

City's Offer Of $96,000 For Street Railway Is Recommended

Whoever Gets the Road, The Operation of Cars to Paris and Galt Ceases

No matter what interests secure the Grand Valley Railway, whether it be the city or those represented by Mr. W. P. Kellett, it is regarded as certain that the operation of this part of the road discontinued. It is said that the Grand Valley has never proved a going concern, particularly that part of the road between Galt and Paris. With the completion of the Lake Erie & Northern Railway the Grand Valley will have competition at any event, and its revenue doubtless will be affected. The basis of any offer for the entire system, Brantford Street Railway and Grand Valley, necessarily will be on the earning capacity of the Brantford Street Railway, the cost of making extensions and the likely return on the money involved in those extensions, as well as the original purchase price of the road as it stands at present. It is estimated that as junk alone the Grand Valley road is worth about $50,000.

CITY OF BRANTFORD'S OFFER MEETS WITH FAVOR AT MEETING

Sum of $96,000 to Meet Claims of Bondholders is Offered To-day--This Sum City Would Have to Supplement by $125,000 to First Mortgagees--Grand Valley Would be Junked and Sold at Probable Figure of $50,000.

(SPECIAL TO COURIER)

TORONTO, Feb. 13.—It looks as though Brantford will have a municipally-run Street Railway. At a largely-attended meeting of the Grand Valley bondholders held to-day at noon at the Trust & Guarantee board room, E. B. Stockdale, receiver, in the chair, Mr. Worrall, chairman of the special committee, reported that his committee had gone carefully into the two offers made for the road, one from W. P. Kellett and the other from the City of Brantford. Mr. Kellett's offer was for $110,000, which was less $25,000 taxes, and certain mortgages of $2400 brought his net offer down to $82,600. The city's offer was put in a different way from that of Mr. Kellett's, but it figured out approximately at $96,000 net for the assets of the road, or a difference in favor of the city of $13,400. His committee would therefore recommend that the city's offer be accepted.

GENERAL DISCUSSION

A general discussion followed which was taken part in by Mayor Spence, Ald. Hollinrake, City Solicitor Henderson, Fasken, K.C., McMaster, K.C. It was finally decided by the bondholders to recommend the City of Brantford's offer, and a motion will be made before a High Court Judge to ratify the sale. In the meantime it is understood that the Appellate Court will adjourn the case on Monday made on behalf of the city to cancel the franchise of the Company.

OTHER PAYMENT

Of course, it is understood that in addition to their offer of $96,000 the city will have to pay of the mortgage of $125,000 on the Brantford Street Railway, owned by the Canadian General Electric Company. The back interest amounted to $3,000 on this mortgage was paid off last week. The first mortgage bonds of the Grand Valley

BRANTFORD REPRESENTED

Brantford was represented at the meeting by Mayor Spence, Ald. Hollinrake, City Solicitor Henderson, City Treasurer Bunnell and Joseph H. Ham, representing the Board of Trade, and H. Symonds, the Trades and Labor Council. They were generally congratulated on the successful issue of their mission. The meeting only lasted an hour, but from a Brantford ownership of utilities standpoint, it was a most momentous one.

CONFIRMED BY SOLICITOR

The Courier also received the following from City Solicitor Henderson: "The bondholders accept the city's offer for Grand Valley Railway, subject to approval of electors and court, of $96,000, in addition to National Trust Company bonds and liabilities to city for taxes, etc."

NIAGARA MAY BE SHUT FROM WORLD

Serious State of Affairs As Result of Smallpox Outbreak

NIAGARA FALLS, Feb. 13.—Unless Niagara Falls complies with recommendations regarding smallpox made by Dr. Hermann M. Biggs, state commissioner of health, that city will be cut from communication with the rest of the world, according to an announcement made here by the commissioner. Dr. Biggs said he had consulted with railroad officials and believed he would have their cooperation to the extent that no trains would stop in the city of Niagara Falls if the plan of isolating that place should be adopted. The people of the remainder of the state must be protected and my recommendations must be strictly and heartily enforced in your city." Dr. Biggs telegraphed to the mayor and other city officials of Niagara Falls. The message contained the statement that there are 19 places in Western New York, where smallpox now exists or has existed, due to negligence in Niagara Falls.

The telegram of the commissioner to the mayor and health officer was in reply to one received from them stating that a committee representing the employees of various industries, had presented a petition of formal protest against the municipal authorities in ordering factories, hotels and places of employment of any kind closed against unvaccinated persons. Commissioner Biggs said his recommendations to the Niagara Falls officials were that school vaccination must be rigidly enforced; all factory and hotel employees must be vaccinated or remain away from work; and all places where the public congregates, such as churches and theatres, must remain closed.

101 Cases. NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Feb. 13.—The health department's daily report issued last night gave the number of smallpox cases in the city as 101, a decrease of 27 cases in a week. Seventy eight patients are quarantined in their homes and there are 23 patients at the quarantine hospital.

A LITTLE Milder AT TWELVE BELOW

But Cold Weather Wrought Havoc With Water Pipes.

The cold spell which has been hanging over this part of the country let up a little last night, and the weather bureau promises that milder weather is near, which will continue for the remainder of the winter.

Last night the lowest thermometer dropped at the Mohawk Institute was 12 degrees below zero, but on a number of uptown thermometers, the mercury went as low as 14 degrees below zero.

The excessive frost has played havoc with the water pipes at the fire hall. Frozen up two nights in succession is their record, and they are causing the firemen considerable trouble. Reports come from all over the city that water pipes are being frozen up and bursting, and the plumbers throughout Brantford are having a merry time of it doing repair work.

Sharp Action By The Police

Warrants for Arrest in Connection With Army Canteen Scandal

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Sharp action was taken to-day by the police in connection with the British army canteen scandals when warrants were issued for the arrest of James Ness, formerly manager of Lipton, Limited, at Malta and also Archibald Minto, another employee of Lipton Limited, neither of whom appeared to answer the summonses sent to them when the case opened. James Ness is believed to be in Canada while Archibald Minto is said to be in France. Altogether nine army officers and eight civilians, all of them employees of Lipton Limited, have been charged with receiving or giving illicit commissions for army canteen supplies and the case has aroused widespread interest and great indignation among the British public.

WILL TRY FOR $50,000 PRIZE

Flight Across Atlantic to be Attempted During This Year.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The formal entry of the Rodman Wanamaker aeroplane for the prize of $50,000 offered by the London Daily Mail for the first transatlantic flight was prepared to-day and will be mailed at once. The Aero club of America, which stands sponsor for the entry, yesterday received a cablegram from the Aero Club of Great Britain that the Wanamaker entry would be accepted.

Another aviator, who says he will fly for the transatlantic prize is Abram Raygorodsky, a Russian, who is a naturalized American, says that he is building a big biplane in conjunction with Alexander Adler, designer of the largest biplane in the world, flown in Russia by Sikorsky.

Carbolic Acid Was Neutralized

A Resident of Mary St. Swallowed Some of Poison

Swallowing 1 1/2 to 2 ounces of carbolic acid, Fred Beney, a resident of Mary street, had a terribly close call from death yesterday. Liqueur which Beney had previously taken and more of it after he had taken the poison is said to have saved his life, according to the doctor who was called to attend. The effect of the liquor neutralized the poison, and after several hours of work the doctor was able to revive the patient. Beney is well known in the city and highly respected. He had been despondent for a time, which is believed to have been the cause of his rash act.

WILL BE CHANCELLOR

MONTREAL, Feb. 13.—Sir William MacDonald the Montreal manufacturer will be elected chancellor at McGill University at a meeting of the governors to be held on Monday to choose a successor to the late Lord Strathcona.

Bookie's Case At Toronto

TORONTO, Feb. 13.—In the Assize court at the City Hall to-day, John Scully, plaintiff in an action for $25,000 against the Ontario Jockey Club, did not appear when the case was called, nor did his counsel. "The case will be dismissed with costs," said Justice Latchford. The case was the last on the list and counsel for the jockey club left the court thinking he had won his case. A few minutes later a lawyer entered explaining that Scully's counsel, J. McGregor, was ill and hence could not attend. The judge then ordered that judgment be not written and will hear the case to-morrow. Scully is a bookmaker who was arrested at the Woodbine and now seeks damages.

Will Vote On Hydro Measure

BURFORD, Feb. 13.—The ratepayers of the village will vote on March 9 on a by-law to authorize the Council to contract for hydro power for the municipality. There is considerable discussion but it is expected that the measure will pass with a large majority. The concert held in the Methodist church last night was a great success, the programme being furnished by the Leigh-Smith Company.

DEAD AT HALIFAX

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 13.—Aron Tozier, a veteran of the Crimean war, and for many years caretaker of the military headquarters here, died this morning. He was 87 years old.

Sir J. Whitney Wants to Attend The Legislature

TORONTO, Feb. 13.—Sir James Whitney has so far regained his former strength and activity that he has expressed the desire to be present at the opening of the Legislature next week. His physicians, however, have warned him against any such procedure, and pressure of influential friends and advisers has been necessary to dissuade him from the coming step.

C. P. R. Active In W. Ontario

LONDON, Ont. Feb. 13.—It was learned on good authority this morning that the Canadian Pacific Railway is planning unusual operations here in the spring which will make London one of the most important points of the system in Ontario. A conference of officials will be held here shortly in connection with the matter. It is understood that five more miles of siding will be put in and the freight sheds greatly extended. The changes contemplated are thought here to lend weight to the repeated rumors that the Canadian Pacific Railway is about to take over the Wabash.

Old Men Easy For The Nurses

MONTREAL, Feb. 13.—A debate on establishing an age limit for the marriage of clergymen was a feature of yesterday session of the Anglican synod when a motion introduced by the Rev. Arthur French producing the limit at 65 was defeated. Formerly a sum of $300 was allowed per annum to the widows of clergymen and this was increased to $400. The allowance to each child of $30 was doubled with a maximum of $160. Mr. French raised the point of 11th hour marriages as a grave injustice to the fund. "In cases of the death of an old man to be permitted to be married, it should not be permitted to leave this annuity as a memorial to his inabilities. As a man grows older he becomes more susceptible to the blandishments of his nurses."

Fifty Guests In Big Hotel Fire

MONTREAL, Feb. 13.—Fifty guests and employees at the Victoria Hotel at the corner of Windsor and St. James street had a narrow escape when fire broke out on the third story early this morning. The fifty guests, scantily attired, managed to grope their way to the stairs and make their escape. Three employees were trapped in a room on the top floor of the hotel and had to be extricated by firemen who climbed up the fire escape and helped them to descend. The fire fighters and also those driven out of the hotel suffered from the cold as the thermometer registered 20 below zero.

Slingsby Baby Case Up Again

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—The Slingsby baby substitution case, whose outcome will determine the disposition of a million dollar English estate, will be tried in London about the middle of March. Advances to that effect have been received by Oliver Dibble, the attorney representing Lieut. and Mrs. C. H. R. Slingsby, in their fight here and in Victoria, B.C., last fall to prove the legitimacy of their young son. Dibble will go to England to resist the efforts of Slingsby's brothers to have the child declared an adopted son of the Lieutenant, instead of the real heir to the fortune left by the Rev. Charles Slingsby of Yorkshire. KINGSTON, N. Y., Feb. 13.—Fifty persons were injured and one was killed when a freight train on the Walkill Valley Railroad struck a large sleigh in which they were returning early to-day from a dance at Binnewater, five miles south of Kingston. Three of the injured received fractured skulls. The other injuries were not serious.

Use of City's Market is To be Granted to the Old Home Week Committee

The buildings and grounds committee of the City Council, of which Ald. S. P. Pitcher is chairman, wrestled yesterday afternoon with the question of permitting the use of the entire market for the Old Home Week celebration here next August. The committee came to no definite conclusion in the matter, although it was felt that any carnival attractions which might be secured for Old Home Week should be distributed throughout the centre of the city and not placed at some remote grounds. It was felt, however, by some of the aldermen that the city should retain some control of the market, and following this out a proposition was submitted to permit the use of the Dalhousie street half of the market by the Old Home Week committee. No decision was arrived at, however, and the matter will come up again. In the event of half the market being granted for use it is more than likely the celebration will last out the whole week.

First Court Of The Season

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—A cable to The Tribune from London says: The King and Queen will hold their first court of the season at Buckingham, Palace to-night and the function promises to be notable in many respects. New features will be the dress of unparalled sheep and supplement, which will make their first appearance and there will be hundreds of yards of marvellously wrought lace, antique and modern, all of which would be precious to any museum. A striking feature of the women's toilet will be the quantity of metal and gems which will be delicately worked into the dresses.

L. E. AND N. WORK IS PROGRESSING

Pile Driver Will be Brought Into the City This Afternoon.

Construction work on the L. E. & N. at Lorne bridge is progressing very favorably, according to one of the engineers who was interviewed by the Courier at noon to-day. A timber crib to protect the bank on the south side of Colborne street, is being erected, which will be followed later by a cement retaining wall. The earth outside of the retaining wall in the river, which has been causing the city considerable worry is being removed and used for filling around the crib. The pile driver, which for the past number of weeks has been working in the vicinity of Judge Hardy's farm is to be brought into the city to-day and will commence work here immediately. The cold weather has had no effect on the work, the men instead have been hurrying to keep warm.

IRISH IMMIGRANTS ON THE INCREASE

There Arrived at New York 37,073 During Year 1913.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The number of immigrants from Ireland landed at this port during 1913, was 37,073 an increase of more than three thousand over the preceding year, according to the report Michael F. McDermott, president of the Irish Immigrant Society.

Of this number more than eleven thousand elected to remain in this state, while 6,000 went to live in Massachusetts. These homeseekers brought $1,985,702.

The society assisted 606 immigrants at Ellis Island with food and money to reach their destinations. ZER0 AT WINNIPEG. WINNIPEG, Man. Feb. 13.—For the first time in about ten days the temperature in Winnipeg and a great part of the west has ascended to zero. Commencing yesterday afternoon the thermometer here showed a rise from thirty four below to the even zero in fifteen hours, with prospects for continued moderate weather. For nearly two weeks the temperature has been between thirty and forty below most of the time with an occasional ascent into the twenties.

ST. THOMAS HOTEL IS BURNED

The Arlington Was Totally Destroyed Early Today.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Feb. 13.—Fire destroyed the Arlington Hotel here at 5.30 this morning. It was a brick structure, a landmark in the city, and about 50 guests were registered. The fire evidently started in the kitchen. Through a mistake in sending in the alarm, the fire department ran about a mile to another hotel, and by the time they returned to the scene of the fire it was past control. The temperature was about 14 below zero. All the guests had time to dress and escape, but there is doubt as to whether one man is in the ruins or not. He was a stranger who arrived late last night and was to have taken a train out at 5.30 this morning. When the alarm was given the porter wrapped on his door which was locked, but failed to get a response, and the flames drove the porter from the spot. The man's name is not known as he had not registered, and in any event the register was destroyed in the fire. The ruins are still too hot to permit of a search, but there is grave reason to fear that this man may have perished in the flames. The proprietor, A. R. Conley, had just returned from attending a large military ball at the armories, and this morning stood about watching the burning ruins clad only in his evening dress, hidden by an overcoat. The loss is estimated at about $35,000.

Wesley Concert a Fine Success

Jess Pugh Novelty Comany Delighted Large Audience.

"Music hath charms," and when the exponents are as skilled as the Jess Pugh Novelty Co. showed themselves to be at the Wesley Methodist Church last evening the charm is very considerably enhanced. The word "novelty" is a misnomer. The exposition of the wonderful power and fascination of music was no novelty, but the setting of the musical items was. This setting did away with the dignified hauteur of the ordinary high class concert party and presented the entertainment as a musical evening held in the drawing room of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter's residence, the guests of the evening being Miss Alice Clark, a violinist and Mr. Harn Limberger. Against Mr. Limberger, Mr. Hunter is somewhat prejudiced and tries by megalomaniacal wiles to get away from the side of his otherwise determined wife. It was a vain endeavor and balked in his object. He contributes to the music of the evening, which takes the form of opera selections, from the best of the world's composers. Mr. Jess Pugh as the subdued husband was indeed a versatile man. He sang solos, recited and assisted in duets whilst he deftly instilled the humour which abounded and enhanced the success of the concert. In a deep rich voice he sang "Roaming in the Gloom" in the Scotch, with a naturalness that might have distinguished Harry Lauder. His monologue, of a picture show patron at the picture show, was true to life and evoked much applause. Sneezing, a recitation, simply bubbled over with refined merriment and few of the large audience did not demand an encore. Miss Mary Marr, possessor of a splendid contralto voice, acted the role of the demure yet firm Mrs. Hunter and her voice rippled through the hall and held her hearers spellbound. Her duet with Mr. Pugh "The Girl will have something to say" was especially pleasing to all lovers of music whilst her selections from the "classics" of the musical world, were an education in ability. Frequently she accompanied herself on the piano, at which instrument she has not many peers. A revelation in the power of music to move human emotions was the display of Miss Gwendolyn Allan, who played the master instrument, the violin. Famous selections were imbued with life as they seldom are. Her rendering of "My Old Kentucky Home" brought out new qualities in the old and well known song. The part of Mr. Limberger, the Italian concertina player, who is slightly unconventional and not very popular with Mr. Hunter, was taken by Mr. J. H. Fox who brought music out of a concertina which seemed almost impossible. Feeling was imparted to grand opera music which was supposed only possible with the touch of a finger and bow. The melody by Daves was splendidly played by Mr. Fox. Polonaise by Terini, and a serenade from Schubert, were given by the whole company and the effort was truly magnificent. The harmonious blending of concertina and violin was a feature of a selection by Schwanweilchen entitled, "A Polish Dance."

Altogether fifteen numbers were given and the combination of talent has seldom been excelled in this city. The church is to be congratulated for securing such entertainers, and Mr. Parker especially, as the working factotum.

The last of the series of the course will be presented on May 7th, when the Dixie Quintette will appear. They have established their reputation and need no introduction.

Jess Pugh and Co., will appear before an Aylmer audience to-night and will on Saturday perform in London.

Nuptial Notes

COPELAND—CAMERON

A very pretty wedding took place at noon Wednesday at the residence of Mr. John Cameron, 97 Eagle Ave., when Rev. D. T. McClintock, pastor of Alexander Presbyterian Church, united in marriage Miss Lucy Cameron and Ranson Morrell Copeland, the well known Eagle Place grocer, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Copeland, of Detroit. The wedding was a very quiet one, only the near relatives of the contracting parties being in attendance. The bride was charmingly attired in a navy blue serge travelling suit and wore a hat to match. After the wedding breakfast, the happy couple left for Buffalo and New York on their honeymoon trip and on their return will reside on Eagle avenue. The popularity of both was shown by the very large number of handsome gifts showered on the bride, who is a valued member of the Alexander Church.

Overdone by hurrying to catch a train, Mr. H. V. Fralick, a traveller from Napanee, died in the Union Station, Toronto.

INDIGESTION, GAS OR SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Time "Pape's Diapepsin!" In five Minutes All Stomach Misery Is Gone.

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul, tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes into contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing almost marvellous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollar's worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.

Golfers Hold Their Annual

The annual meeting of the members of the Brantford Golf and Country Club was held last evening at the secretary's office. There was a good turnout of golf enthusiasts. Those present were greatly pleased with the excellent report of the treasurer, Mr. D. S. Large, which showed a most satisfactory state of the club's affairs. Various reports and addresses were made by the president, Mr. H. W. Fitton; the chairman of the grounds committee, Mr. L. Waterous; the captain, Mr. N. D. Neill; and the chairman of the house committee, Mr. H. T. Watt. The election of officers for the coming season was as follows: Hon. President, Mr. J. T. Hewitt; Hon. Vice-president, Mr. R. H. Reville; Captain, Mr. N. D. Neill; auditor, Mr. K. V. Bunnell; Directors, Messrs. H. W. Fitton, L. Waterous, C. A. Waterous, D. S. Large, H. T. Watt, I. Champion, N. D. Neill, S. Schell, E. Mabon, W. B. Preston and A. S. Towers. The meeting concluded with a vote of thanks to various officials for their splendid services during the past season.

BOARD OF TRADE BANQUET TONIGHT

Brilliant Assembly is Promised for This Evening at Kerby House.

The banquet of the Board of Trade which takes place to-night in the Kerby House, will prove one of the most brilliant events of the kind ever held in this city. A large number of tickets have been sold, and the arrangements are most complete. Participants will be seated sharp at 7:30, and it is expected to have the event over by midnight. Hon. Mr. Graham will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Harris, and Hon. Mr. Hearst of Mr. and Mrs. Brewster.

GOING TO FASHION CENTRES

Four of the Department Managers of E. B. Crompton and Co., will leave this evening to spend a week in New York and other American fashion centres. The report of Commissioners F. P. Gutchins and Geo. S. Lynch-Staunton on the National Transcontinental Railway construction, closes no graft, but criticizes it for too high standards and consequent alleged lack of economy.

Some Time Saving Hints

Try lemon and salt for ink stains on the fingers.

To give plaster casts an alabaster effect dip them into a strong solution of alum water.

Two tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar to one white of egg will make excellent meringues.

When the curl curls up it can be made to lie flat by making it very damp on the under side.

Elasticity is restored to rubber by soaking it in one part of ammonia and two parts of clear water until the desired results are obtained.

By slipping stiff collars into a glass or tumbler after they are ironed and allowing them to thoroughly dry they can be made to keep their shape.

Ducks to be good must be young and fat. The under bill, if the duck is well fed, will break easily. The breast should be plump and fat.

To make new potatoes scrape easily and to prevent the fingers becoming soiled while preparing, soak the potatoes a little while in water in which a small piece of common soda has been dissolved.

A good way to strengthen the worn places in undergarments is to stretch them with the sewing machine back and forth in parallel lines and then turn the goods and run stitches at right angles to those already taken.

If turpentine is put on a burn immediately, it will stop the burning and there will be no pain. Saturate a piece of bandage with turpentine, then wrap the burn carefully and saturate again, keeping the bandage wet for some time.

If corns are rubbed daily with toilet pumice they will disappear.

An apron made with a bib of table oilcloth is a greater saver to wear when washing dishes.

If grease is well rubbed on the stove before polishing the polish will not burn off so quickly.

Paint splattered window glass can be cleaned by melting soda in very hot water and washing the glass with it.

Use warm water to sprinkle starched clothes, and the effect will be twice as satisfactory.

Do not allow the hearth of the range to be blackened, as it will soil your aprons or dresses. Wring a house cloth out of warm soapy water and wipe the hearth clean every morning. Blackening will not be necessary.

In every way possible, beauty and utility should be combined in the home. Dispense with everything that does not serve well for use or ornamentation. Gaudiness and congestion are not suggestive of prettiness, and things unnecessary only collect dust.

A very handy pincushion for the sewing machine is made of two pieces of black velvet ribbon six in. long and three in. wide, sewed together on their edges and stuffed with wool. This makes a long, rather flat cushion, very easy to stick pins in. Narrow black ribbons were sewed to each end and the cushion was tied to the sewing machine in a convenient place and stacked full of pins and needles.

Sifted wood ashes put on a damp cloth will remove stains from tinware, agate or crockery.

If a pan in which milk is cooked is rinsed out in cold water the milk will not be so apt to stick.

Blankets, after being washed and dried thoroughly, should be well beaten with a carpet sweeper.

The wood of mission furniture may be safely washed with warm water. After it is thoroughly dry it should be polished with a good oil.

A delicious winter salad is made with apples and oranges. Cut into small pieces one apple, two oranges, lettuce and ground nuts. Serve with lettuce leaves and salad dressing.

Thursday is generally set apart for cleaning windows and sweeping the living room and cleaning the bathroom—Thursday afternoon and evening being the maids' outing times. Friday is a general sweeping day. Saturday being baking day. There should be one day in every week when the housewife has not planned anything, but does the little odd things which have no name. But do not become a slave of routine; the best rules can be broken with impunity.

Dampness will tarnish brass articles. They should be kept in a dry, cool atmosphere.

A good flavoring for syrups, jellies and preserves is made with orange and lemon peel.

To freshen a skirt that has become wrinkled and mussed from packing, brush carefully so that the dust may be removed and hang over a tub of hot water.

Dry bran is an excellent cleaner for dainty velvet flowers and woolen fabrics. Rub the soiled spots harder than the rest, then brush it all off.

The piano case sometimes needs cleaning. For this provide two basins of clean, lukewarm water, to be renewed as often as necessary, and three good sized pieces of cheese-cloth. Wring one cloth nearly dry from the first basin, rub in Ivory soap, and clean about a spare foot of the surface. Wring the second cloth nearly dry from the second basin and wipe off the suds. Rinse and wring the cloth again and wipe any moisture that remains. Rub dry with the third cloth, using quick, light strokes and little pressure. Proceed in this way until the entire instrument has been cleaned. Then go over lightly with a clean soft handkerchief or a very soft new chamois.

Music and Drama

At the Brant.

The Brant Theatre was packed last night at the change of program which was in every way excellent. Four reels of excellent photo plays, together with six acts of class vaudeville made up the evenings entertainment. The Dixon Minstrels put on a complete new show which was, if anything, superior to that of the first part of the week.

Hoggarty and Hobbs and Charlotte Dean were the new acts and both were excellent. Miss Dean in her quick change singing act was especially good while the comedy presented by Haggarty and Hobbs could not be beat.

Mr. Dixon of the minstrels and Wilber and Winn of the same company put on two excellent specialties which greatly pleased the crowd.

Grand Trunk Official Confers With City Engineer Jones To-day.

Mr. W. R. Davidson, superintendent of the London Division of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, was in the city this morning and met City Engineer Jones and Overseer Howie in reference to the gates at the West St. crossing, which are being reconstructed and about which complaint had been made to them by Mr. Jones.

The location of the western base of the gate was pointed out by Engineer Jones as being objectionable, it narrowing Wilkins street at the Walsh coal yards to about 22 feet. This could be improved by moving the base of the westerly gate to the north side of the track about fifteen feet west of this point.

The Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, after vigorous debate, tabled a resolution for the formation of a farmer's party.

PARK BAPTIST CHURCH GROWS

Annual Meeting Showed Splendid State of Affairs—Good Work by the Pastor.

As in years recently passed under the able pastorate of Rev. C. W. Rose, Park Baptist church, to use a commercial expression, is a going concern. The annual meeting of the church was held Wednesday evening, and it was shown that in current account the church had a surplus for the year of something around $180. From the greeting of the pastor to those assembled for business, to the report of the most junior organization of the church, a splendid enthusiasm, which augurs well for the future of Park Baptist church, was manifested. The reports presented spoke for themselves, and showed co-operation among all the working forces of the church. For the deacon's board, Mr. W. R. Baird told of the business during the year, while the clerk, Mr. H. Stenabaugh, made fitting reference to the loss sustained in the death of Mr. M. H. Robertson, a most valuable member of the church.

The Finances.
Mr. E. R. Read submitted the financial statement of the church, which showed that funds for all purposes were raised to the amount of $8,515.33, while disbursements amounted to $8,384.64. The sum of $1,664.17 was devoted to missions. The financial secretary reported that the average church collections amounted to $80 per Sunday. A benevolent fund of $110.27 had been distributed during the year. The building committee reported through Mr. E. Ryerson. There is no debt on the church.

Sunday School.
The Sunday school has flourished exceeding well. It has 24 classes, the largest attendance during the year being 345, and the average 257. The receipts were $904.56, of which $391.50 went to missions. Mr. E. A. Heatley submitted the report in detail.

Other Reports.
Other reports, all of a business-like and encouraging nature, were submitted as follows: Mission Circles, Mary James; offerings, G. W. Bagg and A. G. Olive; B. Y. P. U. and junior union, Miss Jean Sickle; mission band, R. E. Batchelor; music committee, A. N. Pequegnat; auditors, S. F. Passmore and C. W. Rutherford.

The music committee expressed satisfaction with the work of Mr. J. R. Cornelius, and the choir, and Mr. Cornelius was reappointed.

FIRE AT MOHAWK INSTITUTE

Damage to the Extent of $800 Was Done to Green House.

A fire, causing about $800 worth of damage, occurred last night between the hours of nine and ten, in the greenhouse of the Mohawk Institute. Many valuable plants were lost, and much of the burnt stock consisted of fine old specimens of Canadian growth. The fire is thought to have originated by overheated air pipes. When the brigade arrived upon the scene, the conflagration had already been subdued by the efforts of the small brigade and willing help from the surrounding district.

Used Dynamite.
The Grand Trunk construction gang used a small blast of dynamite in getting out one of its old piers below the Brantford and Tilsonburg bridge. One pier is now removed and a gang is at work on the other.

They Double Up.
The strenuousness of physical culture is apparent when three young men doubled up under the strain. This unusual occurrence took place in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium yesterday when during some exercises three youths gave way and could not proceed with their exertions. They have recovered.

Spent Social Evening.
The Golden Circle Philathea class spent their regular monthly social evening in the S. S. room of the First Baptist church last night. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable evening was spent.

At the Citadel.
The special meeting of the S. A. Citadel last night, despite the severity of the weather drew a splendid audience, Rev. Mr. Kelly of the Congregational church, was the speaker. Taking his text from Act 15: 39, the speaker gave a most helpful and interesting address dealing with moral collapses. A solo by Mrs. Jago was heartily received, and added greatly to the enjoyment of the service. Rev. Llewellyn Brown of the First Baptist church, will arrange the program for next Thursday night.

STARTS NEXT WEDNESDAY
J. M. Young & Co. white goods and winter sale starts Wednesday next. See ad. for particulars.

"RUBE" WADDELL QUILTS. Superior, Wis., Feb. 13.—"Rube" Waddell, the great left-hander, who in his day was one of the best pitchers that ever worked in the major leagues will never pitch another game.

"I am sending back the contract unsigned," wrote "Rube" from Boerne, Tex. "I would like to play, but never could get into shape. I might as well admit the truth about myself. I am in hopeless shape. I have lost 54 pounds since I was up north and weigh now only 151. I am very weak and cannot walk twenty feet. I am writing this in bed."

Murphy Will Not Quit Game. NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Charles W. Murphy, president of the Cubs, denied that he had any intention of retiring from professional baseball, or that he knew of any move to force him out of the National League. He said: "I am in the game to stay. It has become the national pastime to kick Murphy out of baseball at least four times a year, and I am getting used to it. I am the master of my soul—the real only boss of my ball club—and I am going to run it in the way I see fit."

As for Evers, I did what I thought was best for the club. He is temperamentally unfit to manage a team—outside of that a very valuable man Evers and I could not agree, and one of us had to go. Whether he plays with Boston or not, Swenney and Perdus are going to play for me."

TRAIL OF GRAFT AND BUNGLING RUNS THRU N.T.R. CONSTRUCTION

Late C. M. Hays' Strong Protest Ignored by Former Government—Many Millions Wasted to Help Party Cause in New Brunswick.

Among the findings of the National Transcontinental Railway investigators: At least forty million dollars was wasted, exclusive of unnecessary outlay east of the St. Lawrence River. Economy was discouraged in the whole process of construction.

Hon. S. H. Parent, former chairman, accused of engineering pretended purchase of a lease to cover election expenses of a Liberal candidate in Quebec. Transcona shops at Winnipeg, costing $4,500,000, double size needed. New Brunswick section, prematurely constructed, for political purposes, is rotting away and trees growing on the right-of-way. Section cost $34,000,000, and annual interest charges are $1,200,000.

Former N. T. R. commissioners were absolutely without railway training. Former Finance Minister Fielding estimated actual cost of construction from Moncton to Winnipeg at $61,415,000; present expert estimate of cost, exclusive of interest, is $161,300,000. The annual rental to be paid by the G. T. P., starting in 1922, will be $5,400,000, or $14,800 a day. In principal and interest the road will cost Canada $234,651,521.

ROYAL LOAN HAD PROSPEROUS YEAR Brantford Institution Forging Ahead By Leaps and Bounds.

What can be easily classed as the most successful year, in the history of the Royal Loan and Savings Co., was disclosed at the annual meeting of the shareholders which was held in the board room of the Company's handsome office building, on Market St., on Wednesday.

Mr. C. Cook, the president of the company had all sorts of pleasant things to tell the shareholders. The gross earnings for the year just closed, reached the very substantial figure of $143,253—the largest amount ever attained by the company. No less a sum than $38,000 was added to the reserve fund which now is in the very satisfactory ratio of 60 per cent. of the paid up capital. And last, but not least the affairs of the Royal Loan are now in such a strong position that taking effect the third quarter of the year, viz. commencing next July, the directors feel justified, and very rightly so, too in raising the dividend from seven to eight per cent.

Considering the severe financial stringency everwhere manifest last year the board pursued a wise course in maintaining the very high per cent.

WILL NOT BID FOR JOHN EVERS

Federals Decide That He is Not a Free Agent in the Baseball World.

(By Special Wire to The Courier)
NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—A new angle developed in the baseball situation here to-day when the Federal League promoters announced that it would not bid for the services of Johnny Evers, deposed manager of the Chicago National League club. Charles H. Weeghman, the leading backer of the Federal League, stated that his organization considered Evers' signed a contract with the National League, and, conforming with the new league's announced policy would make no effort to obtain Evers. Weeghman further stated that the fact that Joseph Tinker had arrived here from Chicago in time for an early morning conference with President Gilmore and himself had no bearing on the Evers' situation. "Tinker came to New York," said Weeghman, "at my telegraph request, bringing some important papers which were needed. He will also endeavor to sign several players with whom we have been negotiating. Evers is not among them, and will not be approached. We all agreed that he is under contract and the property of the National League."

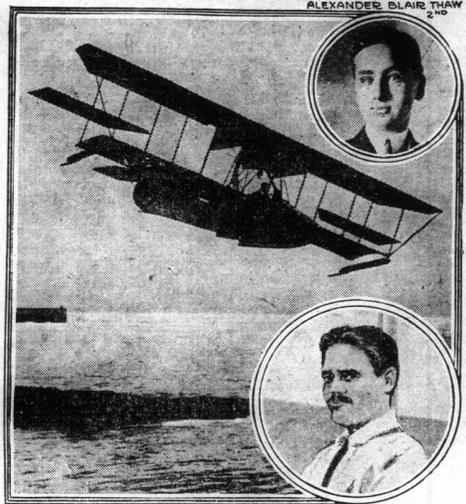

Immediately after making this statement Weeghman, Gilmore and Tinker hurried from their temporary quarters, and it was reported that they were again viewing possible sites for a baseball park in Grater New York for 1915, if not this year. Evers failed to appear among the gathering of magnates, players and other followers of baseball. He left his hotel early in the forenoon and could not be located in the usual gathering places. President Gaffney of the Boston Nationals reported that he could not find Evers although he had been on the outlook for him. The National League and its board of directors were late in entering into executive session and the hour for holding the meeting of the National Commission was delayed until 3 p.m.

CURTISS FLYING BOAT. WILLIAM THAW

Aboard the Provence, of the French line, when she steams from New York for Havre on Wednesday, February 11, will be another of America's candidates for the $100,000 aviation safety prize offered by the government of France and others in the Union for Security in Aircraft. The apparatus going aboard the Provence is the automatic stabilizing device entered by Alexander Blair Thaw, 24, fifteen years old, and the 100-horse power Curtiss hydro-aeroplane upon which it has been installed. Young Mr. Thaw will accompany the stabilizer, with his brother, William Thaw, the aviator, who will fly the hydro-aeroplane in the official trials later in the month.

Peterboro defeated Toronto yesterday morning. The local ladies beat Peterboro yesterday afternoon. The Kingston ladies won the consolation prize against Toronto with the last shot. Mr. F. E. O'Flynn was official referee.

Wagner Only Pirate Unsigned

PITTSBURG, Feb. 11.—With Honus Wagner about the only Pirate unsigned, President Dreyfuss settled back with the executive staff to take things easy until camp-pitching time in March. "We have thirty signed players now. I don't see that there is much more to do," said Dreyfuss. "Wagner's contract will be along some of these days and then there won't be anything to do but pray that it won't rain every day of the practice trip."

An age limit for marrying clergymen was proposed in the Montreal Synod, but defeated.

Drastic Measure — Feds
Promise Surprise.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Everything in connection with professional baseball discussed here yesterday inside and outside the meetings of the National League and the National Commission, was overshadowed by the case of Johnny Evers, deposed manager of the Cubs. Late last night Evers himself had not made up his mind further than to repeat over and over again.

"I have made up my mind to one thing, and that is, no matter whether I play with organized baseball or accept an offer made me by the Federals, I am determined that Charles Murphy of the Chicago club shall not reap and benefit through my action."

Evers' lawyer is expected here early to-day and President James E. Gaffney of the Boston Nationals has made an appointment to meet Evers and his counsel at 10.30 o'clock.

Joe Tinker of the Chicago Federals said he made no arrangement with Evers, and would not do so unless it was decided Evers was not under contract.

"From what I hear," said Tinker, "I believe that Evers is no longer under contract to the Chicago club, and only the reserve clause holds him. If this is so, we are ready to give him more money than any club in organized baseball, but if his contract with Chicago holds good the Federal League will not touch him."

"Those who think the Federals are not going to last are mistaken," continued Tinker. "We have got lots of money, and within a week we will surprise the baseball world. We have signed many prominent players whose names will be made known in due time."

After clearing up some matters which were left unfinished at the Cincinnati meeting early last month, it was announced that the fraternity had decided that all players who jumped from organized ball to the Federal League and did not report to their clubs before the first game of the championship season, would automatically suspend themselves from membership in the fraternity, and could not get back until reinstated into organized baseball.

The National Commission also declared that any player who jumped to the Federal League would be debarred from organized baseball, and could not apply for reinstatement for a period of five years in case of violating a reserve clause.

The International League wound up the business of its annual scheduled meeting during a brief session yesterday.

Justice Evers' Release
NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Chas. W. Murphy, President of the Cubs, denied that he had any intention of retiring from professional baseball or that he knew of any move to force him out of the National League. He said:

"I am in the game to stay. It has become the national pastime to kick Murphy out of baseball at least four times a year, and I am getting used to it. I am the real and only boss of my club and I am going to run it in the way I see fit."

"As for Evers, I did what I thought was best for the club. He is temperamentally unfit to manage a team—outside of that a very valuable man. Evers and I could not agree, and one of us had to go. Whether he plays with Boston or not, Sweeney and Perdue are going to play for me."

Clyde Engle, of the Boston American League team, who was reported as a possible recruit for the Federal League, signed a contract with his old club yesterday.

Murphy Really to Blame
For the Federal League

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 13.—"Charles W. Murphy is responsible for the organization of the Federal League. The president of the Chicago National League club is to blame for the large number of major League baseball players who are jumping to the outlaw organization."

These statements were made by Frank Chance, manager of the New York American League club, and formerly manager of the Chicago Cubs. "Charles Murphy," said Chance,

"has done more to hurt baseball than any other man who has been in the game in all the years the sport has flourished. He is going to continue to be an objectionable figure just as long as he is allowed to have any connection with any club."

A lot of my friends said I was crazy two years ago when I sold my stock in Chicago National League club. I happened to know a few things that they did not know. That is why I got out and got as far away from Murphy as possible.

Juniors Play at Woodstock
To-night — Intermediates
Meet New Hamburg

BERLIN, Ont., Feb. 13.—Although the O. H. A. intermediate team of this city is playing the second game of the home and home series with New Hamburg here to-day, with only one goal lead, the management of the Union Jacks, who whitewashed the Woodstock juniors last night, are running an excursion to the Industrial City this afternoon, and have been assured of liberal patronage. The supporters of both teams are confident that Berlin will be represented in the finals of both the intermediate and junior series.

The intermediates are in fine fettle for the game with New Hamburg and will make sure that the dope will not be split, as was the case in the London-Sarnia series. The juniors are quite confident that they will hold their own in Woodstock with the substantial lead of four goals. The youngsters are being coached by two former stars, "Goldie" Cochran and "Collie" Schmidt.

HOCKEY RESULTS.

- O. H. A. Senior
- Toronto K. and A. A. 3, Midland I.
- O. H. A. Intermediate
- Wiaront 4, Riversides 4.
- O. H. A. Junior
- Orillia 9, Owen Sound 1.

GAMES O-DAY.

- O. H. A. Intermediate
- New Hamburg at Berlin.
- Dunville at Hamilton.
- Orillia at Peterboro.
- O. H. A. Junior
- Berlin at Woodstock.
- Kingston at Oshawa.
- Royal Military College and McGill University seconds will play at Montreal to-night in the first home-and-home game for the championship of the eastern section of the intercollegiate series. The return game will be played in Kingston next week, when McGill play Queen's in the senior series. The winners will then meet University of Toronto seconds for the championship.

Sporting Comment

The Feds haven't bothered the Red Sox yet. Not much danger from last year's showing anyway.

At last we have landed the "Rube." The fight has been long and strenuous o' him, but here's wishing him success with the Red Sox.

All the players on the reserve list have forwarded their signed contracts and a number of new players have made application for a job on the team.

Still another blow has been struck at the Feds. J. Ira Davis, "some umps," as he declared himself, has signed up with the outlaws. Poor old Feds—Ottawa Free Press.

The Union Jack floated above the Berlin rink Wednesday night, but there may be a different story to tell after the game to-night. The Industrial City bunch are hard losers, and will die fighting.

The Hamilton Herald dopes out Davey Rowan's past accomplishments, and if he lands the job to pilot the Kolts, predicts that the team will land in the first division. Rowan certainly has an enviable record, and one to be proud of.

A world's series of hockey matches between the winners of the N. H. A. and the Pacific Coast Hockey Association is being arranged to take place at the close of the regular playing schedule, and will no doubt furnish a lot of sport.

Football

At a meeting held Wednesday evening in the Y. M. C. A., it was decided that April 18th should be the date of the opening of the Brantford and Paris league schedule.

The first round of the Courier cup should be played on Saturday, May 9th, 1914.

The first round of the John Hill Charity cup, in aid of the Tubercular Hospital, to be played on Saturday, May 23rd, 1914.

Application for membership to the Brantford and Paris League, must reach the league secretary at 30 Ontario street, not later than Tuesday, 17th, as this is the closing date for entrance to the league.

All football referees who desire to officiate during next season, are requested to write the league secretary 30 Ontario St., city.

ORILLIA, Feb. 13.—In the O.H. A. junior second round game here last night, Orillia won the round by the score of 23 to 7 and last night's game by 9 to 1. The half time score was 3 to 0 for Orillia. The first half was very slow, Orillia keeping the puck well in Owen Sound's territory. The ice was very hard and made combination easy. Tyrus R. Cobb Gives Some Interesting Views On Big Leagues' Corps of Umpires

Most fans think that my umpire reputation is a bad one. The general impression is that an umpire has as soothing an effect on me as a red rag has on the temper of a peevish bull. This is altogether wrong, as I will endeavor to show. It may be true that I was a little rough on umpires when I first broke into the big league, but I have long since seen the folly of this course. The bad name has stuck to me, however. It is customary to keep after umpires in the bush leagues and I tried to maintain my pace when I came up. That's how I made my mistake.

Now, listen to the way I really feel toward the umpires. After I had been in the league for a time, I met some of the umpires off the field and found that they were human and pretty good fellows. I prize my friendships with several umpires now as highly as any I have. Lately I have made it my business not to show up an umpire by violent gestures at him on the field so that the crowd can "hop" on him. If I think a man has missed one on me, I will walk by him and tell him quietly that I believe he has made a mistake, but I never try to get the crowd down on a man any more.

"Billy" Evans has made me the hero of several of his umpire stories, and Evans and I are good friends. If he is going to do this I don't see why I shouldn't turn round and make him the leading man in some of mine. But the first umpire incident which comes to my mind in connection with that grand old battler, "Tim" Hurst, now of the majors, "Tim" had many stormy sessions while umpiring, and the history of the game is full of the battles of Hurst.

When the subway was first put into New York, many out-of-town folks were confused by the Broadway and Bronx trains. Frequently passengers would get on a Bronx express and forget to change at Ninety-sixth street, so that instead of arriving at the old American league park, they found themselves in the Bronx Zoo, or somewhere along this route. This would make a difference of about an hour in the time of arrival at the ball park. I would not call this a plain bone-head play, because I made the same mistake myself, once.

"Tim" was scheduled to work a game out at American league park when the Detroit club was playing there one day, and he got carried up into the Bronx instead of going on the right route. Hurst has told me since that he was reading some promising prize fighter's history at the time and paid no attention to the stations. Nobody was scheduled to help Hurst umpire the game, so that when the time for the contest arrived and "Tim" had not shown up, we were up against it for an umpire. Griffith, then managing the Yankees, sent for Jennings, and they held a confab at the plate while the players of both clubs gathered around.

"I'll tell you what I'll do," said "Foxy" Griffith. "One of my extra players will work behind the bat, and you can put one of your men on the bases."

"All right," replied Jennings, and he selected an extra player from the bench in whom he had confidence to see things right and call them as he saw them.

Schaefer's Great Slide.

"Germany" Schaefer was playing second base on the Detroit club in those days, and he smashed the ball to right field in the first inning. It was really a single, but "Germany" figuring that he wasn't going to get any the worst of it from a player of his own club umpiring on the bases if there was a close play at second decided to take two on the punch. The play at second base was close, Schaefer being forced to slide for it, but the volunteer umpire was properly on the job and shouted:

"Safe."

"Germany" was up and brushing himself off being rather tickled with the fact that he had made a two-base hit, when he heard a deep, contralto voice break out behind him. "Yer out."

"Germany" looked and saw Hurst hustling across the field when "he saw the hit and had got close enough to second base to take the play there. None of the rest of us had noticed him. Schaefer put up an awful kick, and bawled Hurst out, but "Tim" bawled back and stuck to his decision.

"You were late, and you are incompetent," declared Schaefer. "If you would keep away from the race tracks, you might be on the job. How do you expect to call them from the club house?"

"You don't make the plays close enough for me to need to be any nearer to see them," replied Hurst, who was always there with the comeback. "Now get out of there and go to the bench before I put you out of the game."

A Sample of Tim's Style.

Hurst was umpiring in Detroit one day when we were playing the Athletics and he called "Danny" Murphy safe at first base on a slow roller steamed across the diamond ahead of the runner. At least I thought he did from where I was standing in right field. I was playing close behind first base and Murphy seemed to be out a step. Hurst called him safe, however, which got my goat.

"He was out a yard, Tim," I yelled, running in to where Hurst was standing back of first.

The umpire paid no attention to me, and I finally went back to right field. Pretty soon another batter pushed one to the second baseman and was thrown out before he was much more than half way down the line. I was still sore about the other decision and thought I would cut loose with a little sarcasm.

"How about that, 'Tim'?" He was safe, too, I suppose," I yelled as I ran in to the umpire.

"Well," said Tim, "is that what you think?"

"Sure," I answered still holding my ground.

"All right, I'll call him that way if you want it. Now which was he?"

"He was out," I was forced to admit, because I knew Tim would have reversed his decision and called him safe if I had continued to say he was. That was always "Tim's" style.

"Rube" Oldring of the Athletics, tells a story on Hurst when "Rube" first broke into the league. Tim was working behind the bat one day, and he called a strike on Oldring that looked bad to the Philadelphia outfielder or that he wanted the crowd, for he was playing at home, to think looked bad to him.

"That wasn't a strike," said Oldring.

"Strike one, I said," replied Tim. Pretty soon up came the next pitch.

"Ball one," decided Hurst.

In the Same Place

"Right where the other one was," Tim, declared Oldring, thinking to prove in this way that Hurst had missed the first one.

"All right," said Hurst. "Strike two."

"What?" shouted Oldring.

"That's what you said yourself," returned Tim. "You thought it was right where the first one was."

And Hurst made it stick, too. Oldring lost a strike and put himself in a hole through his kick.

But the old time umpires of the rough and ready Hurst school are fast passing out of the game. I cannot think of one of his style in the big league now. If a catcher kicked with Tim working and tried to bark Hurst's shin with his spikes, Tim-othy would kick right back at the catcher's shins while he argued and generally tore off as much epidermis, because the catchers of his day did not wear shin guards as a general rule.

There is one thing that ball players are forced to admire in umpires and that is nerve. No man lasts long in the big leagues as an umpire without this quality. Big leaguers make it their business to test out the nerve of umpires at once as soon as they are in question in the minds of the players as to whether they are "chellow" or not. If either a ball player or an umpire comes into the big league and displays any lack of nerve, he might just as well pack his grip and pull out again. There is no room for him.

How Evans Was Started

There is an interesting story of how "Billy" Evans happened to go to work as an umpire. He was a newspaper reporter in Youngstown, O., after he left Cornell university. He had been quite a student up there as I get it, having played football until he hurt his knee, and having sung in the glee club, I think. When he got back to Youngstown, he had all the "rah rah" trimmings and was a good dresser and popular with the Youngstown society buds. But the newspaper business was not very remunerative in the small town.

Evans was doing baseball, covering the bush league games in the local lot when the club was short an umpire one day. Evans had shown considerable baseball intelligence in that neighborhood, so they asked him if he would crash out of the press stand and into the gap and umpire the game. They offered him $5.00 for the afternoon's work, which looked like a lot of money considering that his weekly pay envelope at the newspaper office only earned $12. Billy figured that he was making about half of his salary in one afternoon in this way, and it looked pretty good until he had gone through one game. They tell me that was a tough town to umpire in.

However he supplied so much general satisfaction to both parties by his umpiring on the first day, that they asked him to work all the games played in town, and gave him a flat price of $5 per battle. Billy says his hardest work was on Sunday days when the real sporting element of the town confined to the shops and other industries through the week, turned out to root and incidentally considered mobbing the umpire as one of their privileges. Of course as soon as it became locally known among the society buds that Evans was umpiring on Sundays, his social rating slumped, but his financial standing took a big jump and Bill has ever preferred the financial position to the social one. He kept on with the newspaper, writing the story of the game each day after he had finished his work as umpire.

Jimmy McAleer the great outfielder who played with Cleveland, and who has since managed the St. Louis and Washington clubs and was the president of the Boston Red Sox, lived in Youngstown, and he stopped there one Sunday when his club had an off day to see his folks. He took advantage of the opportunity to go down and watch the bushers play, thinking perhaps he might see one to his liking who would help his club. Anyway you cannot keep a baseball man from a ball game, no matter how strongly they insist that they wish the national commission would pass a by-law barring them from all ball parks. McAleer made no progress in his search for budding talent but he was impressed by the way in which Evans handled the contest, the young collegian getting away with a lot of tough situations.

At this time Ban Johnson was shy on umpires for the American league and he mentioned the fact to Jimmy McAleer one day.

"There's a young fellow down in Youngstown getting away with the Sunday games in good shape," said McAleer. "Name is Evans. That's a tough town to work in, because they take their pleasure mobbing umpires. I'll have a look at him," said Mr. Johnson.

The president of the American league sent for Evans and offered him a trial, but Billy did not accept at once.

"I want to put it up to my mother," replied Evans.

His mother finally consented after Evans proved to her that the prospects of an umpire in the big league were much brighter financially than those of a newspaper reporter in Youngstown, O. His employer on the newspaper told him that he could have his old job back if he failed to give satisfaction in the big league, so Evans went to Chicago and worked his first game there.

He still worked his good clothes and had the college boy air which riled some of the old timers on the White Sox, such as "Jiggs" Donohue, who afterwards went crazy, and three others. Of course, the other ball players could hear the players were riding Evans on his first game to try out his stuff, but he had some tough ones to go against Donohue.

"I'll get you for that one," claimed Jiggs in loud tones to the other ball players could hear the players were riding Evans on his first game to try out his stuff, but he had some tough ones to go against Donohue.

"You're welcome to," replied Evans. Even after this, however, Evans had a lot of rough travelling in the big league dazzling him a good deal and each new batch of ball players being after him. That was the day of the old school ball player; they could not understand Evans' style and his neat manner. They were more used to the "Tim" Hurst sort.

Lumber Jack's Feet Frozen

[By Special Wire to The Courier] KINGSTON, Ont., Feb. 12.—Frank Collins, a young lumber jack, whose home is in this city, was brought to the Hotel Dieu this morning. He had both feet badly frozen and it is feared that they may have to be amputated. He was working at Easter Camp about one hundred miles north of North Bay and set out to walk to another camp at Cache Bay a distance of thirty miles. After covering about 24 miles he was over come by the cold, it being about thirty degrees below zero and had to drag himself as best he could four miles farther to reach the nearest farm. Part of the way he had to make on his hands and knees and he suffered terribly. He had a man drive him to Cache Bay and here he started on his journey home.

PARISH CHURCH DESTROYED. KAMOURASKA, Quebec, Feb. 12.—The parish church of this village was completely destroyed by fire last night. The church was valued at $45,000 to $50,000 and is a complete loss. Absolutely nothing was saved. There is said to be an insurance of $35,000 or $38,000 on the structure. The cause of the fire is not known, but it is supposed to have originated from an overheated stove. The convent which is situated close to the church was saved with great difficulty.

Page, when Mrs. Page, entertained the young ladies of her Sunday school class and their gentlemen friends to tea on Thursday evening, February 5th. The evening was spent in games and music, after which the party came to a close and returned home in the early hours of the morning.

Canada Fairly Well Supplied With Phones Report Shows One Instrument to Every Fifteen of Population—Ear-Lugs for Year. [By Special Wire to The Courier] OTTAWA, Feb. 12.—According to a report issued yesterday by the railway department, there is now one telephone for every 15.2 of the population in Canada. The total cost of the system in Canada is placed at $69,214,071. The gross earnings for last year were $14,877,278, or $32.13 for each telephone. The cost of operation was $11,175,689 or $24.10 per telephone. Telegraph companies were capitalized at $6,095,212, and the expenses $4,034,480.

SAM PERRIN DEAD. CHATHAM, Ont., Feb. 12.—Samuel Perrin, for many years a prominent citizen of Chatham, died at the hospital early this morning, following a prolonged illness. At one time he was engaged in the hotel business and was proprietor of the Royal Exchange and later the Garner House. For many years he has lived retired. He is owner of one of the theatres in Toronto and is reputed to be wealthy. He is a brother of D. S. Perrin, the biscuit manufacturer of London. Mrs Perrin and one daughter live in Detroit and George, a son, better known as "Kibosh Bill," a humorous writer, lives here.

HIS THROAT WAS CUT NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Charles H. Lord, floor-walker in a Sixth avenue department store, fainted to-day and pitched headfirst into a show case. The broken glass cut his throat and he quickly bled to death.

NEWPORT (From our own correspondent) Mr. Cook conducted the services on Sunday evening and delivered a splendid address. Miss Flo Rous of Lynden, spent a few days the guest of the Misses Emmott. A jolly sleigh load of young people from Newport attended the dance given by Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell of Birch on Monday night. A good-time was spent in music games and dancing, etc., refreshments following.

MIDDLEPORT (From our own Correspondent.) The women of the Middleport Institute are having a concert in Mitchell's hall on Tuesday evening, Feb. 17th. Miss Daisy Westbrook, elocutionist, Mr. Atkinson, from Ouidi, soloist, and other local talent will be there. Everybody welcome, as a good program is expected. The proceeds are in aid of building a pavilion for the women at the tuberculosis hospital, of Brant county.

FAMILIES DRIVEN OUT WINSTEAD, Conn., Feb. 12.—In a temperature 20 degrees below zero, six families were driven in scanty attire early to-day when they were forced by fire from their apartments in a large-frame building here. They were cared for by friends, and so far as known, none suffered serious consequences from the exposure. The fire loss was not heavy.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS THE GREAT URINARY REMEDY

HARTFORD (From our own Correspondent) Zero weather Saturday and Sunday. The cold weather got in some of the cellars. R. J. Thomas had his ice house filled this week. Peter Nelson had the contract. A. D. VanLoon had a bee Friday drawing his pressed hay to Hagersville. Geo. Townsend and Edward Howard each sold a horse to be shipped to the West. They were bought by Jos. E. Nobert. Jacob Wardell lost his best horse last Friday. It got down in the stable and badly bruised itself and was killed to relieve it of suffering. Geo. Watt lost one of his horses Friday. It had an attack of lymphangitis and pneumonia set in and caused its death. H. McKeen has a sick horse that is progressing favorably. The Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. Hunt Tuesday.

Victoria Mills was broken into Saturday night and some clothing, boots, groceries, etc., were carried away. To get basket to carry the things away in, about 25 dozen fresh eggs were dumped out, and broken. Lloyd says the eggs were worth more than the goods taken. Mrs. Peter Nelson was visiting at A. B. VanLoon's Friday last. Mr. and Mrs. Jno. VanLoon took tea at A. Simington's last Thursday evening. Clare Hayes of St. Thomas was home last week. Miss Maud Simington has her cousin Miss Ashburn spending a few days with her. Mrs. Solomon VanLoon is at Scotland with Mrs. M. Glaver who is very sick.

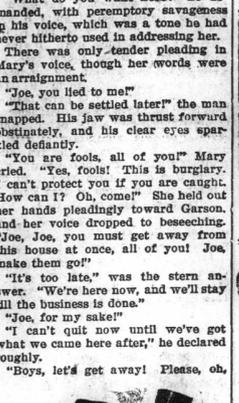

ROSS VAN LOON WAS KICKED BY A COIT Sunday night but escaped with a slight bruise. A large number from here attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Wm. Overhalt at Beaton. Pastor Richardson conducted the services. Reports were given from the different organizations of the church. Among the items of general business that are to be taken up is the installing a baptistry and building a large enclosed shed. These are expected to be forwarded at once. The pastor will move this week, and soon be settled.

BURFORD (From our own correspondent) Mr. and Mrs. A. Cohoe of Essex are the guests of Dr. Johnston. Mrs. Foster of Brantford was visiting friends in the village last week. Mrs. Creighton, Sr., who has been very ill, is much improved. Mrs. Warren Gidley of Midland is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Gorry. Miss Stella Walker has been added to the local staff of the Automatic Phone Co. The Misses Umphrey are visiting friends at Otterville. Miss Woodsworth of Woodstock has been visiting Mrs. J. Smith. Mr. Vansickle was called to Jerseyville last week to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Bristol. Mr. and Mrs. F. Sherman entertained the members of the Congregational bible class on Scotland on Wednesday evening of last week. Miss Helen Muir of Brantford visited Miss Ruth Muir over Sabbath. Mrs. Worboise of Cathcart is visiting Miss Sarah Carter. The township council have bought out Robt. McCracken's mill site, and intend changing the course of the road going west to get rid of one or more bridges. The township church intend erecting a parish hall in the spring. An organizer for the Canadian Order of Foresters is in the village in the interest of the order. The annual military ball will be held in the armories on Thursday, Feb. 19th.

TOOTHBRUSH MOUSTACHE. BERLIN, Feb. 12.—The wearing of the "toothbrush" moustache was forbidden to the soldiers of the Emperor William's body guard regiment by an order issued to-day. The reason given was that it was non-German. An earthquake lasting altogether four minutes was felt in many parts of Ontario about 1.30 p.m. yesterday.

WITHIN THE LAW By MARVIN DANA From The Play of BAYARD VEILLER Copyright, 1913, by H. K. Fly Company.

"Yes," was the answer. "Well, then, we've got to get busy." "Bessie, he could add a direction, he was halted by a soft buzzing from the telephone. For an instant he hesitated while the others regarded him doubtfully. "We've got to take a chance," Garson went to the desk and put the receiver to his ear. "There came again the faint tapping of some one at the other end of the line, signalling a message in the Morse code. An expression of blank amazement, which grew in a flash to deep dejection, showed on Garson's face as he listened tensely. "Why, this is Mary calling," he muttered. "Mary?" Griggs cried. "Yes, she's on," Garson interpreted a moment later as the tapping ceased for a little. He translated in a loud, whisper as the irregular ticking noise sounded again. "I shall be there almost at once. I am sending this message from the drug store around the corner. Have some one open the door for me immediately." "She's coming over!" Griggs cried incredulously. "No, I'll stop her," Garson declared firmly. "But when after tapping a few words the forger passed for the reply no sound came. "She don't answer!" he exclaimed. "On her way already," Griggs suggested. "I'll let her in." He drew a small torch from the skirt pocket of his coat and crossed to the hall door as Garson nodded assent. "God! Why did she have to come?" Garson muttered, filled with foreboding. "If anything should go wrong now!" He turned back toward the door just as it opened, and Mary darted into the room, with Griggs following closely at her heels. "What do you want here?" he demanded, with peremptory savagery by his voice, which was a tone he had never hitherto used in addressing her. There was only tender pleading in Mary's voice, though her words were an arraignment. "Joe, you lied to me!" "That can be settled later!" the man snapped. His jaw was thrust forward obstinately, and his clear eyes sparkled defiantly. "You are fools, all of you!" Mary cried. "Yes, fools! This is burglary. I can't protect you if you are caught. How can I? Oh, come!" She held out her hands pleadingly toward Garson, and her voice dropped to beseeching. "Joe, Joe, you must get away from this house at once, all of you! Joe, make them go!" "It's too late," was the stern answer. "We're here now, and we'll stay till the business is done." "Joe, for my sake!" "I can't quit now until we've got what we came here after," he declared roughly. "Boys, let's get away! Please, oh, please! Joe, for God's sake!" Her tone was a sob. "I'm going to see this through," said Garson doggedly. With a gesture of despair she turned away toward the door by which she had entered. "You can't go," Garson said sharply. "You might be caught." "And if I were," Mary demanded in a flash of indignation, "do you think I'd tell?" "Of course not, Mary. I know you. You would go up for life first. Just the same, you can't take any chances. We'll all get away in a minute and you'll come with us." He turned to the men and spoke with swift authority. "Come," he said to Dacey, "you get to the light switch there by the hall door. If you hear me snap my fingers, turn 'em off. Understand?" With instant obedience the man went to his station by the hall door. "Well," Garson ordered, "you get to that door." He pointed to the one that gave on the passageway against which he had set the chair tilted. As the man obeyed Garson gave further instructions. "If any one comes in that way get him and get him quick. You understand? Don't let him cry out or make a sound. Chicago Red held up his huge hand, widely open. "Not a chance," he declared proudly, "with that over his mug." "Now, let's get to work," Garson continued eagerly. Mary spoke with the bitterness of defeat. "Listen, Joe! If you do this I'm through with you. I quit." "If this goes through," he countered, "we'll all quit. That's why I'm doing it. I'm sick of the game." (To be continued.)

Radford Murder is Fault of Explorer Considerable attention is paid to the alleged murder of Mr. Radford and Mr. Street, of whom much has been said, and the police promise every investigation. If necessary a strong patrol, which may have to stay in the country a year, if not two, will be sent to bring the murderers to punishment. According to police reports, Mr. Radford, the United States explorer, struck a man goes the whip because he declined to go with him after engaging to do so. The man's excuse was that his wife had been taken suddenly ill, but Mr. Radford, not understanding, endeavored to enforce obedience. A fight ensued in the course of which Mr. Radford was speared in the back, and Mr. Street, the Ottawa man, was also murdered before he had a chance to put up any kind of a fight. If the report is true, Mr. Radford, in the opinion of the officer reporting the occurrence, "showed very poor judgment when he tried to enforce obedience by striking an Eskimo so far from civilization."

MAINE JAILS ARE TOO ATTRACTIVE

Sheriff Sets "Weary Willies" To Hard Work for the Future.

BANGOR, Me., February 13.—At the Waldo county jail in Belfast tramps have been so numerous of late that the sheriff has adopted heroic measures to make the place unattractive. Within a few weeks a dozen or more hobos were arrested in Faldo county and sentenced to 30 or 60 days each in jail and Sheriff Cushman is trying to make them pay for their keep. He marches the gang out every morning, sometimes when the temperature is 10 or 15 degrees below zero, and keeps them steadily at work all day chopping cord wood. When a dozen cords or more have been felled and cut into four-foot lengths the prisoners load it on sleds and haul it to the jail yard, where they cut it into stove size, and split it. Those who work hard get something extra to eat—a bowl of hot soup and a big piece of pie and more than the usual allowance of tobacco; those who loaf on the job are sent back to the jail and kept locked up day and night, with the ordinary fare. In this way the sheriff expects that the county will come out about even with the tramps on their board bill. In years past Belfast jail and that at Farmington, Franklin county, were famed as "soft spots" by the hobo fraternity. At Belfast years ago there was a sheriff whose wife did the cooking for the prisoners, and she was such a fine cook and so good natured that her fame spread all over the country, and hoboes flocked to Belfast to get some of her cracked pies and amberbaked doughnuts. In every way the jail was "easy."

There was no work to do save to chop what firewood was used, in the jail and in the sheriff's house, and the tramps used to quarrel over the division of even that small job. They sat in their cells all day reading novels and playing cards. Finally they got so lazy that they could scarcely rouse themselves to eat. When any of the gang felt like taking a stroll he took it, for almost any one could get away from the jail yard, the fence being low and the turnkey half asleep. One fine day in spring it was discovered that nearly all of the prisoners had disappeared. They had come to the conclusion that winter was over and that the jail was no place for them; so they just went away from there. In Farmington it was the same. The jail was a little toy house of stone, connected with the sheriff's house by a covered walk. One day the four prisoners in the place, having read all the novels and smoked up all the tobacco in sight, made a key of wire, opened the door into the connecting corridor, kicked out a sash, and vanished. Two days later three of the four returned, saying that the weather was yet too cold to sleep out, and that anyway, the grub in that jail was good enough to make it worth a man's while to stay a few weeks longer. After serving as a place of confinement for all sorts of evildoers for more than 110 years, the Lincoln county jail at Wiscasset has gone out of business. So few are the arrests and sentences for any degree of crime in the county that it is not worth while to keep the old jail running, and an arrangement has been made whereby any who require restraint may be sent to the Knox county jail in Rockland.

ONCE MULATTO COLORED, IS NOW ENTIRELY WHITE

PERRYSBURG, O., Feb. 13.—Thirty years ago James Wilson, colored, aged 79, was as brown as the usual dark-complexioned colored man. Now he's completely white. Wilson has been examined by physicians at the Jefferson hospital in Philadelphia and at Johns Hopkins university in Baltimore and by hundreds of other doctors. His blood has been tested and the skin studied as it was turning. They all gave up an explanation of the phenomenon, Wilson says he never used anything externally or internally to produce the change. Wilson's wife discovered the first white spot on his shoulder, when she was bathing his back. It was about the size of a nickel. That was when Wilson was 45. In subsequent baths the growth of the spot was noted. At fifty his entire back had become white. Wilson was employed as a barber in Perrysburg at the time, but was later forced to give up his trade when his hands began to turn white in spots. People feared it was leprosy or some other contagious disease. Twenty years ago he was all white except his face, which was the last to completely turn.

TOO MUCH FOR HIM. "Are you a Socialist?" "No," replied Mr. Penwidge. "I was for a little while, but I found my talent didn't run in that direction, so I had to go back writing ordinary fiction." —Washington Star.

"I'LL GIVE YOU THE $7,500,000," SAYS THE BARON TO THE EARL

Baron Maurice Arnold de Pores, has agreed to pay to the Earl of Derby $7,500,000 for the latter's estate in Bootle, a suburb of Liverpool. Behind this announcement lies an interesting bit of history. In making a speech in Liverpool recently the Earl of Derby referred contemptuously to "an alien gentleman owning no land in this country—Baron de Pores." "I have no love for him," said Lord Derby. "He has stated that the most conservative estimate of the revenue of my estate at Bootle might be safely put at $500,000. The capital value he places at fifteen or twenty millions. If he puts down $7,500,000 he can have it." Now the Baron has accepted the offer and a big land deal is likely to be the result of a political controversy.

England Picks A New Ambassador To France

LONDON, Feb. 13.—King George and Queen Mary are anxious to make their state visit to Paris while Sir Francis Bertie and his wife Lady Feodoromna, are still at the British embassy, for it is known that the English ambassador, who is by no means young, wishes to retire. Directly the royal visit is over, he and Lady Feo will be glad to be out of the country. She is an aristocrat to her finger-tips and has always been careful in admitting comparative strangers to her visiting list. Some years ago two smart American women who were seen at the Moulton Rouge were subsequently cut off the embassy visiting list, though it appears this day they do not know why. It seems they were burning with curiosity to see everything in Paris and induced some of their male friends to accompany them to the famous music-hall. The performance happened just then to be a particularly objectionable one and one of the secretaries of the embassy who was present caught sight of the two adventurous dames and told Lady Feo Bertie who has always been a bit of a martinet in matters of that kind.

Dufferins May Go to Paris. Earl and Lady Dufferin are mentioned as possible successors to the Berties. They would have a great welcome. The other people remember well the late Earl Dufferin and his sons, one of whom is the present peer. They are all favorites in Paris where Lady Dufferin is also a very familiar figure. One of the young men who is very much in the public eye just now is Lord Titchfield, the heir to the Duke of Portland, because of the fact that his majority is reached this year and because of his friendship with the Prince of Wales. He has the genial manners of the Cavendish-Bentincks and, though his mother has never cultivated the American element, her son has a decided partiality for it. Lately he has been darning a good deal at country houses with Lord Curzon's debutant daughter, Mary, who, if not as beautiful as her late mother, who was Mary Leiter, is as witty as her father and directly she is out of his sight is an unconventional as her "Aunt Daisy" (Daisy Leiter) used to be in the old days. She does not see eye to eye with her father, but for all that they are most devoted to each other. She recently gave Lord Titchfield a long lecture on what a landlord should be. She says she intends to keep all her money in her own hands "if" she marries and she has great schemes for the "fitting" of the masses. Mary is to wear her mother's bridal veil to decorate her court train at her coming out. It is historic lace and was once in the collection of Queen Marie Antoinette. Kisses are Barred.

The duchess of Manchester won't allow any of her children to kiss anyone and the duchess of Roxburghe is adopting the same attitude in regard to her small son. Even when his grandmothers, the dowager duchess of Roxburghe and Mrs. Goelet, arrived to see him his mother declared they must abstain from kissing him. Many modern mothers here, however, claim that children who are brought up without knowing anything about kissing become cold, heartless, little prigs with very little feeling. Recently, when somebody questioned the duchess of Marlborough as to what she thought on the hygienic value of this innovation she replied, "I should very much rather risk the chance of my boys catching a stray microbe than that they should miss enjoying any true and beautiful human attention. They should always be allowed to kiss anyone who wanted to kiss them. Now, however,

ENGLISH COURTS VERY EXCLUSIVE

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The gates are closed against any more applicants for presentations to the King and Queen at Buckingham Palace this year. The lord chamberlain has announced that the lists are full, which will doubtless mean a lot of disappointed social debutantes from America in London this year.

Four courts are ordinarily held each year, two early in February just after the opening of parliament, and two in late May or early June. Last year, owing to the large number entitled to presentation, a fifth was held, but at such great inconvenience that it is hoped to avoid a repetition this year.

As the embassies have only four invitations, outside the diplomatic circles, to which only ladies of the embassies and legations and their near relatives are admitted, it is easy to realize the demand that has been made on the embassies for the privilege of being presented. Strictly speaking, the four extra invitations are personal to the ambassador or minister, but in some cases requests for presentations have been made through the authorities of the country which the ambassador represents.

Queen Has Umbrella Habit

This question of distributing the four invitations is one of the most trying that the social secretary of an embassy has to deal with. He receives hundreds of requests, all or mostly all from people of equal merit, and must make an early selection. The rejected are his sworn enemies thereafter. Rain or shine, Queen Mary must have her umbrella, the habit being so confirmed that she often feels lost without it indoors. This peculiarity has become conspicuous through the recent incident in Norwich where the Queen insisted on carrying her umbrella through a museum whose rules forbid the taking of walking sticks or umbrellas into the picture galleries.

The Socialist papers seized on the incident and even in more conservative quarters the queen's conduct is questioned. No matter what the occasion, unless it be some very formal ceremonial, the queen invariably carries a neatly folded umbrella despite the fact that she always drives in a covered carriage and whenever she stops anywhere a canopy is provided. Princess Mary has the same umbrella habit as her mother.

Ban on Suffrage Raised

Some little time ago Queen Mary withdrew the rule forbidding the women of her household to belong to any suffrage organization—the militant organization, however, was excepted and still remained under the royal ban. The other day she made it known that she would no longer forbid the members of the
