WINNIPEG CITIZENS SEND PROTEST TO DOMINION GOVERNMENT

FAMILIES OF HAWKER AND GRIEVE TO GET $50,000 FROM THE DAILY MAIL

SIGNING OF TREATY TERMS MEANS DEATH SENTENCE TO MILLIONS, SAYS HUN LEADER

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau's Note To Peace Conference Regarding Economic Effect of Treaty Says That Carrying Out of Conditions Would Mean Paralyzation of the Country—Allied Reply Is That German Delegates Overlook Fundamentals, Exaggerate Points and Fail To Grasp Real Meaning of Treaty Clauses.

Paris, May 23.—The note from Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation at Versailles, regarding the economic effect of the peace treaty, dated at Versailles May 13, was made public today. The note reads:

"Mr. President,—In conformity with my communication of the 9th inst., I have the honor to present to your excellency the report of the economic commission charged with the study of the effect of the conditions of peace on the situation of the German population.

"In the course of the last two generations, Germany has become transformed from an agricultural state to an industrial state. As long as she was an agricultural state Germany could feed 40,000,000 inhabitants. In her quality of an industrial state she could insure the nourishment of a population of 67,000,000. In 1913 the importation of foodstuffs amounted, in round figures, to 12,000,000 tons. Before the war a total of 15,000,000 of persons provided for their existence in Germany by foreign trade and by navigation, either in a direct or an indirect manner, by the use of foreign raw material.

Surrenders Tonnage.

"According to the conditions of the treaty of peace, Germany will surrender her merchant tonnage and ships in course of construction suitable for overseas trade. German shipbuilding yards will build for five years in the first instance tonnage destined for the allied and associated governments. Germany will, moreover, renounce her colonies, all her overseas possessions, all her interests and securities in the allied and associated countries and in their colonies, dominions and protectorates; will, as an installment of the payment for part of the reparation, be subject to liquidation and may be exposed to any other economic war measure which the allied and associated powers think fit to maintain or to take during the years of peace.

"By the putting into force of the territorial clauses of the treaty of peace Germany would lose, to the east, the most important regions for the production of corn and potatoes, which would be equivalent to the loss of 31 per cent of the total crop of these articles of food. Moreover, the intensity of our agricultural production would diminish considerably. On the one hand, the importation of certain raw material indispensable for the production of manure, such as phosphates, would be hindered; on the other hand, this industry would suffer like all other industries from lack of coal. The treaty of peace provides for the loss of almost one-third of the production of our coal mines. Apart from this decrease, we are forced for ten years to deliver enormous consignments of coal to various allied countries. Moreover, in conformity with the treaty, Germany will concede to her neighbors nearly three-quarters of her mineral production and more than three-fifths of her zinc product.

Would Paralyze Industry.

"After this diminution of her products, after the economic depression caused by the loss of her colonies, of her merchant fleet, and of her possessions abroad, Germany would not be in a state to import from abroad a sufficient quantity of raw material. An

GERMAN PEOPLE WILL FORCE LEADERS TO SIGN TREATY

Departure of Head of the Enemy Peace Delegation For Spa Is Not Regarded As a Break With Allies.

Paris, May 23.—Newspapers here believe that the absence of Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau and other members of the German delegation, who left yesterday for Spa, will be short. Some regard the departure of the Germans as a means for utilizing the delay in the peace negotiations granted by the peace conference on Wednesday. It is believed that the delegation which left yesterday will confer at Spa preparatory to making a serious decision. The Echo de Paris believes that the German leaders have taken a stand against signing the treaty, but that public opinion in Germany is against them, and they will retreat and reach a position which will make an agreement with the Allies more possible. All the newspapers consider that the departure of the chief of the German peace mission does not indicate a break between the Allies and the Germans.

EXPECTED TO RETURN SUNDAY.

Paris, May 23.—Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau and his colleagues on the German peace delegation who left Paris yesterday for Spa, are expected to return on Sunday. There is no indication that their absence is interfering with the progress of negotiations, the remaining delegates proceeding with their work as usual.

LEMIEUX TELLS HOW LAURIER GOT HIS TITLE

Honor Was Conferred On Him Without Consultation.

WHILE IN ENGLAND

To Have Refused It Would Have Been Looked Upon As Lack of Courtesy.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, May 23.—Hansard this morning contains in the words of Hon. Rodolph E. Lemieux, the story of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the title which he bore until his death. The story is worthy of being quoted in full.

"Reference has been made by the acting prime minister (Sir Thomas White), to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and he made it with that chivalrous spirit which generally guides his thoughts and actions in this house and outside of it. As a matter of history, it is well that we should know how it came that my late leader became Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

It is of record that in the campaign, which preceded the election of 1896, at a meeting held in Ontario, Sir Wilfrid Laurier made the famous declaration." "I am a democrat to the hilt."

After he became prime minister, the Queen's Jubilee took place in England and he was deputed as the representative of Canada on the occasion. He had not altered his views, he had not changed, he was as ever, "a democrat to the hilt." But how could he refuse the honor. The distinction awaited him without being consulted, and on taking his seat at Windsor Castle, as one of her majesty's privy councillors he found his title in front of him. That is the history of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's knighthood. If he had been consulted he never would have accepted it, but if on the other hand he had refused on that occasion it would have been looked upon as a lack of courtesy on his part. But as we all know, he was a grand gentleman. The manner in which the honor was conferred upon him on that occasion reflected his modesty, his true chivalry, and at the same time his devotion to the interests of Canada.

But let me take here another instance from Sir Wilfrid Laurier's career. It may throw light on what took place on the occasion to which I have just referred. It all shows, Mr. Speaker, that Sir Wilfrid Laurier always was a democrat to the hilt in the sense he meant when he made that declaration prior to 1896.

DEMANDS THAT DOMINION GOVERNMENT EXPLAIN WHY MAILS WERE UNDELIVERED

Manitoba Free Press in Editorial Scores Federal Administration That Failed To Cope With Situation—"Ability To Transmit and Distribute Mails Is One of the Primary Tests of Government," Says Newspaper.

CITIZENS PROTEST TO GOVERNMENT.

Winnipeg, May 23.—Winnipeg citizens have transmitted a formal protest to the Federal Government regarding the embargo on mail to and from Winnipeg as a result of the general strike in progress here. The protest demands that the Government resume mail service with Winnipeg immediately. Shortly before the public meeting to discuss the general strike situation was called this mornng it became authoritatively known that the Winnipeg union forces were not unanimously behind the executive heads of the central strike committee. Protests have been sent here by heads of at least two local unions to international headquarters, charging that certain unions were forced to join the sympathetic walkout despite the fact that such action was not constitutional.

St. Paul, Minn., May 23.—In the evening edition of Manitoba Free Press, yesterday, appeared an editorial under the caption: "The Government's Failure to Deliver the Mails."

The article states that the citizen of Winnipeg have a score to settle with the Dominion Government, stating that "they desire a candid answer to a straightforward question. 'What have you done with the people's mail?'"

The editorial goes on to point out that no mail has come to Winnipeg for a week, and that mail addressed to this city from the east has been dumped off at Fort William, while that from the west has been put off at Moose Jaw, and from the south at Emerson.

Does Clerks an Injustice.

After pointing out that the story is current that mail clerks put this mail off on their own initiative as part of the general tie up of Winnipeg, the Free Press says it "has reason to believe that this does the mail clerks an injustice, and that the true explanation it that the postoffice department, for reasons which it will certainly have to explain to the people of this city, ordered this stoppage of mail."

"Ability to transmit and distribute the mails is one of the primary tests of government. Judged by it the government is a complete wreck."

"A resolute government would have seen that the mail was brought to Winnipeg as long as there were trains to carry it, and they would have had it transported to the city postoffice if it had taken the whole military power of Canada to protect it from the foreign guards of the 'Red' element."

"On behalf of an outraged city, we demand from the Government—first: an explanation and then, without further delay, the mails."

SOME CONCESSIONS ON TREATY POINTS MADE TO GERMANS

Slight Modifications Made in Terms Relative to Sarre Valley.

REPARATIONS AFFECTED

China's Delegation Decides To Sign, But Makes Reservations.

New York, May 23.—The Associated Press this morning issued the following:

Concessions on some points in the peace treaty have been made to the Germans by the Paris peace conference. Slight modifications have been made in the terms of the Sarre Valley award, and the terms regarding reparations, as they stood in the original text of the peace treaty, have also been modified in some degree.

The fact that the council of four had decided to make this modifications had decided to make these modifications was reported in a dispatch from Paris late last night.

China Will Sign.

The message, however, did not indicate just what were the alterations decided upon. These are expected to be developed in part with the handing to the Germans today of the council's reply to the German note on reparations. There were no indications however, when the exact nature of the concessions made regarding the Sarre Valley would be revealed.

China's delegation at the peace conference has decided that it will sign the peace treaty in spite of its declaration that it would not do so, because of the decision of the council of three relative to the turning over to Japan of Germany's interests in Shantung and Kiao-Chau. It is said, however, that reservations will be made in attaching the signatures of the Chinese.

BOYS WHO TURNED ROBBERS PAY FOR THEIR INDISCRETION

Relatives of Youths Who Turned To Crime Cannot Understand.

WHY DID THEY DO IT?

One Is Dead, While Other Is in Dying Condition in Hospital.

Toronto, May 22.—Pay-day, pay-day!

Few fellows can forget the day when they drew their first pay.

Years come and go, and the pay-days become common, but the glory of that moment of elation, when a youth holds in his hand the few dollars that show he is worth while in the world of his fellows, seems to tinge the pay envelope for many a year after.

Over on a slab in the morgue lies a boy: his fair hair is a bit ruffled, as though he had had a restless sleep; his blue eyes have lost their brightness; his face is dull, and the wreathing smile that folks say used to spread over his young face so easily, is gone. Blood-soaked linen about him tells how he got his wages.

His Pay Day.

He drew his pay yesterday.

"The wages——death," wrote a wise man years ago, and young nineteen-year-old Harold Gordon Boyes didn't work long at the job he chose before he got paid in full yesterday.

In a hospital ward his fellow-laborer, who signed on with the same master, lies in desperate pain. Fred Putwain may or may not draw his pay in full.

"Oh what did I do? Tell me!" he moaned feebly to his sister as she sat by his bed this morning. Anon he asks for Harold Boyes, of whose fate he knows nothing.

In Putwain's Home.

At Fred Putwain's home his aged and crippled mother, her eyes swollen with tears, goes over and over the story of the Agincourt bank robbery and never reaches a solution about her son's share in it. His father's deafness prevents him from sharing their talk. Putwain's three sisters, whose husbands are overseas, mingle their tears with hers as they vainly try to solve the riddle of why one of the best brothers ever sisters had should be lying at death's door, shot through the head while plying the robber's trade.

The Dark Clouds.

"There's a silver lining, through the dark clouds shining.
Turn the dark clouds inside out,
till the boys come home."

From the lips of a little three-year-old grandson playing on the floor the words of the soldier song that is without solace to them come clearly in a sweet childish voice through the sorrowing group as one of the children of a son overseas plays away in innocence of the tragedy that looms over the home, where about the door the flags fly expecting the home-coming of his soldier father.

Family's War Service.

The family has more than done its bit in the war. Four brothers of Fred Putwain went overseas, and three brothers-in-law. Fred himself enlisted with the 234th Peel Battalion, and was for some months a cook till he was discharged owing to a bad leg, which has troubled him for many years.

Chinese trawlers commanded by British officers are removing the mines, Captain Gultill asserted.

SWITZERLAND DOES NOT APPROVE OF ENTENTE'S REQUEST

Idea Of Tightening Blockade Does Not Appeal To Swiss People.

Berne, May 22.—The New Gazette of Zurich, a newspaper with ententophile leanings, characterizes the note addressed to the Swiss Government by the peace conference, asking whether it would be willing and ready to enforce a more severe blockade against Germany, if necessary, as "a smashing blow against self-determination by small nations," and as a "bitter illustration" of President Ador's declaration that Switzerland "can enter the League of Nations with a proud and erect head."

REV. BEN SPENCE LOOKS FORWARD TO PROHIBITION

Head of Dominion Alliance Sees Bright Future For "Dry" Movement.

READY FOR FIGHT

Awaiting Outcome of the Referendum Vote in Ontario.

Toronto, May 23.—Addressing the Dominion council of the Dominion Alliance here this morning, Rev. H. Spence, in discussing the situation in Canada and the progress made in regard to prohibition legislation, declared that the outlook was very bright and Canadians ought to maintain their country as the banner prohibition nation of the world.

Referring to the action of the Dominion Government in extending the prohibition measure, Mr Spence said that the legislation was not as good as had been hoped for. Temperance forces, he maintained, wanted absolute and permanent prohibition of the manufacture and importation of liquor in Canada.

The recent action of the province of Quebec he referred to as the "beginning of the breaking down of the great Dominion-wide prohibition scheme. He found cause for encouragement in the fact that nearly 1,100 parishes in the provinces favored prohibition.

Reports Progress.

Speaking of the situation in the various provinces, Mr. Spence said that despite the recent disclosures in British Columbia the situation there was good and the workers there were in better fighting shape than ever before. Alberta was doing very well, and matters were unchanged in Saskatchewan. In Ontario Mr. Spence said the temperance forces were awaiting the taking of the referendum in the autumn.

Miles Vokes, president of the council, in a brief address, declared that the delegates to the convention just closed had a remarkable manifestation of the interest taken in temperance legislation throughout the world in the attendance of representatives of the temperance forces of thirteen countries. He also spoke of the friendly relations existing between prohibitionists of the United States and Canada.

TWO SUITS ENTERED FOR TRIAL IN JUNE

One For Alleged Debt, Other For Damages.

Two cases, one a jury and the other a non-jury, have been set down at the courthouse for the general sessions of the peace which open here on June 3.

John D. McIntosh, a Parkhill farmer, is suing William Pumfrey, a Parkhill buyer, for $548.85, which he claims is the amount due him for feed and care of the defendant's stallion. The defendant denies that he is indebted to the plaintiff, but on the contrary claims that the plaintiff is indebted to him for goods sold and delivered, and for judgments obtained against him to the amount of $375 in the second division court some time ago. A. A. McTavish for the plaintiff; Meredith & Meredith for the defendant. This is a non-jury case.

Robert H. Giese, an engraver, of this city, and Margaret R. Giese, his mother, are suing Charles M. Tye of Westminster Township for damages they received in an auto collision which they claim was due to his negligence. Mrs. Giese claims $255 and costs, and her son claims $100 and costs.

According to the plaintiffs, on October 26, 1918, they were driving their car west on York street, east of Talbot street. Both cars arrived at the intersection of York and Talbot streets. The defendant, they allege, turned his car negligently, suddenly and without warning, cutting across the intersection, contrary to a bylaw of the city. The cars collided. As a result the chassis, mud guard, lamp bracket, front axle and spindule of the plaintiff's car were bent, the radiator sprung out of shape and the steering gear sprung. Mrs. Giese, who was sitting on the rear seat, was thrown forward, striking against the front seat, bruising her arms and body. It is claimed that it was necessary for her to have a nurse for five weeks, and that she was incapacitated long afterward.

This charge is denied by the defendant, who alleges that the plaintiff was driving at an immoderate rate of speed. He counterclaims $200, alleging that it was the plaintiff's negligence that caused the accident. He asks that the plaintiff's claim be dismissed with costs. Bayly & Bayly for plaintiff; J. B. McKillop for the defendant.

MISSIONARY-PRISONER, BACK FROM EAST AFRICA, WILL SPEAK ON TUESDAY

Dr. T. B. R. Westgate, a missionary of the Church of England, who was interned in German East Africa early in the war, and held there until released by the British troops, will be in the city next week, one of the chief speakers at the annual meeting of the Huron Diocesan Women's Auxiliary Branch. Dr. Westgate, it is stated, is still suffering somewhat from his experiences while a civilian prisoner in German East Africa.

He will address a mass meeting of children in Cronyn Hall at 4:30 o'clock next Tuesday, the first day of the W. A. meeting, and will also speak at the public missionary meeting in the same place the following evening. The Bishop of Huron, on Wednesday evening, is to present the forward movement of the Church of England in Canada to the W. A. representatives, and the closing "quiet hour" on Thursday afternoon will be conducted by Rev. G. Q. Warner.

"Spotters" Allowed To Drink In Public According To Act

No Prosecution, Therefore, of Those Who Operated Here.

While thirsty folk are not permitted by the Ontario Temperance Act to drink whiskey in public, whiskey "spotters" may do so with immunity so long as they are able to prove that they were attempting to secure the conviction of ordinary citizens.

A section of the Act provides for allowing whiskey "spotters" or others employed by the Government, to sample whiskey "from the hip," any place or any time in gathering evidence to prosecute others, Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon explained to The Advertiser today, when he was asked if prosecution would be made of two "spotters," who operated in London recently.

In evidence at the police court during the trial of whiskey cases, it was said that Albert Sommers and Roy Cutts both in government employ, took several long drinks, sometimes in a taxi, while dance halls were the scene of amusement on another occasion.

J. M. McEvoy, defending counsel in one of the cases, gained an admission from Sommers that as a "spotter" he had Mr. McEvoy's client in town under the guise of professed friendship, to secure whiskey and sell it to him.

"Convictions are what I am after in this town," the dectective asserted.

SERGT. GEO. GEOGHEGAN ARRIVES FROM OVERSEAS

Sergt. George Geoghegan, 552 St. James' street, returned home last night from overseas service. Until being transferred to the pay corps he was pay sergeant of the 1st Battalion, and expected to come home with his unit. His transfer necessitated rmaining in England for some weeks.

Sergt. Geoghegan was employed in the custom house before going overseas as a sergeant-major with the 142nd Battalion. While in France at a time when the French 75s were causing the plaster on the ceiling of his temporary home to fall as they sped over to the enemy, he received word of the death of his father, and his sister, who was on the nursing staff at Victoria Hospital, fell a victim to influenza.

STRICTER REGULATION OF TRAFFIC IN CITY

Police Chief Enforcing Law—Keep Moving On Saturday.

Inauguration of stricter traffic supervision in the city is being made by Chief W. T. T. Williams, in respect to regulations governing automobile drivers, and sidewalk riding by cyclists.

When the 18th Battalion marches through the city on its arrival here, the police will endeavor to keep all automobiles moving along the line of march. None will be allowed to park on streets in the downtown area on which the home-coming battalion marches.

As a result of riding bicycles on the sidewalks, nine offenders were fined $1 each in police court today, while Stanley Copp, Clarence Brown, J. Salavansky and James High contributed $2 each for breaches of the motor vehicles act.

Cyclists are also warned against riding on walks in Victoria Park, which is an offence equal to that of riding on a paved sidewalk.

PAID $2 FINE GLADLY FOR USE OF CITY HAY

Frank Flanagan Thought The Feed Worth The Price.

Because two horses owned by Frank Flanagan were grazing on city property at Colborne and Cheapside streets, Flanagan paid a fine of $2 without costs in police court this morning.

Chief Williams remarked to the magistrate that he knew the vacant lot at Cheapside and Colborne streets quite well, but that he had never noticed any horses in the vicinity when he passed the place in the morning.

"You don't get up early enough, chief," the magistrate replied.

"It's worth $2 for the privilege of grazing my horses on city hay," Flanagan told the magistrate, paying his fine.

Three drunks were fined $10 and costs or 10 days with Governor Carter in the county jail.

A youngster who looked to be at the most, only seven or eight years of age, was taken in charge by representatives of the Children's Aid Society after pleading guilty to the theft of a bicycle.

START OILING MONDAY.

The utilities commission has everything in readiness to begin oiling the roads at Springbank, but the work will not be commenced until Monday, in order to avoid leaving the roads in bad condition for the big crowds that are expected to visit the park on the holiday.

MEN OFF SATURNIA DECLARE CONDITIONS ON BOARD STEAMER WERE DISGRACEFUL

Twelve Hundred Crammed Between Lower Decks.

SLEEPING QUARTERS BAD

Those Who Arrived Here Today Are Vehement in Denouncing Passage.

"Simply disgraceful" was the way a score of the three hundred and seven men who arrived at Quebec street at 7:45 this morning, described their treatment and conditions aboard the Anchor-Donaldson liner "Saturnia."

The "Saturnia" carried 1,800 soldiers from Rhyl concentration camp in Wales and 1,200 of them were crammed between two lower decks during the entire voyage across the Atlantic. Soldiers slept on mess tables, in corridors and on the floor of the hold as hammocks were not available for all they said. Warm weather added to the discomfort and stench between decks. There were no recreation rooms nor any means of diversion to break the monotony of the trip.

All Units Represented.

The party this morning included representatives of almost every unit and branch of service in the Canadian Corps, most of them being men who were casualties when armistice was signed or men who became separated from their units in Belgium or Germany since.

A hundred icebergs were sighted by the "Saturnia" which made the summer passage and docked at Montreal yesterday morning.

Grave Possibilities.

At one time the ship was in close proximity to a flotilla of bergs and a feeling of "wind-up" hung over the ship. The "Titanic" disaster was the chief subject of conversation and the possibilities of being wrecked in the fog as the ship came into the danger zone gave some excitement to the latter end of the voyage.

The entire party was demobilized in an hour's time at dispersal area "K".

Many Americans in the party received passports and transportation to their homes in the United States.

PORT OPENS TOMORROW.—The management of the London and Port Stanley Railway expects large holiday crowds at Port Stanley tomorrow, and in addition to the regular trains leaving London at 6:20 and 8:20 a.m., others will leave the local depot hourly after 10:20 a.m. until 10:20 p.m. The return fare is 50 cents from London, and commencing tomorrow trains will run to Port Stanley Beach throughout the season. It is expected that nearly all amusements will be in full swing at London's popular lakeside resort tomorrow.

WONDERFUL MAGNOLIA TREE WITH THOUSANDS OF BLOSSOMS

(By W. E. Saunders.)

Everybody likes to see a beautiful tree, and the owner of one may be considered a public benefactor when the tree is so placed that other people may have the benefit of it and enjoy its beauty. Even greater credit is due to the planter, because, while the owner of a shrub may have the maximum of enjoyment out of it in a few years, such luck does not come to the tree-planter, who usually moves away, or for some other reason misses the full fruition of his hopes. Tree planting, however, is an altruistic sport, which might well be encouraged, to the great benefit of the community. The inspiration of these remarks is the appearance, in full flower, of a Magnolia Soulangeana (often called Speciosa), which was planted at the corner of Edward and Duchess, by Walter Westby, about 25 years ago. The tree is improving steadily, year by year, and seems perfectly suited by its environment, and should be a great encouragement to those who have planted trees of that species, in the city. All such should make a pilgrimage to the corner of Edward and Duchess to visualize what their tree may look like in 25 years, and then they should ask themselves if their tree has been placed in a proper place. What's the use of planting a tree three feet from a building, if it will need 12 feet in diameter in 20 years? And what greater sorrow could come to the owner and ardent admirer of a fine tree, than to see it suffer, and become misshapen from crowding, or perhaps have to be moved, at considerable expense, with quite a probability of complete loss of the tree, and all because of insufficient forethought at the time of planting. This tree which Mr. Westby planted 25 years ago, is now about 16 or 18 feet high and 12 or 14 in diameter. It has today somewhere from 2,000 to 10,000 large flowers, and is a sight not equalled among trees in London. There is a larger tree in Leamington, which is perhaps 20 or 25 feet high, and is the talk of the town when in bloom.

No matter what he may think of it, or intend, the planter of such a tree cannot remain an ordinary private citizen, because no sooner does one see a tree like that, then he wants to know who planted it. The tree in Victoria Park has very few flowers this year, but that is not due to climatic conditions. The next best Magnolia is at the entrance to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, where it has been admired by many people this year.

Mount Pleasant has also several trees of a larger growing Magnolia, called Acuminata, which bears greenish flowers after the leaves are out. A smaller species, Magnolia Stellata, is only a shrub, and is said to be exceedingly beautiful and alnly perfumed. All of these are perfectly hardy, and ought to be more widely planted.

PUPILS OF SCHOOLS MARK EMPIRE DAY WITH ENTHUSIASM

Monument in Victoria Park Is Decorated.

ST. GEORGE'S EXHIBITION

Bird Houses Made by Youngsters Shown and Prizes Awarded.

Empire Day was celebrated in the schools of the city today with even more enthusiasm and patriotic fervor than marked former years. In the majority of cases, special speakers were present, the children contributing songs, recitations, drills, etc., to the programs. The presentation of the prizes for patriotic essays, by members of the Women's Canadian Club, constituted as always, a most interesting feature of the entertainments.

One of the most spectacular and significant celebrations was that of Talbot street school.

Decorated Monument.

The children came to school in the afternoon in patriotic costumes and following an hour's program in the school, were lined up to march to Victoria Park, where they placed a beautiful memorial wreath on the monument to the South African heroes, in honor of London's gallant men who have laid down their lives in the great war.

Four little kindergarten and primary pupils, who lost their daddies in the war, were chosen to place the wreath, little Margaret and Ruth Beard, whose father, Corporal Beard, fell while doing duty as a stretcher bearer a couple of years ago, and Margaret and Valentine McCann, daughters of the late James McCann of Blackfriars street, who was killed just before the signing of the armistice.

Hear Address.

In their patriotic costumes of the allied nations, the pupils of the school presented a striking picture, both in the parade and grouped in the park where they were addressed by Rev. Dr. F. L. Barber.

In connection with the Empire Day celebration in St. George's school, there was a grand exhibit of bird houses made by pupils of the school; birdhouses of all sorts, sizes and styles of architecture.

Some time ago Principal E. Wyatt offered prizes for the best birdhouses made by the pupils, the first set of prizes to go to the pupils of the 6th, 7th and 8th grades, in other words those taking manual training, and the second set of prizes to the junior grades.

This forenoon the birdhouses were arranged on the tennis courts, some thirty in all, an imposing bird city all ready for occupants, and W. E. Saunders, an expert in regard to the requirements of birds, called upon to act as judge.

Awards Made.

He was most enthusiastic over the skill and ingenuity shown and after an hour or so of hard work in deciding, finally made the following awards.

Senior awards for 6th, 7th and 8th grade pupils: 1, Robert Williamson; 2, Donald Chapman; and two third prize awards, Eleanor Wheeler and Gordon Coughtrey, whose work was considered equally good; 3rd, 4th and 5th grades: 1, Ernest Taylor and William Foulkes, (tie); 3, Norman Brown.

The birdhouses are to be sold, the proceeds to be used to buy records for the phonograph which is being purchased by the pupils for the school.

THREE MORE CASES SET FOR JUNE COUNTY COURT

Three more cases are added to swell a large list already set for trial at the June sittings of the county court, commencing on June 3.

The Modern Shoe Repair is sueing the London Street Railway Company for $300 and costs for damages incurred when a motor delivery car owned by the plaintiffs was struck by a street car at Talbot and York streets, which the plaintiffs claim was being driven at an immoderate speed, with negligence on the part of the motorman. The railway compani claims the damage was accidental, and denies the charges brought.

Gibbon & McKenzie are plaintiffs in a suit against A. R. Murdoch to recover $200 advanced to defendant on July 23, 1915, for a conveyance of land property by him on Mount Pleasant avenue, which plaintiffs claim was not done, while the $200 was retained by the defendant.

Elizabeth J. Clampitt is suing her brother, B. G. Clampitt, and Mary Donoghue for possession of land and damages for trespass in respect of property willed by her father, now dead.

NOT THE RIGHT BABY

In connection with the disappearance of the child that figured in the Toronto "baby farmer" case, two people, a man and woman, came into the office of Inspector W. E. Kelly of the Children's Aid Society at the city hall yesterday afternoon. They had heard that a baby that was thought to be the one mentioned in the case was under the care of the Children's Aid. They wished to see it. Inspector Kelly had an appointment, but said that he would be back in twenty minutes. He promised to take them to see the baby when he returned.

It then occurred to him that he had a picture of the baby. He brought it to them. They looked at it and turned away disappointedly. It was not the baby for whom they were searching.

Iron For Strength

You need iron in the blood! Every healthy man or woman should have about as much iron in his or her body as there is in an ordinary railroad spike. To gain this iron, the best way is to take Tonal-Iron Capsules, a combination of iron in its most soluble form, recently discovered, and now having a marvelous sale. Tonal-Iron Capsules are a form of iron readily taken up by the blood. The blood cells get round, rich red in color, the cheeks are pink, the appetite improves, and one feels full of "snap"—"pep"—"vigor"—instead of tired before the day is half done. The eyes take on a lustre and the body feels that tingle which one gets from a cold bath.

PITCHER MALLORY IS SIGNED UP TODAY BY LONDON BALL TEAM

Strong Efforts Are Being Put Forth To Have Winning Team.

Pitcher Mallory was purchased from the Battle Creek M.-O. League club this morning by Secretary Rhodes of the London Tecumsehs and will report here today. He was secured from Manager Jenkins of the Custers, and left Brantford for London at once.

Southpaw Wiley Devine, the star of Candian camp champions of England, who played under Lieutenant "Dad" Stewart, formerly of the St. Thomas Canadian League club, has been located in Nova Scotia and will report. Devine is highly recommended by Stewart, having pitched wonderful baseball for the winners of the British camp league, beating many teams whose personnel contained major league ball players.

The club is burning up the wires endeavoring to bolster up immediately for the Victoria Day games with Saginaw, and before they go on the road to return games to play at Saginaw, Bay City and Battle Creek. If present negotiations bear fruit the London club will soon start winning ball games regularly.

Strawberry Growers Are Badly in Need of Pickers

S. O. S. Call Sent Out For Farmerettes To Help Gather Crops.

Oh where, oh where, are the farmer-ettes?
Oh where, oh where are they?
The farmer is going to be in the lurch
Unless they save the day.

It is a message to this effect which has come through today from Toronto, the S. O. S. of the director of women's farm work for the Provincial Government Employment Bureau, Miss Kate L. Harte.

"Farmerettes wanted" is the sign hung out in conspicuous lettering, a call for help to save the fruit crop, and a nice compliment to the girls who stepped into the agricultural breach in the years of the war.

Save the Strawberries.

It's the strawberry crop that is in danger of a-spoiling unless the sister of service gets out her honorable old uniform or dons new service togs to gather in the harvest.

According to present indications, the crop is going to be a bumper one, hence the distress of owners of strawberry patches and jammeries.

At least 500 girls are wanted, states Miss Harte, and inquiry at the local Women's Government Employment Bureau today elicited the information that nary a farmerette nor a would-be farmerette had put in an appearance to ask for a job.

Many Applications.

In face of this, a number of fruit growers of the district have applied for help, and their applications have been forwarded to the director of women's farm work in Toronto. Five hundred girls? A second glance at the figures submitted reveals the fact that it is five hundred OR six hundred that are required.

About thirty-five camps require to be "manned," and farmers who report splendid prospects for the strawberry crop have the woeful tale to tell that help is even harder to get than it has been in previous years.

Brantford and Simcoe.

Forty girls are needed for a camp which E. D. Smith has near Brantford. Fifteen are already at work there, and forty more girls are needed. F. W. M. Ross of Simcoe alone wants girls for five camps—two camps of 20 girls each, two of 10 girls each, and one of 12 girls, strawberry pickers only.

Quite a number of girls have applied to the Toronto headquarters, but not nearly enough.

If the fruit crop is to be saved, it is apparent that it will be women and girls once more to the rescue.

Owing to the fact the season is backward this year, it is probable the strawberry pickers will not be needed until between June 20 and 25.

CENTENNIAL METHODIST HAD SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Presentation Made To The Retiring Treasurer, T. J. May.

At the annual congregational meeting of the Centennial Methodist Church held on Wednesday evening last good reports were heard from all the different organizations. The pastor, in giving his report, mentioned an increase of 59 members, making a total membership of 579, the most encouraging part of it being the large number taken in by profession of faith. The total receipts were $6,370.

A pleasant feature of the evening was a presentation of an address and check for $100 to the retiring financial secretary-treasurer, Thos. J. May and Mrs. May. George Keyes was elected his successor.

The church is in a flourishing condition, and it increased the pastor's salary $200 for the coming year. The increase in missions was $146.

WINNIPEG TROUBLES MUCH EXAGGERATED, SAYS MR. MACLEAN

Complete Tie-Up, But No Excitement There.

STREETS QUITE SAFE

People Assured There Will Be Settlement Before Many Days.

"The press reports which have come from Winnipeg in regard to the excitement in connection with the strike have been very much exaggerated," was the statement to The Advertiser today by Frank MacLean of 534 Princess avenue, who arrived home from Alberta with Mrs. MacLean last night, after spending several hours in Winnipeg on Friday last, while making train connections.

"I never saw or imagined such a complete tie-up in my life," he added. "But there was absolutely no excitement, though the streets were crowded with people all the time. Everything was absolutely quiet and orderly. We walked up Main street to Portage avenue, and away out Portage avenue, and all the way saw nothing of a disorderly nature.

Restaurants Open.

"Even the restaurants were closed during the forenoon, but, by order of the strike committee, they were opened in the afternoon, and we were able to get something to eat about 5 o'clock.

"It was nonsense to say it wasn't safe for women to be out in the streets in the evening. We didn't leave until about 9 o'clock at night, and there were as many women out as men, if not more.

"They claimed there were 27,000 strikers in the city and 16,000 or 17,000 soldiers, the soldiers, for the most part, as well as the policemen, sympathetic with the strikers.

Settlement Soon.

"We talked to several people who should know a good deal about the situation, and I left Friday night feeling assured there would be a settlement before very long.

"The trouble started with the metal workers, who went on strike for the recognition of the union. The street car employees thought the time opportune to go on strike for a raise in pay to 75 cents an hour. The rest of the strike, in the main, has been of a sympathetic nature, though I understand there has been a good deal of feeling over alien labor in the shops.

Wages Must Be High.

"So far as wages are concerned, they are high, and I don't see how they can be otherwise. In Winnipeg, with the cost of everything as high as it is, food, clothing, rent, a man making $5 a day could hardly support a family. Even in the little rural places in Alberta not far from where my ranch is, you can't get a meal for less than 90 cents, $1 or $1.25."

Mr. MacLean has been in the West for several weeks past, putting in the crop on his ranch on the Goose Lake line of the C. N. R., near Hanna, Alberta.

He brings back a most optimistic report of the crop outlook, the "finest the country has ever had," he says.

Ideal Weather.

Practically all the crop is in, and weather conditions have been ideal to date, with plenty of "slushy snow" in April and subsequent rains, the proper rainy season to give the crop a start and insure sufficient moisture in the ground, while affording opportunity for planting.

Most of the wheat, he states, was already up at the time he left Alberta on May 12, and a good deal of oats was being sown this year by the farmers.

Mr. MacLean has this year put in 450 acres of wheat on his own ranch, and sown enough acres to oats to provide feed.

LOCAL NEWS

NO MORE NEXT YEAR.—Next year, Acting Mayor E. S. Little remarked, the city will take no action on daylight saving. London will not move its clocks ahead one hour unless the Government makes an order to that effect.

THREE APPLICANTS.—Three applications for positions as solicitors of the housing commission have been received by City Clerk S. Baker, from local lawyers. Recently he sent out personal letters to all the lawyers in the city, inviting them to send in their applications.

MAYOR RETURNING SOON.—Mayor C. R. Somerville, who is at present travelling in Michigan for his health, probably will arrive in the city one week from Monday, in time for the council meeting on that day. He has been in Battle Creek, and will visit Detroit and St. Catharines.

NOT TOO KEEN.—When asked about the Sunday-cars-to-Springbank question, Acting Mayor E. S. Little said that he thought that the street railway company was not anxious to run cars to Springbank on the present rates of fare as there would be only three months in the year in which they would make much profit.

TAKES HIGH STANDING.—In the recent law examinations at Osgoode Hall, Frank Curran, son of W. H. Curran, 157 John street, obtained a very high standing. He ranked second in a first-year class of 86 students, winning a $60 scholarship. Mr. Curran is a graduate of the department of political economy at the Western University.

ALL 18TH MEN INVITED.—The Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire extends a sincere and hearty invitation to all returning men of the 18th Battalion and their friends or comrades to use the Canadian Soldiers' Club on Dundas street opposite the city hall. Accommodation for a large number of soldiers is afforded, and refreshments are served free of charge at the club.

LIEUT.-COL. H. NELLES SAILING AGAIN.—Lieut.-Col. Harry Nelles, officer commanding the 4th Battalion, and son of J. A. Nelles of this city, left this morning for Montreal, from which port he sails for England Saturday. Col. Nelles will engage in business in England and will make his home there. He is one of the youngest commanding officers in the Canadian army, and has been welcomed by scores of old friends in London while on his brief stay.

USE MONEY FOR IMPROVEMENTS.—According to General Manager E. V. Buchanan of the Public Utilities Commission, the $3,500, which the Parks Board is receiving from the Militia Department for the use of Queen's Park is to be used for the improvement of that place. Probably $1,000 more will be spent by the city for the same purpose. The ground will be levelled, and grass will be sown. Baseball grounds and probably a tennis court will be built. The Chamber of Commerce has this matter under consideration.

LIEUT.-COL. BROWN BACK AGAIN.—Lieut.-Col. Walter J. Brown, A.A.G., at Military Headquarters, returned to London today, after an absence of a few weeks in St. John, N. B., where he acted as a member of a courtmartial assembled for the purpose of trying several Canadian officers of high rank, in connection with discrepancies in canteen accounts in that military district. Colonel Brown has resumed his duties of A. A. G. of Military District No. 1, at Wolseley Barracks, which were performed by Major Frank Spry, A. D. of S. & T., M.D. No. 1., during the absence of Lieut.-Col. Brown.

GOVERNMENT GETS COPY OF TEXT OF PEACE TREATY

Ottawa, May 23.—A confidential copy of the full text of the peace treaty has been received by the Government. The treaty is printed in both French and English.

WHERE ARE THESE CHILDREN SOLDIER LONGS TO SEE?

Advertiser Illustrations

When Pte. Stork returned to London after three years' service overseas, neither his wife, Mrs. Jennie Stork (also said to be known as Jennie Dennis) nor his four children, the three pictured above and just as bright-looking a boy, could be found in the home where he had left them or anywhere else. He does not know where they are, he has not heard from his wife, and he wishes to secure trace of the children. He goes from one place to another asking people if they have seen them, and now through Secretary Cunliffe of the G. W. V. A. he has asked The Advertiser to aid him in his search. He believes they may be in Alberta, and appeals particularly to readers of The Advertiser in that province to send him word if they are seen. Who could hear his appeal and not heed it, and who could forget the children in the above picture, even if the likeness of the mother is not as clear?

RUN OVER BY AUTO ON DUNDAS STREET

W. Wilkey Hurt When Getting On Moving Car.

Walter Wilkey, 916 Lorne avenue, was run over by an automobile on Rectory street, near Dundas street, at 2:20 o'clock this afternoon, when as he tried to board it while it was in motion, his hand slipped. When it was seen that his hip, over which one of the rear wheels passed, was somewhat seriously injured, he was rushed to Victoria Hospital. Dr. A. S. Duncan attended him. The unfortunate man was lame.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

DEATH OF MISS E. H. SMITH.

Ellen Hayden Smith, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Smith, 99 Front street, died on Thursday evening in her 15th year, at the Victoria Hospital. She had been a pupil at the Technical School for some time, and was taken sick a few weeks ago with diphtheria from which she recovered and last week suffered a relapse. She is survived by her parents and one brother, Charles. The funeral will be held privately on Saturday from the family residence at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Woodland Cemetery.

DEATH OF R. GRIERSON.

The death of Robert Grierson occurred this morning in Victoria Hospital following a short illness. For many years he was attached to the staff of Smallman & Ingram's, Limited. He is survived by his widow, one son, Gordon, and his mother, Mrs. W. Grierson of Guelph; one brother, John, and four sisters also survive, Mrs. D. Stewart of Texas, Mrs. J. C. Hadden, Guelph; Mrs. H. R. McDonald, Toronto, and Mrs. F. B. Fisher also of Toronto.

The funeral will be held from the family residence, 44 Bruce street, on Saturday afternoon. Services will be conducted by Rev D. C. MacGregor. Interment will be made in Guelph. Mr. Grierson was a member of the Sons of Scotland Society and for years was a member of St Andrew's Presbyterian Church choir.

SENDS SECOND REPLY.

Brantford, May 23.—The iron works manufacturers this morning, through C. A. Waterous, denied that they had not replied to the invitation of the Metal Trades Council to confer with a view to negotiations over the demands of the members of the unions forming the Metal Trades Federation here. Mr. Waterous, in a signed statement, declares that the invitations received by each manufacturer were collectively replied to by him in a letter addressed to the metal trades council at their headquarters and dispatched on Thursday last. The spokesman for the employees states that the acceptances of the invitation were today further dispatched to officials of the metal trades council. Apparently the first acceptance was lost in transmission.

Now Where Did 4 Tons of Perfectly Good Coal Vanish?

Is It Possible That the Bin Had Shrunk So Much?

Now that the coal situation is beginning to interest people again, especially those who believe in filling their bins early, stories connected with the situation are going the rounds. The following story which Acting Mayor E. S. Little declares is true, was told at the city hall this morning.

In this city, there was a certain citizen who had to change his coal dealer. The customer went to a new man to get his supply for the coming winter. "How many tons would fill your bin?" asked the dealer.

"About thirty tons," replied the citizen.

The coal was sent to the house and most of it was into the coal chute.

Later the citizen and the dealer met again. "How much did you say your bin held?" queried the dealer.

"Thirty tons," said the citizen, "and at the end of the winter it is all gone."

"That's funny," remarked the dealer "we've put in only 26 tons and the cellar is filled to overflowing."

SENATOR McLAREN DIES

Ottawa, May 23.—Senator Peter McLaren, who was a member of the old Parliament of Canada, died today at Perth, Ont., at an advanced age. He had been ill for some months, and had not been in attendance at the Senate this session. He was appointed to the Senate by Sir John A. Macdonald in 1890.

The flag on the Parliament buildings is at half-mast.

Senator McLaren had large lumbering interests in the northwest, and was also interested in large timber and iron areas in Virginia.

Lawn Bowling
There is no finer recreation for the tired businessman than Lawn Bowling. There are three good clubs in the city, the London, Thistle and Elmwood. I have not had the pleasure of playing on the ground of the two latter clubs, but understand they have very fine greens, with everything up-to-date. This I can say, however, that no one could help having that restful and soul-satisfied feeling on the greens of the London Rowing Club. They are situated on the banks of the river just at King street bridge, and with the breeze off the river and the shade from several large trees it certainly is a delightful spot. The game itself is splendid exercise, and very fascinating, and I can certainly recommend it to anyone needing exercise or who has an attack of the blues.

CLIMAX OF SEASON HERE WITH MUSICAL ART CHOIR CONCERT

A. D. Jordan Gives Expert Direction.

PAUL ALTHOUSE HEARD

Famous Tenor Takes London Audience by Storm With Vocal Work.

The climax of an exceptional musical season in London came last night, with the May Festival put on in the First Methodist Church under the direction of A. D. Jordan. The Musical Art Society Choir, appearing for the first time this year, was received by a house crowded from door to door. These people had before tasted of its delightful offerings and were prepared for something big, but hardly did they expect to walk out into the night feasted almost to intoxication. The long season's training has tuned the choir to concert pitch, and it only needed the stimulus of a big audience to carry it along. Working with the choir and sharing in its triumph, was a picked orchestra of eighteen instruments, which did some very fine work in Mendelssohn's Symphony-Cantata, "The Hymn of Praise."

Paul Althouse, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, was the big soloist of the evening. Displaying a voice of enormous power, richness and flexibility and possessing intense dramatic force, he at once justified his right to the title, "America's greatest tenor." Mrs. Edward Wyatt, a favorite among London's musicians, was in excellent voice, and stood up well beside the famous tenor, both in her solo work and in duet with him.

Grande Finale.

"It Comes From the Misty Ages," from the "Banner of St. George," by Sir Edward Elgar was the selection chosen for the close of the program, and it, indeed, proved a grand finale, with its martial strain breathing the spirit of old England. The choir arose to the occasion and there happened such a rendering as shall ring in the ears of all present for many days. The clash of the cymbals introduced in this last number by Carmen Learn proved most effective.

Excellent Work of Sections.

The choir's most perfect number last night was perhaps Rachmanoff's "Glory To the Trinity," from the Liturgy of the Greek Church. Here, better than in any other, could be heard the excellent work of the different choir sections. The theme was flung back and forth from contraltos to sopranos, with the rich, male voices in the background. And the whole sounded as if it had been polished off with the finest silken velvet. It was absolutely unaccompanied, and the choir responded instantly to the will of the leader.

Following this were two negro spirituals, arranged by Burleigh, also unaccompanied. The effect produced by the voices alone in "Deep River" and "Dig My Grave" was exquisite, and carried with it something of the spirit of the south. Here again the ensemble work was of the finest.

The big number on the program, however, was Mendelssohn's Symphony Cantata, the "Hymn of Praise," in which the greater part of the work of the choir was straight choral work. The choir showed excellent appreciation of the subject and introduced into its rendering a certain religious fervor, which only served to add to their excellent technique. The final chorus of this cantata "Ye nations, offer to the Lord glory and might," a veritable Hallelujah Chorus of splendor, was flung forth by the choir with enthusiasm and abandon.

New Formation.

The formation of the choir last evening was unusual, and produced a most pleasing effect. The bass section was placed at the extreme back of the choir loft, the tenors in front, and the sopranos and altos were ranged on either side.

The orchestra of seventeen stringed instruments and a tympani introduced the "Hymn of Praise" in a three-part symphony, throughout which A. D. Jordan at the organ introduced the wind instruments, thus producing an effect which for grandeur and beauty was almost unequalled.

The last movement of the symphony, "Adagio Religioso," was exquisitely beautiful and rendered in a manner which showed deep appreciation and responsiveness to the baton of the conductor. The second movement, in which the violins are made to answer back the wind instruments, produced by the organ, was also most effective.

In their work of accompaniment throughout the entire program the orchestra kept up its quality.

Big Artist Proclaimed.

Paul Althouse, who took the tenor parts of the cantata, was heard with enthusiasm from the first note. But it was in the recitative, "Watchman, Will the Night Soon Pass?" that he first stepped forth, the big artist of the American stage. Having felt the slight restraint which he preserved throughout his previous numbers, the audience was unprepared for the utter abandon and dramatic fervor with which he rendered this. His voice, powerful as it is, is still soft and rich and liquid in quality. Perhaps in no other number did he make quite such an impression as in this, although his rendering of "How Long, O Lord, Wilt Thou Forget Me," from "The Triumph of David" (Buck), and "Christ In Flanders," a beautiful little war song, was superb.

Mrs. Wyatt took the soprano parts in the Hymn of Praise," and, perhaps never did her voice appear at better advantage. The duet, "My Song Shall Always Be Thy Mercy," in which she sang with Mr. Althouse, was one of the most enjoyable numbers on the program.

Miss Luta Laymon sang with her. "I Waited For the Lord," another very fine number.

FOUR V. A. D. NURSES ARE HOME FROM OVERSEAS

Arrive Today on C. P. R. From Steamer Minnedosa.

Four V. A. D. nurses of No. 4 Nursing division arrived in the city from overseas this morning, having landed as Montreal last night via the Minnedosa. Miss Minnie Doidge of Queen's avenue was Mrs. J. F. Thompson's first officer in No. 4 Division, and left for overseas two years ago. She was invalided to England some time ago, and now returns to London in company with the Miss Alma Neeley, Mary Crosbie and Clara Macgregor, who went to England last September. All have seen active service.

CRAIG CHURCH ANNIVERSARY.

AILSA CRAIG, May 22.—Tuesday night Mrs. John C. Dorman died at the age of 70 years, at her late home here after a short illness. Although in poor health for some time, the deceased took a weak turn on Tuesday and only lasted a few hours. Besides her aged husband, she leaves four daughters, Mrs. Chas. Johnston of London; Mrs. Sam. Wilson, Rose and Jennie of this place, and four sons, James and Isaac of Vancouver; Joe of Saskatchewan, also Oscar, who is now in Germany.

The second temperance meeting was held in the town hall, with President Neil McLaughlin in the chair, and Rev. W. H. Geddes as secretary. These two gentlemen were appointed delegates to the temperance convention to be held in Massey Hall, Toronto, this week.

The Anglican Church anniversary was held on Sunday at St. Mary's Church at Brinsley, and large crowds attended both services. On Monday evening "The Black Feather," a drama, was given by the St. George's Young People of London, in the town hall, here, under the auspices of the Anglican Church. A large crowd was present.

Sonny Rinsed His Mother's Hair, But Water Was Boiling

Indefinite Instructions Led To Mistake Which Was Painful.

There's a certain small boy in this city who got the scare of his young life the other day, and at the same time gave one of the shocks of her life to his mother, a painful experience, and a close call for her abundant hair.

Washing mother's hair is an operation which never ceases to interest small boy, since it has been the custom, ever since he was old enough, to permit him to pour the warm rinsing water over her head after the tresses have been thoroughly cleansed with soap. Small boy was alone in the house with mother the other day when she decided to launder her locks. To provide for the rinsing, she set a kettle of soft water on the range and proceeded to the first steps.

"Now for the warm water to rinse with," she called to her small son, the wet mop of hair hanging like a dense veil over eyes.

"The water is in the kettle on the range," was an added instruction.

"Kettle" to small boy meant one thing, and that was tea kettle. Carefully he lifted the tea kettle from the range, containing water almost at boiling point, and proceeded zealously to the task of pouring.

Fortunately, mother's hair was very thick on her scalp. As it was, in an instant, she felt as if red hot needles were stabbing through her whole body from the pain of her par-boiled scalp.

She had presence of mind enough to apply olive oil freely to her smarting head, but it was a day or so before she recovered from the shock.

SOUL'S IMMORTALITY DEFENDED AGAINST MATERIALIST VIEW

Lecturer Gives Reasons For Belief in Future Life.

Lecturing at St. Peter's Cathedral last evening, Rev. Father Gillis took up what he called "the most vitally interesting topic that can concern the mind of man," namely, "What comes after death? Is there life beyond the grave?"

"A man may answer that question," he said, "affirmatively or negatively. No thinking man can afford to ignore it. We may love the idea of a future life, or we may hate the idea of a future life, but the only real reason for refusing to think of the future life is that we are afraid to think of it.

"Among those who hate the idea," he said, "are men like Max Nordau, who says with suspicious violence, that the idea of a future life is one of the most vain and inane delusions of the childish imagination of man." Again there are those who declare that "the desire to live eternally is the ecstasy of conceit." But even those who oppose the idea, or who scold mankind for cherishing it are compelled to admit that it is enormously important. Even Bob Ingersoll, the champion blasphemer of America, spoke at least on one occasion of the future life as "the star of hope which the soul sees in the night."

"Now, it seems to me that the answer to the question 'Shall we live hereafter?' depends upon the more fundamental question, 'What are we? Is there anything in man, any element in our human composition that gives evidence that we are deathless? What is man more than beast?' Some have answered with the materialists, man is only a combination of chemical elements, oxygen, nitrogen, carbon hydrogen, phosphorus, and so on. They have said, with the German materialist, 'phosphorus is thought. Brain secretes thought as the liver secretes bile. Without phosphorus there is no thought. Without the brain there is no thinking.' This is a splendid illustration of frenzied logic.

Filament Not Light.

You might as well say, without the electric bulb there is no light. Therefore, the bulb is light, or light is a filament in a vacuum. To do the scientists justice, none of them would say that now. The filament is only the means by which electricity produces light, the filament is not the light. The brain is only the means by which the soul produces thought, but the brain is not the thought.

"We are very frequently reminded of the alleged jest of a materialistic surgeon, 'I have been operating,' he said, 'for 25 years and have never touched a soul with my scalpel.' The answer you may find in Shakespeare. Lancelot Gobbo, or some other one of Shakespeare's famous fools says, 'I see a sound, I feel a voice, I hear a light.' You might as well try to see a sound, or to hear a light, as to touch the soul with a knife. Can a surgeon place a stethoscope upon your heart and tell the emotions in your heart? Can he place a microscope upon your skull and tell the thought in your mind? There are things that cannot be tested with stethoscopes or microscopes. There are things that are invisible and intangible. The soul is one of them.

"Now, the soul being intangible and invisible is, by its nature, incorruptible. It cannot die. It would be a old, foolish man, who in the present state of science would say that the soul must cease to exist when the body dies.

When Wire Is Worn.

"You might as well say that electricity must cease to exist when the wire that conveys it is worn out. The soul uses the body temporarily, as electricity uses the wire temporarily. The celebrated scientist and philosopher, John Fiske of Harvard, who introduced Darwinism to America says, 'The materialistic substance that the life of the soul ends with the life of the body is perhaps the most baseless assumption in the history of philosophy.'

"One strong argument for life after death is the perpetuity of personality. There is not one particle of matter in my body that was there 20 years ago, yet I am the same person now that I was then. Assuredly there is no bodily identity between a babe and an octogenerian, yet the babe and the octogenerian may be the same person. There is something in man that survives the decay of every particle in the body. The body comes and goes, constantly changes, but the soul remains.

"Some people find a difficulty against believing in a future life because barbarians and savages believe in a future life. You might as well argue that we ought not to believe in food or drink because savages believe in food and drink. There are some things that all men have in common, whether they may be learned or unlearned, savages or highly civilized, and the belief in the future life is one of the things that is common to all mankind. We may admit that the Eskimo or the Fiji Islander, or the North American Indian has very crude notions about the future life. He may leave food upon the grave, or he may bury a dead man's hunting implements with him, and some investigators may jump to the conclusion, therefore, that the savage thinks that there will be eating and drinking and hunting in the next life.

Savage Turns Table.

"But suppose that the savage should turn the table on us and infer from the fact that we place flowers upon the grave that we imagined the dead could smell the flowers. There is always a danger of misinterpreting the customs of those whose mind you do not know. And even if the savages have curious misconceptions, that does not prove that there is no fundamental truth at the basis of their belief, and, after all, very highly civilized people, the noblest and best minds of the human race, have believed in immortality.

"However, the principal reason why we Christians believe in immortality is not that the science of philosophy gives us reasons for the belief, but because Christ, who is our Master and our God, has taught immortality. We are prepared to defend that belief against all the attacks of materialists. The arguments they bring forth prove nothing. For a double reason, therefore, we cling fast to the faith in the immortality of the soul. First, because Christ has taught it, and second, because right reason sustains His teaching."

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

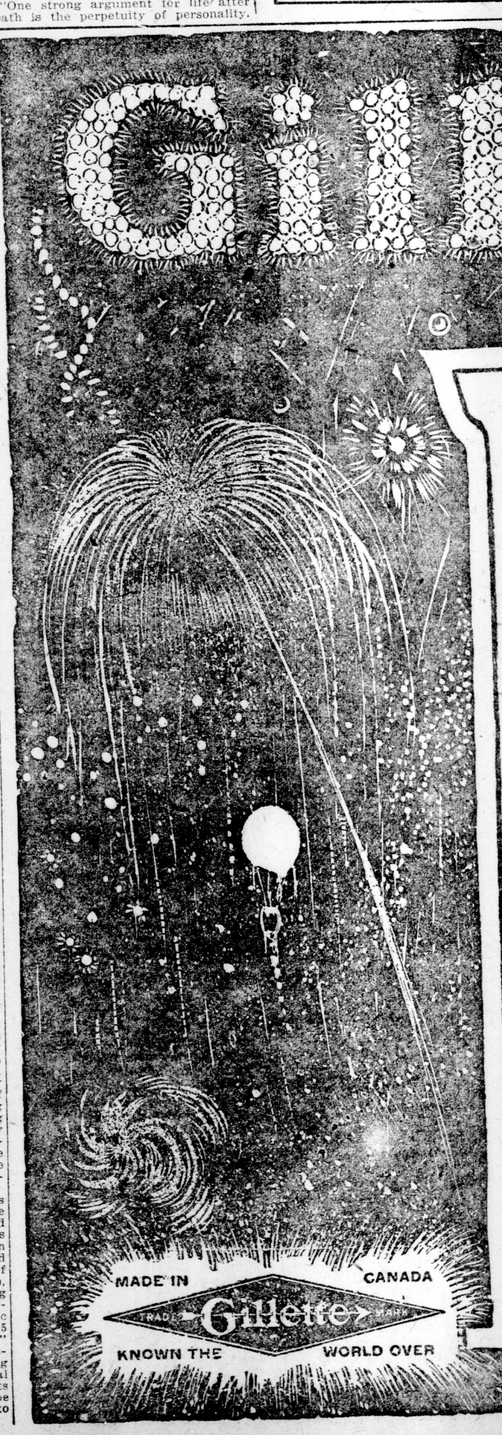

GEORGIA HAMILTON

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health. Miss Georgia Hamilton, who was once thin and frail, reporting her own experience, writes: "Bitro-Phosphate has brought about a magic transformation with me. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so well."

CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

HOW TO KILL DANDRUFF SO IT WON'T RETURN.

By a Specialist.

That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature grey hair, is a well-known fact. We appreciate, therefore, the importance of any agent that will destroy its power. For this reason it is a pleasure to give herewith the prescription which a famous scalp specialist states he has found, after repeated tests, will completely destroy the dandruff germs in from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair, and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair-growth after years of partial baldness. This prescription can be made up at home, or any druggist will put it up for you—6 ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavona de Composee, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly, and after standing an hour it is ready for use. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger-tips. If you wish it perfumed add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume. While this preparation is not a dye it is unequaled for restoring grey hair to its original color.—Advt.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach, and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food, will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate, and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."—Advt.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advt.

COMMONS AT LAST PASSES TITLES OVER

Aristocratic Embellishment Dies Hard Death.

DEBATE WAXES SPIRITED

Amendment to Refer Nickle Report Back Is Lost 96 to 43.

[Special and Canadian Press.]

OTTAWA, May 22.—"To be knocked on the head, 'tis a terrible death to die."

Joyfully chanting these words, the House of Commons, at midnight, adopted the report of the special committee aiming to abolish titles. The vote came after a long debate, somewhat dragging at the outset, but winding up in exciting scenes. Early in the afternoon Mr. Nicholson of Algoma, had moved an amendment to refer the report back to committee, with instructions to strike out all the paragraphs, except the reference to hereditary titles.

There was considerable criticism during the debate that the report was too sweeping, and the final rejection of the amendment by 96 to 43, came as somewhat of a surprise.

There were six ministers of the Government in the House. Three, Sir Thomas White, Mr. Burrell and General Mewburn voted for the Nicholson amendment. Three, Messrs. Carvell, Crerar and Rowell voted against it.

On the Opposition side of the House one member only voted for the amendment was W. F. McKay off Missiquoi Subsequent to rejection of the amendment the committee's report was declared carried on division.

Want It Engrossed.

Mr. Nickle, seconded by Mr. McMaster, then moved that the address to the King be engrossed.

Indignantly, Mr. Cockshutt protested. "It is not worth engrossing," he exclaimed, while the House roared. "We haven't got the money to spend on it," he protested.

This motion carried.

Mr. Nickle, again, seconded by Mr. McMaster, presented two more motions in quick succession. One was that an address be presented to the governor-general, requesting him to present the address to the King. This also carried.

The second motion aroused Sir Sam Hughes to protest. The motion was that the address be engrossed and presented to His Excellency, by such members of the House as are members of the privy council.

"As a member of the privy council, I must respectfully decline," Sir Sam declared.

There was a roar of laughter, and from the Opposition side there came cries of "pallbearer." More laughter and cheering and the fight was over.

How Time is Frittered.

The House of Commons was ready to deal with titles in summary fashion last session. A vote, which promised to be fairly unanimous for their future abolition was about to be taken when Sir Robert Borden, feebly assisted to win the war, arose and threatened that if the vote carried he would resign, and let the war go hang. As a result, his followers sullenly came to heel, and titles were for the time being saved from extinction. Several weeks ago the question again came up on motion of W. F. Nickle of Kingston, seconded by A. R. McMaster of Brome. The temper of the House was practically the same as it has been on the previous occasion, and the vote would have been as heavy against titles as it promised to be then. But Sir Thomas White arose and stated that Sir Robert had, from England, advised a further reprieve, and suggested that a committee of the House be appointed to consider the matter and report.

Whip Again Cracked.

The Government Whip went around and whispered that, to disregard the premier's suggestion, would constitute a vote of lack of confidence, and once again the followers of the Government came to heel. The committee was appointed and made its report.

The Canadian Northern legislation was closured through the House last session. The Canadian National Railway's bill was closured through this session. The budget has been delayed in its bringing down. The cost of living has been practically disregarded throughout the session. There is no franchise act in the Dominion at present, which is workable. The great strike in Winnipeg has hardly been mentioned by a Government member, and no measure has been proposed for the alleviation of the situation. But still another day was spent today in discussing the matter on which the Commons which decided a year ago, namely, the matter of the abolition of titles. The whole question was threshed out once more "Ad nauseam."

Places the Blame.

"It is not the fault of the mover of the seconder of this motion that the time of the House had been wasted," said Mr. MacMaster. "It is the fault of the Government which last session made of the question one of lack of confidence and whipped its followers into line."

"Closure was applied to legislation of great importance to the country," said Lucen Cannon of Dorchester; "now is it that the time of the House is wasted on a question which was decided long ago? The reason is that the Government is not ready to face the trouble in the country and to bring down measures calculated to deal with the reconstruction period in the Dominion."

"If it is any gratification to a man to be called 'Sir,'" declared D. D. McKenzie, leader of the Opposition, "that doesn't worry me very much. There are far more important questions before the House which affect pure democracy more than the question of titles."

White Has to Submit.

On this occasion the acting prime minister, fearing to test his followers too far or bank too much upon their docility, declared that the vote would be a "free-for-all," and that members were at liberty to do as they pleased.

At the outset it appeared that there had been a considerable change in the temper of the House. There arose fervent champions of the ancient and honorable custom of conferring titles, in the persons of Dr. Shered of Toronto, Dr. Clark of Red Deer, W. F. Cockshutt of Brantford, G. B. Nicholson of East Algoma, that the report of the committee calling for the discontinuance of all but military titles was "unwise in expression, unconstitutional in tendency and unreasonable in its application;" that it constituted a rebuke to the King, and that it was for Parliament to erase from its deliberations "such ridiculous resolutions."

Opening of the Debate.

The debate on titles began almost immediately the House opened this afternoon. Mr. Nickle moved, seconded by Mr. McMaster, that the report of the special committee of the House appointed to consider titles should be concurred in.

The mover reviewed the findings of the committee and declared that the mass of the Canadian people seemed to approve them. There were some, however, who apparently did not go as far as the committee's recommendations. There were some who said that the principle of granting titular distinctions was not wrong; was not objectionable. What was objectionable was the method in which distinctions and decorations were awarded. There were those also who said that it was not desirable to drop titular distinctions altogether, but that greater discernment should be displayed in granting them.

Titles Out of Tune.

Mr. Nickle did not agree with this view. He thought titles were out of tune with the spirit that should prevail and did prevail. These titular honors did not proceed from his majesty, but were given on the recommendation of ministers. Last year's resolution made this absolutely clear and ministerial responsibility was recognized.

Britain was the parent state, and if the granting of these distinctions was impossible there without corruption becoming rampant how could we expect to escape it in Canada? he asked. Rampant corruption prevailed in Great Britain, and so long as Canada was part of the British Empire, so long were the Canadian people concerned with the principles that were allowed to prevail in connection with selections for the British House of Lords.

"Widow's Mite" Good Standard.

"How are we going to determine to whom recognition should be given? How can we determine between sacrifice and service? Are those distinctions only to be given to those who did great things and leave out those in humble stations. If the parable of the widow's mite was good in the time of Christ it is good in 1919. Consciousness of duty done should be reward enough for any man. What smarts in man is neglect and oversight," he said.

This trouble, Mr. Nickle went on, was not all confined to Canada; it was shaking social England to its foundations. He quoted from a number of London newspapers in support of his contention that the people of England were exercised over the titles question. In closing he said that he was taking the same position he had always taken. He did not stand for any half-way measures. He believed that if a man wanted to get anywhere, he must have a conviction and be willing to sacrifice something for it.

Make It Brief and Painless.

D. D. McKenzie, who followed, said he supposed that Mr. Nickle must consider the tities question one of paramount importance or he could not have taken up so much of the time of the House in discussing it. He hoped that the discussion would not be protracted for fear Mr. Nickle might change his mind again and feel moved to vote against his own motion.

Mr. McKenzie stated that he did not approve of a petition being made directly to the King. He believed the House should go on record as being opposed to the granting of titles, and the country would see the attitude of Parliament on the matter. Mr. McKenzie strongly opposed the granting of hereditary titles. He said he would not like to see the door absolutely closed to the granting of recognition when it was merited, but expressed the view that we are apt to go a little too far along the lines of democracy forgetting the magnificent stability which was given to this country by the fact that we had a King. It would not be well, he said, to strike too close to the roots, lest this stability be disturbed. He was prepared to vote for the report, although he did not think that much would be accomplished by its adoption.

Right You Are!

Dr. Charles Sheard opposed the adoption of the report on the grounds that it was unwise, unconstitutional and unreasonable. He thought it would have been better to turn the attention of the House to something more useful and inspiring. He thought that in effect it aimed at the destruction of the House of Lords and the abolition of the Senate.

"Hear! Hear!" came from the Opposition side.

Dr. Sheard believed that titular distinctions were an incentive to earnest work in certain lines, professions and callings of life. He cited the work of leading physicians and surgeons who had been knighted, and of that of Sir William Herschell in the domain of astronomy. It showed that this was an expression of national spirit.

Mr. Burnham, citing a number of leading scientists, asked if they were great only because of titles.

Dr. Sheard: "I am not saying that titles are the only thing in life. But I say that because they have been abused is no argument against their usefulness."

"Democratic Cant," Says Clark.

Dr. Michael Clark said he could not concur in the report, because it appeared to him illogical and containing certain anomalies. In his opinion it was an embodiment of democratic cant and illogical nonsense. He thought the whole House agreed that hereditary titles should be abolished, but he argued that if all other titular distinctions were done away, the prefixes "honorable" and "right honorable" should also go. They ought to keep the monarch out of it and address themselves to the governments responsible. Constitutional proceedings should not be too lightly interfered with.

Brig.-Gen. Griesbach said the report of the committee would in effect prevent the recognition of distinctions won during the war by any officer of the Canadian expeditionary force above the rank of captain. The report would cut off the D. S. O., the C. M. G., the C. B., and the D. C. M., although 1,204 Distinguished Conduct Medals had been granted during the war to Canadian soldiers. Distinctions won during the last four years and proudly worn by distinguished soldiers of the rank of major and upwards were to be barred in the future. The effect of the report was to say that, although the officer might wear the distinctions, in the opinion of the House they were unnecessary, stood for nothing, meant nothing, that the wearing of them was a pernicious and dangerous thing. He would vote against adoption of the report because of that practical aspect of the case.

Affront to Soldiers.

Speaking as a soldier, he could say that decorations granted were a matter of considerable moment. The soldier did not ask much, but he did wear with pride the ribbons and distinctions which he had gained. Brig.-Gen. Griesbach added that many soldiers would regard it as an affront put upon them if the report were adopted.

Capt. Manion did not regard the report as entirely satisfactory. He thought that the C. B., the C. M. G. and the D. S. O. and other distinctions which did not carry the title might be continued. But he agreed with the report in so far as it applied to hereditary titles and to knighthoods.

Respecting the granting of knighthoods to Canadian officers, Capt. Manion declared that the war had been carried on for four years against the German military caste, and he did not wish to see any military caste established in Canada.

The Man Behind the Gun.

The real heroes of the war were not Sir Arthur Currie or his staff officers, or the commanders of divisions, or brigades, but the ordinary private soldier, who went over the top. The private soldier endured the greatest hardship, went through the greatest dangers, but by no stretch of imagination would he be given a knighthood. Foch, the greatest leader in the war, had no title beyond that of his military rank. The three greatest men at the peace conference, Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Woodrow Wilson, were just plain Mister and had no title.

G. B. Nicholson said that he had made it his business to find out what the workingmen thought about this question. He came, he said, from a constituency where 95 per cent of the men worked with their hands. He had come to the conclusion that their only feeling about this matter was that Parliament was wasting too much time in discussing it.

Would Refer It Back.

Mr. Nicholson declared that if the committee had reported in favor of absolute abolition of titles and distinctions, he might have been able to agree, but what reason was there for ruling out titles conferred by the King and allowing those conferred by universities?

He then submitted an amendment to the motion before the House to the effect that the report should be referred back to the special committee, and that all paragraphs with the exception of that referring to hereditary titles be struck out. The amendment also provided for the inclusion of a paragraph to the effect that Parliament was of the opinion that reference to his majesty, conferring of titular distinctions should only be made after the greatest care had been exercised in the selection of those who were to receive them.

ALLIES READY FOR ADVANCE IF NECESSARY

900 Motor Trucks Move Up To Bridgehead Area.

TROUBLE NOT IMPOSSIBLE

London Mail Correspondent Says German National Feeling Is Rallying.

COBLENZ, Wednesday, May 21.—Lieut.-Gen. Hunter Liggett, commander of the army of occupation here, and Major-Gen. John Hines, commander of the third corps, who were on their way to London, today were recalled to Coblenz by orders from American general headquarters.

Nine hundred motor trucks began to move Tuesday midnight from west of the Rhine to the bridgehead area. The trucks are being distributed to the various points of advantage among the troops holding the zone east of the Rhine, should the occasion arise for the army to start an advance.

COLOGNE, May 22.—(Havas Agency).—It is said that the Allied troops everywhere are ready for an immediate advance into Germany should it become necessary.

GERMANS LEAVE FOR SPA.

PARIS, May 22.—(By the Associated Press).—Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, accompanied by several of the German peace delegates, has again gone to Spa. He will consult with representatives of the German Government there.

SOUNDS LIKE TROUBLE.

LONDON, May 22.—Full realization of the peace terms has restored some of the national feeling in Germany which seemed entirely to have vanished, and today there is almost solid national opinion against the treaty, according to the traveling correspondent of the Daily Mail in a dispatch dated at Beuthen, in Silesia, near the Polish frontier, on May 20.

Germany is slowly finding men around whom she will rally, the correspondent adds. Silesia will fight, he says, and may soon be the storm centre of the attempted peace settlement.

GERMANS' PLAN FOR LEAGUE.

PARIS, May 21.—(Reuter dispatch).—The German league of nations plan contains 65 clauses. It agrees in general with the conference covenant, but proposes a number of amendments, including compulsory arbitration and an industrial parliament, both of which have hitherto been pronounced impracticable by the league of nations committee. The Allied reply has been drafted but not yet forwarded. It points out the general coincidence of the German plan with the covenant and the impracticable character of the innovations.

DIDN'T HAVE WELL DAY IN FIVE YEARS

Toronto Man Gains Six Pounds —Now Feels Like Has New Lease on Life.

If there is a man in Toronto who believes in Tanlac, that man is Harvey Hamilton, who resides at 475 Church street, and is employed as fuse maker by the Copeland-Chatterson Company, 1303 Queen street. Mr. Hamilton has lived in Toronto eighteen years, and is well known.

"Five years ago I had a severe attack of pneumonia," said Mr. Hamilton recently in conversation with the Tanlac representative, "which reached into a general rundown condition, and I have not been like myself since. I lost weight until I was almost a shadow. I felt like I didn't have hardly any life or energy about me, and was so nervous I couldn't sleep over four or five hours a night. I lost my appetite and often didn't go to the table at mealtime, for I knew if I did I couldn't eat a thing. The little I managed to eat did me more harm than good and soured on my stomach, causing a stuffed-up, uncomfortable feeling. I had pains in my stomach and sides and often had dizzy spells. I got played out. I just had to lay down my tools and quit work. Here often I felt so weak, and yes, sir, I went five long years without enjoying a well day, and you can imagine how blue and despondent I was. This is the very shape I was in when I read in one of the Toronto papers the statement of a man who described his trouble just like mine. He said he had been relieved by Tanlac, and I lost no time in getting a bottle.

"It was about the best move I ever made in my life, for I now feel like to have taken a new lease on life. I have the finest appetite you ever saw and eat three square meals every day, enjoy every mouthful, and have no disagreeable feelings afterwards. I have actually gained six pounds in weight and feel like my strength has been increased a hundred per cent. Gas has quit forming on my stomach, and all the pains have disappeared. I'm not nervous, and I sleep like a log at night. I simply feel better all over, and my work is no longer a burden, but is a pleasure to me. My friends all know the shape I was in before I took Tanlac, and now see my remarkable improvement. I know of four or five people who have begun taking Tanlac since seeing the good it did me. If anybody doubts this statement all they have to do is to ask, and I'll tell them just what I told you, and that I consider it the finest medicine on earth."

Tanlac, the medicine that accomplished such remarkable results in Mr. Hamilton's case, is being sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town.

DETROIT, May 22.—A white-cabin launch loaded to the gunwales with 1,248 quarts of whiskey, valued at $10,000, sailed up the Detroit River today, followed by Inspector Downey and a dozen deputies.

Kling, however, forced the launch to tie up at the foot of Third street. The two men on board were arrested.

Major-General Seeley, under-secretary of state for air, stated that the matter had been given the most careful thought by the Government, who considered that it was not right and was not its function to say to our countrymen that they should not undertake this daring flight and these risks.

THE LONDON ADVERTISER COMPANY, LIMITED.

London, Ont., Friday, May 23.

The people of London will give not only the members of the 18th Battalion the warmest of receptions when they reach the city, but all relatives and friends of Western Ontario men will find themselves welcomed to participate in the ceremony which is planned as the most notable in the history of the city. While it is possible that the accommodation here will be taxed as never before, the people from outside points should make every effort to be present when the battalion arrives, probably about the middle of the day on Saturday.

The Advertiser will be glad to give information regarding the time of arrival to any friends and relatives calling by long-distance from outside points. The railways are anticipating a rush to London, and the holiday, citizens are confident, will be one of the most remarkable known to London, and pleasant for all who participate, most of all for the returning men, let it be hoped, and an occasion of rejoicing for all the people of No. 1 District from the Windsor border eastward.

Miners Who Helped to Put Their Boss On His Feet

One of the officers of the trades and labor ouncil, in giving evidence before the industrial ommission at its recent sitting in London, re- ted an incident of his early days as an English iner which is worth considering at a time when good many people believe the labor and capital ttitude is one of "dog eat dog" and wholly lack- g in altruistic co-operation.

The officer said that he was employed in a ine, the operation of which had been undertaken y a young man who was also in another business. ffairs took such a turn with the mine that the mployer became so dispirited as to contemplate uicide. His miners heard of his difficulties, and ollecting a purse of £100 they took it to him and ffered it as a means of relieving his financial risis. The money was taken, and after that, said he London labor man, matters took on a new ght, the mine prospered and ideal conditions xisted between the mine owner and his men.

It was a fine thing to tell this story to the en appointed to get at the roots of labor dis- ntent. It indicated a willingness on the part of orkmen, so far as this officer could speak for em, to share with the employer his seasons of -fortune as well as his seasons of prosperity. hile labor has never made this proposal, there ay be a good deal more of the latent spirit of rtnership among the crew of a plant than em- oyers ever imagine. If the employer places his rds on the table at a time when the finding of oney to meet the payroll is a difficult matter, he ould, of course, be expected to share with his nployees his years of plenty. It would be to the terest of all to keep a business prosperous.

There are skepties on both sides of this ques- on. Some labor men will say that no sentiment ould enter into the matter, while many em- oyers will argue that labor would never believe e employer when he offered to reveal to his em- oyees his financial state of affairs. That is the nical expression of the jungle law. If men will t respond to the chance of bringing the human ements closer together and giving men an op- rtunity to express the best rather than the rst that is in them, there is not much hope that lations will improve. If there is to be a new lationship between the employer and the em- oyee there must be more of the golden rule plied from both sides of the question. If the l-time policy is continued of giving as little as ssible and grabbing as much as your strength rmits, there will never be a real peace in the dustrial warfare. The rule of the fair deal from th sides, as expressed in the incident of the nglish miners and the mine owner, is the only pe for the honest and reasonable men on both les of the big question.

As to a Memorial Day

The Brantford Expositor discusses the sug- stion recently advanced in The Advertiser as the conversion of Victoria Day into a Memorial y for the Canadian soldiers who gave their lives the war. Our contemporary points out that st of the men who gave their lives are resting foreign soil, and that the usual conception of coration Day could not be carried out save in e case of the small proportion of men who died Canada or whose remains were brought home. believes that the day consecrated to the memory the silent thousands would more fittingly be anksgiving Day, when the occasion would par- ke of a memorial character as well as one of atitude for deliverance.

The Advertiser's idea was that the season ring which Victoria Day falls was more fit- gly a day for a ceremonial than any other, and at the decoration of monuments and memorial ildings would serve to afford all those who burn an opportunity to place a token of remem- ance upon some common altar. Weather condi- ns are more propitious in May than in October, and Thanksgiving Day, apart from the war, is a sacred institution. Empire Day is now observed on the 24th of May, but with nothing of ceremony to make the day more than the customary dull Canadian holiday, on which baseball or dancing is the principal diversion. Nor need the devoting of such a day lose any of its Empire Day character, because as the country thinks of Empire it thinks of the men who gave to that Empire everything they could give, and in the background is a memory of the good queen, in whose day was a more settled state of living, and from whose age, perhaps, we might reclaim something of an old-fashioned calm and outlook that would be good for us. In itself, the 24th of May, with safety laws cutting the festive firecracker's pop to a minimum, is now a holiday without character. Thanksgiving has a deep significance, and if Queen Victoria could see the day of her birth dedicated to the true nobility of her country's sons she might be honored in the dedication and smile upon the ceremony.

An Object Lesson For Govt.

President Wilson in his message to Congress announces that all the railways of the United States will revert to private ownership at the end of the year. This can only mean that the American Government has reached the conclusion that public ownership of railways is impossible at present. It was confidently expected by the American public that the war time administration of the transportation companies would be expanded to some sort of permanent control. If Wilson in the face of this openly-expressed desire is in favor of dropping the railways it must be that he realizes that the burden is too big a one for the nation to shoulder.

The fact is that Government operation of railways in the States has been a stupendously costly failure. From the first the Government has had to dip into the public treasury to furnish hundreds of millions to keep things going, and this, despite the fact that the best operating staffs to be had were recruited to the task of running the systems. Once the roads came under government control, too, there was a noticeable falling off in efficiency, and from coast to coast an exasperated public has been clamoring for proper service.

The Union Government will display wisdom if it makes a close study of the railway situation across the border before it commits the country to any further expansion of its proposed nationalizing of Canada's railway systems.

Matrimony and War-Maids

Mrs. Pankhurst bewails the fact that because of war's casualties several million young women of the United Kingdom are doomed to spinsterhood. As her letter on the subject appears in a number of Canadian journals, we take it Mrs. Pankhurst is dropping a not too gentle hint to the youth of this land. However, Canadians are already doing a bit more than their "bit," as any troop train from the coast will show, and as a host of Canadian girls will heatedly assert, to remedy this lamentable situation by rescuing English, Scotch and Irish girls from a dolorous fate.

But why should Mrs. Pankhurst speak pityingly of these "unfortunates," using tones of commiseration? Why should it be assumed that these millions of young women have been made permanently unhappy by the prospect of being barred from matrimony? Perhaps we are taking too much for granted in this matter. The war has produced a new type of spinster in England, self-reliant, resourceful young women, who, through the emergency of the hour have discovered they possess initiative and executive ability equal to that of their brothers. It has introduced them to the fascinating activities of commerce, industry and profession with returns that make them independent of male assistance. A ballot on the subject might show that a tremendous number of these women would not sacrifice their new freedom in order to marry unless they could have the man of their choice. For them, to wed a "meal ticket" is no longer a necessity; they carry a better one in their capacity to hold responsible jobs. And the daily occupation that is congenial and pays well makes an excellent palliative for heart ache should such find room to intrude.

Mrs. Pankhurst might discover by close investigation that these millions whose "dismal future" wrings her heart are facing their appalling destiny in an amazingly cheerful and businesslike manner. From the way the average young woman has faced the test of the war years, whether she has won for herself a position of independence or not, it is a safe prediction that she is not going to gloom her way into a decline or furnish material for the morgue, as masculine vanity might imagine, because her chances of mending some man's socks and tending his furnace have faded to the vanishing point.

MAKIN'S.

By Dora H. Mollan.

Granulated tobacco shows up on a dark blue rug like—well, as a khaki-clad "buddie" did out in No Man's Land, not so many months ago, when, in broad daylight, he set out to find his bunkie who had failed to return with the scouting party and—but I'm anticipating.

Picture to yourself a sleepy New Hampshire town so old that it was a thriving country seat even before the revolutionary war, and now, at the end of the world war, remains practically unchanged. Then try to imagine a square, red brick house facing a broad, elm-shaded street, with a fanlighted doorway squarely in the centre of its facade.

Walk with me through that door into a long hall, turn into a big living-room to the right and see if we do not find Betty Spinny standing there on this April morning gazing ruefully at the blue rug which harmonizes so well with the colonial mahogany furnishings. For little Miss Spinny has joined the ranks of the housekeepers whose men folks roll their own cigarettes.

The door had just closed behind the young husband. He is off to the shop early, for this afternoon the local chapter of the Red Cross meets in this charming old room where, long ago, colonial dames stripped their linen sheets in a similar cause; and Steve has promised to relate his experiences in that indefinite land of Over There. It had always seemed an indefinite place to Betty, for she lacked a vivid imagination and the power of visualizing things.

Just now, though, something very definite is bothering the little wife; and that something consists of sundry little trails and springlings of a granulated brown substance which besmirches the surface of that same blue rug.

"Oh, dear!" she soliloquized, "that's the one fly in the ointment of having Steve home again, safe and sound. Why did he have to pick up that detestable habit of smoking cigarettes? And if he just has to smoke them, why doesn't he smoke the ready-made kind—they aren't so messy!"

The neatness of that house was a family tradition handed down to Betty along with the heirlooms, and that tobacco, eternally scattered over the floors, was a bugbear. She sighed and started to clean the room for the afternoon meeting.

When at 12:30 Steve's whistle sounded, a rather disheveled Betty was placing a hurried lunch on the kitchen table. The house was spotless. Now, if she could only keep Steve in the kitchen till he went upstairs to dress—here Betty's thoughts were interrupted. Not one man, but two, followed the whistle into the house.

"Hello, Betty!" Steve cried joyfully, "here's my old bunkie, Fred. Canfield, on his way to Manchester and stopped over to surprise us."

A little chagrined, for housewifely reasons, Betty nevertheless greeted her husbands chum brightly. Had she known of his coming she would have had lunch in the dining-room, of course, with the family china and plate. Steve read her thought, so continued: "Oh, never mind any lack of style this noon, dear; I've told Fred about the doings this afternoon and he'll say a word, too. Why, this is Delmonico's after what we were up against most of the time—hey, Fred? Come on, Buddie, I'll show you the house while the wife lays an extra plate."

Betty's housekeeping was on inspection, she felt, and so the resolve to keep Steve and his messy tobacco away from those immaculate rooms was crowded out of her mind. With some help from the preserve closet the meal passed off very creditably. Then Steve announced that he must return to the shop for an hour or so, and if he should be a little late, why, Fred would fill in the gap.

While the young husband was explaining to his rather annoyed little wife just why his return to business was necessary, Canfield strolled into the next room; but he heard plainly the small lecture that followed. Betty's voice grew a trifle sharp as the ex-soldier was given to understand just how plainly that tobacco showed up on the blue rug, and if he just had to smoke any of the nasty things that afternoon she wished to goodness he'd at least come out in the kitchen to make them.

The husband's low-voiced reply did not reach the next room, but Canfield gave a low whistle. "M-m!" he thought to himself, "so that's the way the land lies! Doesn't that child realize what rolling and smoking those cigarettes means to Steve—how it helps to calm nerves still raw from that awful din? Of course not—but I'll make her."

Steven was late, so the visitor helped receive the guests and acquiesced readily when they begged that he address them.

"There's something, called by some folks Chance and by others Providence," Canfield began; "but call it what you will, it is responsible for both Spinney's and my presence here today." The soldier, looking straight at Betty, continued: "It was daylight when steve discovered that I had not returned with the patrol from No Man's Land. He volunteered to go out alone, under the eyes of the enemy, in a search for me or my body. Because I was his bunkie they let him go. I had been hit and lying for hours in a shell hole, helpless from a piece of shrapnel in my hip, when Steve, who had been crawling from cover to cover with his life in his hands, found me. It was 500 yards to our nearest temporary trench. In all that distance there wasn't cover for a rabbit, save one big shell hole half way to the line. I had bled a lot and was in a bad way. It was a case for quick treatment. So Steve hoisted me over his shoulder and started. Only a couple of shots were fired at us, and they missed. But when we came to the big shell hole Steve was breathing hard and the pain from my wound was intolerable. I begged for a rest, and above all things for a smoke. Steve slid down into the shell hole with me. Then he rolled us each a fag. I remember he spilled a few grains of tobacco and of hearing him say, 'Buddie, there's a lot of that stuff mixed with Yankee blood in the soil of this man's land.' Just then a hell broke loose. The Huns had laid down a rolling barrage, and there wasn't a foot of the 200 yards between us and the American line that wasn't full of flame and metal for the next ten minutes. Our stopping to make and light the smokes was all that saved us from the absolute certainty of being blown to pieces."

The faces of the listeners were tense as Canfield paused, but Betty didn't wait to listen to another word. She rushed into the kitchen as she heard the door open and Steve come in. Flinging herself into her husband's arms she cried, "Oh, why didn't you tell me yourself, Steve, that you saved Mr. Canfield's life? And to think of my scolding you about your tobacco!"

"You see, darling," her husband exclaimed, "I was afraid you would think I hadn't taken you into consideration when I took that chance that day."

Betty's flashing black eyes looked back at him reproachfully. "Have you forgotten that I am a descendant of Corporal Allen, who saved the life of his captain at Monmouth, at the sacrifice of an arm? Do you think American womanhood has degenerated since that time, Steve?"

Looking into her glorified eyes, Steve couldn't say it had.

And when a little later, in the course of Steve's talk to the Red Cross ladies, the nerve habit of those awful days asserted itself and Steve unconsciously took from his pocket the "makin's" and proceeded then and there to roll a cigarette, Betty only gazed at him with adoring eyes.

FOR HIS SERVICE AT THE FRONT.

(A resolution passed by Calgary G. W. V. A. asked the Government to grant every man who had fought in France $2,000. Some of the people have said this is asking too much.)

He was just a common civvie, when the cruel war broke out,
He had never shouldered musket, nor had heard a sergeant shout.
But he had a Patriot's spirit, and his soul was set on fire
When the Hun said that the British flag should fall in Prussian mire.
So he said good-bye to Mother, grabbed recruiting sergeant's pen,
And he swore to fight for Britain at the rate "one dollar ten";
Then he jumped into the trenches,
bravely stood the battle's brunt,
And he didn't ask "two thousand" for his service at the front.

When the Hun had got his number,
with a chunk of molten lead,
They found him out in "No man's Land," among a heap of dead.
Invalided back to Canada, 'cross sub-infested main,
The home folk cheered and blessed him,
crying "Welcome home again."
But they caught him with a bottle filled with whiskey fit to drink,
Then the hometown policeman grabbed him, threw him in the loathsome
clink,
And he drew a three-months' sentence,
which he took without a grunt,
But he didn't ask "Two thousand" for his service at the front.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

TELLS SAFE AND SIMPLE WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME.

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment.—Advt.

Does the Treaty Violate Wilson's Fourteen Points?

The latest and bitterest blow to German hopes, successively disappointed in the zeppelins, the submarines, and the kaiser, is the discovery that President Wilson and the American people have not secured for Germany a "soft peace." German leaders and German papers angrily protest that America has "betrayed" the German people. President Ebert declares that in the peace treaty President Wilson "has deserted his fourteen points," while Ludendorff declares, after reading the terms that "if this is peace, America can go to hell!"

In the leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week May 24, German and American public opinion, as represented by the statements in the leading journals of both countries, is presented. Each of the fourteen points is carefully analyzed in its relation to the terms of the peace treaty, so that the reader may readily understand just how much justification there is in Germany's protestations.

The Literary Digest An Ideal Mental Bracer

Even the wisest of us are more or less prone to get into grooves as regards our thinking on the great questions of the day. We tend to read the same papers, to listen to the views of the same people, to cling to the same idea. A novel thought or a fresh conception on any subject of real importance to us finds many barriers of habit and personal bias to break down ere it can find lodgment in our minds. All this makes for stagnation and shuts our progress. What we need is a mental fillip, the stimulus of a quickening tonic that shall remake our conceptions of things, readjust our conclusions, put sanity and vigor into our whole outlook upon life. Such a stimulus is waiting for you at every corner news-stand in the shape of THE LITERARY DIGEST, America's foremost news-magazine. Every week it offers you the world's comments on the world's affairs and the world's thought, freshly culled from the periodicals of every land and language, without any admixture of personal editorial preferences or interested interpretations. Read THE DIGEST today and week by week and keep yourself informed, up-to-date, mentally in touch with the live currents of universal progress.

WINIFRED BLACK

Writes About "A Good Woman."

Copyright, 1918, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Winifred Black

A good woman died in this neighborhood yesterday. A capable woman she was and strong, and every one went to her for comfort and for help.

When one of the girls was falling in love with the wrong kind of a man the girl's mother went to the Good Woman and told her about it. The Good Woman was going for a visit to a ranch in the mountains and she invited the girl to go with her and the girl went, and there was a handsome young man at the ranch and there were horseback rides and picnics, and the moon shone and the eglantine was fragrant in the garden and in the corral the little, moon-eyed calves bwahed mournfully. There were young colts to feed and fluffy young chickens to watch, and wild flowers to gather and old books of verse to be read around the lamp at nightfall. And, somehow, the wrong kind of a man wasn't the right kind of a man for the girl any more, and she went home absolutely cured of her feverish folly.

When the youngest boy grew beyond himself, and was impudent to his mother and sullen to his father—the Good Woman thought of a job for him in another city, something rather hard and not very pleasant, but a job of his own, among strangers. And the youngest boy went and took the job, and came home in six months—a man. And now he's at work with his father and he's the pride and joy of the whole family.

Everyone Trusted Her.

When there was a quarrel in the church and the soprano in the choir was telling the contralto exactly what she thought of her, and the Sunday school superintendent was freeing his mind in regard to the bass singer, and everything looked like an old-fashioned row that would end in a split, the Good Woman organized a series of charades and managed it so that each of them had a prominent part, and, lo, the breach was healed.

When the poor little woman in the lower end of the town slipped on the ice by her dark little door and broke her leg and hurt herself very badly indeed, and those who had slipped down to her door in the dark many and many a time did not dare to go and see her—the Good Woman heard of it and she made up a little basket of provisions and took along some lemons and oranges and a thermometer and went down and nursed the woman who lived in the dark.

On the second day she came home for her eiderdown quilt and you could see that she had been crying, and she said it was too bad that the woman had been hurt. But perhaps, after all, it was for the best, for she wasn't such a bad woman at heart after all—she was just weak and she took her to another town and got sewing for her and that woman wept her heart out when the Good Woman died, and sent a great sheaf of lilies to the funeral with a card that said, "From one who is not worthy."

Strong she was, and noble; good she was and wise.

True she was and faithful, brave she was and full of splendid, eager courage.

Everyone who knew her trusted her. No—everyone didn't love her, she was too genuine for that.

Some people thought her conceited and overbearing and some said she had too high an opinion of her own judgment, and there were those who always insisted that it was perfectly easy for her to be good because she never wanted to be anything else. But, oh, what are we going to do without her, now that she is gone?

Who is going to be calm in the face of danger, and cool in the hour of affright?

Who is going to stand like a rock between use and the shaking terror of that last dread hour?

Who?

How Little We Know.

But the strangest thing of all is that when she died they found a locket around her neck. And in the locket was a little curl from the head of her little, little boy that died long years ago.

And there also were the picture of her mother and a clipping from an old newspaper—a poem:

Backward, turn backward,
Oh, Time in your flight!
Make me a child again,
Just for tonight!

Those who knew her best say that it was her favorite poem. So strong, so cool, so clear-headed, so self-reliant—and yet—in her heart of hearts she wanted to be just a little loved-and-cared-for child again.

How little we know each other, really—after all.

Daily Bible Question Club

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS ON THE UNIFORM LESSON FOR SUNDAY, May 25, 1919.

ONE GOLDEN TEXT SUGGESTION.

By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.

Repentance.—Jonah iii., 1-10; Luke xiii., 1-5; Acts, ii., 37, 38.

QUESTIONS FOR TODAY.

14. Luke, xxiii., 3-5.—What is the chief lesson which all should learn from violent or sudden death?

15. When is the best time for a sinner to repent, and why?

16. WHAT BECOMES OF ALL THOSE WHO DIE WITHOUT REPENTING OF THEIR SINS? WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO "PERISH"? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by the members of the club).

Golden Text.—Repent ye, and believe the gospel.—Mark, i., 15.

GOD GIVES SALVATION TO THOSE WHO REPENT AND BELIEVE.

Every step which is necessary for a sinner to take to have his sins forgiven, to have his nature changed, to be enabled to love God and hate sin, is attended with supernatural power. Sin paralyzes a man's will-power, so that he cannot do as he would, but the moment his will consents to repent and believe the gospel, God takes possession of his nature, and all the processes of his willing and planning are reinforced by the spirit of God, and the impossible becomes the possible. The devil's mortgage upon the man's soul is cancelled, and his feet run swiftly and surely in the way of God's commandments; hence, all a sinner has to do to repent, believe the gospel and become a true Christian is to surrender and keep surrendered, and God does all the rest.

Red Cross News

Many Thanks for Many Eggs.

It seems a very long time since the Easter egg shower, but the boys in the hospitals haven't forgotten it yet, so it can't be too late to thank the kind folk who made their Easter such a happy time. The Red Cross Society is very grateful, too, for the generous response to their appeal. There were 300 dozen eggs, all just warm out of the nest, almost, and so everybody had all he could eat.

The grocers who so kindly took in the eggs as they came showering down are also asked to accept the thanks of the soldiers and the Red Cross. They are Messrs. G. B. Drake, Hamilton road; Connor Bros., Richmond street; McCormick & Son, Richmond street; T. Shaw, Dundas street, and City Market Clerk Maker.

Give the Boys a Ride.

When you are out in your car these pleasant evenings, won't you run round by Tecumseh Barracks Hospital and pick up a few wounded soldiers and take them for a little spin? You may have only a few minutes at your disposal, but a ten-minute ride even is a wonderful break in a long, dull evening at a hospital when you are a cripple, and must stay where you are put. Every car that goes spinning along under our wonderful trees these summer evenings ought to have some khaki in it or go back to its garage and hang its head in shame.

And then there are the soldiers that go limping along our streets at all times of the day. They shouldn't be allowed to do it. Even if every car on the street is hurrying to an important business engagement, surely some could find a moment to stop and pick up the lad in khaki who has made it possible for cars to run in peace and safety.

How Does Your Garden Grow?

The moon of blossoms is almost here, and field and wood and garden will soon be clothed in beauty. Wouldn't it be a blessed thing to bring some of their color and fragrance into our bare hospital wards? Anyone who brings flowers or fruit—and both are very, very welcome—to 238 Queen's avenue, Red Cross headquarters, will be doing the soldiers in our hospitals a real service. Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays at any hour before 2 o'clock the Red Cross workers will be at headquarters to receive these gifts and will see that they are taken immediately to the hospitals. We can brighten the lives of our soldiers wonderfully by bringing to their bedsides a little of the beauty of the opening summer. Please come soon, and come often.

MARIAN KEITH,
Press Secretary.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Women's Franchise in Ontario.

Dear Miss Grey,—Will you kindly answer the following questions through your column:

Have married women the right to vote in all elections and plebiscites? Have they the right to vote for municipal council and school boards? Can women's names be placed on the assessment roll as joint owners, which they certainly are, as the husband cannot sell his property unless his wife consents to sign off her claim. In short how far does the franchise extend to woman in the coming decision of the people with regard to temperance?

I would be pleased to receive any authentic information with regard to the franchise for women.

A COLDSTREAM READER.

Ans.—Equal franchise has now been granted by the Provincial Government and for the next Provincial election every man and woman of 21 years of age and over, who is at the same time a British subject, will be permitted to cast a vote. He (or she) must have resided in Canada for at least twelve months preceding, and in the electoral district for at least three months preceding the compiling of the voters' list.

The municipal elections are much more complicated, and consequently there is greater risk of names not appearing on the voters' list through ignorance. For the municipal election the suffrage is also equal. What stands for a man, remains the same for a woman. Property owners to the amount of $400 are assessed, and consequently receive a vote. If husband and wife are joint owners of property to the amount of $800, each has a vote. Tenants letting property valued at $400 may vote. If husband and wife are joint tenants of property valued at $800, each has a vote. Every person man or woman, receiving a salary of at least $1,000 is assessed for $400 of that amount, and consequently has a vote. There is a $600 salary exemption. Householders are exempted to the amount of $1,500.

Men of 21 years of age, receiving less than $1,000 salary, who neither own nor rent property to amount of $400, do not have a vote in the municipal elections, as some women ignorantly have thought. Both women and men vote in exactly the same capacity.

Re the Dominion elections, the "War Times Election Act," permitting only those women with relatives in the army to vote, is still in force, but of course before another election comes along this act will no longer be valid, and women will certainly be allowed to vote on the same basis as men.

He'd Better Hire.

Dear Miss Grey,—I read a letter in Thursday's issue (8th) written by Silus, which I could not help answering. I don't think Silus was ever on the farm in his life, and I think before he writes another letter like this one he had better hire on a farm for a month or so and find out how much expense it is to keep a farm going.

If the farmer does get high prices for his produce he has to pay sweet for what he gets, and the farmer's wives don't get $80 suits either. It makes no difference to anyone how much meat, butter and eggs the farmer uses because who deserves them more than the farmer? I wish someone could tell who they are, for I don't know.

Well I think I will have to close or there'll be another war in the mail-box but I don't want to fight with anyone. The town folk should try farming and see how they like it and if they'll use what they wish.

I must thank you and Evangelist for sending the song I asked for, it is a nice piece.

I will close with my best wishes and good luck to the mail box. I remain,

LIFELESS—

But am able to help with the work on the farm!

She's In Love.

Cupid's Victim: So you're in love with a 19-year-old, and he's a perfect darling, and if I could only see him I'd be in love, too, and you want to know how to make him love you! Oh, dear, my brain is in a perfect whirl. Well, lassie, the briefest and most sincere answer that I as a friend can give you is this: Love is not compelled in the human heart. It comes unbidden, whether swiftly as a devouring fire, or more slowly and sweetly. Again, it is the law of the ages that Man does the loving, the seeking and the wooing. If your young friend loved you, as you believe you love him, he would not give the other lads a ghost of a chance at the dances or other amusements. It seems quite probable that he likes you, just as he does any of the other girls who are his schoolmates, and ten to one he isn't thinking much of love, but rather of his future, and of whether they'll let him play second base in the junior league team. So dearie, we come back to the same old question. What can you do? Why really, nothing. Just be your own sweet self, and have pride enough to never, never, betray the state of your heart to anybody, even your dearest friend. That is woman's part and hard though it may seem, neither you nor I can alter what we may term the inevitable. In a nutshell—If he does not love you, you can't make him, and should not cheapen yourself trying.

Working Woman's Protest.

Dear Miss Grey and Readers,—One of the letters in our Mail-Box corner so nettled me I could not help writing and telling you my opinion of it. The writer said she was tired of reading about cooking recipes, crochet exchanges and songs, and said one could buy all these things in stores, and that she would rather see hints on new styles and what was fashionable, and things in that line. Now, readers, I believe that writer is one of the high class. I am sure she isn't a poor, hard-working man's wife who wants to save and find out which way to spend the few dollars to make them go farthest. She has no doubt her maid doing the cooking and saving her the worries of wondering what to have that's nourishing and tasty, but not too expensive, and I guess she has never needed to ask for that most helpful stocking-foot pattern, which so many have found such a help where the little toes are always coming out. Sure, we can buy all those books, but the song-books are not the old relics, the cook-books are nothing but extravagance, and half the time you can't find a crochet pattern just what you want. Our friend, no doubt, has never had any such troubles in her path. Well, she's lucky, but it looks like this to me: Cut the working-class if possible; never give them a chance, even in the Mail-Box, to climb ahead. Let us tell our friend as she told us: Buy your fashion books. We working people can't keep up with styles, and we are here to help one another, with Miss Grey's kind assistance. What do you all think, readers? Who says "Hurrah for the workingmen's wives"? I am inclosing a few patches for "Beanpole" and a couple of cheap recipes. I will close, trusting I have not started another war.

SLIM.

Syrup Tarts.—Half cup sugar, half cup corn syrup, one egg. Beat all well. Make pie crust and put in tart tins, then put one tablespoonful of the mixture in each, and grate over it about one-quarter teaspoon nutmeg to each tart, and a little piece of butter in each; then bake in fairly quick oven. This amount will make about fourteen tarts.

War Cake (No Eggs)—Two cups of brown sugar, two cups hot water, one and a half cups seedless raisins (small ones), two tablespoons lard, one teaspoon cinnamon, one ounce cloves, one ounce salt. Boil all together for five minutes, then cool, and add one teaspoon soda (dissolved in hot water) and two cups flour. Bake in a slow oven. This cakes keeps well. You may add a little peel and nuts if desired.

If a little flour is sprinkled into hot fat, eggs or anything may be dropped in without the fat spattering all over the stove.

A little salt added to the water when poaching an egg keeps the white of the egg from separating and going all over the pan.

A cup of cold boiled rice added to the pancake batter makes them delicious.

Mary Ann's Marmalade.

Can any reader supply me with Mary Ann's receipe for marmalade? Perhaps Mary Ann herself will be good enough to send it in. A reader is asking for it.

Irish Molly,—Sorry not to print your request, but the rules are "try a want ad." I think it would be worth while.

Greetings to the Gallant 18th

THEY WHO COME BACK

THEY who come back, how wonderful they seem,
With brave young faces grown so kind and wise;
Along the strange hard path of glory come,
With war's remembrance in their thoughtful eyes.

Come from such sacrifices none can tell,
Back to a world that scarcely knows of war—
Back to the hurrying, idly-curious throng,
Finding that life cannot be as before.

They who come back with broken lives, and marred,
Carrying the proudest wounds men ever knew—
Honor? There is no honor great enough!
Loyalty? None could ever be too true!

Given their best, and nobly played the game,
Shall they come back to charity, or strife,
To gain the paltry little that is theirs?
They who have earned the greatest gifts of life?

They who come back—how proudly should they come!
Back to the highest love men give to men,
Back to the proudest pride Canadians give—
They who come back, back to our love again!

—Amy Campbell.

POLLY AND HER PALS.—Paw Can't Keep Himself From Finding Out. —By Cliff Sterret

Goddess

Corsets that lace in Front

Goddess Corsets

that lace in front realize the dreams of the woman who wants to be perfectly gowned.

Perfect in design, the Goddess gives the correct and fashionable line. Moreover the tongue under the lacing and the patented under-clasp feature prevent the pinching which causes discomfort in some front lace corsets.

Made in Canada by the makers of the LA DIVA and D & A corsets, the Goddess Lace in Front are worn by many of our best dressed women.

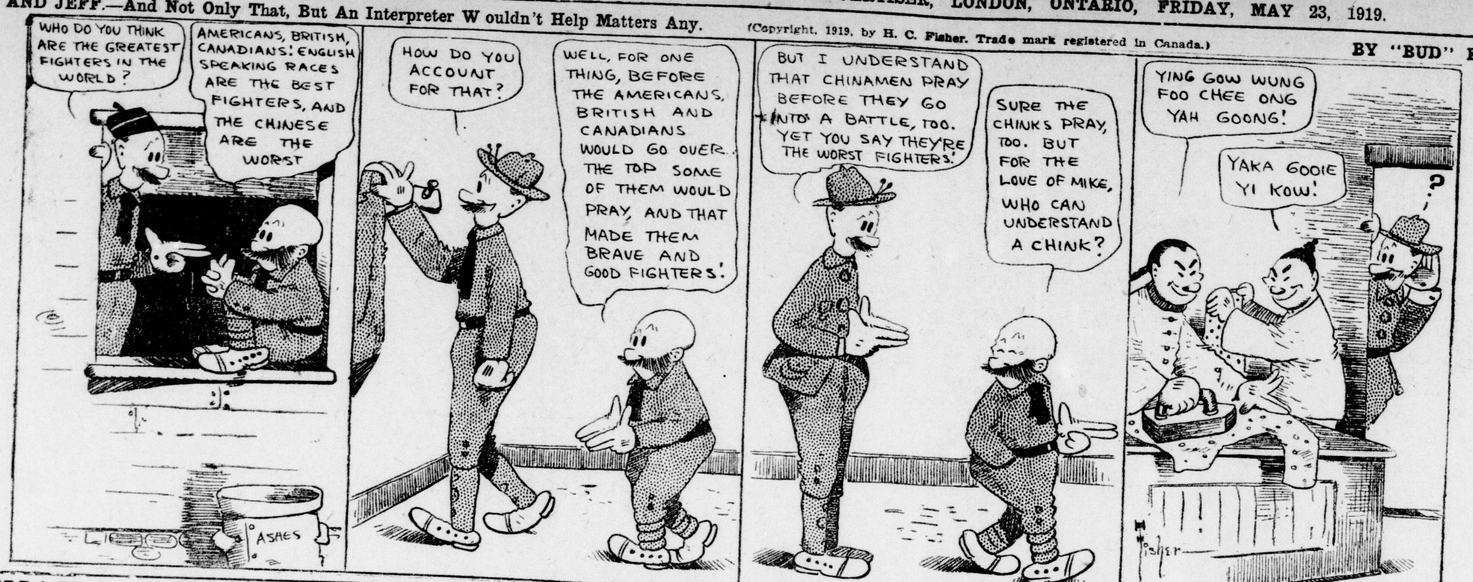

Read what Anita Stewart says of them:—

"Your Goddess corsets are most satisfactory: they give greatest possible comfort and freedom and without any undue compression add to the grace of the figure."

SAGINAW "ACES" GIVE TECUMSEHS TROUNCING

Keenan's Team Easy Mark F or "Buzz" Wetzel's Players—Visitors Displayed Good Baseball at Park Yesterday—Eight Runs Sc ored in Last Frame.

"Buzz" Wetzel's Saginaw "Aces" outplayed London Tecumsehs in every way and form at Tecumseh Park yesterday afternoon, the final score being 16 to 3.

The visitors made "Jo-Jo" Keenan's team look like a bunch of amateurs. Shriver was sent into the box for Saginaw and only allowed the locals five scattered singles during the nine innings. He pitches good ball and is one of the best hurlers seen here this season.

Ben Gilbert hurled for the locals, and was hit for eleven singles and two doubles. He was given poor support, eight errors being made by his team mates.

Kennan changed the line-up considerably yesterday. Dager, the new fielder, was sent out to left. Cunningham, who was released by Bay City, went to right field, and Maxwell, the St. Thomas lad, who had a try-out with "Knotty" Lee, was in centre. Gadsby was on third sack, Grodick at second base, Vermilly at short and Clark at first base.

Saginaw has a fast infield, which was of a great assistance to Pitcher Shriver. Every man on the visiting line-up looks like a real ball player, and it is expected that the "Aces" will give the other teams a good run for first place in the league.

London is short of pitchers at the present time. Gilbert and Summerhayes are the only two carried. Summerhayes is also used as a catcher. Leishman, who was with the team, has not appeared in a London uniform for the past two days.

Saginaw scored five runs in the third frame with two singles, two walks and two errors.

In the fourth frame another run was secured. Pike was out, shortstop to first. Morse walked. Tipps hit a grounder to Gilbert and was out. Weinburg, the heavy hitter for the visitors, made a drive to left field, which was good for two bases, and Morse scored. Command flew out to second base.

Weinburg and Dodson made the only double play of the game. Dager singled to centre field. Cunningham was out, pitcher to first. Maxwell hit a fly to first baseman who quickly threw it to Dodson, getting Dager trying to make second bag.

The Saginaw boys had a merry old time in the ninth inning, when they scored eight more runs. Six singles were hammered out and two errors were made by the local players.

The "Aces" will play here again today and two games will be staged tomorrow, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon. It is likely that Summerhayes will be sent into the box to oppose the visitors this afternoon.

LANIUS IS WINNER OF METROPOLITAN RACE AT BELMONT

Handicap Run on a Sloppy Track at Belmont Park Opener.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Over a sloppy track on which a drizzling rain fell all the afternoon, G. D. Widener's 4-year-old chestnut gelding Lanius, by Llangibby-Southern Belle, won the Metropolitan handicap at one mile at Belmont Park today. This event was the feature of the Westchester Racing Association's opening day of the season.

Lanius was an outsider in the betting, the favorite being J. E. Widener's Naturalist, which romped home an easy winner of a six-furlong high weight handicap at the Jamaica course yesterday, but the public choice finished only in fifth position in today's classic.

There were seven starters, two of which Papp and Flags, acted badly before the bunch was sent off to a good start. The light-weighted Routledge was first to show in front when the barrier was sprung, with Naturalist almost on even terms and Flags close up on the inside. Nearing the first turn Routledge dropped back and Flags took the lead from Naturalist as they turned out of the back stretch. Flags led to the turn into the stretch where Lanius, nicely handled by Jockey Loftus, jumped into the lead and, full of running, shook off a bold challenge by Flags at the eighth pole to win by two lengths.

Flags was a like distance in front of Star Master, which finished third, after a brilliant stretch run. Foreground outgamed Naturalist, which tired after reaching the head of the stretch. Routledge finished sixth, half a length in front of Papp, which sulked and finished a disappointing last.

The winner's time was 1:45 2-5, and his owner's share of the cash prize was $3,865.

PITCHER QUINN WITH LEWISTON

Twirler Who Was To Play With Keenan's Team Joins Lewiston.

Pitcher Quinn, formerly of the Toronto Leafs, has joined the Lewiston, Me., team, according to information received from Toronto. This hurler was expected to join Manager Keenan's team. He made a short visit to this city some days ago, but then returned to Toronto.

This is the third hurler who has been sent by Toronto, but did not play with the local team.

BEATTY BROS. TEAM WINS FROM SELAK'S NINE

Beatty Bros. defeated Selaks in an exciting game of ball in the Manufacturers' League at Tecumseh Park last evening, by the score of 14 to 8. The heavy hitting of the winners was the feature of the game. W. Clarke put two in the river, while his brother Frank got two two-baggers, the sacks being filled on both occasions.

The winning battery worked to a perfection, George Cake, the twirler, having ten strikeouts in the five innings.

Selaks failed to hit when needed, which accounts for the big score.

THE BEAUTIFUL CITY BY THE SEA.

The lines of the Grand Trunk Railway system between Montreal and Portland, Maine, penetrate the heart of the White Mountains, and serve many lovely districts. Portland, that "beautiful city by the sea," as Longfellow called it, is the gateway to innumerable natural beauties and cool retreats. Seldom has a city such surroundings of sea and shore. Portland and Casco Bay form the Utopia of those with moderate means; nowhere will a dollar procure more for seaside pleasures. Hotels in city and on the islands in the bay are numerous, and there are large numbers of boarding-houses. Old Orchard, Kennebunkport and other resorts are reached through Portland, being linked up with the city by electric car service and steam railroad. Apply to any Grand Trunk agent for a copy of "Portland, Casco Bay and Maine Resorts," an attractive publication which gives full information regarding the mountain and sea coast territory of Maine and New Hampshire, including hotels, rates, etc. b

Cyclists, Beware!

DEMPSEY HAS HARD DAY'S TRAINING AT TOLEDO CAMP

Tickets Are Selling Fast For Big Championship Bout.

TOLEDO, May 22.—Seat reservations for the heavyweight fight between Willard and Dempsey, here, July 4, have already exceeded $270,000. Tex Rickard, promoter of the fight, announced tonight, on his return from New York.

The entire gate receipts for the Jeffries battle staged by Rickard at Reno, drew only a few hundred dollars more than the above quoted figures, Rickard said.

With the contest still seven weeks away, Rickard was unwilling to hazard a guess at the total receipts, but he said that if the seat reservations kept up in such unexpected numbers, the battle would draw considerably over $500,000. Rickard received a check today for $11,000 from an automobile company, which purchased tickets for its agents.

Dempsey did his first boxing today, stepping two rounds with Willie Doyle. He also took a swim in the icy waters of Maumee Bay, and was the only man in camp who had the nerve to brave the cold plunge. Early in the day he took a six-mile hike on the roads and later played a game of hand ball.

In addition to the outdoor arena under construction, an indoor gymnasium is being built at Dempsey's camp, so that he will be able to continue his work when disagreeable weather prevents outdoor training. Dempsey is brimming over with energy and eager to exchange punches with his sparring partners of his own weight.

Jimmy Deforest, the trainer, does not believe that Dempsey will need much work. His said the only risk he is running is that of being over-trained.

ALBERTA MAY CALL GENERAL STRIKE IF WINNIPEG TROUBLE IS NOT SETTLED

Federation of Labor in That Province Now Taking a Vote.

30,000 MEN MAY QUIT

Movement Would Be in Sympathy With Winnipeg Strikers.

OTTAWA, May 22.—Information has been received at the labor department that the Provincial Federation of Labor of Alberta will take a vote on calling a general strike in sympathy with the Winnipeg strikers. If a strike is decided on it will be effective from next Monday. As this would be purely a sympathetic strike it is probable that should the Winnipeg trouble be adjusted no strike order would be issued even though the vote should favor it.

The department has also been informed by the director of coal operations in district 18 that all the coal miners in that district will strike next Saturday. This is not a sympathetic strike, but grows out of some smaller difficulties between the operator and workers.

30,000 MAY WALK OUT THROUGHOUT ALBERTA.

CALGARY, May 22.—Calgary labor unions, affiliated with the trades and labor council, today started voting on the question of going out on a general strike Monday in sympathy with the Winnipeg strikers. Labor leaders predict that local workers would vote in favor of the walkout.

About 30,000 workers will walk out if a general strike is called. The result of the strike vote will be announced Friday night or Saturday morning.

It is understood that Mayor Marshall and the city commissioners are actively at work, endeavoring to open negotiations with union executives in an effort to avert a sympathetic strike in this vicinity.

BRANDON WORKERS HAVE BEGUN GENERAL STRIKE.

BRANDON, May 22.—The mechanical roundhouse men and the car men of the Canadian Pacific Railway walked out yesterday noon in sympathy with Winnipeg. It was generally known Tuesday evening that such a strike would take place. In the afternoon meetings were held in the trades hall by various organizations, at which strike votes were to be taken, and it was expected that today would see some definite line of action decided on by labor unions at Brandon.

The civic union today served an ultimatum on the parks board that unless the board is prepared to go into the question of conditions on the schedule, civic employees in Brandon would walk out at 9 o'clock Thursday morning.

The demands of the teamsters were discussed at a meeting of the employers held Tuesday, but nothing definite is known as to what was done.

1,200 MINERS STRIKE IN DISTRICT 18 TODAY.

LETHBRIDGE, May 22.—Arrangements are being made by officials of the trades and labor council to call a meeting of executives Friday night to consider action in answer to requests for a sympathetic strike out in aid of the Winnipeg strikers.

Local miners to the number of 1,200 are to go on strike Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock as a result of a strike order sent out Wednesday by district 18 union officials. Seven mines in Lethbridge field will be deserted.

EDMONTON CONSIDERING SYMPATHETIC ACTION.

EDMONTON, May 22.—On Monday afternoon Edmonton will know whether there is to be a sympathetic strike in this city. A strike vote will be taken on Monday at 11 a. m.

AND SASKATCHEWAN, TOO.

SASKATOON, Sask., May 22.—A mass meeting of labor unions is being held here this evening to discuss the Winnipeg situation.

MAYOR GRAY ISSUES ULTIMATUM TO "RED" ELEMENT IN WEST

WINNIPEG, May 22.—Open discussion of the general strike in this city by representatives of all leading forces involved, will take place at a meeting in the city hall at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. It was officially announced today it was hoped the meeting would lead to a settlement of the industrial dispute.

Labor representatives, federal, provincial, and city officials and Winnipeg industrial and commercial employers were not formally invited to attend, but were told the conference would be a "get-together" gathering, where various views can be submitted and conciliation considered.

Telephone service was restored by volunteer operators this afternoon.

In a statement this morning Mayor Gray said:

"The constituted authorities are determined to stamp out the Bolshevik or red element in Winnipeg.

"The town is open. All business may go ahead as in the past.

"No one section of the public has any right to dictate food terms to any other section of the public. This principle will be strictly adhered to by the constituted authorities."

Mayor Gray received a heavy labor vote at the last municipal election.

Ultimatum For "Reds."

Mayor Charles F. Gray and members of the common council today joined with provincial and federal authorities in serving notice on union labor workers that either the alien extremists in the labor ranks must be ousted or every force of law and order will be concentrated to rid the country of the element. The mayor announced that the chief purpose of the meeting called for tomorrow is "to clear the air of the menace of the radical propaganda and possible misunderstandings, which were threatened to involve the entire Dominion."

The chief executive stated that he had received assurances that neither collective bargaining nor union recognition would be rejected by Winnipeg employers in considering a plan for settlement of the strike.

Nearly all the stores in the business section were open today, and many other places of business announced that they would open tomorrow. Morning and evening editions were issued by the Winnipeg Free Press today.

Ry. Shopmen and War Board Will Come to Terms

MONTREAL, May 22.—Practically all danger of a strike of railway mechanical employees and shopmen throughout Canada has been removed according to a statement issued by C. Dickie, one of the delegates of the Federated Shopmen's Union now negotiating for wage-increases with the Canadian railway war board. Mr. Dickie states that he expects a decision on the main points of a new wage schedule early next week. He says that the negotiations are proceeding smoothly.

La Lotte, the roller-skating bear, special headline attraction at the Grand again today and Saturday. A big animal novelty act that pleases young and old alike.

BESSIE BARRISCALE IN PLEASING ROLE AT THE PATRICIA

Two Comedies and Vaudeville on Same Bill Again Today and Saturday.

Bessie Barriscale, the blond beauty with the luminous eyes, has a double role in "A Trick of Fate," her new picture which was shown at the Patricia yesterday.

In this picture she is called upon to portray two characters opposite in everything except personal appearance.

As Mary Lee, a demure Southern girl, compelled by adverse circumstances to leave her aristocratic environment and adopt the musical comedy stage, she is the personification of naive innocence.

As "Mlle. Zura," a French danseuse and singer of risque songs in the "Cafe of the Black Rat," in Paris—violent in temper, capricious of temperament—she is the essence of naughty sophistication.

The ways of the dancer and the Southern lass cross. In New York Mary Lee takes the place of "Mlle. Zura" in the musical show when that temperamental lady refuses to go on. "Mlle. Zura" meets a tragic fate at the hands of her Apache lover who has followed from Paris, but on account of the remarkable resemblance to Mary Lee, who is posing as the real "Mlle. Zura" in the show, the body is supposed to be that of the Southern girl.

Suspicion is cast upon the manager, the maid, and even the lover of Mary Lee in the minds of the audience. The method used to entrap the Apache is startlingly dramatic, ending in the original "Cafe of the Black Rat" in Paris, where the Apache goes raving mad.

Two excellent comedies and a vaudeville are presented on the same bill that will be repeated today and Saturday.

WELL-BALANCED SHOW AT GRAND THEATRE STARS MISS BRADY

Vaudevillians Get Over in Bill That Delights.

Few people ever imagined that an animal so ponderous as a huge Russian bear could be taught the fine art of roller skating. Yet it has been done, and La Lotte, the bear who has accomplished this feat, gave exhibitions of her accomplishments to audiences at the Grand, who, to say the least, were delighted immensely. In this act, she does a number of comic stunts that are sure to please. Her master is a clever skater and holds up his end of the turn well.

Van Bros. present a turn entitled, "Get 'Em and Hold 'Em." This act went over well at all performances yesterday, the audience being unable to refrain from laughing, because of the witty remarks of this clever duet. They also gave many selections on the saxaphone that received many well-deserved rounds of applause.

Lovers of the drama received a pleasant surprise when "Pinched," a little comedy playlet by Whitney Collins, was presented. Nesbit Scoville and three associate players made a decided hit with the audience.

Jed Dooley, "A Western Boy from the East," truly can be styled a versatile comedian of the first water. His jokes and witty sayings are original and keep the audience in constant laughter. His rendering of several pieces on the saxaphone came in for much applause. Near the conclusion of his act he does many clever stunts with the lassoo. Such acts as this are features on any bill.

Muriel Hudson and Dave Jones appear in an act entitled, "On the Bridal Path," a sketch that appeases the appetite of the audience for fun and more fun. Very few vaudevillians can win the audience to such an extent that it feels as if those behind the footlights are a part of those in front of them, but this clever pair accomplish this.

Alice Brady, in the feature film, "Her Great Chance," shows her wonderful powers of portrayal. This Select picture, her latest, is her best. As Lola Gray, a shop girl, who wins a husband of the rich class, she is seen in one of the best roles in which she yet has appeared. The story is an absorbing one. The play is filled with comic situations.

"The Evolution of the Bottle," a Ford educational film, is an added feature of the bill.

This excellent program, which drew full houses yesterday, is sure to do so today and on Saturday.

GREAT ALLIED VICTORY WON IN N. RUSSIA

The Main Bolshevik Position Turned and Enemy Runs.

LONDON, May 22.—The Allied troops on the north Russian front have carried out a successful turning movement against the main Bolshevik position, forcing the enemy to retreat southward, according to a north Russian official communication received here this evening.

Several towns were captured and many prisoners taken, and the enemy suffered heavy casualties.

The communication says the turning movement was carried out May 20, north of Medvyejyagora, six miles south of Lumbushki, on the railway, and that the enemy was expelled from his position, and is in full retreat.

The towns of Lumbushki, Ostreehea and Kolodari were taken.

GUELPH MURDERER TO HANG AUGUST 22; APPEAL TO BE MADE

Others Get 10 and 7 Years For Robbery With Violence.

GUELPH, May 22.—The adjourned assizes, which have been in session here all this week, were brought to a conclusion this afternoon. Chief Justice Sir Wm. Mulock presided, and in all three criminal cases brought before him verdicts of guilty were registered.

First, James Giovanzzo was convicted of the murder of Alex Dutki on March 30. He was sentenced this afternoon to be hanged on Friday, August 22. This will give his counsel plenty of opportunity to take their stated case before the court of appeal.

This afternoon Thos. Mallott, a young colored man, was found guilty of robbery with violence in connection with the same case, Mike Hondybura, an Austrian, being his victim, and a sentence of ten years in Kingston Penitentiary was imposed on him. John Nasadick, the young Austrian, who pleaded guilty yesterday to the same offence as Mallott, goes to Kingston for seven years.

VALUABLE SHEEP DESTROYED.

INGERSOLL, May 22.—Eighteen of a flock of twenty-eight sheep belonging to J. A. Morrison, Mount Elgin, were killed this week as the result of being attacked by two dogs. Two of the sheep were killed outright, while sixteen others were so badly injured that they were destroyed on instructions from the township representative. Only two of the entire flock escaped injury, and but for the timely discovery about 5 o'clock in the morning that they were being worried, all would doubtless have been killed. A number of the sheep were pure-bred Shropshires, and the total loss caused by the dogs has been estimated at over $500. The dogs were not known in the district and they escaped.

Chicago, May 23.—Opening: Corn—May, $1 78¾; July, $1 65; Oats—May, 69⅝c; July, 68⅝c.

Chicago, May 23.—Improved weather conditions had a bearish effect today on corn. The market was also weakened by the destruction of a big starch works at Cedar Rapids, Ia., which had been grinding about 20,000 bushels of corn a day. Besides, there was a nearly complete absence of eastern demand. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to ¾c lower, were followed by a slight further sag and then by moderate gains.

Oats tended downward with corn. After opening ½c off to ⅛c above, the market underwent a setback all around.

SIGNING TREATY

enormous part of German industry would therefore inevitably be condemned to destruction. At the same time, the necessity of importing foodstuffs would increase considerably, whilst the possibility of satisfying that demand would diminish in the same proportion.

"'At the end of a very short time Germany would, therefore, not be in a position to give bread and work to her numerous millions of inhabitants, who would be reduced to earning their livelihood by navigation and by trade. Those persons would have to emigrate, but that is a material impossibility, all the more so because many countries, and the most important ones, will oppose any German immigration. Moreover, thousands of Germans expelled from the terrtiories of the powers now at war with Germany from the colonies and territories which Germany must surrender, will return to their native land.

Germany's Toll in War.

"'The putting into execution of the conditions of peace would, therefore, logically bring about the loss of several millions of persons in Germany. This catastrophe would not be long in coming about, seeing that the health of the population has been broken down during the war by the blockade and during the armistice by the aggravation of the blockade. No help, however important or over however long a period it might be distributed, would prevent these deaths en masse. Peace would impose on Germany numberless human sacrifices that this war of four years and a half did not demand of her pride (1,750,000 killed, nearly one million dead, victims of the blockade).

"'We do not know, and, indeed, we doubt, whether the delegates at the Allied and associated powers realize the inevitable consequences which will take place in Germany. An industrial state, very thickly populated, closely bound up with the economic quantities of the world, and reduced to the obligation to import enormous quantities of raw material and foodstuffs, suddenly finds herself pushed back in the phase of her development which would correspond to her economic conditions and the numbers of her population as they were half a century ago. Those who will sign this treaty will sign the death sentence of many millions of German men, women and children.'

"I thought it my duty, before entering upon a discussion of other details of the treaty, to bring to the knowledge of the Allied and associated delegations this summary expose of the problem of the German population.

"I have the honor, etc.

"(Signed) Brockdorff-Rantzau."

The reply of the Allied and associated powers, approved by the council of their principal members on May 22, was also made public.

Allied Reply to Note.

It reads as follows:

"The allied and associated powers have received and have given careful attention to the report of the commission appointed by the German government to examine the economic conditions of the treaty of peace.

"This report appears to them to contain a very inadequate presentation of the facts of the case, to be marked in parts by great exaggeration, and to ignore the fundamental considerations arising both out of the incidence and the results of the war, which explain and justify the terms, that it is sought to impose.

"The German note opens with the statement that the industrial resources of Germany were inadequate before the war for the nourishment of a population of 67,000,000, and it argues as though this were the total for which with diminished resources she will still be called upon to provide.

"This is not the case. The total population of Germany will be reduced by about six million persons in the non-German territories, which it is proposed to transfer. It is the needs of this smaller aggregation that we are called upon to consider.

Must Have Expected It.

"Complaint is made in the German note that Germany is required to surrender her merchant tonnage, existing, or in course of construction, and that prior claim is made upon her shipbuilding capacity for a limited term of years. No mention is made of the fact that a considerable portion of the smaller tonnage of Germany is left to her unimpaired; and it seems to have entirely escaped the notice of her spokesman that the sacrifice of her larger shipping is the inevitable and necessary penalty imposed upon her for the ruthless campaign which, in defiance of all laws and precedent, she waged during the last two years of the war upon the mercantile shipping of the world.

"As a partial offset against the twelve and three-fourths million tons of shipping sunk, it is proposed to transfer four million tons of German shipping. In other words, the shipping which it is proposed to take from Germany constitutes less than one-third of that which was thus wantonly destroyed. The universal shortage of merchant shipping is the result, not of the terms of peace, but of the action of Germany, and no surprise can reasonably be felt if she is called upon to bear a share—and it is a very moderate share—of a loss for which her own criminal deeds have been responsible.

Areas Still Productive.

"Great stress is laid on the proposal that on the eastern side Germany shall be deprived of the regions specially devoted to the production of wheat and potatoes. This is true, but the note fails altogether to observe that there is nothing in the peace treaty to prevent either the continued production of those commodities in the areas in question, or the importation into Germany. On the contrary, the free admission of these products of the eastern districts is provided for during a period of three years. Moreover, it is fortuante for Germany that those regions have lost none of their productivity owing to the ravages of war. They have escaped the shocking fate which was dealt out by the German armies to the corresponding territories in Belgium and France on the west and Poland, Russia, Rumania and Serbia on the east. There appears to be no reason why their produce should not continue to find a market on German soil.

Germany Forgets.

"Stress is laid upon the proposed restrictions of the import of phosphates. It is, however, forgotten that Germany has never produced but has always imported the phosphates of which she stands in need. Nor is there anything in the terms of peace which will prevent or hinder the importation of phosphates into Germany in the future. Other countries which do not produce phosphates are also compelled to import them in common with many other products from the outside, and the only difference in the two situations will arise from the relative degree of wealth or impoverishment in the country's concern.

"The German note makes special complaint of the deprivation of coal, and asserts a nearly one-third of the production of the existing coal mines will be lost. But it omits to notice that one-fourth of the pre-war consumption of German coal was in the territories which it is now proposed to transfer. Further it fails to take into account the production of lignite, 80 million tons of which were produced annually in Germany before the war, and none of which is derived from the transferred territory.

CHARLIE RAY AND CHARLIE CHAPLIN AT MAJESTIC TODAY

Miss Audrey Moreland in New Program of Violin Selections.

Charles Ray, the Thomas H. Ince-Paramount star, appears in a decidedly new type of character in his new photoplay, "Greased Lightning," which will be presented at the Majestic Theatre today and Saturday.

We have seen Mr. Ray in past performances as the baseball player, the hired man, the young city sport, the spoiled mother's boy and the like, but no type of the past gives him such opportunity for his subtle comedy as does the small town inventor, a character he portrays with admirable taste in "Greased Lightning."

At the Majestic today in "Greased Lightning," also Charlie Chaplin in "Love's Young Dream" and Audrey Moreland in violin selections.

The play derives its name from a racing automobile, the product of the young inventor's genius, which fails to work until the crucial moment in the story. Then it becomes the speed demon that runs down the villain.

Mr. Ray is surrounding by a capable cast, including Wanda Hawley, Robert McKim, Willis Marks and others. The story was written by Julien Josephson and directed by Jerome Storm, under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince.

In addition to this screen production Charlie Chaplin appears in one of his funniest films, "Love's Young Dream," which is a scream from start to finish.

Miss Audrey Moreland provides a new program of violin selections.

MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND
ADELE GARRISON'S NEW PHASE OF
REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

What Mother Graham Started To Do To Complicate Matters.

"A ghost of the past!"

The words haunted my waking moments, and said themselves over and over in my dreams during the days following my outing with my father, the day which had ended so unpleasantly.

I think they were all the more forcibly impressed upon my brain because of the fact that from the moment my father had uttered them he had never again referred to the woman whose insolent recognition of him had so upset him upon the evening of our "celebration" dinner together. Of course, I had never even remotely approached the subject with him since, tried to avoid even the appearance of watching over him. But I couldn't help seeing that he was distrait, palpably worried.

It was the second day after our experience that my mother-in-law, who always takes a childish pleasure in being first to receive the mail and distribute it—indeed, she watches for the postman when she's able to leave her room, for fully an hour before it is time for him to arrive—called me aside with a much injured expression.

"Whatever has gotten into your father, Margaret?" she demanded crossly.

Filled as I was with the memory of the upsetting incident at the cafe I felt a qualm of something very like terror at her question.

"Why! what do you mean?" I stammered.

Madge's Inspirations.

"Well, what's the matter with you?" she retorted, fixing me with an inquisitive eye. "You're all pale and wobbly. I think the whole family's got the high strikes. Your father's going around starting at every ring of the doorbell or the telephone as if it were a summons to the scaffold. He runs to answer the telephone as if he were 19 and expected his best girl to talk to him, and he watches for the postman like a hawk, is out at the gate to meet him and no one gets even a glance at the mail until he has looked it all over.

"And he told Katie today that as she had so much to do and he was only 'loafing' he would answer the doorbell hereafter when he was in the house. Of course, Katie's delighted, and I can just imagine the time I'll have getting her broken in to answering it again when he gets tired of this freak. That ape always takes an ell when you give her an inch."

I knew that Mother Graham didn't mean her apparent harsh stricture against Katie, but that her irritation against my father had to vent itself somewhere. I tried to summon what shreds of poise were left me in order to give my mother-in-law a plausible explanation of my father's actions.

"Why, I think the explanation is very simple!" I said at last slowly. "Father is very much better than he was, and, as you know, he never has entirely severed his connection with the secret service, although for a long time he has done very little work. But don't you think it entirely probable that he has some big thing on hand?"

A Strange Question.

I had struck the right chord with my mother-in-law! I mentally blessed as an inspiration the thought of her childish, romantic enthusiasm for anything that savored of mystery which had flashed into my mind and sponsored the theory I had just voiced.

"Why, of course!" she exclaimed delightedly. "How stupid of me not to have thought of it before. I'll be mighty careful after this to keep out of his way myself, and to see that that ape of a girl doesn't bother him by snooping around. Her curiosity will be the death of her some day."

She pondered for a long moment, then looked up at me wistfully.

"It wouldn't do, would it, Margaret, for me to hint to him that I would like to help him if I could in anything he's doing?"

"I'm afraid not," I hesitated, "but I can promise you this, if he says anything to me concerning it I will tell him of your willingness and ability to help. But unless he says something himself I wouldn't dare question him. The best way we can help him is to keep out of his way as you suggest."

"Of course," she acquiesced promptly, and so well did she fulfill her part of the bargain that my father was left absolutely without espionage on the part of anyone.

What summons or message he received, whether by 'phone or letter, I don't know. But that he had been given some unpleasant shock I knew from his manner, his hurt, humiliated face, when a week later he hesitatingly put a startling query to me.

"Daughter, have you cashed that check I gave you?"

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

SATURDAY, MAY 24.

While the stellar forces point to a day of great activity and interest, certain annoyances are indicated, mainly in family affairs. These may grow out of a strong tendency to pleasure and company, on which the activities will be centered with, possibly, a predisposition toward the unconventional or the eccentric. Letters and papers should be written carefully, and the possibility of treachery, fraud or duplicity avoided. With these precautions it should prove to be a day of progress as well as pleasure.

Those whose birthday it is are promised a progressive and happy year, but should heed the conventions and beware deception. A child born on this day will be active, energetic, progressive, artistic and fairly successful in life.

DIARY OF A FASHION MODEL

BY GRACE THORNCLIFFE.

She Describes a Strikingly Novel Trimming Combination For Afternoon Frocks.

I have a model in gabardine, Mrs. Perry, such as you wish," said madame. "I could, of course, duplicate in grey or blue charmeuse if you don't care for the wool fabric."

"Gabardine is very smart, and looks cool in the light shades of beige and grey, but I want an afternoon gown that will feel cool as well as look cool," Mrs. Perry replied.

"Charmeuse or crepe meteor is your fabric then," replied madame, "I'll show you some models and you can then decide on what you wish."

"Please show Mrs. Perry the grey gabardine with the white organdie and the gold braid," madame said to me.

"White organdie and gold braid sounds as far apart as the poles," Mrs. Perry replied. "I cannot reconcile the two ideas."

"Wait until you see the effect and then judge," said madame. "Life is made up of inconsistencies and so are fashions."

When I came in wearing this afternoon gown, which is very stunning, Mrs. Perry immediately waived her objections to the combination.

"I am already converted to your idea," she said. "This model is simply stunning, but will it look as well in silk?"

"Of course it will. Charmeuse will be an even better choice for summer," explained madame.

"The blouse of this gown is cut with a long tab that passes under the girdle, as you see. This organdie insert in the blouse and skirt gives the unusual note to the dress. I haven't used gold braid directly on the organdie as you thought at first. I have kept these little inserts of organdie. The gold braid looks well on the sleeves and tab, don't you think?"

"It gives an extremely smart touch, madame, and answers to the little gold buttons."

"I thought you would like it," madame said. "How does that one-sided collar appeal to you?"

"I must confess that rather startled me at first. I thought your mannequin had gotten her collar out of place," Mrs. Perry said, smiling at me.

"No, that collar opening is in line with the tab, you see. That is its 'raison d'etre.'"

"I like this dress, madame, but I'm perplexed to decide between grey and blue. Would it be as good looking made up in old blue?"

"Yes, this gown would be lovely made up in old blue crepe meteor with either gold or silver braid and buttons."

"Somehow I like silver and blue," Mrs. Perry said.

"One has only to look up to the skies to know that silver is the color complement for blue. Suppose you have this model duplicated in old blue charmeuse with silver braid and buttons, and inserts, collar and cuffs of white organdie," madame suggested.

"I'd like that," Mrs. Perry said, "but I don't care particularly for that hat."

"This hat is extremely new, with its towering aigrette and fringed feathers hanging over the brow. If, however, you don't care for it I'll show you some broadly picturesque models of black straw," madame said.

"Oh, let's see them," eagerly said Mrs. Perry.

THE "LEADER" IN CORSETS

WHY THE COILENE FRONT-LACE STYLE HAS WON THIS DISTINCTION.

"They chose her for the president because she has qualities which place her head and shoulders above the other women as a leader," was the explanation of an election offered the other day.

It is the "qualities of leadership" which cause the front lace COILENE CORSETS to be the first choice of discerning women, the qualities of finish, fit, style and comfort, to which are added the VENTILATED BACK, so essential to health, and the tongue to protect the tender flesh from the lacing.

The prices appeal, $3.50 to $9.50 a pair. Sold at the Coilene Corset Shop, 176 DUNDAS STREET, over Dowler's store. b

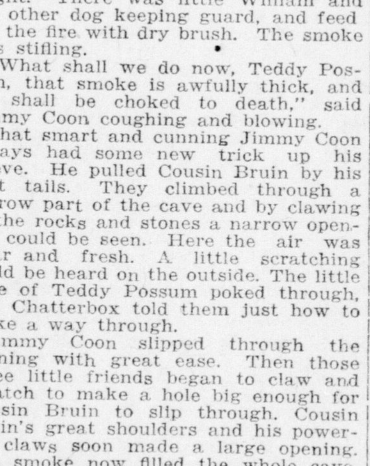

COUSIN BRUIN'S ESCAPE.

Cousin Bruin and Jimmy Coon who had been sleeping soundly on the bed of leaves were aroused by the thick smoke. Cousin Bruin stumbled towards the door of the cave, but the fire was blazing so fiercely that he drew back. He did not dare to cross, so he went back into the back of the cave. Jimmy Coon ran towards the other opening of the cave, but there the fire was just as bright. There was little William and the other dog keeping guard, and feeding the fire with dry brush. The smoke was stifling.

"What shall we do now, Teddy Possum, that smoke is awfully thick, and we shall be choked to death," said Jimmy Coon coughing and blowing.

That smart and cunning Jimmy Coon always had some new trick up his sleeve. He pulled Cousin Bruin by his coat tails. They climbed through a narrow part of the cave and by clawing at the rocks and stones a narrow opening could be seen. Here the air was clear and fresh. A little scratching could be heard on the outside. The little nose of Teddy Possum poked through, and Chatterbox told them just how to make a way through.

Jimmy Coon slipped through the opening with great ease. Then those three little friends began to claw and scratch to make a hole big enough for Cousin Bruin to slip through. Cousin Bruin's great shoulders and his powerful claws soon made a large opening. The smoke now filled the whole cave, and those little friends of Cousin Bruin worked harder than ever. Again Cousin Bruin began to cough and sputter.

Those Faithful Companions Wandered Away Through the Woods.

Finally Cousin Bruin's great shoulder and his shaggy head came through the opening. Harder than ever those little animals scratched and worked. That great bear pushed and clawed and finally came through on the outside of the great cave. He looked over the top of the little hill and saw the two boys working away at the fires. Far away Farmer Jones and another man came through the woods with Bowser at his heels and his gun over his shoulder.

Then Jimmy Coon and Teddy Possum laughed, and Cousin Bruin smiled his broad smile. Those faithful companions wandered away through the woods, as little William and Fred fed those brush fires faithfully to keep up a dense smoke so that they could drive out Cousin Bruin.

He then changed his opinion about business being slow, for he had never seen the like for a rush. Just the same with bargains.
