THOMAS GLEN, for the District of Ferryland.

GEORGE JAMES HOGSETT, for the District of Placentia.

A Message from His Excellency the Governor.

At Two o'clock a Message from His Excellency the Governor was delivered by F. W. Rennie, Esq., the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, commanding the immediate attendance of Mr. Speaker and the House in the Council Chamber.

Message from the Governor commanding attendance of the House.

Accordingly, Mr. Speaker and the House attended His Excellency the Governor in the Council Chamber ; and being returned,

Mr. Speaker and House attend the Governor at opening of the session.

Mr. SPEAKER informed the House, that, when in attendance on His Excellency the Governor, His Excellency had been pleased to make a Speech to both Branches of the Legislature, of which, Mr. Speaker said, for the sake of accuracy, he had obtained a copy, and which he read to the House as follows :—

Mr. Speaker reports His Excellency the Governor's Speech.

Mr. President, and Honorable Gentlemen of the Legislative Council:

Speech of the Governor.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly :

I have summoned you to meet for the despatch of business, after a recess of unusually short duration ; not so much in consequence of any pressing necessity for resorting to your assistance and advice at this particular moment, as for the purpose of restoring the ordinary Sessions of the Legislature to their accustomed course, and thus enabling you to devote your attention to the public interests at that season of the year which is understood to be most convenient with reference to your personal occupations and pursuits.

Since we were last assembled, the progress of the war in which the resources of the United Kingdom and the spirit of its people are alike engaged, has been marked by glorious and triumphant events. It has been my gratifying duty to transmit to the foot of the Throne the loyal congratulations of Her Majesty's faithful subjects in this ancient possession of Her Crown, upon the great achievement of the campaign ; and I have not failed to convey to Her Majesty's Government my testimony to the heartiness and enthusiasm with which those sentiments were offered for Her Majesty's acceptance.

I have been honored with the Queen's commands, to make known the gratification with which she has received these proofs of the interest which is felt by the inhabitants of the Colony in the success of Her Majesty's Arms and those of Her Allies.

The inevitable effect of continued hostilities upon so vast a scale, in the enhanced cost of articles of subsistence, has been peculiarly experienced in a Colony whose inhabitants depend so extensively for their supplies upon the imported produce of other countries.

Although the advantages which were reasonably to be anticipated from the Reciprocity Treaty with the United States, and its subsidiary enactments, have, in this respect, been materially neutralized at the outset of the system it established; yet ample proof has been afforded of the benefit which the measure is calculated to confer upon the export trade of the Colony by the comparative increase in the quantity of our staple produce which has latterly found a market in the ports of the Union.

When the unfavourable circumstances to which I have adverted shall have ceased to operate, we may confidently hope, that these advantages will become permanent and more generally diffused, not only promoting the interests of Commerce and Capital, but substantially ameliorating the condition of our Fishermen, and other industrial classes of the population.

Immediately upon the Receipt of Her Majesty's approval of the Treaty Act—which was transmitted to the Local Government, with no longer delay than unavoidably resulted from the connection of the measure with the Foreign Relations of the Mother Country—the necessary steps were taken for giving practical effect to its provisions; and I shall cause to be laid before you, a communication which I have received from Her Majesty's Minister at Washington, placing me in possession of the Act of the President of the United States, by which those provisions are declared to be in force in that country.

The efforts of the Government have been directed to a reduction of the heavy burden which, for many years past, has been entailed upon the Public Funds, under the designation of "Relief of the Poor." But notwithstanding the favorable results of the Shore Fishery, and a decided improvement in the Potato Crop throughout the Colony, the rise in the cost of other food has presented a serious obstacle to that immediate and effectual reform of the system, which might otherwise have been accomplished. Care has, however, been taken in the allotment of pecuniary assistance, to promote the two-fold object of rendering the expenditure as reproductive as circumstances would allow, and of averting the debasing influences of a purely gratuitous relief, by affording timely employment in public work to those whose destitute condition, if not thus assisted, there was good reason to anticipate.

By a Despatch from the Secretary of State, which will be laid before you, you will learn that Her Majesty's Government are anxious to establish a system by which the cost of erecting and maintaining Light Houses situated in the great Tracks of Commerce, may be more equally imposed upon the shipping deriving benefit therefrom.

It is the intention of the Imperial Government, that the Light House about to be erected upon Cape Race, should be maintained under this plan, and the ready adoption of the system, the advantages of which to this Colony can scarcely, I think, be doubted, may not improbably lead to its extension to the Light already established upon Cape Pine.

Personal communication between the Government and the chief promoters of the important project which has received the sanction and encouragement of the Legislature, for connecting Europe and America by Electric Telegraph, through the city of St. John's, justifies the expectation that, notwithstanding a recent disaster which has retarded the operations of the Company, the year upon which we have just entered will witness not only the establishment of the contemplated communication between this Colony and the American Continent, but also the initiation of direct intercourse by Steam with the United Kingdom, without which indeed, the great object of securing the rapid and regular transmission of intelligence across the Atlantic Ocean could not, for some time to come, be accomplished.

There are not wanting practical and experienced observers, who believe that the obstacles to such a project, which are attributed to the peculiarities of our situation and climate, are even less formidable than those encountered in a similar service upon the shores of the neighbouring Continent.

Should this opinion prove well founded, this Colony will at length receive the due advantage of its unrivalled geographical and commercial position; some conception of which may be derived from the simple fact, that its annual exports—the produce of the sea alone, and probably undervalued at a million and a quarter—are the results of the hardihood and skill of no more than some 40,000 of its inhabitants, and even those employed during only a portion of the year.

The belief that valuable minerals exist in favourable situations in more than one quarter of the Island, has recently acquired strength, and the permission of the Government to search for and work such deposits has been eagerly applied for in several instances.

While fully sensible of the importance of developing such promising sources of public and private wealth, it has appeared to my Government desirable to avail itself of your advice as to the course which it may be expedient to adopt for this purpose, and for the preliminary object of endeavouring to ascertain—approximately at least—the extent and value of our resources of this nature.

Information which has been obtained from various quarters, with a view to the encouragement of the export trade in Herrings, and an improvement in the method of Cure, will be communicated to you. From the correspondence on the subject, you will learn that your desire to foster this important Branch of the Fisheries, as indicated by a money vote in your last Session, has received due attention from the Government.

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly :

The Estimates of the Revenue and Expenditure for the present year will be laid before you.

I rely upon your usual liberality to make adequate provision for the Public Service.

The facility with which the additional Loan, sanctioned by the Act of last Session, has been obtained, affords satisfactory proof of the estimation in which the credit of the Colony continues to be held.

It is believed that advantage and convenience in the conduct of future Financial operations would result from the Consolidation of a portion of the Public Debt, now secured under several separate Enactments, and I have to invite your concurrence in a measure for this purpose, which will be submitted to you on behalf of the Government.

The true interests of a Colony, many of whose resources are comparatively undeveloped, but which is undoubtedly attracting the attention of Capitalists, will not admit of a total neglect of measures of internal and local improvement. Not only Main Lines of intercourse, but those Roads by which transit and communication between the Settlements upon the Coast and the country adjacent to them, may be facilitated, are especially objects which, in the peculiar circumstances of our working population, loudly call for sufficient and systematic appropriations.

Whatever the amount of expenditure for this and other purposes, which you may see fit to sanction, I venture strongly to urge upon you the adoption of the sound principle of at once equalizing your annual income with that expenditure.

I commend the question of Public Education to your continued support; and I trust that you may find it compatible with other claims upon the Public Funds, to extend an increased measure of encouragement to Improvements in Agriculture and the introduction of superior Breeds of Stock.

Mr. President, and Honorable Gentlemen of the Legislative Council:

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly :

In reviewing the state of the Colonial Law, certain alterations intended to adapt it more perfectly to the requirements of the various classes of society appear desirable.

The measures which will be submitted to you for this purpose, relate to the Administration of Justice, to the Amendment of the Law of Evidence, and to the Legalization of the principle of Limited Liability in Co-partnerships, whether for special objects or ordinary purposes of Trade. Their importance to the community affords ample assurance that they will receive patient and attentive consideration at your hands.

The want of some effective local Organization for the better management and improvement of Towns and Communities, and the establishment of such sanitary and other regulations as usually exist in wealthy and populous Cities, is very generally acknowledged; and as it seems but just to the inhabitants of the Colony at large, that these and similar objects of a purely local character, should be provided for from local Resources,* I trust that your present Session will not terminate without the completion of a measure by which these principles may be carried into operation.

The Constitution of the Government now happily admits of the freest interchange of opinion between the Crown and the other Branches of the Legislature, and I earnestly hope, that in the exercise of this advantage, our united efforts may, with the Blessing of Providence, result in the increased prosperity of all classes of the People.

On motion of Mr. E. D. SHEA, seconded by Mr. HAYWARD,

Resolved,—That a Select Committee be appointed to prepare an Address of Thanks in reply to the gracious Speech with which His Excellency has been pleased to open the present Session.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY :—

We, the Representatives of Her Majesty's Loyal Subjects, the Inhabitants of Newfoundland, in General Assembly convened, beg to thank

Your Excellency for the Gracious Speech with which Your Excellency has been pleased to open the present Session of the Legislature.

We hear with pleasure of the gratification afforded to Her Most Gracious Majesty by the loyal congratulations of Her Subjects in this ancient Dependency of the British Crown, upon the success of Her Majesty's Arms and those of Her brave Allies, in the war in which the resources of the United Kingdom and the spirit of its people are alike engaged; we, at the same time, beg to thank Your Excellency for the regard manifested by Your Excellency towards the Inhabitants of this colony, in conveying to Her Majesty's Government your testimony to the heartiness and enthusiasm with which these sentiments were offered for Her Majesty's acceptance.

We are happy to learn from Your Excellency that ample proof has been afforded of the benefits which the Reciprocity Treaty with the United States, and its subsidiary enactments, are calculated to confer upon the Export Trade of the colony, by the comparative increase in the quantity of our staple produce, which has lately found a market in the Ports of the Union—notwithstanding the neutralizing effects referred to by Your Excellency.

We concur with Your Excellency in the opinion, that, when these unfavourable circumstances shall have ceased to operate, we may confidently hope that the advantages of the Treaty will become permanent and more generally diffused, not only in the promotion of the interests of Commerce and Capital, but in the amelioration of the condition of the Fishermen, and other industrial classes of the population of this Colony.

We thank Your Excellency for the promise to lay before us a communication received from Her Majesty's Minister at Washington, placing you in possession of the Act of the United States by which the provisions of the Treaty are declared to be in force in that country.

It is gratifying to learn that the efforts of the Government have been directed to a reduction of the heavy burthen which, for many years past, has been entailed upon the Public Funds, under the designation of "Relief of the Poor."

Acquainted as we are with the difficulties with which the Government has had to contend with in the the reduction of that burden, we approve of the efforts it has directed to this end.

To the sentiments expressed by Your Excellency on the subject of Light Houses, we cordially respond, and shall be prepared to give every consideration to the adoption of such a measure as shall meet the views of Her Majesty's Government on this important subject.

It affords us much pleasure to learn of Your Excellency's expectation that notwithstanding the obstacles with which the Electric Telegraph Company have had to contend, the year upon which we have just entered will witness not only the establishment of the contemplated communication by Electric Telegraph between this Colony and the American Continent, but also the initiation of direct intercourse by steam with the United Kingdom.

We concur with Your Excellency in the line of policy recommended by you for our consideration, in reference to the development of the Mineral resources of this colony, and shall be prepared to mature such a measure as shall appear to us best calculated to promote that desirable object.

We are happy to learn that the desire of the Legislature in its last Session, to encourage the Export trade in Herrings has received due attention from the Government.

We thank Your Excellency for the promise to lay before us the Estimates of the Revenue and the Expenditure for the present year, and in our deep solicitude for the public service, we beg to assure Your Excellency that ample provision shall be made in due time to meet its exigencies, and that the sound principle of equalizing our Revenue with our Expenditure shall command our best consideration.

We are happy to learn that the loan sanctioned by the Act of last Session was obtained with such facility as to afford satisfactory proof of the estimation in which the credit of the colony continues to be held, and we beg to assure Your Excellency that we shall cheerfully concur in the adoption of a measure that will tend to improve the Financial operations of the colony, and place the public debt on an improved footing.

Regarding as we do, in common with Your Excellency, the great value of improved intercourse, whether by land or by sea, between the capital and outsettlements of the Island, as well as among those settlements themselves, we shall direct our particular attention to such measures as shall appear to us best calculated to promote this desirable object.

As we regard the moral and intellectual training of the public mind eminently conducive to the happiness of the people of this colony, and the developement of its agricultural resources of growing importance, we assure Your Excellency that these objects shall receive our anxious consideration.

In reviewing the state of the Law of this Colony, certain alterations intended to adapt it more perfectly to the requirements of the various classes of society, as indicated by Your Excellency, shall have our best and early attention.

We shall also be prepared to give every consideration to Your Excellency's suggestions as to the necessity of providing for an effective organization to promote the sanitary and other improvements of the chief towns of this colony, and to adopt such a measure, in this respect, as may be deemed practicable and expedient.

Without at present entering into greater detail upon all the subjects which Your Excellency, in your Speech, has so fully explained and elucidated, and upon which we are sensible of the great advantage we derive from Your Excellency's experience in Colonial Government, we beg to assure you that they shall command our best consideration, and finally trust, that in the exercise of that constitutional privilege which affords the freest intercourse of opinion between the Crown and the other Branches of the Legislature, our united efforts may, with the blessing of Providence, result in the due fulfilment of the purposes for which we are assembled, by the adoption of such measures as shall conduce to the true and lasting happiness and prosperity of the Colony.

Ordered,—That the Address be adopted and be presented to His Excellency the Governor, by Mr. Speaker and the whole House.

Messages from His Excellency the Governor.

Messages from His Excellency the Governor.

The Hon. the COLONIAL SECRETARY, by command of His Excellency the Governor, presented to the House the following Messages from His Excellency the Governor, signed by His Excellency.

The said Messages were severally read by the Speaker, all the members being uncovered, and are as follows :—

CHARLES HENRY DARLING.

The Governor having, in compliance with the request of the House of Assembly, transmitted to Her Majesty's Secretary of State, the Address passed by the House in its last Session, on the subject of the Postal Tax on Newspapers posted in this Island for the United Kingdom and other British Colonies, now lays before the House a copy of the correspondence which has taken place with Her Majesty's Government upon the subject.

The Governor also informs the House that, as it appears by the Secretary of State's Despatch, of Twenty-first of September last, No. 16, that in the case of Newspapers posted for Great Britain, it is optional with the Colonial Government to exact a charge not exceeding One Penny—the Colonial Post Master General has been instructed not to make any charge in the case referred to.

The Governor takes the opportunity of communicating to the Assembly, a Circular Despatch from the Secretary of State, requesting information whether the Government of Newfoundland is prepared to acquiesce in the extension to the Colony of an alteration in the rate of weights for charging Postage on Book Packets, which has been recently adopted in the United Kingdom.

The Governor has intimated, in reply, that the Colonial Government is prepared to acquiesce in the proposed alteration.

And the Address was read a third time, as follows :—

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY :—

We, Your Majesty's loyal subjects, the House of Assembly of Newfoundland, in Legislative Session convened, beg most humbly to approach Your Majesty with feelings of the most profound respect for Your Majesty's Royal Person and Government.

The Legislature of this Colony have frequently brought under Your Majesty's notice the important subject of our Fisheries, and the desire manifested by the French to monopolize various parts of our Northern and Southern Coasts, and to obtain a right of Fishery at Belle Isle, and have repeatedly represented the serious evils to which our people were, and still are exposed, by the operation of the Treaties which give to France the right of fishing on our Coasts, by the manner in which, notwithstanding the efforts of the Imperial and Local Governments, those Treaties have been infringed upon, and by the forcible expulsion, by the French Authorities, of British Fishermen from those parts of the Western Coast where the latter ventured to exercise their undoubted right of concurrent Fishery. The consciousness of present injury, the fear of future loss, and the conviction of our inability, unless our rights by Treaty should be strictly maintained, to compete in Foreign markets with rivals so much more highly favoured by Governmental aid than we have ever been, were the motives which heretofore led us thus to address Your Majesty; and feelings similar in character, though stronger in degree, influence us on the present occasion.

We have noticed in the public papers that the subject of our Fisheries is engaging the attention of Your Majesty's Government; and we learn from private sources that the French Minister is urgently pressing a claim for an extension of their rights of Fishery on the Coasts of this Island, and we are well aware of the force which such a claim must derive from the relations which at present happily subsist between France and England.

May it please Your Majesty—While the people of this Colony, in common with the rest of Your Majesty's subjects, desire that these amicable relations may be long continued, they feel very sensibly that this object would be unfairly secured by concessions which, although of little importance to the people of England, would, as we have before so repeatedly shewn, be so ruinous to us; and we therefore humbly but earnestly pray, that, taking into Your Majesty's gracious consideration the rights and interests of the inhabitants of this Colony, you will grant no further privileges, in this respect, to the subjects of His Imperial Majesty.

Ordered,—That the Address do pass, and be engrossed.

On motion of Mr. PROWSE, seconded by Mr. ELLIS,

Resolved,—That the following Message be sent to the Legislative Council :—

Mr. PRESIDENT,—

The House of Assembly have passed the accompanying Address to Her Majesty the Queen, upon the subject of our Fishery privileges in this Island and its Dependencies, to which they respectfully request the concurrence of the Legislative Council.

Mr. ELLIS presented a Petition from D. B. Holbrook, of New York, which was received and read, setting forth:—

Petition from D. B. Holbrook of New York.

1.—That in the year 1852, your Petitioner and some friends of his, proposed to erect and establish at their own cost an Electric Telegraph across this Island, with the view of connecting St. John's with England and the neighbouring Continent.

2.—That the vast benefits likely to result to this Colony from such an enterprize were appreciated, and encouragement and security to its projectors were proposed by the Government of Newfoundland to be given by a Charter of Incorporation.

3.—That accordingly an Act of the Legislature of Newfoundland, incorporating the "Newfoundland Electric Telegraph Company," was passed on the 14th June, 1852.

4.—That upon the faith of that Act, your Petitioner, and others, at his recommendation, took shares in the said Company, carried out to a considerable extent the proposed works thereof, and Petitioner alone contributed of the capital therein cash to the amount of nearly 50,000 dollars, which sum was actually expended upon the works of the Company in this Island, and in the employment of its people.

5.—That in the year 1854, Peter Cooper, Esq., and other gentlemen in New York, being anxious to avail themselves of the great enterprize of which your Petitioner and his friends were the projectors and pioneers, enquired in New York of your Petitioner whether he would surrender, and upon what terms, his rights and interest in the said Company; to which your Petitioner replied by writing, under date 1st March, 1854, that he would surrender such rights and interest upon receiving the amount of his stock therein, paid in cash with interest thereupon.

6.—That immediately afterwards, and without giving any reply to, or making any agreement or arrangement with, your Petitioner, three influential gentlemen, associates of the said Mr. Cooper, viz.—Cyrus Field, Esq., Dudley Field, Esq., and Chandler White, Esq., left New York for St. John's to negotiate with the Legislature for a Charter for themselves.

7.—That within three days after their arrival they succeeded in their object, and on the 13th April two Acts were passed by the Local Legislature, without those forms and notices which its rules prescribed respecting private Bills being observed, without the knowledge of your Pe-

tioner, and with unusual haste; the one, declaring and enacting that the said "Newfoundland Electric Telegraph Company had surrendered its Charter to the Government of this Colony, and that it was dissolved, and all the rights and franchises thereof annulled and extinguished"—And the other, incorporating the new Company called "The New York, Newfoundland and London Telegraph Company."

8.—That at the time of the passing of the said last mentioned Acts, your Petitioner was by far the largest stockholder in the said first-named Company, his investments therein were unsatisfied, and neither his rights nor the Charter that secured them had been surrendered by him, but on the contrary he had instructed Ambrose Shea, Esq., as his Agent in St. John's, to oppose to the utmost any interference with the said first-named Charter and Company until Petitioner's said rights and claims should be fully satisfied.

9.—That the said Messrs. Field and White agreed with the said Mr. Shea, that if he would forego opposition to the Incorporation of their new Company, they would pay in the month of August, 1854, to your Petitioner in New York, the amount of his said investment with interest thereupon, reimbursing him "dollar for dollar" his stock of the new Company at its bona fide cash or par value.

10.—That when your Petitioner was informed in New York of what had taken place in St. John's, and that the said Acts were irrevocably passed, he deemed it his best course to await the issue of the promise made to his said Agent, in the hope that his recognized claim would be honorably satisfied, and a necessity for the adoption of other proceedings obviated.

11.—That in August, 1854, your Petitioner adjusted with the said new Company the amount of his debt at 51,823 dollars 80 cents., which sum was acknowledged and agreed to be due to him by them.

12.—That the said new Company then offered your Petitioner their stock to the nominal amount of his said debt, in shares, but at a fictitious value, and not, as he believes and is well assured, at their bona fide cash value.

13.—That Petitioner refused the said Shares at such estimate—he offered to accept cash for his debt, and if Shares should be given, he claimed them at their real value, so that he should be reimbursed his outlay "dollar for dollar," as promised, and demanded an inspection of the books and accounts of the said new Company for the purpose of enabling him to ascertain their actual outlay and the bona fide par value of their Shares—all which equitable demands the said Company refused; and although they have availed themselves of your Petitioner's property, they have not paid him his acknowledged debt, or any part thereof, and have ousted him, by the aid of the Legislature, of the protection and exclusive privileges which his Charter conferred.

14.—That your Petitioner has learned that there is now before your Honorable House a Bill to confer further privileges upon the said "New York, Newfoundland and London Telegraph Company"; and whilst he will rejoice in the consummation of those benefits which he believes Newfoundland will derive from the completion of this great undertaking, and sincerely desires its success, he feels that he is entitled to the protection of the Government and Legislature of this British Colony, not only as being a subject of a Foreign Power in amity with Great Britain, and relying upon the proverbial honor of that great Nation, but as being the first to embark his capital in an enterprise calculated to confer vast advantages upon Newfoundland: He therefore humbly prays that your honorable House will not only not clothe with extended privileges the said Company until they shall have satisfied the just claims of their predecessors, nor leave your Petitioner to his naked remedy at Law to obtain redress from them; but will adopt such measures in the premises as in your wisdom you shall deem best calculated to secure to your Petitioner the full benefit of those rights and privileges which were guaranteed to him by an Act of the Legislature, that was repealed in his absence, without his knowledge or assent, to his great prejudice, and under circumstances of an unusual character.

Ordered,—That the said Petition be referred to the Committee of the Whole upon the Bill to amend the Act for the Incorporation of the London, New York and Newfoundland Telegraph Company.

Referred to Committee on Telegraph Act Amendment
Bill.

Then the House adjourned till to-morrow at Three of the clock.

Petition from P. Morris, of

ary of £150 per annum, provided for by Statute, on the dismissal of Mr. Gaden from the Sheriffship of the Northern District, and continued to discharge the duties of the office until July 1847 when, from an alteration in the Act providing for the appointment of Sheriffs, the reinstatement of Mr. Gaden, and the return of Mr. Stephenson to the Southern District, he was discharged from the said office without cause:—That his acceptance of office involved a change of residence from Burin to Ferryland, at considerable expense, and necessitated the relinquishing of a profitable business, which he would not have done but from the belief that his appointment would have been permanent:—That he had applied to the late Government for compensation for the heavy losses sustained by him, and that his claim had been admitted by them, although no action had been taken thereon, and, praying that some compensation may now be awarded him.

Mr. PRENDERGAST, from the Select Committee appointed to inquire into the erection of Light-houses on the coast of this Island, presented the Report, which he handed in at the Clerk's Table, where the same was read as follows :—

Report of Select Committee on Light-houses.

Committee-Room, }
House of Assembly. }

Your Committee beg most respectfully to report that they have taken into consideration the matter to them referred, and are of opinion,

That the lighting up of the coast is of paramount importance.

That the Offer Wadham Island has considerable claims for general utility, but, with a desire of meeting the wishes of all concerned, would respectfully recommend,

That a Light-house be erected on the Green Island, or at the entrance of Catalina, during the present year, on the ground of its being the least expense to erect.

That a second be erected on the Offer Wadham during the coming season of 1857.

Your Committee would also strongly recommend the erection of a Light-house at Burin, on the Western Coast, during the year 1858. Should the funds arising from light dues at the disposal of the Government be inadequate, your Committee are of opinion, that the anticipation of the Revenues from that source would be more than compensated by the great accommodation afforded.

Your Committee also report herewith the draft of a Bill authorizing the expenditure of monies levied for Light Dues towards the erection and maintenance of Light-houses.

Ordered,—That the Address be engrossed, and presented to His Excellency the Governor by such members of this House as are of the hon. the Executive Council.

On motion of Mr. PRENDERGAST, seconded by Mr. KELLY,

Resolved,—That the following Address be presented to His Excellency the Governor :—

*To His Excellency CHARLES HENRY DARLING,
Esquire, Governor and Commander-in-Chief,
in and over the Island of Newfoundland and its Dependencies, &c., &c., &c.*

Address for increased military force.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY :

The House of Assembly respectfully beg leave to draw Your Excellency's attention to the circumstances of this Colony with regard to its means of defence, which are manifestly inadequate for its protection.

The House rejoices to believe that the grounds for apprehension on the score of immediate exigency have been removed, but they feel that the presence of so small a military force as is now in the Colony, argues, on the part of Her Majesty's Government, a very imperfect recognition of its importance, and the claims it has on the consideration of the Parent State.

The geographical position of this Island, as being the eastern land on the west side of the Atlantic, and commanding, as it does, the Gulf of St. Lawrence, must show the national purposes it may be made to subserve in time of war.

We consider the present a favorable time to bring this question under the notice of the Imperial Government, when the return of the Army from the Seat of War, which is now expected, will leave a large force at their disposal.

No Colony offers greater advantages as a military station, in respect to the healthy character of the climate, and the moderate prices of all the necessaries of life.

We therefore respectfully request that Your Excellency will bring this subject before Her Majesty's Government, in the manner which Your Excellency may conceive best calculated to carry the object into effect.

Ordered,—That the Address be engrossed, and presented to His Excellency the Governor by such members of this House as are of the hon. the Executive Council.

On motion of Mr. HAYWARD, seconded by Mr. MARCH,

Resolved,—That the following Address be presented to His Excellency the Governor :

Address to remunerate
P. Morris.

*To His Excellency CHARLES HENRY DARLING,
Esquire, Governor and Commander-in-Chief
in and over the Island of Newfoundland and its Dependencies, &c., &c., &c.*

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY :

The House of Assembly, having had under their consideration the accompanying Petition from Patrick Morris, Esq., of Burin, claiming compensation for loss of office as Sheriff of the Southern District, in the year 1847, together with the accompanying report unanimously agreed to by the Select Committee of the House appointed to enquire into the allegations contained therein, and the same having been unanimously adopted by the House; beg most respectfully to request that Your Excellency will be pleased to sanction an appropriation in the Supply Bill, of one year's salary, in compensation of the loss sustained by him.

Monday, 21st April, 1856.

Mr. PARSONS, from the Select Committee appointed to enquire into the state of the Poor, presented the Report, which he handed in at the Clerk's Table, where the same was read as follows :—

Report of Select Committee on Pauperism.

Committee Room, }
House of Assembly, }
March 26, 1856. }

The Committee appointed to inquire into the state of the Poor of this Colony, having taken into its most serious and deliberate consideration the important matter to it referred, for the purpose of devising some effectual and practical remedy for the great and growing evil, which, if not forthwith arrested, bids fair to prostrate the greater portion of the laboring and operative classes of the country, begs leave to report, by offering two or three suggestions, which your Committee believes would, if called into energetic operation, go very far to relieve the Revenue and the Colony from the oppressive burden with which they are now charged, in consequence of the unparalleled extent to which Pauperism has grown.

Firstly—They would direct the attention of the Government and the House to the encouragement of Ship Building—a Branch of industry which necessarily employs a vast number of various other trades and occupations, and which is peculiarly adapted to this colony, and to the genius of its industrious inhabitants. Your Committee would commend encouragement to be given in this way :

Wherever a Ship-yard or Dock shall be opened by any enterprising person, if the able-bodied poor were employed therein at current wages, and at the rate of Seven men to every 50 tons, Twenty Shillings per ton shall be allowed by the Government to every vessel built in such dock. The poor should be those who would otherwise come upon the Government as Paupers. The Justice of Peace of the district in which the dock is opened shall be charged with the duty of carrying out this arrangement, and seeing that it be fulfilled; and on the completion of the vessel, and subjecting her to a rigid inspection by competent Inspectors, he shall give a certificate to that effect. On all which being officially reported to the Governor in Council and sanctioned, the Governor shall thereupon issue his warrant upon the Treasury for the payment of the aforesaid Tonnage money to the Builder or Builders of any such vessel.

Secondly.—The Committee would advise the establishment in every District of the colony, of a Factory or School of Industry for the in-door employment of the Poor, young and old, in the manufacture of nets and seines and the repairing of them—making butter tubs, water-pails, brooms, hoops, staves, shingles, &c., &c., the picking of oakum, the knitting of worsted, lambswool and yarn, carding, spinning, &c., and other works suitable to the country. To these Factories an Infirmary should be attached, where medicines and medical advice could be afforded the poor. There should also be a wide space of cultivable Land contiguous to the Establishment, which the Poor could be instructed to cultivate for their own special use and benefit.

In those districts where Ship Building cannot be pursued with profit, or where Ship timber may not abound, the Committee would recommend the employment of the able-bodied Poor, (who are supported by the Government) in the woods—they should be sent early in the season, under competent overseers, to the best wooded localities, and there set to work in felling wood-stuff of every description available—such as hoop-poles, heading, clapboard, shingles, staves, firewood, flake and stage beams, boughs, longers, pickets, posts, &c., &c., all which work should be paid for by the Government in cash or provisions at cash price. The Overseers in each District should be under the control and directed by the Instructions of a Board of Commissioners for the Relief of the Poor, appointed to each district, who would be guided by a code of Rules from the Board of Works in St. John's.

For the Metropolis, the Committee would advise the establishment of a large and commodious General House of Industry, where a multiplicity of the several articles of domestic use might be manufactured from raw materials—affording constant employment for every industrious poor man, woman, and child in the district—to persons who are now a burthen to themselves and to the colony,—the produce of whose labour, well directed, would always find a ready market in this town at remunerative prices.

If these few suggestions were acted upon with energy and determination, and with a zeal proportionate to the serious duty of staying the onward progress of an evil which is engulfing manhood, honesty, credit, and industry, in one common vortex, your Committee believes the best results might be anticipated.

All which is respectfully submitted.

ROBERT J. PARSONS,
 JOHN. H. WARREN,
 STEPHEN MARCH,
 JOHN BEMISTER,
 THOMAS KNIGHT,
 E. D. SHEA,
 (excepting the first suggestion.)
 W. TALBOT,
 PATRICK MORRIS,
 JOHN DELANEY,

Messages from Council.

The Master-in-Chancery to the Legislative Council brought down the following Messages :—

Mr. SPEAKER,—

The Legislative Council are of opinion that the Bill sent up to them from the House of Assembly, and now before this House entitled, " An Act for establishing the legal value of certain British and other Coins in this colony" would be more complete if a provision to render the counterfeiting of the Foreign Coins mentioned in the said Bill, and the altering of such counterfeited Foreign Coins as penal as the counterfeiting of the Queen's Coins and the altering of the same.

The Legislative Council therefore suggest that the necessary provision for such purposes should be added to the Bill.

Notice to discharge Order of the Day.

Mr. ELLIS gave notice that upon the order of the day on Tuesday next being moved, he will move that the Order of the day be discharged, and that the House do adopt the following Resolutions:—

Resolved,—That it appears by statistical returns that the quantity of our staple produce, the taking and curing of which forms the principal support of our population, has been for a series of years past progressively decreasing, and there is therefore reason to fear that unless other means of employment are opened, or those at present existing rendered more productive, this country cannot long maintain its present population.

Resolved,—That under these circumstances, it is the duty of the Executive Government to initiate, and of the Legislature to adopt, efficient measures for increasing the produce of our Cod-fishery, by preventing the exportation of Bait to the French, and by prohibiting the use of Bait for manure; to enact laws for the preservation of our Salmon Fisheries, by regulating the mode in which this fishery shall be prosecuted; to encourage the Herring Fishery by diffusing information on the subject of the Dutch and Scotch fisheries, or by the offering a bounty on the exportation of Herring cured after the manner usual in those countries; to promote Shipbuilding by removing the inequality in the terms on which Ships built in this colony compete with those built in the neighbouring Provinces; and to develop in other respects the resources of this country.

Amendments on Licenses Bill read 3rd time.

Ordered,—That the said several Amendments do pass; and that the following Message be sent to the Legislative Council:

Message to Council.

A Message to the Legislative Council.

Mr. PRESIDENT,—

The House of Assembly acquaint the Legislative Council that they concur in the Amendments made by the Council in and upon the Bill sent up from the Assembly entitled “An Act to regulate the granting of Licenses for the Wholesale of Wines and Spirituous Liquors,” with the exception of the amendment expunging the proviso at the end of the 4th Section; which, they are of opinion, should stand part of the Bill, for the following reasons:

1.—That the Bill sent up to the Council was intended as a remedial measure to protect the Licensed Dealer in Spirituous Liquors from the unfair and injurious competition of parties selling by retail the same article without a License.

2.—That the Amendment of the Council does not carry out this idea, but on the contrary, would in its operation press with greater hardship on the Licensed Retailer, as, in addition to the License, they would be compelled to pay the fine imposed upon the importer, whose interest, it is manifest, it would be to increase the price of the article to the retail Dealer for the purpose of remunerating himself on the amount paid as a License fee.

The Assembly adopt this course to avoid the delay consequent upon asking a conference with the Council; but at the same time, have no desire that this departure from the usual forms on their part, nor their assenting to the amendment of the Council in the 3rd Section of the Bill in altering the amount of the License Fee, should be construed into a precedent.

The Assembly therefore request the concurrence of the Council in the Amendment made by them.

Ordered,—That the hon. Attorney General and Mr. Hogsett do take the Message to the Legislative Council.

Committee on Supply.

Pursuant to Order of the Day, the House resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole upon the further consideration of Supply:

And they went to the Conference, and being returned,

Report.

The hon. COLONIAL SECRETARY reported that the Managers had been at the Conference, and had received from the Committee of Conference on the part of the Council, their Instructions, which he read to the House as follows :—

The Legislative Council have asked this Conference with the House of Assembly, upon the Amendment made by the House of Assembly upon the Amendments made by the Council upon the Bill sent up to them, entitled “ An Act to authorize the Formation of Corporations for Manufacturing, Mining, Mercantile, or Chemical purposes” for the purpose of bringing under the consideration of the House of Assembly the principle upon which the Council expunged the words in the 26th and 27th Sections “ Insolvent or”

A person may be Insolvent, that is unable to pay 20s. in the Pound to all his Creditors, for years before he be declared such by a Court of competent jurisdiction, or by a composition with Creditors, or by any other public declaration.

There is an obvious difference between Insolvency, and a declaration of that Insolvency ; and whilst the Council are fully of opinion that Sales, Assignments, or Transfers, made after a declaration of Insolvency, or in contemplation of Insolvency, should be void as against Creditors ; and, also are of opinion that the Company should not make any assignment of their Property when they are Insolvent, they nevertheless think that an innocent and bona fide Assignee of Property, should not be deprived of his security, and prejudiced by the fact of the circumstances of the Debtor at the time of making such transfer, being Insolvent when such Assignee did not know, and had no means of knowing that fact.

The Council think that the words “ actually Insolvent” do not alter the legal position, and they suggest that instead of those words, the words “ declared Insolvent” should be inserted, which they believe would meet the fair requirements of the case.

President.

Notice of Address to Governor.

The hon. ATTORNEY GENERAL gave notice, that on to-morrow he will move an Address to His Excellency the Governor, for the payment of £59 8s. for a drawback on the Duties paid by the Right Rev. Dr. Mullock, on an Organ by him for the Roman Catholic Cathedral of this Island.

Petition from James Tobin for repayment of wages paid to John Cashin.

Mr. PRENDERGAST presented a Petition from James Tobin, of St. John's, which was received and read, setting forth,—That he has been obliged, by decision of the Court, to pay John Cashin Three years and Three months Wages, at the rate of £25 Currency per annum, together with costs; that the said John Cashin was sent round to St. George's Bay by Sir G. LeMarchant, for the purpose of instructing the people there in Agricultural pursuits: That Petitioner was not in any way connected with or privy to the hiring of the said John Cashin, and that he never sought for or required his services, which were of no value to him, he having already provided himself with sufficient servants for the work of his establishment; and praying that the House will take the circumstances of the case into consideration, and cause him to be reimbursed in the expenditure incurred on public grounds, and for the benefit of the public.

On Table.

Ordered,—That the said Petition do lie upon the Table.

Also, that on to-morrow he will move an Address to the Governor on the subject of remunerating persons in Harbor Main, for the erection of a Female School there.

Mr. WALBANK gave notice, that on to-morrow he will move an Address to the Governor, respectfully requesting that he will be pleased to adopt such measures as may be necessary to prevent the Clerk of the Supreme and Central Circuit Courts from acting as Barrister, Attorney, Solicitor, Conveyancer or Notary Public; and that all Fees, Commissions, Perquisites, and Emoluments whatsoever, which shall be received and collected by him, either as Commissioner of Affidavits, Registrar of Deeds, or as Chief Clerk and Registrar of the Supreme and Central Circuit Courts, or in anywise connected therewith, under or by virtue of any Rule or Order, either of the said Courts or of any Law now or hereafter to be in force, shall be paid over and accounted for by him, half-yearly, to the Receiver General, for the uses of the Colony.

Mr. PROWSE, from the Select Committee to whom was referred the consideration of the advantages that would result from making St. John's a Port of Call for Transatlantic Steamers, informed the House that the Committee had attended to the duty to them referred, and had prepared an Address to the Right Hon. the Secretary of State for the Colonies, which he handed in at the Clerk's Table, where the same was read as follows :

*To the Right Honorable HENRY LABOUCHERE,
Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies.*

SIR,—

The House of Assembly of Newfoundland, in Session convened, beg respectfully to bring under the notice of Her Majesty's Government the subject of Transatlantic Steam Communication, and the advantages that would arise if St. John's be made a Port of Call for the Steam Ships that ply between the United Kingdom and America.

This Island is nearer to Europe than any part of the Western Hemisphere, being about 1,600 miles from the West Coast of Ireland. The coast is bold and free from shoals and hidden dangers ; lights of the first order, visible at 30 miles distance, are on the headlands of Cape Bonavista, Cape Spear, and Cape Pine, and another is in course of construction at Cape Race. A powerful harbor light is placed at the entrance of St. John's, and ships of any size can enter the harbor in all states of the tide. Steam Ships making St. John's a Port of Call are exempted from Light-dues, and will not be subject to any charge but that for pilotage ; a public wharf being in course of construction, of which all such Ships will have the free use.

The facilities offered by the Port of St. John's for the visits of Transatlantic Steamers ; the anomalous position of the Colony, which, while being the nearest to the mother country of all the British North American Provinces, is practically the farthest removed from it ; the fact that nearly one-half the Steam-ships crossing the Atlantic, sight this Coast, and are often seen from the harbor of St. John's—these and other strong arguments have been repeatedly pressed on the attention of Her Majesty's Government, in favor of the views advocated in this Memorial, but heretofore without success.

In May, 1851, a memorial to the Queen was addressed by the Legislature, praying that the Atlantic Mail Steamers might be ordered to call here. At that time the project for connecting this Island with the

When we consider the commercial spirit of the present day, which fixes on time a large money value, we cannot believe that the means by which a communication can be had from England to North America in five or six days, will or can remain neglected. Its obvious advantages will claim a speedy recognition, for men of business will not be content to wait ten or twelve days for news that they can procure in half that period of time. We have, therefore, no doubt that the attractions offered to commerce by the Electric Telegraph between the American Continent and this Island will soon be availed of; but we are anxiously desirous that in a work which is to mark a great era in the world's progress, the British Government should at least not be wanting in the performance of that part which seems naturally to fall to its share. By the spirit and enterprize of American Capitalists the Electric Wires are being brought to the point on this side of the Atlantic which is the nearest to the British Coast; and it would be to us a matter of deep regret if the British Government failed in its contribution to a work towards which Foreign private Capitalists have done so much, and where British interests, national and commercial, are so extensively concerned.

We pray therefore that the necessary means may be adopted to carry the object of this Memorial into effect, either by the employment of some of H. M. despatch boats, no longer needed for war purposes, or by the offer of such a sum for the conveyance of the Mails as will induce one of the first class line of steamers to call at this port.

We know that the hazards of navigation on this coast have been much dwelt on by those whose interests are adverse to our views; and the statements on this head have been grossly exaggerated. We have less fog in the latitude of St. John's than is experienced on the Nova Scotia coast; and on this head we beg to annex a copy of a return ordered by His Excellency C. H. Darling, Esq., Governor of this Colony, shewing how often and for what length of time the entrance of this harbor was affected by fog during the last months.

With respect to the ice, in the months of February and March, the navigation on this coast is sometimes impeded; but a line of Telegraph will be carried to Trepassey, which is always accessible, and where Steamers might call when the harbor of St. John's was difficult of approach.

But on the subject of the ice, as to its effects on our navigation, we beg to refer to an accompanying return from the Customs of this port, showing the continuous arrivals during the past winter, which was one of an unusual severity. The number of arrivals shewn by this return must also be viewed by relation to the fact that the nature of our trade is such as to require but a comparatively small amount of shipping to be employed during the winter months.

Respectfully submitted by

ROBERT PROWSE,
Chairman.

Report of Committee on Salmon Fishery.

Mr. DELANEY, from the Select Committee appointed to enquire into the Salmon Fishery of this Island, presented the Report, which he handed in at the Clerk's Table, where the same was read as follows :—

The Select Committee appointed by the House of Assembly to enquire into the state of the Salmon Fishery, beg leave to report that they have obtained very valuable information from Thomas Knight, Esq., M. H. A., Henry Knight, Esq., J. M. Winter, Esq., and William Davis, all of whom are practically acquainted with the subject, and a perusal of their evidence will show that it is absolutely necessary that some steps should be taken to preserve and foster a branch of our Fisheries so very valuable.

Your Committee regret, that owing to the difficulty and uncertainty of communicating at this season with the distant Outports during the short period of the sitting of the Legislature, they are precluded from furnishing a sufficient amount of evidence to enable them to recommend the House to pass a Law upon the subject during the present session; but in the mean time, they would suggest to the House the propriety of adopting an Address to His Excellency the Governor, praying him to communicate with the Stipendiary Magistrates, requesting them to furnish such information in reference to the Salmon Fishery as may enable the Legislature at its next Session to enact a Law for its protection.

Messages from the Legislative Council.

The Master-in-Chancery to the Legislative Council brought down the following Messages :—

Mr. SPEAKER,—

The Legislative Council acquaint the House of Assembly, that they have passed the Bill entitled “ An Act to regulate the Inland Posts of this Colony,” without Amendment.

LAWRENCE O'BRIEN,

President.

Legislative Council Chamber, }
10th May, 1856. }

Mr. SPEAKER,—

The Legislative Council beg to inform the House of Assembly that the amount of their Contingencies during the present Session is as follows :—

Contingencies of the Clerk's Office	£187	4	1
Ditto of Usher of the Black Rod	7	17	7
To the Clerk for his services during the present Session			165	0	0
Master-in-Chancery ditto ditto	140	0	0

The Legislative Council beg to observe that the former Council placed upon record their opinion, that its members were entitled to receive compensation for their Legislative services ; in the justice of that opinion this House coincide, and they feel that their right to such remuneration from the Public Purse is indisputably stronger, in consequence of the greater responsibility of their position under Parliamentary Government, and the very large increase in the amount of their labours, and in the frequency of their attendances. Nevertheless, they forego for the present, in consideration of the existing pressure upon the finances of the colony, their claim for Sessional pay.

LAWRENCE O'BRIEN,

President.

Legislative Council Chamber, }
10th May, 1856. }

And then the Messenger withdrew.

Ordered,—That the last Message be referred to the Committee of the Whole on Contingencies.

An Act to provide for the Contingent Expenses of the Legislature.

His Excellency was then pleased to make the following Speech :—

Governor's Speech.

Mr. President and Honorable Gentlemen of the Legislative Council :

Mr. Speaker and Honorable Gentlemen of the House of Assembly :

The completion of the various important enactments which have just received the assent of the Crown, enables me to bring to a close the labours of a Session which has extended over a period of more than usual length.

The full and careful deliberation which you have bestowed upon the several measures proposed to you, on behalf of the Government, justifies the expectation that those measures, while according in general principles with the spirit of the times, will prove well adapted in their details to the peculiar requirements of our social economy.

You will, I am confident, unite with me in rejoicing that the causes to which I adverted at the commencement of the Session, as militating against the full and fair operation of the Reciprocity Treaty with the United States, have ceased to exist, and that from the restoration of Peace, we may look for effects upon our Trade and Commerce, which, while conducing to the improved condition and the comfort of the people, will tend not only to the augmentation of the public revenue, but also to its partial relief from those burdens to which it has been, of late, unavoidably subjected.

I shall not fail, at the earliest possible moment, to place Her Majesty's Government in possession of your representations of the advantages which the Colony offers as a port of Call for Transatlantic Steamers.

The energy with which the proceedings of the New York, Newfoundland and London Telegraph Company have been resumed with the opening of the present season had, indeed, already made it my duty again to bring under the notice of the Secretary of State, the facts and circumstances connected with our geographical position, which acquire increased importance in view of the approaching Telegraphic connection of the colony with the American Continent.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly :

In thanking you for the Supplies which you have voted for the maintenance of the Public Service, I recognise the soundness of the policy which has induced you to renew the appropriations for the construction and improvement of Roads, and to continue a provision for the support of Education, and the encouragement of agriculture.

I trust it may ere long be found practicable to effect such modifications in the application of the funds by which public schools are assisted and maintained, as may impart to the education generally of our Colonial youth, a degree of efficiency and practical benefit more commensurate with your liberal provision for this important object than can, I fear, at present be justly ascribed to it.

The increase of your usual vote to the Agricultural Society may, doubtless, be regarded as a due acknowledgment of the importance which is now attached to the cultivation of the soil, and the rearing of useful stock.

In all our more important settlements there are many amongst the inhabitants, especially those advanced in years, who habitually reside upon, and attend to the cultivation of their farms at those periods when necessity formerly induced them to resort to the Fisheries.

Although some descriptions of our produce are not yielded with the same abundance and facility as in the neighbouring colonies, yet with respect to other kinds, the increase is amply remunerative, and the quality unsurpassed; while unquestionably there is no pursuit, which, whether in respect to the habits it engenders, or the results that it produces, more surely contributes, than does the pursuit of agriculture, to the comfort and happiness of a people.

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Legislative Council :

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House of Assembly :

It is not without reluctance that the intention of submitting to you a measure for the local management of the city of St. John's and other towns, has been abandoned for the present; but a careful and anxious consideration of the actual condition of those classes of the inhabitants upon whom a system of direct taxation, however moderate, would, under existing circumstances, bear with an unaccustomed pressure, has appeared to render it expedient to defer the initiation of such a measure to a more favorable moment.

That the interests of the industrial classes have not failed to engage your attention and secure your sympathy, is amply attested by the passage of those laws which, while duly regarding the rights of the employer and the capitalist, extend special protection to the seamen, fishermen, and others engaged in seafaring pursuits.

I believe that, upon the clearest principles of equity, the fruits of honest labor are everywhere entitled to protection of this nature ; but towards none does it seem more incontestibly just than to those hardy fishermen, upon the precarious earnings of whose adventurous calling, the aged, the feeble, and the sick, are so mainly dependant for support ; whose ranks include the very flower of our population, and whose courageous and enduring spirit is in truth the mainspring, not less of the private wealth of the community, than of the financial resources of the Government.

As more or less affecting the prosperity of all classes, I regret to have occasion to record, that for the second year in succession the returns of the Sealing voyage have fallen below what has been hitherto regarded as an average.

I sincerely wish that on your retirement for a time from the discharge of your Legislative duties, it were in my power to congratulate you upon any substantial improvement in the aspect of that Pauperism to which I have felt it my painful duty to advert, upon every occasion on which I have had the satisfaction of meeting you collectively, since my assumption of the Government.

I lament, however, to believe that the evil, although not actually upon the increase, is yet but little subdued.

Its extinction is an object which claims the co-operation of all to whom the welfare of the community is dear.

I venture, therefore, to indulge a hope, that through the application of private capital to the fuller developement of our varied resources, employment may be found for the more destitute of our labouring population at seasons when the fisheries cease to yield them the current means of support ; and that the influence which may be possessed by you, gentlemen, and by others who command the attention of the people, and to whose counsel they may be disposed to listen, will be effectually exerted in persuading them to the exercise of a higher degree of forethought and self-reliance.

After which, the hon. the PRESIDENT of the Legislative Council, by His Excellency's command, said,—

GENTLEMEN,—

It is the pleasure of His Excellency the Governor, that this General Assembly be prorogued to Friday, the 10th day of October next.

And this General Assembly is accordingly prorogued until Friday, the 10th day of October next, to be then here holden.

JOHN STUART,

Clerk of the House of Assembly.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

DESPATCH FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONIES, TRANSMITTING AN ORDER IN COUNCIL, PROHIBITING THE EXPORTA- TION OF SALT PETRE AND OTHER CHEMICAL SALTS FROM ENGLAND TO THE NORTH AMERICAN AND WEST INDIAN COLONIES.

DOWNING STREET, }
9th January, 1856. }

SIR,—I transmit to you enclosed, an Order of the Lords of the Council, dated the 27th ult., which you will perceive prohibits absolutely the exportation of Saltpetre, and other Chemical Salts from this Country to the North American and West Indian Colonies.

The effect of this Order is to extend the provisions of that of the 1st November, transmitted in my circular Despatch of the 24th November last, to the North American and West Indian Colonies, placing them in this respect on the same footing as Foreign Countries. I need not say that Her Majesty's Government are placed under the necessity of taking this course by the exigencies of the War, as it is of the first importance to prevent illicit traffic with the enemy in this article; and as the efforts of the Local Governments, with all the good-will which they would no doubt exhibit, could not avail to prevent their re-exportation for such illicit use, if importation into the Colonies was absolutely free.

Attempts, however, might still, it is true, be made to evade this last peremptory prohibition by conveying the prohibited Articles to the West Indian and North American Colonies, either from Foreign Countries or from other Colonies, with a view to the transmission of the articles in question by various channels to the enemy.

How far the Laws of _____ will enable you to prohibit the importation or exportation of Saltpetre and other Chemical Salts in the manner indicated I am not at present aware; but I cannot doubt that the Legislature of _____ will readily arm you with sufficient powers for effectually checking any improper trade in those Salts.

The subject is of considerable importance, and I have to request that you will acknowledge the receipt of this instruction, and favour me with any information or practical suggestions which you may consider calculated to facilitate the attainment of the object which Her Majesty's Government have in view.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your obedient

Humble Servant,

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

XXVI.

AT THE COUNCIL CHAMBER, WHITEHALL,

The 27th day of December, 1855.

BY THE LORDS OF HER MAJESTY'S MOST HONOURABLE PRIVY COUNCIL.

The Lords of the Council having taken into consideration the expediency of extending the Prohibition to export from the United Kingdom of certain Articles used in the Manufacture of Military and Naval Stores, in pursuance of Her Majesty's Proclamation of the 18th February, 1854, are pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, That the Officers of Her Majesty's Customs do prevent the Exportation of Saltpetre, Nitrate of Soda, Sulphate of Potash, and Muriate of Potash (Chloride of Potassium), to Her Majesty's Colonies and Plantations in North America, including the West Indian Islands, as well as to all Foreign Countries; and that the Officers of Her Majesty's Customs do permit the Articles herein mentioned to be carried Coastwise to any Port in the United Kingdom, or to be exported to any other of Her Majesty's Colonies, Plantations, or Possessions Abroad, or to the Territories of the East India Company, upon taking from the Persons exporting the same a Bond that the said Articles shall be landed and entered for use and Consumption within such of Her Majesty's Dominions or within the Territories of the East India Company.

Whereof the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and Officers of Her Majesty's Customs, and all other Persons whom it may concern, are to take notice, and govern themselves accordingly.

THE COLONIES, ON THE SUBJECT OF ESTABLISHING A SYSTEM BY

AND MAINTAINED, BY MEANS OF TOLLS LEVIED ON VESSELS DERIVING BENEFIT THEREFROM.

(CIRCULAR.)

DOWNING STREET,
6th September, 1855. }

SIR,—I have to communicate to you, for your information as to the views of Her Majesty's Government, and in order that you may bring them, whenever occasion shall require, under the consideration of your Executive Council, the following observations and proposal on the subject of Colonial Lights.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

2.—The great importance of a well-ordered system of Colonial Lights to the Trade and Shipping of the British Empire has suggested to Her Majesty's Government the propriety of inviting the co-operation and assistance of the Local Authorities in the Colonies, in order to bring about a more efficient and more economical system of management in the erection and maintenance of Colonial Lights than that which at present exists.

3.—Since the passing of the "Shipping Law Amendment Act" in 1853, the control of the Lights of the United Kingdom has been vested in the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade.

4.—It is proposed to apply the information and experience which the Board of Trade has acquired under that arrangement in assisting the Colonial Governments to effect such improvements in the management of their Lights as may be found desirable.

5.—The accompanying Printed Memorandum, which has been prepared by the Board of Trade with the assistance of the Elder Brethern of the Trinity House, fully explains the nature and extent of the assistance and information which that Department is prepared to afford to the Colonial Authorities, as well as the steps to be taken by those Authorities for obtaining such assistance and information.

6.—In addition to the assistance which the Board of Trade are prepared to give, as above mentioned, the "Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act" recently passed, a copy of which I enclose, contains a provision for enabling Her Majesty, by Order in Council, to fix Dues to be paid for Colonial Lights. The nature and objects of this provision you will find fully explained in a Letter from the Board of Trade to this Department, dated 15th August, of which a copy is also herewith enclosed.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient

Humble Servant,

(Signed)

W. MOLESWORTH.

Office of Committee of Privy Council for Trade,
Whitehall, 15th August, 1855.

SIR,—With reference to your Letter of the 6th instant, I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade, to transmit to you for distribution to the various Colonies, the accompanying copies of the printed Memorandum relating to Lighthouses and Light Vessels in the Colonies.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

My Lords have not before replied to the above-mentioned Letter, as it appeared to them that it would be desirable, in transmitting the Memorandum in question to the Colonial Authorities, to call the attention of the Governors and other Officers to those provisions of "The Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1855," which relate to the collection of dues for the maintenance and erection of Colonial Lights. If Secretary Sir William Molesworth should think such a course expedient, the following are points which will, in my Lords' opinion, require special attention.

1.—That the object contemplated by the Imperial Legislature is to assist the Colonies in erecting and maintaining Lighthouses, by providing Funds for the purpose by means of Tolls levied on the ships which derive benefit from the Lights, whether those ships go to Ports in the Colony in which the Light is situate or not.

2.—That the principle upon which the Tolls are to be fixed and collected is the same as that adopted in this Country.

3.—That provision is made for procuring advances for building, as well as an annual income for maintaining Lights.

4.—That whilst no Colony can be required to levy a Tax against its will, the money when paid must, if necessity (being levied in different Colonies, as well as in the United Kingdom) be under the control of the Imperial Government.

5.—That it is not the wish or the intention of the Board of Trade, in administering any funds so levied, to interfere with the Local Authorities, who will still have the management of the Lights, except so far as may be necessary to insure proper accounts, and a proper expenditure of the public money.

6.—That whenever any application is made for assistance towards erecting or maintaining a Light, the Governor of the Colony or Possession should send all the information in his power, as to the number and tonnage of Vessels passing or deriving benefit from the Light, and the ports and places to or from which they trade. In giving this information, attention should be paid to the particular circumstances of the case, so that the Imperial Government may be enabled, in fixing the Toll, to determine what the amount should be, and at what ports it will be desirable to collect it. As a general rule, it will probably be found most convenient to collect the dues at the Port of Departure of the ship, rather than at the Port of Arrival, where both Ports are British Ports, but the application of this rule must depend upon the circumstances of each case.

7.—Where a Light is to be erected or maintained in one Colony, and Tolls will have to be taken in other Colonies, the communications from the first Colony should be so made as to enable Her Majesty's Government to communicate as early and as effectively as possible with the latter Colonies.

I have, &c.

CAP. XCI.

AN ACT TO FACILITATE THE ERECTION AND MAINTENANCE OF COLONIAL LIGHT HOUSES, AND OTHERWISE TO AMEND THE MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT, 1854.

14th August. 1855.

Whereas it is expedient to make Provision for facilitating the Erection and Maintenance of Light-houses in the British Possessions abroad, and otherwise to amend the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854: Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

I.—This Act may be cited as “The Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1855,” and shall be taken to be Part of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, and shall be construed accordingly.

II.—In any case in which any Lighthouse, Buoy, or Beacon has been or is hereafter erected or placed on or near the Coasts of any British Possession, by or with the consent of the Legislative Authority of such Possession, Her Majesty may, by Order in Council, fix such Dues in respect thereof, to be paid by the Owner or Master of every Ship which passes the same or derives benefit therefrom, as Her Majesty may deem reasonable, and may in like manner from time to time increase, diminish, or repeal such Dues, and from the time specified in such Order for the commencement of the Dues thereby fixed, increased, or diminished, the same shall be leviable throughout Her Majesty's Dominions in manner hereinafter mentioned.

III.—No such Dues as aforesaid shall be levied in any Colony unless and until the Legislative Authority in such Colony has, either by Address to the Crown, or by an Act or Ordinance duly passed, signified its opinion that the same ought to be levied in such Colony.

IV.—The said Dues shall in the United Kingdom be collected by the same persons by whom, and by the same means, in the same manner, and subject to the same conditions, so far as circumstances permit, by, in, and subject to which the Light Dues leviable under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, are collected, and shall in each British Possession abroad be collected by such Persons as the Governor of such Possession abroad may appoint for the purpose, and shall be collected by the same means, in the same manner, and subject to the same conditions, so far as circumstances permit, by, in, and subject to which the Light Dues leviable under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, are paid and collected, or by such other means, in such other manner, and subject to such other conditions as the Legislative authority in such Possession may direct.

V.—All Dues levied under this Act shall be paid over to Her Majesty's Paymaster General at such times and in such manner as the Board of Trade may direct, and shall be applied, paid, and dealt with by him, for the purposes herein-after mentioned, in such manner as such Board may direct.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

VI.—The Dues levied under the Authority of this Act in respect of any such Lighthouse, Buoy, or Beacon as aforesaid shall, after deducting any expenses incurred in collecting the same, be applied for the purpose of paying the expenses incurred in erecting and maintaining such Lighthouse, Buoy, or Beacon, and for no other purpose whatever.

VII.—For the purpose of constructing or repairing any such Lighthouse, Buoy, or Beacon as aforesaid, the Board of Trade may raise, upon the Security of the Dues to be levied in respect thereof, such Sums of Money as they may deem fit; and the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, out of any Monies which may be provided by Parliament, the Public Works Loan Commissioners, or any other Person or Body of Persons, may advance the same accordingly, such Advances to be made in the same Manner, with the same Powers, and subject to the same Provisions, so far as circumstances permit, in, with, and subject to which, under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854. Advances may be made upon the Security of the Mercantile Marine Fund for the construction and repair of Lighthouses in the United Kingdom.

VIII.—Accounts shall be kept of all Sums expended in the Construction, Repair, or Maintenance of every Lighthouse, Buoy, or Beacon in the British Possessions abroad, for which Dues are levied under the Authority of this Act, and of the Dues received in respect thereof, in such Manner as the Board of Trade may direct, and shall be laid before Parliament annually; and the said Accounts shall be audited in such Manner as Her Majesty may by Order in Council direct.

IX.—Any Person who, in any Declaration made in the Presence of or produced to any Registrar of Shipping, in pursuance of the Second Part of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, or in any Documents or other Evidence produced to such Registrar, wilfully makes, or assists in making or procures to be made, any false statement concerning the Title to or the Ownership of or the Interests existing in any Ship, or any Share or Shares in any Ship, or who utters, produces, or makes use of any Declaration or Document containing any such false Statement, knowing the same to be false, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

X.—Shares in Ships registered under the said Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, shall be deemed to be included in the Word "Stock," as defined by the Trustee Act, 1850, and the Provisions of such last mentioned Act shall be applicable to such Shares accordingly.

XI.—In any case in which any Bill of Sale, Mortgage, or other Instrument for the Disposal or Transfer of any Ship or any Share or Shares therein or of any Interest therein is made in any Form or contains any Particulars other than the Form and Particulars prescribed and approved for the purpose by or in pursuance of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, no Registrar shall be required to record the same without the express Direction of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Customs.

XII.—Upon the transfer of the Registry of a Ship from one port to another, the Certificate of Registry required by the Ninetieth Section of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, to be delivered up for that purpose, may be delivered up to the Registrar of either of such Ports.

XIII.—The Commissioners of Customs may, with the consent of the Board of Trade, exempt any Pleasure Yacht from the Provision contained in the Thirty-fourth section of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, which requires the name of every Ship and the port to which she belongs to be painted on her stern.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

XIV.—The Owner of any Ship which is measured under Rule II. contained in the Twenty-second Section of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, may at any subsequent period apply to the Commissioners of Customs to have the said Ship remeasured under Rule I. contained in the 21st Section of the same Act, and the said Commissioners may thereupon, and upon payment of such fee, not exceeding Seven shillings and sixpence for each transverse Section, as they may authorize, direct the said Ship to be remeasured accordingly, and the number denoting the Register tonnage shall be altered accordingly.

XV.—The copy or transcript of the Register of any British Ship which is kept by the Chief Registrar of Shipping at the Custom House in London, or by the Registrar General of Seamen, under the direction of Her Majesty's Commissioners of Customs, or of the Board of Trade, shall have the same effect to all intents and purposes as the original Register of which the same is a copy or transcript.

XVI.—The Board of Trade may issue instructions concerning the relief to be administered to Seamen and Apprentices, in pursuance of the Two hundred and eleventh and Two hundred and twelfth Sections of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, and may by such instructions determine in what cases and under what circumstances and conditions such relief is to be administered; and all powers of recovering expenses incurred with respect to distressed Seamen and Apprentices, which by the Two hundred and thirteenth Section of the said Act are given to the Board of Trade, shall extend to all expenses incurred by any foreign Government for the purposes aforesaid, and repaid to such Government by Her Majesty's Government, and shall likewise extend to any expenses incurred by the conveying home such Seamen or Apprentices in foreign as well as British Ships; and all provisions concerning the relief of distressed Seamen and Apprentices, being subjects of Her Majesty, which are contained in the said Sections of the said Act, and in this Section, shall extend to such Seamen and Apprentices, not being subjects of Her Majesty, as are reduced to distress in foreign parts by reason of their having been shipwrecked, discharged, or left behind from any British Ship; subject nevertheless to such modifications and directions concerning the cases in which relief is to be given to such foreigners, and the country to which they are to be sent, as the Board of Trade may, under the circumstances, think fit to make and issue.

XVII.—The enactment of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, relating to Savings Banks shall apply to all seamen, and to their wives and families, whether such seamen belong to the Royal Navy or to the Merchant Service, or to any other Sea Service.

XVIII.—Any Naval Court summoned, under the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, to hear any complaint touching the conduct of the Master or any of the Crew of any Ship, shall, in addition to the powers given to it by the said Act, have power to try the said Master or any of the said Crew for any offences against the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, in respect of which two Justices would, if the case were tried in the United Kingdom, have power to convict summarily, and by order duly made to inflict the same punishments for such offences which two Justices might in the case aforesaid inflict, upon summary conviction; provided, that in cases where an offender is sentenced to imprisonment, the sentence shall be confirmed in writing by the Senior Naval or Consular Officer present at the place where the Court is held, and the place of imprisonment, whether on Land or on board Ship, shall be approved by him as a proper place for the purpose, and copies of all sentences made by Naval Court summoned to hear any such complaint as aforesaid shall be sent to the Commander-in-Chief or Senior Naval Officer of the Station.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

XIX.—Whenever any articles belonging to or forming part of any Foreign Ship which has been wrecked on or near the Coasts of the United Kingdom, or belonging to or forming part of the cargo thereof, are found on or near such Coasts, or are brought into any Port in the United Kingdom, the Consul General of the Country to which such Ship, or, in the case of Cargo, to which the owners of such Cargo, may have belonged, or any Consular Officer of such Country authorized in that behalf by any Treaty or Agreement with such Country, shall, in the absence of the Owner of such Ship or Articles, and of the Master or other Agent of the Owner, be deemed to be the Agent of the Owner, so far as relates to the Custody and Disposal of such Articles.

XX.—In cases where services are rendered by Officers or Men of the Coast Guard Service in watching or protecting shipwrecked Property, then, unless it can be shown that such Services have been declined by the Owner of such Property or his Agent at the time they were tendered, or that Salvage has been claimed and awarded for such Services, the Owner of the Shipwrecked Property shall pay in respect of the said Services Remuneration according to a Scale to be fixed by the Board of Trade, so, however, that such Scale shall not exceed any Scale by which payment to Officers and Men of the Coast Guard for extra Duties in the ordinary Service of the Commissioners of Customs is for the time being regulated; and such Remuneration shall be recoverable by the same Means and shall be paid to the same Persons and accounted for and applied in the same Manner as Fees received by Receivers appointed under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854.

XXI.—If any Person, being a British Subject, charged with having committed any crime or offence on board any British Ship on the High Seas or in any Foreign Port or Harbour, or if any Person, not being a British Subject, charged with having committed any crime or offence on board any British Ship on the High Seas, is found within the jurisdiction of any Court of Justice in Her Majesty's Dominions which would have had cognizance of such crime or offence, if committed within the limits of its ordinary Jurisdiction, such Court shall have Jurisdiction to hear and try the case as if such crime or offence had been committed within such limits: Provided, that nothing contained in this Section shall be construed to alter or interfere with the Act of the Thirteenth Year of Her present Majesty, Chapter Ninety-six.

XXII.—It shall be the duty of the East India Company to take charge of and send home or otherwise provide for all Persons, being Lascars or other Natives of the Territories under the Government of the said Company, who are found destitute in the United Kingdom; and if any such Person is relieved and maintained by any Guardians, Overseers, or other Persons administering the Relief of the Poor, such Overseers, Guardians, or other Persons may, by Letter sent through the Post or otherwise, give notice thereof in writing to the Secretary of the Court of Directors of the East India Company, specifying, so far as is practicable, the following particulars, viz. :—

- 1.—The Name of the Person so relieved or maintained :
- 2.—The Presidency or District or part of the Territories of the East India Company, of which he professes to be a Native :
- 3.—The Name of the Ship in which he was brought to the United Kingdom :

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

4.—The Port or Place abroad from which such Ship sailed, and the Port or Place in the United Kingdom at which such Ship arrived, when he was so brought to the United Kingdom, and the time of such arrival :

And the said East India Company shall repay to the said Overseers, Guardians, or other persons, out of the Revenues of the said Company, all Monies duly expended by them in relieving or maintaining such destitute Person, after the time at which such notice aforesaid is sent or otherwise given.

XXIII.—It shall be lawful for any Master or owner of a ship or his agent to enter into agreements with Lascars or Natives of the Territories of the East India Company, binding them to proceed to any port or ports in the United Kingdom, either as Seamen or as passengers, and there to enter into a further agreement to serve as Seamen in any ship which may happen to be there, and to be bound to any port in the Territories of the East India Company ; provided, that every such original agreement shall be made in such form, and shall contain such provisions, and shall be executed in such manner, and under such conditions for securing the return of such Lascars or Natives to their own Country, and for other purposes, as the Governor General of India in Council, or the Governors of the respective Presidencies in which the original agreement is made, in Council may direct ; and if any Lascar or other Person who has bound himself by any such original agreement is, on arriving in the United Kingdom, required to enter into a further agreement to serve as a Seaman in any Ship bound to any port in the Territories of the East India Company, and if it is certified by some Officer appointed for that purpose by the East India Company that such further agreement is a proper agreement in all respects for such Lascar or other person to enter into, and is in accordance with the original agreement, and that the Ship to which such further agreement relates is in all respects a proper Ship for such Lascar or other person to serve in, and that there is not, in the opinion of such Officer, any objection to the full performance of the said original agreement, such Lascar or other person shall be deemed to be engaged under such further agreement, and to serve as a Seaman in the Ship to which it relates, and shall thereupon be deemed to be for all purposes one of the crew of the Ship ; and for every Lascar or other person in respect of whom such Certificate is applied for, the Person applying for the same shall pay to such officer as aforesaid such fee as the East India Company may appoint, not exceeding Ten Shillings.

XXIV,—Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to repeal or affect any provisions contained in the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-first, or Thirty-fourth Sections of the Act of the Fourth Year of King George the Fourth, Chapter Eighty, or in the Sixteenth Section of the Act of the Eighteenth Year of Her present Majesty, Chapter One hundred and twenty.

CIRCULAR DESPATCH FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE RELATIVE TO CERTAIN PROVISIONS TO BE INTRODUCED INTO ANY ACT THAT MAY BE PASSED RELATIVE TO PILOTAGE, &c.

DOWNING STREET, }
15th January, 1856. }

SIR,—An ordinance having been recently received from the Governor of Western Australia, “To consolidate and amend the Laws for the regulation of Shipping, and of Pilotage and other Dues in the Harbours of that Colony,” without any provision having been inserted for requiring the Dues, of which the levy is thereby authorized, to be applied to the purpose of maintaining the Harbour Lights and Pilotage, on account of which they are so levied, I wish to call your attention to the circumstance, in order that in the event of an Act of this description being passed by your Government, the propriety may be considered of introducing a Clause either for requiring the Dues so levied to be applied specifically for the maintenance of the Works and Services in respect of which they are so authorized to be levied, or for requiring such Accounts to be kept as will shew how far the Dues thus levied upon Shipping exceed or fall short of the expenditure incurred in respect of those Works and Services.

The object of these Provisions is to prevent parties engaged in the Shipping Interest from considering that they are unduly taxed, or that the Duties which they are called upon pay are made applicable to the General Services of the Local Government.

DESPATCHES FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE WITH ENCLOSURES ON THE SUBJECT OF THE LIGHT HOUSE PROPOSED TO BE ERECTED ON CAPE RACE.

No. 21.

DOWNING STREET, }
6th October, 1855. }

SIR,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your despatch, No. 42 of 21st July, on the subject of the Light House proposed to be erected on Cape Race, and with reference to my despatches marked Circular, of the 1st September, and No. 8, of the 3rd of August last, I transmit for your information the copy of a letter addressed to this Department by desire of the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council for Trade, from which you will learn that their Lordships concur with the Light-house Commissioners of Newfoundland both as to the material of which the Building should be constructed, and as to the character of the proposed Light.

I further send you the copy of another letter received this day from the Board of Trade on the subject of this Light-house, and have to desire that you will take such steps as may be proper for giving effect to the suggestions of that Department.

SIR,—I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 30th ultimo, with its enclosures, on the subject of the Light-house about to be erected on Cape Race.

With regard to that part of the Report which relates to the manner in which funds are to be procured, it is unnecessary to do more than to refer to my letter of the 15th August, where, the subject has been fully treated.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

With regard to the observations on the construction of the Light-house, I am to acquaint you for the information of Secretary Sir William Molesworth, that after a full and careful consideration of the Correspondence and various reports respecting the materials of which this Light-house should be constructed, My Lords were strongly impressed with the opinion that an Iron Tower, as a mere support for the Light, might be used with advantage, and that the dwellings of the Light Keepers, if constructed of Stone or Brick about the base of the Tower, would be perfectly unobjectionable. For several reasons this plan of operations was considered, and an Iron Tower for the Light with Stone Buildings about its base for the dwellings of the Light Keepers, has accordingly been contracted for ; and My Lords are gratified to find that this opinion is supported by the Officer of Engineers in Newfoundland who states in his report that "Iron appears to be the most durable, suitable, and the most economical for Buildings of this nature."

My Lords trust it will be found that whilst economy and expedition have been studied in the exhibition of the Light, the health and comfort of the Light-keepers have been equally cared for, and that the expense will be kept within reasonable limits.

The Tower is now nearly ready for embarkation and it is expected that the whole apparatus may arrive in Newfoundland in time to commence the Building before the frost sets in.

My Lords entirely concur with the Light-house Commissioners of Newfoundland as to the character of the proposed Light for Cape Race, and have directed a bright fixed Light to be contracted for.

With regard to the Light being coloured, in order that it may be distinguished from those on either side of it, my Lords are of opinion that the distinction between fixed and revolving Lights will be in itself sufficient, especially as a colored Light is objectionable, particularly in a foggy climate, on account of the short distance at which it can be discerned as compared with a bright Light.

SIR,—I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to acquaint you for the information of Secretary Sir William Molesworth, that part of the materials for the Light-house on Cape Race, Newfoundland, have been put on board a vessel bound for Trepassey, and have been consigned to the Governor of that Colony ; and it is expected that in a fortnight the remaining portions will be ready for Shipment, when they will be forwarded in like manner to Trepassey as the nearest Port to the site of the Light-house.]

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

It will not be possible to have the Light-house completed before the winter, but it is expected that the work will proceed with all possible despatch. In the meantime it is desirable that the authorities in Newfoundland to whom the Light-house when finished will be delivered over, should take necessary steps for securing the services of duly qualified persons to act as Light-keepers, and they should also be prepared with a supply of Oil and Wicks and other necessary Stores and Materials, so that no time may be lost and no inconvenience be occasioned when the Building is completed and ready for Lighting.

The Engineer will be instructed to communicate to the Commissioners the progress of the building, in order that they may be enabled to make the necessary arrangements, though probably they may not be required before the ensuing year.

Office of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade, Whitehall, 2nd October, 1855.

SIR,—I am directed by the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 22nd ult. : requesting that the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury may be furnished with any observations my Lords may have to make in reference to the proposed Light on Cape Race, and I am desired by their Lordships to make the following remarks :—By the Act 18 & 19 Vic., cap. 91., Her Majesty is empowered by order in Council to fix the Dues to be paid by vessels deriving benefit from Colonial Lights, and those, it is expected, will be sufficiently large not only to defray the expenses connected with the erection, but also of the maintenance of such Lights.

The colony of Newfoundland will therefore not be called upon to contribute to the proposed Light on Cape Race, beyond what may be paid by its vessels which receive benefit from the Light, and I am to observe that the execution of the work will not be impeded in consequence of the refusal of the Colony of Newfoundland to contribute towards its maintenance.

With reference to that part of your letter which requested that the Lords Commissioners might be made acquainted with the present state of the Works of the Light-house, I am to observe that the work has been contracted for and is now in a state of great forwardness, parts thereof having already been shipped and the remainder being nearly ready for shipment.

I am to add that the probable annual cost of the maintenance of this Light will be about four hundred and fifty pounds.

DESPATCHES, &c., TO AND FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE, ON THE SUBJECT OF A CHARGE OF ONE PENNY EACH ON NEWSPAPERS SENT TO CERTAIN BRITISH COLONIES, IN REPLY TO AN ADDRESS OF THE HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

Financial

No. 39.

Government House,
St. John's, 6th August, 1855.

MY LORD,—By the Packet immediately preceding that which conveyed to me Your Lordship's Despatch of the 26th June last, intimating that Her Majesty's Government had decided that on and from the 30th of that month, a British rate of Postage of One Penny should be levied upon every Newspaper forwarded from the United Kingdom to a British Colony, a letter was received by the Postmaster General of this Colony from the Department of Her Majesty's Postmaster General in London, a copy of which I have the honor to enclose, directing that officer to charge a penny upon all Newspapers forwarded—1st from the Colony to the United Kingdom—2nd through the United Kingdom to any other British Colony or Possession,—and 3rdly to any other British Colony or to a Foreign Port without passing through the United Kingdom. In the first case the amount is to be retained by the Colony, in the latter cases to be accounted for to Her Majesty's Postmaster General.

2.—Had I been in possession of your Lordship's Despatch of the 26th of June, at the time when this instruction was received by the Local Postmaster General, I should probably have prohibited him from carrying it into effect, upon the ground that I was bound to regard your Lordship's communication as intimating for my guidance that part of the plan proposed by the Imperial Postmaster General, which had received the sanction and concurrence of Her Majesty's Government. In the absence of that Despatch, I considered the local bound to submit to the Imperial Post Office authority, and the Penny Postage has been paid accordingly upon all Newspapers forwarded to this Colony since the receipt of the instruction referred to.

3.—This unlooked for charge so suddenly imposed has occasioned much dissatisfaction, which has not only been expressed by the public Press, whose conductors might perhaps naturally object to any impost of the kind, but has given rise to an address from the House of Assembly to your Lordship, which I have now the honor to transmit.

4.—In the statement this Address contains, as to the injurious effects upon the circulation and interchange with other countries of public intelligence and information generally through the medium of Newspapers, I entirely concur, and your Lordship will more clearly understand how this may be the case when I request your reference to the accompanying copy of a letter from two of our local Editors, and to the enclosed copy of a Colonial Newspaper which affords a fair specimen of the size and weight of all the Journals (at present seven in number) published in Newfoundland, at rates varying from about a penny to two-pence sterling per number.

5.—I am aware that my Predecessor intimated to Her Majesty's Government that the Colony would accept the arrangement proposed in the enclosures to the Duke of Newcastle's Circular Despatch of the 5th April, 1853. But the principles of that arrangement as respected Newspapers were that "an uniform rate of one penny (to be paid in advance) shall be established on Newspapers, the same freeing them to their destination either way, and the Postage to be retained by whichever party collects it."

6.—It would appear, moreover, that Colonel Maberly's letter to Mr. Merivale of the 19th March, 1853, in which the details of this arrangement are stated, relates exclusively to Letters and Newspapers transmitted between the United Kingdom and the Colonies—while the plan now directed to be enforced by Mr. Tilley's letter, not only extends the Impost to Newspapers transmitted in British Packets between the Colonies themselves, or from the Colonies to a Foreign Port without passing through the United Kingdom, but effects an important change from the principle originally proposed by requiring that the Postage collected in the case referred to should be accounted for to the Imperial Postmaster General instead of being "retained by whichever party collects it," thus effectually preventing the remission by local authority of the postage on Newspapers forwarded from the Colony, should it be (as I doubt not it would be) the policy of the Colonial Government to adopt that course.

7.—Without entering upon the merits of the subject, or the expediency of the charge in question there can, I think, be no doubt that the new arrangement is not that in which the concurrence of the Colony has been expressed. The necessity of such concurrence, and the importance of the measure being accepted in its "integrity, as then proposed, are so expressly referred to in Colonel Maberly's letter of the 19th March, 1853,—while the new arrangement goes so far beyond either the original plan, or that stated in your Lordship's Despatch of the 26th June, as to almost justify the supposition that the Instruction from the Department of the Postmaster General has been prematurely issued.

8.—As the charge has, however, been exacted upon the occasion of the dispatch of the last two Packets, I have not thought it proper to direct the Colonial Postmaster General to transmit Newspapers as formerly Postage free; but with the advice of the Executive Council, that officer has been desired not to take payment from persons posting Newspapers, and at the same time to keep an account of the amounts chargeable thereon, and to mark the Newspapers "Post Paid;" the Government guaranteeing to him that he should be held harmless for the amount which Her Majesty's Postmaster General will require him to account for, should it prove that the new regulations have the ultimate sanction of Her Majesty's Government.

GENERAL POST-OFFICE, }
September, 15th, 1855. }

SIR,—Having submitted to the Postmaster General your letter of the 8th inst., enclosing the copy of a despatch from the Governor of Newfoundland, and also the copy of an address from the House of Assembly of that Colony, complaining of the regulations with regard to Newspapers recently laid down under the authority of the Act of the 18 Vic., cap. 27, I am directed by his Lordship to acquaint you, for the information of Sir W. Molesworth, that there appears to have been a misunderstanding at Newfoundland on this subject.

In the instructions dated the 22nd June last, transmitted from this office to the Postmaster of Newfoundland, after mentioning that a postage of One Penny would be levied in this country from the 30th of that month upon each Newspaper sent to Newfoundland, it was added:

“ Upon Newspapers addressed to the United Kingdom, posted in Newfoundland, the rate not to exceed one penny, levied in Newfoundland, will be retained by the Colony, and no charge will be made on delivery in this country.”

It seems to have been assumed by the Government of Newfoundland, that it was not only compulsory to levy such a rate, but that it must be as high as a penny; whereas, the fixing of a penny as a maximum implies a power in the local authorities to reduce the rate within such limits as they might approve, and as a necessary consequence, left them at liberty to abstain from levying any rate whatever.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Explanation upon this point has already been made to the Postmaster of Newfoundland, in a letter dated the 31st ult.

The Government of Newfoundland objects, secondly, to the penny rate charged by the Imperial Government upon Newspapers posted in that Colony for transmission by British Packet, whether to another British Colony, or to a Foreign Country.

The dissatisfaction seems to have arisen from the fact that no such charge was adverted to in the general measure proposed to the several Colonial Governments in 1853.

The simple answer to this is, that the measure referred to, as distinctly recognized by the Governor of Newfoundland, related exclusively to Letters and Newspapers transmitted between the United Kingdom and the Colonies; and that the charge now in question was not then under consideration.

Lord Canning desires me to observe that the fairness of this charge will at once appear when it is simply a rate paid to the Imperial Government for services performed by Packets maintained at its own expense, and that it does not exceed the charge for conveyance within the United Kingdom. It appears to his Lordship scarcely necessary to add that the Imperial Post Office has no monopoly in the conveyance of Newspapers, and that consequently the Colonial Authorities are at full liberty to provide for their conveyance and distribution by any other means. They may even arrange with the Owners of the Government Packets to convey Newspapers as Freight, and thus at small expense remove all obstacle to their free transmission to Halifax, their port of communication with the other British North American Colonies.

DOWNING STREET, }

SIR,—With reference to the Circular Despatch addressed to you by my predecessor on the 26th June last, signifying that on and from the 30th of that month, a British rate of postage of one penny would be levied upon every Newspaper forwarded from the United Kingdom to a British Colony, I have now to acquaint you that Her Majesty's Government have come to the determination to abolish the Regulation, by which it has hitherto been requisite that all Newspapers sent out of the United Kingdom, besides being liable to postage, should bear an impressed stamp denoting the Stamp Duty.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Henceforth it will not be necessary that Newspapers sent abroad, whether to the British Colonies or to Foreign Countries, should bear the impressed stamp. The stamp will neither be required, nor will it count as postage, as it will be presumed that, where it is employed, it has already served for the transmission of the Newspaper within the United Kingdom.

DOWNING STREET, }
7th August, 1855. }

SIR,—Referring to the Circular Instructions of my Predecessors, dated the 27th December, 1850, on the subject of the Colonial Book Post, I transmit to you, herewith, extract of a Letter which has been addressed to this Department by direction of the Postmaster General, proposing that an alteration recently made in the scale of weight for charging Postage on Book Packets sent between places in the United Kingdom, should be extended to Book Packets sent to, or from the Colonies.

You will bring this subject under the early consideration of your Executive Council, and inform me whether your Government is prepared to acquiesce in the proposed alteration. The date at which it will come into operation will be fixed hereafter by the Postmaster General.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient,

Humble Servant,

W. MOLESWORTH.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Extract of a Letter from the Assistant-Secretary of the General Post Office, dated 23rd July, 1855, addressed to Herman Merivale, Esq., Under Secretary of State for the Colonial Department.

“ Under the authority of a Treasury Warrant, dated the 4th ultimo, an alteration has been made in the scale of progression by weight for charging Postage upon Packets of Books sent by the Inland Book Post between places in the United Kingdom.

“ When the weight of any such Packet exceeds half a pound, the charge now increases by steps of half a pound, a rate equal to the charge for half a pound being added for each additional half pound that the Packet weighs.

“ The Postmaster General considers it desirable to apply a like scale of weight to Packets of Books sent by the Colonial Book Post to or from the Colonies, and he has therefore obtained the authority of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury for requesting Lord John Russell to propose this measure.”

DESPATCH FROM SECRETARY OF STATE ACCOMPANYING REPORT OF CAPTAIN PURVIS ON THE FISHERIES OF NEWFOUNDLAND IN 1855.

No. 7.

DOWNING STREET, }
23rd November, 1855. }

SIR,—I transmit, for your information, the copy of a Report by Commander Purvis, of Her Majesty's Steam-sloop Argus, on the fisheries on the South West Coast of Newfoundland.

I shall be glad to receive from you any observations which you may have to offer with respect to the alleged evasion of the Law by the illicit traffic in bait, by means of which the fishermen are enabled to obtain at St. Pierre provisions and clothing at a cheaper rate than that at which English Traders are willing to supply them.

H. M. STEAM-SLOOP "ARGUS," }
Halifax, 18th July, 1855. }

SIR,—I beg to submit the following Report on the Fisheries on the South West Coast of Newfoundland for your information.

On the 17th May last, I left St. John's, Newfoundland, in Her Majesty's Steam-sloop, under my command; arriving at Trepassy on the 18th, from thence visited St. Mary's, Placentia, Burin, Great Lawn, Lamaline, Grand Bank, Fortune Bay, the Burgeo Islands, and St. George's Bay, returning to Lamaline on the 19th ultimo; it was my intention to have been at the latter place on the 15th, in order to check as much as possible the Fishermen from taking to St. Pierre the Caplin which struck in about that time; but owing to an accident to the machinery, of which you have already been made acquainted, I did not arrive before the 19th; the Fishermen taking advantage of my absence during these few days, carried to St. Pierre an enormous quantity of bait, and I am inclined to think that large quantities were also taken from Fortune and Grand Bank.

This evasion of the law is to be regretted, inasmuch as many of the Fishermen are driven to such illicit means of traffic, to enable them to maintain a livelihood—Provisions and Clothing at St. Pierre being from 60 to 70 per cent. cheaper than English traders are willing to supply them.

The practice of supplying the French with Fish has now become so common that the French merchants give provisions, &c., in advance for bait and Codfish; the latter is collected at the end of the season, and sent either to Halifax or St. John's Newfoundland, and thence to Europe, the French not being allowed to land dried fish procured from English Fishermen at St. Pierre.

To effectually put a stop to this system of smuggling, at least two or three fast sailing boats capable of mounting a 6 or 9 pounder gun each would be required, which should be manned from the ship sent for the protection of the Fisheries, as the boats of a ship-of-war are almost useless for this purpose.

The Herring generally strike in early in April, and the Cod fishery commences about the beginning of May.

This season will be much better than the last, as many as 900 quintals of Fish (equal to 300 dried) having been caught in a seine at Lamaline in one day; the average taken with the hook and line is about 6 quintals (equal to 2 dried) per man daily. The Fishermen at the other settlements (Placentia excepted) have been equally successful. At the Burgeo Islands the fishery is carried on in winter and summer; this is the only part of the South West Coast where the Cod are caught throughout the year.

The Caplin leave the Coast generally about the end of June, when the Squid strike in, and remain a few days; then the Herring again make their appearance and remain until the latter end of August, when the fishery is considered over.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

At St. George's Bay I was informed that an enormous quantity of herring had been caught, and that a good understanding existed between the English and French Fishermen.

I have every reason to believe that no encroachments have been made by the French on the South West Coast this season.

The French Bankers have been very unsuccessful, many of the fishing vessels having returned to St. Pierre without fish.

I have, &c.

Commander.

DESPATCH FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE, ON THE SUBJECT OF PROVIDING A FUND FOR RETURNING TO THE COLONIES TO WHICH THEY BELONG, SEAMEN ARRIVING IN GREAT BRITAIN.

(COPY.)
[CIRCULAR, No. 12.]

DOWNING STREET, }
21st December, 1855. }

SIR,—My attention has recently been called to the frequent cases which occur of Seamen arriving in this country from the North American Provinces in a destitute condition, and in many instances unable to work, for whose relief no funds are provided, either by the Imperial or by the Local Governments.

You are probably aware that by the Merchant Shipping Act of last Session, power is conferred on the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade to cause distressed Seamen found in Foreign Ports, being subjects of Her Majesty, to be sent home either to this country or to the colony to which they belong. For this purpose an annual vote is taken; but the Act in question does not confer the power to send home to the colonies to which they may belong Colonial Seamen found distressed in this country.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

The duty which the Act in question devolves on the Imperial Government is founded on the principle that each Government is bound to provide for its own Seamen, and I cannot doubt that the Legislature of Newfoundland would readily admit the justice of this principle, and that it applies with great force to the case of Seamen belonging to Colonial Ports.

I have therefore to request that you will bring the subject under the consideration of your Council, and it will afford me much gratification to learn that the Legislature is prepared to undertake the necessary expense, and to co-operate with Her Majesty's Government in making any arrangements which may be necessary for effecting the object they have in view.

DESPATCHES AND OTHER DOCUMENTS RELATIVE TO THE BETTER CURING AND PACKING OF HERRING FOR EXPORTATION FROM THIS ISLAND TO FOREIGN MARKETS.

(COPY.
Executive, No. 47.)

Government House,
St. John's, 31st August, 1855.

SIR,—In the recent Session of the Legislature a sum of £500 was placed at the disposal of the Local Government, for the purpose of taking measures for encouraging improvement in the mode of curing and packing Herring, which as at present practiced in Newfoundland is so inferior to that in use by other Herring exporting Countries as to place our produce of this description at a great disadvantage in the principal markets to which it is consigned.

2.—It is considered that the most effectual step for meeting the views of the Legislature in this respect, would probably be to obtain from Scotland or Holland the services of a few persons well skilled in the preparation of the Herring. It is proposed that their passage to this country should be provided for in the first instance at the public expense. The arrangement for their subsequent employment in the colony in the manner most conducive to the object in view, would necessarily depend upon the readiness or otherwise with which individuals engaged in the Herring Fishery might be found disposed to enter into arrangement with them, as well as upon the terms for which they themselves might be inclined to stipulate.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

3.—Before taking any positive steps for this purpose, my Government is desirous of obtaining information and advice from quarters where practical experience and acquaintance with the question exist, and as it is understood that measures of a very similar nature for improving the cure of Scotch Herrings by the introduction of Herring Curers from Holland were at one time taken by the Commissioners of British Fisheries, I have to request, should you see no objection to such a course that the Commissioners may be asked to favor this Government with any advice upon the subject, that their experience may enable them to offer, as well as with any information which they may either possess, or may have it in their power readily to procure, as to the terms upon which persons adapted to the purposes I have explained, would be induced to remove from Scotland and Holland to this Colony.

4.—If a permanent settlement in the Colony should enter into the views of such persons, small grants of Land in situations eligible for Agricultural purposes, or for the pursuit of their occupation as Curers of fish might be superadded to other advantages. I have, however, reason to believe that there would be no difficulty in obtaining profitable engagements for them immediately upon their landing, and at any rate the Government would be prepared upon ascertaining what their views and expectations may be to guarantee them against all loss or injury, as the result of their emigration from their native country until they should, either as their own free act, or as the result of some specified condition of their engagement, have established themselves independently on their own account.

Board of Fisheries,
Edinburgh, 12th November, 1855. }

SIR,—Having laid before the Board of Fisheries your letter of the 6th ultimo, together with its enclosure, copy of a Despatch from the governor of Newfoundland, requesting the advice and assistance of the Board as to the measures to be taken for improving the present mode of curing and packing Herring in that colony.

I am directed to state that the Board of Fisheries being unacquainted with the manner in which the Newfoundland Herring Fishery is carried on, whether by decked vessels in the open sea, or by open boats from the shore, or partly by both, what kind of nets are in use, the general accommodation for curing, the facility for obtaining barrels and salt, the nature of the coast, the time of appearance of the Herrings and character of the Fish, and the command of labour to man the boats and carry on the curing operations, feel great difficulty in suggesting any measures for the improvement of the Fishery.

In the meantime they enclose six copies of a Treatise, containing "directions for taking and curing Herrings," by Sir Thomas Dick Lauder, Bart., the late Secretary of the Board, the circulation of which has been found extremely useful in Scotland, and which may also be of service in Newfoundland.

The Scotch Herring Trade is at present so very flourishing, and persons find such ready employment in it at good wages, that the moment is unfavourable to expect them to emigrate for the purpose of embarking in the doubtful adventure of the Newfoundland Fishery, which indeed may be so different from what they have been used to, and require a system of cure so little like what they have been accustomed to perform, that the Board are disposed rather to recommend the Colonial Legislature, as a first step, to send some superior person thoroughly conversant with the practical details, arrangements, and resources of the Newfoundland Fishery and the coasts where it is carried on, to visit and inspect the Dutch, Scotch, and English Herring Fisheries, that he might see them all in operation, when he would be able to judge what parts of their respective systems would be applicable to that of Newfoundland, and could be introduced with advantage there, while as an emissary from the Local Government, he could represent and explain its offers to any parties he might think fit to be removed to Newfoundland, and make the necessary engagements with them.

In this view such a person should reach England by the month of April, he would then during May see the early Yarmouth Herring Fishery in England, and the early Stornoway Herring Fishery in Scotland, and in the succeeding months the great Herring Fishery, when he would fall in with the Dutch Busses fishing off the Coast of Scotland, and the fleet of French Herring Vessels fishing there, he would then close with the Yarmouth Herring Fishery again in September.

I am to state that should this suggestion meet the approval of the Local Government, the Board of Fisheries would be happy to render the person so appointed all the aid on his mission in their power.

Messrs. LAURENCE O'BRIEN & Co., St. John's, Newfoundland.

DEAR SIR,—We had this pleasure by the Mail on the 28th ultimo, and we avail of this opportunity in the hope of our letter reaching earlier than by the next Steamer, to transmit extracts of two letters from our Correspondents at Yarmouth and Rotterdam, in reply to our enquiry on your behalf for men conversant with the Herring Fishery.

You will perceive nothing can be done in Holland, but at Yarmouth we are likely to succeed if the remuneration you are disposed to give be sufficiently tempting to induce the men to leave their employment at home.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

We shall be glad of your reply, giving us every particular, as it is evident the class of men requisite for your object will not listen to any promises about liberal pay, but require something definite to be stated before entering upon an agreement.

Believe us to be, dear Sirs,

Messrs. MALHUISS, SONS & Co., London.

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 27th, and should be most happy to facilitate your views. As regards obtaining men conversant with curing Herrings to go out to Newfoundland, there will be no difficulty in doing so, if you will only give me the particulars, as to their wages, passage-money, &c. I presume you would require men of general knowledge of the Fishery. You are aware, Herrings are salted on board the boats, which in some degree is a part of the curing—after being landed, they pass into the hands of another class of men, who have to manage them on the floor for further salting, as may be required for different Markets, and then hang them for smoking and drying accordingly. Most of the men are now employed, the fishery being at its height, but at the close of the voyage such men might be easily obtained. If you write me further on the subject, I will do my best in carrying out your instructions.

We are in receipt of your esteemed favor of 25th inst., and in reply we beg to say that we fear it will be difficult to find eight or ten men, who understood the art of curing Herrings, disposed to go to Newfoundland and settle there. Most of our Fishermen are married, and having never been out of the North Sea, do not feel inclined to try their fortune far from home. Besides this, the laws of this country on the Fisheries, forbid them on a heavy penalty to engage in Foreign fisheries, and the same law imposes a penalty of about £200 with a year's imprisonment on every one who directly or indirectly endeavours to persuade any natives of this country to engage in Foreign Herring Fishery.

Government House,
St. John's, Newfoundland, 17th September, 1855.

SIR,—The Secretary of State for the Colonies has recently put me in possession of a communication from Mr. G. P. R. James, Her Majesty's Consul at Norfolk, in Virginia, in which that gentleman has called attention to the disadvantages to which cured Herrings imported from Nova Scotia are subject in certain markets of the Southern States, from an imperfection in the mode of curing and packing, which appears to be such as completely to counterbalance the admitted superiority both as to the size and quality of the fish itself over the fish of the United States catch, with which it is brought into competition in the markets referred to.

The subject is one of much interest to the inhabitants of Newfoundland, a large proportion of the Herrings which find their way into the Southern markets in the character of Nova Scotia produce, being in fact caught upon the coasts of this Island and exported in the first instance to Nova Scotia.

The inferiority of our cure is a fact which had latterly become sufficiently manifest in the ordinary course of commercial transactions, and the attention of the Local Government is now earnestly given to the attempt to stimulate and encourage improvement in this branch of our exports, which was formerly of great value, and which there seems no good reason to doubt, may, by due attention and care, be restored to its original importance.

With this view, a sum of money was voted during the recent Session of the Legislature for the purpose of obtaining from Scotland and Holland the services of a few persons practically skilled in the best modes of curing and preparing the Herring for Foreign markets; and as the first step towards the accomplishment of that object, I have requested the good offices of the Secretary of State in obtaining from the Commissioners of British Fisheries such assistance in this particular, and information on the subject generally, as it may be in their power to afford.

It appears, however, that there is some diversity in the mode of preparation and packing which is best calculated to secure favor, even in the various markets of the United States,—that in some places, for example, the Herring is preferred without either heads or tails, while in others the opposite system of preparation is essential to secure its acceptance.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

We consider that it would be of great importance to this branch of our trade, under the prospects of a freer commercial intercourse with the United States, which are now opening, to have accurate information on this subject, and I trust that your Excellency will not consider that I am imposing undue trouble upon you personally, or asking that which is incompatible with the character of your high office, if I request the exercise of your influence with Her Majesty's Consuls and Vice-Consuls at the Ports of the United States, to induce their communication of such details, in respect to the peculiar requirements of the several Markets with which they are acquainted, as may enable our curers and exporters of Herring to prepare and put up the article accordingly.

As the mode which will entail the least trouble upon yourself, I suggest that any communication these gentlemen may be pleased to make upon the subject should be addressed directly to this Government.

G. B. MATTHEWS, Esq., British Consul.

DEAR SIR,—I have your note of yesterday enquiring about Herrings, how they should be packed for this market, &c.

The heads and tails should not be taken off, but they should be gibbed, that is, the throat should be cut, and the entrails drawn out, leaving the roe in.—They should be well struck with salt, while they are fresh from the water, before they become stale. They should be packed by hand, edgewise, close, in barrels with coarse salt, and the barrel then be filled with pickle, made from sea-water. Two hundred pounds should be put in each barrel.

The quantity of Mackarel caught this season will be unusually small, and Herrings will be in demand at good prices. If your correspondent at Newfoundland is disposed to ship to this market, I shall be glad to receive consignments.

I am, respectfully yours,

SIR,—The attention of the Government of Newfoundland has been called by the Secretary of State of the Colonies to the disadvantage to which Herrings cured in that island, and imported from Nova Scotia, are subject in certain markets of the United States, from an imperfection in the mode of curing and packing, which appears to be such as to counterbalance in a great degree the admitted superiority both as to size and quality of the fish itself over the fish of the United States catch, with which it is brought into competition in the markets referred to.

I am further informed by the Governor of Newfoundland that it would be of considerable advantage to the curers and exporters of Herrings in that island to learn the particular requirements of the markets within your jurisdiction with which you are acquainted, in order that they may in future be enabled to prepare and put up Herrings in such manner as may render them acceptable there; and I would therefore request you to transmit direct to the Governor of Newfoundland any information of the nature above referred to which you may be able to procure.

NEW YORK,
October 24th, 1855. }

SIR,—In reply to your note requesting information in relation to Salt Herring and other kinds of fish, we would say—

Herring are most saleable in this market, when put up with heads and tails on, the roe left in, and the Herring gibbed, that is, the entrails and gills drawn, without splitting, or cutting down the belly. At certain seasons of the year when there are no roe in the Herring, put them up gibbed, in the same manner as described above.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

All other kinds of fish, split on the back, except Alewives, which require to be packed whole, just as they are caught.

In the winter season, there are a good many Herring packed whole, without gibbing, or drawing the entrails. The consequence is, that as soon as the weather gets a little warm, they are apt to become tender on the bellies, and this spoils the sale. Herring put up with heads and tails off, or trimmed, are in reality worth more when packed this way, but they are not so saleable, and it is not advisable to put them up in this manner. There is only a certain kind of trade to take them, which is very small, and not to be depended upon. In all Herring put up for the market, particular attention should be paid to quality; an inferior article is very unsaleable here, while a prime article will always sell.

Good Herring are now worth $4 per barrel.

Very respectfully, &c.

British CONSULATE, New Orleans, }
November 15th, 1855. }

SIR,—I have received a Despatch from Mr. Crampton, making an enquiry suggested by your Excellency regarding New Orleans as a market for Newfoundland Herrings.

The consumption of Herrings in New Orleans has always been very limited, owing in a great degree to the Planters thinking that their use amongst Negroes predisposes them to Cholera, a disease unusually fatal with that race.

The kind of fish in general use in this part of the United States, are Mackarel and dried Cod; both descriptions are brought almost entirely from Boston. Herrings are chiefly brought from the Chesapeake Bay, and are considered more delicate than those of Nova Scotia and Newfoundland. From careful enquiry I should estimate that the importation has never exceeded 800 barrels per annum, and dealers in fish assure me that last year the number of barrels imported amounted to but 500 barrels.

The price obtained is usually about $4 50 per barrel, and with regard to the system of preparation, the entire fish, viz., with heads and tails, are most saleable.

British CONSULATE, Baltimore, }
26th November, 1855. }

SIR,—Her Majesty's Minister at Washington having informed me that in some of the markets of the United States complaints were prevalent respecting the imperfect mode of curing and packing Herrings in the Island of Newfoundland, which, in fact, appeared to be such as to counterbalance in a great degree the admitted superiority both as to size and quality of the fish itself over the fish of the United States catch with which it is brought into competition in the markets referred to; I have made enquiry amongst the principal importers of cured fish at this port, and now, by Mr. Crampton's desire, I beg leave to submit to your Excellency the following points shewing the result of that enquiry.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

1.—All the parties questioned by me agreed in affirming that most of the Herrings received here from the British Provinces are at all times more or less spoiled, or in a poor condition on arrival, the majority being of opinion that this unsatisfactory condition of the fish is mainly attributable to the injudicious mode of curing them adopted, as they have been informed, in Newfoundland. Several of these merchants, however, went further, declaring that they considered the Herrings themselves caught in the waters of British North America to be inferior in size and quality to those taken in the rivers, Patapses and Chesapeake.

2.—With reference to the injudicious process of curing complained of, those parties inform me that in the British Provinces the Herrings are salted in bulk within the holds of the vessels, and that it is impossible, under such circumstances, to turn them daily; and as very frequently those vessels are detained by adverse winds or tempestuous weather, the fish, on arrival, are in most instances found to be in a very poor condition. According to their statement, their system of curing the Herrings taken in their own rivers consists in the fish being thrown into moderately sized vats immediately on their capture, whereupon salt is sprinkled upon them, and then they are frequently turned during three days, salt being again applied to them on every such occasion, and at the expiration of those three days they are at once packed in barrels.

3.—As regards the particular treatment of the cured Herrings in such manner as to insure their acceptance at the different ports of the United States, Messrs. Schurtz and Post, the Inspectors of Fish in this city, inform me that it may be assumed with tolerable certainty, that at all the ports South of Baltimore, the docked Herring, i. e., without head and tail, is preferred, whilst in Northern markets the Herrings are generally preferred entire. At Baltimore, they say, many people prefer the Herrings split and cleansed, and a general notion seems to prevail here that the roe of the Newfoundland Herring is unserviceable, whilst that of their own is of the finest quality.

I fear that the information I have the honor to submit to Your Excellency under the foregoing three points may prove but insufficient; but it is all that I have been enabled to collect. Should your Excellency, however, desire to be furnished with further details respecting one or more of the points adverted to above, I shall use my best endeavours to obtain such additional information for immediate transmission to Newfoundland.

I have, &c.

British CONSULATE, State of Virginia, U. S., Norfolk, }
December 17th, 1855. }

SIR,—Mr. Anthony Barclay, British Consul for the State of New York, having brought to my notice some correspondence which he has had with you upon the subject of the trimming and cure of Herring for the markets of the United States, and having been the first myself, I believe, to point out to the Home Government how great a trade might be established between our Northern Colonies and the Southern States of the Union in fish, were our Colonial fish cured in such a way as to suit the Southern markets, I take the liberty of addressing you on the subject. I do so more particularly as the directions for curing, received by Mr. Barclay from the New York dealers, and suited to that market, would render the fish unsaleable in the South. Since my return to Virginia, in order to be sure that the mode communicated by me to many masters of vessels from the North was in all respects suited to promote the object in view, I have made enquiries of the principal merchants here, in Richmond, and in Petersburg, and I subjoin the result.

A great proportion of the food of the Negroes on plantations consists of fish; but the planters require them to be cured in such a manner as to give the greatest portion of nutritive matter in the least bulk. The North Carolina mode, which, with one sweep of the knife cuts off the head and takes away the entrails of the fish, is therefore that which alone suits the Southern market. But it is also required that the fish should be so cured that, being perfectly fresh when salted, no deterioration should take place (or as little as possible) on their passage or after their arrival in a Southern climate. Unfortunately our curers have not as yet taken due precautions in this respect; and I know of several instances in which whole cargoes have either been altogether spoiled, or placed at a very low grade by the Inspectors of the ports.

I have the honor to enclose an extract from a letter of one of the greatest merchants in Richmond, upon the necessity of promptly and thoroughly curing the fish; and I may remark that on the complaint of the master of a Nova Scotia vessel to the effect that the Inspector of Richmond favored his countrymen of North Carolina by giving a higher brand to their herring; I went up to Richmond and compared the fish, when I found that I could pass my fingers through the Colonial fish, while the North Carolina fish were perfectly firm. This proceeded solely from the curing: the Colonial fish being of an infinitely finer quality previous to salting.

I beg to add to the extract from Messrs. Webb's letter in regard to the salting of the fish, the concluding part of the same letter which gives some account of the amount required in Richmond, and also makes an observation in regard to Mackarel which may deserve the attention of the Colonies under your Government.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

I may add that I shall not be in Virginia more than four or five months longer ; but any thing I can do during that time to promote the commercial interests of the British Colonies in their trade with these Southern States, shall never be neglected by,

Sir,

EXTRACT FROM THE LETTTR OF MESSRS. WEBB & SON, DATED RICHMOND, VA., DEC. 13TH, 1855.

These Herrings, i.e., North Carolina Herring, are cut or trimmed on the beach as soon as taken out of the water, while yet alive, and immediately put in large hogsheads of Pickle ready to receive them, where they remain ten or twelve days, and are then packed in barrels in dry salt—therefore it is all important that the fishermen in the British Provinces should cure and pack theirs in the same way, as, if put in vessels and carried to distant places to be packed, they are usually damaged before being put in barrel and soon spoil in warm climates. Our market requires annually about 20,000 barrels cut Herrings ; and, as only about 5000 barrels are received from North Carolina, we want some 15,000 barrels from the Provinces. If they are put up properly, cut herrings bring $1 to $1½ per barrel more than the gross or whole herrings.

This market requires considerable quantities of Nova Scotia, No. 3 Mackarel, the only kind saleable here—they should be put up in Pickle in the manner required for the Boston and New York markets. No. 1 cut herrings are now worth $5 50. No. 3 Mackarel (large medium size) $5 50.

SIR,—With reference to a Despatch I have had the honor to receive from Her Majesty's Minister at Washington, instructing me to transmit to your Excellency such information as I could acquire relative to the modes of curing Herring, and the requirements of this market necessary to secure its acceptance, I have to state that at the ports within my Consular jurisdiction there is but a limited demand for this fish, and that such as are imported have been cured and packed at Lubec or Mount Desert, Maine. To make a comparison, therefore, between the Herrings cured in Newfoundland, of which I have no sample, and those cured in the United States, is not in my power. A knowledge of the method adopted by the curers in Newfoundland would be necessary for me to point out any peculiarity, should such exist, which might be considered an imperfection.

The Herring to which I have alluded as imported from Maine, are in size and flavour equal to those on the coast of Great Britain, and appear to have been cured in a similar manner. They are packed in small boxes, and the head and tail of the fish are retained.

With the regret that the markets in this state do not permit me to transmit more particular information on this subject,

SIR,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your Excellency's Despatch of yesterday's date, enclosing copy of a Despatch from the Governor of Newfoundland to Her Majesty's Minister in the United States upon the subject of the Fisheries.

In compliance with your directions, I shall endeavour to obtain all the information I can upon the mode of curing and preparing the herring of this country, and forthwith report it to your Excellency. I take it for granted that the fish alluded to by you must be cured herrings, and not the smoked or salted fish, of which considerable quantities are exported to Foreign Countries.

If I am not mistaken, there exists a strict secret as to the manner in which these herrings are cured; and the operation taking place at sea, I have heard that the fishermen employed in the necessary preparations are solemnly sworn not to divulge the secret. I shall make however minute enquiry into these circumstances, and hope in a few days to lay the result before your Excellency.

AMSTERDAM,

SIR,—With reference to your Excellency's Despatch of the 20th inst., in which you are pleased to direct me to forward to you for the information of Her Majesty's Government, a report upon the most approved method of curing fish at Amsterdam and other places within its jurisdiction, I have the honor to state that I have endeavoured to collect all the information I could upon this subject, and have consulted several persons whose position enables them to form a correct judgment, and I now venture to lay before you the result of my enquiries.

I find that in the month of May, 1854, a committee appointed by the Dutch Government had several meetings for the purpose of enquiring into and ameliorating the declining state of the Dutch Fisheries, and a report was drawn up by them; but as neither your Excellency's Despatch nor that of the Governor of Newfoundland refers to a statistical report of the fisheries here, I shall confine my observations to the mode adopted in the curing of fish in this country, the main object apparently in view.

In the first instance, I beg to state that the proportion borne by North Holland in carrying on the trade in herrings, is very small in comparison with that of South Holland, the markets for the most part, including Amsterdam, being supplied by the Port of Vloardingén, to which the great majority of the boats belong. In a former communication to your Excellency, I stated that it was the general impression that the mode of preparing Herrings for the Dutch market was a secret. I now find that I have fallen into the common error, and there is neither mystery nor secrecy in the matter. The principal art seems to be in the fact that each fish is killed, and not left to die from exhaustion, and immediately prepared, only a small quantity being taken at a time; preference is given to fish caught in deep waters over those taken near the shore. The exact proportion of salt made use of is difficult to ascertain, and upon this perhaps much may depend; but one fact is worthy of notice that the best kind, indeed the only kind of Salt made use of by the fishermen and curers, is the St. Ubes' Salt.

The process takes place at sea, when the herrings are cured whole, and then packed in a peculiar way, subsequently delivered to the Venders just as they left the boat.

I have endeavoured to ascertain more ample details on this subject but rest convinced that little is to be added to the simple facts I have had the honor to state.

The decided superiority of the Dutch cured Herrings over the British and Scotch, must arise from the peculiar knack of the Dutch fishermen, whose art may be but imperfectly known elsewhere; and I trust I may be pardoned in venturing to suggest that if a few of those curers could be induced to serve in the British possessions, and their mode of curing adopted, the disparity in the quality of the prepared fish soon might cease to exist.

REPORT ON THE HERRING FISHERIES OF HOLLAND.

The enquiry proceeding from the Colonial Government of Newfoundland with respect to curing fish, seems to be in an especial degree referable to Herrings, on which account I have endeavoured to procure the most correct information on that particular topic from sources on which I can place the most reliance.

Having, in common with the prevailing opinion, entertained the belief that the Dutch mode of curing Herrings was more or less a mystery known only to a few, and maintained with the most scrupulous jealousy, as well by the Netherland Government, as by those immediately engaged in the National Fisheries,—I have acquired the conviction that such is far from being the case, and that the Dutch mode of curing Herrings is now as well understood by the Scotch Herring Curers, as by the Dutch themselves.

That for a length of time, the Dutch did maintain and lead the world to suppose that the curing was only known to themselves, is unquestionably true; but the delusion has been gradually dispelled, nor can any one be more anxious than the Dutch Government of the present day is, to aid in removing from the mind of the Nation, all obsolete and erroneous traditions regarding the fisheries : so much in earnest is the Netherland Government on this point, that a project has been submitted and is now under deliberation before the Legislative Chambers, to revise the existing fishery Laws with a view to assimilate them to the principle of unrestricted Commerce, as well by the abolition of old enactments tending to maintain a baneful monopoly at home, as by the free admission of Foreign fish into the Dutch markets at a moderate duty, and a new law will ere long be adopted based on the avowed principle of free and unrestricted commerce.

Although the pamphlet above alluded to would appear to embrace full information on every point connected with the Dutch process, I nevertheless consider it incumbent on me to furnish the information I have had it in my power to collect on the same topic, and other matters connected with the Herring Fishery, from practical sources, and beg to transmit the following statement showing "The mode of Curing," "The mode of Packing," and "The regulations for the survey of Cured Herrings."

MODE OF CURING HERRINGS.

The Herring after having been caught off the coast of Scotland, or the Shetland Isles, is gutted and cured on board of the fishing vessels, and the whole catch must have been cleaned and salted within 24 hours after the nets have been hauled in.

The gutting is accomplished by holding the fish in the left hand, with the belly uppermost, and by introducing a knife under the cheek by means of which a slight incision is made, through which the gills and part of the guts are extracted, leaving the head, the fins, and the tail untouched. In this state the fish is laid into salt, at the rate of one-fourth of salt to three-fourths of the weight of Herrings, and the Law provides that four tons of salt shall be used to every last of fish. The fish so cured is divided into three assortments, known in the trade, as 1st full herrings, being fish full of roe, which keeps well, and is the most suitable for export; when near the time of spawning, this kind, salted either with refined or with raw salt, is divided into two kinds, known as raw salt or as small salt herring, the latter of which kind is most palatable to the taste.

2d Measure Herring, being without roe or milt, but very fat, and though tasty, does not keep, and 3rd Yr. or light Herring, being without either roe, milt or fat, but which, nevertheless, keeps well.

The salt used is St. Ubes or Lisbon salt, other descriptions having been found unsuitable or less appropriate.

OF THE PACKING OF HERRINGS.

The largest casks used for packing the fish while on board of the vessels, must hold 160 Netherland pounds, or about 353 pounds English, and the smaller sized respectively 80lbs., 40lbs., 20lbs., Netherland, or 176, 88, 44, English pounds. The size of the Herring varies so much that a cask holding 160lbs. Netherland, may contain 500 up to 1000 herrings.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Two or three days after the first filling on board, the casks are again opened, and filled up to the brim and so brought to market.

Each of the three chief kinds of cured herrings mentioned above, as well as the Roe sick, must be carefully separated and assorted, and laid into the casks, namely, Full Herring with Full, Measure Herring with Measure Herring, Yr. or Light with Light; and Roe sick with Roe sick; but each sort must be laid into the casks without delay, and without using flour or any other ingredient. The fish which may have fallen out of the nets, or have remained over a night, may not be cured, but must be thrown into the sea.

The Chief Officer is bound to take especial care that the cured fish be laid down in equal rows of four together in length, crossways, and with the back downwards; the fish may not be thrown in carelessly, but only in accordance with the above rules, which the Chief Officer must attend to, under a penalty in case of neglect, besides compensation to the owners of the Ship or the Buyers of the Herring, having nevertheless recourse against the Packer, provided he shall betimes have duly remonstrated against his mode of packing.

Before the 21st of July no kind of Herring may be salted, excepting with raw or unrefined salt, but of the herring caught after the 21st July the full kind alone may, if preferred, be salted with fine or refined salt. The casks must be duly marked with distinguishing marks; those containing fish caught from 21st to 25th July up to 24th August with J, and those with fish caught from 25th of August to 14th September, with B, and after that period with X.

The casks before landing must be marked outside with the number of the ship, in the middle, between the centre hoops.

The Chief Officer is bound on the arrival of the ship at the port of discharge, to declare on oath, the quantity of each sort of Herring, separately, of which declaration he is furnished with a certificate to be exhibited to the Collector of Customs, for the payment of duty, and to the Surveying Officer for the subsequent survey.

OF THE SURVEY.

The salted herrings must, immediately after arrival at the port of discharge, be surveyed by the officers appointed for that purpose, on production of the certificate alluded to above, and the survey must be made before the herring can be brought or housed or removed from one place to another.

Four casks taken at random by the packer, must first be surveyed, in order to prove that the fish has been properly assorted and packed; if one or more of such casks be found to be insufficiently packed, more casks of the same mark must be inspected, of which notice has to be given to the Water Bailiff, and to the Book-keeper of the ship, for the purpose of regulating the fine.

Despatches from the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Whenever the herring is found to have been not properly assorted or packed, or salted, and for those reasons rejected, the loss must be recovered from the packers in diminution of wages.

Immediately after the survey, the Surveying Officer must have the casks separately laid away, each containing herrings of one and the same kind. Before the surveyed herrings be sold, or removed from the port of arrival, the officers must brand on the body of the casks, the name of the place and year; and if the surveyed herring be re-packed either at that place or elsewhere, the name of the province, and the year of arrival, must be branded in addition to the first brand.

The first survey will remain of value between seller and buyer fourteen days, after which it will have to be renewed at the option of the buyer, and no herring may be sold excepting upon said survey.

The re-packing can only be done in public, by persons specially appointed for that work.

All herring intended for export, must be surveyed for the second time, and the large casks be coopered with at least 16 ordinary hoops.

Re-packed herring may not be mixed, but must be all of the same kind. After re-packing, each cask intended for export must be branded, to show the kind of herring, with special marks designated by law, and may then be removed without being subjected to other brands or survey.

As soon as new herring arrives, every cask containing herring of a former year, must be branded with the words "Old Herring." and any one selling old herring for new will be punishable according to law. The mark of every Dealer must be scraped or branded on the casks intended for export, which mark must be made known to the Local Magistrates at the Dealer's place of residence.

Every dealer in herring must have in his service a sworn layer, in no degree related to him, and no one except qualified packers or layers are allowed to pack or lay herring for export, whether for our own account or for that of others.

A simple mode to acquire practical knowledge of the process of curing herrings, would be to take Dutch Fishermen into service, but according to the existing laws, Fishermen being natives of this country are prohibited from taking service abroad under a penalty, if they should be apprehended, of six months imprisonment. It is not impossible however, that under the prevailing inclination to emancipate the fisheries from trammels, the Dutch Government might be prevailed upon to rescind the old law, which dates from the 12th March 1818, and having never been repealed, remains still in force.

In conclusion, I think it right to observe, that the superior quality of the Dutch herring is considered to be attributable, in an essential degree, to the system of survey detailed above, and that under that impression, it is the intention of the Government to adhere to the same system in the new law, about to be adopted, although in other respects not strictly compatible with the perfect freedom which that law advocates ; the survey is, however, not as hitherto, to be compulsory, but optional.

DESPATCH FROM THE PRESIDENT ADMINISTERING THE GOVERNMENT OF MONTSERRAT, DATED 16TH JULY, 1855, TO HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR, ON THE SUBJECT OF FREE TRADE BETWEEN THAT ISLAND AND THE BRITISH NORTH AMERICAN PROVINCES.

Government House,
MONTSERRAT, 15th July, 1855. }

SIR,—Having in the early part of this year, on my assumption of the office of President Administering this Government, found a communication addressed in November last to the Colonial Secretary of the Island, from a committee appointed by the Legislature of Canada, having for its object the establishment of Reciprocity of Trade between that Province and the several West India Islands, and having fully considered that the true interests of Montserrat were alone to be looked for in the direction of the most unrestricted freedom of change with the more wealthy and more populous Dependencies of the Crown, I lost no time in bringing the subject under the consideration of the Legislature of the Island.

In my message recommending a measure framed on those principles, I urged on them the policy of at once taking the initiative, as far as Free Trade is concerned, not only with Canada, but with the other British North American Possessions, and passing a Bill for removing, not only all duties on vessels that may arrive here for the purposes of Trade from those Provinces, but also all Duties on the Produce of those countries imported in such vessels.

These recommendations, I am happy to acquaint your Excellency, received the unanimous concurrence of both branches of the Legislature; and bills have been passed, and with the sanction of the Governor-in-Chief, assented to by me, for giving effect to the establishment of unrestricted trade between this Island and the whole of the British Possessions in North America.

The Act relieving all vessels arriving at this Port from the payment of tonnage dues, is now in operation; and the other Act abolishing all duties on Articles of the growth, produce, or manufacture of the British North American Possessions, has been forwarded to the Governor-in-Chief for the purpose of being transmitted to the Imperial Government, there to await the assent of Her Majesty before it can come into operation, as, owing to a Loan from the Imperial Treasury, being charged on the revenue of the Island, it was necessary to insert a suspending clause in the enactment.

As soon, however, as the assent of Her Majesty has been notified to the Executive here, I will do myself the honor of transmitting a copy of the Act to your Excellency, with a request that the same may be communicated to that portion of the Mercantile community in Newfoundland, who are engaged in the West India Trade.

N.B.—These two settlements being a mile and a half apart, a school was established under the Newfoundland School Society at an intermediate spot for the children of both places. It was closed, September, 1855, and at the same date a salary was assigned by the Board of Education for a Teacher in Island Cove, to commence as soon as a Master and School-room could be procured. The Newfoundland School Society, will, (it is expected) establish a School at Bishop's Cove at an early period.

There are many improvements required in the Schools under the control of this Board.

In one or two places—the South-side of Carbonear, which contains nearly a fourth of the Catholic population of Carbonear, and at Broad Cove on the North Shore, new School-houses are required.

Class books in all our Schools and other appliances without which the system cannot work well, are greatly needed.

There has been a School-house erected recently at Turk's Cove, which is not yet fully finished.

It is needless to add that more efficient teachers than we have at present in several places would be required; but it is not to be expected that men of much ability to teach will be attracted to our services at a salary of five or six pounds a quarter, while a better means of subsistence can be obtained in other pursuits.

The remedy for all these defects would be easily found if a more ample sum than past legislation has placed at our disposal were allocated for this purpose by our present rulers, who are rightly supposed to be ready to devote as much of the public money to this purpose as may be found necessary to secure a profitable outlay.

The people in no instance contribute a penny towards the support of Teachers,

REPORT OF THE MASTER OF THE GENERAL PROTESTANT ACADEMY.

To the Directors of the General Protestant Academy.

GENTLEMEN,—In laying before you some account of the Academy, I am happy in being able to state that it still continues to prosper. The attendance has been greater during the last four quarters than any four since its establishment; while it is losing more and more its elementary character, the class of boys being on the whole of a higher standing than in any previous year. The number at present on the roll is forty-one. Of these thirty-six are studying Latin; eleven, French; nine, Spanish; two German; seven Geometry and Algebra; and all of them, the various branches of an English education, viz: Grammar, History and Geography, the use of the Globes, &c. In a former report I pointed out the necessity of procuring the services of another Teacher; that necessity has increased rather than diminished. In order to conduct an Educational Establishment efficiently, three conditions must be fulfilled. The pupils must be classed according to their advancement. The course of study must be a graduated one. And sufficient time must be given to the teaching of each class. I am becoming gradually more unable to fulfil these conditions as the pupils advance in the course, and if assistance is not speedily obtained, their progress will be stopped and the character of the Academy irretrievably injured. Moreover, other branches of instruction beside the strictly Academical Course, ought to be introduced in order to make the education complete. The interesting and useful facts of science, the various phenomena and laws of nature ought to be illustrated and explained. This is a very important part of an educational course and should receive a great deal more attention than I can give it at present. It is no doubt true that the various departments of science, when studied in their full extent, present a wide field for the exercise of mature intellect, yet they contain phenomena and relations, which not only attract the attention which might otherwise be dissipated on trifles, but afford grounds for reflection. Reflection excites inquiry, and imbues youth with an amiable spirit, often leading them incidentally from the examination of the works of nature to consider the design of the Creator. Besides, this elementary instruction is really necessary to prepare the young for the systematic study of science. I have already intimated to you my willingness to do anything in my power to make the Academy worthy of the support of the community, but I require your co-operation which, I have no doubt, you will willingly concede to me. Of course, if the services of a second teacher are procured, more accommodation will be required. A room of the same dimensions as the one I have at present, would, I think, answer the purpose.

I am, Gentlemen.

Your obedient servant,

ADAM SCOTT.

PROTECTION OF FISHERIES AT AND ABOUT CAPE JOHN, IN THE SUMMER
OF 1855.

JOURNAL AT CAPE JOHN, }
July 9th. }

Arrived at Cape John, put up my camp at Mad Rock Cove, found the French very busy engaged with the fish, spoke several boats, told them my business and the extent of my authority ; remained at the limit all night, fish plenty.

TUESDAY 10th.

Frenchmen began work at sun-rise, hauled about 20,000 fish for 300 men ; asked them what fish they had on shore, told me rather more than last summer for the time ; at 9 p. m. Frenchmen stowed away, remained on the ground all night.

WEDNESDAY 11th.

French commenced to haul at 6 a. m., hauled this day 6,000 fish for 33 men at the limit 3 Seines and 9 Batteaux, stowed away for the night, remained at the limit all night.

THURSDAY, 12th.

Commenced work at 4 a. m. ; Frenchmen hauled 9,000 fish for 4 seines and 68 men ; weather very fine, Frenchmen all anxious to hear from Sebastopol ; remained at the limit for the night.

FRIDAY 13th.

Frenchmen began work at sunrise, fish rather scarce, hauled this day at the Cape 10,000 fish for 7 Seines—asked one Seine Master how much he hauled up to this time, told me 130,000 fish, stopped at the boundary all night.

SATURDAY, 14th.

Frenchmen commenced to haul at 4 a. m. Hauled this day at the limit 25,000 fish for 4 seines and 68 men ; at dark stowed away for the night.

Fisheries.

SUNDAY 15th.

At 3 a. m. Frenchmen began work, hauled this morning 3,000 fish for 4 Seines at 7 a. m. boats all left the limit and went north of the Cape, at 8 a. m. went to my camp to boil kettle for breakfast, returned to the boundary at 11 a. m., found one boat encroaching on the limit, had in his Seine 3,000 fish, took it from him with one Batteaux, turned the master out of her, and sent her to Mad Rock Cove, distance 2 miles, complained very much, said Frenchmen and Englishmen at Sebastopol was all alike, told him killing fish and killing men were different at noon several boats came to the limit, hauled this day at the Cape about 12,000 fish for 9 Seines at sun-down stowed away for the night, weather fine.

MONDAY, 16th.

Frenchmen commenced at sun-rise to haul. At 6 a. m. my men distributed the fish in the French Batteaux to the Shore Cove fishermen, about 30 quintals; sent the men with boat about their business. This day about 14,000 fish taken at the limit; at 10 p. m. Frenchmen covered for the night. Stopped in Cape Cove until morning.

TUESDAY, 17th.

At 4 a. m. Frenchmen began work; fish scarce on the French side of the Cape; appear very anxious to pass the limit. Took to-day, according to French account, 6,000 fish for 9 seines and 27 batteaux. Blowing hard, wind S. W. with rain, remained at the Cape all night.

WEDNESDAY 18th.

At 4 a. m., strong breeze, wind North, Frenchman forced to come on the South-side of the Cape for shelter, at noon spoke Seine Master from Packet Harbor, told me the caplin was gone at Packet, was but 10 days on the Shore; had but 40,000 fish for their Ship with 70 men, thank me to show him the English bounds at sun-down, wind moderate, remained at the limit with French men all night.

THURSDAY, 19th.

At sun-rise Frenchmen commenced work. Hauled no fish at the limit this morning; very anxious to pass the boundary, forced to threaten them; at noon one boat hauled at the point of the Cape 4,000 fish; heavy rain with fog at 7 p. m., wind North, blowing a gale; forced to run for Shoe Cove in company with 37 French boats; remained all night.

FRIDAY 20th.

At 6 a. m. left Shoe Cove in company with the French boats, got as far as Mansfield Bite, forced to remain at anchor all day, too much sea for hauling at sun-down, wind more moderate, remained with the French in Mansfield Bite all night.

Fisheries.

SATURDAY, 21st.

At daylight Frenchmen left Mansfield Cove for the Cape, sea not so high; at 7 a. m. began to Haul; took this day from the Cape 18,000 fish for 9 seines and 27 batteaux; caplin getting scarce; at 9 p. m. fishermen lay down for the night; made my boat fast to stern of French seine boat for the night.

SUNDAY, 22nd.

At 4 a. m. French began work, strong wind from the west, hauled this day at the Cape 22,000 fish, at noon one Seine Master, belonging to Packet Harbor, came and asked me if I could help him to some Provisions, as they were short and could not get home, distance 22 miles; gave him some bread and molasses, pork and rum, asked him what fish they had, told me 100,000 fish for 2 vessels and 85 men; said they were but 15 days in the country, found great difficulty in leaving France for want of men, said voyage at Flourdelouis was bad also; remained at the limit all night.

MONDAY, 23rd.

At sun-rise commenced work; 22 batteaux at the limit this morning; hauled through the day at the Cape and limit 30,000 fish for 9 seines and 168 men; weather very fine. At dark covered for the night. Made fast to French boat until the morning.

TUESDAY, 24th.

At daylight Frenchmen uncovered and began work; one boat belonging to Packet hauled 3,000 fish; at 8 a. m. spoke French Brig crossing the Cape, bound to the Banks from Lascie; asked him what fish he landed, told me 40,000. At 1 p. m. 7 seines boats and 9 batteaux anchored at the Cape point; no fish, caplin scarce. At 6 p. m. left the Cape for Middle Bill Cove. At 7 p. m. strong breeze, N. E.; left the limit for my camp; about 7,000 fish taken at the Cape to-day.

WEDNESDAY, 25th.

At daylight rowed to the Cape, found the French asleep, at 4 a. m. commenced to haul, one boat took 2,000 fish at the limit; about 40,000 taken this day for 9 Seines at 6 p. m., gale of wind from North with heavy rain, 40 boats came in Mansfield Cove for shelter, sea high, no caplin at the Cape, remained in Mansfield Bite for the night.

THURSDAY, 26th.

At 3 a. m. left Mansfield Cove for the Cape in company with French boats; 3 boats belonging to Packet asked liberty to remain to split their fish, told them they could do so provided they went close in shroe. At 5 a. m. a 3 mast Steamer passed the Cape, could not distinguish her flag; distance about 4 miles, took her to be the Cameleon of St. Pierre; about 2,000 fish taken from the Cape this day 10 for seines; no caplin; wind N. E.; at dark went to Mad Rock Cove.

Education.

FRIDAY, 27th.

At 3 a. m. left Mad Rock Cove and rowed in Mansfield bite, found 28 French boats at anchor, come through the night for shelter, wind North; at sun-rise left for their own ground; at 6 a. m. left the Cape and tacked further North; at 9 a. m. 26 boats returned to Mansfield Cove, wind North, blowing hard with heavy sea, remained all day; no caplin, but plenty of Herrings. Stopped with the French all night.

SATURDAY, 28th.

At sun-rise left Mansfield Cove for the limit. At 8 a. m. all the French boats came back, sea too high for hauling; at noon forced to run for Shoe Cove Bite, distance 5 miles, in company with 40 French boats, remained at Shoe Cove all night.

SUNDAY, 29th.

At 6 . m. left the Cove in company with the French boats. At 8 a. m. got to Mansfield Cove; sea high; Frenchmen asked permission to jig fish on the English ground, told them they may jig sufficient to eat, thanked me. At 4 p. m. 18 boats left for Lascie, the rest remained at anchor; at sun-set put their camps up for the night. I went to Mad Rock Cove, Herrings very plenty, Caplin none.

MONDAY, 30th.

At daylight rowed in Mansfield bite, Frenchmen at anchor; at 6 a. m. left for the Cape; one boat hauled 400 fish on South Bill; spoke seine master, told me their several catches for Lascie,

Ship Angelique	3,000	qtls
Triton	2,600	"
Francois	2,300	"
St. Louis	2,800	"
Jannelies Banks	400	"

asked him what wages each man in his boat had for the summer, said 200f., but himself had 400f. and so much a M., told me there was men on their room had but 100f. for the summer and had 3 and 4 picaniny. At 4 p. m. left for Lascie to land their seine: returned to Mad Rock Cove for the night.

TUESDAY 31st.

At 4 a. m. rowed to the Cape, found but 6 boats at the South Bill; at 5 a. m. Hauled, but took no fish. At 8 a. m. caplin seine master came and asked me to allow him to look in Mansfield bite for caplin, told him he may do so but take no caplin; said he only wanted to ascertain if the bait was all gone before he left for home; at 10 a. m. returned, told me there was none to be seen; left for Lascie; no fish taken for the day.

Fisheries.

AUGUST, 1st.

At 4 a. m. rowed to the limit, found but two seines at the Cape and six batteaux; hauled no fish for the day; at 4 p. m. Frenchmen all left the Cape for Lascie, at dark returned to my camp in Mad Rock Cove.

THURSDAY, 2nd.

Rowed to the Cape at 6 a. m., saw no French boats until 7 a. m.; 9 batteaux came to Middle Bill Point and set bultows; remained at the Cape jigging until 4 p. m.; Hauled their bul tows and returned to Lascie at dark; went to my quarters for the night.

FRIDAY, 3rd.

At sun-rise rowed to the limit, saw no Frenchmen until 7 a. m., 3 seines and 9 batteaux came to the North point of the Cape and hauled their bultows; spoke seine master, told me all the fish was gone with the caplin, took no fish for the day; at dark went to my camp, herring plenty.

SATURDAY, 4th.

At sun-rise rowed to the limit, saw no boats until 9 a. m. 8 batteaux came to the Cape and took from 1500 fathoms of bultows about 6 qtls. of fish, asked one man where all their boats were, told me most of the hook and line men were sent to Mings' Bay after room timber, told me all the seines werelanded; at dark rowed to my camp.

SUNDAY, 5th.

At 6 a. m. rowed to the Cape, no boats came until 8 a. m.; 11 batteaux came and fished at the Cape at noon; hauled their bultows and took 1,300 fish; at 5 p. m. left for Lascie; went to Ragged Rock Cove for the night.

MONDAY, 6th.

At 4 a. m. rowed to the Cape, no boats came until 7 a. m., 7 batteaux came and took up bultows with 400 fish; at noon left the South Point and went North of the Cape; at 2 p. m. rowed to Mad Rock Cove and took down my camp, and proceeded to Shoe Cove. The distance from my camp to the limit is 2 miles, from the limit to Shoe Cove is 5 miles.

Fisheries.

TUESDAY, 7th.

At daylight despatched the boat and 4 men to Cape. Learned from the fishermen of Shoe Cove they were fishing with herrings the last week. Fish was scarce, but plenty herrings and good sign of mackarel; told me their average was about 40 qtls. per man. The Lascie average at present, according to their own account, is 30 qtls. per man; at dark boat returned. Saw but six boats at the Cape for the day.

WEDNESDAY, 8th.

At daylight despatched the boat and crew to Cape, fearing the Frenchmen may put their bultows on our side of the limit; at dark returned, reported but 4 batteaux at the limit for the day, took from 1000 fathoms of line 600 fish.

THURSDAY, 9th.

At 4 a. m. started the boat for the Cape; at 8 a. m. 5 boats came to the limit and hauled but tows, took 300 fish; at dark the boat returned to Shoe Cove.

FRIDAY, 10th.

At 4 a. m. boat went to the Cape; saw but 5 boats for the day; fish very scarce.

SATURDAY, 11th.

At daylight boat left Shoe Cove for the limit, but 4 batteaux at the Cape; at 8 a. m. blowing strong breeze from the N. E.; boat and 4 French boats took shelter in Mansfield bite for the day; at dark returned to Shoe Cove.

SUNDAY, 12th.

Boat remained at Shoe Cove all day.

MONDAY, 13th.

Sent the boat and crew to the Cape; at 6 p. m. returned; saw no boat for the day; sea very high.

Perhaps it is worthy of remark, that previous to protection on the French Shore, there was but 3 or 4 Bankers from all the Harbours between Carpoone and Cape St. John. This summer, there is 11 vessels that choose the Banks in preference to the Shore fishery, in consequence of the protection at Cape John, and I might also add Belle Isle, for there has been no fish caught there this summer by the French. There are 2 vessels less at Lascie this season, and those 2 are on the Banks.

REPORT FROM JAMES MARMADUKE WINTER Esq., ON THE SALMON FISHERY OF THIS ISLAND.

St. John's, Newfoundland, }
February 8th, 1856. }

SIR,—In compliance with your desire, I have the honor to lay before you the following information which I have derived from various sources, as well as from my own observation with regard to the Salmon Fisheries prosecuted in the Bays and Rivers of this Colony.

The preservation and maintenance of the Salmon Fisheries of Newfoundland is a subject well worthy of earnest attention and support. To prevent the destruction of the fish during the spawning season, by proper modes of fishing, as also to provide for the passage of the fish up those streams which they have formerly frequented, some enactments are absolutely necessary. It is a fact that the labouring population possess very imperfect knowledge respecting the peculiar habits of the animals and fishes, the procuration of which is their chief employment;—it would appear that the sole object is the obtaining possession of them in any way and by every means, without giving themselves time to enquire as to the best mode of increasing their number, by allowing them, at certain times, to perform undisturbed those functions by which the species are propagated, and the stock preserved. I propose to confine my remarks solely to the subject of the Salmon, its preservation, procreation, and its habits; and its almost total annihilation by the present method generally adopted by those whose interests would be to perpetuate and increase the species, so as to make it an unlimited source of profit and support. The present system, as carried out in certain localities, from over-netting in some, and the using of weirs in other places, has contributed, year after year, to the destruction of this fine and valuable fish, which are in their annual return to the place of incubation to deposit their spawn; on every side obstacles meet and obstruct their progress; and as the current is continually flowing into the sea, from which the fish are returning, they are bewildered and impeded in their course until captured, or are from necessity obliged to deposit their spawn in places wholly unsuited to their development, and thus thousands of thousands are annually destroyed. This is not understood by the poor unenlightened Salmon-catcher; and, unconscious of his great error, this system is year by year continued, and he complains loudly that his voyage, each succeeding year, is less than the former, not knowing that he himself is the instrument of his own deprivation and its consequent results. The habits of the Salmon are so generally known that it would be superfluous to offer many observations. The Salmon is a fish that requires both the ocean water and fresh water rivers to sustain its existence; and at regular intervals it returns to the same river in which it first received its being—this fact has been fully proved and recorded by many who have assiduously watched their development, growth, and progress. “The Salmon enters the rivers of Nova Scotia during the latter part of April. Those rivers of New Brunswick which fall into the Bay of Funday, the Salmon enters at the latter part of May, while it seldom enters the rivers which fall into the Gulf of St. Lawrence until the month of June.” In the Northern part of Newfoundland it enters the rivers in the latter month. “The female Salmon first enters the rivers, the male fish follows, about a month later than the female, and lastly comes the grilse, or young Salmon, which continue to ascend the rivers during July and August. Salmon swim with great rapidity, shoot up the most.

Fisheries.

oblique and glancing rapids with the velocity of an arrow, and frequently leap falls of 10 and 12 feet in height. It is believed that the utmost limits of perpendicular height which a Salmon can attain in leaping is 14 feet ; but their perseverance is remarkable, for although they fail, time after time, yet after remaining quiescent for a few moments to recruit their strength, they renew their efforts and generally succeed ; but, it is said, they sometimes kill themselves by the violence of those efforts. Before entering the rivers, they life awhile in the brackish water of the tide-ways. as they do also when they descend to the sea, to render the change from one to the other less abrupt, and rid themselves of certain parasitical animals which attach to them, when they remain long either in fresh water or salt, as the case may be. The spawn is not deposited until the water is greatly below its summer temperature. Professor Agassiz stated that 42° of Fahrenheit's Thermometer, or 10° above the freezing point, was the temperature at which Salmon cast their ova. It is absolutely necessary, that the water should be aerated, or highly supplied with oxygen, hence the Salmon resort to shallow pure water, and swiftly running streams, the rapidity and frequent falls in which impart purity and vitality, mingling their waters with the atmosphere. It has been found that the eggs of the Salmon are hatched in 114 days when the temperature of the water is at 36°, in 101 days when it is at 43°; and in 90 days when it is at 45°. At the end of two months, the young fish attains the length of an inch and a quarter ; at the age of six month, it has grown to the length of three-and-a-quarter inch. In this state the young Salmon fry are called parrs, and are readily known by their silvery scale, and by their having perpendicular bars of a dusky gray colour crossing the lateral line. In this state the fry remain a whole year in the fresh water, not going down to the sea until the second spring after being hatched. The growth of the parr is very slow, but when it has attained the length of seven inches, a complete change takes place in its colour. The dark crossbars disappear, as also the small red spots, and the fish assumes a brilliant silvery appearance ; it then bears the outward resemblance of what it really is—a young Salmon, and is termed a Salmon smolt. As soon as this change has taken place, the smolt evinces the most anxious desire to visit the sea ; and it is alleged, that if it is prevented doing so, by any insuperable obstacle, it will throw itself on the bank and perish. Up to this time the growth of the young Salmon is very slow, but on reaching the sea, it is exceedingly rapid ; a smolt of six or seven ounces in weight, after two or three months absence in the sea, will return as a grilse of 4 or 5 pounds weight ; this has been proved beyond all dispute. Smolts have been taken by hundreds, marked with numbered tickets of zinc attached to their dorsal fins, then set at liberty, and recaptured in the autumn of the same year, as grilse, varying from 2 to 8 pounds in weight. These have been released with the labels unremoved, and have been seen in the spring of the third year, returning to the sea, with weight not increased ; in the succeeding autumn, they have been once more taken, as full-grown fish, from 16 to 25 pounds weight. Direct experiments have been made, by the learned Professor before named, showing that the intensity of the red colour of their flesh depends upon the quantity of gammarinæ which they have devoured. The Salmon in descending rivers invariably take the sides of their banks, and never go far into the centre of the stream. In Green Bay, from 20th October until ice forms in the Bay, Salmon of a large size are caught, and in Twillingate, in the latter part of the month December and in January, large numbers of Salmon are captured of great size and fatness ; the colour of the fish being much paler than of those caught in the summer season : they weigh some 15 to 25 pounds each. It is a singular fact that not one Salmon in one hundred is caught going up the river, but almost all when coming out of the Bay ; when the tide runs into Hall's Bay, few fish are caught—the tides are very uncertain, as for some days it is continually running in, and vice versa. The tides, therefore, affect the voyage to a great degree—Salmon caught in the head of the Bay, are generally much smaller than those caught at the entrance. It requires about sixty to one hundred fish to the tierce of those caught in the rivers, when from thirty to forty-five of those caught on the seaboard are amply sufficient. The usual size of mesh used on the South-side of Green Bay, extending to Twillingate and Fogo, is 4 to 4½ inches; when on the north-side of the Bay, where the fish is of large size, 5 to 5½ inch mesh is required. The length of Net varies from 40 to 60 fathoms, and the depth from 2 to 4 fathoms, according to circumstances; these Nets are moored close to the shore, and run out some distance into the river—if more than one Net is used it is called a fleet, and sometimes 4, 5, or 6, as the case may be, are attached close to each other, so closely that no fish can pass between them; at the outer part of this fleet or Net, what is termed a hawkbill is formed. In the following diagram the shore is indicated by the letter A, the net or fleet by B, the hawk Bill by C, the daggers show the direction which the fish is taking:

The distance between each net or fleet is usually from 100 to 150 fathoms, according to the position of the Salmon station. It is supposed by some that, from the fish being caught descending the rivers, they go up in the centre of the river, and when in search of food, trim along shore towards the sea. I will now endeavour to shew that the almost total annihilation of this invaluable fish is induced by the course adopted by those employed in its capture. The closing of the various rivers and their tributaries by mill-dams, and mooring their nets from each side across the river; and, in many places, as I am informed, the practice of using weirs are the most prominent among the many evils which tend to the total extinction of this branch of our fisheries, and which require an immediate check;—the injuries arising from saw-dust and mill-rubbish being cast into the rivers in this country are not sufficient by proven to enable me to express an opinion as to their ill-effects. (The rivers from about the first week in June, until the last week in July, are literally strewed with corks attached to the head-ropes of Salmon nets, which cause them to float upon the surface of the water. In Gander Bay, the people are obliged to drive stakes or piles into the bed of the river, to prevent the current from floating the nets; these piles extend to some considerable distance into the tide-way, and up the river; they use no weirs in this Bay, and therefore their use cannot be assigned as the cause of the almost total failure of the Salmon fishery in this locality. I would here state that about 25 or 30 years since a vessel of between 200 and 300 tons used to be sent up this river, and annually take a cargo of some 1000 tierces of Salmon and proceed to market forthwith; when now, lamentable to state, not 30 tierces are caught there.) To these causes the failures of the fisheries are mainly attributable beyond dispute generally throughout the Colony. Facts are stubborn things, and such are the facts. With regard to the catch of Salmon in the coves and headlands, it is always very uncertain, as the winds, in a great measure, affect their capture in these places. There has been great dispute with regard to the rule which should regulate the laying down of their nets, as some are in the habit of placing what are termed berth-nets, viz:—small pieces of net, at certain points, and claiming such points as their right—thus causing serious inconvenience and loss to those who are not prepared, or may be unable to adopt the same course; the consequence is that encroachments upon each other frequently arise, and blows interchanged, there being no definite rule or law by which all should be governed. In Biscay Bay River, near Trepassey, from 80 to 100 tierces of Salmon were taken in one season some 40 years ago—of late years the average catch has not been more than from 10 to 20 tierces; a weir has been for many years used in this river. I would respectfully suggest that some salutary law should be enacted, defining the power of each individual interested in this branch of the fisheries, and thus put an end to the perpetual bickerings and squabbles that are disturbing the peace and unity of the neighbourhood in which they reside. To show in some degree the sad change of condition consequent on the failure of the Salmon—many Salmon catchers have to my own knowledge sent Bills of Exchange to purchase Nets, &c. to the amount of from £40 to £100, who are now unable to purchase the actual necessaries of life—so fluctuating is this branch of our staple trade. In Hall's Bay there are three large Salmon brooks, in which weirs are constantly used; these weirs are placed across the river, so that the top of the common or neap tide just reaches them; they are formed by placing a beam across the river;—racks, resembling those in use in stable for horses, are formed about eight to ten feet long, which extend from the bottom of the river to the top of the beam, these run out from each side to within about three feet of each other, or extending to the deepest part of the river, where a passage left for the ingress of the fish into a pound formed by extending the racks parallel with the banks of the river, to six or eight feet in length on either side, and crossed to meet their ends, forming a pound of about six to eight feet square, the entrance to which is on the principle of the common wire rat cage, so that the fish can force in, but cannot return—thus forming a perfect barrier to the egress of the Salmon—the consequence is that the fish cannot escape that is once entrapped. The fish are thus prevented from reaching their spawning beds, and millions are thus destroyed. This system is condemned by all Salmon-catchers except those using weirs, and pronounced highly injurious and destructive to this invaluable fishery, and tends to their utter extinction. The following diagram will show the form of weir, with pound attached:—

[a moveable plank is thrown across the pound, on which to stand when dipping out the fish.] When the fish are brought to land, they are immediately split through the upper jaw or skull, down the back to the tail,—washed in salt water, and the blood thoroughly separated from the fish—a process of great importance, as regards the quality and value of the fish; they are then placed in puncheons, by laying the first tier on their backs—previously salting.

Fisheries.

each separately, and completely covering each layer with salt until the puncheon is filled, when weights are placed on the top layer to keep the fish under the pickle, which is formed from the juices of the fish and the salt. After thus lying until convenient, they are packed in tierces of 300 pounds each, sprinkling about three or four ounces of saltpetre equally through each tierce; (the saltpetre imparts a rich red colour to the fish,) the tierces are then heaped up, and strong pickle poured into the bung-hole of each cask until filled, when they are fit for shipment. One hogshead of salt is required to preserve about four tierces of Salmon. In Green Bay about 3 tons of salmon are annually preserved, fresh, in tin cans, hermetically sealed for exportation; and in Trinity Bay a large quantity is similarly prepared for the same purpose. Some quantity of Salmon is also preserved by smoking, which process is performed in the first place by splitting the fish as before described; but now the back bone is separated from the fish, it is then placed on a table or boards and lightly salted for about 24 hours, then washed and kept spread by thin strips of wood placed across from gill to gill, in front and behind, hung in an open chimney, and hardwood fuel is preferred to create smoke until cured—some use rooms appropriate to the purpose.

For many of the foregoing observations, I am indebted to the perusal of "Reports on the Sea and River Fisheries of New Brunswick," by M. H. PERLEY, Esquire, of that Province.

The above Report is respectfully submitted by

Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

JAMES MARMADUKE WINTER,

SELECT COMMITTEE ON EVIDENCE TAKEN BEFORE THE SELECT COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ENQUIRE INTO THE SALMON FISHERIES OF THIS COLONY.

Mr. WINTER, Fogo—

Is of opinion, that the Salmon Fishery should terminate on the 1st day of August in each year, that no net should be allowed to remain set after that period, under any pretence under a penalty. That no Salmon net should be used less than five inches. That Salmon nets should have the name of the owner marked upon the Cork or Buoys thereof, and kept there during the season; that all Poles, Stakes, or any other obstruction placed in the River for the purpose of the Salmon Fishery, be removed on or before the 6th day of August, in each year:

That no person shall set a net or any other device across any River, Cove, or Creek, to injure the natural course of the Salmon, or in any place where they usually go: That no person shall take possession of a Berth or Berths, by placing any nets other than a proper net used for the Salmon Fishery generally: That no person shall place or set a net nearer to another than some distance which may be hereafter defined.

THOMAS KNIGHT, M. H. A.—

I am acquainted with the Salmon Fisheries to the Northward, have been so for many years. I have noticed the decline of that Fishery, particularly within the last few years; cannot account for it in any other way than by the stoppage of the Brooks, both by racks and nets. This I think should be prevented, and a free passage left to the fish at all seasons; does not think a time could be fixed, as the season varies in different parts; believes it would be beneficial to obtain the opinion of the Magistrates and other persons in the different Districts: That a certain distance should be observed between the nets. I have no doubt but that the saw-dust from the Mills injures the Salmon Fishery.

HENRY KNIGHT, Esq.—

Is acquainted with the Salmon Fishery in Exploit's Waters and Gander Bay. The fish is taken with nets, the only place he knows of Weirs to be used are in Hall's Bay. The average catch of Salmon is declining for the last ten years, the cause perhaps is owing to more persons engaged in catching it. Spawning fish, when not obstructed, will go up to the heads of the Rivers and deposit their spawn in shoal water; cannot say the exact time, think it is about a month after the Salmon Fishery commences, which is in May. The Salmon never spawn in the salt water. At Belle Isle the method of taking Salmon is by erecting weirs; they are constructed so as to admit of a free passage of the fish up the Rivers, and on their return to the salt water, the weirs are lowered and the fish taken.

Is of opinion that mill dams are injurious to the Salmon Fishery, and where they are erected on main Rivers the fish invariably abandon them.

The manner of putting out nets should be regulated by law, every Salmon-catcher puts out his nets as he pleases. This should not be allowed, as the first man may put out his nets so as to sweep the whole shore. The nets should be defined as follows, viz, : where one net is used, a distance of one hundred yards should be kept, where two nets in fleet two hundred yards and where there are three in fleet, three hundred yards (this of course has reference to the deep sea fishery.) There should, also, be a regulated distance between nets in Rivers, so as to allow a free intercourse for the fish to and from the salt and fresh water.

Is also of opinion that the size of the mesh used in taking Salmon should not be less than four inches.

Fisheries.

WILLIAM DAVIS, Colinet, St. Mary's Bay—

Is engaged in catching Salmon for the last Thirty-seven years at Colinet, Twenty-five years ago, in conjunction with his Uncles, they used to take twenty-five tierces and about two thousand smoked Salmon ; since that time the fishery has been gradually declining. The last five years the average is from three to five tierces :

Is of opinion that the decline of the Salmon Fishery is owing to persons engaged in that fishery, keeping out their craft too long, which takes up the spawning fish ; and thus he accounts for so much white fish being taken. Is also of opinion that no nets or any obstruction should be allowed after the 25th of July, thinks it would have a most beneficial effect on the Salmon Fishery, if a law were enacted to regulate the shooting out of nets, and under any circumstances it should not be permitted to have nets out when the fish are going up the rivers to spawn. The Salmon Fishery commences at Colinet from the 1st to the 5th of June :

Is aware of the decline in the Salmon Fishery at Salmonier, and thinks it is caused by the want of a proper law to direct the time of keeping out nets.

Light Houses.

REPORT OF THE INSPECTOR OF LIGHT HOUSES IN REFERENCE TO THE PROPOSED LIGHT HOUSE ON GREEN ISLAND.

St. John's, 4th March, 1856.

SIR,—In obedience to your directions, my best attention has been occupied in preparing a Plan of a Light-house adapted for Green Island, in Trinity Bay, which I have now the honor to submit to the Board of Works, together with an estimate of its cost, and probable expense consequent on its annual maintenance.

With reference to the character of the contemplated Light on Green Island, and the means to be adopted so that it cannot be taken for any other Light on the coast, I would beg to observe, that the Light should be revolving, and the interval between each flash two minutes. In adopting this it will be necessary to increase the speed of Cape Bonavista Light in its revolutions, from two to one minute, and, although this rate will be the same as at Cape Spear, yet it will not be possible to mistake it for any other Light, because it exhibits an alternate red and white flash.

In the absence of any Light being placed on Green Island, the altering of the speed of Cape Bonavista Light is desirable, the interval between each flash of 2 minutes being unnecessarily long, and has been often complained of.

I have the honor to remain,

Sir,

Your obedient, humble servant,

ROBERT OKE,

Inspector of Light Houses.

HON. EDMUND HANRAHAN,
Chairman, Board Works,
&c., &c., &c.

ESTIMATE OF THE COST OF PLACING A LIGHT HOUSE ON GREEN ISLAND, AT THE ENTRANCE OF CATALINA HARBOUR, IN TRINITY BAY; ALSO THE PROBABLE COST ATTENDING ITS ANNUAL MAINTENANCE.

Say—Dwelling House 33 feet long, 23 feet wide, 12 feet upright—to rest on a stone foundation, one foot off the ground, built of rubble stone and good lime, and sand mortar; the sells to be 9 inches square, all the principal uprights 7 × 6 inches, jack studs 7 × 3 inches, braces 8 × 3 inches, lower and upper joic and rafters 8 × 3 inches, collar beams 6 × 3 inches, wallplates 7 × 6 inches, clamps on which the upper joic rest 7 × 4 inches, all of the timber too of pine—oil and coal-shead as indicated in the elevation rough plan—two stacks of chimneys—scantling of the Tower to be 7 × 6 inches—diameter of Tower 10 feet.

Lantern, eight feet diamter, to have ten sides, and ten sashes; the height from sole plate to cornice plate 5 feet; plate glass 28 × 36 inches; Roof copper; with every other requisite, so as to render the whole complete and efficient. The light revolving; the interval between each flash 2 minutes; and to be seen at least 15 miles in a favorable state of the atmosphere; 4 reflectors and 4 lamps.

	Sterling.	Currency.
Total cost of the whole as above described, when the light may be put in requisition	£1185 0 0	£1361 10 0

POST-MASTER GENERAL'S SPECIAL REPORT ON THE LOCAL POSTAL ARRANGEMENTS OF THIS COLONY.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT,
St. John's, 26th July, 1855. }

SIR,—In compliance with the request contained in your letter of the 9th inst., I have now the honor of placing before you, for His Excellency the Governor's information, a special Report upon the Local Postal arrangements of this Colony, with a detailed statement of the various Routes, Couriers, Post Offices, and Way Offices, with the amount of salaries and expense of transit, &c.

These statements, I regret, do not shew the evidence of a satisfactory progress in our Postal system, and which may be attributed to the isolated position of the population of this Island, and the absence of Roads or other means whereby communication may be facilitated. Where this is not the case, I would strongly recommend the abolishing of such offices as do not yield at least one-third of the expense necessary for their support; but under the peculiar circumstances to which I have referred, I am of opinion that very grave considerations should induce the withdrawal from any Town or District, of the benefits that flow from Postal communication, where Posts have already been established because the Revenue derivable from a particular locality may be unremunerative.

The result of a well defined Postal system must operate beneficially to this community, but particularly so as to those resident in the extern, where intelligence can only be looked for through Postal channels. Thus the establishment assumes in this country one of the highest importance, as regards the dissemination of knowledge amongst all classes.

“There is, perhaps, no Department of Government the business of which, if duly recorded, will furnish more striking evidence of the prosperity and progress of the country than the Post-office; whether as regards the increase of the general wealth, the improved education and intelligence of the people, or the striving industry and energy” by which they may be actuated.

Much has been said upon the imperfection of the present Postal system; but if it be remembered that as late as 1852, the first establishment of Local Posts was formed, at which period there were created simultaneously, fifteen Post-offices, seven Way-offices, in addition to the formation of eighteen Post routes, and the appointment of fifteen Post Masters, and seven Way-Officers, eighteen Contractors, and eighteen Couriers, the whole of whom were as matter of course quite ignorant of the duties devolving upon them, that the question arises how such an extended system could so far be perfected, that the present arrangements should call for so little revision as is now contemplated.

The alterations hereinafter suggested for His Excellency's consideration, I am of opinion, are all that are at present necessary to be made.

Postal Returns.

I may remark that a portion of the Members of the House of Assembly have made the subject of Postal reform a very prominent feature in their late addresses to their several constituents, and from whom I may expect to receive some useful information when a cessation from their public duties will permit.

Few causes of complaint upon the irregularity of the transmission of correspondence through any of the Offices have been brought under my observation, and those have related mostly to Newspapers.

A Carbonear correspondent complained in the Express Newspaper, of the irregularity of the Post in the transmission of that paper. The Editor some time afterwards stated that the fault did not originate in the Post-office.

Several Placentia correspondents also, similarly complained in the Newfoundlander Newspaper. In those instances also, the Offices through which the papers passed, were relieved from false imputation.

Missing or late correspondence arising from whatever cause is generally attributed to the Post office. To illustrate this point more fully, I subjoin the following extract from a very elaborate Report of the Imperial Postmaster General (Viscount Canning) for 1855, addressed to the Right Hon. the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury on the Post-office.

“ I must add, too, that whilst it cannot be denied that trouble and loss are too often inflicted upon individuals through the carelessness or dishonesty of some of the twenty-one thousands servants of the Post-office, yet the instances are not few in which it has been shown to the satisfaction of the complainants that the fault attributable at first sight, and perhaps naturally, to the Post-office, rested really in other quarters.”

“ The Publisher of one of the London papers complained of the repeated loss in the Post-office of copies of his Journal addressed to persons abroad. An investigation showed that the abstraction was made by the Publisher's Clerks,” &c. “ In another case a general complaint having arisen as to the number of Newspapers sent to the Chief Office in St. Martin's, LeGrand, the investigation led to the discovery of a regular mart held near the office, and supplied with Newspapers by the private messengers employed to carry them to the Post.”

Some further examples were given proving the unjustifiableness of the charges made against the London Office.

Complaints of various kinds must naturally be looked for in a department that comes into such daily contact with the public, and as the correctness of its details materially affect the well-being of society, the public naturally look with a watchful eye upon all its arrangements.

For a series of years the public have complained, and very justly, of the faulty arrangements and want of accommodation of the Post-office in this town. In my reports of preceding years, I therein pointed out the great difficulty of conducting the business in so contracted a space, and the inconvenience suffered by the Officers of the Department from this cause; but nothing, I regret to say, has yet been effected, in affording those increased facilities which the public have a right to expect.

Postal Returns.

The service of the Post-office being one that requires efficient means for a well-conducted and well-regulated Postal system, I rest under the hope that the department will be speedily relieved from the difficulties under which it labours in this particular.

Alterations or changes in the Post-office department are of so intricate and important a character, and where there are so many conflicting opinions and interests involved, that I feel great delicacy in offering an opinion upon the matter; I would, therefore, take the liberty of respectfully suggesting that a permanent Postal Committee be appointed by His Excellency to report upon the general Postal arrangements of the Colony, and of their recommending, from time to time, such measures as they may deem beneficial. I would further beg to suggest that the committee be composed of three persons in conjunction with myself, and invested with authority to correct all minor details connected with the establishment, when it may be found expedient so to do.

In the meantime I have the honor to submit for His Excellency's consideration, the sub-joined Tabular Reports. Number one shewing the Revenue derived from those offices at present established, the amount of correspondence passing through them, with the stipend allowed to each officer who is placed over their control, and from which statement a correct opinion may be formed of such offices as may be dispensed with.

I further beg to submit the following suggestions and alterations, which after due consideration, I am of opinion, may be acted upon with advantage, and by which public convenience would be greatly promoted.

First.—The immediate introduction of Imperial, Provincial, and Local Postal stamps. The former to be of the value respectively of one penny and sixpence. The Provincial of the value of fourpence, sixpence half-penny, and one shilling; and the local of the value of threepence.

Secondly.—That authority be given for the registration of letters, and that an extra charge of sixpence be made on each letter for such registration.

Thirdly.—The introduction of the money order system, would also be a great boon to those persons wishing to transmit small sums through the Post-office to their friends in Great Britain. I have been in communication with the Postmaster General of Halifax upon the subject, who has informed me that no arrangement has yet been made, either in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, or Canada, for its introduction into those Provinces, and that he was therefore for the present unable to give any information on the subject.

Fourthly.—As great irregularity has existed in the transmission of the Western Mails, which has been the cause of frequent complaint, both by the inhabitants of Placentia, Burin, and Harbor Briton, I beg to recommend that the service between St. John's and Placentia, be carried out by one Contractor, instead of two as at present. By this arrangement the present difficulty would be overcome in the delay which not unfrequently occurs at Salmonier by the St. John's and Placentia Couriers being out of time on their arrival at that place with the Western and the return mails for St. John's, arising on some occasions from the non-arrival of the Halifax mail-boat in due course, the badness of the roads in winter, and other causes, by which circumstances those mails remain at the Salmonier Way-office, until opportunity offers for forwarding them, when they are sent to destination at an extra expense.

Postal Returns.

In support of this change I beg to annex copies of two addresses sent to me upon this subject, one signed by R. F. Sweetman and others, and the second by George LeMessurier and others. I am also of opinion that a change might be advantageously made in the Mail Line between Burin and Harbor Briton; at present the mails are conveyed from Burin by messenger to Garnish, and thence by boat to Harbor Briton.

The line of route that I have now the honor of recommending is, with little alteration, that already proposed in my letter of the 15th September, 1852, addressed to the late Colonial Secretary, the hon. James Crowdy, viz., that the mails for Harbor Briton be forwarded via St. Lawrence, Lawn, Lamaline, Fortune, and Grand Bank.

The route would also open a communication between this place and St. Peter's, for which town numerous letters arrive here from Foreign Ports, and which could be forwarded from Grand Bank or Lamaline, either of which places is but a few hours run from St. Peter's. The only communication between St. John's and that place is via Halifax.

The Government concurred in the desirableness of this arrangement, and an annual sum of £20 was subsequently granted by the Legislature for the appointment of a Courier from Burin to St. Lawrence and Lamaline, at which latter place a Way-office was to have been established, but as Grand Bank was not included in the scheme, it was afterwards considered by his Excellency, the late Governor, unnecessary to make these appointments, and the mails were continued to be forwarded as before.

Should the Government now deem it advisable to have the Western mails transmitted in this way, the interests of the inhabitants of Grand Bank would be conserved, and the prayer of the Petitioners conceded, whose names are attached to the petition enclosed to me in Mr. Ayre's letter of the 18th inst. for my report thereon, by His Excellency's command.

I would observe, however, that doubts have been entertained as to the practicability of this route, in consequence of there being at present no roads between these settlements, excepting that from Burin to St. Lawrence, sixteen miles; the whole distance being sixty miles.

Fifthly.—The number and weight of the Western mails render it imperative to have them conveyed by a light waggon as far as the roads will render it practicable; and thence by horse to Placentia.—It will, therefore, be necessary to convey this intimation in the next advertisement for tenders to prevent undue loss to the contracting party with the department.

Sixthly.—In the Act of the 16th Vic., Cap. 3, Sec. 18, a sum of £50. was granted for a boat to run between Bonavista and Greenspond, "for (the Act goes on to state) the present summer; provided, that on the expiration of the present contract for the conveyance of the Mails to Fogo and Twillingate, such mails shall be transmitted by way of Carboncar, Trinity, Bonavista, and Greenspond."

By direction of His Excellency Ker Bailie Hamilton, Esq., the Northern mails were forwarded in this way during the past winter, but the expense of transit was found to be so large that His Excellency remanded the order.

Postal Returns.

The Mails have since been transmitted direct to Greenspond, Fogo, and Twillingate as heretofore.

Seventhly.—Great difficulty is found to exist both in England and the United States in dealing with Public Companies for the transmission of the mails by Railway. This matter has been referred to by Viscount Canning, in the want of arrangements for enforcing punctuality in the arrival of the Mail Trains, and other obstructions of the Postal service, and remarks, “Perhaps it is some consolation to see by the Report of the Postmaster General of the United States, that difficulties in relation to Railways, similar to those which I have described “exist in that country also.” Similar difficulties too, have an existence here, where the mails are transmitted by steamer.

The Merchants, Clergymen, and other inhabitants of Carbonear have on several occasions expressed their disapproval of the manner in which the mail service has been carried out by the Conception Bay Steam Company, and several addresses, signed by these gentlemen, have been forwarded to me, praying that the evils of which they complain may be corrected; and I must in justice to the Company observe that they have, where too great a sacrifice of their interests have not been involved, cordially co-operated in affording such accommodation as appeared to me to be requisite. To provide, however, against similar contingencies, which I find no contract however stringent will prevent, it has been proposed by me to the Petitioners that two gentlemen from each of the towns of Harbor Grace, Carbonear, and Brigus shall be appointed to meet the Directors of the Company to fix the arrivals and departure of the Steamer for mutual accommodation, and I am happy to say, that this proposition has met their views and will be acted upon previously to new contracts being entered into with the Company, and I entertain no doubt of the satisfactory result of the conference.

Whilst upon this subject, I beg to remark that the greatest exertion has to be used in forwarding the Conception Bay Mails on the arrival of the Halifax Packet; on some occasions they are despatched at so late an hour that great risk attends the sailing of the Steamer across the Bay. I more particularly allude to the fall of the year, when she not unfrequently has to leave the Cove at night, when the weather is stormy and boisterous.—It was on such an occasion, in the performance of this service, that the melancholy loss of the mail-boat Victoria and crew occurred, and it was supposed that had the mails arrived but half an hour before, the boat would have reached her destination in safety.

With the view of having this evil remedied, it becomes my duty to suggest, that a person be appointed to assort the external letters immediately after their receipt from the Halifax Packet, whose business it shall also be to make up such local mails as may require to be forwarded at that time.

To carry out this service with efficiency, it will be necessary that the party who contracts for the delivery of the mails at the Cove shall keep a horse in readiness to convey special mails. A considerable service is now annually expended for such a service. But the inconvenience and delay attendant upon procuring a mode of conveyance at the time required is very great, and on some occasions it is not to be had.

Eighthly.—I also beg to annex a copy of a petition from Allan Goodridge and others, praying that a Way-office may be established at Renew's.

Postal Returns.

This town being an important Fishing Establishment, I would respectfully advise that the prayer of the petitioners be acceded to, particularly as the expense attendant upon this appointment would be but £4 per annum, being the salary of the Way-master only.

Ninthly.—I beg to draw His Excellency's attention to my letter of the 12th April last, addressed to the late Colonial Secretary, the Hon. James Crowdy, upon the necessity of an increase to the staff of this office, in which I pointed out the overtaken strength of the present Assistants, arising from the increasing duties of the department.

Tenthly.—The necessity of the daily attendance of a Messenger at the General Post-office is every day becoming more urgent, to prevent the unavoidable delay that now frequently occurs in the delivery of late correspondence.

Eleventhly.—I have now the honor to draw the attention of His Excellency to the 10th Sec. of the 14th Vic., Cap. 4, in reference to exemption of certain documents and papers from postage. The terms used in the Act being rather indefinite, I beg to subjoin an extract from my report of January 1853, upon this subject, with the view of the Act being amended in this particular. "To prevent the abuse of this privilege, as also to enable the officers of this department to form a correct opinion in carrying out the intentions of the Legislature, I would respectfully suggest the following conditions:—First, that all letters, despatches, and other documents upon public business, intended to be sent free through the Post, shall be confined to those passing between one public office and another, and shall have marked on the face of every such letter, the words 'On Her Majesty's Service,' also the writer's name or office in the corner: as at present private individuals may, without detection, address their private correspondence to public officers free of charge.—Secondly, that all books, periodical publications, pamphlets, papers ordered to be printed by either branch of the Legislature, and all returns, writs, and process to and from the Sheriffs and their Deputies (except in cases in which the Crown is a party) and all newspapers intended to be transmitted free by Post, be sent without a cover, or in a cover open at the ends or sides."

"This section has also been construed to include the correspondence of Boards and Bodies appointed under the Local Act, but which I have not considered to be entitled to exemption. Such correspondence therefore, in all cases, when sent through the Post-office, have been charged with full rates of letter Postage. I, therefore, trust that His Excellency will see the expediency of having rendered more definite the terms and meaning of the Section referred to."

I also beg to refer His Excellency to the late Attorney General's opinion upon this subject, contained in a letter dated the 20th November, 1852, addressed to C. Ayre, Esq., and forwarded to me for my guidance.

Twelfthly.—All correspondence passing through the Imperial Post-office, the Postmaster General's excepted, are taxed with full rates of Postage; the same regulation is also observed in Canada, and thus, very properly, the whole Revenue of the office is brought to account and taken credit for by the several departments.

Postal Returns.

The Postmaster General of Canada in his annual Report of last year observes upon this head, that much unnecessary labor and waste of time is occasioned to the department by the collection of Postage on Government and Legislative correspondence, and recommends "the transmission of all such matter through the mail, under proper restrictions, free of postage charge, and that in lieu thereof, a certain fixed annual sum estimated to be equivalent to the aggregate of the postage arising upon such correspondence, should be paid by the Receiver General to the Post-office, to be accounted for as Post office Revenue."

In my belief the adoption of such a regulation here would be but fair ; as regards the Government correspondence which passes through this office free of postage.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your very obedient servant,

W. L. SOLOMON,

P. M. G.

By the present arrangements, letters received by the Steamer at St. John's on Monday or Tuesday reach Placentia on the following Saturday or Sunday, the return mail from Placentia and the Western Shore is due at St. John's on the Saturday after the sailing of the packet with the second mails from St. John's, thus two mails are despatched from St. John's before a reply to a letter even at Halifax can be received, (one mail is unavoidable) the Western mails laying for several days at the St. John's Post-office. By a messenger from Placentia, carrying the Western mails through to St. John's, a fortnight may be saved during the fortnightly, and one month during the monthly mails.

The messenger to leave Placentia on Saturday at 2 p. m., to deliver the mails at St. John's on Tuesday at noon—the week the steamer is due at St. John's with the mails—to be despatched on Wednesday at noon, provided the European mails have arrived in due course, otherwise as soon as possible after arrival of the mails to deliver the mails at Placentia on Saturday following.

Postal Returns.

The Packet Boat to be ready to proceed to the Western Shore as soon as the Postmaster can despatch the mails, as by the present arrangement the letters from the Westward will of course be despatched in steamer or sailing packet earlier, as well as the Placentia letters, by this arrangement being carried out.

The foregoing are my suggestions as an improvement upon the present postal arrangements, leaving to others equally interested in the matter to state their views on the subject.

SIR,—Much and serious inconvenience having been felt by persons residing at and carrying on business in the districts of Burin and Placentia Bay West, from the present mode of transmitting the mails, the subscribers beg respectfully to suggest for the consideration of H. M. Postmaster General, their views on this matter.

By the plan at present adopted, the Western mails arrive in St. John's after the departure of the steamer for Halifax, and consequently letters for England, the Colonies and Foreign Ports, instead of proceeding promptly (often of the greatest possible importance to individual interests) remain in the Post-office in St. John's, until the departure of the succeeding outward mail, thereby inconveniencing more or less all persons engaged in trade in those districts, particularly in cases where orders for Insurance, for Salt, and other indispensable supplies for the fishery, are the purport of such letters, and which require to be promptly executed.

The plan we would suggest as a remedy for the present very serious cause of complaint is, that the mails, instead of being made up in St. John's on Thursday morning, should be despatched thence not later than 10 o'clock on Wednesday, in which case they would usually arrive at Placentia on the Friday afternoon following. The Packet Master should be required to start from Placentia the first tide after the arrival of the mails at that place, (weather permitting) and the Postmaster at Burin should be directed to close the mails on the Wednesday following at 10 p. m., and then deliver them to the master of the Packet, who should be required to depart immediately, weather permitting. Were such orders given by the Postmaster General, and insisted on being fully carried out, the Western mails would arrive at Placentia, nine trips out of ten, in ample time to be forwarded on the Saturday, and the letters intended for the mail steamer on her return to Halifax, would be received in St. John's sufficiently early to be transmitted to their destination by that conveyance.

Should the late arrival of the mails from Halifax prevent the departure of the Foreign mail for Placentia by 10 a. m. on Wednesday, then to prevent disappointment from the non-arrival of the letters from St. John's, the mail with the St. John's letters only for the Westward, should be despatched on the morning of Thursday at latest, to insure the return of the Packet from Burin in proper time.

We beg also respectfully to remark for your consideration, that it is our decided opinion that the mail service between the Capital and Placentia, could be far better performed by one Contractor than by two, and that the result, by this individual responsibility, would be greater promptitude, efficiency and convenience to all interested in the adoption of a more perfect system in the mail service to the Westward, besides a saving of expense to the Colony in this branch of the public service.

Board of Works.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF WORKS FOR 1855.

The Board of Works, in making this their first report, beg leave to state, that since the appointment of the Board, they have had under their serious consideration the conditions and arrangements of the several Institutions committed to their management and control.

No little delay was experienced by the Board in collecting from the different bodies who previously to the passing of the Act authorising the constitution of the Board of Works, had control over the different Institutions placed under the management of the Board; and it was not until the first day of October last that the Board became possessed of the books of these several Institutions, or became sufficiently acquainted with their conditions and the details of their management, as to warrant the active operations of the Board.

In referring to the return accompanying this report, it will be found that the outlay in the repairs of Government House and the outhouses, was large during the past year; but it is hoped the expenditure in future will not be so large, as the repairs done will not render it necessary to incur any considerable liability for these buildings for some time to come.

The expenditure shewn in the annexed return, on account of the Colonial Building, was rendered necessary from the filthy state of the Building, the fitting up of the offices of the Colonial Secretary, Board of Works, and Financial Secretary, the construction of the passage way leading from the Assembly Room to the basement story, the erection of a porch at the Eastern and Western entrances of the Building, and the repairs, and in some places the reconstruction of the main drain leading from the Building, so as to give it a sufficient declination to carry off the water.

The dilapidated state of the Court House was early brought under the notice of the Board, and such temporary repairs as could not possibly be dispensed with were made, but much yet requires to be done to make that building secure and adapted to the wants of the several departments by whom it is occupied.

The Lock-up in St. John's being wholly unsuited both in point of security and convenience, the Board have come to the resolution of constructing a Lock-up in the Court House, in that portion of it known as the Market House, and preparations are now in progress for the purpose of its accomplishment.

The subject of the Penitentiary is one that has given the Board much anxious consideration; and, taking all the difficulties which surround the matter into account, and looking at the miserable prison accommodation in the building at Signal Hill, the Board, whilst they deprecate the idea of proceeding with the Penitentiary on the scale originally proposed, would respectfully suggest that the site and a portion of the material now on the ground be made use of in the erection of a Gaol suited to the requirements of the Central District.

Annexed is a report of the medical Superintendent of the Lunatic Asylum, shewing that all possible care is taken in the management of the Institution, and the comfort and security of its unhappy inmates.

Board of Works.

The cause of the increase of the expenditure in this Institution the past year, arises from the increase of the patients and the high prices of provisions. At the close of the year the Board advertised for tenders for the supply of provisions and other necessaries. Copies of contracts entered into under such advertisements are annexed.

The report of the Inspector of Light-houses, hereto annexed, shows that these Institutions are in efficient working order, and that the alteration lately made in the Cape Pine Light-house, is one that, whilst it does not injure its efficiency, will considerably curtail the expenditure with that Light-house.

Shortly after the Board assumed control of the St. John's Hospital, its attention was called to the management of this Institution, and a medical attendant was temporarily appointed to assist the medical Keeper. The appointment was temporary, as the Board further determined, with the concurrence of the Executive and Legislature; to adopt measures for the complete reform of the Institution, to make it efficient and worthy of public confidence and support.

The medical gentleman appointed under this resolution declined accepting the office, as it was of a temporary nature, and the Board then resolved to effect their arrangements as soon as circumstances would permit, and determined to allow the Institution to remain under the charge of the medical Keeper until the meeting of the Legislature, when the contemplated changes could be carried into effect.

The annual expenditure in the employment of the able-bodied poor, shown in the return, was rendered imperative from the necessities of the class employed, arising from the partial failure of the potato crop, and the high prices of the necessaries of life and other causes.

On the representation of the Sheriff of the Central District, the expenditure on account of the Gaol was rendered necessary for its security and convenience.

Copies of rules adopted by the Board are annexed, as also copies of printed forms of quarterly returns to be made by each Institution under control of the Board.

Board of Works.

BYE-LAWS.

Resolved.—That the following Bye-laws be adopted for the better management of the affairs of the Board of Works.

1st.—That a General Meeting of the Board shall take place at their Office on the first Wednesday of every month, and Special Meetings shall be convened by the Secretary as often as the Chairman may find it necessary for the transaction of business, or as often as any Member of the Board shall require such meetings to be held for the despatch of business.

2nd.—The Supplies necessary for the St. John's Hospital, the Lunatic Asylum, the Gaols, and any other institution under the control of the Board, shall be obtained by public Advertisement, Tender and Contract, as far as practicable.

3.—For any Miscellaneous items required for the said institutions that cannot be conveniently included in the tender and contract system, it shall be the duty of the respective Officers in immediate charge of any of the said institutions, to make a Requisition therefor quarterly, addressed to the secretary, which shall be regularly submitted, as well as all Tenders for Supplies, for the approval of the Board, before any contract be made, and such Miscellaneous items shall be provided in such way as the Board may direct.

4.—That the Accounts against the Board shall be furnished in duplicate, quarterly, on the 20th days of March, June, September, and December, and no account shall be paid that shall not have received the sanction of the Board, or a Committee of Audit, to consist of at least Three Members of the Board, including the Chairman, provided always, that this regulation shall not apply to the payment of daily Labourers employed under the Board, nor to the Road Contracts, which shall be paid when approved by the Chairman, on the certificate of the Secretary.

5.—The duplicates of all accounts and bills of parcels for ordinary charges of supplies for the St. John's Gaol and Court House, shall be furnished by the supplier to the Sheriff of the Central District; for the Lunatic Asylum, to the Medical attendant thereof; for the St. John's Hospital, to the Medical attendant or keeper thereof, and to the person having immediate charge of any other establishments under the Board, which respective officers shall furnish an abstract of all such accounts with the said accounts, and vouchers annexed on the days prescribed by the fourth rule, according to a form to be supplied to them by the Secretary.

6.—For the purpose of paying the daily wages of persons employed on the Public Works by the Board, and the petty accounts for the various establishments and works, there shall be requisitions drawn on the Government, from time to time, signed by the Chairman, and countersigned by the Secretary, stating the particular amount, and the Special Work or establishment for which the same may be required. Provided always, that no more than £10 a quarter shall be so drawn to meet petty accounts.

Board of Works.

7.—The monies so drawn shall at once be paid into the Savings' Bank, to the credit of the Board of Works, and when any monies shall be required for the payment of wages, the same shall be drawn by the Chairman, but no petty account shall be paid until it shall have been audited.

8.—The Labour Accounts, before being paid, shall be always adjusted by the Secretary, and when approved by the Chairman, shall be paid on a fixed day, Saturday, in each week, by or through the Secretary, from monies to be drawn as aforesaid; and the Secretary shall, at each monthly meeting, submit an abstract of the labour and road accounts paid since the preceding month's meeting.

9.—It shall be the duty of the Secretary to keep Accounts, Reports of all Meetings of the Board, to collect and arrange all Accounts and Matters to be submitted to the Board, to obtain all necessary Returns, and conduct the correspondence; to keep proper Books of Accounts, containing separate accounts for each establishment under the charge of the Board, and which shall be always open for the inspection of the Members of the Board.

10.—The Office of the Board shall be kept open from 10 a. m., to 2 p. m. on each lawful day, or longer if necessary, for the transaction of business.

REPORT OF THE INSPECTOR OF LIGHT HOUSES.

COPY.

ST. JOHN'S, 4th January, 1856.

SIR,—The Inspector, in the exercise of his duty, has the honor of laying before the Board of Works, his report on the several Light-houses in the Colony which it has been his province to visit.

CAPE PINE LIGHT HOUSE,—

This establishment was last visited on the 8th to the 16th September. It will be satisfactory to the Board to learn that the improvements in the light, consequent on the recent alterations, have attracted general notice. Some materials, intended to render the alteration substantial and in keeping with the other apparatus, are detained here, owing to the vexatious delays and disappointments at the foundry; but, as it is necessary that I should visit Cape Pine during winter, I hope to send them by land in the interim. It is

Board of Works.

Mr. Jenkins' intention to accompany me, touching at Cape Race returning; this gentleman will then be able to judge correctly as to fitness or not, of Iron Light-houses to this climate. On my return I shall be prepared with an estimate, and submit to the Board the necessity of closing in the Tower with clapboard, a precaution which will, I believe, be adopted with Cape Race Tower.

At the opening of the spring, £20 to £25 could be judiciously expended on the road from Trepassey to the Light Tower, Cape Pine. The apparatus, &c., at this station bespeaks the care and attention of the Keepers. I annex an inventory of stores and sundry materials remaining at Cape Pine on the 12th September last.

CAPE BONAVISTA LIGHT,—

After a good deal of delay, and the absence of a desirable conveyance for Bonavista, I was, from the lateness of the season, induced to undertake the journey by way of Carbonear, Perlican, and Trinity: spent the 15th and 16th October at the Light-house. The new lamps intended for this station, contrary to expectation, did not reach St. John's until late in November, and consequently will not be adjusted until the spring. A sum not exceeding £10 would render the road lately opened very serviceable. This establishment continues to receive the zealous attention of the keeper, and cannot but be regarded as being in a satisfactory state.

HARBOR GRACE ISLAND LIGHT HOUSE,—

Was last visited on the 11th and 13th November, and on this, as on every previous occasion, this Establishment was found to be in a creditable condition; reference to the papers herewith, will acquaint the Board of the present requirements at this station, as well as the stores, &c., remaining on the 12th November last.

The Assistant at Harbor Grace Island, an apprentice, in a month or so will have completed the period of his intended servitude, 6 years, and as I can speak with confidence as to his diligence and general good conduct, I feel safe in recommending him to the notice of the Board, particularly as the keeper is anxious to be placed in a position that would enable him to retain the services of so trustworthy an assistant. With the exception of Cape Pine, the Assistant Keepers are paid by the respective keepers, a matter which the late Board considered as deserving some better arrangement.

HARBOR GRACE BEACON LIGHT,—

The usefulness of this Light has fully realized every expectation, and in point of brilliancy, is second to none in the Colony. This light is produced by gas and an annular lens of very superior description, the quantity of gas consumed from 7th December, 1854 to 7th December, 1855, was 17,500 feet; since that date, owing to the superior gas produced from coal imported from the West Indies, the quantity has been considerably less, and I would here beg leave to remind the Board of the necessity of some arrangement being made with the Company at Harbor Grace for the supply of gas. The expense attending the exclusive use of oil during the year, calculating the oil at the price paid this season, would be £58.

Board of Works.

FORT AMHERST LIGHT,—

Since the introduction of the Annular Lens and New Lamp at this station, the brilliancy of the light and extent of range have been much improved, but as the duties of the Keeper have in a corresponding degree been increased, the subject of making some provision for the services of an assistant deserves the notice of the Board, particularly as the requisite constant attendance by night has seriously affected the health of the keeper.

CAPE SPEAR LIGHT HOUSE,—

Visited on the 3rd instant, and in common with every other Light-house Establishment under the control of the Board, it continues to give every satisfaction to the Shipping interest of the colony.

A tolerable good Road from the Cape to within a mile of Black-head has been constructed ; the making of that mile would be a source of much convenience, in as much that the risk and danger of landing at the Cape would be obviated, the oil, &c., could be taken from that settlement by land to the Cape, and thus prevent losses similar to those which have occurred.

In conclusion the Board may rest satisfied that every precaution has been taken at every establishment, calculated to insure the efficient and satisfactory working of the Lights during the Winter and Spring.

Respectfully submitted,

By your most obedient,

And very Humble Servant,

(Signed,)

ROBERT OKE,

Inspector of Light-houses.

To the Honorable

The CHAIRMAN

Of the Board of Works:

Board of Works.

HOSPITAL FOR MENTAL DISEASES.

• WATERFORD BRIDGE,
December 31st, 1855.

REPORT OF THE PHYSICIAN SUPERINTENDENT OF THE LUNATIC ASYLUM.

At the close of the present year I have to enumerate 62 patients, resident in the Institution under my charge; an increase of 12 upon the number of last year. The number of admissions during the past twelve months is 44, and of dismissals 23; shewing a proportion of more than half of those cured, or so far improved as to allow of their relatives removing them. The crowded state of the wards and bed-rooms during the year, there having been at one time 67 inmates, has been detrimental to their health, injurious to the general safety, and obstructive of remedial treatment. The position of both sexes in one wing, has been found highly objectionable, interfering with the proper seclusion of each. The attic, which was designed for a different purpose, has been filled with patients; and five rooms of the central building (which should be reserved entirely for the residence of officers and servants) have also been occupied by attendants and patients. It seems, therefore, unwise, if not impracticable at present, to receive more patients.

His Excellency the Governor and the hon. the Attorney General visited the Institution during the summer, and both remarked upon the crowded condition of the patients. His Excellency was surprised to find no ward or room of any kind, where quiet, or nervous patients might remain apart from, and unmolested by the troublesome and restless class of the Insane, but no such room can be reserved for them, until further accommodations be provided, and for which it is my duty to plead continually in behalf of my patients. During the past year many visitors have been attracted to view the new Building and its inmates, which is always desirable, as tending to make society better acquainted with an Hospital for the Insane; under the system of general freedom, without mechanical restraints to the patients, and where the law of kindness displaces the law of force.

The real excellence and efficiency of the new Institution, as an Hospital for the treatment of mental diseases, can never be fully brought into operation or under view, until a second wing be built, permitting the classification of the patients. But, in so far as the present building will admit of it, I must say, with much thankfulness and sincere gratification on my part, that the liberal spirit in which my representations and requisitions have been received by the Board of Works, promises soon to provide all the necessary means for the care and comfort of the insane. All this however, and it is much, is unhappily of little avail in promoting the treatment of insanity in the Institution—the means of classification being wanting; the confused crowd of patients in every form and stage of insanity, commingled in one ward, strikes the eye of the most inexperienced observer as something practically wrong, and I earnestly trust that the coming Session of the Legislature will not pass away without steps being taken to complete the building as designed, which would at once put an end to the present difficulties in the way of treatment and anomalous condition of the Board of Works.

Insane ; and complete, in the Hospital, an Institution prominent as a charity of a high order, and a moral as well as physical ornament to the country.

I have much pleasure in testifying to the faithfulness and zeal with which the officers and servants under my superintendence have performed their duties during the past year ; from the efficient Matron, Miss Coleson, to each of those in subordinate situations, In doing justice to these persons, I beg to refer to the list of their salaries, laid before the Legislature in July last, several of them being disproportionately small, for the responsibility incurred and the duties performed.

Since my last report, the excellent apparatus for heating and ventilating the western wing, by means of hot water, furnished by Messrs. Haden of Troubridge, has been put up in a workman-like manner by Mr. Stuart, Engineer of the Mill Company. It has been in operation for several weeks, and during the prevalence of very severe frost, giving much satisfaction. The heat produced by it in the wards, is moderate and equable ; it is also healthful and agreeable, contrasted with heat produced by dry hot air furnaces.

The naked and incommodious state of the different wards and rooms in the Institution, has been somewhat improved by the constant employment of a carpenter in erecting fittings of various kinds, and several bed-rooms in the male wards have been supplied with strong doors and shutters, which were much needed. So much work of this character, however, remains to be done for the comfort and security of patients and attendants, as well as other carpenter work about the building, that the Board of Works has engaged a tradesman, who acts also, when required, as an assistant in the wards, for the ensuing twelve months, which will ensure the necessary work being done promptly and economically.

The hot-water supply for baths and the wash-house, and the steam-cooking, as furnished by the steam-boiler, is very efficient and can be extended as the wants of the Institution may demand ; I should, however, except the mode of heating the baths by direct steam, and the absence of hot water flowing through pipes to the different wards for purposes of washing, &c., a hot water cistern being required at the top of the house, which could be heated with the greatest facility from the steam-boiler, and would supply the whole Establishment. I think such a cistern ought to be provided as soon as convenient.

The cold water supply is both insufficient and difficult to manage ; the two hydraulic rams being unable to maintain a sufficient stream of water, and the cistern itself being too small, (it would be quite large enough for a supply of hot water.) The consequence has been that the water-closets have proved nuisances, for want of sufficient water passing through them, and the foul air engendered has infected a portion of the male ward ; to a certain extent, this last evil is being obviated, but as soon as practicable, I strongly recommend my original design of bringing in the water directly from the brook in iron pipes of a sufficient calibre, being adopted ; this would ensure a plentiful and unfailing supply of pure cold water, of which so large a quantity is required for daily use ; and moreover, it would be invaluable in case of fire.

The want of substantial fences around the building, comprising airing grounds, in divisions, for the use of the patients, has been much felt during the past year, it having been found impossible to prevent escapes, on the one hand, or to protect the patients on the other. The Board of Works having, however, taken this subject into consideration, I can have no doubt, but its importance will cause the erection of suitable fences in the ensuing spring.

The current expenditure having been under my control up to the 30th June last, I should observe, that notwithstanding the increased number of inmates in the Institution over last year, and the unavoidable expenses contingent upon maintaining so large an establishment as the new buildings; the excess above the Legislative grant, was at that time considerable, in proportion of six months outlay. Since that period, the Board of Works having assumed the management of all the financial affairs of the public Institutions, such as the Asylum. It will be no longer my duty to allude to them, the account of expenditure to June 30th having been audited and certified by the auditors of the House of Assembly.

I append a Table of Cases of Mental Disease treated in the Institution during the past year.

I would observe regarding Magee, whose name appears twice as discharged within the year, that he left contrary to my wish at first, and not being thoroughly cured, he returned until he became so, and has since worked at his trade in good health. I would also remark, that patients discharged, when improved only, do so always against my advice, as they, for the most part, require to be re-admitted for shorter or longer periods; but relatives often think a patient well, who is only much improved.

REPORT OF THE NEWFOUNDLAND SAVINGS' BANK, FOR THE YEAR 1855.

The operations of the Savings' Bank for the year ending 31st December, 1855, were of a satisfactory character, and afford conclusive evidence of the stability and progress of the Institution. An increase of £6,317 19 9 in the deposits, over the amount in the Bank at the commencement of the year, may be fairly regarded as a proof, not only of unshaken, but increased confidence in the establishment, and a just appreciation of its importance and usefulness by the public.

Considering the advances made to the late Government, which unavoidably restricted the ordinary discounts, and the active competition of the other local Banks, there is sufficient reason to be satisfied with the amount of discount business transacted.

The deposits in the Bank, which on the 1st day of January, 1855, amounted to £87,140 0 5 reached on the 31st day of December £93,458 0 2, being an increase of £6,317 19 9 over the previous year.

The following is a synoptical statement of the deposit Accounts :—

The amount paid to depositors during the year was £22,449 7 5, and the amount received for the same period was £28,767 7 4, which latter sum includes the interest added to accounts at the end of the year, amount £2,694 7 9.

The amount received for interest on debentures, and for the discount of bills and notes was £4,022 17 5, of which sum £622 18 6 was charged for interest upon temporary loans obtained by the late Government from the 1st of January.

The amount of notes running to maturity on the 1st January, 1855, was £44,244 10 11 and on the 31st of December £27,774 3 6; the amount discounted during the year being £61,670 5 2, and amount retired £78,140 12 7, the falling off in the discounts having partly arisen, in consequence of the late Government owing the Bank £10,096, as a temporary loan, and having taken £18,388 to pay claims in anticipation of Supply and Contingency Acts.

PETITION FROM JOHNSTONE VICARS, ST. JOHN'S, ON THE SUBJECT OF THE NEWFOUNDLAND SCHOOL SOCIETY.

To the Honorable the House of Assembly in General Session convened :

The Memorial of Johnstone Vicars, Clerk, Superintendent of the Newfoundland School Society in connexion with the Colonial Church and School Society,

Humbly sheweth,—

That your Memorialist begs to express his sincere and cordial gratitude to your Honorable House for the encouragement and support vouchsafed during many years past to the Newfoundland School Society through whose instrumentality upwards of twenty thousand persons of all ranks and denominations have reaped the advantages of a practical, moral, and religious education.

Your Memorialist solicits the attention of your Honorable House to the accompanying Abstract, showing that in the past year the sum of £153 has been laid out in repairing School Houses, and that, of the £2,250 expended by the Society, no less than £1,340 were contributed by parties in the mother country anxious to promote the welfare of children in this colony.

Your Memorialist humbly requests your Honorable House to take into your grave consideration the following statements :—That forty agents of the Society are annually imparting to about three thousand of the rising generation, the blessings of useful instruction, and training them up in habits of piety, sobriety, order, and dutiful submission to constituted authorities : That two Infant Schools, one in St. John's and another in Grenspond, containing together upwards of two hundred scholars from two to seven years of age, are in active and beneficial operation ; that the Society, anxious to excite in the inhabitants a desire for their own advancement, and to promote a spirit of self-dependence, have, with a view to afford them opportunities of effecting this object, opened a Training Institution, wherein already a number of Teachers have obtained an acquaintance with the modern system of education, and others been trained for the office of School-Masters and Mistresses ; and that large quantities of wearing apparel continue to be imported by the Society and distributed to children of all denominations whose parents are not in circumstances to provide them with clothing suitable for their attending School in the winter season.

Your Memorialist has, during the past summer, at considerable expense, visited and inspected twenty-four of the thirty-two schools under the Society, and deems it his duty to say that though, considering all circumstances, they are in a state highly creditable to the Teachers, yet the whole system of education, and the character and condition of the Buildings and Premises are far below the standard he desires to be attained and cannot bear a comparison with educational establishments in other countries ; and that, whilst the Society are called on to occupy so many stations, with the limited funds at their disposal, neither Teachers nor Schools can arrive at a thoroughly efficient state.

Miscellaneous.

Your Memorialist deeply regrets to inform your Honorable House that, owing to the heavy demands made upon the incomes of the Society's supporters in Britain, the Society entertains serious apprehensions that it will become their most painful duty to diminish their grants to many of the Colonies for this year, unless their repeal recently made to the increased energy and with christian public be responded to with unusual liberality.

Your Memorialist, in conclusion, indulges a confident and well-grounded hope that your Honorable House, after viewing the past and present labors of the Society and reflecting on the incalculable blessings communicated to all classes through their agencies, will conclude the Institution to be fully deserving your most favorable consideration and possessing an undoubted claim on your liberal support ; and he urgently, yet most respectfully prays your Honorable House, not only to vote the accustomed grant, but also to bestow upon the Society such additional amount as will enable them to carry on their operations with enlarged advantage to the Colony.

And your Memorialist, as in duty bound, will ever pray.

JOHNSTONE VICARS,

Superintendent.

PETITION OF JAMES McLAUGHLAN AND OTHERS ON THE SUBJECT OF ST. JOHN'S HOSPITAL.

To the Honorable the House of Assembly in Legislative Session convened :

The Petition of the undersigned inhabitants of St. John's, in public meeting assembled, respectfully sheweth :

That, being deeply impressed with the importance of the Medical charities of this town, to the public here, as well as in the Outports—and viewing the exclusive and imperfect system of the Medical appointments, and the abuses connected with their general management as lately disclosed before the “ Board of Works,” are of opinion, that in order to render them as extensively useful as possible, they loudly call for a thorough reform : and your Petitioners submit, that the first effectual step towards that reform, is a total change of office-holders, who have forfeited the confidence of the public :

That an Hospital conducted on humane and enlightened principles, is imperatively demanded. The public have no confidence in the present Institution, whose erroneous system and imperfect organization have given rise to corruption, peculation, and mismanagement of the grossest description, alike jeopardizing the lives of patients, and the general health of the colony :

That Petitioners respectfully submit, the public safety in the case of contagious disease frequently requires the removal of Patients to the St. John's Hospital, but under the present management, such is the insuperable distrust and aversion of the public to that Institution, that nothing short of actual force will cause the sick to leave their own dwellings; thereby endangering the safety of the surrounding neighbourhood :

That your Petitioners submit, matters have arrived at that crisis regarding the St. John's Hospital, as to call for the immediate interference of the Legislature ; and Petitioners would respectfully suggest that it would be highly conducive to the public interest, to amalgamate the District system of Medical relief to the poor with the desired Hospital reform :

That, in consequence of the large amount of casual Pauperism being more or less dependent upon the success or non-success of the fisheries, many annual Patients of the several Medical men are obliged to have recourse to the District system of medical relief, and frequently order to the Hospital the sick-poor under their care. Your Petitioners respectfully submit that it is as vexatious, as it is unjust to Patients and their medical men, that when it is necessary, from the above named causes, to have recourse to District relief; and also in a sanitary point of view, to prevent the spread of contagion, to remove the patient to the Hospital, their annual medical attendant ceases to have further control over their treatment; thus insulting the fishermen, the bone, sinew, and life-blood of the country, by placing them on a level with the permanent paupers.

That your petitioners submit to your Honorable House the following well-digested plan as being calculated to meet the wants and wishes of the public at large, and respectfully solicit your favorable consideration thereof, namely: That the District of St. John's be divided into four sections, and that four medical men be appointed—each medical man to have charge of one section—and that these four should combine the Hospital duty with that of the District, to be paid for their services a moderate annual salary. There should be, in addition, one resident House Surgeon, or Apothecary, whose duty it should be to prepare and dispense the medicine &c. ordered for patients, and should also have charge of, and be accountable for, the medical and other stores. There should be, also, one intelligent matron, with an efficient staff of nurses to attend constantly upon patients, daily and nightly, when required.

That your Petitioners respectfully submit, the adoption of the above plan would give general satisfaction, and that the amalgamation of Hospital and District would secure a perfect supervision—a medical cordon, as it were—to detect and guard against the introduction and spread of contagious disease amongst the people.

Miscellaneous.

That Petitioners confidently appeal to the justice and humanity of your Honorable House, and rely upon every member thereof to give his attention earnestly to this important subject, and use his best exertions to make the St. John's Hospital what it ought to be—a home for the sick and afflicted, and a safeguard to the people generally :

And, as in duty bound, your petitioners will every pray.

REPORT OF SELECT COMMITTEE ON CASES OF J. V. NUGENT AND CHARLES D. NEWMAN, MASTERS OF THE ST. JOHN'S ACADEMY.

The Select Committee to whom was referred the consideration of the cases of John V. Nugent and Charles D. Newman, Esquires, former masters of the St. John's Academy, claiming compensation for Academy rent and other expenses incident to the Institution since the year 1832, beg to report,—that they have duly considered these respective matters with all their attendant circumstances ; and now respectfully recommend that there be awarded to John V. Nugent the sum of One Hundred and Fifty Pounds, sterling, in full, for all present and future claims on account aforesaid ; and the sum of Eighty Pounds, Stg. to the said Charles D. Newman, in full, for his claims on the same account.
