person in a hundred was free from some latent Kidney Disease.

WORKS IN SECRET.

It is the secrecy of Kidney Disease that makes it the more dreaded. You can fight an enemy in the open with some chance of success, but if he is lying in wait to strike you at a moment when your chances of successfully fighting him are terribly diminished. So it is with Kidney Disease. Its first warnings are so faint as to be hardly noticeable, a slight pain in the back that is charged up to over exertion, a slight discoloration of the urine or a burning sensation while urinating that hardly attracts attention. That is all. But that means that Kidney Disease is at work gradually eating its way into your system. The pain in the back grows more severe, the urinary trouble more complicated, swellings under the eyes and of the limbs denote the coming of Dropsy, sharp shooting pains in the joints and muscles tell that Rheumatism has you in its grasp, or perhaps a day or two's illness leads to the calling of the doctor, and suddenly the terrible truth is forced upon you—Bright's Disease has you in its grasp.

WAY OF ESCAPE.

With this silent, relentless enemy slowly but surely eating its way into prominence and making of it a deadly foe, a yearly increase in the length of its death list, the demand of the day, of the hour, is "Show us the way of escape." Nature never put mankind in a critical condition without providing a way of escape—providing mankind were wise enough to take the way provided. In this case the way of escape is a simple vegetable remedy. It has been before the people of Canada for thirteen years, and, like all the great relievers of nature, has been first received and first appreciated by the lowly in life, those known as the common people of Canada.

It is the common people of Canada who are the victims of Bright's Disease. No, it is the bright and shining marks, those who are stationed above the heads of the masses. Ask the reason of this! Go to the people who are practically exempt from Kidney Disease in its worst form, and ask them: "With almost a single voice they will reply: 'We cure our Kidney Pills, and they never get a chance to develop into that terrible disease that carries so many prominent men into the grave.'"

ON WITH HIS WORK.

And so it is: the man who does manual labor must heal his slightest aches or he hinders him in his work. When he has backache he cures it with Dodd's Kidney Pills, and goes on with his work; when he feels a twinge of Rheumatism he drives it out of his body with Dodd's Kidney Pills—and goes on with his work. Necessity has taught him that he must cure his kidneys to get rid of his pains, for he must work to live. He has not been educated to that standpoint where a prescription to cure must be written by a specialist at a cost of dollars to every letter. He may not even know that there never was a disease that took in all classes of the community but what nature provided a cure within the means of all classes of the community. What he does know is more to the point than all this. He knows that Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure all aches which experience has taught him come from the kidneys. He takes Dodd's Kidney Pills, and goes on with his work.

SOME EXCEPTIONS.

Of course, there were exceptions to every rule. Even among common people there are those who neglect the early warnings of Kidney Disease. It takes exceptions to prove the rule—but many of these exceptions prove more—they prove that no case of Kidney Disease is too far gone for Dodd's Kidney Pills to cure. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Heart Disease—all the varied forms of Kidney Disease in its advanced stages—have been met by Dodd's Kidney Pills, and never once has Canada's great Kidney Remedy had to admit defeat. From the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the Great Lakes to Hudson Bay, Dodd's Kidney Pills are used, and wherever used they have triumphed over Kidney Disease in its every form. Thousands of Canadians are shouting their praises of the conqueror.

Just a few of those who have neglected the early symptoms, reached the more advanced stages of Kidney Disease, and found a cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills are given below. There are thousands of others. Ask in your own immediate neighborhood. You will not have to go far to meet men, women and children who have either warded off or cured the terror of the present age by using the old Canadian stand-by—Dodd's Kidney Pills.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE CURED.
Bright's Disease has invariably yielded to a treatment of Dodd's Kidney Pills, no matter how firm a hold it had secured on its victim. Possibly the most talked of case of recent date is that of Alice Maud Parker, of Shubenacadie, Hants Co., N. S. The full story of this case will be found in the current number of Dodd's Magazine. Herewith a short statement from the young lady's mother is appended:

Two doctors pronounced my daughter's illness Bright's Disease, and gave her up to die. Her eyelids swelled till she could hardly see; her legs from her ankles to her knees swelled. Her belt in health in health was 26 inches, when she was at her worst it was 48 inches. Then she gave up another treatment and started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. By the time she had taken the first box I saw a change. It took a long time to bring her back to perfect health, but Dodd's Kidney Pills did it. To my daughter is in perfect health.

Mrs. T. G. Parker,
Shubenacadie, Hants Co., N. S.

DIABETES CURED.

Diabetes is another of the most fearful and fatal forms of Kidney Disease that has been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills, and by no other medicine. Among those cured of this terrible ailment is Mr. Charles Gilchrist, for fifteen years Chief of Police of Port Hope and afterwards for twenty-two years Fishery Overseer under the Dominion Government. He makes the following statement:

I was a sufferer for ten years with Diabetes and Kidney Disorder. At times my urine was of a dark brick color, and I would suffer something awful while passing. I tried doctors and medicines, but could get no help till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have made me a new man. The citizens of Port Hope all know me, and can vouch for the above.

Chas. Gilchrist,
Ex-Chief Const and Fishery Overseer,
Port Hope.

HEART DISEASE CURED.

Heart Disease is a result of Kidney Disorder. Bad Kidneys mean impure blood, the action of impure blood on the heart causes Heart Disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure it: I suffered for years with Heart Disease, Bright's Disease and Rheumatism. I was so feeble I was unable to do anything. There were three months I abandoned all medicines, and resolved to let myself die. Then I was led to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and the good the first box did me surprised me. I have taken twenty boxes in all, am well of my Heart Disease, my Bright's Disease and my Rheumatism.

Dame Louis Provosts,
St. Magloire, Que.

DROPSY CURED.

Dropsy, another disease caused by diseased kidneys failing to do their work and remove the surplus water from the blood, is another ailment Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure. Here is an example:

I was a total wreck before I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. In the mornings before I got out of bed I could hardly put my feet to the floor they were so much swollen with dropsy. My arms used to swell at times so that I could not put on my coat. I had to be helped to get relieved from my terrible pains. On the advice of a friend I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Before I had finished the second box I felt much better. Seven boxes cured me completely. I don't know what it is to be sick since I used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

George Robertson,
392 St. James St.,
Montreal, Que.

RHEUMATISM CURED.

Rheumatism and kindred Kidney Diseases, such as Lumbago, Sciatica, and Gout, are caused by uric acid in the blood. If the kidneys are put in working order they strain all the uric acid out of the blood, and the Rheumatism goes with it. Take the case of W. G. Cragg, of Dresden, Ont. Here is his statement:

For eight years I was troubled with inflammatory Rheumatism. I could scarcely get around to do my duties in my store. I had some of the best doctors I could get, but nothing I tried would ever give me relief. I started using Dodd's Kidney Pills and had only taken six boxes when I was completely cured.

W. G. Cragg,
Ex-Retiree of Dresden, Ont.

ALL KIDNEY DISEASES CURED.

These are only a few cases taken from thousands to show the efficacy of Dodd's Kidney Pills. In other forms of Kidney trouble, such as Urinary troubles, Gravel, Female Weakness, etc., Dodd's Kidney Pills have the same record. They always cure. As for pain in the back—the first symptom of Kidney trouble—ask your neighbors. You'll find the majority of them look on Pain in the Back as a danger signal, and on its first appearance safeguard themselves against this terrible fatal Kidney Disease by driving it away with the old Canadian stand-by—Dodd's Kidney Pills.

SACHEL OF THE SATELLITE

These Hoo-Hoo's ought to be a "purr"-ty lot.

Fred H. Briscoe.—It's hard sometimes to find time.

This ninety-nine and nine association is an odd affair.

Question.—Why are the Hoo-Hoo's like pretty women? Answer.—The figures cut quite a bit of ice.

When a man's wife goes crazy and is put in an asylum she is not considered dead in the eyes of the law.

Some of those Old Boys, when they come home, won't know the old town, but the old town will know them.

I guess that hotel-keeper, who was fined $30 and costs for shaking dice in his bar, thought that the fine at least was loaded.

The Hoo-Hoo's will make merry at the Hotel Garner Friday night, but you can't be a Hoo-Hoo without money to the amount of $9.99.

The Old Boys are coming home for the celebration. The home boys will make them think, however, that they never knew what a good time was.

John Dittmar.—It was sometimes before I foretold anything again vater and I was thinking it was dime some more. We'll have an snow storm again this month before next month comes. You'll see.

Ald. A. B. McCoig.—No, the road-scraper wasn't out Saturday and it would have done no good had it been. Too much money has been wasted scraping the roads in the past. Probably the roads will be scraped at the end of the week if they dry up.

P. C. Groves.—I was out after a time yesterday but I didn't get it. Had I caught the fellow, who had the time piece, he would have done time. When the fellow left the house, I don't think he took his time but some one else and that's how he got out of sight so soon.

The father of a Maple City lad of six, purchased his son a bicycle. The other day the boy was crossing the park bridge when the wheel came off the bicycle and the ball bearings rolled out and into the creek. The lad was quite angry about it and was telling his troubles at dinner. "That was a nice wheel you bought me," remarked the lad. "When I was coming over the park bridge to-day the front wheel came off and ball-bearings rolled into the creek." The child's statement disturbed the gravity of the household.

NOT HIS OWN GUIDE.

Henpeck—I did think when I was married that I might have my own way once in a while.

Benedick—Oh! you poor misguided man!

Henpeck—Not me. I'm a Mrs. Guided man.—Philadelphia Press.

DID HE?

When Father Adam tilled the ground, And sowed the virgin mold, Whilst every growing thing around Gave yield a thousand-fold, Did he, in springtime, always run To Eve, with visage pale, And hoarsely bellow, "We're undone, The peach crop's going to fail!" —Puck.

KIND OF MAN NOT TO MARRY.

Don't marry a man— Who is a spendthrift. Who is fickle in his affections. Who is shiftless in everything. Whose word you cannot rely upon. Who never works unless he has to. Who is an inveterate cigarette smoker. Who is vulgar, gruff and brutal in his speech and manner, and whose tastes are coarse and low.—Success.

WORLD OF SPORT

FOOTBALL

Sporting Editor Planet, Chatham: Dear Sir.—The management of the Chatham football team say that the Darrell and Kent Bridge teams have amalgamated for the simple reason that Chatham had put forth so strenuous an effort to scrape the province for players to give it first place. The latter portion of the prediction is not an exact reproduction of the original but, nevertheless, the exact meaning is interpreted. We have failed to see the amalgamation and are at any rate wondering what the product will be. From the foregoing statement we are led to believe that Chatham are grieved that Darrell, instead of taking its usual stand, did not dissolve, and hand its members over to Chatham. It is perhaps too bad that our inclinations are not in that direction. But we have entered the game with the full purpose of playing it honestly and as fast as condition will allow. If two members of the Kent Bridge team elect playing with a country team, which, like other country teams, has difficulty in getting enough home men, they are doing a reputable act and show their interest in country sport. S. G. KNIGHT.

FOR THE VONGUNTEN CUP.

A meeting of representatives of the teams who will do battle for the Vonguntien trophy this spring was held on Saturday in the parlors of the Canada Business College and full arrangements were made for the coming season. Mr. McNeal, science master of the R. O. J., represented Ridgetown, Messrs. Gausgrove and Morris represented the Business College, and Messrs. Sissons and Oliver the Collegiate Institute. A protest and dispute committee composed of Principal Little, of the R. O. J., Mr. Galbraith, of the C. B. C., and Mr. Jewett, of the C. C. I., was appointed to decide the standing of any player throughout any of the games. The following schedule was drawn, the games to be played on or before the dates mentioned:
May 7—R. O. J. at C. B. C.
May 14—C. B. C. at C. C. I.
May 20—C. C. I. at R. O. J.
May 24—C. C. I. at C. B. C.
May 28—C. B. C. at R. O. J.
June 4—R. O. J. at C. C. I.

LAWN TENNIS

LEAGUE ORGANIZED.

A meeting of the delegates of the Western Ontario Tennis Clubs was held in Chatham on Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of forming a league and drawing up a schedule. The following were present: W. J. Finucan, Bothwell; J. K. Duncan, Thamesville; Mr. Beyer, Ridgetown; and Mr. D. Fraser, Chatham. The following officers were elected: President—John Puddicombe, Bothwell. Sec.—M. D. Fraser, Chatham. Executive—C. A. Mayhew, Thamesville; G. A. Morrison, Ridgetown; W. J. Finucan, Bothwell. As the Chatham Club will have the strongest membership in its history this season, it is confidently expected that they will put up a big fight to land the league trophy. As Mr. W. E. Rispin has also donated a gold medal for the local club championship, lots of rivalry may be looked for. Play will commence as soon as the grounds can be put into condition. The schedule:
May 24 and July 27.—Ridgetown at Chatham, Bothwell at Thamesville.
June 1 and Aug. 3.—Thamesville at Ridgetown, Chatham at Bothwell.
June 15 and Aug. 17.—Ridgetown at Bothwell, Thamesville at Chatham.
June 22 and Aug. 24.—Chatham at Ridgetown, Thamesville at Bothwell.
July 6 and Sept. 7.—Ridgetown at Thamesville, Bothwell at Chatham.
July 13 and Sept. 14.—Bothwell at Ridgetown, Chatham at Thamesville.

WHAT NOW?

Will the Summer of 1904 Be Like This?—A Pessimistic Retrospect.

John McNabb writes to the Port Elgin Times:

The winter we have just passed through has been a very severe one, although a resident of this country for the past 53 years I have never seen anything like it. However, there are instances in this country of winters that not only lasted longer, but the cold was more intense and the snow falls greater. Notably the year 1816. I will give you in detail the weather accounts during the months of that memorable year:

January, very mild, fires almost needless. Twelfth month previous was very cold.

February, not very cold. March, cold and boisterous.

April, began warm, but grew colder as the month advanced, ending with snow and ice.

May, buds and fruits were frozen, ice formed half an inch thick, corn was killed and replanted again and again, until deemed too late.

June, very cold, frost, ice and snow were common. Snow fell to the depth of 10 inches in Vermont.

July, accompanied by snow and ice.

August, ice formed an inch thick. In New England and Middle States, very little corn ripened.

September, two weeks of mild weather, after the middle cold and frosty. Ice formed quarter of an inch thick.

October, frost and ice were common.

November, cold and blustery, snow fell so as to make good sleighing.

December, mild and comfortable. The above is a brief summary of the "Cold Summer of 1816" as it was called, the year showing the remarkable record of frost and ice every month therein. The sun's rays seemed to be destitute of heat throughout the year and all nature was clad in a sable hue. The average wholesale price of flour during the year was thirteen dollars per barrel in Philadelphia.
