GIVEN A WEEK TO SETTLE CASE

Street Railway Receiver is Asked to Step Out of Office.

Independent Man is Suggested For the Job by Judge.

The result of yesterday's Street Railway case at Osgoode Hall may mean a long step towards municipal ownership. The despatch from Toronto this morning stating that judgment was reserved was inaccurate, inasmuch as Mr. Justice Middleton, pending his decision, gave one week to the legal representative of the present receiver of the road to accept an alternative.

The sum and substance of the result of the case yesterday is that Mr. George Watson, K.C., appearing for Mr. E. B. Stockdale, was given one week to make up his mind as to the appointment of an independent receiver of the road. This receiver will have an advisory board of three members, one from the National Trust Company, one from the Trusts & Guarantee Company, and one from the City of Brantford. The board is to advise the receiver re the operation and management of the road and the disposition of the funds. In case of any dispute between the receiver and the advisory board, Justice Middleton will come to Brantford himself and straighten matters out.

If the alternative as above outlined, and as given to the company by the judge, is accepted, and there is a possibility that it will be—it will probably mean that the funds of the Street Railway, which, it has been charged, have been used to promote litigation and fight the city, will be diverted to other channels. Moreover, there will be an independent receiver, which was the entire object of the city's fight in the court yesterday.

City Solicitor Henderson, talking over the long-distance telephone last night with Mayor Spence, was greatly pleased with things. The Mayor believes it will be a long step in straightening out the legal entanglement, as it will give the city some control in the actual management of the railway.

If the present receiver, Mr. Stockdale, does not accept the proposition laid down by the judge, the judge will give his decision, and it may be more strongly against the interests at present in charge of the railway than the proposition laid down. This will be the chance taken by Mr. Stockdale's solicitor if a refusal to accept is entered.

Bondholders to Meet. E. B. Stockdale, Receiver of the Grand Valley Railway Company, has called a meeting of the Bondholders of the company at the Trust and Guarantee Co. office in Toronto, on Wednesday, 21st, for the purpose of receiving a further report as to the position of the City of Brantford, against the Grand Valley Company et al, and considering and advising with reference thereto and such other business as may be brought before the meeting.

Pulpit Exchange

Annual Affair on Sunday Next—Pulpit Arrangements Given. The following arrangements have been made for the annual pulpit exchange at the close of the week of prayer. The exchange will be carried out as here indicated, except in one or two cases, where the pastors found previous arrangements made it impossible: Riverdale Baptist, Rev. A. E. Marshall; Oxford St., Rev. T. E. Richardson; Brant Avenue, Rev. J. W. Gordon; St. Andrew's, Rev. A. D. Lavelle; First Baptist, Rev. R. E. Hamilton; Wellington St., Rev. L. Brown; Zion, Rev. C. W. Rose; Park Baptist, Rev. G. A. Woodsides; Congregational, Rev. T. E. Holling; Colborne St., Rev. Mr. Kelly; Calvary, Rev. R. D. McClintock; Alexandra, Rev. W. E. Bowyer; Shenstone Memorial, Rev. A. I. Snyder; Wydenham St., Rev. Jas. Chapman; Wesleyan, Rev. C. Loney; Immanuel, Rev. J. J. Liddy.

May Combine The Two Offices

Children's Aid and Civic Relief Work May Be Taken by One Man.

There is a movement on foot among several of the local aldermen to further strengthen the work of the Children's Aid Society in this city by combining the offices of Relief Officer and Children's Aid Secretary. It is pointed out that Mr. E. B. Eddy the present relief officer, is also a member of the Court of Revision, and under the Municipal Act is a civic servant and cannot hold both offices. Mr. Anford has made good in Children's Aid work and in the event of his appointment the relief office would probably be moved to the Children's Shelter.

RESIDENTS DISPLAY RESENTMENT OVER THIS

Valuable Hickory Tree Mutilated and Other Damage Done by Constructors

The sum of $1,000 was mentioned by a prominent citizen as inadequate to recompense the city for the loss of the tree on Dufferin avenue which was cut down by Hydro employees. It was described as the finest hickory tree in Brantford and its loss claimed to be irreparable. Another resident is in high dudgeon because two trees which grace his frontage have been cut down by one-third to allow overhead trolleys to be erected. Dufferin avenue one of Brantford's finest residential streets would be ruined if these men were allowed to lay lines through it as was projected.

The feeling of citizens who have the welfare of Brantford at heart is being expressed in a series of highbrowed acts at the present moment and steps are likely to be taken with a view to preserving the residential section of the North Ward.

PEOPLE'S POWER NOW LIGHTS PARIS STREETS

Much Rejoicing in Brant Town Where the Power Was Turned on Last Evening.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Paris streets were a blaze of light at 5 o'clock last evening when the three hundred lights, each 100 candlepower, the most obvious improvement to come with hydro power, were officially turned on. The occasion was celebrated by the blowing of whistles and ringing of all the bells of the town. The citizens were silently appreciative.

The by-law authorizing the Council to contract for the "people's power" was voted on last January, and the town has been eagerly awaiting the turning on of the "juice" ever since. There can be no possible kick as to the quantity and quality of the illumination on the streets at any rate. Power and factory use is not yet available.

The town's old power station is used as the distributing point, and will be altered to accommodate itself to the new voltage. There is a large list of new power users, and considerable of it will be distributed to factories.

Bidding Up Price of Beef

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 9.—In their anxiety to secure beef for their respective packing houses, American and Canadian buyers made a new record to-day, when eight cents per pound was offered on the hoof, waste not to be deducted. On a short time ago the farmers thought six cents was a top-notch price, and the oldest stock-raisers cannot remember anything like prices at which contracts for spring delivery are now being signed.

"Bound to Win" Class. The "Bound to Win" Class of John's church held a business meeting last night at the home of the teacher, Mr. F. Morrison, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year: President, Miss B. Richards; Treasurer, Miss N. Book; Secretary, Miss N. Townsend; organist, Miss A. Jones; social convener, Mrs. Shellington; membership convener, Miss M. Feely; devotional convener, Miss Smith. It was decided to hold their third annual banquet on Thursday the 22nd day of January. At the close of the meeting the members were hospitably entertained by Mr and Mrs Morrison.

ENGLISH SOCIETY LEADERS WHO WILL BOYCOTT TANGO.

English society hostesses are beginning an earnest boycott of the tango in the hope that they may eliminate it from the polite ballroom. The Gentlewoman publishes a series of opinions. Lady Layland-Barratt says: "It is an unmodest and suggestive dance and altogether impossible for any girl of refinement and modesty to take part in it." The Duchess of Norfolk says: "It is foreign to English nature and ideals." Viscountess Castlereagh calls it "just a passing craze." Viscountess Templeton says: "I am happy to say I never have seen the tango danced, and I hope I never may see it." Viscountess Hensley says: "I think it a great pity that the old Spanish dance of the tango, quite graceful in its original form, should be the course of its indirect introduction to our country have acquired so many 'nigger dance' characteristics as are now associated with it." The Countess of Dundonald says: "I think the usual dances much more suitable to English ballrooms." The Countess of Coventry says: "I do not think it desirable that the tango should be danced at social functions."

PREMIER FIGHTS HARD AGAINST DEATH

"Rugged Doggedness" of Sir James Commented on by Doctors.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The two Paris rinks of curlers skipped by F. Hayden and D. Cavan returned from St. Thomas Bospicel yesterday. Each met with the same amount of success, winning three and losing three, games each, though Hayden's rink had the honor of beating the great Rochon of Winnipeg, which was the only defeat suffered by Rochon during the tournament.

AT HALF CAPACITY

Malleable Iron Works Will Resume Operations Jan. 15 on Short Time.

The following Montreal despatch which concerns the Malleable Iron Works in this city, will be of local interest: It is announced that the various plants of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company will operate at half capacity when they reopen about the middle of January. Only in the passenger car department, which has sufficient orders on hand to run on full time until October will operations be at capacity.

Truck Is Here. The Seagrave Combination Chemical and Hose Truck, which is en route to Toronto, for the use of the Fire Department (here, was on exhibition at the Central Fire Hall this morning and afternoon until 2.30 o'clock when the civic authorities will be shown its capabilities by a demonstrator who is with the truck. It will be run up Terrace Hill street to test its climbing powers, and other tests will be given it. The motor develops 80 horsepower and is water cooled. It is made at Walkerville and the price asked is near $8,000.

Claims Damages. Because of damages to his property and inconvenience resulting from the lowering of the grade of West St., Mr. E. Kitchen, residing at number 226 through his solicitor, Mr. E. R. Read, has written the city asking for $1,000 damages. His solicitor in the communication, sets out that previously his client's property was on a level with the street, now it is five feet lower. This has caused depreciation in the value of the property and also inconvenience.

Will Purify Gas at Paris

Mayor Patterson is Notified to That Effect—News of the Town

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The two Paris rinks of curlers skipped by F. Hayden and D. Cavan returned from St. Thomas Bospicel yesterday. Each met with the same amount of success, winning three and losing three, games each, though Hayden's rink had the honor of beating the great Rochon of Winnipeg, which was the only defeat suffered by Rochon during the tournament.

Mayor Patterson has been notified by the Dominion Gas Co. that the gas in Paris will be purified the same as is proposed for Galt and Brantford. If it is no better after purifying than it is in Walkerville, where each individual has a purifier, it will be a great advertisement for Hydro-Electric. Several attempts have been made this week to prevent the leakage at the eastern end of William street bridge, but the odor of that section is still a long way from the perfume of roses.

N. W. Rowell, M.L.A., will be present at the Brant Liberal meeting to be held in the Opera House, Paris, on the afternoon of Thursday, Jan. 22.

Three girls who left a flask of whiskey on the doorstep of Rev. W. Reid's house as well as smashed eggs on the door, following the Local Option returns, yesterday made an apology to the reverend gentleman and the police court proceedings were dropped.

The new theatre in Arlington Park will be opened on Wednesday, Jan. 14, when Perry's Peerless Players will open a four night's entertainment. The carding, spinning and some of the knitting departments of Penman's Limited, will have to close this afternoon owing to a shortage of wool. The date of their reopening is unknown.

Week of Prayer. Interest in the union services in Zion church in connection with the week of prayer continues to be manifested, the congregation of last night being the largest yet. The service of praise was led by the choir of First Baptist church, and Rev. A. I. Snyder was in charge of the meeting. The address of the evening was given by Rev. T. E. Holling of Colborne St. Methodist church, who took as his subject "The work of the Holy Spirit." The theme is one seldom treated and therefore of unusual interest. Mr. Holling based his whole address upon the scriptural words of the Holy Spirit, and aptly illustrated his sermon from literature and history. His congregation knew exactly what he meant all the way through, and went away longing for the spirit filled life. The concluding meeting will be held to-morrow evening when Rev. L. Brown will preside and Rev. Mr. Kelly will preach. Zion church choir will have charge of the music.

REGINA IS ASTIR OVER MINER'S THREAT

Police of City and County, 130 in Number, Are Prepared.

REGINA, Jan. 9.—Chief of Police Zeats and Superintendent Constantine, of the Mounted Police, have made all preparations to protect the citizens to-night from the "shoot-up" gang as threatened in Jerry Miner's letter. Over 130 police are on duty. Women are terrorized at the publication of miner's letter in the press and 'phones in the police station are kept constantly ringing by women asking in frightened tones what they should do. The police are taking no chances. "What I am afraid of, however," declared Chief Zeats to-day "is that these fool letters may give the idea to some fanatic to start trouble to-night."

MR. JOHN CARMODY

Struck Gas Instead of Water in the Heart of City of Toronto.

The big gas well struck on the premises of the Dominion Bank in the heart of the City of Toronto, was completed by Mr. John Carmody, the well known Brantford driller, who has been busy for several weeks past in that connection. A pure supply of water was drilled for, but the operators got gas, a fact which amazed Toronto when the discovery was first made. It is announced that there will be doubtless be many more wells started in other parts of the city for gas alone.

Grand River Lodge. Grand River Lodge of the Canadian Order of Oddfellows, held their annual installation last evening in the K. of P. lodge room when the officers for the year were installed by Grand Master C. H. Denton of Tillsonburg, assisted by D. D. G. M. Bro. James Mellor. Honors of the lodge were conferred on Grand Master Denton after which he gave an excellent address on "Fellowship." After the lodge was closed progress evchre was played in which Bro. W. James was successful in capturing the first prize and Bro. J. Tyrell winning the lone hand prize. Refreshments were served and the following members took part in an excellent program of songs and recitations: Bros. Fisk, J. Tyrell, H. Taylor, A. H. Jones, W. Holloway, P. Neill, P. D. G. M. W. Moss and P. G. Bro. D. S. Sorris. There was a very large attendance, the lodge room being filled and the evening was a most successful one.

Will Select Slate At Caucus To-day

Aldermen Are Meeting as a Preliminary to the Inaugural on Monday.

The aldermen-elect, in order to expediate matters at the inaugural meeting of the city council Monday morning, will hold a caucus at 5 o'clock this afternoon. It is not thought there will be any difficulty in arriving at a chairmanship slate for the coming year, which will be the chief matter of business at the caucus. In fact there is only one chairmanship in doubt, and it is not expected that there will be any difficulty over this. Talk of friction among the newly elected members of the council is laughed at by the aldermen generally.

MAGISTRATE HAD DIFFICULT TIME

Evidence of Foreigners Pretty Hard to Interpret Today—A Theft Case.

Magistrate Livingston this morning found it a considerable handicap to an English-speaking magistrate, who, trying a charge against men of the foreign colony, knew nothing of the language in which they spoke. "One cannot judge from his manner of speech or his accent," he complained, referring to a foreign defendant. He said: "This man is quite stoical, and I cannot tell whether he is telling the truth or not."

An interpreted account gave the sense, but did not give the insight from which a person could judge the nature of the testimony. This transpired when Simon Campura, who was too ill to appear on Wednesday on a charge of stealing coal, was brought before the bench to-day. Two of his compatriots had been convicted and fined $25 each for similar offences earlier in the week. He pleaded not guilty, and stated that all coal that had been found in his house had been bought, except for a basketful which his son was said to have brought in. The coal, however, which was found in the cellar of the defendant was a special kind, and of this special kind very little is sold in Brantford.

Mr. D. McDonald, the owner of the coal, said that altogether just about five tons were missing. The boy was said to have obtained the coal in basketfuls was cross-examined and admitted taking one basket of coal, and alleged that this was given to him by "guys" who worked on the line. Notwithstanding the fact that he was said to have brought a large quantity of the coal to the cellar, he stuck to his story, which was told in very fluent English, that only one basket was his portion attributed to the amount found in the cellar.

Campura said when he heard that his son had brought in some coal he thrashed him and warned him not to do it a second time. Defendant was not aware that his boy had stolen coal before. In view of the fact that Mrs. Campura, who appeared for her husband on Wednesday, was very anxious to have the case settled on that day and obviate the necessity of her husband's appearance in court, it was suggested that the wife and her son might be working in co-operation, getting the coal illicitly without the husband's knowledge. Three weeks ago she obtained money for the purchase of coal, and he naturally thought the money had been used for that purpose.

Magistrate Livingston was of opinion that the wife knew more of the theft than the husband and he recalled the wife's eagerness for the disposal of the case. This pointed against her. Another fact was revealed that some weeks ago there was a considerable amount of trouble between the man and his wife on the question of what she did with the money he gave her. She spent it indiscriminately without his knowledge. To keep his wife and boy out of court defendant said he would pay for the coal and at Mr. McDonald's estimate $7.50 would settle the matter. When this was arranged, case was dismissed.

Jas. King and David Lefler were in the dock this morning to answer a charge by Detective Chapman of stealing pig iron from The Brantford Foundry. The amount missing was between four and five hundredweight. Mr. Burrill of the foundry identified the iron as belonging to his company. King, who is a particularly burly type of man, went into the box and stated that he found the iron in a creek at the back of the foundry. He obtained help and took the metal to a junk shop where they received $17.75 for it. He never thought of enquiring at the foundry whether it belonged to them and took it as a genuine find. Lefler was quite emphatic with his "no, sir," when it was suggested that the metal was found upon foundry premises. It was discovered in the ditch. Commenting upon the advisability of inadvisability of inflicting a fine in such cases, Magistrate Livingston gave the option of a fine in both instances and fined King $10 or two months, and Lefler who had been convicted of theft before, was given four months or the alternative of $25.

STOCKDALE IS DEFENDANT AGAIN

This Time it is a Trust Company After His Scalp.

Another Action in Osgoode Hall is Being Heard To-day.

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—It's an eventful day at Osgoode Hall, the home of the Supreme Court of Ontario, when the Grand Valley or some one of its companies is not mentioned within the sacred precincts of the blind lady of the sword and scales-justice. A judgment settled to-day is an echo of an application made before Chief Justice R. M. Meredith on November 20th. last.

On that occasion the Harrisburg Trust Company of Harrisburg, Pa., asked the chief justice for an order superseding Mr. Justice Latchford's order, appointing E. B. Stockdale, receiver of the Grand Valley Company. The Harrisburg Company representing a bond mortgage of $140,000 against the Woodstock, Thames Valley and Ingersoll Electric Railway, alleged that $30,000 interest was due.

The Harrisburg Trust Company wanted Mr. Stockdale removed so far as the Woodstock, Thames Valley and Ingersoll road was concerned, and the company asked, also, that the bondholders be given power to operate the railway. According to the Harrisburg people, the rights of the receiver were subject to the rights of the bondholders and the applicants thought to set aside an agreement of August 27th, 1907, between the Grand Valley and the Woodstock, Thames Valley and Ingersoll Railway.

In conclusion, the Harrisburg Trust Company wanted leave to bring an action for the relief sought and an order for the payment of $1,300 alleged due to creditors. Chief Justice R. M. Meredith would not grant the orders asked for, but gave the Harrisburg Trust Company leave to bring an action if so desired.

EMPHATIC DENIAL IS MADE RE DEAL BY C. P. R.

Mr. W. S. Brewster Solicitor of L. E. & N. Makes Matters Plain

Mr. W. S. Brewster, solicitor of the Lake Erie and Northern Railway, made an absolute denial to-day that the C. P. R. and Lake Erie and Northern have completed negotiations whereby the latter would become absorbed by the C. P. R. interests. "There is no foundation for the story," said Mr. Brewster, "and the denial made by the President, Mr. Muir, and other directors can be added the denial made by Vice-president George M. Bosworth of the C.P.R. in Montreal yesterday. Mr. Bosworth said there was not a word of truth in the report."

Thaw To Be Released

CONCORD, N.H., Jan. 9.—It is thought that Harry K. Thaw will be freed on bail to-morrow by Judge Aldrich after hearing the reports of Dr. Prince, insanity expert, which is decidedly favorable to the prisoner. William Travers Jerome, prosecutor, scoffs at the idea that this will prevent Thaw being returned to Matteawan.

EYES BURNED OUT

WINNIPEG, Jan. 9.—While repairing an electric switch at the Canada Cement Works last yesterday afternoon, William Paster, an electrician, had his eyes burned out. Paster was working in close to a switchboard which carries a high voltage and got too close to some of the wires while standing on a cement floor. Vegetable Growers. The first of a series of meetings under the direction of the Brantford branch of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association will be held in the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday evening next, when Mr. S. C. Johnson, B.S.A., will lecture. The branch has arranged with the Y.M.C.A. to hold all meetings in the Association building.

In the Realm Of Fashion

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Dame Fashion is busy herself at present with new colors, for some of the latest materials are so exquisite that it is necessary to glorify them with high sounding names to give them the aristocratic tone of which their creators intend they should boast.

The yellows are going to be very popular again, and the more vivid tones are to replace the delicate effects. D'or is one of the newest tones. Argent is not new, but among the metal gauzes it appears in combination with a delicate blue tint and is called silver twilight. Several of the novelties have atmospheric names, and then fashion runs to the other extreme and borrow terms from the metal and animal kingdom for the cloths, closely woven silks, etc.

While she is waiting the declaration of spring styles the woman who cannot afford to indulge in passing fashions would do well to pay attention to the details.

Following are some fashionable ideas worth remembering:

The butterfly is still dominant. Scotch plaids are fashionable for children.

Hats for little girls are of bonnet shape.

Leopard is the favorite fur for the motor wrap.

There is a revival of ostrich feather trimming.

Flowers for the hair and corsage are made of ribbon.

New handbags are made of silk embroidered with beads.

The high school girl is wearing the tam o' shanter hat.

Modified Norfolk suits are being worn by the older school girls.

Ribbons brocaded with velvet thistles are among the novelties.

All the winter wraps show the upward movement in the draping.

Metal woven tissues continue to attract attention for evening wear.

Underwear is daintier than ever.

Never was there so much silk worn.

A few new sweaters of shetton or aurora have collars and cuffs of fur.

New colors are russet brown, bronze gray, foster green, and mahogany.

Over blouses of chiffon vests of ecru lace bordered with narrow bands of fur, are worn.

Children's coats are fur trimmed, with collars made to turn up and keep small ears warm.

The most elegantly dressed women prefer sealskin, baby lamb, or mole-skin for coats.

Equal Franchise Club Hear Interesting Address

Last evening in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. building a very interesting and instructive meeting of the Equal Franchise Club was held, when subjects of interest to the members were discussed.

"The Value of the Franchise and the necessity of exercising it," was discussed by Mr. A. W. Burt, who acted as chairman. Mr. Burt stated that as soon as people learn to use the franchise intelligently reforms will be brought about. There was a time in British history when it was not used, as the people thought it to be an excess on the part of the King to get a chance to tax them, but when it was better understood it was of untold good to them.

Although women could in a great way influence their husbands as to how they should vote, that did not work out satisfactorily. They wanted to have the direct influence so that their wisdom and the love of what was right could be put to the betterment of mankind. In the past few years women have speedily come to the front in business affairs and have filled many prominent positions, and as they had proved themselves capable of taking these positions, they have also proved themselves amply able to use the franchise if given them properly and well.

As the women were the ones who took the most interest in their children, they should have a voice in the laws that affected them.

Although the franchise was one of the best privileges a man possessed, it had been perverted and neglected by many. The speaker did not believe that it was anything to be proud of for a man to be able to state that he has always voted for one party, as he had by so doing virtually sold his franchise to a party. To neglect one's franchise by not using it was almost

WHAT PARENTS SHOULD HEED.

Laws Governing Children's Behavior a Timely Subject.

The future of a country lies in the hands of its children. Education of children doubtless leads to an uplifted standard of knowledge and good habits. At a time when so many children are always and everywhere something to be avoided. There is still a table of the laws governing children's behavior which all parents and all children would do well to read and heed.

Children's manners begin in the cradle. A baby begins to understand long before it begins to talk. It notices the fact that its mother is its dearest before she has even a tooth or a spear of hair to call its own.

So, if you would have your child well-mannered, begin to teach it when it is still a baby. Teach it to stand its baby troubles uncomplainingly and so lay the foundation of the qualities that will make people call it a thoroughbred in later life. Teach it to be sensitive to the feelings of others. As soon as the baby leaves the small baby state the inculcation of his manners must go on with even greater care than before.

The minute it begins to eat with its own small hands, the first lesson in table manners must begin. There is little excuse for the disgusting table manners of some children. They are due, really, to the fact that the mother or other caretaker finds it less trouble to let the child scrawl amiably for its small mouth than to insist that it eat its food daintily, surely and without experiment.

A very small child can be taught to eat neatly. Teach it that spotted bibs are beneath contempt. Patiently show it how to hold its spoon and cutlery and help it to eat slowly. Once the child has learned to eat daintily, the slovenly ways of untrained children when they are eating will be as distant to it as you would find in a grown person.

Children ape the manners of their elders. For this reason the greatest care should be used in the choosing of nurses, governesses or any one else who comes in constant contact with the child. Many well-known men have talked, when excited, to their dying day in the brogue or burr of their childhood nurses.

The little child who is the wisest whereby a child may acquire its manners. The small boy who adores his gallant father seldom forgets to take off his hat and stand in the presence of women. The small girl who looks up to her mother with affection has the pattern of loving courtesy to her father. Children often affect the graces of their elders in a most noticeable way. But don't laugh at them. They will outgrow this priggishness. It is only a phrase of their imitative acquisition of manners.

It is the vogue of the day for small girls, up to the age of 10 or 12, to curtsy when they meet their elders. After that they, like small boys, stand and shake hands. It is also proper for children to be quiet and unobtrusive when they are in the company of grown-ups.

Some of the set rules of children's manners, like these, they cannot learn by imitation. But if they are courteous, thoughtful and happy they will take an interest in acquiring these little superficial manners that will make their acquisition easy.

Musical Tones in Architecture.

It has long been believed that each of the mammoth buildings of the world will vibrate in response to some special musical tone. Architects believe they have found the tones for such famous structures as the cathedral at Cologne, Notre Dame in Paris and St. Paul's in London. Certainly it is true that each of these buildings returns to the ear of the listener that one tone of intense and agonized and surprising extent. The corollary statement that this keynote, if sounded long enough and with sufficient force, would bring disaster has never been proved.—Christian floral.

DAILY FASHION HINT.

Lady's Brassiere.

The brassiere or bust supporter is indispensable with the low cut corsets now worn. It serves both comfort and looks. This design is the regulation one, made with a short yoke in front, below which the material is fitted by darts. In the back the two sections cross over and are held by a single button at the shoulder. Strong muslin and embroidery and batiste and lace combined are used for this garment.

The brassiere pattern, No. 6,450, is cut in sizes 34 to 42 inches bust measure. Medium size requires 3/4 yard of 36 inch material.

The pattern can be obtained by sending 10 cents to the office of this paper.

Eight days must be allowed for receipt of patterns.

Persian Burials.

In Persia two-sticks a foot long are placed in the coffin to prop up the arms of the corpse when it rises from the grave and is questioned by the angel Gabriel. After the risen body has satisfied the angel that it is the body of a true Mussulman it will receive strength to stand alone. A glance from the eye is necessary to drive away the spirit of defilement, and for this purpose a street car is brought into the room of death and its eyes led to the corpse by a tempting live bread on the still breast.—Paul Mall Gazette.

Peer as Curate

Viscount William Geoffrey Bruchard de Montmorency Mountmorres was on Sunday ordained a deacon, and he has been appointed to a curacy at All Saints, Hyde, Isle of Wight.

Lord Mountmorres, who is forty-one years of age, won his scholarship to Radley at the age of sixteen and succeeded to the title on the death of his father two years later. On leaving Oxford he spent several years in travelling in America, the West Indies, Morocco, the Sahara, Asia, West and Central Africa, and the Congo Free State.

While in the Congo Free State he had a weird experience. He and his friends were down with fever. His friend died, and his servant told the viscount that two graves had been dug, one for himself and another for his friend. But happily the second grave was not needed, for Lord Mountmorres made a speedy recovery.

A clever journalist and short story writer, he has also served on the London county council, representing Mile End from 1895 to 1898. He acted as hon. A.D.C. to the Governor of Jamaica at the time of the Kingston earthquake in 1907 and received the thanks of the Jamaican Government for his services in connection with the earthquake.

Wasp's Christmas Flight

Mr. C. H. Betts, of Mosley, Birmingham, writes that on Dec. 21 he caught and killed a healthy and active wasp, a very unusual incident only four days from Christmas.

INDIAN COP GOES TO DANCE AND GETS FIRED

Council of Chiefs on Sarnia Reserve Ask Resignation of Constable Who Tried to Tango.

SARNIA, Jan. 9.—James Williams, Indian constable at the Sarnia reserve, and also a county constable, handed in his resignation yesterday at the request of the recently elected council at the reserve and incidentally resigned as county officer. Williams says that the reason he was asked to resign was that he attended a dance the other evening, and that his fellow tribesmen, who claim to be Methodists, did not approve of such conduct. As the majority of them are Methodists, too, Williams would have had a hard time in persuading them of the rectitude of his conduct.

Financial, Commercial and Real Estate

REBUILDING A FRATERNITY (Continued from Page 1) ed in our legislation recently adopted that $1,000,000 should be transferred from the accumulations of the payment made by the members who joined after January 1st, 1899, and that for all time in the future there should go into a fraternal fund to relieve against the assessments levied against the so-called old members the interest earnings above 4 per cent. upon the accumulated funds of the post-1894 members as well as upon the accumulated funds of the pre-'99 members. Of the existing accumulation of $20,000,000, $6,000,000 belonged to the members that joined before 1899, the $14,000,000 belonging to the post-1898 members amounting to $148,000 per annum, goes to the fraternal fund referred to for the relief of the so-called old members. Mr. Stevenson rejoiced in the presence at the banquet of so many prominent citizens, whom he gladly addressed on the merits of the order. He continued: When it is considered that this membership of 10,000,000 has undertaken to provide protection through this $10,000,000 of insurance in force for practically fifty million women and children and that fifty million women and children will sooner or later be largely dependent upon this protection for their future necessities or comforts and that inadequate provision exists for maturing this protection, the situation really becomes appalling. Put Them on Sound Basis I must not be understood as attempting to minimize the importance of fraternal insurance societies, for I recognize that they are among the greatest agencies available for improving conditions and protecting the families of wage-earners throughout this and other countries. I do, however desire to impress upon every one possible the importance of having these societies that are doing so much good placed upon a sound basis so that they may continue the splendid work they have been doing for notwithstanding the imperfections that have existed in their plans from the outset they have, up to date distributed to the widows and orphans—beneficiaries of members of these societies—a total exceeding $215,000,000, a sum largely in excess of the combined public debt of the Dominion of Canada and the United States, and the Independent Order of Foresters has done its share in this beneficent work—it has to December 31, 1913, disbursed in benefits $41,900,320.49. Now on Sound Basis So far as the fixing of the financial status of our society is concerned, our work is finished. We have a society one hundred per cent. sound, able to meet all legitimate calls upon it with respect to its obligations, present and future. A Deficiency of $25,000,000. When this work was completed it was, as indicated, found that there existed a deficiency in our assets as compared with our liabilities of $25,000,000—a deficiency that had to be provided for unless the society was to be permitted to drift into slow liquidation and in the end disappoint thousands of our members and their beneficiaries. After the actuarial results referred to had been ascertained we spent long and anxious days and weeks and months in endeavoring to work out a plan that would make the burden that had to be imposed upon those whose inadequate payments had created this condition as light as possible, with the result that all who had part in deciding in the plan that was best to be adopted agreed that the plan we have adopted was best in the interests of all concerned, having in mind the necessity of once and for all time placing our society upon a sound basis. The situation that I have outlined ought not to have been a surprise either to our membership or the public. Our society for upwards of fifteen years has been conducting its business in Great Britain and under the laws of Great Britain, every insurance company and society is required to file quarterly with the Board of Trade a valuation of its liabilities.

THE DIFFERENCE IN WAGES.

Those Liberal papers which are seeking to argue that certain lines of foodstuffs are cheaper in the Old Land because they are free, conveniently fail to remember that owing to the same policy of free trade, wages there are much lower than in Canada.

Recently the spectacle was presented over there of the London police, a picked body of men, threatening to strike because they had been refused higher pay than a little over $7.00 a week.

According to the Mail Year Book of 1912, there are $482,000 men in the textile trades in Britain, who earn only twenty-three shillings a week—which is equivalent to $5.75.

414,211 in clothing trades earn thirty shillings per week—which in Canadian money is $7.50.

1,200,000 in building and woodworking trades earn thirty-two shillings—which is equivalent to $8 a week in Canada.

1,100,000 in metal, engineering and shipbuilding (skilled labor) earn thirty-three shillings per week—$8.25 in Canadian money.

268,438 employed by public utilities, gas, waterworks, etc., get twenty-eight shillings—equal in Canadian money to $7.00 a week.

621,341 railway workers get twenty-five shillings a week—equal to $6.25 in Canada.

956,185 agricultural laborers, including allowances, get from nine shillings to twenty shillings, equivalent in Canadian money to from $2.25 to $5.00 a week.

It is within the knowledge of every one that pay in the Dominion for all classes of labor is very much higher than quoted above. Even unskilled labor here commands far more than average rates in Britain as noted by the Year Book. It is no satisfaction for a man to know that he can get this or that, for a few cents less when his earning power is dollars less.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

With the opening of the above project this year one of the world's greatest modern accomplishments will be recorded. The following facts will prove interesting:

Time required to go through the canal, from ten to twelve hours. Freight will be charged $1.20 a ton; passengers are free.

The canal will save 8,000 miles between New York and San Francisco. New York is brought 5,000 miles nearer Valparaiso and the west coast of South America.

Atlantic seaports are 4,000 miles nearer Australia.

Bulk products like wheat, lumber, minerals, wool and hides will get lower freight rates through the canal from Pacific ports.

Eastern machinery, textiles, manufactures and finished products will enjoy cheaper rates to Pacific ports.

Immigration will be deflected in large number from New York to Pacific ports.

The cost of operating the canal will exceed $4,000,000 annually.

About 2,500 employees will be required.

To pay interest on the investment and operating expenses approximately $15,000,000 revenue per annum will be needed. Traffic experts estimate that for the first few years the average annual tonnage will be 10,000,000 tons, not enough at the $1.20 rate to make the canal self-supporting.

The rates charged are the same as those at Suez.

It is, however, quite impossible to overlook the other side and what the work has meant to those who have lost their lives during the progress.

One would never dream, amid all the canal enthusiasm and energy and the sort of joyousness that prevails among the workers that every day on an average ends more than one life—that 30 or 40 die each month in Ancon hospital alone, and that two dozen new graves stand ready all the time at Ancon cemetery for the occupants whose speedy coming may be depended upon. The stories of the manifold sufferings of the workers of former years are more picturesque than those of to-day; and, in a way, sadder, in that the fearful loss of life due to ignorance of the causes of the tropical diseases seems, in the light of the present knowledge and splendid use of it, quite needless. There is the story of the thousand Chinamen who went to work on the railroad and who began to die off so fast from yellow fever that the rest of them, discouraged and heart-sick, committed suicide. The place where they lived and died bears record of this story in its name—Matachin—'Dead Chinaman.' There is the story of the gang of light-hearted Irishmen, arriving full of energy and ambition, who succumbed even more quickly to the climatic conditions than did the Chinese, and died off promptly, to a man.

There is the story of the French consuls who went with their families, one after another in quick succession—sometimes only six weeks apart—each one sickening in a short time of the dread fever, and paying the penalty with heart-rending originality. The quarters of the French consulate, which are now the home of the American legation, are still so surrounded with the traditions and memories of those tragic French happenings that not a servant can be induced to sleep there at night. All go home when dusk falls, to return only with the morning light.

To Canada the enterprise will mean very much, and especially to Vancouver and other Pacific coast points.

FIGHTING FOR LIFE.

A man of exceptionally strong will and purpose, Sir James Whitney has been making a characteristically plucky fight for life.

To many another so serious an illness at the age of seventy-one, would have proved speedily fatal, but added to a fine constitution he is the possessor of an indomitable determination which places him outside of the pale of the average patient.

Without any question some succumb when, others, owing to pure grit, survive. When Premier Scott of Saskatchewan, was apparently at death's door not long ago, his physical condition told him he was near the end. Scott remarked that he didn't feel like it, set his teeth, and pulled through. This, of course, is not to contend that anyone can thus pull back from entering Charon's boat to cross the Styx, but as an evidence that in many instances will power can carry a sufferer through a crisis until nature has a chance to commence the re-establishment of normal conditions.

Another notable illustration of this took place during last Northwest rebellion. A was a strapping fellow with more weight than energy. He was slight, but wiry and possessed of the tenacity of a dozen bull dogs. In one skirmish B. sustained a severe but not dangerous wound in the leg. From the first he lost heart and became despondent. A was shot through both lungs, and as it was considered that he could only last for a short while the doctors made him as comfortable as possible where he fell. When he continued to survive it was regarded as marvellous, but he kept reiterating that he intended to fool them all yet, and by successive stages finally reached a hospital, where he was located in the same ward with B. The latter passed away, while A. is to-day quite a prominent resident of the Northwest with a large and flourishing family.

It is a similar story with regard to Sir James, and it is to be hoped will have as happy an issue. Meanwhile, word from New York is that even in the shadow of the valley of death, his mind is continually resting upon the responsibilities and the problems of his position as Premier; that he dwells on the work of the approaching session of the Legislature, and expresses every intention and desire of getting back to the tasks which await him. Devotion such as this to the interests and demands of a public trust most faithfully fulfilled is not only beautiful, but deeply inspiring.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

It won't be so very long now before the annual news comes along that frost has ruined the peach crop.

A thief robbed the Wentworth St. Baptist Church in Hamilton. This is the case of a man immersed in sin.

After this in Detroit, when the coy young maiden asks "Can you afford to wed," that word will have a double significance.

That Street Railway situation has been advanced one more notch in the matter of the clearing up of the same, and again the decision is on behalf of this municipality.

Paris has had the Hydro Electric juice turned on. Wouldn't Brantforders have been a startled lot if they had been forced to see it there and not in this good burg.

The St. Thomas Times has an editorial on "The candling of eggs." The coralling of them at present prices, is the main trouble hereabouts.

Perhaps the tango is a case of more sinned against than sinning.—London Advertiser.

The way most of them dance it in this good burg, it is a case of shins against shinning.

A woman in the States seeking alimony from her husband, told the court that it cost $20,000 a year to rear three children. They'll rear all right—probably into all kinds of mischief and uselessness.

Police Magistrate Campbell of St. Catharines, fined his own law firm for failing to have snow cleaned off the walk in front of the premises used by himself and partners. What's going to happen to the office boy is not related.

Judge Morson of Toronto, in handing down a decision, decided that a chef was entitled to swear. As for golf players, they don't wait for any permission, except in such cases as that of an English Dean who got into such difficulties that his opponent afterwards remarked that his reverence had maintained the most profane silence he had ever listened to.

When Mr. E. G. Stevenson took hold of the I. O. F. as Chief Ranger, he was faced with a herculean task. The time had arisen to place matters on a more satisfactory basis, and this he has accomplished with great ability and foresight. As the outcome the order now ranks as one of the best, and safest among fraternal. As will be seen by a report elsewhere in this issue, Mr. Stevenson was recently tendered a complimentary banquet in Toronto at which many prominent men from all parts of Canada and the States were proud to be present.

Human Skin as a Polisher.

I had always supposed that the chemist possessed the skin best adapted for polishing purposes, but recently in a leading jeweler's shop I learned otherwise. Nothing, it seems, can impart such a luster to plate as the human skin, and all the best articles are polished, quite literally, by hand-rubbed gently by the lower arch of the hand at the base of the thumb. "We keep a girl to do nothing else," said my informant, and I reflected that I had discovered a new industry and a new definition of "palm oil."—London Opinion.

Who Gets the Medal?

"I understand that you have a fine track team here," said the visitor to the guide who was showing him through the college. "What individual holds most of the medals?"

The guide pondered. "Well, sir," he said, "I guess it is the pawnbroker downtown."—Exchange.

No Wonder.

"You are always talking about the high cost of living."

"Well, that's about all I hear at home."

"From your wife?"

"No, from my wife's father. We are living with him, you know."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Strong on Bills.

Winkle—My wife would make a good congressman. Hinkle—Why? Winkle—She's always introducing bills into the house.—Judge.

Unlucky Friday

On Friday a malignant fate is said to threaten us with woe; to do us ill it lies in wait, or shadows us wherever we go. On Friday if a ship should sail, the seamen shake their heads and sigh, 'twill be the sport of every gale, and all on board will surely die. Yet many stately ships come back all sound from Jellison's the truck; they sailed along their stormy track without a sign of evil luck. If you begin an enterprise on Friday, it will peter out; thus speak the prophets hoar and wise, who think they know what they're about. Yet many enterprises win which on a Friday were begun, and those concerned take in the tin, the kale and other brands of mon. To me a Friday seems as sleek as any other kind of day; the same old fish are in the creek, the sun shines on the same old way. On Monday last I fell arid split my person clear up to my neck. On Tuesday morn I had a hit on Thursday I was but a wreck. But Friday finds me all serene, my griefs and woes have taken wing; I sip a pint of gasoline and then I smile and dance and sing.

Woodstock Juniors Had Superior Organization

They Defeated Brantford Juniors by 7-4 Last Night--Local Boys Showed Promise in Their Game--Visitors Were Clever.

Alfred street rink last night was the scene of what proved to be an exciting game of hockey before a small crowd. The contestants were the local junior setpiece, and the Woodstock team of the same class, runners up for the junior championship last season. It was the first championship match the locals have played this year and although the game was lost, by the score of 7 to 4, it does not say they were completely outclassed, but the Woodstock boys certainly had a margin on them last night.

The ice was not in condition for fast hockey, being soft and sticky, making combination play almost out of the question, there being very little of such play in evidence. Mr Fraser of Paris, well known in hockey circles, handled the bell and kept the game fairly well in hand, there being very little dirty work and few off-sides escaping his notice, these being one man on the fence most of the time during the game. There were more off-sides than is usual in a game of hockey, probably due to the slow ice.

Play started about 8.35. The game started off with a rush as is usual, and after five minutes play McTague, rover for Woodstock, notched the first goal on a nice shot. The shooting of this player is sensational. About seven minutes later McTague scored again, taking a pass from Smith in front of the goal. Play was more even for the next few minutes, when Beckett after seven minutes scored the first goal for the locals. Soon after McTague shot and the puck was followed up closely by Smith who scooped it into the nets on the rebound, making it three to one for Woodstock, time being one minute.

Tumbles were frequent but not much rough work was indulged in during the early part of the game. On a combination rush, which were very scarce during the game, Hiller scored in three minutes. This seemed to waken up the locals and Summerhayes bulged the nets in five minutes. Hardly had the puck been fac- ed off when a Woodstock goal was netted, McTague being again responsible. Childs, the boy wonder of the O.H.A., playing goal for Woodstock, and of the All-star O. H. A. team last year, put up a class of goal-tending that is not very often seen around these parts. He cleared shot after shot with apparent ease. Palmer was the one to start the rough work and pulled down the first penalty of the game. He was followed shortly by Cassidy for slashing at an opponent. Burgess was also given a rest. Two or three minutes later Palmer went off again, followed by Beckett, both for being too strenuous. It can easily be seen that Mr. Fraser was a trifle strict, as he sent a man to the bench for the slightest offence. Summerhayes tried the trip act and went off, Cassidy scored after four minutes, taking a quick slash at the puck which Childs failed to see. Half time sounded with the score 6 to 3.

Second Half.

The second half proved to be much better hockey and the teams more evenly matched. Hiller opened up the scoring in the second half by a nice shot after three minutes play. This proved to be Woodstock's last goal. Brown who played a splendid game throughout and is a clean, consistent player, received a penalty and Skelly also took a rest. Play was much faster, probably because both teams were out to win. Cassidy went off for taking a slash at McTague. Fraser seemed overly strict and banished players for the slightest offence. Penalties were almost too numerous to keep account of. Summerhayes scored after ten minutes of hard play on a nice shot which fooled Childs. This ended the scoring of the game. Only one apiece being secured. The Brantford boys pressed hard and managed to keep the puck in Woodstock territory much of the time, but their shots either went wide or the splendid goal tending of Childs turned them aside. The Woodstock defence is not quite so heavy as Brantford and do not seem to be as effective, but their forward line made up for this deficiency, especially McTague who was here, there and every- where. He and Childs are the pick of the Woodstock team. The boys from the Baby City are also good shots.

For the local team, Beckett played about the best game of any, although Brown did some stellar defence work. The first goal scored by the visitors was an easy shot and was probably due to the nervousness of Wood. The outstanding features of the game was the back-checking of McTague. Had the ice been in good condition it is considered that the local boys would have made a much better showing. The teams lined up as follows:

Goal umpires, Mr. Bryson, Woodstock; G. Legacy, Brantford penalty. A. Stewart, Brantford; timekeepers, Dr. W. Krapp, Woodstock; Leslie Hopp, Brantford; referee, Fraser, Paris.

Three World's Records Made at Chicago

Fast Time Established in Swimming Events.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Three world's records the 120 yards, 200 and 220 yards were broken last night in the first swim for the Central Amateur Athletic Union championships, first honors going to the Illinois Athletic club. H. J. B. Hehner and Perry McGillivray were the record breakers.

Hehner won the 200 yards' race in two minutes 21 seconds; E. W. McGillivray I. A. C., second and Ross Strayder, North-West University, third. The record was held by C. M. Daniels of New York in 2.25 2-5.

Hehner also lowered the 200 yards' record in this race, making the distance in 2.07 2-5, against C. Healy's former time 2.11 1-5.

Perry McGillivray won the 100 yds. race in 56 seconds; W. R. Vosburgh, I.A.C., second; F. Harless, Chicago Athletic Association, third. McGillivray swam an extra length of the tank, going 120 yards in 1.08 2-5 lowering Daniels' record of 1.10.

Perry McGillivray also won the 880 yard swim in 12.32; Vosburg second, and J. R. Woods, North-Western University, third.

Gordon Bricker, the popular goal-tender of the St. Michael's team last season, was the recipient of congratulatory letters yesterday on the arrival of a young hockey player at his home.

FAMOUS POLISH WRESTLER COMING TO AMERICA

"ZBYSZKO" PREVENTING A HOLD.
 Stanislaus Zbyszko, the famous Polish wrestler, who is in Paris taking part in the great international wrestling tournament that has been running for the last three months, has cabled his intentions of coming to America.

This means that the man who has chased Frank Gotch for the last three years in an effort to get a match for the world's wrestling title, may be one of the competitors in the big tournament which is to be held at Madison Square Garden, New York, on Wednesday, January 14.

Woodstock College 9; Sarnia 1.
 SARNIA, Jan. 9.—The fast Woodstock College O. H. A. junior team last night defeated the local junior by a score of 9 to 1. The game was rough and ready, there being little combination and much individual playing. The ice was rotten, to put it mildly. The attendance was about four hundred.

 Waterloo by 6-1.

WATERLOO, Jan. 9.—The local O. H. A. intermediate seven went down to defeat before the fast Preston team here last evening by 6 to 1. Eitherington and Bowman starred for the visitors. Preston showed good combination, while the locals lacked condition.

The Preston team have played together, intermediate and senior, practically without change, for several seasons, and won the intermediate championship in 1911 and 1912. They will be hard to beat this season.

Teams:—
 Preston—Goal, Short; right defence, Bowman; left defence, Walker; rover, Eitherington; centre, Bernhardt; right wing, Muir; left wing, Mulroy. d
 Waterloo—Goal, Richardson; right defence, Weller; left defence, Uffelman; rover, Kube; centre, Stakle; right wing, Weseloh; left wing, Brezina.
 Referee—Wally Hern, Stratford.

MANAGER KNEW HIM.
 The Mail-Empire has the following: Jack Kelly of Brantford, the well-known hockey and lacrosse man, had an amusing experience in his home town the other night. He refereed the Hamilton-Hamilton Centennials game, and was made to fork out a dollar as security for the referee's bell. The case note was returned when he returned the bell. The rink management have been losing bells galore, they state.

HE WANTS $95,000
 FOR THREE FIGHTS

Johnson Willing to Meet Langford, Smith and Moran.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight pugilist, whose arm is still in splints, said in reply to an inquiry, that so far he had not received a cable offer of money for a fight with Gunboat Smith on the Mexican side of the border of Lower California. He continued:

"I am ready to fight if the offer meets my terms, which are $30,000, but the fight must be subsequent to that which has been definitely fixed to take place in Paris during the first week of June against Frank Moran, the Pittsburg heavyweight, for which William Astor Chaclier, who is still in a hospital suffering from an injured leg, is guaranteeing $35,000.

"I expect towards the end of the same month to meet Sam Langford, provided the $30,000 I demanded be forthcoming.

Johnson says his broken arm, which has been radio-photographed, is progressing well, and the splints are to be removed on Saturday.

The Winnipeg Victorias chances of winning the championship of the Winnipeg League which carries with it the Allan Cup, was given a crimp several days ago, when the Bawlf Brothers, Fred and Clarence, announced that they had decided to make a trip to Europe, leaving Winnipeg on January 17. Before leaving, however they will be able to take part in two games for their club, but will be absent for the remainder of the season.

EEL DIRECT WINS AT DUFFERIN PARK

Mahon's Son of "The Eel" Walks Away in 2.23 Pace in Straight Heats

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—The get-away day at Dufferin Park provided a good day's sport this afternoon, the feature event of the day being the 2.23 pace, which was won by S. Mahon with Eel Direct, the Thorndale son of The Eel, winning the event in straight heats in fast time. The little gray led the way and never was in trouble with the veteran Dan McEwan driving him. Miss Alcione was close up but the winner held her safe at all stages. Montalvo broke and was a bad lad. Major Kelly, owned by W. L. Collins, of London, finished strong after taking fourth place in the two opening heats.

use his acquisition for matinee work. Sylvia T. has been raced on the Canadian tracks and Grand Circuit with success, as well as matinees at London and Toronto. The past year she was campaigning down the Grand Circuit by a Cleveland syndicate and won a couple of fine purses. She is one of the fastest free-legged mares in Canada and has done a half mile in one minute. She obtained her record of 2:09 1-4 at Detroit.

Geo. F. Stevens, Jr., of the Royal Hotel, has a promising trotter in K. L. Todd, sired by Kentucky Todd, 2:08 1-4 and dame Katherine L., 2:12 1-4. She is now being prepared to go down the Grand Circuit during the coming summer.

M. and M. Stake Has Been Changed

DETROIT, Jan. 9.—The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Stake of $10,000, the blue ribbon event of the horse racing season here, and generally considered the most famous classic of the trotting turf has been changed from the 2.24 to the 2.12 class. The announcement was made yesterday afternoon by the officials of the Detroit Driving Club, under whose auspices the Grand Circuit race meetings are held here. The Merchants' and Manufacturers' was established in 1889, and up to the present has brought together so-called green trotters. The change is made to suit conditions, as it is said more horses will be eligible under the new arrangement.

"KNOCKOUTS INVENTED" SAYS HARRY GILMORE. LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—Virtually all of the so-called knockouts are on paper; prize-fighting or boxing is not a brutal sport, Charles Eytan, referee of the Jess Willard—"Bull" Young match, in which the latter met his death, testified yesterday in the trial of Willard.

Eytan testified that boxers did not always try to knock out their opponents, and said Packey McFarland was an example of a man who seldom won by a knockout. When the prosecution read a list of men whom McFarland was reputed to have knocked out, defending counsel conferred with Harry Gilmore, once manager for McFarland, and then announced that Gilmore had just told him that he had invented most of McFarland's record of knockouts to make it look formidable and to make the boxer a drawing card.

Smith Won't Fight Until Johnson Battles Twice. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—There will be no further negotiations for a fight at Tia Jana, Lower California, between Jack Johnson, the heavyweight champion of the world, and Gunboat Smith, until the outcome of Johnson's other two prospective fights is known. The plan was that Johnson and Smith should fight across the Mexican border from San Diego on July 4.

MIDLAND HAS JUNIORS AS WELL AS SENIORS.

MIDLAND, Jan. 9.—Midland O. H. A. juniors defeated Coldwaters juniors in a very interesting game here last night. It was necessary in order to obtain a winner to play ten minutes overtime, Midland winning by 8 to 7. Drury, Sippell and Duncan starred for the home team and Griffith and Eplett for Coldwater. The teams: Midland—Goal, Smith; right defence, Simpson; left defence, Emond; left wing, Duncan; right wing, Drury; centre, Sippell; rover, McGill. Coldwater—Goal, Griffith; right defence, McCarroll; left defence, Jones; left wing, Rossin; right wing, Robinson; centre, F. Eplett, Jun.; rover, C. Eplett.

Penetang Has Dropped Out.

PENETANGUSHENE, Jan. 9.—The O. H. A. intermediate game scheduled to be played here last night between Midland and Penetanguishene team has dropped out of the league.

Hockey Gossip

The schedule in division A of O. H. A. junior group No. 9 has been revised and the game that was to have been played at Listowel last night, with Hamilton as the visiting team, was therefore postponed.

Both O. H. A. junior teams from Woodstock won last night away from home. The Woodstock team, runners up last season, beat Brantford, and at Sarnia the home team was beaten by Woodstock College.

The management of the Sarnia O. H. A. intermediate team has arranged for a return exhibition game with the Kingston Frontenacs some time in February, at which time the Kingston team is planning another western trip.

One of the unfortunate features of the present "January thaw" is that many of the O. H. A. rinks had succeeded in getting nothing more than a very thin coating of ice. Ice making will practically have to be commenced anew.

Winnipeg Victoria had an exhibition game arranged with Duluth at the latter city, but a former resident of Winnipeg now living in Duluth, warned the management of the Canadian team that the U. S. seven was made up of professional players.

Kingston Standard: Queen's are practicing daily at noon, and are getting in line shape. No new men are turning out with the senior team, but the intermediate team has a large number to choose from. Queen's managing the rink is a great help to the team getting practices.

George Mason who built the hockey rink at Ingersoll, the roof of which collapsed on Sunday due to the heavy wet snow of the previous day, has decided to put an entirely new roof on the rink. On Monday workmen commenced to clear away the debris in readiness for the rebuilding. Mason will rush the work and entertains every hope that the rink will be in game between London and Ingersoll on January 12, in readiness for the next scheduled

Harry Foulstone, with whom he lived, found Moorhouse lying in his bedroom dead, with a bullet wound in his chest and a rifle by his side. He had suffered from depression. At the inquest a verdict of "Suicide during temporary insanity" was returned.

Dr. Johnston acted as toast master and the following toasts were proposed: "King George"; "The Governor-General"; "Baden Powell"; "Twenty-Fifth Dragoons"; "Patron of Boy Scouts"; and "Scoutmaster George Pike." Mr. Pike organized the boy scouts in the village some time ago, but owing to his ill health, the movement

Mr. Fleming Will Finance Big Trip

London "V" Fives to Journey Telephone City on Jan. 1

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—Con Jones, the Vancouver lacrosse impresario, was in Ottawa yesterday. He conferred with Premier Borden in the afternoon, and took letters of introduction to several men in England, who will be asked for advice in his plan to tour the Old Country with two amateur lacrosse teams. It is understood that R. J. Fleming of Toronto will finance one team and Jones the other. Mr. Jones is very enthusiastic about the plan. He also conferred with here with Mr. William Foran, who managed the tour of the Canadian Olympic team in 1908. Mr. Foran supplied him with some valuable data concerning the trips of the old Capitals and of the Olympic twelve, which won the world's championship.

London Team To Play Here

The London junior and senior football teams will journey to Brantford on Saturday night, Jan. 10, for two games at the Telephone City Y. M. C. A.

The two local teams are the fastest "fives" that have ever been corralled this season, and the O. A. B. A. season will find them in shape this year. The Brantford games will be workouts for them as the O. A. B. A. schedule games will soon commence. This season will probably find two senior teams and one junior in the Ontario organization.

THEFTS IN HOTELS EASILY DETECTED

Traps to Catch Guests That Have the Souvenir Fad.

The concerted action of the house detectives of all the large hotels in America has carefully traced the points from two erstwhile excellent stories, the first, narrated by Adele Ritchie, who, when asked once if she had ever been in Kansas City, replied, "I can't just remember, but I will look among my towels and see," and the second, the more pathetic narrative of the young man who was obliged to break off his engagement because as he left the dining room of a large hotel with his fiancée a number of forks and spoons fell from the sleeves of her gown, for the house detective had devised a "system" whereby the man or woman who wants to take a souvenir from a big hotel finds her path beset with almost insurmountable difficulties.

The matter is carried on with the greatest artfulness. There are no "hurt feelings," no bones broken, no arrests made.

The house detectives simply extract the unrightfully attached articles as painlessly as they extract the points from old stories, and in the great majority of cases the frustrated "borrower" never knows at all what happened to him.

First the detective is provided with a complete list of everything which is owned by the hotel—every particle of linen, silver, soap, etc. Then he delegates the responsibility for the care of them to various head waiters, waiters, housekeepers and chambermaids.

Then he gets a list each day of new arrivals and of those who have remained a few days or are preparing to leave. From these lists of occupied rooms the detective calculates the areas where trouble might possibly brew and into these he goes with his subdivided lists and a checking up book.

The chambermaid is required to give an exact accounting of every piece of linen she has supplied to the man or woman who is about to leave. This in turn takes to the laundries, where a balance is made of those sheets, towels, etc., which have come out of each room. If there is a precise balance the matter ends there, but woe to the woman who believes that the towels she placed carefully in her locked trunk will not be "missed."

Her trunks and bags on their way downstairs are simply carried to the basement floor as if by chance, and there the house detective, with the aid of a skeleton key, goes through them in search of lost hotel linen.

It is very gently removed and checked up on the housemaid's list, and the trunk is carefully repacked and re-locked. Nothing is left to give warning that the search has been made, and nothing is ever by any remotest chance said to the departing guest.

She is sent cheerily on her way rejoicing and is usually perplexed at all reason to account for the fact that the towels and pillow cases that she knows well she put into her trunk have mysteriously disappeared.

Do you suppose for a moment that this is an extreme case nor even a rare one? It happens on an average once a day in every large hotel in New York and with almost as astounding frequency in Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago.

And in the case of silverware the matter is almost as simple, though remedying these thefts requires taking into your confidence at least the man who pays the bill, for every waiter has had his eye trained to count up the silverware while he is placing the finger bowls, and if so much as one small spoon is not where it should be it is unmistakably placed upon the bill. The hotel graciously leaves it to the discretion of the escort as to whether or not the culprit shall be told. But at least it does not permit him to be enlightened only by the belated method of a leaky sieve.

Again, the head waiter will assure you that this happens, not once or twice, but ceaselessly.

"Many a woman that thinks she's got away with it would be surprised to know that it is down in black and white on her escort's check and that both he and the hotel know just how many spoons and forks she is taking home with her," said one general head waiter, who viewed the business with considerable indulgence. — New York Times.

He Heard Plenty.

Farmer Parsnip had a good day at market. His cattle fetched good prices, and so he bought a nice piece of cloth to have made into a suit of clothes. But on his homeward way he lost it, a misfortune which annoyed Mrs. Parsnip very much. Overburdened with her grievance, she told a neighbor about it the next day, strongly condemning her husband's carelessness. A week later the neighbor met Mr. Parsnip. "Good morning, Mr. Parsnip," said the neighbor. "Hear anything yet about your cloth?" Parsnip smiled sadly. "Yes," he said solemnly and mournfully, yet philosophically. "I have—morning, noon and night!" — London Mail.

Up Two Stumps.

Little Johnny was in the habit of wanting more victuals put upon his plate than he could eat. His papa decided to break him of the habit. One day as Johnny insisted upon being served until his plate was well filled his papa said, "Johnny, if I give you this you will have to eat every bit of it or I will punish you." Johnny promised that he would, and bravely did the little fellow try to do his part. It was too much for him. He would try again and again and then look sorrowfully at his papa. Finally, laying down his fork, he said: "Papa, if you was me which would you rather do, get a licking or bust?"

Murder in Germany.

Germany distinguishes between two kinds of murder. One, premeditated and intentional, is punishable by death; the second, intentional homicide without deliberation, is punishable by penal servitude for from five to fifteen years. Duelling in Germany is a misdemeanor of a special kind. Who kills his opponent in a duel is not charged with murder or manslaughter, but with duelling, the punishment for which is detention in a fortress for fifteen years. — London Chronicle.

Didn't Owe Them Anything.

In the course of an educational lecture the speaker made this assertion: "We owe much to heredity and environment."

When he had finished and the audience had arisen a man whose knowledge of the dictionary was limited walked up to him and remarked: "You said in your speech that we owe much to heredity and environment. Now, I never heard of that firm before, and I know I don't owe them one cent."

Devotion Tested.

"Are you sure that young man loves you?" asked the cautious mother.

"Yes," replied Gwendolyn.

"Have you sung, played, recited and painted in water colors for him?"

"Yes."

"Then, my child, if he still desires to marry you, do not doubt his affection."

CRAFT ON THE GRIDIRON.

When the Carlisle Indians Outwitted Harvard's Highbrows.

In football a full field run from kick-off to touchdown is a rare play. It was made by a Carlisle Indian, who covered the long distance in a game against Harvard, Oct. 31, 1903, and did so by the craftiest, wildest stratagem ever perpetrated by a redskin upon his pale faced brother.

The first half had closed with the Indians in the lead five points to none. Harvard opened the battle by sending a long kick to Johnson on Carlisle's five yard line. The Indians quickly ran back to meet Johnson and formed a compact mass around him. Within the recesses of this mass of players Johnson slipped the ball beneath the back of Dillon's jersey, which had been especially made to receive and hold the ball. Then, the ball thus secretly transferred and hidden, Johnson uttered a whoop such as Cambridge had not heard since the days of King Phillip's wars, and instantly the bunch of Indians scattered in all directions. Some ran to the right and some to the left, some obliquely and some straight up the center of the field, radiating in all directions like the spokes of a wheel.

The crimson players, now upon them, looked in vain for the ball, dumfounded, running from one opponent to another. Meanwhile Dillon was running straight down the field so as to give his opponents the least opportunity for a side or rear view and conspicuously swinging his arms to show that they did not hold the ball. Thus, without being detected, he passed through the entire Harvard team, excepting the captain, Carl B. Marshall, who was covering the deep backfield.

Obedient instructions, Dillon ran straight at Marshall. The latter, assuming that the Indian intended to block him, agilely sidestepped the Carlisle player, and as he did so he caught sight of the enormous and unwounded bulge on the back of Dillon. Instantly divining that here was the lost ball, Marshall turned and sprang at Dillon, but the latter was well on his way and quickly crossed the line for a touchdown.—Parker H. Davis in St. Nicholas.

WOMEN ARE BAD LOSERS.

That is Why, It is Said, Stock Brokers Fight Shy of Them.

Nobody loves a stock broker, least of all his customers. This affords a touching, if somewhat subtle, reason why he does not want any woman speculators on his books.

There is another reason. I hate to mention it, but you wrap it up in your mind. Women are not good losers. At times under stress of great speculative losses I am told they become inchoate. The one stock broker of my acquaintance who catered to women speculators is now in a madhouse. They were all lumps of steel at 50 the time it broke and all the water squeezed out of it in that death was wept back into it by these women. It was an economic disaster.

Stock brokers carry home with them all the troubles of their customers, and this poor fellow was no exception. He used to lie awake all night picking at the counterpane and grieving over beauty in distress. Finally he went crazy. They have given him a set of the stock broker's books up there in the asylum, and it would break your heart to see him. Jeanne d'Arc and Harriet Beecher Stowe are long of Copper. Catherine de Medici and Mrs. Brown are short of Rubber; Maria Theresia and George Eliot are pyramiding in Steel. Every now and then somebody is strangled out and then there are dreadful times. — Charlotte Corday's Cleopatra's, Mm. de Stael's and the mother of the Gracchi's margins are exhausted. He calls to them for more. They weep. I cannot go on. Women have much to answer for.—William Van Antwerp in New York Post.

WEDGWOD'S MASTERPIECE.

It is His Reproduction of the Famous Portland Vase.

Sir William Hamilton was an authority on Roman and Grecian antiquities. His fine collection of them and his great book on the subject prove that assertion. He wrote in Wedgwood about that much admired work of ancient art (the Barberian vase) in these terms: "Except the Apollo Belvedere, the Niobe and two or three others of the first class marbles, I do not believe that there are any monuments of antiquity existing that were executed by so great an artist." This is about the highest commendation that could be bestowed, and when we consider that such a work, so soaringly eminent, was successfully imitated by one of our own artist-potters it is surely a ground for national gratification.

The original vase came into the possession of the noble Italian family of Barberian, hence its name. It was acquired by Eyles, the antiquary, and then by Sir William Hamilton, who brought it to England in the year 1754. It is, in turn, said to be the Duchess of Portland. Her descendant, the fourth duke, deposited it in the British museum, owing to which fact it is best known to Englishmen as the Portland vase. It was lent by the duke to Wedgwood to make his copy from. The body of it had been much disputed, but he found that it was glass. He was not a glassblower, but had invented his wonderful jasperware by that time and decided his copy should be made of that substance. It was a tremendous task and took some three years in its making. Blackwood and others. The cost was never recouped by the subscriptions.

It is justly esteemed to have been Wedgwood's masterpiece. It has been reproduced by his successors and by other potters, but, of course, they have not the same market value as those made by the great Josiah himself.—W. Turner in Westminster Review.

LARGEST KNOWN ICE CAVE.

Wonders of the Frozen Grotto in the Dachstein Mountains.

A few years ago some members of the American Speleological society discovered in the Dachstein mountains some caverns which are among the largest in Europe. One of these grottoes, the longitudinal axis of which is fully 6,000 feet long, moreover turned out to offer additional interest by its truly enormous ice masses and was in fact the largest known ice cave in the world.

Though a scorching sun may be burning outside on the bare mountain rock, there is always an icy wind blowing through this underworld, freezing everything within its reach. Only sometimes, when the outside temperature ranges between 32 and 41 degrees C. and a comparatively warm rain penetrates through the fissures of the rock, entering "Right into the cavern, will there be a temporary calm and distinct melting of the ice.

The Dachstein ice cave comprises several domes filled with ice, which communicate with one another through a number of frozen galleries. An crevice 80 feet deep and 116 feet in width traverses the floor of the cavern 155 feet from the entrance. Gigantic ice pillars were found to tower on both edges of this chasm, in the depth of which there unfolds a fairy-like scenery. Beyond the abyss the cavern widens out into a mighty dome (Triton dome, as it is called), where a plain ice sheet reaches from one wall to the other, carrying ice stalagmites of the most fantastic shapes.—Scientific American.

Gordon Le Sueur in his book on South Africa tells an excellent story about Cecil Rhodes.

Rhodes was very careless in the matter of dress. On one occasion an old and favorite coat of his was sent to be cleaned and mended. Soon after it came back just as it had been sent, together with this note from the cleaners:

"Dear Sir.—Herewith the Right Hon. C. J. Rhodes' coat, uncleared and mended. We regret that all we can do with the garment is to make a new coat to match the buttons."

Wanted the Solid.

Tommy went out to dine at a friend's house one evening. When the soup was brought Tommy did not touch his and the hostess, looking over, said: "Why, Tommy, dear, what's the matter? Aren't you hungry tonight?"

"Yes," replied Tommy, "I'm quite hungry, but I'm not thirsty."—Judge.

HUNTING WITH A CAMERA BIG SPORT

Two Englishmen Have Been Doing Lions and Tigers In African Jungles.

Such diverse subjects as children and wild animals provide some striking illustrations of the wonderful development of modern photography. One of the days when a photographer tells a youngster to laugh and look happy, in order to secure a good picture," says a London photographer. "A child in its normal condition of high spirits, and even naughtiness, is better for my purpose than any amount of goodness faked up for the occasion," while animals are no longer snatched at the Zoo, with strong iron bars to protect the camera and operator, but in their native haunts, and are even made to photograph themselves.

Cameras are set instead of traps, and the ingenuity of the hunter of game leaves the camera is illustrated by the manner in which pictures were taken of some wild deer. An old well-weathered box was placed on a log, with a little clearing, baited with cabbage leaves and turnips. It was left until the deer fed around it without suspicion. A hole was then cut in the box, and the camera placed within it, a string from the flashlight stretching across the feeding place. When they came to feed, the deer trod on the string, and several unique photographs were the immediate result.

But this was tame business compared with the daring photographic feats of Mr. Cherry Kearton and Mr. Albert Wyndham. The latter returned to this country a short time ago with a collection of photographs showing a wounded African lion and lionesses in the African jungles. Mr. Kearton and his companion—the latter armed with a gun—came up with the wounded beast, who with a savage roar turned on the operator. "She seemed about to spring," says Mr. Wyndham, "as my companion shot her, standing at five yards, clean between the eyes. The camera clicked at the same instant, and at about the same distance. The animal, which rolled dead at our feet, proved a beauty, measuring from nose tip to tail tip eight feet 11 1/2 inches."

How the lion's tail rolling round. Following up the tail, I became conscious of two great, eyes and a mouth wide open, revealing a terrible set of teeth. The animal was growling ferociously, and I came to the conclusion that I must look it straight in the face and not flinch. I did so for several seconds, and backed with my camera. After several seconds of agonizing suspense, on glancing out of the corner of my eye, I was overjoyed to see the natives charging with their spears. The lion at that moment sprang out, but was knocked down within four yards of me. It sprang up again, however, and laid out four men. The fact that one of my men threw a spear clean through the lion's body and through the arm of a man the lion had plunged down will show you with what force the native can throw this weapon."

Gibbon's History.

It is said that when Gibbon sat down to write his great work, "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," he proposed writing it in French. But David Hume, a close friend, on hearing this wrote him a letter of remonstrance in such strong and stirring language that he was very too glad to relinquish his fancy. There is an excellent foundation for the story of Hume's letter to Gibbon, and beyond the doubt we owe it to this old Scotchman that the immortal history was written in our own language.—New York American.

Evolution of Wealth.

Originally the process of accumulation comes by the feller who spends less than he receives. Eventually he is what is called a capitalist. If all were either improvident, vicious or incompetent civilization would speedily decline, therefore the real benefactors of the world are those who accumulate. Some of us have the capacity others have not. That is an inexorable law of nature which cannot be altered.—Charles C. Crecelius in Leslie's.

"Did you tell your present husband that?"

For the INDUSTRIOUS NEEDLEWOMAN

By ADELAIDE BYRD

The Case with Inside Pockets

NOW that the gift-giving season is at hand, the combination of usefulness and practical worth is not to be ignored. I am very glad to be able to offer a gift for the traveler, which is a case for a wash-cloth, soap, shoe trees, shoe horn or any other articles that a journey seems to call for and without which it is difficult to get along. This case has another use when not accompanying a man or woman on a journey. It can be hung on a door by means of two loops, and will be an attractive receptacle in a bedroom or a boudoir.

The practical ten lines is my first suggestion. This is inexpensive, durable and is an excellent background for color embroidery, which is going to raise this gift to an unusual article and make you just as proud in the giving as the recipient will be in the owning of it. Any other material can be used if it is capable of being embroidered. Poplin, satin, denim, a plain rep. are good. Any color will do, and the choice of embroidery cottons or silks will depend largely on the favorite of the owner and the background on which you are going to work.

You will see that the several cases are applied after the first piece is cut and hemmed. When marking of this piece, allow one inch on each side of the square and hem down or baste before chainstitching around in colored threads. Each separate little case or pocket should be cut with an allowance of one-half an inch on the three sides, so that a narrow hem can be turned in before stitching on the square foundation. The long pieces for the shoe forms have the lower edges suggested in a dotted line, which allows for a gathering in to the pointed form, and the springs which is necessary for the holding in to the pointed form.

And now for the embroidering of the attractive design. With a soft mercer-ized cotton that is coarse enough to do the work quickly and effectively, make lines that define the important part of the design in smooth stitch, which will

FOR HER TROUSSEAU

HAVE you a girl friend, who is about to be married? Of course you have, so begin immediately to make something for her trousseau.
There are countless small accessories which are necessary to the complete outfit, and the clever sewer can fashion many of the dainty novelties for which the shops demand exorbitant prices.

The stock and muff made of fabric is an excellent substitute for a fur set,
and will prove a most acceptable gift to any prospective bride.

Select velvet, or satin or chiton, lined with silk in a rich tone of blue, purple, taupe, brown, green or black.

Suppose you decide upon taupe-colored velvet, with a lining of blue broad-sate silk. Make the skirt eighteen inches wide and two and a half or three yards long. Sew the lining to the velvet, neatly whipstitching it in position.
Gather the ends together and fasten them with large taupe-colored silk tassels. Purchase a foundation for the muff—and these are to be found in any large department store—and over this large department store—and over this fit the velvet smoothly. Line the muff with the broadest silk. The beauty of the scarf and muff is greatly enhanced if they are trimmed with bands of moleskin, opossum, skunk or fox. If expenses are no consideration.

Smart neckwear is always an attractive addition to the trousseau, and the handsome hat collars of embroidered net are particularly lovely.

Purchase a quantity of net—select the best quality—and a well-fitting collar pattern. Draw the design you wish to embroider on a piece of tissue paper and baste this to the net. Put the design with white darning cotton and

Baby's Outer Garments

THE average needlewoman enjoys working on the fairylike garments designed for baby, and grasps every possible occasion as an excuse for making some new article.

First of all, there are the exquisite little bonnets fashioned of lace, chiffon silk or sheer linen, heavily interlined with cotton muslin, to provide the necessary warmth.

Irish crocheted lace is extensively used for infants' garments at present, and on account of its excellent laundering qualities is most satisfactory.

Purchase a circular medallion of baby fish for the center back and to this join bands of insertion from an inch and a half to two inches in width. The case will be more effective if insertion of two varieties is used alternately.

The plain mesh can be used with a figured design, and the edges are joined by whipstitching them together. To obtain the exact size, without trying the cap on the baby, baste the lace to a paper pattern, which can be removed after the lace is permanently stitched together. Finish the edge about the face with a scalloped edging of the lace and the portion about the neck with a narrow pleat edging.

A foundation cap made of a single thickness of cotton flannel covered with pale blue, pink or white chiffon silk. About the edge stick the narrow frill of valenciennes lace, and baste the lace cap to this so that it can be easily removed when laundering is necessary.

Baby's socks is of utmost importance and the shops display a varied assortment of lovely designs. White or cream benaline, Bedford cord, serge, red poinsettias. A green silk bena-line pillow that deserved a more prominent point of vantage was embroided in heavy sprays of goldenrod formed by large French knots.

How to Transfer

PLACE a sheet of Impression carbon paper between your fabric and the newspaper design, the latter on top.

With a sharp pencil or a glass-pointed pen go over the outline. The design will be transferred to the material and will last until worked.

Keep your designs and, with specially prepared Impression carbon paper, make them as permanent as you need.

For Neatness

PLEASE don't go any longer with that frayed lace on your corset.
You wouldn't dream of having it on your petticoat, so why on your corset? It's just one of the little inconsistencies we women have. But, supposing—just supposing, remember—that the tires of an automobile some day wouldn't be overjoyed when the attendants at the hospital saw that splattered lace would wet. A rather gruesome way of putting it, but hurry and put a new piece of lace on that corset while we're thinking about neatness and hospital and things, it's quite simple. Measure about the top of your corset to see how much lace or Swiss embroidery you need. Buy that amount in edging three inches in width, and proceed to baste it upon the corset, small stitches on the right side and large stitches on the wrong side.
A new bow of white ribbon on the front, at the top of the joining, will make the corset look as though it had retained its lost youth. We will, of course, presume that the corset is clean—soap and water are so exceedingly cheap.

TO FRANCE BY TUNNEL

Project Could Be Completed in Five Years—The English End.

After studying for the past twenty years the problems connected with the Channel Tunnel scheme, M. Albert Sartiaux, chief engineer of the Northern France Railway Company, delivered an interesting address in Paris on Saturday at the monthly luncheon of the Federation of French Manufacturers and Merchants. He demonstrated clearly the advantages that would result from the construction of the tunnel.

"For the last ten years," he said, "the commercial traffic between France and England has increased by only three per cent, while the traffic between France and Belgium has increased by nine per cent, and that between France and Germany seven per cent."

M. Sartiaux described the means and methods which the Channel Tunnel Company intends to employ for the building of the tunnel, which had the entire approval of such a distinguished engineer as Sir Francis Fox. The French Parliament had approved the idea of the tunnel, and provided that England would give official consent, the company was ready to set to work immediately and within approximately five years the tunnel would be completed.

A violent opposition to the tunnel had, he said, been conducted for a long time in England, but it had now diminished considerably. The only argument still used in England was of a sentimental character but since the growth of the entente cordiale it, also, had lost much of its force.

"English people now realize," he went on, "the logical character of the military objection, according to which an army could invade England by way of the tunnel."

"Anyone who understands something about the mobilization of a single army corps knows that it would need no fewer than 150 trains, composed of 7,000 wagons in all, to take such a body of troops through the tunnel to England."

"How could an army corps be mobilized near Calais without the news being flashed all over Europe within a few hours?"

"One man would be quite able to stop the whole invasion by destroying the value of the tunnel."

British public opinion, added M. Sartiaux, is growing every day in favour of the scheme. Then, in most eulogistic terms, which were received with applause, M. Sartiaux went on to refer to the recent series of articles which have appeared in the "Daily Chronicle."

"This important journal," he continued, "has taken the initiative of a referendum among leading people in England. I find on the average that out of every three people consulted two were in favour of the tunnel and one was opposed to it."

M. Sartiaux then read translated extracts from several of the articles from the "Daily Chronicle."

Site of Former Works.
An interesting article, describing a visit to the place where a Channel Tunnel was begun in France thirty years ago, appeared in the "Daily Chronicle" on Monday. The writer draws attention to the tall chimney rising from the coast road at Sangatte at the factory of the French Channel Tunnel Company. There was still in the factory the machinery which thirty years ago dug two deep pits in the chalk cliffs and pierced a way for more than 2,000 yards under the Channel. Then England vetoed the scheme, and the factory stopped work. For thirty years the works have been silent.

"There are not," the writer goes on to say, "on the English side of the Channel, compared with the French, so many signs of interest in and past activity with regard to the scheme which would now appear to have reached the eve of long-deferred realization. On the English coast work was, of course, begun at much the same time as in France. Shafts were sunk near Dover, and the chief one is now used by the Dover Colliery Company, but that shaft now, together with the couple of thousand yards of tunnel made, will be of little or no use in connection with the new works."

"But the spot where the English entrance will be has already, after military considerations have been taken into account, been selected. It lies in the hollow known as Winless Downs, dominated by the Western Heights, as well as by those uplands facing them. It is an ideal spot, and from the mouth the Tunnel will sweep round and go under the water at a spot beneath the western end of Shakespeare Cliff, or almost directly below the mouth of the Shakespeare Tunnel on the South-Eastern Railway. Beyond Shakespeare Cliff the generating station for both sides will stand."

LABOR NEWS AND NOTES

Steel Trade Expects Renewed Activity in Early Spring

The steel trade expects renewed activity in early spring. The unions of Toledo, Ohio, are agitating a labor temple project. The first woman chauffeur of Paris has decided to change her work. She is studying to become a plumber. The wages of seafaring men who ship on the shores of the marine provinces of Canada are now clearly double what they were ten years ago. Two chains of restaurants in Chicago have been unionized. The agreement provides for a ten hour work day and one day of rest in seven for all employees.

A movement is on foot to remove the headquarters of the International Typographical Union from Indianapolis because of the alleged hostile attitude of Indianapolis business men toward organized labor. The town of Independence, Mo., has twenty grocery stores, which formerly maintained thirty-seven wagons for delivering goods to customers. A co-operative plan was adopted and now nine wagons do the work that formerly required nearly forty. Twenty States have enacted eight hour laws for public employes and for those engaged in public works. It is estimated that fully half a million public servants of these states enjoy the benefits of the shorter workday. The Government of Norway has established a new bureau, the purposes of which will be to elaborate

JUSTICE MIDDLETON DISSOLVES INJUNCTION AGAINST GLENWOOD COMPANY

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—The decision of Mr. Justice Middleton yesterday at Osgoode Hall in the suit of the Tilbury Town Gas Company against the Maple City Gas Company and its successors the Glenwood Gas Company, is of considerable consequence to consumers of gas in Kent County and those in towns and cities east of there, who expect to be supplied with the natural product from the Kent fields. His honor refused to continue the injunction against the Maple City Company granted by Judge Dowler at Chatham on December 13.

CAN DO EASTWARD

This means that the Maple City Company will be allowed to further exploit the fields in their possession, and pipe the product eastward to any towns and cities that they choose. When the company contracted years ago with the Tilbury town people to supply gas for consumption in the Town of Tilbury, it is said the agreement indicated that only Tilbury should be supplied from the fields then in control of the Maple City Company. Later, however, that company extended its holdings and proposed to put its fluid product in the big main leading eastward to St. Thomas, London and other centers.
