

Operations On Wider Scale

That Is Indication On the Somme Front

COMBLES IS ENCRICLED

French Cut Into Outer Defences of Rancourt—Heavy Task At Mont St. Quentin Before Persons Can Be Taken

Paris, Sept. 15.—(By Fred Pitney in the Toronto Mail and Empire)—The French have reached positions in the Somme which encourage the hope that the tactical struggle of two years can develop into strategic work in the near future. The battering that has crumbled the German trench lines may give way to operations on a wider scale. Still pressing forward from the Somme, the French threaten the towns of Comblès and Rancourt. Already they have cut their way through the outer defences of these strongholds. By capturing Rancourt yesterday, they encircled Comblès completely except for two roads leading to the northeast. The British advance today was controlled of these.

Foch's troops pushed forward today to the outskirts of Rancourt in the Bapaume-Peronne road. The Germans, in an effort to save the rest of the high-way, delivered a heavy counter-attack from Clercy, but this was hurled back with heavy loss to the Teutons.

Fine Piece of Work

The capture of Prize Farm was a notable work. This position was honey-combed with underground passages and redoubts and fortified with six separate lines of trenches. These were cleaned up completely by the French troops, to whom detailed information had been furnished through patrol troops and photographs taken by aviators.

German counter-attacks against the two hills which had been the immediate objectives of this offensive failed utterly, showing that the French are masters of these positions. The length of the front on which the French have been clearing the way has been cleared on the front north of the Somme.

Mont St. Quentin

These two hills—180 and 76-face Mont St. Quentin, with only the Tonnin river and a canal blocking the way. It is Mont St. Quentin that Foch's must assault before Peronne can be taken, for on that height the greater part of the German artillery is massed. Opposing Foch's troops are the forces commanded by Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, who now has 100,000 troops including the last division brought hurriedly from Verdun. The fierceness of the German counter-attacks indicates the obstinacy with which the Germans intend to defend the remaining defences of Peronne. But despite this determination and despite the five divisions massed in this sector, Prince Rupprecht's tactics are falling. Foch's repeated blows and it is to be imagined that they will prove still more insufficient for the task set them in the offensive opens up into the strategic phase when the French descend the slopes of the hills they occupy.

THROUGH TRENCHES, BARBED WIRE AND SHELL CRATERS GOES NEW BRITISH ARMORED CAR

London, Sept. 16.—The reference in Thursday's official communication to a new type of armored car, is the first official mention of a development which has been much whispered about recently in army circles. Those who have seen the new vehicles refer to them as "tanks," while the soldiers have given them the nickname of "Willies."

The designers sought to render a heavily armored motor car, capable of being operated in the shell torn and roadless wilderness of trenches, where a vehicle mounted on ordinary wheels could not be used.

The Times says:—Our inventors have not hesitated boldly to tread unbeaten paths. We may imagine the feelings of German infantry in shell battered trenches when, in the uncertain light of dawn, they saw advancing upon them an array of unearthly monsters cased in steel spitting fire and crawling laboriously, but ceaselessly over trenches, barbed wire and shell craters.

Gallant Work by Canadians Acquired Themselves With Credit During the Last Week; Some Details of Fighting

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, Sept. 15.—The ordinary activities of trench warfare, with which the Canadians are now so well acquainted, continued to occupy their attention during the last week. The steady training of specialists which had been proceeding for several months is bearing fruit. Our snipers showed their skill and ingenuity and secured three direct hits and one effectually silenced the enemy.

Sniper Dillon of a Winnipeg battalion lay twenty-five yards in front of our own trenches the whole of one day and although the Germans made efforts to locate him he was too well concealed. He secured three direct hits and pierced several loopholes.

On one part of the line held by a Montreal battalion the Germans began a bombardment with heavy trench mortars and threw about thirty bombs. In one trench the Canadians were in a position to shift. Should Detroit lose and Chicago defeat Boston, Chicago would jump into the National League.

HAS GRAFT BECOME A BRITISH INSTITUTION?

Has graft become a British institution? Does the Hon. Geo. J. Clarke, premier of New Brunswick, entertain that view?

The St. Croix Courier reflects the views of Premier Clarke. In this week's issue, an article which we may fairly assume expresses his views, and which deals with the campaign in Carleton county, concludes with a statement to the effect that a victory for the government candidates will be a victory for those "who seek a continuance of British institutions."

There it is, as plain as a pike-staff. The chief characteristic of the present government has been its tolerance of graft. Perhaps the word tolerance is not strong enough to fit the case. Grafting operations have been exposed over and over again by its own royal commissions, and only yesterday the charge was made that Premier Clarke knew about $2,500 paid as graft by a contractor.

The affidavit on its face, shows that the premier did not receive one cent of the money.

But Mr. Clarke, in the Courier, pleads for a continuance of British institutions. Are the people to understand that in order to preserve those institutions it is necessary to continue in power a government which condoned the plunder of the Southampton Railway and the Valley Railway, the hold-up of the lumbermen, the looting of the timber land revenues, the farm sales graft, the road and bridge graft, and the hold-up of the liquor dealers?

Premier Clarke has commanded personal sympathy because of the state of his health, but he has retained the office of premier and must accept responsibility for the acts of the government. He should have resigned. He has made it necessary for the people to save him that trouble by voting him out of office, and they are only awaiting the opportunity to do it.

His newspaper organ, which has had almost nothing to say on the subject of provincial politics for a long period, would have gained more credit by continuing its silence. But it was characteristic of the whole government policy that the Courier should try to make it appear that Mr. Carvell is the issue in Carleton county.

The people are not deceived, and they will also refuse to accept the doctrine that graft is a British institution and ought to be preserved. New Brunswick is about to put the seal of its utter condemnation on graft and the grafters.

THE WAR NEWS

The steady advance of the British and French in the west will not be received with undue emotion, for we do not yet know what the present German plans may be. Von Hindenburg is credited with holding the conviction that the war is to be decided in the east, and it may be that he is willing to give ground gradually in the west in order to prepare for a mighty blow in the east.

It is nevertheless clear that there are to be no more German gains in the west. The British and French have been able to pierce the German third line of defence, and what they have gained are gaining will be held. The German grip is loosening in the west because it must, and today's cables hint at Allied operations on a wider scale as a result of the great success of the last week.

A glance at the map shows that since the first of July the Allies have made very important gains, and they are still forcing the enemy back on the Somme front.

With regard to the east the news is also satisfactory, especially in the Balkan region. We must wait, however, to learn what the enemy will do as a result of the recent conference. If they are unable to concentrate forces enough to create a formidable diversion at some points the winter will find them driven back everywhere within greatly narrowed limits, and Bulgaria and Turkey practically out of the fight.

The Italians have again resumed the offensive on an enlarged scale, and the pressure on Austria is heavier than ever. The Allies have this advantage that they can strike where and when they choose, with such force as to keep the enemy constantly worried over the next great blow will fall. The situation is very hopeful for the Allies.

Untermyer Operated On
Yonkers, N.Y., Sept. 16.—Samuel Untermyer, noted lawyer, was operated on for intestinal trouble at his country home, Greystone, on Thursday.

A PERFECTLY CLEAR CASE

The Standard this morning publishes affidavits from Mr. E. Lorne Merrithew and Mr. Luther B. Smith, who were partners with Mr. R. J. Arnill in the transaction which netted Mr. James H. Crockett the sum of $2,500. It also prints an article from the Fredericton Gleaner. The substance of the affidavits and the Gleaner article is that the transaction was between Smith and Merrithew and the Hibbard Company, and St. John and Quebec Railway Company, and the government had nothing to do with it.

This is all very fine, but the check in settlement of the Smith & Merrithew claim was signed by Mr. Irving R. Todd, as president, after the affairs of the St. John & Quebec Railway Company had been taken over by the government and its appointees placed in charge.

Mr. Crockett got the $2,500. The Gleaner admits it, but says it was a purely friendly transaction between himself and the contractor, Mr. Crockett is certainly happy in his friendships. Brushing aside all the verbiage in the Merrithew affidavit and the Gleaner article, these facts appear:

1.—The claim of Smith & Merrithew was settled after the government had assumed control of the affairs of the St. John & Quebec Railway Co.

2.—That settlement must have been made with the knowledge and consent of the government.

3.—Mr. James H. Crockett got $2,500 out of the transaction.

The people will draw their own conclusions.

NATIONAL PARKS

We have heard nothing for a long time about the project of converting Fort Howe into a national park. No doubt when the war is over the work will again claim attention.

It is interesting to note in this connection that a national park to be established on Mt. Desert Island on the Maine coast is to be named after Sieur de Monts, and thus our neighbors will commemorate the name of the French colonizer with whom Samuel de Champlain came to the Bay of Fundy. The Bangor Commercial gives the following interesting account of the new National Park and its attractions:

"The creation of the Sieur de Monts National Monument on Mt. Desert Island, signals the establishment of the first national park in the eastern states. This park is the first national playground to be instituted east of the Mississippi river and marks the realization of the desire of the administration to include the eastern states in this policy of national parks.

"It has not been the easiest of tasks to achieve this object, which has been accomplished primarily through the generosity of owners of lands which were placed some years ago in a trusteeship with the definite intention of presenting the same to the United States government, which has now been done. One would go far before finding as beautiful a domain as is presented by this wide-spreading area of Mt. Desert Island, embracing, as it does, towering and rugged mountains, charming sylvan lakes and ponds and in the foreground the waters of Frenchman's bay, all affording as magnificent a vista as can be found in the United States.

"It is entirely fitting that Mt. Desert should be chosen for the location of the initial national park in the Eastern States. It is rich in historical lore, unsurpassed in its scenic charms, in its health-giving breezes and modernized by the beautiful villas of the summer colonists who come to its hospitable shores.

"The establishment of the national monument on Mt. Desert means that the charms of the island will never grow less. With the park of many thousands of acres maintained in its present scenic beauty, for under its government ownership no woodman's axe will despoil its delights will be retained for the generations to come and the island will always be a Mecca for those who are seeking relief from the noise and bustle of the city and who desire to obtain inspiration and delight from the rugged and wonderful scenery where ocean, mountain, forest and lake unite to charm and gladden the eye.

"It means much to Maine that the national government has decided to commence its eastern development of the national domain system with the choice of Mt. Desert, for in the years to come this glorious playground will bring many visitors to Maine and to Mt. Desert Island."

LIGHTER VEIN

One hears some stories, tall and short, interesting and otherwise, while traveling by train.

The other evening several miners entered a smoking compartment and immediately opened conversation with an elderly gentleman, who told them of a glaring miscarriage of justice in connection with a police court case in which he was greatly interested.

Then one of the miners chimed in. He said that he knew a man who was sentenced to three months' hard labor for picking up a rope!

His friends, ridiculed the statement, but the narrator stuck to his words. "Perhaps he was an 'old hand,'" suggested the elderly gentleman.

"No, he wasn't," persisted the miner. "In fact he was never in a police court before."

"What kind of a rope was it, then?" "A usual sort—about six yards long."

Still the company was unconvinced. The train stopped at a station and the government steaming at the disposal of the government, add its private shippers, dry docks, and workshops were thrown open to the French naval constructors, and Ministry of Marine. Notwithstanding an

New York, Sept. 15.—The annual report of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, better known as the French Line, made public here, shows that France's merchant marine has grown instead of diminished since the war began. Among other vessels, the company has built and placed in commission a modern passenger steamship of 14,800 tons, and it has maintained an uninterrupted passenger and freight service between France and the Western Hemisphere.

At the beginning of the war the French Line placed every available steamship at the disposal of the government, and its private shippers, dry docks, and workshops were thrown open to the French naval constructors, and Ministry of Marine. Notwithstanding an almost total absence of tourist travel, the reduction to an insignificant minimum of westward emigration traffic and losses incurred through the submarine activity, the report shows a substantial profit, due to large freight traffic.

In 1915 the French Line offset the losses incurred through requisitions and the acts of enemy submarines by placing in commission, besides the Lafayette, the Vaudeuse, La Nierre, Ardeche, Mont Blanc, La Dives, Saint Andre, Saint Joseph, Saint Jean, Saint Louis and the Saint Marc. In December, 1916, the company had eighty-five steamships, a total net tonnage of 894,000, and 899,860 horse power, an increase over 1914 of one steamship, 6,414 net tonnage and 4,500 horse power.

The heavy demand in France for material and labor has retarded construction of the gigantic new steamship Paris, which was to have been completed and placed in commission last year. Work on the Paris has been continued steadily, and it is expected that it will be ready for service soon after peace is declared.

Freight shipments were hampered through the restriction of freight and loading facilities in the port of New York and also through the inadequate equipment and shortage of labor in the French ports. Congestion in New York is attributed to the unusual number of vessels from the ports in Europe, from South American and Pacific Coast points, which made the question of berthing all incoming vessels a matter of delay and difficulty. Even after coming to a pier in New York, the report states, vessels have sometimes remained idle a week before sufficient facilities could be obtained to load them.

ACCUSE WOMAN OF 5 MURDERS

Mrs. Amy Archer-Gilligan's Case Soon Before Grand Jury

Held Since May; Autopsies on Bodies from Old People's Home Cause New Charges

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 16.—Results of autopsies performed on five of the bodies of those who went from Mrs. Amy E. Archer-Gilligan's alleged "murder factory" to the cemetery will be part of the evidence which Hugh M. Alcorn, state's attorney, will lay before the grand jury. Each of these bodies, it is said, shows traces of arsenic poison. Mr. Alcorn will therefore ask that the woman, who has been held in the county jail since last May for the death of Franklin R. Andrews, be indicted for four other murders.

Since the deaths of inmates of Mrs. Archer-Gilligan's Archer Home for elderly persons first aroused the suspicion which culminated in the arrest of the woman, five bodies of inmates of the home are known to have been exhumed. Others may have been dug up, for secrecy has been thrown about the case by the prosecutor.

Autopsies on Five Bodies

Those upon which it is certain that autopsies have been made are: Andrews, Franklin R., died in Archer Home, May 30, 1914. Exhumed May 2, at Cheshire.

Gilligan, Michael W., second husband of the accused woman, died in Archer Home, February 20, 1914. Exhumed July 1, at Windsor Locks.

Govdy, Mrs. Alice, died December 4, 1914, in Archer Home. Exhumed at Spring Grove cemetery, Hartford, July 17.

Smith, Charles A., died April 9, 1914, at Archer Home. Exhumed at Waterbury, June 21.

Another body was dug up about the same time as the Andrews grave was opened. Nothing has been learned concerning the identity of this body.

When the woman, if indicted, will be called on to face trial is not known. This will depend, Mr. Alcorn said, on the rapidity with which the grand jury completes its work. The September term of the court will open on the 21st. Meanwhile the woman charged with the cold-blooded murder of old persons placed under her care has been under close examination by alienists ever since she was put in jail. What their findings have been, only Mr. Alcorn knows, and he is following out his plan of saying nothing concerning the case until he lays all his evidence before the grand jury.

In Jail Since May

Mrs. Archer-Gilligan was arrested early in May. For seven years preceding that date she had been proprietress of the Archer Home at Windsor, which she established. Numerous deaths which occurred in her institution aroused public suspicion, and the body of one of her patients, Andrews, was exhumed. At that time it was announced that the man had died from arsenic poisoning.

A person charged with murder cannot be released on bail in Connecticut, and Mrs. Archer-Gilligan went to jail, asserting that she was innocent. This declaration also has been made by the woman's daughter, who has clung to her loyalty through the long ordeal.

ENGLAND WANTS CANADA'S PULP

Ships Will Solve Paper Shortage For Great Britain

The serious situation that has arisen in connection with the paper supply in this country, says "P. M. G." in the Pall Mall Gazette, is complicated by the fact that Canada has an abundance of pulp and is eager and anxious to obtain facilities for its transport to the market here. It is an urgently needed article to which patriotic Canadians would most readily send it.

At the present moment the great market for Canadian pulp and paper is the United States. While Great Britain is importing pulp and paper from several countries, Canada is compelled to sell elsewhere.

The Hon. P. Pelletier, Agent-General for Quebec, in the course of an interview with a representative of the Pall Mall Gazette, expressed the opinion that a strong appeal should be made to the government to encourage the trade between Canada and the mother country.

"There are," he said, "eighteen pulp mills in the Province of Quebec, the bulk of the produce of these mills goes to the United States. It is practically the only market they have, although very many of them are very anxious indeed to do business with this country. Although freights are higher to this country than to the United States, that would not prevent a big development of the trade; it is the shortage of tonnage that stands in the way. If the government here could be induced to release some ships it would encourage the pulp maker in Canada, and promote the establishment of a permanent trade, which would be of the greatest possible value in the future. Purchase from your own instead of purchasing from a stranger, is what Canada says to the mother country."

Canada Meets Demands.

Within the past few months there has been a comparatively unimportant, but nevertheless extremely significant, incident in connection with the pulp and paper trade of Canada.

In the past the great fruit growing parts of the empire outside Canada itself have invariably employed a special make of paper for the purpose of packing the fruit. Canada did not produce this particular paper which was obtained from neutral and what are now enemy countries.

The first inquiries came from Australia and South Africa, and the Canadian paper makers were promptly informed from London of this need in other parts of the empire. Within a short time the demand was met, and there is now every prospect of a hitherto non-existing trade in this paper, which is used in enormous quantities, being built up between Canada and other parts of the empire.

Encourage Pulp Makers.

"There is also another aspect of the question," Mr. Pelletier explained, "if this trade was developed it would encourage the pulp makers of Canada to turn their mills into paper making mills, to the great advantage of Canada. The practice at present is for the American paper mills to get their pulp from Canada. If Canada, in addition to making pulp, converted it into paper, and supplied the mother country, the advantage to this country and to Canada would be very great. Such a trade once established would last forever."

The tonnage difficulty is, of course, of the utmost gravity, but among those who

WHY CONSCRIPTION?

Not far from the city, in a humble little cottage by the country, lived a little old wrinkled woman—all alone. It was late at night, but in her chair she sat, rocking, rocking, rocking, and thinking of the "only lad," the soldier boy, who was "somewhere in France" tonight. How strange it was she could not sleep tonight, and yet she must be tired, for had she not worked hard all day in her little garden.

The farm had been worked on the "shares" since "Andy" had gone to the war more than a year ago. It was late in the night, but sleep would not come, for a strange feeling possessed her. So she rocked and rocked and rocked.

A knock came to the door—a small boy handed her a yellow envelope. She adjusted her glasses and with trembling fingers signed her name. She had half expected it—"Andy" would not come home again. "Andy" was "killed in action." She took down from the mantelpiece the picture of a broad-shouldered young man of twenty or so in khaki, and holding it to her breast with the tear-glasses, she sobbed and rocked.

The night wore on. She heeded not the passing of the hours. She thought of the family across the way with the well-kept farm and the two big strong young men who had recently invested in an auto for Sunday pleasure. She thought of the many other farms in the neighborhood whose sons had not yet heard the "call," and she was old, and a widow, and alone. She thought of the interest on the mortgage that could not be paid. How unfair it all seemed. She had done her share—she had given her boy to the king. The great war was still raging. Would it ever end? Perhaps it would, and more quickly if all the young men were compelled to go and do their share. Why did her son have to go to fight for the whole neighborhood? So she thought and murmured over and over again. "It is not fair. It is a fair law."

"Oh! Mrs. MacPherson has gone crazy," said one of the boys across the road at breakfast the next morning. "As Jim and I were coming home in the car from the dance early this morning, we saw a light in her house. Thinking it strange, we went to see what was wrong, and looking through the window, saw her crying and rocking with a paper held against her breast. Guess it was the notice Uncle George had sent her about her mortgage being overdue. She must intend to dispute his claim, for she was saying over and over again to herself, 'It is not fair. It isn't a fair law.'"

Baby's Critical Six Months

If Baby must be bottle-fed, the first few months of his life are particularly anxious ones for the mother, for he cannot digest or thrive as he should on anything that is not pure, germ-free, and practically identical with mother's milk.

The 'Allenburys' Milk Foods Nos. 1 and 2, are prepared from fresh, clean cow's milk by a special process and supply in an easily digested form all the elements essential for healthy growth during the periods of life for which they are respectively recommended. The Foods are packed in hermetically sealed tins, and are ready for use with the simple addition of hot boiled water only. As thousands of mothers have found to their joy and comfort, the 'Allenburys' Milk Foods effectually replace the maternal milk and provide exactly what Baby needs to bring him through this period safely, firm in flesh, vigorous, and happy.

Give Baby a good start with

'Allenburys' Foods

Milk Food No. 1
From birth to 3 months

Milk Food No. 2
From 3 to 6 months

Then, from 6 months onward, give him the 'Allenburys' Malted Food No. 3, a stronger lactaceous food.

"Infant Feeding and Management" is a Booklet that will help you. Write for it.

SERIAL STORY AND SPECIAL FEATURES AT THE STAR

The large crowds that attended the Star Theatre last night, witnessed one of the greatest bills of pictures imaginable. The same programme will be repeated tonight and intending patrons are urged to attend early, as upwards of 800 people were turned away last night. The show opened with "The Terror of the Fold" a feature production featuring William Clifton and the Bostonick animals. Many people have heard of the Bostonick animals, which combined with a good story, made this a very pleasing picture and at times very exciting. "The Winning Jumpy" the second installment of "The Girl and the Game" proved as great an attraction as the first chapter. Helen Holmes performed her second death-defying feat by jumping from one engine to another while both were in motion. This serial story is growing more popular each week. George Ovey, who is supposed to be the funniest man in America, was featured in a Club comedy, entitled "Jerry in the Movies." The first show tonight will start at 6.45 sharp. The box office will open at 6.15.

PHONE CABLE TROUBLE
Trouble developed last night in the submarine telephone cable across the draw in the Morrissey bridge, between Newcastle and Fredericton, interrupting the service. A crew of men were rushed from St. John to make repairs and today laid a temporary cable to restore connection before commencing work on the damaged one. So far as could be ascertained the interruption was due to a sag in the transmission of messages. The temporary cable was in place and the connection restored by 10:30 o'clock this morning.

SUCCESS ATTENDS UPON FAIRVILLE SALE FOR GIFTS TO SEND TO SOLDIERS
The ladies of Baxter L. O. B. A., No. 52, Fairville, held a very successful party sale, tea and sale last evening in Orange Hall. The proceeds will go toward providing Christmas boxes for Fairville boys now on the firing line. An ice cream booth was in charge of Mrs. Oliver, Simson and Mrs. John Baird. Pies were sold by Mrs. Joshua Chesman and cake by Mrs. William Catherwood and Mrs. Joseph Cochrane. A bread and biscuit table was in charge of Mrs. Joseph Nice, Mrs. William Mitchell and Mrs. Warnock. Misses Florence Giles and Alice Edward Moore sold guesses on a guest cake and Miss Sarah Galbraith disposed of chances on a large centre piece donated by the evening by Mrs. J. Nice and Miss Gertrude Galbraith. The usual games were hotly contested, and a grab bag in charge of Mrs. Duff and Mrs. William Miller provided plenty of surprises. John Baird handled the ladies' bean bag game, and Mrs. James McCrackin was the prize winner. John Sweet was in charge of the men's bean board and Wellington Lester made the highest score. Miss Florence Giles won the guess cake and Miss Edith Byers the centre piece. The affair was well patronized and quite a sum realized. It is the intention of the ladies to pack the boxes separately and send the boxes to their individual destinations in plenty of time for Christmas.

Relatives in this city have received news of the death of Miss Leonora Gertrude Francis, daughter of M. W. Francis, a former St. John man now residing in Jacksonville, Fla. Miss Francis died in Cambridge, Mass., on September 10. She had been a visitor to St. John on various occasions and had many friends here who will learn of her death with sincere regret. The burial took place on last Sunday in Mount Auburn cemetery, Cambridge.

The Man In The Street

You'd almost think the weather man had a spite against the orphans who have been waiting three weeks for their picnic.

Talking of picnics, what the employees of a local establishment have to say about the office force who monopolized the annual picnic and did not let the others in on it, cannot be printed in this highly moral column. "There's a reason."

What difference does a little rain make any way? The sun was shining in Robesay this morning and it may be fine this evening. Take a chance and patronize the picnic fair.

We Are Indignant
The business man who sent a sum of money to the Man in the Street with a request that we bring fame to his establishment by mentioning it in this column has made a serious mistake. We are not to be bribed; we are impartial. He has tried to place us in the same class with the Conservative members of the legislature; besides, a dollar is not enough.

Smith & Merrithew had a better idea of how to estimate the value of a newspaper man's influence.

If any one thinks that we have done them a good turn to the value of $2,500 we implore them not to be shy about coming around and making the cash acknowledgement.

The Hasty Suburbanite
He arose late this morning, and with his eyes still dull with sleep, was hurriedly donning his garments when he was alarmed by the whistle of a locomotive in the distance. Without waiting to look at the clock, he grabbed his collar and tie in one hand, his coat and vest in the other, paced at the front door to pick up his hat and bolted for the station. He heard the train coming closer; it was going to be close and he kept going at top speed; the train caught up to him; it passed him and then he saw that it was not his morning suburban but the Halifax night express coming along more than an hour late.

Her First Thought
Trust a woman to place her appearance before anything else, even her life. The other evening a carriage driving up Main street collided with a woman who attempted to lodge across in front of the horse. The pedestrian was knocked down and the occupants of the carriage were horror-stricken as they realized what had happened and feared that the woman was killed. The driver pulled up the horse with such a jerk that the animal rose to hind legs and started pawing the air with the woman almost under his fore feet. Fortunately the collision and the fall were close and she realized her plight and without a moment's hesitation, she sat up and started to do up her hair again.

SAY LABOR IS SCARCE IN ST. JOHN

Employers Look Forward to Even Greater Shortage in Coming Winter

Employers of labor are looking forward to a shortage of men in St. John this winter. Already it is reported difficult to secure men and, when the winter port season opens, the situation is expected to be much more acute.

While the chief problem is that of securing the ordinary unskilled labor, many employers of skilled labor are said to be having the same trouble. In one establishment which usually employs a dozen mechanics for special work there are only three qualified men in the employ at present and it is found impossible to secure others.

Owing to the scarcity of men, laborers who formerly were glad to get $1.75 a day and who were in luck if they could make $2, are now drawing $2.50 a day for their services. Many untrained men who formerly could make only a laborer's wage are now drawing much higher pay in some of the plants engaged in government work.

As an instance of how difficult it is for an employer to secure men for rough work at ordinary rates, the manager of a local concern told of having had fifteen men on the one job in the space of a month. As fast as he could hire a man the laborer found a better job at higher pay and departed.

Last winter was a prosperous one for the longshoremen and this year it is limited only by their capacity. In some previous years there were more men than different most of the men got steadily work with overtime. This winter, with competition and the men are likely to have all the work they can handle. As the "longshore work" usually draws most of the best and hardest of the local laborers to the harbor, the men left in greater difficulties than they are at present, but the workmen are not worrying.

NOVEMBER 15 TO BE CHILDREN'S DAY IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Sports and Entertainments to Raise Money for Belgian Little Ones School Holiday

Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education in New Brunswick has issued a formal announcement of the selection of Nov. 15 next as "Children's Day for the relief of destitute Belgian children." This is done, on urgent appeal to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, by His Royal Highness the Governor-General, enclosing a communication from the Lord Mayor of London and the Duke of Norfolk, respecting a proposal of the "National Committee for Relief to Belgium," that Canada should hold a Children's Day on behalf of the children who remain in the part of Belgium occupied by Germany.

It is not proposed to ask the children either to collect or to contribute money. The idea is that the proceeds of concerts, sports or other entertainments, quite in consonance with the ordinary routine of school life and organized by the children themselves (assisted by their parents) should provide the contributions so urgently needed.

A careful analysis indicates that there are now as many as 2,000,000 children up to the age of sixteen, in that part of Belgium occupied by the Germans. The majority of these children are destitute. Through the neutral commission for relief they are provided with daily ration which is just enough to keep them alive.

In response to this appeal the board of education has ordered:

(1) That Wednesday, November 15 next, be observed as Children's Day in New Brunswick for the above purposes, and that it shall be recognized as a school holiday for those schools which shall report its observance.

(2) That by means of advertisements and circulars sent by each school district, this object be brought to the notice of pupils, teachers and parents.

SOLDIERS IN TROUBLE OVER BREAK INTO A WATER ST. SALOON

Liquor and Cigars Stolen—Newsboys Find Bag of Bottles

Ptes. Louis Dunphy and Charles Conley faced charges, in the police court this morning of breaking and entering the Lannon saloon in Water street, and stealing fifteen large bottles of whiskey, a dozen of black and two boxes of cigars. After the evidence was in the defendants consented to the jurisdiction of the court, and were committed to the police.

Samuel Standing, bartender, told of being called about 8.30 o'clock this morning to the saloon. He saw a man walking towards Peters' wharf from the rear of the saloon. A little later on he saw two men, dressed in khaki, coming from the dock. They turned up Water street. In about twenty minutes he again heard someone and saw two soldiers at the window. They had something with them. He informed the police.

Policeman Lindsay said that he and Policeman Hayes investigated and found the two defendants sitting at the farther end of Peters' Wharf. They had some bottles. They were taken into custody. Two newsboys, delivering their papers in that vicinity early this morning, found a large sack with some "bottle" bottles stored away. The newsboys reported their find to the police and were detained as witnesses.

The soldiers consenting to be tried by the magistrate, were given a vivid description of what life for them would be if they were sent to Dorchester. He said that it all depended on what their officers would say, and what their former record was. They may be allowed to return to the Field Ambulance Corps, to which unit they belong.

But this question was forever settled in the Free Church session to the effect that the Assembly is bound by its constitution and law. If it transgresses these to the material injury of anybody, it can successfully invoke the protection of the civil court.

Another misleading notion is abroad that the methods employed in state elections are applicable to affairs in the church. The state is a unit, and all of the basis, while nine of these deposed further action, reducing the number to 44 out of 76, there is still less than 2 to 1 of a vote for union. Whereas in the assembly the vote was 4.5 to 1, more than double the proportion voted elsewhere. How is that to be accounted for? Only in one way. The unionists, having a majority in most of the Presbyteries, employed that majority unfairly in choosing commissioners. In one Presbytery open objection to a name proposed was offered—that he was against union. (This was not in the Presbytery of Montreal, which was at least one Presbytery that acted fairly in this matter.) What was done overtly in this one known case must have been done covertly in many other cases in order to secure the result shown in the assembly's vote, so that the largeness of the majority was so much made in order to secure the result shown in the assembly's vote, so that the largeness of the majority was so much made

Without yielding these points, let careful examination of the vote in the last Assembly be held, and the conviction reached is that the largeness of the majority in favor of the union resolution is a reason for the stout resistance on the part of the members of the church, rather than for acquiescence in it. Doubtless many, not knowing the facts, were staggered by the unexpected greatness of the majority. The vote was, indeed, a surprise, since from the time the result of the people's vote in 1916 it seemed generally conceded that the movement ended in that vote. The action of the assembly, in the face of that vote, was wholly unwarranted, as only one-third of the communicants endorsed of the basis of union, this being supposed to be in accord with the people's view, as a subject of this nature is one of the things many of the clerical element are loath to discuss. The necessity of being chosen by the people. Are the people going to surrender their rights to a few men? Now is the time for the great silent vote of the members of the Presbyterian church who have hitherto only passively stood in the way of the movement to merge their churches into a new organization, which is to add to the religious denomination of Canada and which they have not up till now been inclined to support, to speak out and save the situation.

Speaking of the matter of majorities, many persons seem to be of the opinion that the General Assembly is above all laws, and that a majority of it can do whatever it pleases. But this question was forever settled in the Free Church session to the effect that the Assembly is bound by its constitution and law. If it transgresses these to the material injury of anybody, it can successfully invoke the protection of the civil court.

Another misleading notion is abroad that the methods employed in state elections are applicable to affairs in the church. The state is a unit, and all must submit to its rule, which is the rule of the majority, or leave the country. Whereas in the church—a voluntary association—there can be no compulsion. The word must cannot be employed to enforce submission to it. Matters of religious belief are to be settled by each person for himself, and cannot be made the subject of a popular vote, like the policy put before the voters in a political election.

It is an unpleasant surprise, he writes, on going to a Spanish bank and find that the British sovereign is at an uncomplimentary discount. It is unpleasant, too, on opening countless Spanish newspapers to find that the belief in German victory and in German invincibility is apparently, the conviction in most parts of Spain. It is disappointing to be received by old Spanish friends with fear or doubt as to our capacity to make war.

Many of the Germans in Spain are refugees from France, Portugal and the Cameroons, he states. A majority obtained work in the innumerable establishments of their compatriots," says Lord Northcliffe. "Some in Barcelona, some in Seville, some in the districts, others in the countless industries in Spain into which the German vampire has dug its claws. They are unquestionably helping to get Spain into the German clutch. They realize that if to a victorious Germany Spain is very useful, to a defeated Germany Spain is almost essential. It is likely that in the event of the development of overland transport by aeroplane, the coasts and harbors of friendly Spain would be invaluable to Germany. The mineral wealth of the peninsula, only now being scientifically developed, would afford her several sorts of raw material, which Germany has little or none. As an outlet for German goods, as the main point of departure for the wealthy republics of South America, as a bulwark against the English control of Gibraltar, Spain is, from the German point-of-view, distinctly Germany's 'pigden'.

Work on Spain's Feet "Well-drilled battalions of German residents and refugees in Spain know exactly how to confuse public opinion in any locality. In North Spain, where the French have never been popular since the Napoleonic wars, they alarm the ignorant by threats that an Allied victory might mean a revival of the days of a hundred years ago, when the west they state that as a reward for Portugal's treachery in joining the Allies, she is to be given two of the richest Spanish provinces. The Germans know that with Spain as a point d'appui, and the backing of a Spanish d'opium, and above all with that of the church, the largest case is likely to be better appreciated in the new world than if Mother Spain were hostile. From Spanish sources, proceeds to South America a great deal of German propaganda in the Spanish language. The chief methods of propaganda seems to be a daily stream of wireless communications from Berlin and Austria discrediting the Allied continuous activity, and the influence of the German colony, with steady work on the part of the university professors and schoolmasters on behalf of the Central Powers, the chief channel being, of course, the press.

As elsewhere, the view is industriously spread by Germany that England is the sole and only cause of the war, and that the unfortunate French are only too anxious to make peace. England is represented as sacrificing France, as she is alleged to have sacrificed Belgium, Serbia and Montenegro. The argument runs that were Spain so mad as to join the Allies, her fate would be that of France. President Wilson, who like most Americans, is not liked in Spain by reason of Cuba, and whose Mexican policy is not pleasing to a country that has millions invested in that distraught Eldorado, is quite the hero of the Germanophiles. When pro-Ally Spaniards ask pro-Germans when they are going to protest against German horrors, the pro-German reply is that the atrocities are a malicious invention of John Bull. If they are true, the good President Wilson would interfere in the matter.

Spain as Arbitrator Another line taken by the German propagandists, chiefly among the aristocratic circles, is that Spain should keep herself impartial, so that if necessary King Alfonso and his cabinet may perhaps be invited by Great Britain to arbitrate between us and peace with Germany. That we shall eventually invite the Spanish court to save our face seems to be accepted by all except the inner circle, who know some of the facts. One of these facts is that the Germans lately induced a well-known Spanish nobleman to go to London to fly a peace kite, and that on his arrival to whom he was accredited wisely took not the least notice of him. The Germans now assert the unfortunate Spaniard went to London on his own account.

"From much that I heard in the course of my inquiries, the Spanish court would be the very worst arbitrator between the Allies and the Central Powers. Whatever may be King Alfonso's own knowledge, the views of the average court official are something like these: "English officers are gallant fellows, excellent polo players, good sportsmen in general, but amateurs. The English 'lommies are few in number, brave, but foolhardy. The bloody republic, who

AN OPPONENT OF CHURCH UNION

Analysis of Vote by Reverend Robert Campbell Not Conclusive, He Says

Does Not Believe That Vote in General Assembly Correctly Represents Strength of Movement Among Members

The Rev. Robert Campbell of Montreal, writes to the Star regarding the question of union as follows: "I shall be obliged to you to afford space in your columns for the following remarks for the information of your Presbyterian readers. It is fundamental that as there is nothing in the terms of agreement, forming the constitution of the Presbyterian church in Canada, providing for any change in that constitution, it was beyond the power of the General Assembly to pass the resolution to unite with the Congregational and Methodist churches, and therefore, that resolution was null and void, however large the number voting for it, so far as the church at large is concerned, the only persons whose status may be seriously affected by it being the individuals voting for it. As included in this fundamental principle, the Barrier Act, not being part of the constitution of the Presbyterian church, being afterwards passed really as a by-law for carrying out the terms of the agreement, but certainly not for overturning that agreement, cannot be legally invoked as an instrument for changing the constitution. Another fundamental principle is that anyone's belief cannot be voted on by anyone else.

Without yielding these points, let careful examination of the vote in the last Assembly be held, and the conviction reached is that the largeness of the majority in favor of the union resolution is a reason for the stout resistance on the part of the members of the church, rather than for acquiescence in it. Doubtless many, not knowing the facts, were staggered by the unexpected greatness of the majority. GERMAN AGENTS BUSY IN SPAIN

Lord Northcliffe Tells of His Investigations There ENGLAND IS DESPISED

Win or Lose, Spain as Germany's Virtual Vassal Will be Immensely Valuable Asset

London, Sept. 12.—Lord Northcliffe, in a long despatch to the Times from Pamplona, Spain, records his impressions on the state of Spanish opinion, which he derived from a recent visit. The gist of them is that the Germans in a great measure captivated Spanish opinion, and that Great Britain failed to meet and confute their propaganda. Northcliffe gives 50,000 as the approximate number of Germans now in Spain. These, he says, constituted themselves into a well-armed army of propagandists, acting on definite instructions.

It is an unpleasant surprise, he writes, on going to a Spanish bank and find that the British sovereign is at an uncomplimentary discount. It is unpleasant, too, on opening countless Spanish newspapers to find that the belief in German victory and in German invincibility is apparently, the conviction in most parts of Spain. GETS BIG WAR CONTRACTS

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 15.—Announcement is made by the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co. that contracts have been closed in New York for large amounts of smokeless powder. The officials of the company refused to give out any figures or say with whom the contracts are made. It is understood, however, that they are the largest received by the company for some months, totalling from 50,000,000 to 150,000,000 pounds, and that it is probably for the Allies.

The contracts are large enough to keep the powder plants and the gunpowder factory at Hopewell, Va., running full capacity for some time.

The Shadow of Death Hangs Over Belgium

3,000,000 People are Living Within A Few Days of Actual Starvation

The situation in Belgium grows more critical with every passing week. The children and old and wounded men, in steadily growing numbers, depend absolutely on the Belgian Relief Commission. If the food supplied by the Commission were cut off, the third day would find the weaker ones starving to death. Within two weeks 3,000,000 would be dead or dying, and 4,000,000 more would be suffering acutely.

Compare this with Canada—with our huge crops and busy factories—an abundance of food and plenty of money! Think of the average Belgian family! The father is in the trenches—or dead. The mother takes her place in the lengthening bread lines, to get the meager rations served out by the Belgian Relief Committee. The children, thin and pinched, and clad in rags, wait for what she will bring home.

So long as contributions to the Belgian Relief Fund keep up, each will get three slices of bread and a pint of soup a day. If givings fall off, some must go hungry, or starve!

You can save at least one from such a fate! $1.00 a month—less than 4c a day—will do it. $2.50 a month, in the hands of the Belgian Relief Commission, will feed an average family. Can you spare that much or more? Can you, with a clear conscience, withhold it? How many families will you undertake to feed till the war is over?

SHAUGHNESSY FAVORS PLAN OF REGISTRATION

Effective Compromise Between Voluntarism and Co-cription

Views Unchanged

Canada's Financial Position is Good Just Now, But a Trifle Superficial - Women Employed on the C.P.R.

(Toronto Star)

An effective compromise between voluntarism and straight conscription, was Lord Shaughnessy's description of the Dominion government's new registration scheme, in an interview given The Star today.

"Straight conscription," said Lord Shaughnessy "would disorganize business and militate against the welfare of industry—a serious effect in these times of stress and labor shortage. Voluntarism is an uncertain and costly method.

But registration as proposed by the government provides something satisfactory to the supporters of both schemes. It provides for effective selection and designation in the ranks of industry. It will keep at home the men most needed at home, and it will take for military service the men who can best be spared.

Has Not Changed His Mind.

Has your Lordship since then had any reason to change your views regarding recruiting?" asked The Star.

"I have not changed my views except insofar as the situation is likely to be affected by the registration proposal," he replied.

"I still have very strong opinions as to how recruiting should be conducted. These, however, his Lordship declined to discuss further.

The general financial situation in Canada at the present time Lord Shaughnessy describes as good, but with an element of superficiality about it. "We must not forget that the present prosperity is due very largely to war orders," he says. "There have been put an abundance of money into circulation, but are themselves only temporary. There will, of necessity, be a pronounced readjustment after the war, but on the whole the outlook is promising."

Women Willing and Efficient.

"I have been down watching these women at work," remarked General Manager A. D. MacTier, "and I find them most willing and efficient. They are treated with general courtesy by the men workers, and there is everywhere a tendency to help them along. In no case are they doing hard manual labor. Their employment so far is principally to check incoming and outgoing cars and shipments. They get men's wages for this particular kind of work, but in no case are they replacing men except as temporary substitutes to release men for military service."

"Will the adoption of female labor on this basis become general throughout the system?" Mr. MacTier was asked.

"It may," he replied. "For the present the women are working only where the shortage of male labor is acute." To the report that women at various places were seen filling bags and doing other manual labor he returned an emphatic denial.

Lord Shaughnessy was the guest in the city last night of Sir Edmund Osler, accompanied by E. W. Beatty, K. C., vice-president and general counsel; A. D. MacTier, general manager; Sir Edmund Osler and W. D. Matthews, of Toronto, and Sir Herbert Holt, and R. R. Angus, of Montreal, they left by the president's special this morning for the west. It is the directors' annual tour of inspection, which was postponed last year on account of war conditions. The party expects to return to Montreal on Sept. 27th.

RUSSIAN MOVE ON BULGARIA

May Be Weeks Before Big Army on Its Way Gets Into Action

By the Treaty of Bucharest, Aug. 10, 1918, which ended the second Balkan war of Serbia and Greece against Bulgaria, and the invasion of the latter's territory by Roumania, Bulgaria ceded to Roumania 2,969 square miles of territory lying between the Danube and the Black Sea, with a population of 278,000, mostly Turks. It was formed into two departments, Durstoz and Callara.

It is through this territory, via Cilliria, that Roumania made her principal invasion of Bulgaria in July, 1918. It is a terrain that is particularly easy to invade from Bulgaria, and hard to defend from across the Danube or south from Dobruja, of which Durstoz and Callara are practically a continuation. Only twenty miles south of the frontier, and parallel to it, runs a strategic railway from Rustchuk on the Danube to Varna on the Black Sea, with connections with the northern Bulgarian system to Sofia. On the Roumanian side,

Yesterday's Great Work In War

Smashing the German line on a front of six miles north of the Somme in France, the British forces have made probably the most notable advance since the Anglo-French offensive began July 1. Three towns, two woods and the possession of nearly all the high ground between Comblies and the Pozieres-Bapaume road fell to the British. Not only did the Germans lose these positions, but the British drive imperils the Comblies and Thiepval positions, at either end of the British front. The gaining of the high ground north of Comblies gives the British command of the approaches to Bapaume. The advance on the northern end of the front was for a distance of two miles. Courcellette, east of Thiepval and north of the Pozieres-Bapaume road, and Martinpuich, south of the road, fell into the hands of General Haig's men. Farther south they took Fleers and the High Wood, making secure their possession of Ginchy. The Bois de la Wood, north of Comblies, also was lost by the Germans. The Germans, under Crown Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria, fought stubbornly to hold their ground, London says, and the fighting was severe all along the line. More than 2,300 prisoners were taken by the British, including 65 officers and six battalion commanders. Aiding the British in the encirclement of Comblies, the French have taken additional trenches north of Leprées Farm. South of the river three German trenches near Berry-en-Santerre were taken by the French, who also captured 300 prisoners.

British Columbia Defeat Crushing

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 15—The Bowser government was snowed under in yesterday's contest more completely than the early returns indicated. At a late hour tonight there was every reason to believe that not more than six Conservatives were elected. All the cabinet ministers have been defeated, with the possible exception of Hon. W. R. Ross, who is leading by sixty votes with several places in the Peace River district yet to hear from. Hon. Mr. Bowser, the Conservative leader, himself went down to defeat, although some of his followers are hopeful that the soldiers' vote may save his seat. On the other hand, it is pointed out by Mr. Bowser's opponents that the soldiers' vote may increase the majorities of the Liberal candidates.

Federal Government Staggered.

Ottawa, Sept. 15—(Special)—While the results of the two by-elections in Vancouver and Victoria broke the news of a coming heavy reverse for the Bowser government when it sought the verdict of the electorate in a general election, it cannot be doubted that the returns of that general election as announced today came as a heavy blow to government members at Ottawa. The almost complete annihilation of a government which at its last election was returned almost without opposition following as it has on a series of reverses to the Conservative cause in all parts of the dominion, has, it is believed here, put at rest all rumors of an early general election for the federal house. From Atlantic to Pacific there have been absolutely no election or by-election during the past year favorable to the government party.

The Evening Journal, Conservative, calls attention to the fact that there are only three Conservative governments left in the provinces—Ontario, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

No "Second Story Looting."

"While the public," says the Ottawa Free Press, "will evidently stand a lot of looting, if the looting is done smoothly, it will rise in indignation when second story methods are used. In British Columbia, patronage and corruption had been so long the rule that the government apparently thought it unnecessary to hide its work. The action taken by the people of Manitoba and British Columbia should be a lesson to all public men."

British Columbia Awake.

Toronto, Sept. 15—(Special)—Under the heading: "The Awakening of British Columbia," the Globe will tomorrow say in part: "The great Pacific coast province of British Columbia two days ago awoke from its political lethargy and started on a new career on a higher ethical plane. The McBride-Bowser government which had administered its affairs for the past thirteen years with the most cynical disregard for political decency went to its doom and was practically obliterated. The movement that effected this change so effectively was a popular one and it included discontented Conservatives as well as indignant Liberals; prominent among the former was Sir Hubert Tupper who contributed greatly to the satisfactory result of the election."

MOVIE MEN IN HALIFAX

A large party of movie men in the moving picture business of the province left by train last night for Halifax, where they will be in joint session today with representatives of the industry from Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. The session will be opened this afternoon and will be closed tonight. The object of the gathering is to organize a branch of the Motion Picture Exhibitors Society of America, which is an efficient organization the main objects of which is to secure protection against pernicious legislation and unfair and unreasonable censorship and for the general uplift and systematizing of the business.

The Halifax managers will be present in force at today's convention and have promised to have a large delegation from other parts of the sister province. They have also made arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors both by land and water. The following is a list of those who left on the Halifax train last night:

Managers—David M. Richards, Gem Theatre, Fredericton; W. O. Fenby, Gateway Theatre, Fredericton; Stephen Hurley, Unique and Lyric theatres, St. John; W. H. Golding, Imperial Theatre, St. John; and W. C. McKeay, of the Opera House.

Film men—W. C. Gookin, Canadian general manager of the V. L. S. E. Inc., New York; L. R. Watrous, of the V. L. S. E. Montreal; Philip Kaufman, Famous Players' Film Corporation; L. E. Quimette, of the Pathe concern, who has with him his camera man, Mr. DeFreane; Reginald March, of the local Pathe office; Jules Wolfe, of the Metro company; L. Rosenfeld, of the Famous Players; E. A. Langley, of the Metro; G. A. Margets, of the Universal Film Company.

Operators and electricians—A. J. Mason, chief electrician of the Imperial Theatre; George Rothwell, of the Motion Picture Operators Union.

Miss M. Kathleen Golding will act as secretary to the president of the New Brunswick Association at the meeting and will also assist the secretary, Stephen Hurley. Miss Alice M. Fairweather is also of the party.

WEST SIDE FAIR.

Continued success is the lot of the Soldiers' Christmas Stocking Fair which is being held nightly in the curling rink, West St. John. Last night saw the largest crowd present; that had yet turned out to the event and there was great rush and bustle during the evening. The patrons were in a purchasing mood also and a good evening's business was done. The ladies are well pleased with the success of the venture and have been giving freely of their time in order to make it a success. The Temple of Honor Band was present last evening and played a choice programme. They have offered their services for this evening also. Tonight will be the last night of the fair and it is planned to wind it up in the nature of a whirlwind closing.

The usual business of the evening will be carried on until 10 o'clock and at that hour everything that is left will be auctioned off. There is no dearth of auctioneers so that the best results from this feature of the fair may be expected. The fair has been a great success and a source of much enjoyment to its many patrons. The winners of the prizes offered last evening are as follows:—Walter Door prize, load of coal—Walter Merryweather.

Bean board—Ladies, prize sofa cushion, Miss Travers; gentlemen, prize umbrella, Roy Campbell.

Five air—Ladies, prize pair of dancing pumps, Mrs. Thair; gentlemen, prize suit case, John McAndrews.

The door prize for tonight is half a barrel of flour.

Role is a new and charming correspondent, who describes herself as "a rather young old maid in whom the eager desire for matrimony is almost overbalanced by an unfortunate sense of the ridiculousness of all masculine beings." Her letter relating some recent experiences with male bot and sanies is too long to reproduce. We print this brief excerpt:

"He talked of socialism from 8.30 to 9.30, of the war from then till 10.30, of Bernard Shaw and how he is different from Chesterton till 11.30—and then of psychic therapeutics."

"I am, you know," he interjected, "connected with the Emanuel movement."

"You surprise me," I murmured.

"Why should you be surprised that I am interested in so absorbing a subject?" he demanded. And then I glanced at the clock as I answered:

"I didn't imagine you could be connected with any sort of a—er—movement!"

"But isn't it too bad? I think he would have proposed if I'd let him talk for another hour or so!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
