LETTER FROM GUNNER SIELING.

Witley Camp, England, Sept. 23. Dear Sister:

I arrived safe and sound on the shores of old England on the 22nd, and got into camp at 5 a.m. on the 23rd. We left camp at Petawawa on the 8th, got to Halifax on the 11th, and got on board the Metagama and left Halifax on the 13th at 6 a.m., and arrived in England on the 22nd, so we had a long trip. We could have gone faster, but there were four transports and one cruiser on the trip, and the Northland was much the slowest boat, so we had to keep together as a protection against submarnes. When two days' sail from England five destroyers came out and met us, which was a sight well worth seeing, they are so speedy and small. They can make 45 knots an hour. The scenery vas lovely as we were coming down the channel between England and Ireland, and all kinds of ships coming up the river into Liverpool harbor. Crowds of women and children cheered and waved flags on the shore of the river as we came up.

As we were going through Quebec the 15th brigade were treated to a shower of stones by the spectators who pelted the train. We got off at another village in Quebec and went into a store, and the people there could not speak English, and thought the boys were stealing things, so the old man locked the door, and got the old shotgun down, and prepared to hold us up. The store was ust crowded with officers and men, and they were getting ready to clean up on ed the door and the soldiers left without doing any violence.

We went across a big bridge at Montreal, 11 miles long, which was the largest I had ever seen. We were four in a cabin on board, and the ship's crew served us at the table and did all the cleaning up, so we had nothing of that kind of work to do. The 4th Pioneers were with us on the Metagama, among whom I was surprised to meet Edward Schmidt, son of Mr. John Schmidt of Mildmay. I have not seen him since.

The names of the other boats that sail ed with us are the Scandinavian, Cameronian, Northland, and the cruiser Amphion. The Northland was the slow boat, so we couldn't make much time until we met the destroyers, and then we left her behind. The Scandinavian beat us in, and our boat and the Cameronian had a two days' race to port, and we beat her in by half an hour, so we were evenly matched for speed. We had a little physical drill on board. I never missed a parade, but a lot of the fellows were out for several days on account of seasickness. I missed one meal and fed the fish with one, so I was lucky in this respect.

The scenery in England is great, Many of the country houses are old and quaint, and covered with green vines, and have nicely kept lawns. The roads are paved like our city streets. This country has everything beat for scenery, surpassing even the wonderful things we saw in Quebec, and the other provinces on the way to Halifax. We have comfortable huts to sleep in here, with electric lights, and we have a gramaphone occasionally to amuse us. We have a wooden cot, with straw tick and four blankets, so we are well off. Half six days' visit, going on a special train. We are just 35 miles from London. They have small trains and engines here but they travel at a great speed. The cars are divided into compartments, and the cars have no aisles. like they have at home. One gets in from the side, and the cars have a running board

Our men that overstayed their last leave in Canada had all the dirty work to do on the trip over, but we all have a clean sheet to start on now. I wonder how long I can keep mine that way.

We were roused three times from our sleep one night on account of the Zeppelin raids. They managed to bring down two of the machines but not before 29 people were killed and ninety-nine others wounded.

Love to all, Clarence Sieling.

The conversation then flowed into channels; Paxhorn provoking morning?" roars of merriment by his stories and epigrams. Presently the ladies withdrew; Lady Constance to prepare for a ride with Adrien, which he had just suggested, and Miss Penelope to rest "nerves."

While waiting for his cousin rejoin him Adrien crossed over to the window, which commanded a view of the Castle entrance, and stood gazing idly down. Outside stood a smart motor, and from it was alighting the trim figure of Jasper Vermont.
"By Jove!" he exclaimed, "I had forgotten Jasper."

He tapped at the window, and waved his hand in affectionate greeting to yard and saddled; and in a his friend, who looked up with most amiable smile, as he brushed ahis side the servants who had hurried out to meet him.

There are people who are served well from sheer force of personality, and who, though neither generous nor unselfish themselves, yet contrive to abstract the very essence of these qualities from those around them; and of these Jasper Vermont was one. His tips were few, though he was lavish in smiles and honeyed words; yet not one of the retinue of servants at Barminster Castle but would fly to attend to his wants, as they would those of Adrien or Lord Barminster himself. A few minutes later he strolled into the room where the rest of the guests were seated. As he did so Lord Barminster involuntarily drew himself up with a slight frown. He had hoped that the "adventurer," as he invariably termed him, would remain in town and not thrust his unwelcome presence upon the guests at the Castle. But, in another minute, his natural courtesy reasserted itself; and, though it was patent to the least observant that the new arrival was not as welcome as he might have been, he answered Jasper's amiable inquiry as to his health politely enough.

"No, sir, I'm quite well, I assure you," Jasper replied, meekly, as if unconscious of any irony. "But I have learned enough wisdom to fall control of the drive, "I must get injuries.

Therefore, he denied him nothing, however extravagant or reckless in price, and refrained from any comment on his line of conduct.

The syndicate will establish stations for the supply of oil fuel on various ocean routes. Orders for a large number of ves-

The fall recruiting campaign is to be organized on a new plan and county pattalions will not be recruited in future. Instead a company will be raised in each county and a composite battalion secured by joining four of these county companies. In this way it is hoped to raise battalions and to avoid unnecessary expenditure in raising a full unit where recruits are already scarce.

That story of the Germans deliberateinoculating French prisoners with the germs of tuberculosis seems too horrible to be true. But the French government apparently has proof absolute, for it has accepted as genuine the reports, and the French government is a responsible one and has never shown any tendency to pass on to the world reports that had not been substantiated.

It is the pride of the British Red Cross that in every erisis in the campaigns of Great Britain and her allies, it has been able to bring prompt and efficient aid to supplement the untiring work of the official services. It is the only institution that carries voluntary aid to the sick and wounded of the British forces on land and sea in every reign of the war.

Wm. Had Terrible Pains in Kidneys and Back.

Dear Mr. Editor—I was to write you about "Americ." I was very sick, could hardly be up; I was in hed most of the time. Had terrible pains in my kidneys and back, so much so that I had to scream sometimes when I was sitting down and wanted to get up, the pain was so great. I had tried a well-known kidney medicine but it didn't help nae. I heard of Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets so I thought I went try them. I took coaly one box of the Tablets, and my back is now free from pain and I can work and take care of my family. I feel I cannot say enough for this medicine. Sincerely, Mrs. Wm. Keller.

Note: This "Anuric" is adapted especially for kidney complaints and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, weak back, rheumatism, dropsy, congestion of the kidneys, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine and urinary troubles. The physicians and specialists at Dr. Pierce's great Institution, at Buffalo, N. Y., have thoroughly tested this prescription and have been with one accord successful in eradicating these troubles, and in most cases absolutely curing the diseased kidneys. Patients having once used "Anuric" at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, have repeatedly sent back for more. Such a demand has been created that Dr. Pierce has decided to put "Anuric" in the drug stores of this country, in a ready-to-use form. If not obtainable send one dime by mail to Dr. Pierce for trial package or 50 cents for full treatment.

Fakir Arrested.

A fakir giving his name as Robert amont, of Owen Sound, was arrested in Hanever on Tuesday and brought to Tara by High Constable Ward. He wore a soldier's uniform and stated he was attached to the 242nd Battalion at Montreal. On Fair Day here he sold tags and chocolates and stated the revaue derived was in aid of the Red Cross Society. He did a considerable business, and it turns out that he was in business for himself. On Wednesday of last week he hired Frank King's auto to go to Owen Sound, and returned to Tara the following day and again hired the car to go to Elmwood, driving the car himself. He did not return the following day and King notified the police. On Tuesday of this week the authorities located him at Hanover and he was rought to Tara. The car showed that it had been racked and will require repairs to the extent of seventy dollars. Trapped Chicken Thief

His chicken flock having been reduced from 75 birds to less than 30 fowl, Mr. George Etsell, who lives near the river on the South Line, suspected that some animal was living high at his expense and setting a trap the other night had his suspicions confirmed by finding a big owl fluttering about the following morning with its foot securely caught in the trap. The bird measured nearly five feet from wing to wing and had grown unwieldly fat on stolen flesh. While enraptured at catching the thief, George's joy received a severe jolt by discovering a first-prize fowl he had recently bought ying nearby with its head off, thus howing that the owl was caught with he goods when the trap closed. The thief is still alive and in captivity, while its captor is deliberating on how to dis-

Killed in Action.

Mr. John Donald, of the 10th Con. Culross, received a message on Wednesday of last week, from the Militia Dept., stating that his son, Clarence, had been officially reported killed in action in France on Sept. 13th. The sad news came with all the greater shock to Mr. Donald because his wife and youngest son, Almer, are in the West visiting the two older boys, Milton and Nelson. He immediately wired the news on to them. Clarence, who was the third son, was a fine, manly lad of 22. He went West four years ago, and was in South Manitoba when the war broke out. He enlisted at Boissevain last Christmas and for a time was at Camp Hughes, Brandon. He went overseas the first week of April and completed training in England and Scotland. He was drafted from his battalion into the 48rd Cameras he was wanted for swindling the 242 with that regiment about July 1st. The battalion out of $200.00, and he was taken to Wiarton T. Festus is immediately conscious of rudeness to a man who he obviously respected, and he hastens to add that it was great learning that was turning his head. Luke's report of Paul's defense is, of course, only a brief summary of a speech that may have lasted an hour; Paul doubtless quoted law and prophets largely to prove his great thesis. This produced on Festus the impression that be available in making the home Paul was "a great man of letters," as the Greek for much learning literally suggests.

20, Paul's appeal to the notoriety of the facts is made to Agrippa, since Festus was a newcomer. In John 18, 20 Jesus similarly emphasized the publicity of his work. It was he himself who determined the publicity of his is generally arranged at the low waist-last act. Coffee

Now is the time of the year when a cup of hot, well made coffee is a grateful and much appreciated beverage at the breakfast table.

Our Star Blend

30 cents per pound

Coffee is better than any other cotfee you have ever used that costs the same money. A far-reaching statement, we admit, but nevertheless true.

Prove it by ordering a pound of the Coffee. The flavor will speak for itself.

It's a "Star" Blend. We know it is good. That's why we recommend it.

Remember the price—30 cents a pound—ground or in the bean.

Some of our other Coffees are:

Roasted Rio at 20 cts.
Golden Rio at 25 cts.
Capital at 40 cts.
Rideau Hall at 45 cfs.

Funeral Procession

A town that never has anything to do a public way is on the way to the cemetery. Any citizen who will do noth ing for his town is helping to dig the grave. A man who curses the town furnishes the coffin. The man who is so selfish as to have no time from his business to give to town affairs is making the shroud. The business man who will not advertise is driving the hearse. The man who is always pulling back from any public enterprize throws bouquets on the grave. The man who is so stingy as to be howling hard times preach the sermon and sings the doxology and thus the town lies buried from all sorrow

Austria is rapidly losing its church bells as the military authorities are every where carrying them off to be melted down for munitions. It is estimated that at least two thirds of the whole number will be taken, including many famous and historic bells, althoug it was said at first that these would be left. Of the eight bells in the well-known convent church at Admont five have been taken and in the parish church only the smallest of three has been left.
