CATHOLIC CHRONICLE.

VOL. XL, NO. 50.

MONTREAL, WEDNESDAY, JULY 16, 1890.

PRICE, 5 CENTS.

ROME.

A Threatening State of Society.

The Roman Correspondence of the Western Watchman says:—It would be premature to say...

ARCHBISHOP WALSH.

Considers Irish Members of Parliament. The following is the full text of the letter of Archbishop Walsh upon the absence of certain Irish members from divisions in the House of Commons...

clothes, the young girls garlanded and dressed in white, set forth from the porch of the church, after a brief service there, and marched around the commune...

Nothing could exceed the unaffected simplicity and earnestness of the people of both sexes and of all ages. The day was one of those perfect days, which, as Mr. Lowell says, come to the world in June if ever they come at all...

A SHORT SERMON.

Preached on the Feast of the Most Precious Blood by a Fanatic Father.

The Feast of the Most Precious Blood of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, my dear brethren, brings before us in the most forcible manner possible the infinite love of God...

Intemperance.

Intemperance cuts down youth in its vigor, maimed in its strength, and age in its weakness. It breaks the father's heart, bereaves the dotting mother, extinguishes natural affection, erases conjugal love, blots out filial attachment, blights paternal hope, and brings down mourning age in sorrow to the grave...

Pentecost at St. Quentin.

The beautiful day of Pentecost was spent in the ordinary rural commune of St. Quentin. The fine old church, near by my host's residence, has been restored with great taste and good sense...

IRISH NOTES.

Items of Interest from the Provinces of the Green Isle.

The directors of the Midland and Fermanagh Railway have re-elected the Very Rev. Dean O'Regan Chairman of the Company. Mr. Charles O'Brien, LL.B., a Cork man, has won a thirty-guinea scholarship in common and criminal law at the Middle Temple, London.

It is rumored that Sir Rowland Blennerhassett is about to be appointed president of the Queen's College, Cork in the place of the late Dr. Sullivan. Sir Rowland is a Catholic. He was educated at Stonyhurst and Christ's, Oxford.

Rev. P. McGrath, P.P. Silvermine, Tipperary, died recently in the 70th year of his age and 40th of his sacred ministry. His funeral took place on June 15 and was attended by a large gathering of his fellow priests...

Mr. Frederick H. Bacon, sub-sheriff for county Limerick, with his wife and police, went to Orahng West the other day to evict a tenant named Michael Leahy, at the suit of his landlord, Rev. Mr. Walsh.

The Archbishop of Dublin continues his protest against the over-riding of Irish opinion, Protestant and Catholic, in the matter of primary education by English officials and Catholic boards.

Notwithstanding the great and ever increasing number of converts in England, Cardinal Manning has little hope that England will ever again be brought back to Catholic unity.

FIVE MINUTES SERMON.

Be sober and watch, because your adversary, the devil, as a roaring lion goeth about, seeking whom he may devour.—Ephesians of the Day.

I need not tell you, dear brethren, that there is nothing more contrary to the spirit of our holy religion than melancholy. The Church would not have her children longed for and mourned, eschewing all pleasure as a thing sinful, nor would she have them unhappy by depriving them of what is good and forbidding what is innocent...

It is interesting to remember that, under the first French attempt at a republic, this lovely rural spectacle would have been as possible as it would be today under the rule of the Mahdi in the Sudan; and also to reflect that France is governed to-day by men who dream of making it thus impossible more.—'France and the Republic,' William Henry Herbert.

Mr. Smith Barry has served with the tenants of the Defences Committee at New Tipperary for an injunction to compel them to remove the large market which they have erected in the new town, and which is intended for the evicted shopkeepers.

Mr. Frederick H. Bacon, sub-sheriff for county Limerick, with his wife and police, went to Orahng West the other day to evict a tenant named Michael Leahy, at the suit of his landlord, Rev. Mr. Walsh.

At an important conference of National School Teachers in Belfast resolutions were adopted demanding substantial increases of the salaries of teachers; asking the Government to allocate the Irish portion of the private duties to the purposes of National Education in Ireland, as has been done in Scotland; expressing an opinion that the Government ought to allocate part of the Church Surplus to the same purpose; asking the Government to increase the amount of the loan for teachers' residences and extend the time of repayment; suggesting a modification of the present rental system; and declaring their belief that the time has come for introducing some form of compulsory education into Ireland.

The Archbishop of Dublin continues his protest against the over-riding of Irish opinion, Protestant and Catholic, in the matter of primary education by English officials and Catholic boards.

Notwithstanding the great and ever increasing number of converts in England, Cardinal Manning has little hope that England will ever again be brought back to Catholic unity.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

At a Nova Scotian Ferry Wharf.

Fatal Results of an Attempt to Board a Boat—Four Drowned and Many Others Narrowly Escaped.

HALIFAX, July 11.—A fatal accident occurred here to-day. A ferry steamer brought from New York to run between Halifax and Dartmouth arrived, and there was a rush of people to get on board. About 100 of the people stood on a ferry bridge supported by two chains used some times to take trams from ferry boats about to lay up. In order to make the bridge perfectly safe and passable it was necessary that the end protruding from the wharf should rest on the vessel's deck.

The list of drowned, whose bodies have been recovered, is as follows:—Ellis Slinnot, aged 17; Peter Boyle, aged 60, leaves a large family; John Bowdler, aged 8; Basil Foster, aged 23. Among the names of those rescued were Edward Foster, father of the girl who was drowned; Town Clerk Alfred Elliot and two children; Mrs. Alexander Waddell with a child in her arms; Mrs. Henry Silver, Mrs. William Broadhurst, Michael Lawlor, Mrs. Logan's baby, Mrs. Isenor, James Settle Green and Hattie Leadley, Ethel Carroll, Elsie Mackenzie, Miss Falconer, Miss Mansford, Annie Garrison, Annie Wilson and Francis Murray. It is believed that the number of bodies recovered represents the full list of the victims of the catastrophe. Divers engaged all day have failed to recover any more bodies. The number of bodies taken out of the water and who had an exceedingly narrow escape of their lives now totals forty. Many thrilling incidents connected with the accident are reported. Town Clerk Elliot and his two little boys went down together. But the boys

MINDFUL OF WHAT THEIR FATHER SAID kept still and were soon helped ashore. Mr. James Warner went down clear from the wharf, and a young man, looking over from one of the cross timbers, saw a hand rise from the water. He grasped it, and just then her husband looked over and seemed paralyzed, as he exclaimed, "My God, save my wife." Mrs. Logan, wife of the engineer on board the Annex, who has been absent four weeks. Mrs. Silver was with her, and Mrs. Logan handed her the baby to hold while she went on board. Mrs. Silver was pushed in during the surging and fell with the baby tightly clasped in her arms close by the side of the wharf where the heavy mooring chain was hanging to the water. She seized the chain and with the baby clasped to her breast held on heroically, with many others clinging to her, till Constable Bridgeport got the baby from her and then helped the struggling youngster and terrified women to the willing hands above, thus relieving Mrs. Silver, whose nerve and strength in holding on to the chain while fifteen or more clung to her no doubt saved them from death. The evidence given at the inquest showed that the people laughed at the officials who pleaded with them to keep back, but that they burst open the gates and rushed down the wharf. The story generally current is that an unknown tall thin man said he would lower the bridge and that he proceeded to do so and the weight of humanity on the bridge took the hoisting wheel handles out of his hand and the chains ran out slowly at first but increased in rapidity till the weight of the people and the increasing velocity snapped the chains. A broken link of half an inch of galvanized iron chain was picked up about fifty feet from the bridge outside the gate and has every appearance of being a part of the hoisting chain of the bridge. It is also snapped just round the turn of one side, while at the middle of the other end it is also broken, but shows signs of a flaw. These chains were only intended to carry the weight of the bridge and were simply for lowering the outward end till it is safely rested on the boat. Mr. Hall was standing about midway on the bridge when it started to go down. He put his arm around Mrs. Logan and put her on the wharf, and turned about for Mrs. Silver and the child, but they were too far down, and he got hold of the captain and the wharf and sailed others. The bridge started like an elevator from the top of a ten storey building and went down about the same speed.

The trunk of a rosebush at Ventura, Cal., is said to be three feet in circumference, and the first branch it throws out is twenty one inches in circumference. It runs over a lattice work, and since blossoming covers a space of 1,200 square feet. It yields thousands of flowers.

A railroad is to be built from Arhangai to Volodga to unite the extreme habitable north of the Russian empire with the interior. The contractors are merchants of Volodga, who carry on a large business with the natives of Arhangai. The latest Russian railway company has just a full outfit of Pullman cars.

How the Catholic Church Suffers From Intemperance.

If intemperance had not been the prevailing vice in America during the last forty years the membership of the Catholic Church would be larger by several millions while her receipts for charitable and educational purposes would be more than doubled. Penal and eleemosynary institutions would not shelter the remnant of thousands of her families dismembered by alcohol. There is some reason why a large number of Catholic young ladies marry non-Catholics, or never marry at all; they have learned from their older sisters that the hope for something better beyond the grave is the only support to a woman who is doomed to physical and mental torture during the natural term of her husband's dissipated life. It is doubtful if a mother's fortitude and endurance can be put to a stronger test than to be obliged to fight single handed against starvation, whilst shielding her children from the brutalities of a drunken parent. Such a woman hardly ever manifests her bitter anguish, except, perhaps, in a spiritual adviser, who can do little else for her than counsel patience and resignation. Her virtue and her sufferings are not known to the world. Even her own children, whom the selfish behavior of a drunken parent has prejudiced against all the surroundings of home, are soon eager to leave her. They gladly embrace the first opportunity to cast their lot among strangers. The Catholic Church cannot refuse to give hearty support to a movement which is destined to deliver from misery a numerous class of virtuous mothers and their helpless infants—if it is not too late—if the demon of alcohol has not already buried its crooked happy claws in the vitals of society.—Hand-out for Alcoholism. Rev. Geo. Zuercher, Esq., Toledo, Ohio, N. Y.

A Dark Prospect.

Notwithstanding the great and ever increasing number of converts in England, Cardinal Manning has little hope that England will ever again be brought back to Catholic unity.

CATHOLIC CULLINGS.

Interesting Items gleaned from all quarters of the Globe.

At the time when we seem to be almost forsaken by God it is our own fault if we are not nearest Him.

The cross is the only ladder to Paradise; without the cross the ascent to heaven is altogether impossible.—St. Rose.

If there be a visible Church, it is the Church of Rome; and if there be a dogmatic religious truth, it is the Catholic faith.

Contrition, contrition, and always contrition. It is our hope for the past, our watchword for the present, our safeguard for the untold future.

As St. Peter went down to Our Blessed Lord upon the water, simply trusting in His power, so must we draw near to Him in our sins, simply trusting in His love.

To sense the visible Church is a society of men to fulfill an organized and historical kingdom; to faith it is the heavenly court on earth, the beginning of the new creation of God.

When God causes us to undertake something difficult, or exposes us to any suffering in His service or for His glory, His Providence has it in view to assist and defend us.—St. Vincent de Paul.

He is Thy best servant who desires not so much to hear from Thee what may be conformable to his own will; but rather to conform his will to whatever he may hear from Thee.—St. Augustine.

If God were our last end, and His love our dearest desire, all our natural affections would be calm and securely centered in Him, while those which are imperfect and inordinate would find no place in our hearts.

A heart which seeks to know and love God would find Him in everything; but the heart which is willfully blinded by the world and its attractions cannot discern Him even in the greatest and most magnificent of His creations.

It needs the advent of that dread visitant, Death to make us understand that we ought to make good haste and love well those whom we do love, if we would not have them pass away from us forever before we have loved them enough.—Paul Bourget.

It is probable that the Sisters will be restored to their place in the public hospitals of Paris. Medical men, irrespective of religion, have never ceased to protest against their expulsion; besides, lay nurses have been found more expensive and otherwise seriously objectionable.

It is announced from Egypt that the Copts at old Cairo have opened to Catholic pilgrims the Chapel of the Grotto, which for a considerable space of time served as the dwelling place of the Holy Family after their flight from the persecution of Herod.

The model of the statues of St. Cyril and St. Methodius, destined to adorn the new chapel is already approved; the expense is estimated at 25,000 lire. Bishop Strosmayer has himself subscribed 2,000 florins, and the remainder of the sum has been collected amid the episcopal colleagues of the Slav prelate and the faithful of their respective dioceses.

The official organ of statistics in Prussia states that since 1867 the Catholic population of that country has increased much more rapidly than the Protestant population, owing to the greater number of births among Catholics and to Protestant emigration.

A definitive vote on the heroic quality of the virtues of the venerable Jeanne de Leszcynska, foundress of the Order of Daughters of Mary in the Diocese of Bordeaux, France, was taken at the Congregation of Rites assembled in the Vatican June 17.

It is untrue, as was reported, that the Holy See proposes to transfer the primatial dignity from the See of Gnesen-Posen to that of Cracow, the titular of which Mgr. Danajewski is raised to the cardinalate, at the express desire, it is affirmed, of the Emperor of Austria.

The Right Rev. William Fitzgerald, Bishop of Rome, arrived in Rome June 10, coming from Paris, where a visitation was made to the Irish College in that city, and staying at Oberammergau. The Bishop has taken up his residence at the house of the Irish Augustinians at San Carlo al Corso, and is the guest of Prior Glynn, who is a friend of his of many years' standing.

Man cannot do without religion. Those who try to take it away from us endeavor to put something else in its place. The Positivist and the Agnostic would destroy Christianity if they could. But the former gives us Nature-for-a-God; the latter offers us the Unknowable. Nature—that is, Humanity—is a very human God; and the Unknowable spelled with a capital U may look very learned, yet cannot be the object of religious worship, for man cannot adore that which he has no means of knowing to be worthy of his veneration.

The difficulties raised by the Italian Government to the transfer of the marble containing the altar for Mgr. Woodcock's Cathedral have been smoothed away. Lord Dufferin, the British Ambassador, to the Count of the Quirinali, addressed a very diplomatic letter to Signor Zanardelli, Minister of Grace and Justice, urging upon him the propriety of allowing, without let or hindrance, be sent to the original mission, and applied to their original mission. The Italian Minister, whose name has for years been employed to divert from their original mission, and to divert from their original mission, and to divert from their original mission.

A STORY OF OLD CANADA.

"The Soldiers of the Blessed Virgin."

An Old Tale Betold of the Pioneers of Christianity and Civilization in the Dominion—Dollard's Heroism.

Villemarie, City of Mary, better known as Montreal, was planned by one of the most holy men of his time in the very heart of the American wilderness.

NEAR QUEBEC, and the rashness of settling two hundred miles farther up the river, where it would be impossible to aid them in the hour of danger.

Close rushed on them, telling each of his troop to pluck out a man; and sixteen Iroquois dropped. Then he charged with pistols and as many more were cut down.

TIME TO RELOAD. Close rushed on them, telling each of his troop to pluck out a man; and sixteen Iroquois dropped.

OUR LADY'S MILITIA had serious work before them. Attack followed attack. At last, in 1680, the largest force yet sent against Canada.

BAND OF VOLUNTEERS stepped to his side. Fortified by the Sacraments, pledging himself to fight to the last, he called forth with fifteen or sixteen companions.

QUEEN OF HEAVEN. Montreal was in a continual state of siege. Settlers were constantly surprised. They fell into an Iroquois ambush, one through and dashed into the open door of the hospital.

and took to one of the little redoubts. "ed near the Villemarie as a work of vengeance. White," Lavigne, a brave servant of Mary, rushed alone to aid his townsman.

DYING AROHABAULT; for a fragment of the old place had struck him, and he was the only one who fell on the French side in the long day's fight.

After a long battle Close, though he dislodged the Indians and drove them from point to point, failed to rout them. Three of his men were killed, eight more were taken by a sudden movement of the Indians.

OCURRED THE BRILLIANT FIGHT at St. Mary's, where a little party of French in a palisade held out like heroes.

WHEREAS this island belongs to the Blessed Virgin, we deem it our duty to invite and exhort all who are zealous in her service to assemble together in squads of seven men; and after electing a corporal.

A locomotive for British Columbia was being hoisted into a vessel at San Francisco the other day when the rope broke and the machine fell into the bay.

The moral of this would seem to be that British Columbians should buy their locomotives in their own country which they can easily do.

CANADA is happily rid of the American border, but their return to New York does not appear to be very welcome, and District Attorney Fellows is being warmly denounced in several papers for allowing them to return unmolested.

ONE of the most humiliating spectacles presented by the recent election in Gaspe was the presence there of a host of Irish Catholic spouters, energetically working to defeat the Hon. Mr. Flynn.

THE defeat of the Hon. E. J. Flynn in Gaspe was only a natural result of several manifest causes. Very strong inducements, indeed, must have been necessary to convince the electors of Gaspe that it was their interest to abandon Mr. Flynn and to elect Mr. Achille Carrier in his place.

THE uncertainties of the law have recently been brought into some prominence by an interesting case tried in London. The proprietors of 'Eno's Fruit Salt' sued Mr. Dunn, a Canadian, for breach of the law of trade marks by advertising what he termed 'Dunn's Fruit Salt Baking Powder' and adopting the term as a trade mark.

AMONG that body of Irishmen, to whom reference has elsewhere been made, engaged in opposing the return of the Hon. Mr. Flynn in Gaspe was Mr. H. J. Cloran, of this city. It would be well for that gentleman to explain in what capacity he appeared during the election.

Wanted a Leader.

The Liberal party is at present a very divided one on the question of a leader in the House of Commons. Mr. Blake, the most brilliant and influential perhaps, declines to lead.

years ago. Who then can the Liberals accept as a leader? The Banerjee from whom it is known to have ambition but he can be put aside. So can the well meaning but forward member for Eglon.

The Reported Outrage at Quebec.

The story of the girl at Quebec, which appears elsewhere, does not reflect much credit on the civic or military administration of that place. Not long ago the Hon. John Hearne pointed out in the Quebec city council that in the days when the port was full of shipping and foreign sailors, and there was a strong Imperial garrison on the station, there was less crime and fewer police than at present.

Child Insurance.

What seems to be assuming the dimensions of a great evil and a national shame is attracting no small attention in England just at present. In that country the practice of insuring the lives of children has long prevailed, and there are now, it is alleged, more than half a million juvenile lives insured.

A Good Decision.

Not long ago one of the New York comic papers contained a picture representing three figures. One was the collector of an 'installment plan' house, the second a sharp witted lady, the third an active and very unamiable looking bull dog.

The Command of the Militia.

Speculation is rife as to who is to be the successor of Sir F. Middleton as commander-in-chief of the Militia. Some more enthusiastic than wise zealots are clamoring for what they term a 'Canadian officer,' and there seems to be an impression in certain quarters that there is a statute on the books forbidding any Canadian from holding the position.

the camps and the presence of large armed forces. He should be, in short, an advanced and skilled professional. It matters nothing if he be a Canadian, and certainly, all things being equal, it would be better that he should be. But at present it is hard to see the man.

Parnell's Latest Speech.

The telegraphic despatches inform us that on the vote for the allowance to the Chief Secretary's office, which was allowed to pass without division, Mr. Parnell made a speech, remarkable for its ability and moderation. He made suggestions, we are informed, which, he said, would aid Mr. Balfour in settling the land question in Ireland.

AN OLD 'REBEL' SPEAKS.

Mr. Charles Durand, of Toronto, on the efforts of Emancipatory Canadians. Mr. Charles Durand, of Toronto, has published a very suggestive letter reviewing those unpatriotic comparisons made at times by interested persons between Canada and the United States.

The Germans Agitated.

The Germans seem to be suddenly stricken with the idea that England has got the better of them in the Heligoland-African arrangement. At first the delight at obtaining the island blinded them to everything else, but the fact is beginning to dawn on them that John Bull has made a hard bargain.

Ireland's Prospects.

Some time ago the Irish Parliamentary party, wishing to take part in the silver jubilee of His Eminence Cardinal Manning, presented him with an address of felicitation and thanks for his efforts on behalf of Ireland. The document was signed by Parnell and every member of his party.

liked (laughter). I said to him that Ireland possessed a much united people as it is at this day. Ireland has never been one people in a nation—so it is at this day. The Irish people never possessed, since the days of their confederation, so much of the soil of Ireland for their own as they do at this day.

POSTPONEMENT OF THE Irish Catholic Pilgrimage TO STE. ANNE de BEAUPRE.

The Steamer Three Rivers, which had been chartered for the above Pilgrimage for July 26th, not being available, owing to an accident to the machinery of the Steamer Quebec, necessitating the substitution of the Three Rivers on the regular line between Montreal and Quebec, it has become necessary to postpone the Pilgrimage to a later date, due notice of which will be given next week.

for instance. In olden times and among heathen nations no one dared as much as touch a tomb for fear that the gods would punish them in connection with this cure. It is related how a poor widow who lost her child, in the desire of placing something on its grave, put on it the child's toy cradle, dolls and other playthings as she was too poor to buy flowers.

The Courier du Canada, commencing upon the alleged kidnapping of Senator Pelletier, denies that any one touched his sacred person.

It says that when he arrived at St. Anne station he was dropped among a group of electors who wanted to see what kind of work he was going to do during the night before the polling.

Announced by the presence of many people, Pelletier became timid and demanded hospitality from a Mr. Potvin, who lives opposite the depot.

The electors accompanied him there and waited to see what direction he would take in order to follow him and neutralize the magnetism which flows from his person in election times.

Had Mr. Pelletier wished to go out no one would have prevented him. This is the whole of the abominable crime.

The same thing happened to Mr. Senecal at St. Hyacinthe at the election of Mr. Mercier as a senator in 1890.

Six more of the persons accused in this case have given themselves up and bail has been accepted.

ACOLONNE'S BLAST.

A Frightful Storm in Minnesota Carries Death and Destruction Before It.

St. Paul, July 15.—A terrible cyclone struck the vicinity of St. Paul on Sunday causing a frightful loss of life and destroying property to a large amount.

At first it was reported that four lives had been lost and Lake McCarron; Mrs. J. H. Schurman and Rev. Mr. Phaeffer, of Bremen, Texas, who was visiting them.

George Miller of the First National Bank of this city; "Fate," Mr. Schurman's driver, whose name was unknown, and many others.

But later reports brought a different and terrible tale. It appears that a steamer left Red Wing, Minn., on Sunday with 250 passengers on board, bound for Lake City.

At several small towns along the shore of Lake Pepin swamped people were taken on board to make room for the twenty vessels on board.

The others were drowned. One of the militiamen on the shore of the lake, named Perry, of St. Paul, saved fifteen or sixteen lives.

Sixty-five bodies have been identified and it is expected that 150 lives have been lost.

There were some narrow escapes. Two boys were in the water for six hours kept up by life preservers.

The wreckage of the bodies of the dead indicate that the fatal cyclone took place between 8 p.m. and 8:30.

The path of the cyclone has not up to Tuesday night been fully examined but it is feared that a much greater loss of life will be proved.

An Unpleasant Discovery.

QUEBEC, July 14.—The papers here state that a case of leprosy has been discovered on the island of Anse-au-Loup, some time ago.

The leprosy was discovered on the island of Anse-au-Loup, some time ago.

The case is most serious, as the family is large, several of the boys being of marriageable age.

It is said that Rev. Mr. Talbot, a missionary at Anticosti, has made a report to the Government.

Mr. Poppe, guardian of the South Point lighthouse, who is at present at Ottawa, will also draw the attention of the authorities to the matter.

An Important Arrest.

Boston, July 13.—The police of this city have made an arrest which will probably lead to a famous trial in Canada and to the doing of justice after many months' delay.

They have Leda Lamontagne safe in custody. She has been long wanted by the Canadian authorities as a witness against her brother, who is charged with having murdered her husband at Wolfestown, Que., and then burning the house down.

The crime was most revolting, one in every respect. The trial of the brother has had to be postponed at Sherbrooke, Que., owing to the inability of the Crown prosecutor to produce this woman.

She will be held for extradition.

Protection versus Free Trade.

LONDON, July 11.—Mr. Vincent asked in the House of Commons whether in view of the free trade pact between England and Germany as well as between Great Britain and the colonies as a set off against the hostile tariff in America?

Sir James Ferguson replied that he had reason to believe that the German Government did not intend to take action at present.

He said it would be inconsistent with the fiscal policy of England to take the joint measure which Mr. Vincent suggested.

An Ugly Cry from Quebec.

QUEBEC, July 10.—An immigrant girl lately arrived from the old country has complained that she was outraged by men attached to the Cavalry school here.

She says that she came out from England six months ago, but lost her situation a week ago on her employers discovering that she was subject to epileptic fits.

On Tuesday night her money being gone, she sent her trunk to a police station and went to sleep in a field in the rear of cavalry quarters.

Here she was discovered about 4 o'clock yesterday morning by a sentry, who opened a barn and told her to sleep there.

She went in and was immediately followed by the soldiers who, she alleges, committed a criminal assault upon her.

Then he went out and locked the door and shortly afterwards three more soldiers came in and two of them held her down while the third assaulted her.

She resisted violently until she lost consciousness. In the morning she was found, still unconscious, and the police were notified.

They sent for a doctor, who said that she should be left as she was until she recovered.

This was done, and the girl was allowed to go when she came to her senses.

Yesterday afternoon, however, the police found her on the Esplanade and arrested her as a vagrant.

Chief Vohl does not believe that the girl has been outraged, and there are indeed some reasons to believe that the investigation proves that her story is only too true.

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

Where Tasso Died.

Upon the Janiculum, about half-way up the slope, stand the Caruch and Convent of San Onofrio, at right angles to each other.

With a portico common to both. Upon the wall, under the portico attached to the convent, are three frescoes by D. Michelini.

carefully protected by a covering of glass, representing the Baptism, Flagellation, and the Descent into Hell.

The great pool, in the spring of the year 1895, was attacked by a serious illness.

It was felt to be fatal, and he desired that his last breath might be drawn in the sacred retreat of this convent.

He brought with him a frame monstrance, and a heart broken by the weight of the burden of life.

His greeting to the monks who helped him from his cartilage was compressed in the simple words: "I am come to die among you."

He lingered but a few weeks, soothed by friendly offices and nursed with tender care, his time principally occupied in those devotional exercises so congenial to his religious sensibility.

The close of his life of struggle and sorrow was tranquil and peaceful.

The clouds were lifted up at sunset, and his great "orb of song" sank in his rest in unshodded glory.

A small slab, set into the pavement of the church, near the entrance, and containing a brief Latin inscription, marks the spot where his remains were laid.

And what need is there of any more? Why lavish the luxury of architecture and sculpture upon a man which is his own monument?

In the burying place, in the quietude of a monk's life, he was laid to rest in a vault.

The windows of the room in which he died were also pointed out.

The garden in the rear is a specimen enclosure, planted with oak and yew, with willow and beds of bonnie venge.

In one corner is a semicircular range of seats, on the living turf, where the Arcadian Academy sometimes held their sessions.

A more attractive place of gathering can hardly be imagined; for it commands an enchanting view, fitted to suggest poetical images or awaken devotional feelings.

Near it was once a venerable oak, known all over Rome as Tasso's oak, and held in due honor accordingly.

It was blown down a few years ago, but not entirely destroyed; for when I saw it there were some vigorous shoots growing out of the shattered stump.

The Beauport Inquest.

QUEBEC, July 14.—On Saturday morning Dr. Belleau, district coroner, proceeded to Beauport and held an inquest on the body of Marcelite Jobin, an inmate of that institution who was found dead about two weeks on the floor of her sleeping apartment.

Coroner Belleau examined a number of witnesses, including the asst. physicians, and it was ascertained that the woman died from fatty degeneration of the heart.

It was also shown that, by a letter written to the Attorney-General in the month of December last, the asylum authorities were permitted to bury deceased patients under their care without informing the coroner or hiding any facts in connection with the case.

In consequence of this fact, Coroner Belleau exonerated the asylum authorities from any blame in not having notified him in order that an inquest might be held.

A Strange Suicide.

NIAGARA FALLS, July 14.—A man committed suicide by leaping over Niagara Falls at Prospect Point on Monday.

It is said that the suicide was Alexander Whippert of Buffalo.

Sauce for the Goose.

LONDON, July 13.—The English Cabinet has discovered that the same agreement which bound England and France to respect the independence of Zanzibar also required these two countries not to interfere with the independence of Madagascar.

Now that the agreement has been violated by the agreement by establishing a protectorate over Madagascar against the consent of the native ruler, and England, it is claimed, has an equal right to establish a protectorate over Zanzibar.

Mr Parnell's Recent Speech.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Yates' letter to the Tribune says that Mr. Parnell's speech on Friday created a direct sensation.

Mr. Parnell's speech was so much listened to that the Chief Irish Secretary to come to a friendly arrangement about the Land Purchase Bill.

If Mr. Parnell and the Government came to terms the measure will pass, and all the fulminations of the Opposition will be so much wasted energy.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt's sentence was a studied during the delivery of Mr. Parnell's speech.

The speech was so much listened to that the Chief Irish Secretary to come to a friendly arrangement about the Land Purchase Bill.

When the history of the expenditure on the plan of campaign comes to be known, it will, I think, be found that the Parnellite lawyers have not done badly.

Parnell's speech gave deep offence to his own party.

Measures Dillon and Healy detect moderation, and the completion of the Chief Secretary for Ireland is more disastrous to the latter's followers.

It was for the purpose of showing that he had sympathy with the moderate courses of their leader that Mr. Healy got up a violent scene later on in the evening, when he hurled a discharge of Billingsgate at Mr. Balfour.

A Canadian in Africa.

The mission on which Captain Mackay, the young Canadian officer of the Royal Engineers, has been sent to Africa, is attracting a great deal of attention in military circles in England.

Captain Mackay is one of the most envied men in the service.

A number of brother officers saw Mackay off for the Dark Continent, and all the young officers expressed their disappointment at not being able to accompany the Canadian.

Mackay was in good spirits and looked forward with apparent pleasure to the three years he expected to be in Africa.

Hot Summers.

It will perhaps assuage the discomforts of the summer to read some past experience with heat, compiled by a French statesman.

In the year 627 the springs were dried up and men feasted with the heat.

In 878 it was impossible to work in the open fields.

In the year 993 the nuts on the trees were "roasted" as if in a baker's oven.

In 1000 the rivers in France dried up, and the stench from the dried fish and other matter brought a pestilence into the country.

On the 17th of the month of March the thermometer rose 40 degrees, and in favored places the fruit trees blossomed a second time.

Extraordinary hot were the years 1721, 1746, and 1811.

The summer of 1811 was so hot that the places of amusement had to be closed.

At the semi-annual meeting of the Winnipeg Board of Trade last Tuesday, the following Board of Examiners were elected:

Grain, Mitchell, Balfour, McGaw, Spink; Flour and Meal, Col. McMillan, Spink, Thompson, Anderson; Hides and Leather, Hutchings, Johnson, Bawn, O'Leary, Oenbrage.

The Board of Grain Examiners for the year ending June 30 last reported that 3290 cars of wheat containing 2,207,400 bushels had been inspected in Winnipeg.

The Haunted Church.

BY JAMES MURPHY. CHAPTER X.—Continued. "Was there no defence?" "Defence? No. What defence could there be? Fancy a band of armed desperadoes bursting into a quiet city at midnight, and what little chance there was of defence in the glare of the burning houses and the thrusts of the villains' daggers. Riot and murder held sway during the night."

"Quite recovered?" "Yes, Mr. Quibb." "Would you convey this message to her? The young gentlemen who were the means of rescuing her from the water are about to leave. She might, perhaps, wish to see them or thank them. Don't put it so to her—merely inform her of their departure—delicately, you know."

"But in any case let me have the honor of seeing you both here again whenever you get free enough from the delights of London life to come." They slipped down the side of the vessel after a cordial good-bye, and gazed their best, whence they gazed rapidly up the river to the place where they had embarked.

of her soft, low voice. Frank, it was heaven! And I am sure it was as much so to her as to me. Every day found me there after that; and every day found her eagerly watching for my coming. The fact was that we fell in love with one another; and the hours we spent rambling about on the greenward under the trees by the river banks were moments snatched from Paradise.

A COPY OF THE BIBLE. Worth its Weight in Gold—So we try to say it from the Vatican Library. The Paris Press publishes the following curious announcement, namely: "The Vatican Library possesses a Hebrew Bible of inestimable value. In 1515, the Jews made to Pope Julius II. an offer to purchase it at the weight in gold. The weight being 325 pounds, the amount proffered was 500,000 francs. But nothing came of the offer at that time."

EPPS'S COCOA. BREAKFAST. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a deliciously flavored beverage which saves us from many a cold and ailment. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—Civil Service. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in Packets, by Grocers, labelled thus: JAMES EPPS & Co., Homoeopathic Chemists, LONDON ENGLAND.

THE ONLY APPLIANCES HAVING ABSORBENT QUALITIES. A New Lease of Life. A Cure Without Medicine. All diseases are cured by our Medicated Electric Belt and Appliances. On the principle that Electricity is Life, our Appliances are brought directly into contact with the diseased part. They act as perfect absorbents, by destroying the germs of disease and removing all impurities from the body. Diseases are successfully treated by correspondence, as our goods can be applied at home.

READ OUR HOME REFERENCES: REV. CHAS. HOLE, Halifax, N.S., is happy to testify to the benefits derived from our Electric Belt and Appliances. Senator A. E. HOW CAN THE LONG BE THE SHORT? A line is a line, a day is a day, a very long one and a very short one, and you are the shortest between given points. For instance, the shortest line between the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway and a 3000 mile road is a 3000 mile road; in a 3000 mile road, it is one of the greatest railway systems of the country; for the same reason it is the traveler's favorite to all points in Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana. It is the only line to Great Falls, the future manufacturing center of the Northwest; to the fertile free lands of the Milk River Valley; and offers a choice of three routes to the Coast. Still it is the shortest line between St. Paul, Minneapolis, Fargo, Winnipeg, Oakes, Moorhead, Casselton, Grafton, Fargo Falls, Wahpeton, Devils Lake, and Bette City. It is the best route to Alaska, China and Japan; and the journey to the East Coast, Vancouver, Seattle, Portland and San Francisco, will be remembered as the delight of a lifetime once made through the wonderful scenery of the Manitoba-Pacific Route. To fish and hunt; to view the magnificence of nature; to revive the spirit; to rest the body; to realize the dream of the home-seeker, the gold-seeker, the trader, or the capitalist, visit the country reached by the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway. To F. L. WRIGHT, G. E. & A. St. Paul, Minn., for maps, books and guides. If you want a freeform in a lovely land, write for the "Creation," read and receive to accept the golden rule.

CHAPTER XII. AMID THE SILVER MINES OF FERRO. High up in the mountains that had shut out the great eastern basin of the Amazon from the narrow district lying between it and the Pacific are the silver mines of La Merced. They had been worked for centuries. Long before the astonished eyes of Columbus and his party had fallen on the wonderful land shrouded for thousands of years from the knowledge of Europe—lying as if hidden in mist, unknown and unheard of—beyond the boundary of the limitless horizon, they had been hallowed and delved. The rich shrines that graced the temples of Mexico and the lumps of the marble palaces of Lima had been obtained from its shining ore. The jewelled cup that held alike the wine of Alvarra and the deadly poison at Guayaquil were formed from it. Deep down in the bowels of the mountain the early Indian miners had found their way in relentless pursuit of the precious metal.

WORTH TRYING. Do not be discouraged because other remedies have failed you. Mr. Hugh Ryan says:—For Cold in the Head and Catarrh, Nasal Balm is the best remedy I ever tried, and I have tried many. Success always attends our preparation for removing the downy hair from women's faces. It is now in universal use, and is, including a box of ointment, only $1.50. We have always on hand a preparation to dye the hair white and conceal all defects of nature. We have also the best preparations for washing the mouth and gums and giving a sweet breath. Frookies and skin blemishes, as well as tooth-ache and corns, removed at once without pain. As in the past, we have always on hand choice Face powders, which give to the skin a freshness and conceal all defects of nature. We have also a Long Remedy which is infallible. Read the certificates which we publish every week.

TO THE DEAF. A person cured of Deafness and noise in the head of 23 years' standing by a simple remedy. Will send a description of it FREE to any person who applies to MEDICALS, 80 St. John Street, Montreal.

WILL—You have a treasure in your wife, Bill Brent. I have more than that. I have a Biller. The disagreeable ink headache, and foul stomach, so frequently complained of, can be speedily relieved by a single dose of MORGAN'S Bitternail Pills.

Agent—I don't think I'll succeed as a book agent. Employer—Why not? "At the first house I tried I showed the lady the book, and—'Then what?' 'She showed me the door.'"
