MEIGHEN GOVERNMENT BIG INTERESTS, DECLARES CRERAR; PREMIER A 'FALSE ALARM'

Leader of Progressive Party Replies To Recent Attacks of Government Head-Wants To Know Administration's Stand If Reciprocity Proposals Are Revived.

Prince Albert, Sask., Nov. 5.—Launching into an explanation of the principles of the new national policy, the Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the Progressive party in Canada, last night criticised Premier Meighen for statements made in the premier's speeches at Truro, Sherbrooke and Grandby recently, in which Mr. Meighen had referred to "dangerous dectrines taught by dangerous men," "the extreme farmers' free trade party, etc.

Mr. Crerar quoted excerpts from the Canadian press reports of Melghen's speeches, and asked: "Is this the type of new statesmanship we are going to have in Canada?" He charged the premier with "misrepresenting, wilfully or not, people who were as loyal as any citizens in this country.

He declared the present government was allied with the big interests, and that what Canada needed was honesty in administration, equality in education, and toleration for the whole of the people of Canada

WANTS TO KNOW ATTITUDE.

With reference to the result of the United States election, Mr. Crerar stated that he would like to be informed of the policy of the present government should the reciprocity proposals be revived, as it was again in the realm of practical politics with the return of a Republican administration in the United States. As to tariff, Mr. Crerar urged more attention to the development of the basic industries, rather than artificial stimulation for industries asking protection. Prince Albert, Sask., Nov. 5.—Before closing his speech here last night, Hon. T. A. Crerar again stressed the point of natural resources being turned over to western provinces. The matter, he urged, had been complicated by the assumption by the other provinces of an equity in the western resources. Mr. Crerar repudiated this claim of the east and declared the west was entitled to Crerar repuddated this claim of the east and declared the west was entitled to the resources that were left, and in addition compensation for those already disposed of. If the rest of Canada had any real claim, it should be settled as other questions of compensations were—in the courts. He hoped the prime minister, before returning to Ottawa, would give the west some decision on this matter.

Exclusive of the eight undetermined seats in the Lower House, the Republicans had 286 members to 137 Democrats and four of other designations, a plurality of 149—the greatest ever held by any party in the House. The nearest approach to it was in the fifty-second congress, when the Democrats had a lead of 148.

HARDING READY FOR VACATION

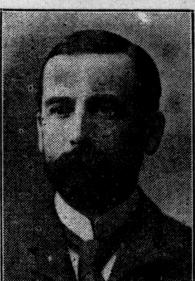

Marion, Ohio, Nov. 5.—In final preparation for his first real vacation in months, President-Elect Harding today disposed of the last remaining business of his campaign headquarters here, and abandoned the headquarters which has housed his office and campaign assistants since July.
With Mrs. Harding and a party of friends he leaves tomorrow morning for a month's vacation trip that will take to Southern Texas and probably to Panama.

Soon after his vacation trip, which is to end early in December, Mr. Harding is expected to take preliminary steps toward a consultation of statesmen. which he has promised throughout the campaign, for formulation of the United States program toward a world peace association. Whether he will actually assemble such a council before his inauguration, however, is regarded as doubtful.

Mr. Saunders stated that the tariff commission would inquire into other forms of revenue than customs duties. Among the bodies likely to approach the commission is the Retails Merchants' Association, who will no doubt ask, among other things, for the substitution of a sales tax for the present luxury tax, so as to eliminate the use of stamps.

ANOTHER APPEAL EXPECTED. [Special To The Advertiser.] Ottawa, Nov. 5.—In spite of the spectacular burst in sugar prices recorded this morning Ottawa does not believe that it has yet heard the last word from the sugar refiners. When Premier Meighen left for the west and word from the sugar refiners. When Premier Meighen left for the west and Sir Henry Drayton for the east, the case of the refiners was left hanging in the air, and a definite answer has not been given them. The present slash in prices represents just about the margin of decrease which the sugar men represented to the Government at the privy council hearing would spell ruin to some and serious loss to all.

The refiners abandoned efforts to secure assistance via the now defunct commerce board and contented themeselves thereafter with laying their hopes of justice upon the Government and the people. They have, it is said, since smade two proposals, first a loan, or second, a rebate on faw sugar already contracted for but still underlivered. They base this latter demand on the allegation that the trade commission urged them to stock up on raws at high prices. The amount involved is about 7,000,000 pounds contracted for in some cases as high as 19 cents per pound.

It is stated that they will be back again when the premier and his colleagues return.

FAIR TRADE, EQUAL OPPORTUNITY HAS ALWAYS BEEN, AND

Sir Auckland Geddes, in Address Before Chamber of Commerce Members at Minneapolis, Points Out Necessity of Maintaining Cordial Trade Relations With U.S. and All Other Nations.

Minneapolis, Nov. 5.—"Great Britain and the United States must avoid national trade competition organized by governmental and supported by political action." Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States, declared today in an address at a chamber of commerce luncheon here.

If the United States or Great Britain, he said, are to begin to organize areas of exclusive economic advantage, there inevitably would come a clash of interests that would at least strain the friendly relations between the countries.

Sir Auckland denied statements appearing in United States newspapers that United States ships had been placed at a disadvantage with British ships by British Government action. He declared, however, not "in any sense as a threat, however veiled, but as a matter of interest," that if the British Empire should adopt a law precisely similar to the United States law limiting coastwise traffic to ships flying only its own flag, there would be some far-reaching derangements in the business of non-British shipping.

"We are not thinking at present of adopting such a law," he added, "for one ration and the other. "Let me declare without any possibilities of fair trade and equal opportunity."

The Rotary Club will be asked to supply and decorate the cars for the soldiers. Mayor Little will be approached to grant the local fire department the right to take part in the parade.

P. P. C. L. I. Band.

Five L. O. lodge fife and drum bands will supply some of the music, while Col. Reason assured the delegates that the 1st Hussars would turn out. Lieut. Col. Frank Ware of military headquarters stated that the P. P. C. L. I. with its band would take part, and if necessary furnish a guard of honor.

At this point Comrade A. Pugh of the C. V. C. brought up the matter of the guns which were captured in the late war from the Germans and which are now on the Federal Square, and as he termed them "rotting." A deputation will interview the mayor with regard to granting that they be placed on decorated floats and have a place in the Program and parade committees were will interview the mayor with regard to granting that they be placed on decorated floats and have a place in the parde. It was also suggested that when they were on the trucks, which the committee intend to get from local manufacturers, they be taken to Victoria Park and placed in some conspicuous place, where in time they could be placed on a permanent platform that will assure longer "life" to them. Lieut.-Col. Ware said that if the guns were placed in Victoria Park he would get the history of the capture he would get the history of the capture of them from Ottawa. This could be placed on a tablet.

It was decided that all taking part in the parade should line up at the armories at 7:30 o'clock and proceed west on Dundas street to Wellington to Dufferin avenue, wets on Dufferin avenue to Richmond and south on Richmond to Dundas and thence to the armories. If weather conditions are favorable, they will proceed to Victoria Park, where an open air band concert and speeches from leading citizens of London will be heard. If it is necessary to hold the concert indoors, the armories can be secured, and the program will be held there. It was also suggested that in connection with the program that E. W. Q. Quantz, teacher of singing in the public schools be asked to supply a public school choir of about 200. A monster platform will be erected at the end of the armories, and this will be decorated by Representatives from the city council and the school board were asked to attend, but when all delegates reported, no delegates from the above were present. The fact that there were present. The last that there were no representatives from the city council brought some varied comments, and it was decided to send the city fathers an invitation to attend the parade "if they had time." Following are the names of the men who were appointed to the two committees in charge of all proceedings: Parade committee — Chester Butler, convener; Col. French, assistant con-vener; Frank McKay, of the trades vener; Frank McKay, of the trades and labor council; George Tustin, from the Grand Army of United Veterans; Comrade Glennie, from the Army and Navy Veterans; Barney Devilin, from the G. W. V. A.; W. J. Hodgins, from the L. O. L. lodges; Rev. T. D. Mc-Cullough, from the social service council; Sergt. Barnhill, from the police department, and Col. Graham from the chamber of commerce.

Program.

The members of the program committee follow: Convener, Col. Graham; assistant convener, Col. Graham; assistant convener, Col. Reason; W. J. Clark, from the L. O. L. lodges; C. B. Edwards, from the board of education; Principal W. H. T. Mooney, from the Collegiate staff; Harry Wray, from the trades and labor council; Major Lawless, from military headquarters; F. Forrester, from the separate school board; Dr. C. Wilson, from the G. W. V. A.; J. Rawlings, from the G. W. V. A.; J. Rawlings, from the G. A. U. V.; Rev. T. S. Roy, from the Ministration as "not a government at all, but merely in the commission business." The support which it had received was really a compliment to the or two measures, everything introduced had been prepared by the former Government before leaving office. The budget had not been criticised, and this, too, was a compliment to the former Catholic churches. A meeting of both committees will be held this evening.

The chamber of commerce subscribed $150 towards the Armistice Day fund. The trades and labor council sent a check in for $25

Want Wasting of Pupil's Time Stopped.

The Union Mothers' Clubs of the city School on Thursday evening emfavored the central collegiate.

The club members, too, regretted that the board had not gone ahead and used improvised schools in church buildings cll decided last night. The members were more than ever convinced that a high school on the Beck property was out of the question. the chamber of commerce was appointed chairman for the evening, and in a short address pointed out the necessity of financial support, in order that the parade and the celebration could be carried out in a way fitting to such an occasion.

The club expressed itself as in favor of a general clean-up of all the insanitary business and dwelling places in the city.

Rev. D. C. MacGregor gave an interesting address dealing with family life and the woman in the home. The president, Mrs. John Gemmill, invited the fathers to attend, although only a few took this opportunity. Those who did were delighted with the meeting, and Rev. Mr. MacGregor congratulated the club on being such a live organization.

Noble Efforts.

He diverged for a moment to recount the country's war efforts and to laud the "noble efforts" and "magnificent patriotism" of the munition manufacturers. He contended that Sir Robert Borden—while he might not be popular with many Conservatives, and while they might be glad he had stepped out—had nevertheless played a great part in world councils and was one of those who refused to surrender either Paris or the Channel ports.

Referring to provincial politics he said he did not expect applause from this gathering for Sir William Hearst. His expectations were realized. He contended that that gentleman had been misunderstood and was really honest and fearless and had eschewed party politics during the war.

Completing his word picture of Sir William, he declared that the former Conservative leader "had been damned more perhaps than any provincial leader in the history of Canada." Mr. Squire, in extensive tours of the province, had heard the words "Damn Hearst" repeated so often by perfectly good Conservatives that he had come to the conclusion it was a slogan started by "the enemy." Hearst should be given credit for the stand he took on prohibition.

ON PRIVATE PROPERTY

Citizen Enters Strong Protest With Public Utilities Commission.

Relieving that they were operating on private property, well drillers for the commission brought down the wrath of a landowner on their heads today. Carrying out their search for new sources of supply they erected their apparatus at Nelson and Wellington streets on a lot which had been purchased by the city to link up Nelson street with Richmond street.

They levelled the property and made other improvements. Then they erected their "rig," and proceeded to drill a hole. They were surprised at this task by the owner of the adjoining property, who immediately entered a strong protest, asserting that they were working on his property without permission. On investigation they found his claim was correct, as their apparatus was partly on his lot and partly on that owned by the city. The well itself is on the city property. Unless serious objection is made the location will not be changed, but if necessary the apparatus can be moved entirely on to the city property, and the work carried on quite satisfactorily. their apparatus at Nelson and Welling-

Thousands are finding life a burden and others an early grave. The strain on the system causes palpitation of the heart, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, faint and dizzy spells.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have helped hundreds just in such a condition by making rich new blood, strengthening and regulating the heart, renewing the nerve centres and infusing new life and energy into the system.

This remedy builds up and maintains a healthy, vigorous constitution, according to the testimony of hundreds who have used them.

Great Stress Laid On Import ance of Pre-Natal Clinic At Hospital.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Child Welfare Association was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Western Fair board rooms, with Col. William Gartshore in the chair. The principal business was the receiving of quarterly reports, that of Miss Bertha Smith, head child welfare nurse, being of greatest interest. This report showed 388 families under observation by three child welfare nurses, and of these 302 in attendance at the weekly clinics, while 49 were visited at their homes on request of local physicians and 39 on requests of others. Twenty-five prenatal clinics were held at Victoria Hospital as well as the four child welfare clinics held every week in the schools of the city. According to Miss Smith's report, the well baby clinics are proving themselves most successful indeed. So crowded has become the clinic in London East that is the purpose of the association to open another one shortly in that district, probably in the Aberdeen School. The pre-natal clinic at Victoria Hospital has not been so successful due to the fact that the The regular quarterly meeting of th deen School. The pre-natal clinic at Victoria Hospital has not been so successful, due to the fact that the mothers have not been educated to see the necessity of these clinics, and are diffident about attending. As 66 out of the 116 infant deaths which occur in every thousand born in London are due to pre-natal causes, and which, it they were removed, would bring the death-rate down to normal, Miss Smith considers this apparent failure of the pre-natal clinics as very serious.

Investigations.

She has just returned after making investigations in child welfare work as carried on in New York and Boston, and brings back the message that they are ever laying greater stress on the necessity of pre-natal clinics, which, if maintained successfully, will eliminate much of the child welfare medical work necessary afterwards, as well as lessen the death rate. Miss Smith told of a scheme of holding weekly exhibits

Miss Smith told of a scheme of holding weekly exhibits of layettes, to which the mothers would of layettes, to which the mothers would be attracted, and then giving them a talk on the care of children, which would later induce them to attend the clinics. Mothers' helpers to look after the children and home when the mother is in the hospital, and to remain in the home after her return to give her plenty of opportunity to recuperate, was another suggestion. And still yet another was the suggestion of a paid another was the suggestion of a paid dietitian to give instruction to mothers who do not know the proper nutritive value of foods.

Fifty dollars was voted Miss Smith for equipment towards the new child welfare headquarters at the Institute of Public Health. Miss Smith reported that the child welfare nurses were taking certain classes in the Public Health University coure, and that in return the students in this course were attending the baby welfare clinics and helping with the field work.

Other reports were received from M. MacDonald, the treasurer, Mrs. John Gemmell, Mrs. A. T. Edwards, Mrs. Slater, and Dr. Robert Ferguson.

There was some discussion on the advisability of the appointment of mothers' helps and a dietitian committee of three, Mrs. Partridge, Miss Wilson and Miss Bertha Smith, was appointed to look into the matter and report at the next meeting.

BRILLIANT RECITAL STARTS OFF WORK OF CLUB'S SEASON

Monsieur, Madame Ferdinand Fillion of Foronto Appear For First Time.

The Women's Musical Club opened its season's work last night with a brilliant recital, in which Monsieur and Madame Ferdinand Fillion of Toronto appeared for the first time before a London audience. These artists are heard well together, the one a coloratura soprano, and the other what might be termed a coloratura violinist, so variegated are the shadings of his bow. Mood of Composer.

As the Bach number began to speak and its different voices sang out clearly through the maze of instrumental technique, the artist warmed up to the mood of the great composer, giving a rendition that brought about a storm of applause. But it was in his last group that he received the biggest ovation. The fanciful, fairylike mood of Grainger's "Molly on the Shore," the first number of this group, was brought out with the skill of an artist who understands the beauty of such things as Dresden china. And yet, just a bit later that same hand made the listening hearts throb to the tenthe listening hearts throb to the ten-der revelations of his bow in "Paroles de Coeur" (Radoux-Massart), so that they must have it repeated immedi-ately. Then came the first encore, an elusive, fairylike thing that seemed to be drawn from the bow like a pretty succession of golden cobwebs, exhibiting marvejous control, and last of all was the familiar and immortal "Old Refrain" from Kreisler, Proper Depth.

Madame Fillion's contribution came well up to that of the violinist in excellence. She is a true coloratura soprano, giving every note its proper depth, or bringing it forth into just the right amount of relief. The "Bell Song" was the biggest thing on her program and marvellously displayed her coloratura work. "Will o' the Wisp," an airy-fairy, illusive little encore, was her farewell last night and will long haunt the ears of her listeners. Added to the charm of her voice was a delightful charm of stage presence.

Mood Appreciated.

Harvey Robb of Toronto was at the plano last night, and played through the intricate accompaniments of the numbers given. with an appreciation of the mood of the soloist, which is rare.

Mrs. Victor Blackwell, president of the club, appeared on the platform a few moments at the beginning of the evening to introduce the artists and announce the plans of the club for the year. Some very fine artists' concerts are scheduled, as well as splendid afternoon and evening recitals at the Normal School. Visits are promised by such noted musicians as Eva Claire (planist) and Campbell McInnes (bartone) and it is expected that the St. Thomas Glee Club under the direction of George Carrie, will also be heard before the season is over.

other animal had committed the vandalism.

On Monday last, Arthur Nicholls of 1060 Brydges street found ten of his birds torn literally to pieces. A hole in the screen of the window told how the death dealing animal had gained entrance to the building.

Both the cases were reported to the police and an officer was sent to examine the coops belonging to Mr. Nicholls on Wednesday afternoon. He decided that the killing must have been done by a dog. A rumor that the locks to the door on one of the coops had been picked gave rise to the report that someone had let the dogs into the coops through spite, but this was denied by the police today.

Chief of Police Birrell stated that the police could do little to prevent such ravages as it would be next to impossible for the department to discover what dog or dogs in the city were on a what dog or dogs in the city were on

Churchmen Before Survey Commission See No Reason For Prohibiting

Before the Dominion Survey Commission of the Methodist Church in session in the First Methodist Church on Thursday evening, a resolution was passed by the women attending "that a home for unprotected girls of the city be established by the Methodist Church." The women were of the same opinion of the laymen who came before the commission this week, that the great need in the church today is religious leaders for the young people, and Sunday school teachers who have been trained. Some members said that the children after receiving instructions from trained teachers during the week knew the difference on Sunday. The commission asked the gathering if they thought the young people were given enough entertainment with their religious education. Opinions differed here, some saying that not enough was provided for them and others that they were "suppered and banquetted to death."

Mr. Popin showed considerable versatility in his role, for from lines filled with sheer bravado he turned lightly, as the play progressed to comedy.

Mr. Duffy as Thadeus sang an excellent tenor, but, as he was forced to keep his eye on the musical director, much was distracted from his acting. Only on occasions could he give vent to himself. He reached a splendid climax in the third scene, where he seemed more sure of himself. Miss Clara Irene Gray, as the Queen of the Gypsies, gave some fine dramatic acting. She possesses a rich, warm singing voice, which suited the role admirably.

The costumes throughout were of the admirably.

S. F. GLASS OBJECTS TO NARROW VIEWS OF IMMIGRATION DEPT.

Will Take Matter of Allowing Morris Goffman to Floor of House, If Necessary.

Ottawa officialdom has been chal-lenged to the mat on the floor of the Canadian Parliament by S. Frank Glass, Canadian Parliament by S. Frank Glass, the member for the riding of East Middlesex. The ossified style of rumination particularly in vogue in the Dominion Immigration department does not appeal to Mr. Glass, and so he has written to W. D. Scott, assistant deputy-minister, that unless the department can give more explicit and rational reasons for the refusal to admit Morris Goffman, a former London businessman, back into the country, he will insist upon the matter being threshed out on the floor of the House. If a mere technicality is excluding Goffman, then the immigration regulations should be amended to delete such inflexible and unreasonable technicalities, Mr. Glass claims.

London is already making most elaborate plans to have the biggest motor show for 1921 in the entire province of Ontario.

The exhibit will consist of passenger and commercial cars. tractors and accessories, motor cycles and bicycles. The show is being put on under the auspices of the London Automobile Retailers' Association, and the executive offices of Mr. T. C. Kirby, the show manager are care the London Motor Club, London.

St. Thomas businessmen, wholesale merchants and others who knew Goffman are now in circulation. Goffman speaks good English and presents an educated and refined appearance. Former associates and partners vouch for his business reliability. The petitions are being circulated by W. Agranove and Max Lerner.

The first telegram sent to Ottawa by Mr. Glass tells the story in a nutshell. It read:

"Morris Goffman of Detroit, until two years ago, a resident for about five years in London and St. Thomas, and a successful merchant here, now wishes to return to London, having purchased a business here for $5.000 cash, on which a deposit of $500 is already paid. #### OLD AND NEW PARTIES.

Mr. Calder says that he finds "many people living in the past," who . . . do not seem to be aware that something has taken place in the world which the world has never seen the equal of . . . who 'think that now the war is over we can drop back into the groove that we were in prior to the war. To all such Mr. Calder says: "I say that any people who think that today, want to get rid of that idea quickly." And then he goes on to say: "We are living in a new world today, the world is again in the making politically, and Canada is in the making politically as well as the other countries. The old ideas which had four years ago cannot prevail today. In Canada, as in other countries, the political parties have been shot to pieces.

Who are these people "living in the past"? One of them is Mr. Meighen, the prime minister,

"Let us gather around a standard that we know and that our fathers knew. Let other people indulge, if they must, in the sport of freak governments and heterogeneous parliaments and experimental policies of state, but let us not forget the lessons of fifty years in our own land, nor what has been written

Here are Mr. King's actual words:

We believe that the time has come, indeed, that it is already long past, when a downward revision of the tariff is necessary. In the revision we believe should be substantial refuctions of the duties on the necessaries of life; in other words on those articles which go to make the food, the clothing and the shelter of the Canadian people; that certain specific articles required for purposes of consumption and other articles essential to production should be placed upon the free list, and that in regard to the instruments of production in the basic industry of agriculture, mining, lumbering and fishing that should also be a substantial reduction of duties.

SLAVERY IN CANADA.

Judge W. R. Riddell contributes to the latest number of The Journal of Negro History a very complete study of slavery in Canada. It will probably come as news to many that there ever was slavery in Canada, yet, beginning in 1628. when a negro was brought in bondage to Quetury there was continuous slavery on a small as three is to four. scale in this country. The American migration after the Revolutionary War in the American colonies was responsible for a large percentage of the evil, and even though the first Legislature of Upper Canada, meeting in 1793, passed that. an act providing that there should be no more slavery, this did not affect those who were already in this province in servitude, and it took forty years more to end the evil in what is now have been out kissing other men's wives. With field hands selling at $1,500, and even nore, slave-running from Canada would have been a highly-profitable business. The Anderson case was followed soon by the Civil War, and when Lincoln signed the emancipation proclamation there was not further danger facing the black folk who had taken refuge in Canada. Their descendants are with us yet, an eletragic aspect to their coming amongst us.

WISER THAN SOLOMON.

A correspondent, in objecting to a recent editorial in this newspaper which criticized the corporal punishment of children, asks if we compels us to momentarily sidetrack modesty and declare we distinctly think ourselves, at least along some lines, as possessing a larger fund of common-sense than Solomon.

For instance we do not consider that any wise man would marry more than sixteen or is a shortage. And the problem is much the same seventeen women at the most, whereas Solomon over the rest of the Union. The Lord was so indignant at this that he told Solomon that he would give a part of the kingdom to Jeroboam. Whereupon, Solomon again showed his singular lack of commonsense by endeavoring to kill Jeroboam. This, when he must have known that it would be useless to try to upset the plans of the Almighty. The old ideas cannot prevail, says Mr. Calder, It was this same Solomon who said: "Foolish-The new parties are Bolshevist, or near-Bolshe. ness is bound in the heart of a child, but the vists or wreckers, say Mr. Meighen and Sir rod of correction shall drive it far from him." Ellis Parker Butler coined a pertinent phrase when he compared the idle, aimless thoughts that absorb so many of our working hours to "gathering To concentrate is to turn the full current of life energy and power upon the subject in hand. The young woman upon whom, last summer, Yale conferred the highest honor the university had ever bestowed upon a woman, was able to win it through her ability to concentrate a faculty in which she had been trained. It is not the bulk of the brain that determines mental capacity, but the ability to use, and by use develop its powers. The teacher can confer no greater benefit upon her pupils than this training in "putting the mind on the subject." Scientists assure us that the average individual does not employ much over half of his so-called "grey matter"; that is, half his mental equipment is dormant because undeveloped. Very many human failures are due to lack of power to focus the mind upon the task of the moment, resulting in haphazard and superficial thinking-the process of acquiring goat feathers. We concentrate without effort if we are interested. Everything is interesting from some angle; it is our business to find that angle. Curiosity aids; a curious mind is beginning to be an interested one. Our tendency is to take an interest in a few things only; in this way we miss a great deal of life. Concentration is simply keeping control of the mind so that it can be used at will, becoming, in fact, a mental habit.

GUIDANCE FOR IMMIGRANTS.

[Edmonton Journal.] In addition to the farmers who are deserting the land to take up work in town and city, thousands of people who have been accustomed to rural life but who have not attempted farming in Canada at are immigrants from Europe. Many of these immigrants came to Canada with the intention of going on the land, but, being left to the guidance of circumstances on their arrival, they drifted into the congested cities and there they have stuck, of less service to themselves and to their adopted country than if they had taken up the vocation they had been born to in their home lands. In Winnipeg a few years ago inquiry was made among foreigners in poor circumstances. Of a group of 255 men, immigrants to this country, 179 had owned and cultivated land in their native countries 43 had been farm laborers, and 18 had been tenant farmers. Only 15 of the 255 had not been farmers. In a group of 50 men suffering hardship in the fereign section of Winnipeg, it was found that all Canadian Red Cross To Make General Appeal On Armistice Day.

Miss Windsor of the British Empire War Relief Fund, presented a strong appeal for help for the suffering peoples of the European countries, at a special meeting of the Red Cross Society held yesterday afternoon in the Western Fair board rooms. Her appeal was rather the explanation of conditions in Europe, given by one who has herself investigated the facts and visited the countries. It comes as a preliminary to the big general appeal to be made throughout Canada on Armistice Day. Accompanying her to the city was M. D. Williams of the Dominion Red Cross headquarters at Toronto.

"If the whole world knew that things were as bad in Europe as they really are, there would be no question about the whole world getting together to try and help," she declared. "But the The October meeting of the institute trouble is that the greater part of the as held at the home of Mrs. E. Jef- whole world is so far removed from the ries with 18 members present. I didn't believe it splendid address was given by Mrs. A. until I saw it with my own eyes, and now I come to try and make you see it,

Visited by Motor. The speaker, who travelled by motor throughout Czecho-Slovakia, Hungary and Poland, found the people most des titute of food and clothing. In Hun gary, she found splendid home organization for relief work, which was being The members of the Grace County carried on as satisfactorily as conditions as everywhere, there was an appalling lack of clothes, food and cleansing materials.

Speaking of Czecho-Slovakia, she said:

"I certainly never imagined such a low standard of living as prevailed in this district. Indeed, it is much lower than that in African Craals, of which I also know something. Soap cannot be got; the people live in filthy little huts with board beds, and no mattress or bedding; their food is hard coarse black bread and soup made from mushrooms or fungi; there is no butter, white bread or milk, so necessary for the development of the children, and a condition of rickets is found everywhere among the children.

When we neared Budapest in Hungary it took us half an hour in a fast-moving car, to pass the line of refugees moving car, to pass the line of refugees crowded in railway trucks, just outside of that city, with just a tap here and there to give them water and no more. The Red Cross Workers would pass along the line of those trucks and it was pitiful to see the tiny hungry mouths open for the spoonful of food which they would put there.

The most that the Red Cross can now do, is to give some of the refugees one supplementary meal a day for a "Vienna is a plague spot of Central Europe," said the speaker. "It might be called the city of the dead. It is true that there is a certain amount of surface gaity among the profiteers, but utter destitution dwells in the slums of the city. Here rickets are prevalent among the undernourished children, and the hospitals are pittfully inefficient to care for them. One of the duties of the Red Cross is to supply these hospitals with milk, which would otherwise not even have that. There is not hospital beds. The prisoners are crowded indiscriminately with criminals, bolsheviks, innocent and guilty alike, all huddled together in a pitiful condition. The British Red Cross by using a great deal of diplomacy, has received permission to go into those prisons, try to relieve conditions there and to hunt up the children of the prisoners, often left alone on the streets, and care for them."

Truly Reported.

Miss Windsor referred to three questions which she has been constantly asked: "Are conditions as bad as they are pictured? Are the people doing anything to help themselves? What is being done with the funds?" The speaker in reply stated that the press did not magnify conditions in Europe at all that they were much worse than could be imagined; that the people in most parts were helping themselves as best they could under woefully unfavorable conditions, and that the funds were being devoted immediately to the feeding and clothing as far as possible of the destitute peoples. She suggested that Canada send condensed milk and money to buy food. A discussion arose as to whether it would pay to ship garments to Europe from Canada, unless free transportation were given as during the war.

free transportation were given as during the war.

Miss Windsor was very much against the dole relief system, except in extreme cases of starvation. One method of giving relief used in Budapest was the establishment of a work depot, where the women came and made clothing for themselves with material provided, for which work they received the market wage, and could spend it on teachers of the school, and at the reception the Rev. What a pitiful little sight Rastus was. His tail was all done up in a bandage, and he felt so ashamed of it he kept out of sight as much as possible. How sorry all the little dogs were for him, and how repentant Mixo was that he had told Rastus to have his tail cut off by the gate. Of course Mixo hadn't known that a dog of Rastus' breed should not have a cut tail, and he had really been trying to help his little friend.

Even old Baidy, Rastus' grandfather, came to sympathize with him.

"It's no use crying over spilt milk." he told Rastus. "It just means you won't have to go the shows—and I am sure a dog shouldn't mind that. Shows are stuffy old places anyway, and many a dog has lost his life through catching cold at them."

Freshie, With Mule Plunge, Makes Place in Western

Sifton Is New Addition That Should Make Local Attack Heavier-Western Crew Confident of Repeat On Varsity.

Western U put in their final touches for their meeting with Varsity here on Saturday afternoon yesterday and today, and will content themselves with thinking over what they have been taught the last few hectic days.

Sifton, a freshie, has made a place on the team by virtue of a habit he has been of making ordinary scrimmage lines look full of holes. This young husky has been leading the attack of the Western second with such success and so much weight that a place had to be found for him.

Yesterday Coach Brock told the regulars that the scrubs weren't scrubs at all, but Varsity seconds and to forget all Western University spirit and go through. The poor scrubs had to stand for being thus maligned, and for the regulars going through their lines eight times in 20 minutes as a result. It's tough on the scrubs, but fine for the regular crew. The Western outfit are full of confidence. They've beaten the Blue and White once, and all between that is a blank for them—St. Mikes doesn't exist, even or the defeat they handed the locals.

At half-time during Saturday's game the Brock Shield and the medals won at the Varsity track meet will be presented to the winners.

COMISKEY'S STATEMENT.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 5. — Jacob | Ruppert and T. L. Huston, owners of the New York club of the American League, last night made public a statement from Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago Americans, dealing with the 1919 world series scandal. The statement, a reply to a request from the New York owners, seeks to counteract the impression that prevails that Mr. Comiskey had been delinquent in exposing the scandal and that credit should go to President Johnson credit should go to President Johnson of the American League for doing so.

Mr. Comiskey declared that the first intimation he received of crookedness in the series was regarding H. C. Redmond of St. Louis, who claimed to have lost $5,000 on the White Sox by being double-crossed. Redmond was interviewed, said Comiskey, by Manager Gleason and "Tip" O'Neil, but the story he told was so vague and uncertain in character that no one would be justified in taking affirmative action such as would destroy the character and reputation of men, even in the story has been such as would destroy the character and reputation of men, even in the story has been such as would destroy the character and reputation of men, even in the story has been such as would destroy the character and reputation of men, even in the story has been such as would destroy the character and reputation of men, even in the story has been such as the story of the story acter and reputation of mer though they were ball players.

HIGH TEACHERS MUST TAKE UP MANLY ART

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Before a high school teacher graduates from the faculty of education at the University of Torotto he must, in accordance with the rules of the Ontario department of education, be qualified to teach boxing. This new rule, with which comparatively few appear to be familiar, was pointed out yesterday by Rev. D. B. Macdonald, headmaster of St. Andrew's College, who takes this action on the part of the educational authorities as a proof that they are awakening to the need of boxing in the high schools. That there is no doubt as to its value he is firmly convinced, and to hold up his convictions he gives his experiences with the manly art as it is taught at St. Andrew's, the first local school or college to make boxing a definite part of its physical education. For sixteen years boxing has played a leading part in the physi-school or college to make boxing a definite part of its physical education. For sixteen years boxing has played a leading part in the physical life of the school, and never, says Mr. Macdonald, has it occasioned any unpleasantness.

It Teaches Telerance.

"In the hundreds of boys' contests held at St. Andrew's College duing the past sixteen years," he said, "not one boy has lost his temper or refused to shake hands after losing, while in the football games a St. Andrew boy is never put off for fighting on the field.

"Boxing has for generations been taught in all the big English schools with the result that it has become the Britishers' recognized method of self-defence, and who is there that does not entertain wholesome respect for this same method?

"I understand that boxing is compulsory in Australia, New Zealand and in many of the largest citles in the United States, and I do not think that there is an instance where it cannot be proved that there is far less fighting in schools where boxing is taught. St. Andrew's has turned out a number of Royal Military College and intercollegiate champions which compares very favorably with the record of any other school and this I attribute to their training and development in the boxing classes. Such sportsmen as Montgomery, Ross, Paisley, Rolph, Sterrett and Waterous are all graduates of St. Andrew's College." Waterous are all graduates of St. Andrew's College."

Wants Law To Keep Asiatics Out.

[By a Staff Correspondent.] WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 .- (Spe cial).-The Pacific coast again is becoming highly wrought up over the silent, steady penetration of that section of the country by the Japanese, and intends to press remedial measures at the next session of congress. The house committee on immigration has been investigating the situation, holding hearings in California and visiting the Japanese settlements in propose the Japanese settlements, in prepara-tion for action on various pending bills ranging all the way from outright ex-clusion of Japanese to amendment of the constitution, withholding American citizenship from American-born Japa-

Senator Phelan of California sees Japan reaching out for domination of the Pacific, and professes great fear that unless Japan is halted the United States will be worsted by the oriental power, not only in traed, but in war.

Our Civilization at Stake.

"Unless we take to heart the lessons of history," says Senator Phelan, "we will, by our lack of vigilance, permit a foothold to be gained by these people which will ultimately not only defeat us commercially in the carrying trade, as they are fast doing, but militarily in the next world war. The fears of the Japanese mailed fist which Senator Phelan professes to entertain have not, however, caused him to espouse the cause of American preparedness for war. On the great issue of preparedness he was silent throughout the debate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. Congress was urged today to buy up all supplies of intoxicating liquors held in bonded warehouses, by the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Church. The holdings should be got together in a smaller number of warehouses, the board's recommendation said, and after a sufficient supply for "legitimate uses" had been purchased, the balance should be rendered unfit for beverage, and sold for industrial purposes.

Other resolutions asked the appropriation of more money to enforce federal prohibition and for Government action to restrict the passage of American citizens between California and the immoral resorts of Tia Juiana, Mexico.

Dr. Clarence True Wilson in presenting his annual report as secretary to the board, reviewed the history of the prohibition enactments, and said that "President Wilson's unfortunate blunder in taking the wet side of the prohibition controversy had done more than any other one thing to wreck his influence in America."

"He postponed war-time prohibition two years," Dr. Wilson added, "and then when it was about to go into effect he intervened in behalf of the beer trade."

Pierrepont Byrne, president of the Oneida Community, Limited, recently made an announcement to the employees of this organization, whose Canadian headquarters are at Niagara Falls, Ont., to the effect that the "high cost of living envelope," which has been given these employees since January, 1917, would from now on, become a permanent part of their wages.

Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the commission, pointed out that in 1919 and only $135 directly to the Federal Government in income tax, c. L. The meeting here, under the shadow of the United Farmers Club, was no exception to a splendid gathering, listening earnestly to his exposition of Canadian political issues.

After his explanation of the process by which he happened to be a candi-

Still in 1917 Session

Mr. Charlton added to his previously reported utterances, this which was approved by his hearers, "we are still in the parliamentary session of 1917. By rights I should have had that election. Only the working of the nefarious election act kept it from me. Then wholever contests my right now without consulting me and the executive of the Liberals of East Elgin is an interloper and cannot escape opprobrium of the result, without interference, as between Mr. Stancell and myself has not been in doubt, I appeal to your continuation Mr. Stancel and myself has not been in doubt, I appeal to your continuation of the 1917 campaign between the Union Government and Liberalism as it is understood in East Eigin."

The speaker vigorously denied any attempts on the part of the Liberals to secure Mr. McDermand's withdrawal "He may withdraw if he chooses, but, it will be entirely at his own discretion and that of United Farmers. I will not now withdraw," continued Mr. Charton amid applause.

The cheese and sugar deals were again presented to the people with no uncertain forcefulness, and indirect taxation with its attendant evils and inequalities was made the basis of many constructive proposals by Mr. Charlton, principally "a tax on incomes," which would secure a return of the greedy gains of the war speculabor, and an inheritance tax, which would tend to equalize the burden of the nation's indebtedness by taxing inherited wealth. the nation's indebtedness by taxing inherited wealth.

Works Out Fairly.

The unfair working out of the Government's plan of divil re-establishment of the returned men, and another case of bereaved dependents was also under fire, and Mr. Charlton made it plain that his abilities could be relied upon to correct certain existing abuses in connection with this matter. He had, he said received much correspondence from returned men, not only those living in East Elgin, but elsewhere, expressing gratitude for the stand he had taken, and showing confidence in his interests to do fairly by them.

An Extorionate Scheme.

Mr. Charlton referred to the housing scheme as a system of extortionate procedure, in which a returned man could not secure money on security to buy his own home, unless it was of those erected by the housing commisnosion. This he could buy at a set price whether the conditions suited or fiot, but no other. ed To Restore Service

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(By the Canadian Press.)—Full work is expected to be resumed in the coal mines closed flow by the recent miners' strike, on Monday, when the railways are also expected to institute a normal service. Restrictions on lighting in force since the beginning of the strike probably will be removed tonight, but limitations on the supply of household coal will probably be continued for the next two weeks. Reports from the coal fields today concerning the men's quick return to work are optimistic, but many mines cannot start fully till Monday. It is anticipated that it will take two months for all the industries affected by the tie-up to get back to normal again.

DETROIT, Nov. 4.—A proposed amendment to the state legislation that in effect would abolish parochial and private schools in Michigan was decisively defeated at Tuesday's election.

Returns from 2,024 precincts, including practically complete figures from all the populous counties of the state gave 545,061 against the amendment, and 260,305 in favor of it.

[Special to The Advertiser.] OTTAWA, Nov. 4 .- A further conference between the Dominion and the provinces on the question of the handing over by the federal authorities of In Every Hen the natural resources of the West to the provinces, is in contemplation. The question is one of long standing, and

At that conference the western provinces held that they were not only entitled to control of their resources, but also to the money subsidies which "The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the laying life of a hen was too short," says Henry Trafford, International Poultry Expert and Breeder, for nearly eighteen years editor of Poultry Success.

The average pullet lays 150 eggs. If kept the second year, she may lay 100 more. Then she goes to market. Yet, it has been scientifically established that every pullet is born or hatched with over one thousand minute egg germs in her system—and will lay them on a highly-profitable basis over a period of four to six years' time if given proper care.

How to work to get 1,000 eggs from every hen; how to get pullets laying early; how to make the old hens lay like pullets; how to keep up heavy egg production all through cold winter months when eggs are highest; triple egg production; make slacker hens hustle; $5 profit from every hen in six winter months. These and many other moneymaking poultry secrets are contained in Mr. Trafford's "1,000 EGG HEN" system of poultry raising, one copy of which will be sent absolutely free to any reader of this paper who keeps six hens or more. Provincial Officers Hannah and Smith, two days ago placed Theodore King, of Dover Township, under arrest for having a badge of the provincial force in his possession without authority. King was allowed to go on $200 bail and has not been seen since. This is the first time that a person has ever had a provincial policeman's badge on his person without authority. It is believed that the badge was used by certain persons for illegal seizures of liquor.

All medicines, however, are not suited to elderly people any more than to children, so you will be glad to know of a particular medicine that acts as near to Nature as has yet been found. It is a prescription written this cold ways ago by Dr W thirty odd years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who is himself now in the 82nd year of his age and still active in his profession. It is known in the trade as Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, and you can buy it under that name at any drug store. A sixty-cent bottle will last an average family many months, and all can use it.

Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. It acts mildly, gently and without griping. It so trains the stomach and bowel muscles that in time medicine of all kinds can be dispensed with. When people learn of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin and see how wonderfully it acts they realize how unnecessary it is to use drastic salt waters, pills and powders, for these do but temporary good and are weakening to most constitutions. Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, on the Laxative Syrup Pepsin, on the contrary, is so natural and safe, (it contains no narcotic or strong drugs), that two generations of mothers have given it to their

"JACK O' LANTERN" AT THE GRAND TONIGHT. To be the stage manager of ordinary dramatic shows is very much of sinecure in comparison to acting in which, if it be of the ordinary kind, in in turn is itself a light when compared to the work of stage managing a musical extravaganza of such magnitude as "Jack o' Lantern," which will be seen here tonight and twice Saturday. The man who runs the stage and things fot "Jack o' Lantern" is Frank Herbert. He is a very retiring sort of individual. It is doubtful if he has time to be otherwise, and if you search in the program for his name you will time to be otherwise, and if you search in the program for his name you will have to look way down toward the end, unless you come across it opposite the name of the character he plays in the first act. For, busy as he is otherwise, he plays a character that takes him well through half the performance. Mr. Mast is the first one at the theatre before the performance. He must be, because of the possibility of reported absences of cast members or like incidents, in which case he must busy himself planning relief measures, so that there will be no hitch. Then, after he sees that all the working crew is ready and at work setting up the first scene and has heard and adjusted the number of personal matters with the multifarious company members, he darts to his dressing-room to make up for his part.

First out of his dressing-room, he goes over performance details, such as seeing that everything is in readiness, the while his assistant is giving the last calls in the dressing-rooms, and the overture is playing, and prepares for his real work, compared to which his previous tasks have been mere tuning up.

I sleep like a log the whole night through and get up in the mornings that to say it was the best thing I ever want to say it was the best thing I ever did, for it very soon fixed me up in fine shape. I never had such an appetite as in the dressing-rooms, and the overture is playing, and prepares for his readiness, the while his assistant is giving the last calls in the dressing-rooms, and the overture is playing, and prepares for his readiness, the while his assistant is giving the last calls in the dressing-rooms, and the overture is playing, and prepares for his readiness, the will have now, and I'm never bothered a particle with indigestion or dizzy spells. his previous tasks have been mere tuning up.

And if one should be privileged to go on the stage and there observe a quick-moving, active man darting about from place to place with never a stop except to do or say something hurriedly, it could be safely put down that he was Mr. Mast, the stage manager.

As complaint adjuster he is court As complaint adjuster ne is court of commonest resort, and as blame receiver he challenges all-comers. Some day, he avers, he is just going to blow up and let his mind and tongue run free, in which case there will exit from grace a perfectly-contained stage ever seen on a Canadian stage. In brilliance of coloring, architectural charm and beauty of design and execu-tion, it would be difficult to excel. Here again the solid nature of the scenery— the balcony and the entry to the house— lend verisimilitude to the action, and give to the entire action a vividness and a force it would inevitably lack othermanager.

"THE WANDERER."

One of the commanding figures in "The Wanderer," the great Biblical drama which comes to the Grand next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is Frederick Mosley as Jesse, the patriarch and father. He is austere, yet kindly, devout and altogether a Jew and a staunch believer in every ceremonial of the law. To him it was a great sin to travel on the Sabbath day or any holy day, for the law as handed down from Sinai forbade it. When Jether, his wayward son, insisted upon his portion that he might sisted upon his portion that he might go away with an evil companion, Jesse, being just, gave it to him, but as Jether went away in disobedience and in a manner to break his mother's

Each scene is not only a picturesque thing in itself, but so constructed and colored as to constitute a perfect setting for the action and a harmonious background for the colorful costumes, the beauty of which has been enthusiastically commented upon everywhere the production has played.

The opening scene of the brigands' lair in the grim Sardinian mountains is impressive, and the subdued lighting lends additional romantic atmosphere to the action. Instead of the customary drops, this is a solid set, and that fact enables the company to play the scene in a most realistic manner without fear of any lack of conviction at any point.

The second scene, which depicts the courtyard of the governor's palace, is admitted to be one of the handsomest

To make a French knot, bring the needle up on the right side of the cloth at the point where the knot is to be made, then holding the thread near the cloth with the left hand, wind it two or three times around the point of the needle, according to the size of the knot desired, stick the point of the needle back into the cloth very near the place where it came French knots are used in line deco

To finish the ends of set-in or tailored pockets, the ends of seams, or the stitching of plaits, various ornament

the bar. To make a bar at the end

Do not make the bar too heavy for the

Now bring the needle up at one end of the bar, and exactly below it, put the needle through to the wrong side above the bar exactly opposite where it just came up, making a small stitch straight across the long threads of the bar; bring the needle up again below the bar close beside the first stitch, and repeat, thus covering the long threads with a plain stitch over and over. It is necessary to bring the needle up, and to push it through with two motions, to make sure that the long stitches of the bar are covered on the wrong side as well as on the right.

The first dose of castor oil should not be given unless the attending physician insists. If the first dose is not given there is little likelihood that a habit of constipation will become established. The major effect of castor oil is binding.

Indeed, a mother who ventures to feed her own baby a physic without express orders fron the physician makes a mistake which is pretty sure to bring regret later on, for the alimentary machinery of an infant is most delicately adjusted and it requires very little crude interference by means of physics to upset the nice adjustment and bring no end of digestive disturbance and costiveness.

Better, always, to wait 48 hours for spontaneous evacuation than to administer any laxative or injection. The imagined dangers of costiveness in infancy are great, but the actual dangers are small. Physics do more harm than constipation, and this includes bowel injections or suppositories, of course.

Sometimes constipation is due to an excessive proportion of casein (the proteid or cheese part of cow's milk). In such cases the stools are hard, dry and very offensive in odor. One remedy is the addition of or increase of the cereal element (oatmeal water or barley water or other cereal decoction) used in diluting the milk: another is the use of top-milk in place of straight milk.

A frequent cause of costiveness in bottle babies is insufficient solid food material. WHAT'S IN A NAME? Facts about your name; its history; its meaning; whence it was derived; its significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel.

FREDERICA. Frederica is the feminine counterpart of the popular masculine name Frederick. It signifies "peace ruler." and comes originally from the old freyr of Teutonic mythology. Freyr meant "free," which is loosely translated to "love of peace." The idea was personlified into a god of very high rank, who was later disintegrated into a brother and sister called Freyr and Freya.

Freya named the sixth day of the week and presided over love and marriage and drove over battlefields in a charlot drawn by panthers to conduct the slain to their appointed places in Valhalla. While Freyr was progressing by direct route into Frederick, the feminine form was slower in becoming Frederica. There are records of such queer deviations as Frithwswith, Fridiwid and Frethesanta in the eighth century.

The saintly daughter of the Lort of Oxford bore the name of Frithswith and lived in a little cell at Thornbury, and had curious adventures which are portrayed in a window of the cathedral o Frederica is the feminine counterpart

WALTON INQUEST TO

BE RESUMED FRIDAY

SARNIA, Nov. 4.—The inquest into the death of William Walton will be resumed in the city police court tomorrow night. The jury with Dr. R. G. R. Miss Roxie Milliagn, driver of the car in which Walton was riding at the time it crashed into a freight train at the South Christina street crossing of the G. T. The regular session of the city council on Monday night, it is expected, will produce several items of interest to the public. That the cost of operating the city incinerator will be one of the morsels to be discussed was stated today. It is said that the consumption of coal has increased materially, thereby increasing the cost of operation.

A commission to govern the general hospital under municipal ownership, shelved at the last meeting, is again on the program. A statement from the board of edu-A statement from the board of education showing the number of resident and non-resident pupils attending the public schools of the city is also expected. This subject was discussed at the last council when it was stated that the percentage of non-resident pupils was much larger than usual, and that consequently some city pupils were only able to attend part time.

pany Differ At Railway Board Hearing.

HAMILTON, Nov. 4.—The Bell Telephone Company's application for increased service rates came before the railway board here in session today, when there were present representatives of the local chamber of commerce, the city of Hamilton, and the Hamilton Medical Society.

The city was represented by E. R. Bower, deputy city treasurer; J. B. Williams appeared for the chamber of commerce, and Dr. J. E. Davey for the medical society. The city council chamber, where the hearing opened, was filled with representative citizens interested in the case, Commissioner S. J. McLean was chairman of the board, and the other commissioners were A. S. Goodeve and A. C. Boyce, K.C.

Estimates Differ.

Eric Bower, deputy city treasurer, gave the Belle Telephone Company's estimate of revenue under the new rates and the estimates of the city of Hamilton. Under the present rate the total is $407,919; the telephone company's estimate under the new rate is $778,681.

The increased revenue from Hamilton would thus amount to $370,762 under the new city's estimate. By the telephone company's estimate the increased revenue from the city would total $129,-496. Examined by F. R. Waddell, K.C., city solicitor, Mr. Bower stated that he figured the telephone company would receive a revenue from the city of $788,-681.

passable from recent heavy rains, and the attendance of the farmers was much reduced thereby, Hon. P. D. Crerar addressed a large audience here tonight. Rests on Citizen.

The prosperity, the administration, the business of the country rested on the citizen. One of the finest contributions the farmers have made to Canadian progress was the stimulation of open discussion.

Some criticism had been directed against the farmers' organization. The declaration of political principles laid down by the farmers before the people were not the product of a few men, but were produced by great conventions in many provinces and in succeeding years. Yet this platform was criticized as a class policy and all the old bogies were raised of class against class. This criticism came from those who were interested in keeping the compon receiptersected in keeping the compon present contents. criticism came from those who were interested in keeping the common people down to the level they had been neretofore.
Mr. Crerar declared he was surprised to see even the prime minister make statements such as this.

Tip Top Tailor Prophecy That's Coming True

REPRESENTATIVES' RETURN

Hope to Secure Higher Prices for Canadian Crop of Excellent Quality.

Canadian flax men are eagerly awaiting the return from Ireland of representatives investigating the market situation for Canadian flax fibre and seed. In past years the price has been practically set by the American mills, but this year it is hoped that British competition will insure a much higher price for both fibre and seed. Labor and other increased costs have resulted in boosting the cost of flax-growing to very high figures and it will be necessary to sell at good prices or the industry will not be profitable.

The Canadian flax crop, according to S. F. Glass, M. P., is this year away above the production of any previous year in the history of the Canadian industry.

"There will be more men in the lumber camps this winter than at any time during the past five years," Rev. Thomas Joplin, field secretary of the Shantymen's Christian Association said today in an interview with The Advertiser. "Thousands of men are out of work in Montreal and Toronto, and rather than face starvation in the city they will go to the bush this winter. Conditions in London and the other smaller centres are not bad, but this influx to the camps from the larger centres means that the shantymen will have to greatly increase their activities. I would like, if possible, to raise $2,000 in London."

The Shantymen's Christian Association, which Dr. Joplin represents, was founded by William Henderson of Toronto in 1908. For twelve years it has been distributing gospels and tracts to the men in the lumbering, mining and construction camps and sending missioneries to them. The organization New York, Nov. 5—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Further extensive accumulations of rails and equaly heavy selling of shippings and oils created highly irregular conditions at the opening of today's stock market. Northern Pacific was the most conspicuous feature of an exchange of 4,000 shares at 95 to 941/2. the men in the lumbering, mining and construction camps and sending missionaries to them. The organization works from the viewpoint that it is useless to educate the immigrant unless some soft of ethical religious standard is also imparted. The foreigner with a little knowledge is a potential Bolshevist, Mr. Joplin said. These men are numerous in the lumber camps. The agitators are also there, apparently backed by an organization of unlimited wealth, and doing their best to create unrest. #### Up Against Our Own Record

THE achievements of the telephone in the past have fixed the quality of service you expect to-day.

If telephone users had not learned to rely so completely on the telephone, the demands upon us to-day would be far easier to meet.

In other words, we are up against our own record of service. Each of our 13,400 employees realizes that we are public servants, that our ideal is service-prompt, accurate, dependable service. We are striving with all our might to attain to that ideal.

By intensive training, by closest supervision, by a continuous campaign of education of all telephone workers, we believe we can satisfy all our subscribers that service of the highest standard is to us the first consideration.

And telephone workers, being human, appreciate the kindly operation of those they serve.

President Thomas McPherson of the trades and labor council, today stated that the T. and L. had nothing whatever to do with Tuesday night's convention, other than the delegates had received an invitation to attend and many of them were present. He did not know whether or not the T. and L. would be asked to indorse the men nominated. Another labor man said that Tuesday night's meeting was simply an I.L.P. convention and only members of that organization had a voice in the meeting. He said there were about 50 present, but only 25 who were members of the I.L.P. were allowed to vote. In his opinion not half of the trades unions in the city were represented.
