

MEN MOBBED DOG-CATCHER SERIOUS ROW ON PHILIP STREET

Crowd Took a Dog Away and Chased the Trusty Canine-Pounder Away From the Scene of His Would Be Triumph

Dog-Catcher Blackstock had the time of his life this morning when he tried to capture a bull dog on Philip street near the rolling mill. He had been dared to enter the district and this morning went after the bull dog. He got the dog all right, but was immediately surrounded by a crowd of men and women who tore it away from him and started to beat him. The men ripped one of the wheels off his wagon and left the vehicle a wreck by the roadside.

MISS ALLIE DALLYN Who Met With Tragic Death by Fall From Railway Bridge at St. Thomas Yesterday.

WORK OF DREDGING THAMES WILL BE RUSHED FORWARD

Boating on the River This Summer Will Be First-Class—Some Great Races Will Be Pulled Off.

The work of dredging the Thames will commence at once, and it is expected that before the summer is very far advanced the Thames will be in better shape for boating than it has been in many years before. The work will be done by Mr. Baham, of New Orleans, who will do it at the instigation of the Thames Boat Club. Mr. Baham will commence work at once at the forks, and will dredge the river right through to the cove, and make it seven feet deep, which will be ample for any of the boats now on the Thames. "We will have some of the finest races this season London has ever seen," said an enthusiastic boatman this afternoon.

LONDONER SENDS PICTURES OF THE COSTA RICAN QUAKE

Mr. William Mullins Has Forwarded Many Views to Water Commissioner Pocock—Scenes of the Terrible Devastation Are Shown.

Water Commissioner Pocock, of this city, has a most interesting series of pictures of the recent disaster at Cartago, Costa Rica. Mr. Wm. T. Mullins, a former Londoner, at the present time manager of the Costa Rican Railway, forwarded over a score of very fine pictures of the disaster to Mr. Pocock. The ruin caused by the quake is beyond comparison with any other. The shock lasted only three seconds, but in that time millions of dollars worth of damage was done, and hundreds of lives were blotted out. All the heavy and substantial buildings in Cartago were ruined. Magnificent churches, splendid dwellings and office buildings were literally shaken to pieces, carrying death and destruction with them. The fine Peace Building, donated by Andrew Carnegie to be an American Hague, where the difficulties of the Latin races in America could be adjusted, was shown in one of the photos. The building is a complete wreck. The fine statue of "Peace" is thrown from its pedestal, and lies face downward in the debris. The fine marble and cement work is shattered beyond any possibility of restoration. The governor's palace was also destroyed, and his wife and daughter were killed. The shattered churches and graveyards furnish gruesome spectacles. The dead are not buried in the ground, but are sealed in vaults in buildings. These buildings were shaken to pieces and the skeletons and coffins are thrown about in endless confusion. "I remember the place very well," said Commissioner Pocock. "When I visited Mr. Mullins, he took me about the place and showed me all the details of the disaster. The scenes are so different from anything we have in this country. Enormous sums of money are spent on these mausoleums, one or two that I saw costing easily $150,000. These are, in a majority of instances, shattered and broken. The large buildings, with their numerous vaults for the dead, like safety deposit vaults in a bank, only, of course, much larger, are shown broken and in ruins. Those of a flimsy character came through all right."

LONDON CHINK PAID FINE FOR A DOG

Said Canine Did Not Belong to Him But Avoided More Trouble.

Jung Lee, a Chinaman who keeps a laundry in the east end, will live in history as the first Chinaman in London to pay a fine for allowing a dog to be at large with its master. Jung Lee told the court that it wasn't his dog. It had belonged to him formerly, he said, but he had given it away to another Chinaman, and the other Chinaman had allowed it to escape. The pup had rather a liking for Lee, and when a big policeman took after it, it ran for Lee's shop. The court suggested that the other Chinaman be brought into court. This would have involved still more Chinamen coming as interpreters, and, fearing that the whole Chinese population would be brought up, Lee decided to pay the $2 out of his own pocket and take a chance of collecting it from the man to whom he gave the dog. The case of Sarah McDowell, of 913 William street, whose dog, it is alleged, bit Moses Litzinsky, a Russian junk dealer, a few days ago, was adjourned until tomorrow. John Beattie paid $2 for allowing his dog to run out without its muzzle.

FORMER LONDON LADY DIED IN ERIE, PA.

Word Received of the Demise of Mrs. Charlotte Flint. Mr. George Burrows today received word of the death of his aunt, Mrs. Charlotte Flint, in Erie, Pa. The funeral will be held in that city on Saturday. Mrs. Flint lived for many years in London, with her daughter, Mrs. James Second, Stedwell street. Last fall she went to Erie to visit and was taken ill. She lingered until yesterday, when she died. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. James Second, of this city, and Mrs. Anderson, of Erie, and one son, George, of Erie. Mrs. G. Burrows, Adelaide street, is a sister.

THE ASSEMBLY TALKS HOME MISSION WORK

Men and Money Needed for Army of New-Comers in the West.

Halifax, June 3.—The commissioners to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church heard much to encourage and much to give food for serious reflection in the reports presented yesterday, and the discussions that attended their presentation. It was home mission day, and the fathers and brethren were reminded that a great tide of immigration, the greatest in the history of Canada, was rolling over the western plains, and that men and money were needed to provide religious services for the newcomers. The call was especially for men. Mr. Edward Brown warned the assembly of the folly of sending out immature boys to become the pioneers of Christian work in the west. The committee also directed attention to the extraordinary increase in the home mission stations of the west. There were 258 eight years ago; now there are 503. For the coming year the church must find almost a hundred thousand dollars more on home missions than it did two years ago.

THE KING'S BIRTHDAY

Flags Are Flying But Business Going On As Usual. This is the King's Birthday. Every available flag in the city is flying at the masthead, but there is no other indication of a celebration. Legal business is practically at a standstill, but all other places of business are open. THE OAKS STAKES. Epsom Downs, Eng., June 3.—The Oaks stakes of 5,000 sovereigns for 3-year-old fillies, distance about one mile and a half, was run today and won by Rosedrop. Evolution was second, and Pernelle third. Eleven horses started. Waldorf-Astors's Winkippoo was the favorite, but did not secure a place.

GASTE CIGARMAKERS RETURN TO WORK

Employer and His Men Have Patched Up Their Differences.

An arrangement was reached at noon today between the cigarmakers of the Jose Gaste Company who are out on strike, and the firm, and all the men of that factory will return to work on Monday morning. The men agreed to accept the bill which Mr. Gaste offered them at the commencement of the trouble. "I made them the fairest proposition I could," said Mr. Gaste this afternoon. "We pay the highest wages of any shop in the city, and our employees had no kick coming. They did not need to go on strike to get what they did. I offered it to them from the start."

He has always been one of the hardest workers, and has on several occasions taken a strong stand on leading questions. For some time Mr. Milliard was stationed at Exeter. His son, Rev. J. E. Milliard, of general, was elected assistant president.

DOG OWNERS ENRICHING THE COFFERS OF THE CITY

Fines Are Running Up Into the Hundreds at $2 Per Appearance—Sad Story of How Easy It Is to Get Into Trouble.

The order to muzzle all dogs is proving the prize package revenue-getter for the police court. It has got Indian listers' fines and bicycle riders beaten a mile. In the three months that the order has been in force no less than 192 citizens have appeared in court and separated themselves from two good dollars each, making a total of $384. The Indian listers, even in their palmyest days, never paid even half of this amount in three months. The bicycle riders, in a whole season, only pay about half as much. Alas! 'Tis True. None of the other sources are nearly as steady, either, as the dog fines. Hardly a day passes but some hapless individual while feeding his pup a bone, forgets to close the gate or the door or something, and the dog, rejoicing in his newly-found liberty, hies for the street and generally runs, merrily wagging his tail, right up to some policeman. Then follows a short chase of the dog, in which the canine invariably goes straight home. In a short interview at the door with the policeman follows, "name and address, please"; a summons next day, a short session before the court opens with Mr. Moule, the passing of $2 from the person charged to the police court clerk or else an appearance in court, a denial, followed by the officer's evidence, and then "33, please."

A COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE TECHNICAL EDUCATION PROBLEM

Minister of Labor Announces the Personnel at Berlin Banquet—A Comprehensive Tour of Two Continents To Be Made in Search of Information.

Berlin, June 2.—Hon. Mackenzie King, at the banquet given tonight by the Laurier Club in honor of Hon. A. G. MacKay, the Liberal leader in the Legislature, announced the appointment of the gentlemen named as the members of the royal commission on industrial training and technical education. That Mr. David Forsyth, the principal of the Berlin Collegiate, who has made a study of technology for many years, has been appointed to the commission, making the announcement doubly welcome. Following is the make-up of the commission: James Robertson, C.M.G. LL.D., of Montreal, Que., chairman. Hon. John N. Armstrong, of North Sydney, N.S. George Bryce, LL.D., F.R.S.C., of Winnipeg, Man., above named. M. Gaspard DeSerres, of Montreal, Que. Gilbert M. Murray, B.A., of Toronto, Ont. David Forsyth, M.A., of Berlin Ont. Secretary and reporter to the commission, Thos. Bengough, C.S.R. After reciting that industrial efficiency is all-important to the development of the Dominion and to the promotion of the home and foreign trade of Canada in competition with other nations, and that industrial efficiency can be best promoted by the adoption in Canada of the most advanced systems and methods of industrial training and technical education, and that the premiers of the several provinces have expressed, on behalf of the Government, their respect for the provinces, approval of the appointment by the Federal authorities of a royal commission, the order in council appoints the above named gentlemen a royal commission to inquire into the needs and present equipment of the Dominion as respects industrial training and technical education and into the systems and methods. WATERWORKS A GOLD MINE! MR. POCOCK DEFENDS DEPT.

Points Out That the City Has Not a Dollar Invested in the Utility—City Only Pledged Its Credits—All Its Assets Paid for Out of Its Own Pocket.

Commissioner Pocock takes issue with Ald. Richter on the latter's criticism of the waterworks department in his manifesto issued at a recent conference, and points out that the department is paying the city well. "In fact, it is a regular gold mine," he said. "The city owns the utility is wrong," said Commissioner Pocock in an interview with The Advertiser. "A water rate is not a tax, and it cannot be considered as such. It is like gas, because the city owns the utility is the reason to regard it as a tax. The city has not a cent invested in the waterworks. All the city did was pledge its credit for the utility, necessary to establish this utility. The amount invested has been $980,449.14, according to the figures of the city auditor. That includes all the money placed in the enterprise since it was started."

Hydrant Rentals. "We have not charged a high rental for hydrants. We ask but $15. Other cities charge $25. Some, in fact, charge $50. We have allowed the city for some years water to sprinkle the streets, and have charged nothing for it. The net amount of money turned into the city is much greater than appears in actual figures, and causes the waterworks to assume a position comparable to any industry that can be named. The London waterworks is a gold mine."

Competitive Plans. The suggestion for competitive plans is not taken seriously at the present time. In order that plans be properly drawn, much more information is necessary. The city is now in the possession of the city. "It would be better and cheaper to take the picture of city halls in Canada and other countries and look them over," said City Architect Nutter. "There is so little information available that it would be impossible to prepare plans at this time."

WET BLANKET WAS SPREAD ON JOINT BUILDINGS SCHEME

May or Is Not Hopeful That the County Council Will Join Hand With the City—Honest Effort Will Be Made to Do Something.

City hall officials are not optimistic that the county will join with the city and have a joint municipal building. The result of the conference last night has been to throw cold water on the proposition, and the ultimate result will be that the city will have to play a lone hand in respect to a city hall. Mayor Beattie is not hopeful, and has come to the conclusion that the county will prefer to remain where they are at the present time. "The outlook does not appear bright," said his worship in discussing the proposition. "The county councillors are apparently well satisfied with their present location, and will hardly be induced to select another site. I do not like the site, much preferring the 'V' on Richmond street. I was in favor of closing Park avenue in order to give plenty of room there. I had no such intention, nor have I now. I would make a fine driveway there, and improve the beauty of the thoroughfare, making it more attractive rather than closing it up. "However, it is our duty to make an honest effort to have the county come in. A joint building would be a splendid thing for the city. If they do not, that is their own look out, and we will have to go along alone. A new city hall is needed and is bound to come."

LAKE ERIE CHASE IN A BEATING RAIN

Burglar Puts Out From Detroit But Is Quickly Located. Mysterious Affair in Heart of Chicago's Business District.

Detroit, June 3.—A Sandusky (Ohio) dispatch says after a chase of miles out in Lake Erie in a beating rain, Sandy McDonald, accused of burglary, and a fugitive of more than a year, was captured close to the Canadian line. McDonald in a sailboat with a good start was overhauled by the sheriff's posse in motor boats. When they came to close quarters McDonald produced a rifle which he pointed at his pursuers, commanding them to stop. They declined to do so and McDonald surrendered at discretion. When arraigned at Port Clinton, McDonald is alleged to have confessed that he had been engaged in smuggling whiskey from Canada into the United States for many years.

FIRE AT HUNTSVILLE.

Huntsville, June 3.—Fire broke out early this morning in the large store of White's Limited, wholesale and retail hardware merchants. Only the prompt and energetic efforts of the firemen prevented the loss of the whole stock, and the spreading of the fire to the adjoining buildings, the post office and the Dominion Bank. The loss by fire, smoke and water cannot be accurately estimated at present. The cause of the fire is unknown, but is attributed to spontaneous combustion.

AID FOR VICTIMS.

Ottawa, June 3.—The General Explosive Company, of Montreal, has donated $15,000 to the relief of the families of the eleven victims of the explosion which occurred in Hull on May 8th.

COUNTY STICKS TO OLD SITE FOR JOINT MUNICIPAL BUILDING

Joint Committee of County Council and the Board of Works Had a Conference Last Night—County Is To Be Asked to Name a Committee With Authority to Act in the Matter.

At the informal conference at the city hall last night between the board of works and the joint committee of county council, it was decided to ask the latter body to name a special committee to deal with the question of joint municipal buildings. The request will be backed up by a resolution which will be brought before the county councillors some day next week during the session. The joint committee have been taking the question up with the board of works, but they had no authority to do anything, hence the request for a committee with authority. A Decided Split. There was a decided split in the opinions of the two sections last night. Mr. S. Frank Glass, reeve of the town

TENDERS FOR DEBENTURES WILL BE OPENED TODAY

Niagara Power Calls for the Sale of a Big Amount.

The city will this afternoon consider tenders for $357,882.64 worth of debentures which have been offered for sale. This issue includes $123,700 for waterworks, extension in taking over the artesian well proposition and the big main down town, and $7,000 for ordinary main extension, together with $227,182.64 of Niagara power debentures. The original amount of power debentures was $235,000, but $7,877.36 have been retired by sinking fund, leaving the balance to be sold at $347,104.64. There have been tenders received to date from all the prominent stock brokerage firms in Canada, and it is expected that the securities will bring a good price. The market is none too good at the present time, however, but the debentures of the city of London have always gone well, and it is thought probable that the present conditions will affect the sale to any appreciable extent.

Richmond, Va., June 3.—Henry Smith, alias Henry Battine, was put to death in the electric chair this morning for the murder of Alexander, March 16, 1909, of Walter F. Schultz, of Chicago, an artist. The negro confessed, naming Eugene Dorsey, Richard Pines and Cain Johnson as his confederates, as his accomplices. These three men will be electrocuted next Friday. Schultz had gone to Washington for the inauguration of President Taft and was sight-seeing in Alexandria when the negroes set upon him, dragged him into an alley and there murdered and robbed him.

TEDDY SEES JOE

Colonel Roosevelt Has Prolonged Conversation With Joseph Chamberlain. London, June 3.—Theodore Roosevelt was a guest today at the country home of Col. Arthur H. Lee, where were also entertained John Burns, president of the local government board; Sir Harry Hamilton Johnston and Captain Robert F. Scott, the Antarctic explorer. The former president arrived early in the afternoon, having stopped en route to have luncheon with William Northrup McMillan. During the expedition in Africa Mr. Roosevelt stopped for several days at Mr. McMillan's African quarters on Ju-Ju ranch. This morning Mr. Roosevelt called upon Joseph Chamberlain, and the two engaged in a prolonged conversation. The veteran statesman recently returned from the Riviera where he went last February when in very feeble health. The visit south proved beneficial.

BELGIAN GOVERNMENT WINS AT THE POLLS

Budapest, June 3.—Eighty districts are yet to be heard from in Belgium, but the Government has received a majority of more than a hundred seats in the next Parliament. The parties meeting at Brussels are Francis Kossuth and Julius Justh have thus been overwhelmingly defeated. It is discovered that the sweeping victory of the Government candidates was due to official pressure in the various constituencies.

RESIGNS HIS SEAT AS A PROTEST

Edmonton, June 3.—E. H. Riley has resigned his seat in the Alberta Legislature as a protest against the ignoring of Cushing in the formation of the new cabinet. He accuses the chief justice and lieutenant-governor of being parties in a nefarious game to frustrate the will of the people in order to save a political clique.

CAME FROM HAMILTON TO ATTEND PICNIC

Mr. William Yeates, Intended Having a Day Off With the Children. Mr. William Yeates, of Hamilton, a former chairman of the board of education, was in the city this morning, and not knowing that the school picnic was postponed, he offered his assistance. Owing to the bad weather, however, the picnic had to be called off today, and so his services could not be utilized. He will probably return for the outing next Tuesday. Mr. Yeates has always taken a deep interest in the picnic, and was foremost in advocating the annual outing for the youngsters.

OLD-TIME WHALER NOW LIGHTSHIP

Canadian Government to Station Remodeled Craft at South-east Shoal.

Kingsville, Ont., June 3. — The big converted whaling ship, which the Canadian Government purchased, and rebuilt at Quebec during the past winter into the most modern lightship on the great lakes, arrived at this port early in the week in command of Captain Alex. McCormick, and will be taken out to the southeast shoal on Friday.

The new vessel, which is over 100 feet in length, is to take the place of the lightship Kewaunee, maintained by the United States Government, for the past few years on the Southeast Shoal. It is strongly constructed of heavy timbers, capable of resisting the heavy ice of great lakes as well as that of the North Atlantic, where its former career as a whaler took it. The Government officials claim it will stand anything short of a cyclone.

The new boat has been fitted out in comfortable fashion for the maintenance of Captain McCormick and his crew, and the exterior will display the same lights used by the Kewaunee. Fog bells, whistles and a submarine signal will be installed on the boat for the purpose of aiding vessels in that dangerous portion of the lake. The boat will carry a licensed engineer and two competent seamen, besides the captain. A feature of the training on the new ship will be the launching of lifeboats with which to render aid to ships in danger. Commander D. G. McPhail, of the Canadian marine and fisheries department, will be here tomorrow to superintend operations of moving the boat to the southeast shoal. The United States flag ship Kewaunee will probably be taken to some other point of danger in Lake Erie, either above or below the Southeast Shoal.

STICKS TO OLD SITE
 step by step, and we are of the opinion that the site should be taken up first. So far as the county is concerned there is but one site, and that is the present location of the building. The property was divided into county and city for that purpose. There is plenty of room there for growth and expansion, and a lawn in keeping with the dignity of the building could be maintained. If any other site is to be considered we must be considered out of it."

Get Special Legislation.
 Mayor Beattie pointed out that the Government, by special legislation, could allow the county to dispose of the property, and consequently the objection of the county was not a valid one.

"In addition we have too much money invested where we are," said Mr. Glass. "The jail forms a necessary part of the scheme, and it has some value. That would be left where it is, and as a result it would not sell for so high a figure."

The City's Position.
 Mayor Beattie explained that there was no intention of moving the jail from its present site. He did not think the present site of the county building proper for a joint building. His own idea was that the "V" on Richmond street was the proper one. Ald. Tancock wanted the choicest site for the choicest building that could be erected. He favored the Richmond street location.

County Councillor Glass impressed upon the committee that it was no use considering any but the Ridout street property. Mayor Beattie and Ald. Tancock advanced reasons why the Richmond street site was the more suitable, but they did not seem impressive.

Ald. Tancock thought the location the best matter to be taken up, and wanted the joint committee to express an opinion on a joint building. Like Present Location.
 "The site is the thing," added County Councillor Hawshaw. "We consider the present location ideal."
 The discussion wandered about on many matters in connection with it, floor space to be used by both parties, basis of arbitration as to proportionate cost, and the like. It was generally conceded that the apportionment of the cost would have to be settled by arbitration.

County Councillor Glass declared that the city might consider taking a proprietary interest in the jail if the joint buildings were removed, and Mayor Beattie thought this should be taken up. However, it was not dealt with.

County Men Are Firm.
 After a desultory discussion the question of calling a caucus up, and Councillors McFie, Atkinson, and Hawshaw made it very plain that the Ridout street site was the only one to be considered.
 Ald. Saunders thought it should go east, say Waterloo or Colborne streets, on Dundas. Ald. Morgan thought that a building in keeping with the unique architecture of the court house should be erected where the court house now is, and it would be made so attractive that people would come from far and near to see it.
 Ald. Tancock brought up the matter of competitive plans, and suggested that they be called for. City Arch-

The Smallman & Ingram quality standard will not be lowered in our Men's Department. ## CORRESPONDENCE Saving Flowering Shrubs.

 To the Editor of The Advertiser:
 I am indebted to Master Williams, son of Mr. W. T. Williams, of Ilderton, for this valuable piece of information that may be of use to many of your readers, as not only the pasture lands, but a great many fruit trees, especially the cherry tree while in bloom suffers from an insect better known as the June bug. When Mr. Williams saw his flower trees suffer from this beetle he placed a light so as to attract the June bug and placing a tub of water under the lantern he soon found the annoyances trapped in the tub of water. Farmers will have to use some means to destroy these insects or break up their pasture land as hundreds of acres are annually destroyed by them. W. W. R. Mooresville, May 7.

LITTLE BOY DROWNED.
 St. Catharines, June 2.—The body of Eugene Goodrich, aged about six years, was drowned in the slip below lock No. 2 of the Welland Canal this morning. The lad is supposed to have fallen in last evening.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S CATARRH POWDER 25c.
 Is sent direct to the diseased parts by the Improved Blower. Heals the ulcers, clears the air passages, stops droppings in the throat and permanently cures Catarrh and Hay Fever. 25c. Blower free. Accept no substitutes. All dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

itect Nutter pointed out that it would be necessary before plans were called for to decide on the amount of floor space each party to the agreement desired and other information should be furnished. He doubted that competitive plans could be obtained from the best architects for $500.
Nothing Was Done.
 No conclusion was reached on any of the questions. Councillor McFie pointed out that the committee had no authority, and suggested that a resolution be sent to the county asking them to name a committee to go authority.

 To this the board of works agreed, and the necessary resolution was moved by his worship.
 Those present at the conference were Ald. Tancock, Ald. Saunders, Ald. Morgan, Ald. Pocock, Mayor Beattie, City Engineer Graydon, City Architect Nutter, City Clerk Baker, County Councillors S. Frank Glass, F. W. Atkinson, C. M. McFie, G. W. Hawshaw, A. K. Hodgins and Engineer Talbot.
"FINGY" CONNERS QUILTS.
 New York, June 2.—To the accompaniment of bows, smiles and mutual felicitations, William J. Connors retired from office as chairman of the Democratic state committee today, and John A. Dix, of Greenwich, Washington County, was elected to his place. Arthur A. McLean, of Newburg, was re-elected treasurer, and John A. Mason, of New York, who had served as clerk for several years, was made secretary.
 During the meeting there was no evidence of even a difference of opinion. Mr. Dix praised Mr. Connors. Mr. Connors promised his loyal support, and the whole committee thanked him for what he had done.

LONDON, FRIDAY, JUNE 3.

THE ROUGH RIDER AT THE GUILD HALL.

Roosevelt's speech at the Guild Hall has had a mixed reception. One leading newspaper humorously reproaches him with trying to teach his grandmother to suck eggs. Grandmother England has been in the business of governing dependencies for three centuries. She has made somewhat of a reputation in that line. The handling of native races is one of her specialties. The verdict of the world is that she had done fairly well in Egypt. Mr. Roosevelt spends a week in Cairo and Alexandria, with a side trip to the sphinx, and then tells the British nation—to its face—that it is making blunders. The British nation would stand aghast at such a display of cheek if it were not for the riotous absurdity of the performance, and the personality and popularity of the performer. He is an engaging figure, with many of the characteristics that British people admire. If a German, an Austrian or even a Frenchman, as representative of his country as Mr. Roosevelt, had been guilty of the same impertinence, John Bull would have been appalled with anger. But Roosevelt regards as belonging to the family—a forward youth, but entitled to paternal indulgence as one of the blood.

The occasion has two significant features. One is the spectacle of the darling of the American democracy advocating the repression of a race by an alien power. Mr. Roosevelt bluntly says that the Egyptian people are unworthy of even a very limited and tentative grant of self-government, and would be incapable of ruling themselves if they had the power. He virtually condemns the British policy which seeks to teach the country to walk alone. This is a strange doctrine from a Republican, and from a subscriber to the creed that all Governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed.

The other significant feature is the cleavage of opinion in Great Britain. Mr. Roosevelt's sentiments, if not his manners, are approved by the Conservative press, with few exceptions. The majority of the Liberal and Radical papers rebuke both his sentiments and his manners. If Mr. Roosevelt imagined he would avoid British party politics by choosing a subject as apparently remote as Egypt, he was mistaken. British Liberals are inclined to liberal principles in all parts of the empire. They believe their duty to Egypt is not to govern it against its will even for its own good, but to permit it to govern itself so soon as this can be done with safety to British and foreign interests. British Conservatives view with distrust even the very meagre extension of political power to the Egyptians, which Sir Eldon Gorst is proffering as an experiment. They are really, if not avowedly, in favor of the perpetuation of the British occupation. They have found an unexpected recruit in Theodore Roosevelt, Republican.

BRITAIN'S GRAVEST PROBLEMS.

In the current number of the Political Science Monthly appears the text of an address by Mr. George Paish, editor of the London Statist, on "The British Budget and Social Reform," read before the Academy of Political Science at Columbia University recently.

At the outset Mr. Paish deals with the spread of poverty in the United Kingdom. The number of paupers in the British Isles in 1908 was 1,135,000, or 2 1/2 per cent of the population. Evidence given before the poor law and income tax commissions showed that the number of persons assessable under the income tax was only 1,250,000, or virtually the same as the number of paupers in receipt of outdoor and indoor relief. Estates duties and income taxes are paid by everyone who possesses property or enjoys a yearly income exceeding $800. The income of those who paid income taxes in 1908 was $4,250,000,000. The income of the rest of the population was $4,500,000,000. Assuming an average of five persons to the family of each person subject to the income tax, it will be seen that the income tax-paying class includes only 6,250,000 persons in a population of about 45,000,000. Nearly one-half of the nation's income is received by less than 14 per cent of the population, and only slightly more than one-half by the remaining 86 per cent.

Mr. Paish agrees with Sir Robert Clifton's estimate of Great Britain's wealth—namely, $80,000,000,000—and calculates that it increases at the rate of 100 per cent every thirty-three years. This wealth, he says, is owned almost entirely by 14 per cent of the population, while the wages of the masses are so low that they are able to make only the smallest provision against misfortune and old age. On the one hand is the exceeding poverty of great numbers of the people and on the other the enormous wealth of a small number.

The Liberals, on coming into power, recognized that something must be done to diminish these evils. Unlike the Conservatives, they saw no connection between the existing high percentage of unemployment and free trade, and they declared in favor of social rather than fiscal reforms. The result was the Liberal legislative programme providing for old age pensions, for public employment bureaus, and for unemployment, invalidity and widowhood assurance.

Mr. Paish explains in detail the theory of the old age pension system, deals at some length with the other measures of social reform which the Government has already introduced and those it has in contemplation. He then takes up the financial feature, pointing out that to meet the cost of the social reform programme and the increases in the navy the Chancellor of the exchequer found himself obliged to raise by additional taxation $1,000,000 through the budget of 1909-10. Mr. Paish explains how this problem was attacked, and gives an interesting analysis of the budget. He maintains that Mr. Lloyd George's only departure from the accepted British fiscal practice is the introduction of a tax on the increment in land values. Justifying the 29 per cent duty, Mr. Paish says: "We have in our country a population of 45,000,000, which is growing at the rate of about 1 per cent, or 450,000 a year. Our wealth is doubling about every thirty-three years, and the value of land seems to rise just about in proportion to the growth of wealth, that is to say, as we grow richer we can afford to pay a higher price for our land, and we have to pay it. Hitherto the unearned increment from land has entirely escaped taxation."

PICKING OUR IMMIGRANTS. Certain old country emigration societies, which assume that some sort of duty rests on Canada to take care of all persons they send out, whether fit or not, are protesting against the new immigration regulations adopted at the last session of Parliament. These well-intentioned persons overlook the important fact that Canada knows best the class of immigrants she needs and the kind that can be of no use to her either to themselves or to this country. The policy of the Dominion immigration department, sanctioned by Parliament, is to exempt from the money requirement only farm laborers and domestic servants coming to assured employment. All others are required to be ticketed to their destination and have $25 in cash, with a proportionate amount for each member of their families.

These regulations are the outcome of the experience of two years ago. The portals of the country had been thrown open too widely, and many thousands of penniless newcomers, who had been unable to find employment for which they were suited before being overtaken by the rigors of winter. There was much suffering and hardship, and the tales of distress that went back to the old land did Canada an injustice. It was found, too, that many of the immigrants were hopelessly unadapted to the conditions of a new country, and the Government was under the unpleasant necessity of making numerous deportations. That Canada's reputation as a field for immigration has not suffered is proved by the renewed rush to its shores this year. The sifting process has not diminished the quantity, while it has greatly enhanced the quality of British immigration. The country is now getting few or no immigrants likely to become public charges. It is getting the pick and flower.

The Brooklyn Standard-Union commends the Canadian immigration policy. The Dominion, it says, wants immigrants a hundred times more than does the United States, but the Canadian authorities are not sacrificing the Canadian standard of citizenship in order to obtain them. The United States accepts virtually all that choose to come across the waters, believing, apparently, that their shortcomings will leave no permanent trace, and in the end the country will benefit. "But," says the Standard-Union, "Canada reasons differently. The authorities there argue that while an unfit man may help somewhat toward the development, he necessarily lowers the average, which so far has been maintained at a very satisfactory standard." Town settlers, it adds, are not desired; the call is for farmers and farm laborers. The Brooklyn paper suggests that it might not be a bad policy for the United States to change its attitude somewhat and discourage immigration of a certain kind while welcoming that of another, and asks: "Can we any better afford to admit the unit class than Canada?"

OTHER MEN, OTHER MANNERS.

The crown brought two witnesses all the way from Macedonia to Toronto to testify in a case of theft. The arm of British justice is strong—and long.

"Aviation," derived from the Latin avis, a bird, is a snicky word, but nothing better has been offered. The word aviator, however, is an improvement on "aviator." It is at least half-Saxon, and it has a Saxon sound.

It is the duty of every country to take care of its own misfits. Shipping them to Canada is a solution of the problem that Canadians have a right to oppose.

The sale of automobiles in the city this year has been extraordinary. Perhaps there is a widespread impression that when the fashion changes they can be unloaded on the hydro-electric commission.

It is fortunate for our local contemporary that the quarrel it picked with The Advertiser has not reached the affidavit stage.

It is pleasing to know that a Britisher has done something notable in aviation. Capt. Rolls' feat in flying from Dover to Calais and return without alighting ranks with the highest achievements. But what is to become of England's insular security?

Prof. McPadyen, of Knox College, Toronto, has been called to the greatest theological chair in Scotland. The Toronto World says he found the atmosphere of that city unsympathetic. It was the Toronto World, also, that contended that the atmosphere of Toronto was necessary to the highest university education.

Mr. Beck says that the price put upon the Parke flats is fair and reasonable, and that the sticking point is the Gerry flats, which Mr. Gerry has no desire to sell. The Blackburn organ says that Mr. Beck has advised arbitration because the price asked for the Parke flats is extortionate. This is only one of the numerous lies which the organ has been grinding out in the past few days.

It is not to the credit of the Provincial Government that it has shirked its duty in the matter of technical education, and thrown the responsibility upon the federal authorities. The question is one of purely provincial jurisdiction, but in view of the incompetence of the Ontario department of education, the Province is to be congratulated upon the Federal Government's intervention.

The "V" formed by the convergence of Richmond street and Park avenue at Central avenue would be an excellent site for a municipal building, but it would serve a still better purpose if it were added to Victoria Park. The money spent in acquiring it would go further toward the beautification of the city than if spent on any other scheme. It is a blemish on London's chief beauty spot that it should be skirted on one side by backyards and outhouses.

THE IMMIGRATION POLICY.

It is said in England that our immigration policy is a "dog in the manger" policy. This is not the case. What the authorities are aiming at is to exclude those who have neither trades nor money to support themselves, and who are neither able nor anxious to take up land. Canada welcomes mechanics and agriculturists, for those are men who can support themselves. There is no room in Canada for hangers-on. We have heard of many of them already. It would seem that there is widespread misapprehension in Britain regarding the import of our new immigration regulations, and that it would be wise to have their meaning explained in detail in some of the prominent newspapers in the old country.

FOREIGNERS BEHAVE WELL.

According to Chief of Police Fleming, Brantford has at present a foreign population of some 2,500, yet out of 1,705 cases coming before the local police magistrate in 1909, Armenians, Austrians, Germans, Greeks, Hungarians, Danes, Turks, Poles, etc., furnished only 165, the most common offense being violations of the Lord's Day act, for which these people, considering their upbringing, cannot be very severely censured. A particularly good showing is made by the Armenians, 48 in number, and yet supplied only ten police court cases.

LIBERALS DISCOVERED IT.

The recent press excursion to New Ontario astounded the local politicians. The amazing development of Northern Ontario was a revelation to many. Had it not been for the Liberal presence that part of the Province would have been lost to the people, and the stells would have gone into the pockets of Tory politicians.

ECLIPSES FRANCE IN AERIAL FEAT. Capt. Charles S. Rolls, in Wright Biplane, Makes Round Trip to Calais Without Landing. Dover, England, June 2.—The Hon. Charles Stewart Rolls, captain in the London section of the army motor reserve, driving a Wright biplane, vindicated Anglo-Saxon aeronautics by crossing the English Channel twice this evening without alighting. He made the round trip between Dover and Calais in 90 minutes. While two Frenchmen, Louis Bleriot and Count de Lesseps, have crossed the channel in an aeroplane, it remained for an Englishman in an American machine to perform the double feat. The distance across between the two points named is 21 miles, so that his over-water flight of 42 miles without a stop establishes a new record. Capt. Rolls left Dover at 6:30 o'clock. The atmospheric conditions were excellent. He lost no time in manoeuvres, but after describing a circle, headed toward the coast of France. In anticipation of the flight torpedo boats steamed at full speed across the straits, but the pace of the aeroplane was swifter. Motor Works Perfectly. Capt. Rolls sent his machine to a height of 800 feet, and at that altitude he skimmed without the air like a great bird. The motor worked perfectly. The crowd that watched the start confidently awaited the return, and it was not long before

AN ERROR. [Exchange.] A story is told of McKelway, of Washington, prominent in child labor legislation. One day he was looking not unlike a Roman Catholic priest. Two fishermen were passing him one morning, and one saluted him with, "Good mornin', Father McKelway." "He's no father," said his friend to him. "He's no father! He's got a wife and four children!"

BEATEN BY A PROFESSIONAL.

Hank Johnson had long enjoyed the distinction of being the homeliest man in Canyonville, so it was somewhat of a shock to him when Steve Billings came into the Tourist's Retreat and announced, "Boys, there's a homelier man than Hank over at the depot—feller by the name of Charles Battel Loomis, that gives lectures." Without a word Hank started across the road, and was gone some time. "Waal," Steve said, when Hank returned, "I've give up!" "Fect!" Hank retorted, with supreme disgust. "He's a professional."

ORIGIN OF THE "COMMON LAW."

It is said that civil lawyers were first allowed in the Roman courts about three centuries before the coming of Christ. Originally the interpretation of the Roman law was decided by certain learned pontiffs of the college of priests, and these decisions formed a body of unwritten law, which, to distinguish it from the written law, was called the jus civile, or "civil law," and in time became to Rome what the common law has been to England and the great peoples descended from her.

WHY make yourself uncomfortable with an old-fashioned corset when you can have the latest physique effect and be comfortable with the New La Diva Renaissance Corset. "A pudding bag with a string around it." An old-time description which applies to many figures today—thanks to the ordinary corset. This "pudding string" effect is bad both for health and for style. The corset to wear is one which gives that smooth flowing physique—that holds one together comfortably—healthily. On these lines Madam the new La Diva Renaissance Corset will be a revelation to you, as to style, comfort—health—it will give you a physique no other designer studied correct styles where they are created, Rue de la Paix—where they are worn—the tea rooms, Rue de Rivoli, the race-track at Long-champs, the promenades of London and New York, and, finally, moulded on the human form, we evolved the La Diva Renaissance a corset that will give you all the "Chic" and "Svelte" appearance of the most stylish French and American women.

Suffered Terrible Pains From His Kidneys. Perhaps no other organs work harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body, and most people are troubled with some kind of kidney complaint, but do not suspect it. There is no way of getting the kidney poisons out of the system except through the kidneys, and no medicine so effective in taking them out as Doan's Kidney Pills. They help the kidneys to flush out the acid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and urinary passages. Doan's Kidney Pills are entirely vegetable, and may be safely taken by old and young. Mr. Donald A. McInnes, Broad Cove Banks, N.S., writes:—"I was troubled with my kidneys for nine months, and suffered with such terrible pains across the small of my back all the time that I could hardly get around. After taking two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills I began to feel better, and by the time I had taken three, I was completely cured." VILLIERS SEES A WAR. Canada May Be Called Upon in Clash With Russia. Victoria, B. C., June 3.—Frederic Villiers, the famous war correspondent, today, in a speech before the Canadian Club, approved of Mr. Roosevelt's criticism of British rule in Egypt and predicted an inevitable struggle between Great Britain and Germany, and urged Canadians to look to methods for the proper defence of these shores. Germany, declared Mr. Villiers, has a consistent policy, one of "blood and iron." Great Britain has no national policy. Germany will surely be in a position shortly to accomplish her ends. When that time comes I do not think the Teuton will decline; rather will he say to England: "I want so and so; there are my cards. Can you beat them?" Mr. Villiers thought that prior to an outbreak of hostilities Germany would intimate to Russia that now was the time for the latter power to take India. In this event, said Mr. Villiers, Canada would have an opportunity to perform a rare service to the empire. She should be ready to pour about thirty thousand troops into India at the psychological moment. "The Russians know what Canadians can do on the field of battle, and I believe they would hesitate," declared Mr. Villiers.

the speck, which those who had telescopes saw disappear on the French coast, reappeared, growing larger with every minute. When finally the aviator became visible to the naked eye, cheer after cheer arose from the enthusiastic spectators, and as he gracefully soared toward the landing-place made famous by Bleriot, he was given an ovation. He alighted at 8 o'clock, at almost the same spot as Bleriot, showing little signs of the strain of his magnificent flight. Capt. Rolls has successfully followed the sports of bicycling, automobilism, ballooning and aeroplaning. At Cambridge University he was the captain of the bicycle team. Later he competed successfully in numerous automobile competitions, and was awarded the gold medal for his performance in the 1,000 miles trial of 1906 in England. He drove as the representative of Great Britain in the Gordon Bennett race of 1905. Several times he broke the world's record for speed. Capt. Rolls has made more than 150 balloon ascensions. Taking up the sport of heavier-than-air machines, he made a flight with Wilbur Wright at Le Mans in October, 1908. On May 27 last he started to make the cross-channel flight, but he had gone but a few yards when his engine failed and the attempt was abandoned.

THE WOMAN'S CORNER

UNDERWEAR THAT DOESN'T HAVE TO BE IRONED

The summer season of 1910 brings in a new fad in the way of crepe underwear for women. The advantages of crepe are many. The ease with which crepe undergarments may be laundered makes them a boon to the business woman with rather limited purse, to the traveller, or, in fact, to any woman who seeks to escape the high prices of laundries or the discomforts of hot ironing days. The laundering of such underwear consists merely in washing, with some cold-water soap, and drying on the line. The crepe underwear had probably grown out of women's experience with crepe waists, which were so easily cared for in the home laundry. The material is cheap and comes in wide widths.

For Needleworkers

The Chinese give us of their fashions in the last new afternoon tea, cloths, done in blue cottons, with a distinctly Chinese suggestion in the design.

Scrim window curtains show square motifs of fllet lace let into the plain surface at regular intervals.

Lace cushions for sofas are new and most elegant; necessarily they belong to the daintiest boudoir.

Oriental embroideries in rich colors, embodying the Egyptian lotus flower, make effective porch cushions and table covers.

Slip-overs for porch furniture, including chair backs and cushion cases, are buttoned so that they are removable for laundering.

Chintz has become more than ever fashionable for the country home, and is considered altogether correct for small furnishings and upholstery, even in the reception room.

The embroidery hoop will be as useful to the members as to the more dainty fancy worker.

Jagged tears may be better fitted with a firm foundation on which to darn if the rent material is held smooth within a good-sized hoop or frame.

When making a blouse press the sewed-in tucks, even on cotton or linen materials, before cutting out the garment, if you would secure a perfect fit.

Skirt seams are pressed twice. As soon as they are sewed they are flattened, and once again after they are finished with tailor's stitching.

Draw in the neck of every unfinished bodice, whether low or high, to prevent its stretching until the collar is fastened on.

Bands on the skirts of tub dresses are made of the same material and should be sponged—soaked—for twelve hours, even if the material has not been shrunken.

CYNTHIA GREY'S CORRESPONDENTS

Dear Miss Grey: I am 17. When I go to a party with my brother, if he doesn't ask me for the first dance, is it proper for me to dance with the first boy who asks me? 2. Will you kindly advise me of a remedy to remove freckles? 3. When you meet a friend on the street, which should speak first, the lady or gentleman? C. R. L.

1. Yes, 2. Would advise caution in using washes, etc. 3. Consider a reliable druggist about some preparation. 2. The lady.

Dear Miss Grey: Would you please tell me how to prevent patent leather slippers from cracking? PEACHES AND CREAM. There is no remedy that I know of.

Dear Miss Grey: 1. Could you tell me a good tonic for the hair? 2. How should a girl of 17 wear her hair? 3. Is a girl of 17 old enough to go with boys of about her own age occasionally? If so, what should she reply when asked? JOLLY GIRL.

1. Try massaging with the tips of the fingers each night to stimulate the scalp, and ask your druggist to recommend a preparation. 2. Parted in the middle and turned up at the back with a bow of ribbon, or "turban" style is also suitable. 3. It's all right if her parents do not object.

Dear Miss Grey: During the full months I was keeping company with a young gentleman. One week before Christmas he dropped my acquaintance. After the new year he seemed to wish to renew his acquaintance with me. He did not send me a gift at Christmas. Do you think that I should bother with his attentions now? TINY.

Personally I should feel inclined to treat him rather coolly, if he does not explain his conduct. If he really cares for you he will soon prove it.

FASHIONS

Summer dresses for girls are delightfully girlish this season. Designs are simple, but dainty trimmings are used.

In colors, blue is decidedly in the lead and browns and tans occupy second place. Greens next, then purple.

Black and white vogue gains in strength as the season advances.

Skirts are growing narrower, and the foot band is often seen. This latter feature will grow in favor, it is said.

Persian squares are being much used for millinery purposes and bathing caps, and are often joined with two others in the making of a novelty waist.

Blouses are usually loose-fitting and of the peasant type.

The length of the new suit jackets will be from 28 to 34 inches, the favored being the 32-inch length.

One-piece dresses will remain in style for a long time, and the majority will button in front.

Wide patent leather belts are introduced upon many of the coats, and belts in leather of other colors are frequently used with the natural tone and other neutral lines.

The following makes an especially dainty dessert, and is not expensive when eggs are reasonable:

Snow Pudding—Make a thick starch paste with four heaping dessertspoons cornstarch dissolved in a little cold water. Pour on slowly, stirring all the while, one generous pint boiling water; add a pinch salt and two tablespoons sugar. After boiling clear, add the juice of a lemon with the grated rind. If not smooth beat with egg beater. Be sure to cook it enough to remove the raw taste or the starch. Before beginning on the paste beat up in a large dish as stiff as possible the whites of four or five eggs. Pour the paste, boiling hot, in a thin stream on the beaten whites, beating as you pour. It will fluff up deliciously white and spongy. After being thoroughly beaten set in a large mold or in individual molds to cool.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over THIRTY YEARS by MILLIONS OF MOTHERS for their CHILDREN WHILE TEething, with PERFECT SUCCESS. IT SOOTHES THE CHILD, SOFTENS THE GUMS, ALLEVIATES ALL PAIN, CURES WIND COLIC, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Sold all over the world.

WOMEN SUCCESS WINNERS

Mrs. Julian Heath is president of the League for Home Economics which is planning a new branch of work for the coming summer. During the winter months the league maintains a school of housekeeping on the lower east side in New York, where women and girls may receive instruction in hygiene, judicious marketing, the selection of pure foods, plain cooking, nursing and tending the baby. Beginning with June 1 the league will use its flat as a clinic for sick babies and in co-operation with the board of health will have physicians and nurses there to prescribe and care for sick children. Besides the league plans to have a milk fund for babies, a fund for special diet when ordered by a physician and a fund for fresh air outings.

PLAYTIME STORIES

THE WILY SCOUT.

In the days of Indian fighting on our western plains two scouts were going to a distant fort, taking a message asking for help for a military post that was being attacked by the redskins. The country was so open and there were so many roving bands of Indians that the scouts had to use the utmost care or else they would be caught by them.

In the day time if they dared travel at all it was usually on their hands and knees so that no prowling Indian could see them. At night they would hurry along carrying their boots, as in their stocking feet they made less noise.

Several times bands of warriors passed near by, but by lying flat under the bank of the river they had escaped unseen. One day they were resting behind a little mound covered with a few dry brush just as a party of Indians halted near by. At the same time a rattlesnake crawled out of his hole beside them.

They were in trouble, for if they moved to kill the snake the savages would hear them and if the snake struck them it would first shake its rattles, which would call the savages. Then one of the scouts had a happy thought. The snake was near him and as he was chewing tobacco he instantly spat at the snake's head. Such vile stuff was too much for his snake and away he scurried into the hole again without once sounding the warning rattles.

The Indians soon went away and the scouts finally reached the fort in safety. You must get your mallets and balls down from the attic, and begin to practice at once. For croquet is always revived with Chantilly and chignons, and therefore promises to be the craze of the coming summer time.

THE MESSAGE

BY LOUIS TRACY, Author of "The Wings of the Morning," "The Wheels of Fortune."

"Riddles! It is you who are the conundrum, senior. I tell you that the Englishman, Captain Warden, a deputy commissioner in Nigeria, is the man we have most to fear; yet you permit one who is probably his fiancée—and surely she is a cunning bird—to live in your house and spy on the actions of yourself and your friends. What will Count Von Rippenbach think when I tell him? What will the Emperor say, after all the precautions that we took that none should know?"

"Silence!" roared Baumgartner, who could hold his own in matters that demanded clear thinking and careful guidance. You are too ready with some names, Senior Figuero, yet too sparing with others that may explain you folly. Of whom are you speaking?"

"Of the young English woman I have just met, of course. I am not good at catching these strange words, but I mean the good-looking one, the tall, slim girl in white muslin, she with the brown hair and Madonna eyes."

"Do you mean Miss Dane?"

"Yes—that is she. I remember now."

"My daughter's companion! Nonsense!"

"It is true, I tell you. Am I likely to forget a face—and such a face! Did I not describe her dress? She must have left your yacht just before Warden met her. And they are lovers. How can I be mistaken? They went away from Cowley Dane dressed exactly as Warden's unknown acquaintance was pictured."

Meanwhile the Portuguese found the memorandum he sought.

"Here it is," he snapped, all a-quiver with the doubts that threatened the destruction of his pet scheme of vengeance on the British power which had stopped the supply of slaves to the Sultan of Bogota. Langton, Oxfordshire, that is the place. The railway official spelled it for me. A boatman told me he knew the girl, and gave me some outlandish name as being Evelyn Dane. I see he was fooling me. What was his motive? Was he also an emissary of Warden's. Let me assure you, senior, this thing begins to look ugly."

Baumgartner's heavy jaw lost some of the ruddy hue of his cheeks. Count Von Rippenbach had been ready enough to supply the screw when his quondam confederate showed a degree of hesitancy in falling in with the proposed scheme. Langton, Oxfordshire, and this latest complication would strengthen Von Rippenbach's hands beyond resistance. Already the lordship of Lochmerig was becoming visible, and the far-off interior Africa grew more substantial in their dim outlines.

But the millionaire, though he might loathe to a Scottish gillie for a crumb of recognition as a marksman, had not attained his present position by displaying weakness in face of a crisis.

"I believe you are the victim of a delusion, he said, with some show of dignity, "but even if you can, we gain nothing by yielding to panic. Warden's belle amie? Why should that be harmful? Does it not explain his visit to Cowley? Indeed, if we are convinced that they know each other, we can turn the circumstance to our own purpose. I am far from crediting an insignificant official of the Niger Company with the importance you seem to attach to him, but granted he is a hostile influence to be feared, why not stalk him through an unsuspecting agent?"

"You don't rate him high enough," muttered Figuero. "If I can handle those stupid niggers like no other man in Nigeria. He talks Arabic and Hausa and krooboy palaver as well as I do. He broke the Oku ju-ju when it was worth a thousand lives to touch a stick or a feather. If Warden gets wind of our project before we are all ready, we will fall, and you realize what that means to us."

A dinner going came to Baumgartner's mind. He wished to avoid any discussion on the last point raised by the Portuguese. It bristled with thorns. Von Rippenbach revealed some of its cactus-like properties earlier in the evening.

"You and I and the count will go into other matters fully tomorrow," he said. "As for Miss Dane, I shall clear up that difficulty without delay, just as though you had never been before, and keep your ears open during dinner."

So it came to pass that Evelyn, who was mightily astonished and perplexed by the arrival of the Portuguese concerning whom Warden had told her so much, was still more bewildered when Mr. Baumgartner availed himself of a lull in the conversation at the dinner table to say casually to Baumgartner, "The girl you are looking for is in Oxfordshire, near your people's place?"

"Yes," she said, wondering what the question signified.

"Yes, suppose, then you passed through it on your way home after quitting the Sans Souci at Cowley?"

"Oh, yes. Langton is our station."

"Ah, what a small world it is! A friend of mine, Mr. James G. Hertz, of Boston, is staying there now. I suppose you did not chance to meet him?"

"No. Our village is three miles distant, and that is a long way in the country."

In truth, Mr. James G. Hertz, of Boston, who was buried in Boston, could tell of yet more impassable gulfs.

Rosamund Laing was sitting next to Figuero. She noticed the eager attention with which he followed this trivial bit of talk, though his limited knowledge of English rendered most of the lively chatter at the table unintelligible.

"Were you in Cowley during the regatta week, Senior Figuero?" she asked.

"It was a reasonable deduction from his presence at Lochmerig, but she little guessed the villainish purpose engendered in that alert brain by her harmless inquiry. The Portuguese felt that he was at a disadvantage among the gay throng gathered under Baumgartner's roof. His nimble wits were dulled by the barrier of language. It put him outside the pale. Things might be occurring which he ought to know, but which were hidden from him owing to this drawback. In the beautiful woman by his side he might find an excellent go-between if only he could command her interest. Was that old flame quite quenched in her heart, he mused? She had married a rich man, but had she forgotten—did any woman ever forget—her first love? He thought not. At any rate, there was an opening provided by the gods. "I lib for Cowes one-time, senior," he murmured, "an' I see something dere dat I tell you if you not vexed." ### PRESBYTERIANS STRONG IN CANADA

Over 150,000 Families Now Enrolled in Membership of Church.

MUCH MONEY RAISED

Large Contributions Made to Various Enterprises of Body-General Assembly Notes.

Halifax, N. S., June 3.—The first hour of yesterday morning's session of the assembly was given over to devotional exercises.

A letter from Rev. Dr. Duval, Winnipeg, who through illness was unable to attend, was read, accompanied by a letter from the Geneva Church, couched in classic French, for the reading of which the clerk was applauded. A long list of applications from Presbyteries to receive ministers from other churches was referred to a special committee.

Rev. Dr. Somerville, of the committee on statistics, scored delinquent Presbytery clerks for failure to report accurately the condition of affairs, financial and numerical.

The statistical statement shows the number of families in the church to be 157,161, an increase of 18,787 during the year. The number of communicants is 279,556, an increase of 9,868. There were added on profession of faith, 15,729, exactly the same number from every ten families. This, the committee thought, called for searching inquiry.

The finances showed $1,410,161 paid in salary by congregations, an increase of $65,513. This means a little less than $350 from each family.

For Missions, $811,528. The amount paid by congregations for mission purposes was $311,528, an increase of $130,000, and the total amount raised for all purposes was $4,078,304, an increase of $339,823.

The total amount received for the schemes of the church was $741,795.88, to which must be added amounts raised by the students, missionary and women's societies not reported from Presbyteries, nor in the list of donations to several schemes.

Westminster Leads. The amount of five dollars per communicant was set before the church as the standard to be aimed at for giving for the schemes of the church. It has been reached by only one Presbytery. Westminster gives $5.56, Halifax comes next, yet its contribution is only $2.22, closely followed by Montreal with $3.16, and Toronto fourth, with $2.59. Westminster is first in giving per family, with $8.28, and Toronto second with $6.58. Montreal next with $4.37.

Walter Paul, Montreal, scored the men who failed to send correct returns from Presbyteries. Rev. Dr. Bryce, pointed out that owing to the enormous growth of the west, accurate reports were impossible.

The Sunday schools' publication committee showed that the circulation of periodicals had passed the quarter of a million.

An invitation to visit the British cruiser Cornwall, now in port, was received.

GREAT CELEBRATION UPON NIOBE'S COMING

Ottawa, June 2.—Earl Grey, who leaves for England next week, will return to Canada on the ship Niobe, which will arrive at Halifax early in July.

The occasion of the arrival of the Niobe will be somewhat a national demonstration. Hon. L. P. Brodeur and Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux will be present as representatives of the Government.

DRIFTING TOWARDS INSANITY

Boston, June 2.—In this country there will be one vast insane asylum, declared Dr. J. H. Kellogg, of Battle Creek, Michigan, who stepped aside to permit the doctors of this "seat of culture" to engage in a warm wrangle over his statement, most of them intimating that Kellogg himself should go to a "nut specialist" and have his head examined.

"Physical degeneracy and chronic diseases are increasing," declared Kellogg, "and insanity has increased 100 per cent in 50 years. This is a national calamity originating from our manner of living. Only three women out of four nurse their infants, owing to physical degeneracy, which makes it impossible, and 90 per cent of the bottle-fed babies die before they are a year old. The increasing use of tea, coffee, tobacco and alcohol spells the end of a sane human race."

FRENCH AT KINGSTON

Kingston, June 2.—General John French was greatly pleased with his visit to the Royal Military College, and in an address he said he had long known of Canada's military college, for among the best officers with British army were men from the Canadian institution. General French lunched with Colonel Crawley at noon and this afternoon inspected the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery.

CULTIVATING SLIMNESS

Fat women must take this injunction to heart if they wish to be in style for the new modes will not drape over a fat figure.

The fat has got to come off quickly, but without harm, of course, and this means only one thing can be depended upon. Excessing or dieting are too slow. The fat woman who wants to wear a form-clinging gown must make an immediate trip to her druggist, and get a case of Marmola Prescription Tablets, which will cost her about 75 cents.

Taking one of these after each meal and at bedtime should be enough to bring her to the "losing-a-pound-a-day" stage before even the first case is used up. It is hardly believable that such delightful results can be obtained without harm and for such a small sum of money. Test the effect of these tablets by getting a case yourself, either from the Marmola Company, 1151 Farmer building, Detroit, Mich., or from any druggist. They are made in exact accordance with the famous Marmola prescription, and consequently, cannot have any ill effects.

Do You Suffer From Headaches?

There are few people who have never experienced a headache from one cause or another. It affects all ages and both sexes alike, but the female sex is naturally the more effected through the higher nervous development and more delicate organization of the system. Those also of a nervous temperament and studious or sedentary occupation are subject to it. The presence of headache nearly always tells us that there is another disease which, although we may not be aware of it, is still exerting its baneful influence, and perhaps awaiting an opportunity to assert itself plainly.

Burdock Blood Bitters has, for years, been curing all kinds of headaches and you will only give it a trial we are sure it will do for you what it has done for thousands of others.

Mrs. John Connor, Burlington, N.S., writes: "I have been troubled with headache and constipation for a long time. After trying different doctors' medicine a friend asked me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I find I am completely cured after having taken three bottles. I can safely recommend it to all."

For sale by all dealers. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

DOESN'T KNOW ENOUGH ABOUT APPENDICITIS

Medical Profession Way Behind Along That Line, Says Kingston Doctor.

Toronto, June 2.—Woeful ignorance of doctors in connection with appendicitis was the occasion for some caustic remarks today in the surgical section of the Medical Association Convention. Dr. I. Wood of Kingston, gave a paper on "Appendicitis in Children." He remarked that it was high time the medical profession woke up to its duty and kept abreast of the times scientifically. There was, he said, an astonishing ignorance among medical men concerning appendicitis. That differentiated in adults and in children there was no ground for doubt. Yet the diagnosis of the average practitioner was the same for both children and adults.

From delving into the subject Dr. Wood ascertained that appendicitis was seven times greater among people before the age of 15 than it was between 15 and 30 years. Dr. Wood was applauded for his thrusts at the own profession.

GIVEN 7 YEARS FOR SNATCHING A PURSE

Toronto Man Given a Stiff Sentence by a Hamilton Magistrate.

Hamilton, Ont., June 3.—Alexander Paul, of Toronto, was sentenced to seven years in Kingston Penitentiary by Police Magistrate Jells for snatching a purse containing $8 from Mrs. Kirkpatrick.

Yesterday in court Paul was shown a photograph furnished by the Toronto police. He denied vigorously that he was the man, but there was no mistaking his identity, and finally he broke down and confessed. When fifteen years of age, his family had him placed in an industrial school. Later, he served two and a half years for a robbery at Owen Sound.

"For my family's sake, give me a chance, your worship," pleaded the prisoner. "I will go out into the world and show you that I can do what is right. I am now in the prime of life, and have a chance to make good."

"You will have a chance at the end of seven years," said the magistrate.

RAN DOWN RABIES GERM

Was First Discovered Many Years Ago by a Toronto Professor.

Toronto, June 2.—Dr. Amyot, provincial analyst, gave a paper on rabies in Ontario and out, "and the causes and the treatment of the disease. He mentioned that Professor McKenzie, of the Toronto University, had many years ago discovered the germ of rabies and showed it to his students. Some years after this, Negri, the Italian pathologist, discovered the same thing and the dissemination of the knowledge of his discovery gave his name to these bodies, which were always present in the saliva of rabies and known as Negri bodies.

WELL-DRESSED VAGRANTS

Resemble Fashion Plates, But Mother Says They Don't Work.

Toronto, June 2.—William and Albert Hutchison, whose wearing apparel stamped them as modern fashion plates, were brought before Squire Mills this morning in the "Breakfast Court" on charges of vagrancy. The mother of the two men came forward and volunteered the information that neither of them worked, and that they were of no use at home. She could not understand how they managed to get such good clothes or how they got a living.

The squire asked William if he indulged in liquors, and he answered sharply, "No, I am not a drinking man by any means, and I am prepared to go to work."

"I am informed that you are addicted to the use of dope," suggested the squire, addressing William. "It is a deliberate falsehood," rejoined the witness. They were fined $5 and costs of 30 days in jail.

THE NEXT KAISERIN REFINING COURT

Crown Princess Cecilia's Influence Is Strongly Felt in Berlin.

Berlin, June 3.—Already the future Empress of Germany is making her influence felt upon the personalities of those Berlin court. Among other reforms there has been a perceptible decrease in the gaudy attire and the airy, not to say impertinent, demeanor which crept in with certain of the newly rich.

"Very little Mecklenburg-Schwerin and a great deal of Cannes and St. Petersburg, is an artist's criticism of the Crown Princess' personal manner."

She is a great-grandchild of Czar Nicholas I, who in his day was called "the handsomest man in Europe," and a descendant of the beautiful Queen Louise. So she might be expected to inherit gracefulness, even if not classical beauty.

Her mother, Grand Duchess Anastasia, daughter of Nicholas I's son Michael, married Grand Duke Frederick Francis III, of Mecklenburg-Schwerin at St. Petersburg in 1873.

A lady of the court, writing over the pseudonym of "Truth," pens in an illustrated German periodical this portrait of Crown Princess Cecilia: "Still and lonely lies the garden below the old palace of Frederick, when suddenly comes the sound of light hoofs. A light buggy drawn by Queen's chestnut cobs sweeps through those garden alleys, themselves as trim and neat as Boileau's verses. In the buggy is the princess, clothed in a thick fur that shows reddish in the midday April sun. Her hat is the three-cornered directorie in pale rose color, and above it sway ostrich feathers. In her small hand she holds a bunch of rose-tinted carnations. It is either the princess or Queen Mab herself."

She was on the way to a bazaar for the Elizabeth Hospital, where she sold the paintings, post cards, lamp shades, menu cards and the like, decorated by her own hand. Her favorite costume on such occasions is a chiffon toilet and a sable stole. Around her neck she wears two or three rows of small pearls interspersed with light blue Ceylon sapphires. She has an objection to any charity bazaar where the prices are outrageous, and in fact, has often refused to attend such or to all dealers, or Edmansson, Bates & Co., have things given by her sold at them.

What she makes she likes to sell at a price within the reach of the poor people.

"These bazaars," she is said to have remarked, "are just glorified rummage sales, and the prices should be according."

Many an old woman in the neighborhood of Potsdam treasures a painted lamp shade or the like, decorated like other similar objects by the crown princess and sold over the crown princess' own counter for two cents.

BRIAR PIPES.

It may not be generally known that wood from which briar pipes are made is the root of the white heather, known to the botanist as "Erica arborea," a plant or shrub that is found in the south of France, on the slopes of the Italian Alps, and on the Island of Corsica. After being cleared of earth the briar roots are sawn into rough blocks of various sizes, packed in jute sacks, and dispatched to the pipe manufacturer. Many attempts have been made to find a plant that would do as a substitute for the imported briar, but without success. The first step in the manufacture of a pipe from the briar root is to remove all moisture. To this end the root is allowed to remain in the drying room of the factory three to four months without being subjected to any artificial heat, after which it is placed in special drawers, remaining there about four weeks, and when dry as a bone is ready for the workmen.—Fry's Magazine.

It is estimated that constantly some 3,000,000 people in the United States are ill from preventable causes.

DO YOU NEED MORE BLOOD

To Restore Health, Vigor and Energy—Then Turn to DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

Are the lips and gums pale? Does the inner side of the eyelids show lack of blood? Are you pale, weak and easily fatigued? This is the test you should apply, and if blood is lacking in quantity or quality, you can be sure that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food, will be of greatest possible assistance to you.

While put in pill form, this medicine is more like a food because it supplies to the system in concentrated form the very elements which go to create rich red invigorating blood. A few weeks' use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food will do wonders for any person who is pale, weak and anemic.

It is sometimes spoken of as particularly a woman's medicine, because so many women are subject to anaemia and general weakness arising from lack of rich red blood. With the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food vigor and energy are restored, the complexion improves, the form is rounded out. 50 cents a box, of all dealers, or Edmansson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

CURED ACUTE STOMACH PAIN

Mighty Mi-o-na, Magical and Infallible, Stops Stomach Distress In Five Minutes.

Read what the stomach prescription being sold by Cairncross & Lawrence did for Mr. McCaffrey:

"Acute attacks of pain would catch me in the pit and lower part of the stomach. I could not eat meats or starchy foods, as they would quickly ferment, forming gas and causing a constant belching. I was weak and run down and became so restless that I could not sleep at all. There was a distressing pressure around the heart caused from gas, and often I would be scarcely able to draw my breath. I felt miserably generally, and became so irritable that I did not care to see or talk to anyone. Mi-o-na was recommended to me by a friend, and I procured a box. I soon found relief, however, and in less than a week the pain had gone from my stomach. I strengthened gradually and was soon able to eat my meals and enjoy a nice sleep. I gained in weight and became stronger. I had no trouble since, and can only thank Mi-o-na for the speedy and lasting cure given me when all else failed."—W. Harris McCaffrey, 491 Aylmer street, Peterboro, Ont.

If any reader of The Advertiser is suffering from indigestion, belching, gas on stomach, heaviness, sick headache, coated tongue, they should get a box of Mi-o-na today. Mi-o-na gives instant relief in stomach distress, but it does more—it builds up the stomach and makes it so strong that in a few weeks it will be able to digest a hearty meal without any outside aid. Mi-o-na is sold on the money-back plan by Cairncross & Lawrence, and leading druggists everywhere.

DIPLOMAT SERVICE TO BE IMPROVED

Premier Laurier Will Take Up the Question While in England.

ABOLISH THE RED TAPE

And Facilitate the Sending of Messages From Washington to Ottawa.

Ottawa, Ont., June 2.—It is said that when Sir Wilfrid Laurier goes to England next year to attend the Imperial conference he will take up the question of the diplomatic standing of the various colonies in the Empire. While in answer to criticisms of our present system of representation in Washington, Sir Wilfrid, in the House, expressed complete satisfaction with the arrangement, still, it is believed he may open a discussion as to the propriety of improving the status of the foreign consuls-general in Ottawa.

Have No Standing. Diplomatically, these gentlemen have no official standing at present, and it was only after receiving special papers from his American headquarters that the American minister here, Mr. John Foster, was able to take up negotiations in the first Washington-Ottawa tariff conference. Any change that might be made would undoubtedly be, primarily, to facilitate the exchange of communications between the American Federal Government, and our Government here.

ANTI-INJUNCTION BILL IS DROPPED

Taft Agrees to Another Paring of His Legislation Programme.

Washington, June 3.—There will be no anti-injunction legislation in the House at the present session, President Taft has consented to the abandonment of this feature of his legislative programme. The administration bill, introduced by Representative Moon (Republican, Pennsylvania) chairman of the committee on revision of laws, has been resting for several months in the Judiciary committee, without any attempt at action on it.

Numerous reasons for the failure of this legislation at the present session are given. The press of important bills towards the close of the session, and particularly the time required by the postal savings bank bill, are the principal causes, it is stated, for the abandonment of the bill. It is hoped to bring it up early during the next session.

HON. MR. PUGSLEY MAY VISIT CHATHAM

Chatham, June 3.—At last night's meeting of the board of trade a petition was drawn up and forwarded to Hon. Wm. Pugsley, inviting him to pay a visit to Chatham and look over the conditions of the river.

The river channel, by reason of spring freshets, is fast filling up with snags and other dangerous debris, making navigation on the stream not only very tedious, but somewhat perilous as well.

The Motor Boat Club have supplemented this petition with a similar one, drawing special attention to the many snags and floaters in the river, some of which have wrecked several valuable boats.

THE HOME PHYSICIAN

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Cure Most of the Family's Ills.

Perhaps if the children, and the "grow-ups" too, always at exactly the right quantities of exactly the right things, at just the proper times, and in every other way obeyed the rules of health, there would be no sickness in the family, and no need of medicine.

But they never have and probably never will, so in every family there are sure to be more or less frequent attacks of sick headache, biliousness, indigestion, constipation, and kidney and liver troubles, and occasionally some one is "sick in bed".

It is worth a good deal to the mother, then, to have on hand that perfectly safe and reliable remedy for these ills — Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

They invigorate those organs which cleanse the body of waste and impurities, regulating the bowels, stimulating the kidneys and opening the pores of the skin.

Thus Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cure the common ailments and keep the family healthy. This they have been doing for over half a century in every part of the world.

CHRISTIAN MISSIONARIES SAVE JAP CHILDREN

Work in the Flowery Kingdom Was Described in Address Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon's session of the annual convention of the Christian Churches of Ontario was occupied entirely by the meeting of the Ontario Christian Women's Board of Missions.

The feature of the afternoon was an interesting address by Miss Bertha Clawson, of Angola, Indiana, a returned missionary from Tokio, Japan. Miss Clawson has been 12 years in Japan, and at the present time is president of a girls' school in Tokio, Japan. She is a co-worker with Miss Mary F. Ledard, of Owen Sound, whose mother is present at the convention.

Work in Japan. The address was on "Work Among the Children in Japan." The work of Miss Mary M. Riach, of Hamilton, who is supported by O. C. W. M. B., was particularly dealt with. Miss Riach has a large charity school in Tokio, and is doing a great work among children of the poorer classes. She has been supported by this board for 17 years, and the work is in a very thriving condition.

Miss Clawson is home on her second furlough and during her absence the work is in charge of Miss Ledard, of Owen Sound. Miss Agnes Fleming, of Glencairn, brought in the secretary's report, showing 29 auxiliaries, 500 members, and a gain of three new auxiliaries.

The Finances. The report of the treasurer, Miss Jennie Fleming, of Owen Sound, showed total receipts of $2,153.94, and disbursements of $1,313.82. Besides this $1,900 was raised for the western work and voted to the Winnipeg church for the erection of a new church.

Mrs. Clendenning presented a strong plea for aid to the Winnipeg church, of which she is secretary. The Winnipeg church has a membership of 63 and has long been struggling for a better building. Moreover Winnipeg is an excellent place for the centralization of effort in the west. Mrs. Clendenning asked that $1,000 raised for the western work be devoted entirely to the western work. There was not a dissenting voice, and the delegates were unanimous in voting the money as requested.

A Man's Work. An address by the Rev. F. W. Norton, of St. Thomas, on "A Man's Work in a Man's Way" was the feature of the evening's meeting. "We have schools," said Mr. Norton, "for the training of ministers, but our public schools are closed tight to the teaching of the Bible and the Roman Catholic schools are the only ones where the Bible is taught. It is a shame to Protestantism."

"Domestic Science," he continued, "was lately introduced into the schools, but not the Bible. We have been playing with the problem of teaching the Bible, and it is a challenge to Christian followers."

Speaking in another strain Mr. Norton said: "The past year has been the since the days of the apostles. The great Laymen's Missionary Movement, the Brotherhood Movement, and the unprecedented Sunday School convention at Washington are but instances of the great awakening which is taking place."

The Delegates. The following delegates have been registered so far: C. Shuehler, St. Thomas; G. P. Astler, Collingwood; J. L. Fowler, Poplar Hill; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Reed, Ridgeway; G. H. Stevenson, Toronto; G. H. Simes, Toronto; F. W. Norton, St. Thomas; Amos Paul, Guelph; Selena Bates, Guelph; W. J. Cadman, Owen Sound; W. Munroe, Aurora; Mrs. J. J. Ford, St. Thomas; Mrs. Lediard, Owen Sound; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Welsman, Everton; Mr. and Mrs. John Everts, Everton; Thos. D. McCutcheon, Goderich; Ida M. Royce, Everton; Miss B. Stewart, Everton; J. I. Wheeler, Aylmer; F. W. Norton, St. Thomas; Mr. and Mrs. J. Pollock, West Lorne; J. S. Stephens, Winger; Agnes L. Fleming, Glencairn; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Whitehead, Walkerton; Theresa Linton, Aurora; Catherine and Gertrude Linton, Argentine Republic; Thos H. Bates, Guelph.

BRUCEFIELD. Brucefield, June 2.—As the Strathroy intermediate football team have defaulted, the Brucefield Rovers stand out alone in this district, and without any previous game in this series do immediately step into the semi-finals. It is, therefore, up to the locals to get out and practice, if it is their desire to put up a fight in an effort to bring the silverware to the burg. It is already high time for getting into shape, as in all probability within a week or so the Rovers will be called for duty, to show their ability on the football field.

Several of our villagers make frequent trips to Bayfield on a fishing expedition, and many have met with abundant success.

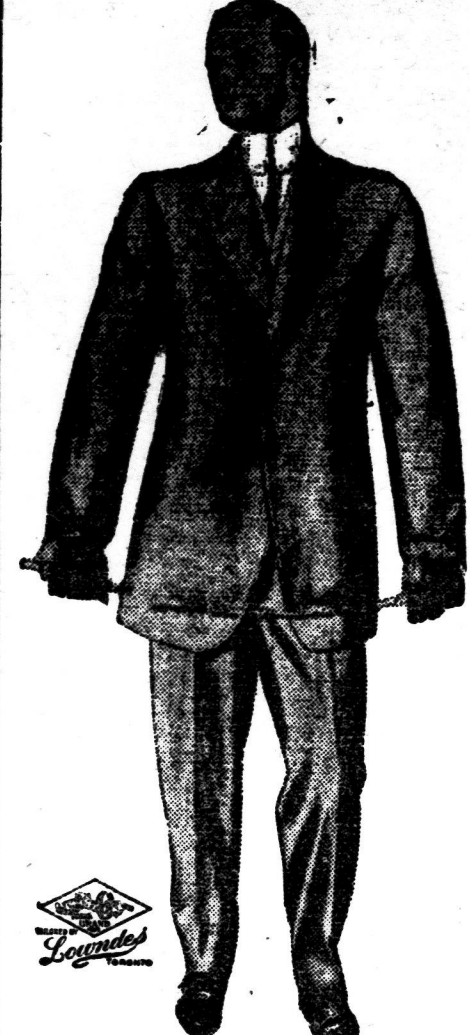

The Brucefield cheese and butter factory, which for many years has stood as an old landmark in our village, was taken down on Saturday. It is, therefore, up to the locals to get out and practice, if it is their desire to put up a fight in an effort to bring the silverware to the burg. It is already high time for getting into shape, as in all probability within a week or so the Rovers will be called for duty, to show their ability on the football field.

GODERICH. [Special to The Advertiser.] Goderich, June 2.—The excavation at the elevator in connection with the Western Canada Flour Mills is proceeding rapidly, notwithstanding several hindrances. On account of the incessant rains difficulty is experienced in drying the clay area. On Saturday night the west cement wall of the cooper shop caved in on account of the excavations having been made too close to it. It has been hard to remove the pieces of solid cement. The wall is being replaced by a temporary one. The first two pontoons for the annex dock of the new elevator for the Goderich Elevator and Transit Company are anchored in position. A third is launched, and a fourth is being constructed on the island.

Gundry Bros' dissolution sale took place yesterday and drew a large attendance. A number of out-of-town buyers were present. Good prices were realized. The barns were purchased by Davis Bros., of the Hotel Bedford.

The Goderich branch of the Parsons' Fair Syndicate, which has been under the management of Richard Parsons for a number of years, has been taken over by George Parsons, of Sarnia. The new proprietor will arrive about June 6.

REV. REUBEN MILLIARD HEADS CONFERENCE

Goderich Methodist Pastor Elected President at Chatham Convention.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Chatham, June 2.—Rev. Reuben Milliard, of Goderich, was elected president of the London Conference this afternoon with 87 of a majority over his nearest competitor. The decision was not reached until nearly 5 o'clock, nearly two hours being spent in balloting. The new president's first words upon learning of his election were: "I am glad you applauded so long. It was a close race and I needed time to catch my breath."

Rev. R. D. Hamilton, of Listowel, received the next highest vote. The ballot stood 167 for Milliard and 80 for Hamilton. In speaking of his election, Rev. Mr. Milliard referred to the recent death of his wife, regretting that she was not present to share his honor. By a vote of 166 out of 183, Rev. R. H. Barnley was elected secretary of the conference. Rev. J. E. Milliard, son of the president, was elected assistant president, and Rev. Messrs. J. J. Milliard, James Elford and S. T. Toll, assistant secretaries. Rev. E. Martin is the new statistical secretary.

AN ODD CASE

Huckster Got a Verdict Against a City Policeman.

Hamilton, June 3.—The action of Frederick Ellis, Crown Point, against P. C. Campaign, sen., for $50 damages for prohibiting him from selling turkeys on the market on Dec. 21, was tried in the ninth division court this morning before a jury. The plaintiff was awarded $15 and costs.

On the date mentioned the plaintiff, a huckster, was doing business on the market. P. C. Campaign, in plain clothes, examined the fowl. The examination satisfied him that the crops of the turkeys were full. Thinking that they should not be sold in that condition, he ordered him not to proceed with the sale until the inspector had seen them. The man obeyed. The inspection revealed the birds to be in good condition. During the time he was not allowed to sell, the price had dropped, he said, about ten cents per pound. Judge Monck explained the case fully to the jury, which awarded the plaintiff $15.

London, June 3.—John Lindsay, president of the National Federation of Meat Traders, declares that the importation of live Canadian cattle, which are the healthiest in the world, would put the meat market right. New York, June 3.—The New York Central has decided to suspend a $5,000,000 project for improving its system and has requested the cancellation of a $3,000,000 order for cars on account of the injunction granted to the attorney-general by Judge Dyer in Missouri, restraining railroads from increasing their rates.

London, June 2.—Grave fears for the results of Theodore Roosevelt's Guildhall speech on Egypt are felt by the Liberal leaders. With Mr. Roosevelt already the object of the Nationalists' hatred, because of his Cairo speech attacking them, further demonstrations are looked forward to by those familiar with the situation, especially in view of the fact that the speech was given at the moment when Mr. Roosevelt was being honored in London.

THE NEW SEAL

Change in Royal Arms Necessary Upon Accession of a King. London, June 23.—The new reign renders the adoption of a new great seal of England imperative. Upon the accession of a new sovereign or upon a change of the royal arms or style, or upon the mechanical parts of the great seal becoming worn out and the fillings and ornaments becoming defaced, an order is made by the sovereign in council for the adoption of a new seal; the old seal is publicly broken and the fragments become the fee of the lord chancellor.

Lord Halsbury who is 85, is the owner of the two best seawater great seals. They are always kept as heirlooms in the families of the lord chancellors to whom they have come as perquisites of office. The present great seal was hammered, after which it was placed in the hands of the late Sir Robert Balfour, who has been Lord Chancellor of England since 1905, when the liberal administration came into power.

RUPTURE
J. Y. EGAN, Specialist of Toronto.
A WORD OF CAUTION.

Procrastination is the most common error of ruptured people. In most cases they do not realize the risk they are running. You may have been ruptured for some time and not noticed any change for better or worse. But, remember, no rupture stands still. Even if not getting larger the bowel is growing fast to the inside, and any day your ordinary truss is liable to slip while lifting or coughing and let more of the bowel escape. In such a case strangulated hernia may result in death. Many people come to me constipated, nervous, irritable, suffering from indigestion and constant colds. They seldom charge this to their rupture, but that is where their ill-health originates. A rupture strains the whole physical organism and is a constant nerve irritant, a breeding place for the germs of typhoid, and frequently causes rheumatism, paralysis and sterility.
Your rupture cured will make you feel like a new being; your nerves will recover their normal tone and your rundown condition replaced by vigorous, joyous health. Act at once and remove the daily danger of death which like a threatening thundercloud hangs over the head of every ruptured person. Don't delay, to suffer and die. Let me help you live and enjoy life. What I have done for thousands in the past fifty years
I can do for you today. My treatment gives security, comfort and a perfect physical condition. This is all yours today for the asking. Call on me, or write to me, consult me and return home same day relieved of all rupture trouble permanently. No operation, pain or loss of time.

How to Stop Drinking
It was formerly customary for the habitual drinker to take the pledge regularly, sometimes once a year, and sometimes in every fit of remorse that followed his debauches, and then break it.
But now it is gradually dawning on the world that pledges do not stop drunkenness. The nervous system of the habitual drinker is diseased, and he must have treatment that will cure this condition.
Orrine is sold under a positive guarantee to cure the drink habit or the money will be refunded. Can be given secretly.
Write for free booklet on the "Cure of Alcoholism" to the Orrine Company, 97

SAYS LOWEST TENDER WAS NOT ACCEPTED

Mr. Robert Angus contends Mistake was Made by
No. 3 Committee.

At a meeting of No. 3 committee on Wednesday night the tender of the Seagrave Company, Walkerville, for an extension fire ladder, was accepted, on the assumption that it was the lowest. Mr. Robert Angus claims that a mistake has been made, in the following letter:

To the Editor of The Advertiser.
I notice in last night's issue of your paper, an item headed: "New Ladder Truck for the Fire Department," and the contract had been awarded to W. E. Seagrave Co., of Walkerville, a price of $2,250, further on the item stated that two firms put in prices, the W. E. Seagrave Co., of Walkerville, and The American La France Company, of Elmira. You also state that the contract was awarded to the Seagrave Company for $2,250, that being the lowest tender.
Now, sir, I want to say that this is an error, either on the part of your reporter or of the committee, as I placed a tender for a second size hook and ladder truck, fully equipped with the longest ladder being 60-foot extension, and all other equipment necessary.
The price quoted for this complete equipment was $2,174, or $76 less than the price in this case, the largest builders of fire apparatus in the world, and have a reputation that is beyond question for the quality of their work, I cannot understand the action of the committee in this case as other things being equal the lowest tender should be accepted. Yours truly, ROBERT ANGUS,
Agent for the American La France
Fire Engine Company.

Canadian Northern to Stretch Clear Across Continent.

Montreal, June 3.—Mr. William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern Railway Company, arrived here today from Europe, where he has been engaged in important financial matters.
Mr. Mackenzie, in an interview tonight, expressed himself as highly pleased with the result of his mission and the plans for the future work of the railway system. He said that during the present year the western end of the railway should be well under way, and the distance between Edmonton and the Rockies pretty well covered. A start would also be made on the section around the north shore of Lake Superior, and he hoped that within four years the entire main line would be completed.
As for the Belgian coal mining proposition, in which Belgian capitalists had interested themselves with Mackenzie and Mann, Mr. Mackenzie said that the mines were located about 140 miles west of Red Deer and they would be connected with the railway by a branch, work on which would be begun at once.
Mr. Mackenzie also practically confirmed the report that a large sum of money had been raised in Europe, but he stated that out of the forty millions, by far the largest issue of them all was the Incoeur Island coal mines, and he added that the Canadian Northern had nothing to do with the deal, although several interested in the railway were also interested in the coal deal.
Mr. Mackenzie also stated that the company was considering placing a third vessel on the Atlantic route.

COM. TO INVESTIGATE

ods of technical instruction obtaining in other countries. The commissioners are empowered to pursue their investigations at such localities as may appear necessary in the Dominion of Canada, in the United Kingdom, of Great Britain and Ireland, the United States of America, France, Germany, and subject to the approval of the Minister of Labor, elsewhere on the continent of Europe.
What It Will Do.
The purpose of the commission is to collect that of gathering information, the information when obtained, to be carefully compiled, and, together with such recommendations as it may seem expedient to the commission to make, to be published in a suitable report to be at the disposal of the provinces and available for general distribution. The commission is appointed under the statute respecting inquiries concerning public affairs, and will report the results of their investigations together with their recommendations to the Minister of Labor. It will be composed of the members of the royal commission have been selected on qualifications and special fitness to perform the duties which as members of the commission they will be required to show.
Labor's Nominees.
Apart from having the unanimous indorsement of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, the commission perhaps a wider knowledge of the subject of technical education and the needs of the workers in this country than any other labor representative in the Dominion. He was a member of the Technical Education Commission appointed by the board of education of Toronto, a short time ago. He is also a member of the city of Toronto, and a member of the Technical Education Committee of the trustees' section of the Ontario Education Association. He is vice-president of the Social and Moral Reform Council of Canada, and for years past has held many important positions in connection with the labor movement.
Mr. Thomas Bengough, who has been appointed secretary and reporter of the commission, is one of the best-known members of his profession in the Dominion. He has, however, in addition to his exceptional qualifications as an expert reporter, special qualifications in connection with the subject of technical education, a special study, and being the author of an important publication containing the results of investigations personally conducted in the methods employed in the teaching of manual training, in industrial art, domestic science, and kindred subjects.

It is expected that the commission will enter upon its labors early in the month of July. The Minister of Labor stated that it will begin by making a tour of the Dominion from the Atlantic to the Pacific, visiting all important industrial centres and ascertaining by personal inquiry and investigation, as well as by the hearing of evidence, the needs of employers and workmen alike as respects industrial training and technical education. Having completed this part of its task, the commission will then visit the United States, the United Kingdom, Germany, France, and any other countries that may seem necessary, with a view to ascertaining the best methods by which similar needs are being met, and the work of technical education furthered in other lands. It is expected that at least a year will be required for this work.
Professor Robertson, chairman of the commission, is at present in England, but has been informed of his appointment by cable, and has announced that he will return to Canada and be ready to enter upon his duties early in the month of July. All of the commissioners will be obliged to give their undivided time and attention to the work of the commission.

SWIMMING TIME COMING
WARNING TO THE BOYS
North Branch Is Treacherous—Beware of the Clay Banks.
The River Thames will soon be the mecca for hundreds of bathers. The venturesome boys will seek out the old swimming hole and new ones as well.
The river every year claims its victims. Each spring sees many lives lost. A warning to the boys is necessary. Be careful. The river is proverbially treacherous. Many deep holes are to be found, and in these boys lose their lives.
The north branch is particularly treacherous. Near Cushing's ice house no less than five boys in a very few years have been drowned. There are cold springs in the bottom of the river and they produce cramps without warning.
Boys had better remain away from such places. There are many places in which to bathe without taking unnecessary risks.
Keep away from the north branch and the Clay Banks.

PUBLIC LIBRARY BRANCHES OUT
Two More Assistants Appointed Owing to Demands of the Public.
FACILITIES ARE IMPROVED
Reference Room Downstairs and General Reading Room on the Upper Floor Have Been Decided Upon.
The most important extension work that has been done for some years was decided upon at last night's meeting of the library board, when the recommendation of the finance committee that the room now used as a general reading-room be used as a reference room after Nov. 1, 1910, and that the upper east room be used as a general reading-room after that date carried.
The committee were given power to get prices and tenders for the necessary furniture and improvements, and report at the next meeting to be held in September.
Assistants Appointed.
Miss Lillian Grant and Miss Annie O'Meara were appointed lady assistants, but will not commence their duties until September.
"We want," said Librarian Carson to the Advertiser, "the American libraries the utilitarian side of the library to the utmost. We are now handling twice as much work as we ever did before. Each of the lady assistants handles more than 30,000 books a year, and in other Canadian libraries not more than 15,000 to 18,000 are handled. We are featuring the reference department, and other documents from each city. Any alderman or citizen who get there and in a short time compare tax rates, water rates or anything else he wishes to. We intend establishing a reference library of this kind. We are aiming also to get more closely in touch with the employees of factories.
Educating the Men.
"Many firms are sending their men here for information. In future we intend having a draughting table in the reference department, so that they may have a tracing paper to make sketches for themselves of new and up-to-date things. We also want to become the reference library for the western universities. We are even now to a large extent, but we aim to become more so. We will also have departments for commercial reference for the use of the business houses. We receive many calls for information of this nature. A department of special use to the press will be an index of all events and important information. We are in a position to secure all the best reports on various subjects, and if they are kept and indexed they will be invaluable for reference.
Librarian Carson's report for the month was presented, and showed that the total circulation for May was 11,231; more up as follows: Miscellaneous, 222; philosophy, 68; religion, 97; sociology, 170; philology, 4; natural science, 178; useful arts, 230; fine arts, 146; history, 32; literature, 215; travel, 262; biography, 156; reference, 2,480; juvenile literature, 1,122; fiction, 5,605—total, 11,231.
During May 93 new cards were issued, making a total on the register now of 5,581.
Donations.
The following donations were reported:
"How To Write Verse," by George J. H. Northcott; donated by Rev. Geo. Cox, vicar.
"Funeral Blood Derivations," by Gustavus Verber, A.M., M.D., Washington, D.C. (pamphlet).

STILL NO SETTLEMENT OF CIGARMAKERS' STRIKE
Men Voted Down a Proposed Compromise at a Meeting Last Night.
At a meeting of the striking cigarmakers, held last night, the committee of the union men which has been conferring with the manufacturers this week, in an effort to arrange a settlement, presented the schedule of wages which had been proposed.
One of the committee urged very strongly the acceptance of the schedule, and pointed out that the manufacturers are not likely to wait much longer for the men to return to work, but will import help from outside.
An expression of the meeting was taken by a show of hands and showed that those present were not in favor of accepting the schedule.
A ballot was taken subsequently, and the result was very strongly against any compromise.
The manufacturers have agreed to everything except the schedule of wages.
A number of women were present at last night's meeting and took the keenest interest in the proceedings.

7TH REGIMENT WILL HAVE FOUR DAYS' TRIP
Officers Visit Sarnia and Find the Conditions There Ideal.
Major McCrimmon, Major Graham and Captain Little, of the 7th Regiment, were in Sarnia yesterday completing arrangements for a visit there of the soldier boys over Dominion Day.
At a meeting of the officers to be held tonight the committee reported that the terms offered by Sarnia be accepted.
It is likely that the 7th will leave London on Thursday night, June 30, and remain under canvas until Sunday night, July 3, thus giving them a four days' outing.
The men are greatly pleased at the prospect of going to Sarnia again this year, as when they went there last year they spent a most enjoyable time.
