

ST. JOHN MAN WROTE THE PREMIER URGING VENIOT FOR A CABINET POSITION

Sir Robert Borden and Hon. R. W. Wignome Figure in Correspondence That is Recalled by the Premier in Connection With Now Famous "Offer."

PREMIER DECLINES TO GIVE NAME OF AUTHOR AT THE PRESENT TIME

Letter Writer Wanted to Arrange An Interview Between the Premier and Mr. Veniot on a Train Going to Sydney to Have Talk on the Situation.

Ottawa, Ont., May 20—Another chapter in the Veniot incident which has figured prominently in the House of Commons during the past few days was read to the members of the House of Commons this evening. It was in the form of a series of letters between the unnamed resident of St. John, N. B. and Sir Robert Borden, Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. R. W. Wignome, minister of customs and inland revenue, in which the writer of the letters, whose name was not made public by prime minister, urged that Hon. P. J. Veniot, minister of public works in the New Brunswick cabinet, be offered a portfolio in the federal cabinet, as his inclusion would give the government strength among the French Canadians in the east. The prime minister, in rising to make his statement, said he had been vaguely aware of letters dealing with such a subject had reached him. It was not until this morning, however, that his secretary had been able to trace the letters which he was about to read to the house.

Wrote From St. John. The correspondence began with a personal letter from the unnamed correspondent to Sir Robert Borden on December 22, 1917, urging that Hon. P. J. Veniot be brought into the federal cabinet. He was, said the writer, a leading Acadian, who controlled Gloucester seat and no doubt would be easy to arrange with Mr. Tupper (the present federal member) to vacate to make an opening. Mr. Veniot is the big man in the "Foster government" said Sir Robert's informant.

On November 23, 1920, a letter came from the St. John man to Mr. Hon. Arthur Meighen setting forth the contents of his previous letter to Sir Robert Borden. "Sir Robert," said this letter, "did not act on the suggestion but he wrote me in favor of it."

Sir Robert Opposed. When reading the letters in the house this evening, the prime minister stated that the letter from Sir Robert Borden had not been in favor of the proposal.

The writer urged Hon. Mr. Meighen to "take Mr. Veniot as representative of the Acadians" This would strengthen the government with the French-speaking people and be a powerful factor in breaking the solid front against it, and change opponents into supporters.

"You need a Tarte," quoted the writer from a newspaper article. "Well, Mr. Veniot is the next thing to a Tarte, a trained parliamentarian, good debater, fluent speaker in both English and French, clever political organizer, stands well with his church authorities and both French and English speaking people, knows the political game and so far has made good as minister of public works for New Brunswick."

Veniot in Ignorance. The writer said he had not spoken to Mr. Veniot in the matter and that he was the faintest idea that I am writing to you or had written to Sir Robert Borden. He believed, however, the matter could be put through. "Of course," the letter continued, "Mr. Veniot would have to have a portfolio in cabinet. To make an opening for him, Mr. Tupper would have to be provided for and Mr. Veniot, for the time being, at least, represent Gloucester."

Justice For Acadians. Giving Acadians representation in the federal cabinet would be only Crerar Nominal Farmer Leader?

Agrarian Candidate in Yamaska Says None Are His "Blind Followers."

Pierreville, Que., May 20—That Hon. T. A. Crerar is only the nominal leader of the Farmers' Party was the statement today of A. H. Clement, president of United Farmers of the province of Quebec, in addressing a meeting at St. Eloi on behalf of Joe Lambert, the farmer candidate in the three-cornered Yamaska federal election contest. "We are approached with having Mr. Crerar as a leader," he said, in connection with the former having voted for conscription, "but he is only the nominal leader because he knows more than others in the party as to the guidance of a political party. He now directs matters but none of us is his blind follower."

SENATE ADOPTS EMBARGO

Washington, May 20—Another step toward enactment of the Emergency Tariff Bill was taken today with the adoption of the conference report by the Senate without debate. The House is expected to act finally on the measure in the near future. The report was adopted by the conference in 55.98 per cent.

Revolver Shots In Crowded Street

Many Injured in Outbreak That Occurs at Cove, Near Kinsale, Ire.

Cork, May 20—While the main thoroughfare at Cove, near Kinsale, was crowded this evening several revolver shots suddenly were fired and a number of bombs thrown, killing civilians, soldiers and sailors were badly injured. The authors are not known.

Iron Ore Found In Northern Ontario

Cobalt, Ont., May 20—A big discovery of iron ore is said to have been made in the township of Tarron and Morel, in the district of Temiskaming, within fourteen miles of the railway at Elk Lake. It is said the ore is of high grade, massive hematite showing in one place over a width of four to five feet, and in which it is reported the iron content is about seventy per cent. In addition to this massive ore there is a series of four dikes or lenses of quartz and Jasper in which the iron content is 55.98 per cent.

McKNIGHT WAS FAVORABLE TO SENATE LOANS

Former New Brunswick Resident in One Case at Least Guaranteed Loan.

MOTION NOT SHOWN BY HOUSE PROBE. No Evidence Money Was Given to Influence Vote on Car Legislation.

PAGE 1—McKNIGHT WAS Boston, Mass., May 20—In the report of their investigators into stock market operations by members of the general court of 1918 and 1919, while measures affecting the stock involved were pending, the legislative committee found that thirty-eight members of the Senate and House of 1918 and 1919, at one time or another during those years, purchased stock in the Elevated or Massachusetts Electric Companies.

Idle Vessels Fill Ports of BRITISH ISLES

Millions of Tons Are Lying Idle as a Result of Coal Strike.

Bottom Knocked Out of Theatres. Strike is Entering Its Eighth Week and End Not in Sight.

London, May 20—Today marked the fifth day of the miners' strike. Unofficial parties involve much running into the country by leaders of the miners to meet members of the federation. It is reported that the miners' leaders have offered a new scheme through the government to the men, but it is believed that it will be impossible to appoint a meeting before next week. The new proposals are closely guarded secrets, but there is reason to think they will suggest that wages should be governed by the cost of living.

The Lanarkshire miners especially are examining with interest the idea submitted by the Provost of Hamilton, Sir Henry Keith, embracing this proposal. Distrust Proposals. The owners generally continue to show distrust of the suggestions involving amalgamation of collieries by districts with a view to economy. The Times in an editorial today protests against the owners' standpoint that only by reductions in wages can the industry be made to pay. It says: "Everyone is now beginning to understand that reform of managerial methods on the one hand, and better output on the other must accompany cuts in wages. If the industry is to be put on its feet again."

Imported coal is being landed at Folkestone, Leith, Middlesbrough and Portland. Attacks Own Leaders. George Roberts, the Labor M. P. and former food controller, speaking last night said the strike had been prolonged because of the cowardice of the men. "The men return to work in a fortnight with conditions they could have had long ago simply by going into conference. Four million tons of coal are rotting away in British ports. The dispute has knocked the bottom out of the London season and a theatrical slump has occurred which is the worst in many years."

Justus H. Gray Dies Suddenly

Aged Resident of New Brunswick Coming to City When Seized With Fatal Illness.

Cambridge, N. B., May 20—Justus H. Gray died suddenly here today at the home of his daughter, Mrs. T. C. MacLean, in the 84th year of his age. Mr. Gray arose in the morning apparently in his usual good health and was preparing to go to the city when he was seized with a sudden serious illness. He grew weaker rapidly all day but retained consciousness to the last. He was of loyalist descent and until recently lived on the old homestead at Springfield, Kings county. He leaves to mourn four daughters, Mrs. W. F. Elwood, Netherhill, Saak; Mrs. S. H. Belyea and Mrs. James J. Gillies, both of St. John, and Mrs. T. C. MacLean, of Cambridge, N. B., besides five grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Beer Bill Before Nova Scotia House

Hon. R. E. Finn Introduces Measure on His Own Responsibility to Sell Ale and Porter.

Halifax, N. S., May 20—"I introduced this bill as I am willing to take the responsibility for it," declared Hon. Robert E. Finn, in the House of Assembly today, when Hon. R. M. McGregor questioned the propriety of the introduction, during the dying hours of the session, of a bill to permit the sale of ale and porter for personal use in Nova Scotia. A. W. Sperry (Lansburg) wanted to know when Mr. Finn proposed to move second reading of the "beer bill."

Police Ambushed By Sinn Feiners

Attackers Routed by the Crown Forces—Arms, Ammunition and Bombs Taken

Galway, Ireland, May 20—Sixty armed men, ambushed a district inspector of constabulary and twenty policemen under him at West-Port this morning. One constable was killed and one wounded, and four of the ambushing party were killed and six wounded. The police attacked the ambushers entrenched position and carried it. The men defending the position were routed and fled across country, pursued by the government forces. Arms, ammunition and bombs were captured from the defeated party.

Briand To Rest

Paris, May 20—The Chamber of Deputies which has been listening to interpellations on the foreign policies of the government adjourned this evening until Tuesday next. BUDGET GETS MAJORITY OF TWENTY VOTES

One Division at 5.30 O'clock Friday Morning Amendment Defeated by 103 to 83.

PREMIER DENIES VENIOT INCIDENT

"No Such Proposition Was Made by Me or by Anyone in My Behalf."

Ottawa, May 20.—The Government was sustained by a majority of twenty in the vote on the Fielding amendment to the budget. The vote which was taken at 5.30 this morning, stood 83 for the amendment and 103 against.

The announcement of the figures was greeted with loud, prolonged cheers by the Government members who gave vent to their feelings by throwing books and papers in the air as they cheered.

ULSTER LIKE WAR ZONE AS VOTING NEARS

Armored Cars and Heavily Armed Police and Soldiers Everywhere.

CROWN IS TAKING NO NEEDLESS RISKS. Week Now Ending One of the Bloodiest in the History of the Island.

Cork, May 20.—Three former soldiers on the way to work today were taken by armed men to a stone quarry and one of them was shot dead. Another was seriously wounded and the third slightly wounded.

Crime Week Record. Dublin, May 20.—An official review of the week issued by the Dublin Castle authorities says the crime statistics were exceptionally large. There were sixty attacks on the Crown forces, while the police suffered fifty-five casualties of which 23 resulted in death. Most of the attacks occurred on the day following the elections for the Southern Irish Parliament, and according to the review were the outcome of a plan long pre-arranged. During the week there was 52 raids on the mails and 12 attacks on police barracks. The number of persons interned now total 3,036.

Ulster Like War Region. Belfast, May 20.—Ulster, on the eve of the elections, the first to be held under the system of proportional representation is like a region at war. Armored cars are here there and everywhere. Lorry loads of police and military with rifles ready for action come and go, and the military is guarding the headquarters of all royalist activities. But up to the present there have been no more than the usual clashes between rival factions which have occurred in Ulster elections for a generation, and nothing beyond this is anticipated by those in the best position to judge.

Forces Are Ready. However, the authorities are taking no chances. Forces are being kept ready so they can be rushed to the scene of possible disturbances and, if necessary, prevent faction fights from developing into something more serious.

Put Stranger Out. An unusual flurry of interest came just before the counting of the vote on the amendment. A slight commotion was noticed at the rear of the Liberal seat in the chamber and one of the uniformed door-keepers was seen to be quietly but efficiently persuading a stranger to leave the floor of the chamber and the lobby.

The man who was removed from the chamber the visitor was heard to announce that "he was a Tory and wanted to get his vote in."

The police attacked the ambusher's entrenched position and carried it. The men defending the position were routed and fled across country, pursued by the government forces. Arms, ammunition and bombs were captured from the defeated party.

NO LIBERAL TO RUN AT MEDICINE HAT

By-Election There Will Be Between Farmer and the Government Candidates.

Medicine Hat, Alta., May 20.—At the Liberal convention held today, the decision was unanimously reached that no candidate be nominated to contest the federal by-election in this constituency on June 27. A resolution was passed expressing loyalty to Liberal principles and to Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King. The contest has now narrowed down to that between the government and the Farmers' candidate.

GUILTY OF SERIOUS CRIME

Moncton, N. B., May 20—In the police court today Ralph O'Brien, a young man about 19 years old, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to rape two seven-year-old girls on Thursday afternoon. He was remanded by the magistrate for sentence.

COMMONS TAKES HOLIDAY

Ottawa, May 20.—The House of Commons will not sit on May 24. This announcement was made this afternoon by the premier in reply to Hon. W. S. Fielding.

MOTHERLAND GIVES CHAIR TO SPEAKERS

Commons Crowded for Brilliant Address by Representative from London.

EMPIRE TIES ARE STRENGTHENED AGAIN

Speeches by House Leaders at Acceptance of the Imperial Gift.

Ottawa, May 20—Hon. J. W. Lowther, former speaker of the British House, this afternoon presented to the House of Commons the new speaker's chair, which is the gift of the United Kingdom branch of the Empire Parliamentary Association. The scene was one rarely paralleled. Every gallery was packed. The new chair was screened with the flags of Great Britain and Canada, and, as Mr. Lowther rose to unveil it, he received a tremendous ovation.

Message from "Mother." Speaker Rhodes introduced Mr. Lowther, and the whole House listened with intense interest to the message from the "Mother of Parliaments," which preceded the unveiling of the chair. Mr. Lowther said he came to Canada as the ambassador of the Empire Parliamentary Association and presented as his credentials the fact that he has been president of the association since its inception, and joint president with the speaker of the House of Lords.

The Empire Parliamentary Association was formed ten years ago for the purpose of bringing into association and contact members of the different parliaments within the empire.

Recalls Great Men. "We are always delighted to receive any member of the Dominion Parliaments, who comes to the metropolis," Mr. Lowther said, "we believe by an exchange of ideas that the interest of the empire may be served. Although I am no longer president of the association, I have been so closely connected with it, and my severance is so recent, that the association invited me to undertake this pleasurable duty. I am here, therefore, at their request as the bearer of their greetings and good wishes."

Mr. Lowther remarked that the chair recalled the names of eminent statesmen who had sat before its original in the British House: Peel, Palmerston, Lord John Russell, Disraeli, Gladstone, Asquith, Balfour and Lloyd George.

Acknowledges Principles. "This chair," continued Mr. Lowther, "is something more than a gift to the Canadian people in parliament, more than an expression of friendship and good-will from members of both houses of the parliament of United Kingdom to the House of Commons of Canada. It acknowledges the participation by us, and its acceptance by you, the great principle that the British people, whether in United Kingdom or in the Dominions, accept parliamentary government and parliamentary institutions as the best known method by which a free people can govern themselves and by which their aspirations and ambitions can best be realized or removed."

NEW DIRECTORS OF GRAND TRUNK

Temporary Board With Sir Joseph Flavelle as Head is Nominated.

Ottawa, May 20—The government has nominated and called to London the names of the following gentlemen to be appointed directors of the Grand Trunk Railway, in accordance with the bill recently passed by parliament, viz.:—Sir Joseph Flavelle, Bart., Toronto; Howard G. Kelley, Montreal; A. J. Mitchell, Toronto; E. L. Newcombe, K.C., Ottawa; J. N. Dupuis, Montreal. It is understood that the appointment of this board will be temporary, preparatory to the bringing into force of the Canadian National Railway's Act, which provides for the united management of all government railways. When this is done, a permanent board will be appointed to manage the consolidated system. It is expected that the act will be brought into force shortly.

MOTHERLAND GIVES CHAIR TO SPEAKERS

Commons Crowded for Brilliant Address by Representative from London.

EMPIRE TIES ARE STRENGTHENED AGAIN

Speeches by House Leaders at Acceptance of the Imperial Gift.

(Continued from page 1) Mr. Speaker Rhodes ascended the new chair, and in a brief speech expressed the appreciation of the House of Commons for the gift. The Deputy Speaker, G. P. Balfour, speaking in French, expressed the sense of honor which he felt at being called upon to give utterance to the appreciation of the House of Commons for the gift of the chair to the members of the British Parliament. The presentation of the chair is an event of real significance. Possession of so splendid and beautiful an ornament adds immensely to the attractions of this chamber, but what is of infinitely greater moment it will hold before our eyes throughout the long, we hope unending, years of parliamentary government in Canada. The symbol of the great mother parliament of which ours is the offspring and the replica. It will stand as well as evidence of the sense of fellowship felt for us in the old land, and the helpful results which we have, through all our history enjoyed.

Sir Robert Borden said that the chair would symbolize during all the years to come the common purpose of the two parliaments. He hoped and believed that this common purpose would tend to the maintenance of liberty, equality and justice.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the opposition, said the constituent elements of parliament are right in regarding the moment as one of historic significance.

Hon. T. A. Crowe, Progressive leader, said the presentation of the chair marked an occasion of much consequence to Canada. It was a tribute to the genius of the Anglo-Saxon race, that it built on a broad foundation of freedom. There was no grander word.

Hon. Mr. Lemieux.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux said that the Speaker's chair would be for the people of Canada, not only a reminder of the good sentiments which existed between the people of the Old Country and Canada, but at the same time a reminder of the authority to which every citizen of this country, independently of political ideas, bowed.

The Governor General.

His Excellency the Governor-General said in part: "The ceremony we witness this afternoon will hold an honored place in our parliamentary records and present and future members of the Canadian House of Commons, will, I know, always have the same respect and veneration for this chair as their colleagues have for its prototype in the venerable assembly which throughout the Empire, we are proud to call the 'Mother of Parliaments.' I join with you in the expression of grateful appreciation of the gift and in the confidence and assurance that the spirit which prompted it is sincerely reciprocated, will still further strengthen the ties which bind the two parliaments together."

Upon the conclusion of the Governor-General's remarks Mr. Lowther presented to the House a framed scroll containing the names of the donors of the gift to the House of Commons. With Dr. Michael Clark leading, members and Senators sang "God Save the King." On the initiative of Mr. Speaker Rhodes, three cheers were given for the Governor-General and for Mr. Lowther. The House then resumed its regular session.

Riot When S. S. Aquitania Docked

Stones Hurlled Before Police Dispersed the Mob—One Man is Beaten Seriously.

New York, May 20—Police reserves and sympathizers of striking marine workers clashed tonight at the Cunard Line piers during a street demonstration while the Aquitania docked. The sympathizers paraded in front of the pier with banners denouncing the liner's steward, many of whom were clerks in the Liverpool office of the company, who had taken the places of the strikers to enable the vessel to make the voyage. Stones were hurled at the police, who fired several shots in the air to disperse them. Before the reserves arrived the paraders beat several negro firms employed by the White Star line. The disturbance had been quelled by the time the Aquitania's passengers were ready to leave the pier.

FIVE MINES IDLE

Glace Bay, N. S., May 20—For the first time in over a week five mines of the Dominion Coal Company were idle today, owing to lack of demand for coal. All the mines have worked steadily for nine days.

Senate To Produce Graving Dock Papers

Senator Roche Demands Publicity for All Halifax Graving Dock Documents.

Ottawa, Ont., May 20—In the Senate today, Senator Roche moved for copies of all letters, orders, memoranda, decisions, judgments and appeals arising out of or connected with the action of the Federal Government in expropriating the property of the Halifax Graving Dock Co., Ltd., and in afterwards transferring the said property to the Halifax Shipyard, Ltd. In support of his motion he traced the history of the Halifax dry-dock.

It had been constructed by private capital, with the assistance of the Dominion Government, the Provincial Government and the City of Halifax. The Dominion Government had expropriated the property of the private corporation and handed it over to another private corporation. Several copies of the raw material were obtained during the last three weeks and two more steamers are on the water, due next week, with more material.

"Alf's Button" Is Extremely Funny

Imperial Theatre Beseiged With People Who Laugh Heartily at English Comedy.

Imperial Theatre was not large enough last evening to hold the great crowds bent on seeing "Alf's Button," the English war-time comedy that has been such a success throughout the Empire. The play is a comedy of the most engaging kind, and is sure to be more big business. The picture was an extremely novel and original story, novel in the personnel of its players, scenes at the front, Cockney dialect and a comedy of the most complete. It was like taking a trip to London and seeing a typical English comedy in a typical English theatre.

The story of "Alf's Button" is that of a Cockney Tommy who discovers to his amazement and trepidation that one of the brass buttons on his uniform holds some magic power, and whenever he starts to polish it a Genie appears and wants to know what it is his "word and master" desires. The supposition is that the button was made from Allah's famous magic lamp of Arabian Nights fame, a lamp bought up as scrap brass by the government for war purposes.

It can well be imagined what fun develops as Alf and Bill, the Cockney pal test the powers of the button. The complications and situations are side-splitting, one following the other in the most laughable succession. Throughout the whole picture the English quality maintains an English style of acting, English scenery, English habits and customs, and the humorous titles are very English indeed.

Historic Document On Church Union

Anglicans and Presbyterians Present to Presbytery Result of Mutual Conferences.

Montreal, May 20—A definite basis for church union between Anglican and Presbyterian churches was laid before the Montreal Presbytery today by a special meeting held in Knox Crescent church, when a report of conferences held for some months past between two committees representing the churches concerned, was presented by the Presbyterian convener, Rev. Prof. R. E. Welsh. The document is regarded as historic since it represents the first successful effort to evolve a scheme on the lines of the Lambeth report. The Presbytery deferred discussion on this report to the next regular meeting on June 26 and arrangements were made for the report to be brought before the attention of the general assembly in Toronto early next month. The basis adopted the Lambeth conference on Faith and Order, and accepts a Presbyterian form of communion to Anglicans and an Anglican form of communion to Presbyterians.

ROYAL SOCIETY OFFICERS

Ottawa, May 20—At the closing session of the 40th annual meeting of the Royal Society of Canada, here this afternoon, Duncan Campbell Scott of Ottawa was elected president; Professor J. F. McMurich of Toronto University, vice-president; Charles Campbell, honorary secretary; C. M. Barbeau, honorary treasurer; Dr. D. B. Dowling, honorary librarian.

CHARGE BY STOWAWAYS

Sydney, N. S., May 20—Charges of ill-treatment have been laid against officers of the steamer Wilona by three stowaways who came on the vessel from Newfoundland to Sydney a few days ago. The men, George Fowler, Thomas Johnstone and James Kennedy, are being held for deportation to Newfoundland and the authorities are investigating their charges.

MINE SHUTS DOWN

Sydney, N. S., May 20—A change in the working time of the Dominion Steel Company's plant here necessitated its complete shutdown today, when only about 800 men were on duty. For some time the plant has been working at irregular intervals, but it is announced that for the immediate future operations will be carried on Wednesday and Thursday of each week.

Sugar Refinery Working To Capacity

Two Shifts Employed With Full Complement of Employees.

St. John may well feel proud of one of its leading industries, the Atlantic Sugar Refinery. Praise is due the management of the institution for the energy displayed during the trouble, some past few months, the courage displayed in meeting changed conditions and the promptness with which it adjusted itself to the new business era brought about by the readjustment period.

Running To Capacity

The refinery is now running to full capacity with a full complement of employees, with day and night shifts. Several cargoes of the raw material were obtained during the last three weeks and two more steamers are on the water, due next week, with more material.

Many Orders Ahead

The business on the books gives assurance of the keeping of the plant running at an indefinite period. It is pleasing to note there has been a great demand for the stock lately on the Montreal and Toronto stock exchanges and it is English and American capital seeking the investment.

DOCTOR TARRED, FEATHERED AND GIVEN FLOGGING

Texan Physician Taken to Woods Where Masked Men Punish Him.

They Charged Him With Malpractice

Afterward Dumped Naked in Public Street—Son Starts Out With Gun.

Beaumont, Texas, May 20—Dr. J. S. Paul, fifty-two, twenty years a resident of Beaumont, is confined to his home, suffering from lacerated back and wrists and from nervous shock as result of a beating administered by a mob of fifteen masked men, who afterward coated his body with coal tar and feathers. Paul was taken into the woods near here, brought back in an automobile, he was dumped in the street in the heart of the business section. A crowd of shoppers gathered about the physician, whose garments were a pair of slacks and his coat of tar and feathers. He was bleeding from lacerations on the back.

Reporters Taken Along.

Evidently the programme had been carefully arranged. Two reporters were taken on the night ride into the woods to see "something that will make a good story." They were taken in an automobile at a corner designated by a mysterious phone caller and driven blind-folded into the woods, where they waited for the balance of the party. After the whipping and flogging the reporters were driven to the business section and told to remain on the spot for another chapter.

Scarcely a moment elapsed when a certain car slowed down and Dr. Paul was shoved out.

The spokesman of the assailants told Dr. Paul the punishment was because of "malpractice," and recited the charges. Dr. Paul did not deny the charges, but justified himself by declaring there were others just as guilty.

Son Goes Gunning.

Later Dr. Paul's son, Marvin, 18, was picked up on the street by police. An automatic pistol and 26 bullets were found on him. He had been searching for those responsible for the attack on his father. He was released, and a special grand jury will be called and an investigation instituted. No arrest has been made and no member of the party has been identified.

Dr. Paul says the mysterious party which called at his home told him they were members of the Ku Klux Klan, but no mention of organization or Klan was made at the scene of punishment. The doctor resisted when they took him from the home and a whack on the head resulted. Then he was shackled.

Martial Law For Mingo Coal Fields

Miners Retort by Asking All Non-Union Men to Quit on Pay Offer.

Charleston, W. Va., May 20—What has been termed a "lock-out strike" of the Mingo field for almost a year and, according to the governor's proclamation a "state of war, insurrection and riot" is and has been for some time in existence.

Soon after the governor's proclamation appeared, Charles F. Kenney, President of District 17, United Mine Workers of America, in a signed statement called upon all non-Union miners in the Mingo field to strike and promised them upon benefits while they were idle.

"Large bodies of armed men" were assembled in the mountains of Mingo county and fired into and shot up public and other buildings and into passenger trains while passing over the Norfolk and Western Railroad.

"Many lives have been lost and much property destroyed as a result, and riot and bloodshed is still rampant and pending."

Caught Big Turtles While Ship Moving

Rigged a Boom and Caught Them in Net of His Own Design.

Portland, Me., May 20—What is considered an amazing feat by fishermen and seamen on the Pacific coast and one never before performed was recently successfully attempted by Second Officer Frank K. Williams and crew of the steamship Brush now loading cargo at the Grand Trunk docks for Pacific ports. Mr. Williams was in the United States Navy several years and during the World War was detailed as watch and division officer on the transport Mt. Vernon. He has followed the sea all of his life and is used to taking chances so he decided he would try to do that which was regarded as impossible and catch one or more of the huge turtles which abound in the Pacific Ocean for a stretch of a thousand miles and more to the westward of the coast.

A boom with a tackle attached was rigged out from the side of the vessel from which the operator lowered himself close to the surface of the sea. When a turtle would appear Williams would drop the net under him and give the signal to the man aboard ship to haul away on a line attached to the net. In this way six of the giant fish were taken and some idea of their size can be seen in the fact that it was all five strong seamen could do to haul them from the water.

Four of the turtles were used for food by the crew on the trip to Portland and are considered a great delicacy by those who have tasted their flesh. Two were taken to Boston and presented to the president and vice president of the company owning the ship.

SHIP SEARCHES FOR SAILORS

Charlottetown, P. E. I., May 20—The steamer Bram was today ordered by Captain G. T. Taylor, agent of the Department of Marine and Fisheries here, to go in search of six men who are reported to have left Port Mifflin, N. B., in a motor boat on Wednesday night last and who have been missing ever since.

Paper Makers Refuse To Take Reduction

Northcliffe Employees in Newfoundland Decide Against New Terms Offered.

St. John's, Nfld., May 20—Premier Squires of Newfoundland and the Newfoundland high commissioner in London have intervened in the strike of 1,200 paper makers at the Grand Falls mills in the interior of the island, owned by Lord Northcliffe and his brother, Lord Rothemann. In response to a request of the premier the high commissioner urged that directors of the mills residing in London consider the possibility of a settlement.

WRECKAGE OF WHEN RUM F

Fred. Hazlett Was Offere

Car Skidded and Crash ericton, Pinnin Victin Soon as Tragedy Occu Held by Customs.

Special To The Standard. Fredericton, May 20.—Fred Hazlett, aged 22 years, of Devon, N. B., was engaged with his brother on sub-contract on highway construction at Rinkskillen, between here and John, was so seriously injured that he died a short time after being taken to Victoria Public Hospital when an automobile in which he was being given a ride here to spend the week-end with his relatives left the road at the eastern end of the city this afternoon.

The driver and another occupant of the car disappeared as soon as the crash occurred, leaving him pinned between the car and a tree and without making any endeavor to extricate him.

The only explanation of their disregard for his safety seems to be that he was more or less of a stranger to them and the automobile was liquor laden. According to the authorities the car was being used in an international rum running enterprise in which St. John was the base of supply.

The car left the road on a sharp turn just as they entered the city proper. It was being driven at a terrific rate of speed, skidded in some gravel along the side of the road and crashed into an upright light wire pole. The force of the impact was so severe that the pole was snapped at the ground level and the car was being flung up against a big tree alongside the road, fifteen or twenty yards further on.

Two Men Ran People living nearby say they saw two men running away from the wreckage and it was not until some minutes reached the smashed car that they found Hazlett was pinned under it. It was therefore almost half an hour before he was extricated.

Believe Fire Was Set

Toronto, May 20—Military authorities believe the ordinance barracks destroyed Wednesday night were set on fire. It is said that rumors had reached military headquarters that the buildings at the Old Fort were to be fired and precautions were taken to keep a close watch on the quarters. Military officials would not discuss the report.

There will be a military enquiry into the causes and the origin of the fire," said Col. R. J. Brock.

DEVON MAN LEFT TO DIE UNDER WRECKAGE OF BOOTLEGGERS' CAR WHEN RUM RUNNERS RAN AWAY

Fred. Hazlett Was Offered a Ride by Two Men in Auto—Car Skidded and Crashed Into Telephone Pole at Fredericton, Pining Victim Under it—Pair Disappeared as Soon as Tragedy Occurred—Whiskey Seized and Car Held by Customs.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, May 20.—Fred Hazlett, aged 32 years, of Devon, N. B., who was engaged with his brother on a sub-contract on highway construction at Ennisville, between here and St. John, was so seriously injured that he died a short time after being taken to Victoria Public Hospital when an automobile in which he was being given a ride here to spend the weekend with his relatives left the road at the eastern end of the city late this afternoon.

Two Men Ran. People living nearby say they saw two men running away from the wreckage and it was not until some others reached the smashed car that they found Hazlett was pinned under it. It was therefore almost half an hour before he was finally extricated; he was unconscious and was hurried on a fire department truck to the hospital where he died at 5.10 p.m. a little more than an hour after the crash occurred. He was unmarried and is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hazlett, and a large family of brothers and sisters.

Load of Whisky. The automobile was a Mitchell roadster, and it was loaded with approximately 200 bottles of Haig and Haig Scotch Whisky and Gordon Dry Gin, almost equally divided. There were between 150 and 200 bottles in the machine, which, it is said, would have brought easily twice what they cost had they reached their destination. Police and prohibition inspectors seized the liquor, filling three green caps and a brown overcoat, which they are convinced are the property of a local man, who has been given as the owner of the car when it first appeared here several weeks ago. The car carried Maine, 1921 license plates, but a single New Brunswick license plate was found under the seat.

Car is Seized. Soon after the police had taken away the liquor an official of the Customs House came along and seized the car as an abandoned American owned vehicle, carrying contraband goods for illegal purposes. A little later two young men were arrested near a church where they had been drinking some of the liquor left in the wreckage, and it was said a lot more men and boys had also got drunk on liquor thus secured.

Severe Punishment Is Handed Out. Has to Pay $100 Fine in Addition to Losing Furs Worth $700. Fredericton, N. B., May 20.—Daniel W. Moore, of Fort Fairfield, Maine, has been fined $100 and costs in the police court here for having furs in his possession of animals that were caught without a permit, and also with having furs for export which did not bear the royalty stamp tags.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, Prime Minister of Canada, discuss the public questions now before the people of the Dominion, it was decided today that the evening mass meeting which he will address here will be held at the Arctic Rink. Preparations for the construction of a large platform and the provision of several thousands of chairs in the big arena were commenced this afternoon, and it is believed that it will prove an ideal auditorium for such a meeting.

Representatives of the Three Provincial Governments and Public Bodies to Go. Halifax, N. S., May 20.—Hon. R. E. Fynn, minister without portfolio in the Nova Scotia government, received a telegram last night from Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, stating that delegations from the Maritime Provinces would be received by the cabinet on Wednesday, June 1, to hear their representations regarding freight rates in the Intercolonial branch of the C. N. R.

Large Delegation Expected to Attend. Representatives of the three provincial governments and public bodies to go. This conference with the Federal Government will be the consummation of a number of conferences of representatives of the Maritime Provincial Governments and industrial and commercial representatives of the three provinces. It is said to be the outcome directly of unsatisfactory efforts to have the matter of freight rates over the former Intercolonial system considered before the Railway Commission. The commission would not adjust freight rates on a basis of comparative agreement or of geographical position and have informed previous delegates to take their case before the government.

She was a devoted and active member of the Methodist church. She is survived by her son, Jack Mace, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Harbor Grace, N.B., and one daughter, Mrs. Charles Doherty, of Fredericton.

GREAT GAS WELL IS STRUCK NEAR MONCTON AGAIN

Capacity is Said to be Two Million Cubic Feet Daily.

Quits Y. M. C. A. After Over Thirty Years. Presentation to Secretary Who Retires After Very Long Career.

Special to The Standard. Moncton, May 20.—The New Brunswick Gas and Oil Fields, Limited, reported today another big natural gas strike at the company's gas area at McLachlan's, Albert county. The company is continuing the policy of deepening old wells which show signs of decreasing pressure, and the latest strike of gas was in one of these. The deepened well shows a capacity of two million cubic feet per day, the depth of the well being 1,774 feet. The latest strike is very encouraging to the company officials here, who believe that the natural gas possibilities in Albert county have not yet begun to be explored.

The annual meeting of the Moncton Y. M. C. A. tonight was marked by the retirement of G. A. McWilliams from the office of secretary, a position he had occupied for thirty years. During the evening Mr. McWilliams was presented with an oak desk and chair by the association and an oak chair by the Ladies' Aid, accompanied by an address in each case. Geo. Sinclair succeeds Mr. McWilliams as secretary. An interesting feature of the meeting was a review of the association's work by the retiring secretary since its inception half a century ago.

HUDSON Offers these Important Qualities

Special Notice to Fine Car Buyers

Hudson beauty is prized by all owners. It even dictates the choice of many. But to most who know Hudson its chief charm must always be quietness of action and ease of control.

So smooth the response to throttle and wheel there seems no mechanical intervention between the driver's will and its accurate execution by the Super-Six.

Every day you see Hudsons two and three years old which in both performance and style might well be judged of recent production.

Hudson design has never been guided by caprice. It has never resorted to dubious extremes. It has been too sure of what are the essential permanencies of beauty, dignity and true riding comfort.

The advance ideas you will always find. But every idea must earn its right to belong. No mere straining after something new has ever won place for a single feature of Hudson design.

Thus has developed a mechanical quality that well-nigh removes all consciousness of motor and other mechanism. A New Meaning in Economy. And with it has come an economy in operation that asserts itself not alone in low fuel cost but more particularly in reduced maintenance expense. Owners experience no concern about Hudson's readiness to meet any requirement. Whether it be the instant throttle response needed to shoot the car out of a possible traffic jam, or the ability to go on tour across the continent, the Super-Six in countless ways has proved its fitness. The Super-Six motor is exclusive and everyone knows how it excels. Best of all, these qualities are not of today's accomplishment. They have been notably Hudson's for five years.

BUILDING A HOME ON A BOOK

The Sunday School Lesson for May 22 is, "The Christian View of the Family." What a Christian Home Should Be.

Several definite problems, always present with the human race, have been by the war suddenly rendered acute in Europe and America. One of the gravest is the shortage of housing. There is literally a shortage of millions of residences in the United States and Canada, especially in the great cities. So this condition is a timely background for the study of the present pertinent Sunday School Lesson upon what constitutes a Christian home.

A democracy cannot succeed without homes of happiness and enlightenment. One may even go further, and say that a real democracy is impossible without Christian homes. Neither tyranny or anarchy can thrive in a land where the great bulk of the people own their own homes, and where domestic happiness is the goal of young men and young women. Whoever erects a Christian home builds the surest bulwark against the storms of radicalism and unrest.

It is a sorry day for any nation or community when the people begin to conceive of their highest happiness outside of the family circle. Such cynical sayings as "Home is the place we have to stay when there is no other else to go" savor of the degeneracy of Greenwich Village.

Let us consider this topic under the figure of the building of a house; for a good house and its creation is a parable of Christian home.

The Home Builder's Plan.

Before there can be a good house there must be a good plan. Some houses are built by amateurs, without any design or blue-print; and they show it. Oliver Wendell Holmes likes many a "self-made man" to this type of architecture. And often homes fail because they are reared haphazard and without attempt to follow the Bible plan for a family life. So important an enterprise as the making of a home—important to the community as to the nation, as well as to the persons concerned—calls for careful foresight and for an understanding of the Divine design for the family. A study of the Scriptural specifications, and a building after the pattern there laid down, is the first step in good home-making.

Having planned the house, the next step is to determine its location and exposure. Which way does it face? Which means, translated into terms of home-making, has it a Godward outlook? Do its windows of prayer, like Daniel's, face toward the East? Some Christian young people open their first home with a little ceremony of Christian dedication; they deliberately build looking toward the heavens.

"Jerry-built" is a phrase of condemnation used to describe flimsy contract houses, which lack strength of foundation and essential timbers. The foundation and beams of a house are more important than its appearance. The family spirit of Christian faith and love and patience and cheerfulness, in which a home is built, is simply indispensable to good home-making. Unless built upon the Rock no home can withstand the inevitable storms.

And a family altar means an altered family.

"Roof-tree" is a familiar synonym for a home. Basic to the thought of family dwelling is the idea of shelter and protection. The wise builder looks well to the roof, that it may last and neither leak nor catch fire. God himself is the covering of the family of His children. The "British Week" prints a beautiful poem, of unknown authorship, "Under One Roof":

"Once in the days of long ago,
Days of my whole life the best,
When the time for sleep had come
And the house was hushed to rest,
It was such a happy thought,
Used to make my heart so light
We were all beneath one roof
When I barred the doors at night.

"Let the wind mean as it would,
Let the raindrops patter fast,
They were near me, nestled warm
From the midnight and the blast.
Not one lingering out of reach,
Not one banished far above—
It's a woman's Heaven to have
All she loves beneath one roof.

"Now, tonight the autumn wind
Through the keyhole whistles shrill:

It must roar amongst the firs
In that graveyard on the hill,
Dying leaves are whirled aloft,
Swaying branches knock the pans
In the gusts of the wind
Listen! Oh, the rain, the rain!

"Now, when bedtime comes at length
To me sitting here alone,
And the ticking of the clock
Tells how still the house has grown,
Oh, how heavy is the heart
That was once so light of yore;
Now—I seem to bear them out
When at night I bar the door.

"But our Father surely needs
All His dear ones near Him still;
Are we not at home with Him,
In the house or on the hill?
So I fill my empty heart
With the thought that far above,
Over them as over me,
Spreads one roof of heavenly love.

"So I can go up to bed,
Pass the door where once I heard
Gentle breathing, as I crept
Softly by, without a word;
Though the house is silent now,
Though they wish me no good
I am still beneath one roof—
When I bar the door at night."

The Many Rooms.
In the simple life of the orient, most of the population dwells in houses or tents of one room. We have got beyond that; too far beyond it, perhaps for the "living room," where all the family daily gather, is not a factor in all modern houses.

Without one room of common resort and assembly, be it kitchen, dining room or parlor, the best family life can scarcely be maintained. Here, with games and reading and talk, and all the forms of fraternal friendliness, the family spirit and traditions and memories grow. It is here and thus that the family withstands the manifold lure of all forms of outside entertainment; for the living room should be the crown and roof of the home-making skill of father and mother. Here it is that the greatest happiness of earth is to be found.

A guest room there should be in the Christian home, for how else can it be "given to hospitality." This does not necessitate a special chamber, stiff and formal and cold; for the humblest home may share its life, in truest hospitality. Breadth of vision, enlarged sympathy, and quickened imagination come into the family circle where the stranger is entertained. Jesus himself loves to go with His friends into homes where they are welcomed; and the Eucharist Guest is often revealed in the breaking of the bread.

Bethany knew the Master better than Nazareth. Kitchen represents, in the Christian home, Providence and the answered Prayer. "Give us this day our daily bread." In big cities it is a fashion to dwell in apartments and to patronize the delicatessen store for food; but that compartment ill with genuine home life. A real kitchen, wherein the homemaker works and the children learn lessons not taught in books, belongs in the normal conception of the family.

Bed-chambers stand for rest and seclusion, and the shut door which testifies to the sanctity of individual life and it claims to privacy. Every body should have room wherein he may obey the Scripture, "When thou hast shut thy door." Prayer and meditation and the cultivation of the inner life are symbolized by the chamber of the soul's seclusion.

Wide-Window Lives.
Any home built after the specifications laid down in Holy Writ will have many windows. For these represent the line of vision and outlook and human interest. Isolation and lack of concern for our race and our time have no warrant in Scripture. A statesman once said, "I have no interest in individuals" and history remembers that foolish remark to his discredit. God himself is profoundly solicitous for persons. Every friend of His must have a life wide windowed toward mankind, and ever looking out toward the distant horizons where the fields are already white unto harvest. All the rich world of human affairs and of nature and education belong within the jurisdiction of the home that is built in the name of God.

Of course, there must be books and periodicals in the Christian home; printed treasures from the past, and current tidings from the kingdom of heaven in its stately stepping through our moiling, turbulent time. "Give attendance to reading" is a Bible word for the builder of the Christian home. Wise parents provide for the practice of reading aloud in the family circle—a memory that never leaves the children. And the Book itself must have a central place.

Music, abundant in the Bible, and typical of the joy of our faith, should be wrought into domestic structure. The Christian home is a rejoicing home, and not a fretting, nagging, bickering place. Where mother sings to the babies, and the children sing at work and play, and the whole family sing together the deathless hymns of the Church, there, we may be sure, Christ himself attends as a frequent guest. He who sang hymns before His agony must love the singing saints.

The home that is built upon the Rock is founded upon a rock. It will stand and it will prevail. The crown of the centuries and of the civilizations is the Christian home.

Separation Granted In Their Old Age

New York, May 20.—Forced at 79 years of age to work in a steam laundry because of lack of support from her 82-year-old husband, Mrs. Arienna M. Kahn of 391 Audubon avenue, appeared yesterday before Supreme Court Justice Kagner and was granted a separation. Her husband, Baruch Kahn, is a retired real estate operator.

The couple were married 12 years ago at Lakewood, N. J. Mrs. Kahn testified. She was a widow and Mr. Kahn was a widower with four sons and a daughter, the oldest of them forty, she testified. At the time of this marriage she had an income from real estate bequeathed her by her first husband, she testified, but Mr. Kahn gave her nothing and she was forced to sell the properties bit by bit until none was left.

No defence was entered, and Justice Wagner granted the decree from the bench.

JANITORS ARE CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY

Ten Chicago Union Officials Indicted Following Testimony of Reign of Terror.

EXTORTION IS THE ALLEGATION

Asserted That They Black-jacked Property Owners of Sums from $20 to $2,000.

Chicago, May 20.—Indictments charging William ("Big Bill") Quessa, president of the Chicago Flat Janitors' Union, and nine other union officials with conspiracy were voted by the Grand Jury today following testimony said to reveal a reign of terror spread by union agents among property owners in the last four years. They were held on bonds of $25,000 each.

In addition to Quessa, indictments were voted against the following: John D. Sullivan, treasurer; Eugene Fordick, secretary; and these business agents: Claude F. Peters, Robert Osterberg, Frank McWalters, George Walters, John Mattis, James Leary and Gus Anderson. The union is said to have 7,000 members.

Large Sums Extorted. Stories of tributes of from $20 to $2,000 extorted under threats of violence were told to the Grand Jury by between forty and fifty property owners who had been victimized, according to Assistant State's Attorney Wm. Scott Stewart, who had charge of the investigation.

The indictments made in the indictments are charges that the union officials permitted both janitors and owners to violate working agreements so that the union could step in and fine both parties. In case the owner refused to meet the union's demands he was met with threats that he would be put on the unreal list, that his building would be picketed and all deliveries of milk, ice, groceries and other commodities stopped. In case he persisted in his refusal odor bombs were thrown in his hallways, his steps and porches were painted yellow and his building defaced in other ways and the tenants terrorized.

One property owner testified that the union had demanded $7,500 and the bribe of a janitor at the union scale for a building where the work had been done by 4 stationary engineers and fireman and scrubwoman and porters. There was no need for a janitor, the owner testified, yet he was forced to hire one and pay $2,000 in fines.

In another case a man was forced to keep a janitor on his payroll three years contrary to his wishes. Finally the janitor decided to go back to Europe and the owner got rid of him that way.

Another owner testified that he had been compelled to pay $240 to the union after it had demanded $4,000 alleged to be due for rental of a janitor's apartment. The janitor in this case worked in several buildings and occupied an apartment in one of them. The union contended that it was entitled to the rental from the janitors apartment in the other buildings.

"I saw Quessa and he said to me: 'Listen, I will save your time and mine. It will cost you $240 if you pay now; in five minutes it will cost you $340. I decided to take no chance on five minutes, so I immediately paid over the $240,' the witness said.

An Old Young Man.
A well-known judge, while counsel in a case was the victim of an amusing piece of repartee on the part of a witness.

"What is your age?" asked counsel.
"What," said the man, "I celebrated my twelfth birthday last week."
"Do you mean to tell the court that you are not more than twelve years of age? Why you look more than three times that age!"

"Four times would be exact."
"And yet you venture to tell me—and remember you are on oath—that you celebrated your twelfth birthday last week?"

"And it's quite true; you see, I was born on February 29, in Leap Year, and my birthday only comes once in four years."

INDIAN CHIEF BURIED.
Cannon Ball, N. D., May 20.—With all the ceremony accorded a chieftain in bygone days, Albert Grass, 71, last chief of the Dakota Sioux Indians, who was killed while fighting in France, was buried today. Grass' body reached here from France this week.

TORONTO MEN PREPARED TO HANDLE THUGS

Pedestrians Who Have to be Out Late Are Carrying Arms.

WILL MAKE USE OF THEM IF NECESSARY

Bandits Will Get a Warm Reception if They Molest Travellers Now.

Toronto, May 20.—Toronto's no longer a city where pedestrians go about prepared to be highwaymen and the cowardly displays of several recent would-be bandits have strengthened the resolve of many of those who must be out at night to beat the bandit at his own game.

Recently a favorite trick of the stick-up men has been to follow pedestrians alighting from motor cars at secluded stops, hold up the victims at a spot suitable for a getaway, and then beat it. One such "operator" was recently caught by the police.

It was such an one who a few nights ago followed a lady from the Blue Star street car line around McKee and Crescent. Apprehensive of an attack, she stepped from the sidewalk and the thug, fearing her escape, asked for her money, pointing a gun at her at the same time. The lady turned, and looked into the eyes of the ruffian—and the screaming. The bandit fled down the ravine.

Ready for Action.
To such craven will in future go away if the men of South Rosedale can put their resolves into execution. Cans are carried at night at "chicanery"—a convenient pose for quick and decisive action. The thug's retreat will have to precede his threat if he hopes to get away.

During the past few months the road bridges over the ravine has been the scene of several hold-ups. It is admirably located for such operations, providing seclusion, if the intended victim is alone, and a ready escape for the "operator." But these nights there is something sinister in the unfamiliarity with which right hands are found in the side jacket pocket, and while a number of "suspicious characters" have been observed lurking about the neighborhood late at night, no recent attempts at robbery have been heard of. Whether or not there is a gun in the pocket doesn't matter. It is a menacing pose and there are few knights of the road with sufficient nerve to take a chance—especially when they run from a woman's scream.

Taking No Chances.
Reporters have occasion to be in various parts of the city late at night. Pedestrians need seem to be just waiting for a chance at a robber. From twelve to fifteen yards anyone approaching is subjected to keen-eyed scrutiny. The camera men swing their trifle more briskly. If no cane, the right hand is in the side pocket and there is a little bulge. It might be a pointed finger, or a pipe, or a cigar, etc. etc.

It is good practice to keep to your own side of the sidewalk. And if you are waiting for a "borrow" a better wait till you get to a busier street. Toronto citizens are not leaving the entire hold-up problem to the police and courts.

Child Wife Not Guilty of Murder

Farmington, Mo., May 20.—A first degree charge against Mrs. John Parsons, 13-year-old, in connection with the death of her 12-year-old step-daughter, was dismissed by Circuit Judge Hoeker, today. A charge of 10-year-old degree manslaughter, immediately after the camera men swing their trifle more briskly. If no cane, the right hand is in the side pocket and there is a little bulge. It might be a pointed finger, or a pipe, or a cigar, etc. etc.

It is good practice to keep to your own side of the sidewalk. And if you are waiting for a "borrow" a better wait till you get to a busier street. Toronto citizens are not leaving the entire hold-up problem to the police and courts.

1 Pill a Laxative, 2 Pills a Cathartic, 3 Pills a Purgative,
This is the Way Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills Work

You will never use any of the old griping nauseating, sickening, purging pills, containing, as they do, calomel and other drastic mineral ingredients, until you use Milburn's Laxa-Liver, a pill that is purely vegetable.

Owing to the great care used in procuring the highest grade of drugs from which they are manufactured, they are as near perfect as it is possible to get a laxative remedy.

They work gently and effectively, without a gripe or pain. If you are troubled with constipation, biliousness, driven to distraction with sick headaches, if your tongue is coated, your breath bad, your complexion muddy, your eyes yellow, have floating specks before the eyes, jaundice, itching, bleeding or protruding piles, sit up your sluggish liver with a few doses of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills.

Mrs. Roy Mackie, Orilla, Ont., writes—"I desire to express my thanks for the relief I have had by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I had been suffering for some time from constipation and had had headaches. I tried all sorts of cures, which did me no good, until I was advised to try your pills. I got great relief after taking only a few doses."

Child Wife Not Guilty of Murder

Farmington, Mo., May 20.—A first degree charge against Mrs. John Parsons, 12-years-old, in connection with the death of her six-year-old step-daughter, was dismissed by Circuit Judge Hooker, today. A charge of fourth degree manslaughter immediately was filed against the child wife. The child wife denied allegations that she said she shot the girl because the latter objected to having her hair combed, contending the shooting was an accident. The killing occurred two months ago, five days after the girl married John Parsons, 35, a wood cutter.

Had Kidney Trouble For Thirty Years

WHY W. J. HAMPTON RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Manitoba Man Says the Pain is Nearly All Gone and Dodd's Kidney Pills Worked Wonders for Him.

Newdale, Man., May 20.—(Special.)—That even the most chronic case of kidney disease and rheumatism can be benefited by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills is the belief of Mr. W. J. Hampton, a well-known resident here. "Dodd's Kidney Pills certainly worked wonders for me," Mr. Hampton states. "My kidneys were so bad at times that I could not work and I was also a sufferer from rheumatism. Mine was a chronic case of thirty years' standing. Now the pain is nearly all gone and I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble."

WEDDINGS

Cooper-Davies.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davis, Harvey Station, at 7 o'clock in the evening of Wednesday, May 18th, when their youngest daughter, Nellie Margaret, was united in marriage with Albert Leo Cooper of St. John. Rev. J. F. MacKay performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives and immediate friends. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Inez Davis, while the groom was ably supported by Mr. Ernest Hunter of McAdam.

The bride, beautifully gowned in white satin with veil and orange blossoms, carrying a shower bouquet of white bridal roses, entered the room, which was beautifully decorated with Spanish moss and flowers, leaning on the arm of her father, to the wedding march rendered by Miss Estella Davis of Yoho.

After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining-room, which was decorated with carnations and ferns, where supper was served.

The popularity of the young couple was testified by the number of beautiful presents received. The groom's present to the bride was a rope of pearls; to the bridesmaid a cameo ring, set with pearls; to the groomsmen a pearl scarfpin; to the organist a garnet bangle.

The bride's travelling suit was of navy tricotine with grey trimmings and hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper left on the evening train for an extended trip to the Pacific Coast.

McCloskey-Gardner.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. George McCloskey on the evening of May 18th, when his only daughter, Bernice Kathleen, was united in marriage to Percy Simpson Gardner of Ashland, a Mine. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. L. Grant, in the presence of about forty guests with the single ring service being used. They were unattended. The bride was becomingly dressed in white crepe de chine and wore pink roses. The bride was the recipient of many useful and valuable presents. Out of town guests were present from Ashland and Houlton. After the ceremony, refreshments were served and a very enjoyable evening was spent. The happy couple left next day for Ashland and other parts of Maine.

OBITUARY

Miss Gallagher

Hillsboro, N. B., May 20.—The death of Miss Luella Gallagher occurred at the home of her father, Wm. Gallagher, Hillsboro, N. B., following a few months' illness. She was fifteen years of age. She had resided here only a few months and had made many friends during her illness. Besides a father, she is survived by a step-mother, one brother, Reginald, one half-brother, Percy, and one half-sister, Mary, all at home. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. Horwood of the Valley Baptist church. Interment was made at Cansan cemetery.

Mrs. Daniel Taylor

The remains of the late Mrs. Daniel Taylor, whose death occurred at her residence in Hillsboro, N. B., last week at Grey's Island cemetery. The service was conducted by Rev. A. Horwood. The late Mrs. Taylor was well known here, where she resided for a number of years.

LOVE MAKING IS LEGAL.

Kansas City, Mo., May 20.—Love making in this city's parks was officially recognised as a legitimate summer sport in an announcement today by Chief of Police Edwards.

The policy of the police department will be to let love alone, and the Chief said: "Police officers have something more to do than to clear park benches of boys and girls making love."

E. B. WADE HANGED.

Wethersfield, Conn., May 20.—Eliwood B. Wade, of Bridgeport, was hanged in the Connecticut State Prison here today for the murder of Geo. B. Nott, in Bridgeport, last August.

The Caddie's Advice.

The golfer was a poor player and in this instance he was in sad difficulties. After he'd hammered away in vain for some time he turned to his caddie and said: "What 'chub ought I to take now?" "Losh," said the caddie, "take 'em all and gang away home w' ya."

Valuable Report On New Brunswick

Dept. of Interior Has Issued New Book on Resources of the Province.

A new report on the Province of New Brunswick has just been issued by the Department of the Interior through the Natural Resources Intelligence Branch at Ottawa. This report is a complete revision of one published by the department in 1918 and contains a quantity of valuable and useful information not included in the previous publication. In the preparation of this report assistance was rendered by the several departments of the Government, New Brunswick, and by various Boards of Trade and business firms in the province.

Much Useful Information.

The publication provides not only an accurate account of the natural resources of the province with important details useful for libraries and general readers, but also much practical information of assistance to agricultural settlers, financial investors, and tourists. There are chapters on the geology, history, government, finance, education, and transportation facilities of the province. Descriptions are given of the chief cities and towns and the advantages which the province possesses for foreign trade are clearly shown.

Natural resources of New Brunswick have been fully treated under the divisions of agriculture in all its various phases, the forests, minerals and mining, fisheries, game and furs, while the extensive water powers have been scientifically described.

Fully Illustrated.

The report is illustrated with interesting photographs. Statistical tables on temperature, rainfall, population, finances, exports and imports, production, etc., together with maps and plans are included. A full biography of reports and works on New Brunswick is appended.

The report may be had free upon application to the Superintendent, Natural Resources Intelligence Branch, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

HELD WITHOUT BAIL.

Jersey City, May 20.—Giuseppe De Filippo, charged with conspiracy to destroy the United States assay office in New York in connection with the Wall Street explosion last September, today was held without bail for a hearing May 25, by U. S. Commissioner Hendrickson.

Asked by Commissioner Hendrickson if he desired to make a statement, De Filippo said: "I know nothing of it. I never heard of the explosion. I don't know where Wall Street is."

He was taken to the Hudson county jail.

Put CANADA On WHEELS Get More Done—in Less Time

That's Efficiency! And greater individual efficiency is Canada's greatest need.

There is no other single factor that can bring this about as well as the use of more automobiles.

Then let us increase the Nation's manpower by the horse-power of motor cars!

That's what is meant by the slogan "Put Canada on Wheels." That is Overland's object in inducing present car owners to write letters on "What my car means to me."

By proving in this way the utility of the motor car—settling once and for all the fallacy that an automobile is a non-essential—it is hoped to arouse Canadians to the possibilities before this country. These possibilities can only be realized to the full, if the greatest possible use is made of the greatest modern aid to progress—motor car transportation.

If you own a car, you can help in this movement to "Put Canada on Wheels." And in doing so, your entry in Overland's big $5,000 contest may win you a handsome cash prize.

HURRY! CONTEST CLOSES JUNE 1st

We Will Pay $1000 for one Letter

You still have time to enter this contest—letters will be received up to June 1st.

But don't delay! Get an entry blank from your nearest Overland dealer or write to Contest Dept., Willys-Overland Limited, Toronto, Canada.

Keep your letter within 300 words. Don't mention your name or make of car in your contest letter. Put your name and address on a separate slip of paper.

The competition is open to Canadian owners of all makes, only those in the automobile business not being eligible.

- $1,000 for the best letter written by any Canadian automobile owner. $250 for the best letter from a farmer. $250 for the best letter from a doctor. $250 for the best letter from a commercial traveller. $250 for the best letter from a woman motorist. $100 EACH to TEN others. $50 EACH to TWENTY others. $25 EACH to FORTY others. In all, 75 Awards, amounting to $5,000.00

MR. VENOT'S AFFAIR

On the face of things, now, does it best like a reasonable probability that Premier Meighen would offer seat in his Cabinet to Mr. Venot? What is there to prompt him to do such a thing? What would he gain by Mr. Venot's acceptance? The closest student of political affairs would be sorely puzzled to discover any advantage that would accrue to the Premier by having Mr. Venot as a colleague.

House of Commons. The chair, as Mr. Lowther said, "is something more than a gift to the Canadian people in parliament, more than an expression of friendship and good-will from members of both houses of the parliament of United Kingdom to the House of Commons of Canada. It symbolizes the in its presentation by us, and its acceptance by you, the great principle that the British people, whether in the United Kingdom or in the Dominions, accept parliamentary government and parliamentary institutions as the best known method by which a free people can govern themselves and by which their aspirations and divergences can best be realized or removed."

A BIT OF VERSE

"KING." In memory of "King," the famous charger ridden by Major-General Sir Edward Morrison through the late war, and who took part in every battle in which the Canadians were engaged up to the armistice. Died April 25, 1921.

I suppose you were undulyly detained? You sir, I sed. How, if you will pardon me for being so bold as to inquire? sed pop. Well in the first place there was some men putting up a big size all about the circus, I sed. And they needed your assistants, I suppose? sed pop. No sir, but I had to stay there and watch them, I sed. O, I see sed pop, and I sed, Yes sir, and in the 2nd place some man was being arrested by a policeman for being drunk with his hat over his eyes. And I suppose you were needed as a witness, sed pop. No sir, but I had to stay there and watch till the patrol wagon came, dident I? I sed. O, so you did, so you did, sed pop, anything else to detain you? Yes sir, I sed, a horse fall down. With you under him? sed pop. No sir, but G, goah, pop, dident I haf to stand there and watch K? I sed. Yes, and by the same line of logic you'll haf to stand there and watch us flash suppr, sed pop. Wich I did, taking them a fearsome long while, and then I ate mine all alone wen everything was cold, being a good eel better than not eating it at all.

Cases Dealt With In Police Court

Serious Charges Against Married Man—Five Youths for Theft Further Remanded.

A case against Thomas Ramsey, charged with having liquor in his possession other than in his private dwelling, was postponed on application of the accused. The case will be taken up at 10.30 Monday morning.

The five lads implicated in the theft of a horse, the property of James McCarthy, and also with breaking, entering and stealing from the store of Samuel Melinsky at Musquash, were brought before the court and remanded until Monday, when they will probably be sent up for trial.

Arthur M. Bustard was charged with a statutory offence. The magistrate announced that, in view of some statements made by the girl, it might be that two more charges would be laid against the accused, who is a married man. On application of counsel for the defence, the case was laid over until the next sitting of the county court. B. L. Gerow appeared for the defence. One man charged with drunkenness, pleaded guilty and was remanded.

NAPOLEON WAS FOUNDER BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY

Introduced It Into France in Early Years of 19th Century.

MADE PEOPLE USE THE NEW PRODUCT

Prohibited Importation of Cane Sugars and Forced Them to Grow Beets.

The centennial of the death of Napoleon Bonaparte may serve as an occasion to call attention to one of his most lasting but least known works of peace—the founding of the European beet-sugar industry. In the early days of the 19th century, food conditions were precarious in France. Agriculture was at a low ebb and sugar sold for a dollar a pound. Napoleon's Berlin decree of 1806 prohibiting imports of food-stuffs, made France more dependent than ever on her own resources. To alleviate the sugar shortage, Napoleon heard the claims of the theorists who maintained that grape sugar and beet sugar were the sugars of the future. He offered prizes for the best results and set his chemists to the task of making experiments.

Convinced Best Sugar Beet.

At first it seemed as if grape sugar would emerge the victor, but in 1811 Napoleon became convinced of the superior qualities of the beet product. Forthwith he appropriated 1,000,000 francs for six technical beet-sugar schools. He prohibited imports of Indian sugars and ordered 79,000 acres to be planted with sugar beets. Napoleon's interest in the new industry never wavered. A year later he ordered 100 students transferred from schools of medicine, pharmacy and chemistry to the best sugar educational centers. At the same time he ordered the beet sowing increased to 150,000 acres. How successful was Napoleon's sugar policy may be gathered from this extract from a report of one of his ministers in 1813.

334 Factories in 1813.

Thinks Ocean Ships Should Pass Canals

Long Haul Best Aid to Lower Freight and Cheaper Goods.

Ottawa, May 20.—The Nova Scotia and Western Coal operators will not appear before the parliamentary fuel committee until Wednesday, the 25th instant. This was decided at a hurriedly assembled meeting of the committee yesterday. The meeting lasted only a few minutes and was primarily called to extend the time limit for the appearance of the Nova Scotia operators. At the meeting of the committee today, J. C. Douglas (Cape Breton), criticized the granting of the extension and said that he had little faith that the Nova Scotia operators would appear despite their telegram to the contrary.

R. B. Teskie Called.
Dr. W. D. Cassin (Regina) presided at today's session, and R. B. Teskie, director and operating manager of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, was the only witness. Responding to F. H. Keefer (Fort Arthur), Mr. Teskie declared his belief in the feasibility of sailing ocean-going vessels into the Great Lakes ports and through the Welland Canal. Ships would always follow the longer trade routes, as it was in the interest of the steamship companies to carry freight the longest possible distances. Such a service would materially cheapen transportation and would build up the industrial centres along the lakes. Another suggestion from Mr. Keefer was a service from Port Arthur to Cape Breton, the ships to carry grain out and coal back.

Mr. Teskie said that this was possible, but that ships would have to be specially constructed to make the service pay.

MANITOBA ASKS RETURN OF ALL PUBLIC DOMAIN

Big Delegation Tells Premier Meighen That National Resources Alienated.

PREMIER NORRIS WITH THE PARTY

Hon. Mr. Meighen Tells Visitors Entire Question is One of Terms Only.

Ottawa, May 20.—A delegation consisting of leaders of the representative groups in the Manitoba Legislature waited upon the Premier and members of the cabinet today to present a resolution requesting the immediate return of the natural resources to that province. The resolution which was presented to Premier Norris of Manitoba was one which received the unanimous support of the legislature.

Wants Land Back
It calls upon the Dominion Government to take immediate steps in connection with the Manitoba government, to affect the transfer to provincial control of all lands and natural resources within the province hitherto alienated.

The resolution further states that the Manitoba Legislature is of the opinion that the province is entitled to compensation upon a fiduciary basis for all public lands and national resources alienated by the government of Canada for the purpose of the Dominion.

Lake of the Woods
The delegation also asked that the Dominion Government proceed to expropriate the Norman dam and assume control of the waters of the Lake of the Woods.

Premier Meighen, Sir James Lougheed and Hon. J. A. Calder, minister of immigration, received the delegation which was supported by a number of western members in the Federal House.

In addition to the presentation of the case of Premier Meighen, short speeches were made by F. J. Dixon, leader of the Labor party in the Manitoba legislature, John T. Haig, leader of the Conservative group, and W. Robson, leader of the Farmer wing.

Premier Norris emphasized the view that the question was not one of subsidies but of lands and lands only.

Letter of Law

The only alternative to full provincial rights as from 1870, was an admission of subordination which the province of Manitoba would not tolerate. Manitoba had never been disposed to stand "uncompromisingly upon the rigid letter of the law in interpreting the fiduciary obligations of the Dominion. The general basis of settlement being conceded, equitable adjustment could be arranged. Premier Meighen, in replying to the delegation said that the government in 1911 committed itself definitely to the prairie provinces. He believed that the resources should be returned, but the question of terms was the stumbling block.

First Special Case In Appeals Court

Considering Application for Committal for Contempt of Court.
The Appeals Court sat yesterday at what was probably the special sitting in its history to consider an application for committal for contempt of court against William H. Sharpe, in that he had disobeyed an order of the court by taking his children out of its jurisdiction. The court was composed of Chief Justice Haugen and McKeown and Judge Grimshaw.

Argument of counsel, Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C. for the accused, and Cyrus F. Inches, supporting the application were heard. Affidavits in the matter were read. It was admitted that the accused had violated the order, but the contention was that he had not done so viciously, as it was necessary for him to go out of the jurisdiction in order to support his children. The court considers.

In Police Court.
In addition to the application heard in the court of appeals, another action was brought against Mr. Sharpe in the police court where he was charged with removing his children from this province against a lawful order of the court. Cyrus F. Inches appearing for the prosecution, asked that the accused be remanded for one day as a special session of the supreme court was being held in connection with the same matter. W. R. Scott appearing for K. J. Macleod, requested for an adjournment on the ground that the case was the King against Sharpe, and that the magistrate had no jurisdiction over the civil side of the case.

Mr. Inches while admitting that this was true in so far as the civil end of the case was involved, said that it had nothing to do with the criminal side and that the prosecution had no intention of dropping the information against the defendant. He said that the defendant was in the police court on a criminal charge. The magistrate allowed Mr. Inches' request for an adjournment until Monday morning.

He Who Laughs Last.
"Pennyworth of cobbler's wax, please, sir!" said a tiny boy, as he stretched his hand to a level with the counter.
"Wouldn't shoemaker's wax do as well?" asked the facetious shopman.
"Don't know," replied the small boy; "but I'll ask pa."
Five minutes later he was back

World-Recovery Sure If Germany Does Not Default

The start of real world-recovery is seen by many in Germany's eleventh-hour acceptance of the terms imposed by the Allied Reparations Commission—unless Germany defaults on her agreement. By this submission—delayed until the shadow of French invasion lay black across the Ruhr valley—"a tremendous menace is lifted from the world," declares the New York Herald, which bids the nations rejoice "at the new prospect of peace, tranquility, and stability." A Paris dispatch quotes Thomas W. Lamont, the American banker who, during the Treaty negotiations, was financial adviser to the United States Government, as saying that German acceptance of the reparation program means "salvation for Germany, and a new era for the rest of Europe;" and the New York Daily News admonishes us that "this is an excellent time for the people of the United States of America to stop worrying and go back to work."

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week presents American public opinion upon the effect that Germany's surrender will have upon the peace and future prosperity of the world. It also shows the total amount Germany must pay to the Allied nations, how it is to be paid, and how it is to be divided.

Pictures Taken Through Stone

Paris, May 20.—The French scientist Contrenoulins, chief of the laboratory of radiography for the hospitals of Paris, has just demonstrated in a series of remarkable experiments that an X-ray apparatus can photograph subjects through a stone wall more than 250 feet distant from the source of the rays.

Contrenoulins does not lay claim to full development of this work, declaring the practical biological value requires 10 to 15 years to perfect, but he has actually made plates at various distances with rays projected through all kinds of building material. He is preparing documents now to submit to the French Academy of Sciences.

Starting with an ordinary apparatus a little more than four yards distant from the sensitized plate, he in the lapse of one hour obtained a clear photograph of metallic objects for which the rays filtered through Marble plate more than a inch thick, a sheet of lead an eighth of an inch thick, 12 inches of oak and four inches of plaster.

At 50 feet from the same source, then at 130 feet and later at 250 feet, during four hours' exposure, human bones and other objects, including a crab with one claw, were clearly photographed when placed on the inside of the brick and stone wall of one hospital building. It is recalled that in 1896 the first radiograph apparatus required eight hours' exposure with the plate only ten inches distant.

This brings into discussion the possibility of photographing people through the walls of their own houses, as everything in the conical paths of the rays is affected until the rays limit the plate which absorbs them. It is not known just how distinguished academicians will accept this photographic intrusion into the privacy of the home.

again, with the announcement that shoemakers' wax would do all right. The shopman grinned.
"And did your pa tell you what the difference was?" he asked.
"Yes, sir," said the little boy. "He said there's the same difference as between you and a donkey!"
Though small, the child was intelligent, and he made a record sprint for the door.

Dress Advice from Woman Lawyer

"A woman's dress has a twofold effect on her progress in business," says Miss McCormick, the observant young district attorney of Brooklyn.

"It reacts on her own nature. Well dressed, a woman has that feeling of comfortable assurance which frees her mind, and leaves it receptive to ideas and programs of work. 'The well-dressed woman is more receptive to the ideas and the propositions of an attractive personality' and in a woman clothes almost entirely determine this quality."

Beauty alone can sometimes be lost if a woman has not planned how to set off her charms with distinction. A well-dressed woman is never overlooked.

Good looking clothes have helped many a woman over life's difficult places. They disarm antagonism.

If it is a question of how carefully their dress is examined and judged when they apply for positions, they would make their dress a deliberate study instead of the wanton indulgence in taste and fads that is practiced by many.

"Women's Wear."

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR GIRL

By HELEN ROWLAND
(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

The sweetest surprise a man can have is to marry a girl for her "spiritual charm," and discover that she can broil a steak.

There is no such thing as "alienated affections." A man never sees another woman, until he has stopped looking at you, and begun looking for consolation or diversion.

Next to trying to escape from the woman who wants him and would make him happy, the hardest work a man puts in in his lifetime consists in trying to win some other woman who doesn't want him and will make him miserable.

To succeed in kissing a girl at the first attempt is about as thrilling to a man as shooting at a wild fowl and hitting a canary.

Next to a fat man in a bathing-suit, the funniest sight on earth is a man in a fancy dress costume or a Knight Templar uniform. He doesn't know whether to feel delighted with himself or disgusted with himself, whether to strut or to run and hide—and the strain of conflicting emotions is simply paralyzing.

To light the spark of interest in a man's heart, flirt with him—to fan the flame to love, flirt with somebody else.

A young man's taste in girls, like his taste in food, may be naturally simple; but it's amazing how suddenly it changes, as soon as he makes money enough to afford the spicy, and highly seasoned variety.

That "married feeling" is the perfect understanding that comes, after a few years, when a wife knows exactly what her husband is going to say when he is planning an evening at the club, and he knows exactly what she will answer, when he says it.

A man can play so cleverly at the love-game that he cheats himself out of all the thrills.

Land of Night Greatly Enjoyed

Successful Play Given in Exmouth St. Church School-room by The C. I. G. T.

A very successful play, entitled the "Land of Night," took place last evening in the Exmouth street Methodist Sunday school room, under the auspices of the Canadian Girls in training of that school. The cast of characters follows:

Princess of Dawn..... Edith Shaw
Land of Night..... Mabel Adams
Courier Moonbeam..... Margaret Jack
Jane Jogway..... Pearl Finlay
Nora Mulligan..... Grace Hughson
The Six Star Maids—Dorothy Handren, Laura Lawton, Marion Cosman, Florence Christie, Dorothy Young, Doris Jones.
Sunbeam Maids—Helen Handren, Rebecca Sample, Helen Morgan, Grace McKee, Doris Shaw, Bessie Cosman, Frances Wadell Black and Jean Young.

The play concerns the adventures of four people who left the earth in an airplane and landed in Mars. Then strange adventures and the acts of Nora Mulligan, the Irish girl, brought many laughs and much applause. Great credit is also due to Edith Shaw and Mabel Adams, through whose efforts the play was such a success.

Miss Helen Morgan and Harrison Morgan gave a very excellent violin duet.

Rev. W. E. Taylor Talks On Missions

Educational Secretary of Missionary Society Tells of Work in Distant Lands.

At a gathering of the Woman's Aid yesterday afternoon in the school-room of Trinity church, the Rev. W. E. Taylor, Educational Secretary of the Missionary Society of Canadian Churches, spoke on the work they had accomplished in the past year.

Mr. Taylor mentioned his travels in China and spoke at length on the deprivations the famine was causing and the millions of lives being lost. A movement is now on hand to raise money to relieve the distress in China at the present time. In Honan, a province in North China, containing about seven millions souls, there is one hospital and one lady doctor. From this startling statement some idea can be gained of the immensity of the work with which the society is confronted. Mr. Taylor also spoke on the other missions in the Far East in Japan, Egypt, Palestine, India and others in South America, Latin Land and the Yukon, so that from this lecture the ladies of the W. A. might realize the size and importance of the organization with which they are affiliated.

Residence Club Presents Comedy

Y. W. C. A. Members Delighted Audience With "Miss Fearless and Co."

The Y. W. C. A. Residence Club presented "Miss Fearless & Co.," a comedy in three acts, last night in the German street Institute, which was greatly enjoyed by a large audience. The cast of characters follows:—Miss Margaret Henley, an heiress; Miss Bertha Stewart, Miss Sapphira Addison, her chambermaid; Gertrude Larkins, Miss Sarah Jane Lovejoy, from the Lost Nation; Endora Brown, Katie O'Connor, Miss Henley's servant; Madeline McBride, Miss Barbara Livingston, Miss Belle Cameron, Miss Marian Reynolds, (guests of Mrs. Henley); Gertrude Hill, Reta Murdoch, Blanch McVicar, "Just Lizzy," the Ghost, Mariel Brooker, Miss Alias, Miss Alike, (The Silent Sisters); Winifred Brown, Margaret Hills. The music was furnished by Miss Elt Bissit.

FOR THAT SUMMER PLACE.

The attitude of some women toward a summer cottage or shack is that any piece of discarded furniture will do. This is often a matter of necessity. It is financially out of the question to buy new things for two homes and the wise decision is to have the better things in the winter place, where they may be enjoyed for more months of the year and where they will not be subjected to the winds and possible dampness that penetrates the walls of lightly built Summer places. But though old furniture is made to do, and though little money is spent, it is not infrequently happens that a woman's Summer home is more artistic than her winter home. If she has inherent good taste without the courage of her conviction she is apt to stick to old conventions in furnishing, cramping her really good ideas, in her permanent home, while in the Summer place—even though it may be no more than a two-room shack put up for an occasional week-end—she may go ahead unrestrained, producing an effect at once comfortable and pleasing.

Of late years much has been done by means of paint in making old furniture relegated to the Summer cottage look presentable. The old oak bed with the high headboard is cut down to comfortable proportions, and painted solid white, gray, soft blue or brown. Sometimes a cheerful effect is obtained in the living room by painting chairs in different colors. A soft yellow, green, gray and black would all be harmonious together. Shelves inconspicuously put up for books, dishes or personal belongings may be painted a bright color.

By means of home dyes old curtains and hangings may be endowed with greater decorative possibilities.

GIRLS! LEMONS WHITEN SKIN AND BLEACH FRECKLES

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quartet plot of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin. Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, ruy-white complexion, all as a freckle, sunburn, and tan, each because it doesn't irritate.

FASHION'S FANCIES.

High Heels Win.

The high heel will not be sent into exile—not just yet. It will not be placed upon the shelf where repose extinct things of yesterday—not right now.

The Massachusetts legislature has killed the heel bill.

This piece of proposed legislation prohibited the manufacture and sale of high-heeled shoes in the state.

The allowable heel was not to exceed an inch and a half.

The bill got as far as the committee room.

Then the anti-heeled took the matter up with the Life Extension Institute, asking Dr. Eugene Loman Fisk, president, to campaign against the high heel.

He replied: "Women wouldn't obey such a law. You can't legislate an absolute reform." He did, though, point a way out.

"Make the low heel the fashion and you won't need legislation," he said.

"It is only through fashion that any radical change in existing conditions as regards garments can ever be hoped for."

"Persuade some of the real leaders of society to wear low-heeled and comfortable shoes and no law will be needed to make the wearing of such footwear universal."

The use of blue ribbons to carry the lace bridal train was a prominent feature of a recent London wedding.

Ropes of pearls are wound around the wrist in lieu of bracelets.

BITS OF GOSSIP.

Time is turning backward surely, for just the other day a woman in Wilkesburg, Pa., was indicted and convicted for being a "common scold."

Luckily for her the old-time "ducking chair" has gone out of existence, so instead of being half-drowned, as she would have been for a like offense, in old New England days, she was let off with a light fine and a reprimand.

South Carolina is a queer state; recently the legislature passed a law declaring that moving pictures showing white women, should not be presented in theatres catering to the colored people—and in Charleston all principals and teachers in the negro schools are white, and nearly all are young women.

GENERAL SECRETARY PRESENTED WITH PIN

At the reception rooms of the Y. W. C. REGARDING PEARLS.

Pearls which are reported to have been found for the first time in the Mediterranean, were one of three possessions for which our British ancestors were chiefly respected by the ancient world, the other two being tin and oysters. The Romans apparently found pearls plentiful in Britain, for Julius Caesar dedicated to Venus Genetrix "a breastplate studded with British pearls." These were probably obtained from fresh-water mussels with distorted shells.

Fisheries for these "seed pearls" have existed on many rivers of Ireland, Wales and Scotland from time immemorial; but pearl-fishing is now discouraged by most riparian owners in the supposed interests of the salmon.

A fine pearl from the river Ythan has adorned the Crown of Scotland, and a Welsh pearl from Conway holds a place of honor in the British Crown.

EMPIRE DAY PAGEANT.

The various chapters of the I. O. O. F. are uniting in an Imperial pageant to be given in Scotland from time to time. The first of these at half past four on Monday. Each chapter has become responsible for the presentation of one scene depicting some outstanding incident in British history. The entertainment which will thus be of a purely patriotic nature is regarded as being particularly appropriate as a feature of Empire Day.

"You have not kissed me for two whole days," was her sad complaint.

"Indeed, my dear," exclaimed the professor. "Then whom have I been kissing?"

"ALF'S BUTTON"

BETTER THAN "THE BETTER 'OLE"

EVERYBODY KNOWS THAT WHEN ALLADIN RUBBED HIS MAGIC LAMP an Oriental Genie immediately appeared and executed the most fantastic wish of the wishful young man. Now bring this story up to date. Imagine a soldier's button made of the brass from that magic lamp and again imagine that button sewn (as the coat of an illustrious Cockney Tommy in the trenches. From the moment the snappy Sergeant Major ordered the Tommy to polish up his buttons, eliciting the murmured protest "Stroke me pink" (which, Presto, the Genie appeared) until the last flap of the seventh reel off the screen, this comedy is a delirium of fun and hilarity. Clean, wholesome, clever, and darned if it ain't natural too. Has packed theatres for weeks' runs in all cities and still going strong.

U.N.B. Arranging For Trip To St.

Encouraged by Success Hockey Last Winter Exp. to Send Strong Team.

Encouraged by the success of the hockey team last year U.N.B. is planning to be more active along that line this year than they have been in the past. Their first proposition is to send their puck chasers to Boston and other American cities as early as the season opens. It will be remembered that King's College sent their team to the States last year and were not as successful as had hoped. In spite of that the U.N.B. supporters believe that the reds and blacks outclassed bunch from Windsor in the game played for the possession of the senior trophy, their outfit will make a better impression on the Yanks than the Windsorians. Wm. Lonsbury, the captain of last year's team, is now making efforts to arrange the trip. The year's team will be carried around by "Cotton" McKenzie, the owner of Campbell's team last year and of the U.N.B. quintette the previous season.

An effort will also be made to send in the line-up Fred (Larry) Lyle, the sensation of the N.B.H. in the past season. Without Mr. Lyle and McKenzie U.N.B. trimmed Margville stickhandlers in a game played late in March by a score of eight to one. This should indicate that if the university team goes to the States the fans here can expect to see about as good a team as part of the country can produce.

Soccer Players Should Wake Up

Military Team Was Short Last Evening and Scheduled Game Was Postponed.

Last evening on the Shamrock grounds in the North End there was a scheduled soccer game between the Military and the Hardware men to have taken place but when the time arrived for the play to start it was found that there was not enough of the Military present to make a full team but as the Hardware men were overstrengthed and two teams were made up a real practice game was enjoyed. Last evening was the date for a scheduled game but as the time was short for the formation of teams the executive will hold a meeting next week and the opening of the schedule will undoubtedly be extended so that teams will be all ready when the first real game will be played.

Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier

Both Are Settled in Their Permanent Training Quarters—Dope on Referee Question.

New York, May 20.—Interest in the coming championship battle between Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier now that both are settled in their permanent training camps, is turning to the selection of the referee. Owing to the original aspect of the contest and the presence of a favorite title holder as one of the principals the third man in the ring will be a factor of exceptional importance.

In the original contract signed by Dempsey and Carpentier there was included a list of six prominent boxing authorities from which the referee was to be selected with certain provisions in case all parties were unable to agree. The shifting of the scene of the contest to the State of New Jersey tends to bring this clause of the contract into conflict with the New Jersey boxing rules which state emphatically that the referee of a bout held there shall be named by the boxing commission of that state.

Schooner Canada Leaves For Banks

Her Eligibility as Contestant in Fishing Races Has Been Questioned.

Halifax, N. S., May 20.—The Canadian, Sheburne's candidate for the elimination trials for the international fishermen's Derby to be held on Halifax next fall, sailed from here this morning for the Banks on a four month's handling trip.

President McNeill On Football Matter

Says It Would Be Unfair to Have Rushed Visitors to Capital.

Halifax, May 20.—President McNeill, of the Dominion Football Association in speaking today of the reported dissatisfaction at Ottawa, and that the Halifax game with the Scottish team was not promised until after arrangements had been made for the Ottawa fixture, said that it would be unfair both to the visitors to attempt to rush them from here on arrival to attempt to play at Ottawa tomorrow afternoon, and to Halifax where the Nova Scotia Football Association officials had gone to much expense. Had the steamer gone to New York, as at first intended she would not have arrived there until just night, too late for the game at Ottawa as scheduled. In fairness to all parties, the best arrangement possible had been made in postponing the game to May 31.

ATHLETIC MEET THIS AFTERNOON

An athletic meet of interest will be held this afternoon on the grounds adjoining the Y. M. C. A. High School boys, whether members or not of the Y. M. C. A., and the Business Boys of the "Y" will assemble and try hard to come in first in the different events.

He Knew How to Do It

A lady took her four-year-old girl to a photographer. The child couldn't be made to keep still. He of the camera was as suave as he could be, and worked every device of gentle persuasion to make the little wriggler sit without moving. Finally, he said to the despairing mother: "Madam, if you will leave the little dear alone with me a few minutes, I think I can succeed."

The Never-Ending Argument

"They find a lot of fault with your carving," replied the host, "but if they quit using the carving knife for a can opener I could do better!"

Scottish Team Likes Wanderer's Grounds

Visitors Had Workout at Halifax Yesterday—Auto Drive and Honored With Banquet

Halifax, N. S., May 20.—The Scottish professional football players who arrived here yesterday to commence their Canadian tour paid a visit this morning to the Wanderers' Club grounds, where they will meet a local eleven tomorrow afternoon. The visitors were pleased with the field and it is expected that they will have a practice there tomorrow morning. This afternoon they saw the sights of the city by auto and this evening they were guests of the North British Society at a banquet.

SOUTH END BASEBALL LEAGUE IS FORMED

A meeting of South End Improvement Baseball League captains was held last evening. Four or five senior teams, mostly south-enders, will enter for the season. There will be no intermediates, but a four-team junior league will be in existence. The players of all teams will appear on the grounds next Wednesday evening for the purpose of putting the diamond in shape for play. A meeting of ladies in the South End is called for Thursday evening at the Boys' Club rooms for the purpose of forming an auxiliary.

High School Student Classy

Gordon Wilson is Second in North American Hexathlon Record for High Jump.

A High School student, Gordon Wilson, as a running high jumper certainly has a future before him if he keeps at the game. He is a Y. M. C. A. "Gym" boy and in the running high jump has cleared the bar at five feet, two inches, and is second in the North American Hexathlon contest. Wilson weighs 123 pounds, and the "Y" physical instructor has certainly made a find in this young athlete. It is up to young Wilson to keep busy and keep on improving.

KINGS COUNTY LEAGUE

A Kings County Baseball League has been formed composed of six teams viz. Sussex, Penobscot, Petit, Coddie, Anagnance, Norton and Hampton.

The opening game will be played at Lexington, Ky., May 20.—The impressive showing made by King Etawah, a two-year-old brown colt, and Lady Drifton, a five-year-old pacer mare, featured the first recent meeting of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association here yesterday.

King Etawah, out of Princess Helen, owned by David M. Lock, of New York City, circled the mile oval in 2:16 1/4.

Lady Drifton, by Morgan Arrowsmith, out of Drifton, made the mile in 2:13 1/4. She is owned by Mike Bowman, of Lexington.

Eleven trotters were sent around the track in an effort to beat 2:30 1/4 for the mile.

Six of the trotters were from the stable of Ben M. White, King Etawah is a full brother to Princess Etawah, 2:09 1/4, winner of the junior Kentucky futurity in 1919.

Free Swimming Campaign Good

Average of Forty-Two Boys Present at Y. M. C. A. During Week.

The free swimming campaign that has been on at the Y. M. C. A. tanks during the week has proved most successful, and an average of forty-two boys a day has been on hand to either learn how to swim or to obtain further knowledge. The classes run between four and five o'clock in the afternoon, and 7:30 and 8:30 in the evening and have been most beneficial to the youngsters, and many have been taught the art. The success of this week has been so good that the Y. M. C. A. has decided to continue the classes next week, and all boys who are anxious to participate should avail themselves of the opportunity.

Penobscot on Tuesday afternoon next when the visiting team will be Hampton.

JURYWOMEN NOT ALLOWED TO SEE BEASTLY LETTERS

Indecent Picture Cards in Suit Also Form Basis of Apology to Them.

BERNARD SHAW HAS RAISED OBJECTION

Author Asserts Male Jurors and Men Generally Are Not Pornographic.

London, May 20.—George Bernard Shaw presents the implication made in a divorce court here that men know or should know, more about "beastly letters and indecent picture cards" than women. He thinks that if a court has any apology to make for its evidence the apology could be made general, and not to women jurors alone. Women jurors, having made good in America, are on trial here. With their first few cases, which offered a wide range of judicial possibility, a controversy has arisen about the fitness of women to serve on juries, particularly in certain cases, and while doubts and misgivings have been expressed from bench and bar, the feminists desire no relief for the sex from the sex disqualification (removal) act, which has just gone into effect.

Doubts Women's Qualification.

The enforced delicacy of the proceedings brought a strong statement from Sir Edward Marshall Hall, well-known London barrister, who appeared as counsel in which he said that women were not qualified to sit in such a case because obviously they could not judge wisely without examining the evidence, and he inferred just as obviously that he would not look at the evidence, but that the men jurors about it.

"This stand brought a characteristic outburst from Mr. Shaw. In a letter to the Daily News Mr. Shaw said: "As a member of the male sex will you allow me to protest indignantly against the proceedings reported by you as having occurred in the divorce court?"

The case began with a discussion between the bench and the bar as to the effect on the jury of certain letters described as abominable and beastly, and certain presumably indecent pictures. The conclusion arrived at seems to have been that all men are familiar with abominable and beastly letters and indecent picture cards, and that the same is true of women. Now I am a married man in my sixty-fifth year, and I solemnly protest that I am entirely ignorant of any such male habit of reading abominable and beastly letters and glowing or pornographic pictures.

"Sir Edward Marshall Hall's assumption that my sensibilities in this matter are less delicate than those of women is not only unfounded but extremely offensive. It was part of his case that these exhibits had passed between a man and a woman. Then why in the name of common sense did this blushing barrister exclude the six jurymen from the apology which he thought it necessary to make for presenting them to the six jurymen?"

Situation Gross Absurdity.

"I need not emphasize the gross absurdity of referring Miss Lillian Barker (one of the jurymen), whose extraordinary record as a welfare worker during the war, to say nothing of her present employment, makes her judgment more valuable in any question of domestic morality, than that of the whole British Bar and Bench, to the nearest jurymen, possibly a handful of juries, for instruction as to what she should think of an improper picture."

"But I declare that it is monstrous that any woman or any man having a public duty of this kind to perform should have his or her name published as having on such and such a day been engaged in the examination of 'abominable and beastly' documents. What would be said if hospital nurses could not assist at unmentionable operations as they have to every day—without having their names published in connection with disgusting descriptions of their work? Why is the sense of decency which protects nurses and surgeons from such repulsive reports

Bootleggers Cannot Get Supply of Liquor

Have Taken to Raiding Private Homes in Order to Fill Their Orders.

Windsor, Ont., May 20.—Bootleggers who contracted to supply rum runners in Detroit with rum have been so hard pressed for supplies since the law against importation of liquor from Quebec went into effect that they have resorted to organized raids on liquor stocks in private homes here, the police department stated today. It is detailed to the task of running down the raiders. Scores of homes have been broken into within the past two weeks and large stocks of liquor have been taken away in automobiles. On the west side, citizens have organized neighborhood patrols to protect their property. Another case has been reported for the numerous liquor thefts, the suspension, effective today, of five federal prohibition officers at Detroit, in accordance with a recent order of Commissioner Kerner.

A Woman's Health Needs Great Care

When the Blood Becomes Watery a Breakdown Follows.

Every woman's health is dependent upon the condition of her blood. How many women suffer with headaches, pain in the back, poor appetite, weakness, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, paleness and nervousness? Of course all these symptoms may not be present—the more there are the worse the condition of the blood, and the more necessary that you should begin to enrich it without delay. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a splendid blood-building tonic. Every drop helps to make better blood which goes to every part of the body and brings new health to weak, despondent people. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are particularly useful to girls of school age who become pale, languid and nervous. There can be neither health nor beauty without red blood, which gives brightness to the eyes and color to the cheeks and lips. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood, as is shown by the experience of Mrs. J. E. Venable, of Westport, N. S., who writes: "For several years I was in a bad state of health. I was pale and nervous, my appetite was poor and I had a feeling of oppression. I got so nervous that I was afraid to stay in the house alone. All this time I was taking medicine, but it only did not help me, but was growing weaker. Finally I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using six bottles I feel as if I had a better appetite, slept better and felt stronger. However, I continued taking the pills for a couple of months longer and I am now feeling as well as ever I did. I give all the credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and hope that my experience may be of benefit to some other weak woman."

Zoo Tests Show That Animals Hate Jazz

Hippo Hides in Water. Lions Snarl at Sound of Music.

New York, May 20.—Humans may like jazz, but animals don't. This was the conclusion reached by a group of scientists who recently assembled in Central Park to see what a saxophone and traps would do to the emotions of monkeys, lions, leopards, elephants and other jungle beasts. A quintet of musicians, guaranteed to rag anything from Wagner down, massed in front of the monkey cages for the first laboratory test. According to a corps of scientific reporters who journeyed to the zoo with scientists from Columbia University, American Museum of Natural History and New York Zoological Park, the monkeys registered emotion all right—but of a rather savage kind. Then the latest jazz was blared into the ears of lions and their mates. All hopped to their feet, with fur bristling. As for Mrs. Murphy, hippopotamus, she merely wrecked the experiment by diving into her tank and shutting out the racket. The elephants seemed to tremble with rage, but did not appear to be able to endure, if not enjoy jazz. That was Bagheeta, the leopardess. But when a hymn was played, she started a six-race around her cage, spitting sparks. The scientist, however, put a question mark after Bagheeta's test, for attention was called to the fact that at the moment, a keeper whom she chose to rely on as a potential meal, had just passed her cage.

suspended in the case of jurymen and jurymen? "If the published letters are fair samples of the 'abominable and beastly' documents, I can say without fear of contradiction that nothing in the case was half so shocking to sensible delicacy as the unfortunate discussion with which it opened. If the leaders of the bar are really so sensitive as Mr. Silas West, with his 'Not before Mrs. Boffin, sir,' then I suggest that it will be on the whole less socially inconvenient for them to change their profession or continue themselves to Admiralty practice than for Parliament to repeal the act in deference to their bashfulness."

At the very first twinge, down it comes your bottle of Sloan's; then quick relief, without rubbing, for it's stimulating and restorative. The boys use it for stiff muscles, and it helps Sally's backaches, too. See No. 31-30. Made in Canada.

BOY GOES BACK BUT DOG MUST ACCOMPANY HIM

Ran Away from Reformatory to See His Four Footed Pal.

DOG LOST WEIGHT WHEN MASTER LOST

Judge Rules That Animal Must be Taken in by 'Farm' Authorities.

Poughkeepsie, May 20.—James Hoyt who is twelve years old, will have to go back to the Berkshire Industrial Farm in Canada, Conn., from which he escaped the other day, but when he does he will be permitted to take Bill with him, because Judge Edward A. Conner said today in the City Court, when Jesse was arraigned for running away from the farm, that he would not sign an order for the boy's return unless the farm authorities accepted Bill also. Were Great Pal. Bill is nothing but a dog of uncertain color and practically no pedigree at all, but so far as Jesse is concerned Bill is all the world. Jesse has owned Bill a great many years and Bill thought so much of the boy that he would follow Jesse into trouble he used to go and wait outside the schoolhouse door after hour for Jesse to get ready to come home. And after Jesse had been arrested and sent away for juvenile delinquency Bill went to the police station every night for a long time and sat patiently waiting for Jesse to come out of the door through which the dog had seen him enter.

First, Doctors — Then a Skin Specialist

Then a bottle of D.D.D.

We shall publish every week for the benefit of skin sufferers in this section, a few words written by Canadian people—some of whom are prominent—all bear testimony of relief from suffering. A sentence or two from a letter from J. W. Carr, 1000 Ave. Toronto, a man of fine standing, "I have suffered for two years with eczema on the legs and ankles. I tried three or four different doctors. I went to a skin specialist. All of no use. I used one dollar bottle of D.D.D.—that is all. Today am perfectly well."

If you wish to try a bottle of this Prescription that Mr. Carr found so remarkable, we will guarantee relief on the first bottle, or your money back. Stop that itchy today. See a bottle. Try D. D. D. Soap, too.

Trade Pact Was Financial Plot

Alleged Exploiters and Lenine Arranged the Anglo-Soviet Agreement.

New York May 20.—The trade pact between England and Soviet Russia, signed two months ago, was the result of a plot engineered by "one financial group," which arranged with Lenine to get the "rearmament of the industrial property" seized by the Bolsheviks, promising Lenine that in return the legal possession of the property by the Bolsheviks would be recognized by England.

His Rubber Heel Causes His Arrest

Imprint Left on Sheet of Paper Brings Crime Home to Young Salesman.

New York May 20.—The imprint of the trademark of rubber heel left on a piece of paper on a desk in the office of Joseph Winderham, manufacturer of dresses and skirts, yesterday led to the arrest of Edward Grovstein, 22 years old, a salesman in the place, for the theft of dresses and skirts valued at $2,500. Detective John Wilson was summoned by the manufacturer when he found that the lot had been entered. The detective questioned the thirty employees in the place, and they said the robbery had been effected before they appeared for work. Wilson noticed a sheet of white paper on a desk under the trademark of a rubber heel with the word "Clinton, Mass." and "Plymouth, Mass." printed there. The detective examined the shoes of all the employees. Eventually he took an imprint of Grovstein's rubber heels, the imprint of the same make as that of the trader. Grovstein was alleged to have admitted the robbery under the questioning of the detective, and to have said that the lot was at his home. Detective Dolin went to the house and recovered the stolen dresses and skirts. Grovstein, according to the detective, said he left the ransom over the unused door open when he departed Friday night and before the arrival of the other employees yesterday morning climbed through the transom and jumped to the desk. When he got the lot to the street, he summoned a passing taxicab, carried it to his home and then returned to work.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT.

Brantford, Ont., May 20.—George Bygraves and Harland Harper were killed and Herbert Bygraves, a nephew of the former, was badly injured when their auto jumped a bridge on the Cockshut road near Burton's Corner, last night. Not until the light enabled passers-by to see their living in a ravine at six o'clock this morning, was the accident discovered, and until then was Herbert Bygraves removed to the hospital after suffering from his injuries, and the all night exposure.

Spider Discovers New Kind of Fly

Tuning Fork Touched the Web, Ticks Him So That He Dances in Glee.

An astonished, but apparently satisfied, spider was one upon which an experiment was made not so long ago. While watching some spiders one day, it occurred to the investigator to try what effect the sound of a tuning-fork would have upon them. He had a strong suspicion that they would take it for the buzzing of a fly. Selecting a large spider, he sounded the spider's web. The owner was at one edge of his web, and the thread selected was on the other side. Over his wonderful telephone wires the buzzing sound was conveyed to the watching spider, but from his position he could not tell along which particular line the sound was travelling. He ran to the centre of the web in hot haste, and felt all around until he touched the thread against the other end of which the fork was sounding. Then, talking another thread with him as a precautionary measure, he ran out to the fork and sprang upon it. At this point he discovered his mistake. He retreated for a short distance, and stopped to survey this new buzzing creature which should have been a fly, but was strangely unlike any insect he had ever seen. At length, apparently convinced that the object at the outer edge of his web was more suitable for amusement than for anything else, he got on his legs and apparently danced with pleasure. It was evident that the sound of the fork was music to him.

COMPLAINS OF SENTENCE.

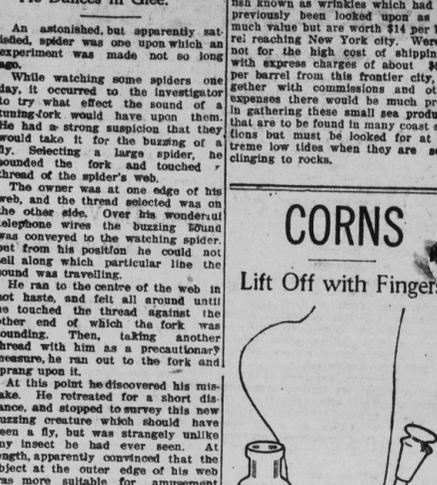

Toronto, May 20.—"Your honor, I am an old man. A month's imprisonment seems very hard on me," pleaded Dr. T. H. Robinson, of Kleinburg, Ont., when sentenced by Magistrate Brunton, of York County, yesterday, to jail for a month, besides being fined $500, for a breach of the Ontario Temperance Act. Dr. Robinson is 68 years of age, and is well known in York County.

SEA FISH COMMON.

Special to The Standard. Eastport, May 20.—Many Canadian fishermen, especially about the 32 mile long Dominion island of Grand Manan, New Brunswick, are gathering up considerable money this month from the harvesting and shipping of many barrels of the common shellfish known as wrinkles which had not previously been looked upon as of much value but are worth $14 per barrel reaching New York city. Were it not for the high cost of shipping—with express charges of about $6.75 per barrel from this frontier city, together with commissions and other expenses there would be much profit in gathering these small sea products that are to be found in many coast sections but must be looked for at extreme low tides when they are seen clinging to rocks.

Widow of Miner Finds Stakes Where Husband Sought Gold.

INTENDS TO DEVELOP MINE FOR HERSELF

Believes She Has Found Wealth—Husband Thought to Have Perished in No.

Eastport, May 20.—Mrs. C. S. S. has discovered, after a search of 25 years, the location of the gold mine which her husband, a prospector, had located in the mountains back of that old town where she sought for and found a claim staked out by her husband in 1896. The very prospector who had provided upon him to a century ago were still visible, the lady declared.

Will Supervise Work.

Though no longer young, Mrs. S. proposes supervising the necessary assessment work on her claim. She has a strong impression upon her mind that she has found a mine of considerable value. She has a map of the location of the ground before her, and she has a plan of the mine which she has never learned. She believed to have been one of the victims of the trail of '98, for only a few years ago she had a claim staked out in the north.

Cat, Bereft of Kittens, Adopts Some Chickens.

New Bedford, Mass., May 20.—While mourning the loss of her kittens who lived but a few minutes, a matriarch English shorthaired cat, turned to the incubator and adopted the chickens as her new brood of chickens. A practical minded hen discovered she had been duped into completing hatching job which an incubator started. The fowls immediately deserted the seven newly arrived chicks. Mrs. Morry transferred the abandoned chickens to the tenement cupped formerly by the cat where it came to the notice of Nellie on first visit to the kitchen since her retirement. After an hour of stony contemplation she decided upon adoption. The first display of motherly instincts.

RESTAKES CLAIM FIRST LOCATED 25 YEARS AGO

Widow of Miner Finds Old Stakes Where Husband Sought Gold.

INTENDS TO DEVELOP MINE FOR HERSELF

Believes She Has Found Wealth—Husband Thought to Have Perished in North.

Vancouver, May 20.—Mrs. George Salter, of Vancouver, found with satisfaction over tales of recent discoveries of gold near Ashcroft, on the main line of the C. P. R., has just returned from an adventurous trip into the mountainous back of that old town, where she sought for and found a mining claim staked out by her husband in 1896. The very postcard driven into the ground over a quarter of a century ago were still visible, though badly decayed.

Did Very Little Work.

Very little assessment work was done on the claim by the original staker, but the glowing stories of its potential wealth that he told his wife made a strong impression upon her, and she prevailed upon him to draw a crude map of the location of the ground before Salter sailed for the Yukon in the early days of the Klondike gold rush. Although nothing definite has ever been learned, Salter is believed to have been one of the many victims of the trail of '98, for only one letter ever reached Mrs. Salter after he landed in the north.

Will Supervise Work.

Though no longer young, Mrs. Salter proposes supervising the necessary assessment work on her claim this summer, and will qualify as a bona fide prospector so as to be eligible for a share of the $10,000 which the Provincial Government has set aside to assist mineral prospectors.

The procedure laid down to share in this grant is very simple. Applicants have to comply with a few clearly explained conditions to obtain a rebate on the powder they use in the opening up of their properties, this being 25 per cent. of the legitimate cost of such powder.

Grants will be made on a basis of not more than ten cases of powder for each applicant in a single year, but an additional amount may be secured "under exceptional circumstances," and on the written recommendation of a resident engineer of the Department of Mines. The 25 per cent. rebate will be made on the actual cost of the powder, and not based on a flat or average rate—a matter of considerable importance to the prospector.

Cat, Bereft of Kittens, Adopts Some Chicks

New Bedford, Mass., May 20.—While mourning the loss of her three kittens who lived but a few minutes, Nellie, a matronly English shorthaired cat, turned to the incubator for consolation and now is the foster mother to a brood of chickens. The feline philanthropist has taken lodgings behind a stove in the home of Mrs. John T. Morey of this city, and bestows constant care and attention upon her beloved but puzzling family. A practical minded hen discovered she had been duped into completing a hatching job which an incubator had started. The fowl immediately deserted the seven newly arrived chicks. Mrs. Morey transferred the abandoned chickens to the tenement occupied formerly by the cat where they came to the notice of Nellie on her first visit to the kitchen since her bereavement. After an hour of silent contemplation she decided upon adoption. The first display of motherly love

Union Expelled A Man For Enlisting

Government Took Prompt Action, Bringing Electricians' Secretary Into Court.

London, May 20.—An attempt by a trade union to penalize one of its members for joining the defence force raised to safeguard the nation in these times of industrial trouble, has led to prompt action by the Government. Frederick Freeman, a member of the Electrical Trade Union, enlisted and joined up. Frederick Nowington, district secretary of his branch, wrote to him to express surprise at his having taken a "course so violently opposed to the traditions of trade unionism and the interest of our class in general," and demanding full explanations. Freeman did not reply and he received from Nowington notice of a resolution passed by his branch expelling him. The Government charged Nowington today in a police court with an act likely to cause disaffection among His Majesty's forces. Counsel for the defendant urged that his action in the strike was merely that of an official and that personally he was moderate in his views and had served and been wounded in the war. The Government counsel expressed willingness to ask the magistrate to deal with the charge leniently if the union would admit it had gone further than it intended and would undertake that there should be no further penalization of Freeman or other members of the Crown forces. The case was adjourned to give the union the chance of reinstating Freeman.

"There must not be a technical settlement," remarked the magistrate, "there must be a generous one."

Banks The Victims of $40,000 Swindle

Pretty Woman and a Phone Alleged to Have Been Employed in Ruse.

Chicago May 20.—Charged with having been one of the perpetrators in a bank swindle, Mrs. Dolly Hagerty, pretty and 36, was arrested today as she entered Judge Foell's court room, where E. L. Beveridge was on trial on a worthless check charge.

Raided by a man and woman on the First National and others banks of the city through a telephone scheme netted at least $40,000, it was declared by A. M. Devoursay of the Burns Detective Agency. The scheme he declared, netted the pair $11,500 from the First National Bank alone. Other banks which were victimized, he said, were the South Side State Bank, the Berwyn State Bank, the Jefferson State Bank and a number of banks in outlying sections of the city.

According to the detectives working on the case, the woman and her accomplice used the telephone as the main "prop" in their activities. They would learn when a bank depositor was about to leave town, the detectives state, and then the man would call up the bank cashier. He would give the name of the depositor, it was alleged, and state that he was hurrying to catch a train. All he would describe to the cashier was the number of the check, and when she arrived the cashier might call him back on the telephone and he would describe the young woman. He would give the number of the telephone he was using, the police say, or even invade the office of the man whose name he misused. The woman then would appear at the bank, the cashier would call back and the male accomplice would describe her. It was thus, according to Mr. Coey, that they cashed a forged check of $11,500 on the First National.

It almost disrupted the newly acquired family. Nellie decided that the downy orphans added a bit. While the method of washing brought no complaint the wetting that was administered caused a general retreat.

WAS SHOT AND ROBBED BY HIS NEGRO TENANTS

New York Man, Social Worker in "Black Belt," Shot Down by Colored Youths.

HELD UP AT THE ENTRANCE TO HOME

While Police Were Coming, Others Went Through Pockets and Took Money.

New York May 20.—Hyman Manoson, 60 years old, a real estate dealer, interested in the social uplift of negroes, among whom he lived on the ground floor of 115 West 137th street, was shot and killed tonight in the hallway of his home after two young negroes held him up and attempted to rob him.

While Manoson was dying, and his assistant, Hyman Efron, a painter, of 2091 Prospect avenue, was on the street summoning the police, other negroes from the neighborhood, said to include the dying man's tenants, robbed him of $167.

Manoson, who owned the house in which he lived and several others in the neighborhood, made his 67th and home in the 137th street house with his wife. Last night he told his wife he was going to collect some rent from the negro tenants.

The landlord was accompanied by Efron, who did some painting work under contract for him, but whom he engaged lately as an assistant. After collecting $423, Manoson and Efron returned to the West 137th street building, which is near Nonox avenue.

They entered the dimly lighted hallway and were confronted by a young negro about 21 years old. The man had his hand behind his back. He was apparently unnerved by the fact that Manoson was accompanied by Efron.

Another young negro who had followed Manoson into the hallway from the street seized him from behind, but before he could go through the landlord's pockets, his confederate, without a word, raised his pistol and fired. The bullet entered below the heart and Manoson sank to the floor.

The murderer and his companion fled to the street, with Efron in pursuit. The sound of the shot was heard by Mrs. Manoson, who opened the door and fell fainting across her husband's body.

The hold-up men ran through 137th street, which was crowded with men and women, and which is in the heart of Harlem's "black belt," and escaped.

Amazing Range of Girl's Voice

Boston Ghetto Jewish Girl Sings Three Tones Higher Than Geraldine Farrar.

Boston May 20.—Those who should know believe they have found in Irene Cohen, 15 years old, coming from a humble home in the West End, a voice that will eclipse that of Geraldine Farrar and Rosa Raisa. Irene was discovered at the Boston Music School Settlement at 41 Allen street, an organization run for the development of talents among the poorer classes, which talents would otherwise never be given an opportunity.

Although she has been taking singing lessons at the settlement only six months, her teacher, Stetson Humphries says she sings three full tones higher than Geraldine Farrar and more than a tone and a half higher than both Raisa and Pionello. Moreover, she sings three complete octaves striking four E's with remarkable buoyancy and brilliancy of tone. Beginning with E below the staff, Irene's voice rises to E on the staff, to soprano E and then to E coloratura with an electrical effect. The effect of the striking of the last E upon the listener is as if a huge diamond were suddenly split in front of him into a million sparkling iridescent pieces. Her teacher says no other dramatic soprano in the United States has a range that can compare with Irene's.

The girl has another year at the girls' high school before she can get her diploma and then it is planned to send her to Italy for two years' study for an operatic career. Vanderville managers have made all sorts of extravagant offers to get the girl to sing for them, but they have not been considered.

Irene Castle Asks $30,000 Damages

In Action for Breach of Contract, Dancer Said Stage Door Was Shut in Face.

New York May 20.—Irene Castle, the dancer, who is now the wife of Robert Fromm, son of an Italian banker, appeared before Supreme Court Justice Platzek and a jury today at the trial of a suit against Charles E. Dillingham, the Century Amusement Company, and Forman Zeigfeld, for $30,000 for breach of contract, under which she was engaged to appear in "Miss 1917" at the Century in 1917, and was discharged after a few weeks. The Century Amusement Corporation went into bankruptcy later, and Mr. Zeigfeld was eliminated as a defendant. The trial really is to determine whether Mr. Dillingham will have to pay anything.

Was To Get $900 a Week.

Miss Castle said she was engaged at $900 a week for the run of the show, and that after three weeks admission was refused at the stage door. When asked today who had discharged her she said she thought it was the stage doorman, because he shut the door in her face.

Counsel for Mr. Dillingham said he would show that Miss Castle's claim was against only the Century Corporation, because Mr. Dillingham acted merely as its agent and got $600 a week salary. He said she sued the corporation originally, but when it failed in January, 1918, because the show did not prosper, Miss Castle turned her claim against Mr. Dillingham. Justice Platzek decided to hear all the evidence and make his ruling later.

Miss Castle told her engagement to do a dancing specialty. She began with the show on November 2, and said that on the last Monday night of the month, when she went to the Century with Miss Elizabeth Marbury and her maid, "they" wouldn't let her in. She admitted that she had paid no attention to various calls for rehearsal.

Miss Castle contradicted the testimony of Ned Westburn, the stage director, who said she had not even been at the rehearsal the morning after the show opened.

Disclaims Liability.

Mr. Dillingham testified that he received $500 a week, $400 less than Miss Castle, and that he had no interest in the show, but had told Miss Castle that W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Otto H. Kahn and other men of means were behind the corporation, because of their desire to make the Century Theatre a success in the production of independent theatrical ventures.

Mr. Dillingham said Miss Castle was indignant because she had set her heart on singing the song, "Fancy You Fancying Me." He said it was necessary to cut out this song, because Jack Norworth had served notice that he owned the rights of it.

A letter introduced in evidence was written by Miss Castle to Mr. Dillingham as "Dear Charlie," asking that her act be timed earlier, because "I cannot stand these late hours much longer." Miss Castle insisted that the letter contained no threat to leave, and said she did remain after she wrote the letter.

Why he bought a Ford

IT COST him $775.00 F. O. B. Ford, Ontario, equipped with electric starter and lighting, one-man top, ventilating windshield, demountable rims and non-glare head-lights.

The Ford Dealer gave him instructions in driving—his warranty covered replacements for any defective materials.

With reasonable care of the car his only expense for many months should be gasoline and oil. He knew from the experience of others that with proper adjustments he should get 24 miles or better to the gallon of gasoline.

A new tire would cost him only $23.55—not from $38.05 to $61.05 if he bought a heavier car. If he wanted his motor and transmission overhauled at the end of the season, it would cost approximately $30.00—not three times that amount, or more.

If he met with an unavoidable accident, or needed service at any time, a Ford Dealer or Service Station—and there is a Ford Dealer or Service Station wherever you go—would have in stock the necessary parts at fixed prices as set out in the Parts Price List furnished upon application to every Ford Owner.

His first cost was low. His operating and up-keep cost would be low. He knew that he could get service wherever he went, at prices fixed by the company—prices which are lower than for any other car made. For these outstanding reasons he bought a Ford.

Weekly Chat Answers To Letters

Dear Little Polly:—Shewly but surely rumors are reaching me of the Clubs being formed among you to carry on the home mission work, which I suggested to you some time ago. Of course you are all apt to be impatient—you to get started, and me to hear of your success—but there is no use, we must just allow a reasonable time for such undertakings. But by next week I am expecting to hear of very definite organization of the names you have chosen for your club. One has mentioned "Forget-Me-Not" as their probable choice and I thought that most appropriate but of course it was not official. However, I intend to print that same club possibly next week in case it has been overlooked by some and especially since so many new friends are coming in to our C.C.

Besides, a second reading will make the matter clearer and stir up the enthusiasm. So much for the other. Here is a word to the boys. Boys! You will find on this page an ad telling of the way to earn a bicycle and as it is not an offer from a far away concern but connected with our province, I want to draw your attention to it. Quite a number of fellows are at work in the city already a few outside have started but very few, and there is a good chance for our members of the C.C. to get in early. Of course girls are quite free to enter too, and you will read in the advertisement that by selling three hundred Pictorial Reviews during the summer you will win a prize, a perfectly good new bicycle. As this magazine comes each month you may sell as many of each issue as you can—for instance if you only sell twenty-five of your first issue, you could sell twice as many of the July number if you wish, or in fact may sell the whole three hundred of one month's issue if you can. The ad has been taken advantage of by a great many boys in U.S. and so many of them are today the happy possessors of a first-class bicycle. I just want to assure you that the offer is thoroughly genuine. If I did not know it I should make no reference to it at all, as sometimes ads have appeared on our pages of kind offers of which I know nothing, so therefore I was not able to advise you. But this time I can, and wish to help you to earn for yourselves during the vacation. Of course if you do not wish the bicycle and prefer cash you may have it, as every fellow can earn a certain amount of prize money. The Pictorial Review which he sells. You can write to the address given in the advertisement and get all the information you wish about the subject. The magazine seems to be very popular among the ladies everywhere, and over twice as many are sold in this part of the country now as was the case two or three years ago, so you should have no difficulty in getting many customers. By the way, although the bicycle offer is for the summer, yet the cash to be earned by the sale can go on indefinitely. That is—if folks wish you to continue delivering the magazine to them all the year round, you of course will be able to profit on each one you deliver, so you see what a nice little business a fellow could build up.

Uncle Dick:—I know of several ads that offer to give you what you think you can undertake to write a letter from some of you who have already joined our C.C. Beetlewit's Ninepenny Motor

CHAPTER II. "If it had been the first of April I wonder how many of us would have accepted Beetlewit's invitation?" The speaker was Wisby. With a dozen more Bufferton boys he was standing on Hardman Rise, which commanded an excellent view of the white stretch of road from Bufferton, and particularly of the final and somewhat steep descent to Brigston. "Here, on the village green, were already congregated cars of many makes and sizes from the surrounding district. But the thing we had come out to see had not yet put in its appearance. There was no sign of 'The Yellow Peril'." "Of course it's a ghastly sell," said Clarking. "Serve us right for being such idiots! No one would have been deceived but for that cock-and-bull yarn of Giddall's." "I want a cock-and-bull yarn," protested Giddall, warmly. "Seeing he's leaving, and I repeat that last night I saw this mysterious contrivance of Beetlewit's keep pace with a big green motor car for a full two hundred yards. As a matter of fact, 'The Yellow Peril' gave me the impression that it could have passed the leading car at any moment. At times it seemed to be travelling the faster of the two." "But it's a sheer impossibility!" "Maybe," interposed Giddall, hotly. "But it happened! I tell you, Beetlewit's a genius! By what power he makes that clumsy, ramshackle contrivance go I don't know. But it goes! By Jupiter, how it does go!" Wisby was bustling about over the constable on the cranium as he was in the red car. "But these little incidents were soon forgotten in a new and startling fact. 'The Yellow Peril' was fast approaching the red car." "Possibly with some thought for his neck, Colonel Trencorman had slowed down at the top of the hill. Beetlewit and company knew no fear! With yells of delight and much triumphant cheering, together with the waving of an improvised flag, they passed the lordly motor and swept down the hill like a veritable tornado!" ACCIDENT WITH RED HOT STOVE SHOWS SECRETS OF MANUFACTURING RUBBER

(A True Story of Science.) "A. Goodyear & Sons, Hardware." This sign hung above a dingy little store in Philadelphia in 1834. One day Charles Goodyear, a younger member of the firm, went to New York and, when there, took a notice to buy an Indian rubber life preserver made by the Roxbury Co. At that time fortunes had been lost in following the lure of the sap of the India rubber tree. One inventor and manufacturer after another had tried to succeed in the business, but none had done it. For, try as hard as they might, no inventors had been able to keep rubber from being affected by the seasons. Goodyear was fascinated with the problem. He began to experiment with his life preserver. Charles Goodyear had made up his mind to solve the problem in chemistry. He knew no chemistry, he had very little education, and on top of it was a weak advertiser. He wrote his firm into bankruptcy. He was imprisoned for debt. For five years he suffered and struggled in and out of jail. The only result was to make him more determined to win. His friends called him "crazy." He thought, "Spit, dreamed and wore rubber. He was a walking advertisement. He wore a rubber cap, coat and rubber shoes of his own making. Then, one day accident came to his rescue. He was sitting with rubber gum. Some of it happened to fall on a red-hot stove. To his surprise and delight its character was changed and hardened. He would not melt. He tried and tested it in every way he could think of, but with the same result. He was a victor! The secret was discovered so quickly. Six years more of hardships were ahead. During that time Goodyear looked out his window and was protected in America, but in England and France others took and worked his ideas. He never made a fortune and he died in 1860, but even before his death, 60,000 people were engaged in the rubber business. Since then it has changed and moved the factories that he made possible.

GARDEN FAIRIES. GIRLHOOD STORIES OF FAMOUS WOMEN

Elizabeth Barrett Browning. "Auntie, come see my Hector, son of Pent. I aged nine year old Elizabeth Barrett to her favorite Aunt who was stopping a few days with the family before she went on to London. 'What are you talking about, dear?' asked Aunt Betty. Elizabeth did not reply but led her out into the garden and told her to look. 'All I see is a lovely garden of flowers growing in the form of a huge giant.' 'That is Hector,' said Elizabeth gleefully as she danced up and down. 'Don't you remember Hector in the 'liad, Auntie? I liked him so much that I planted these flowers to look like him.' Other children of nine years have read Greek stories, but Elizabeth Barrett (1806-1861) read and loved them. She became a great poet. Her name is that of her husband, Robert Browning, one of the best known in English poetry.

VERSE

I know a place where the sun is like gold, The cherry-blossoms burst forth with snow, And down underneath is a shady nook. Where the four-leaved clovers grow. One leaf is for faith, one is for hope And one is for love you know. If you search you will find where they grow. But you must have hope. You must have faith. You must love as I love you strong and so. If you work, if you wait you shall find the place where the four leaf clovers grow. —Anna E. Whiston, Clarendon Sta.

A MAY SONGSTER

Winthrop Packard. Of all our early spring returning birds, the song sparrow seems to me the most sprightly. He loves the brook and sings his tinkling song to its accompaniment before the ice is out of it, oftentimes. "Sweet, sweet, very merry cheer" is the usual phrase that is set to this song, but the variations of it are as many as the birds themselves. Sometimes a few song sparrows winter with us and then, even in the most inclement months of the year, you may hear the song from sunny nooks in the nature where the alders mark the still frozen course of the stream. The song sparrow sings in the open, picking out the topmost twig of the thicket. In the thicket he feeds, and there his nest is built, sometimes low in a bush, more often on the ground itself among soft grasses. Song sparrows are among the hardiest and most vigorous of our birds, numbering the country over, buoyant, self-reliant, jubilant always, and perhaps because of these traits, prone to variation. Song sparrows are found throughout the country, from Florida to the Alaskan islands, from the valley of Mexico to Newfoundland. For all that, they are, individually, local in their habits, sticking to a given region. Climate has always a marked effect on the color of the plumage of birds, those of a given species inhabiting arid regions having less color, those in humid zones, far more. Hence we have in all twenty-three races of the very pale desert song sparrow inhabiting the Colorado desert where the average rainfall is but about six inches per year, to the sooty song sparrow which lives on the North-west Pacific coast, where the rainfall is over ninety inches annually. Again, the birds seem to increase in size with a northward range, the little Mexican song sparrow being only six inches long, while that of the Alaskan islands is half as long again. In spite of their large numbers, song sparrows are rarely seen, even in migration time, in large flocks. In a given space all of a March morning there will be several birds singing at the same time or looking for grubs over that may be, they scatter almost immediately. Nor do they, when it is time for the autumn departure, collect in great numbers, as do black-birds, swallows, robins, and others. They are a very useful and desirable species, and may be encouraged about the home by feeding, spring and fall, and especially by planting shrubbery where they may find shelter and nesting sites.

PEEP INTO UNCLE DICK'S MAIL

Dear Uncle Dick:—I wish to join the C. C. I read the Children's Corner every Saturday and think it very interesting. I go to school and am in the 5th grade, I am ten years old. I notice a lot of signs of spring now. I have seen the violets and strawberry blossoms. I have three pets, a cow, a cat, and a dog. Their names are Rover, Lily and Tim. I see the little birds are busy gathering up things to make their nests with. I notice the lilac trees have buds for blossom and I can hear the frogs every evening. Guess I will close for now. As ever your friend, SUSIE GILBRIDE, Renous, N. B., April 15, 1921. Dear Uncle Dick:—It is quite a long time since I wrote to you, but I have been busy with my school lessons and other little jobs. I have seen many strawberry blossoms, and the field in front of our house is yellow with dandelions, they look very pretty out there. I planted nasturtium seeds and they came up quite a lot and growing very pretty, and one night last week I forgot to cover them and they froze a brown color. I planted more today. I have twelve little chickens, two black ones and the rest are all yellow. There is a robin's nest in front of our house, she always comes there every year. Quite a while ago we had a canary and a German bird; the German bird was bluish gray with a red bill and a white breast which whistled lovely, but it died. I was awful sorry, we had him about five years. Our canary bird was in his cage hanging on the verandah and there is a large grey parrot in the cage at him and one day we found the canary's body in the cage and his head on the verandah floor. Well I guess I will close. Your friend, GLADYS JARDINE, If You Were Editor. If you were editor of this boys' and girls' paper and could do with it exactly as you please, how much different would it be? What would you leave out? What else would you put in? What things now in it do you like the least? What things now in it do you like the best? Visitor (at the jail).—"Poor man! What are you locked up here for?" Prisoner (woefully).—"I supposed they'd think I got off a warrant."

POSSIBILITIES OF FRUIT

Possesses All Qualities of Soil and Climate for Success. HER APPLES HAVE CAPTURED THE WORLD Her Smaller Fruits Come Market Late in Season and Bring Good Prices. In tabulating the fruitlands of Canada, as commonly known and appreciated, the province of New Brunswick does not feature very prominently, not so much to modesty in the realization of the wonderful possibilities that they are insignificant in the light of the wonderful possibilities of development the fruit growing industry in the province is capable of. It may be surprising to a great many people to learn that practically all fruits which thrive on the North American continent can be cultivated with much profit and success in New Brunswick, that the apple is indigenous to the province with wild apple sections, and that in certain valleys, largely undeveloped, the province has potentially, according to the most reliable authorities, some of the richest orchard sections in Canada. New Brunswick possesses all the qualities of soil and climate for a successful fruit growing and all sorts of fruits and a large number of varieties of apples, pears and peaches are grown profitably. Each year the production of the various fruits is increasing, due to the consistent efforts of the provincial government and local fruit associations, who have succeeded not only in encouraging the industry with various farmers following other phases of agriculture, but in inducing much migration to the orchardlands. Fruit development committees have taken up the planning of orchards, and succeeded in systemizing an extensive fruit growing industry. The Canadian and European markets are the aim of the provincial fruit growers. The province is admirably situated to export its fruit, being in a position to ship the crop by water direct, and being thousands of miles nearer to European ports than the fruit lands of British Columbia, Washington, Oregon and Colorado. Excellent Color and Quality. New Brunswick apples have a color and singular quality which is purely individual and distinctive, which makes them very popular in the market. The Wealthy, Bishop Hill, pin, Dudley, Fameuse, and Mackintosh Red—all good dessert apples are grown to perfection. The Duchesne, Wolfe River, Milwaukee, Alexander and Eschel, also succeed well. There is no doubt about the New Brunswick apple being a favorite on the overseas market, which is always keenly ready, while the home market, which exists almost entirely on the local product, is constantly growing and multiplying. The proven apple districts of New Brunswick are in the Upper and Lower St. John River Valleys, and all parts of Albert, Charlotte, Westmorland and Kent counties. The Lower John Valley, acknowledged to be one of the most fertile and beautiful valleys of the world, awaits only systematic development to rapidly blossom forth into one of the greatest apple regions in Canada. The opinions of expert Canadian horticulturists and the provincial fruitlands are, perhaps more valuable in their pitilessness, the best apple-growing sections of the Dominion are destined to become one of the best apple-growing sections of the world. The chief of the fruit vision of the federal government which is his opinion that "Any man who says apples cannot be grown successfully in the province of New Brunswick does not know what he is talking about." R. W. Starr, a Nova Scotia pioneer in apple-growing, says: "There is no doubt that these large sections of New Brunswick

WHO WANTS A BICYCLE?

Pictorial Review will give a completely equipped Pathfinder bicycle costing $65.00, to any boy or girl in New Brunswick who between now and October 15th, will sell three hundred individual copies of Pictorial Review Magazine. This magazine is issued monthly and retailed at 25c. per copy. In addition to winning the bicycle for selling this number of copies the boy or girl who tries will make five cents per copy on every magazine sold. If they send in signed orders from customers who agree to take the magazine from then every month for a year, and if these boys and girls agree to deliver that magazine every month to those customers, they will be paid an additional bonus of twenty cents on each order. It is not necessary to sell the whole three hundred magazines in the one month. A few may be sold in May, a larger number in June, and so on. But whenever the whole three hundred have been sold the bicycle will be delivered. Anybody may enter, excepting regular news dealers, as long as they send in signed orders from their customers, and these magazines will be shipped to you by express or mail, all charges prepaid. IF ANY FURTHER PARTICULARS ARE DESIRED WRITE OR CALL ON Pictorial Review, 82 Prince William St., St. John OR POST OFFICE BOX 1100, ST. JOHN.

TIGHT MONEY ON WALL STREET IS BEAR ON MARKET

Depreciation of Quoted Values Was More Evident Again in All Selling.

CALL MONEY IN GREATER DEMAND

Bonds Lose Strength as a Result of Railways Cutting Dividends.

New York, May 20.—Depreciation of quoted values in the stock market made further substantial progress today. Reactions encompassed a majority of the popular issues, the only exceptions being a few specialties protected by better positions.

Among observers of transportation conditions, however, the action of the Chesapeake directors was regarded as altogether logical having been fore-shadowed by yesterday's action of the Hocking Valley Railway division.

Brokers reported more than the usual demand for call money, all of which was placed at 7 per cent on the exchange, but in the open market this quotation was shaded to 6 1/2 per cent.

Exchanges on London and Paris and other important centres eased slightly from recent high levels.

Quebec Rails Is Montreal Leader

Riordon Makes a Three Point Decline, Closing the Day at Fifteen.

Montreal, May 20.—Trading on the local stock exchange today was one of wide variations, gains running up to 3 points and losses down to 2 1/2, with the latter much in the majority.

Greatest activity of the day was shown by Quebec Railway with a turnover of nearly 2,000 shares. The stock continued yesterday's strength selling up to 28 3/4 with final figure at 28 1/4, a fractional net loss.

Brokers and Brazilian were neglected, the former down a fraction and the latter unchanged.

Largest gain was made by Canadian Convertibles which sold up to 70 and closed at 68 on light trading.

Spread Widens Again Between May and July With Latter Stronger.

Winnipeg, May 20.—The local wheat market was very strong today and during the session May gained over six cents. The spread again widened between May and July, the latter position not being relatively as strong.

There was a broad active trade. Cash premiums were about unchanged from Thursday. Trade in the coarse grains continued light but prices were very firm.

Postmasters Want Eight Hour Day

Next Meeting Will be Held in Either Vancouver or Victoria, is Expectation.

Ottawa, May 20.—The next convention of the Canadian Postmasters' Association will be held at either Vancouver or Victoria. This was proclaimed at the closing meeting of the convention here yesterday.

The postmasters devoted the afternoon to preparing their case which is to be submitted to the board of hearing. The civil service commission.

The postmasters will strongly urge that the eight-hour day be brought into force in all post offices where the heads are members of the association.

They will also ask the board to grant time and one-half for overtime and Sunday work. The board was also made at the meeting that the lunch meal was being carried on night trains while day trains carry very little.

It was contended that if conditions were reversed, there would be a decrease in the cost of handling in some places.

The memorial to the board of hearing also suggested the abolition of the graduated scale of post office rental in favor of a ten per cent of revenue to be applied to rents, which includes light, fuel and caretaking.

Daughter Sees Man Shoot Her Mother

New York, May 20.—Jack McCreary, of 615 East 138th street, The Bronx, shot and killed Mrs. Ethel Acquard last night in the apartment at that address in which they had been living together for the last year.

He then shot himself in the mouth, dying instantly. According to Dorothy Acquard, the nine-year-old daughter of Mrs. Acquard, they began quarrelling over money as soon as McCreary came in last night. Mrs. Acquard protesting that he had not given her enough to run the house. The child said that after the quarrel had continued for some time McCreary drew an automatic pistol from his pocket and fired at her mother.

"I ran out of the room to get help, said the girl, 'and I locked the door behind me. I heard two more shots as I went downstairs.'"

SIR ROBERT MUST TESTIFY

Montreal, May 20.—A motion for permission to summon Sir Robert Ross, ex Premier, to appear in the Athol Murray case, which will re-open on June 20, was allowed in the superior court by Mr. Justice Surveynor today.

SEALED tenders addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for providing and installing new hot water heating furnaces, Public Building, St. Stephen, N. B." will be received until 12 o'clock noon, Monday, June 6, 1921, for the provision and installation of new hot water heating furnaces in the Public Building, St. Stephen, N. B.

Plans and Specifications can be seen and forms of tender obtained at the offices of the Chief Architect, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, the Chief of Works, Department of Public Works, Halifax, N. S., the Resident Architect, Department of Public Works, St. John, N. B., and the Caretaker, Public Building, St. Stephen, N. B.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with the conditions set forth therein. Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender. War Loan Bonds of the Dominion will also be accepted as security, or war bonds and cheques if required to make up an odd amount.

By order, R. G. DESROCHERS, Secretary, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, May 19, 1921.

It is a National Duty that all should SAVE!

Decide how much you can afford to put by every pay day. Having determined the amount you can save, resolve that that amount shall be taken first from your pay and deposited.

RUSSIA MULCTED REDS FEATHERING THEIR OWN NESTS

Trade Commissions Form for Sole Purpose of Pulling Off Steals.

BOLSHEVISTS ARE PULLING OFF STAKE See the End of Their Regime and Getting Out While the Going is Good.

St. Petersburg, May 17.—The Russian boom is making excellent progress and in order that there may be no misunderstanding, I may as well explain at once the Russian trade boom has nothing to do with the Bolshevists' wish to pull the end of it but to trade in any shape in an essential violation of every Communist principle; moreover it involves, if it is to be prosecuted with any chance of success, the adoption of perfect ridiculous standards of honesty in place of the customary Oriental gradations of rogery and backbiting, particularly backbiting.

Getting Out Quickly. The Soviet Government of Russia could not be honest if it tried and has no intention of trying. Trade with it is a losing game. Communism, at the Bolshevist's wish, is not to be expected. You can expect to do a profitable business with a foreign customer whose agents are not of his money before it reaches his hands. Communism, at the Bolshevist's wish, is not to be expected. You can expect to do a profitable business with a foreign customer whose agents are not of his money before it reaches his hands.

Capitalist Regime Returning. Little by little the so-called capitalist regime is returning. Already ownership of his produce has been restored to the peasant, and the liberator of the Russian workman to work for whom and at what wage he pleases. The usual hangers on of Bolshevism books a little more faded. The Bolshevists are getting from under while the getting is good.

Standard Service makes it a point not only to help its clients save their money, but, where desired, to invest at a profit instead of a loss, if you

RUSSIA MULCTED; REDS FEATHERING THEIR OWN NEST

Trade Commissions Formed for Sole Purpose of Pulling Off Steals.

BOLSHEVISTS ARE PULLING UP STAKES

See the End of Their Regime and Getting Out While the Going is Good.

Yarmouth, May 17—The Russian trade boom is making excellent progress and in order that there may be no misunderstanding, I may as well explain at once that the Russian trade boom has nothing to do with real trade, at least the Soviet end of the trade.

Getting Out Quickly. The Soviet Government of Russia, could not be honest if it tried and it has no intention of trying. Trade with it, as Leonid Krassin, who is no Bolshevik, wisely but sadly remarked, is not to be expected. You cannot expect to do a profitable business with a foreign customer whose agents steal half of his money before it reaches him and half of your goods before they reach him.

Capitalist Regime Returning

Little by little the so-called capitalist regime is returning. Already ownership of his produce has been restored to the peasant, and the liberty of the Russian workman to work for whom and at what wage he pleases has been restored. Communism, and with it the authors of its preposterous doctrines, is to fade gently into oblivion. Every time a trade commission sidles forth from Russia, accompanied by the usual hangers of Bolshevikism, it looks a little more faded. It may seem a clumsy way of going about it, but the trade commission business is really quite a sound method of taking money out of Russia.

How it is Done.

But trade is another matter. A commission arrives, let us say, in Sweden for the purpose of buying locomotives. That is to say, they have 3,000,000 gold rubles in the bank and are prepared to spend 2,000,000 rubles on locomotives if they can and transfer the other 1,000,000 to their private jeans. The first thing is to buy out the capital stock of some concern that makes locomotives and put in a new board of directors. To these worthy fellows the 2,000,000 gold rubles are handed over, and 2,000,000 worth of locomotives is delivered, but that is immaterial. The point is that the 1,000,000 rubles are "spare" present.

Commissions For Everything.

Another pretty thing about a trade commission is that its elasticity is virtually inexhaustible. Norway for example, is prevailed upon to consider resuming trade with Russia. Immediately a Soviet commission, 30 or 40 strong, puts out a paper and a second commission starts for Stockholm, and it proposes to meet the Norwegian commission. But that is not all. What is to be the corpus delicti so to speak, in the case of Norway is fish. Then the Soviet Government must appoint a fish commission, which will assist the other commissions in their negotiations.

Of course in the case of a little customer like Norway there is a limit to the number of commissions that can be appointed, but not so when some really versatile exporter like Great Britain or the United States is concerned. That is why Messrs. Lenin and others are so anxious to resume relations with the United States.

With a breakfast foods commission and a canned goods commission and a beef commission and a tobacco commission and a paper commission and a commission to assist in the export of the United States in it for half of the Bolsheviks in Moscow.

In point of actual numbers also the trade commission is fairly comprehensive. Tables showing the number of persons getting out of Russia by trade commission have not been compiled, but the average is said to be about 40. One commission that went to Finland to purchase a few wagon-loads of vegetables—which ultimately turned out to be unfit for human consumption—numbered 50 persons. Are those 60 intelligent and intellectual Communists going to abandon the Messiahs of Helsinki and resume at home the arduous business of extracting nourishment from the things of their boots? They are not.

Now, I rather suspect that Premier Lloyd George, who is the most astute and best advised statesman in Europe,

THE WEATHER

Toronto, May 20.—Pressure is now highest in the Middle Atlantic States and lowest in the Maritime Provinces. Rain has been general in British Columbia and Manitoba. Elsewhere in the Dominion the weather has been fair and in Ontario decidedly warm.

AROUND THE CITY

The subjects of Mr. Goodwin's sermons in Centenary will be of special interest tomorrow. An alarm was sent in from box 131, Indian town, about seven o'clock last evening for a fire in a motor boat, caused by exploding of gasoline. The fire was extinguished by the chemical fire before much damage was done.

Warehouses Legal Liquor Dealers Say

Claim Made That They Will Not Interfere at All With Provincial Commission. What promises to be a large industry is now being opened up in this city by four firms who are now creating new establishments, or recreating old ones for the purpose of exporting and importing liquor.

Sunday School Annual Meeting

Encouraging Reports at Portland Methodist—Presentations Made. The annual meeting of the Board of Management of the Portland Methodist Sunday school was held in the R. W. Hall last evening, supper being served at 6.30 o'clock by the Women's Class.

Daylight Time Will Start This Midnight

Mails Arrive An Hour Later, Regular Trains on Old Time But Many People Happy. Tonight the people of the city are requested to set their time pieces ahead one hour before going to bed for when they awake the city will be operating on what is familiarly known as daylight saving time.

Warehouses Leased

The premises now occupied by these firms and warehouses that have not been used for some time, and a considerable amount of money is being expended to fit them for the new use. The attitude of those who are conducting these enterprises, and the effect their inauguration will have on the business of the city is summed up in the following statement given by W. G. McIntyre, of the firm of W. E. McIntyre, Ltd. He stated:—

Financial Increases

The customs receipts will be larger, as also will the bank clearings. Express companies have already promised to increase their staffs to take care of the business they anticipate. The matter of the exporting of liquor is not undergoing any new phase. A like business has been carried on for several years in this city, and the firm has not been interfered with.

Trains and Mails

The most disturbing features of the operation of the earlier time will be that mails will arrive one hour later by the city watches, and that it will be necessary to arise earlier to catch the regular trains leaving the city accepting the trains running to midnight. That is illustrated by the case of the regular train that leaves the city at 7.15 a.m. and connects with the Ocean Limited for Montreal.

The Bungstarters' Union In Session

Opposed to Open Shop—Vote Loving Cup to Inspector—To Wear Badges. The Bungstarters' Union was in session last night. This is one of the latest unions to hit the town, has a large membership, and is prospering. It is comprised of that great body of "the bunch" known as "wingfords" who dispense liquors from the hip pocket, or from some hole in a dark alley, and are vulgarly called "boob loggers".

Capt. J. B. Theal Died In Chelsea

J. S. Flagler has received word of the death of his cousin, Capt. J. B. Theal, which occurred at his home in Chelsea, Mass., last Wednesday, following a stroke of paralysis which happened just a week previous. The late captain Theal is well known in the city and his many friends will leave with regret of his death. He owned a farm at Carter's Point on the St. John River, and generally spent the summer at this place and enjoyed yachting trips on the river. He was seventy years of age and a well-known mariner. The last vessel he commanded out of this port being the Ruth Robinson. He leaves, besides his widow, three sisters to mourn, Mrs. Estey, Providence, R. I.; Mrs. G. W. Parker, Chelsea, Mass.; Mrs. William Carney, of Brookline, Mass. His widow is a sister of Mr. Mayor Carter of Chelsea, Mass.

Brussels Street Paying To The Fore

Delegation Will Once More Approach Common Council on This Matter. Brussels street like Banquo's ghost will not down and the city fathers are going to hear from the property owners and residents of that street again on Monday morning in regard to the long promised paving work. Commissioner Frink when asked yesterday about the paving of the street said he hardly knew what was going to happen. He had taken the matter of rails up with the Power Co. and from what was said by them the prospects did not look any too good. He had had the road engineer make an examination of the steel now in place, and that official had reported that it was not in as bad shape as was expected, but some renewals would have to be made. The commissioner further stated that he understood a delegation of property owners and residents would appear at the council meeting on Monday morning to urge their claims for proceeding with this very necessary work.

Liquor Raid

Liquor Inspectors Journey, Henderson and Thompson paid a visit to a lodging house in Market street yesterday morning, and in a room there found two jugs of a liquid believed to be alcohol and four empty cans. The lodging house mistress claimed ignorance of the presence and said that her lodger had forbidden her to make his bed, which, in view of the find, she considered a clear case of "grape-juice".

Partridge Nests More Numerous

Spring Has Been Ideal One for the Birds—Two Nests Twelve Eggs Each. Partridge nests are more numerous than for several years in the report from the woods of the province. The spring has been an ideal one for the birds while the mild winter was in their favor. Strollers through the woods are finding well filled nests very frequently. A St. John man who took a ramble in the timber the other day in a few minutes came upon two nests of twelve eggs each. If the good weather continues the mortality among the chicks should be very small this spring with the result that partridge hunting this fall should be splendid.
