"LABBY" RETRAOTS

London, May 1.—The libel suit brought by Lord Suffield against Henry Labouchere, growing out of statements made in Truth, reflecting upon the former, was settled this morning. Mr. Labouchere withdrew all the imputations on the honor of Lord Suffield, who expressed himself as being more satisfied with this statement than he would have been with a verdict in his favor.

ALL LOOK FOR EARLY PEACE

Favorable Outlook if Leaders Fairly Place the Situation Before the Burghers.

Will Reach Final Decision on 15th Inst. and Will Deliver Same to Kitchener.

Pretoria, May 1.—The general meeting of the Boer leaders, at which a final decision on the subject of the peace negotiations is expected, will take place at Vereeniging, Transvaal, May 15.—In the meantime, in pursuance of an understanding reached by the Boer delegates at the conference recently held here, the delegates are busy visiting the burghers in the field.

It is officially asserted that subsequent to the deliberations of the Boer leaders at Vereeniging they will proceed to Pretoria, and that Mr. J. H. Kitchener's decision in regard to the peace terms they are prepared to accept.

THE OUTLOOK FAVORABLE.
It is believed among Boers who have surrendered and other well-informed persons that the peace outlook is favorable if the delegates place the situation fairly before the burghers.

MAJORITY FAVOR PEACE.
Boer meetings continue to be held chiefly in the Transvaal to receive the leaders' decision, and that it is believed that a majority of the Boers will be in favor of peace. It is said about 300 Boer delegates will attend the conference to be held at Vereeniging, Transvaal Colony, May 15, and that all sections of the burghers will be thoroughly represented there. It is understood that a vote by ballot will be taken at this conference. It is reported that General De Wet has frankly declared the British terms to be reasonable, and that it is advisable to accept them, while General Delarey is said to be ready to abide by the decision of the majority. The outlook for peace, therefore, is promising.

WILD RIOT AND DEVASTATION

Serious State of Affairs Now Existing in South Russia Over Land Grants.

Peasants Use Torch and Burn the Duke of Oldenburg's Estate—Fierce Combat.

St. Petersburg, May 1.—Duke Alexander (of Oldenburg) celebrated chateau of Romine, in the government of Voronez, has been burned by revolted peasants, who practically ruined the estate. The duke is the father-in-law of the Czar's sister, Olga, who married his son, Duke Peter, last year.

The seriousness of the situation in South Russia is apparent from the fact that Dragenoff, Governor-General of Kiev, Posenov, Vice-Director of the department of police, and other officials, have joined Von Plehve, the minister of the interior, at Kharkoff. The Voronez sugar refineries have especially suffered from the outbreak, during which the Duke of Oldenburg's estate was dismantled. It now develops that the agitators, who are chiefly responsible for the spread of revolutionary movement among the hungry peasants, used a curious political canard to bring the former serfs and the land owners into rebellion. A rumor was industriously circulated that the Czar had ordered the lands of the nobles to be divided among the emancipated serfs. The peasants thereupon formed committees under the communist officials, which waited on the land owners and ordered them to vacate the land withheld from the peasants, whose their own agents, and proceeded to distribute the land and movable, leaving the noblemen from 15 to 20 acres each. The proceedings, which were orderly, were conducted with the utmost gravity until the authorities interfered. Thereafter there was riot, arson and devastation. In military circles it is believed that the army manoeuvres, which have been planned to take place in Crel and Koursk, cannot occur, owing to the disturbed state of those governments.

OFFICER DEZELIA DREW GUN AND FACED ARMED DESPERADO

Stirring Midnight Scene in a Tilbury Hotel—Brief Battle of Words Followed by Breaking of Door—Officer and Man Drew Weapons—"Cleverest Capture in Kent" is Comment of Chief Holmes.

"Go to —!" Get away from that door or you're a dead 'un."

There was a thud, a cracking of timber—and the portal gave way. A brief scramble, a clink of fire-arms—and silence. By the dim reflection from the lamp in the hall a ticklish tableau was revealed. Over by the bureau, partially dressed, stood the man Clifford, Winchester rifle in hand, aimed in the direction of the empty doorway. A few feet to the right was Officer Dezelia, his revolver trained upon the holder of the rifle. The man moved slightly seeking to bring his rifle round on the officer. The latter's weapon clicked ominously.

"I'll give up," sulkily.

"Then put down your gun."

The fire-arm descended. Detective Murray entered carrying revolver and lamp. These were placed on the table, and the handcuffs hurriedly clasped on the man. Then Officer Dezelia put his revolver in his pocket.

"It was the cleverest arrest ever made in Kent county," was Chief Holmes' comment this morning.

Some three weeks ago, as recorded in The Planet at that time, Chief Holmes received a communication from A. Sarvis, head of the Sarnia police, notifying him of a serious case in which one Charles Clifford, believed to be a notorious character, had gotten into a serious tangle with a young girl there, as a result of which he had several times threatened, and once attempted, her life. The attempt was at the point of a revolver, but was fortunately frustrated by the timely arrival of assistance, and the man skipped. Chief Sarvis asked that the Chatham police keep a look-out for the man, who, it was believed, had decamped in this direction.

Chief Holmes detailed Officer Dezelia on the case. The latter at once initiated an investigation and ascertained that the man had twice visited the Maple City and as hurriedly departed. He had also stayed a day in Tilbury.

These facts were communicated to Sarnia and brought, in return, the information that Clifford had written the girl a letter making terrible threats if she did not deny everything. This letter was posted in Toronto, but was written on the letter paper of the Hotel Merrill, in this city.

Officer Dezelia secured definite track of the man on Monday and yesterday telegraphed the Sarnia police that he had arrived in Tilbury.

Last night Detective Murray arrived in quest of the man and, with Officer Dezelia, left on the midnight C. P. R. train for Tilbury. They located Clifford at the Tilbury House, and the proprietor with the officers went up to his room to awake him.

Clifford declined to be taken and ordered the officers to depart on peril of their lives. Murray took charge of the lamp and hallway, while Dezelia undertook the nifty task of breaking in the door and tackling the man.

Then followed the scene described. Clifford was taken to the Tilbury lock-up over night and left for Sarnia with Detective Murray this morning. He had in his room, in addition to the loaded Winchester, a double-barrelled shot-gun and a revolver.

A remarkable feature of the case was the finding in Clifford's possession of the letter of the Sarnia police to the Tilbury Chief regarding preparations for his capture. Dezelia severely reprimanded the Tilbury man, who gave excuse that he had lost the letter and Clifford evidently found it.

It was a very successful institution, about 40 candidates being initiated. The election of officers resulted as follows:

After the installation of officers an adjournment was made to the Clifford House, where a sumptuous banquet was prepared. Besides the delegates from Chatham were some from Wallaceburg and Florence.

HARBOTTLE RELEASED

Toronto, May 1.—Dr. Harbottle, who was convicted at Barford some four months ago, for shooting with intent to kill, was released from the Central Prison to-day, as the result of a petition to the government. Harbottle says that the "violent perversion of judgment and justice caused him to shoot. He wanted to bring the rottenness of the judicial system before the Dominion government. The village of Barford, he says, is overrun by rowdies who do all in their power to make the lives of respectable people miserable.

RUBBED IT IN ROSS MACHINE

Big Split in the Liberal Party Convention at Ottawa—Trouble not Ended.

Scott Got Majority in Spite of Fact That Ross & Co. Had it Out and Dried for Bingham.

Ottawa, May 1.—The Liberal convention held to-night was one of the most exciting ever held here. The visit of Premier Ross a few days ago failed to patch up the differences over the Irish Liberal nomination, and to-night the Liberals of Ottawa enter the Provincial fight torn by dissension. The fight was between Darcy Scott, a young barrister, son of the Secretary of State, and ex-Mayor Bingham. The Ontario Government selected Alex. Lumsden, the retiring member, and Mr. Bingham as the candidates, but Mr. Scott stuck to his determination to contest the convention, refusing to withdraw at the request of Premier Ross. At the ward meetings on Wednesday night to select delegates Mr. Scott's friends worked hard, and this morning, when names were counted, it was estimated that he would have at least 50 majority in the convention to-night. Party leaders worked hard, however, and when the division took place in the convention the vote stood: Scott, 94; Bingham, 92. The result was greeted with cheers by Scott's friends. The interesting feature, however, was that at a meeting of the Liberal executive held in the afternoon letters were read from Mr. Lumsden and Mr. Bingham positively refused to allow their names to be put before the convention, on the ground that it was not

BAD FIRE

Harwich Farmer Suffers Severe Loss—Barns and Outbuildings Destroyed.

A very serious fire occurred in Harwich yesterday afternoon and, as a result, the barns and outbuildings of Alex. Martin, Gravel road, are a complete loss.

The fire started at two o'clock yesterday afternoon, evidently from a toaster lit by some children playing around the barn. Eight hundred bushels of beans were stored in the barn, and these, being of an oily nature, made a very large conflagration. The wind was very high but was blowing in a favorable direction. Everything in the barn at the time, including all of his farm implements, were completely destroyed.

The loss will be about $1,300. Mr. Martin had $400 insurance in the Gore Fire Insurance Company, through F. P. Weldon, the local agent.

The barns were still burning this morning, but all danger of the fire spreading was past.

PRICE GOES UP

The Maple City butchers held a meeting last evening at which all the meat sellers in the city were present. Mr. Montrose was elected to preside.

The high price of cattle of late has cut the profit of the butchers so low that they claim there is not a living left in the margin they make. Without much discussion the meeting proceeded to business.

The price of the best cuts of steak, including sirloin, porter house and round, was raised to 15 cents per lb. These cuts formerly sold at a shilling per lb. Other inferior slashings of steak sell at 12 cents per lb. new schedule. Boiling meats will now sell at 8 cents per lb. The formerly sold at from 6c. to 7c. per 16 ounces.

Roasts will now be purchased at from 10c. to 15c. per lb., as against from 8c. to 12c. per lb. previously.

DETROIT DISGRACE

"I was in Detroit last evening and saw what was a disgrace to the United States," said a travelling man in the city to-day. "In front of the City Hall of that city was a sign in electric lights 'Welcome to the Boer Delegates.' A good deal of discussion occurred over it in the City Council where a number of very sensible aldermen kicked against it, but the German element in the council over ruled the rest."

"A German friend of mine explained that it would be and has been done for all delegations no matter what their purpose was, but I think that surely an exception should have been made in this case."

BOARDS OF TRADE

Paul Jarvis, Secretary of the Toronto Board of Trade, was in the city to-day calling on his Chatham friends and interviewing a number of the members of the local Board of Trade.

It is contemplated by the Toronto Board to call a conference of the different Boards of Trade all over the province to be held in Toronto on June 4th, 5th and probably the 6th.

At this convention different subjects relative to the interests of the province will be discussed. Among these subjects will be the duties on wheat which now give no preference to the colonies and also the question of defense. Other very important questions will also be dealt with.

The convention will then draw up a report of their proceedings, recommending what they think should be done in the case of each subject and send their report to Sir Wilfrid Laurier previously to his going to the coronation services. The Premier will then give some idea of the views of the people of Ontario on these subjects, to assist him to act in the best interests of the Canadian people at the conference of colonial premiers, which will be held after the coronation.

All Boards having a hundred members are requested to send two delegates to this convention in Toronto, with one more delegate for every additional hundred members.

Chatham will be represented at this convention in Toronto.

During his stay in the city Mr. Jarvis was the guest of Ald. W. E. McKough, who conducted him around and introduced him to the chairman and members of the Board of Trade.

PATHEPIC INCIDENT

A peculiarly pathetic incident has come to light in connection with the death of the late George H. Maynard.

Quinn and Patterson, who employed Mr. Maynard, as tinmith, had the contract for the tin decorations on the roof of the building from which Mr. Maynard fell. The decorations will be built up somewhat like a tower and will be mounted with a large hollow tin globe.

It is the custom in such cases to deposit slips of papers in this globe on which are written names of the men who performed the work and also names of any other citizens. Mr. Maynard has followed this old time custom in finishing up several jobs for which he had the contract, and in this case he placed in the globe a slip of paper bearing the inscription:

Made by Geo. H. Maynard, April 2, 1902. Whoever finds this can place a flower on my grave."

When Mr. Maynard wrote this inscription he was in the best of health and enjoying a prosperous life and thought, probably, that after a great many years had passed when the building would then be torn down some one would probably find the slip of paper. Little did he think that in one short month, before the building was completed, the slip would be found and the finder would be able to carry out the instructions placed upon the paper.

The inscription has been replaced in the globe with the names of some other citizens and will be put in its intended place on top of the building.

ACCIDENTAL ASSAULT

Thos. Grice appeared in the County Court, charged with assaulting Martha Brooks and doing actual bodily harm. Grice elected to be tried by jury. From the evidence it appeared that a young lad had been annoying Grice on Park Ave. West. Grice chased the boy and, in his pursuit, bumped against Mrs. Brooks, knocking her down and breaking her arm. Maria Jane Kersey was standing talking to the woman at the time and gave evidence in accordance with the story already narrated.

Mrs. Kersey couldn't identify Grice as the man. Mrs. Brooks, the injured woman, appeared in court. She had her arm in splints and was almost too ill to give evidence.

George Gordon Martin appeared for the defendant. He asked the court to dismiss the case on the ground that the injury had been caused by misadventure. Judge Houston held that the evidence was sufficient to warrant sending the man up for trial.

Grice was released on his own recognizance for $400 and his brother in a like amount.

Mrs. H. Elschen, Grey street, is very low.

BAPTIST CHOIR

A very pleasant evening was spent by the choir at the residence of Rev. J. J. and Mrs. Ross last evening, in honor of the first anniversary of the pastor's wedding.

An address was presented to Mr. Ross, accompanied by a mantle clock, on behalf of the choir and congregation. A bouquet of flowers was also presented to them by the young people of the church.

Mr. Ross made a feeling reply, thanking the choir for their valuable help in the church services. The evening was spent in games and amusements.

One queer coincidence was revealed by Mr. Ross, in his address to the choir, and was the subject of much comment and merriment. Mr. and Mrs. Ross were engaged on the first of May, and married on the first of May.

Mrs. Ross came to Chatham every first of May and in addition her husband when addressing her calls her May. This may be the reason why it is Mr. Ross' favorite month.

The evening was concluded with best wishes for the future happiness and prosperity of Mr. and Mrs. Ross in their future life.

PRETTY WEDDING

A very pretty wedding took place at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, when Miss Harriet Thorn, youngest daughter of Mr. H. Thorn, Hilliard street, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Robert J. Gray, an employee of the Wm. Gray & Sons Co. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. J. Ross at the Parsonsage, Emma street. Miss Libbie Thorn, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, while the groom was assisted by Wm. Richmond.

After the ceremony an excellent repast was served at the residence of the bride's mother. Many very useful and handsome presents were received by the happy couple who will take up their residence on Park street.

PURE "OUSSEDNESS"

The padlock from the barn on the property belonging to the Peter Rutherford estate, on the corner of Victoria and the 2nd concession, was stolen the other night. William Martin, who has the place leased, had just removed all the grain from the barn or the thief might have had more than a locked padlock. Mr. Martin still has the key which he says doesn't weigh enough to sell for old iron and if the thief wants it, he can have it. Mr. Martin believes the lock was stolen just out of pure cussedness. He says it was for the same reason that all of J. J. Cowan's young cabbage plants were pulled up one night recently. Mr. Cowan lives a little further out on the third concession.

PROUD PRINCESS

SCORNED JURY

ed the jury against being mystified by the telegrams from "hair-brained individuals like William T. Stead and others," and reputedly incriminating documents which were merely the "ordinary armament of a blackmailer." He said further: "Nothing could be more gross and treacherous than the prisoner's behavior throughout." He appealed to the jury to arrive at a verdict on the evidence which would rid society temporarily, at least, of a cruel and dangerous woman.

In passing sentence the judge remarked that he had taken into consideration the fact that the prisoner had received no substantial benefit from her forgeries.

The chief justice then addressed the prisoner impressively. He referred to her birth, her education, and her position in society. He deplored the two dark features of her case, namely, the attempts to incriminate the innocent Mrs. Schultz and the bribing of a boy in the employ of the post-office to forge a date line on the alleged cablegram from B. A. Hawkeyer.

During the address by the attorney-general Princess Radswill drummed angrily on the desk with her fingers, and was continually engaged in writing notes and tearing them up.

The jury was out for 35 minutes.

During its absence the Princess appeared to be unconcerned, laughingly spinning a coin to determine what the verdict would be, and exclaiming gleefully, "Not guilty!"

AN INSECTICIDE

White Arsenic is Well Recommended as a Substitute for Paris Green.

For several years white arsenic has been employed in an experimental way as a substitute for Paris green, but the amount used has been relatively small. At the present time the cost of arsenic is about fifteen cents. In smaller amounts a similar difference will be found. Paris green is but about fifty per cent. arsenic even when pure, and many reports of its adulteration are received. Arsenic then will go nearly twice as far, and as it costs but one-half as much per pound, it will be but one-fourth as expensive as Paris green.

Arsonic is but slowly soluble in water and many report that if placed in water well stirred up and applied to the plants immediately no injury is shown, but it is allowed to stand enough of the arsenic will be dissolved to injure the plants.

When arsenic is boiled in lime water it forms an arsenite of lime and is chemically the same as London purple, except for the coloring matter of the latter. We prepare the arsenic by boiling one pound with two pounds of lime in two gallons of water for forty minutes. For spraying fruit trees this will answer for 400 gallons of water, but for the potato beetle only 200 gallons can be used.

If a combined insecticide and fungicide is desired, the arsenic preparation can be added to 400 gallons of Bordeaux mixture. This can be used with safety upon nearly all trees, but upon those with tender foliage we find it advisable to add a pound of lime to each 20 gallons of the spraying material if Bordeaux mixture is not used.

It will not do to use air-slaked lime, but it should be fresh lime as far as possible in the same manner as for Bordeaux mixture. Care should be taken that the arsenic is not mistaken for some of the household chemicals. It should be put away out of the reach of children, and it will be advisable to use in some sort of other coloring matter.

Inspection of Nurseries.

Most of the "nurseries" inspected have been found practically free from insect pests of a serious nature. Ten important species have been found at different times, however, in sufficient numbers to do serious injury. In all cases efforts were at once made to clean out the stock thus infested. The most important insect which attacks nursery stock in this state is the San Jose scale. It is important to nurserymen not only because of the injury which it may do to the infested stock, but because it is greatly dreaded by both dealers and fruit growers alike. Hence stock from a nursery which is known to have been once infested, does not find a ready sale.

Experiments in dipping and spraying young nursery trees indicate that plant lice may be controlled in the nursery by dipping the curled tips of infested trees in a solution of whale oil soap, 1 pound to 7 gallons of water. The work should be done early in the season. Flea beetles attacking young pear and apple trees may be held in check by spraying with green arsenic, 1 pound to 100 gallons of water, and the canker worm will succumb to the same treatment.

The experiments in fumigating nursery stock with hydrocyanic acid gas, when the stock is piled in the cellar for winter storage, indicate that this method may prove practical, thus avoiding the necessity of building special fumigating houses.—N. Y. Experimental Bulletin, No. 138.

Preventative of Carnation Rust.

Many carnationists believe not only that common salt is a preventative of carnation rust but also that it is a decided promoter of vigor in growth of the plants themselves. Experiments made by the Station have proven that neither of these beliefs rests on a sound basis.

In experiments made in 1896 (Bulletin No. 100) spraying the plants with salt solution failed to prevent rust in the least and none of the plants seemed more vigorous because of the saline shower. In tests made in 1898 no rust appeared on any of the plants, either treated or untreated; but the "salted" carnations did no better than the others in size or vigor.

In 1898 carnations were grown in soil to which salt solutions of different strength were added and they showed an injurious effect from the salt solution. Five of ten plants each were used in this experiment, one lot being untreated and the others receiving from one-fourth of a gram to five grams of salt per plant at each of eight applications about two weeks apart. The non-appearance of rust rendered that feature of the experiment useless; but an experienced carnationist, wholly unacquainted with the treatment given the plants was asked to pass judgment upon them. He pronounced the check lot best, the two lots receiving one gram and one fourth gram per plant about equal and second best and the two lots receiving two and five grams about equal and poorest. Similar results followed a similar test in 1897 and the rust was worse, if there was any difference whatever, on the salted plants.—N. Y. Bulletin, No. 128.

Bristles.

When the pigs at eight weeks old but don't do it suddenly. An early as three or four weeks they must begin to eat a little and should have a little trough of dainties to tempt their appetite. It will soon increase and at eight weeks the pigs will scarcely miss their dam.

The feed cooker can be used to a good advantage for steaming clover hay when fed once or twice a week. If not often through the winter months, and they seem to eat the grain better when fed some rough or steamed feed.

To give a hog medicine to him with a running nose, cut off the tip of a good diagonal and place it in the pouch formed by the angle of the lips pulled away from the right side of the jaw. Pour the fluid in through the bore.

The best medicine for swine is cleanliness in constant doses. For ailing hogs, if you do not know what is the cause, give say a half ounce of flowers of sulphur with new milk for a large animal.

MADE A GOOD IMPRESSION.

A Case of Well Developed Nerve, Coupled With Wit.

"There is absolute wit in some men's nerve," said a business man to a reporter. "My partner and I, with the intention of expanding our business, about a year ago decided to send a representative through the south. We looked over the field carefully and finally picked out a young man who was possessed of good address and who, we felt sure, would do the work."

"He had been convivial in former days, but his department had been such for a year that it made us feel confident he would do the proper thing. He was given $400 for expenses and was started out on the mission. It was the understanding that he was to make a daily report of his efforts."

"Two months passed by, and we never heard from him. We telegraphed repeatedly to different towns that were on his itinerary, but not a word could be learned regarding his whereabouts. Finally one day a hurried telegram, collect, came. It read:

"I am not selling many goods, but am making a fine impression. Wire $100 quick."

"The nerve of the fellow got our nerve, and, do you know, we wired him the $100, and afterward he made good. We have never asked him what he did during the two months, and he has never broached the subject to us. It was the wit that pleased us."

Siberian Camels.

The native camels of Siberia are a source of constant wonder to travelers. On the Mongolian plateau, for instance, the thermometer often registers a temperature of 40 degrees below zero, but the camels do not mind it at all, walking about as blithely as if the weather were as balmy as spring. On the other hand, the temperature on the Gobi desert in summer is sometimes 140 degrees above zero, and the beasts mind that heat just as little as they do the extreme cold.

Mohammed and the Hill.

Mohammed made the people believe that he would call a hill to him and from the top of it offer up his prayers for the observers of his law. The people assembled, Mohammed called the hill to come to him again and again, and when the hill stood still he was never a whit abashed, but said, "If the hill will not come to Mohammed, Mohammed will go to the hill."

The Conditions.

"Will this car take me to the plaza?" asked the excited old lady of the placid motorman.

"Well, under certain conditions—yes," replied the motorman.

"What are the conditions?" asked the old lady, still further perturbed.

"That you get on and pay your fare."

There is no cement that will repair broken promises.

ADVICE TO THE LOVER.

The Way to Conduct a Courtship With a Happy Ending.

Don't be too sudden about it. Many a girl has said "no" when she meant "yes" simply because her lover didn't choose the right time and pop the question gently.

Take a dark night for it. Have the blinds closed, the curtains down, and the lamp turned most on. Sit near enough to her so that you can hook your little finger into hers.

Wait until conversation begins to flag, and then quietly remark: "Susie, I want to ask you something."

She will fidget about a little, and probably reply: "Yes."

After a pause, you can add: "Susie, my actions must have shown—that is, you must have seen—I mean—that I must be aware that—"

Pause here for a while, but keep your little finger firmly locked. See may cough and try to turn the subject off by asking how you liked the sermon, but she only does it to encourage you. After a pause you can continue:

"I was thinking as I was coming up the street to-night, that before I went away I would ask you—that is, I would broach the subject nearest my heart—I mean I would know you."

Stop again, and give her hand a gentle squeeze. She may make a move to get away, or she may not. In either case it augurs well for you. Wait five minutes, and then go on:

"The past year has been a very happy one to me, but I hope that future years will be still happier. However, that depends entirely on you. I am here to-night to know—that is, to ask you—I am here to-night to hear from your own lips the one sweet—"

Wait again. It isn't best to be too rash about such things. Give her plenty of time to recover her composure, and then put your hand on your heart and continue:

"Yes, I thought as I was coming here to-night how happy I had been, and I said to myself that if I only knew—if I was only certain that my heart had not deceived me, and you were ready to share—"

Hold on—there's no hurry about it. Give the wind a chance to sob and moan outside amongst the trees. This will make her handsome, and call up the love in her heart. When she begins to cough and grow restless, you can go on:

"Before I met you, this world was a desert to me. I didn't take any pleasure in life, and it didn't matter whether the sun shone or not. But what a change in one short year! It is for you to say whether my future shall be a prairie of happiness or one long and never-ending pathway of thistles. Speak, dearest Susie, and say—and say five minutes more by the clock, and then add:

"That you will be—that is that you will be mine!"

She will heave a sigh, look up at the clock and round the room, and then, as she slides her hand over your vest pocket, she will whisper:

"Henry—I will."

"Henry—I will."

"Henry—I will."

free and independent. These letters were said to be in the possession of Mr. Robert Stewart, acting president of the Liberal Association, who was in the chair, but for some unexplained reason, they were not read to the convention.

The Irish Catholic nomination was first taken up, and after Mr. Scott had been nominated, Edward Devlin nominated Mr. Bingham. This gave rise to an acrimonious debate, Bingham's friends claiming that there was no authority for the nomination, and when the vote showed that Bingham was only two votes behind his opponent there was great surprise.

The Protestant nomination resulted in another debate, friends of Lumsden claiming that there was no authority for presenting his name. Chas. Crannell, Robert Stewart and ex-Mayor W. E. Brown were nominated, the first two retiring. On a vote Mr. Lumsden defeated Mr. Brown by 124 to 22, with 20 blank ballots cast. The convention broke up at midnight, with short speeches by Mr. Brown and Scott.

It is understood that an effort will yet be made to pull Mr. Scott out of the field and call another convention. Prominent Liberals stated that Mr. Lumsden will not accept to-night's nomination, and Mr. Bingham publicly announced his intention of running in any event. Neither Mr. Lumsden nor Mr. Bingham attended the convention.

A. Park applied re water for Wm. Yeomans, who lives just outside. He would put down the pipe and pay the outside price but have the privilege of selling the water.

Dr. Bray—I think it's a good proposition and ought to be accepted.

Mr. Sheldon moved that the proposition be accepted and work done under the superintendent's supervision.

The Chairman said he had seen J. C. Pritchard, of the G. T. R., and that in the event of the contract being accepted at $1,600 a year or $400 per quarter with meter and at the end of the year, if it did not amount to $1,600, that the balance would be allowed on the next quarter and would date contracts February, subject to Commissioners' approval.

The Mayor asked if something could not be done in regard to stand pipes used for filling the sprinkling carts.

The Mayor said that at present they were unsightly.

The engineer explained that the trouble with those used in the cities was that in early spring and late fall use they would freeze easily.

At the last meeting the matter of office rate had been referred to the superintendent. He reported that when two were in the office a net cost of $3.80 was incurred, $4.00 if three and $5.00 if more.

These Reduced Suits

For men and boys. Not a man within reach of the store who cannot profit by these offerings. Not a mother in all the district roundabout who cannot save good money by stocking her boys from the suits that are going out in our liquidation sale.

It's a time when prices generally are tilting upwards. Staple foodstuffs are on the rise, rents, and in fact most necessary expenditures show a tendency to increase. Wages are good, but that very fact includes good stiff prices for manufactured articles. Genuine bargains in articles of real value were never more worthy of attention than at this time.

And back of the bargains stands the regular priced stock—the splendid new spring garments that represent the crest of our fourteen years clothing achievements.

SUPPLY DEPOT OF THE WORLD

Canada Destined to Supply the United States and Europe With Paper.

WATER POWER AND SPRUCE

Proposition of a New Paper Company Contains Rich Food For Reflection.

The Shareholder, a leading financial paper in Montreal, has a strong article on the pulp and paper industry in Canada, and says:

The exceptional advantages which Canada enjoys in relation to pulp material for the manufacture of paper, the inexhaustible supply of raw material, the excellence and availability of her water supply and its ready applicability for use as a motive power, offer strong inducements to capitalists desirous of seeking investment in profitable undertakings. That Canada can supply all the quarters of the globe with paper on conditions no way inferior, but in many superior, to competing countries, is a well-established fact, and justifies the expectation that this industry, which is already in a thriving condition will yet become, and that at no distant day, one of the leading and most profitable industries of the country. As demand regulates supply, and as the demand for the product of pulpwood has virtually no limit, the future is increasingly promising for this industry. It is highly desirable that the material should be manufactured in this country, and, then only, exported in the finished state. If other countries can manufacture our raw material to advantage that is all the more reason why we should see to it that the benefit they derive should be kept here. We are gratified, therefore, to know that efforts are being put forth to accomplish this desirable result, and we believe that these efforts will meet with that success which they deserve. Among the most recent enterprises in this direction is the Atlantic Pulp and Paper Company, Limited, which has been organized to take advantage of the unrivaled facilities for the manufacture of pulp and paper at New Richmond, on the Baie des Chaleurs, where it is confidently believed that these products can be manufactured equally economically, if not more so, than in any other place in America. The company proposes to manufacture for export trade, and the position of its works on the Atlantic seaboard makes it possible to ship to all foreign ports by water without transshipment, an advantage the value of which cannot be too highly estimated. In order to enable the company to complete the additional necessary works and secure sufficient capital it now offers for sale $250,000 of 7 per cent. cumulative preference stock at par, payable 10 per cent. on application, 20 per cent. on allotment, 20 per cent. two months, 25 per cent. four months, and a like sum six months after allotment. The prospectus fully sets out the objects contemplated, while the composition of the Board of Directors is a strong guarantee of the faith and experienced, practical business men have in the success of the undertaking. The investor seeking remunerative employment for his idle capital will find rich food for reflection in the statements contained in the prospectus issued by the company.
