HOUSEHOLD INFORMATION. A Tested Method of Washing-The woman who does her own washing can save time and strength by using a wash fluid prepared as follows: One can of potash, one ounce of ammonia crystals, one ounce of salts of tartar, one gallon of boiling water. Pour the water on the potash, which has been placed in a deep receptacle; add the other ingredients, cover till cold, then set away in glass jars. The potash will boil violently when the water touches it, and great care must be

As soon as the beans are turned out, put a large teasponful of washing powder in the dish-pan, or any common pan, then put in about quarts of water, and turn the hean not bottom side up in it, and set on the stove. Let it come to a boil, or let it stay where it is hot for about twenty minutes: it will draw up and cleanse the whole inside, after which it can be easily washed and scalded, and be as clean as a plate. In this way soaking and scrubbing and scraping are done away with, and no one need dread the bean pot, or spend more than a few minutes in washing Emma Flanders.

Africa, Arabia and India dates form the daily bread of millions of people as well as much of their wealth. In this country we use them now as a dessert, being nutritious and mildly laxative. Dates contain fifty-eight per cent. of sugar, besides a kind of gum. A liquor like wine is made from them by fermentation, also a kind of vinegar. I wonder they are not more generally used in cooking, being so healthful, inexpensive and easily obtained. I have used them in pies, puddings and cake with good results. I even put dates in a rhubarb pie, and in puddings instead of raisins, Tomatoes form the basis of numerous palatable dishes, and are most acceptably used as a flavoring for soups and sauces. The following are merely a few suggestions, illustrative of the ways in which the tomato may be utilized, and which the housewife will have no difficulty in varying to suit her own fancy:

Raw Tomatoes .- Select good, firm tomatoes, pare and set on the ice to become thoroughly chilled. Slice and serve with shaved ice upon lettuce

Tomato Salad .- Pare the tomatoes,

Tomatoes Stuffed with Peanuts .-Choose firm tomatoes, pare and scoop out part of the inside filling the space mayonnaise. Serve on lettuce leaves. from the boiler to the rinse water. The combination of tomatoes, peanuts and mayonnaise may seem a strange one, but if tried it will be almost sure Boiled Tomatoes-Do not pare, but cut in slices, and broil to a delicate brown, under a double wire boiler. When done, take up carefully, dot with butter, season with pepper and salt, and serve at once. These will be found good with beafsteak.

Fried Tomatoes (1)-Like broiled tomatoes, these should not be pared, but in slices. Fry in butter till brown. Many housewives think good white cut in slices. HOW TO CLEAN AND KEEP AN IRON SINK SMOOTH.

If the housewife be so unfortunate as to have a rusty iron sink she should not be disheartened. It is possible to clean it and to keep it smoth as a lady's face.

Begin by buying sand-paper, both coarse and medium. Take a piece of wood of a size convenient to grasp in he hand. Cover the bottom of the block with coarse sand-paper, tacking it on the sides os that the heads of the tacks may not scratch the sink. Carpenters use such a block in sandpapering wood smooth. The block must be rubbed on the sink hard and long, being particularly careful about the corners, and changing the pieces John Drug stores,

ANOTHER THEATRE BURNED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 .- The destruc-

The population of the United States is estimated to be about eighty milabout six millions, so that the Americans bought from Canada about sixty two cents' worth of merchandise per head of population, whereas Canadians bought from the United States about $21.46 worth of merchandise per head of population. That is, each Canadian consumed over thirty-four times a each American did of Canadian merchandise. A great deal has been said about the United States being the natural market for Canadian farm pro-Americans bought only about ten cents' worth of Canadian farm products in the fiscal year 1903, while Canadians bought from the United States about $2.90 worth of the same kind of farm products per head of population. That is, each Canadian consumed twenty-nine times as much of United States farm products as each American did of Canadian farm products of the same kind. The exact figures are as follows.

Merchandise. Canada bought from U. S..$128,790,827 Canada sold to U. S...... 50,379,535 Farm Products.

Canadian farm products sold to U. S...... .... $ 8,348,789 Similar farm products bought

If the value of Southern farm products imported into Canada were added, the showing last year at "Tech." in Boston, and is would be still more unfavorable to Canada.

There is no reason for this extraordinary difference other than the fact the youngest men ever graduated that the United States has a high protective tariff, while Canada has a low protective tariff. A free trade professor in Ontario recently asked some one to give a definition of the phrase "Canada for Canadians." A good definition of "Canada courses in economics, philosophy and for Canadians" would be "a policy that would keep Canadians in Canada." The last United States census showed that there were in the great republic about 1,200,000 Canadians. If the census would go a little further and give the number of children and grandchildren born to those Canadians the divinity school, completes, so far in the United States it would probably appear that Canadians and their descendants in the United States are until the 22nd of October. On the 27th ed their intention of attending have about as numerous as Canadians in Canada. Our past policy has in fact been "the United States for Canadians" instead of "Canada for Canadians"-United States seaports for Canadian exports and imports, United States manufactures for Canadian farmers, and even United States farm products for Canadian towns and cities.

While United States products have been coming into ada, Canadian men and women have been going to the United States. Canada has for many years been exchanging men for goods. Some ment to suit the varied talents and tasts of our people, they will go abroad to seek work. There are very few families in Canada that have not at guest of Hon. H. R. owns of that country, and many Candians are actually employed in the United States producing goods for conumption in Canada. If there had been in force in Canada during the last thirty years a policy of "Canaca for Canadians," a policy of protection as thorough as that which has so wonderfully developed the United States, there would be very few Canadians over the border today.

The great emigration of farmers from the United States to the Canadian Northwest is of a very different character. Canadians go to the United States to seek work. The American come to Canada to seek land. Cheap farm lands are no longer obtainable in the United States, but there has never been a time when Canadians were obliged to abandon their country in order to get cheap farm lands.

Six Die in a Gas Laden Tunnel.

Two Gave Their Lives in a Heroic Attempt to Rescue Their Companions.

PORT HURON, Mich., Oct. 9.-Six employes of the Grand Trunk railway were suffocated to death by coal gas early today in the St. Clair tunnel, which runs under the St. Clair river from Port Huron to Sarnia, Ont. A coal train broke in two while passing through the tunnel, and three of the crew were suffocated while part of the train lay stalled in the tunnel. the engineer lost his life when he returned and endeavored to push the stalled cars back to safety, and two other rescuers perished in vain attempts peretrate the gaseous atmosphere of the great tube. The dead: A. S. Begg, Port Huron, superin-

The train, which entered from the American end of the tunnel, was made up of 17 coal cars. When it broke Engineer Coleman realized what had of the party in the past in the conhappened, and with the three cars still attached to the engine steamed out of the tunnel into the Sarnia yards, the spanning of the continent with a hastily detached the engine, and went back into the tube for the stalled cars. When his engine reached them he at- procity and commercial union, and the tempted to push them back through the tunnel and out of the American portal. The grade proved too steep however, and the attempt was a failure. The engine and cars rolled back into the gas-laden tunnel, and the engineer was suffocated at his post in the cab. His fireman, Fred Forester, with great presence of mind jumped into the partly filled water tank of the engine, where there was enough air to preserve his life, although he is in a serious condition tonight.

When news' of the broken train reached the American side of the tunnel, Supt. Begg, accompanied by two ing that the train was near enough to the entrance so that they might rescue and carry out some of the crew. They had gone but a short distance when the coal gas became stifling and Begg succumbed. The other two rescuers succeeded in crawling to the portal of the tunnel on their hands and knees. Meanwhile preparations were being made at the Sarnia end of the crew. An engine with a party of rescuers entered the tube and had proceeded but a short distance when they found John Haley, a track-walker, he was not surprised at the result of Switchman Blake, who was a member the meeting, he had not had any idea of the party, after a time made another attempt to penetrate the gas, no surprise to him that he had not gine, coupled it to the cars, and ran been selected, but evidently thought he the train out into daylight. HOPEWELL HILL Oct. 4.-J. Alton Tingley, proprietor of the steam granite works, Hopewell Cape, who, in company with Geo. Crossman, has been hunting for the past week near the lower end of the county, shot a large moose yesterday at the head of Goose River, arriving home today with his capture. The animal was a specimen, with a magnificent head, adorned with antlers nearly four feet across. When fired at, the moose was two hundred and fifty yards off, across a small lake, and on being wounded at once plunged into the water and swam rapidly in the direction of the hunters. Subsequently shots from a Winchester however. forced the brave animal to succumb before he reached the bank. C. L. Carter, the well known commercial man, of Moncton, is reported ill with typhoid fever at Hopewell Cape. Harry Burns, principal of the Hillsboro schoool, is also, it is understood, sick with the same malady at the hotel there. Several other cases of typhoid are reported in the vicinity of Hillsboro.

Miss Janie McGorman left yesterday on a visit to Sackville and Moncton. HAMPTON, Kings Co., Oct. 6 .- In the probate court of Kings county today, Judge G. G. Gilbert disposed of the following business:

Horticultural Exhibition of the Counties of Hants, Kings and Annapolis Just Closed.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., Oct. 7 .- One of the most successful fairs ever held in this vicinity was formally closed this evening with an address by Sir Frederic Borden. It was an agricultural and horticultural exhibition of the counties of Hants, Kings and Annanolis, held in Wolfville during Oct. 5th, 6th and 7th, in which over $1,300 was given in prizes. There was a large number of entries and the exhibits were on the whole of a very high grade. Conspicuous among these was the fruit, of which there was an almost endless variety and of splendid quality. Of quinces there were 26 exhibits, of grapes 13 plates, of pears 90 plates, of plums 90 plates and 54 jars, of apples hundreds of plates, pronounced by Mr. Vroom, government inspector, the finest exhibit he had ever seen in Can-

The poultry display was an excellent one, including about 70 cages of fine birds of the best varieties. The art exhibit and fancy work at tracted a good deal of attention and much commendation from critical

This time of year is a very favorable one for fruit display, and a movement is on foot by our leading horticulturalists to discontinue the fruit exhibits at Halifax and have the money that is virtually wasted in prizes there dis tributed to county fairs held later, when the fruit is mature.

At the convention every parish of A. Mott ex-M. P. P., was unanimously chosen as the standard bearer for the county. In accepting the nomination he pledged his best efforts and called upon the hearty support of the electorate. Resolutions were passed expressing implicit confidence in R. L. Borden as the leader of the opposition continental railway, after which officers were elected. The proceedings were harmonious throughout, in great contract to the conditions in the liberal camp here, where the party is divided, one faction favoring the nomination of Jas. Reid and the other that of William Murray. The meeting tonight was presided over by Hon. J. C. Barberie of Dalousie, who made flattering references to the candidate, saying he was well qualified to take a position in any egislative body in Canada. He introduced Mr. Mott as the first speaker. Mr. Mott, on rising, said that he had hoped his political experience had een closed, but he could not ignore the unanimous expression of his compatriots, and would seek to do them Referring to the liberal platform of 1896, he asked what plank had ever become crystalized into law? Not one. The liberals claimed great credit the prosperity of the country, but he was of the opinion that it was due almost entirely to the well-defined and far-sighted policy of the conservatives, which the liberals had borrowed. Touching upon the transcontinenta railway question, he believed in a government-owned railway, with ports in Canadian territory, and vigorously condemned a policy of handing over to a private corporation a railway costig from one hundred and fifty to one hundred and seventy million dollars, which was built by the people. Whatever profits accrued should go to the treasury for the reduction of taxa-

The liberal candidates, Carney and Roche, spoke first, followed by Emmerson and Fielding. The reception given to these gentlemen by the auderice was commonplace, and when the meting broke up at half-past eleven, after the minister of finance had concluded his speech, there were not more than 200 people present. The meeting was so flat that the liberal committee are now regretting that it was held. # ACADIA COLLEGE

Re-opened Last Week Under Auspicious Circumstances.

Expected It Will Be the Most Successful Year in the History of the Institution.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., Oct. 8.-Acadia College reopened on Wednesday last under highly auspicious circumstances. The registration of new students has already reached as high as sixty, and from a roof, breaking his collar bone other names are yet to be added. The freshman class numbers about fifty, winter he cut the instep of his left foot and a considerable number of others enter with advanced standing. others enter as special students. This unusually large increase with the larger increase this year at Acadia Seminary and Horton Academy marks this as the most successful year in the history of the institutions at Wolf-

The formal public opening took place Friday night in College hall and was attended by the students of the three institutions and a large number of town people. The evening was occupied with a lecture by Rev. A. W Sawyer, DD., LL. D., formerly president of the college, now professor of phychology and meta-physics, followed by important remarks and announcements by President Trotten.

Dr. Sawyer's subject was entitled. 'In the Gallery or a View of the Past." It was a comprehensive and scholary review of the life and scientific hought of the last sixty years. Dr. Sawyer is greatly revered at Acadia, and is as vigorous and commanding in his intellectual power as ever. The lecture was listened to with keen attention and great appreciation. It will and Mr. Hale has great hopes of Queporbably be given to the public later

Professor C. C. Jones, Ph. D., professor of mathematics, who has just returned from the University of Chicago, where he has been enjoying nine months' leave of absence. The president then alluded to the appointment of Prof. E. A. Sawyer to the principalship of Horton Academy, and the conassociate professor in the college. He action of the board of governoors in appointing Professor Sawyer to his new and responsible position, and believed that he would be able in that position to serve the college still more The full Episcopalian service for the Jones, son of Prof. Jones, had been asked by the board of governors to suspend his studies at Rochester Theological Seminary for a year in order to render this service. The position held by Mr. Jones will probably after this year be offered as a fellowship to some member of each succeeding graduating class.

Dr. Trotter then referred to the new Are Weak science course, the one leading to the B. Sc. degree, and the other, the abscience course, the one leading to the breviated course, without degree, He explained that much thought and care had been bestowed upon the organization of these courses. It had been felt that instead of establishing superficial engineer courses it was a better policy for Acadia to direct her science students to a first class technical school like the McGill School of Applied Science for advanced technical work. What Acadia offers in the B. S. course is a strong course equally exacting with the B. A. course if not more exacting. giving to the science students a broad general culture, a thorough discipline in mathematics, chemistry, physics and Dr. Chase's Nerve Food stands high the other sciences which underlie techin women's favor because it is especi- nical proficiency, also an extended drawing, descriptive geometry, and shop work in wood and iron. On Saturday Mrs. Hanselpecker, accompanied by her youngest child, called at the Sun office and told her story. She says that about the middle of August her husband ordered her other children to leave the house, and explained that he would knock her brains out if they were not away by the following Monday. He had frequently beaten her and the children, and made life impossible at home. A married daughter who was home on a visit, was beaten and put out of the house, and all the other sons and daughters were driven out. Hanselpecker brought with her all the children who were at home. She has in St. John one son and two daughters at work. Two younger children are with their mother, and are supported by the earnings of the others. Mrs. Hanselpecker says that she has fortunately not found it necessary to make her husband responsible for any debts, though she has an idea that she and the children are entitled to

Oct. 6th, 1904. Sir-Permit me through the medium of your paper to direct the attention of the government to the dangerous condition of the roadway and bridge between Upper and Lower Loch Lomond, which should have been repaired some time ago, and probably would have been if the government had given us an opportunity of electing a representative in place of Hon. A. T. Dunn when he resigned his position as member for St. John county, since when there does not appear to be any person who takes any interest whatever in looking after our roads and bridges. We should like to have another representative as soon as possible, and we cannot understand why we are kept unrepresented so long, unless it is that the government is afraid of the probable result of an election in St. John county. If this road and bridge arg allowed to remain any longer in their present condition there is very little loubt about the way the people up here will vote when they get the opportunity.

FREDERICTON Oct. 9.—The liberal convention held here yesterday afternoon was one of the poorest both in point of attendance and enthusiasm of any similar gathering ever held in the county. Though it was market day and a larger number of farmers were in the city than usual, they did not to any extent attend the assembling of the faithful. There were by actual count in the hall 76 persons present, and this number was made up chiefly by office holders and Mr. Gibson's Nashwaak friends. The great majority of the parishes in the county were unrepresented, a thing, perhaps, unprecedented in a political convention here. It was probably owing to the bad showing made from different sections of the county that led to the nomination in open meeting. That was the course adopted, and Alex. Gibson, jr., was nominated by Mr. Campbell, M. P. P., seconded by Mr. Kilburn. This met with unanimous approval, and Mr. Gibson accepted in a brief speech, saying among other things that he felt sure that the new railway would be built down the St. John valley and not through the woods and hills of the interior of the province. He did not boast of any majority in this election. The convention concluded with brief speeches from Mr. Allen, Mr. Phinney Each strove hard to out-do the other sounding Mr. Gibson's praises. Mr. Allen thought, like the others, that the Grand Trunk scheme was great, and said at the coming elections the liberals would redeem two constituencies now held by conservatives. He did not name the two. Mr. Phinney was sanguine that the liberals would win in the dominion, but was not bold enough to claim Ontario He considered Mr. Gibson, if not a Communication with the sheriff, however restored confidence to some extent. It happens that formerly all Marysville voters voted at Gibson, but when Marysville became a town and prosperous, an amendment was made giving Marysville a separate polling station. Strange to say, the new consolidated statutes do not contain the amendmenet and the result is that all voters at Marysville must vote at Gibson as years ago. This is not pleasing news to residents of that thriving town. The liberals call it an irregu-
