FEDERALS FLED FROM OJINAGA ACROSS BORDER LINE OF TEXAS REBELS HOLD NORTH OF MEXICO

General Villa's Forces Occupied Village After Few Hours' Heavy Firing, Enemy's Ammunition Being Almost Exhausted—U. S. Patrol Cares for Thousands of Refugees.

PRESIDIO, Tex., Jan. 10.—(Can. Press)—The Mexican federal army, with its nine generals, evacuated Ojinaga at 10 o'clock tonight. The triumphant rebel forces under Gen. Francisco Villa immediately occupied the village.

Gen. Salvador Mercado, who was Huerta's chief military commander, crossed the river and surrendered to Major McNamee of the United States army.

The defeat of the federal army followed only a few hours' fighting, in which the rebels, beginning at sundown, started to close in on the beleaguered garrison with a cannon and rifle fire.

Gen. Castro and Gen. Mercado of the federal regulars saw that the assault was to be nothing less than a massacre. The federals had left only fifty rounds of ammunition for each man.

All the federal soldiers and their officers who could scramble to the American side did so. The others ran in all directions.

About 9 o'clock, when the fighting had been in progress about five hours, seven wagon loads of documents belonging to the Huerta government came over and were captured by the United States border patrol. This was believed to be a preliminary to evacuation.

Major McNamee, commanding the United States patrol, immediately ordered out all his men to meet an emergency. Women and children and wounded soldiers had been crossing in numbers, but the apparent advance of the rebels to the very heart of the federal garrison gave reason to believe a greater rush across the border was imminent.

Fought by Moonlight. For five hours the sharp flashes of the rebel fire had been seen drawing closer to the federal entrenchments. The whole scene was bathed in a moonlight, partly obscured by dust and powder smoke.

The country about Ojinaga is mostly desert, with little to sustain life. Without

TO BUILD VESSELS HERE FOR HUDSON BAY SERVICE

Ninety-Nine Thousand Dollar Contract is Awarded at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—(Special.)—The Edison Iron Works of Toronto have been given the contract for two lighter vessels for use at the Hudson Bay Railway terminals at Port Nelson. The cost of the two vessels will be $99,000.

STRIKERS' RALLY ENDED QUIETLY

Outlook for Settlement of South Africa's Railway Strike Now Much Brighter.

JOHANNESBURG, Union of South Africa, Jan. 11.—(Can. Press)—The situation with respect to the railway strike was more favorable tonight. The mass meeting called by the council of the trades federation was held in the market square and proved to be quite orderly. Martial law was not proclaimed and conditions were quiet both here and at Pretoria.

The government appears to retain full control and the mass meeting at Capetown was unable to agree to a resolution either for or against the strike. This points to the continued loyalty of the Cape men which is the pivot of the situation. Restricted railway service continues at all points.

The members of the arrest of Bain and Mason, the leaders of the trades federation, have not yet been executed owing to the vigilance of their followers. Nine thousand persons attended the market square meeting. Not a single policeman or soldier was visible, although there were plenty secreted within the hall. Mason delivered a violent speech, but the other speakers were unexpectedly moderate.

Bain, who is secretary of the federation, urged that there was still time to compromise, and suggested the formation of a conciliation board.

The other speakers counseled respect for the law. Resolutions were adopted supporting the federation, and in favor of a general strike.

WEST SOLID IN CANADA'S TRADE PRESSING FOR FREE WHEAT EXPANSION

Deputation From Alberta, Including Sixteen Conservative Members, to Wait Upon Premier Borden Tomorrow—Province Also Demands Representation in the Dominion Cabinet.

(Special to The Toronto World). OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—The removal of the duties on wheat and flour imported from the United States so as to bring about free trade in these products, between Canada and that country, with the consequent reduction of western freight rates thru American railway competition is being strongly demanded these days by the Conservatives of the western provinces, while the resolution presented by Mr. Simpson, the Conservative member for Verden, asking for free wheat and flour is being debated in the Manitoba legislature. Early this week a big deputation from Alberta, which includes 16 of the 18 Conservative members of the legislature, will press for action by the Dominion Government.

In Caucus Today. The deputation arrived in the city tonight, headed by E. Michener, leader of the Conservative opposition in Alberta, and accompanied by nine other leading Conservatives of the province, including Major John Henson, former member of parliament for the Alberta division. There will be a caucus of the Alberta members tomorrow, and the deputation will wait on the government on Tuesday.

The deputation will also ask that Alberta be given a seat in the Dominion cabinet, and will confer with the government with respect to the parliamentary redistribution and the handing over of the natural resources of the provinces to the provincial governments. They will also ask that the interior department modify the ranching regulations proposed by the ranching commission in favor of the small rancher homesteader.

HOPE PREMIER IS PAST CRISIS

While "No Change" is Still Official Bulletin, Indications Are Clearly More Encouraging.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(Can. Press.)—While the official statements with regard to the condition of Sir James Whitney, the Ontario premier, who is ill at the Hotel Manhattan, continue to be non-committal, there is a distinctly hopeful feeling apparent among those who know the real conditions at his bedside.

Tonight's bulletin read: "Sir James Whitney had a rather restless day, but otherwise his condition is unchanged."

Both Dr. Pyne and Horace Wallis, spent a considerable time away from their chief today. More significant still, Lady Whitney, who kept constant watch while her husband appeared in a critical condition, went out for a walk today.

Dr. McPhedran went back to Toronto last night. It had been intended that he should remain for a few days, but this was not found to be necessary.

Dr. McPhedran expressed the hope that it would be possible to remove the stricken premier to his home in Toronto "within a few days." Dr. Pyne tonight, while he expressed a similar hope, said it was impossible for him to fix a date for the removal.

The patient gets lots of rest, every night and the periods of delirium are not long nor serious, and he takes nourishment, all factors that indicate that he is not losing any ground, and that when improvement does set in it will be rapid.

Dr. McPhedran, who returned from New York yesterday, said that, while he regarded Premier Whitney's condition as very serious, he believed that unless there should be a change for the worse his removal to Toronto within a few days should be practicable.

GAIN FOR TWELVE MONTHS, EXCEEDING TWO HUNDRED MILLIONS, WAS GREATEST RECORDED, TRADE WITH BRITAIN AND UNITED STATES HAVING MADE ENORMOUS STRIDES IN YEAR.

(Special to The Toronto World). OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—The trade of Canada during 1913 increased by $216,000,000 over 1912. This is the greatest increase in one year over a previous year ever recorded in the history of Canada. The total figures for 1913 are $1,085,264,449; of this $686,604,413 was imports and $398,660,035 exports. The duty collected amounted to $114,501,671. This was nearly $30,000,000 more than before.

Canada's trade with France increased by $4,000,000. The increase was largely in imports, although a million dollars worth of goods more than in 1912 was shipped to France. The total trade was slightly over $17,000,000.

Canada's trade with Germany did not increase so much as did that with France. The increase was a little less than $3,000,000. The total trade done was $17,876,227, of which no less than $14,500,000 was imports and less than $3,376,227 exports.

Exports to Britain. Trade with Great Britain increased by over $48,500,000. The exports to Great Britain increased by more than the imports from that country. The imports were $139,646,356, a gain of nearly $22,500,000, while the exports amounted to $117,392,002, an increase of over $26,500,000.

But Canada does nearly double the trade with the United States that she does with Great Britain. The United States trade amounted to $922,432,977 in 1912. This was a tremendous increase of nearly $137,000,000 over 1912.

FOURTEEN PEOPLE THROWN FROM BOB WHEN IT HIT HIGH PARK HYDRO POLE

Traveling at a terrific rate down the half-mile hill in High Park, a bob sleigh, with fourteen persons on board, crashed into a hydro-electric post at 9 o'clock Saturday evening.

C. R. Parker, who was steering the sleigh, was hurled against the cement post, then thrown a distance of ten feet across the road. He was picked up in an unconscious condition, bleeding from nose and ears, and conveyed to the Western Hospital.

Those on the bob sleigh were members of the "Autogobbling" Club which had arranged the evening sport. According to eye-witnesses, Parker had in some manner got off his regular path and was steering away from a tree when he crashed into the post.

At the Western Hospital last evening it was stated that Parker was suffering from several severe gashes on the head and shoulder and might possibly have sustained a fractured skull. It is expected he will recover.

The "Autogobbling" Club consists of Fred Moss, R. Wisley, Ike Newman and Parker. The other occupants of the sleigh were guests of the club.

Hurt at Riverdale. Three ladies received serious injury at the Riverdale slides Saturday. They were George and Randolph Jupp, aged 10 and 12, of 507 Broadview avenue, and James Dunlop, 208 Wilton avenue. The former two ladies were injured in collision with a tree, which, it is said, they drove into rather than run down some persons on the track.

George received a broken leg and Randolph a severe cut in the head. They were first taken to the Isolation hospital and later to their homes. James Dunlop, 17 years of age, was sitting upright on his sleigh and coasting down the hill. He also struck a tree. One leg, projecting over the front of the sleigh, was doubled under him and fractured. He also was conveyed to his home.

BEACHEY RISKED HIS LIFE TO SAVE TWO OTHERS

Wrecked Biplanes to Avoid Crashing Into Barney Oldfield's Automobile.

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 10.—(Can. Press.)—In order to avoid what appeared certain sacrifice of two lives, Lincoln Beachey deliberately wrecked his biplane late today and fell 25 feet, sustaining slight injuries.

Beachey was descending after an exhibition flight, and directly below him was an automobile driven by Barney Oldfield and carrying as a passenger a newspaper photographer. The aviator swerved his machine, which collapsed and turned almost completely over, burying Beachey beneath it. His only injuries are bruises.

HON. DAVID LAIRD IS IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Indian Commissioner, Once Member of Dominion Cabinet, Seriously Ill.

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—Hon. David Laird, Indian commissioner, is seriously ill. He is suffering from bronchitis and fears are entertained for his recovery. He is 80 years of age.

Mr. Laird had much to do with the entry of Prince Edward Island into confederation, and himself entered the house of commons in 1878. He became minister of the interior in the Mackenzie administration, and in 1876 was appointed lieutenant-governor of the northwest provinces. At the conclusion of his term of office he became editor of The Charlottetown Patriot, which he conducted until he was appointed to his present position.

HON. E. MACLEOD NOW CHIEF JUSTICE OF N.B.

Succeeds Sir Frederick Barker Who Resigned Supreme Court Office.

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Hon. E. Macleod was appointed by the cabinet on Saturday chief justice of the supreme court of New Brunswick in succession to Sir Frederick Barker, who has resigned, and W. H. C. Grimmer was appointed judge of the court of appeal of New Brunswick.

GERMANY IS ON EVE OF CRISIS

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—(Can. Press.)—The acquittal of Col. von Reuter, Lieut. Schrad and Lieut. Baron von Forstner at Strassburg of all charges in connection with the Zabern affair is apparently a victory for the army all along the line, but it is already evident that there will be a serious aftermath, and a crisis graver than that in December is predicted.

The court-martial in the case of von Reuter upheld the validity of the former forgotten decree of 1820, authorizing the military commander to assume control whenever in his judgment there was a necessity, and approved acts which the imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, in December, declared to be unquestionably illegal.

EX-PRIMER BOND HAS RETIRED FROM NEWFOUNDLAND POLITICS

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Jan. 10.—(Can. Press.)—Sir Robert Bond, the former premier, announced tonight his withdrawal from public life. In an open letter he gave as his reason alleged bad faith on the part of the Conservatives, known as the Conkrites' Union, which, with the Liberals, formed the opposition led by Sir Robert against Sir Edward Morris, the present premier, in the general election last October.

After saying that he will abandon the leadership of the opposition and resign his seat in the legislature from the Twillingate district, Sir Robert added:

"I will never be a party to allowing any organization representing one element in the community to gain control of public affairs to the exclusion of other interests, as is now the avowed policy of the Fishermen's Union. Sir Robert Bond has long been one of the most prominent figures in the public life of Newfoundland. For many years he was premier until the Liberal party was overthrown by the people's party, headed by Sir Edward Morris, who was once attorney-general and resigned his seat in the legislature from the Twillingate district, Sir Robert added:

PRIEST STRICKEN PREPARING FOR EARLY MASS

Father Ambrose Nolin, S.J., Was Putting on Clerical Vestments in His Room at St. Michael's Hospital When Death Came.

Just as he was preparing to say mass at 7.30 yesterday morning at St. Michael's Hospital, Rev. Ambrose Nolin, S.J., a priest well-known in all the Roman Catholic Churches of Toronto, took suddenly ill and died 15 minutes later. Death was due to heart failure. Father Nolin, who stood 6 feet 2 inches, was 73 years of age. He was feeling well Saturday evening and went for a short walk about 8 o'clock. He returned to the hospital, and after talking to one of the sisters for half an hour, retired to his room and bed. He got up in seemingly good health early Sunday morning, and soon after went to his room to prepare for mass. While dressing in his robes he took suddenly ill and summoned aid. Several of the sisters responded to his call, and everything possible was done to save his life, but with no avail, for in 15 minutes he was dead.

Lived Here Three Years. Rev. Father Ambrose Nolin came to Toronto about three years ago from Waukegan, Ill., where he had spent two years with his brother, Rev. Father P. Nolin, who has a church there. For one year Father Nolin acted as assistant to Father Sullivan, and for the past two years worked in conjunction with Rev. Father P. Lamarche of Sacre Coeur Church, on East King street. During his stay in Toronto he resided with Rev. Father Mamarche at 438 East King street.

Had Been Ill. Last August Father Nolin was feeling indisposed and took a trip to Victoria Harbor. He returned to Toronto in December and took up residence at St. Michael's Hospital, where he thought he might take a rest.

Before he was relieved of active duty, 12 years ago, Father Nolin had charge of a church in Pembroke, Ontario.

His other brother in Waukegan was feeling indisposed and took a trip to Victoria Harbor. He returned to Toronto last evening to make arrangements for the funeral.

ALL TAIT'S TROUSERS ARE AWAY 100 BIG

He Orders Tailor to Reduce Waist Measure on Thirty-five Pairs.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 11.—(Can. Press.)—The president of the Yale University, Dr. William Brewster, has ordered that 100 pairs of his trousers be reduced in waist measure. The president's waistline has grown so much that he now measures 36 inches, so that it now measures 34 inches. Dr. Brewster ordered that 35 pairs of trousers, the fustiness of which he thought was due to the fact that they were made to conform to Yale's joddy measurements as a Yale professor.

HEAVIEST SNOWFALL BLOCKED ALL TRAINS

Moncton Was Centre of Storm Which Swept Sections of the Maritime Provinces.

MONCTON, N. B., Jan. 11.—(Can. Press.)—Moncton was the centre on Saturday of the heaviest snowfall in this section for several years. A blockade of several hours occurred on the Shediac branch, and the severe storm somewhat interfered with traffic east of Moncton. Special plow trains sent out early this morning, however, cleared the line, and today no difficulty was experienced in getting trains over the road.

George M. Cohan Here This Week

The visit of the famous author-actor, George M. Cohan, to the Princess Theatre here this week is an event of more than ordinary importance for the reason that it will mark the first time Mr. Cohan has visited Toronto since he became famous as an author and actor.

Some of the Tuesday Bargains in the Great Sale

Fifth Day of the Record Sale of Misses' Coats

Two surprising offerings are planned for Tuesday, coats at $6.50 and $7.50 that represent in most cases half-price savings.

Group 1 comprises hundreds of coats fresh from the makers' hands; a splendid range of styles and materials. They are of heavy tweed cloaking, ribbed and flaked tweeds, all superior quality fabrics, in a wide selection of greys, browns and some navy. New style sleeves and shoulders, velvet or plush collar on most of the coats, shoulders lined or lined to the waist. Sizes to 38 bust. Semi-annual sale, $8.50.

Group 2—Winter coats of fine grade, heavy materials in many styles, weaves and an excellent selection of shades. These coats have the fashionable, large sleeves and yoke backs, some also with flounce or smart drape. Mostly with velvet or plush collar and handsome, large button trimmings. All have the convertible labels that fasten up close under the chin. Lined to the waist, or yoke, some with fur. One of the best values in the year. Sizes are 32 to 36 bust. Semi-annual sale, $7.50.

Also hundreds of coats from the offerings of previous days of the sale, grouped under this Semi-annual Sale prices, $1.25, $2.50, $3.25 and $4.75.

Suit Cases and Club Bags, Some Fitted—Tuesday, Hays Bazaar

The lot consists of a number of bags that have become slightly scraped or worn in a manner that perhaps mars their appearance for brand new goods, but which does not in the least affect their utility. They are solid, serviceable looking suit cases in tan, olive, and club bags in tan cowhide and hait leather, all hand-sewn. Some are fitted with full containing rolled articles. Single and double handles, some with outside straps and linen or leather lined. Strong brass locks and clasps. Half-price, for rush clearance, Tuesday, $4.20 to $15.00.

—Basement.

"Oz" Book for Half-price

In the collection are "The Emerald City of Oz," "Sky Island," "The Road to Oz," "Baum's Own Book for Children," "The Land of Oz," "The Wizard of Oz," and others—now all half-price in the Semi-annual Sale, each 50c.

out food, the impoverished federals would be unable to proceed any great distance.

Among the federals were nine generals—Castro, Mercado, Orozco, Manuel Landa, Ynez Salazar, Antonio Rojas, Blas Ornela, Lozano Alavis and Roque Gomez.

Some of them were men upon whom Villa depended to maintain his military power in the north. Defeat of the federals at this point marks the most important rebel victory of the present revolution. It leaves the rebels in possession practically of all the north of Mexico.

Mercado, Castro and Landa were the only remaining commanders of the federal regulars. The other generals commanded volunteers and had been threatened by Villa with death should they be captured.

Last Desperate Stand

After his picturesque flight from Mexico Mercado elected to make a last desperate stand in the little hill-top of Ornela in an obscure border village, 75 miles from any railroad, and that in the United States.

He said he would never give up unless his gun ran short of ammunition. He kept his word. For six days, ending

Lingerie Gowns for the Languorous South

Fresh From the Hands of Paris Dressmakers

SMART AIRY CREATIONS concocted for the benefit of those who seek Summer in Nassau, Bermuda, or the Southern States—these, in their interest and prettiness demand a word of notice in the midst of Winter and Semi-annual Sales. The modes and materials of coming vogue are embodied in the dainty display, the crepes, nets, and embroidered volles of Fashion's latest fancy being employed in the flounce and bolero effects that represent what is new in design. As for prices—one little model in white batiste, with deep collar and short tunic exquisitely embroidered, a sash of baby blue girdling the waist, is $30.00.

A smart production in one of the new striped crepes—white with stripe of black, mauve, blue or pink—showing a pleated hip-length tunic and a chemisette of lace, is $15.00.

A charming little frock in plain creamy crepe with touch of rose color embroidery at the waistline is $17.50.

A simple model in salmon pink sponge, embroidered in white and combined with white eponge, is $17.50.

A very attractive little frock is characterized by a bolero and tunic of striped mauve and white crepe with underbolero and underskirt of fine white embroidered crepe. This is $20.00.

The vogue of white net is delightfully exemplified in two models—one with clever application of open crochet lace and a lemon yellow girdle, at $65.00; and the other distinguished by pink moire girdle and Venice lace—price, $55.00.

A very Frenchy little model in cream embroidered eponge with purple satin girdle is $30.00.

In extra large size—40—is a smart gown in fine white voile lavishly inserted with Cluny lace, the skirt in three-tier effect being finished with girdle of Wedgwood blue silk. Price, $45.00.

Pegwen—Your letter would have pleased Mrs. Helen Ring Robinson, the only woman Senator, who had a lot to say at her meeting the other night about the wrong and right ways of asking a question. She quoted, as an example of the wrong way, the question, "Broad and butter and it's flat" was, in the opinion of the Senator, an error for which the teacher was wholly responsible. All which is by way of telling you that your inquiries were models in clearness of meaning and conciseness of form.

Proceeding then to reply—To stain a soft wool floor, use first a ground color, via flat buff color paint, followed by an application of Floor Lac, which is one of the best varnish stains. Or, if the floor is in pretty good condition, this alternative process—first apply a coat of oil stain and finish with a coat of hard Floor wax. In either case, before beginning work, fill up all cracks in and between the boards with Crack Filler. The prices for the various preparations mentioned are as follows: Ground Color, 50c a quart, $1.35 a gallon; Floor Lac, 75c a qt., $2.75 a gal.; Oil Stain, 50c a qt., $1.85 a gal.; Floor Finish, 75c a qt., $2.75 a gal.; and Crack Filler, 25c a pound. Finally, I may mention that one quart is calculated to cover 120 square feet of surface.

Regarding the book on French polishing, there is "The Up-to-date Hardwood Finisher," by F. S. Hodgson. It embraces the subject of renovating old wood, re-polishing and re-varnishing generally. The price is 86c.

Schoolgirl—I am afraid that, if he knew, Leonardo da Vinci would be rather hurt at the "terrible hurry" in which you are writing his life and works. But probably arts and letters are accustomed to suffer in certain quarters when the skating is good. As far as your purse is concerned, this is the psychological moment in which to procure your information, because that series called "Masterspieces of Color," like so many other things material and aesthetic, has been reduced to half-price—to 18 cents a volume. Leonardo da Vinci is among the painters presented. This is the large, flat edition you mention—and charming books they are.

Peggy—Hem the tablecloths and napkins along the two sides only. Curtains are usually classified among the general furnishings of the house.

Mrs. H. E. B.—A white quilt with self stripe border, to which bands of chintz might be added, as you suggest, can be supplied at $1.50. It is 5 feet 3 inches wide.

Orville—And doesn't a whole continent of comfort lie in that extra half size, if only our minds weren't too warped by vanity to realize it? If the reality of the normal waist-line might be followed by the return of the normal foot, Dame Fashion would really deserve the Legion of Honor. You deserve a measure of praise for the example you set, and I hope yours will be the smartest looking pair of boots in circulation. They can be sent to you in patent leather with cloth or kid tops—a buttoned style with flexible turn soles, the price being $1.00. A boot of similar type with light wool soles can be supplied at prices ranging from $1.50 to $10.00. The latter amount procures "The Fifth Avenue"—a marvel of good line and good fit.

Among the federals were nine generals—Castro, Mercado, Orozco, Manuel Landa, Ynez Salazar, Antonio Rojas, Blas Ornela, Lozano Alavis and Roque Gomez.

Some of them were men upon whom Villa depended to maintain his military power in the north. Defeat of the federals at this point marks the most important rebel victory of the present revolution. It leaves the rebels in possession practically of all the north of Mexico.

Mercado, Castro and Landa were the only remaining commanders of the federal regulars. The other generals commanded volunteers and had been threatened by Villa with death should they be captured.

SCENE IN PORTUGUESE SENATE

LISBON, Jan. 10.—(Can. Press)—There was a tumultuous scene in the senate today when Joao Jose de Freitas rose to offer an interpellation in which he charged the premier, Dr. Alfonso Costa, with dishonesty and with having used his influence as a minister of the provisional government to favor his clients in his practice of law. Senator de Freitas was greeted with jeers and insults, and the government senators left the house in a body, thus making it impossible to put the question of an inquiry, which Senator de Freitas demanded, to a vote.

BISHOP ANDERSON ON CHURCH UNITY

Tells University Students of Movement to Bring Christian Peoples Together.

ORDER FROM CHAOS

Christianity, Says Bishop of Chicago, is Passing Through Days of Weakness.

"Christian unity is the greatest question which confronts the world today," declared Bishop Anderson in his sermon to Varsity students yesterday morning at Convocation Hall. "It is a question which every man should approach on behalf of the next by the present generation. However, it is a question which the church of the generation should apply itself arduously."

Confining himself to one branch of this topic, the bishop described a movement calculated to bring about this ideal result, to which already committed itself. The first step is to be the holding of a world-wide conference, at which all the differences between the various branches of Christ's church could be leveled.

"I believe that there is in the world a growing passion for unity which cannot be suppressed, and which will ultimately tend to world-wide unity. The Anglican Church, practically all over the world, and nearly all of the 300 great Protestant churches of the United States, have appointed commissions to bring about the great conference, at which all nations and sects will assemble. The Roman Catholic Church of France, Italy and several other European countries have given the movement wonderful support, and the great Eastern Christian churches have manifested great interest. The great Protestant bodies of Canada and Germany will appoint their several commissions as soon as their triennial conferences are over."

"The great conference may come soon, it may come late, or it may never come at all. In any case, the preliminary work taken to bring it about will be well worth while. It took the world 300 years to bring the church to its present state, and the reformation, and it may take another period of equal length to bring about this other greater change."

"The plan which has been laid out is an educational program for constructive Christianity. Then religious conditions are remedied and each man is a law unto himself, it is not constructive to summon each church back to its original moorings? In no sphere is there a more serious consideration of every university man."

"The National Chorus Concert. This morning at nine o'clock the plan opens at Massey Hall for the subscribers to the eleventh annual concert of the National Chorus of Toronto, which will be given in Massey Hall on Wednesday evening of next week. The attractive character of the program to be presented, and the high standing of the assisting artists, have resulted in great popular interest, and the subscription lists have been so well filled that a capacity house is anticipated. There will be seats available, however, for the general sale, and those who prefer to subscribe will be able to make their reservations at Massey Hall on Thursday morning, at nine o'clock. The program presents the additional attraction of a specially selected boys' choir of twenty voices; Mrs. Marie Rappold, the prima-donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and Miss Vera Barstow, the rising young violinist."

THE WOES OF MRS. NEWLYWED

"I know you don't want to spoil those new shoes," said Mrs. Newby, as she glanced at the trim shod foot of Mrs. Newby. "New shoes are sometimes difficult to polish, but I know of a way to make them shine easily. Brush off any dirt that may be on them and rub them with lemon juice. Let this dry and then black and polish in the usual way. They will shine beautifully if you take my advice."

FINDS MODERN MUSIC IN OLD IRISH SONG

Professor Healey Willan Opens Saturday Afternoon Lecture Series at Varsity.

SUPERNATURAL MUSIC

Irish Melody Born of a Human Father and a Fairy Mother.

"In the century following Christ we have a distinct record that Irish bards set out on the hill of Tara," said Prof. Healey Willan, in his lecture on Irish music at the University on Saturday afternoon. Irish bards also met St. Patrick and told him that never again would they sound the praise of any God but that of the saint.

"The ancient legend of the origin of the harp which was said to be being alleged that a woman had wandered from the seashore and come upon the skeleton of a whale. The wind blowing thru the harp which was made of the ribs of the whale lulled her to sleep. Her husband found her, and hearing the sound, took some wood and strung the harp so as to form the first harp."

Another legend dating from 1809 B. C. told of the recovery of a bardic harp which was hidden in the walls of the enemy's citadel. The harp was called to it and it leaped from the wall and came to him killing nine men on its way to the host. The bard played the three great tunes, the wailing song, the laughter song and the slumber song upon it. At the last, when all had fallen asleep, the bard and his party made their escape. Music, said the lecturer, was always given a supernatural origin in the Irish legends. It was the child of a human father and a fairy mother.

Passing on to the technical side of Irish music, he said the Irish scale had only five notes, omitting the fourth and seventh. The lecturer stated that "The Last Rose of Summer" was an example of the omission of the fourth, but not of the seventh. Mr. Willan also gave "My Love's an Arbutus" as an example of the omission of the seventh, but not of the fourth.

"Loved Arbutus" illustrated the development of the Gregorian tonality into folk song. A plain song chant in common time illustrated the Irish scale. B flat and E being omitted. "The Fair Hills of Erin" showed the strong resemblance to the plain song tonality. "Ben Erin" was an example of both the sharpened and flattened fourth and of the omitted fourth and seventh. Four lines of eight syllables was the common form of the ancient lyric composition, and the modern binary and ternary forms grew out of this. "The Rose of Summer" and "Eileen Aroon" were used to illustrate these forms.

"The Irish pipes were used both melodically and contrapuntally with the voice. In the old song 'My Pretty Boy' the ground bass runs all thru the air, being repeated every four notes. A lullaby, which Mr. Willan played, he considered a wonderful example of what music could do in the way of a sedative. "Love's a Baby Was Sleeping" and the songs, "Have You Seen My Sweet Colleen?" "Roisin Dubh" and "Avenge and Bright" were sung by Miss Winnie Hickey. Lynn. Mr. Willan played "The Caisne" and other ancient airs.

"The five-four rhythm, considered to be the latest in modern music in Chopin and Tchaikowsky, was paralleled in an ancient Irish lament with five rhythms. Music, he concluded, was the universal language, which led us to the brink of the infinite and sometimes gave us a glimpse in. Sir Edmund Walker voiced a vote of thanks, and the large audience was highly appreciative."

Sealed Packets Only TRY-IT-TODAY

Where our Education Fails Woman is no stranger to definite training. In her scores of bread-winning occupations she prepares in the same way as her brother prepares for his occupation. No girl applies for a position as stenographer, teacher, dressmaker, milliner or nurse without taking the definite training prescribed for that particular work. The same is true of the librarian, the bookkeeper and every working woman whose occupation is above that of the unskilled laborer. Why should not the laws of child body, child mind and child morals be a part of every girl's education? Why should not these vital things be taught the girl of today who is to become the mother of tomorrow? These facts are to motherhood what technical training is to any profession. They are the groundwork which enables the mother to apply intelligently to the work in hand the necessary common sense, reason, experience and the teaching of others. It adds much interest to any task, gives a deeper understanding and contributes that professional feeling towards one's work to which a mother's love adds a preparation for it, and surely no work in the world needs so much interest, understanding and love as the work of mothering in the home.

Many people think that to give a girl a so-called good education, a high school and perhaps a college course is to do her for anything. When we trust our children to an instructor in ordinary school work, in music, in elocution, in art, do we choose one who has had only a good education, or a well-trained mind? By no means. We demand in addition to these regular lines, a special preparation for a particular line of work.

The kind of general training that is needed for one's work or profession is still considered ample preparation for the girl who is given authority of life and death over her children. That is not too strong a statement. The lives of little children depend upon the knowledge, skill and care of their mothers. Most girls are still given an education that stops before it touches at the practical home-making and child-rearing experiences. Thus so many of these girls do make the mistake that is hoped of them is a fine one of achievement in spite of obstacles.

FRANZ ABT A Great German Composer. The plaintive refrain of "When the Swallows Home-ward Fly" always calls to mind Franz Abt, born in Saxony. Over two hundred popular German songs were composed by him and after his death were translated into English. He is probably one of the most popular German composers. He died in 1885, and at the memorial service held after his death the plaintive refrain of "When the Swallows Home-ward Fly" seemed to summarize the life work of this popular composer.

Several of Abt's imperishable songs are to be found in "Heart Songs—the enthralling collection now being so enthusiastically received by the readers of this paper—which has placed within reach of everyone. See the coupon in today's issue, which explains the terms to our readers."

To Keep Skin Healthy, Youthful, Wrinkleless Now that the social season is here, be especially careful to keep your skin in the best condition. You know how conspicuous complexion defects appear under the bright light of the drawing or ball room. Also how very evident are some makeups when slightly illuminated. I have myself discovered cosmetics entirely, using a process which leaves no trace on the skin, and which leaves no trace on the skin. At night I smear on a thin coat of orfery mercurized wax, washing it off next morning. This wax absorbs the dehydrated particles of our face skin; just as gradually the more youthful skin beneath comes forth, providing a complexion as young, smooth and delicately tinted as a young girl's. Get an ounce of mercurized wax at any drug store, and try this remarkable treatment. Remember, too, that wrinkles, even in finer lines, are not easily concealed in a brilliantly lighted room. You can quickly obliterate these hateful marks by bathing your face in a solution of witch hazel, 1-2 pint. And your face won't look sticky, as after astringent pastes—Aunt Sally in oman's Realm.

UNDISCOVERED RECORDS OF LIFE OF CHRIST

Will Likely Be Found on Papyrus From Time to Time.

SAYS MONTREAL MINISTER

Archdeacon Patterson-Smith, at St. Alban's, Traced History of New Testament.

Rev. Archdeacon Patterson-Smith of St. George's Church, Montreal, delivered a sermon at St. Alban's Cathedral Sunday morning on the origin and formation of the scriptures of the New Testament. During the first century following the resurrection, its formation could be divided into three stages, the oral gospel, the fragmentary gospel and then the gospel in its present form. Oral gospel had been the only gospel of the church for the first forty years. This was owing to the fact that the people had the opportunity of hearing from the lips of the disciples who had been with him the words of Jesus. As the disciples became old and the church grew larger the need of a written record in other form than that gained by listening to the disciples was felt, and about 78 A.D. the first of the epistles was written. The next step was the writing of the Gospels. The first of these was the Gospel of Matthew, which was written in the Greek language. The other three Gospels were written in the Greek language, but were being carefully preserved. Some Found Too Late. Some of the papyrus records of the words of Christ had been found too late to find a place in the Bible, but were being carefully preserved. Some Found Too Late. Some of the papyrus records of the words of Christ had been found too late to find a place in the Bible, but were being carefully preserved.

A DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

The Knowing Elephant

By Virginia Vale. Once upon a time in a land a long way from here there lived an elephant. He was very big and almost everyone was afraid of him. His keeper was not one bit afraid, however, for he knew if you were kind to him he would be all right and would not hurt anyone. So he would often give him something nice to eat, and would pat his big side. One day another man hit the elephant very hard and that made him cross all day and he didn't work as well as he had done, and kept switching his trunk from side to side, and his keeper knew by that he was cross.

So for his supper he gave him something nice to eat. Now in this far-off land the keepers sleep on the ground not far from the elephant. Well this night the elephant broke the chain with which he was guarded and started off to see what he could find, and the first thing he came to was his keeper. He walked up to him and that woke the man, when he saw the big beast standing near, and remembered how cross he had been, he was sure he would step on him, but the elephant only lifted one big foot and then the other and stepped right over him. The keeper called to him and the elephant walked up to him and took hold of his trunk and led him back and put the chains on again, and the elephant never tried to get away again.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

When and How to Disinfect

EVERY body of health issues pamphlets filled with practical suggestions for disinfecting that are most valuable. There is no more to be done than to follow these directions, and it is the business of every housekeeper to familiarize herself with this essential knowledge. Instructions given out by the National Board of Health are not necessarily bad, but usually have; they destroy infectious contagious disease germs. Sulphur is one of the most powerful fumigants and gives sure results with insects, rodents and disease germs are made clean. Of all fumigants sulphur is the most practical, but rooms or houses where it is to be used must be made airtight. Close every window, fasten stove draughts, open grates and fireplaces tight shut and do not open a door or window until the room is set in a tin dish or pan of water to avoid fire and explosion. Do not light until you are ready to leave the house. If you cannot see the candles moisten a cup of sulphur with alcohol, put it in a deep pan and set this pan in a big bowl or tub of water before touching it with a match. Fumigate early in the day and do not open the house until night, as a circulation of air started as quickly as possible so the odor of the sulphur will be blown out.

For disinfecting sewers, soil, etc., dissolve a pound of copper sulphate in water and apply by brushing. Copperas is poison. For disinfecting linens that has been soiled with contagious illnesses make a solution of tablespoons of salt, one ounce of sulphate of zinc and a gallon of water. Do not shake the clothing in the house or out doors, as this spreads disease, but put at once in a pall filled with the zinc solution, being careful to see that it is saturated. Let stand an hour, or until cool, then wash, boil thoroughly and dry in the sunshine.

But more important than fumigating or disinfecting after illness is to be clean at all times. Begin with the feet of your house—the cellar—if not dry all the precautions are useless. Better go without a carpet on your floor than have a window and have a well-drained cellar, lime washed, fresh, with perfect cleanliness. An odd turnip, carrot, beet or sprouting potato will germinate, and the vil spores will float into your pretty hall, up into your immaculate rooms, bringing fever and sore throats. All the fumigating and disinfecting in the world will not keep you healthy unless the cellar is well drained in the cellar and the steps, shelves, windows and every place not washed or cemented should be swabbed out every two weeks with water containing sal soda or lye.

SAMARITAN BIBLE WAS NO BIGGER THAN MOSES

If Its Writers Had Not Stagnated, They Would Have Achieved Christianity.

"If the Jews had not wanted to stagnate at Moses; if in recognizing Moses as a lawgiver they had gone a step further and recognized that grace came from God, there would have sprung up a race imbued with the spirit of Jesus." Thus did Rev. Andrew Robertson, D.D., in St. James Square Presbyterian Church last night comment on "The Romance of the Samaritan Bible." The original Samaritan Bible had, it was claimed, remained in existence for a period of 2500 years, and in so far as it related to Moses, it was of great extent with the Christian Bible. Otherwise it might be described as one of the most deplorable religious works ever written.

“Minaret Hat” Is the Season’s Newest Model

By MADGE MARVEL

THE newest hat is called the minaret. It is more familiarly known as the “double-decker.” That only partially expresses it. It is often two or three times that. In other words, there are several brims, arranged in tiers. To produce them would take far more material than the “Merry Widow” ever contained, divided and re-arranged in strata. Towering above the top layer of the minaret is some waving feather or flowers. Often other flowers nestle between the brims. When it is not overdone, and the brim is only double, the newest hat is a most charming affair. I saw one of black tulle in sailor shape with two curved and wired brims above the flat one that fitted next to the head. Between them pink and white gardenias were clustered. There was a fluffy and upright pom-pom of tulle surmounting the structure. My advice to one who fancies the minaret hat in its newest form is to get it and wear it and have done with it before the craze starts. Tulle hats and hats of straw are appearing in growing numbers in the shop windows and topping fur coats on the street. They are especially for the southern trade, but they will be worn in New York before this gets into print. The straws that I have noticed seem rather generous as to size, flat in shape where they are not minaret-like and trimmed quite sweetly with flowers and ribbon. I am assured by several milliners that hats are to be tremendously

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Heat, Applied Quickly, Best Cure for Sprains

By LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

HAVE you ever tried to break a twig from a growing tree? You most certainly have. Moreover, you have been amazed when you sought to bend a bough or branch over your knee to find that the wrench you gave it had little or no effect upon it. Then you turned and twisted the green stick. Finally, with the greatest difficulty, you found that you had pulled away a few strands of fibers at the crack. Perhaps with these fibers there came away a spicule of the wood which might, with some stretch of the imagination, be called "broken." Now if the green tree had a lot of free fluid such as lymph and blood serum dancing right merrily through its anatomy, this would be partially blocked or dammed up at the bent portion of the bough. In other words, there would be a distinct swelling at that point. This is what happens when any individual of the human tribe cracks his shin bone, turns his ankle, hits his crazy bone a sharp whack or turns his knee with too sudden or unusual a jerk. In time, such misadventures are called "sprains" for the same reason that the branch of a growing tree when thus distorted may be justly said to endure a strain. A sprain in man or brute is a strain which has gone beyond the point of elasticity. Even a mischievous boy with a rubber slingshot—not the swinging string kind which David used to slay Goliath—knows that the rubber band can only be stretched to a certain point. This is often erroneously called the "breaking point." But that is removed even a degree beyond the point where the elasticity disappears. When the elasticity disappears either in a tree, in the human tissues, animal structures or rubber—which is the gum of a tree—the texture cannot return to normal shape, size or appearance. Briefly, it is sprained. This is over and above a mere strain. A strained material may be made to assume its usual condition. Not so a sprained structure. When you speak surgically and physiologically you mean that the ligaments around the elbow, knee, ankle, wrist, shoulder and other bodily joints have been violently stretched with some damage to those parts. Usually the two or more bones which always come together in a joint escape severe damage. True enough, on occasion, thin shavers of bone may be whipped loose when the sprain occurs, but the bone needs little attention in most sprains. A sprain is not worse than a fracture, as popular belief maintains. It is, however, decidedly more painful. The two conditions are very difficult to distinguish between even by the most expert. Only an X-ray photograph may decide in doubtful cases which is which. The bruise, discoloration, blackness and blueness, the swelling, the tenderness and the pain of a sprained ankle—the most common type of sprain—are due to the sprain of any joint, are all due to the damming-up in the injured parts of the fluids such as blood and lymph which have collected there. The channels which convey the tissue juices are, of course, also ruptured;

New Sandwich Ideas For Afternoon Tea

By Jeannette Young Norton

THE polite sandwich of the drawing room is a confection of the chef's highest art, exquisite in flavor, varied in fillings and dainty as angel food. Afternoon tea, almost treading on the heels of a late luncheon and stepping on the advancing toes of the dinner hour, must, of necessity, include only the lightest edibles for its tea accompaniment. So cooks of high degree have outdug their brain for variety, and one can scarcely go to any of these functions without coming home with a new sandwich idea to try. Cakes do not vary so much, except that small cakes are most popular, the layer cakes having been relegated to the luncheon table. The tea has become quite as well understood a function to pay off small social obligations as are state dinners. As the guests come and go it is necessary to keep fresh tea and new plates of sandwiches on the move. In order to do this, first class help must be behind the scenes, else the young women who have been invited to "spoon" will be at their wits' end, and instead of "one lump or two" guests may get it "with or without." Here are a few fillings that the reader may find new and be perhaps the first to introduce to her home circle. A few sandwich rules might be suggested first to insure success. Butter should be fresh, unsalted if possible, and warm enough to spread without tearing the thin slices of bread. Bread should be at least a day old to be properly, and, if the sandwiches are to be kept long, they may be done very closely in wax paper or wrapped in a linen cloth hung up in cold water.

Author of the New Novel, "Diana of the Green Van" Awarded a Prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as Judges.

The truth, plain and unvarnished, about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with growing interest. Honey-moon Troubles. I was near the end of my honeymoon. Mary and I—back from our trip to Montreal and Quebec—had halted at a summer hotel in the Adirondacks. There was a lake dotted with snowy lilies almost beneath the window and the boats rocking by the shore had tempted me for hours. "Let me row you around the lake, Mary," I suggested. "It's a bully day." Mary merely stared out of the window. "You—you'd better go by yourself, perhaps," she said, and bit her lips. "I certainly won't!" I declared. "I'm no solo honeymooner. What's wrong, Mary? You haven't really been yourself since we got here." To my consternation Mary burst into tears. "Great Scott!" I exclaimed, thorough-

A pumpkin pie is bully stuff, and that's no giddy josh. Be sure that it is pumpkin, though, and not composed of squash. You want to get the homestead kind, about a cart-wheel size, and made so deep that it extends clear from your mouth to eyes! There's lots of so-called pumpkin pies with color very faint, a little shallow bit of pasta touched up with yellow paint—that looks as if about to die. They are so pale and thin that one could be all eaten up before you scarce begin. No, Grandma didn't make such pies—we all know that, of course. For if she had, why, Grandpa would have sued her for divorce. Dear-Grandma made thick pumpkin pies, with crispy crust so brown the thin and weary looking pies are stamped out in the town. They run a big edition off—a thousand more or less—when'er the pie boss calleth out "It's time to go to press." Yes, pumpkin pie is goodly stuff. The Pilgrims found it so. They didn't have much money, but for it they raised the dough. When fighting Indians they'd wait to see each savage die, then sing a hymn of praise and grab a chunk of pumpkin pie. You may eat this delicious pie by knife, fork, spoon or hand. No matter how you capture it, don't let it beat the band! It fills a man with sugar and with pleasure and delight, but when you start to hunt the same, be sure you get it right!

The Onion Cure

HETTY GREEN says that estimated to open-air games such as polo and fox and hounds. The poorest place in the world to follow the onion theory is when calling on a girl. Once, when we were a couple, in the onion theory we doctored ourselves on a couple of full-grown, robust specimens and went to call on a girl. She was bright and smiling when we arrived and played divinely, but in the middle of a sonata she began feeling around with her nose. In a few minutes she complained of a headache and started for the door. "You should try onions," we exclaimed. "They will cure you of anything!" She arose stiffly. "I'd rather have it," she said pulling the door to after her. Half an hour later we stepped into a soda fountain to get a plate of ice cream—and there was our girl, chatting merrily with our rival. An onion had come between us. "The onion cure is all right—after you get a million. After that people will get up with almost anything."

What sort of a marriage did she make? "Laconic."

Getting Ready. "I understand he has become a rabid friend of dumb animals."

High Old Time. "They are to be married in a balloon. When I suppose the wedding will take place at high noon."

Made Cautious by Cost. "What makes old Specie so careful in running his auto? He used to be a speed maniac."

Brother who is an undertaker. "I learned that the first one had a brother who is an undertaker."

What makes old Specie so careful in running his auto? He used to be a speed maniac.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP THE ISSUE.

A proposal to permit all members of the board of trade to vote by mail in the approaching elections was defeated at the hands of the party in the board who represent the Telegram's policy of refusal to permit the people to vote on the question of purchasing the street railway on terms dictated by the mayor of the city, and approved by the city council, and the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, and the Lieutenant-governor-in-council.

The Telegram asserts that reference to a vote of the people would result in overwhelming defeat, but it declines to permit such an expression of opinion. The Telegram asserts that 90 per cent. of the 3,000 members of the board of trade are averse from purchase of the street railway, but it takes care not to facilitate the expression of their opinion. The universal influence of the Great Corrupter is alleged by The Telegram as the reason for the necessity for distrusting the suffrages of the people. No doubt if these 2,700 members of the board were permitted to vote freely, they would permit to vote freely, they would permit to vote freely, they would permit to vote freely.

In his new enterprise Henry Ford has had to face the usual jeers and flibberts that are the lot of a pioneer, but they are just the same jeers and flibberts that he faced when he appeared with his first little horseless carriage on the streets of Detroit a few years ago; they didn't hurt him then and they won't hurt him now.

Whether Ford's new experiment in profit sharing is a success or a failure is immaterial. Whichever way it goes it will add to the sum of human knowledge and that is what experiments are for.

"THE UNPOPULAR REVIEW."

To be on the unpopular side of any controversy is not relished by the average man even if he is inclined to believe that the popular view is not necessarily right. Like Mr. Byrnes, who liked to fight when it walked in gold on slippers amid the sunshine of public applause, a average man is not much disposed to incur the obloquy that usually attends disagreement with the majority of his fellows.

Of course there are exceptions, for there are individuals who delight in opposition for its own sake, and yet others who have convictions of their own and are strong enough to follow them even at some cost to their peace of mind.

Deliberately to undertake the defence of the unpopular side argues some degree of temerity, and perhaps affords a reason for the fact that the new quarterly magazine just issued by Henry Holt, of New York, appears with its editorship unidentified and its articles unattached to their authors. This is rather a bold departure for America, where the public has been accustomed to lay larger stress on names than on intrinsic quality. But it carries out the idea which we presume underlies the initiation of "The Unpopular Review." Its course will be followed with interest to find whether a periodical that will malice aforethought sets itself to dethrone the popular idols of the day, will establish itself with the public it condemns.

Yet this first number creates a distinctly favorable impression. The articles cover a very wide field and will certainly appeal to the considerable minority who distrust the philippic of current opinion. Place of honor is given to a discussion of "the new irrepressible conflict," the last of many. It is, of course, that between the wage earners and the wealth owners, and the article provides ample food for thought, as does that next in order on "the majority juggernaut," and indeed all of the thirteen that figure on the table of contents. Not a few of them carry a distinct flavor of irony and sarcasm, not too pronounced, but sufficient to stimulate the palate of the reader. Whoever their authors, these write with knowledge and independence, as accustomed to the literary habit, and in styles of unusually epigrammatic quality.

STOCK ISSUES AT MARKET PRICES.

On Friday last the supreme court of Massachusetts rendered a unanimous decision annulling the order of the Public Service Commission, which authorized the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company to issue $87,532,000 of twenty-year six per cent. debenture bonds, exchangeable for stock at par, in the option of the holder, for a period of ten years, beginning five years after their date. In its judgment the court laid down various highly important principles regarding the powers of the commission and their duties in connection with bond and stock issues. The judges pointed out that what the commission had to do was to approve the issue of the proposed convertible debentures and not merely their amount. That approval must necessarily relate to the present, but the order approving of an issue of convertible debentures consist of a small money bonus at Christmas accompanied by a patronising note from the firm's executive; it is a deliberate, unconditional turnover to each employe of the company of a fair share of the profits earned by the company.

Take the case of a floor cleaner in the Ford organization; under the new system he will receive a minimum wage of $5 per day; the market value of his labor is about $2 per day, the additional $3, therefore, cannot be considered merely as a part of his salary. According to Ford, it is the floor cleaner's legitimate share of the profits of the business organization of which he is a part.

Let us consider the floor cleaner's ability to clean as his capital, the $2 per day the ordinary rate of interest that his capital commands. Let us consider a business man who has a cash capital of $5000. He may invest it and draw interest at 6 per cent.; this 6 per cent. is the ordinary rate of interest that his capital commands. Now, if thru his energy and application, this business man can use his $5000 in a business and make it pay 12 per cent., no one will quarrel with him over possession of the extra 6 per cent. Why then can we object to the extra $3 a day, the Ford employe draws over and above his $2 per day, which represents the ordinary interest on his investment, or in other words on his ability of labor? That extra $3 corresponds to the extra 6 per cent. of the business man. It is the Ford employe's reward for his ability to hold his job and to co-operate towards the efficiency of the organization of which he is a part. In this connection it must be remembered that the standard of efficiency in a concern which pays high wages, is usually correspondingly high.

In his new enterprise Henry Ford has had to face the usual jeers and flibberts that are the lot of a pioneer, but they are just the same jeers and flibberts that he faced when he appeared with his first little horseless carriage on the streets of Detroit a few years ago; they didn't hurt him then and they won't hurt him now.

FACTS FOR THE BOARD OF TRADE TO STUDY

is drawn up and has only to receive the approval of the provincial authorities and Sir William Mackenzie. The property owners will have then a sound business proposition to accept or reject.

Invites Discussion. A thirty-million-dollar proposition naturally invites wide discussion. Through experts Mayor Hocken established facts, and these facts compel recognition, no matter what class of citizens discuss the thirty-million-dollar proposition. Those facts, when presented by Ald. Frank Spence, routed the harbor commissioners.

The board of trade has now undertaken a wrestling bout with those facts. One faction has announced that it will investigate the feasibility of the street railway and the Toronto Electric Light Company system.

This investigation would only prove that the radial and transmission lines have a net value to the city of $2,500,000. The bondholders in those properties live in England and have invested their money in the street railway and the Toronto Electric Light Company. Sir William Mackenzie could not persuade those bondholders to sell out. Sir William Mackenzie could not persuade those bondholders to sell out. Sir William Mackenzie could not persuade those bondholders to sell out.

Another Faction. Another faction in the board of trade contends that all the franchises to be cleared up, and that thirty millions is too high a price for the properties. This contention will not stand up against the facts established by the board of trade.

It is known that the only franchise not cleaned up is one for electric light and power in the extreme west-end of the city. Sir William Mackenzie has no control of that franchise. A fact not generally known is that the Hydro-Commission is buying out the franchise. Special counsel for the city, the Provincial Hydro-Electric Commission and for the Lieutenant-governor-in-council means retain certain that the agreement of purchase cleans up the franchise. Until that certainty is given there will be no by-law sent to the property owners.

Ultra nervous critics of a clean-up of the franchises have a suspicion that Sir William Mackenzie will by some means retain rights to operate a competitive street railway system. They should not overlook the fact that the moment the agreement of purchase is consummated the city will have the right to tear up every track in the city, should it choose to do so. As for the running rights of the radials on the tracks on the effort to utilize Toronto as an equal voice with the radial companies before the Ontario Railway Board. Investigation by the board of trade would prove that the radials have vastly more to gain by bringing the radial cars into the heart of the city than have the radial companies. Radial lines should be operated on a profit basis, not on a public utility basis. One is to build up the trade of a city and open up new territory for homes. The other is to feed the pockets of the city.

Re-Establishing Facts. Investigation by the board of trade into the value to the city of the clean-up of the franchises will only re-establish facts submitted by the expert. It is a matter of time for the Toronto Electric Light Company's system to be absorbed by the Toronto Hydro-Electric system. Already some millions of dollars have been expended upon parallel lines of wires above and below ground where one line would give all the necessary service. The Toronto Hydro-Electric system is in competition the more unnecessary mill-

OFFICERS PLAY INDOOR BALL

Grenadiers and Queen's Own Win One-Sided Games in League Series.

A good crowd was at the armories Saturday night to see the officers play indoor baseball. Two games were put on, and both were very one-sided. In the first game the Grenadiers showed the lack of a good pitcher. Wright and W. Darling worked hard, but as pitchers they are playing out of their positions, and it seems to disadvantage the whole team. With a couple of weak spots straightened, the Klitties will be in the running. The Grenadiers were in fine form, displaying ginger and a batting ability that will give trouble to their opponents. Blackstock at third base looks like a find, and adds strength to the infield. M. Goodham had his war club swinging to advantage, having a couple of terrific drives, one good for a homer, in fact, every man on the team hit well and they will be hard to stop.

The Queen's Own hammered the ball all over the armories in the second game for a total of thirty-six hits, and thirty-nine runs. A.M.C. did not have a chance at all. O.C.R. was overthrown by the Grenadiers and Muntz pitching in good form the Queen's Own look like the contenders for the Roberts Cup. It will be a merry battle next Saturday night when the Queen's Own and the Grenadiers come together at 8 o'clock.

JOSEPH WRIGHT IS PRESIDENT

CANADIAN RUGBY UNION

Governing Body Refuse to Adopt Any Changes in the Rules—Head Linesman to Be Appointed for Each Game—The Annual Meeting.

The 24th annual meeting of the Canadian Rugby Union was held Saturday afternoon at the King Edward Hotel, Toronto. President H. C. Griffith, Secretary W. A. Hewitt, Toronto; Joseph DeGruchy (Toronto), J. McAllister (Hamilton), Hugh Gall (Toronto), Ontario Union; Maynard (Toronto), Chas. M. C. I. struck out—By Reid by Muntz 5, by Yellowless 3. THE GRAND CIRCUIT.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 10.—Before leaving for Grand Rapids, Mich., where they will attend the annual meeting of the Grand Circuit stewards next Tuesday, President H. E. Devereux and Secretary H. J. Klein announced that no new members are likely to be taken into the circuit this year. Unless there is an eventful year development, neither Providence, R.I., nor Redville, Mass., will be represented at the meeting, and Peoria, Ill., has withdrawn its application.

THE CANADIAN INDIANS.

On Saturday next, at 2 p.m., on the grounds of the Stanley Gun Club, Toronto, the Canadian Indians will shoot a match against all-comers, fifty targets, no entrance charge, except for targets. There will be three beautiful cut-glass berry bowls given for competition—one for the high gun of the Canadian Indians, one for the high gun of all-comers, and one for the longest run of consecutive kills, open to all.

This will be the banner shoot of the season in Toronto, and every trapshooter should avail himself of the opportunity to be present and shoot in this match. Plenty of shells for sale on the grounds.

AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

The question of officials had been solved by the Americans, by the use of a third official on the lines, who would be in a position to see the entire play while the other two officials were watching special points of the game. This suggestion was received by the meeting as a prohibitive solution of the difficulty. After some discussion the recommendation of the Quebec union regarding the abolition of the three-yard rule was unanimously rejected.

The second change suggested by the Quebec union was "that the two side scrimmages be abolished. This was opposed by Mr. Phillips on the grounds that the two side scrimmages protect the quarterback to some extent and give him an opportunity to start a play.

The third measure proposed "that the ball upon being declared dead by the officials shall be put in play by the centre forward, who shall do so by placing one hand only on the ball and without delay, pass the ball between his legs to the old 'snap back' rule. Hugh Gall thought that the abolition of the two side scrimmages might open up the play on the field. The motion that they be retained was finally rejected.

Regarding the change in the manner of putting the ball into play, the meeting decided to leave the rule as it now stands.

The question of the introduction of a third official was then discussed. Mr. DeGruchy moved and Mr. Phillips seconded a recommendation to the affiliated clubs that the following proposed change in the rules be considered, and they report back to this union at the next annual meeting:

"That there shall be only one referee, one umpire and one head linesman for a match, who shall interpret the rules, and the referee shall enforce by penalties and suspensions, and they report back to this union at the next annual meeting.

INTEREST IS NOW BEING SHOWN IN KIRKLAND LAKE

"Financial America's" London Correspondent Describes New Gold Field as an Important Find From Financial Viewpoint.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The close of 1913 has brought a very important fact to the knowledge of financial circles in London.

For some time considerable anxiety has been expressed in reference to the future gold supply, due to the fact that West Australia has provided a district, appointment and the life of the Rand can be measured by years.

It has just leaked out that for some 12 months a gold bearing field, said to be of vast potentialities, has been quietly worked in Canada. This field is situated northwest of Cobalt and is called the Kirkland Lake Goldfield.

The extent of the property is not yet fully ascertained, but strong outcrops indicate that it will be at least many miles. Fortunately the work can go on all the year round, and it is quite easy of access. The Ontario Government, recognizing its importance to the power to assist. An English company with ample working capital has developed a small portion of the area with highly encouraging results.

Sinking on one of three important veins a shaft has been sunk for 200 feet and driven of 300 feet in length have been made.

With a view of checking the results of the working and the prospects, H. Johnson, the Ontario mining engineer of Rand fame was asked to visit the district and give a report.

Mr. Johnson returned to England a few days ago and on being interviewed by a Central News representative, confirmed all the statements already made as to the great possibilities of the field. He said that the mine being opened out was richer at the bottom than in the earlier workings. The geological formation and the appearance of the reef so far exposed, in his opinion justified the belief that an epoch making gold field will result, and the importance of this to Canada and the world cannot be overestimated.

The ore body varies up to 15 feet wide and the general average of ore extracted during development is nearly 5 ounces to the ton, but a lot of the ore went as high as 22 ounces to the ton.

In answer to the all important question, "will the mine live in depth?" Mr. Johnson said: "Of course this is impossible to say, but every scientific indication is in favor of the ore bodies maintaining their value and life."

It should be borne in mind that this district was swept by glacial and probably 1000 feet of the surface was removed so that the mine does live in depth.

Mr. Johnson added that since he had left Canada a cross cut had been made for the length of 10 feet, and here the values were very rich. This is most important, as it shows the ore body to be of considerable extent. Of course no one company can work such a great area. There is room for any number, and before long the district should become a vast mining camp.

Mr. Johnson's report will be a welcome factor in the world's supply of the precious metal. "Financial America," from its regular correspondent.

MONTREAL MARKET ACTIVE AND STRONG

Demand for Bonds Encouraging Feature—Further Recovery by Cannery.

MONTREAL, Jan. 10.—Sharp advances were scored in Cement, Cannery and Bridge on the local exchange today, while no important issue on the market finished with a recession from the preceding day.

A favorable feature of the morning's business was a better demand for bonds, transactions footing up over $30,000 par value, fairly active trading for a Saturday market. Bell Telephone bonds, which rose 1-2 to 31 1/2, and Quebec Railway bonds, which rose 3/8 to 53, their highest price since last June, were the principal feature in this department. Quebec Railway common held firm at 14 3/4 to 14 1/2.

The market was sustained in the better feeling which developed by the satisfactory vote of New York. C.P.R. opened at fractional declines both here and New York, but subsequently rallied 2 points above opening price in New York and closed near the best. A net gain of 3-8 in C.P.R. here was accompanied by a gain of 1-2 in Brazilian.

Power held firm. Power for the third day in succession, held firm at 215 and closed 1-2 higher on the day at 215. Bid from was steady at 29 3/4 to 30 1/2 and final quotations at 29 3/8 bid, 29 3/4 asked were 3-8 up.

Cement common, which rose 1-4 to 30 1/4 and closed 30 1/2 bid was a feature of the morning's business. The preferred at the same time rose 1 to 22 1/2. Cannery continued its recovery without meeting much stock on the way up. It sold in a few lots at 58 to 57 1/2 against last sale in this market at 56, and closed strong at 58 bid. Bridge rose 1 to 115 and closed 118 1/2 bid.

Total business 3350 shares, 50 mining shares and $22,000.

TWO CARS COBALT ORE TO GERMANY

One Bullion Shipment This Year—Cobalt Townsite Higher.

The movement in the direction of wider markets for the ores from Cobalt is apparently having some effect. In the past week both the Dominion Reduction Company and the Crown Reserve shipped to Hamburg.

The Cobalt Townsite was again the highest shipped. The Beaver and the Penn-Canadian were also on the list with one and concentrates.

There were also shipments of low-grade ore out of twelve shipped. One of these was from the Old Rose, which property shipping low grade only this week.

The ore shipments from the Cobalt camp for the week ending Jan. 9, were: McKinnon-Dar 77,900; Hudson Bay 86,610; Penn-Can 53,790; Trethewey 50,180; Townsite 138,370; Beaver 63,370; Conlough 45,250; La Rose 80,000; Dom. Res. 78,850; Cr. Reserve 64,170.

NEW HAVEN WAS MARKET DAMPER

Ban Placed on Proposed Issue Caused Dip in Stock.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The stock market made a poor start today on account of a sharp break in New Haven. Refusal of the Massachusetts supreme court to sanction the proposed issue of $7,000,000 New Haven convertibles caused the stock to drop 2-1/2.

Trading in this issue was active for a time, but no attempt was made to raise the price above the level of 1-1/2. The market was generally downward with fractional losses among most of the leaders. When New Haven turned upward the rest of the list stiffened.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The market closed firm. Having overcome the initial depression occasioned by the break in New Haven, bull operators bought with increasing confidence and ultimately succeeded in raising the level of prices well above the opening range. Unchecked by the outbreak of New Haven's efforts to provide for its financial needs made specialties unusually broad and active in the company's stock and bond market.

From New Haven's issues the widest movements were in specialties. Tobacco issues were heavy. Texas Company gained 1-1/2. New York Central sagged to 89-1/8, within a fraction of its low record for twenty years. Bonds were firm.

Opening prices elsewhere showed small declines in most cases, but as soon as it became known that New Haven was being held firmly in hand the whole list began to pick up. Traders bought with increasing confidence and at the end of the day most of the representative shares were on a level with or slightly above yesterday's close.

The court's objections to the convertible feature of the proposed New Haven bonds caused a strong upward movement for the outstanding convertible 4 1/2 on the assumption that no further convertibles would be issued. The old convertibles gained four points.

The monthly U. S. Steel figures, which appeared after the close of the market, showed a decrease in unfilled orders of 114,229 tons which was in excess of expectations. This was the twelfth successive decline in unfilled orders. The total on the books of the steel corporation at the close of the year was the smallest since Nov. 20, 1911.

Aside from New Haven securities, the widest movements of the day were in specialties. Texas Company jumped 5-1/2 to a high record of 142, on rumors that the company was to be taken over by Standard Oil interests.

Tobacco stocks rebounded after yesterday's advance. New York Central made a new low price for its present movement, dropping to 89-1/2, within a fraction of its low mark for twenty years.

Bonds were steady and practically unchanged.

Real Maltese Lace, Linen Table and Sideboard Pieces

We have just secured from a Maltese agent a handsome little group of table centres, lunch cloths and sideboard pieces at practically our own price. They are rare, and, except to the connoisseur, they are somewhat costly; but we can claim for their consideration two things which should prove interesting. They are the finest examples of Maltese lace we have ever seen, and our selling price to our clients is less than half the usual price. On sale Tuesday at from $5.00 to $25.00 each.
