STILL NO CURE FOR DREAD CANCER

No Alleged Specifics Have Any Curative Value—The Inoculation of Mice.

LONDON, July 3.—Sir William Church, ex-president of the Royal College of Physicians, who is now intimately concerned in cancer research, addressing a meeting of the committee of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund, said the probability of dying from cancer was now one in twelve for all men above 35, and one in eight for all women above that age, as contrasted with one in 21 and one in 12 twenty years ago. Nevertheless, at present it was impossible to say whether the figures represented a real increase in the disease. He detailed experiments in the transmission of cancer by inoculation of mice by which, he said, the vexed question of heredity would be settled in a few years. He declared that no curative value could be attached to any alleged cures hitherto tried. The particular attention given to trypan showed it to be without effect on the growth or development of tumors.

AFRICA FACES NEGRO PROBLEM

Bishop Hartzell Says It is the Principal Question—Dutch Will Make Progress.

LONDON, July 3.—The Rev. Dr. Joseph Crane Hartzell, who holds a commission as Bishop of Africa from the Methodist Episcopal Church of America, has come to London to attend the Evangelical Conference, which opens next week. He speaks very hopefully of the future of the Transvaal. "I believe," he said, "that the Boer War was only a period in the development of Africa, and that in the Transvaal the Dutch will now make rapid progress under the British flag. The best elements of both nationalities will combine in one of the greatest difficulties now is that two languages are spoken by the whites, but that will probably be overcome. The great problem coming in Africa is the negro problem. The nation that does the best for the negro will win out. The negro is capable of being a useful citizen. He has no political rights in the Cape Colony, he controls certain districts there. The negroes have their own schools in many places in the Cape Colony. They even have their own newspapers.

"A rather remarkable thing happened the other day at a meeting of the chief in the Cape Colony. They actually started a movement to raise a fund for the higher education of their people.

"Some persons talk of exterminating the negro. Such talk is foolish. The negro is a race that doesn't exterminate worth a cent."

TRIED TO RUN CAR OVER A BURNING MATTRESS

NORTH ATTLEBORO, Mass., July 3.—Harry W. Tufts, chief of the fire department, was knocked down and sustained a fracture of the leg tonight while endeavoring to control a crowd of holiday celebrators who had built a bonfire in a dangerous locality. The police sent in a call for the fire department which upon the arrival of the chief Tufts was assaulted and thrown heavily to the ground in the scuffle. The firemen succeeded in forcing back the crowd and extinguishing the fire.

Earlier in the evening someone placed a mattress on the car track and set it on fire in front of an approaching car. When the motorist tried to turn the car over it, the mattress became entangled in the gears and set fire to the car. The passengers escaped without injury but the car was badly damaged.

WEDDINGS

WANAMAKER-BREEN.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Breen of Long Island, Kings County, was the scene of a very happy event at 12 o'clock noon on Wednesday, the third of July, when their daughter, Edith L., was united in marriage to George D. Wanamaker, the Boston Restaurant, St. John. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. S. Wainwright of Kingston, Kings County, in the presence of a large gathering of invited guests, a number of whom went up from the city on the steamer Hampton, special arrangements having been made for the conveyance of those wishing to attend the wedding.

Among those present were Mrs. McCarthy of Boston, sister of the bride. The bride was becomingly attired in a handsome cream novelty outfit, a costume with silk trimmings and neapolitan hat, with ostrich plumes, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Miss Emma Breen acted as flower girl, assisted by Lawrence McCarthy, the former being niece and the latter nephew of the bride.

The presents were numerous and costly, consisting of silverware, china, cut glass and furniture, and also several checks for substantial amounts. The groom's present to the bride was $10 in gold, and to the flower girl and assistant maid rings.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple and guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding dinner, the dining room being very tastefully decorated for the occasion with peonies and snowballs.

Music, games and dancing was enjoyed by the guests until the newly wedded couple left by boat to take the train for an extended tour through the Maritime Provinces, stopping for a short time at Charlottetown en route.

The bride's going-away dress was a steel grey travelling suit with hat to match.

On their return to St. John, Mr. and Mrs. Wanamaker will reside at 248 King street east.

STEVENS-UNKAUF

At St. Mary's church yesterday the marriage took place of Charles Stevens and Miss Sadie J. Unkauf, only daughter of Mrs. E. Addison, all of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Raymond, rector of the church. The couple were unattended.

The bride was attired in a pretty travelling gown of navy blue cloth and received many valuable and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens left by the steamer Calvin Austin yesterday morning for a wedding trip to the United States. On their return they will reside at Stanley street.

RUDDICK-BARNES

B., July 2.—At 5 o'clock this afternoon a brilliant wedding took place in the Methodist Church, Hazleton Station, where Mr. and Mrs. Rudwick were united in marriage to George H. Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rudwick, who resides at 100 St. John street, and Mrs. Barnes, who resides at 100 St. John street.

Word was received here about a month ago that Regina Goldman had attempted suicide in New York. Friends of Mrs. Goldman, who was formerly a Miss Golden, were of the opinion that it was she who attempted to take her life. The Bangor Commercial in its Calais notes prints a long story to the effect that New Brunswick is again to undergo a telephone war. The story says that the newly created interest in the proposition to create an independent system in the province are well known in the business world, among the number being Fred E. Sayre, J. E. Moore and George W. Jones of St. John, who visited the border towns on Monday in furtherance of their schemes. The Citizens' Telephone Company of St. Stephen, which has connection with the Forest Company of this city, and which is practically a branch of the latter, is much desired by the independent company promoters who are users for the purpose of securing control of the same. According to the St. John men mentioned there is nothing in the story, which was created in a humorous spirit by one of their number.

FIND THAT THIS WOMAN DIED FROM FOUL PLAY

DERBY, N. H., July 3.—That the death of Mrs. Annie H. Studley, of Boston, whose body was found Tuesday in Canobie Lake, was due to some other cause than drowning, was disclosed by the autopsy which was held late last night and early this morning by the medical referee, W. H. Newell, of this city, and his assistant, Dr. Fred Fernald, of Nottingham. The examination by the physicians showed that no water had entered the pleural cavity, as it would have been the case had the woman been drowned, and there was little water in the stomach. All the organs of the body were found to be in a healthy condition. The only indication of an assault was about the head, where contusions appeared about both eyes and at the top of the skull.

At an early hour this morning the examination had not been completed.

THE COLD STORAGE DEAL.

Surely, as is currently reported, motives other than a desire to give good government influenced the common council in its action yesterday regarding the Cold Storage Company's agreement. No other explanation is reasonable for it is not to be supposed that any body of sane men could so utterly disregard the principles which are expected to support. This cold storage company applied to the city for a site and for certain very valuable privileges. Two or three pieces of land were placed at their disposal and conditioned agreements were made. One was that an annual rental of $300 for a particular site was to be paid the city. With this in view the council decided to grant exemption from taxation for a period of years, and certain other concessions were made. The principle is a bad one at any time, but in this case was slightly excusable because of the fact that a revenue was anticipated on a lease. Negotiations came to a somewhat abrupt end, but were renewed when the company having declined the city's offer of a site and accepted one from which the corporation will derive no income, asked that the agreement be amended so that exemptions may still be enjoyed. The council yesterday granted the request, and has thus most generously complied with every wish of the company. The whole affair to date has very much the appearance of being a farce, and can hardly be explained excepting on the ground that a great deal of wire pulling has been done somewhere. The two agreements were certainly intended to be conditional upon each other, and this should have been clearly expressed.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE AND LIFE INSURANCE.
As a rule life insurance companies pay little regard to the religious belief of applicants for policies, but recently it has been charged that some of the larger companies are exercising a discrimination against those who place their faith in Christian Science. The insurance people by law are not permitted to refuse the applications of any particular sect, but may of course arbitrarily decline to assume risks which are not considered good. This, it is asserted, is the plan which is being followed, for in some cities the applications from disciples of Mrs. Eddy are very frequently turned down, while in other cases only limited risks are accepted. The reason given for this, of course, is that Christian Scientists very often decline to call in medical assistance in the event of illness, and to the mind of those who do not adhere to the scientist doctrine the risk is greater. Yet on the other hand, the number of Christian Scientists who die refusing medical aid must be so small that one would hardly imagine that the insurance companies would exercise any discrimination.

PAY UP.
Several months ago, after a long period of inaction, an energetic campaign was carried on for the purpose of raising twenty-five per cent. of the amount necessary to erect a Champlain monument. Five thousand dollars had been given by the federal, fifteen hundred by the provincial, and one thousand dollars by the civic governments, these various sums being not immediately available. Of the remaining twenty-five hundred dollars all but two hundred has been subscribed by citizens. It is absolutely necessary that this amount at least shall be in hand before any contracts are made, as some money must be available for carrying on the work. Yet knowing this to be the case, those who promised assistance are so backward about sending in their contributions that so far only about $1,400 has been received, a balance of over $900 is still outstanding, and until this is handed to the treasurer nothing will be done. The committee having charge of the undertaking will meet this week and the members hope that they will be in a position to give orders for the commencement of the work. Unless all the subscriptions are paid promptly this cannot be done, and the project will be further delayed. The committee, in view of the scarcity of funds, do not feel justified in employing a collector, nor should they be called upon to do so.

NO POLICEMEN FOR THE FOURTH OF JULY.
PAWTUCKET, R. I., July 3.—The night before the Fourth finds Cumberland, a town three miles north of here, entirely without any regular police force, as a result of the recent action of the town tax payers in voting to reduce the public appropriation. The entire police force, consisting of a chief and six patrolmen, resigned the night after the town council had declined to reconsider its former action and to increase the pay of each officer to more than $22 a month.

THE SAVED HENRY.

Mrs. Stubbs—"And you are the same Henry who promised to move heaven and earth for me before we were married!"

AFTER COMMENCEMENT.

Starting on life's battle
In the month of June,
Grave is in the paper
Pounding out a tune.

Waging life's great warfare,
Doughtiest of girls,
May is in the hammock
Reading tales of carols.

Fighting life's hot contest
With a heart of oak,
Bill is on the golf field
Practising a stroke.

(Pa is in the office
Tolling like a Turk,
Ma is in the kitchen
Doing up the work).

A PECULIAR FEELING.
That peculiar feeling in the atmosphere today is what is known as heat.

FLATTERED.
"G-o-g-d evening!" said the young man who had come to speak to the girl's father.

"Good evening!" replied the old gentleman. "You look a little nervous. How do you feel?"

"Flattered," replied the young man. "I was afraid I looked scared to death."

ON THE FATHER'S SIDE.
"Two Mormon boys went to school for the first time out in Utah," relates Congressman J. Adam Bode, "and the teacher asked them their names."

"John and William Smith," the boys replied.

"Ah, then you are brothers! How old are you?"

"Each ten years old, ma'am."

"Indeed! Then you are twins?"

"Please, ma'am," replied one of the boys, "only on our father's side."

QUALIFIED.
Mrs. Startupper—Ah, professor! And how is my daughter getting on with her music? Do you think she will ever become a great singer?"

Professor—Madam, it is very hard to say.

Mrs. Startupper—But surely she possesses some qualifications?

Professor—Ah! Yes, madam; she has a mouth.

ADVISING THE COURT.
"Bill, old boy," said the prisoner to the judge, "I want you to pay particular attention while I'm making of this here statement."

"Don't address the court as 'Bill,' sir," said the justice, "or I'll fine you for contempt."

"That's all right, William," replied the prisoner, "we was growed up together an' I reckon you feel as dignified as an alligator on a log in a mill case agin me, heven help you when I ketch you in the middle o' the road. Go on with your proceedings."

GOOD POLITICS.
A prominent American politician relates the following story: "Once," he says, "I told three negroes that I'd give a big turkey to the one who'd give the best reason for his being a Republican."

"The first one said: 'I see a 'Publikan kase de 'Publikan sot we colored folks free.'"

"Very good, Pete," said I. "Now, Bill, let me hear from you."

"Well, I see a 'Publikan kase dey've gib us a protective tariff."

"Fine!" I exclaimed. "Now, Sam, what have you to say?"

"Boss," said Sam, "I see a 'Publikan kase I want dat turkey.'"

ABLE FOR THE JOB.
The animal trainer having been taken suddenly ill, his wife reported for duty in his stead.

"Have you ever had any experience in this line?" asked the owner of the circus and menagerie, with some doubt.

"Not just exactly in this line," she said, "but my husband manages the beasts all right, doesn't he?"

"Well, you ought to see how easy I can manage him."

NEGRO BISHOP HITS RIGHT FROM SHOULDER
Denounces Several U. S. Senators as Human Asses—The Country No Friend to the Colored Men.

BOSTON, July 3.—"The United States is no friend to the colored man," stated Bishop Henry McNeal Turner at the opening day's session today of the 54th annual New England conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church. Continuing, the bishop said—"Everything that is written and published about our race in the popular magazines are in the main vituperative falsehoods. Every white man who is destitute of ability yet either wants an office or a little notoriety has to go to harping and babbling about the negro and his inferiority, like Yardman, Tillman and a number of others I could mention, mere human asses braying against God and nature. I will give Senator Tillman $1,000 to make a speech and leave the negro out, that can be called a speech."

At the election of officers Rev. C. H. Yearwood was chosen secretary; Rev. I. D. Jacobs, recording secretary, and Rev. J. D. Nichols, statistician.

Dominion Coal Company Want Payment for the Ludlow's Escapade—Man Lost Horse in Carleton—Street Railway Seek an Extension of Time.

A number of communications were received by the common council but were not taken up at yesterday's meeting.

J. Twining Hartt asked to appear before the assessment committee on behalf of Miss Ellen Murray, of South Carolina, in reference to the assessment on her property in this city for the years 1904, 1905 and 1906.

A petition is sent from a number of rate payers in Guy's ward, residing on Water street, praying for the installation of an electric light on the upper end of Water street.

The Street Railway Company ask for three months extension of time, from July 1st, in order to complete the work of laying the tracks on the west side. They claim the delay was caused through no fault of theirs, but owing to the disrepair of Union street and Rodney wharf.

Herbert J. Smith, on behalf of Miss Augusta Seely, called attention to the rock on Wright street, near her residence, which through the action of the weather has become loosened and dangerous, and asked that the matter be referred to the proper department.

E. Percy Howard, secretary of the Salvage Corps, stated that at the last meeting of the corps the resignation of P. C. B. Kaye, as a member, was received and asked that his warrant be cancelled.

A letter from Weldon & McLean stated that the Dominion Coal Company had placed a claim against the Ludlow for running down their scow on Monday last. In their opinion the collision was the fault of the ferry boat. The cost to repair the scow was upwards of $300. Pailing an amicable settlement they said the rate would be taken to the admiralty court.

A letter from Barnhill, Ewing and Sanford stated that they had been retained by Charles N. Huggard whose horse was injured on King street, west on May thirtieth, owing to the street being opened by the city. Mr. Huggard estimated his damage at $100.

A letter from R. Chillis McMonagle recommending Alex Scott for the position of caretaker of the reservoir on the water works was received.

E. B. Nixon stated that a copper boiler in his house on Queen street had collapsed owing to the shutting-off of the water supply. The boiler cost him $40, and he asked for redress.

A letter from George McKean stated that the rate fixed by the board of works for strong deals in No. 3 shed, Sand Point, was prohibitive. He said he would store no deals there until a lower rate was fixed.

F. W. Holt applied for the position of director of public works.

Hieder Davy, of Montreal, also sent in an application, with many references. Macrae and Sinclair said they had been retained by Annie Gleason, who claims damages for injuries received owing to her foot being caught and wrenched in a ring alleged to have been improperly allowed to remain on Wellington Row.

Mary A. Power asked for the renewal of lot No. 670, east end of Princess St., the lease having expired Nov. 1, 1898.

Mrs. G. Lawlor asked for the renewal of lease for No. 678, Queen's ward.

DR. BRIDGES TALKS ABOUT THE BOAT ROCKING FOOL

Who is in Evidence on Lily Lake—Advices Precautionary Measures.

A number of maritime college men are at present in Northfield, Mass., attending the Y. M. C. A. students' conference there. Two college professors from Maine, Messrs. Philip J. Green and David A. Durward, were drowned there on Tuesday while paddling in the Connecticut River. The drowning was commented upon by a number of citizens here, who drew from it a lesson to be learned in this city.

Dr. H. S. Bridges said that he was in Rockwood Park on Saturday afternoon, and the carelessness as well as the ignorance of some of the members of boating parties was incredible. He instanced a case where two young men were in a canoe, sitting on the cross bars, and neither one was an expert, and that the men did not get upset was entirely due to luck. In another case, five rather tough persons, two men and three women, were in a boat, rocking it. They shipped some water which rather startled them, and they discontinued their dangerous sport.

Dr. Bridges suggested that water police should be stationed on the lake, or at least great care taken in leasing the boats, so that St. John will not have to mourn losses similar to those occurring in Northfield.

PARIS, July 4.—The government has conferred the Cross of the Legion of Honor on Richard Strauss, the composer.

GROWTH OF THE WEST AS CENSUS SHOWS

Number of Farms Has Increased From 31,815 in 1891 to 120,439 Last Year.

OTTAWA, July 3.—The Census and Statistics Department recently issued a bulletin on the progress of the Northwest provinces from 1870 to 1906. In 1870 Manitoba had a population of 12,228; in 1881 the population of Manitoba and the Territories was 104,851. This included Indians. There was an area of 56,871 acres in wheat. In 1891 the population was 219,895, and the area of wheat provinces was 1,000,480 acres. In 1906 the population was 600,000, and the area of wheat provinces was 1,000,480 acres. HATS AND BRAINS SMALLER

Dr. Barr Alarmed About England—Lambasting for Molluscoides.

LONDON, July 3.—The average mental capacity of Englishmen is on the wane according to Sir James Barr, an eminent physician, who is president of the Liverpool Medical Institute, and a holder of other prominent medical posts. He says: "One of the largest hat makers in the United Kingdom told me that the average size of hats had diminished during the last half century. The average diameter of the human brain is a matter to give us pause."

Dr. Barr was addressing the Royal Institute of Public Health, now holding its annual congress at Glasgow, Isle of Man. He was at all pleased with his countrymen. The money they were spending in the treatment of disease, he declared, ought to be devoted to the preservation of health; then the necessity for surgeons and physicians would largely disappear. "People were only now beginning to awaken to a lively sense of the value of health and were beginning to cease to blame Providence for the incidence of disease. Denouncing the sickly sentimentality of a certain type of Christians, who had no faith in robust means of humankind, he said he had often heard miserable little specimens of humanity lamenting upon the value of total abstinence. It was a pity such men were not stillborn. Let them improve the race, he said, and they would be instructed by men, not pygmies.

A nation's health was its most valuable asset. The nation which would produce the most robust men must win the long run. He would like to see every Briton between the ages of 20 and 30 instructed in military drill, and to develop physical and moral grit. A nation of sentimentalists might condemn him for fostering the military spirit, but by political means, love-worn financiers and some newspaper editors who never did any fighting. These ought to be placed at the forefront of battle. The nation would be well rid of them.

Hieder Davy, of Montreal, also sent in an application, with many references. Macrae and Sinclair said they had been retained by Annie Gleason, who claims damages for injuries received owing to her foot being caught and wrenched in a ring alleged to have been improperly allowed to remain on Wellington Row.

WEDDINGS

GIBB-DOHERTY.
The wedding of Miss Beatrice Doherty and Alexander Gibb was celebrated in St. Peter's Church this morning. Rev. Father Scully, C. S. R., officiating.

The church was filled with friends of the happy young couple, and special music was furnished by the choir. Miss Julia McCarthy sang the Ave Maria, and J. G. Dallaire presided at the organ, playing Mendelssohn's Wedding March when the bridal party were leaving the church. The bride was attended by Miss Lillian Sweeney, and the bride's dress was of point d'esprit over white silk, the bridesmaid wearing mauve silk over pink.

After the wedding the party returned to Mrs. Doherty's residence, 122 Bridge street, where wedding breakfast was served to the immediate friends of the young couple. They left on the eleven o'clock train on an extended tour to Montreal, Chicago and other cities. On their return they will take up their residence at 122 Bridge street.

Mr. Gibb, who is the private secretary of L. R. Ross, terminal agent, is one of the most popular young men in the Instructional Railway employ, and many presents from his fellow employees on the road testified to their esteem. Among the presents was a handsome ornate clock from the C. P. R. freight office clerks, and a lounge from the station and yard employees. A clock of the same description was presented by several friends. The bride received many presents among which was a chair and table from her business associates.

BEILHART'S TEACHINGS.

Reed worked at his job of floor-walker until "destiny" once more whispered in his ear. Then he went to the owner of the establishment and said: "I find there is too much restriction here. The spirit calls me away. I am going to devote myself to building up a glorious colony where nature may have free play."

The Latin professor had been reading of the "Spirit Fruit Farm" conducted near Chicago by Jacob Beilhart, which was nothing less than the free-love principle. In Beilhart's community various adjectives denoted the performance of "Capricious" that evening.

A "FREE-LOVE" COLONY NEAR WELLESLEY COLLEGE

A Strange Colony Flourishes in Aristocratic Suburb of Boston—Something About "Prof." Frederick Reed and His Strange Teachings.

Efforts have been started to break up the "Home of Spontaneous Love," run at Wellesley College, near Boston, Mass., by Frederick Reed, former master of the Boston Latin School. Not only are the authorities of Wellesley College aroused against the remarkable free-love colony, but the steady residents of Wellesley village, shocked over the reputation which the place has managed to build up, have determined to run it out of town.

Chief of Police Kingsbury, of Wellesley, has been asked to investigate and has promised to do so. Overbrook, the colony is known in the village, has managed to keep the secret of its liberal policy. The chief has heard many startling stories of strange doings in the colony. She has learned that students of her college were visiting the place, and she is afraid their morals will be severely hurt. The Wellesley club, the conservator of morals in the village, has entered the crusade. Reed was one of the most prominent members of the college. He resigned when he started his love cult.

COLLEGE GIRLS VISIT COLONY.
Reed has run the colony for two years. His wife, who strongly believes in his principles, has helped him conduct it. There are absolutely no restrictions in life at the "Home of Spontaneous Love." Reed maintains that "destiny" controls everything. While the marriage contract is not denied, it is not an essential.

All of them were fascinated by the absence of restraint that is Overbrook's main characteristic. They saw nothing really wrong and grew more attached to the place with every visit. Reed makes no secret of the fact that some of the visitors—or communicants—were decidedly questionable regarding their moral status. Asking no questions of the callers, he is apt to admit men and women who are not of the same moral caliber, at least. Of this the college girls were not aware. They continued to call until the reputation of the place began to leak into the village.

The wealthy residents in the neighborhood of Overbrook grew suspicious when they saw the painted women, the glittering diamonds and flashy attire going to the colony.

Reed has a beautiful home and Wellesley college girl has called at Overbrook. When Reed's niece leaves the college this month she will spend her vacation far from Wellesley. Last year she made frequent trips to the colony. She is 18 and exquisitely pretty. She has beautiful blue eyes and is of a romantic nature. Life amid the wilds of nature appeals strongly to her.

FAMILY DISOWN GIRL

Among those who were drawn to the spot was Miss Caroline Reed, a beautiful young girl, who had been one of Reed's most devoted listeners at his lectures on Browning and Emerson. She is the daughter of a prominent Boston family and had shone in society. Her parents, overwhelmed by her step, urged her to return home. They gave her the alternative of being disowned or staying with the colony. She remained with the community for more than a year.

Others came whom Reed admits looked like undesirable citizens, but he had no alternative, under the broad scope of his advanced faith, but to accept them. There are many chores to do at Overbrook, such as milking the cows and weeding the gardens. Only a few of the early visitors thought it necessary to help in the work. Reed permitted to attend to these details himself. Destiny helped Reed get rid of those who were not willing to help, and those who now stay at the colony do their share in keeping things going.

TIRED OF RESTRAINT OF SOCIETY.

Reed conceived the idea of his new sect three years ago while he was at the head of the Latin School. He bought Overbrook ten years ago and used it as his summer residence. His position in society was unspacious, and he was known in the most exclusive circles in Boston. He had attained fame as a lecturer on Browning and Emerson.

Reed tired of the restraint of society. He yearned to get into close communion with nature. The idea worked upon him until he felt impelled to give up his $5,000 position as head of the Latin school. "I don't believe in having any restraint upon life," he told his fellows of the faculty. "I want to do just as impulse directs. Destiny governs me. I have no position. I let destiny do with me as it pleases."

Reed went to one of his warmest friends, who owns a department store in Boston. He said "destiny" had dictated that he take a position in the store. His friend was surprised.

"There's no position I can give you that would do you honor," he declared. "Give me a job as floor walker," said Reed. "Anything will do. Impulse says I must work here."

Much against his will, the owner of the establishment put the man of letters and culture in charge of one of the departments. Reed worked for a week and was supremely happy. He had plenty of money in the bank to maintain Overbrook, and he spent his odd time in digging in the garden and getting as close to nature as he could. At that time he and his wife were the only occupants of the magnificent estate.

WOMEN DRESS IN BLOOMERS.

The women at the spirit home wear bloomers. Reed says that was the primitive dress of the Greeks and that it is a perfectly logical attire. The men go about in overalls and don't pay any particular attention to how they look.

There are now 25 members of the community. Twelve are women, and most of them are married. They work languidly, and do not seem to have a care in the world. At times the population of the establishment has been nearly 100. Among the adherents of the cult are several of Boston's prominent business men. Some of them have taken their wives to the home, and some have gone alone or with women.

"It is all one glorious family," said Reed. "I do not see why any one should object to our colony. When the Wellesley college girls began coming here I welcomed them, and I think they had been directed by fate. I could not see anything wrong in permitting members of the colony."

"Now that the president of the college has objected to their visits I am perfectly willing that they remain away from here. We have married men here whose ideas of morality are high. There are seen women here who seemed to be of a decidedly bad type. I felt simply that they were attracted here by the same spirit that impelled me to start this community. If destiny told me to inaugurate this new life, what right have I to question the morals or the motives of those who come?"

DOES NOT FEAR ARREST.

"I have not the slightest worry as to what is going on at Overbrook among the many who make up our home. We spend our evenings reading the Bible, and there is nothing in our conversation or Browning, or perhaps the Bible, that is not elevating. I am not a religious man, but I believe the Bible contains much good. Those who do not care to hear the Bible read may do what they please."

"I cannot say that anything has happened here that would give the police any occasion to make a raid. I would know everything that has been done. I do not care. If the home were raided and I happened to be arrested, I would consider it another manifestation of fate. Probably I would find in jail some one who needed me."

"I have given up everything I possessed to make this colony more than an experiment. I have given up my reputation. My friends consider me a failure. I have done, but I care nothing for that. But I will say that for myself I have not done one thing that could be questioned by any one. I never smoked or drank in my life. I truly love my wife. It might be that the spirit will tell me some day to take to smoking or to drinking; it may be that I will get the impulse that seizes so

A PRETTY BLOUSE JACKET.
6805—It often happens that one wishes to make her coat at home and no better model can be found for the purpose than the one shown. While being exceedingly smart and general in becoming, it may be developed in a variety of ways. For velvet, plush or imitation fur the coat is just the thing, being closed in double-breasted style or left open with revers rolling to the belt. The peplum is necessary according to this season's styles but is of excellent shape and ends neatly at the side of the front. The trimming consists of straps extending over the shoulders and need not be used unless desired, while the sleeves may be in full or shorter length. Broadcloth, cheviot or another of the coatings may serve for the model. The medium size calls for two yards of 54-inch material. 6805—Size: 32 to 42 inches, bust measure. The price of this pattern is 25c.

A CHIC COAT SUIT.
4148—The new coat suits for girls in their teens are most attractive and are to be seen in great variety. One which is a bit out of the ordinary in style and decidedly smart is shown and the home dressmaker will find it well suited to her handling. The coat is nearly box in shape, having a seam at center back and one under each arm which are but slightly shaped. The fronts open several inches to reveal a most original little vest effect in lighter cloth. The collar is one of the double ones which stands close to the neck in military style. The sleeves are in three-quarter length style and very pretty with their deep turn-back cuffs and narrow tucks. The skirt is an eight-point box-pleated one which stands nearly to the hips and rippling prettily about the feet. Serge, Panama, cheviot or any other seasonable fabric might develop the model. The medium size calls for five yards of 56-inch material. 4148—Size: 14, 16, 18, 17 years. The price of this pattern is 15c.

MR. CUSHING SENDS IN HIS BILL FOR WAGES

And Incidentally Expresses the Hope That His Successor May Find Life Pleasant.

R. H. Cushing, ex-director of public works, writes to the city. In his letter he says he was in receipt of a letter from the common council retiring him from the services of the city. He regretted that the council had decided that such a course was expedient. He was also pleased to convey to the council his thanks for all previous courtesies and considerations and wished that the incoming official may to their satisfaction perform the duties of director of public works as well as the engineering duties which, by the board, he may be ordered to perform.

In a post-script Mr. Cushing asks the common clerk to kindly advise him where he shall call for his pay.

He submitted the following bill:

PROPOSAL TO MAKE LUMBER SHIPPERS PAY

Aldermen Considering New Plan for Raising Money.

Would Charge a Harbor Fee on All Lumber Loaded at City Wharves or in the Stream

The common council, at meetings held recently, 17 adopted various changes in rates charged by the city for wharfage and for storage of different classes of goods, and has now under consideration the proposal of a new plan for the winter port business which will be submitted to the steamship federation.

In addition to all this, it is understood that an effort will be made before very long to have a rate charged on all lumber shipped from St. John which is loaded at the city wharves or in the stream. It is felt that the shipping of lumber is a most profitable industry, and that the business cannot be affected by the imposition of a small fee, which, it is suggested, will be imposed, and also that the lumber dealers should contribute to the maintenance of the harbor. Since Sand Point was established, St. John has spent upwards of $500,000 in interest, to say nothing of the principal still to be met. The revenues so far have been altogether inadequate to meet the expenditure, nor is there any prospect that in the next few years business will so increase that the harbor will be self-sustaining, unless every possible method of raising money is adopted.

It is proposed to charge a rate of 5 or 10 cents per hundred feet on all lumber loaded from sews, not only on winter port steamers, but on all vessels making use of the harbor.

The shipments to Great Britain and the continent from St. John during the past few years have been as follows:

1906.....	191,579,485
1905.....	181,749,939
1904.....	172,995,547
1903.....	174,390,555
1902.....	199,853,736

Of this amount, it is stated by shippers that no more than 15 per cent has been loaded in the stream or at city wharves, the rest being put on board at private wharves. Only a very small quantity of American lumber is loaded in the harbor, as schooners go direct to the mills.

In conversation with the Star, lumber shippers today said that if the city adopted any such system, efforts would be made to boycott the city wharves altogether, and have even more lumber than at present put on board at private wharves, where the facilities are better, on a basis of 50 per cent of the above shipments, revenue to the city would be upwards of $40,000. Legislation, of course, would be required to enable the city to impose a fee on freight loaded in the stream.

SALMON BOAT RACES WILL BEGIN ON SATURDAY

The First of the Series for the Dunn-Rothwell Cup is Arousing Much Interest.

At Westfield, on Saturday, July 6th, will be held the first of a series of races, which from present indications promise to be the most interesting and exciting ever held in this part of Canada.

Since the Westfield Outing Association announced last December that a series of races open to Class A, or "Salmon Boats" for the Dunn-Rothwell cup, and other valuable prizes, would be held this summer, the interest has been great among owners and builders of this class of boats. All winter long designers and builders have been busy with the boats into shape, a number of new boats have been built, and every one of the old boats has been improved.

Local designers have been pitted against foreign, and up to date have held their own with great success. The old boats, (improved), have been well in the lead in the races already held, and are evidently quite capable of holding their own, and going a little better than the new creations.

So great is the interest taken that it is likely special excursions will be run to enable every person to see the races, and the course has been so arranged that a splendid view of the whole of it can be had from the banks of the river. The races will be started from Westfield wharf at 2:15 p. m.

DID NOT ENJOY HEARING THE COMPANY CRITICIZED

Last night there came near being a rough house in the Oriental restaurant on Charlotte street. A dusky maiden from Duke street was being entertained to lunch by a West Indian and at other tables were members of a colored company company. The Duke street dame spoke above a whisper when she said the show was not a good one. This remark passed without comment, but when she went further and made some very unattractive remarks about members of the company a big colored man jumped from his seat and gave the Duke street girl a tongue lashing that she will never forget. The West Indian started to take the part of his lady friend and only the appearance of the police prevented a hard to hand encounter.

The Chipman House will be sold at public auction on Saturday morning next at twelve o'clock. The purchaser will be allowed six weeks time to remove the building.

Thomas Ingraham Asks the Corporation for Damages Done His Son's Limb.

Thomas Ingraham, writing to the city, asks that the city pay part of the expense towards procuring a new artificial limb for his son William. The boy who is a student at the High School, slipped on the icy sidewalk on Union street and one of his artificial limbs was broken beyond repair. As the limbs cost $100 and as Mr. Ingraham feels the accident was due to the slippery condition of the street, he considers the city should bear part of the expense towards the purchase of a new limb.
