

The Toronto Sunday World

WHAT'S WRONG WITH TORONTO? IT IS APATHY

Opinions From Observant Men at Ad Club Convention Simmer Down to Lack of Recognition of Advantages

CITY NOT AWAKE TO ITS WONDERFUL SIZE

Hotels, Sad Sunday, Lack of Public Conveniences, Apathetic Mood, Overhead Wires, Reluctantly Knocked

"Knock" is not in the vocabulary of the Ad man. The Ad man is a booster, to boost his religion and a resolution was passed by the general assembly of the Advertising Clubs of the World that decried any member who knocked the goods boosted by any other members, it was pretty hard to get an Ad man to knock.

What is wrong with Toronto? It is apathetic. It is not awake to its wonderful size. It is not awake to its wonderful size. It is not awake to its wonderful size.

Don't Like Our Hotels. But after a little coaxing invariably came the same answer. "The hotel system."

Posted all over the inside and the outside of one of your Toronto hotels, were signs calling for "Truth in Advertising," said one delegate.

PRIZE PLAY WRITTEN BY MEMBER OF COMPANY

The Sunday World has learned that the $1000 prize for a Canadian play offered by Miss Adele Blood, who is heading a stock company in Toronto, was awarded to a member of her company.

Magazine Section Becomes the Women's Section

With this issue of The Sunday World there comes a change in the title of one of its parts. The change marks the gradual development of the part formerly called the Magazine Section into a section devoted exclusively to Women and the Home.

ONTARIO CROPS RETARDED BY COLD, DRY WEATHER

From reports received by local grain dealers from their correspondents, the prospect of Ontario grain crops being up to the average has brightened considerably during the past week. Present indications are that the winter wheat crop will be about 75 per cent. of the average, or a little less than last year's small total of 16,000,000 bushels.

Campaign Notes

Virtue is its own reward, is the so-called offered to Premier Whitney by those who wish to displace him from the office in which he has presided over the abolition of 1200 bars.

It is not what Toronto says that will settle the fate of the bars, the license laws. But the rural constituencies are going to have a good day, and they have cleaned out their share of 1200 bars in the last nine years. They may be as loyal to Whitney as Toronto is.

Sir James Whitney, unlike some of his followers, has not attempted to make little of the evils of the drink traffic and habit. He has deplored them in measured language, and he has promised to continue his efforts to curtail those evils as far as public opinion will permit it.

Little is being said in the campaign about the great development of the financial resources of Ontario by the Whitney government. In its nine years of office the revenue has been hugely increased without increasing the burdens of the taxpayer, and the municipalities have received a share of the revenue which has been of considerable local assistance.

When the laymen are so ready to declare what is and what is not Christianity in relation to politics, there should not be much objection to allowing the persons to have their say on the matter. We gather that Sir James Whitney's objection is to the use of the churches and pulpits for political purposes. He cannot consistently object to the clerical expression of opinion. And that reminds one—where is Rev. D. C. Hossack at this crisis?

No Liberal has been elected in Toronto to the legislature since Mr. Joseph Tait in North Toronto in the election of 1891. If the unexpected always happens it is about time for another Liberal to get a Toronto seat. But the thing is practically unthinkable to those who know the city. Should such an event occur the manipulations of the ward associations must be credited with it.

HUERTA SPARRED FOR TIME TO MASS MEN AGAINST U. S.

That Gen. Huerta's recent agreement with the United States, signed at the Niagara Falls mediation conference, was "only to gain time to strengthen himself with followers in Mexico City for an aggressive movement against the United States forces occupying Vera Cruz, was the assertion Saturday morning of Senor Luis Elguero, who, accompanied by Senors Rodriguez and Rabassa, was in Toronto to confer with Gen. Felix Diaz, on what the envoys termed "an important communication from President Huerta."

What Huerta's plans are the delegates refused to discuss. It was said, however, that Gen. Diaz, who has been living incognito in Toronto for some time, is representing Gen. Huerta and will be a potent factor in whatever the provisional president of Mexico contemplates doing in the near future. Don Victoriano, it was said Saturday, recently received a loan of 60,000,000 pesos ($30,000,000) from a French banking interest with headquarters in Mexico City.

AN 8 PAGE COMIC IN TWO WEEKS

When Rudolph Dirks, originator of the Katzenjammer Kids, brings his famous funny fellows (the genuine Katzenjammers) back to Toronto—The Sunday World comic section will blossom forth into an eight page part.

It will be the funniest, finest humor section printed in any one newspaper. It will likewise be the first eight page comic section. It will be more than twice as funny on July 12.

TORIES CONFIDENT ON ELECTION EVE

Hon. Dr. Pyne Says Every Toronto Seat is Safe—Go Back Strong as Ever

The Conservative party is quite confident as to the outcome on Monday. They are looking for another great renewal of confidence by the people and expect to send back to the house a government practically as strong as that today.

THE WORLD IS FAIR

"By its non-partisan and fair way of reporting the political meetings and the assertions of ministers from their pulpits during this campaign, 'The World' has won many friends," said Rev. W. H. Hincks of Trinity Methodist Church in an unsolicited testimonial to 'The World.' "The World is the only paper in Toronto that has given reports not twisted to suit a rank partisan spirit and I am sure all fair-minded citizens appreciate the stand 'The World' has taken."

MINISTERS INTEND TO HAVE LAST WORD

Few Toronto Pastors Will Mention Political Parties, But They Will Mention "Abolish the Bar" in Their Pulpits Sunday—Some Will Give Temperance Sermons and Let Hearers Draw Their Own Conclusions

NOT MANY WILL LEAVE SUBJECT ALONE

A large majority of Toronto pastors will today (Sunday) appeal from their pulpits for their congregations to support the policy of abolish the bar, but this in most instances will be done in an entirely non-partisan stand by both Conservative and Liberal ministers. Notwithstanding the bitter attacks that have been made against the ministers who have spoken in favor of the temperance policy from their pulpits, Sunday will see even a greater array of pastors than in previous weeks line up for the support of the anti-liquor interests.

Ministers of almost every denomination will ask their congregations to support the temperance policy, because they consider it their duty to support any great moral issue. Several Toronto pastors have expressed themselves as against the introduction of politics into the pulpit, but this campaign is considered so different that their sense of duty, they assert, demands their public support.

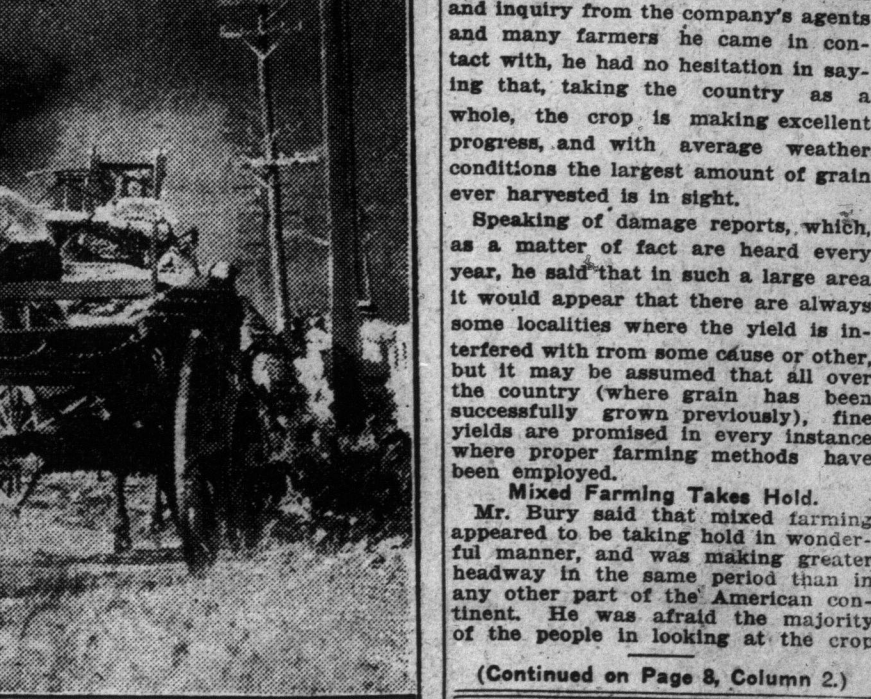

BURNED TO DEATH UNDER AUTOMOBILE

SAUGUS, Mass., June 27.—Miss Powers of Boston was burned to death and Oscar J. Mansesu, also of Boston, was badly injured when an automobile in which they were riding skidded into a ditch, overturned and caught fire today.

SHIP BREAKING UP ON SUPERIOR SHORE

SUPERIOR, Wis., June 27.—The steamer Matafa is reported by customs office officials to be going to pieces at the Superior entry to the Twin Ports Harbor. The life-savers are working in an effort to save the crew. There is a tremendous sea running.

THOUSANDS SEEK SAFETY IN FLIGHT FROM THE $25,000,000 CONFLAGRATION WHICH SWEEP SALEM

Long lines of refugees on foot, in wagons, carriages and automobiles, carrying whatever household effects they were able to snatch from the flames, which were driving them from the city, waiting in line, to make their way towards Beverly, one of the towns beyond the fire zone. Many in the lines were unable to save anything excepting the clothes they wore. At times the fire raged so fiercely that the roads appeared like the mouth of a roaring furnace, and the wonder is that such small loss of life is reported.

ENQUIRY OVER, HALF MILLION WORDS TAKEN

Collier's Counsel in Empress Enquiry Presses Contentions That Captain's Evidence Did Not Fit Facts

STEERING GEAR BROKE DOWN IN EMERGENCY

C.P.R. Commander Lost His Head—Ship's Position, as Found by Divers, Does Not Correspond With Evidence

QUEBEC, June 27.—The steering gear of the Empress was defective. That was the emergency for Capt. Kendall ordering her speed astern. Capt. Kendall lost his head entirely that night. The ship lies now to the northeast, just as she would have if she had been coming on the course the Stordard laid out for her. He discredits his evidence of captain and officers of the Empress, some one, says, falsely and it was not the Stordard men.

THE EMPRESS COUNSEL

QUEBEC, June 27.—The two ships would have passed a half mile apart if one of them had not altered its course. The ship which changed its course to blame for the accident. The Empress never altered her course. The Stordard admits that its wheel was put to port, then hard a starboard, but asserts that steering gear had been lost. The wheelman at his post says it was "not lost." Therefore, Mr. Aspinall says, the Stordard swung her wheel to starboard and came into collision with the Empress of Ireland.

RAIN ALLAYS FEAR OF DROUGHT IN MANY PARTS

Special to the Sunday World. QUEBEC, June 27.—Capt. Kendall lost his head and the steering gear of the Empress broke down in the emergency, was the conclusion of the assessor who had given in solving the regrettable and lamentable accident, and adjourned the case for consideration of the half million words of evidence which have been offered.

Manitoba and Saskatchewan Report Splendid Crop Conditions—Alberta Needs More Moisture

WINNIPEG, June 27.—Vice-President George J. Bury of the Canadian Pacific Railway has returned from an extended trip thru the Canadian prairie west. When asked about crops he said: "It must be remembered that this year there is one and three-quarter million acres sown in grain in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta more than last, making a total crop acreage of almost twenty-one million acres." From close observation and inquiry from the company's agents and many farmers he came in contact with, he had no hesitation in saying that, taking the country as a whole, the crop is making excellent progress, and with average weather conditions the largest amount of grain ever harvested is in sight.

Rich Lands Are Idle, While Cities Grapple With Unemployed Question—Travesty on Common-sense

WINNIPEG, June 27.—Vice-President George J. Bury of the Canadian Pacific Railway has returned from an extended trip thru the Canadian prairie west. When asked about crops he said: "It must be remembered that this year there is one and three-quarter million acres sown in grain in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta more than last, making a total crop acreage of almost twenty-one million acres." From close observation and inquiry from the company's agents and many farmers he came in contact with, he had no hesitation in saying that, taking the country as a whole, the crop is making excellent progress, and with average weather conditions the largest amount of grain ever harvested is in sight.

GENERAL REPORTS FROM WEST ARE GOOD

Speaking of damage reports, which, as a matter of fact are heard every year, he said that in such a large area it would appear that there are always some localities where the yield is interfered with from some cause or other, but that it may be assumed that all over the country (where grain has been successfully grown previously), fine yields are promised in every instance where proper farming methods have been employed.

DESCENDANT OF KING OF JERUSALEM TO WED

Two of England's Oldest Aristocratic Families to Be United.

LONDON, June 27.—Baroness Beaumont, who is not yet out of her teens, has become engaged to the Hon. Bernard Fitzalan-Howard, heir to Lord Howard, of Glossop. He is twenty-nine. This announcement heralds a union between two of the oldest families in the country. Lady Beaumont has been a peeress in her own right since the age of two, when the title, which fell into abeyance on the death of her father, was continued by Queen Victoria. The Beaumonts are one of the oldest Roman Catholic families in England. The first baron, Henry de Beaumont, supposed, according to "Debreton's Peerage," to have been a grandson of John de Brienne, last king of Jerusalem, came to England in the time of Edward I, by whom he was made King of the Isle of Man. Since she was presented two years ago she has been seen about a great deal in society with her mother, and this season also with her sister, Miss Ivy Stapleton. Her future husband is a relative of the duke of Norfolk, for his grandfather, Lord Edward Fitzalan-Howard, a brother of the fourteenth Duke

WOMEN'S REVENGE ON CHINESE BANDITS

PEKIN, June 27.—Instances of revenge by Chinese women on White Wolf bandits are given in the Central China Post. The bandits captured Pinchow and many women suffered at their hands. Afterwards one bandit was captured. The women tied him to a tree and cut him to pieces with knives and scissors while he was still alive. The wife of an innkeeper near Chienchow had a nephew killed by the robbers. A robber went to the inn to stay the night. She gave him a good meal and then, when he was asleep, killed him by striking him on the head a millstone.

NEW DISEASES OF DANCERS

BERLIN, June 27.—German doctors have discovered that modern methods of dancing necessitates movements of the body which nature resents, and cause a new complaint which doctors are naming "tango foot." Symptoms of the new disease are a pain around the ankle, likened to rheumatism or sprain. The pain increases until the patient finds difficulty in bending or stretching the foot, and walking downstairs causes agony. Dancing people are warned not to treat what are thought to be rheumatic pains about the ankle joints as of no account, or the consequences of inflamed sinews may be very serious.

"LA ARGENTINA" IS COMING HERE

Special to The Sunday World. MADRID, June 21.—"La Argentina," Spain's most famous danseuse and ablest exponent of the tango and other exotic dances, has returned here for a short stay after a triumphal tour of Berlin and Monte Carlo. Massenet, the French composer, expressly wrote for her the music of a delightful ballet entitled "España," which was produced in Monte Carlo with great success. "La Argentina" has a pleasant, tho' not powerful singing voice, but her dancing, especially of all Spanish national and characteristic dances, was a revelation to the public of Northern Europe and the Riviera. New York and other American cities will soon have an opportunity of seeing her and judging of her merits, for after a short season in Christiania, St. Petersburg and Moscow, where she is going almost immediately, she will sail for the United States to fulfil there an important and lucrative engagement.

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily. Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles that will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling. Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the horrid freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case. Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

WANT OSLER TO ENTER PARLIAMENT

LONDON, June 27.—Everybody is hoping that Sir William Osler will yield to the strong and influential representations made to him to go to the House of Commons as member for Oxford University, the seat made vacant by the death of Sir William Anson. He decides to do so it is altogether likely that it will be an election by acclamation. It goes without saying that the house of commons would welcome this distinguished Canadian whose signal services to the cause of medicine have made him a world-famous figure. He is fond of rebutting the popular opinion that Oxford University is the home of conservatism and lacking in progress and as he said the other day he believes it to be "the most alive, intelligent, stimulating and fertile place that any Englishman or Colonial could visit." It is his intense love for the university—where he is the idol of the undergraduates, particularly, of course, those from Canada—that would form the principal objection to his taking parliamentary honors. He would much prefer to complete his life-work in the quieter arena of the university than to participate in the noisy struggle of Westminster. In the house, however, he would exert considerable influence, and he is not insensible of the fact that Britain requires more than ever the presence of the leading thinkers in her national councils.

WEDDINGS

TAYLOR-KNAPP.

St. Ann's Church was the scene of a wedding on Wednesday evening at seven o'clock, the Rev. Lawrence Skoy officiating, of Hattie Mae (Maude), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Herbert Knapp, to Mr. Owen F. Taylor. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a graceful gown of ivory satin with Spanish lace and seed pearls, her veil of Brussels net was arranged in a cap and caught with bouquets of white carnations and lilies. The chancel and pews were decorated with palms and flowers. Mr. Millar presided at the organ, and throughout the entire service played over softly Mendelssohn's Spring Song. During the signing of the register Miss Elizabeth MacPherson sang the bridal hymn, "O Promise Me." The bridesmaids in attendance were Miss Helen Rouse and Miss Victoria Anderson (a cousin of the bride), wearing gowns of flowered crepe de chine and hats with pink roses; they carried shepherds' crooks tied with white chiton and carnations.

McLELLAN-WALLACE.

St. David's Church was the scene of a quiet wedding on Wednesday morning at ten o'clock, with the Rev. John Bushell officiating, of Mary, daughter of Mr. Henry Wallace, to Mr. George Custer McLeellan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McLeellan, Leburn, Ireland. The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her brother, Mr. George Wallace, who wore a white tuxedo, a white cravat and a white boutonniere. The bride wore a white tulle gown with white hat and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas and orchids. Later Mr. and Mrs. McLeellan left on a trip to Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara, the bride traveling in tan French cloth and a Panama hat. After their return they will reside in Emerson avenue.

JOHNSTON-LUNNESS.

Crakeholme, Long Branch, was the scene of the wedding on Wednesday, June 24, at 1 o'clock, the Rev. Dr. E. N. Baker, Belleville, officiating, of Jessie Clarissa, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Lunness, Long Branch, to Mr. Sidney Cornell, son of Mr. Ben. Johnston, Inlington, Ont. The drawing-room was decorated with pink roses and carnations, palms and ferns. The bride, Miss Jessie Johnston, was given away by her father, Mr. Ben. Johnston, who wore a white tuxedo, a white cravat and a white boutonniere. The bride wore a white tulle gown with white hat and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas and orchids. Later Mr. and Mrs. Johnston left on a trip to Rochester, Buffalo and Niagara, the bride traveling in tan French cloth and a Panama hat. After their return they will reside at 54 Stratcona avenue.

SIMPSON-DOUGLAS.

The wedding was solemnized at half-two o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the register, St. Method's Church, of Clara S., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas, to Mr. Harold R. Simpson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Douglas, St. Albans street. The ceremony was attended by the Rev. James Allan. Mr. Atkinson presided at the organ, and during the signing of the register, Miss Irene Simpson sang "All Mine Alone." The bride who was brought in and given away by her father, wore a white duchesse satin gown with brocade train. Her veil of Limerick lace, was crowned with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower of roses and lilies. Miss Winifred Simpson was maid of honor to her sister, and the bridesmaids were Miss Hamby and Miss Allward, the former wearing pink crepe de chine and the latter palest green with lace corsages and white hats with white flowers and strings. They carried pink roses. The groom's gift to them was a silver card case. Mr. John Lindsay was best man, and the ushers were: Mr. Frank, Mr. Stanton, and Mr. Leitz. After the ceremony Mrs. Simpson held a reception, wearing midnight blue satin and lace. Her hat was of black tulle, and she carried a bouquet of Richard roses and lilies of the valley. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas left later for the north, the bride traveling in dark blue moire and white hat. On their return they will reside in Upper Walmer road.

5 Attractive Water Trips at holiday rates

Here are water trips varied enough in price, length and location to suit the reasonable requirements of any holiday traveler. Certainly it doesn't require any persuasion to convince those who have tried it what a fine way it is to spend a holiday. Going---you are cool, comfortable with plenty of room to move about, breathe the fresh, water-cooled air, and enjoy the scenery. Coming back ---there will be a full moon to add to your enjoyment. And every one of the points of call is famous for the attractions it offers to visitors. The water way is not only the logical but the ideal way to travel in Summer. In planning for the holiday you will find the following suggestions helpful.

- Dominion Day Suggestions

WOOL GROWERS OF U.S. WEST PROSPER

Buyers Through the Shearing Sheds, Bidding for Tremendous Yield

A LESSON FOR CANADA

Prairie States Lead in Business That Has Grown With New Tariff

DENVER, Col., June 27.—Despite the gloomy prophecies of those who held that any reduction of the tariff on wool would bring ruin to western sheep owners, the sheep-shearing season, which is under full headway in the American west, never offered more flattering prospects.

The fleeces of Oregon sheep will run heavier, as there is an absence of the extremely hot sun which burns out the oil in the wool and which makes the sheep of the southwest shear the lightest of all. But the great ranges of the Rocky Mountain country support countless millions of sheep, Montana and Wyoming leading with nearly 5,000,000 each, the former state being a few thousand in the lead.

These tremendous flocks bring up the wool production, even the fleeces run somewhat lighter than in more favored grazing localities. The average weight per fleece in Montana and Wyoming is about seven pounds, while Oregon will run as high as 10 and New Mexico as low as 5.

Origin of West's Wool Industry.

It is significant, however, that the sheep business of the great wool states originated in New Mexico. In 1871 a band of 800 New Mexican sheep was trailed to Wyoming, and from this small start the tremendous wool business of that state and Montana has grown.

Montana now shears about 33,500,000 pounds of wool every season, while Wyoming shears about the same amount. The total value of the wool product of either of these states in a normal year will run from $6,000,000 to $8,000,000. This year the buyers are active and are at the shearing stations in great numbers, dickering for the wool as it is sacked.

The growth of the wool warehouse industry has made the wool growers more independent than of old, and fewer sales are made "on the spot."

There are great warehouses in Billings, Mon.; Casper, Wyo., and other wool centres. The heavily loaded wagons, creaking under wool sacks, and drawn by 10 to 12-horse teams for hundreds of miles across a semi-desert, come into these wool stations all during the summer.

If the demand is slack, or if owners are holding for a better price, the wool stays in the warehouse for months. In olden days the wool grower was compelled to sell as soon as shearing was over at the market price then prevailing, because of a lack of storage facilities.

The shearing in the sheep states is done in systematic fashion by regularly organized crews. There are shearing stations in all parts of the sheep raising section.

At shearing time the sheep are moved toward these sheds, which are supplied with machinery. A score or more of shearers strip the fleeces from the sheep in much less time than the work could be done with the old style shears.

These shearing crews begin in Arizona and New Mexico in the early spring and work north. In June and July they are in the heaviest part of their work on the great northern ranges. They are generally paid by the fleece and a skilled shearer can make from $7 to $10 a day.

COLLEGE GIRLS FORM A "HIKOMETER CLUB"

Yes, You're Right, the Purpose is to Encourage the Habit of Hiking

FULTON, Mo., June 27.—The girls of William Woods College in this city have organized as the "Hikometer Club," and now they have become familiar figures on the main thoroughfares of the city, "hiking" in a most energetic fashion. Interclass contests to determine which of the classes walk the greatest distances have been inaugurated.

Lieutenant commanders have been appointed for each class, to whom each member of the class will report at the end of each week how many hours she has spent in walking or athletic sports. The class totals in turn are reported to the athletic director each week and the results published.

Miss Lella Fern Burke of St. Louis is lieutenant commander of the sophomore class and secretary of the whole organization and will keep a record of the work being done.

The Hikometer Club was organized and is being drilled by Miss Florence Farman of Lincoln, Neb., athletic director of the college.

"All the girls have become enthusiastic over the new branch of athletics," said Miss Farman. "Many are taking hourly walks before breakfast to assist in bringing their totals up to the highest notch. The regular class walks are being taken over the city, and crowds of girls on the main thoroughfares, 'hiking' at a rapid rate, are becoming familiar figures. Later, when the girls have been trained sufficiently, they will take long walks into the country, accompanied by chaperons. The girls will be provided with 'hikometers,' which will give them a complete and accurate record of every mile they have walked. The winning class will be awarded with a long 'hike' into the country at the close of the contest, with a feast at the end."

POPE PIUS HEALTHY SAYS ARCHBISHOP

MONTREAL, June 27.—His Grace Archbishop Broussard returned to Montreal last night from a four-months' trip to Europe.

"I had several audiences with his holiness and found him alert to the state of the church the world over," said his grace. "I found him more healthy and stronger than on my last visit. His mind is as keen and his interest as lively as if he were 30 years younger. I saw him several times and his appearance and vitality certainly contradict the sensational reports about his falling health. He is over 80 years of age, but strong and full of enthusiasm and zeal."

FOUND STEAMER ON SHORE.

BATAVIA, Java, June 27.—The British steamer Kintuck of the China Mutual Steam Navigation Company reported overdue yesterday after a violent earthquake in Sumatra, was found today by the steamer sent out to search for her. She had been driven ashore in the Straits of Sunda between Java and Sumatra by heavy seas caused by a submarine disturbance. The Kintuck was crowded with native emigrants.

CARNEGIE'S STATUE UNVEILED.

DUNFERMLINE, Scotland, June 27.—Honour was paid to Andrew Carnegie here today when a statue of the "Steel King" was unveiled in Pittencrieff Glen, one of the city parks, presented to the municipality in 1908 by Mr. Carnegie, together with an endowment of $2,500,000.

A notable feature of the ceremonies was the singing by a choir of 600 voices, accompanied by a band, of an anthem, "Let us Praise Famous Men."

FRANK B. McILROY A CANDIDATE.

The many friends of Frank B. McIlroy, who some years ago was in the rubber business in Toronto, will be interested to learn that he is a Republican candidate for state senator in Indiana. Mr. McIlroy is now connected with the McIlroy Belting and Hose Company of Hammond, Indiana.

Good Times Coming This Fall

Business is going to boom this year all over Canada. Money is loosening up considerably, a bumper crop is assured, and right here in Toronto we are going to have good times this fall and winter. At least that's how it looks to me, and we should know, because the nature of our business keeps us in close touch with conditions throughout the country.

MY POLICY IS BEST SAYS H. BOURASSA

Nationalist in Europe Deals With Naval Policies Proposed for Canada

MONTREAL, June 27.—Henri Bourassa is the subject of a two-column article appearing in The Daily News, in which his policy in relation to the entry of Canada is discussed. The writer deals with the delicacy of the imperial position in Canada, owing to the American cosmopolitan elements, and concludes:

"In the long run, probably, the nationalist policy of Mr. Bourassa will be more effective in keeping the British flag flying in Canada than the imperialist policy of Sir Robert Borden, which, if carried into effect, would leave both the French in the east and the Americans in the west in revolt against the intrusion of English interests in Canadian affairs. We do not hold Canada by superior force, or even by sentiment, but because the arrangement suits Canada. There is no reason why a British frigate should go down if the British admiralty will avoid a repetition of recent follies."

NEW ENGLAND AD MEN LOOK OVER MONTREAL

MONTREAL, June 27.—Montreal today is entertaining a party of thirty or more members of the Pilgrim Publicity Association, a strong body of advertising men drawn from Boston and other New England centres, this being the eighth day of a twelve-day pilgrimage which had for its chief objective the big advertising convention just ended at Toronto, and which will include Quebec and Montreal, may before it ends next week. The party arrived in the city from Ottawa last night.

The Pilgrims are the charges of the Montreal Publicity Association and the Montreal Advertising Club, while the city also assisted in their entertainment, this morning motors conveyed the visitors to the water front, where they boarded a harbor commissioner's tug for a trip around the harbor, luncheon being served on board.

At two o'clock this afternoon the civic reception committee provided vehicles for a tour of the city, which concluded with early dinner at the restaurant on Mount Royal.

This evening the party will split, about half taking a train for Boston, while those not yet satisfied with travel and hospitality will go on board the steamer Sauganey, which will sail direct to Halifax.

"With the Introduction of Light Beers There Has Been Less Intemperance"

Editorial Toronto World, June 6th, 1913

SCIENCE AND THE LIQUOR QUESTION. Perhaps there is no abler or better known physician in the United States and Canada than Dr. William Osler.

The editorial from The Toronto World of June 6th, 1913, quotes such eminent physicians and medical authorities as Dr. Wm. Osler and Prof. Enrico Ferri, as an authority for this statement.

Prof. Ferri states that physicians are beginning to realize that early degenerations leading to Bright's disease are due in a large part to too much food. It must be remembered, however, that one should drink pure beers.

The Cosgrave Brands: Pale Ale Half-and-Half XXX Porter And Golden Gate Beer are guaranteed absolutely pure, being brewed under a scientific method that could produce no other kind.

Always ask for Cosgrave's. They cost no more than ordinary brews, and in ordering for family use, see that your dealer sends the Cosgrave Brands.

Brewery bottling only. On sale at hotels, licensed cafes and dealers.

In these addresses Professor Osler severely arraigns alcoholism. "Sensible people," he says, "have begun to realize that alcoholic excesses lead inevitably to impaired health."

The World has repeatedly advocated the recognition in law of the evident fact that beer and whiskey should be separately classified, and that light beer is a beverage, while whiskey is a heavy intoxicant, often a distinct poison.

Then Professor Osler proceeds to take substantially the same position with regard to the light beverages, such as beer, that Professor Enrico Ferri, the great Italian criminologist, and other noted scientists, have taken.

It may be added, as a significant item of news, that in Texas, where a prohibition constitutional amendment will probably be submitted to the vote of the people, a strong movement, headed by Judge Norman G. Kittrell, one of the most prominent jurists in the state, has developed to submit the question of "beer" and "liquor" separately.

It can't understand why Toronto does not adhere strictly to its building code prohibiting high buildings, said a pilgrim from Boston. "With your comparatively narrow streets it would seem to be all the more necessary, the sidewalks already being filled almost to capacity."

FAST FRENCHMEN BATTLE WITH INDIANS AT ISLAND STADIUM

Top-Notchers Fight for Second Time This Season—Close and Exciting at All Times

(By a Staff Reporter.) ISLAND STADIUM, June 27.—In spite of the threatening weather of the morning a splendid crowd turned out to witness a stellar exhibition of the national game between the leaders of the Big Four. A win for the Indians will put them within easy striking distance of the top, on the other hand a National win gives them a comfortable lead in the first place.

The morning drizzle left the grass very slippery and the preliminary work-out of both teams seemed to find the going hard. There is plenty of ginger in evidence, however, on both sides. The line-up: National—L'Hercule, goal; Torpey, Cattarinn, point; Whitehead, Duckett, cover; Graydon, Lachapelle, defence; McNamee, Oegan, defence; Felker, Degray, centre; Rowatree, Gauthier, home; McGregor, Beaulin, outside; Durkin, Lamoureux, outside; Durkin, Lalonde, inside; Querrie, Referee—W. McIntyre, Ottawa, Judge of play—L. L. U. Toronto.

After one minute play Lalonde beat Torpey with a right hand shot. The bat and Carmichael batted the first in after two minutes of play. Again Tecumseh secured at the face-off, passed nicely down the field and L'Hercule was called upon to stop Carmichael's hard one dead on Nationals secured and Degray evened up the score from outside the Indian defence.

Keeping up the two-minute scoring, Lalonde beat Torpey with an under shot in 15 minutes of play. Nationals 7, Tecumseh 2. For the first time in 15 minutes the Indians brought the ball down and Querrie and Carmichael shot in succession. Mackenzie scored in three more minutes of play. Nationals 7, Tecumseh 5.

The game so far has been brilliant. For five minutes at the start the Indians had the Frenchmen phased, but the purple shirts came right back and played them off their feet for the rest of the quarter. Felker missed the first shot and (Continued on Page 2)

Beach Regatta Off. A heavy sea and clouds that threatened rain persuaded the Beach Canoe Club committee to postpone their regatta Saturday afternoon. The event will likely be held next Saturday.

ROSEDALES TAKE AN EARLY LEAD IN L. U. FIXTURE

Shamrocks Struggle Hard Against their Heavier Opponents—Both Teams Played Heady Lacrosse—A Fair Crowd on Hand

(By a Staff Reporter.) ROSEDALES ATHLETIC GROUNDS, Saturday, June 27.—Shamrocks, who gave Rosedale a nip and tuck battle last Saturday visited here this afternoon for their N.L.U. fixture. The early afternoon rain did not give much promise of fair weather and affected the crowd considerably inasmuch that about only 200 people were present at the start. The Green shirt presented quite a husky appearance, while the local boys were again at full strength.

The line-up: Shamrocks—Rosedale—Vallieres, goal; Holmes, Harshaw, McMullen, defence; Yeaman, Hughes, defence; B. Green, E. H. H. Egan, defence; J. Green, Langlois, home; Murton, M. Quinn, outside; Kallis, O'Brien, inside; Kallis, Referee—Hugh Labe, Judge of play—George Wheeler.

The game started at 3:15 with Rosedale defending the eastern net. W. Fitzgerald scored on the face-off but passed wildly going in. McMullen received a very sharp attack by the blue shirts and on the playing going to the other end, the Shamrocks gave Holmes a very busy session. Finally after several narrow saves, the visitors opened the scoring when W. E. H. H. Egan scored the net. Time, 4:50. Shamrocks 1, Rosedale 0.

Holmes made a great save of Langlois' shot and Green, taking the ball down the field, evened it up after four minutes of play. (Continued on Page 2)

Higher Finance in Baseball and a Few Horse Laughs

"Washington Team" is Offered a Fortune to Put His Name to Fed. Contract While Little Tyrus Cobb Will Cart Away a Wagon Load of "Ironmen" if He Does the Jump Next Season—Fans Look for a Big Desertion From the Ranks of Organized Baseball.

By Igoe.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Will the "Feds" gather the wonderful Walter Johnson into the fold? Some game rumors which are being spread by the "Big Swedes" will desert the Senators of the American League next year and that for so doing he will receive a cash bonus of $25,000 and $25,000 a year for three years in addition. Also some rumors say that the equally wonderful Ty Cobb of the Detroit Tigers has been offered the identical terms, of which is the last word in frenzied finance as concerns baseball stars. Just let the "Feds" go thru with the deal, however, and they will have added two box-office attractions to their cause that are worth their weight in gold, or diamonds, or radium, or whatever in all the world is considered precious.

Without question, both Cobb and Johnson will listen to reason. Cobb has long ago given evidence of a personal appreciation of his own value. And he is worth every dollar that the close-fisted magnates are willing to pony over. What a ball player! Too bad—! What a ball player! What a help he'd be to the folks down Georgia way!

And Johnson. Everybody calls him "The Washington team." Organized baseball will stand some tall old bidding before they'll let that bird get to the position avary. Johnson, steady and unassuming, knows his own worth, too.

But about the offer. D. R. says it was the Tinker who made it and that he was an agent, working in the interests of Mr. Ward, the Brooklyn bread king. Mr. Ward refuses to confirm or deny the statement that he will contribute to the tune of $200,000 for the two best ball players alive. Both men will certainly go to the man offering the best offer. The man offering the offer also includes the management of one of the Federal clubs, which will mean the further jangling of cash. All in all, the next few seasons look pretty tough for Ty—eh, wot? Clarke Griffith isn't worried.

Without question, both Cobb and Johnson will listen to reason. Cobb has long ago given evidence of a personal appreciation of his own value. And he is worth every dollar that the close-fisted magnates are willing to pony over. What a ball player! Too bad—! What a ball player! What a help he'd be to the folks down Georgia way!

Some of the writers said that Johnny could have got up here, he so elected, today having been flogged by Williams in the third. There's no word on the floor and heard the count that spelled the passing of his long-held title, you can bet your bottom dollar that Johnny

BOTH FIGHTERS CONFIDENT PARIS TAKES TO IT KINDLY

Pittsburg Heavy Will Fight a Cautious Battle, and Says He Will Win — Johnson Smiles and Prepares for Automobile Tour

PARIS, June 27.—French sportsmen and thousands of Americans and other foreign followers of boxing gathered in Paris awaiting through white anticipation the beginning of the fight to take place here tonight for the heavyweight championship of the world. Frank Moran, holder of the title since he decisively defeated "Jim" Jefferies on July 4, 1910, at Reno, had been matched to meet in the ring at the great Velodrome D'Haver at half past two tonight, to fight 20 rounds under Queensbury rules, and the result of the meeting was to decide who should be champion.

Johnson says, "Easy Money." Johnson himself said today: "I was never more sure in my life than I am today. It is now a question of true sportsmanship. If Moran wins tonight he will win by strength, skill and better generalship. If he wins I shall be the first to congratulate him from the bottom of my heart."

BOXING REVIVAL IN ENGLAND LORD LONSDALE A HARD WORKER

Britain's Most Ardent Boxing Enthusiast is Doing Wonders to Restore the Game in the Hearts of Britisners — Smith Should Beat Carpenter — Corbett's Fight Gossip for boxing is The London Times, probably the greatest influence in the newspaper line in the entire kingdom. The Times is giving the heartiest support to the movement.

If we had a few men of the Lonsdale type in this country—real sportsmen who would come to the front so nobly for boxing—the sport would not be confined to a few localities as at present, but would flourish from one end of the land to the other. There is not another sport in which its exponents are so generally splendidly manly as boxing.

Lord Lonsdale—one of Britain's most ardent boxing enthusiasts and sponsors for many years—has organized a committee, and which he heads, to endeavor to have boxing placed on the same status in Great Britain's leading schools and colleges as other sports.

Opium in the French Navy

PARIS, June 27.—The trial of the naval subalternant who was accused of being concerned in the Toulon opium scandal has terminated, and the court found that he had only acted with a view to procuring opium for his own use. He was sentenced to pay a nominal fine, but the court declared it was absolutely necessary that something should be done in regard to a practice which might have deplorable effects.

THE MOTORCYCLE TIRE THAT WON

Three of every four new motorcycles sold this year in Canada and the United States will be Goodyear-equipped.

Consider the significance of that fact. It means that in four short years Goodyear motorcycle tires have won their way to the front by sheer force of superior quality.

And the leadership is not lightly won and held. Before such overwhelming preference must come utmost efficiency.

Remember that Goodyears hold every world's record for speed and durability. They want tires that represent leadership. Remember that the same value.

VERY WELL THEN!

BY Y. NOTT

Any Wife to Any Husband. (A Seasonal Complaint.) Come away, Henry, come right away! This is no place for you to stay. I daren't let you wander out of my reach At this scandalous bathing beach.

Why, I declare, that girl in fawn, Is bathing with practically nothing on. It's really more than I can guess, How she dare call THAT thing a dress.

Oh, that outrageous hussy in pink! If she only knew what people think! Now don't stand gawking like a dunce. Come away, Henry, come at once.

Look at that shameless girl in blue! Why, Henry, what is the matter with you? I told you to look, not to stare all day. Come away, Henry, come right away.

Honesty stops at umbrellas.

Let There Be Light.

We would be a still more ardent booster of Hydro were it not that we frequently have occasion to pass thru a street in this town which rivals the pit in blackness and which would be an ideal spot for an enterprising foot-pad to rob a policeman.

Ware Wolf.

We were talking to our old friend, the Man from Mimico, the other day and in the scanty intervals between his bursts of boost for the polish bar policy, he took off time to remark that if trade gets much worse in his line he is going to leave off trying to chase the wolf from the door—and eat the wolf.

We would humbly advise those seeking to establish the theory of the transmigration of souls to study and set forth the points of similarity in the personalities of the late Captain Kidd, pirate extraordinary, and the drivers of sightseeing conveyances at Niagara Falls, N.Y.

When he sees an Ad. Man in full convention regalia, the wooden Indian before the cigar store must blush for his taudry and inconspicuous war-paint and feathers. Not Solomon in all the illies of the field ever dreamed of getting into such a garb.

On Ice.

Love laughs at frost, but "90 in the shade" Freezes the temper of a melting maid; Ye lovers, hearken to this sage advice— For summer love, the one best fuel is ICE!

Nothing Less Two.

The best possible definition of a minus quantity is supplied by contemplation of our daily block of ice after it has been exposed for five minutes to the sun between the arrival of the iceman and its removal to the kitchen safety deposit vault by our hired girl, alias skivvy.

Limitation.

We know a perfectly good player of the ancient and honorable game of "Nap," whose prowess goes for naught owing to his inability to forsake his daily habits of counting out eggs in half dozens, which leads him to continue misdeals of sixes.

FROM soup bones and from simplicity gone sour, from remembering spent moneys, from political prognostication and from post mortems on bygone elections, from the rural constituencies and from the "back forties," from hip-pocket bars, from bootleggers, from blind pigs and from the forty rod vitriol provided therein, from sure things and from foregone conclusions, from faw-colored clothes and from fawzing parasites, from bell-boys and from bell-buys, from forgetfulness and from unpleasant recollections, from two in no trumps, from technicalities and from tenter-hooks, from ingrowing hairs and from moths in the clothes-press, from immigration officers and from all impudent officials, from rolling stones and from keeping the ball rolling, from sleepless nights and from sleepy days, from passing accounts and from rendering them, from water-in-the-pastepot and from thorns in the flesh—Good Lord Deliver Us.

A Fizziological Fact.

Milady loves me, that I know, By all the stars in heaven! She loves me with a love that's true, Without alloy or leaven.

The she may dine with many men Mid mirth and revelry, I am her one and only love, Her thoughts are all of me.

I know she'll never give me up, Her love so constant is, And yet she'll often turn me down, For I'm a bottle of FIZZ.

In Restraint of Trade.

If the bar should be abolished, Love will have a monopoly in making the world go round.

An Easy Life, Hiss.

Old Job may have had a trouble or two, But he lived in a rose-wreathed bower, For he never came down for the morning's milk— AND FOUND THE BLAMED STUFF SOUR!

The Times Do Move.

Time was when man's chiefest grievance against his spouse arose when the lady undertook to open the sardines with his favorite razor. Milady has advanced many long strides since then and still her patient slave endures and forgives. He does not mind her using the gasoline from his motor car to clean her gloves. He endures in silence when he searches an hour for his wrench and then finds that it has been taken indoors to tack down the nursery carpet, but by the eternal he does protest when she removes the front of the radiator to strain the vegetables!

A. B. C. Diplomacy.

Diplomacy consists in telling a man that you will turn him into a vacuum cleaner, when you really mean that you intend making him eat dirt.

Deep, Indeed.

BABIES ARE OFTEN USED BY SHOPLIFTERS

Long Clothes Shield The Quick Operations of Petty Thievery in Toronto Stores---The Offenders Are Chiefly Women---Some of Them When Caught Plead Kleptomania---Many Have No Other Plea But Tears.

SHOPLIFTING is unlike the many other classes of crime in several respects. Firstly the chief offenders are women; at least seventy-five per cent of the persons arrested in Toronto being females. Secondly, the thefts are usually committed by individuals with a view to personal gain; seldom by regular organized gangs controlled from a central point, as is the case with professional thieves, pick-pockets and other graduates of the schools of crime. The gain to be made by shoplifting is too small in comparison with the risk, to tempt the individual who makes a livelihood thru the channels of illegality. Everyday women are detained—not arrested—in the largest Toronto stores, having been seen by private detectives, committing petty thefts. Some of them plead kleptomania, others have no plea except tears, but unless they are known to the police as expert shoplifters, they are freed with a warning. Each year, the large Toronto stores lose thousands of dollars thru the work of shoplifters. The actual net loss of any of these stores, thru this channel, has never been made public. In fact it is improbable that any accurate estimate could be made, so large is the stock they handle. But according to a well-known detective the value of the goods recovered yearly by one store, alone amounts to about $10,000, and this he avers is not more than forty per cent of the value of the stolen material. The majority of thefts occur in the linen, neckwear, lace and glove departments. The reason is apparent. Articles sold in these departments can be rolled up easily and hidden without difficulty. A few more expert shoplifters ply their trade in the millinery and clothe departments. The methods used by shoplifters are necessarily simple. But they are carried out in such a manner that it is exceedingly difficult for the officers of the law to detect the thefts. One of the favorite modes is the use of the muff. The shoplifter advances toward the counter where several people have collected. She edges her way along until she reaches the article she wishes to steal. She places the muff on the counter beside that article and while the clerk is busy waiting upon a customer, slips it into her muff and leaves. The innocent baby is often a party to thefts by such women. The woman approaches a lace counter, for example, and in an ordinary manner watches the proceedings with amusement. Paris model for which the store has never been paid. But shoplifters, whether they be amateurs or professionals always make their presence known to the detectives. For like all other criminals operating in public, they never fail to show a slight sign of uneas-ness, and invariably glance around to see if they are being watched. The schooled detective parading the aisles is ever alert for this sign, and when he sees it an arrest usually follows. But still shoplifting prospers, and will continue so while store-owners place their goods upon the counters within the reach of all. Methods and schemes of various kinds have been devised by managers of stores to stop this profit-destroying practice but all have more or less failed. Whether sometime an effective means of preventing shoplifting will be found, is doubtful if not improbable. For from the past and present experiences of store owners and detectives there appears to be but one practical solution, and that is the removal by the management of the goods from the counters.

ELSIE JANIS LOVES TO HEAR THEM CHEER

Has Got Used to it in London and Wishes We Would Take Up That Sort of Theatre Applauding on This Side of the Atlantic.

LONDON, June 27.—These American theatregoers who take particular delight in the art of Elsie Janis might as well resign themselves right now to the prospect that the home stage will not see her again for at least another year. Emboldened by the really huge success of this her first London season, the new favorite of the revues has set her heart upon an international reputation. When November comes around she will make her bow in Paris, and in mid-winter, chaperoned to the teeth, she will go on to Vienna to assuage as best she can the hearts of the Viennese. Then it is the Palace Theatre in London again, when Mr. Butts puts on a new revue in the spring of 1915. America may come next, perhaps, but there is no promising that for Elsie Janis has no "comic paper" nor even an oral contract with any manager on Broadway. This much of her program was vouchsafed by Miss Janis to a caller who found her the other afternoon in the drawing-room of her most impressive house in Mayfair. A few months before and Elsie Janis—late of the triple alliance with Montgomery and Stone—had been just a great favorite with the theatregoers of the United States and a graduate of no very long standing from the "Vanderbilt Cup" days. And here she was pouring tea in her own London home with her ears still humming from the cheers that welcomed her thunderously to London on the night of her first appearance before an English audience, altogether one of the heartiest receptions ever accorded in that city for an entertainer from the other side of the Atlantic.

She had left America "on rubbers," as the theatrical phrase for tipping goes, and she had slipped into London without any fanfare.

She wanted an English success. "I don't think my secret mind you," she observed, "for every one who knows me knows that this has been my ambition for years and years. Heaven knows, I've talked about it enough. I have talked about it to every Englishman I ever met. Why, every time I saw a man wearing an English collar I would rush up to him and ask: 'Do you think I would be a success in London?' And he would say: 'Well, Miss Janis, of course you are very clever and all that, and your American audiences like you, but—' It was ever so discouraging. Every one discouraged me. My chauffeur discouraged me. Mother discouraged me.

"Didn't," said Mrs. Janis tersely. "And now that she has 'made good' every American player, both big and small, seems bent, as she sees it, on hurrying to the London stage, as who should say: 'If Elsie Janis can 'put it across,' why couldn't we?' Why, indeed!"

"And now they are coming by boatloads," she groaned with a twinkle in her eye.

She was ready. Miss Janis then went quietly and put in four weeks rehearsing and looking around. She was ready with her part of the revue a few hours after she landed, and was all impatience to start, but folks are more leisurely over there. She had no mad notion, however, that she could step into a London theatre and be more leisurely over there. She had no mad notion, however, that she could step into a London theatre and be more leisurely over there. She had no mad notion, however, that she could step into a London theatre and be more leisurely over there.

She has taken the international play-ers for the most part—Miss Deslys, Miss Levey, Frank Tinney, (it is the La Tosca monolog with that ex-cruciating line, "La Tosca, the dinner's

MISS CATHERINE PROCTOR, WHO WAS BORN IN TORONTO AND WHOSE FAMILY IS WELL KNOWN HERE, SNAPPED IN ONE OF HER LEISURE MOMENTS (AT 9 A.M.) AT HER APARTMENTS IN ROSDALE BY THE SUNDAY WORLD PHOTOGRAPHER.

FROM TEN IN THE MORNING UNTIL VERY LATE AT NIGHT THE STOCK COMPANY WORKS

When New Play Has to Be Produced Every Week the Members of Company Have Very Little Time for Play—Miss Proctor Talks of How Plays Are Produced and What Is Necessary.

In a short talk with a Sunday World man, Miss Catherine Proctor, the popular leading woman of The Bonstellers Players, gave some exceedingly interesting details as to how the preparations of plays are made from week to week. Miss Proctor said:

"When the last curtain has been rung down on a stock company's Monday night performance, and as the audience is making its way into the street, behind the curtain the first step is being taken towards the preparation of the next week's play.

"Before this, however, the stage director has been at work. He receives the play from the author's secretary, generally typewritten and done up in the style of a lawyer's brief, and upon him falls the task of transforming this document into the real living thing one sees over the footlights. He must provide the scenic setting and the properties required for the play and share the company. He must arrange for the costumes, and, the chief thing of all, he must have studied out the way into the play several times. On his second reading, it may be, he will make out plots and diagrams for his assistants and will have jotted down on his manuscript remarks for his own future guidance. On his third reading he will determine to whom the various parts will be assigned and will study and mark through the play the relative position of the players at its different stages, so as to fix in his mind the stage pictures which he will seek to attain.

"The work of staging the play is divided into five departments, over each of which is a head, who does his work under the superintendence of the stage director. These heads are the property man, the scenic carpenter, the artist or scene painter, the electrician or man in charge of the lighting, and the director of music. On Tuesday night the stage carpenter will know what set pieces he will have to build, and their character. The artist will be told what scenery he will require to have ready. The property man will know the one hundred and one stage furnishings which he will have to secure, and the electrician and the musician just what will be required of them.

"Start Work at 10 a.m. "Besides these side issues, there are the rehearsals in which step by step the director develops the ensemble of the play. The Bonstellers Players, under the direction of Mr. Cyril Raymond have a short rehearsal of the new play on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock. On account of the Monday evening play, there is only a short rehearsal, Thursday is our day off, Friday we begin at ten and rehearse until half-past five, Saturday is another short rehearsal. By this time the members of the company are expected to know their parts perfectly. On Monday morning the play is gone over just as it will be given that night.

"When extra men or women, who are known as supernumeraries, are to be employed, they are put in charge of a 'super-captain,' whose duty it is to gather them and train them. Monday morning the play is gone over just as it will be given that night.

"The secrets are the system, the experience and skill of the director, and the ability and willingness of the company.

"Needless to say, the men and women of the company have little time to themselves. In the short intervals between rehearsals and performances they must learn their lines, by no means an easy task. The training of the memory, of course, makes this easier, and it also sometimes happens that they are already more or less familiar with the play."

BARRIE IS BREAKING INTO MUSICAL COMEDY

Bernard Shaw Sitting Back, But Will Likely Follow if Sir James Succeeds—London's Success, "Dr. Wu," Is to Be Tried Out in New York—News of Broadway.

By Brett Page. NEW YORK, June 27.—Sir James M. Barrie is writing a "revue" to be produced by Granville Barker in London next year. The mere mention of the certainty that the Barrie of "Peter Pan" is to dip into the frothy foam of musical comedy gives pause for thought. What will a Barrie musical comedy be like?

The theatrical worlds of London and New York are waiting with intense interest to find out what Barrie will do to the old out and dried standard. It is hinted that his manuscript, now nearing completion, ripples with laughter and drips with satire. Imagine real satire in a musical comedy!

Will Barrie produce a book so far ahead of all present notions of musical comedy that he will revolutionize its present form? This is what half the big managers here and in London are asking themselves. And Bernard Shaw is sitting back and watching Barrie with a saturnal smile. If Barrie succeeds, Shaw is to follow fast in his footsteps. Surely musical comedy is looking up these days.

"Mr. Wu" for America. At the London Grand there is playing this season the greatest English success, "Mr. Wu," an Anglo-Chinese drama of an original turn, almost morbid, and at times slightly gruesome. It has gripped the British mind so hard that Henry W. Savage has gambled on our liking the play. It is the one production that Mr. Savage has in mind for next season.

Its first production will be in New York, and Walker Whitehead has arranged with Mr. Savage to present the play. Exactly how New York will take to a Chinaman as the centre of an evening's entertainment cannot be predicted. Mr. Savage and Mr. Whitehead feel confident that it will be a long time before we tire of it.

Famous Press Agent Passes. With the death of William Hammerstein a remarkable figure has passed from vaudeville. For years "Willie," as he was familiarly known to everyone along Broadway, made of Hammerstein's "Victoria," one of the theatrical gold mines of this country. He was always to be seen standing in the lobby talking to his friends with a face that was typical of sadness, but once in a while illuminated with a smile that cleared the clouds away beyond remembering.

In all America there was no greater press agent than this son of that extraordinary self-advertiser Oscar. By the sheer force of his press genius Willie made the money that gave Oscar Hammerstein the chance to play with his New York and London opera houses. You know Oscar Hammerstein believes that he was placed here on earth to give opera; he is as fixed and sure of that fact as of night following day. But, now that Willie has gone, who can make the famous "Corner" pay? Who will give Oscar Hammerstein the money to lose in opera?

The Terrible Movies Again. Once again the movies step to the front, because the bewildered theatrical manager is hedging his bets. The Shubert has formed an alliance with the World Film Corporation, the combination to be known as the Shubert Feature Film Corporation. Merely as a bit of news it is worthy of note, but its capitalization makes it even more interesting. Two millions of dollars have come together in this new company, and every Shubert play of recent years is to be rushed on the screen. Today there is not one old time theatrical manager who has not identified himself with the movies.

A good press "stunt" always wakes a thrill along Broadway, and loosens the tight news columns of even the most conservative papers. This is particularly true if there is the bare chance that the featured star might not have really intended it to get

"When Women Rule" Headliner at Loew's Winter Garden Roof.

What is said to be one of the funniest sketches in vaudeville is booked as the headliner at Loew's Winter Garden Roof next week. It is Roland West's "When Women Rule," the original sketch, reversing the positions of men and women—50 years hence. Marie Russell, "A Study in Tan," will present a novel posing act. She is clothed from top to toe in a brown material, and her face is covered with a peculiar bronze enamel which makes her look like a statue. The Four Musical Avoloz, formerly of the Winter Garden, Berlin, will offer a xylophone act of rare excellence. Willie Hale and Brother present something new in juggling with comedy. Fred Pisano, and Miss Singman, the Italian and the Irish girl, have a novel act with singing. Al K. Hall, the prize comedian, has been making thousands of Loew's patrons in New York laugh. Dooley & Evelyn, a clever juvenile couple, sing, dance and throw the lariat, while Brown & Ward complete a bill in which every department of vaudeville entertainment is worthily represented.

BIG FEATURES AND ORGAN AT STRAND

Each week it is the endeavor of Manager Schiesinger to put on a stronger bill at the Strand Theatre than that of the week preceding. And each week he seems to achieve his aim. Last week, the first instalment of "The Million Dollar Mystery," in connection with the solution of which the Thalhous Company are offering a prize of $10,000, was presented. And on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week the second instalment of this fascinating photo-play, which is attaining international success, will be featured. This instalment, entitled "A False Friend," is of even more absorbing interest than the first, and carries one well into the story which now goes along at a swinging rate. Another feature photo-play, playing on the same three days, will be "The Three Shadows." This is a thrilling story of love and adventure, dealing with the adventures of a young girl, and there is a beautiful love-story running thru it. In addition "The Street West," a record of current happenings in the old country, will be shown on the same three days, as will the Ford Sterling comedy, "Grumpy," with Ford Sterling himself. For the last three days of the week there will be an entire change of program. The feature photo-play "Thru Fire to Fame." The story of this deals with a young fellow of good birth who finds himself in financial difficulties, and hard pressed by his creditors. Anxious to pay his debts, he resolves on doing a sensational act at a hippodrome, in order to make money. He is successful in his attempt to reach "fame thru fire," and also getting the money he needs. There will be another photo-play and another of the inimitable Sterling comedies. And every day in the week there will be an organ recital on the wonderful $15,000 pipe organ which is so popular a feature at the Strand.

Master Thomas Carnahan, Jr., will play the role of Fauntleroy in "Little Lord Fauntleroy," coming from New York for that purpose. At a performance given by children of Cyril Maude's great success, "Grumpy," in New York a short time ago, Master Carnahan played Mr. Maude's role. Of his acting, Alan Dale, the famous critic, wrote: "I've seen many child actors in my day; I've seen juvenile performances at this very Wallace's Theatre, but not before—never before—had I seen such an astounding, such a marvelous piece of work as that offered by a ten-year-old boy. It was something to stun one into wonder."

The above illustration shows Cyril Maude, the famous English actor, made up as a man of ninety years meeting the pocket edition of himself as "Grumpy" in the person of Master Carnahan. Young Carnahan has been engaged for the role of Lord Fauntleroy in the big revival of the play in New York next season.

STOCK COMPANY ATTRACTIONS THIS WEEK

"Seven Days"—Percy Haswell at the Princess.

For her fifth week at the Princess Theatre, Percy Haswell will put on "Seven Days," the sensational laughing hit among the numerous age-comedies of a couple of seasons ago. It ran 400 nights at the Astor Theatre, and is now being played by several road companies with success. The story is a comedy of the last act. Surprise follows surprise, and there is no time to stop for breath. The people laugh from start to finish. The story is woven about the weird experience of a New York housewife, quarantined for a week, who is celebrating a birthday, when the host is celebrating a dinner, the anniversary of his divorce, in which his aunt, who is bitterly opposed to it, has been kept in ignorance. In his extremity, he induces one of the lady guests to impersonate his missing wife, and it happens that the lady guest's dance gets into the house in time to be locked in with the rest of them, including a policeman and a burglar. The servants have deserted, the society people have to undertake the housework while the burglar, who is on the loose, is making his way out. The play is one of the ideal kind to entertain a summer audience, and Miss Haswell regards it as one of her happiest selections to date. The usual matinees are given on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

Prize Play at Shea's

"Madonna of the Louvre," the play which was selected from nearly fifty others as the one suitable for a starring vehicle for Adele Blood will be produced by her at Shea's, Monday, June 29. Nearly six weeks ago Adele Blood inaugurated the contest for Canadian authors, which closed June 15. Mr. T. Daniel Praxley, general stage director of the Oliver Morosco production, "Peg o' My Heart," "Help Wanted," "Kitty Gowen," "Pretty Mrs. Smith," "Bird of Paradise," etc., was the final judge who decided that the "Madonna of the Louvre," by H. Benjamin Osborne, of Kingston, Ont., was the most suitable play for Miss Blood. Arrangements have just been completed for Miss Blood to open a Broadway theatre, with her new play next season, and bookings are now being made in all of the leading cities of the United States and Canada. The play, which won for Mr. Osborne one thousand dollars in cash is a four-act modern problem drama, and will afford Miss Blood an excellent opportunity to display that emotional power which has made her name so well known. Mr. H. Cooper-Cliffe, the distinguished English actor so well remembered as the original "Nobody" in "Everyman," has been brought from New York to play the leading male character, while William Raymond, formerly Billie Burke's leading man in another well-known actor engaged especially for the production. The scenic requirements of the play are such that it was necessary to have special scenic artists brought from New York, while the costumes worn by Miss Blood are now being completed by New York and Toronto modistes.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy" Revived by Bonstelle Players at the Alexandra.

Historians of the American drama are still unanimous in their opinions that of all the "pretty" plays given the stage, none were so much in vogue when first produced as Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's own dramatization of her delightful story for young and old, as "Little Lord Fauntleroy." From time to time, since its first presentation a quarter of a century ago, it has been "revived" with much success. In view of the fact that New York is to see another revival of Mrs. Burnett's best work next season with a carefully

THE FIELD OF ART

Sketches That Give An Entirely New Idea of the Pencil's Use Numbered Among the John Ross Robertson Collection—Canadians in Paris Salon—Art in Advertising—News of Artists and Collectors.

By Irene B. Wrenshall.
THERE is one part of the John Ross Robertson collection of historic pictures, in particular that has a peculiar fascination for the artistically inclined, and where one lingers on each visit, it is before the several screens bearing the pencil sketches of G. Hallowe White, a deceased member of the O.S.A. When you say pencil sketches you think perhaps of a rough drawing the foundation for an oil or water color painting, just a suggestion of lines upon which, as a foundation, is later built up the finished picture. But these sketches give an entirely new idea of pencil drawing. Foundations they truly have been for many a delicate water color from the artist's sensitive brush, but unlike other foundations, each sketch is a finished product. You do not miss the effect of light and shadow, and the strength and boldness of the delicate reflections of a willow tree over the river on which they are full of spirit of the outdoors, where they were made, and have the advantage, perhaps, over other sketches which are less rapid of production, of being complete at the one drawing.

If you want to know how much art there is in the present-day advertising, a visit to the exhibits of the Associated Advertising Convention during their stay here must have been a revelation. Graphic art is always one of the most interesting parts of an art exhibition, and there was graphic art used in every conceivable way. Not only graphic art, but landscape art has been drawn into the advertising world in its last few years, and with the aid of the most up-to-date methods of lithographing and engraving furnishes a delightful medium for the advertiser, and one which responds to the artistic as well as the practical side of the onlooker.

In foreign exhibits of the convention, which included those from Great Britain and Germany, the trend of modern art was clearly seen, and did not by any means cover the whole field. But the impressionist is beginning to make himself felt in the commercial art world, and this is well worthy of notice. In the German section this was particularly noticeable where the tendency to suggestion was very strong. It was worthy of note the beauty of coloring and drawing in the majority of the big posters, and showed the modern trend towards beauty instead of ugliness as an asset to commerce. As an example of this was a striking colored plate, large head of Mercury in green, soft in texture and suggestive of sculpture, against a background of bronze gold, standing out against a groundwork of black lettered in green, the whole effect startling in its daring yet full of dignity. The cubist is not overlooked by the advertising designer, and many of the most modern posters were examples of cubist or futurist art, bold, yet attractive in their odd designs.

It is hard to believe at a first glance that only a pencil has been used, that so good a medium has been employed to give the depth of the shadows, and the strength and boldness of the more intense lines. Only about four inches square, they still carry the character of each place, and from both a geographical and historical, as well as an artistic standpoint are very educational. In subject they are almost Dominion wide. The collector has been very fortunate in securing these original and very perfect little sketches.

Mr. and Mrs. MacGillivray Knowles, with their sketching class, left for the south shore of Prince Edward Island, where they will spend the summer among the picturesque surroundings of the Sand Banks.

Canadian interest in the exhibition of the new Salon of Paris, centres around the work of two Canadian artists, who figure prominently in it. Clarence Gagnon, formerly of Montreal, whose French-Canadian winter scenes were admired at the recent exhibition of the Canadian Art Club, and John Russell, who held an exhibition at Robert's Art Gallery the past winter. The latter has three life-size canvases on the line, a portrait of himself, a strong study of an old Breton woman and child, and a study of a dancing girl. A sketch of the latter was among the favorite subjects of his exhibition here in Toronto.

By the death of Mr. Charles Davis, M.V.O., art expert to the King, the world of art loses another man of wide knowledge and experience in art. The late Mr. Davis might be said to have been born into his calling, his father, Mr. Frederick Davis, having been the art expert for such nobles and collectors as the Rothschilds, and Lord Hertford. The late Mr. Charles Davis was an invaluable assistant to Sir Richard Wallace, Lord Hertford's heir, in helping him to gather the magnificent national collection at Hertford House, better known as the Wallace collection. He was everywhere known as an undaunted collector, and an expert of unlimited knowledge. He was appointed art expert to King Edward on June 4, 1902. His career was full of romantic adventure in the world of art treasures.

The English advertising appeared to be more conservative in character, with not so much of a tendency to suggestion and pure colors as the German. It is richer in coloring, and rather more subdued, yet with a good deal of black to bring out the contrasts in the posters. A great deal of pen and ink work and etching were to be seen in the English advertising displays, and formed an interesting contrast to the bolder poster style of art.

The artistic trend showed in the magazine advertisements were reproductions of masterpieces in art, and beautiful illuminations are being used more and more instead of the old time ugliness of a crude poster or ill-drawn figure. The touch of the impressionist showed strongly in the American advertising, the suggestion of a night scene, a busy day at a seaport, each requiring the touch of an artist for its carrying out. Etchings have also been used in many of the advertisements, lithographed with splendid effect. In fact, the artist and the lithographer seem to be working in complete harmony these days, to judge from the Ad Convention's exhibits, for the effect of oils, water colors, pastels, and etchings seems to have been carefully carried out in the reproduction.

Magazine covers are the last word in commercial art, as evidenced by the exhibits from the latest of cubist creations to delicate sketches of the woodland forest and garden, of which each and all may be a daily education in beauty, if they are held as the chief object in reproduction.

NOTABLE PROGRESS IN MUSIC LEAGUE

Nearly Two Hundred Young Singers and Instrumentalists Appeared Before Judges Within Two Months.

Progress so notable as to cause surprise has attended the early efforts of the Music League of America, the philanthropic organization formed a few months ago to benefit music, musicians and the music-loving public.

Mr. Bispham's work has covered every branch of vocal art, opera, oratorio, classic and modern songs, recitation to music and the drama. He has just concluded his first vaudeville tour, extending from coast to coast, every city visited giving him a royal welcome.

Mr. Bispham is one of the most enthusiastic advocates of the use of the English language in concert and opera.

Among the judges who placed the seal of approval on demonstrated efficiency, and who discontinued mediocrity, are such recognized professional and amateur musicians as: Mrs. E. J. Dippel, Francis Rogers, Adriani Ariani, Gustav Becker, Paolo Gallico, Maximilian Pilzer, Edouard Dellier, Max Karzer, Michael Bani, and Mademoiselle Charles B. Foote, Kelly Cole and Florence Pease.

Every one of these young singers, violinists and pianists now endorsed by the Music League, will be given every opportunity possible to be heard in public at professional fees in the near future.

Howard E. Potter, who has successfully served as acting manager on the American tours of Melba, Sembrich and Kubelik, is the general representative of the league.

Another move taken by the league, in whose board of directors Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt is now serving, is the extending of co-operation to communities feeling the need of expert musical advice and guidance.

The financial profits accruing from each concert are to be set aside in a fund which is to be used to educate the most talented young musicians in the city or town where the series take place.

Not long ago Mrs. Patrick Campbell made a confession which must come as a surprise to many of her admirers, but which, at the same time, should serve as an inspiration to many young and ambitious actresses.

She was never stage-struck. In fact, she reported that she had just been offered a role in a play until she was compelled to accept it.

Nothing," she said, "is an interview. It is a stern necessity. I must go to the stage. I had to decide between becoming a governess and educating the children of others or going on the stage where I could be near my own."

She was never stage-struck. In fact, she reported that she had just been offered a role in a play until she was compelled to accept it.

COLLEGE DEGREE FOR BARITONE

David Bispham, One of the Foremost Singers of the Present Day, Becomes Doctor of Laws.

In recognition of his services to education and to national art, Harvard College, Mr. Bispham's alma mater, has just conferred upon him the well-earned degree of doctor of laws.

Mr. Bispham's work has covered every branch of vocal art, opera, oratorio, classic and modern songs, recitation to music and the drama.

Francis Fischer Powers, the successful teacher of singing at the Canadian Academy of Music, has resigned his position there and will open his autumn season on October 1 at the Associated Studios, Davidson House, corner College and Beverley streets.

Two life-like photographs of James Cuyler Black, soloist at the Metropolitan Church and teacher of singing, adorn the pages of Musical America, issue of June 20.

Cyril Scott, the English pianist and composer, is coming to this country next season. His appearance will be confined mostly to drawing room music, when his programs will be largely made up of his own compositions.

Walter Damrosch, conductor of the New York Symphony Orchestra, has asked permission of The New York Musical Union, to import oboes and clarinets from the continent.

Isabel Hewitt is playing the organ at Knox Church, during the absence of H. M. Fletcher.

Earle Newton, piano teacher of the Canadian Academy of Music, on the continent.

Marietta La Dell, the elocutionist, has left the city to begin a series of sixty-five recitals at a number of theatres during the summer.

Yale University recently conferred upon Jean Sibelius, the celebrated Finnish composer, the degree of Doctor of Music.

Rumor says that Henry Russell, Henry Higgins and Felix Isman, have leased the Theatre Champs-Élysées, Paris, for a period of twenty years. They propose to devote nine months of the year to moving pictures and the remaining three months to grand opera.

Louise Edvina, the Canadian soprano, is reported to have given an exceptionally attractive impersonation of the role of Flora in "L'Amore dei Tre Re," at Covent Garden during the first week in June.

Vera Barstow, the gifted violinist, is reported to have given a program with her old teacher Luigi von Knabits, engaged as one of the leaders of the orchestra for a series of concerts.

Three songs, made by H. G. Oke, words by J. and J. A. Dwyer, have just been published by Keith, Frowse & Company, London. They are "We, the Men of Ulysses," "The Execution" and "Twixt Stella and Charly."

Aborn Talks of Giving England Opera in English. Plans to Take His Company of 175 for an Eight-Weeks' Season of Grand Opera.

LONDON, June 27.—Prospects are brighter for the American invasion extending to the London opera field, according to Milton Aborn, manager of the Century Opera Company, who is now on his annual trip abroad.

Mr. Aborn has reason to believe that the negotiations are going very well. He said: "It will mean that English opera lovers for the first time will hear Puccini, Wolf-Ferrari, Chaperier and Massenet in English."

General Motor Trade News of Detroit and Other Centres

Much Interest in New Dodge Car—No Glidden Tour This Year. Trade Prospects Bright.

Special to Sunday World.

DETROIT, June 27.—Out at the Brighton Beach Motordrome of Long Island, the Dodge car is to be introduced round the high banks and a number of cyclecars from Europe are to be imported with the drivers to meet the American cars and drivers. Four cars may be raced at one time. There has been built what is known as the lower track and this runs around the pole and allows of starting on a track with comparatively little alant after which the four wheelers will take easily to the high banks.

National touring week under the auspices of the American Automobile Association and backed by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, starts June 27 and promises to be most successful according to officials of the two organizations.

The utmost interest is being taken in the probable car to be put out by Dodge Brothers and any man from Detroit traveling thru the country is impounded at every turn for information. All the information obtainable thus far has been that the new creation will have a frame and four wheels and presumably a steering wheel. Even at that the dealers are willing to sign a tentative contract for the agency, it is reported, and district managers of the country report General Sales Manager Arthur T. Philip as buried with agency requests, "right unseen."

The New York State Commission on Prison Reform, which was appointed a year ago, has just filed the preliminary report of its findings. The commission places itself on record as favoring the employment of able-bodied male convicts in constructing and repairing the highways of the state and the several counties, in addition to which farms should be developed at all of the institutions so that as many convicts as possible may be employed in the open air, all work to be conducted under the honor system.

The entry list for the 300-mile race, which is to be run at Sioux City, Iowa, July 4, has closed with twenty-five cars nominated for the $25,000 purse. This race will be second in importance only to Indianapolis, and it is expected to be an eye-opener inasmuch as it is to be run on a two-mile dirt track. Of the twenty-five cars in, six are of foreign make and one of them is the winner of the 500-mile Indianapolis race, the Delage, which Rene Thomas piloted to victory and which is to be driven at Sioux City by Billy Knipper. There are three Peugeot nominated and one of these will be handled by Ralph Mulford. It is not known who will have the other two, but maybe Bob Burman will drive one of them. The two Sunbeams will be in with Harry Grant and George Babcock as pilots. The American entries are: Stutz, Oldfield; Stutz, Gil Anderson; Moore, Wieshart; Marmon, Cy. Patzohke; Marmon, Mason; Ray, Brook; King, Klein; Beaver Bullet, Keene; Chalmers, Wetmore; Dusenberg, Richenbacher; Dusenberg, Haupt; Mason, not named; National, Bauer; Metrop, Horan; Gray Fox, Wilcox Moon, Caillouette.

Again Galveston, Texas, is to stage the only automobile beach meet to be held this season. The professional events will be run on July 30, August 1, and August 3, and events for amateurs will be held on July 31. The Galveston Beach races are run each year simultaneously with the big annual cotton carnival, which draws people from the entire state of Texas and the surrounding country. $5000 has been appropriated in prizes by the committee in charge. Many of the drivers who are entered at Sioux City have expressed their intention of participating.

The second important appointment this week in the Dodge Brothers, Detroit, organization, is that of Jones Nichols, Jr., who will be Seattle representative. Mr. Nichols has held a number of responsible positions of the same territory he will handle for Dodge Brothers.

One of the most important happenings in some time in the automobile circles of New York City is the securing of the Willys-Knight agency by the C. T. Silver Motor Company. The Silver Company has handled the Overland for several years and now cars manufactured by John N. Willys. With its "French tailored" lines, its central headlight and general foreign appearance, the Briscoe car arrived at the salesroom of Partridge, Clark & Kerrigan, Inc., New York City, a few days ago, where it created a great sensation.

The 1915 Winton car is out, and at a glance one can see that it has all the earmarks of a big, luxurious, easy-riding car, replete with conveniences.

A. L. Picard of New York City left recently for the Pacific Coast in the interests of the Ford equipment department of Gray & Davis. His brother, Leo Picard, has entered the motor car industry as his assistant in the marketing of the Gray & Davis Ford car products.

Barney Oldfield was in New York, Tuesday of last week, in his car prepared to the speed king by the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company. Oldfield said that Beasley was only slightly injured by his 50-foot fall, but that his flying machine was so injured that it was necessary to postpone the until later in the season. After an appearance at Hartford, Oldfield and Beasley will start a trip across America, reaching Sioux City for the race of July 4, in which Barney will drive a Stutz in the contest for the $25,000 purse.

It is generally conceded that the calling off of the Glidden tour thru a lack of entries of the prominent manufacturers is a bad thing for the business. A number of dealers in the east who recently discussed the matter said that the effects upon the retail trade would be bad. The dealers are anxious to have the makers participate in national touring events and do not believe that they should be compelled to go to the expense of participation.

Work is being pushed to completion on the Canadian transcontinental highway from Halifax on the Atlantic to Vancouver on the Pacific, and this motor highway of 3000 miles will be one of the prettiest pieces of road ever known. The most difficult piece of the road, that thru the British Columbia mountains, is now being constructed. The portion of the road from Calgary to Vancouver is the prettiest of the long journey.

Paris, France, is using 100 motor trucks for street cleaning purposes, watering carts and street sweepers are combined in the one cart.

Improvements at the Indianapolis motor speedway during the year will include the addition of a clubhouse after the drivers and their mechanics, and the installation of a large bathing pool or natatorium under cover. A number of other changes are to be made, including the addition of fifteen feet to the track around the inside, and the construction of the life saving containing walls at all points. Such work is not already completed. Additional seating is also to be arranged, as in spite of accommodations in the stands for 50,000 people the seating has been found inadequate.

Louis Mansbach of the Times Square Auto Company, after a visit to the Detroit automobile manufacturing plants, and to all other automobile centres, pronounced the business booming in every section of the country and the makers busier than at any time before. Mr. Mansbach makes regular trips, and his latest was a revelation to him. The business was best with makers building cars at from $1,000 to $1,200. In sections where farmers are largely the buyers, business is a little slow owing to harvesting being on, but these sections pick up wonderfully later on.

The National Association of Manufacturers again elected Colonel George Pope as president at its late meeting. Colonel Pope is the receiver at present for the Pope Manufacturing Company of Hartford, Connecticut.

H. D. Day has been appointed district representative for Dodge Brothers. Mr. Day has an unusually wide acquaintance thruout the United States, not only among motor car men but with business men in general. He was at one time general sales manager for the E. T. Burrows Company, and later vice-president and general sales manager of the Self-Operating Valve Company. Mr. Day will direct the sale of Dodge Brothers' motor car in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Vermont, New Hampshire, and Maine.

"Bob" Burman, the speed king, is satisfied with the performance of his Burman specials at the Indianapolis race, and after their tryouts in that race believes that he has something good. He is now at work revising some errors of construction which developed in the 500-mile race, and expects to go to the tape in the Sioux City race with one of the cars. Burman will also be an entrant for the Elgin road races.

Chairman Kennendell of the contest board of the American Automobile Association, has announced some new classification figures, and also the reduction of the entry fees for contests generally. Division 1A for class A cars, hitherto a class for cars under $500, is made and is for cars listing at from $450 downwards. A rule has also been made that intoxicants will not be allowed around a race course, for the use of drivers or officials, and the penalty is disqualification.

Col. K. C. Pardee, the veteran New York dealer, who joined the American Volturette Company of New York when that organization took the agency for the Car-Nation and Keeton cars in the Metropolitan area, has severed his connection with that company.

Harry S. Houpt, dealer in Lozier cars in New York City, and the metropolitan district, sold 103 Lozier cars in May, and delivered 97 of these.

PAIGE

The shipping "yard" reflects Paige popularity

In the Paige shipping yard and on the loading platform—that's where you will find the proof of Paige popularity. Hour after hour—day after day—Paige cars are started on their way to every state of the Union in response to a persistently increasing demand from the public. Argue as you will there is no greater object lesson than this—no greater proof of Paige supremacy in the motor car field.

Here at the factory, we know what the public thinks of the Paige. There is only one way that we can interpret the tidal wave of demand that surges back to us from Paige dealers all over the country.

No one could misunderstand a demand that has increased Paige sales from $44,000 to $1,250,000 a month. No one could misunderstand a demand that has moved us bodily from a small two-story plant into the present mammoth Paige factory.

No one could misunderstand a demand which has compelled us to increase our output from 300 to 13,000 cars annually.

A Sure 25% Saved on Tires

18 makes of tires now sell above Goodyear prices. Half of them sell about one-third higher. As between them and Goodyears, you are sure of one saving—right at the start—of 25 per cent.

Arrogant Prices

The evidence is that Goodyear tires are the best tires built today. They outsell any other. And they won that place by millions of mileage tests.

If that is so, an extra price means simple arrogance. Or it is used to infer an extra quality, which doesn't and cannot exist. Or it is forced by limited, high-cost production.

None of those reasons warrants you in paying the higher prices.

Our Latest Saving

Price is our latest saving. For years we worked solely to increase the Goodyear mileage. No-Rim-Cut tires then cost you more than others.

We reached the present-day limit in good tires, then turned our efforts to reducing cost. Now No-Rim-Cut tires cost you half what they used to cost. Last year's reductions totaled 23%.

And many of the tires which once undersold us, cost you more than Goodyears now. One reason lies in the modern equipment and high efficiency of our great Bowmanville factory.

Things Others Lack

These four features of No-Rim-Cut tires are found in no others, whatever the price:

First, our No-Rim-Cut feature.

Second, our "On-Air" cure—done to save the countless blow-outs due to wrinkled fabric.

Third, our patent method for combating tread separation.

Fourth, our All-Weather tread—our double-thick, resistless anti-skid, yet as flat and smooth running as a plain tread.

These are all costly features. One of them adds to our own cost immensely. Yet we offer them all in No-Rim-Cut tires, and no high-priced tire offers one of them.

If these facts appeal to you, ask your dealer to supply you Goodyear tires.
