Emin Pasha To Be Governor in German Africa—Boulanger Claims To Be Chief of the French Republican Party.

An Anglo-Portuguese Treaty.

LISBON, Jan. 8.—A treaty satisfactory to England and Portugal upon the African question has been nearly concluded. It will be submitted to the Cortes before the signatures are attached.

Boulanger Still in the Ring.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—Gen. Boulanger has sent a dispatch to L'Eclair denying that he has abdicated, and declaring that he remains as he always has been, the chief of the Republican party and a servant of the Democracy.

Thirty Families Homeless.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—Two tenement houses were burned and several damaged by fire and water in the Rue Verrerie early this morning. There was a panic among the inmates, and a number were injured while trying to escape. Thirty families were rendered homeless.

St. Christopher Columbus.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Ninety-seven bishops have signed a petition to the Pope, recommending the beatification of Christopher Columbus. A paper in Rome, commenting on this proceeding, remarks that "the hardy old tar would have been much astonished could he have foreseen his posthumous glorification."

Governor Emin Pasha.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The Standard's Berlin correspondent says it appears settled that Emin Pasha is to be governor of the western portion of German East Africa, including the lake territory, and Herr Von Soden is to be governor of the remainder. Baron Wissmann will probably retire or be sent to settle affairs in West Africa. He is displeased because he was not appointed head of the new colonial department.

Revolution in the Vatican.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—A remarkable domestic revolution was effected in the Vatican Monday. Every Italian in the service of the Pope was dismissed, and the duties of the Papal domestics, both in the interior and in the ante-chamber, have been transferred to foreigners. This is in consequence of an inquiry that showed that Signor Crispi had secret agents among the people employed in the Vatican.

Three Deaths from Coal Gas.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—A terrible accident happened at the Moreuil Hospital Tuesday. Seven old women were sleeping in the same room in which a heated stove was placed. A Sister of Mercy entered the room and found three of them suffocated, and the others were restored to life with the greatest difficulty. The fatality was probably due to a defective ventilation of the stove.

Better Business.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—On the street yesterday afternoon, after the closing of the Stock Exchange, prices became the firmest they had been during the day. This increase of strength was due to reports of an influx of gold to the Bank of England, and rumors that the finances of the Buenos Ayres waterworks undertaking have been satisfactorily arranged with the Argentine Government in such a way that the amount of the Barings' liabilities is reduced by several millions.

Terrible Snowstorm in Italy.

ROME, Jan. 8.—A terrible snowstorm, accompanied by winds of hurricane force, has been raging since this morning on the Gulf of Trieste and along its shores. The storm extended from Capo d'Istria to Venice. The severest cold weather known to the present generation now prevails in the olive-growing region of Italy. A violent rain storm, accompanied by lightning, descended upon the city this evening. The palace of the Propaganda was struck by lightning.

Typus Fever in Florence.

ROME, Jan. 8.—An epidemic of typus fever is playing havoc in Florence. Ninety persons have died within a few days from this disease, and one regiment has had every man but four on its roster sick at one time with it. One hundred wells in the neighborhood have been analyzed, and 90 were found to be infected. Orders have been issued to boil the water before using. The Anglo-American colony is panic-stricken, and almost all have left the city.

The Behring Sea Dispute.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Sir Edward Clark, Solicitor-General, speaking at Plymouth, said, with reference to the Behring Sea dispute, that Lord Salisbury was only asserting a doctrine laid down by the United States Government years ago, namely, that no nation could claim sovereignty over the open sea. Hostilities between England and the United States, said Sir Edward, would shock the conscience of the world, and even the contemplation of such hostilities would be an outrage upon civilization and humanity. "It is to be hoped that Lord Salisbury's offer will be accepted; but if an English vessel is seized on the high seas and violence is used toward British subjects, one fatal half hour would put it beyond the power of the two countries to settle the difficulty by arbitration."

Cold Weather in London.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The new year has not opened auspiciously in London. Twenty-three days of continuous frost, the mercury at times reaching within 5° of zero, has given the population a better conception of rigorous weather than they previously possessed. No such winter has been known in England since 1830. Hares, rabbits, pheasants and wild birds generally are dying by tens of thousands. Seagulls are seeking shelter in London, hugging close to chimney stacks for warmth, but frequently perishing from hunger and exhaustion. Great hummocks of snow-covered ice are floating down the Thames, and piles of snow in every thoroughfare outside the main city avenues give London the appearance of an arctic city. Upper reaches of the Thames River are entirely frozen, and at Windsor and Walton fairs on the ice have been organized. Bullocks and sheep have been roasted, stalls have been erected for the sale of goods, and numerous ice picnics have been carried out. On the frozen waters of the London parks over 100,000 people disport themselves on skates daily. The curious feature about this severe winter is that it is confined to London and the southeast of England. Beyond one or two sharp bursts of frost, Ireland and Scotland have been favored with comparatively mild weather.

The Irish Leadership.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says: At yesterday's conference between the Irish leaders at Boulogne-sur-Mer it was agreed that Justin McCarthy should resign the chairmanship of the party, and that a full meeting of the party should be called to elect a new leader. The participation of Parnellites in the vote for a new leader is tantamount to a reconstruction of the party, and will be entirely satisfactory to Parnell.

BOULOGNE-SUR-MER, Dec. 7.—An authorized statement has been issued by the Irish leaders who have been present at the conference here. They announce that the conference terminated to-day, and that both parties have resolved that the proceedings should be regarded as of a confidential nature. It is understood, however, that an arrangement satisfactory to all has been arrived at. The exact nature of this arrangement must leak out in course of time. The number of erroneous statements made in regard to the Boulogne conference have made the Irish leaders more careful of their utterances.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—A conference of the McCarthyites was held yesterday at the National Liberal Club. The news received from Boulogne in regard to the conference there between the Irith leaders was satisfactory, both to the McCarthyites and the members of the club. A majority of the National Liberals express themselves as having no fear of the McCarthites agreeing to any line of action tending to weaken the alliance between the Irish party and the Gladstonians.

Mr. Gladstone is understood to approve the plan decided upon at the conference between Parnell and O'Brien, and the Parnellites are said to be pledged to abandon Parnell if he proves insincere in the pledges given.

John Dillon has cabled from New York his approval of Parnell's temporary retirement from the chairmanship of the Irish party in favor of Mr. O'Brien.

Patrick Joseph Power, M. P. for Waterford county east, in an address before the Waterford Board of Poor Law Guardians, explained his action in abandoning Parnell. He declared it tore his heart to oppose his old leader, but the interests of the country required it. He confessed he was not sanguine that the Boulogne conference would settle the dispute between the two factions of the Irish party.

The Figaro says Mr. McCarthy will have to resign the leadership of the Irish party, and a meeting of the Irish members of Parliament will be held on Jan. 15 to elect a new leader.

A Boulogne dispatch says: Messrs. Parnell, Clancey, Redmond, Campbell, Scully and Harrington have returned to England. Wm. O'Brien remains here for a few days. It is understood he has been in communication with Justin McCarthy. Later advices from Boulogne say Mr. O'Brien, at his own request, has been empowered to ask Mr. McCarthy to retire from the chairmanship of the anti-Parnell section of the Irish party in favor of John Dillon, or, if Mr. O'Brien prefers, in favor of himself. Mr. O'Brien announces that his conferences with Mr. Parnell are finished. The negotiations with Mr. McCarthy will follow.

The Commercial Cable Company.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—At a meeting of the Board of the Commercial Cable Company held here to-day, Messrs. George G. Ward, Charles R. Hosmer and A. B. Chandler were elected vice-presidents of the company.

The Bank Safe Was Virtually Empty.

WOONSOCKET, S. D., Jan. 7.—The Sanborn County Bank safe has been opened and found to contain only $137. A warrant has been issued for President Stevens' arrest on complaint of a creditor, charging him with taking money on deposit after knowing the bank was insolvent. He is also charged with forgery.

A Boy Dies from Drinking Whisky.

CARLISLE, Pa., Jan. 7.—At Bowmansdale, this county, on Saturday night, four young men got a lot of whisky on a prescription and drank it. Harry Stouffer, aged 17 years, has died from the effects, and another of the party named Weaver laid out in the cold and was so badly frozen that both legs must be amputated.

Murdered His Young Wife.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 7.—Robert De Rose, aged 27, last night killed his wife, Elizabeth, aged 22, at a lodging-house on Hess street. Mrs. De Rose deserted her husband and became a chorus girl at the Bijou Theater. She roomed with an actor named Mitchell. De Rose called at the house last night, and, seizing Mitchell's pistol, which was on a table, shot her in the back. De Rose was arrested.

The Bishop Was Fined.

DETROIT, Jan. 7.—In the Recorder's Court Bishop A. J. B. Jenner was convicted of cutting down sixteen shade trees near the corner of Woodward and Willis avenues, in violation of a city ordinance, and fined $25, to be paid within twenty days. His defense was that the trees interfered with the approach to his residence, were decaying and unhealthy, and that he was ignorant of the law. The court, in convicting him, found that there was nothing malicious in his conduct.

Cecil Clay's Bad Fall.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—At the rehearsal of "The Silver Shield" at the Madison Square Theater by the Rosina Vokes company Cecil Clay, Miss Vokes' husband, disappeared abruptly, and with a crash, through the shaft of the lift back of the stage, which is used to hoist stage settings to the property room in the dome. He had stepped upon the lift inadvertently, and it went down seven feet with him. He dislocated his ankle. It was a painful injury. Mr. Clay was taken to the St. James Hotel.

Mr. Job Scales, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

THE WORLD OF WORK.

Serious Collisions Between Scotch Strikers and Police—The Pittsburg Switchmen's Trouble Settled.

"There will be no strike among the organized switchmen of Pittsburg, Pa." So said Grand Master Workman Sweeney, of the Switchmen's Association, early this morning. Mr. Sweeny said that the trouble for some time past in the Switchmen's Association has been brought about by professional agitators, but recently he expelled three members of Lodge No. 62, including Master Workman Howley, for fomenting strife. Now the trouble will cease.

A Glasgow dispatch says: "The railroad strikers from all the mines in the Rotherwell district suspended work Monday evening, and were largely responsible for the riots. There were 20,000 people about the streets of the suburb at an early hour yesterday morning, and great ill-feeling and excitement prevails.

General Master Workman Powderly, of the K. of L., has issued a circular letter to the industrial organizations of the United States asking their co-operation in a National Reform Industrial Conference to be held in Washington on Feb. 25, March 25 or July 29, the date to be fixed by vote. The conference is to formulate a political platform such as industrialists could favor at the polls.

DROPPED 450 FEET.

Terrible Accident in a California Mine—Eight Men Killed.

SAN ANDREAS, Cal., Jan. 8.—An accident occurred on Tuesday in the north shaft of the Utica mine, at Angel's Camp, which resulted in the death of eight men. The skip with the miners aboard was coming up for dinner. When within 150 feet of the top of the shaft the cable parted at the reel, letting the men, skip and 100 feet of cable fall into the sump at the bottom of the shaft, a distance of 450 feet.

The names of those killed are: Joe Carter, William Case, Dan Dennison, Tom Conovish, John Demarris, Dave McCann, P. Trupich, J. Bristano. Four of them are married and have families. The bodies presented a sickening sight, being fearfully mutilated, one being found without any head and another with half the body and lower limbs. The sump contained about fourteen feet of water. Four bodies have already been recovered, three of which were recognized as Joe Carter, Wm. Case and Dan Dennison. It is but a little over a year ago that a cave-in occurred in the same mine, burrying sixteen men, and the slow work of recovering their bodies had nearly been accomplished when the second disaster took place.

Sheriff Perry Seriously Ill.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 8.—Sheriff Perry of Oxford county is dangerously ill at his residence in Woodstock. He recently had a stroke of apoplexy, and it is extremely doubtful if he will recover from the effects of it.

The Bee-Keepers.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Jan. 8.—The annual Ontario Bee-keepers' Association met here yesterday, about 60 members from all parts of the Province in attendance. The membership of the association has nearly doubled during the year, being now 322. During the year eleven local associations affiliated with the parent society. The treasurer's report was satisfactory. The president's address was read by R. McKnight, and a paper on "Honey-bearing Plants" was discussed.

Crowe's Pickings.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A Baltimore dispatch says: Last Monday afternoon at a meeting of the stockholders of the Franklin Bank of which Charles J. Baker is president, those present learned from Mr. Baker that ex-Councilman Crowe, who failed a few months ago, had overdrawn his account on that bank to the extent of $100,000. The bank holds Crowe's paper to an extent of $119,000. The bank surplus of some $50,000 was gone, and the $97,264 charged in the bank reports of Jan. 3, 1891, to the profit and loss account was all lost. The capital stock which was $320,000 had been impaired to the extent of one-third.

Anticipated His Death.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., Jan. 8.—Thomas Goswick, who was instantly killed a few days ago in the Dexter mines, near here, kept telling his wife prior to his death that he believed that some accident was going to befall him, and assigned reasons for his belief. He was not content with this, however, and finally addressed a letter to her, which he forbade her opening unless some fatality should overtake him. He was employed in a room almost adjoining the Fountain mine, which has been afire for some time and is being flooded in the hope of quenching the flames. He was fearful lest the water should force through and drown him. In this letter, which has just been opened, he fully outlined a method of procedure to recover his body in this event.

Immigration Figures.

MONTREAL, Jan. 7.—The returns from the immigration offices show that the arrivals at this port for 1890 were 8,589, an increase over the previous year of 658. The amount of money which the immigrants acknowledged owning was $498,400, an average for each person of less than $60. The destination of these new comers was: Quebec, 2,727; Ontario, 2,296; Manitoba, 1,080; the Northwest, 422; British Columbia, 379; United States, 1,033. From this it will be seen that over 1,000 went to the United States, which reduces the gain to Canada to something over 7,000. Of the new comers there were farmers, 511; farm laborers, 624; general laborers, 1,062; mechanics, 845; clerks and traders, 482; female domestics, 413; "no calling," 2,969. The agent's report states that the call in surrounding districts for agriculture labor has exceeded any previous year, and was far beyond the supply. Employment for market gardeners is on the increase in Montreal and district.

THE INDIAN TROUBLE.

A New Departure by the Government—A Pow-Wow with Indian Chiefs.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald says President Harrison has decided to accede to Gen. Miles' suggestion that military officers be appointed to take charge, temporarily, of the five Indian agencies near the scene of the hostilities, Standing Rock, Pine Ridge, Rosebud, Cheyenne and Lower Brut, all of which are in the Dakotas. This action is taken as significant evidence of a determination on the part of the Administration to assist Gen. Miles and to co-operate with him in the present campaign. The newly-appointed military officers are not to interfere unnecessarily with the functions of the regular agents.

The Pine Ridge special says: "Big Rod, Little Hawk, Jack Red Cloud, Left-hand Crane and the other chiefs who came in Monday from the hostile camp, had a conference with Gen. Miles, and have returned to the hostiles. The talk during the council was very plain on both sides and a thorough understanding was reached.

The military position here has been greatly strengthened by earthworks east, north and west of the agency. Two Indians, who came in yesterday from the hostile camp, say all the Indians from the agency who are now there, will return, but on account of having many wounded with them they must be given time, as they cannot travel fast.

The talebearers, who are responsible for a great deal of this present trouble, are again busily engaged in carrying lies between the military and the hostile camp. Many squaws of the hostiles arrived here yesterday. It is estimated there are only 300 warriors in the hostile camp who are really determined to fight.

SPOKANE FALLS, Wash., Jan. 7.—At Rockford a Sioux runner came to the Couer d'Alene Indian reservation and endeavored to induce these Indians to join the hostiles. Chief Salt Ice of Couer d'Alenes learning of his mission ordered his arrest and confinement in the guard house, and on Saturday had him whipped, after which he was taken to the limits of the reservation and dismissed with a warning not to return.

TORONTO LETTER.

The Mayoralty Vote—A Heartless Brute—The State of Trade.

The Globe's weekly review says: General trade within the week under review has been quiet. Travelers started out on Monday, and some improvement may be expected soon. Stocks, as a rule, are comparatively small, with winter goods going off better than a year ago. A little more snow in the country would improve the drygoods trade considerably. The feeling in business circles is hopeful, and payments are said to be good in some lines. There is nothing new in groceries, and prices remain steady. Stocks of fruit are limited. The hardware trade is quiet, with metals somewhat firmer; tin plates are quoted higher here. There has been a good demand for wheat during the week, with prices of Ontario grades higher. Provisions quiet and firm, and dressed hogs higher, owing to great scarcity.

The patients at the Toronto General Hospital who are under Koch's lymph treatment are in as hopeful a condition as could be desired. In both cases the symptoms are hopeful, but more particularly has the reaction been satisfactory in the lupus case.

Mr. W. H. Beatty, executor of the estate left in trust on the death of her husband to Mrs. Mary Worts and her children, has filed in the Queen's Bench Division at Osgoode Hall his statement of defense in the action entered upon by Mrs. Worts to compel him to produce a statement of his transactions. Mr. Beatty says in effect that instead of $1,000,000 the estate in his care is only worth $260,000, that instead of being entitled to $4,000 per annum as a specific bequest it was only for a stated period that this allowance was made. In reference to the children the plea of the defence is that Mrs. Worts, after full consideration, entered into an agreement three years ago, giving up the guardianship over them, and with that any claim under her late husband's will in that respect.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhœa, cholera and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

A Good Conundrum.

Mr. Williams, "Why is a drum without a head like a model wife?"

Mr. Cross (a henpecked husband), "Because she is mute.

Mr. Williams, "Right; now tell me why a muscular wife, a drum without a head, a turnip, a plumber and Imperial Cream Tartar Baking Powder are similar?"

Mr. Cross (triumphantly), "Because they can't be beat."

VOICES OF THE PEOPLE.

The Patrol Wagon Disaster.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

As this is the commencement of another municipal year in the history of this city, the people would be heartily glad if the Council just elected will make an earnest effort to cut down the rate of taxation, which has gone upwards to such an enormous extent. In view of the lamentable accident which occurred yesterday afternoon, and which may result fatally to one concerned in it, I wish to bring prominently to the notice of the mayor, the police commissioners and the Council the unnecessary expense the people are put to in maintaining the horses and the patrol wagon staff, which were so unceremoniously capsized yesterday. The wagon has never been used for any other purpose than to convey a few drunk and incapable men and women to the station, and perhaps an occasional rowdy. Now, in the name of common sense, is it worth while for the people to be taxed to maintain a pair of fiery horses, two men and a wagon, with a bell and various brass fittings, for giving free rides to inebriates? Is there any person outside of the Police Station that will maintain the affirmation? If the police commissioners must have a trap for the poor drunks, why can't they be content with a good, single wagon and a steady horse, instead of horses who are made to rush and tear along as if they were attached to one of the ancient war chariots of the Romans? But apart from this, it would be much less expensive to send to one of the many livery stables for a wagon when required. I understand that it costs several thousands a year to run the patrol wagon. The livery stables would do the business for, I should suppose, $500. By all means, agitate this matter until this overwhelming expenditure is abolished.

Yours truly, A TAXPAYER.

London, Jan. 7, 1891.

UNDER THE SEMAPHORE.

Mr. Wainwright's Promotion Gives Great Satisfaction.

The Montreal correspondent says: "A great deal of satisfaction is expressed amongst business men to-day over the announcement of Mr. William Wainwright's appointment from assistant manager to assistant general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway. This means that the popular official in question is promoted from the third to the second position in the company's service. Formerly Mr. Wainwright received a salary of $7,000 per annum, which, it is understood, has been increased to a yearly stipend of $12,000. In the hands of General Manager Seargeant and Assistant General Manager Wainwright the future of the Grand Trunk is considered assured. Although the position of traffic manager has not been abolished, as reported, the vacancy will not be filled for a little while yet. Mr. A. H. Harris will be district general freight agent with his office at Hamilton, vice Mr. R. Quinn, now European traffic agent."

At a meeting of railway representatives in New York Wednesday an advance in freight rates from the seaboard to St. Paul was agreed upon.

In Illinois last year there were 57,435 railway employes, an increase of 4,460 over the previous year. Their compensation aggregated $33,991,989. In the State 568 persons were killed and 1,564 injured during the year.

Grand Trunk Railway return of the traffic for the week ending Jan. 3, 1891: Passenger train earnings, 1891, $114,771; 1890, $123,302; freight train earnings, 1891, $201,668; 1890, $219,318; total, 1891, $316,439; 1890, $332,617; decrease, 1891, $26,178.

By the terms of agreement between the Chicago and Erie and the Wabash, requesting the use of the former's tracks by the latter between Chicago and Laketown, Ind., the Wabash will continue their use at an advanced rental. Whether the Wabash will now push its own proposed Chicago line to Detroit is not stated.

Speaking of the New York Central's extension to the St. Lawrence the Wall Street News says: "It will be a sorry blow to the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg, and as it will be undoubtedly completed for the summer travel it may cause a reduction of dividends. The Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg certainly provoked the contest by their encroachments into New York Central territory, and it was a defensive policy to take away a part of its best traffic when it could be transferred in this way."

ROMANTIC LOVE TALE.

Murder of Comte de Villeplaine, Formerly of Hespeler, Ont.

A cablegram from Paris says: A year ago the Comte de Villeplaine was residing with Mme. la Comtesse at his chateau of St. Chanol not far from the ancient city of Troyes in Eastern France. In the prime of life, with a large fortune and good looks, the Count had plenty of idle time upon his hands. As an inevitable consequence, being of an amorous disposition, he was well known among the village maidens of the vicinity, and thus made friends with Julie Berthet. Julie was passably handsome, saucy and not at all bashful. She was naturally flattered by the Count's preference. Julie had a lover named, singularly enough, Aube, after the department. Aube was not overpleased at this proof of Julie's powers of fascination, and decidedly objected to its further exercise. The handsome Count, however, paid little attention to his rival's ill-concealed dislike, and continued to press his suit with characteristic ardor.

These events occupied the late winter and early spring months, and May was just ripening into June, when one morning after a heavy thunder storm had drenched Troyes and its environs and the clouds were still hanging heavy over the Chateau Chanol a peasant passing along a by-road came upon the body of the Count lying stiff and cold almost within the shadow of his own residence.

The police not having met the popular demand for the name and antecedents of the criminal the gossips set to work to unravel the tangled skein after their own fashion, and finding no other person equally interesting in the Count's death, decided that the Countess, if herself not actually the murderess, was privy to the dark deed, seeing that she had come at the early age of 35 into a large and encumbered estate. These cruel rumors stung the poor widow to the heart, and without delay she laid her troubles before M. Goron, the head of the Paris detective force, resolved to clear her reputation at all costs. M. Goron at once intrusted the case to one of his best men, by name Bastart, who took the first train for Troyes and began the quest which has just ended successfully.

Disguising himself as a hawker and penetrating all the roads and lanes in the vicinity of the ancient capital of Champagne has made himself thoroughly acquainted with the district. Finding in his rambles a quiet country inn, he made it his headquarters, and soon discovered that it was also the rendezvous of a gang of poachers.

Bastart played cards almost nightly with the poachers, and one evening the conversation turned on the assassination of the nobleman. Sundry dark hints were given and inuendoes made that pieced together resulted in producing the conviction in the detective's mind that Aube, who was one of the party, was the murderer. After collecting further information that strengthened his belief in this theory, including the facts regarding the amour between the Count and the fair Julie he learned that the Count, in his capacity as landlord, had been unusually stringent in his treatment of the poacher, who was his tenant.

Armed with these data, the detective obtained an order from the Central Office for the arrest of Aube, who, with many protestations, declared his innocence. On being confronted, however, with all the evidence that had been accumulated against him, the poacher confessed that he had done the Count to death. He is now awaiting his trial at the assizes.

The above was a cable message to the New York press sent from Paris, France on the 30th ult. relating to the tragic death of Count Charlo Boscary de Villeplaine. The deceased Count's mother is a sister of the late Jacob Hespeler, of Hespeler, and he will be remembered as the young gentleman "Charlo," who about twenty years ago spent a couple of years in Canada visiting his uncles then residing in Hespeler and Waterloo. His relatives here know nothing as to the truth or falsity of the above dispatch, except that the Count was shot dead about Sept. 1 last, and not when "May was ripening into June."

Are a nuisance and we think it behooves publishers to examine into the merits of many articles puffed up in their columns. We do not deny that many meritorious remedies are properly to be classed under this heading. Take the hundreds and thousands relieved from severe suffering by the use of Polson's Nerviline; would it not be unreasonable to expect them to condemn that far-famed remedy? Now we know for a fact that Polson's Nerviline is, without exception, the most powerful, pleasant and certain remedy in the world for pain. It cannot fail, for it goes right to the bottom of pain, penetrates to the nerves, soothes them into quietness, and affords prompt and permanent relief.

It is more blessed to give than to receive simply because the giver can squeeze no end of contentment out of the contemplation of his own generosity.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, is ear-ache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are specially subject.

A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the sytem. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and conver the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

At Home
January 1st to December 31st

Makes home cleaner, brighter and better. Cleaner—because it takes away what soap and other things leave. Brighter—because it does away with labor and hard work. Better—because it saves wear and tear on everything it touches, and nothing can be hurt by it.

Pearline "receives" every day. It gets blessing from millions of old friends—pleasant calls from a host of new ones. The best families welcome it. It goes everywhere. But it's "a stayer." When it once makes a call upon you, it stays forever—and you're glad to have it.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, do the honest thing—send it back. 245 JAMES PYLE, N.Y.

London, Thursday, Jan. 8.

THE WOMEN VOTERS.

The unostentatious, orderly manner in which hundreds of women voters cast their ballots in the municipal election in London on Monday last has made converts of many who previously looked askance at the thought of any but men exercising the franchise.

The act of voting is the act of effectively expressing one's opinions. The ADVERTISER is not prepared to say that women do not think as wisely, are not as deeply interested as men in everything that relates to the moral and material welfare of the community.

Every "argument" against women being allowed to vote has been employed in days long past to prove that women should not be permitted to read.

Women have as much right to express their opinions through the franchise as persons of the other sex. They are on the average as intelligent and in general more conscientious. Their exclusion from a direct voice in municipal and legislative concerns has been an exclusion injurious to the best interests of society. What is the right arm of power of the Christian Church to-day? Who chiefly furnish church attendance, prayer-meeting attendance, and mission effort? Women.

Is it wise to exclude so potent a power for moral good from other fields which need nothing so much as an infusion of that ethical influence, that desire to protect the home, which characterizes woman?

MAKING ELECTIONS EASY AND HONEST.

Some of the citizens who came forward as municipal candidates at the recent election claim that they were defeated because they did not canvass, and others say that not a few electors who made promises to them, and gave them hopes that they would be elected at the top of the poll, either voted for the other fellow or stayed at home.

Under the present system this will always be the case. It is illustrated by the Washington Post, which reports the experiences of three candidates for the Speakership of the next United States House of Representatives, who discussed their chances the other day. "There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip," said candidate No. 1. "I should say so," said candidate No. 2. "Out in my State there were two contestants for the position of doorkeeper of the Legislature. In the canvass of the State they met and compared notes. Each had pledges enough to elect him. 'What is the use,' said one, 'of wasting more time and money? One of us is sure to be elected. Let us go home, and we will agree that whoever is chosen will appoint the other his first assistant.' They agreed, and went home. When the Legislature met neither man got a vote." "There was a politician in my town," said candidate No. 3, "who was an applicant for the county clerkship. When I asked him how he was progressing he showed me a book in which he had the names of 1,700 men [who had said they would vote for him. On election day that man received just 123 votes. He told me afterwards that there were 1,557 liars in that town, and he could prove it." "I can discount your stories," said candidate No. 1, who had been listening attentively to these recitals. "In my town a man announced himself as a candidate for sheriff. When he went home and told his wife what he had done she positively refused to agree to live in the tumble-down dwelling adjoining the county jail, which was the sheriff's residence. Nothing daunted, the candidate drove out six or seven miles to the jail the following day with his wife, and the inspection of the place simply confirmed the lady in her position. They quarreled then and there, and the husband and wife actually separated. In the convention the husband received only seventeen votes, and was the last man in the race." "What became of the wife?" asked the interested auditors. "O, she came back to her husband," was the reply, "and has had her own way with him ever since."

These recitals may seem rather far-fetched, but we venture to say that in a more or less modified shape they correspond with the experiences of every candidate for a public office. There are men who think it no harm to deliberately mislead candidates or their agents on all possible occasions. What they aim to get rid of is the button-holing canvasser, and they believe that the easiest possible way is to affirm by nod, wink, or positive assurance that his case is all right and will be indorsed. To most candidates for public office the canvassing habit and the necessity for coaxing electors to do their duty by going to the polls is a positively distasteful, time-wasting expedient. When, in addition to these, hundreds of able-bodied men have to be carried to and from the polling places, it becomes expensive as well.

Obligatory voting, the making of every elector responsible for the polling of his own vote, would greatly modify, if not entirely abate, these troubles. We believe it would enormously reduce the number of white lies that are told in every contest, to the serious humiliation of the sanguine candidate who is made the victim of the duplicity of anxious-to-please electors. "The citizen's duty in casting his ballot," it was well said by a professor of Columbia College, N. Y., in a recent address in favor of obligatory voting, "does not differ in kind from that of the jurymen, sworn to decide the issues presented to them without fear or favor."

SUGAR FROM CANADIAN BEETS.

With the object of getting the West Indies to trade exclusively with Canada, Mr. Foster, Minister of Finance, told the merchants there that the cultivation of the sugar beet has been a failure in Canada. Where Mr. Foster has been recently we know not, but it has been made evident by the following telegram that he does not know what he is talking about:

MONTREAL, Jan. 5, 1891.—Mr. Foster's statement is very rash, incorrect and regrettable. It is true that the attempts to manufacture sugar from beets in Quebec have not been successful, but the Provincial Government has granted for this year a bonus of 50 cents a ton on beets delivered to the manufacturers, and a special commission has been authorized to study the question of the sugar beet culture, to go to Europe, the United States and Ontario, and report at the next session of the Legislature. (Signed) HONORE MERCIER.

The Ontario Government is also experimenting, and has enlisted the co-operation of many farmers and capitalists. The making of sugar from beets is not a failure in Canada, because it really has never had a fair trial. It may happen that Canada will yet grow the beets necessary to produce all the sugar required for her own people, and perhaps go into the exporting business. While the experiments are in progress it is rash to assert or to prophesy either way. The Minister of Finance should keep speaking on matters of which he has knowledge.

AXE AND REAPING MACHINE COMBINES.

Fourteen of the largest axe factories in the United States have been organized under a trust, and they have managed to raise the wholesale price of axes in the course of a few months from $5 25 to $7 per dozen. Before the combine was formed, too, manufacturers paid freight on the goods; but they pay no freight now. They also gave a warranty with the axes, so that, if one was broken or turned out to be of poor quality, it was replaced by a good one; but no warranty is given now. And to show what power the combine possesses, every retail dealer is furnished with a slip which reads: "There is now but one axe company in the United States, and that is called the American Axe and Tool Company, with headquarters at Pittsburg. This company has purchased outright every axe factory in the country of any importance, and by thus controlling the production have advanced prices on an average of $2 per dozen. This company also controls the manufacture of axe polls (or the heads of axes), the machinery of which is patented, and this enables them to keep the prices so high no one else can afford to make axes." The free-born American citizen will be able, perhaps, to discover a vein of humor in this manifesto of the axe combine; but it is such humor as the Sioux Indian practices upon his victim. Another trust, more recently formed, is that of the reaping machine manufacturers, and one of the first fruits of it is the discharge of 10,000 workingmen, as it has been found that under combination the labor of this number of men can be saved. But the price of machines will go up for the farmer all the same, and the McKinley tariff will leave him without redress.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

—A French newspaper speaks of John L. Sullivan as "Jean Sullivan, fils de Sir Arthur Sullivan." The stage has placed the musician and the gladiator on a level!

—There is philosophy for the candidates who have suffered from a shortage of votes in this poetic gem:

There cannot be a victory
Unless one side is beaten;
For some give thanks and some must be
The turkeys that are eaten.

‡‡‡

—Mrs. O'Shea is suffering the penalty of having become notorious through wrong-doing. In Paris, she is the observed of all observers. Even in the restaurants, opera glasses are leveled at her. How difficult is the pathway of the wrong-doer, even after the wrong-doing ceases!

‡‡‡

—Last year at this time, thousands of people in Canada were in the throes of la grippe. What a relief it is to know that the doctors entertain the belief that the epidemic will not soon return. A city physician informs us that there have recently been a number of cases of influenza in London, but not one case of genuine "grippe" has been brought to light.

‡‡‡

—After its New Year's spree, the weather turned over a new leaf, and is now thoroughly reformed. If we had a little more snow and sleighing, we would have a model winter. By the way, Explorer Stanley's wife says she never has had a sleigh ride. Then she has missed one great enjoyment by not coming to London a month ago. London has this year had more and better sleighing than any other city in Canada outside of Montreal and Ottawa.

‡‡‡

—The sad runaway accident yesterday suggests the inquiry whether it would not be possible to provide some better contrivance for bringing too lively horses to a speedy standstill than is at present available. A Brooklyn man claims that he has invented an attachment for a vehicle which will stop a runaway horse or speedily arrest a vicious or frightened animal. It consists of a movable sleeve which acts in conjunction with a central pulley and side levers, which are under the immediate control of the driver, and by which an instant rearward revolution of the central pulley can be effected. A substantial band, preferably of leather, is secured around the central pulley and extends forwardly, its extremity having lateral straps attached to it and also to the bits of the horses, so that the revolution in a direction away from the horses will shorten the band and pull the heads of the horses downward and rearward in a forcible manner, throwing the animals upon their haunches and quickly arresting their forward movement. Provision is also made for automatically locking the central pulley, so that the tension of the horses will not be removed if they back up. This pressure, however, can be readily removed by the driver's pressing with his foot on the treadle when it is desired to control a team of fractious horses with trameled heads.

‡‡‡

—We are informed that some qualified voters were unable to exercise their franchise in the city election on Monday because of the crowds that assembled in the polling places and the slowness of some of returning officers. It was a mistake to have so few polling sub-divisions when there were contests for the mayoralty, water commissioners, aldermen, trustees and three bylaws to be voted on. With one-half as many more polling places, the voting public would have been much better suited. Our civic authorities will no doubt keep this trouble in recollection when making arrangements for future elections.

—Of discoveries in the iron and steel business there seems to be no end. David Simpson, a blacksmith employed at the Carbon Iron Works, claims to have a process by which ore can be converted into refined iron in one hour. He says: "I know I have a good thing, and am watching it carefully. I can put ore in the furnace, add a few chemicals, and in a short time I can draw out good iron; put in some more chemicals, and I can draw good steel. Here is a razor blade of steel made, forged, sharpened, and brought to the city in two hours. I can make steel 500 carbon. I don't use lime to purify." If this workman can do this, and nothing in these days of invention seems impossible, we are on the eve of another great economic revolution.

‡‡‡

—The Duchess of Northumberland has just been buried in Westminster Abbey as a Percy, the only family in England retaining the prescriptive right to the honor of interment there. By the way, if you desire to obtain burial in the abbey in consequence of fame, you will have to achieve it very soon, as the number of available burial spaces are getting very few. The Royal Commission appointed to examine the building in its relations to future burials, report that there is comfortable room for 40 or 50 more; but space can be made for 78 more by devoting every available spot for the purpose. The architect of the abbey, Mr. Pierson, recommends the addition of various new chapels, for which some outside houses would have to be pulled down.

NOTHING LIKE IT.

MR. JOAB SCALES, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach and Lame Back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man out of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

WONDERFUL CURES.

FOR THIRTY YEARS.—Mrs. L. Squire, Ontario Steam Dye Works, Toronto, says: "For about thirty years I have doctored for Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia without getting any cure. I then tried Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and the benefits I have received from this medicine are such that I cannot withhold this expression of my gratitude. It acts immediately upon the Liver, and its good effects are noticed at once. As a Dyspepsia remedy I don't think it can be equalled."

INDISPUTABLE EVIDENCE.

HARDENED AND ENLARGED LIVER.—Mrs. H. Hall, Navarino, N.Y., writes: "For years I have been troubled with Liver Complaint. The doctors said my Liver was hardened and enlarged. I was troubled with Dizziness, Pain in my Right Shoulder, Constipation, and gradually losing flesh all the time. All food soured on my stomach, even with the closest attention to diet. I was under the care of three physicians, but did not get any relief. A friend sent me a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and it affords me much pleasure to inform you that the benefit I have received from it is far beyond my expectation. I feel better now than I have done for years."

Opening of the Canadian Chess Association Tournament.

Curling Events—Turf, Baseball and Other Sporting Gossip.

CHESS.

The first games in the tournament of the Canadian Association, which is open to all chess players of Canada, were begun Tuesday in the Montreal club rooms, the contestants being Mr. W. Boultbee, of Toronto, and Mr. T. Taylor, of Ottawa, and Mr. A. Short, of Montreal, and Mr. J. E. Narroway, of Ottaway. In the first instance Mr. Boultbee defeated Mr. Taylor, and in the second the game was drawn between Messrs. Short and Narroway. Among the other contestants entered for the tournament are A. T. Davidson, Toronto, and Messrs. Geo. Barry, J. P. Cooke and W. H. Hicks, Montreal. The first prize is a cup valued at $100. The annual meeting of the Canadian Chess Association was held Monday afternoon. It was decided to hold the next meeting in Toronto. The following are the officers: Patron, his Excellency the Governor-General; honorary presidents, H. A. Howe, Montreal, and T. LeDroit, Quebec; president, W. Boultbee, Toronto; vice-presidents, Messrs. J. Henderson, Montreal; J. E. Narroway, Ottawa, and C. P. Champion, Quebec; managing committee, Messrs. Davidson, Cross, Freeland and Braithwaite, Toronto; G. W. Liddell, R. Short, Montreal; T. Taylor, Ottawa; M. J. Murphy, Quebec; secretary-treasurer, John McGregor, Toronto.

BASEBALL.

Campau writes from Detroit to Lem Felcher regarding baseball in Toronto. "I wrote Mr. McConnell a letter regarding a team in your city to enter the new proposed league, including Buffalo, Syracuse, Rochester and Toronto in the West, and New Haven, Bridgeport, Hartford and Worcester in the East. Then again there is Utica, Troy, Albany and Binghampton to draw from. I can put a team in your city for $1,200 a month—that will be the salary limit of the league; get twelve men, seven regulars, three pitchers and two catchers. You have the grounds, etc.; there will be no expense for that. I can sign the men for 5½ months, the playing season being five months, and I am sure baseball can be made a paying investment in Toronto. The league will be a strong one, and all are waiting for the league to settle their disputes, and then they will organize. I can get a running team, I am sure, and will work hard to make it a go. If Mr. McConnell does not feel like taking hold, you do so. You really started the game there, and can revive it again, but with both of you I would not be afraid to wager that the books would leave a balance on the right side of the page. Let me hear from you and what you think of the matter. See Mr. McConnell and have a talk; I know you can do good work; and as soon as I hear from you I shall know what to do."

CURLING.

Buffalo curlers will send a rink to the Winnipeg bonspiel next month.

Two curling matches were played at Lindsay on Tuesday resulting as follows: Millbrook 35, Lindsay 46; majority for Lindsay, 11 shots. Millbank 31, Bobcaygeon 36; majority for Bobcaygeon, 15 shots.

THE RING.

It is understood Jack McAuliff has about agreed to terms for a fight with Carroll. The purse will be $10,000 or very near it. The only question is about the time.

ATHLETICS.

Duncan Ross, writing to a friend in New York, says: "What the people of Australia want is an Irish champion who will come here dressed in green tights and plenty of shamrocks, with the ability to back himself with £1,000. Such a champion would set the country wild. I am going to India, where I expect to make big money. I take Prof. Miller with me. He is old and stale, but he has a name and that is worth something. Make no mistake, Mickey Drohy is a great man."

SKATING.

Donoghue won the mile and five-mile skating events at Amsterdam on Wednesday.

BILLIARDS.

John Roberts, jun., has challenged W. J. Peall to play on an ordinary table for any part of £1,000 (not less than £200), 1,500 up, spot barred, and 15,000 up spot in, the scores to be put together and the highest aggregate to win.

THE TURF.

The Ontario Jockey Club, Toronto, will hold a four-days' spring meeting on May 23, 25, 28 and 30. Two new stakes are to be opened.

The new club house of the New York Jockey Club, at Morris Park, which will cost $300,000, will be a model of elegance and convenience, and will be ready for occupancy on May 1. It contains 65 rooms in all. The new roof for the grand stand will soon be put in place. It will project 15 feet behind the stand and 30 feet in front, a safeguard against rain or sun.

In groups of fours the fastest performers on the trotting turf are as follows. Mares—Maud S., 2:08¾; Sunol, 2:10½; Margaret S., 2:12½; Belle Hamlin, 2:12¾. Geldings—Jay-Eye-See, 2:10; Guy, 2:10¾; St. Julien, 2:11½; Jack, 2:12¾. Stallions—Nelson, 2:10¾; Stamboul, 2:11; Axtel, 2:12; Palo Alto, 2:12¾. THEY MUST HAVE RECESS.

The Board of Education Demand Fresh Air for the Children.

Resignation of Musical Master Hyttenrauch Accepted—The New Limit Table Approved of by the Board.

Are recesses beneficial?

The solving of this problem occupied considerable time during the last sitting of the Board of Education. The discussion was introduced by the following clause in the report of No. 1 Committee's report:

7. That all the teachers carry out the Government regulation giving an intermission to pupils during the forenoon and afternoon sessions.

Principal Graham, of the Simcoe street school, was asked for his opinion on the subject. With regard to his school, he thought that it would be difficult to carry out the meaning of the clause on account of the playground being so small. During the past two years there had been no complaint against the practice of holding school without any intermission and dismissing at 11:45 a.m. and 3:45 p.m. The grounds were also in a much better condition, he said, on account of the present system of preventing any spoliation. He thought that the recess gave the boys a chance to engineer fights.

Trustee Dewar—How would your plan work in schools where the ventilation is not good?

Principal Graham—That does not apply to the Simcoe street school.

Inspector Boyle disagreed with the principal. Every educationalist, he said, was favorable to recesses. Three hours of steady study was too much, and amounted to cruelty.

Trustee Cook recorded himself as favorable to recesses. Even if fights were arranged they could do but little harm. They cleared the atmosphere.

Trustees Brady and Luscombe both stated that they had heard complaints against the present system. The clause was adopted.

The remainder of the same report was then passed as follows:

1. That we have audited the accounts of No. 2 Committee, and recommend the same for payment, amounting to $366 31; also recommend that $16 be paid in full to Mrs. Neill, but that $8 for cutting grass, on same, be referred to the Board.

2. That the communication of Mr. Mounteer, re elocution classes, be filed.

3. Resolved, that the arrangement of teachers in Simcoe street school be as follows: Miss Cannell, Senior Third; Miss McDonald, Junior Second; Miss Skelton, Junior Second; Miss Walton, Part Second; Miss Luke, Part Second; Miss Rogers, Miss Pococke, Hamilton road school—Miss Buckle, Senior Third; Miss Fairbrain, Junior Third; Miss Hall, Senior Second.

4. That the names, salary and degree of teachers on the institute staff be placed in table F.

5. That Miss Ada Johnstone be recommended to be placed on the permanent staff, and that she be assigned the junior position at Colborne street school; Miss Fleming be assigned the junior position at King street school; Miss Anundson to Simcoe street school; Miss Irwin to Hamilton road school, and Miss McEwen to Protestant Orphans' Home school; Miss Black to Lorne avenue.

6. That Miss Lizzie Johnson be appointed a substitute for Miss Laird, and that Misses Howie, Knott, Robson, J. G. Jeffery, Spittal Baxter and Crowley be placed on the substitute staff.

8. That the music master be supplied with 100 blank forms of certificates to be given successful pupils re examination in music.

9. That we report progress re applications from teachers for increase of salaries.

In regard to the first of the clauses the Board decided not to pay for the grass cutting.

On clause 5 the members of the Board not on No. 1 Committee indulged in a little pleasant railery at the expense of their fellows on that committee.

Trustee Jeffers expressed his conviction that the London School Board was the most generous of all that he knew towards their teachers. They took into consideration "hot dinners for and the personal convenience of the teachers more than anything else."

Trustee Yates moved in amendment to clause No. 5 that Miss Fleming be allowed to remain in Colborne street school, and Trustee Love moved a second amendment that Miss Johnstone go to the Simcoe street school, but both were lost.

The other clauses were not discussed.

THE FEMALE JANITORS.

The question of dismissing certain of the janitors which has been discussed at previous meetings was taken up, but was referred to No. 2 Committee.

Inspector Boyle said it was his experience than women were not capable of attending properly to the care of the schools, when such a large amount of coal had now to be handled.

THAT LIMIT TABLE.

Copies of the limit table, rearranged and altered by the Teachers' Association, had been placed in the hands of the trustees and it was then introduced for discussion.

Trustee Yates charged the principals with insulting the Board. He expressed his conviction that the teachers were but trying to lighten their own burdens.

This was denied by Principal Graham.

Trustees Rowlands and Dewar supported the table. It was referred to No. 1 Committee to report upon and in the meantime will be operated provisionally.

OTHER BUSINESS.

Trustee Rowlands moved that No. 2 Committee have a suitable flag pole erected at Maple avenue school for the flag won by one of the pupils. Carried.

Trustee Yates moved that kindergarten teachers' salaries be reported on by No. 1 Committee. Carried.

Trustee Cook moved that Miss Shopland be appointed a kindergarten assistant in Talbot street school. Carried.

Trustee Cook moved that one-half the fees for second-class, first-class and university work be returned to all successful candidates who attend from outside counties. No. 1 Committee.

SHEDS HIS SKIN LIKE A SNAKE.

The Chicago Medical Society Discusses Several Queer Cases and Other Subjects.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Dr. Jacob Frank reported a remarkable case of skin disease at the regular meeting of the Chicago Medical Society. It was of a man aged 33 years, who once a year since his birth has shed his skin in orthodox snake fashion. Dr. Frank discovered the case last July at St. Elizabeth's Hospital. It nonplused him and he called Dr. Zeisler, a skin specialist, for consultation. After much study they arrived at the conclusion that it was a case of erythema scarletina forma, recurrent. Dr. Frank exhibited casts of the man's feet and hands and big plates of the cuticle from his trunk. After shedding his shell it is the patient's custom to wear his casts as moccasins and gloves until the new skin is strong enough to endure wear.

Left to Starve.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 8.—A terrible story comes via Edmonton from Beaver Lake. Some months ago a young Indian boy strayed away from home and no trace was seen of him until ten days ago, when a skeleton, supposed to be his, was found standing upright between two trees. It is presumed the poor victim was tied between the trees and left to starve by the Indians as a sacrifice to bring good luck in hunting.

Immigration Figures.

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—The annual immigration returns for Ottawa show the total arrivals to be 836, a decrease from 1889, when they numbered 1,159. Of the 836 last year 541 were males, 175 females and 120 children. One hundred and sixty-three were classed as farm laborers, 186 as general laborers, 13 as mechanics, 62 as clerks, etc., and 31 female servants. The remaining 381 were not classified. Ninety-nine went to Quebec, 708 remained in Ontario, 11 went to Manitoba and 18 to British Columbia.

Moses Oats' Weather Predictions.

TORONTO, Jan. 8.—"Moses Oats," the Ontario weather prophet, says that it will be so warm towards the latter part of February that the moths will fly. The latter part of March will be rather cold. The above weather will eventuate provided it is cold from Jan. 20 to Feb. 20. The Northwest will have a remarkably warm winter, and it it will be decidedly warm in the Western States, but cold weather will be experienced on the Pacific Slope. Western Ontario will be warm on the average, with heavy precipitations of snow.

Farmers' Institutes.

TORONTO, Jan. 8.—Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, has issued to all interested in agriculture a circular giving dates of farmers' institutes arranged for the month of January in different sections of the Province. He points out that "besides the use of local talent, addresses will be delivered by a professor of the Agricultural College, a representative of the Fruit Growers' Association and one or two of the best known farmers in the Province." He adds: "May I ask that you will make it a point to be present and take part in the discussions? I have further to ask that you will assist as far as possible in inducing others to join the institute, as I propose sending to the members copies of every bulletin issued from the department during the year 1891, together with other information of value which may be published from time to time."

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation; its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. Mr. John Miles mourns the loss of a large bay mare, Mr Robert Butler's brown gelding is gone, but not forgotten by the owner, and Mr. Dan Cornell would like to recover his bay mare, which he has not seen since New Year's eve. Suspicion attaches to a young colored man, who has been loitering around Appin all summer, but who disappeared on New Year's eve.

CHATHAM.

The question now is since the election, who will be warden for the county the coming year.

A meeting will be held in the Town Hall on Friday evening to receive the financial statement of our Band Committee.

A live time was indulged in the night of the election. Our newly-elected mayor, together with some of the councilors, were escorted to the Garner House balcony, where short speeches were indulged in for awhile, and by this time the band arrived. They then took cabs, headed by the band, and proceeded through the principal streets, and then escorted the different members to their respective homes. It put one in mind of the old-time elections, when they used to put the mayor-elect shoulder high on a chair and march through the principal streets.

Made His Escape in a Trunk.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 8. — George Ohnstein, said to be an adept in the bogus diamond racket, worked the city pretty thoroughly last week. He would approach a citizen at night and pretend to have stolen diamonds in his possession, which he would offer to sell at temptingly low prices, declaring that he could not wait for pawnshops to open. The police were hunting for him and it became necessary to make a hasty exit. All the outgoing trains were carefully watched, so Ohnstein, who is a little man, bought a big trunk, had himself locked in it, and was checked through to Indianapolis. He writes back to a friend that he has arrived all right after a rough trip.

Histogenetic System of Medicine.

Our representative will be at London, Grigg House, Room 2, on Tuesday and Wednesday, 13th and 14th January. Everybody call for free book explaining the new system. Testimonials:

I was attacked last fall with lung and throat disease, and run down till I got very weak. I had a very bad cough, which troubled me night and day. My case was pronounced consumption by a prominent physician, who gave an unfavorable opinion to my friends as to my chance of ever recovering. I then had the misfortune to get la grippe, which complicated my case and made it seem hopeless. I was attended for eleven weeks by a skillful physican of this city, and received no benefit. I gradually grew worse, and became much discouraged. A friend of mine sent me a medical book explaining Dr. J. Eugene Jordan's Histogenetic System of Medicine. I consulted Dr. Rear, medical examiner for the association. He gave me a thorough and careful examination, and through his advice I commenced taking the Histogenetic treatment. In one week I felt a great improvement; in three weeks I resumed my business, and have not lost a day since. I am getting strong and hearty, and will soon be as well as ever. I do not think any system of medicine so harmless, pleasant, and attended with such quick and permanent results as the Histogenetic. HENRY HOPCROFT, 744 Markham street, Toronto, Oct. 25, 1890.

PARALYSIS CURABLE AT LAST.

I have been paralyzed in the lower limbs, tongue and eyes for two years, also memory very much impaired, loss of muscular power, great debility, unsteady gait accompanied by dizziness and general derangement. I could not perform work of any kind most of the two years. Would frequently fall, striking upon my head, owing to sudden complete loss of power in my limbs and nerves. In San Francisco I was treated by two skillful physicans of the allophatic school without any good results whatever. I then tried one of the best physicians in Winnipeg and he did me no good. I began to feel that all hope was gone. I happened to be passing the Histogenetic Medicine Offices in the Henderson Block, Winnipeg, and seeing the sign I thought I would inquire into the system, and although I had spent so much money with no good result, I resolved to try the new system, as my sufferings were very great. I took the remedies about two months there and continued for three weeks longer in Toronto, getting the same medicine at the Head Office for Canada. I am radically cured and have resumed my business, and am able to work all day as usual. These beautifully prepared tasteless remedies are better than diamonds or gold, and I hope all affected as I was will try them they are the only sure and safe remedies. JOSEPH PERKINS, Toronto.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

LONDON, Wednesday, Jan. 7.

Very few changes are to be noted in the general situation here, both in grain and provisions, since last weekly review. The new year has set in after the usual fashion, light deliveries and quietness prevailing. The feeling in wheat seems a shade better, but it is not sufficiently strong to create any advance in values. During the week choice lots of Dercorat were occasionally taken at 92c, and frequently at 91c per bushel. During Tuesday's and to-day's market 90c and 91c and $1 50 to $1 52 were ruling values.

Oats have come in sparingly, and the demand, though entirely local, was strong and prices firm, closing 2c over last week, $1 18 and $1 20.

Barley opened active at from $1 to $1 20. Importations from outside of feed grades made the range here widen, and at the close purchases were made at 86c.

Buckwheat was steady at $1 for ordinary and $1 02 to $1 05 for dry and clean.

Rye closed stronger at $1 to $1 05.

There were moderate receipts of beans. Handpicked sold at $1 25 and unpicked at $1 to $1 15.

Corn scarce and firm at $1 10 to $1 15.

Butter was plentiful, dull and neglected, best pound rolls bringing 16c by the basket, and other kinds were affected the same.

Fresh eggs ran away up, sales of baskets being made at 27c, 28c and 30c retail; store lots brought 20c to 21c.

Potatoes higher at 70c to 80c.

Dressed hogs made a gain of 25c per cwt. There was a good shipping demand and also a steady draw for local dealers; the close was $5 50 to $5 75 for ordinary and $5 25 for heavy.

Beef was in better demand, and sales ranged at 4½c to 6½c by the carcass.

Tallow steady at 5½c for rendered.

Sales of dried apples reported at 6c to 7c per lb.

Hay firmer, the supply not being so heavy; prices were a shade higher; sales, $6 50 to $7 50 for the week.

Millers report another advance in bran to-day of $2 per ton.

Said to be Crazy.

Wm. J. Marshall testified at the Police Court this morning to his father, William's, unsound mental condition. He said the old gentleman, who is a retired railway man and a survivor of the Copetown disaster, has been acting strangely for two or three weeks past, and has been ripping up carpets, smashing things in general and threatening his (the defendant's) wife. Dr. Smith also considered him to be a little out of his mind and dangerous to others. The father was committed by the magistrate for trial on a charge of insanity.

Funeral of the Late Wm. Weld.

The funeral of the late Wm. Weld took place from his residence, Ridout street, yesterday afternoon. About 200 from the Masonic fraternity and a delegation from St. George's Society marched in line to St. Paul's Cathedral, where the funeral service was conducted by the Dean of Huron and Rev. Mr. Hicks. The floral offerings were beautiful. The eight sons of the deceased were the pall-bearers in addition to the following from the Masonic body: Rt. Ex-Com. Dewar, Ex-Com. Carrothers, Ex-Com. Broderick, Com. Barker and Com. McRoberts of the Royal Arch Chapter, and Bros. Marshall, J. Hooke, (Col.) Moffatt and J. B. Vining, of St. John's, No. 20.

News from Hyde Park.

The anniversary service of the opening of the Church of the Hosannas was held on Sunday. A large congregation was present. The church had been tastily decorated for the Christmas services. Several valuable gifts had been presented by members of the congregation. The Bishop of Huron was present and preached an eloquent and impressive sermon on Psalms, xxxii., 8. A collection in aid of the building fund was taken up which amounted to $50.

On Monday night, Jan. 5, the anniversary entertainment of the Presbyterian Sunday school was held in the church and was a decided success. Rev. Mr. Henderson, the former pastor of the church, but now of Appin, occupied the chair. Rev. Mr. Johnstone, of Alvinstone, and Rev. Mr. Diehl, of Hyde Park, were present. A splendid programme was presented to a large and attentive audience. At the close the children were presented with prizes.

Anniversary Social.

Last evening the anniversary entertainment of the North Branch Presbyterian Mission Sunday school was held in their comfortable building on the corner of Oxford and Colborne street. Superintendent James Gordon presided and welcomed the large number of friends who attended. After a short congratulatory address by Rev. James Gordon, the superintendent read his report, which showed a total membership of over 150 pupils and 16 teachers, with almost a full attendance every Sunday. Mr. H. E. Nelles, treasurer, read his report, showing the finances to be in a gratifying condition. The following programme was then carried out in a most creditable manner: Song, Miss Gilmore; song, infant class; recitation, Eva McMahen; song, Miss Maggie Gilmore; recitation, Lily Nelles; recitation, Lizzie Halstead; song, Olive Niall; recitation, Daisy Knight; recitation, Sadie Gray; duet, Miss Maggie and Mr. John Gilmore; recitation, Bertie Stevenson; song, ten girls; recitations, John Dearness, Jean Gordon, Chas. Questions for a Judge.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER: Would you please answer the following questions:

1. If deputy returning officers distribute blank ballot papers for the election of school trustees to supporters of public schools and to supporters of separate schools indiscriminately, with the supposition, of course, that many separate school supporters would vote in public school elections, would this invalidate the election for school trustees?

2. If a candidate for school trustee promises a janitorship to a voter and thereby gets his support and that of his friends would this invalidate his election?

The election would hardly be invalidated unless on a recount of the ballots the number of separate school supporters who had voted would equal or outnumber the majority of the successful candidate. Such a state of things would probably cause a new election for public school trustees. The mere fact of a separate school supporter having got hold of the ballot-paper would hardly invalidate the election.

Respecting the second question, such action as indicated would be foolish and most improper, as it would mean the purchase of votes, but it is a question for a judge to decide.

John L. Sullivan at the Grand.

The production of "Honest Hearts and Willing Hands," a sensational comedy-drama in five acts, which included in the cast Mr. John L. Sullivan, drew a large audience to the Grand last evening. As may be supposed, the chief interest centered in Sullivan. Every time the big fellow appeared on the stage he was greeted with applause, and once made his bow before the curtain. Although John evidently felt more at home in the sparring match in the last act, when he knocks out the well-known Joe Lannon in the third round, yet it is only justice to say that his deportment was natural—there was no straining after effect. His role as a bluff, honest blacksmith seemed exactly suited to his acquirements. Mr. Duncan B. Harrison's acknowledged ability as an actor was shown to advantage, and the other members of the troupe are rather above the ordinary. Mr. Chas. M. Collins as the villain, Mr. W. P. Sheldon as Attorney McNab, Mr. R. B. Frisbie as James, the butler, and Miss Grace Ottillie as the chic Nora Daly were all specially deserving of praise.

Death of P. C. Pope.

Last night at 10:45 o'clock, P. C. Pope, the unfortunate victim of Tuesday's runaway, died at the City Hospital. All that medical skill could do for the sufferer was of no avail. The deceased had been a member of the force for about thirteen years and was ever faithful in the discharge of his duty whether his life was endangered or not. When the patrol wagon was first purchased Mr. Pope was placed in charge. He took great pride in keeping the horses in good condition, and although warned time and again of the danger of driving the animals, he always expressed confidence in his ability to pull them up should the occasion demand it. He was about 50 years of age, and leaves a wife and one married daughter. It is likely that an inquest will be held.

MIDDLESEX ASSIZES.

The Winter Court Opened by Justice Street.

Reily vs. the City of London Postponed Pending an Examination of the Plaintiff—Several Minor Cases Postponed.

FIRST DAY—TUESDAY.

Mr. Justice Street arrived in this city Tuesday night on the Erie express and opened court shortly after 5 o'clock. There being no grand jury necessary on account of the absence of criminal cases, the civil list was taken up immediately.

Mr. W. R. Meredith applied for and received permission to enter the case of Conden vs. Fowler.

In compliance with the request of the counsel, the two cases of Hollingsworth vs. Cragg were held over until Thursday morning.

In the case of Mary Reilly against the city of London, V. Cronyn, and Rice & Chapple—An action brought for damages owing to an accident in which the plaintiff was hurt in front of the Rice & Chapple premises. Mr. W. R. Meredith applied for an order to command the attendance of the plaintiff for examination by medical men, or else that the case stand over until the nature of her injuries be ascertained.

Mr. B. B. Osler asked by what rule the plaintiff was compelled to submit to such an examination. The injury, he said, was such that no information could be obtained by examination, and from such an examination, serious injury might result to the plaintiff.

Justice Street ruled that if the plaintiff submitted to the examination he would have the case put lower down on the list, but if not it would be postponed until the next court.

Mr. Osler asked that if the plaintiff submitted to the examination that but one medical man conduct the examination, and that his name be submitted to the court for approval.

Mr. Meredith contended that three or four medical men should be present, but that one might make the personal examination.

Mr. Osler asked that the plaintiff be submitted to but a passive examination.

Justice Street said he could lay down no rules for conducting the examination.

Mr. Osler—Well, I don't know that my client will submit to the punishment that your Lordship has imposed.

Justice Street—I have no power to order anything, only until the defendants are given an opportunity of ascertaining such facts as are available the case shall be postponed.

Connolly vs. Marell—Mr. Macbeth, for the defendant, applied for an order to examine an aged and infirm witness, Mr. Wm. Marell, father of the defendant, at his home near Thorndale. The order was made and W. C. Coo appointed examiner.

Talbot vs. Poole—Postponed on account of plaintiff's absence with costs. Marsh for plaintiff; E. R. Cameron for defendant.

Dickison vs. the Grand Trunk Railway—An action brought against the company for non-delivery of goods. Postponed on application of Mr. Osler.

The court then adjourned at 6 o'clock.

SECOND DAY—WEDNESDAY.

The court opened promptly at 9:30 this morning. The first case taken up was that of Hendricks vs. McChesney, an action brought by John Hendricks, an Adelaide farmer, to recover damages against the defendant, McChesney, a farmer of the same township, for the seduction of his daughter Emma Jane.

The evidence of the father and daughter was conclusive, the defendant not going into the box.

Justice Street, in addressing the jury, reviewed the facts of the case, stating who was entitled to bring action in such cases, and upon what grounds damage could be asked. He presented the following questions to the jury:

Is the defendant the father of the child?
What shall the damage be in this case, where there is no precise limit?
Was there any seduction?
The jury then retired.

The cases of Vinebery vs. Levy, Coates vs. Stewart, Reily vs. City of London, Talbot vs. Poole, and Dickison vs. the G. T. R. Company, were postponed until the next assizes, costs of the day and of the application being costs of the cause.

The jury brought in a verdict of $300 for the plaintiff in the case of Hendricks vs. McChesney.

The cases of Meredith vs. the Dominion Savings Society and Lloyd vs. Harkness have been settled.

The case of Morrison vs. McDougal, an action to recover payment, verdict was given by consent for the plaintiff for $313 90 and cost, to be calculated upon a proper basis.

The case of Day vs. the Township of Dorchester, an action to recover damages from the township, is still in progress.

Fifty Years' Experience have tested the virtues of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, and it is now generally acknowledged to be the best remedy extant for pulmonary and lung diseases, including consumption. Were it not for its merits, it would long since have "died and made no sign."

John B. Gough's widow is still living. A partial stroke of paralysis has determined her to give up her country home, "Hillside," in Boylston, near Worcester, Mass.

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

Desperate Remedies

By Thomas Hardy,

AUTHOR OF "A PAIR OF BLUE EYES," "THE TRUMPET-MAJOR," ETC.

Was it possible that Manston was sensuous villain enough to have contemplated, at any moment before the marriage with Cytherea, the return of his first wife, when he should have grown weary of his new toy. Had he believed that, by a skillful manipulation of such circumstances as chance would throw in his way, he could escape all suspicion of having known that she lived? Only one fact within his own direct knowledge afforded the least ground for such a supposition. It was that, possessed by a woman only in the humble and unprotected station of a lady's hired companion, his sister's beauty might scarcely have been sufficient to induce a selfish man like Manston to make her his wife, unless he had foreseen the possibility of getting rid of her again.

"But for that stratagem of Manston's in relation to the Springroves," Owen thought "Cythie might now have been the happy wife of Edward. True, that he influenced Miss Aldclyffe only rests on Edward's suspicions, but the grounds are good, the probability is strong."

He went indoors and questioned Cytherea.

"On the night of the fire, who first said that Mrs. Manston was burnt?" he asked.

"I don't know who started the report."

"Was it Manston?"

"It certainly was not he. All doubt on the subject was removed before he came to the spot—that I am certain of. Everybody knew that she did not escape after the houses were burnt, and thus all overlooked the fact that she might have left before—of course that would have seemed such an improbable thing for anybody to do."

"Yes, until the porter's story of her irritation and doubt as to her course made it natural."

"What settled the matter at the inquest," said Cytherea, "was Mr. Manston's evidence that the watch was his wife's."

"He was sure of that, wasn't he?"

"I believe he said he was certain of it."

"It might have been hers—left behind in her perturbation, as they said it was—impossible as that seems at first sight. Yes—on the whole, he might have believed in her death."

"I know by several proofs that then, and at least for some time after, he had no other thought than that she was dead. I now think that before the porter's confession he knew something about her—though not that she lived."

"Why do you?"

"From what he said to me on the evening of the wedding-day, when I had fastened myself in the room at the hotel, after Edward's visit. He must have suspected that I knew something, for he was irritated, and in a passion of uneasy doubt. He said, "You don't suppose my first wife is come to light, madam, surely?" Directly he had let the remark slip out, he seemed anxious to withdraw it."

"That's odd," said Owen.

"I thought it very odd."

"Still, we must remember he might only have hit upon the thought by accident, in doubt as to your motive. Yes, the great point to discover remains the same as ever did he doubt his first impression of her death before he married you. I can't help thinking he did, although he was so astounded at our news that night. Edward swears he did."

"It was perhaps only a short time before," said Cytherea; "when he could hardly recede from having me."

"Seasoning justice with mercy as usual, Cytherea. 'Tis unfair to yourself to talk like that. If I could only bring him to ruin as a bigamist—supposing him to be one—I should die happy. That's what we must try and find out by fair means or foul—was he a willful bigamist?"

"It's no use trying, Owen. You would have to employ a solicitor, and how can you do that?"

"I can't at all—I know that very well. But neither do I altogether wish to at present—a lawyer must have a case—facts go to upon, that means. Now they are scarce at present—as scarce as money is with us, and until we have found more money there is no hurry for a lawyer. Perhaps by the time we have the facts we shall have the money. The only thing we lose in working alone in this way, is time—not the issue; for the fruit that one mind matures in a twelvemonth forms a more perfectly organized whole than that of twelve minds in one month, especially if the interests of a single one are vitally concerned, and those of the twelve are only hired. But there is not only my mind available—you are a shrewd woman, Cythie, and Edward is an earnest ally. Then if we get a sure footing for a criminal prosecution, the Crown will take up the case."

"I don't much care to press on in the matter," she murmured. "What good can it do us, Owen, after all?"

"Selfishly speaking, it will do this good—that all the facts of your journey to Southampton will become known, and the scandal will die. Besides, Manston will have to suffer—it's an act of justice to you and to other women, and to Edward Springrove."

He now thought it necessary to tell her of the real nature of the Springroves' obligation to Miss Aldclyffe—and their nearly certain knowledge that Manston was the prime mover in effecting their embarrassment. Her face flushed as she listened.

"And now," he said, "our first undertaking is to find out where Mrs. Manston lived during the separation; next, when the first communication passed between them after the fire."

"If we only had Miss Aldclyffe's countenance and assistance as I used to have them," Cytherea returned, "how strong we should be! Oh, what power it is that he exercises over her, swaying her just as he wishes. She loves me now. Mrs. Morris in her letter said that Miss Aldclyffe prayed for me—yes, she heard her praying for me, crying. Miss Aldclyffe did not mind an old friend like Mrs. Morris knowing it, either. Yet in opposition to this, notice her dead silence and inaction throughout this proceeding."

"It is a mystery; but never mind that now," said Owen, impressively. "About where Mrs. Manston has been living. We must get this part of it first—learn the place of her stay in the early stage of their separation, during the period of Manston's arrival here, and so on, for that was where she was first communicated with on the subject of coming to Knapwater, before the fire; and that address, too, was her point of departure when she came to her husband by stealth in the night—you know—the time I visited you in the evening and went home early in the morning, and it was found he had been visited too. Ah, couldn't we inquire of Mrs. Leat, who keeps the post-office at Carriford, if she remembers where the letters to Mrs. Manston were directed?"

"He never posted his letters to her in the parish—it was remarked at the time. I was thinking if something relating to her address might not be found in the report of the inquest in the Troominster Chronicle of the date. Some facts about the inquest were given in the papers to a certainty."

Her brother caught eagerly at the suggestion. "Who has a file of the Chronicles?" he said.

"Mr. Raunham used to file them," said Cytherea. "He was rather friendly-disposed towards me, too."

Owen could not, on any consideration, escape from his attendance at the church-building until Saturday evening; and thus it became necessary, unless they actually wasted time, that Cytherea herself should assist. "I will act under your orders, Owen," she said.

CHAPTER XVI.

THE EVENTS OF ONE WEEK.

§ 1. March the sixth

The next morning the opening move of the game was made. Cytherea, under cover of a thick veil, walked to Troominster railway-station, and took the train to Carriford Road. It was with a renewed sense of depression that she saw again the objects which had become familiar to her eye during her sojourn under Miss Aldclyffe's roof—the outline of the hills, the meadow streams and the old park trees. She hastened by a lonely path to the rectory-house, and asked if Mr. Raunham was at home.

Now the rector, though a solitary bachelor, was as gallant and courteous to womankind as an ancient Iberian; and moreover, he was Cytherea's friend in particular, to an extent far greater than she had ever surmised. Rarely visiting his relative, Miss Aldclyffe, except on parish matters, more rarely still being called upon by Miss Aldclyffe, Cytherea had learnt very little of him whilst he lived at Knapwater. The relationship was on the impecunious paternal side, and for this branch of her family the lady of the estate had never evinced much sympathy. In looking back on our line of descent it is an instinct with us to feel that all our vitality was drawn from the richer party to any unequal marriage in the chain.

Since the death of the old captain, the rector's bearing in Knapwater House had been almost that of a stranger, a circumstance which he himself was the last man in the world to regret. This polite indifference was so frigid on both sides, that the rector did not concern himself to preach at her, which was a great deal in a rector; and she did not take the trouble to think his sermons poor stuff, which in a cynical woman was a great deal more.

FUN, FACTS AND FICTION.

You need help to raise a laugh, but you can heave a sigh alone.

A man's wife should always be the same especially to her husband; but if she is weak and nervous and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they will make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so, too.

"Shut the door," growled the banker. "Why, don't you cash draughts here?"

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills, as they are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

Good News For Those Afflicted With Rheumatism.

Rev. Jacob Iler, of Cottam, Essex county, writes: "J. W. Kern: Dear sir,—For several months I was severely afflicted with sciatica rheumatism. In December last inflammatory rheumatism set in. My family doctor failed to cure me. I tried various remedies, also Celery Compound and Pride of the Valley, with no benefit. I sent to Essex Center for another highly advertised medicine, also to Kingsville, but could get none. My friend, Mr. James Doan, druggist, of Kingsville, sent me a bottle of Kern's Rheumatic Cure, which vexed me, and caused me to say to my family this preparation is from some irresponsible person of whom we have no knowledge, and if his cure is good why is it not extensively known. I did believe it to be one of those many hundreds of worthless preparations that flood the market these days. After some days I concluded to try the stuff. It can't prove more worthless than the drugs I have been taking. But, sir, I had not taken more than half a dozen doses of it before the pain was entirely removed. That was several months ago, and I have felt nothing of them since. I must pronounce your preparation—Kern's Invaluable Rheumatic Cure. In conclusion, I will say I think it is your duty, as well as your interest, to make yourself and your cure more extensively known. I am a Baptist minister of Cottam, Essex county, Ont."

P. S. The reverend gentleman was so elated over his complete cure after a long period of intense suffering that he put an advertisement in the Essex Center paper recommending Kern's Rheumatic Cure at his own expense. He is upwards of 70 years of age

That old-time friend "I told-you-so."

—The public schools opened yesterday after the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

—Mrs. Thos. E. Aikenhead, of Toronto, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Clarke, of Craig street.

—Mr. Winnett, of the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, Mrs. Winnett and daughters, are registered at the Tecumseh.

—Miss Lily Westland, of Craig street, has returned from Glencoe. She had a very pleasant visit with her relatives.

—Dr. Leonard, the popular United States consul of this city, is taking a few days' holiday. It is understood he is off on a pleasant mission.

—Miss Robertson, of Sarnia, daughter of Capt. Robertson, late of the steamer United Empire, is visiting Mrs. C. W. Davis at the Tecumseh.

—Mr. C. B. Hunt last week lost a valuable pug dog and has as yet heard nothing of it. A suitable reward is offered for any information as to its whereabouts.

—The Young Liberal Minstrels arrived home from Toronto in a special car on the Grand Trunk yesterday morning. The trip proved the most enjoyable ever taken by the troupe.

—Mr. N. W. Rowell, of Messrs. Fraser & Fraser's office, who has been on an extended trip to Western Canada and the Pacific coast of the States, is expected home in a couple of weeks.

—A C. P. R. trackman named Patton was seriously injured yesterday afternoon. He was lifting some rails in the yard and the iron fell on his leg, although fortunately not fracturing the bone.

—Toronto is in hard luck. John L. Sullivan is here. The London minstrels are coming. A visit from the mountain minstrels of Hamilton, Ont., will make our cup of woe brim o'er.—[Toronto Telegram.

—Secretary Wills, of the Toronto Board of Trade, has opened a visitors' book in the new building. The first entries were made yesterday by W. A. C. Baldwin, Quebec; Walter Gibbs, London, and David Plewes, Branttord.

—The kindergarten classes in the Simcoe and Talbot street schools opened yesterday. Parents desiring to send their children should make haste, as the admittance will be regulated by the "first come first served" principle.

—Mr. J. A. Cottam was fined $2 at the Police Court yesterday on a charge of driving a little too fast on Dundas street the other evening. The defendant denied any intention of going at more than an ordinary rate of speed.

—Speaking of a London young lady who assisted in a musical concert given in that town on New Year's Eve, the Port Hope Times says: "Miss Bella Gordon's violin solos were beautifully rendered; in fact, too high praise cannot easily be given her playing. Some of her listeners remarked that violin music of such excellence has not been rendered in Port Hope since the visit of the famous Remenyi."

—Charlie McKenzie, 15 years of age, appeared before the police magistrate as a vagrant yesterday. The lad is on suspended sentence for a $25 larceny, and has been working for a farmer for three weeks. He became dissatisfied at getting nothing except his board in return and came back to the city. He was remanded for a week.

—Mr. R. M. McLeod, telegraph dispatcher of the N. P. and M. Railway, Winnipeg, was married at Portage la Prairie Tuesday morning to Miss Louise Morton, of this city, sister of Mr. J. D. Morton, private secretary of Mr. Baker, of the N. and N. W. Railway of the Portage, and youngest daughter of Mr. Chas. Morton, of the Wortley road, South London.

—Rev. Annie H. Shaw, who is to lecture in London on Jan. 16, was for many years national superintendent of franchise in the W. C. T. U., and is still a loyal member of that society. There is no more eloquent lady speaker in America; she is perfectly at home on the platform and uses the choicest language. Frances E. Willard, in the Union Signal, speaks of her in the following terms: "I knew this was a woman of unusual gifts—a graduate in theology and medicine, and a minister regularly ordained by the Protestant Methodist Church—and I had heard good things of her lectureships east and west, but her address before the Bay View Sunday School Assembly on Woman's Christian Temperance Union Day was a revelation. For basis and breadth, for plan and perspicuity, for logic and humor, it merited that choice word, 'masterly.' In calm strength and dignity of tone and manner Miss Shaw reminded me of Mary A. Livermore."

An Overcoat Thief.

Pat Hart, a Hamilton man, stole a $25 overcoat from a room in the Boswell House Tuesday evening and endeavored to sell it at Levy's pawnshop at the greatly reduced price of $1 50. The police got wind of the fact and arrested Hart, who gave his name as Kelly. He pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny before the police magistrate and was remanded for a week. He has two children living in Toronto with his sister.

Military Men Meet.

The second annual meeting of Company "A" of the Seventh Battalion was held in the drill shed last evening. The report of the company, showing satisfactory progress, was read by Color-Sergt. Garside, the secretary-treasurer, and was adopted. After routine business the men were entertained by Capt. and Mrs. Payne with a tasty spread. Following the refreshments the men gave themselves up to the enjoyment of songs by Color-Sergt. Garside, Sergt. Freeland, Drummer Kearney, Pte. Roughley and Mr. T. Hogg, and patriotic speeches by Capt. Payne, Band Master Hiscott and others.

A Toronto Man's Setback.

A good story is told at the expense of a Toronto man, who was in this city on election day. He formerly resided here, and his friends were congratulating him on the beauty of his magnificent fur cap. "Yes," he explained, "I won that on the Toronto election." "How's that, when you don't know the result?" "That's easy to tell," was the ready response. "I bet a $35 hat that Macdonald would not get 6,000 votes, and I am so sure that he won't I just bought this cap, and came to my old home to celebrate." By and bye came the intelligence that Macdonald had nearly 7,000 votes. The sanguine young man will have to purchase another $35 cap.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. of this city held a meeting Tuesday, and naturally the success of the bylaw reducing the number of licenses formed the subject of much congratulation. A vote of thanks was given to the ADVERTISER, and also to the many friends who assisted by the loan of carriages, and to the gentlemen who so ably assisted in the recent election. South London acquitted itself well. Of the 98 women voters in that part of the city 66 voted for the bylaw. Some of the others were out of town or unable to be at the polls. Several interesting verbal reports were given respecting incidents of the polling. Several new members were nominated—Mesdames Towe, Belton, Talbot, Grange, Spence, Evans, Cox, Bathurst, Smith, Cosford, Trebilcock, Miss Spence and Miss Cosford. Members are reminded that membership day is Jan. 8, when each is expected to do her utmost to secure another new member.

An "Object Lesson" for Ladies.

An interesting incident of the municipal elections occurred at one of the polling divisions in Ward 5. An old lady who had evidently passed the four-score mark in the measure of her busy life, came tottering into the room to record her vote. The old lady was carefully guided to a chair, being too feeble to remain standing.

"I would not have come out to-day," she explained, "but I wanted to vote against the liquor."

The ballot papers were detached and handed to the old lady, but her worn and weary eyes were dim, and she had to call on the returning officer for his assistance. In accordance with the rules, the room was then cleared, and the returning officer, in the presence only of the voter and scrutineers, proceeded to read the ballot papers and mark them as she wished. The old lady's chief interest centered on the by-law to reduce the number of liquor shops, and her first care was to vote for that.

Smokers Should Read.

London is well known throughout Canada, particularly as the city from which the celebrated "Highland Lassie" cigar is shipped to all parts of the Dominion from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Messrs. H. McKay & Co., the manufacturers, take a special pride in this 5-cent cigar. It has been completely tested by the majority of the smokers of the country, who pronounce it the choicest article on the market. Nothing but the best fillers and wrappers are allowed in its composition, and, when once tried, it convinces the most sceptical of its superiority. Messrs. H. McKay & Co.'s immense establishment, with its products, is a credit to the city.
