

What Society is doing

Mother's Pies.
I've toiled and tried and worried,
I've gone to the cook-books through,
Till my brain is tired and flurried,
And my hands and patience, too,
I had the best instruction
From the oldest cooks in town,
And my pies are crisp and dainty,
And delicately brown.
Of any form or shade,
Are nothing to my husband
Like the pies his mother made.
But as sure as I'm a mother,
I'll be avenged some day,
My bonnie lads are growing,
And they'll not be afraid
To tell their future spouses
What pies their mother made.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL GUYDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 1

SOME LAWS OF THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

LESSON TEXTS—Luke 6:28-35; 21:4-4. GOLDEN TEXT—Remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, it is more blessed to give than to receive.—Acts 20:35.

DEVOTIONAL READING—II—Constitution—100. ADDITIONAL MATERIAL FOR TEACHERS—Luke 15:9; Romans 12:8; II Corinthians 13:14; Ezra 1:2-4; I Chronicles 29:1-5.

The principles of ethics which shall prevail in the earth when Jesus Christ shall be king are entirely different from those of the world. The worldly spirit always inquires as to what gain they expect from an action or service. Its policy is doing good for the sake of getting good. Those who have been made partakers of the divine nature, who are really subjects of the kingdom, do good because they have the nature and spirit of God, not because they expect something in return.

I. Give to Every Man That Asketh of Thee (v. 30).
This does not mean that any request that may be made by the idle, greedy and selfish should be granted. Only evil would result from such indiscriminate and unregulated giving. Such a man is selfish, and his giving is selfishness. Oftentimes he will give you what he needs for himself, but he will not give you what he needs for himself. The man in poverty needs to be given a way to earn his living, rather than to be given money without the necessity of labor. There is that in the human heart which refuses charity, and will not open for a means to honestly gain a livelihood.

II. Of Him That Taketh Away Thy Goods, Ask Them Not Again (v. 30).
"Ask" here means demand. It does not less forbid the forcible demanding of the return of that which has been taken from one.

III. Do to Other Men as You Would They Should Do Unto You (v. 31-34).
This ethic puts life's activities on the highest possible ground. He does not say, refrain from doing that which you would not like to be done to you, as even Confucius taught; but to positively make the rule of your life the doing to do unto you. Loving those who love us, doing good to those who do good to us, and lending to those from whom we hope to receive, is not what all the sippers of the world are doing. The child of the kingdom of Christ is to be different.

IV. Love Your Enemies (v. 35).
The heart is to hate the enemy. The heart in the real sense means to secretly desire the good of even one's enemy and willingness to do anything possible to bring that good. Such action is only possible to those who have been made partakers of the divine nature who hated him. He was willing even to die for his enemies.

V. Lend, Hoping for Nothing Again (v. 35).
This is what the Heavenly Father is constantly doing. He is kind and gracious unto all, and he is not ungrateful. He sends his rain and sun to shine upon the unjust and sinners. He makes fruitful the toll of those who blaspheme his name. He thus does because it is his nature to do so.

VI. Be Merciful (v. 36).
The example for the imitation of the disciple is the Heavenly Father.

VII. Judge Not (v. 37).
To judge does not mean the placing of just estimates upon men's actions and lives, for "By their fruits ye shall know them." The tree is judged by the fruit it bears. The thorn tree does not bear figs, the apple tree does not bear grapes. Our only way of discerning the character of men and women is their actions. That which is condemned is censorious judgment—the impugning of motives.

VIII. Condemn Not (v. 37).
This means that we should not pass sentence upon men for their acts, for to their own master they stand or fall (Rom. 14:4). The real reason why such action is not warranted is that the bias of our hearts and the limitation of our judgments render it impossible to righteously and intelligently pass judgment upon others.

IX. Forgive (v. 37).
Those who forgive shall be forgiven. The one who has realized the forgiving mercy of God will be gracious and forgiving toward others.

XI. Liberty Determined by What is Left (Luke 21:4).
The rich cast into the treasury much, but it was from their abundance. The poor widow cast in all that she had; there was nothing left. God estimates a gift by what one has left, not by the size of the gift. To give the widow's mite is to give all. For the millionaire to give the widow's mite would mean for him to give his millions.

Genius and Taste.
To say nothing of its holiness or authority the Bible contains more genius and taste than any other volume in existence.

"In light of the evidence before it, the jury had no avenue of escape from a verdict of guilty," said Judge Landis at another point in his statement, "that the I. W. W. started out deliberately to air Germany." He added that their acts were an aid to the enemy and were aimed directly at their own country.

DIFFICULTIES INCREASE

A press cable from London, Aug. 30, says: "Food Controller Clynnes has issued newspaper men to-day that the existing supplies of food in the British Isles, whether home-grown or imported, ought not to be taken by the people as a guarantee of absolute permanent security. Economy of every kind was no direct contribution to shipping resources, he pointed out that waste or even failure to make sacrifices was at best a thoughtless offense against the national safety. The food difficulties of the world, Mr. Clynnes said, were increasing, despite every effort to avoid them, and Great Britain could not altogether escape some share herself."

NORFOLK NEWS

PROMINENT SIMCONIAN LEAVES TOWN

J. B. Petherain Goes to Port Hope—Other Simcoe News

Simcoe, Aug. 31.—(From Our Own Correspondent).—Mr. J. B. Petherain, former manager of the Norfolk Milling Company, and associated with the company as manager of the uptown feed store since the purchase of a waterpower milling plant in Port Hope with feed store, saw and planing mill and lumber yard connected therewith, and leaves on Monday to take over the business on Tuesday morning.

Mr. Petherain has enjoyed the good will and liberal patronage of the public of this district and leaves Simcoe with a reputation of good business acumen and fair dealing. To him Port Hope is not entirely a new place as he operated a mill there in the eighties of the last century. The family will not leave Simcoe at present.

A man of Mr. Petherain's type and business would be given a splendid send-off by the Board of Trade, if we had one in Simcoe, and he would be deserving of it.

Beginning Wednesday, Port Rowan has been made the southern terminus of the Lake Erie Stratford run. The morning train from Port Dover makes the connection at the Air Line and runs to Port Rowan on arrival of the 11.20 train from Hamilton, returning to Simcoe about 7.15 and after delivering passengers to the Dover train, back round to the Air Line and await the arrival of the Hamilton train before proceeding to Port Rowan.

There is practically no alteration in the time-table for the travelling public.

More Good Flax Yield. Wallace Elliott of North Windham threshed 92 bushels of well ripened flax of six acres. It would make a clear fifteen bushels to the acre. From all parts of the county come expressions of general satisfaction from the men who sowed the Government seed.

Wood Is Wood. Following a report of two representatives who came from Stratford for wood and inspected a block of dry wood owned by E. Schellburg of Simcoe, the city of Stratford purchased a few hundred cords. The block included a quantity of sap pine poles which had not been reduced to cord lengths. According to newspaper reports, Stratford has received part of the wood and is not satisfied with the deal. Our townsman, however, claims that the wood was inspected in the pile and regularly purchased and that he has shipped, according to instructions, and will send along the sap pine and collect.

It is stated that Stratford citizens were taxed $12 a cord for the wood. Mr. Schellburg can get a much higher price here for first class wood than Stratford citizens are paying on the shipments.

Alberta Hard Hit. Albert Edgeworth, a former resident of Windham, now of Detroit, has just returned from the Peace River district and dropped into town yesterday on his way home.

It says Alberta's crops have been hard hit, drought in the south, frost in the north and hot winds between have reduced a great deal of the yield almost to zero.

A great deal of the live stock had to be wintered north, and much of it will be wintered there.

Old Ends of News. There died in Walsingham on Monday last Mrs. Walter Carr. A husband and three small children survive. The funeral to Walsingham Centre was held on Wednesday.

The L. E. & N. railway company has taken cognizance of the condition of the approach to the depot and has made considerable temporary improvements thereto.

Now it is explained that something has been wrong with the mechanical end at the telephone office. Well, that was to be expected. Mr. Angus has been off duty for almost a year. But it does not account for all of the shortcomings of the local service. When the service is at its worst, that "finished—finished" will at times re-iterate throughout an interview by phone. Mechanical deficiencies will not explain away this failure of local operators to repeat messages, conditions, asked for or of long distances to report on calls within an hour or two. But our general manager is sanguine of an improvement. We may get it even without a board of trade.

Superintendent Marston has a big gang of cement men putting in concrete abutments for a 70 foot span steel and concrete bridge over Big Creek west of Port Rowan.

An experienced gang of probably fifty men, many of them French-Canadian are at present at Port Dover, working on the concrete mill dam. The first operation is that of setting out the mass of concrete laid last

The agency would be pleased to interview a couple of citizens who were present at the opening of the Central school on Metcalf street. There will be no Courier on Monday, Labor Day.

Tuesday should find every available student of high or public school, at school, and there in time. Make a good start and keep up. In the long run, ninety per cent. of our students get their deserts at the final examinations, whether they pass or fail. There is no promoting to make room this year.

SIMCOE BOARD OF EDUCATION MET

Special Session Held Last Night—Many Matters Were Up

(From our own correspondent.) Simcoe, Aug. 31st.—Chairman Mongee, and trustees D. F. Aiken, H. P. Innes, W. C. Everett, Guy R. Marston and W. E. Kelly were all the members of the Board of education present at the special session of the Board an adjournment would have been in order but there were six applications for the janitor of the south school. The phone was called with recognition Mr. Martin was out of town, away since Thursday. Mr. Brown was bowling in Delhi. Dr. Burt had just left for Port Rowan on the Sutton.

There was some question as to whether the monthly tender was based on 10 or 12 mos., and the committee on supply and repairs with instructions to report this evening at 7.30 to which hour the meeting was subsequently adjourned.

More Detail. Principal McPherson reminded the board, of wash basins installed at the market and resigned were they would be desirable installed, and the suggestion was approved.

The question of repairs to the wall side of the stairway was also suggested, and is under consideration.

Chairman Marston of the building deplored the necessity of putting the second hand seats in the new school, but thought that present prices for new seats would now be prohibited.

He had located a few seats that would suffice to fill in for the present.

The bill of the Maple Leaf Paving Company for laying 1267 feet of asphalt on a 16 a square foot (234' x 21') was passed.

The new school will be opened without ceremony on Tuesday, just as if we were opening one every other week.

Asked To Explain Why. Officer D. E. McIntosh who has put in a busy summer of it, had Isaac Mussel, six of whose seven children were taken over by the Children's Aid society in October 1917, paid Magistrate Gannon a formal visit last night to explain why he was not contributing something to the upkeep of the family.

Miss Wilson, bookkeeper of the Atkinson Marble works testified that Mussel was working regularly there for some time past receiving 22 1-2 cts. an hour and a free house.

Mussel submitted that he had many creditors and debts of long standing, $40 had there and $70 elsewhere, with many petty debts but he could give no satisfactory statement of any recent reductions in these bills. He thought he could pay $50 cents a week to the society but the magistrate made it $2.00 as a starter.

THE SITUATION.
 On the whole of the Somme battlefield Allied progress is being maintained despite strengthening German resistance. The British, word comes this morning, have entered the village of Danoutré, south of Loivre. The Allies are now confining themselves to the capture of important strategic positions, rather than essaying further spectacular advances. With virtually the whole of the ground lost last March once more in their possession, they have every reason for satisfaction, more particularly as despatches indicate the intention of the Hun to fall back upon the old Hindenburg line before making his next stand. French and American troops under Gen. Mangin and the French under Gen. Humbert, have been making further progress in the Soissons region, in the face of desperate opposition.

Word from Russia tells of a further Bolshevik retirement before the Allied forces on the Ussuri River. The Japs are reported to have taken Iman. The Trotskyites and Leninites are near the end of their tether. The Czech-Slovak movement has spread to the port of Cattaro, where Czech crews aboard Austrian warships have revolted. The Germans are taking strong measures to suppress the national spirit in Estonia, another of the conquered provinces.

NO COMPROMISE
 Mr. Lodge, member of the United States Senate, has very clear and comprehensive ideas on the above subject. During the course of a recent speech, he said: "No peace that satisfies Germany can ever satisfy us. It cannot be a negotiated peace. It must be a peace, and we and our Allies will negotiate it."

CONSIDERING the want on to warn the world against the danger of yielding to German importunities and German sophistries, which will assuredly be the first recourse of that nation when the hope of military victory has vanished.

"The Germans repulsed and losing," said Senator Lodge, "will undoubtedly resort to their other weapon which they have used more than once during this war with terrible effect. They will begin an insidious and poisonous peace propaganda. With this weapon they have succeeded in disorganizing Russia. It is the German propaganda which we shall be obliged to face in the ensuing months and it therefore seems to me of the last importance to know exactly what we mean by peace. Generalities will not serve. It must be, it is commonly said—we all have said it—just and righteous peace."

"But what is a just and righteous peace? We intend to make the world safe for democracy. But what exactly do we mean by democracy? If we mean, as we undoubtedly do, the democracy of England, France, Italy and the United States, we can all understand it; but the bolshevik masquerade under the name of democracy and the bolshevik, by a combination of treachery, corruption and ignorance, have reduced Russia to servitude under Germany, have endangered a form of democracy as dangerous to the world as the government of Hohenzollerns."

LABOR DAY.
 The celebration of Labor Day has a very real meaning and one which is going to become still more accentuated in the time to come. The workers are the producers and no one can gain say the fact that in times past they have not had that share to which their labors entitled them. The war in addition to a great many other things is going to do much to restore a proper balance. The whole of the present gigantic struggle is for the principles of democracy, and the outcome must of necessity give emphasis to that fact.

Canadian labor has certainly a proud record upon which to look at the commencement of the fifth year of the war. From their ranks there has been a ready response to the cause of Empire and of human liberty, and their roll of sacrifice for these things is indeed a lengthy and a proud one.

In the matter of the production of munitions also the workers of this Dominion have performed exceedingly vital tasks. Canada stands very high in the ranks of the Allied peoples in this respect and the output from the shops has been of a very essential nature in the task of combatting the devilish Hun. The workers on the land have also performed their part in an unsparring way and under great difficulties, because of the demand which it was found necessary to make upon the young men of the farm in order to keep up the fighting forces of this country at the front.

In addition Labor has responded most nobly and ungrudgingly to patriotic, Red Cross and other appeals and in all essentials borne in a whole-hearted way a full share of the demands and the burdens of these soul stirring times.

"Labor Day" now possesses a significance which it never before attained. All honor to the men whom the term implies, and all success to the new hopes which have been rightly kindled in their hearts. They have been tried in the fire and found as true as steel and the world owes to them a proper and an adequate recognition.

SAILORS' WEEK
 The week designated for the Navy League sailors has been set apart in Ontario for the raising of $1,000,000 between Sept. 1st and Sept. 7th inclusive. For various reasons, it has been decided to postpone the campaign in Brantford and Brant County until the week commencing Sept. 15th, when a combined appeal will be made on behalf of this fund and that of the British Red Cross with an objective of $50,000. The proceeds will be divided equally between the two causes.

There is little need to dwell upon what the merchant sailors have done in this war. They have fearlessly continued their work despite the unrestricted sub-campaign, and over fifteen thousand of them have given their lives in the performance of duty. As the outcome forty thousand widows and orphans have been left, many of them in sore straits, for there is no state financial provision for them. These men receive at the most $60 a month, and their dependents do not participate in any patriotic funds, neither does the wife receive any separation allowance. They follow a most perilous and arduous calling, and without them the commerce of the Allies would have come to a standstill, and food transportation ceased, with starvation threatening on the one hand and loss of produce prices on the other.

Sir John Eaton, Provincial chairman of the campaign, has started matters with an individual subscription of $50,000, and that the million mark will be more than attained is certain.

OPIMUM DISCOVERED.
 By Courier Leased Wire.
 Montreal, Aug. 30.—The discovery and seizure of ninety-six tins of opium which was being shipped to Toronto from this city, was made late on Wednesday afternoon, Canadian customs officers at the Windsor station, in searching a large trunk found it full of drugs.

The trunk which is a large one such as used by travelling salesmen to carry a large quantity of samples, was placed in the hands of the customs officers immediately after the seizure and the officials will keep it until further instructions are received.

FRENCH REPORT SUGGESTS IN NEW TURNING MOVEMENT

Line is Advancing at Vital Points—Village of Champs is Taken North of the Ailette River—Strong Attacks by Germans are Repulsed

Paris, Aug. 30.—North of Soissons, where the Americans are fighting with the French, the villages of Chavigny and Cuffies have been captured and the allied line advanced to the west of Crouy, according to the official communication, issued to-night. Northwest of Noyon the French at Catigny and Beaurains. North of the Ailette river an important strategic gain is recorded by the French in the capture of the village of Champs. The plan to drive a wedge between Lezou and La Fere, outflanking the Chemin-des-Dames, is making progress. German counter-attacks between the Ailette and the Aisne have been repulsed. The night officially reported reads:

"During the day we ejected from the east bank of the Canal du Nord enemy elements that were still re-entrancing. Catigny and Sermaize are ours."
 "Pursuing our progress our troops have crossed the canal at two points, in front of Catigny and Beaurains. During the night we captured several hundred prisoners."
 "Some Stubborn Fighting"
 "More to the south stubborn fighting has been going on in the region north and east of Noyon. We hold Happincourt and Mount St. Simon. During these actions we have taken several hundred prisoners."
 "Between the Oise and the Aisne there has been no lively fighting."
 "On the north bank of the Ailette we have conquered the village of Champs."
 "North of Soissons we have taken Chavigny and Cuffies and advanced our line to the western outskirts of Crouy."
 "Aviation: Our bombing machine gunners are doing great work. Too much praise cannot be given to our signallers, who have maintained over a week the forward movement of batteries, and so on, has been hampered by the weather. The chalky soil drains water, but when the sun shines all goes well."

CANADIAN FRONT PUSHED FORWARD FOR 12,000 YARDS

Advance of Seven Miles is Achieved From Starting Point Last Monday

SPLENDID PROGRESS
 By Courier Leased Wire.
 With the Canadian Forces, Aug. 29.—(By J. F. E. Lyday, Canadian Press correspondent)—After three days of fighting all day yesterday the entire front of the Canadians has been pushed forward to a depth of twelve thousand yards. The jumping off point on Monday last and it is now in possession of positions in front of which the enemy has the Droocourt-Queant switch. Deep penetration has been made into that the east of Boiry and also east of Vis-en-Artois. In the first two days fighting the Canadians captured 2,500 prisoners, exclusive of wounded, besides accounting for large numbers of enemy dead. A considerable number of guns, both heavy and light, have been captured but these are not so numerous as the captures of the early days of the Amiens battle, because the enemy has followed the policy of withdrawing his artillery as far as possible behind the main line. This evening the line runs south of the Scarpe River, approximately as follows:

From about midway between Pelvies and Biaches, easterly to the outskirts of Hamblain-le-Prez then due south of that village, thence it bulges out, taking in Haucourt and trends off to the southwest, where the troops on our right have established themselves in the positions.

On our left brilliant infantry attacks supported by a great concentration in guns resulted, after persistent efforts, in the storming of the wood and the capture of the important artillery battery between this wood and Boiry. In this operation we had the assistance of a few tanks.

Much amusement was caused among the Canadians by the publication of the German official report, which says that the ground east of Monchy was captured by the aid of numerous tanks. A really considerable number of heavy tanks, say nothing of whippets, took part in the battle of Amiens, but less than a score assisted the Canadians in the present fighting. These were very welcome as the going has been over an exceedingly difficult country, pitted with shell holes and the old fortifications of 1917, while numerous small woods and two river valleys offer splendid ground for machine gun snout-holds. Particularly along the Cambrai road there is much of which the troops engaged had both their flanks in the air. Such a position as the network of woods, heights and natural defences comprised in the triangle of Remilly-Vis-en-Artois and Haucourt was only taken through the utmost resolution and gallantry of the troops engaged who thought they had been engaged who thought they had been engaged who thought they had been engaged.

The enemy all along the line has stiffened his defence to the utmost, and we have identified units of no less than a dozen divisions in Jigsaw wood, which has been held by three companies with sixteen guns to resist the attack.

CAPT. T. R. COBB LEADS LEAGUE

Detroit Star Again Carries Off American League Batting Honors

FIGHT IN NATIONAL Zack Wheat Being Hard Pressed by Rousch of Cincinnati

SEASON ENDS MONDAY

By Courier Leased Wire

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Captain Tyrus Raymond Cobb, who this week stepped from the spotlight of baseball into the chemical division of the army, took with him the 1918 batting honors of the American League, as 377. Burns of Philadelphia is second with 346 and George Sisler, the St. Louis first baseman, third, with 337. Cobb, however, did not excel in base stealing, for Sisler, with a total of 49, leads by six over the Georgian. Chapman of Cleveland is sandwiched between them with 26. Chapman is leading in sacrifice hitting with 24, while Shean of Boston is close up with 23 and McInnis. Shean's team-mate, next with 30. Babe Ruth, the Boston star, and Walker of Philadelphia remain tied for honors in home run hitting with eleven each. Boston, 1918 champions, lead the league in club fielding with an average of .971, but is sixth in batting with 246. Cleveland, the runners-up in the race, tops the league in batting with 260. Leading batters:

Cobb, Detroit, 377; Burns, Philadelphia, 346; Sisler, St. Louis, 337; Soenker, Cleveland, 321; Pipp, New York, 304; Wood, Cleveland, 303; Baker, New York, 301; Walker, Philadelphia, 298; Ruth, Boston, 297; Demmitt, St. Louis, 296.

Batting honors in the National League race probably will not be decided until the final games of the season Monday. Eddie Rousch, the Cincinnati star, is pressing Zack Wheat, the Brooklyn veteran, for the lead, according to to-day's averages, which include games of Wednesday. Wheat's mark is 341. Rousch is three points behind him. There are only two members of the Chicago club, champions of the league, in the select group of 300 hitters. They are Hollocher, the youthful shortstop, and Merkle.

Max Carey of Pittsburgh is certain to finish the race with base-stealing honors, having 55 to his credit. Rousch is the leading sacrifice hitter with a total of 33. In home run hitting Cravath of Philadelphia tops the list with seven. Cincinnati is in first place in team hitting with an average of .275, while Chicago is second with .267. Chicago also led second in team fielding. New York leading with .971. Leading batters:

Z. Wheat, Brooklyn, 341; Rousch, Cincinnati, 333; Groh, Cincinnati, 333; Hollocher, Chicago, 329; J. C. Smith, Boston, 313; Daubert, Brooklyn, 313; Merkle, Chicago, 304; Burns, New York, 296; Young, New York, 294; Hornsby, St. Louis, 292.

It is certainly an appreciative audience which filled the house from floor to ceiling. Every rank of the British army was represented, from the humble private to the gold-laced general. The only visible sign of active warfare was the little brown satchel which every man carried slung on his shoulder. In each of these satchels was a gas helmet, for there is no safety from gas even several miles behind the line.

When the wicked Ebenezer was finally outfitted and the curtains fell upon the matrimonial celebrations of Aladdin and his fair princess, we sang God Save the King, and then streamed out into the vestibule, through the swing doors wearily alone covered with mud and dirt, who had left the front trenches but an hour or two before. They had come from another world, these men—a world which Aladdin with his wonderful lamp had banished altogether from our minds; and he would do so much for them to-morrow.

MYSTERIOUS MAN SHOT.
 Ocean City, N.J., Aug. 30.—A member of the coast guard stationed here late last night, shot and killed a man who is alleged to have been acting suspiciously. The shooting occurred on the beach, where the guard had been stationed to watch for supposed German spies. Cards were found on the dead man indicating that his name might be Thomas Ellis.

best battalion team in our division. I want to see our battalion team play its first round in the competition for this cup. It was a beautiful cloudless afternoon, and during the match a fleet of twenty-two aeroplanes sailed over the ground heading for the front. Few of us so much as noticed them!

In the evening there is often a cinema show or concert for the entertainment of the soldier at rest. It was in France that I first made the acquaintance via the camera of Mr. Charles Chaplin. One of the best concert which I ever attended took place barely two miles from the trenches. It was a variety performance with songs and recitations, concluding with a conjuring 'turn' by the Padre. Meantime the guns rumbled on unheard, and our enjoyment of the show was not affected by the thought that at any moment a chance shell might put a sudden end to the proceedings.

Concert parties are frequently sent out from England to entertain the soldiers who are resting in the various towns and villages at the front. Though I was never so fortunate as to come across one of them myself, I know that they are immensely popular wherever they go. Falling the professional concert party, there is always a plentiful supply of local talent. Every division has "groups" of entertainers, and I have memories of several enjoyable evenings parties of the "Shirazis" and the "Walzbrenner" and the "Lions".

It is due to a shell explosion that a bit of my early life is remembered to me. I was in a show of some sort is given every evening. When I was in the season of 1914, a theatrical company drawn from the ranks of our division was giving a pantomime, about the season of Aladdin and the wonderful lamp. It was a first class show, with excellent scenery, dresses and lighting. The Princess was a vision of feminine beauty, with a deep, throaty voice, and the comedian, who had been a professional actor in the pre-war days of peace, kept the house in roars of laughter from start to finish.

It is certainly an appreciative audience which filled the house from floor to ceiling. Every rank of the British army was represented, from the humble private to the gold-laced general. The only visible sign of active warfare was the little brown satchel which every man carried slung on his shoulder. In each of these satchels was a gas helmet, for there is no safety from gas even several miles behind the line.

When the wicked Ebenezer was finally outfitted and the curtains fell upon the matrimonial celebrations of Aladdin and his fair princess, we sang God Save the King, and then streamed out into the vestibule, through the swing doors wearily alone covered with mud and dirt, who had left the front trenches but an hour or two before. They had come from another world, these men—a world which Aladdin with his wonderful lamp had banished altogether from our minds; and he would do so much for them to-morrow.

Thus the soldier who comes to England for a few days' rest does not spend the precious hours in bed. He goes to theatres and dances; he enjoys himself in various ways, which, if perhaps exhausting to the body, are nevertheless refreshing to the mind. He returns to the front recharged with vitality—for vitality is a mental rather than a physical force.

So also in France when troops are withdrawn from the line for a rest, they do not spend their time asleep. Besides the training necessary to keep them fit and ready to tackle the enemy, there are always sports and football. I remember playing a vigorous game in hobnailed boots in an orchard close behind the trenches, while those of the battalion who were not playing stood on the touch line and indulged in uproarious enthusiasm such as could hardly have been equaled had it been an international football match. I found it exhausting in the extreme for training for war is very different from training for football. But it was a change—it was a treat.

The football and every other form of athletics is encouraged by the military authorities in France. A cup was given by the general to the

ADVANCE OF ALLIED ARMIES.
 The victorious advance of the allies continues. Thursday the British advanced in a 30-mile front extending from a point due west of Cambrai to a point five miles southwest of Peronne. They captured Bapaume and Comblès, and crossed the Bapaume-Peronne road along its northern half.

By the ammeter, looking for loose or broken wires or short circuits, until we come to the switch. It must be evident that any trouble which affects the whole system must be on a part of the circuit common to all the lights. We do not suspect a worn-out battery, as this trouble usually comes on gradually and gives ample warning by the lights being dim, brightening as the engine speeds on. If only one light goes out we immediately inspect for a defective light bulb or see if the controlling fuse has blown. If it has there is probably a short circuit on that line or the fuse may have worn out. Do not replace the burned out fuse until the short has been found and removed. If the fuse is intact there is a break somewhere on the line to the light, probably a loose terminal.

If light flickers—that is, goes on and off intermittently—that indicates a loose connection. Do not confuse this with the case of a weak battery, when the light rises and falls with the speed of the engine. Here the battery has not power enough to feed the lights, and so the generator carries the load.

By going over the lighting system occasionally until it is understood and by systematic searching for trouble when it occurs a motorist will eventually master the entire system.

Late Sergt. J. A. Holdsworth Was Very Popular in Woodstock

(Woodstock Sentinel-Review.) Word was received this morning by Nelson Holdsworth, Vandecar, that his son, Pte. John Aubrey Holdsworth, had been killed in action on August 10th. Pte. Holdsworth, who went overseas a year ago last April, with the 215th Battalion from Brantford, was, prior to enlisting, acting principal of King Edward Public School, Brantford. Before leaving for England he acted for some time as military instructor at St. Catharines. In England he was transferred to the 12th Battalion and here he did more instruction work. He went to France in March, 1918, and at the time of his death was company observer of a company, 5th Battalion. At the present time his brother, Gunner Milfred Holdsworth, is at the front, having gone over a year ago last February. Gunner Milfred was formerly on the staff of the Bank of Commerce, this city. Pte. Holdsworth was 28 years of age and was held in high repute by all who knew him. Besides his parents he is survived by three sisters and three brothers, Mrs. G. R. Mielton, Miss Genevieve at home, and Miss Marguerite, teacher at S. S. No. 9, Blehholm; and Russell and Montrose, at home, and Gunner Milfred.

East Ward Kith and Kin held a most enjoyable picnic at Burlington Beach Thursday, a happy bunch of picknickers leaving on a special car at 10 a.m. The picnic was held on the ladies prepared lunch and an abundance of good things were taken of, after which all adjourned to the beach, where a delightful time was had by all. Later in the afternoon the racing events were run off, there being a race for every one, owing to the generosity of the merchants, who gave donations. Ten was served at 2 p.m. and the happy party left Burlington at 7.30, all emphasizing the fact that they had spent a lovely time and promising to Burlington another visit in the future.

HINDENBURG LINE IS NONE TO SAFE

With the French Army in France, Aug. 30.—This evening there remains to the Germans no other position to fall back upon west of the Hindenburg line than a line running from Ham to Belancourt. The third army, continuing its progress of the early morning in the region of Noyon, has developed Mont St. Simon, while the Canal du Nord was crossed at Chevilly. The extent of these gains in territory is insignificant, but strategically they are of great importance. The loss of Mont St. Simon means the loss to the Germans of the main defence point of the salient extending from the canal to the Aisne, while the French crossing of the Canal du Nord obliges the retreating forces to quicken their flight or suffer their losses.

The violent reaction effected north of Soissons by picked German divisions, apparently was intended not only to check the advance of the allied troops over the plateau towards the Chemin des Dames, but to force Marshal Foch to detach troops from other operations and ease the trying situation of the retreating German forces. To-day's developments prove that the latter object is no more likely to be attained than the other one. The French pressure goes on with continued success and even the Hindenburg line, the supreme reliance of the Germans, appears this evening far less than a safe refuge.

RACES ON DETROIT RIVER. Detroit, Aug. 30.—Greater speed than has ever before been made in water racing is expected at the 18th annual international gas chamber cup championship races which open on the Detroit River course this afternoon. Four of the world's fastest speed-boats, Miss Detroit 111, Miss Detroit 112, Miss Minneapolis and Whipp O' Will Jr., are slated to compete in the three days of racing. The winner to be determined on the point system, each boat receiving one point for finishing and one additional point for each boat sie defeats.

CALEFF OFF. At noon to-day, it was practically certain that there could be no racing on the track at Agricultural park this afternoon.

FOOD BOARD'S REGULATIONS ARE ENFORCED

Penalties Have Been Imposed for Many Breaches of the Law

Advertisements in disregard of the regulations limiting holdings of flour and sugar will not be tolerated by the Canada Food Board. An example has been made of Messrs. Ryan Brothers, of Truro News, advised people to buy a barrel of flour and a sack of sugar. In the case of Ryan Brothers, the fine was $100. When the advertising came to the attention of the Food Board the latter telegraphed to Ryan Brothers forbidding them to sell any flour or sugar for ten days. Licensed dealers in food products are prohibited from dealing in food or food products with any person who has failed to comply with the licensing regulations of the Canada Food Board, or whose license has been cancelled or is under suspension.

It is the intention of the Food Board to withhold, suspend or cancel the license of any person who violates the food regulations. Through its licensing regulations, the Board has control of the distribution of food products and will shut off supplies of such offenders.

For neglecting to obtain a confectioner's license and for using sugar in the manufacture of candy, without permission, the A. J. Campbell Company, 125 Fifth Avenue, West, Calgary, was ordered to discontinue the manufacture of candy for that purpose until after September 1, or until a license has been obtained. S. Miller, Albert, Sask., attempted to operate without a confectioner's license and purchased sugar for the manufacture of candy. He was ordered to discontinue such manufacture and not to purchase sugar for candy-making until a license has been obtained and an allotment of sugar decided upon.

The Chocolate Shop, 435 Grand street, Vancouver, used up its full allotment of sugar for the months of May, June, July and August. Accordingly, the management was ordered to discontinue manufacture of candy forthwith, and not to purchase sugar for that purpose until after September 1, or until permission has been granted.

The Fort Garry Confectionery and Bakery, 268 Portage avenue, Winnipeg, recently commenced the manufacture of candy. On this account the concern was not entitled to purchase sugar for use in candy-making, and has been ordered to discontinue such manufacture and not to purchase sugar for this purpose until after September 1, or until permission has been granted.

Tom Lee, proprietor of the Star-Cart, Winnipeg, was fined $100 and costs by the local magistrate for serving beef steak during prohibited hours. Frederick Neaton, Henry Avenue, Winnipeg, failed to obtain a license for his boarding house and as a consequence was fined $100 and costs.

Samuel Diamond was fined $100 and costs under the Waste Order in the Ottawa Police Court for allowing twenty-six boxes of beans to rot. For serving veal during prohibited hours, Edy Benson, proprietor of the Lachine Cafe, Lachine, Que., had his license suspended and was ordered to close his restaurant for 10 days, from August 15th.

For selling beef during prohibited hours, and for serving bread in excess of the quantities allowed by the regulations of the Canada Food Board, Dominique Hellek, 129 1/2 Ber-ville street, Montreal, was ordered to close his restaurant for seven days from August 8th.

For not conserving in the distributing of flour and for not taking sufficient precaution to prevent illegal export of flour from Canada, A. A. Collins and Frank Robideau, both factors of flour, were prohibited from purchasing or selling flour and feed from August 16th to August 31st. If they wish to continue in the flour and feed business they must satisfy the Canada Food Board, before the expiration of the suspension period that every precaution will be taken in future to sell only in limited quantities, and to bona fide residents of Canada.

Three gipsies appeared in the Goderich police court charged under the law which requires men between the ages of 15 and 60 to be engaged in some useful occupation. All three pleaded guilty but were given a chance to dispose of their horses and find work.

TIPS ON CARE OF LIGHTING SYSTEM

There is No Need to Motor in Darkness—Some Useful Information

(By William H. Stewart, Jr.) One of the most annoying occurrences while driving at night is to have one or more of the lights go out. The causes of this trouble are many and varied, but a little knowledge of the lighting system and a little experimenting will soon equip the average motorist with sufficient command of the system to locate all faults and to make the necessary repairs.

The first step in the diagnosis of a lighting system is to locate the battery to the lamps, leaving the rest of the system for later study. If the instruction book that comes with the car is available it will be of great assistance, but this much of the system may be learned without it.

Can You Find These? He must begin by locating the following: First, the battery, which may be on the running board, under the seat or slung on the frame, usually under the floor boards; second, the ammeter, which is carried on the dash or instrument board; third, the switch, on steering column or on the instrument board near the ammeter; fourth, the fuse box, which is usually near the switch or under the hood, and, fifth, the various lamps.

The operator should know how to trace the path of the current from the battery to the lamps and back again, using the diagram in the instruction book if possible. Start at the battery and trace it to the ammeter on the dash. The ammeter indicates whether the battery is charging or discharging, and so is the first piece of apparatus to be reached. The current now passes to the switch, with which the fuse block is usually closely associated.

The fuses are short lengths of fine wire incased in glass. The wire is made of lead and tin and melts at a low temperature. If a short circuit occurs on any line leading to a lamp the heavy rush of current is too great for the fuse, which melts and breaks the circuit, stopping the current and the danger as well. If the heavy rush of current were allowed to continue the battery would be discharged and ruined or the wires would become red hot, with the possibility of setting fire to some part of the car.

Tracing to the Lamps. Having located the switch and fuses it should be an easy matter to trace the current to the lamps. Some systems ground the current to the lamps and it returns by way of the frame of the car. This is known as the "single-wire" system. Other systems provide a return wire from lamp to switch and are known as "two-wire" systems. This is easily determined by noting whether the wire from switch to lamp is single or double. This is an important detail when it comes to tracing the current while looking for short circuits, etc. By tracing both wires from the battery one will be found grounded to the frame.

In case all the lights go out the battery, such as a loose wire or terminal, or a short circuit on some part of the wires leading from the battery. We follow along the line

MANGIN'S TROOPS. By Courier Leased Wire Paris, Aug. 31.—General Mangin has in his command some of the finest American divisions, together with elite French and colonial troops. The fighting during the past 48 hours has equalled in ferocity anything as yet seen during the war. Nevertheless the enemy had to give way and the Franco-American forces have won half the plateau between the Soissons and the Coucy-le-Chateau. The Soissons-Coucy and the Soissons-Anizy-le-Chateau roads are threatened and the German are forced by the danger of the French getting behind Chemin des Dames in their rear.

MAN-POWER BILL PAST CONGRESS

Measure to Recruit Citizens From 18 to 45 Will Now be Signed

By Courier Leased Wire London, Aug. 31.—The strike of London police spread steadily throughout the night and early today as majority of the 22,000 constables had joined in the movement. The city of London police joined the Metropolitan forces last night, and only a few members of the night shifts, which come on duty at six o'clock, appeared on the streets. London is customarily the most thoroughly and efficiently policed of all the great cities of the world, but one might walk for miles to-day without the sight of the familiar helmet and blue uniform. Comparatively few constables responded to the call to take the policemen's places, and as a consequence the city is practically unguarded. That London is one of the most orderly of cities is proven by the absence of the policemen from their beats.

Following a meeting in the open air at Tower Hill, at which the grievances were discussed, three thousand strikers in plain clothes paraded the streets. At the meeting it was decided that the executive of the policemen's union should renew their request to-day of the police commissioners for permanent increases in wages. Secretary Carmichael of the London Trades Council and other labor leaders assured the strikers that organized labor is in sympathy with them. Mr. Carmichael declared that workmen stood ready to make Monday a general holiday, as an expression of sympathy. It was proposed at the meeting that the executives of the union go to White Hall to-day and demand to see Premier Lloyd George. It was also resolved at the meeting that the police remain on duty at all government works in recognition, it was said, of the fact that the public appears generally in sympathy with the police, who, it recognizes, have always been underpaid, and that wages have not been increased during the war proportionately with those of other workers.

CANADA MUST FACE NATIONAL ISSUE

Dependence of Nation on the Mercantile Marine Has Been Emphasized

FOUR YEARS OF WAR

When the Huns began their unrestricted submarine warfare, it was left to the Mercantile Marine of the British Empire to save the people of the British Isles and her Allies from the ravages of hunger.

How the men of the Mercantile Marine have done this is evidenced by the fact that the allies have been able to keep the food lines open for the past four years and make progress on the battle line.

But a duty of this kind has its exacting and this is shown in the mortality toll of the Mercantile Marine. Those who have gone down to the sea in ships for the Allied cause have suffered. Marine statistics demonstrate the extent of the loss; the widows and orphans of Britain are eloquent proof of it. There is no provision made for the dependents of the brave men of the Mercantile Marine; they oppose death cheerfully without hope of adequate reward.

By their loyalty to the cause, the men of the Mercantile Marine have—besides assuring the Allies of sufficient food and essential commodities of war—also greatly assisted Canada's sea-borne commerce. Canada is essentially an export country and depends upon maritime intercourse with other nations for her livelihood. Should the sea-borne trade be interrupted, it would be disastrous for Canada.

It is our patent obligation to do our utmost to support the dependents of the brave men of the mercantile marine who have lost all in our service.

The Navy League of Canada has inaugurated "Sailors' Week." The objective in Ontario is $1,000,000, and every man and child is asked to put to themselves the question, "What do I owe to the men of the Mercantile Marine?" and to answer in terms of money as far as the individual purse will allow.

METROPOLITAN POLICE STRIKE

Outlying Districts of English Capital Without Protection Yesterday

CONSTABLES WALK OUT

By Courier Leased Wire London, Aug. 31.—London, outside of the little square mile compacted by the City of London, was without police protection last night. The Metropolitan police force went on strike at 11 o'clock, and the constables were left to regulate their own affairs during the duration of the war to hundreds to do the work of "hobbies."

The police strike became worse as the morning wore on. Many members of the force joined throughout the Metropolitan area. Only a small number of the older men remained at their posts. Plain clothesmen picked up the officers still on duty and also the special constables to strike.

An hour's tour of the Metropolitan area during the early hours of the day found few policemen on duty. Some, who were at their posts, had donned uniforms through failure to get the notices from their union that a strike had been declared. They joined their comrades when pickets arrived to tell them of the decision.

In one division alone, that which looks after the working class districts of Battersea and Wandsworth, 800 men failed to report. Such busy West-end centres as Charing Cross, Hyde Park corner, Marble Arch, Camden Town, Tottenham Court Road and Shaftesbury Avenue, were without their policemen. Similar conditions prevailed in southern districts. In fact, in most of the Metropolitan area.

Before the heavy traffic appeared on the streets, however, was a remarkable what little difference the absence of the policemen made except upon them for visitors, who depend upon them for their safety. Traffic proceeded as usual. Drivers, many of whom were themselves on strike a week ago, regulated a movement of vehicles, and there was little crowding.

An early morning call was sent out by Scotland Yard to the special constables, and by ten o'clock many of them had reported for work and were sent to the busiest corners to take on duties which were new to them. Heretofore they simply had acted as patrolmen in quiet streets or around public buildings.

The stations were not so badly affected as the streets. The men of higher rank were not so ready to disregard regulations and thus take the chance of being detained.

The City of London police, who are not affected, number 800. The Metropolitan force has between 4,000 and 5,000 members. The thousands of them have gone to war. The Metropolitan police demand increased wages, recognition of their union and the reinstatement of a discharged man who was active in the policemen's union.

A majority of the policemen in the great Woolwich Arsenal, the dock yard joined the strike this morning. The men in the town of Woolwich itself, however, so far are unaffected.

Leaders of the union said that at noon to-day 10,000 policemen were on strike, and that the number was hourly increasing.

CRASHED THROUGH HINDENBURG LINE

British Armies Advance With Sustained Power About Arras

ROLLING UP GERMANS

New York, Aug. 30.—The Associated Press to-day issued the following:— Moving forward with sustained power, British armies east and south-east of Arras appear to have crushed clear through the Hindenburg line. Despatches received to-day seem to indicate that now they have begun to "roll up" the German forces on the front to which the enemy is retreating along the whole Ploeghe front.

Billecourt, which was on the Hindenburg line, was taken this morning by the British. The Hindenburg line, which runs from the northeast of Billecourt, has at its northern end, near the village of Billecourt, a station and slightly to the east, Billecourt has been captured by the advancing British. East of Arras, astride the village of Arras, the British, when they were fighting during the German retreat a year ago last March.

West of Peronne the British have captured the town of Clergy and they also have taken the Somme south of Peronne. Along the line further south which is held by the Germans against General Mangin's army between Ailette and the Aisne, but these were repulsed by the French, who hold positions east of Pasty, which is less than two miles northwest of Soissons.

Along the line from the Somme south to the Noyon region and thence east to the Ailette a sector which is virtually important at present, the enemy appears to have checked the French until he extricated his forces from the perilous position in the salient between the Somme and the Aisne. Progress of the British is being made in the most important features of the news of the great battle. The Canadians, it appears, are slowly advancing along the Arras-Cambrai road and are violating the gap in the Hindenburg line to which the Germans retreated eighteen months ago.

It seems that any great additional British success in this region may shatter Germany's hopes of conducting a defensive campaign along the front, to which, it is probable, the Germans are now hastily withdrawing.

With the British Armies in France, Aug. 31.—The British, indicating the withdrawal of the Germans on the northern end of the British front and especially in the Lys salient, are busy violating the gap in the Hindenburg line to which the Germans retreated eighteen months ago.

The Germans have been driven behind the River Somme everywhere along the front. The western bank now is in the possession of Field Marshal Haig's troops, and at one place, just south of La Chapelle, the British force has crossed to the east bank.

In the operations concluded yesterday morning, 300 prisoners fell into the hands of the British on this side of the river, being unable to get away quickly enough.

The Germans have destroyed all the bridges across the Somme, including the railroad bridge and the regular bridge at Peronne.

Northwest of Peronne, however, the river changes its course from the north to the west, the British swept in so quickly that the causeway over the Somme at Clergy on the north bank was secured intact. Clergy is a small town.

Peronne and the country to the rear of that city are well under the fire of the British guns. North of Peronne the Germans now are holding the road to Bapaume as far as a point opposite Comblès. North of here the advance of the British is being checked by fire from the north and east. There are New Zealand troops who have been assisted by pressure from the English on the south. The town was entered from the north and east. There was only short street fighting and then the Germans who had been left behind surrendered.

CLUBMAN STABBED

By Courier Leased Wire Chicago, Aug. 31.—William F. Bradway, wealthy clubman, is dead at a hospital as the result of a mysterious assault last Thursday night, it was announced to-day. He was stabbed over the heart as he was about to enter his home, but influential friends succeeded in keeping the story quiet until his death at midnight last night. Before his death, the police named a traveling salesman as his assailant, but lost consciousness before telling of a motive for the assault. Mr. Bradway was the divorced husband of Charlotte Smith, daughter of J. W. Smith, discoverer of Goldfield in 1903.

SUB SHELLING STEAMER. By Courier Leased Wire An Atlantic Port, Aug. 31.—A German submarine disguised with canvas funnel and deck as a destroyer recently shelled a passenger steamer bound for South America, 150 miles off the Virginia coast, raining shrapnel on her decks for two hours, according to a story brought to this port to-day by passengers arriving on a British steamer. The narrators said the attacked vessel carried 350 passengers, including 100 officers and men of the United States navy and many women and children. They said they got the story from passengers of the attacked vessel at a West Indian island, where both vessels touched.

Notices should be published in the language of the country. The Value of Trades Union, not only to its own members, but to the nation, has not as yet been fully recognized. DRAMATIC DRIVE BY TANKS HELPS AMERICANS TO GAIN

German Lines Fall Back Over Juvigny Plateau After Being Swept by Fire From Heavy Guns and Long Range Naval Guns

With the American Army on the Vesle Front, Aug. 29.—Accompanied by a fleet of tanks and covered by a heavy artillery barrage, the Americans swept forward early to-day against the German lines that slowly and reluctantly fell back over Juvigny plateau.

The firing was continuous throughout the night on both sides, the German guns being especially active. The rains of the early evening ceased before the ground had been converted into mud, so when the orders were given to-day, the men moved forward unimpeded.

The German positions were shelled most vigorously by heavy guns, mortars and light pieces, firing almost point blank, as well as by long range naval guns, which searched the positions far and near.

Up over the plateau the infantrymen went towards Juvigny and across the little railroad running north and south. The Germans immediately began to employ the tactics of similar retreats, leaving their rear defended by a line of machine guns hidden behind every clump of brush, promontory, and woods.

From Couronne Woods and another little wood standing like sentinels between Juvigny and the American lines, the German guns delivered a deadly crossfire. Juvigny is only a village, but, located along the side of a hill, it offered a peculiar opportunity for defence, until the advancing forces moved into positions from which they were able to make it untenable.

On Two-Mile Front. The frontage assigned to the Americans was less than two miles. That part in which Juvigny is located was the scene of a dramatic tank drive. Under the cover of artillery, the light French tanks flitted along both sides of the path up to the little place, smashing down one machine gun nest after another, in spite of the employment by the Germans of their new tank gun, a sort of super-Mauser.

This gun is virtually identical with the Mauser, except that it fires a bullet a little more than half an inch in diameter. This, it is calculated, can pierce the tank and possibly injure some vital part of the engine.

There is unquestioned mastery of the air by the allies along this front. It has been misty this morning and there was little effective aerial work, and, practically none by the Germans.

Above the lines the allied planes were seen all forenoon, attempting to conduct observations in spite of the murky atmosphere, and occasionally a German plane dared to dart through, but in every case it was forced to retire hastily.

Only a few prisoners are reported as yet, the Germans apparently seeing to it that only machine gun crews should be sacrificed.

SOLDIER WITH BAD RECORD. By Courier Leased Wire. Niagara Camp, Aug. 29.—Private Edward Smith, aged 22, is a soldier with an unenviable record. He enlisted in the First battalion, Second central Ontario regiment, but was convicted in Hamilton on January 4th of bigamy, and sentenced to the prison at Burwash for twenty-three months. He escaped from Burwash on July 10 and yesterday he voluntarily showed up in camp here.

On being questioned Smith said he "walked away" from Burwash. He is 22 years of age and will probably be handed to the civil authorities to be dealt with.

Sporting Comment

The case against Hal Chase, which is now in the hands of John Heydler, acting president of the National League, is a case which is one of the gravest in the annals of baseball, is strengthened by supporting affidavits made by three members of the New York club.

It is understood that Perritt testified that on July 17, on the occasion of a visit by the Giants to Cincinnati, he was approached by Chase as he made his way from the Giants' clubhouse to the field, and that Chase asked him which of the two games scheduled for that day he would be called upon to pitch.

"I wish you'd tip me off, because if I know which games you'll pitch, and connect with a certain party before game time you will have nothing to fear."

All Giants Questioned. The inference drawn by Perritt from this remark, so the affidavits continue, was that he would be allowed to win his game, and he thereupon ordered Chase to keep away from him and to make no more advances of this sort.

"BOUND IN MOROCCO"

Desert life always has appealed to Douglas Fairbanks and he therefore enjoyed the making of the outdoor scenes of "Bound in Morocco," his latest Artcraft production, which presumably are laid out in the Sahara desert. When he returned from two weeks of location work he was tired and told many stories of his interesting experiences during that time.

One day, while some of the spectacular scenes, in which over 1500 hundred people took part, were being produced, Mr. Fairbanks ascertained that there were nearly five thousand spectators in camp watching his company at work. He conceived the idea of charging the visitors an admission fee, which was the purchase of one Shilagee stamp. Of course, they all came across who wouldn't pay to see Douglas Fairbanks in action?

"Bound in Morocco" will be presented at the Brant theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It is a charming photoplay filled with many surprises, and the famous Fairbanks athletics are constantly in evidence.

"GOOD NIGHT NURSE"

When Patsy Arbuckle appears in his latest side-splitting comedy "Good Night Nurse" at the Brant next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the popular verdict doubtless will be that this is one of the best comedies in which he has been seen in many a day.

The comedy deals with the for-

He meets with a fellow bon vivan who has some interesting adventures, led in a being that Patsy is immature and immature in his wife.

In the sanitarium he meets with other adventures, including a meeting with a girl patient who believes herself to be a mermaid. When she takes him in her confidence there is something doing every minute. One laugh follows the other, so that one is apt him to seek a sanitarium after seeing the comedy. Mr. Arbuckle is supported by Al St. John, Buster Keaton and Alice Lake—all comedians of the highest merit.

"A NINE O'CLOCK TOWN"

Charles Ray, popular screen star in Paramount pictures, is widely known as Thomas H. Ince's "Wonder boy" but not this and much more. Mr. Ray started his career from humble beginnings in a small comedy show and under the masterly direction of Thomas H. Ince he became a screen star with startling rapidity.

Mr. Ray who will be seen in his latest Paramount photoplay, "A Nine O'Clock Town," at the Brant theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, has interpreted young Americans in many Paramount pictures, with thoroughly convincing naturalness. He wears all scenes, in which he appears, with reality and he is so conscientious that he loses himself in every character he portrays, and for the time being he is the person he is representing upon the screen.

In "A Nine O'Clock Town," Mr. Ray is the young manager of a large store in a little country town who applies modern business methods to the management of this concern, with remarkable success. He has his troubles for a time, and leaves home to seek his fortune elsewhere, and soon makes the discovery that his little old home town is after all the place for him.

The picture is filled with comedy and each scene as it is unfolded awakens thrills of anticipation in this picture. He is finely supported by Jane Novak, a prominent leading woman of the Ince staff, who has a strong characterization. Others in the cast include Otto H. Fran and Dorcas Matthews, two highly capable players.

The picture was written and directed by Victor L. Schertzinger, and is, in every respect, one of the best in which Mr. Ray has appeared under Ince-Paramount auspices in many months.

"Echoes From Erin," a scenic feature number, with four people in the vaudeville offering.

"A MOTHER'S SIN"

"A Mother's Sin," the Vitaphone Blue Ribbon Feature, which will be seen in the Rex Theatre on Thursday, Friday, Saturday, is a powerful drama of a man's hatred of his wife, who had proved faithless, and which moves him to revenge on his son, whom he disinherits to avoid a profligate nephew. In the hour of death, knowledge of the worth of this son leads him to make a new will leaving his great estate to the son. The will, however, does not come to light until years later, the estate having been claimed by the nephew, and the son having gone into voluntary exile leaving the estate to a victim of the machina-

ART OF MUSIC OPEN TO WOMEN

Art is not confined to the male sex. It is open to both. It demands breadth of view, keenness of perception, unerring intuition, emotional honesty, love of beauty, piety of soul, and purity of inspiration from those who labor in its cause. It insists upon nothing less. It will be served by no mediocre effort. It is almost a negligible quantity in music is not the outcome of incompetence but of circumstances. Until recently no woman was held to be the one functionary of women, and self-offacement their primary duties, and all responsible offices in church or state, law or medicine, were closed against them. With a restricted education and a sense of economic dependence, they lived their early lives in idleness and in the latter years in a sort of domestic submergence, even then in spite of such conditions, prominent women appeared. Joan Acre and Florence Nightingale live on in the pages of history. Jane Austen and Charlotte Bronte have left individual expressions which are pretty well secure for all time. Others—unhonored and unnamed—have enriched posterity through the men whose names they have controlled. It is not too much to say that Chopin himself effeminate to a degree, owes his fame to a very large extent to the high born and aristocratic women in Paris and Vienna. He lived his life among women, a fact responsible for that intense refinement so potent in every bar he wrote. Again, the debt owed by Robert Schumann to his wife cannot be estimated. His union with her, her influence and her sympathy, opened the flood gates of a stream which then had been pent up and unknown in her, and in his first year of married life poured out in rapid succession all his finest songs for the piano, over one hundred and thirty. A few years later, his wife, whose reputation as a pianist was almost unrivaled in Europe, and who possessed the perfect knowledge of the meaning of his works and the subtleties of their performance, was able to add to his reputation, and the face of the most bitter and strenuous critical opposition.

Yardley, senior, learns of the betrayal of a young girl which Vincent had blamed on Patrick and makes a new will which he hides in a book, dying before he can tell of his act. Vincent gets the estate and induces Celia to agree to marry him. He is constantly blackmailed by a former valet, Maxton, who knows the truth of the death of the girl, Rosa, and is being driven to desperate straits when Yardley's barrister-friend is managing about the library comes across the will.

Vincent is forced to relinquish the estate and is slain in a fight with the blackmailer, who in a fight with never has ceased. Celia, who secretly loves Vincent, is the great injustice done Patrick, and seeks him in a distant country where he has been severely injured and everything set out as it should.

"THE DEBT OF HONOR"

A new light illumines the William Fox firmament. The star is no less a person than Miss Peggy Hyland, who makes her first appearance under the Fox banner in "The Debt of Honor" at the Rex Theatre next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday.

This dainty, clever actress who screens so well and is such a delight to look upon, has as her vehicle, a play that is tropical in that it has to do with the pernicious spy system that is still tearing at the roots of American preparation for the big war. "Honor," Miss Hyland's role, is adopted by a senator who is at work on the sending of transports to Europe. There is a leak. The wife, in love with a spy, is giving him information to save her own adopted father's name. Honor takes the blame for her foster mother's indiscretion. This is how she pays her debt to him. Her sweetheart, however, refuses to believe her guilty and together they get the spy, help their country and Honor wins her way back to the affection of her "daddy."

The situations are said to be gripping and the photography is beautiful.

Charlie Chaplin in "The Roustabout" will be an added holiday attraction.

BABY'S GREAT DANGER DURING HOT WEATHER

More little ones die during the summer months than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum and stomach disorders, come without warning and when a medicine is not at hand to give promptly the short delay too frequently means that the child has passed beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in the home, where there are young children. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles or if the trouble comes suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will cure the baby. Mrs. Chas. Anderson, Minda, Ala., says: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine for little ones who are suffering from stomach troubles. They cured my baby and have made her a fine healthy girl." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail for 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Good music and plenty of it has never before been so necessary as at the present time. The war has gradually engulfed our nation, and our very existence in the world, regardless of what the occupation may be, is being its effects and the grim realities and stern duties which are staring us in the face. The constant worries of every day occupation, coupled with the universal strain of war conditions are weighing heavily upon the shoulders of every one. Nothing can banish such worries and relieve the strain more effectively than good musical performances, and to stop these would be not only an injustice to all who can be assisted and encouraged thereby, but would prove exceedingly poor policy from every conceivable point. Bands and orchestras are needed more than ever for cheering our fighting forces, and the cares and worries which are besetting every home, and fire-side in the country cannot be relieved more successfully, if only for the time being, than through listening to good music of some kind or other. At home or attending public performances as frequently as possible.

MUSIC AN ESSENTIAL NECESSITY

For our fighting forces. Music, in its various higher forms, is looked upon by the general public not by any means as the essential necessity which it really is, but decidedly more as a luxury. It is most necessary, and important, that the wrong impression should not be allowed to grow and gain ground any more than it already has. If allowed such interpretation, musical instruments, printed music, music books, unless necessary in a professional way, may also be looked upon

BAILLEUL AND OTHER TOWNS TAKEN IN ALLIED ADVANCE

British Everywhere are Pressing Along the Highways, Carrying the Germans with Them, and are Only a Step Away From One of the Enemy's Fortified Positions

There has been no abatement in the strength of the offensive which the British, French and American troops are throwing against the German armies from Arras to the region of Soissons. And as yet there is no indication that it is the purpose of the seemingly demoralized enemy to turn about and face their aggressors or to offer more resistance for the present than through the activities of the strong rear-guards.

Not alone have the allied troops all over the battlefield from Arras to Soissons gained further important terrain, but to the north the British have advanced their line materially in the famous Lys sector—and apparently without much effort on the part of the foe to restrain them. Of greater significance than any of the other victories achieved—Tricou, northward and outflanking the Aisne on the Chemin des Dames positions. Also bettering this general situation has been the crossing by the French of the Ailette River at Champe.

In the region north of Noyon the French have made further progress, crossing the Canal du Nord at several places and advancing steadily in the direction of the Noyon-Paris railroad line. All around Noyon the French have strengthened their positions.

All the territory on the north and west banks of the Somme, where the British have been operating against the Germans, has been cleared of the enemy, and south of Peronne, on the

JUST GOSSIP

Your family tree may not have any musical fruit to its credit but branch out just the same.

The Jews ask can you be a musician, lover and follow the music, who to "always be polite" and "always tell the truth?"

The man who tells you his own does not amount to anything musical, may be a person who does not amount to much in the musical advancement of his own town.

Encourage our bands. It has been said the hand is the supreme musical educator because it speaks to thousands whereas the orchestra is limited to the capacity of a concert hall. The piano student about to take up a new work should strive to learn as much as possible about the composer. Upon this almost as much as upon the study of the notes depends an intelligent interpretation to the piece.

Now during war-time there are, generally speaking, few men to sing in our choruses and pageants. Also the women are too busy in their homes and with war activities. But the children can come to the rescue in keeping up some of the musical functions.

The season of the band is never over, says Arthur Clarke, "if organized as it should be the wind-band is qualified to give indoor concerts which are as individual, satisfactory and exacting artistically as those of string band. I do not say we hear of ten such band concerts but there is no reason why we should not."

Pitts Sanborn, the newspaper critic says: "Good music is really the music you like. Good singing is the singing you like. Good fiddling is the fiddling you like. There is nothing so certain about the thing. The rule in all its simplicity holds as good for the stately lady in the parterre box as for the humble boot-black behind the rail."

east bank of the stream, notwithstanding the destruction of the bridges by the Germans.

To the north the British almost everywhere are pressing eastward along the highways, carrying the Germans before them, notwithstanding the desperate resistance that is everywhere being offered by machine gunners, snipers and infantry units. Combles is now in British hands and the German Field Marshal Halg's men are working along the Bapaume-Cambrai road towards Leuven.

To the north of this region Bullecourt and Heilly-sec on the old Hindenburg line, both were captured, but the Germans, in a violent counter-attack, forced back the British to their western outskirts, where at last accounts they occupy an old German trench system. The Germans were being held.

Northeast of Arras the British now are only a step away from the famous Drocourt-Queant switch line, one of the strongest of the enemy's fortified positions, which is said to be filled with forces who intend tenaciously to dispute its capture.

Southwest of Ypres, in the Lys salient, the Germans have again begun withdrawing, and are being closely followed by the British. The British again are holding the important town of Batten in this sector. The withdrawal of the Germans seemingly indicates that it is their purpose to blot out this salient and straighten their line toward Ypres. It is a move, however, that is greatly lessening the chance of a drive during the present year toward the channel ports from this region.

There has been a considerable increase in the enemy's artillery activity against the American troops in the Vosges region. Several patrol attacks by the Germans have been stopped by the Americans.

Good music and plenty of it has never before been so necessary as at the present time. The war has gradually engulfed our nation, and our very existence in the world, regardless of what the occupation may be, is being its effects and the grim realities and stern duties which are staring us in the face. HUNS BACK OF STRIKE.

By Courier Lensed Wire. Buffalo, Aug. 29.—W. J. Connors, head of the Great Lakes Transit Corporation, said to-day that pro-German influences were back of a strike of freight handlers at the docks here. About 1,000 men are out. One vessel with 2,000 barrels of flour aboard, was compelled to make a return trip to upper lake ports without discharging her cargo. A meeting of the men has been called for to-night.

Union officials said the trouble was due to a misunderstanding and probably would be quickly settled.

BAN GERMAN LANGUAGE.

By Courier Lensed Wire. London, Aug. 29.—(Canadian Press Despatch from Reuter's).—The South African Government is drafting regulations to prevent the use of the German language in public places.

At a mass meeting at Pietermaritzburg, protest was made against the increased cost of living and the appointment of a food controller demanded, together with the restriction of urban rents.

POINTS OF LAW THAT MOTORISTS MUST KNOW

Synopsis of Points in Motor Vehicles Act and Highways Travel Act That All Motorists Should Familiarize Themselves With

Driving Name, etc., in Writing.—If an accident occurs to any person or any horse or vehicle in charge of a person, owing to the presence of a motor vehicle on a highway, the person in charge of the motor vehicle shall return to the scene of the accident and give "in writing" to the person sustaining loss the name and address of the driver of the car, the name of the owner and the number of the permit and shall render all possible assistance. For default there is a penalty not exceeding $50.

Liability of Owner.—Wherever there is a violation of the Motor Vehicles Act or any act of the Highways Act on the part of the driver, the owner is liable in damages as well as to the penalties referred to. The only exception to this liability on the part of the owner is where at the time of the violation the car was in the possession of some person other than the owner without his consent, express or implied, such person not being in the employ of the owner.

Witnesses, Etc.—In almost every case where an accident results against an owner or driver for damages, his liability will depend upon a question of fact—was he or was he not guilty of negligence. That question is determined by a court of jury solely upon the evidence and credibility of witnesses. As the act further imposes upon the owner or driver the burden of proving that he was not guilty of negligence it is of the utmost importance that the names of witnesses be secured and all data preserved that will assist in the defence of any action that may be brought.

Penalties.—Responsibility for—The owner of a motor vehicle "shall be responsible for any violation" of the act and the driver "not being the owner shall be responsible for any such violation." Where the employer of a person driving for hire, pay or gain is present at the time any offence is committed against the act both the employer and the driver shall be liable to conviction.

Major Offences.—For (a) failing to carry markers on front and back of car; (b) exposing any other number than the official marker; (c) neglecting to keep markers clean and visible; (d) racing on highway; (e) driving while intoxicated; (f) failing to return to scene of accident and give name and number in writing and render assistance, the offender may be arrested by an officer without warrant, or may be summoned and upon conviction for the first offence is liable to a penalty not exceeding $50 or one week's imprisonment, or both. In the event of a third conviction for any of these offences, the car may be impounded and the offender refused a permit or license for two years thereafter.

Minor Offences.—For violation of any other provision of the act the penalty for the first offence shall not exceed $10. In respect of these offences neither arrest, imprisonment, impounding the car or cancelling the license can be imposed for the first or any subsequent offence by any justice or magistrate. The minister of public works has power, however, to suspend or revoke any permit or license for any "misconduct or infraction." He may also prohibit under a fine of $500 any person guilty thereof from driving a motor vehicle for a period not exceeding two years.

Criminal Negligence.—In addition to the penalties imposed by the Motor Vehicles Act, the criminal code makes every one liable to an indictable offence and liable to two years' imprisonment "who causes grievous bodily harm" to any person by furious driving, wilful misconduct or by the neglect of any duty imposed upon him. The provisions of the code may be invoked where bodily injury is done and not in cases of property damage only.

Defence of Alibi.—Where it is alleged an offence has been committed against the act and the owner is summoned to appear in a county "other than the one in which he resides" the owner may claim to show that neither he nor his motor vehicle were at the place of the alleged offence at the time. In that case the owner may appear with two witnesses before a justice of the peace in his own county and there give proof of his defence.

Trial Before Justice.—When you are charged with a violation of the law, you should be summoned within a reasonable time. You are entitled to information as to the time and place the offence was committed, and to an adjournment, if necessary, to procure witnesses or counsel. The evidence of the complainant must show beyond reasonable doubt that an offence was committed and you should be particular to see that both the wording of the summons and evidence given show an offence within the wording of the Motor Vehicles Act or some valid municipal by-law. Sometimes it does not. You have the right to cross-examine the witnesses, and to call such witnesses in defence as you may deem necessary. If you are convicted wrongfully, there is the right of appeal in which case notice of appeal must be served on the magistrate and justice and the informant within ten days.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—On the ground that the military service act and the militia act of Canada superseded the British army act in all those matters in which they conflicted, the courts here to-day dismissed the habeas corpus proceedings made on behalf of John McSweeney and James Roache, who were detained and put into uniform by the military authorities of this district before they had fully completed their two year's sentence at Durwash Farm under the military service act.

SILVER MINING IN YUKON.
Dawson City, Aug. 20.—The Yukon is turning from gold to silver mining. While the value of the former, or its purchasing power, has decreased, that of silver has been doubled. There is great activity in the silver bearing areas tributary to Dawson, the Mayo district to the upper Stewart River and along the twelve-mile creek. These fields are 150 miles apart. Silver was discovered in these areas years ago, but no work was even done. The Canadian government has dispatched a party of geologists to investigate the prospects of development in the silver mining industry in these sections.

SHOULD PRACTICE USE OF ENGINE AS BRAKE

While it is Seldom That Both Service and Emergency Brakes Fail, Still Many Motorists Have Had Such Experience, and Therefore Preparedness is to be Advised

Few motorists recognize that an efficient braking system they have in the gear box, combined with the engine. A thoroughly reliable braking effect may be obtained which will save the brake linings and may even save life in case the brakes fail. A case comes to mind of a driver in Maine who took two ladies down a rille or two of mountain road and killed both of them and himself at the bottom. The brakes had failed, and he did not know what else to do but steer until death overtook him. However, such knowledge is more general now, the only difficulty being that drivers do not know what gears to use. Fortunately, the problem is a very simple one. If the clutch is engaged and the gears in a station of the engine right through to the rear wheels. It must be equally evident if the car is running downhill and the clutch and gears are engaged, the engine being dead, that the rear wheels will drive the engine. This requires work to be done, and the effect on the wheels is to slow them down. The engine does not simply a question of choosing the gears which will cause the rear wheels to do the most work.

It will readily be seen that this must be the correct method of direct drive (which is the high speed in a three speed gearset) the engine revolves once to turn the drive shaft once. But on low gear the engine may revolve three or four times, depending on the size of the gears. If the drive is reversed the engine must revolve three or four times for every revolution of the drive shaft. As the two or three or four times the drag that would be given by the high gear, it is evident that it should be used.

This may not seem to be very hard work, but it is because we have not yet considered the reduction of gearing that takes place at the differential. This varies with different cars, but on a four wheel drive car, the rear drive shaft turns four times to drive the differential and axle once. If we reverse this the wheels turning once will drive the shaft four times. If the low gear is in mesh the engine will revolve four times for every turn of the drive shaft, making sixteen revolutions of the engine to one of the rear wheels. But if the gear were used the engine would turn over only four times. By using the low gear we get four times the braking effect. If we had a four cylinder engine we have two strokes of the pistons for each revolution, making thirty-two strokes of the pistons to each revolution of the rear wheels.

The question arises as to whether suction or compression is used. Most people say compression, as they know how difficult it is to crank the engine over by hand. But if it is started, as the release of compression helps the fly wheel along. If in doubt try spinning an engine by hand, with the compression cocks open, and again with them closed. It will be found much harder if cocks are closed. The condition of suction above the pistons is opposed by atmospheric pressure below the pistons, making a heavy resistance. This is not only reasonable but it may be readily tested out in practice.

To try it out on a car choose a moderately steep hill and go down on low gear, clutch in and ignition off. Try varying the speed with the throttle. It will be found that the car slows down when throttle is closed and speeds up when throttle is open. The practice of using the engine as a brake is advisable, especially on steep mountain roads. It insures safety, saves the brakes and cools the engine, which should be reason enough for doing it. The usual procedure is to use the foot brake for a while and then to change to the emergency brake. This relieves the emergency brake. This relieves the

TRADES FOLLOWS RED TRIANGLE

Value of Canadian Goods Only Now Realized in France

As the war has revealed the standing of Canadian goods to the world, the contents of the Canadian Y. M. C. A. in France have no less discovered to thousands of Imperial and French soldiers the merits of Canadian manufacturers. In pre-war days, goods "Made in Canada" compared favorably with their competitors, but since the screw of food restriction laws has been tightened almost daily in France and England, for soldier and civilian alike, the contrast has been most distinctly in favor of the Canadian article as sold in the Red Triangle huts.

Canada has been in the fortunate position of not requiring such rigorous use of "substitutes" called for elsewhere, and so far as supplies for the soldiers are concerned, quality has been kept as far as possible up to notch. By special permission of the authorities, the Canadian Y. M. C. A. has been permitted to ship many hundreds of tons of supplies of all kinds to France and England. These goods have won the enthusiastic praise of thousands of British Tommies, and letters from Canadians at the front tell how the Tommies will gladly walk twelve miles or more, in order to buy genuine Canadian "cents" at a Canadian Y. M. C. A. canteen.

One line of goods popularized "over here" by the Red Triangle is canned meats, fish, fruit and vegetables from the Dominion. Needless to say, the quality of the goods is not to be compared with the quality of the goods sold at the Canadian canteen. The amount of vigor put into his play by the Canadian sportsman called for equipment that will stand far more than a slap on the wrist. An enormous quantity of first class athletic material has been shipped to Europe by the Canadian Y. M. C. A. for free loan to the troops and this has been practically the sole source of supply for such articles near the front and in the camps. The unbounded admiration of Imperial onlookers at Canadian field sports for the agility and prowess of the player has been equalled by their envy of his excellent outfit. Himself a keen sportsman, the Britisher, when he bids a reckless adieu to the fields of war and turns again to those of play, will do so with less of a prejudiced in his heart in favor of the home-made bat and ball. Undoubtedly Canadian athletes and players have gained a foremost place in the respectful esteem of the Britisher as purveyors in a sphere wherein the latter imagined himself out of sight supreme.

A perusal of the price list displayed prominently in every Canadian Y. M. C. A. canteen in France, naturally reveals a preponderance of Canadian goods. These comprise biscuits, candies, including gum, and maple sugar, soap, soups, tobacco, cigars and cigarettes. It is a marvelously varied and comprehensive list, ranging from boot laces to peanut butter, and including the proverbial needle, although the anchor is missing.

Another item of Canadian manufacture "placed" by the Red Triangle overseas is the heating stove. A British Tommy who has crept in out of the deadly chill of the trenches and cuddled down beside a genuine Canuck heater, is not going to be so sure in future that his own vaunted and certainly more spectacular "open fire" is the last word in warming apparatus.

Whatever any "League of Nations" or Zollverein may do in post war days by way of stimulating trade between the allies generally, it is certain that several thousands of Imperial troops are convinced that if the Canadian manufacturer can maintain such high standards as shown in the Y. M. C. A. canteens in France during hostilities, he can do even better in times of peace. That they will regulate their buying accordingly goes without saying, and the manufacturers of Canada may be trusted to make the most of this opportunity to expand their trade provided by the operations of the Red Triangle overseas.

ENEMY BRINGS UP FRESH BATTERIES

But is Not Prepared to Risk His Heavy Guns Overmuch

FRENCH ADVANCING

Canadian Advance Over the Land Dotted With Historic Places

Bulletin London, Aug. 30.—(Canadian dispatch from Reuter's Lini) ted)—A dispatch from Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters says: "The Germans have brought up fresh batteries, but were not prepared to risk their artillery overmuch. We captured a complete battery also—sixty two prisoners at Cambes and one 15 millimetre howitzer and four field guns at Maurepas."

Historic Places.—Ottawa, Aug. 30.—Roland Hill, correspondent with the Canadian forces, writing from France, says: "The territory over which the Canadians have advanced is dotted with places that will be historic. Beaumont wood, for instance, shelters a hoard of machine gunners. Tanks waddled towards it fearlessly while troops from one of our divisions worked to the flanks. It was soon captured after a stiff fight. One of our tanks broke down near the edge of the wood and is anchored there yet. Every petrol can on it is riddled with bullets and the steel sides of the monster are dinged and tatted by the hail of lead poured at it, giving evidence of the danger our men had to face."

On the third day of the attack a Hun dispatch rider, who had no idea the Canadians had advanced so far into his lines was caught riding his motorcycle towards the village where a few hours before his division headquarters were located. When he was halted and found himself a prisoner he became quite churlish and boastfully remarked that the Germans would recapture all the ground that had been taken from them within two days. The divisional signal station with a number of operators busy at the "buzzers" and "phones" had been added to our list of spoils shortly before the dispatch rider's capture. In another dugout were two officers and 30 of other ranks, who were taken prisoners. One of the Prussian officers told some of our men that the Canadians were Indians and were not gentlemen. He was asked what he considered himself and with the arrogance of his ilk, said: "A German gentleman." "There ain't no such animal," returned an Ontario sergeant.

ST. GEORGE NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Mr. and Mrs. John Tolhurst, received word last week that their second son, Corp. J. Freeman Tolhurst, had paid the supreme sacrifice somewhere in France. Corp. Tolhurst enlisted in the 125th Brantford battalion in September, 1915, he left Canada for England in July, 1916 and shortly after went to France.
On the 31st of August, 1917 his brother Earl was badly wounded on the battlefield, and Freeman, under heavy shell fire carried him to safety and returned again to his post. He won a medal for bravery but did not tell how he won it. At another time he was gassed and could not speak above a whisper for over three weeks. Last Christmas he had fourteen days' leave, he went to England and while there went to see his brother Earl who was then in the hospital suffering from wounds. Shortly after Corp. Tolhurst returned to the front he was buried up to his eyes in earth by a shell bursting near him. He soon recovered from the effects of this and returned again to the front where he remained until he paid the supreme sacrifice on August 9th. He was only 24 years old last May and leaves to mourn his loss his parents, four sisters, three brothers at home and one at the front, besides a host of friends. In his last letter home he said he had been very sick with trench fever and could hardly speak above a whisper, but was getting better. Deep sympathy is extended to the sorrowing family.
